CITY COUNCIL HAS A BUSY SESSION

Following Usual Opening Exercises a Series of Important Matters Disposed of.

ONE NEW SEWER DISTRICT

Purpose of Securing an Outlet for Storm Sewers.

The city council met Tuesday night and had on its agenda a considerable amount of business.

The city council met Tuesday night and had on its agenda a considerable amount of business.

The report of R. H. Jones, city engineer, on the proposed sanitary sewer extension in the north part of town was presented and adopted.

An ordinance was passed for the purpose of condemning a certain property in the south part of the city in the course of constructing a ditch and furnishing an outlet for the same.

The proceedings contemplate determining the damage sustained by householders and properly compensating them.

Tomorrow night is the time for consideration of bids for construction of the proposed storm sewer extension in the north part of town.

Water meters are on the way here and it is expected plenty of bidders will be on hand.

TWO MEN CHARGED WITH TRANSPORTING BOOZE

Sold Liquor to Threshers Near Hoskins—Hearing Sept. 6.

Fred Kane and Ivar Hill were arrested in Norfolk late Saturday night by Sheriff O. C. Lewis on charges of transporting liquor into Wayne county and selling the same to a crowd of threshers near Hoskins.

It is alleged that Kane and Hill sold each defendant case bond of $1,000 for appearance at a hearing in the county court September 6.

On later investigation the threshers are said to have discovered that the liquor contained only two and one-half quarts of liquor.

The threshers are said to have paid $275 for the keg and its contents.

As to Courts.

Editor Herald: I was much interested in Judge Bryant's article in the Herald of last week, especially the part concerning the courts. The history of our country demonstrates the need that the people have to control decisions in some effective way. The development of law has been by no means abreast with the evolution of the problems of our increasingly complex society. Twice presidential election has turned in part on a decision by the supreme court in which five judges were pitted against four. Recently the child labor law governing the conditions in respect to the employment of children in the making of goods for interstate trade was declared unconstitutional, a law depriving an employer to dismiss an employee because he belonged to a labor union was upheld, laws concerning the employment of women in certain industries were held back by the courts for nearly twenty years.

It seems clear that certain types of law should be submitted to only one test which is "Are they needed?" Much legislation having for its purpose the amelioration of social and industrial conditions is of such a nature that lawyers are not in position to judge of its merits. Factory inspectors, social workers, medical and psychological experts know more about such matters than any one else.

It has been suggested that such laws be submitted not to courts, but to commissions whose duty shall be to find the answer to the real question: "Do they or do they not work?"

Judges are men and have a bent of their own. Like all specialists they do not know equally well matters outside their regular province. Why not an exemption of social types of law from legal review? Let the courts pass upon legislation that involves the spirit of our law and commissions upon those that seek new adjustments to complex situations that have arisen in industry?

Sincerely,
J. T. HOUSE.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR BATTERY LAST LONGER

The man who is not used to handling batteries might say that the way to get the most out of a battery is to use it just as little as possible. As a matter of fact, that would be just the wrong way to go at it. Batteries are made to be used and the car can be used regularly and put through some pretty stiff paces and yet last a long time, if the man who uses them only follows a few simple rules of battery care.

Here are a few of the rules:

1. Be sure your ignition switch is closed.
2. Pull out your checker.
3. Push out your clutch pedal so that your starting motor will have to turn only the engine.
4. Then step on your starting button, and your motor ought to take hold. If it does not, then the trouble is to find out where the trouble is and remedy it before you make another trial.

Battery life will be prolonged if these rules are observed all the year round and in all climates.

GMC Model 16 3-4 Ton General

The latest addition to the GMC line of Motor Trucks is the Model 16, successor to the Model 15, 3-4-ton capacity.

Experience has proved that there is a big field for a real, substantial 3-4-ton truck... A substantial truck of this capacity, such as the GMC is, can, perhaps be more nearly called a general purpose truck than any other one capacity.

In most cases this truck exactly fits the needs of the farmer. By reason of pneumatic tires and flexible springs it is capable of much greater speed than heavier trucks.

The GMC Model 15 made a great reputation, but the Model 16 has many improvements over its predecessor.

It has been the policy of the General Motors Truck Company to build the best trucks it knew how to build and then make the price as low as is consistent with the high quality and a fair margin of profit.

Since any manufacturing business to be successful must make satisfied customers and must depend on repeat orders, it has seemed to be the part of wisdom to adopt the foregoing policy, rather than to predetermine a price and then build a truck to sell at that price.

Let us demonstrate it to you

Higher Telephone Rates Throughout the Country

The telephone industry has been affected by the same conditions which caused higher prices in every other business.

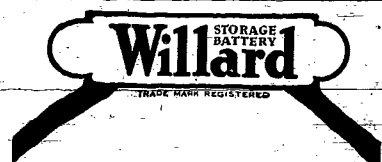

The increased expenses the telephone companies have had to meet have necessitated an advance in telephone rates throughout the country.

The cost of furnishing telephone service depends on the cost of producing it. The telephone companies everywhere are paying employees higher wages and paying more for materials than formerly.

Prices are on a permanently higher level and we must of necessity adjust our business to meet this new condition.

Be Sure to Say "Threaded Rubber"

If everybody said "Threaded Rubber Insulation" when they bought batteries and saw that "Threaded Rubber" was what they got there would be a lot less battery grief.

—Far fewer jobs of re-insulation that is so often necessary to get full life out of the plates of an ordinary battery.

—Assurance of longer battery life.

If your battery is getting to the point where it shows signs of quitting it will pay you to get on the track of Threaded Rubber. Come in any time and have a talk about batteries.

