Wayne Educator's Diary Yields Another Installment

Beane, France, Cote d'Or, May 5, 1919. I have just finished a most interesting week of work and travel. In all I went about 400 miles by auto in inspection and supervision work. Some of the most historic places in France were on the list of my travels and while I was out for Uncle Sam I could not go with my eyes shut. So I am not only going to do some good but also getting some. Upon my return here I find that my old job of training geography teachers has shriveled up and blown away and I shall now be teaching a group of illiterate white soldiers for a while, but not for long as the university bids me off for America on June 5. Then I expect I'll be assigned to other work. Maybe up in Germany. I was not here Saturday but on account of a congressional committee being present, school was in session on Saturday. So today is Saturday and Saturday was Monday. One man said he wrote to his wife yesterday (Sunday) in this wise:

"Yesterday will be tomorrow. Tomorrow was yesterday. Today is today."

Such is life in the army. Anything can be done by a special order.

Alery (pronounced Al-er) is where the agricultural schools are held. A free bus goes out from here, about 12 miles every hour. Somebody wrote:

"On the road to Alery. Where the bushes swing and sway. And the dust rolls up like thunder Out of Beane to Alery."

It was proposed to call this proceeding "Camouflage Revealed" and said it was not poetry but could be made so easily by "Special Order." See! Everything in the army goes by special order (S. O.) or it doesn't go at all. My last week's trip was according to S. O. No. 70. That was my authority for going, and if I had not carried my orders with me, in my pocket, I might get into trouble anywhere. You see I can't get away from here without a special order or a leave.

Sunday, April 27, 1919. Took train to Dijon at 11:35 a. m. Some fine scenery on the way. Arrived at about 7:45 p. m. Found Mr. Bourdant who has charge of the dean of the American students in Dijon university. Found Mr. Drake who is supervisor of instruction in the past and division schools in and about Dijon. He took us through camouflage camp where thousands were employed in preparing "Camouflage" materials. Chicken wire in several piles as much as twelve or fifteen feet high and from 100 to 200 feet square. Great wire-mesh were hung to the roof of bales of canvas ducking and hurlap. A camouflage school was established here and many fine specimens of the art are still to be seen here, notably a camouflaged tree. Visited two or three old cathedrals and the "Fountain of the Dead" where the pictures of all of the French soldiers of Dijon who lost their lives were on exhibition.

Monday, April 28, 1919. Spent the forenoon in getting permits from A. P. M. (Assistant Prof. Marshall), having a conference with Mr. Drake, the superintendent of instruction, and getting air transportation from Colonel Howlett. We secured a seven-passenger Buick and driver which we used afternoon in hunting and visiting visiting camps. Drove about eighty miles in all. Went to Murgny and found the camp was gone. Came back a few kilometers, took the Paris road to Vitreux where we found 250 prisoners in camp who had no school at all. Seventy-five of these were illiterate. We go back out there tomorrow to start some school work among them. This evening we visited the evening schools at Mator Park camp. Several thousand autos are standing here waiting to be salvaged or sold. All kinds and sizes are found in the lot.

Saw four women and one man pulling a loaded boat up the canal. Boat was about 100 feet long. Very slow.

Found some good classes in action. Visited Farm Management, and taught a class in poultry-feeding. Back to Hotel Cote d'Or Hotel now. Cold and raw today. A little snow, a little rain, and a little sunshine. Rode through some wonderfully scenic country today.

Tuesday, April 29, 1919. Made plans for afternoon exhibition trip and then visited a part of the University of Dijon. About get to see any classes in action as it takes a very formal pass to get this privilege. Visited University and Municipal libraries. Some very old maps and a 1720 A. D. eight-foot globe which is fairly accurate.

Drove west 100 miles in Cadillac this afternoon. Found the camps (three of them) breaking up and moving. Great event of the day was visit to the Statue of Veronique, commander-in-chief of the Gauls when they fought their last battle with Caesar's legions. The statue marks the place of the great battle and where he was taken prisoner by Caesar in 53 B. C. It is a wonderfully grotesque picture of the old Roman standards and the ruins of the old Roman temple are here to be seen.

