Following his service on the Italian front, Lieutenant Holtz was sent to England as an instructor and was there when the armistice was signed. He arrived in the United States on December 4 and received his discharge from the service on December 21. He is 23 years old.

Lieutenant Holtz' home was in Bayley, Ida. but he is well known in Omaha. He entered the service as a cadet at Fort Snelling in July, 1917, and was one of a number who volunteered for air service abroad. While at Fort Snelling he received his degree from the Nebraska State university. In September, 1917, his company went overseas as an unattached unit and spent the winter in training in Italy, where he was in commission. He was then assigned to the second aer squadron, Fort Leitch group.

MEN'S FAIRVIEW POLLED DURHAMS.

H. J. Miner, Wayne, Neb., has a few young bull calves for sale. The demand for surplus young stock is very large. The calves are sold young and at reasonable prices, considering the type and breeding. The herd bulls are of the following names: Blocky Lavender and Blocky Lavender. The former is a roan son of Select Goods out of a Cruickshank Lavender dam by Victor Sultan. He is a ton bull of unusual character and quality and reflects the noted Choice Goods and Whitehall Sultan breeding. He appears as one of the very best bulls of the breed. Blocky Lavender is a red bull that was shown as a calf in 1917. He won many first prizes, and his sire, the noted Stewart bull, Royal Lavender 2d, was the undefeated bull of five states. This bull is very heavy boned, low-set and much the same as his sire. One of the calves for sale is out of a heavy milking cow with a butterfat test of over 1 percent. The cows in the herd run uniformly large, and of good type. Fairview Farm is less than a mile from Wayne. It consists of 200 acres, highly improved, and is one of the finest farms in the state. The cattle herd has been carefully built up. It will pay to investigate the stock for sale promptly, as the demand for them is strong. H. C. McKivie in Nebraska Farmer.

FROM PONCA JOURNAL, MARCH 1, 1883.

On Monday night, at about 11 o'clock an alarm of fire was given out. It was given out from the lungs of two young men who shouted fire at the top of their voices. They were passing along Third street and saw the fire inside Mr. Simpson's & Moore's law office. It was in the neighborhood of the chimney. They saw the fire, shouted for help, and immediately proceeded to the business of putting it out. They could not get up at the door, hence they scaled the walls and ascended to the roof and tried to gain an entrance by that means. They tackled the chimney, and knocked off the same. The opening thus made enabled them to cast powder on the fire, and to get rid of it. They were very successful in this way. They descended and left the door open. Then they carried in water and deluged the whole interior. They put out the fire in fact it was not unless it diffused far away fire ordinary efforts, to have held up its head before such energetic doses of water as was administered. They put out the fire, they also knocked down the stove and a partition, set off table, and plates, and raised the devil, generally, though necessarily, in order to put out the fire. And why not? Had that fire got under bedsteads had it really existed in the form of fire as it possibly did, (all things are possible) and had it grasped onto and consumed the office, it would have been a very, very considerable and benevolent fire, have burned Mr. Addison's house, Mr. Link's house, Mr. Wood's office, the postoffice and several buildings adjacent. The wind being strong from the northwest would also have scooted it across the street to Orr's drug store and from there would have communicated to every building on the blocks. It would have been the most terrible conflagration this town has ever known.

BEARS ITALIAN MEDALS

Lieutenant Harold Holtz, Formerly of Wayne, Returns Home.

The World-Herald of recent date contains the following reference to Lieutenant Holtz, formerly of Wayne, later of Randolph, now of Omaha.

Lieutenant Harold Holtz, 23 years old, nephew of Charles E. Watkins, of Council Bluffs, is in Omaha with two decorations from the Italian government for his most brilliant aviator. With five other American aviators he was with the Italian grand squadron for special bombing service. His decorations are the Italian cross of war and the Italian silver medal for valor. He has gone to work for the Cleveland Surgical Supply company.

Lieutenant Holtz took part in the great raid on the Austrian naval base at Pola and this he described as his most brilliant experience. "It was pitch dark when we started on our 100-mile flight from our base across the Adriatic," said Lieutenant Holtz today. "There were sixty-seven planes in our fleet, five Americans and the rest Italian machines. Each machine carried from 600 to 1,000 pounds of high explosives.

