FUNERAL OF R. J. ROUSH.

The funeral of the late Richard J. Roush, whose death was mentioned in last week's Herald, was held from Boschenauer's undertaking parlor, Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. D. W. MacGregor of the M. E. church, burial followed in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Roush died in a hospital at Berkelet, Neb., January 30, aged about 74 years. The body arrived in Wayne Saturday evening, accompanied by J. W. Mahala.

Mr. Roush served in the Civil war. At the age of 18, he enlisted February 25, 1864, as a private in Company I, Fifty-third Ohio Volunteer Infantry. He was discharged at Little Rock, Ark., December 1, 1865. At Atlanta, Ga., he fell from the effects of extreme heat, over-exertion and lack of water, and was carried from the field. He received under treatment in a division hospital at Marietta, Ga., for several months, but finally returned to his company. He lived at Glenwood, Ia., several years, moving to Nebraska in 1874, and taking a homestead in the Platte valley. He came to Wayne in 1889. He lived in Hech county in 1889 and 1890, returning to Wayne in the summer of 1889. He moved to Berkelet, Neb., in 1912.

FROM LUXEMBURG.

Rev. and Mrs. P. W. MacGregor have received a letter from their son, Dr. Warren MacGregor, who wrote from Bielefeld, Luxemburg, saying among other things: "We are headed for Berlin. I am very busy. I have four field hospital and four field ambulance companies in my charge. Many of the soldiers from the infantry and artillery have been commuted, making a great deal of work for me. The major says he is going to leave me here. The other doctors who were in the sanitary train with me were sent back to their companies. I am liable to be kept in the game to the end. I am sleeping in a real bed once more. It had been such a long spell since I slept in a bed that I could hardly sleep the first night. I hope the next place we move to will have a good bed for me in it. It's sleep warm and well I will get along fine. The old lady in this home is like a mother to me. Each night she puts a foot warmer in my bed."

SOME JOB.

Washington Post: The German national assembly, it is announced, is expected to sit only two months. And in that time all it has to do is to select a provisional government and perfect a constitution. Some job that with a time limit, deadline and thirty-four member members to boot.

D19fad.

Robert Skiles arrived home Sunday from Vayland, S. D., near which he owns a farm on which his house was recently destroyed by fire. He returned Tuesday to Vayland to replace the burned building with a new one.

Walter Randol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dr. C. Randall, north of town, has received his discharge from the United States navy and arrived home from Buffalo, N. Y., Saturday. He expects to farm in Wayne county during the coming year.

Arthur Neely of Sioux City, arrived here Saturday evening to spend Sunday with his wife and family who are visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Neely. Mrs. Arthur Neely has been quite sick, since coming to Wayne two weeks ago.

Corporal Clyde Renecke, who was a member of the 337th field artillery in France, arrived home Saturday from Camp Dodge, where he received his discharge. Clyde says he is mighty glad to get back home, but had some interesting experiences while in the service.

An oil heater caused damage by fire on the Henry Bush place, tenanted by E. L. Jones, eleven miles northwest of Wayne, January 23.

The fire started in an upstairs room in which the contents were destroyed. Mr. Jones succeeded in rescuing the family to the one room. Mr. Jones carried insurance of $1000 on his furniture in the Union Fire of Lincoln, of which C. Wisner is the local representative. The loss was adjusted at $128.25, and a draft for that amount was in the hands of Mr. Jones February 1. Mr. Jones was mighty well pleased with the prompt settlement.

Edison has made the "talking machine" a thing of the past!

The New Edison Diamond Disc

No Needles to Change. Unbreakable Records

The New Edison Diamond Disc May Be Had in a Wide Variety of Styles

Jones Book and Music Store

"When Edison invented mechanical sound reproduction 30 years ago the world marvelled at his genius. The "talking machine" was the wonder of the age. But Edison himself was not satisfied. He had not reached his goal. This was not real music, but only mechanical approximation. Others, however, eager for commercial gain, closed their eyes to its imperfections. They adapted Edison's original ideas and exploited them by cleverly turned phrases. Even today "new" talking machines are announced which are really but adaptations of Edison's 30-year-old idea.

But meanwhile Edison cherished a higher ambition, one really worthy of his genius. For the last five years he has labored tirelessly and conscientiously 18 to 20 hours a day, in his search for a true musical standard. He has dug deep into the hidden secrets of scientific research which the world has known. He ignored mere mechanics for the mechanical timbre is the glaring defect of the familiar "talking machine." He aimed at the goal for which every music lover has hoped.

Music Re-Creation

And now he has found it. He opened the doors of his laboratory and revealed a new musical instrument—the New Edison Diamond Disc. Mind you—not an adaptation of old imperfect standards—not a talking machine—but a real musical instrument that is DISTINCTLY NEW. It has made the "talking machine," which for thirty years people have considered the limit of human possibility, A THING OF THE PAST. Now which will you have in your home? Which will you choose? This new musical instrument of the old-fashioned "talking machine"? Do you want the actual tones of the original artist, alive with that subtle breath of reality, or—the cold, metallic tone of the "talking machine" which makes even the greatest music unmusical? Do you want that eternal bother of changing needles, which wear out valuable records, or do you want the permanent rounded diamond cone which eliminates all the fuss and prolongs the life of the record indefinitely? Do you want the fragile record which you must fondle like a costly piece of china, or the unbreakable Edison re-creation disc?

These are things which you must investigate and decide NOW. And investigate and decide in a way which will enable you to AVOID REGRETS.

Attend Edison Re-Creation Concerts

Come in and hear the New Edison Diamond Disc. Even if you are not thinking of purchasing, you should hear this machine. If the familiar mechanical approximation of tone has seemed wonderful to you, then this new gift of the wizard's genius will be a revelation.

Don't let anyone tell you you can't hear certain artists on the New Edison Diamond Disc, you can't. The Edison can be made to play other makes of records. And although the music of these records is not as true to the original tone as Edison's own re-creations, because of his superior method of sound development, they really sound better than on the instrument for which they were made.

GROUND HOG'S DAY. Sunday was "Ground Hog Day." I wonder how many people in Wayne county examined the sky closely that morning looking for the cabalistic writing that should reveal the near approach of spring or the reverse. Many years ago February 2, dawned bright and cold over our farm "house" in northwestern Iowa and my mother looking over the frozen snow-drifts said: "The ground hog has seen his shadow, and we shall have a late cold spring. I was yearning for the warm weather that I might go barefooted. Mother, catching my wistful look, explained: "You see the ground hog always comes out of his hole just at sunrise on February 2 and if he sees his shadow, he frightens and rushes back into his hole and we have a week of zero weather. But if the weather is so cloudy that he cannot see his shadow before 10 o'clock, he gets used to being out and doesn't go back into his hole and spring comes early." Thus I acquired valuable knowledge about the weather. I was six years old. At the years passed, I began to apply the "higher criticism" to the ground hog story. My geography told me that the sun was always strong. Suppose the morning were dark in Iowa and bright in Colorado. How about it? Was there a succession of ground hogs that signalled from hill to hill clear around the world? Or was there a law of rhythm about the seasons so that a general storm in mid-winter was likely to be followed soon by clear weather? Thus I rationalized the ground hog myth, laughed and believed. Yes, I looked out anxiously on Sunday morning and almost saw the ground hog. Yes, we shall have soon early spring, I believe. If it isn't the ground hog it is something else the doctrine of averages or the cessation of the war, man and nature in harmony. At any rate, that plant paragon, "Good Friday" I have to see the new moon. I knock on wood. J. T. House.

THE BRAKE ON BUSINESS.

The record of business for the last week is a story of what has been for several weeks with a few accentuating elements growing out of the long continued waiting process. Textile and iron and steel industries have shown an increased slowness in their especially the trade faces an increase in unemployment which in turn would reduce the purchasing power of the people in this line as much of the material for industrial use. The number of men out of work is officially reported to be less than it was last week. Some of this unemployment is the result of reductions in industrial plants, especially in steel, the reduction extending from the mines through the blast furnaces to the mills. The lone exception to reduction is in forces and partial suspension of operations in the Westinghouse industry, engaged in the manufacture of electric supplies. This enterprise is running overtime and it is claimed has orders ahead sufficient to keep it employed for several years.

The warmest January in the history of all normal late winter sales in retail lines and his condition is reflected in the wholesale trade, and even in the manufacture of the season's commodities. Many manufacturers and wholesalers are loaded up with stocks which they must carry into next year's trade. They are not seeing the advantage in increasing these stocks at a time when there is no demand. Ordinarily this would have no effect on the present as manufacturers would be engaged at this season on supplies for next fall at least. Summer supplies would be closing up now, they were not already so. But in conditions and the use of many of the larger plants for army supplies has upset the orderly plans of manufacturing and adds to the confusion of the present time.

There are a few western indications of the present trend of business which add some light to the general situation. The Pillsbury flour mills at Minneapolis have announced a shut down. The explanation is that they have more flour on hand than they can sell. The company blames the withdrawal of the government from the market as a buyer for the conditions in which the flour industry is placed. Another western feature concerns the Wisconsin tobacco growers. The packers are overstocked and are able to decline the most tempting offers of the growers who are desirous of disposing of their crops before the market is glutted with the present year's crop. These two features show that supplies of raw materials of the manufacture are sufficient to meet demands and possibly to maintain the present high prices.

