

Two Don'ts

TO REMEMBER
IN BUYING DIAMONDS

DON'T judge a diamond by its carat weight—its value depends more on the quality of the stone and its percentage of cut.

DON'T buy from a house in which you have not the utmost confidence; it is highly important that you get expert advice when choosing a stone, and the name of a reputable house back of this advice as a guarantee of its honesty.

Years of experience in buying and selling diamonds have made us expert judges of value, and hundreds of pleased and satisfied customers will gladly testify to our honesty and fairness.

Come in and have a talk with us if you are contemplating buying a diamond at this time. We will be glad to give you the benefit of our years of experience in making this important purchase.

Our reputation for fair dealing and reliable goods, coupled with the De Laval record of service and durability, has made the De Laval Cream Separator the leader in this community.

NO matter what anyone may tell you, there is only one speed at which you can turn a separator crank and get all the cream and cream of uniform thickness.

That's the speed plainly indicated on the crank of every separator, of whatever make.

Full speed is the only assurance of full capacity and full efficiency.

Every De Laval now has a Bell Speed-Indicator. The bell warns you if the handle is going round too slowly. You can't be mistaken about it.

The Bell Speed-Indicator adds nothing to the price but much to the value of the De Laval Separator.

Eight to Eleven Acres a Day

At Less Fuel Cost Per Acre

That's the satisfactory result that users of the dependable Waterloo Boy Tractor get in plowing.

It's a "three-plow" tractor under usual field conditions—a dependable source of power that keeps three furrows turning steadily round after round until the plowing is done.

It's a tractor you can use to full satisfaction in pulling your other tractor implements and in operating belt machines.

Up to its rated capacity of 12 H.P. at the draw bar and 25 H.P. at the belt, it will do any of the farm-pulling work that hinges or heavy duty stationary or portable engines can do—plenty of reserve power for emergencies.

All of its work is accomplished with economy that every user appreciates. It burns kerosene perfectly. No motor trouble, delay and expense from imperfect combustion. Saves many dollars in fuel cost. Every drop of kerosene is converted into a pure gas by its patented kerosene manifold—no mixing of kerosene and lubricating oil—no carbonizing of cylinders or fouling of spark plugs.

The powerful two-cylinder motor with big bore and long stroke, perfectly balanced on a solid foundation, runs at a moderate speed with only slight vibration. Gives full power without racking mechanism.

Through detachable protecting plates the working parts of the motor, the transmission and differential are easy to get at to adjust or repair from standing position.

lab. Perhaps you fool around at night, and, pining the village, when you'll be wiser sleeping than in your crumpled bed; then you are dead upon your feet when you're out; you make a snail look pretty fleet; your movements are so slow, your eyes look like a total loss, you have a taste that's drab; you cannot put such things across, the boss is keeping tab; perhaps your thoughts have come a far from work you ought to do; you're thinking of some movie star who made a hit with you; or of a joyful thing you take when this sad day is done of a shady way to make a little tenner or two or a larger-planked tenner that you at night will coin: 'twere better far to earn your wage—the boss is keeping tab. And then, perhaps, on tother hand, you're working like a joy, you're busting round to beat the band; to make the business grow. And there is vigor in your work, your moments are not dead; you do not pause to watch the clock, and count the hours ahead. Success for you is looming plain; so much prize you will nab; the worker does not work in vain—the boss is keeping tab.

THE SUN.

When blustering clouds have fled, and blue, for days, in dreary streams, how good to see the sun cut low and shed its well known beams! How optimistic we become when those smooth beams descend! And we've been looking for the sun for them days and nights, and when, blushing, cloudy days, this bright, bright, sun, so glowing, goes to our doors ways, and view things with alarm. We talk about our pains and aches, and of expressive bills; but the southern breeze makes us profits on its bills. And as we journey we lament, among the rain and fogs and haze, the dreary, dreary weather, and the dogs. All things annoy, all prospect vex, and sorrow fills the hand; we will upon each other's necks and will upon to beat the hand. And then some morning comes the sun, in robes of fire, and the crowd that with what takes the hand, and makes all others pale. Across a sky of cloudless blue it burns its state-of-ways, and all the world is good as new, and we cry, "This, this, this! Forgotten are the thimble wares of which we made our whim, the sun disperses them when he rises, and starts us to share.

SPRING SOUNDS.