"A bottle of torpedo boats accompanied us to search out for battleships and submarines. When we reached Pola it was just getting light, but the atmosphere was murky and we had some difficulty in locating our objective. Soon, however, we saw that we were discovered and the Austrian anti-aircraft guns got busy. Through the fog we could see the sparks of flame from the guns below. Our fleet maneuvered for position and then flew in battle formation directly over the harbor where the entire Austrian grand fleet was lying at anchor.

"As we let go our high explosive shells we saw one of the big battleships hit squarely amidships, and the Austrian fleet began to show considerable activity and kept on the move about the harbor. Our objective however, was to destroy the docks and arsenal more than the battleships.

"We made another wide circle and this time flew low over our objective, dropping tons of shells with deadly effect. We learned that our aim had been good, for the docks and arsenal were hit many times and looked as if a torped had struck them.

"We circled about again and again and in the second low flight over the docks one of the Italian machines was hit and put out of commission. We saw the pilot descending directly into the harbor with his machine out of control. He went down in the bay and that is the last we ever saw of him. We could not learn whether he was drowned or picked up by a battleship.

"That was the only casualty in that raid, although several machines were hit. The raid lasted five hours from the time we left our base until we were back again."

Lieutenant Holtz said that was the one experience of his lifetime in many raids before and after that one, but none of the others was so spectacular or dangerous as that was the first time that an attempt had been made to bomb the Pola harbor and arsenal except by night.

KAY & BICHEL

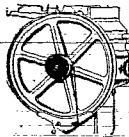

WAYNE, NEB.

Our reputation for fair dealing and reliable goods, coupled with the De Laval record of superiority in cream separation, has made the De Laval Cream Separator the leader in this community.

No matter what anyone may tell you, there is only one speed at which you can turn a separator crank and get all the cream and cream of uniform thickness.

That's the speed plainly indicated on the crank of every separator, of whatever make.

Full speed is the only assurance of full capacity and full efficiency.

Every De Laval now has a Bell Speed-Indicator. The bell warns you if the handle is going round too slowly. You can't be mistaken about it.

The Bell Speed-Indicator adds nothing to the price but much to the value of the De Laval Separator.

Come in, examine the machine and see how the Bell Speed-Indicator works.

DEPORTING UNDESIRABLES.

Sioux City Journal: The start which the government has made in deporting undesirable aliens should not stop there. Every one who contains a particle of hostility to the American form of government and its principles is sent back to the country from whence he came. This demand for the deportation of dangerous residents is not fanatical. It is conservative and, moreover, is required for the safety of the government and the preservation of life, liberty and property. The individual who advocates the destruction of life that property belonging to those assassinated may pass to the common fund of the irresponsible as a menace to all people. The government does not know at which such methods shall stop. It may apply primarily to the millionaire and the banker. But when these sources are exhausted, the laboring man who has saved through the years to pay for his home which he at last owns will be among the victims. The confiscation of property under the principle of bolshevism rule is limited only by the needs of the rulers. If the larger units of private property have been exhausted, the remaining ones become its prey. Therein lies the menace to American institutions. The government is too powerful and the people are too much consecrated to the cause of human liberty to permit the establishment of this doctrine in America, but the seeds are here and like the noxious weeds that overrun the farms and choke out crops, they longer the seeds are allowed to germinate and grow and reproduce, the more difficult is the task of final eradication.

There are enough Americans to do all the work in this country. The jobs held by dangerous foreigners take so many opportunities from men who believe in the principles of the government under which they live. The deportation of these dangerous people provides greater chances for Americans. Much of the labor agitation will pass with the extermination of the irresponsible foreign element. They never knew what freedom or decent wages or enough to eat meant in their native land. They were obedient slaves to their ruling masters.

Yet the moment they step on American soil they assume the right to dictate the domestic policies of the United States. They are a threat to the government if they can do so.