The building boom which was positively announced to begin with the opening of the building weather in the spring had little subsequent stage behind it. Building materials have not decreased sufficiently to attract capital, and individual building on small scales is contracted, especially by loaning contracts which make a specialty of financing the erection of homes. Land has declined in price and the need oil and labor remain at the old levels, and the cost of the erection of a home is increased by these elements which enter into it. It would be all right if the payment of the loans were to be made under conditions similar to which now exist. But to build at present prices and pay when the paying power of a dollar is materially reduced is courting bankruptcy and is advised against.

Collections are reported slower than formerly and fewer trade discounts are being taken.

SUICIDE AT STANTON.

Loerke, one of the oldest settlers in Stanton, committed suicide by hanging himself in the barn at his residence in town here this afternoon. He had been ill for several weeks and at times his mind wandered. The family have feared he would take his own life. He leaves an aged wife and several children and grandchildren.

Another voice from overseas. Last week Mrs. Hulda Smith received a letter from her son, George L. Smith of Company E, Fifty-third Infantry, dated at Nuremberg, Germany, where his company is doing guard duty. George was in several drives in the last of which he received a slight shrapnel wound. And had his gas mask blown to pieces, which he wore a close call. This company is Harry Durling, who is well known in Concord, having been employed by the Edward J. Bradford Lumber company. George says it rains every day and it wet, says it muds and all the time. He says he will come home again and he will be relieved from his suffering. Sunday school, together with the Lutheran church, gathered to mourn his loss his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. The way the local electric plant charges for service one could easily imagine that it is like the railroad and other utilities, had been taken over by the United States government.

Considering government operation of railroads and other things we wonder if government monopoly has any edge over private monopoly in serving and saving the public.

We hail with delight the prospect of one oasis in the desert of high prices and shortages, and we urge the government to re-establish the two-cent letter rate, probably effective July 1.

Wayne needs a live commercial organization. If the Public Service club is to be revived and reanimated, it should be done. There should be a new club should be formed. All things are to be done for the club which is indispensable commercial body is indispensable.

It is reported that high flouring mills are producing more flour than the market demands and that there is an excess supply of flour. This is a good thing, but there are some inconsistencies in prices that consumers don't understand. Consumers are especially puzzled and resent when they come to pay their bills.

There is a good deal of talk that a lawsuit should be given as a wage case to Wayne county boys who have returned from the service. It has been proposed that a suitable compensation be given to those already here, and another one for those who come home later. It is a group of individuals, an organization or a committee that should take the matter in hand and make and execute the plan.

In the course of an address, Secretary of War Baker stated that very young men who were the uniform of the United States in Europe would have a hard time to get commercial bodies and employing institutions to co-operate with the government in carrying out their military purposes. The boys have answered the call to duty, and now that they have returned to civilian life, they should be given opportunities for useful and profitable employment.

The state senate has passed without a dissenting vote a bill introduced by Senator H. E. Simas of Winnebago, providing that no person shall teach any subject in any school than the English language to children in private, parochial, church or public schools until the students have reached the eighth grade, and prohibiting the teaching of any foreign language in grades below the eighth. The measure would also bar the teaching of any foreign language in grades above the eighth, unless authorized by the state superintendent of schools.

Sunday's Omaha Bee contrasts the present legislature and other legislatures of late years with haw-muckery. The Bee says that the haw-muckery methods were frequently employed by lobbyists to gain advantage. In the old days liquor flowed freely and the weakness and weaknesses of members were often tempted to influence legislation. Good reputations were sometimes easily sold. In later days, with booze and other evil influences banished, members of the legislature settle down to real business and accomplish the things of value for the state. Backhanded favors have given place to earnest and honest legislation.

Members of the city council show much interest in having paving done because of their costly and often unsatisfactory experience in dealing with the municipal light company. Every year the city is paying contiguous to his property can afford to dig up the cost. If he was an automobile, he will soon see much in having to meet his share of the improvement. Bonds for drainage and for paving installations will not be a burden to a city. The property owner's values would materially increase. Landlords will carefully look after improvements if they have not already done so. The system of paving under the lighting system, paving will stay put, and the city will not have to be kept in operation in the double task of making the cash income equal the cash outlay. This is a different proposition, and the cost-

BUNGALOWS OF MODERATE SIZE

New Type Designed for Lots of Good Width.
SUN PORCH IS ATTRACTIVE.
Home Shown in Illustration is Quite Compact in Arrangement and Has All Modern Conveniences.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.
Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the building of a bungalow. He is the author of this paper, and has been published in the National Bungalow Magazine, Chicago, Ill., and only encloses three-cent stamp for reply.

Owning a home is the inherent desire of every individual of a family. But it is doubtful if the pride of ownership is as strong in the husband as in the wife and the other members of the household. The latter operate a greater part of their time in the home than does the man, whose days are devoted to business. Consequently it is the wife and daughters who have the greatest interest in the planning of a home.

There will be much building of small homes this year. The government has removed the restrictions that were imposed on building as a war measure and plans that were temporarily abandoned can now be brought to fruition. In both country and city building activity will be greatly in evidence as soon as spring comes.

Among the men who complete building will have the pleasure of spending the winter evenings planning the home. This is one of sun porch to the rear, which in summer makes an attractive breakfast room, and adds to the broadness of space of the dining room. Toward the other side of the house is the kitchen, which also is of good size and is designed to accommodate the best modern kitchen, sentiment, as placed as to bring the greatest efficiency. To the rear of the kitchen is a porch leading to the back yard.

The bedrooms are along one side of the house, one adjoining the living room, the other to the back of the house. Between the two bedrooms is the bathroom, which opens off a hall that connects the bedrooms. Double doors lead from the rear bedroom to the sleeping porch.

That it will be seen that although this would be termed a five-room house, it really is much larger. The graceful lines of this house, with the opportunity afforded for window boxes and flower beds and shrubs surrounding it, make it particularly attractive from the outside. This advance in bungalow design embodies the ideas of a number of architects, who have devoted much study to designing small homes. This type of home is especially attractive to the leading members of the architectural profession now and here, as those who build homes nowadays have learned that a little money spent for advice from experts, used and capable architects is worth while.

Compact Arrangement.
The design and floor plan are recommended for study to those who intend to build. The more they are studied the more it will be found that here is an excellent design for the family that will build a home of moderate size. It is compact in arrangement, and all of what is generally termed "modern conveniences" and leaves little to be desired in appearance.

One word about the durability of building this sort of house. The construction of the year has released many thousands of men skilled in the building trades. It also has released quantities of materials that have been used in war work. Both materials and labor now are available in abundance, and when the time comes that the greatest joys of building—planning just how the home will be after it is finished. Undoubtedly the type of home that has the greatest appeal to the suburban and small city dweller is the bungalow. The convenience of the bungalow arrangement, the elimination of the back-breaking work of running up and down stairs, and the comeness of having all of the rooms opening one into the other brought into immediate popularity—the bungalow.

Great Advance Shown.
Since the beginning of this population, however, there has been a great advance in bungalow designing. One of the best of these latter designs is shown in the illustration accompanying this article. This white bungalow is a new type in home architecture and is designed for those whose lots are larger than are ordinarily found in the city. It might be called the Dutch colonial type, and, in its balanced simplicity and grace of roof-line, will be to the middle West what the restoratory Dutch colonial house is to the East.

The bungalow is 89 feet wide and 31 feet deep, with the sun porch, sleeping porch, and kitchen, porch, all on one range, on the back, except eight feet farther. The floor plan was designed with the idea of saving the steps of the house. The living room is especially of a bungalow and has that openness which makes this type of home so popular. It is 23 1/2 feet long, 17 feet wide, and has a large open fireplace, with bookcases on either side. Opening off the living room toward the rear of the house is the dining room, which is 17 feet long, 11 feet wide, and has a built-in wall between the sun porch and the buffet.

fighting men is rated as 12,250 rifles. The department's table shows that the rash of American troops in Europe when the German great drive was launched, not only succeeded in making good all allied losses from month to month at the front, but steadily increased the strength of the allied armies actually engaged. Figures on the hundreds of thousands of Americans who were in training behind the lines are not given.

The table prepared by General Pershing's staff showing the comparative strength of the allies for the eight months covered follows:

Admits Military Defeat.
London, Tuesday, Feb. 5.—Via Montreal. Any idea that the German offensive was due to a revolution or solely to blockade is scouted in an article in the Frankfurter Zeitung by the military writer, Major Paulus.

"General Ludendorff was beaten," says Paulus, "when he commenced to retreat to the Antwerp-Meuse line for this line could not have been held. Neither flank was secure in the north—the Dutch frontier left room for retreat. In the center the German position was untenable to the enemy to break through. The line from Diederhofen to Metz was already outflanked when the St. Mihiel offensive was launched."

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

(From the Wayne Herald, February 2, 1919.)

