To Keep Farm Records

Now that farmers have to account to the government for their earnings, improvements, etc., it is important in view of the many duties they have to perform, to simplify the means of keeping record, and this store has just added to its stock copies of "Walgren's System of Farm Accounts." It is just the kind of book to make the work quickly and easily done. Complete explanation accompanies each book. You can buy either a one-year or seven-year book. Even after the war when reports to the government will probably be discontinued, it will be important to keep up the record as a source of valuable information to the farmer.

Taking Good Care of Your Car MEANS USING THE BEST OF OILS

And the wise motorist is taking good care of his car these days. You may have to drive it until the war is over—who knows? If anything goes wrong, it isn't the easiest matter to get it repaired properly. You can tighten up loose bolts, nuts and screws, but if your engine kicks up, you have some real trouble on your hands.

OFF TO OMAHA TO SEE BOYS

Home Folks Rush to City to See MacGregor and Munsinger.

Rev. and Mrs. D. W. MacGregor learned too late to catch the morning train that their son, Albert, who had been in training in California, would pass through Omaha en route to France Monday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock. W. L. Rennie solved the question of reaching Omaha on time. In his Oldsmobile he took Mr. and Mrs. MacGregor, Mrs. Rennie and daughter, Naydene, and M. T. Munsinger and Morris Munsinger. They made the trip of 125 miles in four hours, and were in Omaha in ample time to visit Albert MacGregor and Joe Munsinger who are in the same battery of heavy artillery. On the train were six batteries of heavy artillery, each battery containing 210 men. The boys were mighty glad to see home folks, and the latter fully reciprocated the feeling. The boys were happy and seemed glad of the privilege of some to France to help get the kaiser.

A NEGRO'S RECORD.

An exchange gives a record of this kind in the public service. John Ward, a negro of Goldsboro, North Carolina, has the record for individual effort in war service having looked forward about forty years ago to war service. The following is his history: John Ward, a negro of Goldsboro, has thirteen of his eighteen sons in the Ninth and Tenth United States cavalry, while his seventeen daughters are busy with war work. The facts are vouched for by Sheriff R. H. Edwards of Wayne county, of which Goldsboro is the county seat. Ward also holds the record for quadruplets, says Sheriff Edwards, who were born April 21, 1856, at Goldsboro. He was married three times and his last wife is now living. His first wife bore him five children, four at one time twice, three at one time once, one at a time once. His second wife bore him two at one time twice, one at one time once and five one at a time. His present wife has borne him eight, one at a time. His first wife lived six years and three weeks after marriage, his second wife eight years and six months.

The rain of last Sunday prevented many of our people from gathering at the forenoon service, and as nothing connected with the war and what is being done for our boys at the front is of entrancing interest just now, the pastor postponed the talk on the work of the Methodist War council until next Sunday morning, when it is hoped everybody will be out to hear it. All other services as usual on Sunday next.

Rev. E. M. Furman, D. D., district superintendent of the United States and preached at Pleasant Valley in the afternoon, also speaking at the great mass meeting in the auditorium of the town hall last Monday evening. Dr. Furman conducted the fourth quarterly conference of our church, when, with representatives from Pleasant Valley also present, it was unanimously resolved to request the bishop to reappoint the present pastor for next year at a substantial increase in salary.

Prest-O-Lite

Storage Battery

Why a "Battery Service?"

Because the thousands of storage batteries in use on cars today require certain care and periodical tests to keep them in condition.

To do our bit in serving the thousands of car owners who look to "The Oldest Service to Automobile Owners in America" for advice and expert assistance in battery matters, we have equipped ourselves to represent the Prest-O-Lite Co., Inc., as an Official Service Station for this district.

We are running the kind of a service station you will appreciate. It is our policy to give the kind of service that will make every customer a permanent one.

Service on all Makes of Batteries

No matter what car you drive, you are invited to call on us to inspect and test your battery. We make no charge for this service. We render it gladly as a feature of Prest-O-Lite Service. We also recharge and repair all makes of batteries.

Eventually you will need a new battery. When you do, we will be ready with the correct size—a Prest-O-Lite—the one battery for those who haven't the time nor inclination to study the mechanics of a battery or assume the care of one.

We want to serve you because we know we can serve you better. We are looking for a chance to prove it.

The John Deere Spreader

Up to the time of the John Deere Spreader—the Spreader with the Beater on the Axle—a chain drive for the beater was considered the most practical. Even the chain drive meant extra shafts, stub axles and other appliances that caused trouble.

The John Deere Spreader, with the beater mounted on the axle, has done away with all such troubles. Mounting the beater on the axle did more than stop the old troubles; it added many features of advantage. It simplified the construction, eliminated many troublesome parts, and made possible the right kind of a low-down spreader with big drive wheels.

The John Deere Spreader is simple, durable and light draft. It has no shafts to get out of line, no chains to cause trouble, no clutches to adjust. It is only hip-high to the top, and has big drive wheels that are back out of the way so they do not interfere with the loading.

