

PROF. E. E. LACKEY TO GO TO FRANCE

Member of State Normal Faculty for Night Years Leaves Wayne Saturday for Overseas.

TO DO WORK IN EDUCATION

Educational work in the army. He will be under the direction of the War Personnel board of the U. S. A. and will probably be in a supervisory capacity.

Professor E. E. Lackey, of the department of geography and general education of the Normal, will start for France next Saturday to take up educational work in the army. He will be under the direction of the War Personnel board of the U. S. A. and will probably be in a supervisory capacity.

Professor Lackey came to this institution in 1911, after graduation from the University of Nebraska. During his connection with the Normal, he has gained a reputation in the community and at the school. He will be greatly missed, not only for his classroom instruction, but for his work in the Methodist church and Sabbath school, on the board of control of student activities in the Normal, and his teaching as a tutor, social and in the normal male quartet, an organization now nearly eight years old.

It is understood that Mrs. Lackey and the children will remain in Wayne.

LADY MEMBERS SPEAK

Wednesday morning the chapel period was occupied with addresses by four of the lady members of the faculty, each discussing some phase of the public attention. Miss Fairchild spoke of Clemenceau, the French premier, as representing the genuine spirit of the French people. It was by reason of his vision and his will that he was able to lead the nation to the great task of the of all. The entire program was timely and exceedingly interesting. In introducing the speakers, Dean Hahn stated that the women of the faculty of the State Normal school were abundantly competent to assist in the understanding and solution of public questions.

FINE INTERPRETATION

The committee that was instrumental in bringing Noah Bellizzi to Wayne is to be congratulated on the excellent talent it secured. He gave a fine interpretation of the classic work. The local schoolmaster, by Edward Eggleston, much lauded for his impersonation of sniping "Mittens" Mevins and her mother. The latter character was especially well portrayed. The sermon of the typical Baptist preacher of a generation ago treated much interestingly the part of the kind hearted John Dierston was very distinctive. The amusing courtship of Paul Meary and Elizabeth was also well presented. The story of its dramatic climax, the trial. Here his art was displayed to great advantage. The story then rapidly approached its happy ending. Wayne was indeed fortunate to have had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Bellizzi.

WILL COMPLETE COURSE

Superintendent Clarence Linton of the Lyons schools, a graduate of the State Normal school in the fall of 1915, was here last Saturday and made arrangements to complete his course for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. He will take work in the department of education, sociology and English, and will complete the course this summer. Since attending the Normal, Mr. Linton has been a student at Morning-side college and also at the University of Chicago.

SELF-ASSUMED PATRIOT IN ROLE OF BIGAMIST

The handsome young man, Mrs. Babe Young, Benjamin, whom he married here, the event that brought about his arrest for bigamy, was a rather happy one. Friday afternoon and had a friend talk with the man who deceived her. She left the jail with a spring in her step and face, and Harris seemed to be greatly cheered.

CLOTHING FOR CHILDREN

The chairman of the Wayne county Red Cross has received a request for knitted garments for destitute women and children in Europe. Also she has received notice that a drive for second-hand clothing will be made early in March. Mrs. E. W. Hesse, chairman Wayne County Chapter, Wayne Normal, has been issued by national headquarters for certain knitted articles for the use of women and children in the war devastated countries.

PAVING COMMITTEE TAKES FIRST STEP

At Meeting Wednesday, Request Sent to Railroad Superintendent for Civil Engineer.

TO LOOK INTO DRAINAGE

Wayne People Almost Unanimous for Proposed Improvement, but Differ as to Drainage.

Members of the committee appointed at a recent mass meeting to cooperate with the city council in furtherance of paving met yesterday afternoon to consider the task in prospect. Understanding that Superintendent Blomsted of the M. & O. railroad would, if desired, send the company's civil engineer to investigate and report on the need of drainage or storm sewers, incident to paving, the committee sent a telegram to him asking him to do so. In view of the division of sentiment relative to the extent of drainage required, it is deemed inadvisable to ask for a report from different sources. As the Herald understands, the committee is sending a telegram to him asking him to do so, and the wishes of the committee and those of the council in securing results.