GET AFTER PROFITERS Anyone Knowing of Such People May Report to the State.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 8.—Any individual who has knowledge of profiteering and can produce the evidence of such acts, can bring the attention of the wibter to Secretary of Agriculture, Leo Stuh, at the state house and an investigation will be made. This is the information given by the department. One of the problems which confronts the public at the present time is the method used by retail dealers in disposing of fruit, says Secretary Stuh. A dealer will fill up a bushel basket of peaches and put a sign thereon, "35¢." The purchaser naturally believes that there is a bushel in the basket if it is reasonably full.

Recently a woman called up Mr. Stuh and asked for information as to how many pounds of peaches there should be in a bushel, and when told 48, she said she had bought a basket which she supposed contained a bushel, but it weighed only 39 pounds.

Notice to Dealers.—This bushel problem will be one which the Department of Agriculture will try to solve. Secretary Stuh has sent out communications to all dealers in the state, explaining the law on weights and measures. It is the intention of the department to rigidly enforce the provisions of the weights and measures law and violations are subject to prosecution. This matter is being given publicity and the public is being called upon to co-operate by insisting upon articles being sold by weight or count and also to report any violations to the department for investigation and prosecution.

Wilson Looks Up Law. Asst. Atty. Gen. Ralph Wilson is going through the statutes gathering legal data relating to punishment of all kinds of profiteering, with a view of discovering just how far the legal department of the state can go in bringing to the those engaged in enriching themselves at the expense of the average citizen.

There has been complaint that a certain building material company doing business in Nebraska is charging Nebraska people for stuff it manufactures and including the freight from Iowa, Kan., instead of from its own town, where the material is manufactured. It is said that the concern charges the Iowa rate of seven cents per 100 to a specific point in this state, when the rate should be 1.1-2 cents.

PIONEER TELLS OF HEAT

Explains How the Corn, Cooled and Eggs Boiled in 1858.

Ranolph Times: If you think it is hot this summer, you ought to have been here in the summer of 1858, or rather, 61 years ago and then you could have seen things sizzle and fry. This is what H. T. Lane one of the pioneers of Sarpy county, confided to a number of Douglas county pioneers when all were in the association rooms in the court house one day last week, swapping yarns on the incidents of long ago. Continuing Mr. Lane said:

"Father had come from the east the fall before and settled on a piece of land in Sarpy county, on the Platte river bottom. It was a lad of 10 years and I remember pretty distinctly the weather of that first summer we lived in Nebraska. As I recall it, the hot weather started long in June and there was not a break until well into September. July 4 we went over to Bellevue to celebrate. There were a number of Indians there to take part in the races and the weather was so hot that during the afternoon, while sitting around in the shade, these red men were prostrated. Half a dozen or so entered the races and three of them died from the effects of the heat. Large chunks of ice carried from the ice house on the river bank melted before it reached the picnic grounds, a block away."

"It was hot all summer and while we were not supplied with weather bureau thermometers, those that we did have, registered anywhere from 100 to 110 degrees day after day, with only a few degrees cooler nights."

"During the summer of which I am talking, fish in such streams as the Platte and Pappio were boiled alive. Taken from the water they had the appearance of cooked fish. I ate some of them and I assure you that the meat was cooked."

"During 1858 there was not much farming done in Nebraska, but down in Sarpy county a few of the settlers had small fields which the spring before they had planted to corn. The corn came on pretty well and up to late in July promised a good crop. Then the weather became hotter and hotter and as a result, out of the fields and right on the stalks, we had roasting corn, well roasted. Time and again that summer when I went out to gather the eggs, for we had brought some hens from Missouri, I found the eggs cooked in their shells right there in the nests in which they had been laid."

"I could tell you more about the hot summer of 1858 but what's the use. Suffice it to say that it was hot and since then there has been one that has reached its record."

Douglas county pioneers are pretty good story tellers when it comes to relating incidents of the past, but they all take off their hats to Mr. Lane of Sarpy county and admit that he stands at the head of the class.

Cattle Die From Anthrax.

Harrington News: Anthrax, a deadly disease is affecting the cattle in the north end of the county. In the last six weeks Peter Meng, living near Bent's Hill, has lost over twenty head from the disease. Leo Boehmer, near Fourteen, John Schaefer, six; Mrs. Peter Loecker, five and Joe Haverman has lost a valuable bull. All these cattle died from an undetermined disease and beyond question the Meng herd is dying of Anthrax.

The News first heard it rumored that the disease was prevalent in the locality and inquired as to the facts from a local veterinarian. The investigation that followed resulted in the finding of the deadly anthrax germs in a specimen of the blood taken from one of the dead animals. The state veterinarian was immediately notified, arrived here Tuesday evening and later spending Wednesday in making a thorough examination of the cattle pronounced it anthrax.

In order to absolutely verify his diagnosis Dr. Spencer, the state veterinarian, returned to Lincoln Thursday morning taking with him specimens and slides from which he expects to establish beyond a doubt the type of disease. No quarantine will be placed until he has had time to determine that he is correct. In the meantime Dr. Spencer gave the people of the infected district some valuable suggestions as to the treatment of the disease. The district is quite extensive reaching a considerable distance along the river and extending south several miles. While those mentioned are the greatest losers, there are a number of others who have lost a smaller number.

Dr. Spencer says that anthrax is the most deadly disease that infects cattle. It is caused by a sporadic germ and is local except by direct contact. It is not highly contagious but is usually picked up in forage from swampy land that has dried out. The germs are of a variety that do not multiply in the air or on the ground but which live in a dormant state indefinitely. Cattle and sheep are especially susceptible to the disease but is also dangerous to horses, hogs, and poultry. Man does not contract the disease except by local infection, by getting a germ into a cut or an abrasion. But if he picks up a germ by any chance it is invariably fatal. Doctors do not know of any cases in which the victim has recovered after he has contracted anthrax.