There is no better spreader on the market. Let us show you.

A contributor to the Lincoln journal charges the world war to Christianity. This is of course a prejudiced and unscientific view. It is not due to the failure of mankind to fully assimilate and practice Christianity.

More farms in Wayne and neighboring counties have been contracted for sale this summer than during any season in recent years, and at prices which have been higher than ever. Any farm for sale is snapped up if the price is within reason. High prices for farm property are naturally stimulating values. An additional advantage to this section, however, is the fact that it has come to be looked upon as one unfauling part of the state. Crops do not fail here. Even crop shortages have been few in the history of the country. People like to live in a money-making effort here.

day evening until 9:30 excepting Saturday when they are asked to keep open until 11 o'clock. The petition mentions that merchants cannot aid farmers better than to keep open and enable them to buy supplies after their work has been done. On the other hand, at Albion, forty or more farmers signed a petition asking stores to close Saturday evenings on the ground that "loitering around town so late Saturday night not only works hardship on business men and their clerks, breeds habits of idleness positively against the doctrine of conservation so urgently set forth by the government and its agents." Wakefield farmers want the merchants to serve by taking the lid off further, while the Albion farmers want them to keep on farther. The latter mentions the scriptures and the Golden Rule and Sabbath worship in connection with their argument in favor of early closing Saturday.

Following the unifying influence of the war, there should and doubtless will be less clamorishness, less attempt of exercise of power by cliques formed according to church, sect or occupation or land of nativity. Trucking to church societies or racial lines in quest of business or profit, social standing, or other material advantage, becoming a faulting sycophant to any group shaped by foreign blood or religious affiliation, cheapening the individual and weakens the national spirit. Too much living to one's self, too little regard for true Americanism, too much attention to mere church forms and ceremonies and too little to the great and vital truths on which the institution is founded, separated people into groups, developed selfish individualism, and made citizens forgetful of their obligations to society and to the nation. Since the grinding machinery of selfish interests have largely dissolved into oneness of purpose, and the genuine national spirit is given deserved precedence over personal desires and ambitions, over political, business and church clamorishness. As a result, improved Americanism is being strengthened by the assurances of less individualism and a healthier, more unselfish and more useful state of society.

THE NEW ZONE RATE. Former Ambassador Gerard appreciates the indispensable service rendered by American newspapers in the important work of developing highest Americanism and maintaining strength and unity of spirit among the people. Therefore, he proposed to placing extraordinary burdens on newspapers and making the task of serving the public unnecessarily difficult and costly. The new zone postal rate, lately imposed on publications, Mr. Gerard is quoted as follows in voicing objection: "We have to meet this German propaganda. The war is not going to last forever—and you have seen what the German propaganda has done in Russia. These are grave dangers, and they only go to show what can happen in a country like Russia."

Fortunately, they cannot propagate this country as they can Russia, because we have great publications in the country and have unified the whole country and the whole continent. That is why I am against the postal zone rate and the extra tax on papers sent from the cities where published. They forget that, whether these publications are published in Philadelphia from San Francisco, or from Chicago, it is the exchange of these papers from and to all parts of the country that makes one universal, united America.

"They unify the sentiment, and that is worth far more in this war than the amount of extra postage which the government will obtain."

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Use of Garbage. The utilization of garbage as a possible source of feed for hogs is being studied by the United States department of agriculture. Dr. A. Wilson, of the animal husbandry division, recently made an inspection trip in the New England and Atlantic coast states where he visited garbage plants that were making use of waste material in the manufacture of feed for hogs. Wilson is now making a similar trip of inspection in the corn-belt states and will go from there to the southern states where garbage plants in cities and army cantonments will be studied.

The Potato Crop. A campaign to secure larger potato crops is being conducted by the United States department of agriculture. A meeting held August 10 at Hightstown, N. J. The governor of the state, representatives of the state board of agriculture, state agricultural college, and others spoke at the meeting and urged commercial organizations of cities and towns to secure the help of city grocers, stores, factories, and offices. Dr. E. V. Wilcox, of the United States department of agriculture, told what other towns and cities have done in aiding farmers in harvesting wheat and assuring in other pressing farm work. Following this meeting a series of conferences will be held in other towns, where the serious need of farm help will be presented.

The distribution of loans. The secretary of agriculture has designated Prof. G. I. Christie and L. M. Estabrook, assistants to the secretary, to represent the department in connection with the making of loans to farmers in western states who have suffered crop failures during the last two years. A $5,000,000 fund set apart by President Wilson. Prof. Christie will have charge of the northwest section and Mr. Estabrook of the central and southern region. A meeting of fifteen county agents in the drought-stricken areas of Montana was held by Prof. Christie at Helena, Mont., August 12. At this meeting matters pertaining to the work of the department in connection with the loans will be discussed. An office is to be established at Great Falls, Mont., where the work connected with the loans will be conducted. Mr. Estabrook will hold a similar conference of county agents at Kansas state agricultural college, Manhattan, Kan., August 12 to 14. He also will confer with the governors of Kansas and Oklahoma and on August 15 will meet with officers of the interested counties at Wichita, Kans. where headquarters will be established.