How pleasant are the sounds of spring when roosters crow and barnyard dogs bark and the skies are bright! The music of the babbling stream is like a song heard in a dream; the chirping of the birds is the wind that rustles through the trees—among the—spring, sea, green which it doubtless came; there are no winter blasts to roar, and the shaking cottage door, with their cheap arctic game. But all the sound in the air and the rain, they unite to heal and soothe the wounds that winter made; and so we while as we go to ply the mangle, the hoe, and do things with a spade. I hear the honest watch-dog bark as he attempts to leave his mark upon the night crows; I hear the bleated of the farmer's sheep, who are trying the old bay mare, which kicks him in the slats. I hear the dippy ducks cry "Quack," as though some dog were near their backs, all loaded down with pills; I hear the bleating of the sheep, the distant howling and long and long, and the hills of the clouds and the sun, and the sound of a bright spring day, made up of many sounds; the creaking of the mill, the whirring of the windmill, the hungry cow, the baying of the hound.

RECOMPENSE.

It's raining as I write these lines; around my shack the night wind whines a sad and sullen tune, and I sakes all this rain and wind and rain to bring the flowers of June."—We must admit sad flowers are worth the bitter gains that look the earth, the rainstorms and the snows; we'll see what all the tempests meant, when we dig up our bottom cut to buy a large red rose. No squalls would our garden harm; no tulips would in splendor fling their colors safe and safe; so flames would in beauty bloom, no squalls would enjoy a boom, but for the sloppy rain. The wind was boisterous today; it blew my parrot away, and spoiled my stovepipe hat; but as it whirled it seemed to cry, "I bring the harvests of July! Oh, ho, ho, get wise to that!" All things are working for our good, and when their curves, misunderstood, will sometimes make us tired; we must toil on through wind and wet, through storm and shine; if we would get the things we've most desired. If everything for which we wish were brought us on a golden dish, this life would be a free day; we do not rightly prize a thing, a diamond ring or a diamond ring, unless we've felt the cost.

THE TAXPAYER.

I pay the tax on barns and sheds, on all my goods and chattels, on my tin boat and William goat, wax dolls and baby rattles. I try to smile when from my pipe I draw an hearty vice when those round bones I earned with groans are to officials given. I smile, ah, no! But when I see how public opinion is wasted, and the officials will linger there, unless it's paid or passed. Once we were shocked when congress talked of spending frugal millions, but in this day, to my amazement, our talk is all of billions. I pay the tax on my two calves, my horse, and my man, and though I smile to be in style, my heart is far from merry. The war is done, with sword and gun we've won the peace, and now we would be sane to cut expense in forty thousand places. I pay the tax on cribbs and stacks, and try to do it steadily, but the tax is too large to waste may end, I hope and pray to die. My Aunt Jane needs some widow's weeds, my grandd needs a pair of boots, but I can't get such goods, yet, with taxes going higher.

FIX UP.

The long war made us sick and faint, we had no heart to lump; and so, alas, we did not paint the cow-droppings from our road, long ladders of bones and woe; and let our chores to thander go, and now our houses look as though they should be as the sun. We've got hearts to trim the trees, or herd dead eels

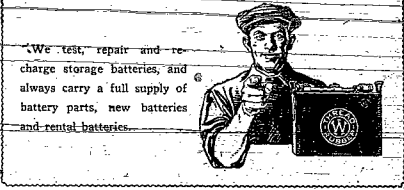

When Is a Battery Abused?

Anybody who understands batteries will tell you that there are five things that must be avoided if your battery is to serve you long and well.

- 1—Solution low, so that water line shows on plates.
 - 2—Battery overheated or overworked.
 - 3—Battery charged in reverse.
 - 4—Battery flushed with acid.
 - 5—Foreign substance added.
- Any of these are positive abuses, and will injure your battery permanently.

away, when mighty legions, or the seas, engaged in bloody fray; and while those legions thundered on, the tin can gathered on the lawn, with broken dish and rennifer, and heaps of leaves—and hay. While still upon the heater's brow the parrot's crown was seen, we had no heart to groom the cow, or plant the pinto bean; we had no heart to decorate the lawn, swing and the garden gate; we merely stood and railed at fate, and cursed the submarine. Now in a cattle gear and quaint the milkweed basket and we should buy some rich red paint, and throw some clean up air; for balsamine of gandy hue, to make the shack look good as new, for clover seed and blue grass, too, ought to blow six times. We've talked of war a weary while, of girals and kings; now let's put on our peace time smile, and think of other things; let's fix the roof before the rain, replace the broken window-pane, a bit of rattles in the train this smiling season brings.

Serving Producer and Consumer

The Livestock Producer Wants
—The highest prices his cattle will bring.
—An assured market 12 months in a year.
—Selling outlets that cover the entire world.

The Meat Consumer Wants
—Meat at the lowest prices it can be bought.
—A stabilized, supply, winter and summer alike.
—Distribution that brings the meat fresh, sweet and in prime condition.

These things Armour and Company are able to provide, because the Armour organization has kept pace with international needs.

