

Your Eyes

Many who call themselves Opticians or Eye Specialists use crude methods for determining what glasses will give you good vision. Our glasses last, and improve vision do not give relief to tired, overworked eyes. To magnify objects gives abnormal vision which is tiring and straining on the eyes and nerves.

MY GLASSES

give normal vision, as intended by nature, and relieve strains that cause headaches, nervousness, and other discomforts.

SENDS WAR TROPHY.

Hartington, Neb., July.—Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Olsen received a letter this week from their son Alvin, who has been engaged in active service on the western front for some time. He writes cheerfully of himself and comrades, and says that the Hartington boys in France are all alive and happy. His letter contains a unique and somewhat grewsome souvenir in the shape of the wrappings from the bandage taken from the pack of a dead German. The wrappings are blood stained and one them are directions for using printed in the German language.

UPLIFTING TALK

Though thrones may crash and kingdoms tremble, some delegates, when they assemble, can only talk disease; their gossip flows in endless rivers concerning bally lights and livers, and mumps and house-maid's knees. Last night some neighbors came to cackle; the only subjects they would tackle were symptoms and the like; one talked of rice and sago, his stomach on a strike. I wished to talk about the fighters we've sent to can the Frisian bighens, and put them in the soup; alas, my stern prosaic neighbors had little use for swords and sabers, they'd only talk of croup, I wonder how, in times of battle, grown people can get down to practice about their pains and aches; about their wens and warts and felons, or gripes brought on by eating onions, or filling up with cakes. With charges heaping, captains yelling, the small-bore folk are at ways dwelling upon their piffles; ills; in presence of great world disasters, we hear men talk of porous plasters and anti-bilious pills. Upon the marketplace I linger, to talk of gore, and not of gottle, of war, and not of warts; I'm tired of men who're always thinking about the medicine they're drinking, by gallons, pints and quarts.

UNDERSTANDING US.

They held the theory everywhere—a theory univiting—that gold is all for which we care, for which we'd do our fighting. "They're money grubbers, one and all," the nations cried, in anguish; "we have our backs against the wall, and still in sixth they languish." Still, still they chase the buck and bone, to strains of Yankee Doodle; they hear the stricken people groan, and gather in more hordes! But now they see our legions rush across the rolling breakers, and not to gather in some cash or annex foreign areas. They see our men march to fight where demitition rages, to plant the standard of the right where it may stand for ages. Across the mined and ambushed sea, go that nations may be free, that tyranny may totter. The wealth for which we planned and toiled in times of peace, a helping to see the war lord's program spoiled, and set his cohorts yelling—And now they see us as we are; we're slow to sword out, tender! "They're round we rip things all ajar and tear the map asunder. They see us standing up for right without a thought of profit. They see us carry on the fight, until there's ice in 'Tophet."

THE TIRD JOYFULSTER.

I went from town on joyful feet, to help the farmers harvest wheat. My breast was full of loyal fire, I said, "no man should paw a lyre, or monkey with a fountain pen, while farmers call for working men. I'll show these grangers which is which; they'll marvel when the seasons speak, and I'll show an urban pote can do such stunts with wheat and oat." At sunrise, then, I started in, to labor, with a cheerful spirit, and a hearty will. My trail of smoke and smiled as though they saw some joke. At 8 o'clock I'd lost some pep; I moved forward with plugging step; my joints began to groan and crack. At 9 o'clock my brain went bum; I ditions yelled in wild delirium; I thought that I was on the rack, such shooting pains ran up my back; I called on those around, in vain, to take an ax and end my pain. At 10 o'clock I left the field, my head on fire, my feet congealed. On hands and knees I crawled away, and asked the farmer for my pay. "You guys from town," he coldly said, "aren't worth your share of wartime bread. I want no more silk-shirted gent's; here is your pay, just sixty cents."

HOT WEATHER.

It is a superheated day on which I write these verses; and peep, as they go their way, are breathing heartwringing curses. Excessive heat like this destroys the temper of the midwest; he loses all his saintly pose, and uses words the wildest. Tired Father is at other times of disposition sunny; his laughings like Easter chiming, he's prodigal with money and mild and quiet, he turns upon her eyes of gloom, and starts a full-sized riot. The children tip-toe everywhere, no hint of racket making, for Father's like a grizzly bear whose head is in a noose. He sits beneath the sunset tree and fuses himself like blazes, and it is pitiful to see his line of smoking phrases. He rubs his back against the sheet, his itching chafes and lothens, and says he wishes he were dead and planted with his fathers. He wishes winter would arise and come with all its rigors, he wishes wily for the files and burrows for the chiggers.

WAR IS HIDEOUS.

My breast is full of panic, and sore distraught—I am, for all the good mechanics now work for Uncle Sam. They've taken all their wrenches and jammers, and for the front, and somewhere near the trenches they do their loyal stunts. They fix the martial lorry, repair the U. S. truck, and I am sick and sorry, and sadly cuss the luck. For who will fix my motor, when the valves are out of whack, or when the gas tank's flatter, or when they've howled back? The men who pulled the spanner with more than human skill, have gone, in warlike manner, to show up Kaiser Bill. Our village is trying to heat our motor cars, and tonies he's applying to all their ailing parts. He views the carburetor, and pines no monkey wrench, but says, "It's better why he's had a drench." He says, "Con-ditions thermic some fever indicate; your engine straight. My troubles are, titanic, my car has ceased to chug. I yearn for a mechanic who does not use a drug. My soul is in the shadow, my heart is steeped in woe; I've found that C. Sagrada won't make a motor go.

ONE WAY TO HELP.