Only last week the veterinarian from Jackson, S. D., contracted the disease by getting a few germs in a scratch while vaccinating cattle and died a few days later in Sioux City from the effects of the disease.

Animals which die from anthrax should not be buried. The germs live indefinitely in the ground and do not die until they are removed from the dormant germs. The cattle should be burned and if it is necessary to move them the trail should be covered immediately with quick lime.

The state veterinarian does not intend to rush with what he has done. He plans on keeping in touch with the condition and if the development merit it to put on a quarantine that will stamp out the disease.

A Disturbing Rumor.

Nebraska Farmer: Information comes from the state's metropolitan Omaha, that the law passed by the last legislature calling a non-partisan constitutional convention is being considered in court. The claim is made that the call is unconstitutional because the convention was made non-partisan. It will be remembered that when making the call there was some talk in the legislature of making the convention purely a party one by electing the delegates to the convention on political party tickets. The sentiment throughout the state, as well as in the legislature, was overwhelmingly in favor of a non-partisan call. Since such a call has been issued it is disturbing to learn that perhaps it is unconstitutional.

If the court should decide that it is unconstitutional we will have no constitutional convention this year. The next legislature will have to do one of two things. It will either have to submit an amendment to our present constitution making it possible to hold a non-partisan constitutional convention, or it will have to make the call for the selection of delegates by political parties. Even though the framing of a new constitution is delayed for a time we are in favor of submitting an amendment so that when the convention is held it will be a non-partisan affair. If the candidates to the convention are elected without regard to party more attention can be given to the individual. No political party has a corner on all of the good and efficient men.

To the heirs, creditors and all persons interested in the estate of James B. Bush, deceased.

You and each of you are hereby notified that Margaret Bush has filed her petition in the county court of Cook county, Illinois, on the 11th day of February, A. D., 1919. At the time of his death he was a resident of Wayne county, Nebraska, and seized in fee simple of the east half of section twenty-two (22), township twenty-two (22), north of range three (3) east of the 6th P. M., also the north half of lot five (5) and (11) of lot four (4), block eleven (11), north of addition to the city of Wayne, Nebraska; also lots one, two and three (1, 2, 3) block twenty-two (22), College Hill first addition to the city of Wayne, Nebraska, all of said real estate being in Wayne county, Nebraska. That he left surviving him as his sole and only heir at law his widow, Margaret Bush, and the following named children, to-wit: Prudence Theobald and Edna Davis, his daughters. That all claims and demands against said real estate have been paid in full. That said estate has never been administered in the state of Nebraska, or elsewhere. That said Margaret Bush, is the owner of an undivided interest in said real estate above described. Petitioner prays for a finding and decree determining the date of the death of said James Bush, deceased; a determination of his heirs; the acreage and value and the right descent of said real estate; and for an order barring claims of creditors; and prays for such other relief and show cause why decree should not be made and entered as prayed in said petition.

Dated this 11th day of August, A. D., 1919.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

MOVING AROUND.

When I "blew" into Johnson's store to buy some pipes for Lisie, 20 customers were on the floor, but all the clerks were busy. They carried boxes to and fro, and swept and brushed and dusted; oh, every one was on the go, until his gallus bustled. I said to Johnson, cheer-fu-ful-ful, the tumult sound of sweeping. "Oh, why all this indecent haste, when there is nothing doing? Why don't the clerks sit down and rest, they're useless in this copying?" "But they would hump and do their best when customers come shopping," said Johnson. "People pass my store on errands vain and busy; and they look through the open door and see the clerks all busy; and they reflect, 'That Johnson gent is surely up and coming; while other merchants make lament, he keeps things fairly humming.' If they looked in and saw my men all half asleep and yawning, they think I ran a mofdy den, and go their way doggoning. There's nothing like a busy front when trade is thick and dragging, so every clerk must have his stunt, and keep his trillies wagging." I swiped some cheese and then I went, and, as I went, reflected, "There are upon this Johnson gent no flies that I've detected."

THIS GOOD WORLD.

This world is good in which we dwell; I like the blamed thing mighty well, and I have lived here long as down my long-life path I go I find night joys for every week, nine times for every year. Oh, now and then there comes a day when everything seems grim and gray, and badly out of plumb; but calm reflection brings me bliss for every rotten day like this, six happy days will come. The optimist is one who knows that joys outnumber human woes; when balance are struck, and so with sunshine in his heart, he labors in the busy mart, and nails the useful buck. He does not waxy ore the grief that comes to him as a relief, when happiness grows stale; no man could stand unchanging bliss; a slice of grief we soon would miss, if there were none for sale. The pessimist is one who'll mark a record of each day that's dark, its minutes and its hours; and he'll grope the cheerful days when all the landscape is ablaze with sunshine and with flowers. He thinks that there are nineteen woes for every joy, and moral knowers, in which he's sadly wrong; I know the good outweighs the ill, and knowledge should my counsels fill, for I have lived here long.

BURNING MONEY.