and prevent an inconclusive peace. Miss Fairchild stated that Clemenceau had been opposed to President Wilson's program of a league of nations. But she accepted it, subject to such modifications as would make the French nation safe from German menace. In the career of David Lloyd George, Miss Burton, the next speaker, saw an illustration of the power of a man to win his way in the world and achieve great results by reason of his ability to see things in the large, to insist upon the vital point. The third speaker, Miss Kingsbury, had as her theme the perplexing personalities of Trotsky and Lenin. She traced the career of each somewhat in detail showing that they were not men of great power as scholars and thinkers, but that in practical life they had failed to find a place for the mental and spiritual values which society has achieved. This, she thought, was their weakness despite their great talents. Miss Hughes spoke of the Irish question, telling of various plans that had been made for the amelioration of the Irish people. She traced the career of the late President Wilson during the past five years, showing that the most serious public question, that of the Irish people, had been neglected that she left in the minds

Peaches and Shirts

WE KNOW that there is no relation between a peach and a shirt. But just the same it is nothing unusual to hear a man call a shirt a peach. For this word seems to steal unconsciously into his mind when he is particularly pleased over something, and he lays particular emphasis upon it in giving vent to his expression of enthusiasm.

At least that is the way it seems to strike us. For we hear it used many times during the day, especially when men note the high quality of the shirts we sell and the low prices we attach to them.

INCOME TAX DUE.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—Work on the collection of $6,000,000 has been begun by the bureau of internal revenue. This is the estimated yield of the new revenue bill. The income tax provisions of the act reach the pocketbook of every single person in the United States whose net income for 1918 was $1,000 or more, and of every married person whose net income was $2,000 or more. Persons whose net income equalled or exceeded these amounts, according to their marital status, must file a return of income with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which they live on or before March 15.

Here is what will happen to them if they don't: for failure to file a return on time, a fine of not more than $1,000 and an additional assessment of 25 per cent of the amount of tax due. For "wittily refusing" to make a return, a fine, a fine not exceeding $10,000, or not exceeding one year's imprisonment, or both. For making a false or fraudulent return, a fine of not more than $10,000, or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, together with an additional assessment of 50 per cent of the amount of tax evaded. For failure to pay the tax on time, a fine of not more than $1,000 and an additional assessment of 5 per cent of the amount of tax unpaid, plus 1 per cent interest for each full month during which it remains unpaid. In addition to the $1,000 and $2,000 personal exemptions, taxpayers are allowed an exemption of $200 for each person dependent upon them for chief support if such person is under eighteen years of age and incapable of self-support. Under the 1917 act, this exemption was allowed only for each dependent "child." The head of a family—one who supports one or more persons closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption—is entitled to all exemptions allowed a married person.

between $5,000 and $6,000 to 65 per cent of the net income above $1,000.000. Payment of the tax may be made in full at the time of filing return or in four installments, on or before March 15, on or before June 15, on or before September 15, and on or before December 15. Revenue officers will visit every county in the United States to aid taxpayers in making out their returns. The date of their arrival and the location of their offices may be ascertained by inquiring at offices of collectors of internal revenue, postoffices and banks. Failure to see these officers, however, does not relieve the taxpayer of his obligation to file his return and pay his tax within the time specified by law. In this case taxpayers must seek the government, not the government taxpayer.

between here and Norfolk in reaching Omaha. Everything and every one from the Clinton and Bloomfield branches would come this way in going to Omaha. The proposed line would be the shortest cut to the metropolis and would save time and money. It would seem entirely reasonable.

The city manager plan for Wayne as proposed by last week's Herald has met with unanimous favor so far as we have been able to learn. The right man, employed at an adequate salary, could realize for the city maximum service in all branches at a moderate cost, doing away with careless methods and inability to fix responsibility. However, it will require some time to work out and crystallize the plan suggested, and in the meantime, people who are able and willing to give time and effort to the city at nominal salaries, should be elected to municipal offices.

Former President Taft looms large among world statesmen. Taft consistently supports the policy of a league of nations. He was the first high-ranking advocate of the league idea for a long term of years. The fact that he is not a politician and that he is a statesman carries accounts in a large measure for his defeat for re-election to the presidency. But he is a statesman who has led a long and useful life.