I pay my bills when they are due, and help to aid the cause; it is the smoothest plan in view—the best that ever was. If you own Johnsting fifteen bobs, and Bulger three or four, if you are standing off De Jones, for junk bought at his store, you are not doing all you should, to help beat the Hun; our prospects are not quite so good, while you are owing more. If Johnsting had his fifteen cents, he'd buy thrift stamps today, and so'd DeJones, who grouchy feels, because you do not pay. If Bulger had the iron you've owed six months or more, his face would beam with smiles again, he'd buy nine bonds or four. In times of peace the standoff goes, no rolls we need to flash; but when we're beset by foes, each gent should pay in cash. Then every one can do his best to give his country aid, but all such plans go gallew west, unless our bills are paid. Your talk of help and sacrifice may be the stuff that thrills, but it's no good, unless you pay your bills. Copyright 1918 by George Matthew Adams.

EVERYBODY CAN HELP.

Every man, woman, and child in America can help win the war. Every man, woman, and child who wears a Liberty Bond or a War-Saving Stamp does something toward winning the war, enlists in one division of national service, supporting the government, and backing up our fighting men in France and on the seas.

THE SOLDIER'S CHANCES.

Great as the danger and large as the losses in the aggregate, the individual soldier has plenty of chances of coming out of the war unscathed, or—at least not badly injured. Based on the mortality statistics of the allied armies, a soldier's chances are as follows: Twenty-nine chances of coming home to one chance of being killed. Forty-nine chances of recovering from wounds to one chance of dying. One chance in 500 of losing a limb. Will live five years longer because of medical training, if free from disease in the army than in civil life, and has better medical care at the front than at home. In other wars from 10 to 15 men died from disease to 1 from bullets; in this I man dies from disease to every ten from bullets. For those of our fighting men who do not escape scatheless, the government under the soldier and sailor insurance law gives protection to the wounded and their dependents and to the families and dependents of those who make the supreme sacrifice for their country.

RALPH INGHAM IN FRANCE

Norfolk Daily News, July 5: "I am a happy boy to be here in good old France," writes a former member of The News staff. He describes the voyage across the ocean as uneventful, except for a few submarine scares. The President Lincoln, which was later sunk, was in the convoy of his ship. His company was sent through what he believes must be the most beautiful part of France and he is very enthusiastic about the country. He describes the sweet wine of France as good, but says the sort is "no good," there being plenty of both. He has met several men from Nebraska since his arrival.

Mrs. Burns' Letter.

Here is a letter that is certain to prove of interest to people in this vicinity, as cases of this sort occur in almost every neighborhood, and people should know what to do in like circumstances. Savannah, Mo., Oct. 12, 1916. "I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy about nine years ago and it cured me of flux (dysentery). I had another attack of the complaint some three or four years ago, and a few doses of this remedy cured me. I have recommended Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy to dozens of people since I first used it."—Adv.

FAIR BACK FROM TRACKS.

Omaha, Neb., July 10.—With the advent of the grain season, the food administration for Nebraska is asking the farmers to assist the administration in every way to save grain. One of the greatest sources of loss is this time of the year is fire along the right-of-way of railroads. The food administration asks that stacks be placed sufficiently distant from the railroads that the sparks from engines will not ignite them. Also that fire guards be ploughed around the stacks, further eliminating danger of fire.
In some few instances stacks have been noticed near the tracks. Farmers are requested to remove such stacks. The Union Pacific Railroad offers its section hands to assist farmers in any way in removing stacks and in making fire guards. A request to the Union Pacific headquarters will be immediately met.

FAILS TO MAR FOURTH.

Lyons, Neb., July 5.—Notwithstanding a drizzling rain most of the day, great crowds attended the celebration here yesterday. The home guard had charge of the ceremonies and they had uniformed companies from Tekamah, Oakland, Craig, Decatur and Lyons.
They made a splendid showing in their new uniforms. The parade was a success, with five bands, floats, Red Cross members, etc. The rain ceased about 2 o'clock, when the home guard put on a spectacular drill exhibition, which drew considerable applause.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

From the Wayne Herald, July 14, 1898:
- Say Reynolds accepted a position in Sullivan's grocery store.
- County Attorney Welch and son returned from a visit in Illinois.
- Mrs. John Sabs was called to Chicago by the death of her mother.
- Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Mitchell went to Omaha to attend the exposition.
- Maurice Ahern built a large addition to his residence and otherwise improved it.
- Dr. and Mrs. Crawford went to Denver to visit their daughter, Mrs. T. Donnell.
- Herman Milder, Aug. Schwaerzel, and Paul Nindl went on a fishing trip to the Elkhorn.
- Marshall Knapp died at her home three miles north of Winside, July 1, at the age of 34 years.
- Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bosteder and P. Williams went to Plainville to attend a G. A. R. reunion.
- Prof. J. M. Pile went to Bassett to deliver a lecture before the county teachers' institute in session at that place.
- O. H. Seilburg, aged 67 years, died at his home in Plum Creek July 9, 1898. The remains were buried near La Porte.
- Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Jeffrey, died July 12. Death was caused from cholera infantum. She was 16 months old.
- Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boyd who had been visiting at the F. A. Dearborn home, left for Illinois. They were accompanied by Nelle Dearborn who will visit a few weeks with relatives.
- At a meeting of the school board E. Hunter and F. L. Neely assumed their duties as new members. The board then organized by electing A. F. Bremner, president; C. O. Fisher, vice president; and E. Hunter, secretary.
- Mesdames Fuller and Blanchard entertained several of their lady friends in honor of Mrs. J. H. Boyd and Mrs. McCabe who had been visiting in the city for some time. The evening was spent playing cards.
- The ladies of the Presbyterian Aid society collected wrappers of Kirk's White Cloud Floating soap for which they received a cash premium. They asked their friends to save wrappers or send them to Mrs. J. J. Williams.
- Ponca Journal, July 12, 1883: Mr. Reynolds of Emerson stated to us that on the Fourth of July celebration at that place, a large number of Winnebagoes attended. They were arrayed in paint and feathers and presented an imposing appearance. They danced war dances, sun dances, green corn and potato dances, to the great edification of the spectators. The Fourth of July interpreter, Mr. Gosh Longtail, faithfully interpreted into English from Indian and vice versa, the speeches and songs on the occasion. This was probably the first time in the history of the country when the Declaration of Independence was read in the Indian tongue. After the dances, speeches, etc., there were a number of foot races in which the Indians stripped to business, wearing merely breech-cloths to keep the cool off. These races, in which those engaged went like quarter horses, their hair streaming in the wind and going so fast that one could hardly discern the nimble flap of copper colored legs, excited much enthusiasm. The warrior who beat all other competitors was Hago-mo-wash, or he is generally termed the Lone-legged, a chief of the Winnebagoes. Everything was orderly, no drunkenness nor rioting.