Life is gay and blithe and sunny, since the peace dove hit the breeze; everyone is burning money just as though it grew on trees. I insist on thrift and saving, but there's none to heed my words; jannies say that I am raving, and throw money to the birds. Men are drawing princely wages, and their breasts are the more for it; and they're for- foreboding sages who predict a day of death; but that day will come as surely as tomorrow's sun will rise; there's will that be getting poorly with the giddy spendthrifts gags. Things won't boom along forever as they're booming now, my friends; the market will be mighty hard, clever saves as ably as he spends. It is patent to the knowing, in expansive times like these, that the knock-out man who saves always an the shrubs and trees. There will come a day of trouble, when this boom is left behind, and the knock-out man who will be mighty hard to find; happy then the lads whose wages have been safely placed in brine, who obeyed the seers and sages when the saving graft was fine. And how sick will be the mortals who rely with jeers and chaves, when we call on them to save!

ENVIRONMENT.

"Hear men say, sometimes, 'The town is full of friends of mine, and when I leave my tree and wine to walk around a square, they greet me with a cordial smile, and seem to think I'm well worth while and smooth and passing fine. I often wonder how they'd act if I disclosed the doleful fact that I was haled, but if I put up a hard luck tale, and for a burst of horror, half should straightway pass that. No doubt the cordial smiles would freeze, and I'd be shunned as though disease had like marked me for its own; and men I cornered would exclaim, 'That I may play my private game, I need my every penny.' And for pure philosophers we say, 'So runs the weary world away, and friendship is a snare' I've tried, you're greeted with a grin; but when your account's all in, you're turned down everywhere." "Great Scott! This is the village God forgot! There is no chance for me to rise, in this old burg of mossback guys. Then they go forth, upon a day, to fairer pastures far away; and there they find things just as bad as in their own abandoned glare. It cuts no ice where sense dwells; we'll always see it wearing bells. The man who has the goods may go to desert waste or arctic snow, and there hang out his modest sign, and he will find that trade is fine. Ours is a quiet dreamy town, but it would hold no fellow down. If some youth shows the proper fire, with wrench or hammer, brush or lyre, we drop their work for half a day, to help him upward on his way. With proper stuffing in, your house there isn't any town so dead that you can't cut a swath right there, and nineteen kinds of laurels wear. And if the dust, grayed town a man may win a world, renown. If you, fair reader, where you are, can't hitch your wagon to a star, you might do the trick in Cork, in Boston, Joplin or New York."

FRIENDS.

The town is full of friends of mine, and when I leave my tree and wine to walk around a square, they greet me with a cordial smile, and seem to think I'm well worth while and smooth and passing fine. I often wonder how they'd act if I disclosed the doleful fact that I was haled, but if I put up a hard luck tale, and for a burst of horror, half should straightway pass that. No doubt the cordial smiles would freeze, and I'd be shunned as though disease had like marked me for its own; and men I cornered would exclaim, "That I may play my private game, I need my every penny." And for pure philosophers we say, "So runs the weary world away, and friendship is a snare" I've tried, you're greeted with a grin; but when your account's all in, you're turned down everywhere." When I go forth to work my friends, the sacred boon of friendship ends, and that is right and just; they cannot love me or respect, if I surround them and collect their hard earned store of dust. I have good friends on every block; I meet good friends where I walk, but they would turn and flee, if I should try, in friendship's name, to work some cheap leg-pulling game, and that's as it should be.

MISFITS.

Perhaps you're sadly out of place; perhaps you're intended, with your ability and grace, for something high and splendid; but while you're doomed to hold a job that mocks your high ambition, it isn't well to moan or sob about your punk condition. If you were born for better things, the work you do will show it; perhaps some day you'll walk with kings, or be a wealthy poet. I used to ride a mangy steed, and herd a bunch of cattle, while thinking I was born to lead the mighty hosts in battle. Each work to me was an offense; the ground was rough and rutty, the pony hadn't any sense, the cattle all were nutty. I hefted, though, the best I knew, and chased the loomed heifers, while through my sore shoulder blades bled all kinds of wintry zephyrs. And when I quit the foreman cried, urbanely and nobly, "You seemed to take no honest pride in herding cattle right-ly." And now I sit in gilded ease, and twang a lute of pewter, and turn out elegies like these, some cute and others-outer. The weary path on which you hike is rough, but gamely tread it; some day you'll find the job you like, and hold it down with credit.

ONLY MEMORY OF TROUBLE IS LEFT

Mrs. Hatlem Was All Rundered For Many Years—Tanlac Brought Relief.

"Tanlac has done me so much good that I am feeling more like myself than for a long, long time."

said Mrs. Andrew Hatlem, of 3945 1-2-1-2 avenue, South Minneapolis, Minn., to a Tanlac representative, the other day.

"My trouble was a generally run down condition," continued Mrs. Hatlem, "and I had been suffering for a good many years. I had a very poor appetite and I never felt like eating any more than just enough to keep me alive and it just looked like the little I did eat soured and formed gas and this gas pressed so against my heart that I sometimes had difficulty in breathing. I was troubled with terrible headaches, too, and at times they were so bad that it just felt like my head would split and I had aches and pains all over my body and was so weak and in so much misery sometimes that I just dragged around the house at my work. I also suffered a great deal from constipation and dizzy spells and felt so tired and restless at night that I could simply lie awake for hours at a time not able to sleep a wink and my nerves were in a bad condition. I took a lot of medicine and treatments for my trouble, but nothing I did or took seemed to help me one bit until I began taking Tanlac."

"I had read about Tanlac and how it was helping others, so I decided to try it myself and I am certainly glad I did, because it began to help me almost from the beginning. My appetite got better and I commenced to pick up strength and my whole system seemed to be benefited and I kept on improving right along until now I have a fine appetite and can eat just anything I want and I never have a particle of trouble with gas any more. All I have of those miserable headaches is just the memory of them and those dizzy spells have left me entirely and I can sleep just like a little child the whole night every day and am feeling so good every way that I can do all my own housework and never feel any more tired than a person naturally would feel under the same circumstances. Tanlac certainly has helped me a lot and I am glad to recommend it to others for that reason."