There are agencies in the country which foster the spirit displayed by the undesirable foreigners. Large employers of labor have encouraged the coming of the class of men the government is deporting, because for a time after landing they are willing to work for less than a decent American would. They are as obedient to their employers as they were to the masters at home. The conduct of large labor employers is often such as to inflame the hatred of honest men against their policies. It is essential that the people of this country become grounded in the fact that labor and capital, employe and employer, are the two interlocking elements in the prosperity of both, and that the interests of one cannot be destroyed or jeopardized without reaction against the other. The germs of bolshevism must be removed at home while the men responsible for the spread of the dangerous doctrines are removed from the country.

AMERICANIZATION.

Omaha Bee: It looks as if the present Nebraska legislature is reaching agreement on a sane and reasonably effective Americanization program. That some far-reaching measures should be enacted along this line is to be expected, for it inevitably follows from the fact that at the same time we are making the people also responsible for the people also responsible for the decisive majority for a constitutional amendment taking the suffrage away from non-citizen and paper voters, as well as from the recollection of some of the difficulties encountered during the war with unassimilated elements of our population.

Like the Bee, the people of Nebraska with few exceptions are in America first, last and all the time and they want to make sure that America takes precedence in relation with all our citizenship of the future. Therefore the obvious way for compulsory teaching of German in our public schools has been repealed and the law for publishing legal notices in foreign language newspapers is going the same way. For the same reason, the demand is made for such a control over all the schools in Nebraska as will insure every child an education in the English language that will really equip him for the duties of American citizenship.

Apparently the only serious sticking point in this question how far the state control should go. It is understood that all the interests involved concede that these schools should come under the supervision of public authorities, that their teachers should qualify the same as public school teachers, that their courses of study and text books should be standardized and made equivalent to the corresponding requirements in the public schools, that their subjects should be taught in the English language. The supporters of the parochial schools want the program to stop there for fear it was not permitted to continue religious instruction in the language employed in the church service, the connection of the teaching people with the church of their parents may be broken altogether. Even those who recognize the eventual necessity of complete Americanization of the church services feel that the bridge can be crossed better by going slowly, and the legislators seem inclined to accord consideration to these obvious difficulties. What The Bee wants to emphasize is that the progress that will be made in bringing about a sane state control over all schools, private as well as public, to the extent now acquiesced in by all concerned, will be a tremendous step forward—a step that two years ago looked remotely distant. To make this much progress on a system planned and organized and laid out down as we go, seems to us far preferable to postponing the whole proposition in the sake of the few points in dispute.

BELIEVE ZERO AT CONFERENCE.

Albany Journal: The peace conference cannot prevent Germany from making Count von Bernstorff one of the delegates to receive the peace terms, but the thundersetter will record extreme fridity when he arrives.

MRS. FRANK POWERS DIES

Passes away at 11:40 a. m. in Wayne, February 16, After Long Illness.

Mrs. Frank Powers passed away at her home in Wayne Sunday, February 16, at 11:40 a. m. after a long illness from double pneumonia and complications. Her health had been declining since last June. BLACKSMITH SHOP BURNS

REVENUE TAXES.

Although no general extension of time will be authorized for filing federal income tax returns the March 15, 1919, commissioner of Internal Revenue has approved a novel feature of tax collection which will serve for all practical purposes to extend the period of forty-five days for the filing of corporation income and excess profits tax returns in cases where corporations are unable to complete and file their returns by March 15.

If a corporation finds that for good and sufficient reason, it is impossible to complete its return by March 15, it may make a return of the estimated tax due and make payment of the same after the March 15. If meritorious reasons are shown as to why the corporation is unable to complete its return by the specified date, the collector will accept the payment of the estimated tax and agree to accept the revised and completed tax return within a period of not more than forty-five days.

Under the plan adopted for corporation payments and returns, the government will be able to collect approximately the amount of tax due on or before March 15, thus meeting its urgent needs, and corporations actually requiring further time for the preparation of their complete returns will be granted an extension of time to do so.

One of the advantages of this plan is that it relieves the taxpayer of one-half of 1 per cent interest penalty which would attach to the payment of the taxes under an extension granted at the request of the taxpayer. The taxpayer will, of course, not be relieved of interest on such amount, as his payment may fall short of the tax found later to be due on the basis of his final return.

Should the payment on March 15 of the estimated tax due be greater than the tax eventually found to be due on examination of the completed return, the excess payment will automatically be credited to the next installment which will be due on June 15.