Wednesday, April 30, 1919. Chines in the cathedral work on this morning. Visited places of interest in the city today. Saw some old hangings of armor and eleventh centuries. Saw Jaquemart ring the hour on top of the cathedral. Also saw the battery of gargoyles on the front of the cathedral. Saw some of the new high school inside of a high stone wall enclosure. Saw the Statue of St. Bernard.

Spent the afternoon on the road hunting up some of the isolated camps. Visited three or four negro camps. Only one was giving any school work. It was during this evening that the university is to close at the end of this term, that is June 7.

Thursday, May 1, 1919. Forty-one years ago today, to the best of my knowledge, I was ushered into the light of this world in a little log cabin in northwestern Ohio. This is France. No sunshine outside today, all inside. Rained for one day and that lasted from the time I woke in Dijon at 6 a. m. until I went to sleep at 10:30 p. m. Had to walk across town at Dijon to railway station as street cars were not running.

May 1 is labor day in France, and all political parties use it as an occasion to push their party agenda. This often causes riots. So easy means of transportation and other means of causing disorder are resorted to.

This is a big camp, 16,000 men here now. It was one of the two main supply camps for our army throughout the world. Men are all service or working men and not fighting men, so school activities are not so very important. However, this evening we visited about a dozen or fifteen classes for illiterate negroes; about 1,000 of them. Most of them, about seventy-five per cent, could not sign their own names when they began. Surely a remarkable school, the teachers are all black boys. Saw a picture of about a dozen white illiterates in schools. Very intelligent looking fellows, but never had a chance.

Friday, May 2, 1919. Stayed at hotel this forenoon except for a little visit to a French sawmill.

After lunch visited the big bakery. An immense affair, four buildings, each covering about a block. Four large batteries of ovens and baking-ovens on each one. Each battery has about twelve ovens; each oven will bake about 200 loaves at a time. It is kept running all day. This baking establishment could put out 1,600,000 pounds of bread every twenty-four hours. The bakers work in shifts of eight hours each, so the bakery is never idle. Provision is made in the process for exact measurement and even timing of flour for exact temperature; for exact amount of water, for raising, mixing down, for exact size of loaf, for exact oven temperature, etc. everything in connection is as exact as clockwork.

Visited "airplane graveyard." I suppose in this pile of junk are the remains of several hundred airplanes. All kinds of pieces and parts are thrown into this junk pile.

United history class in afternoon and geography in the evening. All negroes. Took train for Dijon at 9:45 p. m.

Saturday, May 3, 1919. Spent forenoon in visiting camps at Mirebeau. Classes for illiterates are being organized for all French primary school children.

Time is a big factor in giving Velvet Tobacco its mildness and "character."

Spent one hour in the afternoon in the public museum and art gallery. This gallery is second in France to the Louvre in Paris. Some wonderful work in painting and sculpture. Much of it done by native (Dijon) celebrities. This gallery is in the ancient palace of the Dukes of Burgundy which dates back to the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. Spent the evening in enjoying the shop and store windows.

Sunday, May 4, 1919. Took a walk out to the old chateau of the Dukes of Burgundy. Saw the "Well of Moses," scalled. It is fed by a spring and was constructed in 1387 A. D. The tower and some other remains of the old chapel may be seen. The new chapel is a reproduction of the old with some of the best parts of the old worked in. Just outside the gate I saw two boys chasing one and two sou pieces of money to see which could come closest to a line. A sou is about one cent. They had found a jackpot of money on the ground they were playing for. A 12-year-old boy and a 14-year-old boy about 2:10 p. m. Arrived at Beane at 2:40 p. m.

Some examples of poor English used by soldiers of U. S. and their relatives:

"I have a 4-month-old baby and he is my only support."

"I was discharged from the army for a goatre which I was sent home for."

"I received my insurance polifice, and have since moved my postoffice."

"You ask for my allotment number. I have four boys and two girls. I am writing in the Y. M. C. A. with a piano playing in my uniform."

"Both sides of our parents are old and poor."

"I have been in bed three years with one doctor and I intend to try another."

"I ain't received no pay since my husband has gone from nowhere."

"Please tell me if John has put in an application for wife and baby."

"You have taken my man away to fight and he was tite best fighter I ever had."