Outlook for Poultry. Nine per cent of the eggs were in hand on July 1, 1918, as compared to July 1, 1917, in the 462 cold-storage plants which, recently, made reports for the bureau of markets. The movement of eggs from storage for consumption purposes began nearly a month earlier this year than usual. This condition, according to poultry specialists of the United States department of agriculture, should be a special incentive to every poultry producer to work intelligently for good production in the early winter.

Vegetable Seed Production. Total production of vegetable seed with the exception of cabbage, lettuce, salsify, and turnip, will be large for the coming year, according to preliminary returns from the seed-production survey of July 1, 1918, and crop reports from important commercial seed growers. In some cases where the condition of crops is not satisfactory increased acreages are expected to bring the total production to normal, while more than normal production of seed is indicated for some kinds of vegetables. This condition is particularly noticeable in the necessarily mean, a large surplus for it is known that large orders have been placed by foreign countries for vegetable seed for export to countries in Europe which Uncle Sam wants Nebraska to seed down 3,762,000 acres of wheat this year—or 17 per cent more than the 1918 acreage. Nebraska farmers have not yet failed to respond to the limit to every request of Uncle Sam, and they will not refuse this time.

TWO MEN KILLED. Seward, Neb., Aug. 14.—Two men were instantly killed and another seriously injured when an automobile crashed into a Burlington train a mile and a half south of Seward Tuesday night about 8 o'clock. Henry Nagle, a blacksmith at York, was instantly killed and Foster Kinsman, a soldier in the heavy artillery, presumably from Fort Riley, died shortly after. A. R. Rich, employed in a York garage, suffered both hips broken and a fractured skull. He is unconscious in a Seward hospital. Nagle and Rich are both married, and Nagle has one child.

Trainers say the automobile was rushing toward a crossing when the soldier standing on the running board of the car. He motioned the train forward and indicated that the car was going to stop. The machine was completely demolished. The York men were returning from Lincoln and friends think they met the soldier in their city. He was unknown to the associates of the other two men.

Candidate for Republican Nomination

For United States Senator Charles H. Sloan

Congressman Sloan has a record long and extensive enough to permit of judgment by works as well as by words. He is an unknown quantity. He is a winning candidate. He has a political ally which contains not a single defect. He is a loyal member of his party, devoted to its principles and working in harmony with its leaders. He represents and expresses party solidarity and in doing so is able to obtain those things in legislation which make for the greatest general good. For these reasons the Republican believes that Congressman Sloan is the strongest senatorial candidate now before the people of Nebraska and the republicans of the state should give him a strong plurality vote on August 25th.—The York Republican.

Performance the Greatest Oakland Virtue

The owner of an Oakland Sensible Six never fears to put his car in competition with another.

He knows that the car he drives is equal to any demand he may put upon it—that performance is its greatest virtue.

The high-speed overhead-valve engine of this Oakland Sensible Six delivers at 2600 r. p. m., one full horsepower to every 48 pounds of car weight.

No motor in the world carries less weight per horsepower than this—none is spryer, more efficient, more saving.

With a speed range of from 1 to 55 miles an hour and a trig-ge-quick acceleration, it is still very economical.

It delivers from 18 to 25 miles on every gallon of gasoline, and its even power draws the greatest possible mileage from the Oakland's oversize tires.

We know you will like this new Oakland—for its comfort, its ability, and its value.

GOVERNMENT IN CONTROL

Employes of Telephone System Receive Notice of Change.

The following message has been received from President Theo. N. Vail by all employees of the companies comprising the Bell Telephone system:

"Under the authority of the law and by the Proclamation of the president, possession and control of the wire systems, passed to the postmaster general as of August 1.

"In a conference held in Washington at which were present the postmaster general, the government operating committee and representatives of the Bell companies, the postmaster general expressed most emphatically his appreciation of the service which the Bell companies were rendering and that such improvements possible to be made under the control of the government were derived from the government.

"He asked for the co-operation and assistance of those who had heretofore been responsible for the service. The postmaster general was equally emphatic in the statement of his desire to conserve the service and properties of the companies with a view of returning them when called upon so to do to the owners in as good condition as received. That it is his feeling for the fact that the owners should receive just compensation in the full sense for their use.

"The postmaster general, under instructions are issued, desires that the conduct of operations shall continue as heretofore and also states that, no changes will be made until after consultation and full and careful consideration.