Provision for systematically handling this new feature will be made in the construction of the new return blanks for corporations. The new form will be a combined income and excess profits blank, emulating that which is detachable letter of remittance. Any corporation which finds that, for sufficient reasons, it cannot complete its return by the date may detach and fill out the letter of remittance and forward same to the collector on or before March 15, together with the check money order or draft for the tax due on that date. If the exact tax is not known, the estimated tax due may be paid in this manner. A statement in writing of the reasons why it is impossible for the corporation to complete the return by the specified date, which accompany every such remittance.

Individual taxpayers will be given similar privileges in cases in which the collector is unable to collect the time available is not sufficient to enable him to complete his return by March 15. No reason exists according to the internal revenue officials for delaying the filing of the returns of individual incomes, except in unusually difficult cases.

Forms for returns of individual incomes up to $3,000 will be distributed by collectors within a few

A POPULAR TRACTOR

The growing popularity of the Square Tractor is shown by the following paragraphs which appeared in Tuesday's Norfolk Daily News:

"The owners of the farm tractor market and the heavy demand which exists for power farming machinery is indicated in many letters which are reaching the office of the Square Tractor company here. W. W. Hedman of San Diego, Cal., writes that the great demand in his territory is being met by the Square Tractor. He writes that he has received in Norfolk Saturday this letter follows in part:

"I have several good prospects in mind, but I am ready right now to listen to Norfolk. I will take the whole western territory. Separate Tractor sales or agencies under limited contract will sell your tractor you manufacture."

THE KNOCKER'S PRAYER.

LET PLEASE don't let Wayne grow. I have been here for thirty years and during that time I have fought every public improvement that has knocked everything and everybody. No firm or individual has established a business here without my doing all I could to put them out of business. I've been about them and would have stolen from them if I had had the courage. I've done all I could to keep the town from growing and never have given a good word for it. I've knocked hard and often. I have put ashes on the children's side and have made the public stop the boys from playing ball on my vacant lots. Whenever I saw anyone trespassing or enjoying himself I started a reform to kill the business or spoil the fun. I don't want the young folks to stay in this town and I will not let any law or ordinance to drive them away. I have always advised the people of Wayne to buy their goods at the town and grow big. Some day I hope to see in spite of my knocking it is growing big. Some day I fear I will be called upon to put pavement in front of my property and who knows, I may have to put it in front of my business. This O Lord, would be more than I could bear. I have lost out money, although it I have been made more here in this town. Then, too, more people might begin to come if I took the sidewalk which I have been told to lose some of my pull. I ask therefore to keep this town at a standstill, that I may continue to be the town I am now.

O Lord, keep the people away from the theater and the Walter Savage Amusement company. The amusement company that makes everyone's hands will open at Wayne, May 7. Stop this, O Lord, and grant my prayer. Amen. F201lad

Their hooster trip last fall was made impossible by a big rain fall. The officers are now undecided when they will fix a date for another function. It will depend on the needs of the soil in the way of moisture. If a drought threatens they will get busy.

HOME BUILDING TO BE POPULAR NOW

Plans Can Be Revived as Restrictions Are Removed.

MUCH ROOM IN THIS HOUSE

Good Design for Use Either in City or Small Town Where Narrow Lot Is to Be Used by the Builder.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.
Mrs. William Radford writes interesting and gives advice FREE OF CHARGE all matters pertaining to the subject of building for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the greatest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 157 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose three-cent stamp for reply.

Finding a home has been an arduous job in many cities and towns during the last two years. While the demands of industry have drawn many workers from the rural communities, the restrictions on building made necessary by the war have kept the builders from providing the homes that the demand ordinarily would produce.

Now, however, the restrictions have been removed and building can go on. This building of homes is being fostered by the latter-state government, which, through William B. Wilson, secretary of the U. S. department of labor, is urging the necessity of building to provide work for those of the building trades who have been released from military duty.

During the next few weeks there will be an active "build a building" campaign, which is expected to greatly stimulate the construction of homes. The thought is being put into those who long have desired to have a home of their own will be turned to the subject of building. And as these thoughts take form, the prospective builders will be studying plans for their home.

