A severe hail storm did some damage in the vicinity of Bloomfield Tuesday.

Court Clerk Charles Reynolds spent Sunday with his parents at Fullerton.

A fine eight and a half pound boy arrived Sunday at the home of Geo. Perwilder.

E. R. Sarber left for North Dakota on Monday in company with a few landseekers.

P. F. Dmahaker of Hartington, was a Wayne visitor a few days the past week at the home of his father-in-law, south of the city.

Mrs. R. R. Smith went to Denver one day last week, accompanying her father, Mr. Morrison, of Coleridge, who was too feeble to go alone.

Several building improvements are being made most of them in the business section. Wm. Piepnitz is soon to begin the erection of a new building. Frank Kruger, tearing down his old frame building on the west side of Main street and will erect a one-story brick building. The two Johns have commenced the building of a twenty-foot addition to their store room. The building adjoining the Boyd is being fitted up for a drug store.

From Ponca Journal August 3, 1883:

The teacher employed to officiate as principal of the Ponca school, is Mr. Goodrich of Waverly, Ia. He is to have a salary of $1200 per year. The next term of school will commence about the 30th of September.

A work train has been put on the Ponca branch and is now grading and repairing the line between Colburn and Jackson. It is likely the track will be put in first-class shape to this place.

The county judge tells us that the man who lately wished to sell back to him a second-hand marriage license was not a resident of Ponca as we stated last week, but lives in Dakota county.

The Cedar County Nonpareil says that a railroad man who travels away from the country constantly, volunteers the information that the old settled counties of southeastern Dakota and contiguous Nebraska counties, will soon receive an influx of new population and capital which will give them a new boom. He says the unfolding crops of this section are attracting general attention and that the uniformly large yield and excellence of its product are subjects of much comment in places where a good reputation does the most good.

Knowledge Is Power.
 Orison Sweet Matten: There never was a time in the history of the world when education was worth more than it is today, when added knowledge gives so much power. Competition has become so keen, life so strenuous, that the young man or young woman who would succeed in business, in a profession, in any vocation, needs to be armed with every particle of mental culture possible. The greatest service you can do yourself is to raise your own value by developing your powers to their maximum.

Honey as a Food

Once upon a time, honey was the principal sweet, and it was one of the items sent as a propitiatory offering by Jacob to his unrecognized son, the chief ruler of Egypt, 3,000 year before the first sugar refinery was built.

Health

The health of the present generation would be greatly benefited if more honey and less sugar were consumed. The almost universal craving for sweets of some kind shows that the system demands food of this kind, but the excessive use of sugar and candy brings in its train a long list of ills. Prof. A. J. Cook of Claremont, Calif., says: "If sugar is absorbed without change, it will be removed by the kidneys and may result in their breakdown. There can be no doubt but that in eating honey our digestive machinery is saved work that it would have to perform if we ate cane sugar. We all know how children long for candy. Children should be given all the honey at each meal time that they will eat. It is safer and will largely do away with the inordinate longing for candy and other sweets."

Dr. Nuttall, a physician of the Pacific Medical Institute, Los Angeles, Calif., has stated that honey is a most valuable food, and that he is recommending it to patients suffering from impaired digestion. Dr. Talmadge of Salt Lake City, Utah, finds honey is readily absorbed even by those whose digestion is very weak. Dr. J. H. Kellogg, Battle Creek, Mich., endorsed honey as the best form of sweet. In fact, all doctors and physicians who have made a study of honey as compared to sugars or syrups, strongly recommend its use.

My sweet clover honey is delicious. It is ripened on the hives by the bees until it is thick, heavy and rich. This ripening is a slow but interesting process of which I may tell you more later, but which the beekeeper must know and learn of by years of study and observation in order to know when the ripening has reached the exact stage necessary to produce a product of such excellence as I am now offering to the people of Wayne and vicinity.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

MY ICELAND.
Oh, Iceland, fair Iceland, thy dear old childhood home, I'd like to sail to you again, across the waste of foam. In dream I see my happy home, my home of long ago, where all the farmers planted ice, and all they reaped was snow. I often wonder where the ice has gone. I was reared, for lands that sizzle in the sun, where men are scorched and seared; and I would give my halcyon to be upon your shores, to see the musk ox eating ice, and hear the walrus roar. I used to kick, for snow, because the kitchen fire would freeze and one must use a crosscut saw to slice the bread and cheese; and often, lacking proper pride, I'd wring my hands and weep, because I had to travel paths through drifts six furlongs deep. But time has shown me what is what, and also which is which, and if I had things sometimes new I'd think that I was rich. Oh, Iceland, when my jaded back is sore with prickly heat, I'd like to tread your frozen shore, and tread in your sleet! Oh, Iceland, when my nose is pecked by solar glow and glare, I'd like to drive aboard your lanes, behind a polar bear! Oh, Iceland is the fairest land that mortal ever saw; she has a snowstorm every day, and never has a thaw.