County Judge.

RESULT OF BIG DRIVE.

Final figures on the second Red Cross war fund campaign in central division—Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Nebraska—show the enormous total of $2,182,317 contributed.
Only one other division in the nation surpassed this figure, the Atlantic division which includes New York.
Central division was asked originally to give $14,000,000, therefore the over-subscription was 59 per cent, or $8,182,000.
Revisions of the figures upward are certain as the weeks pass and the total may go to approximately $22,500,000.
By states, the contributions to the Red Cross were as follows:
- Illinois (including Chicago), $10,123,000; Michigan, $5,000,000; Wisconsin, $2,250,000; Iowa, $2,309,317; Nebraska, 2,300,000.
The city of Chicago gave $6,400,000 of the total for Illinois.
For the whole United States the Red Cross war fund now stands at $170,038,000.

BEEF ONE MEAL DAILY.

Omaha, Neb., July 10.—Important changes in the federal food administration program are the permitting of the public eating places to serve beef at the noonday meal each day, and emphasis on the sugar conservation rules.
The beef change was made because the government has been enabled through conservation effected to catch up with its supplies and the further conservation needed can now be secured through two meat-les meals each day.

Alfalfa Time Has Come

You can't afford to risk losing the crop because of a balky mower, a dilapidated hay rake or a stacker that is ready to fall to pieces. With the prospects of several cuttings of heavy crops, which will no doubt be sold at unusual prices in the fall, you could do no better than to stock up with a new outfit of hay machinery or at least to replace the tools that gave you the most trouble last year.

and give you a chance to realize the real joy of living. Try it.—Adv.

Two Laurel Bandits in the State's Prison for Safe Keeping.

Harrington Herald: Jim Francis and J. R. Parker, the two Laurel bandits who were held in the county jail here on the charge of murder in the first degree, were taken to the state penitentiary last Saturday, there to await the next term of district court.

The trip was made in a Hudson car, and was accomplished in exceptionally good time. The party started at five o'clock in the morning and arrived shortly after midnight. The route taken was the one which leads through Wayne and Fremont. About 30 miles of muddy roads were encountered on the trip, and the members of the party almost froze to death on the way home, as they were lightly clad and faced a north wind.

Besides the prisoners, there were in the car Sheriff McFadden, Capt. Greenwood and Lieut. Heckert of the Home Guards and L. A. Miller, driver of the car.

It is said that the two bandits appeared to be very much relieved to get away from Harrington and vicinity, and were all ready to seek refuge from summary punishment in the state penitentiary. When last seen, the two men were securely confined in the nice tiled steel cages which the state provides for that class of prisoners.

While they were in the schools, they could be reached more easily, but organization work among the children has gone so far that the chapters are still closely in touch with them and benefiting vastly by their help.

At present many chapters are asking the Junior members to help get out some rush orders for knitting yarns, crochets, and hospital supplies. They are doing this in preference to their regular Junior work.

Any Junior Red Cross member who has lost contact with the Red Cross organization since school closed should go to the local chapter headquarters and offer his or her services.

Of course, any child not now a member of the Junior Red Cross will be cordially welcomed by the local chapters and given an opportunity to enroll.

In Central division—Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Nebraska—there are now about 2,000,000 members of the Junior Red Cross. Manifestly this group of workers is a big factor in the Red Cross organization.

These Junior members are members of 15,000 auxiliaries to the 568 Red Cross chapters. Virtually every school is an auxiliary.

EXPECT N. P. ORGANIZERS.

Lincoln, Neb., July 6.—Reports reaching Lincoln tend to confirm the story that a considerable force of professional Nonpartisan league organizers will be sent into Nebraska within a few days to enroll members in the organization and also to assist in the preliminary election fight that occurs in August.

These men until recently have been working in North Dakota and Minnesota, but the close of the primary campaigns there has released them for work in other places. There have been many recent indications that the league intends to take part in the primary fight, according to shrewd political observers.

One state official who is not taking part in the campaign this year, and who will retire to private life, said that he understood Nebraska has been chosen as the scene of the league's most strenuous efforts up to the date of the primary, August 20.

There are said to be 250 professional organizers in North Dakota and Minnesota who will come to this state. Their visit is likely to provide some interesting questions if the different communities maintain the same attitude shown during the last few weeks, this official thinks.

CONSERVE SUGAR.

Omaha, Neb., July 10.—With Nebraska's allotment of sugar for July only 5,900,000 pounds, Nebraskans will be required to conserve the regulations to the limit, else there will be an acute sugar shortage.

"Limit your consumption of sugar to two pounds per month per person," is the urgent request of Food Administer Walter. While the householder may buy three pounds per person per month, Wattle's is of the opinion that Nebraskans will probably respond to the two pound request.

SPEAKS AT HARRINGTON.