"My son is with the 138th infantry. Please tell me if he is living or dead and if so what is his address."

As the days grow longer, and darkness does not gather until 10 o'clock, the advisability of changing back to the "old time" becomes increasingly apparent.

Forty million pounds of corned beef, roast beef and corned beef hash, put up in government cans, is to be sold to the highest bidder. Here is an opportunity for anyone who happens to be hungry or who expects to be hungry.

A woman's qualifications to vote are no longer questioned. She is not only qualified to vote, but she is able to fit herself for any occupation, and make good at the penalty of restricting women to home building, is being more or less rudely kicked aside.

A petition has been circulated and summarily signed this week concerning the expediency of providing for a W. L. Lewis for a seat in the coming constitutional convention for Nebraska. The favor with which the petition has been received and endorsed speaks well for the ability and standing of Mr. Lewis.

The celebration at Wayne on the Fourth will be worth going across the state to see. The attractions will be many and varied, and no dull moments for anyone. It will be a suitable celebration of American independence at the time of the days with England and of the righteous triumph of every succeeding war.

Religion is not contemplated in the same solemn and fearful way that used to be the rule among church people. One may be in earnest and still be irreverent. The neat and austere visage, making religion a terrible thing to consider, is fast passing. Sense of humor is evident in church as elsewhere, and is a powerfully uplifting and sustaining element.

There has been apparently some change in the weather the last week, the wet spell seeming to have given way to unusual heat. However, the government which regulates the time of day, hasn't yet said whether the elements are hot or cold, and so everybody is up in the air in the matter of how to feel and whether to sweat or not.

There is no advantage and no credit in committing a crime. On the contrary, lawlessness invariably leads to detection, punishment, disgrace, and regret. The law seems to be sweeping over the country, due in large part no doubt to the influence of the bolshevik spirit which preaches that the law is no longer and since the war, it should be the earnest effort and ambition of Wayne county to avoid participation in the above-mentioned wave.

Fifteen years ago when Wayne county real estate had reached a maximum of $100 an acre, it is now sold by an experienced and successful land man that the price had fallen to the limit, and would go no higher. He reports that the farms at that price a doubtful investment. The price never dropped so low but has been going up. Now good Wayne county farms sell from $300 to $400 an acre, and the judgment of those who believe prices will still advance, is probably right.

People who have served on the city council and endorsed the streets of the city government are the strongest advocates of the manager plan suggested by the Herald last winter. The mayor has already made a public statement to be changed next year, action will be taken in January. In the meantime, we try to get a administration of unusual action and accomplishment.

With strikes and rumors of strikes which have not been very encouraging for peaceful and orderly pursuits, we now have report of a victory for Mayor Short of Sioux City, whose forces defeated the attempted recall by a large majority. The effort to "oust" Short was mainly based on his association and sympathy with the J. W. W. It is said he received ninety-five per cent of the labor union vote. The trouble with the employer class is that they apparently a long ways from settled. Extreme types in the ranks of both capital and labor in the city are making a bad case of it. His nose scornfully at luxury, the former riding away in luxury and ease, while the latter toils for him for a WELCOMED. Wrongly discredited and punishes the many employers who work even more than their employees in the endeavor for success and security. One serious fault with labor unions lies in their disposition to hold back the worthy and the unworthy alike, and to be the competent for the incompetent. One has suggested, labor difficulties will be more nearly smoothed out if the members of the union are of both employers and employees. Teach the snobbish, arrogant capitalist to have some human feeling and sense. At the same time, teach the labor union man the importance of winning on merit.