THE WHEAT FIELD.
I had a little field of heat, five acres and a third, through winter storms and springtime heat my vigils were absurd. I thought the climate should be run with my small field in view, with just enough of wind and sun, and timely rain and dew. In other fields of great extent the wheat of neighbors waved, and I'd worry worth a cent if they were lost or saved. The only wheat in all the land for which I cared a whoop was that, by idle ephelaps fanned before my humble cot, I trembled when the sky was bright, for fear a drought would come; and clouds would fill me with afflict, lest wild tornadoes burn. I kicked if there was too much rain, and jawed the brooding sky, and I would grudge a plain plain day when hot and dry. I ragged the wind in legal terms when it came from the west; I dreamed of bugs and army worms and every other pest. My wheat is harvested at last, it lived through rust and blight, survived the torren and the blast, and filled my all right. And I'd have had as big a crop if I had let things slide if I had raised no yelping yawn, and had not wept or signed. I worried over it fast to my regret, and a hundred years, and now I hobble on a crutch, and see how vain were fears.

SEASONABLE SONG.
I like to talk of Christmas time, along in mid-July; I like to speak of cold and rime, snow falling from the sky. I like to tell of Santa Claus, the dearest fake that ever was, the most alluring guy. I seem to see the selected stores, where eager shoppers swarm, and though out of a temper, roars, in there it's bright and warm; and I behold the weary clerk who sits old Santa and his work and clamor for reform. I forget the summer heat, the weather that's a crime, while dreaming of the crowded street at merry Christmas time. I see the wreaths of evergreen; with holly berries strewn between, and hear the glad strains of the minuet. The angels by winds are rolled across the wintry sky; and tingling shoppers cuss the cold and wish it were July; "Ah, me!" they sigh, "how fine 'twould be to sit beneath a steaming tree, and simmer, hake and fry!" I see the children with their sleds upon the gleaming snow, and soon, to divers little beds in ecstasy they'll go, to dream of Kringle and his pack, of reindeer on their shining track, fine presents to bestow. And dreaming thus of Christmas day, the anguish in me dies; if dreams will drive one's grief away, I hold that dreams are wise, and I foot slanders at the sun, and smile a few, and take a gun, and shoot a dozen flies.

IN THE WOODS.
I wandered today in the wonderful woods, a forest majestic and grand, where solitude, silence, and similar goods are spread with a liberal hand. Afar from the hurry and noise of the town I journeyed through alleys of pines. I thought 'twould inspire me to sit myself down and write you some soul-searching lines. The forest is noble, impressive and sad, as poets have wept and wailed; but I was refused to get back to the grad, and sit in a room that is screened. The forest is full of unusual bugs, which in unusual ways, and I am annoying my system with drugs, to soften the swellings they raise. The flies, mosquitoes are larger than men; they're hungry and active and mean; the spots where they bite me are looking like wens, and I am a sight to be seen. The woods are the homes of multivolt ants, which thrive in the shade of the trees; they crawl up inside of the wanderer's pants, and eat all the flesh from his knees. The town has its faults; it is wild for the cash, it's swarming with callous-souled men; but if you would me, I'll take you to the brush, I say to you, "Never again!"

THE SALESMAN.
If a salesman is lukewarm when he boosts the goods he sells, you will never see his form wearing handsome silver bells. Now and then a languid guy comes to sell me books, or trees, or a strip of azure sky, or a swarm of bumble bees. But his coming is in vain, for his manners don't convince; and I tell him, speaking plain, he's a lemon or a quince. Then there comes a sprightly state who is brimming o'er with zeal; he will burble and orate and put up a noble spiel. This enthusiastic gink, this inspired and gaudy guy, ere he's finished, makes me think that his goods are all O. K. He is talking through his fez, dealing bunk, I later guess, but believes in what he says—that's the secret of success. So I buy his wretched chairs, or a large revolving churn, or a span of polar bears, or a lamp that will not burn. If a salesman cannot convince; and I tell him, speaking plain, he's a lemon or a quince. Then there comes a sprightly state who is brimming o'er with zeal; he will burble and orate and put up a noble spiel. This enthusiastic gink, this inspired and gaudy guy, ere he's finished, makes me think that his goods are all O. K. If a salesman cannot convince; and I tell him, speaking plain, he's a lemon or a quince.