Harrington, Neb., July 6.—Congressman Dan Stephens was the principal speaker at a county-wide celebration of independence day here, attended by a large number of the county. Mr. Stephens addressed 4,000 people in the afternoon meeting and another crowd of 5,000 in the evening meeting. It was the largest crowd in the history of Harrington. "Dr. F. O. Robinson, chairman of the county council of defense and a living republican, in introducing Mr. Stephens, said: "Mr. Stephens has been right on every question of war and patriotism and I believe that we should keep in office the men who are right, regardless of party.

JULY SUGAR ALLOTMENT.

Omaha, Neb., July 6.—Nebraska's allotment for sugar for the month of July is 5,900,000 pounds, according to information coming to the federal food administration of Nebraska.

Save all you can from this amount," is the urgent request of Herbert Hoover, United States food administrator, in a telegram to the Nebraska administration. "If you find it necessary to issue certificates for more than the allotment to the state, authorization must be had from Washington."

BOYS OF 21 FOR FIREMEN.

Washington, July 6.—Investigation of state laws regarding employment of minors and the possibility of using youths between the ages of 19 and 21 as locomotive firemen to relieve the labor shortage was directed yesterday by W. S. Carter, director of labor for the railroad administration.

DRILL HELD AT ATKINSON.

Stuart, Neb., July 6.—A competitive Home Guards drill held at Atkinson July 4, for all Home Guards of Holt county, resulted in Stuart winning a large silk flag for the best drilled company. Stuart won the squad drill prize and Atkinson won the individual competition for the best drill in the manual of arms.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.

In the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska.

In the matter of the application of Lina Tarnow, guardian of the persons and estates of Fred Tarnow, Emil Tarnow, and Anna Tarnow, minors, for leave to sell real estate.

On this 22day of June, 1918, this cause came on before me, Anson A. Welch, Judge of the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, and upon reading the petition presented to me duly verified and filed with the Clerk of this Court by Lina Tarnow, guardian of the persons and estates of Fred Tarnow, Emil Tarnow, and Anna Tarnow, minors, for leave to sell the interest of said minors in and to the following described real estate situated in Wayne County, Nebraska, to-wit: The East Half of the Southeast Quarter of Section Thirty-Six (E. 1/2 S. E. 1/4 of Sec. 36) Township Twenty-Six (26), north of Range Four (4), east of the 6th P. M., and appearing from said petition that said real estate is owned in common by said minors together with other owners of the undivided interest therein, and it appearing that it would be for the benefit of said minors, and of their said estates that their interest in said land be sold and the proceeds put at interest or invested in some productive stock;

It is therefore ordered that the next of kin of said minors and all persons interested in their estates appear before me as Judge of said Court, at the courthouse in Wayne, in said Wayne County, Nebraska, on the 27th day of July, 1918, at 3 o'clock, p. m., to show cause, if any there be, why license should not be granted to the said Lina Tarnow, guardian of said minors, to sell their interest in said above described real estate for the purpose above set forth.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be published at least three (3) successive weeks, once each week, in the Wayne Herald, a legal weekly newspaper, printed, published, and in general circulation in said county of Wayne, Nebraska, and that it shall not be necessary to make personal service of this order upon the next of kin or other persons interested in said estate.

When I was in bed, bent over or got up from a chair, knife-like pains made me cry out—I could get little rest and my kidneys acted too often. The trouble kept me in a run-down condition until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the Robert's Drug Co. They gave me excellent relief and convinced me, I am sure, that I had a tested kidney remedy. # Are the Packers Profiteers?

Plain Facts About the Meat Business

The Federal Trade Commission in its recent report on war profits, stated that the five large meat packers have been profiteering and that they have a monopoly of the market.

These conclusions, if fair and just, are matters of serious concern, not only to those engaged in the meat packing business, but to every other citizen of our country.

The figures given on profits are misleading and the statement that the packers have a monopoly is unsupported by the facts.

The packers mentioned in the report stand ready to prove their profits reasonable and necessary.

The meat business is one of the largest American industries. Any citizen who would familiarize himself with its details must be prepared for large totals.

The report states that the aggregate profits of four large packers were $140,000,000 for the three war years.

This sum is compared with $19,000,000 as the average annual profit for the three years before the war, making it appear that the war profit was $121,000,000 greater than the pre-war profit.

This compares a three-year profit with a one-year profit—a manifestly unfair method of comparison. It is not only misleading, but the Federal Trade Commission apparently has made a mistake in the figures themselves.

The aggregate three-year profit of $140,000,000 was earned on sales of over four and a half billion dollars. It means about three cents on each dollar of sales—or a mere fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Packers' profits are a negligible factor in prices of live stock and meats. No other large business is conducted upon such small margins of profit.

Furthermore—and this is very important—only a small portion of this profit has been paid in dividends. The balance has been put back into the businesses. It had to be, as you realize when you consider the problems the packers have had to solve—and solve quickly—during these war years.

To conduct this business in war times, with higher costs and the necessity of paying two or three times the former prices for live stock, has required the use of two or three times the ordinary amount of working capital. The additional profit makes only a fair return on this, and as has been stated, the larger portion of the profits earned has been used to finance huge stocks of goods and to provide additions and improvements made necessary by the enormous demands of our army and navy and the Allies.

If you are a business man you will appreciate the significance of these facts. If you are unacquainted with business, talk this matter over with some business acquaintance—with your banker, say—and ask him to compare profits of the packing industry with those of any other large industry at the present time.

No evidence is offered by the Federal Trade Commission in support of the statement that the large packers have a monopoly. The Commission's own report shows the large number and importance of other packers.

The packers mentioned in the statement stand ready to prove to any fair minded person that they are in keen competition with each other, and that they have no power to manipulate prices.