TANLAC is sold in Wayne, Mich.

Why Brunswick Tires Win Preference

There are two main reasons — one, the name itself, which certifies superfine value — the other, that time tells the same story.

This reputation and performance unite in giving you all you expect — and more.

Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires. Many motorists would pay more readily, but the Brunswick idea is to GIVE the utmost, rather than to GET the utmost. And this has been true since 1845. You can appreciate what Brunswick Stangards mean by trying ONE Brunswick Tire. It will be a revelation. You'll agree that you could not buy a better, regardless of price.

And, like other motorists, you'll decide to have ALL Brunswicks. Then you'll know supreme satisfaction from your tires — longer life, minimum trouble, lower cost.

Notice of Probate of Foreign Will. To the heirs, creditors, and all persons interested in the estate of George W. Hudspeh, deceased.

You are hereby notified that on the 1st day of August, 1919, J. H. Spahr filed his petition in the County Court of Wayne county, Nebraska, praying for the probate of a certain instrument now on file in said court purporting to be an authenticated copy of the last will and testament of the deceased, thereof of George W. Hudspeh, deceased. Said petition recites that said deceased died in the month of April, 1887, at his residence in the Parish of St. Landry, State of Louisiana, and died seized of the northwest quarter of the fourth quarter and south half of the north-east quarter, all in Section 28, Township 27, North, Range 1, East of the 6th P. M. in Wayne county, Nebraska. Said petitioner claims that he is now the owner of and in the possession of the Southeast Quarter of said Northeast Quarter and the East Half of the West Half of said Northeast Quarter of said Section 28. Petitioner prays that said instrument may be proved, probated and allowed as and for the last will and testament of said George W. Hudspeh, deceased, and that regular administration of said estate be dispensed with and that a decree be entered finding that the estate descends free from all debts, claims and demands against said deceased and that said estate and the property of which said deceased died seized be assigned under the provisions of said will as of the date of the death of said deceased so far as the same may operate upon it, and petitioner prays such other and further relief and orders as may be just and proper.

Hearing will be had on said petition before me at the county court room in the City of Wayne, Nebraska, on the 20th day of August, 1919, at 9 o'clock A. M. when all persons interested in said estate, heirs, creditors and heirs, may appear at said time and place and show cause why said instrument should not be proved and admitted to probate as the last will and testament of said deceased and show cause why decree should be made as prayed in said petition.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

Wayne Herald, August 14, 1919. Lulu and Ella Ross are at Rodney, Ia., visiting relatives.

The Young People's Club met with Miss Bertha Armstrong last evening.

Judge Hunter this morning married Henry Geise of Jefferson, S. D., and Miss Elizabeth Kay of Wayne, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Weber entertained friends last evening in honor of Miss Mable and Julius Stone of Omaha.

Four cement crossings running east and west on Second and Third streets are being put in by the city this week.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Wightman will entertain tomorrow evening in honor of the latter's sister, Miss Elsie Sprague.

L. J. Hughes and W. I. Porter were down from Carroll Saturday. Mr. Hughes is highly dated on the corn prospect and informs us that he finds many ears seven feet high on the stock.

Capt. A. T. Chapin started last Tuesday with his company for a ten days campaign in North Dakota, with W. L. Looney for lieutenant and old Dad Vredenburg as bugler. Fourteen privates from Winside, Wayne and Carroll make up the rest of the company—Winside Tribune.

Ethel and Nellie Juhin went to Omaha Tuesday to visit for a few days with Mrs. E. Campbell.

Yesterday afternoon the Dixon ball club came to Wayne to play with the Wayne team. Evidently our team had been practicing and the battery Fred Berry and Harry Armstrong being in good form, they plunked it to the Dixon lads to the tune of 6 to 3.

Wayne was well-represented at Laurel last Thursday and Friday at the annual M. W. A. picnic. At the business meeting H. H. Kohl was elected secretary. W. H. Hoguewood read an invitation from Mayor Ley, presenting the name of Wayne as the place for the next annual picnic. Several other towns were applicants but through the untiring efforts of Mr. Hoguewood, Wayne secured the picnic for next year.

From Ponca Journal, August 14, 1919. There is a certain class of individuals in every town—this as well as others—whose continual cry is "hard times, hard times," but whose principal reason for it seems to be bracing up the side of some one's building with their backs and despoiling dry goods boxes.

Each one of them on an average has a piece of work and he will generally have business that must be attended to immediately, or he is sick, or has a lame leg, or a sprained ankle, or some other ailment which incapacitates him for labor. If peradventure he can find no suitable excuse, and agrees to work at a certain time, ten chances to one he will fail to put in an appearance at all; but if he should be on hand at the other day to get a small pile of wood cut out, and out of six who promised faithfully to do it, not a soul showed his lazy carcass at the wood-pile. The gentleman went so far as to have a saw sharpened for one of them, but even then the woodpile remained uncut. The fact is, no matter how destitute this class of people may be, they will not work, and of what benefit they are to society, the Lord only knows. It is this same class who pack up their traps every year or two, like so many Gypsies, and migrate to some new place of abode, cursing the country they leave, and no matter how good it may be, doing more injury to its reputation by the way than they do to their own. The fact can be done in any other possible manner.

Get to the Bottom of This. Omaha Bee: Mayor Smith has made a sensational report to the city commissioners on certain features of the food situation in Omaha. He charges that cars containing food have stood on the side tracks in the railroad yards until the food rotted; that within a few days eleven carloads of edibles have been permitted to go to waste, while exorbitant prices are being charged consumers.

