WHY DON'T YOU WEAR KRYPTOK GLASSES.

Kripkops (pronounced Critkops) give the convenience of Near and Far vision in one pair of glasses, without that noticeable "swinging" or "seam." Not the slightest trace of a dividing line (between the lower part of Near seeing and the upper part of the lens for Far seeing) is visible.

Kryptok Glasses give to your eyes the natural sight of youth—enabling you to see both near and far objects with equally keen vision. Yet they look like single-vision glasses because the lens is one solid clear piece. That's why they are universally called "The Invisible Bifocals."

In fact, "Kryptok" means "the hidden eye."

We duplicate any broken lenses.

Arrives With French Bride.
Hartington Herald: Frank Ready elder son of Mayor and Mrs. B. Ready of this city, arrived home last Saturday night with his bride from France.

Frank was a sergeant in the base hospital service before his discharge, and on the 10th of this month would have been two years in the service. He was overseas one year and was last stationed at Saevengen, France, where he was doing clerical work. He began his army life in the infantry, and had considerable training in that branch, but was later transferred to the hospital branch where he remained until he was mustered out. He was married a few weeks ago to an accomplished French young lady with whom he had become acquainted during his residence there, and on July 25th, they sailed on the Ripjand for home. They arrived August 4th after a sea voyage, and Frank was discharged at Hoboken on the 5th. The young people spent some time in sight-seeing in New York, at Niagara Falls and other places, and arrived here last Saturday evening. They will remain here until September when they will move to Omaha, and Frank will attend the state university.

Mrs. Frank Ready, who enjoys the distinction of being the first French maiden to capture the heart of a Hartington soldier, is a striking brunette of winsome personality and many accomplishments. She speaks little English and she sees many things in America to marvel at, but she is rapidly acquiring herself to the new environment, and writes many pages home descriptive of this wonderful land.

For All the Family

The love of music is probably born in us, but musical taste is a thing to be cultivated. Our likes-and-dislikes are just as personal and just as pronounced as our choice of friends. Every family represents a variety of tastes. Each member deserves to have his musical tastes considered and they can be when you have an Edison in the home, as we have records of all kinds from which each one may select his share of the family library of Re-Creations.

The New Edison is not an imitation, but a re-creation, so complete and satisfying that it is utterly impossible to distinguish the artist's voice from the instrument's.

No matter where you live, you and the children can have the same musical advantages that you would possess if you could take them to New York for the opera season.

GMC Model 16 3-4 Ton Truck

The latest addition to the GMC line of Motor Trucks is the Model 16, successor to the Model 15, 3-4-ton capacity.

Experience has proved that there is a big field for a real, substantial 3-4-ton truck. A substantial truck of this capacity, such as the GMC is, can, perhaps be more nearly called a general purpose truck than any other one capacity.

In most cases this truck exactly fits the needs of the farmer. By reason of pneumatic tires and flexible springs it is capable of much greater speed than heavier trucks.

The GMC Model 15 made a great reputation, but the Model 16 has many improvements over its predecessor.

It has been the policy of the General Motors Truck Company to build the best trucks it knew how to build and then make the price as low as is consistent with the high quality and a fair margin of profit.

Since any manufacturing business to be successful must make satisfied customers and must depend on repeat orders, it has seemed to be the part of wisdom to adopt the foregoing policy, rather than to predetermine a price and then build a truck to sell at that price.

Let us demonstrate it to you

Cure for Dysentery.
"While I was in Ashland, Kansas a gentleman overheard me speaking of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes William Whitehead of Des. Moines, Iowa. "He told me in detail of what it had done for his family, but more especially his daughter who was lying at the point of death with a violent attack of dysentery, and had been given up by the family physician. Some of his neighbors advised him to give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he did, and fully believes that by doing so he saved the life of his child. He stated that he had also used this remedy himself with equally gratifying results."—adv.

During the past few days the devil has seemed to get into the horses in this neighborhood, so that any quantity of runaways and smashups have occurred.

It seems to be settled that the new town of Paragon, Cedar county, is to be the county seat.

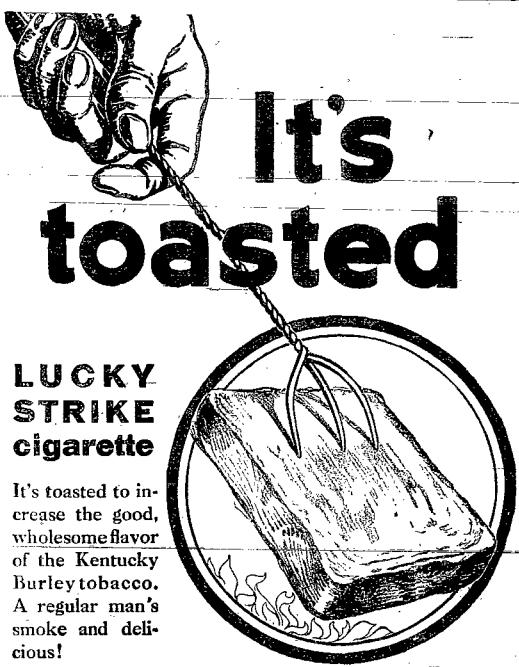

It is reported that the railroad will not be extended beyond the center of Cedar county this year.