When Armour began turning waste parts into saleable by-products, the farmer profited because he became possible to pay him on a basis for the whole animal, instead of for just the meat, hide and tallow. And as by-products provide for a large part of the production cost, the consumer pays less for his meat.

When Armour and Company started building refrigerators on a large scale, fresh beef, pork and mutton became at once available at all seasons and in all consuming centers. And with Armour branch houses to hold enough to make them independent of railroad uncertainties, and to distribute according to retailers' requirements, stock-growers have the encouragement of sure markets and consumers are assured a steady always-reliable supply.

There is nothing to prevent any packing concerns from building and operating their own refrigerator cars. Nor are they barred from conducting their own branch distributing houses.

The big point is that Armour and Company, realizing that a nation's business could not be conducted except on a national scale, here built their cars and provided necessary marketing facilities—the system is to render the service which is expected of it, cannot operate as a whole. It cannot be efficient piece-meal, or under scattered management. The very essence of the business is against that.

Time and the utmost coordination and efficiency are first essentials in the successful handling of food products. There can be only one way to realize the greatest efficiency under such circumstances, and that is to do it as Armour and Company are doing it—with preparation and shipping facilities under one comprehensive management.

The finger of suspicion or criticism is often pointed at another in order to cover up one's own shortcomings.

A legislative committee investigating the work of the state board of control, criticizes the members of the board. One of the members, E. O. Mayfield. The committee recommends no action in the case of another member, Henry Reed, because his term will expire in July and his successor has already been appointed. The Herald would suggest that one woman ought to be appointed to membership on the board.

In one northeast Nebraska town the cemetery association is the center and motive power of most social and business activities. The cemetery association is the liveliest organization in the town. Its wonderful versatility is shown in its capacity to deal with either the dead or living with equal facility. And it is better to have a live cemetery association than a dead commercial club.

It is hoped agreements incident to the peace and leagues of nations will be so fixed that the United States will not be obligated to fly to arms and send its boys to Europe every time two or more little countries over there get into a row. We don't want to be required to police Europe. We don't want to be summoned to arms to drain our resources periodically for all time to come. Urgent prompted by the necessities of democracy and civilization. It is believed in the final analysis, as approved by the senate, the pact will safeguard the future of this republic and not cause burdens that will be excessive and oppressive.

The code bill which is on its way through the legislature, was vigorously attacked in the house the first of the week. It is a voluminous bill, and covers everything from regulating the neighbor's chickens to regulating the solar system. One member of the house charged that only one person is familiar with all the provisions of the bill. It is said that the measure is so intricate that they would do it. In order that the legislature and the people may know how the code bill reads, we would like to print the following bill as it is printed in serial form in the newspapers of the state at regular advertising rates.

The way some people hang to their money and grab every cent within reach, one would think they carried their wallets in their mouths. Wealth with them when they cross the river Styx. They will not only leave their money behind, but they will pass the hands that will likely make short work of it. They should have the fun and honor of contributing a reasonable portion to public and private improvements. Wayne has enough men of wealth to put up a new hotel building, a new opera house, and any other necessary buildings without feeling in the least hurt. They could thus rear monuments to their names, and they would thus leave less to be fought over by their heirs. This advice is worth heeding—even though it costs nothing.

We are exceedingly informed that Wayne has a street commissioner. That being the case, he should get busy in the business district after a rain, before the streets become too dry to drag. People who drove to town Saturday afternoon were naturally disgusted with the hard mud bumps and ruts. Shell-tono-Mor's-Land would no doubt be no more disagreeable or uninviting to travelers. The business district should have been dragged Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. Nothing in the way of street work was more important for the commissioner to do. Every business man, as well as every farmer who comes to town, is interested in having as easily passable streets. Until paving becomes a reality, the thing to do is to keep the streets in the best possible shape.

The constitutional convention for Nebraska will, according to a provision of the legislature, be held in the city of Omaha. Delegates to the convention will be elected in November. If more than twice the number of delegates represented enter the running, a primary will be held in September. Each representative district is entitled to a member which fact would give one to Wayne county. Already candidates are being mentioned, and among others is Prof. J. G. W. Lewis, head of the department of political science and history of the Wayne State Normal. Mr. Lewis is peculiarly well fitted to become a member of the convention, and would be a worthy and capable representative of Wayne county. Announcement that he will permit himself to be considered will doubtless rally to his support an army of Wayne county people.

"No other color scheme requires so much explanation as a black eye."

We have "made good" in this town and we're making good bread.

Bread Elephant

If the loaves of bread that we make each day were rolled into one loaf it would be an elephant of bread. It would be a show. You would notice it.

But you ought to notice the little leaves. They are really wonderful things. The best of the grain fields, the best of modern sanitary baking, the best scientific conservation of food elements, is in each one.