FISHING.
I take my baited jointed pole, which costs me quite a pretty roil, and hic me to a sylvan nook, infested by a babbling brook, and there I sit, patient, court, and fish, and fish, and fish for trout. Oh, my equipment's out of sight, in each detail exactly right. Through Watson's I got my outfit, and I got it from Hoyle, to see just what I ought to buy, what kind of bait, what sort of fly, my reel and stirrers and my line inwrought, and vasty fine. I bought my raiment at a shop where sporting vestments are on top. And so I sit and fish and fish, and think of what a princely dish will have at home when I return, with all the troutlets in the burn. But when at last I homeward tread, I think of what a princely dish I have a gronch, a temper sore, my costly rig, and nothing more. And meanwhile Johnson's treckled lad (I never had a chance to see it) is burdened with a string of trout that weighs a ton, or thereabout. He caught them with a pole of pine to which was tied a streamer line, and agony my voice I lift, and ask you, whither do we drift? There's something wrong with congress, sirs, when anything like this occurs.

BOY'S TROUBLE COST MOTHER THOUSANDS
Suffered Since He Was Two Years Old—Gains 16 Pounds on Tanlac
—Now Well and Strong—
"My nephew, James Hogan, who is fifteen years of age, has gained sixteen pounds on Tanlac and is now a robust, happy boy after thirteen years of awful suffering," said Miss Maggie Goldsmith, 289 Henry Ave., Memphis, Tenn. Miss Goldsmith has been connected with the Joe L. Dillathorne Seed Co. of that city for twenty-seven years and is a stockholder and director in the company.
"Ever since James was two years old," continued Miss Goldsmith, "he has been afflicted with stomach trouble. Two or three hours after eating, especially the evening meal, he would begin to complain of severe pains in his stomach, which would increase until he would go into convulsions. These spells would come on five or six times a month and last about thirty minutes and he would be unconscious for an hour. Some said he had indigestion and others said it was vertigo. His condition kept him down to almost a skeleton and it was pitiful to see how he suffered.
"His mother took him to St. Louis, and many other places for treatment, and we spent thousands of dollars trying to find some relief for him but it was all to no avail."
"But all that awful load of anxiety and worry has been lifted. James is now a well and happy boy and is going to school, and a few bottles of Tanlac did it. He always complained of having to take other medicines, but he seemed to like Tanlac and since taking five bottles he is sixteen pounds heavier and doesn't look like the same boy. He wants to eat all the time and can eat anything without it hurting him. It makes us rejoice to see James well and stout and enjoying life like other boys. We are not looking for notoriety, but for the sake of suffering humanity, we are willing to give our unqualified endorsement for Tanlac."

Enthusiasm Over the Crop Prospects in Eastern Colorado Unbounded

People Returning From Kit Carson County are Jubilant Over the Season's Yield

THE men who have just returned from Burlington, Colorado, have nothing but the highest praise for the crops now maturing in that country. Growing corn rivals that of northeastern Nebraska. The small grain is ready for harvest and more over the heads are full and in perfect condition. The idea of eastern Colorado as a fruit country is coming true. Samples of cherries, apples, plums and apricots have been shown here and are of excellent quality to the surprise of many people.

An Inexcusable Blunder.
New York World: Because of the refusal of congress to grant adequate funds for the maintenance of the air service of the army, Secretary Baker has no choice but virtually to disband it. There are 4,219 officers still in the service, of whom only 234 who are officers of the regular army, can be retained after September 30. This will leave only enough to officer three squadrons of airplanes if every officer is assigned to that duty, or only enough for one squadron if the administration of the air service is committed to an adequate number of officers.

What congress has done is deliberately to destroy an organization built up at great pains and expense and point to its hasty action as wise.

WORKING HARM TO PEOPLE

Petitions Declare That Law Vetoed Should be Passed.

Omaha Bee: Charging that the daylight-saving law which President Wilson has twice refused to repeal is working harm to the children and mothers of America, petitions are being circulated in Omaha, Nebraska and other states, urging the president and congress to repeal the law immediately.

Mrs. Grace J. Holmes, 5102 Capitol avenue, is the originator of the movement.

Says Harms Children.

"I observed the harmful effect on my own children first," said Mrs. Holmes. "Their physical health and nervous systems have been seriously affected by the curtailment of their hours of sleep. For, while we are able to order children to bed while it is still light, we cannot force them to go to sleep. My children have lost three pounds each on weight and I notice a decided increase in nervousness and irritability which I can ascribe to no other cause. Teachers in the schools tell me the same thing and that 100 mothers who have signed the petition that I myself am circulating, say they have noticed the same symptoms in their children during the period of operation of the law. And there is an added strain on the already overburdened mothers.

Other Women Active.

