"King Rene's Daughter," and "The Happy Prince." "King Rene's Daughter" is the masterpiece of Henrick Herz, Danish literatus, and is a simple but exquisite story of the blind daughter of Rene, and Count Tristan. It is a lyrical drama of innocence, love and chivalrous romance.

"The Happy Prince," that pleasing allegory of Oscar Wilde, is a story of a prince who, having been turned to gold for a deed done in error by giving away his treasure to the poor and needy.

In themselves these writings could never hold the added beauty given by Miss Lauman's interpretation. At all times she commanded a masterly presentation and, by her versatile voice and appropriate gestures was able to lose upon her audience the spell which most have caught the writers in their composition. The school is indeed proud that it has one with the superior talent of Miss Lauman.

The musical scores of "The Happy Prince" added through the sympathetic fingers of Miss Wing added to the joy or sadness as the verses dictated.

Indeed, comment from every side indicates that the entertainment was one of a rare treat, and in no small measure is its success due to Miss Dunn, the expression instructor.

THE new Chandler touring model is here. We have waited for it. Old Chandler owners have waited for it. It's here now and we are all proud and happy.

And it RIDES,—it rides like a dream

Nothing has been cut out to permit the delivery of this fine big touring car at the Chandler price. Indeed, many little details of nicety are added. The back curtain window is beveled glass. ### JUDGE W. V. ALLEN HONORED Fiftieth Anniversary of Admission to Practice Law.

Norfolk Daily News-Messenger. Lawyers from all parts of Ninth judicial district are in Norfolk today as guests of members of the bar of Madison county who are helping Judge William V. Allen to celebrate the anniversary of his admission to the practice of law fifty years ago today in Iowa. This memorable event of the judge's career followed the strenuous life of a soldier and in his long career as a lawyer he became nationally and internationally known as a leader in the United States senate, where he once held the record of making the longest address. The lawyers of this judicial district took the day off to honor this veteran of the Civil war and of the Nebraska bar. He is to be toasted and banqueted during the night.

Is Native of Ohio.

William V. Allen was born in Madison county, O., January 28, 1847. He is the third child and only son of Rev. Samuel and Phoebe (Hugh) Allen, and a direct descendant of Capt. William Allen of the Second Sussex regiment in the Revolutionary war. When Judge Allen was a very small boy his father died, leaving the mother and three children, of whom the judge was the youngest. In 1857 the family removed to Iowa where the children attended school and the judge grew to young manhood.

In 1862 the thirty-second Iowa infantry was organized at Camp Franklin, Dubuque, Ia., and young Allen, though but a boy just past 15 years of age, enlisted. He served continuously from the summer of 1862 until August 23, 1865, most of the time as private soldier in Company C, Thirtieth second Iowa infantry, but for a time as an orderly on the staff of Brig. Gen. James L. Gilbert who commanded the Second brigade, second division, Sixteenth army corps, the corps being commanded by Maj. Gen. A. J. Smith. During his three years' service in the army he participated with his regiment in a number of campaigns in the army of the west; took part in the expeditions on the Red river of the south, and participated in engagements at Pine Hill, Mansfield, Cross Roads and Pleasant Hill, Ia., which was an exceptionally hard-fought battle. The thirty-second Iowa losing 210 men, killed and wounded, out of 420, thus sustaining the heaviest losses of any regiment in the army. In that battle, Private Allen was slightly wounded by being struck in his upper lip by a bullet. This slight wound, however, did not annoy the youth nearly so much as the loss of the coffee out of his canteen which was pierced by another bullet.

After the battle of Pleasant Hill, Mr. Allen's regiment participated in campaigns on the Yellow Bayou, or Bayou de Glanz, the campaign against Marmaduke, resulting in the capture of Marmaduke's forces. He also participated in the campaigns along the river Memphis, Tenn., Tishomingo, and in the fight against the confederate generals Lee and Forrest at Tupelo, Miss. In 1864, his regiment as a part of the Sixteenth army corps, was ordered by General Grant to join Gen. George H. Thomas at Nashville to resist the confederate general Hood's threatened invasion. During that campaign it participated in a two days' battle at Nashville on December 15 and 16, 1864, broke General Hood's line and captured many thousands' stands of small arms, wagon trains, etc., finally driving Hood across Harpeth river, the Dutch river and the Tennessee river at Clifton, Tenn. Shortly thereafter Ft. Blakely was captured and later Montgomery, Ala., where his regiment went into camp until January, 1865, when it was ordered to Clinton, Ia., and was there mustered out of the service August 23, 1865.

Enters Law Practice.

After being discharged from the army, Mr. Allen returned to Nassau, Ia., and shortly thereafter entered Upper Iowa university at Fayette, Ia., which he attended for some time, but was not graduated. On May 31, 1869, he was admitted to the bar and less than a year later, on May 2, 1870, was married to Miss Blanche Mott. He practiced law for a short time at Fayette, Ia., then for a year at Oconto, Wis., and later at West Union, Ia., then located at Ackley, Ia., where he was engaged in the practice of law for ten years, or until 1884, when he removed to Madison, Neb., and he has practiced his profession continuously since that time with the exception of the times when he was occupying the district bench far away from his practice as a member of the United States senate.