A gentleman who was visiting Cedar county last week, is enthusiastic in his description of it. He regards it as the best county in the north-western state. The soil is unsurpassed, the water is pure and the air is healthy, and the bow-alleys remind one of a picture of paradise. The country is not yet heavily settled, but the railroad now building is an assurance that within a year a dense population will fill those beautiful valleys and that Cedar county will rightfully take its place among the best in Nebraska.

Sioux City Journal. "Miss Harriet West, a young lady of Ponca, who has a large circle of acquaintances in this city, had an experience the other day in the line of wheel-mony many girls would not care to share with equal credit. She was driving alone from Ponca to Sioux City, and when on a lonely road a drunken Indian stepped into the road and caught her horse by the bits and at the same time telling her to get out of the buggy. Fortunately she had a shotgun with her, and picking it up and drawing a bead on Mr. Indian, she told him to let go that horse. A glance at her face seemed to convince the Winoeba that she meant business and so he sullenly retired and let her proceed on her way. The Indian followed her nearly half a mile, but his wholesome fear of the gun kept him at a safe distance."

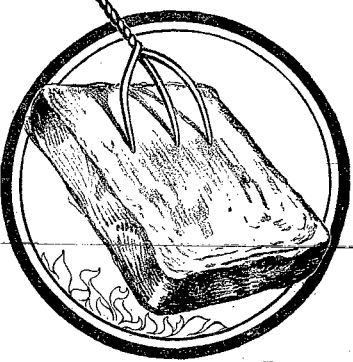

Stupidly Belated.

Springfield Mass., Republican. Both the democratic administration and the republican congress were stupidly belated in paying serious attention to the question of the high cost of living, although there is political dynamic in the belly of it. The senate could see nothing but the question of how to side-swipe the league of nations; the house had actually decided to take a vacation of five weeks.

An investigation shows that the cost of living has no edge over the cost of dying, and that from a pecuniary standpoint one might just as well keep on living.

The assurance of paving for Wayne next spring should and will stimulate improvements along all lines. The next few days will see the town transformed into a modern city.

Federal and state governments are now going after food hoarders and profiteers in such lively fashion that the next days will see more plentiful and less expensive. It has been pointed out that there would be less unrest among labor unions and less likelihood of strikes

AN EXHIBIT OF FASHION Autumn Suits and Coats

Saturday—the curtain rises upon an ingathering of fashion that omits nothing that could be desired. It is a most comprehensive assemblage of fashionable garments from the country's foremost designers. These coats and suits, also many others, will be here for one week before being sent out on the road with our two safesmen.

Consider the Suits
$35.00 to $75.00

In introducing suits, we emphasize the quality of the cloths to which we have given our usual careful attention, as well as the tailoring that fits even the plainest suit to the point of elegance.

Each suit has been cut and sized with correctness, insuring accurate fit and distinction of line.

Consider the Coats
$27.50 to $150

Examine the fabrics closely, for upon them depends the beauty and grace of an autumn coat—note how supple, how delightfully they lend themselves to the buoyant lines of the season's approved fashions.

The inspiration of genius is shown in the diverse and original conception of collars, belts, pockets and finishing embellishments.

We announce the largest and most attractive showing of

Fall Frocks

and more conspicuous clothes at school than their mothers used to wear at fashionable evening parties. Girls wear such up-to-the-minute styles at school that their mothers have to sit up nights figuring out ways to improve their appearance on special dress-up occasions. It is high time to call a halt, such as the one proposed at Pierre, in the interest of education and better social conditions. The reform would also aid in reducing the horrible tax imposed on the privilege of living.

August is the month of vacations, and respites from routine run from a day to four weeks. Last Sunday the weather was extraordinarily pleasant, and many not already away on vacations, drove somewhere for the day. The Sabbath calm was so pronounced you could hear the town breathe. Sam Davies, veteran news dealer, who is always at his post, spoke of the abandonment and the graveyard quietude. The absence of familiar faces startled him. But the vacation period will soon be over. About September 1 people who are away will return. Schools will start and the fall work on the farm will begin. Then soon will follow corn picking and preparation for winter. Mid-summer recreation is good for the body and mind, and stimulates energy and enthusiasm when accustomed tasks are resumed.

THE OLD MAN.
As man grows older in hoof and shoulder he has a frequent pain; his back is aching, his heart is beating at every little strain. We should remember that life's December is cheerful, cold and sad; and nor let tears help and help and cherish the poor old fading day. The man stumbles, and snags and grumbles, but we should patient; he for time is sailing, and we'll be ailing, and weak, some day, as he.
The hale and hearty. Age is not a party who seems afar, remote; by Time's a sprinter, and soon life's winter will come and get our goat, and when we totter, and fuss and pout, as weary old men will, may those around us not stab and wound us, but ease us down the hill; as he grows, with the wayward brighter needs kindness all the time; if you remind him that love's behind him, you're guilty of a crime.
The flippant, and who's rule is daddy can be no friend of mine, though that same critter may fairly gritter—where social lions shine.