THE FARM TRACTOR'S PART

The tractor, published in Chicago, says: Before the war, the farm tractor was being manufactured but was having a hard time pushing itself into the market. At all though some companies were making good headway. But then horses were required—they were sold for the farm forces, so that in many cases horses and drivers both had to leave. This forced the farmer to look about for a substitute and he found it in the tractor.

Today there are many makes of tractors on the market and the demand is for more and more. The only thing interfering to any extent with meeting this demand is at least a lessening of interest in either the ability to secure material in sufficient quantities, but even this is being overcome. Some manufacturers have solved the problem by locating where they are in close touch with the farming districts. Some are right in the heart of them. Today the farm tractor is a common sight on the farm, either plowing, harrowing, disking, cultivating or hauling supplies or trimming stumps. It has replaced the horse, mule, pump and a hundred other things. And still the demand is for more tractors. Even the boys and girls of the farm want to have their own. It simply means that millions of dollars are going to be spent for these necessary machines.

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Wayne people.

Mrs. Henry Hansen, Wayne, says: "I was subject to spells of backache for a good many years. Sometimes I went months without a spell and then all at once it came on. I think the cold weather and overexertion is what caused it. My back at night was broken by the pain in my back. I had been that way for about three weeks last spring when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel like a different woman. (Statement given June 25, 1907.)"

On July 15, 1916, Mrs. Hansen said: "I occasionally used Doan's Kidney Pills when I feel my kidneys need attention. They keep them in good conditions so that I have no more serious trouble." Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Hansen had. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

To all stockholders and officers of and all other persons interested or claiming to have any interest in or claim against the Wayne County Agricultural Society:

Now on this 5th day of February, A. D. 1919, this cause came on for hearing upon the petition of John T. Bressler, Harry B. Jones, (substituted for D. C. Mann, deceased) and Gilbert E. French, as trustees of the Wayne County Agricultural Society, dissolved, asking that the court may fix a time and place for all stockholders of said Wayne County Agricultural Society and all persons having any interest or claim against said society to come in and prove their claims and ownership of stock; that notice may be given to all persons having or claiming to own stock in said society and all persons having or claiming to have any interest in said society of the time and place of such hearing; that upon said claims and ownership of stock being established, the trustees be authorized to pay the parties entitled thereto, the proceeds of the funds on the hands of the said trustees belonging to said society; that the trustees be allowed a reasonable reward for their services and that the trustees upon the completion of their trust, be discharged.

It is therefore ordered that all stockholders of the Wayne County Agricultural Society, dissolved, and all persons having any interest or claim against said society, file their claims of ownership of stock with the clerk of this court, on or before March 17, A. Getting Rid of Colds.

The easiest and quickest way to get rid of a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This preparation has been in use for many years and its value fully proven. No matter what remedy you use, however, care must be taken not to contract a second cold before you have recovered from the first one, and there is serious danger of this: A man of middle age or older should go to bed and stay in bed until fully recovered. It is better to stay in bed three days at the start than three weeks later on.

Dreadful Cough Cured.

A severe cold is often followed by a rough cough for which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven especially valuable. Mrs. F. W. Olsen, Maryville, Mo., writes: "About two years ago my little boy fell caught a severe cold and coughed dreadfully for days. I tried a number of cough medicines but nothing did him any good until I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It relieved his cough right away and before he had finished taking one bottle he was cured. I think it is just fine for children."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than in any other disease put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure the local trouble, promoted the deadly habitable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by Dr. J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only cure known to the medical profession. It is taken directly on the blood and cures Catarrh of the blood and cures. Send for circular and testimonials.

FARM ANIMALS

PREVENT DISEASES OF PIGS

Most Important Way to Conserve and Increase Pork Production—Eliminate Mud Heals.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In the problem of conserving and increasing pork production, it must be remembered that one of the chief factors is the prevention of disease. Swine, particularly young animals, are found nesting in the arms of it. mother. Though unconscious, the infant shows today the effects of its poisoning less than any of the other victims.

Miss Ploner found her mother, father and the baby lying on the floor in the living room, where the stove was burning. The other two were lying on the floor in the different rooms—she immediately telephoned for assistance to Norfolk and Dr. C. K. Mullong, city physician, responded. Miss Elsie Ploner was lying on the kitchen floor dead when her sister reached the house. Dr. Mullong worked with the victims for hours before they regained consciousness. Fred Ploner has not yet fully recovered.