You ought to notice our little leaves. You ought to make little leaves yours.

COOPER TO PROVE FAMOUS THEORIES

His Remarkable Medicine Accomplishing Wonderful Results in Leading Cities.

Referring to the visit to Omaha and other western cities of Mr. L. T. Cooper, the millionaire philanthropist and lecturer, who has commanded such widespread interest in the east with his health theories and celebrated medicine, Tanlac, E. C. Harris, his representative recently said in Omaha:

Thousands of the most prominent people in Cincinnati, Cleveland, Denver, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Salt Lake City, Detroit, Louisville, Dallas, Atlanta, Memphis and other cities where his celebrated medicine has been accomplishing such remarkable results are even more enthusiastic over Tanlac than Mr. Cooper himself.

"As previously stated, Mr. Cooper contends that nine-tenths of the disease and ill-health of the average person is due to a catarrhal condition which produces faulty digestion and improper assimilation of the food."

In a recent interview, Mr. Cooper was asked if Tanlac would relieve kidney trouble, liver complaints, indigestion and a dozen other ailments, and in the connection said: "As I have repeatedly said, my medicine acts directly on the mucous membrane, stomach and blood, expelling from them the impurities and toxic poisons, and restoring them to a sound healthy condition. I am convinced that the stomach regulates the condition of the blood and is the fountain head of health. If the stomach is diseased, the blood is diseased, and the reverse may be. My medicine is intended primarily for the regulation of the stomach and correction of catarrhal indigestion, but it is an uncommon thing for persons who have used it to come to me and explain to me the various forms of rheumatism and many other ailments, not generally recognized as having their origin in stomach trouble."

"The ingredients of medicinal elements which make Tanlac, come from many remote sections of the earth—the Alps, the Pyrenees, Russian Asia, West India, mountain ranges near the Rocky Mountains, Mexico and Peru are among the points from which the principal parts of the preparation are obtained. In the principal laboratory of the Tanlac company, under the efficient direction of a chemist of note, these mineral herbs, roots and barks are assembled in the rough and painstakingly developed process to obtain that high standard of efficiency shown by the uniform preparation—Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by one leading druggist in every town. All over

If I were a Farmer.

If I were a farmer I would keep at hand a few reliable medicines for minor ailments that are not so serious as to require the attention of a physician, such as Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds and croup.

Chamberlain's Liniment for sprains, bruises and rheumatic pains.

Chamberlain's Tablets for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation.

By having these articles at hand it would often save the trouble of a trip to town in the busiest season or in the night, and would enable me to treat slight ailments as soon as they appear, and thereby avoid the more serious diseases that so often follow.—Adv.

Seed Corn for Sale.

We have about 100 bushels of choice Reid's Yellow Dent seed corn for sale. This corn was all field selected in September, reseeded and thoroughly acclimated.

We have been growing this corn on our farm since 1907, and it was thoroughly acclimated.

At the Nebraska State Corn show held January, 1918, our Reid's Yellow Dent won first premium in the honorary class; the sweepstakes for the best yellow corn and the grand championship for the best corn of any variety grown in Nebraska.

Drive over and see our Reid's Yellow Dent seed corn; we will be glad to show it to you. Price 50c per bushel (ear corn only). Seed house on home farm, three-fourths mile south of Altona. Address Charles Roggenbach, Winsor, Neb.

Do You Sleep Well?

To be at his best a man must have sound, refreshing sleep. When wakeful and restless at night he is in no condition for work or business during the day. Wakefulness is often caused by indigestion and constipation, and is quickly relieved by Chamberlain's Tablets. Try a dose of these tablets and see how much better you feel with a clear head and good digestion.

Whooping Cough.

Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to keep the cough loose and expectation easy. It is excellent.

A Home to be Proud of

First of all, you want your home to be comfortable, but attractiveness, too, is essential for you want to be proud of the home you live in.

Here is a bungalow comfortable and beautiful. It is a home to be proud of. Living Room—In entering the front door you find yourself in a bright vestibule. A study of the floor plan will show you that the living room has ample light and ventilation. A GURPIN Standard Design colonnade separates the living room from the dining room.

Dining Room—A cozy seat is built into the recess in the wall beneath the windows in the dining room bay. Notice the plan where the sideboard is located. It is one piece with the kitchen cupboard and is built into the wall between the rooms.

Kitchen—In the kitchen the range is across the room from the work table and sink. The big screened porch serves as an addition to the kitchen, with space for a refrigerator and a table. Don't overlook the entrance from the screened porch to the basement stairs.

Bed Rooms—The bed rooms in this bungalow are separated from the rest of the house. The front chamber has a skylight closet. The rear bed room has a window on each of two adjacent sides.

Bath Room—A built-in medicine case with a plain plate mirror door and a little-drawer set in the wall over the basin in the bath room.