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Harrington visited friends in Tekamah.

Ran. Frazer, former resident of Wayne, died at his home in South Omaha.

Donald Hakes bought a farm in the western part of Wayne county for $50 an acre.

Miss Edna Pitts of Lyons, visited her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Fries, of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregg came home from Lincoln to spend the time during the recess of the legislature.

The worst snow storm of the season occurred this week, piling up drifts, making traffic almost impossible.

R. Davis of this place and Editor Lundberg of Carroll, went to Lincoln to witness the legislative session.

Henry Eickhoff purchased the Kiener tract of land just south of town and will make his home on that place.

County Treasurer Fred Volpp, enjoyed a visit from Carl Matters of Milwaukee. The two men were school mates in Germany at the age of 14 years and had not seen each other for twenty-one years.

(From Ponca Journal, February 15, 1883.)

Petition of T. R. Hicks and others for the incorporation of the town of Wakefield, filed, taken up and the board being satisfied that a majority of the taxable inhabitants of the said village signed the said petition, and that inhabitants to the number of over 200, reside in and are actual residents of said village of Wakefield and the said petition prescribing that the name of said village asked to be incorporated be called and known as Wakefield. Said petition further designated the territory to be embraced within the same, as follows: Commencing at the southeast corner of section 32, township 27, range 5, east, thence north one-half mile, thence west one-half mile, thence south one-half mile, thence east to place of beginning. It is therefore declared and ordered that the prayer of said petition be granted; and that the said village embracing the territory above defined be incorporated and known as the village of Wakefield and E. C. Fong, E. E. Skumway, Luther Good, J. T. Marriot and Philo Graves are hereby appointed trustees for said village, with all the power with which we are under the laws of Nebraska empowered to clothe them with.

POLITE BUT SUMMARY.

Kansas City Times: The enjoying of the new telephone rate in many places of this country may be taken as a polite way the several states have adopted of hanging up on Mr. Burlington.

NOBODY KNOWS.

Minneapolis Journal: We do not know what Russia wants. But the Russians have got on all there. They don't know either.

Dreadful Cough Cured.

A severe cold is often followed by a rough cough for which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven especially valuable. Mrs. F. W. Olsen, Mayville, Minn., writes: "About two years ago my little boy Jean caught a severe cold and coughed dreadfully for days. I tried a number of cough medicines but nothing did him any good until I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It relieved his cough right away and before he had finished taking one bottle he was cured. I think it is just fine for children."—Adv.

Getting Rid of Colds.

The easiest and quickest way to get rid of a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This preparation has been in use for many years and its value fully proven. No matter what remedy you use, however, care must be taken not to contract a second cold before you have recovered from the first one, and there is serious danger of this. A man of middle age or older should go to bed and stay in bed until fully recovered. It is better to stay in bed three days at the start than three weeks later on.—Adv.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

What a Heap of Happiness it Would Bring to Wayne Homes.

Hard to do housework with an aching back. Chamberlain's Kidney Pills brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause of their backache.

Backache pains often come from weak kidneys.

Wouldn't you much prefer to be well?

Don't your Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Recall what a Wayne citizen says: "I have used Chamberlain's Kidney Pills a number of times and highly recommend them because they always give me relief quickly. I had been troubled by a steady ache in my back, and was in a run-down condition. Don't's Kidney Pills benefited me and I advise anyone troubled in that way to give them a trial."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Chamberlain's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Huff had. Foster-McMillan Co. Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

THE FARMERS' GRAIN ELEVATOR with a capacity of 30,000 bushels, is ready to receive grain.

We have just completed one of the largest and best grain elevators in this part of the state. The building is 34 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 95 feet high, and is constructed of the best lumber on the market. The exterior is covered with best quality sheet iron, with a fire-proof roof of asbestos. Everything modern and up-to-date has been installed to handle grain. We are equipped to unload, as well as load, by means of machinery set in motion by two electric motors, making it possible to handle 2,000 bushels an hour. We have installed a model cleaning apparatus to be used in separating the grain from the chaff.

The Farmers' Grain Elevator was built by the seventy-four stockholders of the Farmers' Union, and no expense was spared in making it a substantial structure and one that will meet the needs of the farmer in every possible manner. Our old building will be torn down and converted into coal sheds.

We sell all kinds of COAL, FEED, and GRAIN, and pay the highest market prices. A carload of BLOCK and BARREL SALT is due to arrive this week. We can save you farmers money on salt.

Third Annual Sale DUROC-JERSEY BRED SOWS

Crystal Lake Stock Farm Dakota City, Nebraska

Monday, February 10

We will sell 40 head of the best sows to be offered at public auction in this section of the country. They are by some of the most noted sires of the Duroc breed, such as Orion, Cherry King, Grand Model, Challenger, Big Sensation, Grand Model, Pathfinder, King the Colonel, and others. They are bred to two of the best breeding boars in the middle west, Big Sensation 2nd by the Champion Big Sensation and Crystal Lake Model by Model Challenger out of a Colonel Gano dam.

This will be a very high class offering. Only the top of our herd are being put in this sale. This offering is far superior to any we have heretofore presented the public. It is strictly big type sale. There are 15 junior yearlings, 10 fall gilts and 15 spring gilts.

With this array of breeding and individuality offered to you at your own price, why would it not pay to

Buy a Bred Sow and Raise Your Own Boar and One for Your Neighbor

This sale will be held in heated pavilion. Every effort will be made to make you comfortable. The "Mr. Ladies" Aid will serve a hot dinner at noon. Come, be our guest, see our breeding herd whether you wish to buy or not. All trains met sale day, also street cars at South Sioux City. Sale one-fourth mile from town. Catalogs ready for mailing.

OVERSEAS

Sioux Falls Press: An editorial writer on the Sioux City Journal starts off his leader with the heading "The Paris Peace Conference is inclined to believe in more ways than one. It seems to be too large a nut for the world statesmen assembled in Paris to crack. And that is no reflection upon them, either."

POPULAR DELUSIONS

Helen Rowland: Next to the fond belief that real friendship can exist between a man and woman without ending in love, perhaps the greatest popular delusion is that real love can exist between them without becoming friendships.

DEATH OF OLIVER BURSON Civil War Veteran Passes Away After Long Illness

Oliver H. Burson who had been an invalid at his home in Wayne for three years and confined to his bed for six months, died January 31, aged 73 years, 5 months and 2 days. The funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. D. W. MacGregor, pastor of the Methodist church. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Oliver H. Burson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Burson, was born in Adams county, Ky., August 29, 1842. Until he was twenty years of age he assisted his father in the flour milling business. He answered his country's call and became a corporal in the Fourteenth Indiana battery volunteers, February 22, 1862. He was discharged from the United States service February 27, 1864, at Canton, Miss. He re-enlisted as private in the same battery on February 28, 1864. He received an honorable discharge from service at the close of the war at Indianapolis, Ind.

Returning home, he worked at his trade of gunsmith until he went to Wright county, Minnesota, where he was united in marriage March 27, 1874, to Miss Violet Oliver of Howard Lake, Minn. To this union were born two children, Mrs. Clara Corber of Decatur, Neb., and Miss Clara Burson of Wayne. He moved with his family to Wayne county in 1880, and the following year came to Wayne where he resided until death. He leaves besides his children, a brother William, of Roanok, Ind., and two sisters, Mary, Attorney of Hardice, Kas., and Catherine Bajinger of Saxeville, Wis.

The kindly ministrations of his daughter, Mrs. Clara Corber, for many years, entrenched her in the hearts of considerate and sympathizing friends. Wayne friends offer sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

TAFT FOR PRESIDENT.

Arizona Republican. Speaking of presidential possibilities, what's the matter with William H. Taft? Both he and Colonel Roosevelt were throughout the war period, with flying colors, and either would have been capable of reuniting the party which their own differences split. Roosevelt is gone, but Taft is still in good fighting trim, and if the colonel could sneak he would probably appreciate the suggestion as "bull." Whether Taft would be equally enthusiastic is a question, but the fact remains that the republican party could not do a handsomer nor a wiser thing.

FIJIPINOS SHOW CAPACITY.

Pittsburgh Dispatch. The Filipinos are to remark that they, too would like full freedom, but are willing to wait our convenience. That spirit alone shows a capacity for self-determination that many others might emulate.

AGRICULTURE NOTES.

Many Farmers Apply for Seed Loans.

A large number of Montana and North Dakota farmers have made applications for seed grain loans from the fund provided by the president to aid farmers in drought-stricken areas. The Great Falls, Mont., office of the seed grain loan of the United States department of Agriculture reports on January 18, applications from 1,585 Montana farmers in amounts totaling $300,720 and from 137 North Dakota farmers in amounts totaling $4,867. The Montana applicants represent an acreage of 48,144 and the North Dakota applicants an acreage of 14,974.

Europe Likes American Milk.

European people have learned to like American dairy products. Exports of condensed milk to Europe rose from 16,000,000 pounds in 1914 to 530,000,000 pounds in 1918, and there were notable increases in exports of other dairy products. Much of this may be due to abnormal war demands, but the United States department of agriculture believes that there is both an opportunity and a demand for increased production in this direction over present requirements. A normal increase in dairying in this country, the department thinks, is fully justified, provided there is the necessary increase in feed crops.