For the Small Lot.
Herewith is shown a modern design for a home in town or city where space is more limited than in the country. This house of stucco is 24 feet concealed that there is not the necessity of going "around" one to get to another.

The exterior view shows gives an idea of how attractive it may be made on the inside, considering that it is planned for a small city lot. The long space in the sun parlor for window boxes, the extensive dining room for shrubs and the stretch of lawn all make it attractive.

"To think what gets the owners of small lots in cities and towns, or who are about to buy a building lot and do not want to put into it the considerable sum that is necessary where real estate is expensive, this design will have a strong appeal.

The more the plan is studied the more it will be seen that here is economy of space, coupled with an attractive and convenient home.

Small Homes Get Attention.
Some of the best architects in the country now are giving more and more attention to the planning of small homes. Because of this fact, the designs made nowadays embody some excellent features. It should be remembered when planning to build that the small sum required as a fee to an architect is money well spent. In that it saves costly mistakes and assures the best that can be secured for the money expended.

Building this year is going to be extensive, so the family that intends to be in its own home before winter comes again ought to begin considering the subject. This design gives an excellent working basis from which to formulate the plans for that home in the city or town.

Some Novel Birth Announcements Sent Out Following the Arrival of "Little Stranger."

The war is evidently responsible for the following "birth" announcement which appeared recently in a Paris paper: "Since twelve o'clock last Friday I am here. My name is Blomquist and my father is my father and Marie, his wife, is my mother. My name is Francoise." Distinctly original was the announcement sent out by a Welsh musician when his wife presented him with a baby girl. It took the form of four bars of music inscribed on a letter card. The recipient easily recognized these as from "The Messiah." "Unto us a child is born." A factious Scotsman named Cash amused his friends by an item

Consider the Cost and then the Value of Farm Buildings

Lumber costs more than it did a few years ago, but the prices of farm products have advanced much more than lumber prices. There's no question about it.

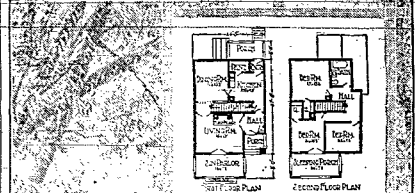

Now Is the Time to Build Farm Buildings

Every farmer must equip his farm so that he can increase production and then take care of it. It's both right and economical to build farm buildings now.

in width and 30½ feet long, not including the rear porch projection. It is a typical modern city design. Liberal use is made of sliding doors, full glazed, between the several rooms, while the stairs, partly open to the dining room, make an interesting detail. Six good rooms with bath are provided.

There are three good sized rooms beside the sun parlor and a spacious hall on the first floor. The living room is 13 by 16 feet and is connected with the hall on the side and the sun parlor at the front by double doors, thus making it most "extensive," especially in summer when the doors to the sun parlor will be left open. A fireplace and windows, which occupy most of the outside wall space, are attractive features of the room.

"The stairway is open both to the living room and dining room. The latter is 11 by 12½ feet.

Opposite is the kitchen, 9½ by 11½ feet. There is a good sized pantry, with a door leading to a rear porch.

Three Bed Rooms.
The second floor contains three bed rooms, the bath room and a sleeping porch, which is open to the sun parlor. The sleeping porch is 7½ by 12 feet, the same as the sun parlor. Along the front of the second floor are two bed rooms, each opening into the hall, with at the rear is the turfed room, with the bath adjoining.

From this description it will be seen that the house is an attractive one on the interior. All of the rooms are so position through the newspapers that his better half had presented him with "a little Cash." He went on to say that as a result he would have still less cash in the future, and the more Cash he had to keep the less cash he would have to spend." Combining a birth announcement with an advertisement strikes one as the last word in enterprise, and Mr. Fox, a poultry dealer, who inserted the following notice in the papers, should be congratulated on the novel way in which he commended his wares: "Another little Fox found his way into my establishment between ten and eleven last night, but notwithstanding its arrival there will be no diminution in the number or quality of the geese for which my establishment has long been famous. Remember that the old Fox is always cunning in securing for business the plumpest opportunity."

"I presume all the members of this vaudeville company are consumed with jealousy."

"Not quite all."

"I'd like to see the performer who isn't."

