FARMER DOUBLES WAGES

Laurel, Neb., July 26—Richard Lewis, a farmer of this vicinity, paid double wages for the harvesting of his grain, because he turned over to the Red Cross twice the amount he stipulated he would allow business men of Laurel for work in his fields. Lewis was unable to secure dependable harvest hands. Merchants agreed to care for his crop at 50 cents an hour, following the work in the field. The amount of their wages was turned over to the Red Cross. Lewis complied with their request with the statement that even he would double the amount.

BOMBING PLANS.

There were no aerial bombing operations in the allied flying corps during the first year of the war. Practically all the work in the air was in the nature of observation. No pilot could be spared for anything else. Today probably 25 per cent of the aerial arms are bombing squadrons of 12 machines per squadron.

The first bombing was done by volunteer pilots who flew over the German lines and dropped three or four bombs, made from artillery shells, on concentration camps, and cantonments. Showers of small steel arrows were spilled sometimes on convoys, troops, and groups of massed men. The Germans began day bombing of cities in 1915, and the allies bombarded Karlsruhe in retaliation late in the same year. Since then evolution in organized bombing developed rapidly and the French began night bombing, but this was not adopted by the Germans until August, 1916.

At the present time large groups including several squadrons of bombing machines go over the lines from time to time and completely destroy their objective, be it a city or a camp, a column of troops, or a trench system. Unfortunately the allies' air forces have to travel for many miles over hostile territory defended by anti-aircraft guns to attack German cities, while the enemy attack French cities by flying in a short distance beyond the allied lines.

The allies are developing large bombing planes which carry sufficient fuel for long excursions and armament to protect them when they are attacked by fighting airplanes. Bombing squadrons are especially organized over the lines by fast fighting squadrons of 18 planes to a squadron, and then left to their own devices for the fighters seldom carry sufficient fuel to permit them to accompany the bombers on the round trip.

The dropping of the bomb is similar to shooting a rifle. First, you set your sights and wind gauge, you hold the rifle properly, and finally you pull the trigger at the proper moment. If your ammunition is standard, your sights correct, you hit the target. So with bombing. If you set your sights correctly, fly your plane correctly over the objective and drop the bomb at the proper time you will hit the target. If the ammunition manufacturers gave you good bombs the objective will be destroyed.

SIoux CITY'S MAYOR.

Manson Journal: Anything cheap is dear. Sioux City is a pile of elected a cheap man by the name of Short as mayor last spring. He is giving the city just such an administration as one might reasonably expect of a man of his sort. It is openly charged that the recent disaster, that cost thirty-nine lives is directly traceable to Mayor Short's attempt to pay off political debts. It seems as if almost every city must experiment with some cheap reformers about once in so often, in order to bring the voters to their right minds. Short's testimony in the trial of the I. W. W. at Chicago last week, has not added to his strength among right thinking people of the city.

KAISERISM EXPOSED.

Kaiserism, Kultur, and the whole crew of Prussian autocracy that have embroiled the world in the bloodiest struggle of its history are being laid bare to the eyes of America in a picture which is the Ambassador Gerard's book, "My Four Years in Germany." The picture was made under the personal supervision of Mr. Ziegfeld and is in exact accordance with facts and events in Germany which led up to the despoiling of innocent Belgium, the capture of the Lusitania and America's entry into the war. When the spectator watches the unfolding of Prussian intrigue and treachery in this picture, in his breast arises the wonder that America stayed out of the struggle as long as she did.

The picture reveals the military worshiping soul of a Germany whose only desire, whose sole thought, whose single prayer was for a pretext to make war—a Germany whose rulers have been tagging on to look on war, raine and atrocity as the crowning achievement of life, whose tutors under the guise of kultur, have been instilling for years the seed of German domination of the rest of the world, and who have taught the people that to Germany by every right belongs the wealth of a despoiled world—a Germany which believes its kaiser is God-given, and who now looks to America for reimbursement for the terrible toll Prussia has exacted and money by an unsuccessful effort at world domination.

The spectator is moved to hysterical cheers when he sees the dejected and unprepared England hurled into the teeth of the kaiser after Belgium had been devastated as a "strategic necessity" and watches the matrimonial of those heroes who declared "They shall not pass" and stopped the Hun hordes at the Marne.

If the photographic reproduction of "My Four Years in Germany" does nothing else than to impress even more vividly on the minds of the people the heathenly crew that are now fighting, and to show them what they may expect at the hands of such hehmalities as Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and his dancing dog, Admiral von Tirpitz, the man who ordered the Lusitania torpedoed, Crown Prince Rupprecht, whose ideal is Napoleon, but who loathes the idea that he will not duplicate the mistakes of his hero, then it has served an excellent purpose.

"THE TURN OF A CARD."

One of the most interesting and unique characterizations which J. Warren Kerrigan, the Paralta star, has ever portrayed is the part into which circumstances force him in "The Turn of a Card," his second Paralta release. Mr. Kerrigan, a Westerner according to the story, has just come East after having accumulated a fortune from his oil holdings. The daughter of the former owner of his "shack," a Long Island mansion, returns from the war zone, and, rather than tell her that her father is penniless and that the beautiful house is now in the hands of a chauffeur's livery and drives his own car as a servant.

The dual personality is continued as the charming play chauffer, to himself, though he has an independent fortune in the bank, until he and the girl, which part is played by the lovely Wilson, meet on an equal social basis. She is astounded—but glad. The reason why, and the results of her happiness at the disclosure, form the interesting part in the plot of "The Turn of a Card."

THE GLORIOUS ADVENTURE

Mammy Lou, a Savannah negress 114 years old, a discoverer of Harbort Henley, director of "The Glorious Adventure." Mae Marsh's newest Goldwyn production, takes part in an exciting plot which is the aged mammy is called upon to shed tears for her mistress (Mae Marsh) leaves her native city to see her work. Her first assignment the director failed to make her cry. Learning from a bystander that the negress still grieves for a son, who died nearly 70 years ago, he is reminded of him and presently he had all the tears he wanted.

STAR LONGS FOR FRANCE.

"Yes, I love my work," confided Marion Davies, that new star who is creating so much commotion in New York just now to Violet Sheridan in the August Motion Picture Magazine. "Honestly, there is nothing I love so much except—well, I long to go to France. I don't know any way at all so that I get there. I feel as if I were missing something—something very big—the greatest experience ever—be possible for me, or anyone, to know. And I shall go some day."

BILLIE BURKE'S ROMANCE.

"A magazine writer once asked me the question 'Why did you marry Florenz Ziegfeld, Jr.?' says Billie Burke to Earl Godwin in the August Motion Picture Classic. "I suppose the reason I married Flo-

Ziegfeld is the same as the reason Adam and Eve were married—the same reason why any girl marries any man—because I loved him. I shall never forget the first evening we met. It was at a small home-dance and all the girls had been talking of Florenz Ziegfeld, who was to be there later in the evening. But I had forgotten it. Suddenly I slipped on the highly polished floor and twisted my ankle. I didn't want anyone to notice and make a fuss over me and my slight accident, so I crept into a nook behind the velvet curtains, and wept quietly with the pain or it. Suddenly the curtains were lifted, and a man came in. As I tried to stand up, I stumbled a little, and he caught me. 'Why you poor little, red-haired baby!' he said. It was just what had had called me, and it made me feel even more forlorn than ever. Mr. Ziegfeld took me home that evening and called quite often. And that's where I met him. I married him because I loved him—and we are very, very happy."

MISCHA ELMAN IS GUEST.

The film colony has been entertaining notables in great shape, says the August Motion Picture Magazine. Mischa Elman was recently the guest of honor at the Lasky studio, and was handed around like a delicate morsel on a silver platter, for those who had not been able to hear him in person were familiar with the famous violinist through the purchase of Victor records. Mr. Elman visited many of the studios and was regaled upon with awe by the violinists who play the daily grind for photoplays. Harold Lockwood has an exceptionally good feeling, who familiarized himself with the new craze and then improvises music throughout to stir latent emotions in the star and his support. Emil Bennett has a girl violinist, who aids the star star greatly in her emotional scenes.

MAE MARSH REMEMBERS.

Mae Marsh, her work in "The Glorious Adventure" completed, finds time to keep various promises made to friends she acquired when in Georgia where she met George Henley and the Goldwyn players. She is sending to each of the negro children who live in the old Hermitage estate, unsold, a box containing exactly what the pickaninies asked for. Harmonicas, tops, marbles, shoes and stick candies are some of the things. She is also sending to Mammy Lou, an ancient dame of 114 years, who thought Miss Marsh was her oldtime "little missy" come to life, a winsome star is sending much more. Slippers and comfortable clothing and a lot of snuff were some of the articles Miss Marsh bought for the former slave.

"THE TURN OF A CARD."