SAWING WOOD.
Old Wilhelm's busy sawing elm, all day his back's in labor bent, and when he totter, and fuss and he doesn't seem to care a cent.
He doesn't seem to care a whoop what factories talk, what factories rise; his hat grows with the wayward flies. Old Wilhelm has a crippled arm, he has a shriveled, helpless hand, and he would give an eye and a farm to know just how he wields a saw. "I'm saving wood myself, these days, upon my rolling, mortgaged lands, and I'm equipped, like other jays, with lousy arms, unblemished hands. When I have sawed an hour or two my wind is in my backbone creaks and I remark, "I guess I'm through—I'll have to take a rest for seven weeks." Then to my cabin repair, all tuckered out, my ribs pulled loose, and read in daily papers there how Wilhelm saws his cards of spruce. Oh, prince, tell me how this king, who's lost his throne and jeweled hat, reflect with a crippled wing—how can he pull such stunts as that? For days I've pined a saw and ax, and this to me seems amply clear.
When Bill gets down to royal tasks, he doesn't saw a cord a year.

OWNING A HOME.
I own my home, and life's a poem, from outside to the center; I'm laid, inside, of honest pride; I'm right for the center. I own my shack both front and back, the kitchen and the porches; and here I sit and feel I'm it and smoke my live-out corn. The tree and vine are strictly mine, the concrete walks and hedges, the elms and yews, old cans and shoes, the ax and saw and wedges. The house is old, the rooms are cold, the roof is often leaking, and in the night, when men sleep tight, I hear the front gate creaking. It is mine, this abode of mine, and there's no mortgage on it; and here I sit and do my bit at writing ode and sonnet. My house is cheap; no footmen keep their vigils in its hall-ways; no butler stern with pomp to burn here combs his aburn gallows. My house is stark, the doors are shrunk, the windows shake and rattle; and on the stairs and under chairs the cats and rats give battle.
It isn't mine, it is mine;
with smiles, I bid you enter; I am the king while here, by jing; I'm sorry for the renter.

DUMB ANIMALS.
I contemplate the poor dumb creatures, whose lives are shy of pleasant features. They are not rejoiced, they are not glad when they eat and drink and sleep forever, and have no sane and high ambition to reach a loftier condition.
Their hopeless state, I can't help seeing. I'm glad I am a human critter, though life is often hard and gladness wanes and sorrow waxes, and I am stuck for incomes taxes. Though troubles come and hopes are phoney, I'd hate to be a Sheelaand pony. Though I am deaf and growing dumber, I'd hate to be a Heretford heifer. And though a gloomy weird I'm dreaming, I'm glad I am a human being.
We long for happiness unbroken;
that sort of wish is often spoken; but if life handed us no dumber critters, which would be no dream of high endeavor, but eat and sleep and drink forever, I have my career, I have my life. I'm stuck by the merchants' pretenses; and long from griefs I'm always living, I'm glad I am a human being.

DAY AND NIGHT.
Our days are full of care and dread, of toil that never ceases; we trudge along, with weary tread, to gather up the pieces, the same old task we've done for years, the struggle and endeavor; the same old doubts, the same old fears, the same old grind forever. But there is night that brings us sleep, when we are worn and aching, the solace for the eyes that wear, the dream of spirits breaking. Through, restful hours upon the hay, we beam for joy and laughter, forgetting every bygone day, and days that follow after. A little while we roam afar, perhaps on astral pinions, and gaze down from a yellow star upon this world's domains. And then all that keeps us sane, the sleep that night is bringing, for days are full of stress and pain, of being stung and stinging. Our days are full of played out dreams, of empty words and phrases, of ruined plans and broken schemes—and hopes deferred like blazes. That night comes dripping from the sky, from heaven's spangled rafters; here, in the hay—here let me lie, and dream of love and laughter.

THE COMMON PEOPLE.
The common people round me through the Tom and Dick and Harry, one builds himself a nice new coop, one dies, another marries.
The banker's clad in gauzy rags, his bank has marble portals, the hostler carries down his bags, and both are common mortals. The tinsmith makes our motor cars, the blacksmith has made portals, the poor soars among the stars, and all are, common fellows. We all are equal at our birth, one kid's just like another's, but when we tumble off the earth, what man's above another? I walk along the churchyard aisles, and, pensive, muse and ponder the fragments that mysteriously place that grave over yonder; and there a poor man sleeps alone, a friendless wretch and daffy, his hawk has made portals, the void of epitaph. And both are sleeping just the same, the poor man and the Croesus—on earth they've never met, but in the heaven you're gone to pieces. In youth we all are gay and vain, in middle age we're sober; and all of us have ache and pain when life has reached October. The king, who has God given right to be a nation's master, must leave his downy couch at night to trudge and trudge. It makes me tired to hear the talk of strata and of classes; we're just the plain old human flock, we're just the common masses.

WILL PRAISE IT
ALL OF HER LIFE
Mrs. Edwards Has Gained Fourteen Pounds By Taking Tanlac.