There was no indication in the house of a struggle, or that any attempt was made by any of the family to escape. It is thought the fumes gradually sapped their vitality until they were overcome with sleep without realizing the danger of the situation.

According to Dr. Mullong, if Miss Ploner had been fifteen minutes later in arriving on the scene all of the occupants of the house would have been dead.

The stove is a large base hard coal burner. For several weeks it was said, soft coal was used for fuel in it. Miss Ploner declared they never before had noticed the odor of gas escaping from the stove.

Found Family Overcome. "I was horrified to find my mother, father and the baby lying on the floor," said Dr. Mullong, "and I knew something terrible had happened. I entered the house through the side door leading into the dining room. As soon as I entered, I was stifled by the gas, and at the same instant my eyes fell on the prostrate forms of the mother and member of the household overcome and unable to speak."

"I called Norfolk, and in a short time Dr. Mullong arrived. At first I thought every one of the children I noticed mother was breathing and I saw signs of life with the others."

FATAL COAL GAS

Norfolk, Neb., Feb. 26.—Elsie Ploner, daughter of Fred Ploner, farmer living ten miles north of here, was killed on Tuesday. Other members of the family were overcome by gas from a coal stove in the house last night.

Fred Ploner, who still is under the care of a physician, this afternoon is in a serious condition and doubts are entertained as to his chance to recover.

The victims of the peculiar accident were found unconscious lying all over the six-room house by Miss Elsie Ploner—12 other members of eleven children, who returned home at 9 o'clock from a visit to the home of a neighbor.

Miss Ploner found her mother, father and the baby lying on the floor in the living room, where the stove was burning. #### BUSINESS AND SENTIMENT

Sioux City Journal: Trade changes for the better during last week have been confined entirely to lines in which the cut in prices has been sufficient to interest prospective buyers. These lines are few and diversified, yet they mark the beginning of what may be the ultimate trend of trade. There remains a large margin between the amount of output and what the market conditions and that under civilian orders and conditions. The latter is far below that which marked the era preceding peace.

In the lines of industry not included in price reductions business improvement is largely a matter of sentiment. It is hoped conditions will change for the better and because of this sentiment business men are keeping a grip on their affairs which will not allow them to seize the first indication of improvement to move forward. Naturally a large amount of uncertainty exists. Taken as a whole, the market may be said to have shown a constant slowing down since the armistice was signed, the recoveries being sporadic and their utility, therefore, naturally followed the trend of industry. It has been erratic and uncertain. In sections of the country in which industry is plentiful as the result of war time prices, retail buying has gone along with about the general volume. It has fallen at times and advanced at others, so that on the average it is not far from normal. But in sections in which the advantages of war prices were not pronounced the trade which has affected trade all the way from retailer to the manufacturer.

The amount of unemployment continues to increase as the demobilized soldiers reach home from overseas. Under present industrial conditions it is impossible to absorb this surplus and in consequence this feature of the post-war situation becomes more acute every day. The building era, upon which much was staked as a means of giving employment and creating demands for material, is not developing with the alacrity expected. Whether spring will bring an improvement is unknown. The construction of public works and the inauguration of municipal and state enterprises for the same results as those expected from a building boom are urged, but officials are not anxious to spend public funds for such things when the cost is certain to be more than under normal conditions. They hesitate to use public money for industrial expedients, even though motives are good.

MODERN BUILDING FOR LOWLY SWINE

Clean, Comfortable Quarters for Hogs Worth While.

FARMER'S CHANCE NOW HERE

Removal of Government Restrictions Enables Him to Construct Buildings That Are Badly Needed.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD. Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE. Call on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for instance, the hog house. An account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Lecturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address: Radford, William A., Radford, No. 107 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only initials three-cent stamp.

The farmer, who has been denied during the last two years the new buildings the expansion of his business has required, will feel with satisfaction his chance to put up that new barn, silo, hog house, or cattle or hog house that he has needed for many months.

But during the time of his inactivity there have been rapid strides made in designing, constructing and carrying fine place in bad weather for grinding feed, etc. The gate at the outer end on the scales swings out and folds a small gate at the loading chute, making it handy to do the loading.