"You'll see him in the next act. He's a 'ruined champagne'—Stratton's Age Herald."

THE BLIZZARD. Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 14.—The force of Nebraska's two days' blizzard was practically spent at nightfall tonight, and with clearing skies and an abatement of the wind, railroads began the work of digging wheels trains out of the drifts. Traffic on lines of the Burlington and Northern western roads which traverse the central and western portions of the state were demoralized during the day. On the latter line in Holt county, drifts are piled ten to twelve feet high. Passengers on one train between O'Neill and Sioux City have been marooned since Thursday evening and are being supplied with food by farmers. There have been no reports of loss of life or property, but it is feared some live stock losses will follow in the range country, if the weather turns cold.

Stanton is talking of paving. Will it heat Wayne to it? We hope not. A lot of new houses will be built in Wayne this year if the demand is supplied. It is understood some who have lately contemplated moving here have been unable to do so on account of scarcity of houses. This condition is unfortunate and should be remedied as rapidly as possible.

The churches are making organized efforts to meet new needs and new requirements incident to reconstruction following the late war. As we understand, they propose to adapt themselves to the needs of a world that has not emerged from a fearful baptism of fire and that is left on progressive paths. As we understand, the churches are taking a broadened view and expect to become more useful to society. By a more spiritual interpretation of the scriptures and by applying religious truths to daily conduct, they hope to work out, as we judge, more practical and helpful Christianity.

Elderly citizens of the community should be first and foremost in the demand for paving. Young people could put off paving, and, accomplishing it later, still enjoy it many years. The one who has a few years to live should hurry for the improvement, so he may have a longer time to reap its benefits. To deter an improvement project for the use and pleasure of a coming generation would be selfish and unchristian. Wayne will pave some time. How, why, not now? The old man should say to the young man: "Buckle in and make improvements now, so I may share in the advantages. My money will help to tilt the bill sooner or later. Don't delay until I have been placed on the hillside."

We were not born rich, nor have we acquired riches in any alarming quantity. On the other hand, we are not so poverty-stricken and obsequious that we are disposed to crawl at the feet of wealth or specially curry the favor of showily individuals or corporations. We make these suggestions to wealthy financial standing, up or down, in saying the more we know of government management of public utilities, the less we favor government ownership. When we consider public ownership as better than private ownership of railroads, he conceals that politicians are more capable of engineering a big industrial enterprise than men schooled and trained to the business. The demonstration of government management of railroads is far from a success, we would say.

A VISIT TO BROKEN BOW. Broken Bow has a public service club according to Bixby of the Lincoln Journal, who recently visited the town. This year, the town expects to have, behind a V. M. C. A. and make other headway. This is Bixby's report.

"Broken Bow has a public service club nearly a hundred members, who have convened quarters in the Masonic temple, and the purpose of the organization is suggested by the name. Wednesday night it gave a 'Father and Son's' banquet, and the ones who came to the banquet without a boy of his own or a boyed one, had to go back and get one for go Bixby. Lincoln and other cities might well emulate the spirit of that occasion. If we are to return to the links to take an interest in community affairs, and one of the most interesting features of the program was the reading on each of the seven or five boys present to state briefly what he thought the most important thing to be done for the improvement of the city. Many of the answers were exceedingly original and clever and brought down the house. The people of Broken Bow are not much given to basing their city speaks for itself. Several years ago it hid itself of the curse of saloons, and continued on the map notwithstanding the pessimistic predictions of prosperity leaguers who saw its finish in the finish of the honest business."

This year Broken Bow is to have paving. If the boys have their way it will also have a V. M. C. A. and a swimming pool.

REVISION DOWNWARD. According to reports in the issue of the Lincoln Digest, prices for all necessities are being revised downward. Notwithstanding material reductions, however, people are being urged to conserve the present level in prices for some time to come. These quotations from the Digest show newspaper consideration of prices in the east. A New York paper goes on to give some reasons why the consumer ought to feel very happy, even if his grocery is only beginning to give him the benefit of the new prices. He gets nothing ahead but the tremendous decrease in price, even so the price is standard. And here are some of its practical business man's reasons for saying so:

"There is tremendous production going on in this country. Extreme prices have encouraged the raising of everything. There is a bumper crop of wheat and corn. Therefore cows and hens will be well fed, and they will be productive. In the United States there are today $75,000,000 worth of cattle more than there was a year ago. All over the large holdings of poultry all over the country. There are such tremendous quantities of food that I don't know what we're going to do with it. Suchab has warned that the export trade is going to be very disappointing. Already England has canceled meat contracts, and the United States government, formerly the largest purchaser in the market of every commodity, has withdrawn from competition."