"I weigh just fourteen pounds more than I did when I commenced taking Tanlac as short time ago, and my troubles have been completely overcome," said Mrs. Nancy Edwards, who lives at 5620 East 12th Street, Kansas City, Md., while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.
"About two years ago," continued Mrs. Edwards, "I began to have stomach trouble, and until I commenced taking Tanlac, my condition had gradually grown worse all the time. In fact, I had reached the point where I was so weak and run down that I was hardly able to get about. Everything I ate disagreed with me, and the gas that formed from my undigested food would make me miserable for hours at a time. I would have raging headaches nearly every day, and was so nervous all the time that the least noise would upset me, and when night came on it was a hard matter for me to get off to sleep.
I often had such bad dizzy spells that I could hardly stand on my feet. The different medicines and treatments I tried didn't do me any good at all."
"My daughter had been taking Tanlac, and it had done her so much good that I decided to give it a trial myself, and I can honestly state that by the time I had finished my first bottle I was feeling like a different person. Well, I just kept on getting better, and now since taking three or four bottles of Tanlac, I am enjoying the best of health in every way. I never had a better appetite, and what I eat agrees with me perfectly, and I never have a sign of indigestion or stomach trouble of any kind.
The nervousness has left me, and I get plenty of good sound sleep every night, and I have gained so much in weight and strength that I can do all my housework without the least trouble. The most annoying headaches are gone, too, and that alone would make me praise Tanlac the longest day I live."

The Whole Secret of A Better Tire

Simply a Matter of the Maker's Policies

This you will realize—once you try a Brunswick—that a super-tire is possible only when the name certifies that the maker is following the highest standards.
For tire making is chiefly a matter of standards and policies—cost plus care. Any maker can build a good tire if he cares to pay the respective's price.

All men know Brunswick standards, for Brunswick products have been famous for 74 years.

Formulas, fabrics and standards vary vastly in cost. Reinforcements, plies and thickness are a matter of expense. And these variations affect endurance. It rests with the maker how far he wishes to go—how much he can afford to give.

For there are no secrets nor patents to hold one back.

To ascertain what each maker offers one must analyze and test some 200 tires—as our laboratories have done.

Then it is a matter of combining the best features and building according to the highest standards.

Once you try a Brunswick you will understand how we have built model tires, regardless of factory expense.

Yet Brunswick Tires cost you the same as other like-type tires. Our saving is on selling cost, through our nation-wide organization.

We realize that you expect more from Brunswicks, and we assure you that you get it. ONE Brunswick will tell you the story.

And then you'll want ALL Brunswicks. No other tire, you'll agree, gives so much for your money.

AIDS GOVERNOR IN DRIVE

Local Man to Help Raise Funds for Jewish War Sufferers.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 17.—Governor S. R. McKelvie has accepted the chairmanship of the Nebraska committee which is to direct a drive to raise $50,000 for the relief of Jewish war sufferers in Eastern Europe.

A. R. Davis of Wayne has been asked to assist the governor in this campaign by accepting the chairmanship of the committee in Wayne county.

The Nebraska committee, under the governor's chairmanship, is composed of men of all religions and nationalities. It was organized to co-operate with similar committees in other states in this great humanitarian work. The national fund is to be $350,000 this year and many states have already raised their quota.

In a time when the high cost of living is interesting Nebraska people, the problem of these destitute people abroad is how to live at all. The American Jewish Relief Committee has been carrying on non-sectarian relief work on a huge scale since the spring of 1917 and is now caring for about six million starving people. Many of these are orphaned children. In Warsaw alone, more than 30,000 youngsters are supplied with fresh milk.

America's contribution to this great work consists of shipments of foodstuffs and clothing aboard the the "Hatchuca," the "Westward Ho," the "Carolee," the "Ashburn" and other relief ships which leave New York regularly with cargoes for the destitute of Eastern and Central Europe. A normal cargo on one of these ships frequently runs over $2,000,000, five times the amount which Nebraska is asked to contribute in a campaign which will take place September 15-22.

AGRICULTURE NOTES.

Endless-Chain Pig Club.

Twenty pigs were distributed recently to the members of the boys' and girls' pig club of Whitley county, Ind., to form the second link in their endless-chain pig club. One of the conditions under which a pig club member in the county receives a club pig is that the member shall return two pigs from the original gift. These pigs are then distributed to new club members and thus the membership increases.

"Minor Troubles" of a County Agent.

A county agent in one of the Eastern States believes in diversified activities. He reports as follows for one month's work: "Burnt up 91 gallons of gasoline, 5 quarts of oil, had 6 punctures and one blow-out. Trailer broke away and upset load; pig fell out of the car and was killed; a horse was run over after a jump from sty, and was run over by an auto. Buried three pigs with all the profits and losses. Sold 28 bushels of corn, getting over pasture fence; broke water crystal loading corn planter; but outside of a few minor troubles had a very satisfactory month's work."

More Home Demonstration Courses

The colleges and universities of the south are realizing the influence as well as the need of the county and home demonstration agents in the various states. The agricultural colleges and women's colleges now directly cooperating in the work give courses for special training of county agricultural and home demonstration agents. The first college in the United States, outside of the state agricultural and other cooperating colleges, to open its doors to the home demonstration agents and to try to supply them with needed instruction was the George Peabody college for teachers at Nashville, Tenn. This year many other schools have followed its example, and a number of leading colleges and universities throughout the southern states are now offering four-year courses especially prepared for the needs of the agents. Other schools have special short courses for the demonstration agents during the periods when they can best be spared from their countries. Short courses are offered by colleges do much to keep the workers in the field in touch with the results of new investigations which will benefit them in their line of work.