Mrs. Holmes has enlisted the aid of scores of other women in Omaha all of whom are set against the daylight saving law and have noticed its bad effects on their children.

"These women have done an enormous amount of work already and have made a national reputation for the movement. They have mailed petitions to friends in all parts of the country and these are now being circulated in nearly every state of the union.

As fast as sheets of petitions are filled they will be mailed to the United States senators in Washington. Mrs. Holmes and her associates believe that when the senators see this indication of the will of millions of their countrymen the daylight saving law will be repealed. Among the Omaha women who are working are: Mrs. F. L. Prawl, 1346 H. Harvey street; Mrs. George Mickie, 3351 Harvey street; Mrs. Sylvia Franklin, Mrs. Joseph Lawrence, Mrs. Otto Johnson, Mrs. W. M. Davenport, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. L. A. Smith, Miss Catherine Worley.

Physicians Oppose Law.

Mrs. Holmes has talked to a number of physicians including leading specialists in children's diseases and she says they are unanimous in stating that the law has an injurious effect on children. Among the doctors she consulted are: Dr. J. A. Henke, Dr. H. M. McClanahan, Dr. Frederick Bach, and Dr. S. M. One mother took her child out of school this spring because of the effect of the daylight saving law was such that the child was nervous, was bolting its food in the morning to get to school on time and was losing weight alarmingly, said Mrs. Holmes. "We noticed the difference in the way our children got along at school before the clocks were set ahead and after they were set ahead."

The petitions being circulated are being signed chiefly by women. They are urged especially for women, though no man who wants to sign is prohibited from doing so.

Appreciation.

The following letter of appreciation has been received from Carlos H. Stone of the International Christian Association:

July 11, 1919. Mr. A. R. Davis, Wayne, Nebraska.

Dear Mr. Davis: Mr. Charles Ellis Closson of Carroll, Neb., who has been in the overseas service of the Y. M. C. A. since September, 1918, has just returned. He made a very excellent record as is indicated by the following paragraph from a letter which has been received from our divisional secretary:

This is to certify that Charles E. Closson, hereinafter connected with the Cinema and Transportation departments of the 4th division Y. M. C. A., is released to take sick leave and to return to his home in America for permanent release. Mr. Closson's service to the Y. M. C. A. has been of an exceedingly faithful character. While in the service he was on the front, his courageous driving enabled many outfits to be in possession of supplies and he has brought over to the front the most armistice a willing spirit and intelligent loyalty to the program of the association.

Now that I am sure, as a friend of Mr. Closson, he glad to know of his fine work. We hope you will pass this information on to others, and that his friends will send our cordial appreciation of the service he has rendered. Yours very sincerely, Carlos H. Stone.

How to Test Your Battery.

Many motorists know that it is necessary to use a hydrometer syringe to test a storage battery, but they do not always know just how to use it. It is not hard to learn and it is really worth while if a man would save himself from a battery repair bill.

Through the courtesy of Mr. J. A. Gurnon, the local Willard storage battery dealer, we are able to publish the instructions on the use of a hydrometer as sent out by the Willard Storage Battery company.

The hydrometer has a scale graduated in the upper part of the tube ranging from 1.150 to 1.300 with 100 graduations and reads correctly at 70 degrees Fahrenheit. A fully charged cell should read about 1.280 and a completely discharged cell should read about 1.150 specific gravity, both of which are marked by a red line on the scale.

The hydrometer test should be made before distilled water is added. If distilled water is added and then the test is made, the reading will not be correct.

Make the test as follows:

1. Remove vent plug from top of cell.
2. Force the air out of the hydrometer syringe by squeezing the rubber bulb.
3. Insert rubber tube through the vent plug hole into the electrolyte, or battery solution.
4. Release the bulb and draw up sufficiently electrolyte into the glass tube to float the hydrometer.
5. See that the hydrometer floats freely touching neither top, bottom or sides.
6. Move the hydrometer syringe so that the level of the electrolyte in the glass tube is on the level of the eye.
7. Read the point on the hydrometer scale which appears level with the top of the electrolyte.
8. Then force the electrolyte back into the cell from which it was removed.

It is advisable to rinse out the hydrometer syringe with water as the electrolyte will in time destroy the containing case. In some cars the battery is so placed that it is difficult or impossible to hold the syringe in an upright position over the battery. Under such circumstances, pinch the rubber tube with the left hand so that the battery solution will not run out of the hydrometer. Then lift the hydrometer out and away from the car and hold it upright to take the reading. Be careful not to release the rubber tube until it is again placed over the hole in the top of the cell.

We will be glad at any time, said Mr. J. A. Gurnon of the Willard Service Station, "to show any car owner just how to take a hydrometer reading of his battery or we will be glad to do it ourselves for him if he will call."