This is the second of the J. Warren Kerrigan productions, in which the star plays the leading role in this story, it being that of a young college man who goes west and strikes oil in the Oklahoma fields. The first time he came to Jimmy Montgomery Farrell when he turned that card on the western gamblers sound like a fairy tale, and Jimmy was more than ever convinced that it was one when we saw Cynthia—Bardette and Cynthia—well, she took him for the chauffer, and the story of that followed led to a romance of a most unusual nature. Lois Wilson is Cynthia.

"RIMROCK JONES."

"Rimrock," they called him and he just about owned everything in sight in the little Arizona town of Cusinsight. But then McBain came along and McBain was a lawyer and a crooked one, and he found a way to force Rimrock to give up his mine. From being the wealthiest citizen in the town, Rimrock became the poorest, a mere hanger-on. And then Mary came West to retrace her steps, to find out what group her fortune, lost in the East. What she found was something she hadn't counted on, but you could see it right off. She was right, and she was right with the outcome. What Rimrock found would be telling. Wallace Reid has a corking part as Jones.

"RICH MAN, POOR MAN."

"Member the old rhyme you used to count off the buttons on your frock when you were a kiddie, to find out what kind of a husband you were going to get when you grew up? Well, Betty Wynne didn't exactly count buttons, but she never knew from one day to the next whether she was rich, or whether she wasn't. And there were two men all mixed up in the matter, and it was a terrible thing, unraveling them, so it was. Marguerite Clark is the winsomest sprite of a girl ever saw, and you will just love the story.

DOROTHY GISH.

Dorothy Gish, "I'll warrant she's an impish mile if given a chance—gay, miscellaneous, and happy—the kind who is liked by all and the kind who is always true, in the twinkling of her eye, and her saucy way would take away whatever

TO LIZZIE IN FRANCE.
(By Walter Edmand Mair.)
(Private, 1st Class, Signal Corps.)
In the August Motion Picture Magazine.

Here comes our little friend to the fray,

Smiling Tin Lizzie, the Tankering Tub!
After the Hun in her own dizzy way
Rattling and rattling and gaiting the dub;
Dammed dirty dub of a lean, lousy Hun,
Once full of arrogance, now full of hate;
Wait till our little Tin Lizzie is done,
Smiling Tin Lizzie, just hitting her gait!
Sure all her ancestors, showed the Joggled and jolted and jiggled like sin;
Ran with a racket that gave you a pain,
Rumbled and mumbled and tumbled within,
Slow-spoken Yank standing grim at the wheel;
After the goot of the germ-planting Boche,
Is he at home? Well, he knows by the feel,
Henry Ford's hopeful is happy, he-gosh!
Look at the rattling, Doughter of Doom,
Jumping the telegraph poles with a lurch!

Yow! Ain't it natural? Just give her room
And she'll be seating the spire of a church!
Heard that exhaust keeping time to the trill,
Ripped from the throat of the Browning gun hot,
Handing to Fritz out his long-needed pill,
Is he enjoying it?—Yes—he is not!
Smiling Tin Lizzie, America's Pride!
Over and at 'em girl! Queen of Detroit!
Hot as hell's hub tho you may be inside,
Drill some cool oopwork in the Kai's 'shoot'!
Dammed dirty dub of a lean, lousy Hun,
Once full of arrogance, now full of hate,
Wait till our little Tin Lizzie is done,
Lizzie, the little toy wagon of fate!

I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible with Liberty and Justice to all.

Democratic newspapers would do well by aside narrow partisanship in reference to the war, and not assume credit which belongs to the whole people.

One of our partisans cannot reconcile our banishment of the Kaiser to hell with what he assumes is a record of failure to properly believe in the existence of that sort of place.

Men or women, boys or girls will be better satisfied with life after the war if they can point to service which has helped with victory.

The late republican state convention is reported the largest and most enthusiastic one held in the state since the primary law put nominating conventions out of business several years ago.

We would like to see and hope to see standards in the field of business, speculation and investment raised to a higher level consistent with conscience and justice.

Basket Store Service Saved This Community Several Hundred Dollars. When we speak of service, we do not mean the free delivery of a twenty-five, fifty-cent or dollar order; that's not consistent with good merchandising in times of war. What we mean by saving to the community, for instance—The Basket Store by its co-operation with large distributors has made it possible to make Wayne a regular charcoal distributing point for perishable fruits. Three cars of berries have been distributed from this station at a saving to the consumer of a dollar a case or more. The third car of watermelons is on track, which means melons to you at about one-half, as compared with local shipments. Our contracts assure you, peaches and plums in car lots at a saving of 20 per cent over other towns which are required to submit to local shipments. Your cooperation with the Basket Store will simply reflect what we are doing for you, securing goods in large lots and selling on the basis of quick turnover and small margins. Water Melons Carload on track all this week at 3c per pound. Saturday afternoon and evening you will have an opportunity to secure melons thoroughly ice cooled from the big tank in front of the store. All melons sampled and sold subject to your approval. Get a melon Saturday—special salesmen for melons only. Purple Fruit Jam $1,000 worth just received. New Goods at a price less than you can preserve it yourself. The Basket Store offers you pure fruit and sugar jam which insures you about twice the amount usually offered. Peaches and Pears for Preserving A car load has been contracted to arrive the first week in August. Leave your orders. It's co-operation that makes quick sales and a corresponding close margin.

Cure for Dysentery.
"While I was in Ashland, Kansas, a gentleman overheard me speaking of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes William Whitelaw of Des Moines, Iowa. "He told me in detail of what it had done for his family, but more especially his daughter who was lying at the point of death with a violent attack of dysentery, and had been given up by the family physician. Some of his neighbors advised him to give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he had, and fully believes that by doing so saved the life of his child. He stated that he had also used this remedy himself with equally gratifying results."

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher

CARELESS SLACKING.
Jim Jimpson stopped his touring car, and let the motor run, while handing out, with face ajar, some facts about the Hun. He pushed hot language from his throat for minutes seventeen, and all the time the motor was burning gasoline. A million cars this wasteful strand as we proceed to press; the gas thus burned, throughout the land, would make a lake, I guess. Ere long methinks that Uncle Sam will shut off the supply, and then, from York to Yuba Dam we'll cuss the wasteful guy. I see men slacking every day, unconscious that they slack; jinks throws a pair of shoes away, because one has a crack. Bilks squanders money when he sups, but has no ill intents; Jones feeds a string of useless pups, not worth eleven cents. Crips buys more garments than he needs, and gorgeously he's dressed. Crump blows himself for Cuban weeds, when twofers would be best. We all should save in every style, to swat those Teuton seamps; and when we have a little pile, invest in bonds or stamps.

KULTUR.
"You ask me what this "kultur" means, that's boomer by Prussian King and crown? Well, I say, babes with submarines, that's kultur. I make a solemn pledge today, and later think it may not pay, whereto I throw this pledge away—that kultur. I see the Red Cross banner fly above a shed where sick men lie; I bomb the shed; and they all die—that kultur. I hit my wife with brutes and beasts, I give the vultures daily feasts, I burn down churches, hang the priests—that kultur. At every hour to God I cry, I'm always praying to the God of every act God I defy—that kultur. I send my neighbors sons to fight against the sacred cause of right, but mine are the wrong side, day and night—that kultur. I claim that butchery is wise, that tears are good for human eyes; I swear to all ungodly lies—that kultur. Oh, think of all that's wrong and foul, of sins that travel cheek by jowl, of kings who strut while subjects howl—that kultur. And think of all the homes destroyed, the fields now an aching void, of those by treachery decayed—that kultur. There is an evil end abroad that knows no conscience, truth or God; we go to strike it to the soil; it's kultur."

JULY.
July's a month I don't admire; it's hotter than a house afire. It drives me wailing to the shade, to lap up tubs of lemonade, the while I twang a mournful lute; July's a month I don't admire. The sun is like a ball of brass; it shrivels all the leaves and grass; it burns my neck and peels my nose, and multiplies my warty woe, and makes me surly and perspire; July's a month I don't admire. The couch to which I drag my form, when evening comes, is much too warm. And there I toss the long night through, and sweat the sheets; and groan and stew, and kick the footboard from the bed, and vainly wish that I were dead. When morning comes I sudly rise, and brush the cobwebs from my eyes, and see the same old sun on deck, determined all the world to wreck. The breeze is dry and lacking vigors; 'twas fried before they turned it loose. The birds fly round on wilted wings, and not a blamed canary sings. The hens are soggy with here and there, disgusted that they cannot swear. All nature has a parboiled look, and steam is rising from the brooks; and half-cooked fish climb out to get a breath of air, all ready yet. The men and women sadly go on bootless errands to and fro; they view the hot and glaring sky and speak blue words about July. The landscape's like a wide-spread pyre; July's a month I don't admire.