If this were not true they would not dare to make this positive statement. Furthermore, government figures show that the five large packers mentioned in the report account for only about one-third of the meat business of the country.

They wish it were possible to interest you in the details of their business. Of how, for instance, they can sell dressed beef for less than the cost of the live animal, owing to utilization of by-products, and of the wonderful story of the methods of distribution throughout this broad land, as well as in other countries.

The five packers mentioned feel justified in co-operating with each other to the extent of together presenting this public statement.

They have been able to do a big job for your government in its time of need; they have met all war time demands promptly and completely and they are willing to trust their case to the fairness of the American people with the facts before them.

CHURCH CALENDAR
Methodist Episcopal Church.
 (Rev. D. W. MacGregor, Pastor.)
 The services on next Lord's day will be full of interest, every member should be present. Come to Sunday school and see what is being done. The men's bible class, with an attendance last Sunday morning, was worth while going a long distance to be present. Men, come next Sunday.
 Sermon, 11 a. m., "The message to the church at Smyrna."
 Evening services, 7 and 8 o'clock. Strangers always welcome to worship with us.
 We hope to see a large number of our people at the Nebraska Epworth assembly August 1 to 11. A great program is being put on this year.

English Lutheran Church.
 (Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor.)
 Sunday school at 10 a. m. The school is meant to be a help to the whole congregation. But it must fall as a religious teaching force if it does not receive the hearty cooperation of the entire church. Encourage the good work in every possible way. Your presence will be an inspiration to others to attend.

You cannot spend an hour on Sunday in a more profitable way than in the united study of the Word of Life.
 Public worship with sermon, at 11 a. m. The subject of the sermon is "Life Imparted." This will be the last preaching service in the month of July. The pastor expects to be away on a short vacation; the remainder of the month. Let this then be a service for a united congregation.
 A roll of honor containing the names of nineteen boys from our church who have gone into the service of their country, has been placed in the church as a token of remembrance. The parents or relatives of the boys will do the pastor a great favor if they will give him the date of enlistment so that a correct record may be made on the honor roll as well as on the church record.

First Baptist Church.
 (Rev. Fletcher J. Jordan, Pastor.)
 The First Baptist church extends a very cordial welcome to the Normal school students and other people to come and worship with us next Sunday.
 Morning worship at 10:30 a. m. The evening service begins at 8 p. m.

Sunday school at 11:30 a. m. Classes for all who come.
 B. Y. P. U. at 7:30 p. m. Sunday evening, the subject is: "Lessons from Favorite Parables," Mark 4:1-8 and 26-32. Let every young person of our church and congregation feel that this is an organization which is worth the very best that we can contribute to its welfare.
 The mid-week meeting has its service each Wednesday evening in the basement of the church. Every individual who believes in the efficacy of prayer is asked to join our band.
 Choir practice Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Presbyterian Church.
 (Rev. S. X. Capps, Pastor.)
 It was Daniel Webster who said, "Whatever makes good Christians, makes good citizens."
 Preaching at this church is at 10:30 a. m. The subject next Sunday morning will be, "The Forces of Civilization."
 The Sunday school aims to help make good Christians and good citizens. Remember that our school opens at 11:30 o'clock sharp. Citizens of today, or citizens of tomorrow, move in the wrong direction when they go toward "No Sunday you go to church try to get someone to go with you.

 School!"
 If ever there was a time when this country needed good citizens it needs them now. There is no better way to make good Christians and good citizens than to exploit the "Go to Church" movement. Every time the sermon at the evening hour next Sunday will be on the subject, "A Masterful Minority." If you have a friend who is derelict in his religious duty plead with him. Reason with him. Point out to him that it is his duty as an American citizen to "Go to Church." Go next Sunday evening.
 Miss Dorothy Huss will lead the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.
 It often has been said that, next to the church, the newspapers are the most powerful agent for good. Many newspapers have taken up the "Go to Church" slogan. Newspapers, like the churches, are interested in the general welfare of the people.

ON THE SCREEN

WILLIAM S. HART.

William S. Hart (better known as "Bill" Hart) is a regular laborer who likes the prairie and rough life, who rides a horse and shoots a gun as though he knew how and fished it and so as if he were doing it for his salary. He doesn't wear white, his bandana isn't perfectly tied, and his hair isn't combed. He looks as if he "just came from out the West"—a real stone-faced cowboy.

Born in Newburgh, New York, of English parents, Bill really grew up in the West. For his folks moved to north Dakota soon after he was born. From the time he was old enough to walk he clung with coon-skinners, Indians and horses, falling in with the outfit and entering West Point, due to a lack of political prestige, his next move was toward the stage. Managers in the East having no use for his services he sold his closest trousers and bought a ticket to London. At the age of nineteen he returned to America and made his first appearance on the American stage in Hamlet, the remuneration for which was twelve dollars a week. Before he was five years older he was supporting a family, taking care to Julia Arthur, and leading parts in "The Squaw Man," "The Virginian" and other well known plays.

Upon the termination of his engagement in "The Virginian," Mr. Hart was offered a position by Tom Mix in the film "Yellow-Peril." He is a screen character, not a cowboy, suited the Western more than anything and decided his future career as a "two-gun man" of the screen. His first picture was "The Virginian," "The Silent Man," "The Man," "Sally," "The Virginian" and "Shark Monroe."

MARGUERITE CLARK

Marguerite Clark, the diminutive, was born in Cincinnati in 1887 and received her education at Ursuline Convent. Her stage career dates from 1899 and she first attracted notice when she appeared as a foil to the gigantic De Wolf Hopper in his early successes. After making a wonderful success of "Prunella," Miss Clark was engaged by Famous Players, with whom she has continued in pictures.