Come in and let us tell you more about this and other homes.

THE FIFTH LIBERTY LOAN

Starts April 21 and Lasts Three Weeks—Tank to Show Here.

The fifth liberty loan, which is expected to raise not less than $6,000,000,000, with which to satisfy the late obligations of the late victorious war, will start April 21 and last three weeks.

H. F. Wilson, president of the fifth liberty loan committee, is chairman of the loan committee in Wayne county, and he predicts that the county will go well over the top. The quota for this county is not definitely announced as yet, though it is expected to be about the same as the one in the fourth liberty loan.

One of the war tanks will be on exhibition in Wayne April 25 in the interest of the loan. In regard to the movement, Mr. Wilson received the following telegram:

Omaha, Neb., April 3, 1919.

Mr. H. F. Wilson, Wayne, Neb.—Six thousand-pound tank on special train accompanied by tank crew and victory loan speaker, will arrive in Wayne in the afternoon of April 25, for exhibition here. Immediate attention. Tank will be unloaded if possible and operate on its own power through streets. I will advise you of further developments. R. E. Fiedler, Secretary.

A PROMISING INVENTION

Herbert F. Lessman Perfects a Machine to Load Spreaders

Herbert F. Lessman, native of the Wayne vicinity, and who lives on a farm northwest of Wayne, has lately perfected and patented an invention for loading manure spreaders. Appreciating the fact that there have been many spreaders, but no loaders, Mr. Lessman set to work to figure out a plan to meet the latter demand. Last fall a winter was started and every detail was carefully worked out. An expert mechanic in one of the largest manufacturing plants in the country has pronounced the invention lacking nothing to insure success. Mr. Lessman was "blessed" in including the model in N. J. Harvey. Steps will now be taken to make the improvement on the market. All who have investigated and who understand the need of a loader, believe it will fill a long-felt want.

TORNADO VISITS OMAHA

Does Big Property Damage—No Deaths and Few Are Injured.

Omaha, Neb., April 7.—Heavy property damage, but few personal injuries, of consequence resulted from a vicious tornado that swept across the western residence section of Omaha last evening shortly after 8 o'clock.

communication in parts of south eastern Nebraska was crippled to some extent. The tornado, which swept over that portion of the state last night, was the greatest damage reports in the state. The damage was done to barnhouses, were destroyed and telephone poles were leveled. No loss of life occurred. The damage was reported to have extended as far south as Nebraska City.

HERBERT F. LESSMAN.

N. J. HARVEY.

suffered the greatest losses, many homes being unroofed and in some cases practically ruined.

It is remarkable that this twister swept down upon the city at almost the same hour of the day of the week as the more disastrous storm of Easter Sunday, 1913, and almost exactly six years afterwards. Moreover, last night's tornado entered Omaha at exactly the same spot as did its deadlier predecessor, and in general followed the same path for a considerable distance.

Child's Back Broken.

Frances Micklin, 6 years old, appears on the face of early reports as the only one who may die as the result of the devastation of the tornado. The girl lies unconscious at the University of Nebraska hospital. Her back appears broken.

First report of the damage was from the vicinity of Sixtieth and Center streets, where it was reported that a number of houses were blown down.

Another report came in from around Forty-Ninth and Cumming streets, where several houses were raised between Cumming street and Nicholans.

The hard wind followed a warm storm afternoon just as the Easter tornado March 23, 1913, when 150 people were killed in Omaha and several hundred houses were leveled.

The tornado on last night moved from the southwest to the north, east in a path which at places was about a half mile further west than the previous one.

Southeastern Nebraska Viewed. Lincoln, Neb., April 7.—While but no damage reports came from that place.

Woman Carried 200 Feet.—Near Elwood, the farm home of George Lenz, was totally wrecked and Mrs. Lenz carried 200 feet in the air and deposited in the orchard but escaped with slight injuries.

Some livestock, was killed at this place, and wheat fields badly damaged by a fall of hail which followed the wind.

At Lincoln there was a high wind and heavy fall of rain, but no damage of consequence.

Will Sell $500 Calf.

H. J. Miner, one of Wayne county's enterprising farmers and breeders of thoroughbred stock, sold an eight months' old calf last week to E. E. Flory of Sanders, Neb., for $250. Mr. Miner has some prize calves in his herd in which farmers will be interested. One five months' old Shorthorn calf can be bought for $300. This animal's sire is Blacky Lancaster who took the first prize at three state fairs in 1917. His mother is a large, broad backed, deep bodied cow and a heavy milk producer, testing a per cent. butter fat. The buyer of this animal will make a fine purchase. Mr. Miner invites all farmers and those interested to call at Fairview farm, one mile south of Wayne, and look at his stock. A101adv.