WOMEN TRIUMPHANT.
The woman barber is on deck; today she dyed my sideboards blue, and brushed some talcum on my necks; as well as any man could do. Her lily fingers held my nose, she lathered me with queenly grace, and tinted up the brush that grows around the borders of my face. Today I took a jitney ride; a woman driver held the wheel; she was as blooming as a bride, and full of bustles, as an eel. And when I offered her in pay a huge seven-dollar bill, she threw me o'er a stack of hay with most surprising strength and skill. I went to shoe some horses of whom, that all the nations may be free; and, as I toiled on next to a luskly dame worked next to me. As counsel for James Prater of Hose, in court I did my very best; a woman lawyer then arose, and poked my logic galley west. While I was fighting with my wife I felt twinnesses and broods; these woman surgeon brought a knife, and fixed me up as good as new. The men have gone to whip the Hun; their wives and daughters stay behind, to see that every duty's done, to carry on the ceaseless grind. To-day I thought, with whom and song, I'd celebrate a Hun defeat; a woman peeler came along, and pinched me, on Commercial street. A woman jailer saw me kneel, con-

With a Titan Tractor and Oliver Plows

The Oliver Plow is recognized as the tractor plow—built especially for that work. The Oliver organization has utilized an experience of 60 years as plowmakers for the world, in producing a plow that conforms to the unusual requirements of tractor service.

It has great strength. It is easy to operate—a simple trip rope controls the plows from the tractor seat. The plow points enter and leave the ground first, which insures uniform furrows. Further, the combined rolling Cutters and Jointers bury all trash and stalks in the bottom of the furrow.

A good tractor—the Titan 10-20, with a good plow—the Oliver. That is the ideal plowing outfit—the outfit that you want—this spring! Let's talk it over.

Profits and Prices

Profits may be considered from two angles:

- 1st—Their effect on prices;
- 2nd—As a return to investors.

When profits are small as compared with sales, they have little effect on prices.

Swift & Company's profits are only a fraction of a cent per pound on all products sold, and if eliminated entirely would have practically no effect on prices.

Swift & Company paid 10 per cent dividends to over 20,000 stockholders out of its 1917 profits. It also had to build extensions and improvements out of profits; to finance large stocks of goods made necessary by unprecedented requirements of the United States and Allied Governments; and to provide protection against the day of declining markets.

Is it fair to call this profiteering?

trically on the prison stones; a woman cadi heard my spiel, and put me down for fifteen bones.

COMING BACK.
The gray haired men are coming back, for duty they're enrolled, the men who one time got the sack because they were too old. The younger men have gone to fight and shake the tyrants' thrones, and there is need for every wight who has ten finger bones. And now the gent with wintry locks may vindicate his claim, that Osler's much exploited talks were but a sin and shame. "Young blood" for years has been the cry, in every busy mart; the gray haired man might go and die, or wilt and break his heart. The gray haired man has made his roar, for justice he has called; they should him off from every door, because his head was bald. And now he has the wished for chance to show he's coo's as white; now he may conquer circumstance and get there with both feet. Old prejudice he'll trample flat, and show he's good as new, and he will win the day. His name was used for talking through. The old boy leaves his easy chair, his slippers and his books; his equatalls slung over his air, he's doing things, gadzooks!

HYMN OF HATE.
Last night I sat up pretty late indyging in a lot of hate. I hated all our Teuton foes, their hearts, their whiskers and their toes; I hated Hindenburg and Bill, and Ludendorff with right good will. From 10 o'clock till half past one I hated every beastly Hun, and hoped his name might yet be Mud; I ground my teeth and sweated blood. So today I'm feeling punk; there's lassitude throughout my trunk; my head aches in a horrid way. I have less as an eel. And when I offered her in pay a huge seven-dollar bill, she threw me o'er a stack of hay with most surprising strength and skill. I went to shoe some horses of whom, that all the nations may be free; and, as I toiled on next to a luskly dame worked next to me. As counsel for James Prater of Hose, in court I did my very best; a woman lawyer then arose, and poked my logic galley west. While I was fighting with my wife I felt twinnesses and broods; these woman surgeon brought a knife, and fixed me up as good as new. The men have gone to whip the Hun; their wives and daughters stay behind, to see that every duty's done, to carry on the ceaseless grind. Reid & Son's Big Type Poland Chinas

Edwin Reid. James Reid

James Reid and his son, Edwin Reid, are in partnership in raising big type Poland China pigs, a fact well known to many Nebraska breeders. In the last year they moved from near Wakefield to their newly acquired farm five miles northeast of Wayne. They are ideally located and equipped for handling fine stock. Plenty of modern pens and an abundance of shade give advantage to the pig industry. The Reids know a good pig when they see it, and therefore they make no mistakes in the selection of foundation stock.

Reid Herd Reflects Quality

The Reid herd puts a ton of emphasis into the argument in favor of raising only pure bred hogs of the big bone type. It costs no more to raise the best. It takes no more corn or alfalfa. And with unexampled prices for corn and pork, the most that can be produced with the least outlay of feed will appeal to any thinking person as the course to follow. The Reid herd reflects unlimited possibilities in big production and multiplying wealth. More pork is the demand of the day, and will be the ever increasing demand for many years to come. To help solve the problem of greater production, people must feed hogs that grow fast and big.

The Reids have been in the business only five years, but have exercised fine judgment in buying only the best, which fact accounts for the heavy and well filled bones, well sprung ribs, excellent head and ears, good feet and feet set on the highest in hog development so far attained. Pledgers who are competent judges of hogs pronounce the Reid Poland Chinas topnotchers in all respects. They can't help but be so. They come from royal stock, and have pedigrees that attest to purest and choicest lineage.

Purchases from well Known Breeders

The Reids have bought sows from the following well known and successful breeders: Henry Ressemmer, Clarinda, Ia.; Perry Reed, Henderson, Neb.; Henry and Gustaf Paulsen, Carroll, Neb.; William Wright & Son, Allen, Neb.; Paul Wagner, Pierce, Neb.; William Ferguson, Scribner, Neb.; Thomas Walker, Alexandria, Neb.; Peter Mouw, Orange City, Ia.; Mrs. Ellerbrock & Sons, Sheldon, Ia. These are all leading breeders and an animal from any one of their herds means the very highest in quality. Peter Mouw is the synonym for the very top notch in Poland China production. Last week the Reids bought a fine Poland China male pig of John Meese, well known breeder of Ord, Neb.

Fall Sows and Spring Pigs

The Reids have twenty fall sows by Big Bone Bob, and Ninety spring pigs by Big Bone Bob and Big Chief Jones. Eleven farrowed in one litter were all raised. If you are interested in fine pure bred pigs, you should visit the Reid farm and see the mammoth, growthy animals in the pens. And if you want some choice Poland China stock you cannot make a mistake by buying from the Reids.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

From the Wayne Herald, August 4, 1898:
A. S. Mines of Philadelphia visited in Wayne with his brother, J. C. Mines.
A. C. Boyd of Lincoln arrived in Wayne to visit his daughter, Mrs. Dearborn.
Miss Kittie Shanahan of Chicago arrived in Wayne to visit her aunt, Mrs. Ahern.
An excursion rate of one cent a mile was made for one day, to Omaha and return.
Professor Durrin went to Omaha with his statutory which will be placed on exhibition in that city.
Mrs. Everett Laughlin went to Freeport, Ill., having received word that her mother was seriously ill.
Electric lights in Wayne have been slow in materializing but it is hoped they will be installed in the near future. Mayor Ley says the disposing of the bonds has been the cause of the delay.

Bids by the different contractors are being made for the construction of the new Presbyterian church.
J. H. Nieman of Petersburg, son of Dr. Nieman of this place, arrived in Wayne accompanied by his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Guy R. Willour, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rundell, and Jake Ziegler attended the exposition at Omaha.
Miss Ethel Graves, daughter of Philo Graves of Wakefield, was the guest of Miss Leona Hunter in Wayne.
Walter S. Taylor of Wayne and Miss Lucy Cross of Columbus will be married at the home of the bride's parents August 17.
Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Alter and little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. Stringer and daughter Alice went to Omaha to attend the exposition.
Leslie Crockett who had been sick for some time was taken to the Methodist hospital by Mrs. Thomas Bihel to receive medical treatment.