WELCOMED. We were told in Nebraska some years ago that with the advent of the state school system, the institutions would be taken out of politics. How far from the truth that statement was we all know—There are several state institutions which have become political machines. How little we hear of them in comparison with the state institutions at Lincoln, Geneva, Milford, and Norfolk. Scandalous deals shake the state from Niobrara to Guide Rock every so often, the state keeping certain institutions "off public" while never a white ray of wrong gets into the public prints regarding those other institutions. Why? Do the students in the various state normals present no problems? Do those employed to manage and teach therein always prove 100 per cent perfect? It would be interesting to know why newspapers that glow over the removal of an institutional head at Norfolk or Geneva, never mention far greater scandals at Wayne and at Kearney. It would be interesting why the personal sins of a couple of employees at Geneva call for a public hearing and a state normal which the State Normal which facts students and faculty at Wayne never receives a line of notice in even the home papers. Norfolk, Geneva, and Kearney, and their state institutions, considerably bad repute not long since. Kearney with scandals that cried to heaven for their removal. Norfolk, under control has taken certain institutions "out of politics." Are we of Nebraska more interested in our own normal schools than in the normal and our sub-normal than we are in those normal daughters and sons of ours who attend state institutions of learning? Wayne seems to imagine that the normal college over there is Wayne private and treats it as such. Is it that which affects the moral welfare of the boys and girls of northeast Nebraska that is treated as a "home affair" which special interest may seek with success? Or is it that they do not know the lash of public criticism? Did the legislature do a little investigating at some of these institutions it might not be without results.—Norfolk Press.

 Reference in the above, reprinted in another exchange from the Norfolk Press, is doubtless to the J. M. Wiley case because the principal was employed at the State Normal. When the facts in the case became known to the president of the Normal, Wiley was peremptorily dismissed, and one of the young women involved instituted prosecution against the accused. The case was mentioned at the time in the local papers, but the State Normal which was not even accused, was not needlessly blackened and injured. The helpless inmates of the institution mentioned by the Press would be unable to correct evil if they did not have the assistance of the newspapers. The hundreds of Protection-to-students-of-the-institution, was strengthened by prompt action. Details were withheld to avoid unjust suspicion and injury. The image of the institution, its normal, its sub-normal, and the Geneva home are respected and helpless. The students in the State Normal are at liberty to make complaints, and they know enough to make them.

 The fact is, some people want to fully scent the odor of a salacious case, not so much to help an institution, nor so much to purify and exalt society but to satisfy morbid curiosity, and to excite and astonish with suspicious that are likely to be wholly false.—An investigation of the State Normal at Wayne would not be unwelcome and would not be difficult.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

Early days from the Wayne Herald, June 18, 1903:

Mrs. A. N. Madsen went to Moberly, Mo., to see her niece, daughter of George Madsen, who was sick. Fred Volpp-left for New York to meet his brother who is on his way here from the old country.

Glenn, the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gamble died June 11, 1903, after an illness of several months.

D. Cunningham and Mrs. E. Cunningham and daughter, Mae, went to Madison to attend the funeral of the former's nephew.

Paul Harrington and John Dobbin were seen at the store in Chase Robbin's general store in Carroll, were in Wayne on business.

Miss Maude Burke who had been visiting the home of her brother-in-law, E. A. McEachen west of town, returned to Bancroft.

Mrs. R. H. Crawford returned from Sioux City where she attended the wedding of her daughter, Nora, to Donald Fay Taylor.

The following was the market report: Wheat, 63c; corn, 36c; oats, 29c; rye, 35c; cattle, $4.50; hogs, $5.45; butter, 15c; and eggs, 17c.

Rev. P. Baker and daughter of Chicago visited a few days with friends in Wayne. Rev. Baker was formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church here.

The library board met and the following report for four months was given: Books, 312; papers made, 1597; days open, 33; books in library, 696.

Ed Lundberg who graduated from the law department of the State University at Lincoln, arrived home and will engage in the practice of law here.

A large crowd of young people, members of the Junior league of the Methodist church, drove to the home of S. E. Ankler of Wayne, and enjoyed a picnic supper.

From Ponca Journal, June 28, 1883:

During one of the storms of last week, the wind blew a car off the track near the depot. No damage was done. The car was blown into the country has thus far been very fortunate this spring, so far as wind storms are concerned. The weather now looks as though the violent storms were about over for the season.

Mr. Burns started on Monday of this week to visit his tract of land in Cedar county. He went on horse-back, and not being much acquainted with the country between this place and that, got lost. The particulars of how long he wandered on the prairie we have not heard. He returned yesterday. In his peregrinations he also lost his watch. Some one found it and brought it to town before he arrived and restored it to him. It is very easy to get lost unless a person is well acquainted with the country. It is not as easy to lose one's watch, though such things have been known before this.