In the fall of 1891 he was elected judge of the Ninth judicial district and occupied that position until February 1893, when he was chosen by the legislature as one of the United States senators from Nebraska. He occupied that office until March, 1899, when his term expired. He then returned to Madison, Neb., to practice law, but was immediately appointed judge of the district court by Gov. Poyner to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John S. Robinson who had been elected to congress. He served as district judge until December, 1899, when he was appointed United States senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of M. H. Weaver. He remained in the senate until the spring of 1901 when he returned to Madison and re-engaged in the practice of his profession and enjoyed a large practice up to the time of his retirement to assume his present judicial position in January 1917.

Mr. Allen has always been regarded as a leader of the Nebraska bar and has conducted some of the important litigation of the state, being a member of the Nebraska bar association, the American bar association, and many other professional organizations. While in the United States senate he was well known as a leader, although a member of a minority party. His part in the investigation of the sugar trust and in other matters in which the interests of the common people were opposed by corporate interests is well known. Although Judge Allen has had many opportunities to engage in the practice of law in the larger cities, at one time being tendered a senior position in a large New York firm, and at another being eagerly sought to locate at Seattle, he has preferred to remain, as he says, among the home folks. By the members of his profession he is regarded almost with veneration, and occupies an enviable place. As the years progress with a judicial temperament, a gentility that is inimitable. He has always been the friend of the young lawyer and many of the stories which they tell of his kindly aid.

Scientific Democracy.

Spokane (Idaho), May 2, Republican. A "scientific democracy" in which the laws shall be inspired by the universities and not by political organizations, is the hope of a Belgian doctor who spoke at a child-labor conference at New York the other day. It is a reminder of Horace Greeley's prayer, "with next year's cattle, deliver me from the college graduate." Both philosophers were wrong. Even a "scientific" democracy means all the people.

Women's Rights in the Church.

New York World:—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church postponed until next year action on resolutions to grant women full equality in church affairs. Having exercised their full equality in politics and filled a few more conspicuous public offices, perhaps in time they will win the right to the graver responsibilities of church membership.

When Women Vote.

Knoxville Express: The Express has always claimed that "woman suffrage," the addition of women to the voting population, will not produce any sudden or violent change. At the beginning, women will vote very largely as their fathers, husbands or brothers, so that the first effect of suffrage will be to greatly swell the number of votes without causing any great change in results. As years go on, however, women will develop more and more political acumen, and become less and less dependent upon the advice and example of her male relatives.

Chicago Daily News: Had Germany signed without helping the world would be in a state of vague alarm.

content and chaos. Labor troubles might be smoothed out to the interest of all concerned.

We would especially urge those who favor the proposed drainage bonds to go to the polls next Monday and vote. We are not particularly about those who are against the improvement. If they don't feel like taking the time to vote, we would suggest that they not do so. Time is too precious to be wasted in any attempt to block progress.

Many people in Wayne are too self-satisfied. They accept the many things to their credit and advantage as sufficient and satisfactory. They are oblivious to opportunities and indifferent to public improvement and general welfare. All must give from selfish avarice and imbecile and help the spirit of progress. In next Monday's bond election all may show that they are alive to present and future needs by going to the polls and supporting the proposed issue. Then we will have then contemplated private improvements will be realized.

After one day's drought, August 1st, the heavens again poured rain, charged with moisture all day. Sunday's rain was needed and very valuable. Tuesday's wet span was a nuisance, unnecessary and annoying. It came contrary to official weather predictions, which were widely contradicted and discredited. It plastered the landscape with soft mud, and interrupted farm work and other outdoor exercises. It is hoped there will be plenty of moisture during the coming months to properly stimulate growing crops and enough cool zephyrs to prevent fatal sunstrokes, but it is also hoped there will be no chronic, loosening of the floodgates and no Decembers in June nor Januaries in July.

Next Monday, Wayne will vote on bonds for storm sewers, and men and women in Wayne should plan to go to their respective polling places and cast their ballots. Wayne is facing a crisis. It may be made a rapidly progressive town, always taking the lead, or it may be so hampered by indifference and obstacles that it will drag along pitifully far in the rear. Support your home and the future of Wayne by going to the polls and registering your votes in behalf of growth and progress. Wayne is neither a city, nor a town, nor a village. It is struggling along between the two, and it is now high time to give it a boost into the city class. This may be done by voting bonds for drainage which will be a preliminary step to paving.

Notwithstanding that wages have gone so fast that employing institutions are often perplexed in an effort to make ends meet, fatal rioting in labor circles has aggravated conditions in the east. Members of the I. W. W. are suspected of being responsible for bomb plots and other evidences of anarchy. If it were possible segregate and restrain irresponsible agitators who are mainly interested in creating dis-

9 now sold and in operation in Wayne County.

The Traffic is the lowest priced standard equipped 4,000. pound capacity truck in the world. We have a Traffic ready for your inspection and a carload in transit. We desire every farmer to thoroughly examine this truck and learn for yourself why it's the most wonderful truck value in existence today. Price was a secondary consideration in the designing and construction of the Traffic. Every machine is equipped with the following standard units:

Red Seal Continental 44 H. P.-Motor 3 3-4x5. What better motor could you mention?

Kingston high-tension magneto with impulse starter; Carter carburetor, known for its efficiency and saving of gas.

Covert transmission, Hyatt and Tinken roller bearings.