"To all who are identified with the Bell companies who have shown your five sense of obligation and your loyalty and fidelity to the country, to the public service, and to the property in the past, and to whom the credit is due for the prestige and position of the companies

WIN THE WAR BY AIR

Fremont Herald. The airmen who are training in this country and those who are fighting in France, have absolute faith that the war will be won through the air. They believe today, as they have never before, that they will put the finishing touches to the whole thing. They will convince you, if you will listen to them, that they consider the argument they present.

Just when the finishing touches will be applied, they do not say, but the men have confidence; they are assured that they know what they are talking about. They admit things did not go with the air program at first, and they do not dispute that there may not still be something wrong in certain places, but "just admit," they will tell, "with such one or two factors one is easily led to believe they know what they are talking about."

The oratorical from the front would seem to bear them out. Our supremacy in the air seems assured. The work which has been done of late, by food administrators, is the greatest aid to the ground fighters—in fact, the ground fighting would fall if it were not for the aid of the air fighters. But if we listen to the arguments of those men, and believe in them, there is little doubt that they will indeed put the "finishing touches" to the war at a not far distant date.

PRIMARY NEXT TUESDAY

Fewer and Smaller Ballots—Counting Will Be Simplified

The ticket to be voted on at the primary next Tuesday will be found in today's Herald. There are no extra tickets in the field—Republican, democrat and prohibition. Two years ago there were two additional ballots. Then the ballots were considerably larger. Newspaper publications of the ballots eliminates the usual samples. The cost of printing has decreased because of the increased number and decreased size is about one-third what it was two years ago.

The polls open at 8 o'clock in the morning, and the counting of ballots will begin four hours later. Twenty-five ballots have been cast. This is a provision of the last legislature, and is calculated to hasten the task of arriving at results. Under the former arrangement it was often nearly midnight before winners could be named. Under the new practice, results should be known soon after the polls close.

There are four contests for nominations in Wayne county. Three republicans are after the nomination for sheriff, with no democrats asking for the office. The county commissioner district, two republicans and two democrats are in the race. Two republicans are vying for the nomination for justice of the peace, no democratic opposition. Nominations for most of the county offices will be made without contest.

SMITH-HENDERSON.

The marriage of Miss Geneva Henderson of Wayne, to Harry D. Smith of Laurel took place at Camp Cody, Mo., Tuesday, August 6. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Chester M. Irwin, the camp pastor, in the presence of a large number of friends. The bridesmaid and groomsmen were Miss Woodruff and Glen Dennis of Laurel, the attendants. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Smith of Wayne and is a worthy and ambitious young woman. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. J. L. Smith of Laurel, and is serving in the army. He enlisted in the army a year ago last May and was stationed in Sioux City until December when he began training at Camp Cody in the ambulance corps. He expects to be transferred soon to an ocean camp. Mrs. Smith arrived in Wayne Saturday to make her home with her parents, until her husband returns. Their friends in Wayne send congratulations and best wishes.

THE FIELD OF BUSINESS.

Sioux City Journal: Extreme heat over large parts of the country, which slowed down business and brought about sharply bullish modifications in the grain markets, marked the last week. The conditions were changed as the week ended.

Corn prices reflected most sensitively the weather news to production. An important decrease in prospective grain and cotton production was shown by the government's forecast, corn alone registering a prospective decrease of 171,000,000 bushels as compared with the first June forecasts. In dollars, the lessened food crop prospects amounted to $480,000,000, and the cotton crop loss $250,000,000. Nevertheless, large crops as compared with the average are in sight, yet the wheat outlook is especially good. Wavering with successive weather changes, the Chicago price on Saturday closed at $1.65, and then, after fluctuations, also registered a decline of $1.63 and then fell to $1.58 7-8. October deliveries early in the week closed at $1.65, and then, after fluctuations, also registered a decline.

Activity on the securities market continued sluggish until Saturday. United States bonds advanced, registering a gain of 1/8 cent, finally touching 112 3/4. War news had a favorable effect. International Harvester stock advanced on announcement of the voluntary dissolution of its "monopoly." Liberty bond 3 1/2's, most active near the first time this year, touching 100 1/2. Liberty 4 1/4's, on the other hand, found a new low mark of 94 1/8. Time loans remained at 6 to 7 per cent, and there were indications that time money may be withdrawn except on productive purposes. Call loans opened Monday at 4 1/2 per cent, and then touched 6, and on Friday were made at 5 1/2 per cent.

Government regulation of business contemplated to be extended. More often owned corporations were seized. Further curtailment of business, by means of the reserve stocks of coal and steel was hinted at. Passenger automobile manufacturers were advised to get out on a 100 per cent war work footing by January 1. The federal trade commission's report accusing the big packers of unscrupulous practices and recommending government control of the packers and all their facilities was published. Indictments were returned against some of the packers and the Pennsylvania railroad for alleged rebating at the Jersey City stock yards. The new drawn bill, extending the life of the Federal Reserve between

The Monopipe Furnace

Steel construction is gas tight construction. The Monopipe Furnace was practically the first pipeless furnace to be placed on the market which was gas and smoke tight.