Last Thursday the business car of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railroad was transferred from Sioux City to Conway and in the afternoon attached to the Norfolk train and taken to Wakefield. It had on board a party of the head officers and chief engineers of the company, on a tour of inspection of the different routes for the extension of their road. From Wakefield they went by team up the North Logan, passing through the town of Noris to the central part of Cedar county, whence they returned by the old grade to this place, where they were met by their car, and went to Sioux City.

It seems evident that the railroad will now be extended without fail. Work is to commence immediately and it is reported that sixty miles will be built before winter. Superintendent Morford, who was one of the party, stated that work will commence both at this place and at Wakefield, the two lines intersecting in Cedar county at some point not yet decided upon, and from there the road would continue on to Niobrara, with perhaps a spur to Vanhook. In regard to the route west from Ponca, he said there was no doubt but the road would go by the way of Newcastle, following nearly the course of the old grade.

Merits Examination. New York World: The new republic of the Rhine will have to be examined and cross-examined closely, but almost anything in Germany that pronounces itself anti-Prussian will be entitled to consideration.

Quite Like Him. Chicago Daily News: Senator Reed, of Missouri, is also opposed to the law for the protection of migratory birds. This seems to be in line with the senator's other qualities.

The Turk in Paris. B. L. P. in the Chicago Tribune: Turkey's grand vizier is informed that the peace council cannot hear him as a plenipotentiary, but if he wishes to drop in and make a cigarette and talk about the weather, they'll be glad to see him.

There is a difference in Starting Batteries-and that difference is the big difference between true dependability and the 'maybe' sort of service.

"To build an automobile battery that is simply powerful is not difficult—no more so than to create one with the sole object of durability in view. But to combine both these features in compact, practical form is a real feat of storage battery engineering. In the power and durability are perfectly balanced. The makers of the "Exide" know. For thirty years, in the largest battery works in the country, they have been making batteries for all purposes; for thirty years they have been gathering practical experience—and this experience, which is built into every "Exide" Battery, is the real foundation of "Exide" quality. "Long years of road work under all sorts of conditions have demonstrated "Exide" reliability. There is an "Exide" made for every model of car. "I sell the "Exide" because I know what the "Exide" will do. I offer "Exide" service to my customers because I know how much a real service will do toward eliminating their battery worries. "A convincing evidence of the inherent quality of all batteries built by the maker of the "Exide," I would like to show you a letter and give you one of the books, both relating to war work done by The E. S. B. Co., sent me a few days ago from the home office. It is a fact, that during the big struggle the U. S. Government, for its battery requirements, both on sea and land, used in vast quantities the "Exide," as well as other batteries made by The Electric Storage Battery Co."

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. ### AGRICULTURAL NOTES.

Plans to Export Pure-Bred Stock.

To work out plans for increasing the exportation of purebred breeding stock from the United States to South America, David Harrell and J. P. Morgan of the Bureau of Markets, will go to South America as representatives of the United States department of agriculture. They recently arrived in Chicago with secretaries of various breeding associations. Secretaries representing all breeds of hogs and all but two of cattle attended. Ways and means of stimulating interest among South American stock raisers in importations of purebred stock from this country were discussed. It was planned to send a shipment of hogs to South American live-stock shows. This plan, it is believed, is one of the best ways of introducing to South American stock raisers the quality of animals now being grown in the United States.

Club Profits Provide Comforts.

Thousands of American homes possess comforts and luxuries for which they are indebted to the boys and girls in the families who have saved the equipment by work in home gardens and canning clubs. These clubs are organized by the department of agriculture and the state colleges, and by school boys and girls make money as well as provide canned fruits and vegetables for their own families. Steam pressure cookers, washing machines, pianos, vacuum cleaners, kitchen cabinets, and innumerable other things which make housework easier and home life happier are bought with their profits by the club members. A 14-year-old home-canning club girl in

Organic County, Ga., Bought a Player Piano and New Furniture for the Parlor with the money she earned in canning. A girl in Frederick county, Md., furnished the kitchen in her home with modern equipment paid for with prize money awarded for her canning exhibits. Two girls in Kankakee, county, Ill., papered and painted their home with club profits. Club work encourages thrift, and gives the boys and girls an opportunity to convert some of their spare time into money.