Perhaps her most beloved role was her "Bab" in the Bab series adapted from Mary Roberts Rinehart's stories which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. Other pictures to which she has loaned her charms are "The Valentine Girl," "The Amazons," "Prunella," "Snow White" and "Rich Man, Poor Man." Miss Clark is only 4 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 90 pounds. She is now working on "Uncle Tom's Cabin" for Paramount in which she will be seen as both Little Eva and Popsy. The Liberty Bonds in her home town. She ended up by disposing of $15,000 worth of the medals. She is a professional of 5000 people escorted her through the city's streets to her Liberty Bond office.

LIFE IN THE OIL FIELDS.

Persons who never have seen an oil well in operation will appreciate the feature in "His Mother's Boy" the new Thomas H. Ince production starring Charles Ray. The fortunes of a Texas oil company play an important part in this new Paramount picture and afford an interesting and novel background for the story. Charles Ray never has had a better chance to display his marked talents as a screen star than in "His Mother's Boy." The role is that of a young man brought up in a small town, educated down here. His dead father had recommended the purchase of stock in an oil company to some of his friends. The feature in "His Mother's Boy" is that the stockholders blame the dead man for the financial misfortunes.

Charles Ray, as the son of the man whose reputation is maligned, declares he will make good every loss sustained by his father's failure, and in the effort to live up to his promise he goes to Texas, works in the oil fields, and incidentally discovers why the oil company in which his father's friends are interested is failing.

Victor L. Scherzinger, who has been associated with Ray in all of his Thomas H. Ince's recent screen successes, directed the production of "His Mother's Boy."

A BATHING SUIT EPISODE.

Mabel Normand, the fetching beauty who captivated her audiences in the comedy field, and whose late pictures for the Goldwyn company have been pronounced the best in the art of photodramatic work, is coming to the Crystal Theatre in her latest picture "The Venus Model." Mabel H. Durant and produced under the direction of Clarence G. Badger. In the supporting cast are seen Alex. Hill, Max Davidson, and the support of Mae Marsh, Alfred Hickman, Edward Bouden, Edward Elkas, Albert Lackett, Una Trevelyan and others. Mabel had the aid of Kitty O'Brien, head clerk in Braddock and company, manufacturers of bathing suits. Kitty hits upon an idea for a new design in bathing suits and is promoted to the position of head of the designing department. Her appearance in the new bathing suit makes such a decided hit with the buyers that her employer's business which had run down because his designs were old-fashioned, was increased a hundred per cent. Kitty also instrumental in reforming her employer's son who has been led astray by an adventuress. He falls in love with her and she is married. But this is not account of "The Venus Model," can only give you an inkling of the story. Suffice it to say that it is one of Miss Normand's best screen dramas.

TALE OF THE NORTHWEST

The latest Thomas H. Ince production, "Blue Blazes' Rawden," is a tale of the Canadian northwest. During the filming of the picture the entire floor space of the Hart studio was occupied by a massive structure solidly built of rough-hewn logs. The story is laid in the Canadian northwest, and the building represents a combination hotel, gambling-house and dance-hall that supplied all the requirements of good shelter and amusement for the lumberjacks. Most of the scenes of the play are enacted under this roof, and there is little of the wild, outdoor life usually associated with a Hart picture. Instead of the familiar cowpunchers there is a motley crowd of lumbermen and Indians, but it is claimed that even in these familiar surroundings, Hart loses not a whit of his effectiveness, and in his new setting gains in picturesque qualities.

STAR WINS A PRIZE.

Of the half-dozen screen stars entered in the Ladies' World Magazine screen popularity contest, denominated Marguerite Clark as the winner. At the Paramount studios at Fort Lee, New York, she recently received her prize. This took the unusual form of a huge diamond, beautifully set and garnished.

When the trophy was brought to her as she sat on her stately throne, as used in the film of "The Seven Swans," Miss Clark posed for several photographs. The moment she were finished, however, she departed in a huff at the sight of gorgeous portions, which were distributed to the motley assembly of actors in all sorts of costumes, newspapers, reporters, carpenters, and others who surrounded her. "The sample was fine," averred the star later, "and after a while I'm really going to get some of it. I often thought I'd be awarded a trophy, but so seldom actually receive it."

KITCHEN INTERVIEW

"Let me see two cups of flour, three eggs, one spoonful of oil. This was the sort of chant that greeted our ears as we were ushered into the presence of winsome Victoria Martin, dainty star of Paramount pictures, for the "interview" which after many unsuccessful attempts had at last been gotten. "How do you do," she smiled the star, extending a somewhat floury hand. "Won't you sit down and have a cake and oh would you please have a drink of tea for me. As we hesitated between these various demands upon our services, Miss Martin laughingly protested that "interview" meant them all at once, though."

"You see," she continued, "I wanted to talk to you, but I have a party planned for the evening, and I always make all the little cakes and sandwiches and salads myself. But I thought we could have a little party here, so I suppose you're going to ask me about myself, so I'll just begin with the beginning and give you a sort of autobiographical sketch."

"A very interesting one," said Grand Rapids, Mich., but we didn't stay there many years, for my father had been an Easterner and the call of Broadway soon began to make itself felt. As to my professional career—it began so long ago that I can never remember a time when it was not either on the stage or working in pictures. "At six years of age I was playing child parts with Richard Mansfield and Chicago juvenile court and arranged for the screen by Julia Crawford Ivers. Dealing with one of the most important problems of the present economical crisis, "The Spirit of '17" shows the never young star in an altogether new light and offers him as yet unguessed of opportunity to display his talent."

The mother of F. F. and Harry Fisher, died at her home in the Wakefield vicinity Tuesday morning after a lingering illness. Funeral services will be held Thursday at the German Lutheran church south of Wakefield. Rev. H. L. Borneman will officiate.