Gardens Will Be Profitable This Year.

The home garden is likely to prove a profitable investment of effort and time as it has for the past several seasons, in the opinion of the United States department of agriculture. The experience of the past few years has proved that persons who have sufficient land and spare time and who do their home gardening work intelligently and efficiently find it profitable. The relatively high prices of practically all foodstuffs tend to increase the saving effected, but the home garden should be planned with a view to meeting the family needs rather than of producing crops for sale on the market.

Pure-Bred Sires Prove Their Worth.

Michigan farmer and breeder, in desire of increasing their profits and adding still greater honors to their already famous dairy state, have joined in a state-wide campaign to eliminate the scrub bull and use only pure-bred sires.

The scrub bull and does not tolerate the same in this respect that have been qualified for the register of the County Cow-Testing association. All of these cows were daughters of pure-bred sires, six of them being daughters of one sire, used pure-bred sires averaged 85 pounds more fat a cow than those headed by grade or scrub sires. The herds of those farmers who to replace their scrubs.

The five best herds in the association were headed by pure-bred sires, and the five poorest herds, on all eight of the members purchased pure-bred sires of known breeding.

She is an accomplished musician and has made rapid progress in her work. She now has a class each week of seventy-two pupils.

FROM CHARLES CLOSSON. December 13, 1918.

Friend Huse: When I left the U. S. A. I told you I would write you something for publication, but up to the present time have been too busy to more than drop an occasional line here or drop a card to some of my friends. I certainly would like to be able to put into words that would do justice to some of the things I have seen and going through since I left home. Our trip across the ocean was probably more interesting to all the rest who have made the voyage. Instead of leaving from some U. S. port, we had the very rare pleasure of a trip up the Hudson, and a daylight trip of that, having the very fine opportunity of seeing the palisades and all the beautiful scenery from New York to Montreal, and I ought to say it is one picturesque scene after another all the way, especially near Champlain, and you get a wonderful view of the lake and surrounding mountains from the train as the railroad follows the lake for some one-hundred miles. We did not get much of an opportunity to see Montreal as we arrived there late in the night, and the next morning left for the Blemont of Glasgow for France, at least that was our destination a wonderful trip up the St. Lawrence past Quebec, where we landed under the highest and most grand bridge in the world. After seeing into St. Lawrence Bay, we turned northward and my vessel passed port of our north for several days, then for four days before changing our course, passed a grand rocky iceberg, which were some next to most of us. Of course we had the usual ship board that I am sure every one had. But that was not at all what I had in mind. A very different experience than the ordinary sea. After we had been out some days we picked up a steamer that was with us, and until we were that convolved us had to put up with the usual ship board and never let us as they said the papers were not regular. We had in our company twenty-seven ships and were first off the coast of Ireland by the destroyer that piloted us into Liverpool. Just one thing about these destroyers. They surely are some of the best sea-going and most efficient in the fleet. They were in the front of the boat at a speed of twenty to thirty knots looking over the side. All those things were more interesting to a landlubber like myself and I surely enjoyed them as I had never seen anything like it before. We had no chance of seeing Liverpool, but had a wonderful ride from Liverpool to London in the daytime, and I want to say of all the best countries that we have ever passed through this made the best impression of any of it. It was like one vast garden, not planted in flowers, but planted something to eat and it made the impression on me that England was doing everything she could to feed herself. As at London we had several days, and we put them in seeing the sights, and they were very interesting, being far different from anything we had ever long trip. In France, things commenced to look like war, the docks and ships loaded with war materials, and then we commenced to think of why we were over here, and I want to say right here that you have to give your life's history so many times before you're through with it, and you really have to be the right party. There were several in our party who got to London and then were turned back. Some were turned back after seeing Paris, but I survived, and received my red permit. Paris was wonderful with her beautiful monuments and drives and windows that are all of uniform height and made of stone, and the streets were paved with about ten days here and visited most of the interesting places. While I will not attempt to describe, I can assure you that enjoyed it all, but was very glad to receive my assignment to the division I was to serve with, which was the Fourth division, stationed up in a little town called Cuisey, about seven miles from Verdun on the Argonne front. Here was when I was looking forward in the reality—and I surely found it all and more that my wildest dreams had anticipated. To anyone near describe the real conditions of modern warfare is an impossibility for me. There are so many things that go to make up an army that I cannot go into, but let me let you know that I have had in my army in the S. O. S. where they have everything anticipated for them, but up at the front it is just the opposite. You never know what is going to happen. You may have your mess tinned and wake up in the morning and find Fritz has dropped on on the previous jump and then nothing to eat for a day or so. It is all the unexpected up here, and it is surely a life of adventure to the extreme, but at that there is the fascination of it all. Take at night and you are a few miles back of the front lines, and where you can see and hear the artillery as it sends over its missiles, and you hear the whizz of the shells unaided with the roar of the cannon, and see the fishes and feel the earth shake. There is something sublime and terrifying that holds

Willard BATTERY SERVICE STATION

Tough on Batteries You couldn't do worse by your battery than to abuse it in cold weather. Don't try to start with clutch in. Don't neglect priming if your motor fails to start right away. Don't forget to turn ignition switch on. Don't leave lights burning when they're not needed. If you're careless about any of these, you make it hard for your battery to work easy for it to freeze. Be sure your battery is charged up to 1.285 or then there will be no danger of freezing even on the coldest days.

Carhart Hardware Mister Trouble Goodbye!

From Edes Robe Tanning Co. to Local Dealer: Mister Trouble is packing his baggage. The back door is open, and we are all ready to kick him out. He slipped in on us after we started. We thought we knew all about trouble, but we had never met a real 1918 specimen before. He slipped in his friend Short. Short brought his old friend Delay. We gave them a hard run, but we admit they got a shade the better of us for a while. We were short of about everything—materials, labor, accounts, stenographers, shipping clerks—everything that is part of a manufacturing business. Contracts for linings had the same value as waste paper. Prices took wings, service went down and out; customers cussed. But the hotter it got the harder we dug in. And then came November 11th and the best of this letter is coming. PRICES ARE NOT GOING UP. LININGS ARE COMING IN FAST. THE BOYS ARE RETURNING. It might have been worse. For all the handicap, we handled 60 per cent more business, gave good service on 75 per cent of our orders, and held our Robb Goods 18 per cent below competition. If your letters weren't answered promptly, don't cuss; we produced the goods.

GROCERIES
 IT IS a certain satisfaction to know that the things you buy to eat come from a clean, fresh, up-to-date stock, kept in a clean, up-to-date store. The real economy in your living expenses is measured by what your grocery bill is in the long run, and not what bargain you can take advantage of now and then.

CHURCH CALENDAR

Evangelical Lutheran Church.
 (Rev. Rudolph Moehring, pastor).
 Sunday school at 10 o'clock; services at 11 o'clock next Sunday morning.
Methodist Episcopal Church.
 (Rev. D. W. MacGregor, pastor).
 Sunday services were well attended last Sunday, considering the weather. The bible class had a very interesting session. The meeting is getting very much interested in discussing the truths of the lessons, as they may touch upon the conditions of the world today.
 Patriotic services next Sunday morning at 11 a. m. "Roosevelt as a Statesman" is the theme for the morning hour.
 The evening services: Young people's services at 6:30 p. m. Boy Scouts' services at 7:30 p. m. Everybody welcome to our services. Come worship with us. Next week there will be a great meeting at the First Methodist church, Omaha, on the Centenary movement in the church. Tuesday and Wednesday are the days. Addresses will be given by some of the greatest men of the church, bishops, missionaries, Sunday school workers, laymen who are the leaders in the Centenary movement. There ought to be fifty of the Wayne members attend that great meeting. Why? For information, inspiration, and consecration.

Baptist Church.
 February 9, 10:30 morning service. Topic: "Crossing the Jordan."
 11:30 Sunday school.
 3 p. m. Junior.
 6:30 P. Y. P. U.
 7:30 evening service.
 Evangelist Richmond leaves Wayne soon, help while he is here and then "keep boosting."
THE RETURNING BOYS.
 Fairbury News: "What do we expect of our boys as we see them coming back after their months of army discipline—perhaps with one, two or three gold service stripes on the left sleeve? It's hard to tell. Different natures react to similar environment so differently. But we should prophesy that the army training will render them more exact in every way, that they will think less of the material side of life and more of its real intent, and that they will feel strongly the responsibility and duties of citizenship. What will they expect of us, changed by these months of watching and waiting? They will expect us to be more earnest, of wiser sympathies and greater tolerance. If we haven't gained these qualities our experience of war and grief and anxiety and sacrifice has done little for us.

A CORRECTION.
 The Herald is requested to publish the following: "After a thorough and careful investigation by proper authorities, it has been proven beyond all doubt that there was no evil intent in the hearts of those three young men who entered the high school building one Sunday afternoon. The wrong committed was in entering the building without permission."
PRECAUTIONS FOR SAFETY.
 Boston Transcript: "With the peace congress fixing it so there will never be another war and our government planning to have an army several times bigger and better than we've ever had before, it looks as if we'll be pretty safe."