Messrs. Tucker and Main have erected a handsome sixty-foot flagpole on their residence property from which a flag will be unfurled on proper occasions.
For several weeks, J. J. W. Fox, one of Wayne county's most highly respected citizens, had been planning to celebrate his fiftieth birthday anniversary. He issued invitations to a host of his friends who assembled at his home and spent a delightful time.
Mrs. Tower and Mrs. Ley gave a very pleasant surprise party in honor of Mrs. Montgomery and her sister, Mrs. May, at the home of Mrs. Henry Ley, Mesdames Damon, Eppler, Norris and Blair entertained the guests with instrumental and vocal music and a short time was spent in answering conundrums.
The silver republicans held a committee meeting in W. M. Wright's office and elected S. O. Hogue chairman and J. Tower secretary of the meeting. Frank Fuller, W. M. Wright, F. W. Burdick, J. Tower, R. P. Williams, W. B. Hornby, Homer Graves, and Harry Workman were selected delegates to the state convention.
From the Ponca Journal, August 1, 1898:
The cutting of wheat is progressing rapidly throughout the county, and all will be harvested before the end of another week. Wheat is turning out much better than was expected a few days ago. On the uplands it is scarcely injured at all, and in the valleys but little. On the whole, a good crop will be obtained. There is a great scarcity of hands, hence wages are unusually high.
Mr. William Foote who resides on Mr. Huddleston's place, a mile east of town, brought into our office last Friday a marvelous curiosity. It was a petrified bone which he had just found imbedded in the ledge of rocks along the river, near where the plesiosaurus was discovered. It is of enormous size—many times bigger than any bone found in the largest buffalo. It is probably the petrified leg bone of some monstrous marine animal of antediluvian times.
On Friday a colt, perambulating the hill north of town, turned up his toes, keeled over and fell down. He rolled from the top of the hill to the bottom with all the force and fury of a gyroscope and struck and lodged with a loud whang against Guy Wilbur's fence. Mr. Higgins, witnessing the performance went to see what was the matter, and found that the colt was dead. Being dead, no information was derived as to the cause of the tragical occurrence, nor who was the owner of the colt. On Saturday morning it was found that a valuable horse owned by O. P. Sullenberger, esq., of the Central House, was missing. The evening before he had been hitched in his accustomed stall, but when morning came the door was open and the horse had disappeared. Mr. Sullenberger and others hunted all day for the departed horse, but without avail. It was finally thought that he had been stolen. On Sunday the country was again scoured, and a part of Dakota county was also looked over. Monday the search was again commenced. Messrs. Sullenberger and Green went out to the southern part of the county, and towards night, to their great joy, found the object of their solicitude, about twenty miles away from home. Then they returned joyfully. There is no doubt that some rascally tramp robbed the horse and rode him to where he was found. It is a great pity that Messrs. Sullenberger and Green had not also overhauled the thief who made them so much trouble and expense.

periment" is to talk in the language of half a century ago. It is to expose astonishing ignorance of world progress. Prohibition has long since ceased to be an experiment. It has been deliberately adopted by more than half of the nation. It has left only a reluctant minority of the states still wet. "We have got to put all the smash and drive we have into this war; we have to fight, fight and still fight, with every muscle straining," Mr. Hurley patriotically declares. Well and good. And the way to put smash and drive into the war is to hike and not brew with our grain, haul food and not drink on our trains, build ships and not kegs with our lumber and leave every worker clear of brain and steady of hand for the gigantic tasks that await the nation.
To Improve Your Digestion.
"For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them did I find the right treatment. Since taking them my digestion is fine." Mrs. Blanche Dowers, Indiana, Pa.

NOT DUE TO SEX ALONE.
Wayne Women Have Learned The Cause of Many Mysterious Pains and Aches.
Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all backaches, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weakness. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidney Pills, is bound to help bad kidneys get better. There is no other remedy so well-recommended by Wayne people. Read this case:
"My John Pawelski, Wayne, says: 'I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Feller's Pharmacy and they relieved me of lameness and a wearing ache in my back. They also removed weakness and a tired, worn-out feeling and caused my kidneys to act regularly.'

Hogue, Mr. and Mrs. Art Auker, Miss Hester Rhea, and Alvin French, were present at the wedding in their gown Tuesday evening, the occasion being G. A. Pestal's birthday. The birthday cake and wedding candles formed an attractive centerpiece on the supper table. During the game of "magic music" Mr. Pestal found several packages to remind him of the day.

What a town needs is a class of people who get what they go after, and Winside has them. Two business men, a banker and a druggist, drove into the country Monday evening to sell chautauqua tickets. The farmer had no notion of buying the tickets as just at that moment he was busy milking cows from the pasture a herd of bringing cows, not one exactly gene. The business men offered to help; in fact, said they would do it all if the gentleman would give them the tickets. The farmer produced the pails and folding his arms leaned against the barn to watch. The business men went home.

When the milking was done, the farmer bought season tickets for the family. The banker has several boxes of the finest suit, which they sold the tickets.

The party for Iver Prince will soon return to San Antonio, Tex., where he is a member of the aviation corps.

From Gerald Cross.
The following are always interesting to Winside people, being extracts from the home of Gerald Cross, former principal of the schools here, now "over there."
"Dijon, June 21.—Have left Paris for a short time, but expect to return by July first. Very severe fighting has occurred, with the Americans doing their share and springing a few surprises on the Germans. Very good stories have come in concerning the work of the boys. Fritz is playing all his money on the last part of the fight, so no apprehension is felt in spite of the fact that he is less than forty-five miles from Paris, but in that forty-five miles he has lost no one, not a single soldier and no guns. CLOSING OF SUMMER TERM

Enrollment Good Notwithstanding Unusual Conditions.

Summer school at the Wayne State Normal closed last Thursday after an unusually successful session. The spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm has been especially manifest and the students in general have felt a responsibility which has made for very satisfactory results.

A very large majority of the students were of college rank. Nine students were represented by thirty three of the counties of Nebraska were represented: Eighty per cent of the students came from within a radius of seventy-five miles. The student body was made up of ninety-five per cent girls.

Most of the faculty are planning on spending part of all of their vacation at the home of Mrs. Conn and Miss Ardath Conn will take an auto trip through some of the western states.

The Gulliver and Hickman families will spend the summer in Wayne, Mo. Mrs. H. W. H. will spend some time in Laurel with her people, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will take a short trip later in the summer.

SUPERS FOR THRASHING CREWS.

In some of the counties of Nebraska the Councils of Defense have adopted the rule that no supper is prepared for all or half or more of the crew who come for supper, thus wasting often a lot of good food. The thrashing committee of Wayne county has called my attention to the matter and I have asked me to suggest that Wayne county people could adopt the rule with profit. If thrashing crews take supper where they are working, the people in charge of the cooking should always know just how many to prepare for.—J. H. Kemp.

BEGINNING THE FIFTH YEAR

Sioux City Journal: On July 28, 1914, the Austro-Hungarian empire declared war on Serbia, ostensibly on Russia in invaded Luxembourg as the first step in her rush against France. Belgium was invaded on August 3, and on August 4 the British empire entered the war. After the first few days the armistice was in retreat to the Aisne. The first fight for the channel ports followed. The Russians stood firm in front of the German army.

The spring of 1915 brought the great Russian invasion of Austria, which ended in the disaster of the Donajec, into the greatest German victory of the war. The Lusitania was sunk May 7, three months before the end of the war. The submarine war had been made. Italy joined the entente. The conquest of Serbia was effected. On December 4, 1915, the third peace offensive was launched. The war was a deadlock in France and on the Italian front, with the Russians on the north and south line from the Caucasus to the Crimea.

In 1916 occurred the great battles of Verdun and the Somme. The crown prince after nearly five months was completely foiled at Verdun. The allies punched through in successive attacks on the German line so as to imperil both German flanks. Gallipoli was evacuated. On May 31 the battle of Hound reef occurred, resulting in the flight of the German high seas fleet. Germany on May 4, answering the American Sussex note, agreed to bring her submarine war within bounds of international law. The U-boat was drowned June 5. The great Russian offensive under Brusiloff resulted in the capture of hundreds of thousands of Austrians and the crumbling of Bukovina, eastern Galicia and part of Volhynia. Rumania entered the war August 27, after initial successes was beaten by the combined Austro, Bulgarian and Turkish armies. Lloyd George became prime minister of Great Britain December 7. On December 18, President Wilson made his peace proposal.

1917 was marked by resumption of unrestricted submarine warfare, followed on April 6 by the American declaration of war. The Russian revolution began March 11. In March the Germans in France retreated to the Hindenburg line. A great advance was made by the Julian Alps collapsed at Caporetto October 24, and the Austro-German armies advanced to the Piave. The British gained ground in the Flanders offensive. Jerusalem was captured by the British December 9. The bolshevik assumed power in Russia in November, and on December 23 opened peace negotiations.

In the present calendar year the great events have been the signing of the armistice, the German offensives of the Germans in France, the Austrian fasco in their attempt to cross the Piave, the capture of the German 100,000 American troops in France, the allied counter offensive on the Aisne-Marne line, and the reaching of the final stages of the march plans to help and restore Russia.

With this history of four years of fighting in the greatest of wars now written, the world is called to enter its fifth year of the struggle. It will be the first year of real American participation.

THE MEANING IS PLAIN. H. T. T. in the Chicago Tribune: Berlin's present way of announcing a victory is brief and to the point: "Our reserves took part in the battle."