Prior to the advent of the Monopipe all of the pipeless furnaces were of cast construction—containing many joints—which had to be filled with cement. Sooner or later, usually sooner, the cement cracked and became loosened—then the owner's troubles began. Smoke and gas often filled the house and dirtied walls, draperies, etc.

It is bad enough for grown people to breathe gas occasionally—for children it is permanently harmful.

The Monopipe Furnace is built of heavy steel plate, cold riveted under enormous pressure. There is not a single joint from which gas, smoke or dirt can escape.

Look at the cut shown in this ad. The double feed door permits the use of large chunks of coal or wood. The indirect radiator on the back gives an added fire travel of several feet, thereby extracting all the heat out of your fuel before it enters the smoke pipe. Every Monopipe Furnace is equipped with a large moisture pan for supplying the necessary amount of humidity to the warm air.

It will pay you well to investigate thoroughly the merits of the Monopipe before placing your order for a pipeless furnace.

W. A. Hiscox

18 and 45 years, progressed toward completion and its main provisions were announced. Volunteering was stopped in order to prevent a rush of older men into service, with consequent injury to industry.

Higher surtaxes ranging from 55 per cent on $20,000 incomes to 75 per cent on incomes over $5,000,000, were written into the revenue bill.

Despite the request of Secretary McAdoo for a flat 80 per cent tax on war profits, without any increase in present excess profits taxes, it was indicated that the house would mean committee will present a dual or alternative tax system, with advances in both war profits taxes and excess profits taxes. Luxury taxes also were added, including levies on costly clothing and jewels.

Labor troubles at the Bethlehem plant were settled by granting various concessions to the workers. A strike in the important lead and zinc mines of Idaho developed. July ship production broke records. The number of vessels launched was 123, of a deadweight tonnage of 62,000. Forty-one new vessels were delivered.

SUGAR CERTIFICATES.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 14.—Consumers of Nebraska, buying sugar for canning and preserving purposes from mail order houses, must present certificates issued by the county food administrators. The ruling has been laid down by A. C. Law, deputy food administrator, on advices from Washington.

The order applies more particularly to second or subsequent lots, which must be purchased in not more than 25-pound lots. The mail order houses cannot ship except on a certificate so issued and forwarded with the order for the sugar. Consumers who fail to procure such an order will be delayed in getting their sugar until the ruling is complied with.

ASKED TO MARKET WHEAT

Omaha, Neb., April 14.—The federal food administration for Nebraska suggests that new wheat crops be marketed as soon as possible. The main reason for this suggestion is that transportation facilities are better now than they will be later, in the heavy movements start.

Under the new milling regulations, millers may pay whatever they desire for wheat, though they are limited to what they can charge for their flour and mill feeds. Naturally one works as a check on the other.

However, farmers can always find a market for the wheat with the grain corporation, food administration, and are assured of the $2.18 Omaha price, less freight to Omaha.

This Farm Owner's Profits Assured

HIS crop is going to be in at the proper time—the soil will be properly prepared—and he won't be worried about the labor shortage. By using the Titan 10-20 Tractor he has placed his farm on a definite and economical commercial basis. This means maximum production at the lowest operating expense.

The Titan operates equally well on kerosene and gasoline. On every size farm—in every kind of soil the Titan 10-20 has proven its value. Assure maximum profits from your farm this year—

With a Titan Tractor and Oliver Plows

The Oliver Plow is recognized as the tractor plow—built especially for that work. The Oliver organization has utilized an experience of 60 years as plowmakers for the world, in producing a plow that conforms to the unusual requirements of tractor service.

It has great strength. It is easy to operate—a simple trip rope controls the plows from the tractor seat. The plow points enter and leave the ground first, which insures uniform furrows. Further, the combined rolling Coulters and Jointers bury all trash and stalks in the bottom of the furrow.

A good tractor—the Titan 10-20, with a good plow—the Oliver. That is the ideal plowing outfit—the outfit that you want—this spring! Let's talk it over.

The price of land in Holt county is gradually on the increase, but not nearly in proportion to the value of stock, and it will raise more stock than ever before. Willard STORAGE BATTERY SERVICE STATION

If you guess wrong you may have to call for help and pay for repairs.

A 10-20 Titan Tractor has Sensible Construction NO "FREAK" DESIGNING

STANDS ON FOUR WHEELS

You wouldn't want a wagon with only three wheels, and you wouldn't expect a horse with only three legs to do good work. Why, then, should a three-wheel tractor be expected to do any better? The Titan 10-20 stands squarely on four wheels because the builders believe it will work better on side hills, will be less likely to tip over, and will steer more easily. It is the serviceable way to build a tractor, and the fact that there are more four-wheeled tractors in use than any other style proves that the majority of farmers have received the best service from them.