The frame constructed of 6-inch U channel structural steel. The frame is a masterpiece and an exclusive Traffic feature.

Russel rear axle—a thoroughbred, a wonder. The load is carried on a round 2 3-8 inch chrome nickel steel dead axle which extends from hub to hub. The driving shaft is located ahead of the dead axle. This shortens the propeller shaft and applies the power out near the rim of the wheel where it is needed.

Wheels 34x3 1-2 and 34-5, equipped with Fisk solid tires.

Don't fail to see the Traffic, note its completeness and then stop and realize this quality truck is being delivered at your door for $1545.

You are a judge of the essentials which stand for quality in a truck—look at the Traffic specifications. There are going to be a large number of trucks sold in this community this season and a good proportion are going to be Traffics. Nine now in operation in Wayne county and every buyer satisfied.

Every 35 minutes a Traffic truck is produced; the largest exclusive builders of 2-ton trucks in the world.

We invite every farmer to see this truck. The information you receive will be worth many dollars when you are ready to purchase. The Traffic has exclusive features which you should know before spending your money for a motor truck. Fortify yourself with this information.

THE McCORMICK No. 6

Is not a McCormick No. 4 mower made over. It is a new mower with all the good features of the No. 4 embodied with many improvements added.

NOTICE THESE GOOD POINTS
Countershaft Easily adjusted.

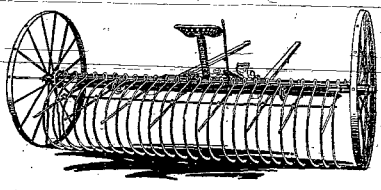

The outside end of the countershaft is kept in place by washers and cotter pins. This construction makes it possible to make an adjustment on the countershaft in a few minutes. You will notice also that the adjustments are made from the outside of bearings, which is a desirable feature.

FLEXIBLE GAG ARRANGEMENT

To do good work under all conditions, in rough meadows as well as smooth, a mower must have a flexible gag arrangement. It must be possible to raise the bar reasonably high without increasing the angle between the pitman and knife.

The McCormick No. 6 is an improvement over most mowers in this respect. The cutter bar can be raised to the first notch, and if necessary to the second while the machine is in operation. The cutter bar has the same angle in both positions in relation to pitman and coupling bar. You will appreciate this extra high life in rough, stony, or stumpy ground, or in going across a newly cut field and crossing windrows.

McCORMICK SELF DUMP RAKE

The McCormick self dump rake will meet your requirements under all conditions. It has gained a reputation in every locality for durability and ease of operation. It dumps quickly, and the teeth return to the ground close to the windrow. As the rake fills, the cleaner rods float above and retard the hay so that it does not roll into a ropy form.

WHEELS INTERCHANGE

The wheels of the McCormick rake interchange so that when one side of the racket is worn the wheels can be reversed, giving practically the wear of two rake wheels in one. The wheels have staggered spokes and heavy steel. They are large and keep the rake running smoothly when on rough ground. The inside racket is covered with a shield which prevents the hay from winding or interfering with the tripping device.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

HAPPY.
I'm happy as a pumpkin, I'm happy as a tree, so let no gloomy kniffin attempt to quip my glee. The sky is blue as thunder, the sun is bright as gold, and all the landscape under is gorgeous to behold. The bee all blithely humbles, the birds sing in the trees, and any man who grumbles I size-up as a cheeze. I'm happy in the glowin', I'm happy at the dawn, I'm happy when I'm combing the feed oats from the lawn, I'm happy when I'm eating, I'm happy when I ain't, my grin I keep repeating, and I'm as fresh as paint. I am an ancient chap, I've reached five score and ten, but I am always happy, so I grow young again. I'm happy as an oyster, I'm happy as an eel, I dance and sing and royster, and tell how good I feel. And other gents who see me kick up my hoody, cut out the leadpops, stream, and they are happy too. I'm happy as a pony, I'm happy as a squash. I say that grief is phoney, and shoo it to Oahkash. And all the sorehead slouches, and all the cranks dabbed, and all the grumps, and all the grouchies see me and are ashamed. "This life is brisk and snappy, worth all its expense, and I'm so doggone happy you think I had no sense."

TOMORROW.
Tomorrow is the grandest day—an antidote for sorrow! There's no despair for any jay who banks on his tomorrow. Today may be a frost and crime, I'm ever-forward looking; I waste no portion of my time complaining and gadgooling. I've always had the pleasant gift of banking on tomorrow; and the old old head held I lift above the tides of sorrow.—Sam Sax.—"Tomorrow, if it comes, will call forth sultry phrases; let's weep and gnash our toothless gums, and cuss our lack like blazes." And you are old, beyond your years, infirm throughout your body; your eyes are boiled in scalding tears, and I am young and gravely. I act as chipper as a cut, no trouble will I borrow; and if today gives me a jolt, I'm banking on tomorrow. Tomorrow is the blamestest day, the balm for all our bruises! When man shows this belief always, all hope and pep he loses. Oh, yesterday made people cry, today we think is sadder; tomorrow's stacking up so high we reach it with a ladder. So let us fin our dreams, tears, and can our sobs and sorrow, and hang pink tassels on our ears, and bank on our tomorrow.