Building Burned.
Wakefield citizens were aroused from their slumbers at 3 o'clock a. m. July 4, by the ringing of the fire bell. The excitement was found to be in Mitchell's harness shop, which was smoking and burning. The fire was discovered by W. S. Ebersole, proprietor of the Commercial hotel, who detected the smoke in the hotel which is in the same block with the harness shop. After the alarm had been sounded, the people had some trouble in locating the fire on account of the intense smoke coming from the burning leather. The outside of the building was covered with corrugated iron, which protected the building from being destroyed. The inside furnishings and stock were completely burned. The loss was about half-covered by insurance.

Mrs. Durkee Dies.
The body of Mrs. Lillian Durkee, niece of Mrs. "Mabel" Brown, died at Wakefield, from Central City, Neb., in burial Saturday morning. Rev. She is survived by her husband Ed Durkee, and five children and other relatives, including her aged mother. The relatives from out of town who accompanied the remains to Wakefield were Mrs. Emma Brown of Geddes, S. D., her mother; Mrs. Otto Wendt of Geddes, S. D., a sister; Harry Brown, of Vinitia, Okla., a brother; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brown of Norfolk, a brother and wife; and Will Brown, of Tracy, Minn., a cousin.

The Fourth at Wakefield.
The rain on the morning of the Fourth delayed until afternoon the program arranged for that day. Since the afternoon the sun came out and people began to arrive to share in the patriotic spirit of the occasion. The town was thronged. The chief activities of the afternoon was the patriotic speech by Rev. J. R. Gettys of University

Place. Mr. Gettys reviewed the development of the American democracy, and this country's entry into the present world struggle. He emphasized the righteous purpose for which the United States is now fighting, (and showed the vital issues now at stake).

On account of the rain the parade scheduled for morning was postponed until evening. Led by the Wakefield Military band, the procession, consisting of the G. A. R., a Knights Templar, and a Shriner, Cross and business men's floats, moved through the business district. The parade made an interesting spectacle.

The day was pronounced a grand success, full of patriotic enthusiasm and enjoyment.

Informal Party.

Obituary.
(By Rev. Frank Williams.)
Herbert Paine Shumway, eldest son of Jerome and Mary Ann Shumway, was born April 18, 1856, in Houston county, Minn. His boyhood was spent on the farm, where he attended the district school, earning his first dollar by building fires at the school house when nine years of age. Later he attended Calceonia Academy, and graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1882, with the degree of B. S.

Coming to Nebraska in 1882, he engaged in the lumber business at Wakefield, the business developing later with coal and farm machinery added. Notwithstanding the demands made upon him by a large and growing business, Mr. Shumway soon began to take active interest in all public affairs connected with good citizenship. He served three terms in state prison, 1811-12, 1913-14, 1915-16. In 1894, he all but received the nomination for lieutenant governor, which distinction he actually did achieve in 1916, and would undoubtedly have been elected to the second office in the state in the year, but for the outbreak of the Spanish influenza which prevented all the high offices of the state. He was colonel on the staff of Governor Crouse 1895-1894, on the staff of Governor Mickey in 1903-4-5-6, and on the staff of Governor Sheldon in 1907-9. He was president of Nebraska and the Iowa implement dealers' association in 1902, and vice-president of the national association in 1903. So wide were the ramifications of his interests that he was connected with the lumber industry in Mexico and with the lumber industry in Oregon. He was interested in Masonry, being a Knight Templar, and a Shriner, and was the last Worshipful Master of his home Blue lodge at Wakefield. For about 25 years he was a member of the Wakefield school board, and for many years a village trustee, also for over thirty years a trustee of the Methodist Episcopal church. He was for many years an Odd Fellow, and was also a member of the Eastern Star. M. W. A. and of the A. O. U. W.

He retired from active business in 1907, because of impaired health, but continued to reside in Wakefield, never ceasing in any of his public activities until nearly the end of his life. He was elected chairman of the Dixon county council of defense, and was also appointed chairman of the Dixon county fuel committee when the war necessitated this. These two offices he reluctantly resigned only recently under the pressure of increasing physical disability.

Mr. Shumway married Miss Helen E. Howard, Sept. 24, 1883, and to this union were born five children, viz., Carl Herbert, who died in infancy; Earl J. now at the Berkeley aviation school, California, and shortly expecting his commission; Howard L., in the medical branch of the service, and head of the Psychological department at Camp Funston; Percy S., with the aero division at Waco, Tex., also expecting his commission, and Ruth Elizabeth (Mrs. Burnett) of Oklahoma. Besides these latter and his sorrowing widow, there survive his father, Jeremiah Shumway, of Lyons, Neb., three brothers, Charles, Oscar, of Portland, Ore., George, Lorin, and Martin Leroy, both of Lyons, Neb., and two sisters, Mrs. A. H. P. Cass, of Lyons, Neb., and Mrs. Mary Evelyn Everett of Portland, Ore.

Mr. Shumway had for many years been a diabetic subject, but fought against the disease with a wisdom and a courage that was a source of wonder to his friends. In December last, he suffered an attack of pneumonia from which he never seemed to fully recover. He was better and worse, until in March it was thought advisable he should go to the Green Cables sanitarium at Lincoln for special treatment. Here it was definitely ascertained that tuberculosis had set in, and Mr.

Shumway gradually lost ground in spite of all attention and skill, until the last, when he sank to rest quietly as a babe, going to sleep, on Saturday, June 20, at 9:20 p. m.

He realized for some weeks that he was going "home" and actually planned the arrangements for the last rites, with Rev. C. W. Ray of Lyons, in charge of the services. Rev. T. C. Webster of Florence, Neb., to preach the sermon, and his present pastor, Rev. Frank Williams of Wakefield, Neb., to prepare and read the obituary. He also wished his brother Maxons to have charge of his body. All of which is done, as he desired, the widow and family most willingly carrying out his wishes.