BRIDGE MATERIAL IN FRAME

There is no piece of mechanism that stands up year after year under strain and severe weather conditions as a bridge does. A tractor, then, that is built of structural steel like a bridge, ought to be a good one. The frame of the Titan 10-20 is made of U-shaped beams heated and bent to the proper form. They are riveted together with hot rivets so that as the rivets cool, they draw down tight and make the frame as substantial as a solid piece.

The Titan 10-20 is a sensible tractor for sensible farmers. Come in and see.

Telephone Rates Lower in the United States Than in Europe

Rates for telephone service should be based upon the cost of materials and labor and the kind of service furnished.

Wages paid telephone employees in this country are practically double those paid in Europe for the same kind of work.

Telephone materials also cost a great deal more in America than abroad and the grade of telephone service furnished here is far superior as everyone who has traveled in Europe knows.

Thus, the same materials could be purchased, the same amount of labor employed and service, such as is provided, could be furnished for less money in Europe than in America.

When the cost of operating is twice as much in America as in Europe, telephone rates in Europe, to be proportionately equal, should be only a dollar for service costing $2.00 in America, and a long distance call costing $1.00 here should only cost 80 cents in Europe.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

From the Wayne Herald, August 18, 1891:

Attorney Frank Fuller was in Hartington on legal business.

A dancing party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Mitchell.

The A. O. U. W. lodge planned a big picnic to be held in Bressler's grove.

The contract for the erection of the new Presbyterian church was let to R. M. Farr.

Mrs. W. E. Wallace and Miss Naudie Benshoof went to Omaha to attend the election.

Dorr Carroll of Gothenburg, visited over Sunday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Howard.

George L. Cook, Nels Orcutt, Charles Shulteis, and Charles Lund were passengers to Omaha to look after business.

George Denkinger who has been in the employ of J. H. Goll left for Kansas City where he accepted a similar position.

Mrs. August Meyer and George I. C. Anderson were married by Rev. A. Graber, August 10, at the home of the groom in Wayne.

S. E. Auker purchased eighty acres of farm land of Charles Nies, just across the road from the latter's farm east of Wayne.

Albert Berry received a letter from Utica, N. Y., containing the sad news of the death of his mother, which occurred August 10.

A. J. Tracy who had been working in the county treasurer's office accepted a position in Winside as agent for Turner & Brenner, at their elevator.

Plans were made for a barbecue and celebration to be held soon. Robert Utter was elected chairman and H. G. Maute secretary, to make arrangements for the event.

Charles E. Beebe of Chicago arrived in Wayne and will occupy the building recently vacated by Mr. Brookings, with a stock of china, notions, etc. Mr. Beebe is a cousin of Dr. E. S. Blair.

The following Wayne people went to Omaha to attend the exposition: Miss C. M. White, Mrs. H. A. Sewell and daughters Pearl and Edna, Mrs. J. M. Cherry, Miss Myrtle Benson, and Mrs. L. F. Rayburn.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. D. Sullivan, Pat O'Connell, F. W. Burdick, W. E. Tucker, Charles Reynolds and Floyd Jones were among the Waynes who attended the picnic at Dixon.

Wayne has a new firm of grain buyers, Gopp & Ellis. They purchased the building of Amos & Grothe and Mr. Orcutt, a brother of Nelson Orcutt, will have charge as purchaser. Mr. Grothe will continue the business and will erect a new grain house.

Threshing has been going on in full blast as will be seen by the following report: Peter Will threshed out twenty-two bushels of wheat to the acre; E. A. Gildersleeve, nineteen and one-half; W. B. Stambaugh, twenty-one and one-half; T. E. Hill, twenty; R. E. K. Mallor, twenty-five; Ed Williams, sixteen; Charles Beutow, seventeen; H. C. Wolf, twenty; C. S. Ash, nineteen, and John Lenck, twenty.

From the Ponca Journal, August 14, 1879:

There is not a large yield of wheat in this county, but it is of excellent quality, and weighs from 38 to 60 pounds to the bushel.

The Ponca coal company has again fully revived, and has sent for the necessary machinery, and will commence boring for coal next week or the week after. They will go down six hundred feet before they quit unless they find a paying vein of coal before.

Among the thousand and one rumors concerning the C. & B. H. railroad, it is said that it is to be dried up forthwith, that the trains will cease and the iron will be pulled up. On the other hand, it is rumored that the troubles of the road are over, that its suits are settled and that the track will be immediately continued towards Notara. Which is true will be known in a few days.

C. N. Reed, an experienced miner and well digger, one day last week while digging a well on the Ingle place, South Creek, found at a depth of eighteen feet below the surface of the ground, the petrified bone of a man's leg. As the bone had been resting there for a very long time—several thousand years, probably, judging from the strata of rock and earth above it—it was not deemed necessary to call on the coroner to investigate the case. A portion of the bone was brought to this office, where it will remain until the return of Professor Perrigoe, now geologizing at Fort Peck, and to whose museum of inanimate nature it will then be donated.