NEGLECTED.
Said Old Bill Jinx, "I'm poor, I ween, and I'm always slighted; I think my neighbors pretty mean; they burn each day their gasoline, and I am not invited. If they would say, 'Bill, come and ride, enjoy a little outing,' then joy would in my soul abide, enlarge my heart, expand my liver. I would not sit here moanin'." Said I, "At six o'clock I'll come and take you for a journey; he reads them, you good I have, through woodland scenes we'll stroll, shall hum, by meadows lush and ferny." And just at six I reared my crock to old Bill's lowly dwelling; my promptness seemed to give a shock; "Just wait ten minutes by the clock," he cried, "I'm still yawning. Ten minutes then I waited there; I waited more than twenty; and I was sorer than a bear, for I had no sleep time to spare." I thought I'd waited plenty. Old Bill would like to have a ride, and breathe the evening zephyrs, and see the babbling streamlets glide across the verdant countryside, where graze the spangled heifers. But he's too dense to realize that folks object to waiting, and so he stands around and sighs, and feels about as moneyed guys, and does a spell of hanging.

BE SURE.
Be sure the voters want to hear you before you try to make a speech; the weary people near you don't always tell how loved they feel. The world full of desolation and broken hearts and ruined homes, because of wind and declamation, of stale remarks add quoted poems. Be sure your neighbors like moved songs before you start your campaign, or some one may be called to fling a brick—a clinker, or a stone. Far better is the evening quiet, that's undisturbed by cried song, than insurrection, strife, or riot kicked up by music maddened throng. Be sure you never are trifling on others' rights, while you do for human happiness is hanging on keeping this same course.

WISDOM.
Be sure your neighbors like your chickens before you feed the sweet things loose, or they'll be angry as the dickens, which is no fun for anyone. That man is to his sex a credit, this woody work, the much adorns, whose ear, though swiftly he may tread it, catches on to his neighbor's words, and just to others as you waddle along the pathway you pursue, and men will say you are a model, and name their infants after you.

WORK AND WORRY.
The more you work the less you worry; the more you bump the less you fret; and so get busy a busy day, for industry's the one best bet. I have observed that when I'm busy, I have no time to think of my view; and I have often said to Lizzie, "I'm glad I have my chores to do. My mind's engaged with things like mowing, with hoeing spuds and mowing grass; I have no time for idle chatter of evils that may come to pass. But when no honest tasks engage me, my mind is filled with gloomy bunk; the rufors from abroad enrage me, and things at home seem pretty pucky. Our statement deal in useless clamor, our diplomats are hayseed boobies, so I begin and end my hammering. I hate my inner troubles. I'm full of bog with my neighbors, and trash old straw we've thrashed before; and all we need is useful labor to keep our heads from getting sore. For idleness leads to brooding, and brooding's bad for mortal-men. It brings them dreams and schemes deluding, and often lands them in the pen. I'd rather be among the boosters that train both good and bad; and when I'm busy herding rufors, I have no time for foolish plans."

MOTORING.
I leave the city's noise behind, its stone and brickblock towers, forsake a while the heasty grind, and all the bill collectors. I climb up high the verdant hills, the azure heavens before me, forgetting balliffs and their bail and all the chores that bore me. It is a pleasant thing to go away from toil and knitting; my car is working like a joy, its cylinders all hotting. Oh, Scott may sing of "Theodore, whose charger was a hummer, but give to me the modern car, and long, long days of summer I cling along by wood and glade and by the babbling waters, white the farmer with his spade, and gossip with his daughters. At intervals my car I stop, some quaint old signboard reading; and now and then a rural cop would run me in for speeding. I left along, eight miles an hour, the motor working nifty, and then, to show I have the power, I shove her up to fifty. Through dale and dell, on dune and down, I throw the dust behind me and tired collectors scow the town with bills, and cannot find me. I look around in silent raptures on the landscape's splendor, until I run against a tree and bust a wheel and fender. Then I go limping back to town, my kind of luck bearing; and find the balliffs all camped down in stern and watchful waiting.

DOCTOR'S PATIENT GAINS 17 POUNDS

Prominent Physician Continues to Use Tanlac in Practice With Surprising Results.

One of the strongest and most convincing evidences of the remarkable results being accomplished by Tanlac throughout the country is the large number of letters that are now being received daily from scores of well-known men and women who have been benefited by its use.

Among the large number—that have been received recently none are more interesting than the following letter from Dr. P. P. Edwards, of Fayetteville, Ga. Dr. Edwards, it will be remembered, recently gave Tanlac his unqualified endorsement in a public statement, and the testimonial published below was recently given him by one of his patients. His letter follows just as it was written:

Fayetteville, Ga.
Mr. C. F. Willis, Atlanta, Ga.
Dear Sir: I am enclosing you herewith statement I have just received from Mr. T. M. McCough. He has sold out here and is moving to Turin, Ga. He was here this morning, and came in to tell me what Tanlac had done for him. He says too much to repeat here, but Tanlac. It certainly has cured him. Respectfully,
J. T. Edwards, M. D.

Mr. McCough's statement follows: "I suffered from indigestion, and could not eat anything but what looked to hurt me. Consequently, I am a great deal of trouble also. My symptoms were indigestion, heartburn, and gas on the stomach after eating. My appetite was irregular, and my food failed to nourish me. This trouble caused me to get very poor—in fact I got so thin and weak I was hardly able to go about."
"I bought three bottles—on Dr. Edwards' recommendation, and I am now feeling all right again. I have gained 17 pounds in weight."

and am doing fine. Tanlac did the work."
"I now recommend Tanlac to everyone who is sick like I was, and wish to take something that will help them."
Tanlac is sold in Wayne.