A Bilious Attack.

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take three of Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter—ad.

New York World, Roger Sullivan, Julius Rosenwald, J. Ogden Armour and other wealthy Chicagoans are quoted as saying they have bought no shoes in two years or more—first to conserve leather for the war; later because of the high prices. It is a good example. One way to beat extortion for new shoes is to mend old ones.

VISIT TO BIGLEY RAVINE

Wayne People Enjoy Day's Outing on River Bank Near Ponca.

The Herald editor and his family drove Sunday over to the old and interesting town of Ponca where those not too young and old to enjoy a day's outing in the hospital of friends for dinner, they went a couple of miles to the Bigley ravine which opens on the Missouri river. They found they were not preceded by other Wayne people. Mr. W. Ley and H. B. Craven and families and Miss Nettie Craven, who had the shade of handwood trees with huge bluffs on the one hand and the turbulent Missouri on the other, they picnicked, gathered wild grapes and had a good time generally. Late in the afternoon, the Leys and Cravens regaled the crowd with lunch, returning to Ponca in the evening.

In this Bigley ravine, which was named for a pioneer who once owned it, many wonders were unearthed in the early days. It was in this ravine that the bones of the prehistoric, now extinct marine reptile of great size, were discovered. Other geological discoveries were made to the astonishment of settlers. It was near this ravine that the Ionia volcano had perforated a hole in the earth. It was here, really only a bluff of burning lignite, but it gave sufficient ground for a good deal of excitement. It was here that the coal mines were opened by active imaginations. In fact, the river so washed the bluff that the fires were permanently extinguished. But the coal mined was such poor lignite that the enterprise, once renewed, was finally given up not to be undertaken again.

Recovering from Operation. Spencer. News-Herald: John Bressler of Wayne, Nebraska, was operated on for a second time at Midland hospital today. Monday, Mr. Bressler has been in the hospital for two weeks, having had an operation for appendicitis. Before the first operation could be performed, the case had become quite acute. Mr. Bressler had not improved as readily as expected and on Monday, a specialist from Omaha, Dr. Hall, arrived to consult with Dr. Fuller. Miss Ronde of Omaha, a nurse, came to take care of Mr. Bressler.

John T. Bressler of Wayne, Nebraska has a cottage near Pike's Point, and we believe this is the father of the Mr. Bressler who is in the hospital. John Bressler, jr., is a young man just out of the navy, outwardly appearing physically fit and strong. He came to spend the summer at the Bressler cottage when he had to be taken to the hospital. We hope he may soon be well and able to enjoy his summer vacation.

THE WAYNE WOMEN'S CLUB

Report on Opera House Presented at Saturday's Meeting.

The Wayne Women's club reports regarding the condition of the opera house at a meeting Saturday afternoon. It was explained that the original $500 paid on the property came from the following sources:—Miss Blain $100; Henry Ley, $100; Clyde Owen, $65; comitrol kit fund $107.50; city treasury, $64.50; and $2,000 to die in October, and the ladies are planning ways to raise the money. The club treasury now contains $18,566, and Mrs. Henry Ley has turned over to the club $400 raised on the fourth of July. In addition, Mrs. Ley has on hand $125.95 to be used toward a swimming pool when one is built. The following committee will find ways to secure funds to meet the obligation in October:—Miss Henry Ley, Mrs. Eli Laughlin, Mrs. E. Kozmowski, Mrs. Clyde Owen, Mrs. W. H. Buetow, Mrs. Lou Owen and Mrs. F. L. Blair.

A paper by Mrs. J. C. Forbes on "How Country and City Women Might Cooperate" elicited much discussion and is of sufficient interest to warrant publication. It follows:

Our friend, Noah Webster, rightly defines cooperation as "working jointly with others," but as usual, he is very careful not to event hint at the way in which cooperation can be secured. In fact from reading all that the latest dictionary has to say about this work which is charged with no less significant achievements than winning the war, we would still be somewhat hazy as to the reasons for cooperation and the methods for making such joint action possible.

So I have taken my definition for cooperation from one of the current magazines. And I want to tell you it was voiced by a woman, Marie Bass by name, who is said to be one of the most successful architects in the country. She says: "To cooperate is to conduct yourself so as to make it possible for other people to work with you." That's a definition worth thinking about. It puts the responsibility for cooperation squarely up to each individual. You all recall, I am sure, dozens of incidents in church and club work, where you have heard women say or you have said to yourself: "Well, that proposition would not stand through all right if it had had any cooperation. Sometimes we talk of cooperation as though it were something we could get at a grocery store and sprinkle around the club room before sessions. Until we can live up to the definition of Mrs. Bass, by conducting ourselves so that other people can work with us, I don't believe we can accomplish much either as a city or country women. As for there being any earthly reason why city and country women should not work together for bettering their town through the community, that's nonsense. Why is it then that they have not worked together? I think it is simply that they do not understand one another.