And now there remains but one thing, and that is for the writer to bear personal tribute to the Christian faith and practice of our departed friend and brother. In one of his letters he said that all the folks knew of his public life and service, "but I do want the people at Lyons to know something of my religious beliefs and my firm trust in God, and there is no one on earth that knows that part as well as you do." He also wrote April 26, last, when the first realization came to him that he was to die, "I am perfectly satisfied that God's will I am perfectly satisfied."

THE BRISCOE

The car with the Half-Million Dollar Motor

Nearly everyone who sees the Briscoe motor for the first time says, "What a clean, simple-looking motor." It is just that; simple, well enclosed, and with the minimum of wiring or outside pipes, in fact no complicated mechanism.

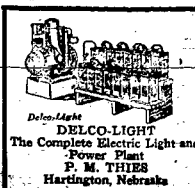

The Briscoe 4-24 motor was built, tested, and the first series manufactured in France in 1912 under the direction of Benjamin Briscoe, who has been prominent in American automobile manufacturing since the beginning of the industry. Associated with him in the designing and developing of this motor were the greatest automobile engineers of France. The result of the work of these men is a motor more powerful, more economical, and at the same time smoother running than any of its size yet produced.

When the manufacture of Briscoe cars was begun in America the better production methods in this country made it possible to lower the price and from the first the Briscoe has been a success.

A car so well built, made so beautiful, so strong, yet light, so powerful and economical of upkeep that every obstacle that is in the way of enjoyment is absolutely removed.

THE FIELD OF BUSINESS.

Sioux City Journal: The federal trade commission's report to the senate, charging gross profiteering in such big industries as meat packing and milling, has caused a stir of the week in business, and had considerable effect in the stock market. It developed that, with adequate knowledge of the report, the food administration had demanded from the millers supplies equal in value to the amount of excess the millers have taken over the allowed normal. It was 2 to 4 points in stocks of the war groups occurred on the market, due in part to the profiteering charges and in part to reports of low railway earnings and the president's request for authority to take over telegraph and telephone lines. Some irregular recoveries followed. The holiday had the usual influence on operations. The proposed seizure of wire lines followed a strike call to telegraphers employed by the Western Union telegraph company, in reply to the company to comply with the war labor board's decision as to the right of unionization. Immediate enactment of the bill was prevented by the senate, and it was indicated that it would go over until after the coming short congressional recess. The senate voted on the bill providing for an eight-hour instead of seven-hour day for employes in the civil establishment, and the clause was withdrawn.

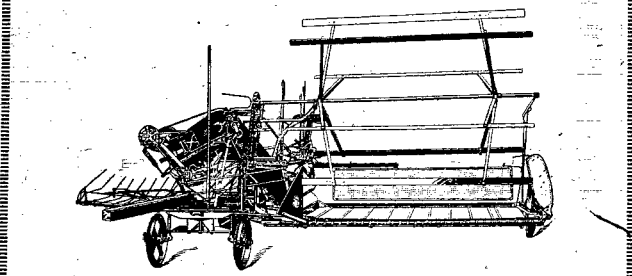

About 1700 railroad shortlines, including many plant tracks and the like, were returned to private control by the railroad administration. The week was an able one in ship-production. Launchings July 4 aggregated eighty-two vessels of 474,464 deadweight tons. Production in June was announced as 280,400 tons, setting a record, and bringing up production for 1918, to date, to 1,084,670 tons. The American merchant tonnage was stated to consist of 30,000 ships of 10,040,659 tons.

Express-company employes under federal management are to get wage advances effective July 1. The war-labor board advanced the wages of pulp wood and paper industry workers 10 cents an hour and recommended another boost in print paper prices. The food administration raised the fixed wheat prices to take care of higher freight rates on the basis of 20 cents for No. 1 wheat aboard cars in the intermountain territory. The standard at Chicago was announced as $2.25. The cent continued its fight to establish a $2.50 wheat price minimum.

The trend of corn and oats prices was upward for the week after a bearish start. Crop conditions, the Holiday, and reports that Canada will call for quantities of corn flour sufficient to meet its own closing price, moved upward to $1.54 1/8. September corn closed early in the week at $1.31 3/8, but later went to $1.31 1/2. Winning advances forced oats up. August delivery touching 71 7/8 cents.

Time money was scarce and held at between 1-2 and 6 per cent. Call loans opened the week moderate at 3-4 to 4 per cent, but later stiffened to 5. The first issue of

The above tongue truck used on the McCormick Binder not only carries the tongue weight of the binder and absorbs slide draft, but permits turning the machine faster than the horse turn. This does away with the necessity of backing up at the corners, and relieving the horses of extra work, and prevents delays. It enables cutting square corners and saving time in doing so. A loan of $100,000,000 to France increased the total of America's advances to $1,361,000,000. The general business situation, however on a quiet though war basis, was favorable. Commercial reports emphasized the absence of usual summer shut-downs, the satisfactory weather conditions and the salutary effect of the work or fight order.

LIVE STOCK CONDITION. Lincoln, Neb., July 7.—A report of live stock conditions in Nebraska has been made for the United States Department of Agriculture by Professor H. J. Gramlich, head of the animal husbandry department of the university. His report follows: In the main live stock conditions are favorable. Stock is healthy and the amount on hand is practically normal as regards cattle and hogs. Very little disease of any kind is reported, there being an unusually small amount of hog cholera and but very little blackleg. As regards the size of the spring pig crop which is coming on, reports are almost unanimous in putting it at normal or slightly above. Relative to the number of sows bred for fall litters as compared to previous years, the majority of reports seem to indicate slightly below normal. This is a figure which is hard to ascertain definitely and I am inclined to feel that the number is very near to the number bred a year ago.