An Annual Performance.

Chicago Daily News: "Now is repeated that ancient formula of resurrecting last season's faithful straw hat, remarking how well it has wintered, wearing it perhaps a day, comparing it with this season's styles, depositing it in the ash-can, and buying a new one."

Sympathetic Strikes.

Galveston Tribune: "It has never been adequately explained why they are called sympathetic strikes. Sure, means of the innocent bystanders or others affected by them have any sympathy for the movement."

The Fruit Tree and the Human Body

Mark carefully this parallel illustration of a fruit bearing tree and the spinal cord of a Human Being.

It will be noticed that in the latter, where the life force flows unimpeded from the brain down the Spinal Cord and through the nerves to the various organs, Normality, in other words, Health, is the result. Where the nerve is pinched, as in the illustration the nerve leading to the Stomach, an abnormal condition exists known as Disease.

In the case of the tree there is no pinching on branch leading to it, consequently the result is a normal or 100 per cent Fruit. Below, however, the branch leading from the trunk is pinched and the result is a punny, attenuated fruit in all probability diseased.

The fruit is diseased beyond reparation. Not so with the pressure on the nerve removed, the vital force will flow freely without interruption through all the nerves to the various organs and Normality or Health will be the result. This pressure is caused by a subluxation, in other words a misplacement of the small bones of the spine, and can only be removed by a CIRIOPROCTIC SPINAL ADJUSTMENT. This puts the misplaced bone back in place. Nature lends her aid to keep it in place and you are normal again. Consultation and Spinal Analysis Free.

The Doctor Away From Home When Most Needed.

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like pain in stomach and bowels, colic and diarrhoea require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now, it may save life.—Adv.

Long, patient ageing—in wooden hogsheads—does it. Friendship must ripen slowly. Good tobacco the same way. An army of men have learned this through VELVET.

Today is a good time to get a lot of comfort out of a pipet of friendly VELVET.

The Mission of Swift & Company

Swift & Company has become one of the large businesses of the world through continuing to meet the growing needs of a nation and a world.

Society has a right to ask how the increasing responsibilities and opportunities for usefulness which go with such growth are being used by the men who direct its affairs—and the men have the right to answer:

To promote the production of live stock and perishables and to increase the food supply;

To reach more people with more and better meat;

To make a fair competitive profit, in order to reimburse the 25,000 shareholders for the use of their capital, and to provide for the future development of the business;

To reduce to a minimum the costs of preparing and distributing meat and to divide the benefits of efficiency with producer and consumer;

To live and let live, winning greater business only through greater usefulness, with injury to nothing but incompetency, inefficiency and waste; to deal justly, fairly, and frankly with all mankind.

These are the purposes and motives of the men who direct the policies and practices of Swift & Company.

Nebraska's Greatest Farm to Be Sold

35 Miles From Omaha—20 Miles From Lincoln

4320 ACRES HIGHLY CULTIVATED

19 SETS OF IMPROVEMENTS

What is known as the Fitzgerald farms at Greenwood, Nebr., for many years owned by the Boston Investment Co., of which Charles E. Perkins, president of the Burlington Railroad, is president, will be closed out—THIS WONDERFUL TRACT is rated THE BEST LARGE TRACT OF FARM LAND UNDER ONE OWNERSHIP IN NEBRASKA.

There are 27 quarter-sections of fertile land under a high state of cultivation, with 19 sets of improvements distributed with special reference to the best division of the property. These farms, all in one body, are located in the northeast corner of Lancaster County, extending over the line into Cass County. Its southeastern corner is within ONE MILE OF GREENWOOD BETWEEN OMAHA AND LINCOLN, ON THE MAIN LINE OF THE BURLINGTON, AND THE O. L. D. TRANSCONTINENTAL HIGHWAY.

Many years ago John Fitzgerald, who built most of the Burlington from Omaha to Lincoln, picked this land as the choicest selection along the Burlington road. He operated it as a stock farm, feeding and growing large numbers of cattle and horses. At his death some years ago the property was purchased by the Boston Investment Co.

We have gone over the entire property very carefully, have consulted many of the residents in the community, and have had land examiners outside of our company go over it in order to arrive at the proper value. In every instance OUR PRICES ARE BELOW the estimates of our advisors. We did this in order to effect a quick sale. These prices range from a minimum of $200 to a maximum of $275 per acre, the latter on a limited acreage. The property is offered in tracts ranging from 80 to 640 acres.

This is a wonderful property, gently rolling, with fertile, black, loamy soil, ideally located with reference to transportation and market. Roads run on the section lines, all graded and dragged.

Parties will be met by appointment, if desired, at the First National Bank at Greenwood or will be taken by auto from Lincoln.

A SOAKING RAIN SUNDAY

Moisture. General Over State. Damage Caused in Sections Exceeded Three Inches.

Much-needed rain began falling Saturday night and continued until Sunday night. The ground was becoming dry and the rain was welcomed as a great benefit to growing crops.