Tick Fight Hotter Next Month.

Next month, July, probably will be the biggest month of the year in the campaign to drive the cattle-fever tick from the South. Past July always have marked the apex of the season's work, at least so far as the number of cattle "dipped" is concerned, and the tick-eradication forces of the United States Department of Agriculture and the cooperating state agencies in lining up to present a solid front to the cattle parasite. New records for March and April "dippings" were set this year, and it is believed that May, also, went over the top, although complete reports have not yet been tabulated. Reports from the field indicate that this June will prove to have been the biggest June in the pest-tick campaign. Working up to this climax the tick eradication forces are working to make it the best July on record. After July there may be a decrease in the total number of "dippings" but it is essential that the work be kept up until the parasites are completely reproductively powers of the tick, which are so marked that a few of the parasites are capable of producing a million within a few months. According to the report of the United States Department of Agriculture public sentiment everywhere, among the general public and business men as well as among farmers and livestock owners, is awakening fully to the necessity of ridding the South from the insect enemy that has retarded the development of cattle raising and dairying in this section of the country.

Guard Wheat Against Rats and Mice.

The greatest wheat crop ever produced in America will soon be harvested. Grain elevators will soon become "terrific" treasuries which storing rats and mice will break in to if they can.

Don't feed $2.26 wheat to rats and mice, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Traps, poison, and ratproof construction will stop their raids.

The arch enemy of stored grain are dampness and rodent pests—rats and mice. An elevator with a leaky roof is only a little worse than one allowing free entry to rats and mice. The present price of wheat makes a telling appeal for ratproof construction of wheat containers. Now is the time to order the proper cement or cover them with sheet-iron, and to build new mouseproof granaries of either concrete or galvanized sheet-iron.

Where rats and mice have plenty of food and are unmolested they multiply overwhelmingly. For example in Australia during the late war sacks of wheat stacked in piles awaiting shipment became infested with mice which riddled the sacks and destroyed a large part of the contents before preventive steps were taken. Under such circumstances a like result would inevitably occur in this country. Where it is impracticable to provide tight concrete or sheet-iron coverings, traps should be taken immediately to trap or poison rats and mice in the general vicinity of storage buildings. They should be exterminated till the last bushel is disposed of.

The United States Department of Agriculture furnishes plans and bills of materials for rat proof granaries and in its Farmers' bulletin 896 described various methods of destroying rats and mice. These publications may be had free on application.

How to Overcome Poverty.

Bixby in Lincoln Journal: On the very title page of the advance sheet of their very excellent magazine, Elizabeth and William Towne, editors, ask if we would like to know: "How to overcome poverty? Why you are unhappy in your work. How to keep your What talking abundance does for you. You know it, Elizabeth, and here is to inform you that we have sought the solution of the first query for the better part of sixty years, and while we have amassed a consistent theory, it has never worked out in actual practice. If ever fortunate enough to get a dollar ahead, along has come a profiteer, a plain man and taken it away from us. So that overcoming poverty has become a cruel joke, and it isn't on the other fellow. The only time, Elizabeth, when we are unhappy in our work is when we lack strength to carry it forward swiftly and efficiently. Taking it right home to yourself, did you ever try to compose a few undying verses after a night of wakefulness from indigestion? There is a yawning space to be filled. Then you sit at a revolving chair, with your mind revolving faster than the chair and getting no farther on the way to theme or the rhythmical elucidation of it. As easy for a boy to be happy pulling weeds when there is a circus in town. Again, Elizabeth, youth and beauty and how to preserve it is a live topic always. There was once a time, to make the matter a personal one, when bearing freckles, red hair and a nose that was sunburnt continually, we were about as comely as anyone could be and look that way. On the wedding day, forty-one years ago, what will youth, animation, a fresh hair-cut, a clean shave and a quantity of talcum powder, we turned a face to the world, and looked into eyes that looked into ours, with less timidity and trepidation than might have been expected. Mollie said we "looked good" to her, but we remember that when she said it she was looking the other way. It is that pass—the years certainly have done so since that auspicious occasion, and let us boldly face the music of today. The hair once red is white, and not enough of it to brag about. The freckles have disappeared, leaving a suspicious high color over a vast expanse of slowly furrowing face. The lustre of these blue orbs is sadly lacking, and there be wrinkles reaching from the outer corners toward the ears like chicken tracks. Now when we shave, comb our hair, waste a lot of powder, and question Mollie, if we are not a "dream of loveliness," we are referred to the mirror and the snapper is a heartless negative. As to talking abundance, Elizabeth, well, you could hardly speak of it as "cheap talk," but it won't buy us anything. We once knew the head of an interesting family who did little else but talk abundance, while his neighbors were hard at work. He died in the poor house.