WORDS OF APPRECIATION

President of Wayne County Red Cross Hears from Soldiers.

Mrs. E. W. Huse, president of the Wayne county Red Cross, has received the following letter of gratitude from members of the last quota of soldiers leaving Wayne county:

Camp Dodge, Ia., July 25, 1918. Mrs. E. W. Huse, President of Wayne County Red Cross, to whom I am indebted for the good work you are doing, we wish to thank the Red Cross for the splendid comfort kits given us. They are much needed and appreciated. Your kindness will long be remembered.

August H. Bierman, Harry G. Evans, Carl J. Graverholt. The president has also received a copy of the "Approved Activities of the Red Cross," as authorized by general orders No. 17, issued by the War Department, February 13, 1918, which follows:

- 1. To relieve the anxiety and to sustain the morale of soldiers who are worried about their families at home and to promote the comfort and well-being of these families. 2. Representatives of the American Red Cross may be attached to each hospital to furnish emergency supplies when called upon, to communicate with the families of patients, to render home service to patients, and to coordinate work as pertains to Red Cross work. 3. To distribute sweaters, mufflers, helmets, socks, comfort kits, etc., and to receive the assistance and cooperation of all officers making the distribution, fair, equal, and where most needed. 4. To render emergency relief of every kind upon the request or suggestion of an officer in charge. All officers are instructed to avail themselves of this assistance whenever, in their opinion, advisable. 5. To coordinate and supervise stations for furnishing refreshments to soldiers when traveling through the country, to furnish emergency relief to the sick and wounded when en route and to see that they are conveyed to a hospital when necessary and requested by the Commanding Officer.

6. In order to render the above outlined service to the best advantage, the accredited chief officer representing the American Red Cross should have headquarters with a Field Director. 7. Officials of the Red Cross assigned on duty with the Military establishment, as outlined above, will be required to wear the regulation uniform of the American Red Cross, together with the insignia, etc., as approved by the Secretary of War.

THE WAR ARGUMENT.

Nebraska Farmer: A most remarkable movement has been instituted by the business men of the city of Lincoln. The original idea came from a convention of 4,000 Rotarians in Kansas City a few weeks ago and is rapidly spreading to all parts of the United States. Resolutions have been introduced in congress and it would not be at all surprising if the movement becomes official. It is known as the War of Angels.

Practically every business concern in the city has agreed to discontinue all business for one minute each day beginning at eleven o'clock in the morning. Employers, employees and customers will devote the minute to silent meditation and prayer for the success of our arms and the arms of our allies. It is an inspiring sight to see the business men of an entire city stop at the stroke of a gong or the sound of a whistle and everybody within the distance, usually with hats off, offering earnest but silent prayer to that supreme and invincible spiritual power which always rules the world and the hearts and the courage of a people in time of trial.

The movement is all the more remarkable coming as it does from hard-headed business men, many of whom do not believe in the church as it is operated through its denominations today. There are few of these men who are not materialists in a supreme power, and they are glad to acknowledge that belief before their fellow-men. We see many signs of the march coming in our own and with a united front rendering a real service for which the people have anxiously waited. Radical changes are called for, and these changes are in order in war time.

MORE CONSOLATION. Baltimore Evening Sun: When we read of the Bussan plan of buying one million dollars of German bonds, we feel more consoled at the prospect of abolishing her.

MAGNIFICENT. Iroquois, S. D. Chief: The splendid record the American troops are making in the great battles being fought makes the hearts of our people swell with pride. There was never any doubt that the showing would be a good one, but it has been more than that—it has been magnificent.

MAN KILLED NEAR OSMOND

Result of an Automobile Accident—Two Others Badly Hurt.

Osmond, Neb., July 30.—One man is dead and two boys badly hurt as the result of an automobile accident which took place at the edge of town yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The man who was killed almost instantaneously, was George Leubbers and one of his sons is severely injured. The other automobile belonged to Robert Buchholz, one of whose children was also badly cut.

Both cars turned completely over and upset with the occupants. It is thought that both were going about thirty miles per hour.

CALL FOR 500 MEN.

Lincoln, Neb., July 30.—A call for 500 men from Nebraska to attend the state automobile school of Kansas City for mechanical training for war service has been apportioned among Nebraska counties by Capt. Walter L. Anderson, provost marshal of Nebraska.

In his announcement of quotas, Capt. Anderson points out that 477 men have already volunteered for this branch of the service, leaving only twenty-three to be involuntarily inducted. The men are limited to white citizens and are to be in Kansas City by August 16.

With Nebraska's draft quota for August as large as in July, and an equal number for September, Capt. Anderson said he believed that all of the Class I men would be exhausted before the November call. A large proportion of the boards in the state are already having to reclassify men in order to get enough to fill their quotas, and these with the 1918 class will be used by that time, he believes.

Among the county quotas announced for Kansas City are the following: Antelope 9; Boone 31; Boyd 1; Brown, Cedar 2; Cherokee 2; Cumming 1; Dakota, 0; Dixon, 6; Dodge, 9; Holt, 3; Keya Paha, 7; Knox, 7; Madison, 6; Pierce, 0; Platte, 4; Rock, 0; Stanton 0; Wayne, 3.

WAYNE MAN IN DEAL.

Omaha Bee, July 28.—A number of Omaha's leading capitalists have acquired large holdings of potato lands in Garden county, Neb., and have organized the Omaha Potatoes and Rening company.

The executive officers elected for the ensuing year are Everett Backlund, vice-president and general manager of the Union Stock yards; president: Philip H. Kohl, capitalist of Wayne, Neb., vice-president: Joseph Barker of the Foster-Barker company, Omaha, treasurer and Frank A. May, commercial superintendent of the Nebraska Telephone company, secretary.

The company has acquired leases of one of the largest areas of potato bearing waters in the state. Chemical analyses have been made of many of the different lakes and all have shown potato and other by-products in solid and solution in paying commercial quantities.

It is the intention of the new company to develop its holdings by the erection of a modern reclamation and reduction plant at Lakeside, Garden county. The character and business abilities of the men identified with the executive offices and directorate of the new company promise to assure its financial success. They have all made a personal investigation of the physical values of their holdings and are confident of the fact that they will be able to develop their proposed venture into one of the most extensive and profitable potato reduction plants in the state, especially as their extensive holdings are located in the heart of the richest district.

BOYS FOR UNIVERSITY.

The following boys will be entrusted so as to reach Lincoln, Neb., on August 15, 1918. This is a call for special training at the university of Nebraska: Order No. 9: William Joseph Thielman, 13 Arthur Henry Hinrichs, 21 23 William Joseph Hennessy, 30 31 George LeRoy Masten, 48

FORCE TO THE LIMIT!

B. L. T. in the Chicago Tribune: From now on the Germans will be entirely correct in declaring that the war is forced upon them. And in August 15, 1918. This is a call for special training at the university of Nebraska: Order No. 9: William Joseph Thielman, 13 Arthur Henry Hinrichs, 21 23 William Joseph Hennessy, 30 31 George LeRoy Masten, 48

SUGAR CONSUMPTION CUT

One Family Uses Only Four Pounds of Sugar in Two Months.

"We have used only four pounds of sugar in two months," one group remarked quizzically when a group of women were commenting on the difficulty of serving meals without sugar.

According to the three-pound schedule the allowance in this household of two people for the last two months was twelve pounds. But they were not content to be just within the law. They were willing and glad to give two-thirds of their rightful allotment to the folks over there. "We figure that pro-Germans and lukewarm Americans abide by the law, and since we are Americans pledged to go all the way, don't you see we have got to do more; we have got to live up to the spirit of the law. That's the reason we are saving all we can."

Women of this type will not complain at the August sugar regulations, which limit home consumption to two pounds per person a month. They will only get busy thinking up more ways to use substitutes for sweetening. Even with the supply cut to two pounds each person gets twice as much sugar as is allotted in France or Italy, four ounces being the weekly allowance in those countries. Today, after the food administration has discounted sugar consumption twenty-five per cent the average per capita use runs up to sixty pounds a year. This figure includes sugar eaten at hotels, cafes, soft drink parlors and confectionaries. Since America has always held the record on eating sugar it is significant that consumption has dropped from 85 pounds per person in 1913 to sixty pounds the last year. But further saving is needed and thoughtfulness on the part of every housewife will make the complete record for 1918 another bit of evidence of the willingness of America to sacrifice.

THE NEUTRAL ATTITUDE.

Philadelphian Public Ledger: One result of the German defeat will be reflected in neutral opinion. There is no doubt that the attitude of the small countries within striking distance of Germany has been influenced largely by the belief that she might win the war.

Let an Expert Do It

Charging is not an especially complicated process, but it is an especially important one. By proper charging, batteries are returned to their proper condition; by improper charging, their life is likely to be seriously shortened.