Lincoln, Neb., June 1.—Flood conditions improved in parts of Nebraska tonight following a down-pour of rain which in places exceeded three inches. At Lincoln the fall was slightly over two and one-half inches. Near Ashland the bottom lands are flooded and railroad tracks washed over. The Platte river at that place is rising rapidly. There was a washout on the line of the Burlington railroad between Lincoln and Crete making traffic unsafe on the main line of the road, and trains for the west were delayed. Small streams to the west of Lincoln are at their banks.

North Nebraska Soaked.

Norfolk Daily News, June 2.—The heavy rain which began Saturday afternoon continued through Sunday night and Sunday morning, and a general windstorm was washed all the road dump available all over the Norfolk territory. Northwestern and Union Pacific railroad tracks were badly washed out between Fremont and Omaha.

Trans were derailed and Monday morning found them running on time again. The heavy deluge washed the creeks and rivers and some of the smaller streams east of Norfolk went over their banks Saturday night. The rain brought cold weather and Sunday found furnace and stoves popular once more.

Monday morning found a bright sun shining all over the territory but the low temperature made overcoats comfortable.

From Riverton, Wyo., Albert Kenney who is transacting business there, writes that two inches of snow fell a few days ago, and that a blizzard was in progress there with mid-winter ferocity.

Saturday night was a wild one in Norfolk and vicinity. The deluge lasted throughout the night, catching some automobile travelers on the road and doing many accidents in the city. Shortage of taxis was also experienced and many persons were drenched to the skin while making trips home in the rain. West side residents found only a few of the jitney car drivers operating, the majority giving preference to passengers for King's park.

Farmers are well satisfied with the heavy rain. They were just about to make the annual complaint of lack of moisture when the deluge came. The heavy rain has done wonders for the corn which is already up, but is thought to have washed out some of the late planted seed. Alfalfa is so heavy now that some fields are slightly lodged. Signs of warm sunshine to eliminate outcrop damage are expressed by the farmers who are somewhat pessimistic about the rankness of small grain.

To Extend Water Mains.

Laurel, Neb., June 3.—The first step in a program of civic improvement in Laurel will take place June 10 when the town will sell to the highest bidder an issue of $14,000 municipal bonds for extending the water mains of the town. The following day a contract will be let for the actual construction of these mains.

Since municipal bonds are not taxable, it is expected that several good bids will be received. The bonds will bear 5 per cent interest, payable annually, and will mature in twenty years, being optioned after ten years. The Rulifson Registering company of Omaha are engineers in charge of the work.

$148 for One Porker.

Laurel, Neb., June 3.—Eli Johnson came home from town the other day much nearer wealth and riches than when he left his farm. Johnson took one porker to town. When his market returns were given him he received a check for $148 for the animal. This meant that the one hog weighed over 700 pounds. Johnson wishes he had a few more such hogs, so he could buy another farm.

Double the Value and Pleasures of Your Old Home

A STUMBLING BLOCK front stoop was made into a comfortable porch, with a washable entrance and a triple front window. Cell-like living and dining rooms were converted into delightful living quarters by a bookcase colonnade opening. A "homey" nook with a cheerful fireplace and window seat was added to the living room.

Housework was made easier by a built-in sideboard in the dining room and by permanent cupboards in the kitchen. The rear stoop was converted into a usable screened porch. A medicine cabinet was built over the bath room basin. The front bed room was given a daylight closet. These things were done to this old house—and they double its value and comforts. Perhaps your old house needs to be made new. Let us help you do it. We will give you some suggestions for doubling the value and pleasures of your old home. And we will tell you how much it will cost.

Dead From Sewer Gas.
Harrington, Neb., June 3.—Mrs. Joseph Ober and her 12-year-old son, Curtis, were in their home when a sewer gas fumes which overcame them in an abandoned cesspool near their home here and two would-be rescuers are recovering from the effects of the gas.

The cesspool was used as a dumping ground by the Oberts, having been built before the town's sewerage system was installed.

Curtis Ober dropped something into the dump and crawled through the opening of the sewer to recover it. He was attacked by a packed of sewer gas and screamed. Mrs. Ober hurried forward to the bottom to rescue him. She, too, was overcome.

Missna Bages, a passerby, heard of from the mouth of the cesspool and tried in vain to rescue them. She was overcome and was reported at the point of death but is now recovering.

Being a rope around his waist, a man Gallum forced himself into the sewer in another rescue attempt. He grasped Mrs. Ober's body and was being drawn out when he was overcome and dropped the body. He was unconscious when pulled out with the rope. Mrs. Ober and her son both were dead.

Mrs. Ober, who is the proprietor of the meat market here, is coming with grief. There are four other children.

THIS YEAR'S CHAUTAUQUA

Some of Important Attractions for the Assembly.

The chautauqua program this year, from August 5 to 11, as in the past, will be built for a purpose and as the keynote of the program last year was the winning of the war, this year it will be "Reconstruction." There will be plenty of music and plenty of entertainments, but this thought will underlie the program.

Probably the most unusual feature on the program this year will be Lieut. A. J. ("Andy") Nielson, "Flying Parson," in his lecture, "Problems of the Air." Lieutenant Nielson, previous to the war, was a Methodist minister who says that just because he happened to be a minister he did not see any real reason why he should let someone else do all the fighting so he enlisted in the aviation branch of the service. He proved to be an apt pupil and was soon placed in the instruction division and spent almost one year in that department. He will make the circuit in his plane and if the weather conditions are favorable will probably make an exhibition flight just before his lecture on the program. His machine will then be placed on exhibition at the tent where it may be examined at the close of the lecture.