The Oil That Stands the Heat Test

Inside of hot cylinders where plunging pistons and break-up explosions push the heat higher and higher, where other oils break up, T. V. B. Pennsylvania Oil maintains a constant lubrication film.

Your cars, trucks and tractors need such a protecting oil—one that intense heat cannot break up.

So carefully is T. V. B. oil refined and classed that there is a grade of T. V. B. that exactly fits the requirements of your passenger car, truck or tractor.

Make This Simple Test

Drain oil from crankcase and fill with kerosene. Run engine very slowly on its own power for thirty seconds. Then drain all kerosene and fill with one quart of T. V. B. Turn the engine over about ten times with self-starter or crank to remove kerosene left in connecting rod troughs and other places. Drain mixture of kerosene and oil and refill to proper level with correct grade of T. V. B. Pennsylvania Oil.

A short run will show the driver that he has new power and pick-up under loads. Gasoline and oil consumption will be greatly decreased. Continued use of T. V. B. will lower repair expense and lessen time lost by layups.

McLeod, who has been stationed at Ellington field, Texas, since the advent of the U. S. in the war, stating that he had been appointed chief inspector of the field. This appointment carries with it quite an advance in salary as well as authority over a very large department, and a great deal of executive ability is needed in the important position as the responsibility is heavy. George is well qualified, for he has had the very best training and has been in command of a large force of men for the past two years. He has made good as is evidenced by the fact of the new appointment.

The Land of Opportunity

KIT CARSON COUNTY

COLO

Located in the Rain Belt of Eastern Colorado

THIS LAND produces more Wheat, Rye, Barley, and Oats per acre than Eastern Nebraska, where land is selling for five and six times as much. Alfalfa grows equally as well as on your $250 and $300 land.

Corn will yield from twenty to fifty bushels per acre, depending on the manner of cultivation. With this combination it makes the ideal stock-raising country, as Cattle, Horses, Sheep, Hogs, and Poultry are free from the many diseases so prevalent in the East.

Burlington, the county seat of Kit Carson county, is located on the Main line of the Rock Island Railway as it enters Colorado from the east, and the markets are brought very close to us.

Denver, Colorado Springs, and Pueblo on the west, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph, and Chicago on the east afford an excellent market for both grain and stock.

Kit Carson is especially favored when it comes to climatic conditions. The air is very invigorating, and never heavily laden with humidity as in the eastern localities.

The altitude of this county is 4,160 feet.

As in Eastern Nebraska and Iowa, settlement means higher land values. The same conditions exist here as in Western Nebraska three years ago, where lands are now selling from $85 to $150 per acre, that you could have bought then for $25 to $50 per acre.

Prices are mounting upward very rapidly and purchasers of this land at present prices will double and treble their money in the next year or two.

Land is now selling for from $25 to $50 an acre for the choicest farm land, but will not stay at that price for many months, and those who have money to invest or who want an ideal farm home will do well to buy at once.

The original purchase by the thirteen large real estate firms now operating in Burlington is now nearly exhausted, and this will mean you will have to pay from $10 to $20 more per acre in the next sixty to ninety days.

"That these dead shall not have died in vain"

IRWIN SEARS
The young man standing in the picture, was a Wayne county boy killed in action in France.

A GOLD STAR in a Field of Black.
All through the nation men and women wear that symbol of proud grief for the lad they loved who died. And we who share their sorrow and envy them their pride, bow our heads in silent reverence for the brave who gave their lives that Liberty might live.
Sixty thousand Americans died in this war. The bravest and the best we had.

They gave all they had for their country. Our country.
They gave it gladly.
It is our sacred duty to see that these dead shall not have died in vain. We must carry on the task they left for us.
We must pay our share of the cost of Victory.
Their share is paid.

Cushman Does More Light Plant

Light and Power

The Unit Belt Type Electric Lighting Plant in One Plant

The Standard 4-H.P. All Purpose Power Plant

Storage Batteries in connection with this unit are of the most reliable type.

TWO in ONE

Picture on left shows outfit divided into Power Plant and Light Plant. Power Plant consists of 4 H. P. Cushman Engine on skids, with Cooling Tank and Gas Tank. Light Plant consists of Generator and Switchboard, mounted on frame designed to set on skids of Power Plant.

Picture on right shows complete unit belted for electric light service.

Why the Cushman "Does More"

It does more because it gives you both portable, Light and portable Power in one plant in the most compact, efficient and convenient form ever devised.

It does more because there is less vibration with a balanced outfit like the Cushman, and consequently less adjustment, repairs and service-are required.

It does more because every part is get-at-able. It is not necessary to "tear down" the plant to correct any trouble.