The sleeping pens, granary and corn crib are all floored with hollow tile with two inches of concrete over them. The corn crib and granary have sliding sockets set in the concrete on top of the wall. The silos in the hog house are built down to the top of the foundation wall. There is a shut door between the corn crib and granary, so as to make it tight when the granary is full of small grain.

The roof is slanted with composition shingles and the siding is fir drop siding. Everything is of the best materials and is built in the best possible way. All the foundation walls are reinforced.

The floor of the big house slopes to the center, so as to drain into the sewer which runs out under the feeding platform. The feeding platform slopes to the outside and also at one end. The feed trough also slopes and is fitted with a drain at one end.

All fittings are modern. The fittings of the house are modern in every respect. One of these is a sewer that will not freeze. Concrete floor and feeding troughs make it easy to keep the building clean, and cleanliness has been found to be a prime factor in the successful production of hogs.

The hog house is only one of the buildings that will be erected on the farm. It is a growing demand among the farmers for these modern buildings.

farm buildings. One of the things that the modern idea of farm efficiency demands is that the hogs be housed in a building that can be kept clean and is so arranged that the swine can be cared for with the least amount of effort.

It may be true to say it, but hogs are valuable property these days. A little more money spent on the hog house means faster and healthier animals, and each additional pound of swine wool means about the same now and then the hog-are neglected.

Herewith is shown a modern swine establishment, in which are embodied a corncrib, granary, feeding platform and scale house. The building is what is known as the saw-tooth hog house. While the floor plan shows the arrangement of these features, it might be explained a little more fully by a description of it.

Room for Eighteen Sows. The hog house proper was built out to accommodate eighteen sows; two stalls in one end were used to provide plenty of room around the water-placed and another stall in the other end for the scale box and small styre room; so, as it is arranged now it contains fifteen usable stalls.

The ventilation is taken care of by two combination smoke stacks and ventilators in the roof and a slat venturer built in the end above the door. This ventilator is fitted with a floor on the inside, so that it can be closed tight when necessary. All the gates between the stalls are removable, so that one or more pens can be thrown together.

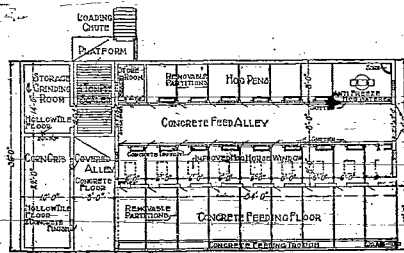

The feeding platform also can be used as outside yards by putting in the cross gates. Each six feet there is ings, because those who are producing food for this country and for a considerable portion of the rest of the world now realize that their time is worth money and everything that saves even a few steps a day is worth while. At the end of the year this world-willness is shown by the balance on the right side of the ledger after the season's crops have been marketed and the livestock sold.

GREATEST OF ALL ASSETS

World's Vast Store of Gathered Knowledge Has Not Been Destroyed by the War.

At the one hundred and sixty-sixth session of the Royal Society of Arts, the chairman of the council, Mr. Alan A. Campbell Swinton, F. R. S., in an address on "Science and the Future," said that undoubtedly the war had been responsible for an enormous amount of destruction of capital, but when these losses were estimated it was not usually borne in mind that capital did not merely consist of gold and silver, bricks and mortar, furniture and fixtures, or even of railways, steamships and machinery, but that the main capital of the modern world consisted of scientific knowledge, the acquisition of the material things now temporarily destroyed would take only a very small fraction of the labor and time expended when men learned how to bring those things about. When we compiled estimates of losses due to the war we must not forget that our greatest asset, the vast store of knowledge that had been gathered together, was still intact. In an angle iron bolted to the side of the house, which holds one end of a 2 by 4, the other end being fastened to the face on the outside of the platform. The 2 by 4 acts as a brace to hold the fence rigid and also serves as a means of fastening the top of the gates. The lower part of the gate is held in place by 2 by 4 braces on the gates dropping into holes made to fit them in the concrete platform. In order to remove the gates it is only necessary to loosen two bolts and lift them out.