Among the other lectures on the program will be Dr. Lyman Powell, former president of Hobart College, and one of the best known writers and actors of the east. He was the first man chosen by the government to go abroad and study the effect of the war on education. Dr. D. B. Vaughan, a man who has been life from all angles, will be another interesting character. Solely by his own efforts he rose from a newsboy on the streets of Chicago to a minister, occupying the pulpit of one of the most aristocratic and influential churches of his denomination in Chicago. He is a clear thinker, eloquent speaker and has been constantly in demand for some years past.

Dr. Jas. T. Nichols, world traveler, will likewise appear. When Dr. Nichols approaches any problem he views it very much from the same angle as a small boy a watch. He has to get on the inside and see how it is made. Consequently, when the United States entered the war, notwithstanding the fact that he had visited Europe many times, he immediately secured passports, and regarding the submarine menace, made a trip to Europe. Not satisfied with this, he made a second trip in the spring of 1918, when the armistice was declared, he wanted to get a close-up view of the after war conditions, and made the third trip since we entered the war, and just recently returned home. On the last trip, he had the good fortune of attending the peace conference and hearing President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau, Lloyd George, and many others of like note speak. There will be several other speakers of prominence on the program besides a headline politician yet to be added, but space will not permit mention of them at this time.

The musical program will be headed by Evings Overseas Military Band, a band of war-veterans not from any one regiment but chosen for their musical ability from all branches of the overseas service. The Amphion Four, a first-class male quartet, headed by K. H. Richards, Welsh tenor—the Liberty Bell, a string orchestra, composed of seven vivacious American young ladies; Mathisen's Concert party, headed by Christian Mathisen, Norwegian tenor; and Ignatius Tello, Brazilian violinist; and the Royal Welsh Lady singers, Madam Hughes Thomas, one of the foremost musicians of Wales, leader and conductor.

The purely entertainment numbers will include the Henry's magicians, with a program chock full of the latest in magic and mystery, and just for variety, chalk talk, sand pictures and the like. Then there will be Charles R. Taggart, better known as the Old Country Fiddler, or the Man from Vermont. Mr. Taggart is a gay, carefree, and care brings his fiddle with him and plays as he sings and talks as he plays. Mr. Taggart is a well known Victor artist, having made a number of records.

The above is only a partial list of the attractions offered. The program booklet showing the complete program with descriptive literature will be out soon.

Farmers' District Meeting.
The Farmers' Union of the Seventh district, comprising nine counties of northeast Nebraska, held a district meeting at Norfolk, May 28. The purpose of this meeting was to stimulate interest and closer fellowship. A permanent organization, to meet semi-annually, was elected. Norfolk was chosen as the next meeting place. Officers were elected as follows: T. L. Daniels, of Pierce, chairman; Neil Johnson, of Winnebago, secretary-treasurer.

Most interest was manifested in the address of C. H. Gustafson, the state president. He pleaded for better and stronger co-operation among the farmers for only through co-operation will we succeed. He also related how he had been called to Washington, twice this spring, once by the secretary of agriculture and once by the chairman of the shipping board, all of which showed that farmers were being recognized. Another subject touched was the education of our boys and girls. Farmers were urged to take advantage of the bill for restricting and consolidating which will give our children the rights they need and deserve. Another fact which he brought before the convention was the coming constitutional convention. He urged the nomination of men who are willing and who can be trusted to represent the people, for we could rest assured that the big interests would be represented.—Neil Johnson, Secretary.

Smoking in Church on Sunday.

Omaha Bee: Somewhat startling is the information that in England serious consideration is being given a proposition that certain laws be enacted for the use of smokers who want to go to church on Sunday, but also wish to mingle with the drippings from the smoking of a pipe of slowly burning tobacco. Just how this will strike the upholders of America, who have pledged themselves, tentatively, at least, to uphold the deity of the Constitution and literally, is hard to imagine. Yet it will carry something of interest to the contemplative mind, for it involves a way to attract to religion men who might otherwise stray widely. When General Booth began his Salvation Army work, he was generally condemned because of the method he adopted. Casual observers or hasty critics mistook the symbolism for its meaning, and heard in the Salvation Army only the rattle of the tambourine or the boom of the big-bass drum. They did not note that the noise was but the outward show and that the inward purpose of the army was denoted by its title. To the closer observer, however, the relation between the noise and the work of the army soon was clear. Back of the banging was the more definite program of "soup, bread and salvation." Sinners were first fed, then washed, and afterwards saved, if possible. All the world now honors the Salvation Army, and understands its ways. May it not be possible to bring real religion a little closer to man through the mingling of some tobacco with the incense that arises in front of the altar? The symbolism of the one is not very much different from that of the other.

Model "B" 1-2 Ton

Worm Drive Motor Truck

In the early days of the motor truck, the burden of its advertising was "TRUCK vs HORSE." Today the enlightened business man no longer questions which of the two is better for his hauling. He now figures which of the various makes of motor trucks offer him the most for his money and the greatest profit in operation.