A Bilious Attack

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. It inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting, and a terrible headache. Take three of Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach, and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter.

"Reed Surprises Convention"

"The change of front on suffrage and prohibition was caused by Willis E. Reed, when he surprised the convention by making a clean-cut demand for a suffrage and prohibition plank in the platform.

"I am for woman suffrage," he said "Women are entitled to vote, not only as their right, but because of the splendid self-sacrifices they have made in the war."

"The applause from the convention prevented Reed from continuing for a time.

"Ratification of the national prohibition amendment ought to be the first thing the next state legislature does," said Reed.

"Delegates rose to their feet cheering and waving their hats. Almost at the same time National Committeeman Mullen, James C. Dahlman, and other leaders told I. J. Dunn, A. A. Lamoreaux, and other men that they had urged the resolutions committee to include suffrage and prohibition in the platform.

"Licked and Knew it"

"They saw the handwriting on the wall," said Lamoreaux. "When the convention cheered both measures as it did, the last ounce of fight went out of opponents of suffrage and prohibition." "They were licked, and knew it," said I. J. Dunn.—From Omaha Daily News, July 31, 1918.

The foregoing is taken from the report of the Omaha Daily News of July 31, respecting the action of the democratic state convention, and is of special interest to the public, in view of the fact that Willis E. Reed is a democratic candidate for United States senator.

Think It Over

When you employ a man to work for you, his fitness for the job at hand is given special consideration. Use the same logic when voting, as every officer is nothing more or less than a servant employed by all the people.

Do not allow prejudice to get the better of your judgment. THINK IT OVER.

1. I am in the prime of life, full of vigor, and feel that I have the ability to "put it over."
2. I have been a resident of Wayne county 14 years.
3. My business experience has necessarily put me in touch with men in the various walks of life.
4. Taking that into consideration, I feel that you will agree with me when I say that, that I am well qualified to ferret out the law-evader.
5. I believe in catching the law-evader first—not giving a fair and impartial trial—not waiting to give the criminal a chance to "cover up."
6. I believe that numerous petty acts allowed to go unpunished will eventually result in a serious crime being committed.
7. To catch the crook you must know the methods used by that class.
8. I believe in giving all a fair and square deal, and, if elected to the office to which I aspire, will continue to do so—but the person who commits a crime at 12:30 a. m. can figure that I will be on the job at 12:35—not a day or so afterwards.
9. "DO IT NOW!" has put more criminals where they belong than "WAIT AWHILE" ever has or ever will.
10. "All men are created equal"—but some men are better qualified for certain positions than others. THINK IT OVER.

Democratic Candidate for,

County Commissioner
Third District

Mr. Tidrick comes before the voters of Wayne county for the first time in asking public support for a county office. Though he has served as assessor and road overseer for many years at the earnest solicitation of friends, he has not until now entered the field for a county office. His large and successful farming and fine stock raising interests offer indisputable evidence of his good judgment and business ability. He will, if chosen commissioner, carry into the office the same high standards of business which he has followed in private life.

NUTS.

I used to hold that I was sane, there were no woevils in my brain; no bats or bugs; were woe to chase through my dimes, or angrily race. But now, unfortunately I dwell and glibber in my paddled cell. I tried to read and understand affairs in Ruskin's darkened lair. I read the patches branded true; the more I read the less I knew. I heard some gifted speakers tell of what in Petrarch's life, or canerly, north Russia's flag, and felt my brain begin to sag. My aunt, in desperation cried, "For heaven's sake let Ruskin die. You never will get wise." I swear, to all that's doing over there. "I answered, "I have never yet distepped a guessing match, you bet, and I am bound to find a clew to Ruskin's curves before I'm through." I read in helpful magazines how Trotsky spilled the Russian beans. I read how Lenin and his group with a rifle brew the Russian soup. I read such stories day by day, and dreamed them when I hit the hay; and then I had a raving spell and landed in my paddled cell. The children come when school is o'er and feed me peanuts through the door. And rubbersnecks come by and say, "Alas for this poor stricken jay!" The keeper murmurs to the guest, "Don't mention Russia, I request, or he may rise in frenzied rage, and tear the padding from his cage."

Republican Candidate for SHERIFF of Wayne County

cheeroots, and sent to Lannon for my boots; a Paris triumph was my hat; the Kaiser put a stop to that. I buy my things in pawnshops now; a battered derby shades my brow; a cape of mohair drapes my frame; the hanged old war lord is to blame. I used to scan the bill of fare, and choose the richest vinds there; a big planked steak was just my size, topped off with divers kinds of pies. Now to a chophouse I repair, and eat the cheapest victuals there; they will not let me have a steak; they have no flour to make a cake, they dole out sugar with a spoon, and cut in halves the luscious prune. The Kaiser's hand is everywhere; it even grips the bill of fare. The Kaiser's landed on our shore, his shadow darkens every door. Your every care and every ill you may charge up to Kaiser Bill. And he'll overshadow every heart until we wipe him off the chart; all other chores we must cherish until that mighty task's put through.