The mayor has made public in advance of official inquiry, the names of two commission firms to whom this food was consigned. He accepts full responsibility for his allegations, which are stoutly denied by the men involved.

The county attorney is reported to have said that no law exists for the punishment of a profiteer, unless criminal conspiracy can be shown. However, the detection of honest men will reach the individual who deliberately permits needed food to decay in order that abnormal profits may be had from what is sold.

With all the agencies of organized government actively engaged in the investigation of the food situation, the mayor should find no trouble in getting his complaint before the authorities.

The law may not reach them, but public indignation will visit on them such obloquy as will forever end their profit-making in this part of the world. Get to the bottom of these charges, and let the people know the truth...

Cure for Dysentery. "While I was in Ashland, Kansas, a gentleman overheard me speaking of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes William Whitehead of Des Moines, Iowa. He told me in detail of what it had done for his family, but more especially his daughter who was lying at the point of death with a violent attack of dysentery, and had been given up by the family physician. Some of his neighbors advised him to give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he did, and fully believed that by doing so saved the life of his child. He stated that he had also used this remedy himself with equally gratifying results.—adv.

AGRICULTURE NOTES

Favors Better-Sire Crusade.

In answer to letters sent by the Department of Agriculture to livestock associations, agricultural colleges, practical breeders, and men throughout the nation interested in better live stock asking for comments on the better-sire campaign to be conducted by federal and state officials, more than 97 per cent of the replies favor the campaign as outlined. Of the 266 replies received by the department up to July 28, a total of 550 favored the campaign. The advocates of radicalism have been the writers in certain popular magazines. "The professors and 'The New Republic' have been thoroughly well balanced, progressive, but sane. The chautauqua speaker admitted in conversation after the meeting that he had not been reading the publications named and thought he was probably mistaken in his criticism. One who heard, the address says that the college professors of 'The New Republic' seek exactly what the speaker proposed, prevention by remedy of errors.—J. T. House.

certain publications, among them the New Republic, many college and university professors, act in sympathy with Bolshevism. The mistake is this, that the speaker does not distinguish the attitude that seeks to remove causes of discontent from the acceptance of the extreme radical program. To prevent the spread of radicalism by removal of just causes of complaint is and has been the program of college professors, social workers and publications like the New Republic for the past twenty years. Occasionally an extremist has arisen in some university, but on the whole the advocates of radicalism have been the writers in certain popular magazines. "The professors and 'The New Republic' have been thoroughly well balanced, progressive, but sane. ### Overcoming High Costs of Shoe Leather.

Lincoln Trade Review: No general search is required to ascertain why there is a scarcity of hides and skins and leather. Statistics of cattle in this country show that in ten years they have steadily declined in number in the face of a steadily increasing population. In Europe the war reduced the number of cattle nearly one-half in the countries of western Europe while the war created unprecedented demands for leather with which to supply army demands over ordinary civilian demands? If the packers, who largely control the domestic supply of hides, are hoarding them or exacting profiteering prices, the government ought to be able to reach them directly and promptly, but what the government cannot do in a day or a year or in five years, is to change a constant decrease in the per capita growth of hides into a surplus production or a production equaling that of ten or fifteen years ago.

Organized and compelling work on the part of the government could not accomplish this in less than a decade. What this country ought to do what it must do, is to develop a substantial substitute for the skins of animals for leather; a substitute for tanned skins for footwear. If the people would show a disposition to use a substitute for leather, if they would sacrifice style and extravagance in footwear and use comfortable footwear at half the cost, the genius of American industry would soon develop a substitute that, in lasting quality and appearance would shoe the public at one-half the present cost. There would be an abundance of leather then at reasonable prices for special heavy use, and the high cost of footwear would disappear.

So long, however, as the great majority of men persist in demanding style with the higher the price the better they are satisfied, and so long as women cry for fancy leathers worth their weight in silver and for shoes in these leathers reaching half way to the knees, there will be little doing. Until a change comes there need be no wasted sympathy extended to those crying out against the high cost of living who will sacrifice style and extravagance for comfort and economy in footwear.

W. A. Williams home and other friends and relatives here.
Mr. and Mrs. R. King and Mrs. Hanna Williamson started Wednesday by automobile for the southern part of the state. Mrs. Williamson will visit relatives at York and Mr. and Mrs. King will visit at Geneva, Neb., and Bedford, Ia.
Mr. and Mrs. Dan Davis started Monday on a trip through the west. Miss Clara Linn and Mrs. Estlin Boehler will join them on the way. The party will stop at Ashton, Idaho and Ogden, Utah. They also expect to go through Yellowstone park.
Mrs. T. J. Thomas was severely injured in an automobile accident Sunday south of Carroll Saturday night. It was near midnight when Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and three others started for home. Though driving slowly, Mr. Thomas was unable to stop his car quickly enough to prevent running into an unfinished culvert. Mrs. Thomas was thrown out of the car, cutting several gashes in her head. Mr. Thomas' arm was bruised and the car was badly damaged.

Pleasant Picnic.
The picnic which was held in the Griff Garwood grove Friday was a decided success. Each class put on a "stunt". Miss Anna Owens', Miss Edna Jones', David Theophilus' and Mrs. Evan Hankins' classes put on especially interesting entertainments. There were bicycle and foot races for the boys and girls and nail driving contests for the girls.

Mrs. Frank Francis took the honors for the seniors and Mrs. Geo. Linn for the juniors. After the sports, lunch was served on long tables. Ice cream and lemonade were furnished by the Sunday school.

Spring. Gomer Jones and the committee deserve great praise for the success of the gathering.