The charging rate is carefully determined, and is slowed down by just the right amount as the process nears completion. Ask us about the Still Better Willard. It is the only battery with the "Bone Dry" principle that is your absolute assurance of getting a battery as new as the day it left the factory.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING. POLITICAL ADVERTISING. Candidate for Republican Nomination

For United States Senator Congressman Charles H. Sloan

The Aurora Republican, edited by Clark Perkins, last week contained the following editorial: The Editor of the Republican favors Congressman Sloan for the following reasons which to us seem good and sufficient: Mr. Sloan has been the Fourth district's representative in congress for eight years, and he has always stood for constructive republican legislation. His record shows that he has been for "America first," not only in time of war but in time of peace. His record on preparedness is the best of any candidate seeking the senatorial nomination. Since war was declared he has met in every way the loyalty test of the League of National Unity, which has been approved by the leaders of both great political parties. Mr. Sloan has supported every measure of congress as a war measure, and has committed himself to peace only when America and her allies are absolutely dictate the terms of peace. He has two sons in military service. He stands in a place of leadership in the republican party, both in the state and nation. He is the only republican congressman from Nebraska in its thirty-one years of history to attain membership on the ways and means committee, the most important committee of the house of representatives. With large legislative experience, he has had his part in all war legislation up to this time. He stands well with his colleagues, who recognize his ability, his fairness, his staunch Americanism and republicanism. He would at once attain a place in the senate and on its committees that would be impossible for a man who has had no such experience. He is more closely identified with agriculture than any candidate for the senate, being actively engaged in conducting a farm. On account of the work he has performed in congress for the agricultural interests of the state and nation, he is recognized in Washington as one of the best posted men on all farm subjects. He has always been loyal to the nation, to Nebraska and Nebraskans, and to the republican party, whose nomination he now seeks. He was first in the field, having announced his candidacy last January, and he has done much of the pioneer work in organizing the republican party for American representation in the senate from Nebraska. His record has been such that his majority has increased at each election, until in 1916 he ran 10,000 ahead of his opponent. He is a record in all former campaigns indicates that he can be elected if nominated. He is a "result getter" in congress and a "vote getter" at home. He is a "winner" in winning the war and winning it now, who feel that the republican party has a place of honor and duty in the prosecution of this war, and who believe that the republican party should control during the remainder of the war, and who will want to elect their own representative to congress in the November election, will all unite in support of Congressman Sloan.

JUSTLY PUNISHED. In our civil war there was but one marked instance of a total disregard of the methods of civilized warfare, and that was the treatment of prisoners. At Andersonville prison federal captives were starved, maltreated and murdered. Mrs. C. E. Purshouse of Norfolk for this was Capt. The Sunday morning preaching service is at 10:30 o'clock and will be continued throughout the summer. The sermon theme next Sunday morning will be "The Undeniable."

No religious person can be impartial. No sermon can be unimpartial of the present war. The young man or woman who takes part in the war is a Christian hero or heroine. It is a small sacrifice that has been demanded of the people and there is no doubt that it will be complied with, although there will be some grumblers. It may be that before the six months have expired one or two submarines will be destroyed to make the navigation of the seas safe enough to secure sugar from the more distant sources of supply.

Meanwhile, the grumblers think of the boys who are giving all for their country, who are enduring cheerfully the sun and hardships of the sea, and then look at himself in the mirror when he complains of being deprived of the second spoonful of sugar for his coffee. One look should be enough.

meeting will be "Our Ambition." Vacation time is not meant to be a time to waste our energies. It is a time for recreation. We should be made all the more ready to "come" back to our work when the vacation time is over to do better service than ever.

INCREASED ACREAGE.
Lincoln, Neb., July 29.—Three-quarters of a million acres more wheat than the state raised this year is asked of Nebraska farmers by the state council of defense in an appeal for increased wheat acreage next year. The request follows: "The United States department of agriculture has apportioned the winter wheat acreage of the United States on a basis of from 7 to 12 per cent increase over last year. Nebraska is asked to sow 3,674,000 acres as against slightly more than 3,000,000 acres last year."

To reach the maximum desired by the government, it will be necessary for farmers who have grown 100 acres previously to grow about 112 acres next year. Those who have formerly grown forty acres should sow forty-five to fifty acres. Those who had formerly grown but little wheat should arrange to sow a field of wheat this fall.

Much wheat will be sown in cornfields this fall, as corn is generally clean. If early fall rains are sufficient to germinate the wheat so as to secure a good stand, many thousands acres of wheat will be sown in cornfields. Most of the 600,000 acres increase asked by the government for Nebraska would be secured in this way. More and more less corn acreage will give us a better balance of food crops and will not decrease the revenue per farm. "With practically no trouble in the state from Hessian fly, sowing may begin about Sept. 1, in the western part of the state and as early as Sept. 15 in the central and eastern portions of the state."

"Every patriotic citizen who owns a farm should assist in securing the increased wheat acreage asked by the government by sowing from 5 to 10 per cent more than his normal acreage of wheat."

"STOP THE GRUMBLING."

Omaha World-Herald: Some dissatisfaction has been caused by the late orders concerning the consumption of sugar, but the discontented members of the public who complain that the administration is not to blame. They should direct their criticism at the German junkers and not at the administration. The shortage of sugar has been caused by the U-boats. There is plenty of sugar in the world, but the lack of shipping and the sinking of sugar cargoes have caused all the trouble. Then it should be remembered that while the government is asking individuals to use 25 per cent less sugar for the next six months, they are still allowed double the amount our allies receive.

It is a small sacrifice that has been demanded of the people and there is no doubt that it will be complied with, although there will be some grumblers. It may be that before the six months have expired one or two submarines will be destroyed to make the navigation of the seas safe enough to secure sugar from the more distant sources of supply. Meanwhile, the grumblers think of the boys who are giving all for their country, who are enduring cheerfully the sun and hardships of the sea, and then look at himself in the mirror when he complains of being deprived of the second spoonful of sugar for his coffee. One look should be enough.

YOUR STORAGE BATTERY—DON'T POISON YOUR BATTERIES.

"Batteries, like human beings, are susceptible to poison," says Mr. A. Gurnon, local Willard expert. "When it comes to giving medicine to a battery, the only safe rule is to let an expert write the prescription and administer the dose—otherwise, the car owner is likely to find out that his battery has been killed instead of cured."

"There is one thing in particular that is just about as bad as any poison you could give your battery, and that is acid. Of course there is acid in the battery solution, and good many car owners will reason: 'It is acid what makes my batteries strong, then the proper thing to do when I think it shows a weakness is to add a little more acid. Then it ought to work better.'"

"That's altogether wrong. You might as well say that because a few drops of some powerful drug are good for you, you should take a bottle would give the patient a better heart than anybody in the country. Not even the worst patent medicine fiasco would be foolish enough to believe that."

But there are a lot of people who believe in drugging a battery in just this way, so they take in about a half-pint of acid, when the battery only needs pure water. The only way to be safe about adding acid is to fight shy of it. If you think your batteries need acid, go to the Service Station and get advice from an expert who can tell you just what to do. Remember that he has the same relation to the health of your battery as a doctor has to your own health, with this exception: that the doctor's plan doesn't charge anything for the diagnosis. Altad.

FOOD REGULATIONS.

On July 26 we were advised by the Sugar Distribution Division of the Food Administration at Washington that in the proper manner of using the August allotment of sugar, Nebraska's allotment of sugar for August is four million one hundred, fifty-eight thousand pounds, as compared with five million nine hundred thousand pounds for July. This necessitates a reduction in the use of sugar, by all parties.

On July 26 we wired you as follows and now confirm: "Issue B certificates on the basis two pounds per person per month. This means you will have to reduce August allotment general household use retailers two-thirds of July. Issue B on the basis of one pound per necessary home canning as denoted by actual home canning certificates returned to you. If you have already issued August certificates recall surplus."

Hotels and restaurants, Class C, are placed upon the same basis as consumers, receiving two pounds per every ninety meals served. A, B, and D classes will be given the remainder after filling the requirements of C dealers, which represents householders, and the C dealers, hotels and restaurants.

You should make every effort to economize in the use of sugar for home canning by using and using that householders can and preserve products in the manner suggested in our letter of July 15, on the subject of "Maximum canning with minimum sugar."

Less essential manufacturers will receive not to exceed fifty per cent of the corresponding period, last year. Bakers will receive seventy per cent of the amount of sugar they used in the corresponding period last year. Bakers will receive seventy per cent of the amount of sugar they used in the corresponding period last year. Bakers will receive seventy per cent of the amount of sugar they used in the corresponding period last year.

Please advise us as soon as possible as to the amount in pounds of August certificates you have issued to retailers, that we may know the remainder which we can properly allot to A, B, and D classes. In recording the certificates issued to retailers for August, you will keep a separate account of the flour and certificates issued for home canning purposes and those issued for general household purposes.

Bakers' Regulations.