J. M. CHERRY,
(Seal) 1233 County Judge.

There is more Casarrin in the world than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years had supposed to be incurable. Great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local medicines, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, it has become a general disease, and is now a constitutional disease, and is cured by Casarrin constitutional treatment. Halp's Casarrin Cure, manufactured by Halp's Casarrin & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and cleanses the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any cure it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials.

Do You Want to Know Both Sides?

Swift & Company's 1919 Year Book, just out, tells you

- What Swift & Company's profits were in 1918,
- The truth about the Federal Trade Commission's investigation,
- Why the prices of butter and eggs are so high,
- And many other vital facts.

Whether or not you agree with us after reading this Year Book, you will at least know both sides.

You will find it interesting; Americans like to hear about big things done in a big way. You will also discover that we are merely human beings like yourself, doing in the best possible way a necessary service.

Legislation is pending in Washington; as a good American citizen you want to know both sides of this question. It concerns you, as well as one of the most important industries in the country.

Do not hesitate to send for a copy of this booklet. Your name and address are all we need.

NOTICE

In the District Court of Wayne county, Nebraska.
The State of Nebraska, Plaintiff.
Norris Brown, Attorney General.
vs.
The Wayne County Agricultural Society, Defendant.
The Wayne County Agricultural Society, Plaintiff.
vs.
The Wayne Speel and Pine Stock Association and the County of Wayne, Defendants.

All stockholders and officers of and all other persons interested or claiming to have any interest in or claim against the Wayne County Agricultural Society.

Now on this 5th day of February, A. D. 1919, this cause came on for hearing upon the petition of John T. Bressler, Harry B. Jones, (substituted for D. C. Main, deceased) and Gilbert E. Piment, as trustees of the Wayne County Agricultural Society, dissolved, asking that the court may fix a time and place for all stockholders and officers of the Wayne County Agricultural Society, and all persons having any interest or claim in or against said society to come and show their claims, ownership of stock; that notice be given to all persons having or claiming to own stock in said society and all persons having or claiming to have any interest in said society of the time and place of such hearing; that upon said claims and ownership of stock being established, the trustees be authorized to pay the pro rata share of the funds in the hands of the said trustees belonging to said society, that the trustees be allowed a reasonable reward for their services in that the trustees, upon the completion of their trust, be discharged.

It is therefore ordered that all stockholders of the Wayne County Agricultural Society, and all persons having any interest or claim in or against said society, file their claims and ownership of stock with the clerk of said court, on or before March 17, A. D. 1919; that John M. Cherry be and he is hereby appointed referee to ascertain said claims, take the evidence in support thereof and report the same to the court, and it is ordered, that all the books, records and papers of said Wayne County Agricultural Society be turned over to said referee who is hereby directed to examine the same and report thereon so far as possible the names of stockholders and persons entitled to shares of stock as shown by said books and records. Said referee shall fix a time for receiving proof of claims of ownership of such stock and interest in and claims against said society, and he is hereby authorized to receive and file all such claims, notice of the time of such hearing, and shall take the evidence in support thereof and report the same with his findings of fact thereon to the court on or before April 21, 1919.

It is further ordered that all persons claiming to be stockholders of said dissolved corporation or to be entitled to receive shares of stock therein, or claiming to have any interest or claim against said dissolved corporation, who fail to file their said claims on or before said 17th day of March, 1919, and who thereafter are forever barred from claiming any interest in the assets of said corporation as stockholders or otherwise.

And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published in the Wayne Herald for three successive weeks, commencing February 6, 1919.

GUY T. GRAVES, Judge.

BUSINESS AND LABOR

Sioux City Journal: Two elements in business serve to point the way to better conditions, though, like the arrival of the first robin as the harbinger of spring, there are adverse conditions which belie the advantages of these favorable omens. The reduction of ocean going freight rates presages a larger foreign trade in American goods, but these two hopeful signs of returning pre-war conditions are offset by the increased number of unemployed, especially in the textile centers of the east in many of which serious labor difficulties have developed. The number of unemployed has increased, either as a result of strikes or because of the absence of orders for finished products. Possible future prices have something to do with the hesitancy, but there are no orders to replace those of the government, upon which many of the plants were operating last November.

Prices of raw material are an important element in the industrial field. With the agitation for lower costs on almost every item of industry there is a decided hesitancy about making purchases, which when converted into finished products may have to compete with supplies the raw material of which cost considerably less than the former. There is no loss of confidence in the future, but each one is disposed to let the other one take the initiative in bringing about the reduction which is essential in the readjusted conditions upon which prosperity must be based.

Arbitrary reductions in the wages in the copper industry, if it does not lead to a strike, may bring about a lowering of prices in this line. It is beginning to be recognized that artificial reductions must begin somewhere and that no other process will accomplish the volume of wholesale business on a postwar basis.

While there is a decided falling off in the volume of wholesale business-retail business shows no material decrease from past conditions.

ELLA K. MORRISON WRITES

Mrs. E. K. Morrison, sister of Mrs. J. Woodward Jones, of Wayne, and well-known here from France as follows:

"Lagrange, December 29, 1918. I wish you could all see it—it is the dearest little building—and has a name for it. We opened it on December 13. The man arrived with the sign 'American Red Cross Canteen'—just at the psychological moment—and as soon as it was opened, the show the fun began, and has been continuing ever since. We have served as many as 1,000 sandwiches, and drinks in a day between 6 a. m. and 10 p. m., more than a sandwich and a third a minute as the chataqua lecturer would say."

"We have been inspected by various persons, ranging from the girls working in the French cantine across the street, and them proudly announcing that she, like me, takes the money to the zone manager himself. We have been photographed, moving and advertising, and have been visited by a construction agent who promises a real sink, an addition to our store-room, and a corner where we can hang a mirror—at present we drop our coats over the cocoa stand or the coal box, and arrange our coats by inspection from within. We live in the railway station, and are fed as it were, by the ravens. One Christmas-day mess sergeant, as Mr. Bell called him, appeared, no one knows why or how, on the opening day, with a regular army meal for the never fails us, and the food is remarkably good and satisfying. Mr. Bell is rook-gingerly of a sandwich and a little milk, but the girls should have salads and things, and that if we would not properly nourished he would be blamed? Meanwhile we munched our breads and 'corn'—all with gusto, and felt we were having a very good meal. As a matter of fact, we usually have steak or roast and a fresh vegetable."

"Lord Chesterfield—otherwise known as Sergeant MacDermott, is which fully justifies his pseudonym, he is possessed of a certain resourcefulness which makes him a mess-sergeant of parts. When asked where he obtained certain Vienna sausages which arrived for breakfast one morning, he said he got them at a very funny store (rolls his B's deliciously), where there was no one to wait on him and no one to take his money. Later he called the passage, and was carrying a substantial cold chisel which he said was the key to the store he mentioned. A few days ago he suggested that I might use an engine to back an oil tank up to the camp, as he needed coal oil. While he was out looking for the engine, a car of mine was sitting down a siding near the cantine, all unexpected, and sailed right on into the road. Everyone has been teasing the sergeant about it ever since. He has a most original way of disposing of tin cans, he puts them in a bag and deposits them in empty cars that pass by, just like losing the cat. We have asked him to provide the cantine with a piano, but he says it is every day that a car of pianos passes on this line, so we must be patient."

"As certainly been a wonderful experience, starting this cantine—it seems to be much needed and appreciated and everyone has turned a hand to help—from the driver of the camion which we have occasioned use to the general himself—letter gave us a detail of how some nearby camp to solve the help problem. They turned out to be mostly Nebraska and Dakota boys—nice farmer boys who are used to turning a hand to housework and can go ahead with anything from doughnuts to scrubbing floors. Yesterday we had a big rush in the afternoon. I sat at the desk and made change steadily from 1:30 until 5:00 and those blessed boys kept the coffee and sandwiches going. We have lots of volunteers, too, boys in nearby camps, who, when they see a really fat fellow, they go to the counter, take off their coats and go to work without a word. An afternoon like that one is an ordeal, believe me. The American army is the dearest, sweetest army in the world, whole, but there are two things you can not do. One is to decide how many sandwiches to want and the other is to count French money! This is a typical scene in the cantine."

"There is a line of men winding in at the door—no one knows where the hind end of it is! But at the head, at least, stands a youth who is a real underdog, who has a car of 60 trucks rumbles by: 'Some coffee, please.' 'How many?' 'Oh, I guess so.' 'How many?' 'Oh, two or three.' 'Well, we get it sitting down to one drink and two sandwiches, which, I announce, will cost seventy centimes (fourteen cents). Thereupon the youth pulls out a twenty franc note."