Methodist Church.
(Rev. F. E. Sala, Pastor.)
Regular services next Sunday. Prayer meeting will be held at 7 o'clock. Following this there will be an official board meeting.

There has been a satisfactory increase in Sunday school since the change of hour.

Mr. J. A. came Tuesday for a visit at the home of her brother, C. Meinke and sister, Mrs. W. J. May. Mr. Follette and brother, who is here visiting, auted to Sioux City Saturday evening and visited their father. They returned Sunday evening. Fredora Andrews, who had spent the past year in Omaha attending school, returned to the home of her uncle, D. M. Donis, Thursday. Myron Whitney of Randolph, was in Sholes this week helping invoice and check the store and contents, has Mr. Black recently purchased of E. W. Clason. Many Sholes people are attending Randolph chautauqua this week. There will be no Sunday school and church Sunday in order that people may attend chautauqua.

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Wayne people. Mrs. Henry Hansen, Wayne says: "I was subject to spells of backache for a good many years. Sometimes I went months without a spell and then all at once it came on. I think the cold weather and over-exertion is what caused it. My rest at night was broken by the pain in my back. I had been that way for about three weeks last spring when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel like a different woman." (Statement given June 25, 1917.)

On July 15, 1916, Mrs. Hansen said: "I occasionally used Doan's Kidney Pills when I felt my kidneys were in good condition so that I have no more serious trouble." "Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Hansen had. Foster, Wilburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y., adv.

Don't Starve Your Battery

A starving battery is a worse fix than a starving man—it gives no warning of its weakened condition. It suffers and struggles along until the last ounce of energy is gone. Then it "quits"—suddenly.

Your battery may be "starving" right now. Maybe it needs a drink, or a freshening charge to restore it to its normal healthy condition.

Let our experts inspect and test it today. Our service is at your disposal—no matter what make of battery you use. We'll add distilled water, if needed. If repairs are necessary, we carry a complete stock of battery parts for all makes of batteries.

Some day you will need a new battery. Try the Prest-O-Lite Battery. It will give you more power, more endurance and longer life—more value—than any other battery. We Have The Correct Size For Your Car.

We have a service battery for you to use while yours is left with us for repair or recharging.

Mrs. Albert Lehman of Fallon, Montana, is visiting at the C. R. Borg home. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stead left here Monday for Miller, D. D., for a two weeks' visit at the home of Mr. Stead's parents. Mrs. John Hartig and children returned from Norfolk, Tuesday evening after a ten days' visit with friends at that place. Mrs. Ollie Schinkel returned to her home here after staying at the John and Sam Welburn homes near Dixon, the past month. Bruce Drain and Homer Powers drove out from Norfolk, Tuesday, Sunday for a visit at the Harry Postley and Ed. Tryon home. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Postley and children and Mrs. C. E. Clark and daughter, Doris, attended the show at Dixon Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lyba and children, Lurand, Arvid and Joliet, III., arrived here Tuesday for a ten days' visit at the Alfred Olson home. The latter is a niece of Mrs. Olson. Miss Laura and Miss Lois Thompson were Sioux City visitors Tuesday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Young of Wayne. Art and Myrtle Brennan were in Sioux City the first of the week. While there they had their tonsils removed. They returned home Wednesday evening. Both are getting along nicely. A John Leckston and children and Mrs. Belle Jolly of Sioux City, arrived here Saturday evening for a visit at the Erwin home. The former is a daughter of William Erwin, Sr. Frank Wallin of Carroll, who has been visiting at the home of his brother, A. J. Wallin, the past week left here for Moline, Ill., Thursday for a visit with relatives at that place. While moving grain elevator from a granary last Saturday for their father, Walter and George, sons of John Vellers, living east of town had quite a serious accident. Part of the elevator fell on the boys. Dr. Phillips was called and dressed their wounds. At this writing both boys are recovering nicely.

We are in complete sympathy with a threatened strike of university professors, whose demands are reasonable—an increase of wage to 25 cents per hour. While they do not hope, and cannot expect, to receive so much per hour as a unit's apprentice, they consider 25 cents a not exorbitant demand.

Lalley Light and Power

Is a Paying Investment

On top of all the savings it brings—savings of time and labor and actual money—Lalley Light itself is a saving and a good paying investment. You might be inclined to doubt that. But owners themselves say so. Read their own words:

From the Justice Garage, at Spencer, S. D.: "Since installing the Lalley, it has cut down our light bill almost $15 per month."

Lalley Light installed in the home of S. A. Gibson, Rockdale, Texas.

George Reudi, Bloomfield, Neb., says—his plant doesn't cost three cents a day—for light and the washing and ironing in addition. Can you run your lamps and lanterns on three cents' worth of oil per day? William Kroeze, Arlington, Wash., says that his Lalley expenses are very small for running 25 lights, a washing machine and an iron.

From Texas, G. W. Toone writes that he has had experience with several plants, and finds that Lalley costs less to run than any of the others.

At Shelby Settlement, Ohio, Father Jacob Kuebler lights the Sacred Heart Church, the parish house and the sisters' house with Lalley, for less than 50 cents per week. So there is only one way you can consider Lalley Light—and that is as an economy. At the end of the year, you can figure up—in dollars and cents if you like—the exact Lalley savings.

And you will find, more than likely, that they come very close to paying for the plant, if they do not actually pay for it.

No Camouflage in This Price

We have reduced the Titan 10-20 price $225. You can now get the world's standard 3-plow tractor for $1,000.

Titan 10-20 $1,000 Cash F.O.B. Factory $1,050 on Time

When you buy a TITAN the original price includes:

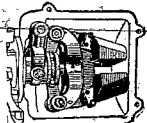

Friction Clutch Pulley

A large, wide friction clutch pulley, made in five sizes, equipped with safety shield, is mounted directly on the crank shaft of the engine...