It does more because the same engine—the 4 H. P. Cushman All-Purpose Engine—may be used for work: all over the farm, or to be attached to binder, potato digger, corn binder or other machines.

It does more because other machinery may be run from clutch pulley of engine at the same time the batteries are being charged by belt from fly-wheel side of engine. It is the most flexible outfit.

The Cushman Self-Starter

permits the Cushman Plant to be started, stopped and operated by a woman or child. It is the only starter that automatically releases engine compression and turns on and off oil. Engine started from switchboard, by pushing a button.

We have a Cushman "Does More" Light Plant ready for demonstration. Please call and see it.

CHURCH CALENDAR

Methodist Episcopal Church.
(Rev. D. W. MacGregor, Pastor).
The Epworth League has secured the Imperial Orchestra Concert company to give a concert Monday evening, April 21. This is a great company of artists, eight in all. Watch for posters.

Mrs. Bricel and Mrs. MacGregor devote the Sunday school on the Century movement last Sunday. Come to Century school next Sunday night or bring.

The morning congregation which filled the house was delighted with the singing of the Misses Fern and Frances Omah. They favored us with a duet and solo. Neither can't duplicate these two young ladies singing.

Next Sunday being Palm Sunday, the pastor will preach on Christ en-for any church, and it means death to the cause.

English Lutheran Church.

(Rev. J. H. Fetteroll, Pastor)
Sunday School 10 a. m.
Public worship with sermon at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Subject of morning sermon, "Christ's Humiliation and Exaltation." Evening subject "A Court Trial."
Luther League at 7:15 p. m.
Final meeting of Confirmation class Saturday afternoon at 2:30. This will be a review of the year's work and the final examination. We will be glad to welcome the parents of the children and visitors in general that may not see the work that has been done in the year.

The hazard and food exchange conducted by the Ladies Aid last Saturday was one of the most successful ever held. It netted us about 150 dollars.

Next Sunday (Palm Sunday) children get spirit for the baptism of children. Parents having children to be baptized will please bring them to the morning service that they may have this rite administered.

Evangelical Lutheran Church.

(Rev. Rudolph Moering, Pastor).
Next Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock, Sunday school, at 11:00 o'clock, service. The Rev. E. Mueller, D. D., from India will preach. The member of the congregation should come to church in order to hear the missionary. The quarterly meeting will be immediately after the service.

There will be a service on the Friday before Easter in the afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

Trade Basis Widening.

Sioux City Journal: The basis of expansion and resumption of business and industry gradually is widening, though there are no spectacular developments which savor of sensational or extravagant speculation in substance. In addition, conditions during the summer has much to do with the preparations for increased enterprises in both industry and agriculture. The latter comprises the larger portion of the improvement noted during the past week.

The confusion arising from the disagreement over iron and steel prices and a "hammer" on many lines of trade which look to that industry, the extreme need of a general improvement. But while the reductions agreed upon are upset by the refusal of the railroad administration to buy its steel in a fixed market, it is not unlikely the possibilities for a greater volume of business, which the announcement of reduced prices in steel will have an influence in reducing in many of the industrial lines.

The government's March shows an improvement in the essential industries. Manufacturers of boots and shoes are doing normal business. The shoe industry states their plants are working at capacity. Woolen mills are near their lowest point of production after a long period of idleness. For some time, begin to show slight indications of improvement. Luxuries, including jewelry and high class automobiles, show great increases than the every day commodities of the people.

The people are gradually coming to the realization that abnormal declines in prices are not likely to come for some time and are adjusting themselves to the situation as it is and not as they would like it to be. When the public loses its present and future business, policy on present higher prices, business may be expected to resume in volume. The purchasing power of the dollar will be reduced but the dollar will be a cheaper commodity for the purchaser to procure. Therefore, transient business would not suffer by high prices. But future income payments will be reduced by the honesty and improvement which must adjust incomes to later conditions will be held in abeyance.

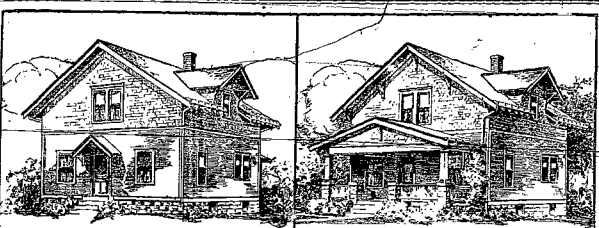

May Come This Way.

Norfolk Daily News, April 7: Strenuous efforts are being made in Washington by Nebraska senators and congressmen to induce the Victory campaign managers to route the middle-west Victory loan drive from Sioux City to Omaha via Norfolk. The Commercial club which has been working for two weeks to assure people of north Nebraska that they would have an opportunity to see the airplanes during the Victory loan drive has been assured by several congressmen and senators that everything possible is being done in bringing about the routing desired. A letter from the publicity manager of the Victory campaign in the district states that he, too, is endeavoring to send the airplanes here.