The woman in the country home, who is kept busy from morning to night with the house work, is likely to get the idea that the woman in town is a lady of leisure and fritters away a lot of time playing cards or discussing Greek drama or some other subject as if removed from the practical world of today. The woman who lives within the town limit, on the other hand, has in the past been a little inclined to treat the country woman with a trace of condescension. This attitude which I believe is changing rapidly, was due, I suppose to the town woman's impatience at her country sister for staying at the job "so closely. She didn't understand why a woman could devote herself up to a time for reading and recreation. I will admit that sometimes when I was living on the farm, I felt the town woman did not try to understand. But next with automobiles and telephones and mail service and the day almost dawning, the papers say, when every farmer will have a little airplane parked in his backyard, the country town and the territory around it is becoming one big community. The interests of the country woman and the city woman are not essentially different although one may crank the Ford and drive a mile or two to do her shopping while the other walks to the store or telephones her order for delivery. In fact, I'll venture that most town women are a bit envious of the country woman who sails by behind the wheel of a big car with an air of such thorough independence. That woman is a woman, no matter on which side of the town limits she peels potatoes or washes dishes. She is likely to be a bit envious of any other woman who has a nicer home or better clothes than she and she is quite sure that to be a good friend and a true friend whom she violently disagrees on any subject. This, I think, is the keynote to the lack of cooperation between women generally. How many of you have ever seen two women who have had a heated argument over some church or club affair walk down the street arm in arm after the meeting, the best of friends? Yet that is what men do. One man can denounce Wilson as the poorest stick of a president we ever had to another man, who will defend his democratic principles to the last ditch, and yet after the argument is over they are still friends. Men are better losers than women and we might as well admit it. They know how to give and take and that is the reason there has been any dividing line between farmers and businessmen. They are all just men and although occasionally town and country factions have developed bitter feelings, yet ten to one the men had it out in a stormy session somewhere and were good friends hereafter.

But even the most optimistic of us or those who have lived in both town and country and have watched the problem from both sides of the fence, will not deny but that town and country women are inclined to be somewhat aloof if not at times critical. They comprise the town and country part and forget that they are all women, wanting for their families the best home surroundings and the cleanest, healthiest town it is possible to develop. It occurs to me, that in these days when almost every country home has at sometime or another, one or more children in high school or at the normal that the country mothers as never before are interested in the kind of town Wayne is. It is a place where young boys will be urged to play craps and poker when they ought to be at home helping with the chores or at their books? Is it a place where girls are likely to get into many of the ideals from their town friends? Is the general attitude of the town for things that develop, or for things that tear down character and power? Surely, country women are just as vitally interested as the new social center idea as the city women for their children's necessity have a good many idle hours in town, both at noon and after school, when they are anxious to go home. At last they will have place to go and play or read until time to go home.

I think the Woman's club will make a great mistake if we do not cooperate with the country women in financing the buying and equipping of the opera house as the social center. Might I suggest that the president confer with the presidents of the four country clubs as to the advisability of having a joint committee to work out the details of such a program. I have talked with many women in the country and they are just as eager to see the community house opened as we are. To mention another specific manner in which we should cooperate and remember, that the word cooperate means that every member shares alike in creating a spirit of good fellowship, is in hustling for the country women on the membership list. Let the town and country women go "fifty-fifty," as the young people say, and we will have clubs that are representative of the whole community and therefore, not likely to favor the town and forget the country. Country women will argue they have cut the time and in that they are cutting the truth. But at the same time, if we have something worth while to offer them, they will spare the time. And of course, those who have little leisure to do active work, might come in as associate members. Even though the burden of committee work and the arrangement of programs might fall on the city women, because they have more time, yet we need the help and suggestions of the country women to keep the club from becoming one-sided.

One other suggestion occurs to me in thinking over the ways that we women, both in town and country, might get together. Women suffrage is the fact and whether we have fought for the ballot or joined the "antists" in unbraiding the suffrage women as a class, will be voting within a few days. I'll confess it's a pretty big job and I am not very anxious to start in studying whom to vote for, this late in life. Any one wondering how I would have time to even acquaint myself with the names of the candidates, if I were on the farm, had had this suggestion:—rent a separator to wash and a dozen and one other things that go with house keeping on the farm. I have been wondering if the program committee couldn't work out a plan whereby, by the principles of the two parties could be explained at a Saturday afternoon session, or perhaps at two different sessions. That let a third program be devoted to demonstrating the proper way of filling in a ballot, for the fact that at every election ballots have to be thrown out because they are voted improperly, shows that even after years of voting the men make mistakes. Towards election it is possible that we could have some of the candidates, at least the town and county ones, appear before the club and explain their platforms. Issues that are particularly significant could be discussed by some member who had the time to look up the facts thoroughly. In this way the country and town women would be working together to make themselves better citizens. The men have several hundred years start of us in the matter of voting and certainly we have got to do some real studying in order to vote intelligently. I'm sure none of us would want to go to the polls and vote for a man for an important office about whom we know nothing at all. We have got to study politics and I believe it would be a "short-cut" to study as a group. In the same way all of the women of the community—and the country is just as important a part of the community as the town of Wayne—could study city ordinances new in force and those proposed. As an organization, then, the club could lend its influence either for or against the measure whereas as individual women one opinion would count as little. No doubt you can think of other ways for us to work together. After all, if we can only keep alive the spirit of good fellowship which now exists, and every woman works that spirit of friendliness and helpfulness, we will soon forget who are country women and who are town women in our eagerness to get things done for the good of the whole community.