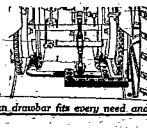

Throttle Governor

Some tractor designers omit without government because, perhaps, the designers did not know that one was needed. When in the best economy...

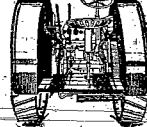

Drawbar

Some tractor builders put a hook and eye affix on the tail end of their tractors—and call it a drawbar. They seem to have overlooked the fact that a farm tractor not only pull plows but also mowers, hay loaders, grain binders, harrows, threshers, etc. each requiring different hitch adjustment.

Fenders

The designers of some tractors obviously did not know that the drive wheels throw dirt, mud or more, jolting over rough fields, so they can't appreciate what a relief it is for the tractor operator to rest himself now and then by standing up, without loss of time.

Platform

Some tractor designers apparently never sat in a tractor seat ten hours a day, or more, jolting over rough fields, so they can't appreciate what a relief it is for the tractor operator to rest himself now and then by standing up, without loss of time.

Tools

A complete set of sixteen tools is furnished with every Titan 10-20. This handy tool-kit is provided in spite of the fact that Titan 10-20 tractors get out of order less frequently than any other tractors in the world.

THERE is no "joker" in this price. We are not telling you one story in this advertisement and then leaving it for our dealers to break the sad news that the advertised price won't buy a tractor unless you pay extra for a lot of necessary features.

Then there is another thing. We are not experimenting at your expense when we sell you a Titan 10-20. There is real farm machine and tractor manufacturing experience back of it.

Would you entrust your bank account to a man who had never had any experience in handling money? Will you risk your farm profits in a tractor built by designers whose knowledge of farming is limited to books and a drawing board?

Starting and Instruction Service

Another feature of some tractor concerns is to charge you a large "starting and service" fee—extra. This is another way of getting a low price for advertising purposes.

AGENCY FOR

The Buick Model K-Six-45

We wish to announce that we have secured the Wakefield agency for the Buick automobile, and will be pleased to demonstrate the merits of this well known car.

THE BUICK Model K-Six-45 is a very capable open car for five persons, designed to cover the multitude of uses to which such a car is put. It differs from the big seven-passenger model only in tonneau and chassis length, possessing the same degree of ruggedness, easy-flowing power and mechanical excellence.

The tonneau is even more liberally proportioned. The seat is full three-passenger capacity, set at a comfortable angle. The sides are upholstered clear to the doors with the same French pleated leather used on the cushions and seat backs. Each of the four doors is equipped with a side pocket for storing small parcels. The instrument board is illuminated by a dash lamp. Top and side curtains are made of high grade fabric, the curtains swinging open with the doors. Behind the front seat is a very convenient pocket for storing the side curtains when not in use.

Let us Show You the Different Models.

"EQUALITY BEFORE THE LAW"

The New - Nebraska Federation

THE NEW NEBRASKA FEDERATION was formed for the purpose of preserving the REPRESENTATIVE institutions established by the founders of this Republic and the principles embodied in the Constitution of Nebraska.

The broad and general objects of the Association are:

- To inform the people of the danger of CLASS legislation, and the impending threat toward such class legislation, fostered by sectional interests, which threaten to violate the boundaries of the state; to arouse the people to oppose the same.
- To oppose the unnecessary and unjust extension of public functions outside the realm of government; to oppose the extension of public offices to administer experimental business enterprise financed by the state with capital extracted from the pockets of the taxpaying citizen; to oppose the exploitation of private property from the humblest home to the largest business enterprise—by unscrupulous agencies, and its disposition for class advantage.
- To condemn revengeful and unwarrented oppression of legitimate business enterprise; of persons of reason, of intelligent regulation wherever found necessary; to stand for "Equality Before the Law" and equality of opportunity for honest farmers, merchants, mechanic, wage-servant, business and professional man; To oppose the introduction into our governmental system of ideas and experiments which past experience has shown to be unworkable.
- To foster the dissemination of knowledge regarding theories of government and their PRACTICAL EFFECT on the security, happiness and prosperity of the people and in extending cooperation and understanding of the vital principles upon which our political institutions are founded and upon which they have survived and prospered beyond all other forms of government.
- To search out the defects in the administration of law and to propose their reform; to oppose without jeopardizing the foundations of our institutions by substituting state socialism in the form of state-owned industry; to promote the means by which social justice and efficiency may be more promptly and certainly realized in full harmony with the principles of justice, equity and equality of opportunity upon which our government is based and upon which it can live and be preserved to our posterity.
- To preserve the fruits of labor in the form of private property to the lawful owner thereof, whether in the form of the humblest village or farm home, shop or store, or the legitimate business institution; to oppose the expropriation of property in any form of law devised by political schemers who proclaim a millennium to be gained through confiscation of property rights and the substitution of state socialism for private initiative and endeavor.
- To these plain propositions the New-Nebraska Federation dedicates its most strenuous efforts at a gathering of the support and co-operation of all the citizenship of Nebraska.

The immediate problem confronting the thinking people of Nebraska is the writing of a new constitution for the state. This must be done at a time when unrest is general and radicalism is rampant.

The constitution that is written in 1920 will stand for our children and grandchildren. It is important that men of vision and ability in this convention, we can not afford to trust the drafting of the state to hair-brained theorists, socialists and bohemians.

We need the active interest of the good citizens of Nebraska, irrespective of politics, of religion, of language, occupation or financial worth.

Please let us have your membership in any of the three classes, $1, $5 or $25.