Last year the government commandeered forty per cent of all the butter for the soldiers and corresponding quantities of other products. Imagine the effect the withdrawal of this factor will have. With this outlook in supply, prices will go down inevitably. The price of eggs and the drop in prices, says the Detroit News, is the large surplus of foodstuffs that has been piled up awaiting war's demands or a possible further advance in prices, but which must now be disposed of. For instance, we need:

"Federal reports show that holdings of most refrigerators are 65 to 85 per cent higher than in 1914; in other words, there are 600,000,000 pounds of frozen pork, 350,000,000 of frozen beef, and 106,000,000 of frozen poultry."

And there are other obvious reasons for the drop in prices. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat notes. The open winter is a very strong factor. It has permitted unimpeded transportation of foodstuffs, and there have not been the vast losses from freezing observed at this time last year. The supply of vegetables from the south has greatly helped. It has caused a soothing team of prices, the lessening demand lowering meat prices. The export demand for meat is also dwindling. The open winter has moved the hens to greater activity."

2:30 at the family home, conducted by her pastor, Rev. F. E. Sala. The funeral was one of the largest ever held in this community, and the floral offerings the most beautiful. She leaves to mourn her untimely departure, her husband and two sons, her parents, and a host of friends besides a host of sympathizers, tender their sincerest sympathy to the sorrowing loved ones. A husband and sister preceded her in the great beyond and she was the last child of the sorrowing parents. God touched her with his finger and she slept in peace. Her earthly life had been lived, a noble example of devotion, fidelity to truth, faith and duty, and an untiring vision of a heavenly life in Jesus Christ, had cheered and illumined the valley of the shadow. And now that she sleeps, eternally takes up the harp of life and teaching the strings-finds that her virtues melt into music. So be it ever when a life is so nobly, divinely lived.

From that date the large number of government orders which kept many mills working at high speed. Prices are still the cloud on the horizon. The strike, reduction of wages in some industries, notably the copper mines and mills, has not been followed by similar cuts in other industries as was at first believed likely. The number of unemployed is increasing mostly because of the soldiers who are discharged. Southern cotton planters threaten to reduce their acreage an account of the small demand and consequent low prices. The cotton industry adjusts itself to peace conditions, confusion and hesitancy must mark the course of cotton from planter to consumer.

SIoux CITY'S CROOKEDNESS

Carroll Herald: Sioux City attracts attention now as the center of disclosure of more crooked business. Sioux City is a normal community, no better and no worse than others, but it has a way of bringing out crookedness and corruption and has made a record of late for letting no guilty man escape justice.

JUSTICE MUST BE SERVED.

Seattle Times: Germany's admission that it was guilty as charged, may have justified its actions in extending a certain leniency toward it, but not to the extent of setting the offender free without the imposition of a suitable fine at all, which is what some Germans seem to expect.

SETTLED.

Springfield, Mass. Republican: With the British premier convinced that armed intervention in Russia on a sufficiently large scale to get results would be unobtainable as well as impossible for the allies to undertake, that particular scheme may as well be laid to rest.

TIME TO ECONOMIZE.

Kansas City Times: The country, without regard to party affiliation, looks to congress to prune down all unnecessary expenditures. This is a time for economizing and getting on without some of the luxuries which at another time might be desirable.

EBERT'S BLUFF.

Washington Post: Ebert's threat to turn German troops on the allies would have more weight if he did not wear party clothes, a blotting paper, a derby, a tinclaret, a speckled sweater, a striped pullover, shoes and a near-rubber collar.

REAL REASON NOT MENTIONED.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: Gasoline magnates are filling the trade papers with reasons why their product will not be cheaper. They omit the real reasons—because they are in position to hold up the price.