Recognizes a Fact.

New York World: Nobody pretends that the Japanese government has shown great generosity in the matter of Shantung, but at worst the treaty merely recognizes an accomplished fact. Japan was already in Shantung, and her rights there were identical with our own rights in Fort J. She had driven the Germans out and taken over the German possessions precisely as we drove the Spaniards out of Porto Rico. It was a military procedure. What is more, it was a military procedure that exerted an enormous influence upon winning of the war for it shattered the German power in the far east.

Want Jobs in Nebraska.

Lincoln, Neb., July 19.—Between five and six thousand Montana homesteaders and farmers are looking for work in other states according to a letter received by R. E. Holland, county agent, from the Montana Agricultural college extension division. A survey is being made of the farm bureaus in twenty drought-stricken counties and Nebraska farmers will soon be available about men who desire work during the latter part of the summer, the fall and winter.

Mr. Holland is asked to lay the situation before the Nebraska farm bureau. Many of the men are willing to come to Nebraska and work on farms, and as they are farmers themselves, will make first class hands. They will be available for staking and late threshing for general farming in August and September, and for corn husking. Several hundred Wyoming farmers came to Nebraska to help in the harvest and they have been of material aid in relieving the labor shortage in western Nebraska, according to Mr. Holland.

Utah is also suffering from drought according to a letter from the Utah college of Agriculture. The assistance of other states is asked in finding a market for the cattle, sheep and other stock of the state. Especially is there need of a market for horses. Utah having thousands of head which will starve if not taken care of soon.

ENJOY "DADDY LONG LEGS"

Large Audiences. See-Mary Pickford in Screen Production.

The Mary Pickford film, "Daddy Long Legs," shown at the Crystal theater in Wayne Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evenings of last week attracted large crowds. This picture, by many of those who saw it, was awarded first place among all pictures they had seen. Officers ranked it among the best and rightly so. For this picture scene changing from humor to pathos charmed. The story throughout was well acted and the film runs that the infant, Judy Abbott (Mary Pickford) was found in an ash barrel, christened and taken into the orphanage at the time when she finds that her Daddy Long Legs who has provided the means for her to go through school is the Joseph Pendleton whom she loves. The incidents of the story were enlivened by the clever and mirth provoking titles thrown on the screen. It is hoped that other pictures of such high quality will be shown here often in the future. The large attendance all three nights proves that this is the kind of a picture the people of Wayne and vicinity desire.

The Automobile Law.

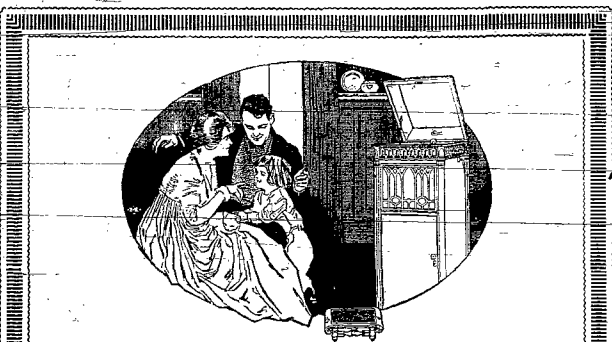

Lincoln, July 23.—Automobile dealers are liable to find themselves in a great deal of trouble if they do not cease using their dealers' numbers for personal use. The new automobile law strictly prohibits a dealer from using his dealer's license on cars which are not being demonstrated. He must continue the use of the number to cars where he is demonstrating the car for sale purposes.

It has come to the attention of the automobile department that the law is being broken all over the country. It is no infrequent thing to see a dealer's number on a Sunday or in the evening on several cars being used purely for pleasure and this must cease, according to State Engineer Johnson.

Discussing the law State Engineer Johnson says: "In passing house bill 299 at the 1919 session of the legislature, it was the intention of the men drafting the bill, also the members of the legislature, that all dealers and car users should pay the same for all classes of cars, excepting those cars used by dealers for demonstrating purposes only."

Intent of Law Clear.
"If a dealer has a private car for himself and family, or has a separate truck, he would pay the same tax as should pay the same for his business man, and the purpose and intent of this law seems to be very clear."

Section 19 states that each manufacturer or dealer doing business in the state, may register one motor vehicle in each class manufactured and used for sale. The law provides many vehicles in the same class as he has to demonstrate. Section 19 also provides that a purchaser may keep a dealer's registration number for a period not exceeding 10 days. It also provides that the section does not refer or apply to motor ve-

Let Music Brighten the Lives of Your Children

AFTER all, it's not the school training, but the home atmosphere which molds the child. Children brought up in a cultured home betray that fact during their entire lives. It leaves a lasting imprint.