Model "B" 1 1/2-Ton Worm Drive Motor Truck

In the early days of the motor truck, the burden of its advertising was "TRUCK versus HORSE." Today the enlightened business man no longer questions which of the two is the better for his hauling. He now figures which of the various makes of motor trucks offer him the most for his money and the greatest profit in operation.

He has learned that the pleasure car chassis with a commercial body on it is not fit for the job of transportation any more than a go-cart would answer the purpose of a wheelbarrow. He knows, now, that profitable transportation requires a motor truck that is a motor truck from the ground up.

That is the sort of a motor truck we have built in the Model "B" 1 1/2-ton D-E worm drive. Like the rest of the D-E line it was built for hard and exacting service—to yield the greatest revenue possible that can be derived from a motor truck.

The Telephone Company Must Earn Something

This company has no "watered stock." A dollar has been invested in the property of the company for every dollar's worth of securities issued.

More than 130,000 men and women are stockholders in the Bell System.

If the money invested in our business did not earn a reasonable return, the owners of our securities would get rid of them and invest their money elsewhere.

And if this company did not earn enough so that our present investors would keep their holdings, it would be impossible to sell additional securities.

The result would be that we could make no improvements or extensions of any kind.

THE McCORMICK No. 6

Is not a McCormick No. 4 mower made over with a new mower with all the good features of the No. 4 embodied with many improvements added.

NOTICE THESE GOOD POINTS

The outside end of the countershaft is kept in place by washers and cotter pins. This construction makes it possible to make an adjustment on the countershaft in a few minutes. You will notice also that the adjustments are made from the outside of bearings, which is a desirable feature.

FLEXIBLE GAG ARRANGEMENT

To do good work under all conditions, in rough meadows as well as smooth, a mower must have a flexible gag arrangement. It must be possible to raise the bar reasonably high without increasing the angle between the pitman and knife.

The McCormick No. 6 is an improvement over most mowers in this respect. The cutter bar can be raised to the first notch, and if necessary to the second notch while the machine is in operation. The cutter bar has the same angle in both positions in relation to pitman and coupling bar. You will appreciate this extra high line in rough, stony, or stumpy ground, or in going across a newly cut field and crossing windrows.

McCORMICK SELF DUMP RAKE

The McCormick self dump rake will meet your requirements under all conditions. It has gained a reputation in every locality for durability and ease of operation. It dumps quickly, and the teeth return to the ground close to the windrow. As the rake flips, the cleaner floats above and retard the hay so that it does not roll into a roppy form.

WHEELS INTERCHANGE

The wheels of the McCormick rake interchange so that when one side of the racket is worn the wheels can be reversed, giving practically the wear of two rake wheels in one. The wheels have staggered spokes and heavy steel tires. They are large and keep the rake running smoothly when on rough ground. The inside racket is covered with a shield which prevents the hay from winding or interfering with the tripping device.

Mid-Year Trade Conditions.
 Sioux City Journal: Trade at the mid-year midpoint continues to show an increasing firmness. A survey of conditions this week must include the effects of many labor disturbances through which the country has passed and the readjustment of conditions to the new wage rates which have been established. Naturally this readjustment must check development, but on the whole the tendency to expand is more pronounced than before the solution of the labor troubles was attempted. As the gains are more extensive than the losses, it is evident that the advance in business conditions would have been extremely good had there been no abnormal checks like those which resulted from wage adjustments.
 Money seeks prospective investment and this prospective investment already is in evidence. It is giving firmness and confidence to business which desires to expand and to new-business which desires to start.
 Lifting the export embargo on gold has resulted in an outflow of the metal into foreign trade channels, notably into South American countries, which indicates a return to present trade conditions abroad. The embargo was an artificial war restriction on gold circulation, so that the outflow of gold means more readjustment of the metal balances than the settlement of trade balances.
 Assurance of higher wages and many of the trades have resulted in increased retail buying. For several months labor was uncertain of the future. If former wages remained economy would be essential. When scales were increased a larger purchasing fund was available and the results appeared in increased retail of comparative necessities. Wholesale and jobbing figures show a decline traceable to midsummer slack orders. Preparations are under way in both these classes of trade to meet a heavy demand for fall and winter supplies.
 Labor is being cared for without difficulty at this time, the agricultural regions calling for large supplies of help. The building enterprises are absorbing a large amount while industries are gradually adding to their working forces.