GOING DRY.

This land of ours is going dry, a great many are closing their doors, and soon the man who wants old rye will have to swim to foreign shores. John Barleycorn has met his fate, he's being pushed clear off the map, and we must learn to celebrate with sparkling water instead of gin. There is no gimml in the cafe, there are no gimmls on the ladies; my people call for Adam's ale, and fill themselves with habbling rolls. The workman buys a house and lot with money that he used to blow for brimming bowls of liquid rye. That filled his head and soul with rye. Tired father laps up sparkling brooks, instead of seeking gilded halls, and has some coin to spend for books, and pictures for the parlor walls. The young man hits the village pond, when thirst has given him the blues, and then he buys a U. S. bond, which is a better thing than booze. The war has killed the Dem 'K, 'has been a hot and heady frost' and men will say, in years to come the war was worth whatever it cost. The gimmls shrub his attitude, and dodges the tax collector's don't crowd in; the jewelled barkeep no more pours rainwater in the keg of gin. The thirsty man thinks not of beer, but in the nearest hydrant tramps and quans a flagon bright and clear, then buys himself War Savings Stamps.

MORE SLACKING.

There are a hundred ways to clack, and each is worse than all the rest; so place your burden on your neck, and to you stent with joyous zest. In these grim times employers need the very best their help can give, if they would keep up proper speed and dodge the bank and court and live. If you don't do the best you can to help the boss survive the stress; you're following a leadsome plan—the slacker's spirit you confess. This is no time to loaf and talk, when there are useful things to do; it is no time to trawl and idle, when the world is a-dames in view. You may have bought a pair of stamps, you may have bought a bond or three, but you train with the slacking scamp; you're not busy as a bee. This war won't last a thousand years, it may run down before next May, but no man should be slacking now for those who slacked their time away. Your boss will say, "Augustus Kelp, when wartime troubles smacked me, yell, and I was needing royal help, you were not worth three hoots in—Hannibal, Mo." And he'll denounce you as a swab, and maybe groom you with a chair, and maybe place you hunt a job, your slacking record will be there. But if you do your duty now, whatever sort of place you fill, you'll have the laurels of your job when we have pickled Kaiser Bill.

MENTAL HEALING.

I walked down town and cried, "Gee whizz!" an awful uproar making; for I was full of rheumatiz, and my joints were aching, ground and swore at every step, my aches would not desert me; I had no ease, I had no pep, and every motion hurt me. Oh! had fed on purple pills. I'd lived on drug and potion, and none of them relieved my ills though swallowed by the ocean. At last I reached the courtyard square, and wondered what was doing a lot of men were dancing there, and, and, and hipping and harroing. "Have you heard the news, cried one of the men, face with joy a-quick, our boys have whipped the beastly Hun and chased him in the river. And then, though I am not a doctor, I thought the news a-wondering. I whooped around and waved my hat, and kept the welkin stirring. When I got home my good doc called, "You're rheumatiz a better? You walk like one who has installed a brand new carburetor." I said, "The Hun is getting him!" The thing he said in English pleases; I haven't time for rheumatiz or any pink disease."

USEFUL LESSONS.

The war is teaching me a lot that seems well worth knowing; each day some lesson hits the spot, and teaches me knowledge growing. I'm learning how to sack the dimes, which may avert disaster; this was a graft in former years I never thought of. On reading of the war, I would draw my mon, and then, it would let it flicker, and always, ere the week was done, I had to soak my pants in the river. I thought, and now I take my single nickel, and now I take my single nickel, and put it down in pickle. It's hard to start this saving scheme, for one

Man Who Has Accomplished Things.

One of the County's Respected Pioneers.

Mr. Lewis scores 100 per cent as a candidate for sheriff, and if he goes "over the top" on primary day, August 20, and wins the triumph he deserves, he will prove, as a capable and competent official, every claim that has been made for him. He will more than meet the expectations of his friends.

Mr. Lewis' thirty-two years in Wayne county were mainly spent in developing agricultural interests, and it is a fact, known to all, that no experience is better than farming to develop sturdy character and frank, firm, unbiased judgment. To him the county is like an open book. He knows it thoroughly. He knows the people, and the people know him. Knowing him, they will have confidence in his ability to make an eminently successful officer, always prompt, careful and just.

who's been a spender; he thinks that thrif's a tightwad schemer'd blow his legal tender. But having ruled-down a plunk, the next is quick to follow; he finds collecting silver junk beats blowing it, all hollow. The war is teaching lots of chaps to put away the shillings; slim comfort, you will say, perhaps, for all the blood and killings. But it is good to know that war has one redeeming feature (perhaps) that's what it's fashioned for)—it's useful as a teacher.