He has learned that the pleasure car chassis with a commercial body on it is not fit for the job of transportation any more than a go-cart would answer the purpose of a wheelbarrow. He knows, now, that profitable transportation requires a motor truck that is a motor truck from the ground up.

That is the sort of a motor truck we have built in the Model "B" 1-2 to D-E worm drive. Like the rest of the D-E line it was built for hard and exacting service to yield the greatest revenue possible that can be derived from a motor truck.

AGRICULTURE NOTES.

Fewer Grasshoppers This Year.

This seems to be an off year for grasshoppers, according to entomologists of the United States department of agriculture, who recently made a survey of the grasshopper situation in a number of counties in southwestern Iowa, that were badly infested last year. According to the report only few counties in that section are likely to suffer this season. A comparatively small number of eggs were deposited last fall, probably due to parasitic insects having killed most of the hoppers before that time. Except in the counties mentioned, fully 85 per cent of the eggs were deposited since they had been destroyed by insects that feed on them. The success of the use of poisoned bait was also noticed by the entomologists. Very few eggs could be found on the farms where poisoned bran was used last summer, but on other farms nearby the eggs were unusually abundant. This difference was so great as to be noticeable even in adjacent fields.

Teach Foreign Women American Cooking.

When a woman comes from a country where housewives of her class have fed their families for generations on black bread, olive oil, and cheese, it is not easy in a new country to learn new methods of cooking. Many mistakes in selecting proper food are apt to be made. The United States department of agriculture realizes this, and the home-demonstration agents from the department and state colleges are teaching the foreign women how to select and cook American food. In Bayonne, N. J., the home demonstration agent and the foreign-workers of the international institute co-operate. It is found that many of the cheap nutritious American foods are unknown to the Italian and Polish women. But few used oatmeal, and those few prepared it improperly. In one month last winter in Bayonne twenty-five mothers were taught by the home-demonstration agent how to prepare oatmeal properly. In the twenty-five families there were ninety-two children.

A Bayonne girl of 13 years lost her mother last fall during the influenza epidemic. She has entire charge of six younger brothers and sisters. Her father gives her $1 a day for food for the seven. Coffee and cake were the staple articles of food in the children's diet three times a day. The home-demonstration agent has now taught the little sister-mother how to prepare simple, cheap, nutritious dishes.

Work for Business Farming.

A large number of Montana farm-bureau members have organized a state farm management association and will offer over $300 in cash prizes for the advancement of this type of work. There will be $100 in prizes for the best kept and most accurate farmer's account book, another $100 for the best organized farm as shown by the account book and a $100 trophy as sweepstakes will be offered as a combination prize. A $25 shield will be awarded to the county of farm management club showing the most results accomplished from keeping and studying record books in groups. These prizes have been donated by commercial firms doing a statewide business, all of whom recognize the importance of this work.

Pushing Own-a-Cow Campaign.

Bankers are co-operating with the agricultural agent in Jefferson Davis Parish, La., in an "own-a-cow" campaign. The bankers are financing the farmers and the agent is preaching the gospel of better livestock. In the fall of 1918 he bought five carloads of head-sliding five registered bulls, of pure-bred Holsteins from Wisconsin. These dairy animals were widely distributed among the bankers, one or two head going to each owner. So pleased have been the owners of these pure-breds that the agent is already taking orders from others. It is probable that several additional carloads of such cattle will be purchased next fall. The bankers and the school board will back the proposition to help the boys get a start in cattle-raising.

What Have You Done About Tires?

Hundreds of motorists in this city—many of them business men you know—have increased the pleasures of motoring by eliminating tire worry.

And you can do it too!

A new principle of tire construction invented by Charles C. Gates, E. M., makes it possible—and $500,000 car-owners, all over the United States, have proven this Gates principle.

These motorists, including the biggest business houses in the country, have proved that Gates Half-Sole Tires enable them to get 5,000 to 15,000 more miles than ever before from their tires.

And Gates Half-Sole Tires are 20% over-size—stronger and better than the tires now on your car—guaranteed puncture proof—yet cost only one-half as much as other tires.

You, too, are entitled to this tire economy—let us show you.

Trade Expansion.

Sioux City, Journal. There has been during the last week a fair trade expansion, which may be the beginning of the new era so long anticipated by the general public.

In fact, it is confined to a few lines. But these are sufficiently diversified to serve as an index. Though the business has not signed, the overseas demands for supplies are not only increasing but show a firmness which has not been in evidence for some time.

Four-Passenger Sport Model Has Fashionable Appearance

Women especially appreciate the fashionable appearance of the Nash Six four-passenger sport model. commodity prices; that they will be made staple at the point now held, and that business may be based on that foundation without serious danger of a collapse. The uncertainty of this condition in the past has held up new enterprises and restricted the operations of old ones. It has been feared that stocks purchased at prevailing prices—before they were sold might have to compete with similar stocks purchased at lower prices because of a slump abroad. The conviction that a slump is not likely has stirred activity in certain lines of enterprise, and will be followed in all likelihood by the same results in others. One of the elements which entered into the domestic situation is the signing of wage scales in different parts of the country during the last fortnight. During the last half of May enough scales have been closed to show that there will be no reduction in wages, and that in most trades there will be an increase. If wages are maintained at the present level, prices will not fall, because the cost of production is indicated by the cost of labor in producing.