"Have you no change?" "I got some of them big bladders and some little washers, but that isn't enough, is it?" "He dives into another pocket and there he finds a fifty-centime coin, full which he somehow dubiously professes, saying: 'Here, take them all, if it is enough. I can't count 'em and they're just for my use and pleasure." So from a choice collection of buttons, identification tags and junk I pick out my copper and just like I have the right amount it is suddenly discovered that one of them is a "some real" a treated sort of coin, which at various times—everlasting—"the next customer will probably want just one sandwich which is a very difficult transaction indeed, involving the need of one coin either on one side or the other, and sons are very scarce. I ask, parrot-like, 'Have you any more?' The soldier proudly brings out two, and promptly brings out two more pieces. Having made sure that he can do no better, I gradually part with one of my treasured little copper—and praise be, the long soldier comes, sheepishly and says he is broke, so I hand him a bowl and get my breath for the next struggle."

"Of course they all have to be a little for not being able to count change and in turn I have had some rather amusing things to hand out bowls, and for saying seventy sandwiches instead of seventy centimes and I have to explain that I am not really that girl back in Pennsylvania, however much I may look like her, and then along comes a stranger to me who asks me by name and wants to know when I left Dijon, and is disappointed because I don't remember the night two months ago when I told him I was from Lincoln, Nebraska. All this is interspersed by remarks in the best megaphone voice, such as 'Fall in line, boys.' 'Don't forget your money back your empty bowls. Have the coppers ready please.'"

"We had a very nice Christmas, save the turkey, and we had a beautiful tree, and we all enjoyed decorating it and putting up greens on Christmas eve. Christmas day we took no money and gave away coffee, cocoa, sandwiches, doughnuts, oranges and a pair of socks to each soldier. It was the day the regiment and General Patrick passed through. They reviewed troops quite near here. We had the temerity to send off all our details to see the show and depended entirely on volunteers for the two hours just at noon and we got them all we wanted, and everything went beautifully. It is great how boys who have just a few hours to wait here at the station, will put in the whole time working for us. The day before we opened it seemed I had half the A. E. F. at work, scrubbing floors, putting up shelves, opening boxes. Eunice had a lot of tin in front of the day I entertained all the boys who helped at dinner at the station cafe that I had quite a party—such nice boys they were. It was very amusing. My apron was quite dirty and I wore an old sweater and a rakin hat I had to carry over some bread I had bought at the commissary as we had no bread tickets. I cut it with my jack-knife, demonstrating the French method of holding it in the air. There were some officers at the table who were rather horrified. The position of a customer is sometimes puzzling to officers. Nurses are forbidden to associate with any but commissioned officers. We were officers are quite independent and do just as we like about it. I think it must be quite surprising to some of the older regular army officers to see an American girl over here who would just as soon talk to a buck private as to a lieutenant colonel. A great many of our officers come into the cantine—by far the great majority of them get into the spirit of the place, and fall into line with the boys. Of course we give an officer, any service he asks for, but we surely are pleased with the ones that don't ask for anything."

"Well, to go back to Christmas, the favens brought us a wonderful dinner—turkey and everything and absolutely the most deliciously baked I ever ate in my life, a cake with dried apples and peaches in it, a wonderful caramel frosting and some lovely fruit. Eunice and I, each in our turn, retired to the store room and sought out a comfortable spot among the boxes, where we perched and ate in peace Christmas evening we had an impromptu musical program. One Terence Patrick McCabe, who is very well known to me, sang a song which was finally persuaded to render a few selections, chief of which was entitled 'Lather and Shave' and was most amusing."

"I must explain about Eunice, for she is a great joy. I can't imagine this cantine without her, and I can't tell the few people with whom I could work and live in with her. She is just as strong as I am, and very conscientious and dependable. She wears at the store 'the way we would try to pull even, and certainly she does her share. She has been over longer than I, and is a year or two older, so naturally the real responsibility falls upon her—but we do everything as partners, and my suggestions carry just as much weight as her own. Fortunately we both find much amusement in things that bother some people, and so we both of us just looking for new experiences, and think we were lucky to be sent off here to a sort of jumping-off place where we can have a few experiences in a civilized place like Dijon. We

Farms for Sale

200 ACRE stock and grain farm, just 23 miles from a good market town and only 14 miles from Wayne. This farm has about 40 acres fine bottom hay land, 60 acres of blue grass pasture and 100 acres in cultivation. It is an ideal stock farm and is highly improved. Light room house with closets in every bed room, big pantry, central water in house, good bricked up cellar with cement floor, good cave, bricked up, big new barn, 40x80 stock house with 100 pens, stock racks, cement feed floor in feed lot, granaries, cribs, double chicken house, in fact an all round farm. Place and can give possession any time. School house just across the road. Price is $225 an acre. One-half cash.

160 ACRES, 6 miles from Wayne. Well improved, good pasture. Land lays well and is clear. Place is rented for a year at 2-5 crop. Can make very good terms on this one. Three-quarter well suit someone wanting to buy a home farm as the improvements and location are very good. Price $215.

160 ACRES 14 miles from Wayne. Rolling quarter, but a good all round farm. Price $210 and will sell with $8,000 payment. Rented for 1919. Good improvements.

320 ACRES only 11 miles from good market town in Wayne county. This is a fine piece of land, lays well and is located. Price $200 an acre and can carry back $38,000 if necessary.

Farm Loans

KOHL LAND AND INVESTMENT CO.

have sent for some new workers, but we do just sort of hate to have them come for fear they won't be gone. Mr. Hill said he could see we didn't want any shrinking violets but then, neither do we want any drum-majors. We can only hope for the best. We must have the place open nights, and Eamice must be free to do the buying and looking after the negroes. We are in need of having a 4 to 6 outside, or her regular eight hour shift. Also expect to have a permission as soon as the new ones are installed. I should have had it this month, but of course did not want it with all the excitement of opening a new concern.

We have a lovely room and it is almost like having two rooms, as we are never here at the same time, except when one or both are absent. The maid is charming, and so good to us. Mlle is the only sixteen, but a young lady of considerable charm and poise. She plays the piano, and I practice a little and we play duets.

Saw an Omaha man who is in his way home—think he is a cook in the Calmet cafe—he seemed very pleasant, and said he would call you up at the high school, and tell you he had seen me. A Wayne boy, Herman Little, has been at a camp near here, also a Mexican City boy works for us. I hope you received my callgram about Christmas time. One of the boys took it up town and sent it to me, but I had no chance to get it. I think it took him most of an afternoon to get it misused and everything.

AGRICULTURE NOTES.

Will Continue Farmers' City Market. A city market, established last summer in Trenton by the farm bureau of Mercer county, N. J., was so successful that the plan is to be carried out this year on a more extensive scale. The county agent estimates last year's business of the market at $800,000 worth of farm products sold at wholesale and retail. Until last year Trenton had no market, and for twenty-five years farmers had hauled their wagons up to the curb in the center of the business section of the city. Establishment of the market resulted from co-operation between the county agent, the bureau of markets of the United States department of agriculture, and the city officials of Trenton.

Show How to Cull Poultry. A prominent county agent conducted 133 culling demonstrations, with a total attendance of 2,655 people during the fall of 1918. The flocks culled numbered sixty-two, 2,620 birds being handled by the demonstrator and people in attendance. Of this number 1,681 birds, or 61 per cent, were discarded as "boarders." As a result of the campaign work, eighty-six farmers went through their flocks, aggregating 7,454 birds, and culled 2,934, or 39 per cent. This result indicates the influence and immediate and definite benefits of such demonstrations.

Bring in Pure-Bred Dairy Cattle. Through the assistance of the county agent and local banks, the farm bureau of St. Charles county, Missouri, secured five carloads of pure-bred Holstein cows during 1918. The average cost a head was $260, L. H. Holdaway, two farmers accompanied the county agent to Michigan, where arrangements had been made with the Holstein-Friesian association to secure the foundation stock. The bureau of animal industry provided a man to administer the tuberculin test. The cows purchased were of such individuality and breeding that their offspring could readily be disposed of at a good price. In fact, many of the cows were exhibited for three days and the breeding of each animal posted. Meanwhile the farmers who had given their orders made remittances at the bank covering the actual cost of the cow received and the transportation cost. When delivered the farmers made liberal terms of settlements.

Iowa Goes Barberry Digging. At least a half million common barberry bushes were found in nurseries and 150,000 more were located on private and public grounds in 1918. The work was done by the barberry eradication movement conducted in what-growing sections last summer by the United States department of agriculture, co-operating with state agriculture forces. The purpose of removing these bushes is to stamp out the black stem rust of wheat and other grains which has caused great losses, not only in Iowa, but in the whole middle-west. The new method of the means by which this rust is enabled to make an early attack in the spring. Without this host the rust will be practically eliminated. Although many bushes have been removed, there are still others in Iowa and throughout the middle west which will continue to be an epidemic if they become infected, say department specialists.

MORE TALK THAN ACTION. Springfield, Mass., Republican. "We shall act, act, act," says the Bavarian socialist. Kurt Eisner. "If everything else is to be done three times, no room will be left for anything but talk, talk, talk."

SOMETHING WRONG. Charleston News and Courier. The president will be starting for home before long. So far Senator Sherman has not introduced a resolution prohibiting him from landing on American soil.