The period of the operation of the seventy per cent flour rule governing bakers of all products, except bread and rolls, which expires July 31, has been extended to August 31. Bakers may, therefore, use in the manufacture of all products, except bread and rolls, during the month of August only seventy per cent of the amount of wheat flour which they used during August, 1917, or one-sixth of the amount used during the past six months. We will send you under separate cover a complete copy of the new amendments to the Rules and Regulations applying to bakers. Yours very truly, A. C. Lau, Deputy Food Administrator for Nebraska.

WHEN a man buys a suit or an overcoat, he seldom looks carefully into the quality of fabric and workmanship. He buys what he likes in appearance and fit. But we look into quality! And you can believe we know what we are talking about when we assert that there's no line at the price of Clothcraft offering more wear or satisfaction.

You look over the styles and fabrics. You find a suit that pleases you. You put it on. You like it. You inquire the name. You ask the price. It's more than satisfactory. You take it. That pleases us. What pleases us more is the way you come back another season and say, "That suit was the most satisfactory suit I ever owned. I want another like it." Most folks can hardly believe their ears when we say the prices are only $15 to $25.

D-E Worm-Drive

1-1 2 2 Ton Truck

Chassis Carrying Capacity, Including weight of body 4500 lbs.

In the early days of the motor truck, the burden of its advertising was "TRUCK versus HORSE." Today the enlightened business man no longer questions which of the two is the better for his hauling. He now figures, WHICH OF THE VARIOUS MAKES OF MOTOR TRUCKS OFFER HIM THE MOST FOR HIS MONEY and the GREATEST PROFIT IN OPERATION.

He has learned that the pleasure car chassis with a commercial body on it is not fit for the job of transportation any more than a go-cart would answer the purpose of a wheelbarrow. He knows now, that profitable transportation requires a motor truck that is a motor truck from the ground up.

That is the sort of a motor truck we have built in the Model B 1-2 Ton D-E WORM DRIVE. Like the rest of the D-E line, it was built for hard and exacting service—to yield the greatest revenue possible that can be derived from a motor truck.

A mere superficial examination of the chassis of a motor truck, listening to the purr of its motor, or going out on the road to see how it acts on the way is not the way to intelligently buy a motor truck. On the other hand, it isn't necessary to be an expert on the mechanics of motor trucks to buy with the same good judgment that marks your transactions in your own business.

The shrewd motor truck buyer of today buys—not by the looks, sound, or reputation—but by specification—comparing them—one with the other, point by point. By such a method of comparison the real worth of a motor truck is brought to light.

You will find out much more about the relative worth of the various makes in this manner and know more about what to look for in motor trucks than all the "demonstrations" and talk in the world will give you.

You will find, after you are all through, that the one motor truck that offers you the most for your money in every way is the D-E.

The next step is to see D-E Worm Drive Motor Trucks and go over them from radiator to tail lamp, and this is what you will find: Heavier frames, heavier springs, heavier wheels, with more spokes, heavier worm-drive rear-axles and more powerful motors than any other worm-drive motor trucks offered at D-E prices. The more you know about technical details—such as balance, design, simplicity of arrangement, the various units of construction, finish, etc., the more enthusiastic you will be about them. But the essentials are so positively remarkable, so easy to appreciate and so evident that you will need no further proof of D-E superiority.

And now we come to that interesting subject, the pay load. Right here comes the crucial test of a motor truck's machinery. It is not only necessary to know that the truck you buy is mechanically good, but capable of hauling the utmost in pay load without stress or strain, and thus yield you the maximum of profit. In D-E Worm Drive Motor Trucks you get capacity to an unusual degree. Take our Model B. The chassis carrying capacity if this model, including weight of body, is 4,500 pounds. In other words, with a 500 pound body, you get a carrying capacity of two tons. Think of what that means in dollars and cents to you!

PERFECTLY GOOD REASON!—New York World: Men may wonder why U-boats waste time picking on ten-ton fishing smacks when they can sink 32,000-ton steamships. The reason is that generally they can't sink Sir Eric Geddes says: "The depth charge has changed the hunters into the hunted."

THE WHEAT CROP.—Lincoln Trade Review: According to the July report of the condition of the winter wheat crop, the government estimate is that the crop this year is larger than the year before. This estimate is a conservative one. The state department of agriculture of Kansas reports, with the harvest over, and threshing on in that state, that the yield is far beyond the government estimate and that the Kansas wheat crop will be ten million bushels greater than the July estimate.

The same condition is true in this state. The government estimate for the winter wheat crop is too low. In all the southeastern section of Nebraska the yield of winter wheat is far above that which was anticipated before threshing commenced. The winter wheat crop in Nebraska will be at least five million bushels greater than the government estimate and the estimate of the spring wheat crop in this state was also too low, although spring wheat is not a million bushels greater than the July first estimate.

Following up this above normal wheat production this year in this nation, the United States department of agriculture has now order way a campaign to secure an even greater wheat production next year and to increase the ability of this country to feed the allies near and remote who are working together in the war. We have this year expected to export to Great Britain and France over what we expected to send, by an amount of over ten million bushels of wheat. Plans are being made that will be participated on their part, by that amount and the record will be even better before the exportation of last year's crop closes. Co-operation in individual self-denial and working together to save foodstuffs for those who are fighting for our civilization, has accompanied the war.

The government is planning for next year, for the production of what will be known as a great "liberty and harvest" in 1919. Farmers will be asked to sow in winter wheat this fall not less than forty-five million acres, an increase of 7 per cent over last year's sowing, and the department suggests that easily this increased sowing could be made 12 per cent over last year. Plans will be developed by which definite acreages by states will be worked for.

Nebraska is among the great winter wheat growing states. In the fall of 1917, there were sown in this state 3,135,000 acres of winter wheat. As against this showing of 1917, the government has asked as a minimum that Nebraska sow the acreage of 1918, 3,674,000 acres. This would be a per cent of 117 for the winter wheat crop in this state next year compared with 100 per cent for 1917. If we shall do what the government requests—increase the acreage in this state 17 per cent more than last year—we will not only reach the acreage of winter wheat in this state in the year 1914, which was the largest acreage of winter wheat in Nebraska ever sown, but will be the largest acreage of winter wheat ever sown in Nebraska. And if Oklahoma will sow the same amount of wheat this fall that it sowed two years ago, it would, on its part, meet government requests. Surely, the winter wheat belt, with a guaranteed price of $2.00 per bushel, will not fail to increase its acreage as suggested. It will be surprising if the acreage is not increased even 10 per cent more than that suggested by the government.

WHEN DOUBT VANISHES.—Minneapolis Journal: Never mind. Those who are in doubt now will be supporting the country with a terrible price in 1925, when they are running for office.

LITTLE, BUT HISTORIC.—Chicago Daily News: Though the Marne is a little river it is the historic stream where civilization every few centuries meets and defeats barbarism.

PLEASE NOTE.—Indianapolis News: The first ship built in Japan for the United States is being delivered to a Pacific port. This statement is made on behalf of several distinguished Americans who may fear that they are seeing a Japanese invasion when the new ship makes port.

WHAT DO THEY MEAN, LOSING.—Kansas City Times: The express companies' reports show that they have been losing money. Have they been sending it by press?

St. Paul Pioneer Press: A million fewer boches behind the Hun lines and a million more Americans behind the allied lines isn't a bad summer's work at that.

Sound, firm judgment, and characteristic alertness, with affable manners and pleasing courtesies, make him a popular candidate

O. C. LEWIS

Mr. Lewis, who has filed as a republican candidate for sheriff to succeed Geo. T. Porter, who voluntarily retires from the office, will make an ideal man for the place, as all will testify. He took an active part in transforming what was once a wilderness into a garden of luxuriance. He was in the thick of the farming business through all its ups and downs—more downs than ups—and has seen rich farms evolved from raw prairie. During the years of vicissitudes and often hardships, he gained wide acquaintance and warm friendships that strengthen his candidacy and will materially aid him in the discharge of official duties. Wealth of active experience in the county's formative period developed his naturally strong and sturdy character which is an important asset in making a successful and acceptable sheriff. Though old in experience, he is young in spirit and possesses all the life and energy and keenness of a man twenty years his junior. No better type of man could be found for the important trust, and no mistake can possibly be made by voting for him.