Commercial club directors have been told that the campaign for the Victory airplanes is proceeding nicely and that there are grounds on which to base hopes for the success of the campaign.

Sixteen of the airplanes which comprise the circus have already left Kenosha, Wis., for Wilmington—Weld, Haystack, Co., where they will arrive on the night of April 8 or 9, when they fly to New Orleans for an exhibition on April 10.

The circus which Norfolk wants is headed by Maj. George E. Strainman and the fliers include: Maj.

What a Porch Can Do

Which of these houses do you rather own? If they were for sale which one would you buy? If they were to let, which one would you rent? In which house had you rather live?

The pictures are of the same house—before and after building the porch.

Perhaps your house needs a porch to make it more inviting, more saleable, easier to rent, or more enjoyable to live in. If so, come in and talk the matter over with us. We will be glad to make suggestions for the improvement of the appearance and value of your home.

Edgar Tobin of San Antonio, America.

The schedule of this circus as officially mapped out now is as follows:

Memphis, Little Rock, St. Louis, Peoria, Chicago, Milwaukee, Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Sioux City, Des Moines, Kansas City, Wichita, Muskogee, Oklahoma City, and Dallas.

The circus is followed by twelve special cars and long runs are being avoided, according to word received by the Commercial club from the publicity department of the Victory loan at Kansas City.

It has been very hard to secure the top-notch aviators for exhibition purposes since the armistice was signed. The department announced, however, everything being done to send the circus to points where the appearance of the aviators will be most good for the Victory loan drive and the Norfolk fliers' desire. The results could be changed if the circus is routed via Norfolk after it leaves Sioux City.

The Minimum Income.

Springfield, Mass., Republican: To keep a working woman well paid is an extremely difficult task. The $23.10 a year, compared to $130 a year two years ago, according to department of labor investigators, they also estimate the minimum income upon which a man can properly support himself and wife and three children below the age of 14 at $1,500. The latter figures were reached after careful study of the budgets of several thousand wage earners. The exhibit is a strong

The Other Fellows to Blame.

Kansas City Star: The president says he is willing to accept his share of responsibility for the delay in making up the peace treaty. No fair minded person can blame the president for any delay. He has been sending every effort to get the other conferees to swing around his way, and hasn't lost a moment. Of course, that has taken time, and probably will take some more.

Prospect of Relief.
New York World: People who are becoming impatient of Postmaster General Barleson's methods as regards the mails no less than the wires have at least one prospect of relief. The peace conference at Paris will not last forever, and when the president gets home perhaps he will find time to put some of our domestic autocrats out of business.

Were Any Overlooked?

Washington Post: There is said to be a keen demand for census jobs in Washington. Goodness, are there still some deserving democrats who have not received jobs, or are these repeaters?

Mr. Bryan's Eyesight.
Washington Post: William J. Bryan's eyesight is so good that he can see peace in the league just as easily as he used to be able to see

Trying to Keep Up.

Speaking of Preparedness.

There's a Difference

In Starting Batteries

and that difference is the big difference between true dependability and the "maybe" sort of service.

To build an automobile battery that is simply POWERFUL is not difficult—no more so than to combine with the sole object of DURABILITY in view. But to create both of these features in compact, practical form is a real feat of storage battery engineering.

In the "EXIDE" STARTING AND LIGHTING battery, power and durability are perfectly balanced.

I sell the EXIDE battery to my customers because I know how much a real service will do toward eliminating their battery worries.

Put the Tractor to Work

THE TITAN 10-20

Is Superior to Other Tractors in the Following Respects:

DOUBLE CHAIN DRIVE

Power is transmitted to the rear wheels through chains and sprockets. This gives a very serviceable drive for the tractor for many reasons. It is easier to keep it in alignment than a gear drive, and if slightly out of alignment it will work well, whereas gears would wear out rapidly under such conditions. Repairs for a chain drive cost much less than for a gear drive. Repairs to a chain are trifling matters should they be necessary, and much less expensive than repairs to gears.

AMPLE COOLING CAPACITY

The engine is cooled by water circulating from a tank having a capacity of 40 gallons, which is a sufficient supply for long runs without refilling.

This engine has been built from start to finish to operate on low priced kerosene (coal oil), or distillate. It is not a one-time gasoline engine, built over to burn kerosene. It does more than burn it, more than simply run on kerosene. It delivers its full rated horse power and does any kind of work within its capacity on any kind of oil fuel above 39 degrees Baume gravity. This includes all the oil fuels from gasoline down to low-grade kerosene or distillate, as it is usually called.