NO WASHINGTONS IN SIGHT.

Omaha World-Herald: The Germans have elected their first president under the provisional constitution, but one cannot see anybody in all the 'empire' who looks like George Washington.

PREMATURE.

Sioux Falls Argus-Leader: Would it not be a good plan to postpone the strike in the building trade until a further advance in progress. Or perhaps to pass it up altogether to conserve the goose that lays the golden egg?

WORK FOR BLUE SKY SALEMEN.

Minneapolis Journal: Good roads are a fine thing for a country, and there are a lot of blue sky stock salesmen who ought to be put to work on 'em.

IN OTHER WORDS.

Chicago Daily News: If China persists in spilling Japanese beans, polite Japan intimates that it will, most regretfully, knock the never to be too much praised celestial block off.

ALL IS NOT LOST.

New York World: If the militant suffragets will only go home and stay there, all is not lost in Washington, despite the senate vote.

MISSING SINCE 1871.

Toledo Blade: What has become of the old fashioned propagandist who thought that nobody but the Germans could make dyes?

SPRING CLEANING.

Kansas City Star: The deportation of I. W. W. agitators is the best notion for a spring cleaning the country has had for a long time.

Dreadful Cough Cured.

A severe cold is often followed by a rough cough for which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven especially valuable. Mrs. F. W. Olsen, Maryville, Mo., writes: "About two years ago my little boy Jean caught a severe cold and coughed dreadfully for days. I tried a number of cough medicines but nothing did him any benefit. I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It relieved his cough right away and before he had finished taking one bottle he was cured. I think it is just fine for children."—Adv.

BILLITER'S Big Sale of Chester White Bred Sows

To Be Held in Carroll, Neb., Friday, February 28

Fifty Head Big Type Chester White Sows and Gilts

The Sires of the offering are Gold Mine by Giant Hero, LaPerche Prince, by Wildwood Prince, and Giant Boy, the first prize hog at Sioux City in 1917, sired by Chief Select. These sires have gotten the heavy-boned kind for which all breeders have been striving.

The dams are such sows as Good Mother, a 650-pound sow by Big Wonder, and Carroll Bess, a 600-pound sow by White Hope by White Model, and won the silver cup at the Nebraska state fair in 1917, and is one of the big, heavy-boned kind.

They are bred to Billiter's Giant, LaPerche Prince and Giant Boy. Billiter's Giant is one of our best bred hogs. He has good bone, stands well on feet, back well angled, has smooth coat and is hard to beat. Most of the sows are bred to him. LaPerche Prince is another good one that has some excellent breeding back of him. He is a half-brother to the world's champion, Wildwood Prince, and needs no further introduction. Giant Boy was the first prize winner at Sioux City in 1917.

This is a strong offering. Get the catalogue. Bids may be sent by mail or wire to H. L. Bode, representing The Nebraska Farmer. For catalogue write to paper, to

There will probably be a meeting of the Aid society next week, but we are not permitted to designate the place of meeting. The meeting has the promise of being unique in several respects. Announcement will be made in the paper next Sunday. We are informed that the invitation will be for the men as well as the ladies.

Come to all the services and help by your presence to make your church a great church for the community of Wayne.

With our splendid State Normal school, located here every man, woman and child should strive to make this the best town in Nebraska. We can have a city of 10,000 or more here in a few years if we will. In 1920, who live here. All our churches and community club need to make things move to success. Leaders with a vision toward a great future for Wayne, and get busy at the job.

SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT.

Sioux City Journal: A more cheerful tone marked business last week, though there were elements which served to take out of the optimism some of the cream of the situation. A slight improvement in the operations of peace time industries would be a marked improvement in the most lines. The storm which swept the entire country in some form was a factor in the delay and up deliveries of merchantable products especially in the west, where the corn and hog markets indicated a slight decline.

The textile strike, while it shut down a number of plants and suspended many spindles and looms, was not a serious setback. It was upon the textile trade because the orders in this line are short, with little margin for advance orders. In the steel industries, plants running full time are gradually reducing the amount of orders on hand and unless there is marked improvement in the order, these mills will soon be forced to reduce operations to meet conditions. There is considerably less buying of clothing than a year ago, even eliminating