You Auto Owners!

If you're wise you have that car of yours—whether it be a $500 Ford or a $2,000 Cadillac—overhauled once in a while. You don't wait until cylinders begin knocking to suspect that something is wrong. You listen to the hum of your motor and right away you adjust that slip, however slight it is. You learn long ago that it's cheaper to tighten a bolt than to buy a spring; far less expensive to have a short circuit straightened out than to put in a battery. You put the hydro-meter on her faithfully.

HOW ABOUT THAT HUMAN MOTOR OF YOURS?
Is it running on five cylinders, when all six should be hitting perfectly to carry your load?

Are your valves choked with carbon?
Is your carburetor adjusted to just the right mixture?
Looked after your compression lately? Are others shooting past you on the road?

Are you running on a flat tire and taking a chance of being towed home some fine day?

ARE YOU GOING TO WAIT UNTIL THE MACHINE STOPS BEFORE CONSULTING AN EXPERT ON THE HUMAN MOTOR?

You are the man that knows best when your machine balks and gets cranky. You're the driver—every day in the year. If you're wise you'll consult an expert when you notice that first lack of power.

Your chiropractor can put his finger on the source of your motor troubles. He'll run down that short circuit and get that missing cylinder to "hitting." He'll tell you if you have a "dead" spark plug.

He'll adjust your carburetor so that your human machine of yours will "sing" with energy.
And it's profitable to adjust the difficulty now. Don't wait until your motor stops. Don't take a chance of being towed home some fine day.

A Feverish Trade Week.

Sioux City Journal: While on general principles, a period of agitation and disturbing, like that of the past fortnight, tends to destroy the equilibrium of trade, there were elements in the situation which, while feverish, tended to hold firm the volume of business. Constant fear of a collapse of railroad transportation caused an increase in orders from distributing centers. This was an attempt to forestall such lack of shipping facilities by accumulating sufficient stocks to meet demands for a reasonable time. The increase in trade was caused by industrial disturbance, but augmented the volume instead of reducing it as is generally the case.

The campaign of the government for reduced prices in essential commodities was reflected in the speculative markets. Grain, notably corn and pork, showed a nervous condition, with a tendency to lower levels. Heavy selling resulted from the policy of the government to throw its own food supplies on the market and to bring out of storage all that can be reached by government agencies.

On the whole, no marked decrease in prices has come from the lower price campaign. The work is just starting, however, and its effects upon both retail and wholesale trade may be more in evidence as the scope of the work enlarges. The government has succeeded in the supply of local food products which are now glutting the markets. In the whole northern two-thirds of the United States, minimum or late season supplies are available, and as much of the stuff is perishable, it must be marketed to avoid spoiling. This, under ordinary conditions, would result in lower prices, but practically all the perishable products were sold in advance at prices based on former high levels, and these prices will be demanded by the producers and will be passed on to the consumer. General trade in canned and cartoned goods is taking cognizance of this condition and expects it to hold up prices in all foods for a time, at least. However, no long time delivery contracts are being made, orders being limited to immediate demands or enough in the past to tide over possible suspension of shipping facilities.

The talk of reducing the amount of money in circulation has an echo in the restriction of investments. The effect of making such investments at a time when the currency is inflated, and with the threat of artificial deflation staring them in the faces have induced investors to take no steps towards expansion. Building has been checked by the same influences. It is not clear that deflation of the currency and the deflation of property values will be the same, and without a foundation for believing that they would counterbalance each other, there is little inclination to venture upon any elaborate building campaign in the immediate future.

The checks on investments and building are associated in an accumulation of available cash, and a lower rate of interest to induce investment may result.

The Velvet tin is twice as big as shown here

If ever men are "Tom" and "Bill" to each other, it's when good pipes are a-going. If ever good pipes go their best, 'tis when Velvet's in the bowl.

For Velvet is a mighty friendly smoke. Kentucky Burley is the leaf that Nature made for pipes. Wholesome and hearty, honest as the day. And Velvet is that same good Burley leaf, brought to mellow middle age.

For eight long seasons Velvet "meditates" in wooden hogsheads, throwing off the rawness of "young" tobacco—truly "ageing in the wood." Out Velvet comes—cool, calm and generous—the tobacco Nature made good, kept good and made better.

Velvet's sweetness is the sweetness of good tobacco, not "put on" like "frosting" on a cake. Its mildness comes from natural ageing, not from having the life baked out. Its fragrance is true tobacco fragrance, not a perfume. And Velvet makes an A Number One cigarette. Roll one.

As good old Velvet Joe says:

"Fill yo' heart with friendly thoughts, Yo' mouth with friendly smoke—An' let the old world wag."

Long Distance Telephone Rates are Standardized

Long distance service is often conducted over the wires of more than one company and frequently across state lines.

Heretofore, there have been several differences in the methods of quoting long distance rates by various companies.