THE FIELD OF BUSINESS. Sioux City Journal: The president's proclamation taking over wire lines, effective August 1, was one of the few features of a listless though not unfruitful week in business. While the expansion of governmental influence over all forms of trade continued, it was without many marked developments. Reports were published that federal seizure of plants making raincoats and other supplies for the army was possible as a result of graft revelations. The war department indicated that heavy draft calls, totalling approximately 360,000 men, will be made in August. German control of part of the metal industry in America was broken by seizure of German owned properties. The house ways and means committee was said to have practically agreed on a 10 per cent north-south mail income tax, with present exemptions for married and unmarried taxpayers, as part of the new revenue bill. A few signs of labor dissatisfaction appeared. Paper mill workers in New York went on a strike against the wage awards of the war labor board. Great lakes seamen threatened to quit work, and the shipping board expressed disapproval of the workers' attitude. A wage advance of 68 cents an hour with extra pay for overtime, and with the eight-hour standard in force, was granted to railway shippers. Plans to launch a large number of vessels on Labor day were made, and allegiance of workers was said to be assured. A voluntary reduction of the sugar ration to two pounds a person a month was urged by the food administration. The maximum price of hides for the period of three months beginning August 1 was fixed, the new figure being 7 to 8 cents lower than the present quotations on the average. Securities were uneven and mostly inactive on the market. Encouraging war news was counteracted by such domestic influences as the taking over of wire lines. Prospective tax legislation was another deterrent. A slight hardening of prices was noticeable as the week closed. United States Steel remained in the forefront of transactions. In the money market a weakening of call loan rates finally developed, quotations dropping from the familiar 6 per cent to a range between 4 and 5-3/4 per cent. Time money was strong at 6 per cent and was practically unobtainable. Liberty bonds along with internationals were irregular. Liberty 3-1/2 per cents sold between 99.64 and 99.99.

The grain market responded to every variety of weather report, from predictions of frost to forecasts of drought. Export demand rumors, optimistic war bulletins and varying receipts at primary markets all had their effect. August corn, which closed on Monday at $1.48 1/4 to $1.48 1/2 jumped to $1.55 1/2, and later lost part of the advance. September corn closed Monday at $1.49 3/4 and $1.50, and touched $1.56 3/8 subsequently. Oats in the main moved in sympathy with corn. No. 2 white oats, cash, hung within 1 cent of 77.

GUARDIAN SALE OF REAL ESTATE. Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a license therefore issued by the Honorable Anson A. Welch, a Judge of the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, on the 27th day of July, A. D. 1918, for the sale of the real estate hereinafter described, I will sell at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash at the front door of the office of the Clerk of the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, in the Courthouse in Wayne in said County and State on Friday, the 23rd day of August, A. D. 1918, at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m., the following described real estate belonging to Fred Tarnow, Emil Tarnow, and Anna Tarnow, minors, to-wit: The undivided six-fifteenths (6-15) interest in and to the east half of the southeast quarter of section thirty-six (E. 1-2 of S. E. 1-4 of Section 36) township twenty-six (26) north of range four east of the 6th P. M., in Wayne County, Nebraska, said sale to remain open for one (1) hour.

TURN IT TO THE WALL. Chicago Evening Post: When we read Mr. Hoover's London statements that we have solved our food problem and that Germany is starving to death, we have an impulse to fold up the paper and put it away where no one else will see it. "The picture may be a true one, but gazing upon it will not help us to win the war."

A Bilious Attack. When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take three of Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter.

Bigger Yields with Less Work

"Increase farm production," the government cries. "Any gain is welcome, but gains produced with present farm power and help are doubly welcome. Without adding another acre, another man, or another horse power, a Low Cloverleaf manure spreader increases the yield from every acre on which it is properly used. Increases amounting to $55 an acre for corn and $20 an acre for wheat are not unusual when the soil is fertilized with stable manure properly spread with

Low Cloverleaf Manure Spreader

The Low Cloverleaf is a wide spreading, easy running, light draft, narrow box spreader, made in three handy sizes—small, medium and large. The wide spreading, device catches the manure as it comes from the beater, breaks it up into still finer particles, and throws it out beyond the wheel tracks in a wide, even spread. This is the kind of fertilizing recommended by all the authorities. The entire load is spread in 3 to 5 minutes. The machine runs easily and lasts a long time because the working parts are all securely fastened to a sturdy steel frame which keeps them all in place and in line. The Low Cloverleaf spreader does the work as it should be done. This year of all years you will profit most by using a Low Cloverleaf. Immediate delivery. Place your order now.

NEW IDEALS. New ideals that inspired the recent July Fourth celebration were outlined clearly to the Division on Women's War Work of the Committee on Public Information by Miss Josephine Roche, director of work with the foreign-born. She said: "We proclaim a new Declaration of Independence for the whole world, which all people will share, instead of America alone. We have always been proud of Independence day and the ideals that brought it into being, and on this particular Fourth, 1918, if the women of 1776 could be here they would realize that their descendants have not drifted away from these ideals and that the Americans who have come more recently to this land have been drawn by the same vision of free-

FARMERS ORGANIZE.

That farmers recognize the obligation which they owe with deferred class classification for agricultural purposes is shown by the many instances which have come to the attention of the United States Department of Agriculture. One of the most recent of these is the organization by 1,200 farmers of La Porte, Ind., under the name of Liberty Farmers. These men, given deferred classification, pledge themselves to carry out unquestionably the food production program as directed by the United States Department of Agriculture. It is stated that their action is particularly gratifying to the Federal Government in Washington since it recognizes the oneness of the Government's organization, and the close interrelation of the efforts of all the Federal departments in the achievement of victory by utilizing the country's main power to best advantage.

Vegetable Seed Crop Promising.
A majority of the growing vegetable seed crops are in good condition, according to reports just received from many large growers in the United States by the seed-reporting service of the Bureau of Markets. Growers in the east and middle west almost uniformly reported on June 28 good growing conditions. Some failures have been reported for some crops in certain sections, particularly California and the Pacific northwest, where hot weather during June damaged many crops severely. Crops growing in the river districts of California have suffered the least from drought and the prospects in these sections are that fair to normal seed crops will be harvested. Hot weather in the spring in the western section will result in damage ranging from "slight damage" to 15 per cent, according to local conditions.

Sugar Substitutes for Bottlers.

Methods of reducing the consumption of sugar in soft drinks have been worked out by the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, which is now cooperating with producers throughout the United States. The bureau has prepared directions for making soft drinks which include formulas that utilize substitute sweet materials such as corn syrup, a high-grade refined sugar, rose sirup, honey, and high-grade refiner's sirup. By following these directions, which are being distributed among bottlers the actual sugar content in soft drinks can be cut to 50 per cent or less. A saving of approximately 50,000 tons of sugar annually is possible, it is estimated, and at the same time the customary taste and quality of the beverage can be preserved. It is estimated that there are 110,000 producers of soft drinks in the United States, employing 2,000,000 workers, and having a total capitalization of $250,000,000.

Hogs in Motor Trucks.

An example of how motor trucks are relieving railroad transportation in many sections of the country is shown in the receipts of hogs delivered to the Omaha market by this method of conveyance. According to a report compiled by the Bureau of Markets there was an increase of 180 per cent in the number of hogs transported to that market by motor trucks during the first six months in 1918 as compared to the corresponding period in 1917. The number carried in this way amounted to 92,780 for the period in 1918 as compared to 33,064 for the corresponding months last year. Estimating 70 hogs to an average carload, the number of hogs transported by motor trucks during the first six months in 1918 was approximately 1,325 carloads, or an average of more than eight carloads for every market day during the period. The motor truck business is becoming so important that commercial organizations of Omaha are taking active measures to utilize the trucks on return trips to country points for hauling various kinds of freight. Experience has shown that motor truck marketing is as feasible in winter as in other seasons, as more than 26,000 hogs were delivered directly from the farms to the Omaha market during January and February.

WHAT WE FIGHT FOR.

The high aims of America and her allies are well expressed in President Wilson's greetings to France on Bastille day.
"As France celebrated our Fourth of July, so do we celebrate her Fourteenth, keenly conscious of a comradeship of arms and of purpose of which we are deeply proud. The sea seems very narrow today, France is so close neighbor to our hearts. The war is being fought to save ourselves from intolerable things, but it is also being fought to save mankind. We extend our hands to each other, to the great peoples with whom we are associated; and to the peoples everywhere who love right and prize justice as a thing beyond price, and consecrate ourselves once more to the noble enterprise of peace and justice, realizing the great conceptions that have lifted France and America high among the free peoples of the world. The French flag flies today from the staff of the White House, and America is happy to do honor to that flag."

END OF A PITIFUL CAREER.

Chicago Daily News: Just or unjust, legal or yantok, his execution brought a pitiful career to a pitiful end. Nicholas was not a malevolent tyrant. He was not a consciousreactionary. He was very different from the erratic and impetuous egomaniac who rules Germany. He signaled the opening of certain remarkable idealistic acts. He dreamed of universal peace and disarmament. He labored in his own unlightened way for the welfare of all the Russias. But he lacked strength of will and purpose. He was physically, mentally and morally small and weak. He was a tool in the hands of disloyal, selfish, anti-Russian ministers. He was too isolated and bigoted to interpret correctly the signs of the times.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound on over the seat of pain is often more effectual for a lame back than a plaster and does not cost anything like as much.