Scapes Under Cover. The scales are covered in the passageway between the hog house and the granary and are fitted with a swinging gate at each end, one of them swinging inside so as not to interfere with the sliding door which closes the passageway up light. This passageway is all under cover and makes a the future, if the industries of this country were to flourish in the face of the world's competition, it was above all things necessary that research should play a greater part in them than it had in the past. The modern world had no room for antiquated and unscientific methods.

Peculiar Violin. Abram Moses, violinist of Baltimore, is the possessor of what might be called a baronitic violin. Some time after Mr. Moses bought it, he noted that at certain times it emitted a strange and subtle fragrance, like an aroma of Oriental incense. Later, he observed that this fragrance was noticeable only when the weather was about to become damp. He obtained the violin in Paris some years ago when he was studying there.

AGRICULTURE NOTES

Smut Losses Being Reduced.

Twenty-five per cent more farmers in the United States treated seed to prevent cereal smut in the 1918 spring and fall seeding seasons than during the previous year, according to an estimate recently made by the United States department of agriculture, based on surveys and on increased demand for formaldehyde and copper sulphate, which are used in making the treatment. This estimated national loss due to smut in the 1918 crop was 25,300,000 bushels of wheat; 10,000,000 bushels of oats; and 6,000,000 bushels of barley. Minnesota and Nebraska together lost during 1918 over 3,000,000 bushels of wheat from smut alone, practically all of which could have been prevented by a simple treatment previous to seeding.

Dig Out Common Barbary Now.

This is the time to locate barberry bushes, dig them out and thereby protect the wheat harvest. The entire neighborhood from black rust. That is the advice of workers in the United States department of agriculture who are directing the campaign to destroy the common barberry. At present about sixty field men are at work in fourteen northern and central states locating barberry bushes; but this force will be very materially increased before the height of the open season for barberry digging when the frost begins to come out of the ground. At present the spores of the black stem rust, in which stage the rust passes the winter, are lying on stubble and grasses waiting for spring, come so that they can begin their destructive work. The black spore stage can not spread to grains and grasses, but only to the common barberry, on which it forms the spring or cluster-stage. These spores then cause rust on grains and grasses. If there are no common barberry bushes, therefore the rust can not get started in the spring.

Profit from One Pig $287.

Ample proof that pig clubs pay is contained in reports being received from the United States department of agriculture from club leaders. One report, recently received, tells of the success of a Tennessee boy who, in May, 1918, invested $20 in a pure-bred gilt, and now figures his profits at $287.35. She farrowed seven pigs, part of which he sold for $125. With this money he purchased a boar of excellent breeding, which he exhibited at the Tennessee State fair, winning the grand championship of the breed over all exhibits. He won $87 in prizes, $45 of it in competition with experienced farmers. His animals are now valued at $525. This, with the money from sales and prize winnings, amounts to $745, from which he deducts $157.65 for feed and care, leaving a profit of $587.35.

Show Milk's Value to Children.

No more convincing proof of the value of milk in the diet of children can probably be found than in the results of experiments conducted at several hospitals by the home demonstration agent in Manatee county, Florida. She has weighed and measured over 2,000 children, and has found that those weighing and measuring up to the standard, or a little above, are almost without exception receiving a great deal of milk. The children much over the standard have been receiving little or no milk. Carrying the experiment further, underweight children began almost immediately to show gains when milk was added to their diet. With such evidence as this, it is not surprising that Manatee county has more dairy cows now than a year ago, and the number is rapidly increasing. The results of this experiment are being used as one of the arguments in a state-wide campaign for more dairy cows.

Breeders' Associations Assist in Sales.

One of the many advantages which is to be gained by a number of live-stock breeders organizing an association for their mutual interests is in building up a reputation for the sale of stock more rapidly than would be possible by each member working separately. This is illustrated by the records which are being made by the three community breeders' associations in Waukesha county, Wisconsin. Buyers who come to this section often ask the local county agent whether or not the owner of stock they intend to buy belongs to one of these organizations. The association member has the reputation of standing behind all sales made by the members, and buyers know that any animal purchased from an association member will be "as represented." The three organizations are now affiliated in an effort to make their community a tuberculosis-free area by repeatedly making the tuberculin test and disposing of all animals that show signs of disease. The county agent reports steady progress in this clean-up work.