A home with any claim to culture is a home in which good music is enjoyed and understood. A child whose interest in music is fostered will become a man or woman who possesses a resource which makes for lasting happiness. You want to give your children every advantage. Section 20 provides that all electrically driven vehicles shall constitute a class; all vehicles propelled by steam, shall constitute a class; all vehicles propelled by gas explosive weighing less than 4,000 pounds a class; all cars and trucks or more than 4,000 pounds a class. Section 20 also provides that a dealer shall comply in all other respects with the provisions of the act.

AGRICULTURE NOTES.

Montana Stock Moved.
Cut over and burned over lands in northern Minnesota are being utilized for the pasturing of Montana live stock, reports a representative of the United States department of agriculture. About 13,000 sheep have been moved to Minnesota, as drought has made the Montana pastures unsuitable for stocking to capacity. Arrangements have been made between Montana stockmen and owners of cut over lands in Minnesota to continue this pasturing plan, idle land thereby being used for profitable livestock production.

Diseases Attack Kansas Potatoes.
Field experts of the United States department of agriculture report that recurrent blackleg in many Kansas potato fields. At Muncie, Kan., one field showed 18 per cent blackleg injury, as well as 30 per cent injury from the blight. At Turner and De Soto 5 to 10 per cent injury from blackleg was also found. Near Topeka a 10-acre field planted with 18,000 seed potatoes in another 60-acre field of untreated seed was found to have 5 to 10 per cent injury from blackleg. Despite these diseases, it is estimated that the Topeka district will average close to 250 bushels of potatoes to the acre, while in some fields the crop may reach the 300-bushel mark.

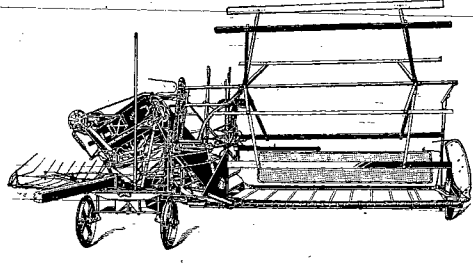

Better Breeding—More Meat.
Use of standard bred fowls in east Tennessee has increased the average weight of poultry in that section 25 per cent, says the statement of a local poultry buyer made to a specialist of the United States department of agriculture, which cooperates with the state agricultural college in the work. Better breeding has the same beneficial effect on poultry as on larger livestock. It means more meat, more profits, more satisfaction to the breeder.

The sugar season is well advanced with a forecast of production of about 1,108,000 short tons, made by the bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture, or about 73,500 tons more than the average of the preceding six years, during which time the total of the two crops of beet and cane sugar has slightly exceeded 1,000,000 tons every year except 1914-15.

The beet sugar forecast for this year is higher than the record crop of 1915-16 by nearly 75,000 tons, and is above the average of the preceding six years by about 169,000 tons, but the cane sugar crop of this year is forecast at only 159,000 tons, compared with which is the average of about 254,500 tons of the preceding six years. During many years the cane-sugar crop of only 1915-16 has been lower and of only 1912-13 has been nearly as small. The low prospect of this year's crop, at the date of July 1, are due to a wet, cool spring and to a somewhat low acreage. In recent years cane sugar has usually been about one-quarter of the total of cane and beet sugar produced in contiguous United States, but this year the prospect is that it will be only about one-fifth of the total. The area planted to sugar beets this year is the largest one on record, and it is estimated, reaches nearly 400,000 acres, or 240,000 acres more than last year and 83,800 acres more than the largest previous area in 1912. The condition of the crop July 1 was low, on account of adverse weather conditions.

McCormick Harvesting Tools The Best

The McCormick Binder Saves Down and Tangled Grain

When it comes to cutting extremely short grain, or grain that is down tangled, and lodged, as yours often is, the binder must have exceptionally rigid reel with a wide range of adjustment.

The Reel on the McCormick Binder can be adjusted very short grain, so that the operator can force short grain, or grain that is lodged and tangled, on to the platform canvas. There is never any accumulation of grain in front of the cutter bar. No matter how badly the grain is down, the McCormick binder picks it all and binds it all.

It is the unfavorable season that tries the worth of a binder. The McCormick stands the test. Come in and let's talk it over.

McCormick Elevator Turns the Trick

Did you ever go into a field of grain where one side was tall, heavy, and perhaps lodged? Then on the other side find the stand thin, short, and over-ripe? It's a pretty hard matter to set your machine so that it will take care of such conditions without loss from shelling or without clogging, isn't it? Here is where a McCormick binder proves its true worth.