BELIEVES IN PREPAREDNESS. New Orleans Times-Picayune. Did you happen to see a passing that St. Louis fish, the biggest water main in the world" on the day after the prohibition amendment was ratified?

AN IMPENDING ENCOUNTER. Minneapolis Journal. In Ohio after Perryville, Sen. is clearly putting on the gloves to meet the Dark Horse, recalling the old news item, "He met his death at the hands of a horse."

A STORM BREWING. Kansas City Star. It is said Postmaster General Burleson never goes anywhere without his umbrella. It probably will be well for him to continue this practice, and also to equip it with a lightning rod.

DOING NOTHING IN CONGRESS. Chicago Daily News. Congress is shouting itself blank in the face in its enthusiasm for doing things that will give it an excuse to do nothing about the railroad problem.

MR. BRYAN'S REVENGE. Washington Post. If Bill Bryan had a score to settle with the people for beating him out of the presidency, he squared it when he put them all on the water wagon.

THEIR OWN MAKE. Philadelphia Inquirer. "The designers might turn some of their plans into orphan's homes. They are responsible for lots of them."

WAIT A BIT. Minneapolis Journal. Don't give the Palm Beach college yell till you find what February has up its sleeve.

ONE OF OUR LITTLE WAYS. Buffalo Enquirer. Big gets an ear drum and the only thing used for Pershing is a congressional investigation.

HARDLY UNEXPECTED. Omaha World-Herald. French and German socialists have tried the experiment of meeting, and it is not surprising the experiment was not entirely successful.

DYING AND LIVING. Helen Rowland: A man may die for his honest convictions, but he lives chiefly for his beautiful illusions.

Edison has made the "talking machine" a thing of the past!

The New Edison Diamond Disc

No Needles to Change. Unbreakable Records

The New Edison Diamond Disc May Be Had in a Wide Variety of Styles

When Edison invented mechanical sound reproduction 30 years ago the world marveled at his genius. The "talking machine" was the wonder of the age. But Edison himself was not satisfied. He had not reached his goal. This was not real music, but only mechanical approximation. Others, however, eager for commercial gain, closed their eyes to its imperfections. They adapted Edison's original ideas and exploited them by cleverly turned phrases. Even today "new" talking machines are announced which are really but adaptations of Edison's 30-year-old idea.

But meanwhile Edison cherished a higher ambition, one really worthy of his genius. For the last five years he has labored tirelessly and conscientiously, 18 to 20 hours a day, in his search for a true musical standard. He has dug deep into the hidden secrets of acoustic science—research of which he alone was capable. He ignored mere mechanics—for the mechanical timbre is the glaring defect of the familiar "talking machine." He aimed at the goal for which every music lover has hoped—

Music Re-Creation

And now he has found it. He opened the doors of his laboratory and revealed a new musical instrument—the New Edison Diamond Disc. Mind you—not an adaptation of old imperfect standards—not a talking machine—but a real musical instrument that is DISTINCTLY NEW. It has made the "talking machine," which for thirty years people have considered the limit of human possibility, A THING OF THE PAST.

Now—which will you have in your home? Which will you choose? This new musical instrument or the old-fashioned "talking machine"? Do you want the actual tones of the original artist, alive with that subtle breath of reality, or—the cold, metallic tone of the "talking machine" which makes even the greatest music unmusical? Do you want that eternal bother of changing records, which wear out valuable records, or do you want the permanent rounded diamond cone which eliminates all the fuss and prolongs the life of the record indefinitely? Do you want the fragile record which you must fondle like a costly piece of china, or the unbreakable Edison re-creation disc?

Attend Edison Re-Creation Concerts

Come in and hear the New Edison Diamond Disc. Even if you are not thinking of purchasing, you should hear this machine. If the familiar mechanical approximation of tone has seemed wonderful to you, then this new gift of the wizard's genius will be a revelation.

Don't let anyone tell you your cant. Listen to the New Edison Diamond Disc. You can. The Edison can be made to play other makes of records. And although the music of these records is not as true to the original tone as Edison's own re-creations, because of his superior method of sound development, they really sound better than on the instrument for which they were made.

LETTER FROM LONG BEACH

Miss Laura E. Lyons Tells Observations on Pacific Coast.

17 Chestnut, Long Beach, Cal., February 4, 1915—The Wayne Herald: Really, it doesn't seem four weeks since we left Wayne, but such will be the case tomorrow, and I will redeem my promise by writing a little to you.

My father and I are located in the seaward apartment house, just one block from the water, although we can't see it from here unless we go on the roof.

Around this roof there are two stationary tubs, two washboards and hot and cold water, where all from this apartment do their washing. Nebraska "amateurs" (attention!) We do not use lye or bluing and do not boil the clothes, as they tell us this combination yellows the clothes. Weekly I see a man using the washboard, which is a source of pleasure to me.

As there have been one or two excursion automobile trips to Inglewood, a beautiful town of 4,500, just outside the southwest city limits of Los Angeles. By the way, it is paved, too.

On one trip, thirty-five of us went in an automobile bus to San Pedro harbor, where we and excursionists from other towns eighty-five in all boarded a boat and were shown about the harbor of Los Angeles which, by the way, is twenty miles south of the city—and a really man with a megaphone told of the development of the harbor, the government having spent millions of dollars putting in breakers, so now there is enough water and all ships can go to Los Angeles.

As the harbor has been deepened to the depth of thirty-five and forty-five feet, the island is to be entirely reworked and the new island to be created for use of the government. We saw a number of large ships under construction, some for the government. Then we were taken to Wilmington landing and met more taken in the bus to Huntington city, less than two miles from the harbor. Lunch and hot coffee were served, a speech by the agent was given and then we here that Mackay has entered partnership with Charlie Chaplin.

While we were in Los Angeles visiting my cousins (the Bucketts) was the home of Charlie Chaplin and three places where movies have been staged; also saw the movie

"The Fall of Babylon" which is certainly worthy of an attendance, in my estimation. We were taken over one mountain and down via Griffith's park and zoo and the Los Angeles golf links. The drive over this mountain is kept in the government. Los Angeles is a town of 650,000 and so congested that I don't see—A. M. Jacobs confessed to the same idea.

Next week there is to be a "Palestinean Pageant" put on in the municipal hall, and the Iowa and Nebraska people come on. All towns around are connected by electric cars and the boulevards.

Will close with greetings to our northeast Nebraska friends, I am yours, respectfully.

Laura E. Lyons.

With $100, $500, $1000 or $5000, what Ford, Willys, Dodge and scores of others in the Auto-mobile Industry have done in the past few years.

You remember how $1,000 invested in the original Ford stock made millionaires of the origi-nal purchasers—how $1,000 invested in the Hupmobile Company became worth $200,000—how $1,000 invested in the Overland Company grew to $333,000 in five years, and so on down through the list of Chandler, Stutz, Paige, Saxon and many others.