NEW TANLAC PLANT IS NOW COMPLETED
Magnificent New Laboratory Has Daily Capacity of 36,000 Bottles.
 What is said to be one of the largest pharmaceutical laboratories in the United States has been completed at Dayton, Ohio, for the manufacture of Tanlac, the well-known medicine, which according to recent reports is now having the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world.
 The erection of the new plant was made necessary by the rapid growth of the business. The older plant was found to be wholly inadequate to supply the ever-increasing demand which at the present rate of sale will amount to more than five million bottles for the present year alone.
 By the erection of this plant the manufacturers of Tanlac are giving to the world just one more evidence of the remarkable growth and expansion of their business, and of their absolute confidence in its future.
 This announcement will be read with interest not only by the many thousands of Tanlac agents scattered throughout every state of the Union and throughout Canada, but by the millions who have used it beneficially as well.
 The new building occupies 60,000 square feet of floor space. It is six stories in height, practically fireproof throughout, and is of striking architectural design. It also has a large number of employees wearing uniforms, which they are required to change daily. The main offices on the first floor are all fitted in Carter marble and mahogany.
 Visitors to the laboratories are strongly impressed with the extremely modern character of the equipment. Everything is well planned and splendidly arranged to promote systematic and rapid production.
 The very latest machinery and devices known to invention and pharmaceutical science are here used.
 The interior throughout is finished in spotless white, and all of the large number of employees wear white uniforms, which they are required to change daily. The main offices on the first floor are all fitted in Carter marble and mahogany.
 The entire process of manufacture is conducted under absolutely sanitary conditions. Even the bottles made expressly to contain Tanlac are washed and sterilized electrically by the ultra violet ray process. They are then filled with automatic machinery and the finished product is therefore never touched by human hands.
 When Tanlac was introduced into Canada it rapidly repeated itself, and the demand which had been created in the United States was quickly duplicated in the Dominion Provinces. As a result, it was recently found necessary to establish another Tanlac laboratory at Windsor, Canada, which is on a somewhat smaller scale than the plant at Dayton, but is no less moderately equipped.
 These new facilities give a daily capacity of 36,000 bottles, but as Tanlac is rapidly being introduced into foreign countries it's probably only a question of a few years before even larger facilities will become necessary.
 While the manufacturers are necessarily working for capacity production, it is a fundamental rule of the Tanlac laboratories that the quality of the medicine shall never be sacrificed to a secure quantity output.

 Uniform quality is guaranteed by a series of careful inspections by expert chemists, from the time the roots, herbs, and barks are received in their rough state from all parts of the globe until their medicinal properties have been extracted by the most approved processes. The finished medicine is then bottled, labeled, and shipped out to the tens of thousands of druggists throughout the United States and Canada, to supply a demand never before equalled for this or any other medicine.
 The executive sales offices are located in Atlanta, Georgia, and occupy almost an entire floor of the Fourth National bank building of that city.

 Tanlac is sold in Wayne.

—is our state. Its present constitution was written in 1875, but during the forty-four years that have elapsed the state has developed to a degree that demands a new and revised constitution.

¶ All statutes, all laws are based upon the constitution. Hence the necessity of having a broad document. That will be possible only if broad men sit in the convention; men who are actuated by patriotic intelligence rather than class prejudice.

¶ Farmers and bankers, doctors and lawyers, preachers and teachers, carpenters and merchants, newspapermen and capitalists—intelligent men from every walk of life should be represented in the convention.