The McCormick Has an Elevator that Floats at Four Points

This means that if the grain is thick, tangled and matted, the upper elevator will expand to allow the increased volume to pass through, and then drop back to its original position for short, thin grain. There are no changes or adjustments to make—the movement is entirely automatic. Come in and see how simple this valuable feature is.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running, itching, or watery discharge, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and this tube cannot be taken out. The only way to cure deafness is to use Chamberlain's Tablets. They will move the bowels, strengthen the digestion and give you a chance to realize the real joy of living. Try it—Adv.

Business Moves Forward.

Sioux City Journal: The steady advances of trade and industry which have marked the last few weeks go forward. But there have been some checks in both which have been serious handicaps on the crop, but which have not been realized. Crops have fallen below former estimates. Rust, drought, and other seasonal elements which have not yet manifested themselves every year are cutting down anticipations of gross yields. Further reductions from the present condition must be expected until the crop is in the bins. But as the former estimates were entirely speculative, depreciation cannot be regarded as being largely an anticipated depression. They are reductions in anticipations only. However, they have a depressing effect on trade, because trade is based largely on anticipated purchasing power. There will be sufficient yields, taken as a whole, to provide abundant retail buying capacity for the new crop. The conditions are so serious as to reduce future business to the basis of necessities, but they are small in area and many markets exist north of the Missouri, where drought has compelled stockmen to ship their herds to other states to be finished. But Montana's diversified industries will keep a fair balance on trade conditions in the state as a whole.

A serious setback to the commercial prosperity of the near future is the strike of labor employed in shipping. Shipping in northern Atlantic ports is practically at a standstill. Insurrectionary difficulties are feared, should the trouble spread. Such a tieup at a time when American commerce is bending its energies to the new opportunities which peace developments have made possible checks the whole system and reacts upon industry by placing a hazard upon the country, many supplies may be delivered to foreign buyers.

The lockout in the building trades in Chicago, while not affecting the entire country, may be the beginning of a wider disturbance in this line which will seriously disturb the present construction program, admittedly the largest the country has ever witnessed.

The payment of an installment on Victory bonds last week brought into circulation a large volume of cash which has been in savings deposits and in deposits subject to check, but not actually in authorized circulation. Money continues easy and there is plenty available to finance western harvests, and to move the crops to market.

Offer Dollar an Hour.

Lincoln, Neb., July 19.—Seward county farmers got so excited that they offered harvest help as much as $1 an hour for harvest help, according to a letter from County Agent Rigdon to R. E. Holland, county agent leader. The letter in part follows:—One hundred men have been placed throughout the county's labor situation considerably, and some of our excited farmers are offering back to earth-and-offering 50 cents an hour instead of $1. Most of the men put out the fore part of the week received 60 cents per hour. There was one bunch of twenty-five of these hired in Lincoln for 50 cents, but after reaching Seward and hearing the rumor of 60 to 80 cents refused to go to work for less than 60 to 75 cents. Everyone of these would have been satisfied with 50 cents if we had all stuck to the one price. There will probably be a larger supply of help from now on.

No Camouflage in This Price

Titan 10-20 $1,000
Cash F.O.B. Factory $1,050 on Time

We have reduced the Titan 10-20 price $225. You can now get the world's standard 3-plow tractor for $1,000.

When you buy a TITAN the original price includes:

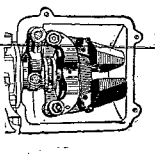

Friction Clutch Pulley

A large, wide friction clutch pulley, made in five sizes, equipped with safety shield, is mounted directly on the crank-shaft of the low-speed, steady Titan engine and delivers the full power of the driven machine. The Titan 10-20 can be quickly backed into the belt because of the location of the pulley and the belt clear the front wheels and other parts of the tractor by a generous margin. It is not necessary to dig holes for the front wheels to get belt clearance. The Titan pulley was not put on as an afterthought. The designers did not overlook it in the first place. Some tractor builders committed this very serious error, due to lack of firm knowledge and experience. To remedy this error, the designers of a small make-built pulley, in one size only, attached it in an awkward place, and charge you $35 to $40 for it. The Titan 10-20 friction clutch pulley is furnished without extra charge.

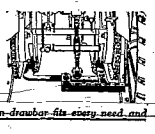

Throttle Governor

Some tractor builders sold without governors because, perhaps, the designers did not know how to use them. Which is the best economy—to pay an operator a salary just to sit on the seat and crank just the fuel to the load variations when engaged in belt work or let a throttle governor do it without extra cost?—it is automatically. The Titan throttle governor saves fuel, prevents gain losses by delivering uniform power to your tires, and increases the life of your engine and driven machines. You get this governor without extra charge.