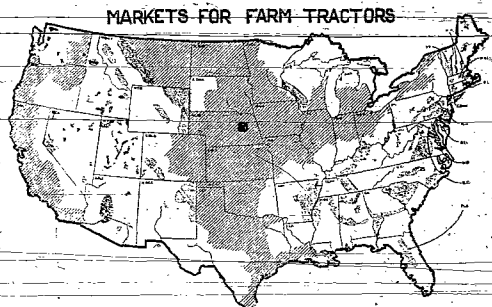

Questions You Will Want Answered About the SQUARE TURN Tractor

- 1.—What Type of Tractor is it?
The "Square Turn" Tractor is what is known as the three-wheeled type, having two traction or power wheels and one castor or free wheel. We build this type because we have found that it gives the greatest range of work, packs the soil less, requires less fuel to operate it.
- 2.—What range of work will this tractor do?
It can be kept busy practically the year around. It will do the work of from three to five teams of horses in general draw bar work and deliver 35 horsepower on the belt. The belt pulley of the "Square Turn" Tractor is placed to take the power directly off the motor. It can be used for threshing grain, cutting silage, grinding grain, mixing fertilizers and concrete, filling silos, crushing stone and lime, running portable saw mills—in fact, all the work of every sort.
- 3.—What sort of power plant does it carry?
We use a four-cylinder Kerosene-Gasoline Tractor Motor. A heavy duty vertical engine with sufficient displacement to give surplus power. This motor will develop fully 18 horsepower on the draw bar and 35 horsepower on the belt. Bear this following simple rule in mind in choosing a tractor. There should be at least 3 horsepower on the drawbar for each plow bottom carried.
- 4.—What fuels will it use?
The "Square Turn" Tractor is fitted with a "double-duty" carburetor which enables you to operate successfully on either gasoline, kerosene or distillate. It is not necessary to take off carburetors on the carburetor, making it possible to change fuels economically and whenever you wish.
- 5.—What grade of materials are used in the construction of the "Square Turn" Tractor?
We use the highest grade materials and workmanship throughout, guaranteeing against defects. Roll-ink parts are fitted with gossamer-thin high duty roller bearings, guaranteed for the life of the tractor.
- 6.—How are tools attached?
This depends upon the work to be done. The "Square Turn" is a two-way tractor—that is, it travels in either direction at full speed and power. The driver's seat is swiveled and locked on the steering wheel. The machine can either be operated with tractor wheels ahead and sure, or with tractor wheels behind and sure. The "Square Turn" Tractor will turn corners as squarely and finish up the field as well as you can do it with a team and do it in less time.
- 7.—What speeds will it deliver?
From two to three miles an hour. The "Square Turn" Tractor may, however, be throttled down as low as 2 mile per hour, if desired.
- 8.—Is it flexible and easy to handle?
Yes—in this respect it stands alone among all tractors. The patented "Clutch Grip" transmission, used exclusively by us, not only permits this tractor to travel in either direction at full speed and power, but also enables it to turn completely around in its own length—to turn a square corner in the field with slowness in five seconds—to apply power in either tractor wheel in either direction, or both together—to cross surface ditches, tire levees—to get in and out of buildings—into fence corners—around posts, trees, stumps, etc., and to set for belt work in much less time than other tractors.
- 9.—What does it weigh?
2,800 pounds with 90 per cent of its weight carried by the two large traction wheels.
- 10.—Will it work successfully on hillsides and grades?
Yes. The spread of the traction wheels, over all 8 feet, properly placed to center for two-way cultivation. On account of this wide-spread and low-center-of-gravity, it will operate successfully on hillsides two degrees for grain binders. The weight of this machine being mostly ahead, it will successfully plow up grades which would cause other types of tractors to tip up in front. The "Square Turn" Tractor is also equipped with special rollers covering the over-ride ball control of its machine while working on grades.
- 11.—Will it finish up fields or lands?
Yes. On account of its ability to turn short and to get close to fences, etc., with this machine you can finish out the corners at the same time you are plowing the main land—thus saving approximately 40 per cent in time and fuel. In fact, we guarantee that the "Square Turn" Tractor will turn corners as squarely and finish up the field as well as you can do it with a team and do it in less time.
- 12.—Will it pack the ground?
No. It does not pack the soil as much as a team would. The traction wheels carry 90 per cent of the weight of our tractor. The weight and locked on the steering wheel is considerably less than that of the tread with tractor wheels ahead and sure per square inch of a horse's plow, cultivators, cutter-bars, har-rows, etc. In other words, the "Square Turn" Tractor will not pack the soil as hard nor as deep as horses' castor or free wheel required to do the same work.

CARROLL

Miss Elizabeth Durkin of the Herald staff, is editor of this department, and will visit Carroll every Tuesday. Any news contributions to these columns from town or country will be gladly received by her. She is authorized to receive news or renewal subscriptions.

The family was obliged to move from Carroll on account of not being able to rent a house to live in. Remember, Steve Davis' public sale on next Wednesday, February 19. He will offer a lot of things that will interest you. Read his list in today's Herald. Note, especially his extraordinary offering of horses and mules.

Fred Jarvis bought forty acres of land north of Carroll, from Christian L. K. Christensen farm. Mr. Jarvis will take possession March 1. Henry Barzell will move into the residence he bought of Mr. Jarvis in the south part of town. Oscar Adams, of Ashton, Ida., brother of Mrs. Daniel Davis of this place, arrived in Carroll last week with a shipment of stock. Before coming here he marketed some stock in Omaha. He will return home the last of the month and will accompany his brother, Charles Edwards and family, who are going to move to Ashton.

Methodist Church. (Rev. F. E. Sala, pastor.) The sermon by Rev. J. B. Wylie of Winnsboro Sunday morning, was greatly appreciated by a large congregation. The Centenary program will be followed next Sunday at both services. The class in Junior catechism will meet at the church each Monday at 4 p. m. All children who wish to become members of the church are requested to attend. The Ladies Aid society will meet Wednesday, February 19. All ladies are invited. A Valentine social will be given at the Episcopal League, Friday evening, February 14. The pastor, assisted by Miss Edna Jones, closed a very successful series of exchangeable meetings at Sholes Sunday. Delegates to the Centenary convention held in Omaha this week are: Rev. F. E. Sala, George W. W. F. E. Foster and A. G. Williams.

Card of Thanks. We take this method of expressing our sincere gratitude to the many kind friends and neighbors; to the Eld. Feltus Lodge and Royal Neighbor lodge for their many deeds of kindness and words of sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved and dearly-remembered son, C. E. Linn and family.

SCHOOL NOTES. Carroll high hopes to be represented at the district declamatory contest which will be held in Norfolk March 27. The contestants are: Guy Manning, first declamation; The Freshmen received their arm bands, made in their colors of lavender and gold, since they were caused some excitement among other classes. There are still a few pie plates in the office, which have not been claimed since the Junior Red Cross bazaar. We should like to have these returned if the owners can be located. The boys' second basket ball team met the Wayne boys in the gymnasium of the Carroll high Friday night, February 7. The Carroll boys defeated the visiting team by a score of 4 to 2. The first team was to have played Wayne's first team, but since they were unable to come, the boys played a pick-up team consisting of local players. Grammar Room. The eighth grade have begun the study of "Geography of Nebraska." Russell Jones, Elmer Woods and Virginia Jones are absent on account of sickness. The percent of attendance for January, was 24. Emma Fiebrickson received a diploma of honor for nine months' perfect attendance. Genevieve Wilcox has returned from the annual at Newberry. The fourth grade pupils will be chided when she is able to be with them again. Those receiving perfect attendance certificates in the grammar room are: (Continued on page 9.)

Reduction Sale! $10,000 Stock of Clothing

Owing to the death of my husband, I find it necessary to reduce the clothing stock of the Carroll Toggery, and this reduction sale is now going on. This stock has all been purchased since November, 1917, thus every article is of staple quality and up-to-date. As you know, these goods were selected with a view of giving lasting satisfaction and genuine quality will be found throughout.

A FEW OF THE WELL-KNOWN BRANDS: Curley Suits for men, Flemish shoes for men, Mayer Bros' suits for young men and boys, Uncle Sam work shirts, Oshkosh socks, Sallowall overalls, Gilt-Edge and Royal milks' closed-crotch sweaters, Gordon hats, Wilson dress shirts, Gordon macknawns, Gordon & Ferguson winter coats.

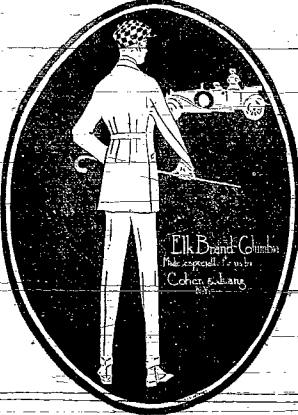

A complete line of work overshoes, dress overshoes, rubbers, men's hose, collars, neckties, mufflers, overcoats, suitcases, etc.

We have no odd ends to close out. We wish to reduce the stock as a whole.

ATLANTA

Herbert Borg and August Bierman are now back from camp. Fred Olman had a very good success in the fire of the big snow storm that day. E. F. Shields and Charles Wolters each shipped a car of hogs to Omaha last week. We understand Gus Behrens of Norfolk, formerly of this county, has bought a farm in Cheyenne county. Carl Wolters has bought of Gus Behrens the quarter-section which he has been farming for seven or eight years. Fred Olman moved to Atlanta last week, and H. H. Pflueger moved on the farm which Mr. Olman vacated. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Panning of Hooper, Neb., visited in Ahona Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. J. G. Bergt and family. A. H. Pflueger became a member of the Cuming County Telephone company last week with a new telephone in his house. Gus Pflueger sends word from Long Beach, Cal., that he has bought an orange and lemon ranch of fifteen acres for a consideration of $30,000. August Thies of Sturgis, Neb., visited Sunday with William Stuthman, August Matthes and Henry Stuthman and families. Mr. Thies stopped here on his way home from a trip to Chicago. W. F. Heerman, W. E. Roggenbach, Albert Heller and sons and Walter Gumbus and other members of the Farmers' Union Co-operative association of Pilger, left for Omaha Monday to attend the state convention February 11 to 14. This promised to be the most interesting meeting in the history of the association. RECORD SALE AT STANTON. Stanton Pickett A won't his record. The sale of Duroc Jersey bred sows held recently by Ed M. Kern at his farm, east of the edge of Stanton, set a new record in the world's list of gross sales. The total selling value of Duroc-bred sows, an average for those listed in the catalogue of $1200 each, was the big price of $1,400,000. A number of lots for around $2,000. One three months old male pig, an additional sale, sold for $550. There were buyers here from all over the United States and away from this sale will go into all parts of the nation. These sales to doing more to put Stanton 'on the map' than anything that ever happened in the community. COL. HOUSE'S RECORD. Seattle Times: Col. House continues to be star in his traditional role. He is remaining silent in all the languages spoken at the peace conference—and that's a record which probably never has been equaled at any previous time in the world's history. CARD OF THANKS. We wish to express heartfelt thanks to friends who extended sympathy and assistance during the long and fatal illness and funeral of our beloved father, O. F. Pearson. Mrs. Charles Cooper and Clara Barton. People and pins are useless when they lose their heads. Keep your head level. Trade at Carhart's. F131241.