Farmers Please Note 5% Early-Delivery Discount on Mogul and Titan Tractors

Nearly five thousand of our boys in khaki and blue are coming back to work. We shall, of course, make a place in our organization for every one of them, but we wish to do it without throwing out of employment the men who took their places and have worked faithfully for us ever since.

Our Early-Delivery Discount Plan

If you will take delivery of a Mogul or Titan tractor now we will reward your co-operation as follows: To those who will accept delivery of a Mogul or Titan 10-20 on or before March 8 we will give an Early Delivery Discount of 5% from the price of the tractor.

After March 8 the following discounts will be given: For delivery during week of March 10 to March 15 incl. 4% For delivery during week of March 17 to March 22 incl. 3% For delivery during week of March 24 to March 29 incl. 2% For delivery during week of March 31 to April 5 incl. 1%

This discount will go a long way toward paying the full bills of your tractor during this season.

By taking advantage of this Early-Delivery Discount, you will not only be helping yourself, but will enable us more easily to put back to work our army of returning boys without breaking up our present organization.

You will find that you need a few weeks to get acquainted with your new tractor. The man who has his tractor early can become familiar with it, so that when the first day of good plowing weather dawns, he will be able to get in the field without a moment's lost time.

International Harvester Company of America Chicago Incorporated U. S. A. In this county these tractors are sold by KAY & BICHEL, Wayne, Neb. W. F. ASSENHEIMER, Altona, Neb. J. J. VINKEL, Randolph, Neb.

We can, however, give steady work both to our present help and to the returning soldiers and sailors, IF WE CAN BRING ABOUT AN IMMEDIATE INCREASE IN TRACTOR PRODUCTION. In order to do this we must move forward to the farm and thousands of tractors that are ordered for delivery at various dates up to May 1st, and we shall also have to ship a large number of tractors to various factories intended to order later this season, but could just as well take now. To those farmers who are so situated as to be able to take advantage of it we make the following proposition:

When the first day of good plowing weather dawns, he will be able to get in the field without a moment's lost time. That in itself is a very good reason for taking early delivery.

civil war. It was greatly appreciated by the teacher and pupils. The grammar room recently invited the fifth and sixth grades into their room Monday to hear the talk given by Mr. Baker on the Civil War. It was a rare treat for each and all and we were very grateful for the privilege that the invitation afforded.

THE CAUSE OF WAR.

Nathanial Farmer is the individual's desire for wealth the cause of war? A Chinaman, a graduate of one of our universities, claims that it is. He says that a man who for commodities is nothing other than a bone for hungry canines, and like canines the nations hunt themselves upon the bones of their own country. He claims that trade relations instead of engendering peace beget strife. As proof of this, he cites the wars of his own country which have been caused by the opium trade—a trade which the Chinaman does not want and which they try to prohibit, but one which other nations insist upon maintaining.

He contends that the big nations of the world are not founded on the religion of Christ, but are anti-Christ. Although a follower of Confucius, he is a great admirer of Christ, and says that never was there a leader of thought who so emphatically repudiated the present day systems of government based as they are upon the desire of their citizens for the accumulation of wealth.

Undoubtedly there is considerable truth to the Chinaman's contention. The Puritans of New-England detested and fought the Cavaliers of Virginia for economic reasons and later joined themselves hand in hand when the time finally came to fight England because of burdensome taxes. Germany needed to expand. In order to gain more territory and crush powers whose interests she started—the world's greatest war. If we are to get away from this, the future of the proposed league of nations must typify something more than materialistic civilization.

LAD AND DAD. Minneapolis Journal.—A little child's mind is an empty cup right side up. The last one to fill it will have missed the great lesson.

WHERE MR. TAFT COMES IN. Springfield, Mass.—Republican Question: How much republican opposition to the league of nations is now being developed out of the underlying fear that if the thing goes through it may make Mr. Taft the logical and perhaps the inevitable republican candidate for the presidency next year? The answer is no other republican so closely identified with the league idea as Mr. Taft, and it is such a big idea that it should prove to be a winning well, that's where Mr. Taft comes in. It seems difficult to keep such a supposedly self-righteous republican from a mind, but were you ever an aspirant for the presidency or did you ever have a "favorite son" as a candidate?