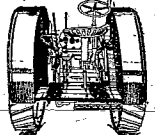

Drawbar

Some tractor builders put a hook and eye affair on the tail end of their tractors—and call it a drawbar! They seem to have overlooked the fact that a farm tractor not only pulls, but hauls. Tractor mowers, hay loaders, grain binders, harrowers, thrashers, etc., each requiring different hitch adjustments. Before they didn't know about these other machines. Look at the Titan drawbar. Note the provision for wide range of adjustment 50H up and 20H down side-ways. The Titan drawbar fits every need and it is furnished without extra cost.

Fenders

The designers of some tractors evidently did not know that the drive wheels throw dirt, dust or mud over the operator and machine unless the fenders are there. The Titan 10-20 has such fenders. They are also a "safety" feature. The state of Michigan has passed a law prohibiting the sale of food-grade tractors. Titan fenders are furnished without the $40 to $50 extra charge made by the "low-price" manufacturers.

Platform

Some tractor designers apparently never sat in a tractor seat ten hours a day or more, jolting over rough fields, so they can't appreciate what a relief it is for the tractor operator to rest himself now and then by standing up, without loss of time. You will appreciate the Titan 10-20 platform that enables you to do this. It is a comfort feature furnished regularly with every Titan 10-20 tractor—no extra cost.

Tools

A complete set of sixteen tools is furnished with every Titan 10-20. These handy tools kit is provided in spite of the fact that Titan 10-20 tractors get out of order less frequently than any other tractors in the world. Some concern concerning these tools really need frequent adjustment and repairs, such as the two or three wrenches. They tell you that their product is so good that it doesn't need adjustment. Do you believe this? As a matter of fact, it can't be true for the same reason they omit the essential features described above—to make a "low-price" tractor. The Titan 10-20 complete tool kit is furnished without extra charge.

THERE is no "joker" in this price. We are not telling you one story in this advertisement and then leaving it for our dealers to break the sad news that the advertised price won't buy a tractor unless you pay extra for a lot of necessary features. The Titan dealer won't charge you extra for "starting and service" before he can deliver the tractor. He won't show you a machine stripped of many essential parts—belt pulley, fenders, platform, governor, drawbar, tools—and then tell you that you can have these things by paying extra for them. The Titan at this advertised price is a complete 3-plow kerosene tractor.

Then there is another thing. We are not experimenting at your expense when we sell you a Titan 10-20. There is real farm machine and tractor manufacturing experience back of it. We have been in the farm machine business for 88 years and have been supplying tractors for 14 years. Not another company in the world knows the farmer's power and machine requirements as the Harvester organization does.

Would you entrust your bank account to a man who had never had any experience in handling money? Will you risk your farm profits in a tractor built by designers whose knowledge of farming is limited to books and a drawing board? It will pay you to think about these things when you buy your tractor.

Starting and Instruction Service

Another "joker" of some tractor concerns is to charge you a large "starting and instruction" fee. This is another way of getting a low price for advertising purposes. But you can't get the tractor without paying this charge. They make it compulsory. The International dealer gives you this service without extra cost to you. You buy a Titan 10-20. Free tractor schools inaugurated in this city benefit Titan purchasers in all parts of the country.

Who Works for You? Why? Do You Carry Insurance? Why Use a Check Book?

Confidence that's the answer. Generally speaking the American people are trustful. The very nature of the government and of business practices tends to teach confidence. Taken into daily process it makes for better society, strong friendships and consequent prosperity.

Resultant upon the war there has grown up a feeling of economic unrest. In Russia the spirit was capitalized by Lenin and Trotsky and is known as Bolshevism. In America it is Socialism. I. W. W. or Anarchy. But it differs in degree, some are disciples of Karl Marx, while some are the willing followers of A. C. Townley, Non-partisan League Dictator.

A prominent physician told a patient that being sorry for one's self is the most difficult disease to cure. The preaching of the Socialist agitator tends to make the prospective victim sorry for himself, breeds discontent and promises a paradise of chaos instead of organized government.

A Constitutional Convention will be held in Nebraska in December. Nominating petitions must be filed for delegates on—election in November. They tell you that their product is so good that it doesn't need adjustment. Do you believe this? As a matter of fact, it can't be true for the same reason they omit the essential features described above—to make a "low-price" tractor. The Titan 10-20 complete tool kit is furnished without extra charge.

There is danger that a dominant minority may control the convention and dictate policies to a subservient majority.

The New Nebraska Federation urges the election of delegates who are broad enough to legislate in the interests of all the citizens of the state; men who are actuated by patriotic intelligence rather than class prejudice.

If you are interested in the purposes of our Federation solidify your membership in any of the three classes—$1, $5 or $25.