This resulted in much confusion because of the many different conditions involved. This was not only expensive but caused many difficulties in operating the long distance lines.

Under the rates now established, long distance service is on the same throughout the country whether it is inter-community, inter-company or interstate. It is available everywhere on the same standard terms.

The tonneau is even more liberally proportioned. The seat is full three-passenger capacity, set at a comfortable angle. The sides are upholstered clear to the doors with the same French pleated leather used on the cushions and seat backs. Each of the four doors is equipped with a side pocket for storing small parcels. The instrument board is illuminated by a dash lamp. Top and side curtains are made of high grade fabric, the curtains swinging open with the doors. Behind the front seat is a very convenient pocket for storing the side curtains when not in use.

No Camouflage in This Price Titan 10-20 $1,000. We have reduced the Titan 10-20 price $225. You can now get the world's standard 3-plow tractor for $1,000.

When you buy a TITAN the original price includes:

Friction Clutch Pulley A large, wide friction clutch pulley, made in five sizes, equipped with safety shield, is mounted directly on the crank shaft of the low-speed Titan engine and delivers the full power to the drive machine. The Titan 10-20 can be quickly backed into the belt because of the location of the pulley and the belt clears the front wheels and other parts of the tractor by a generous margin. It is not necessary to dig holes for the front wheels to get belt clearance. The Titan pulley was not put on as an afterthought. The designers did not overlook it in the first place. Some tractor builders committed this very serious error, due to lack of farm knowledge and experience. To remedy this error, they changed a small make-shift pulley in one size only, attached it in an awkward place, and charge you $35 to $40 for it. The Titan 10-20 friction clutch pulley is furnished without extra charge.

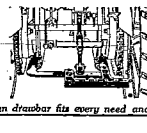

THERE is no "joker" in this price. We are not telling you one story in this advertisement and then leaving it for our dealers to break the sad news that the advertised price won't buy a tractor unless you pay extra for a lot of necessary features. The Titan dealer won't charge you extra for "starting and service" before he can deliver the tractor. He won't show you a machine stripped of many essential parts—belt pulley, fenders, platform, governor, drawbar, tools—and then tell you that you can have these things by paying extra for them. The Titan at this advertised price is a complete 3-plow kerosene tractor.

Throttle Governor Some tractors are sold without governors because, perhaps, the designers did not know that one was needed. Which is the best economy—pay an operator a salary just to sit on the tractor and adjust the fuel to the load variations when engaged in belt work or to a throttle governor do it with cut extra cost?—do it automatically, perfectly. The Titan throttle governor saves fuel and prevents grain losses by delivering uniform power to your threshing and lengthens the life of both tractor and driver. You get this governor without extra charge.

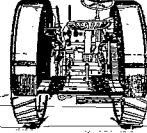

Then there is another thing. We are not experimenting at your expense when we sell you a Titan 10-20. There is real farm machine and tractor manufacturing experience back of it. We have been in the farm machine business for 88 years and have been supplying tractors for 14 years. Not another company in the world knows the farmer's power and machine requirements as the Harvester organization does.

Drawbar Some tractor builders put a hook and eye affair on the tail end of their tractor—and call it a drawbar! They seem to have overlooked the fact that a farm tractor not only pulls plows but also mowers, hay loaders, grain binders, harrow, threshers, etc., each requiring different drawbar adjustment. Perhaps they didn't know about these other machines. Look at the Titan drawbar. Note the provisions for a wide range of adjustment both up and down and aside. The Titan drawbar fits every need and it is furnished without extra cost.

Would you entrust your bank account to a man who had never had any experience in handling money? Will you risk your farm profits in a tractor built by designers whose knowledge of farming is limited to books and a drawing board? It will pay you to think about these things when you buy your tractor.

Fenders The designers of some tractors the drive wheels obviously did not know that the operating and machine fenders prevent the Titan 10-20 from having such fenders. They are like a "safety first" feature. The state of Nebraska has passed a law prohibiting the sale of fenderless tractors. Titan fenders are furnished at the $40 to $50 extra charge made by the "cheap-price" manufacturers.

Starting and Instruction Service Another "joke" of some tractor concerns is to charge you a large "starting and service" fee—extra. This is another way of getting a low price for advertising purposes. But you can't get the tractor without paying this charge. They make it compulsory. The International Harvester puts this service without asking you to pay extra for it when you buy a Titan 10-20. Free tractor schools inaugurated by us, also benefit Titan purchasers in all parts of the country.

Platform Some tractor designers apparently never sat in a tractor seat ten hours a day or more, jolting over rough fields, so they can't appreciate what a relief it is for the tractor operator to rest himself now and then by standing up, without loss of time. You will appreciate the Titan 10-20 platform that enables you to do this. It is a comfort feature furnished regularly with every Titan 10-20 tractor—no extra cost.

Tools A complete set of sixteen tools is furnished with every Titan 10-20. This handy tool-kit is provided in spite of the fact that Titan 10-20 tractors get out of order less frequently than any other tractors in the world. Some tractor concerns whose tractors rarely need frequent adjustment and repair, furnish nothing but two or three wrenches. They tell you that their product is so good that it doesn't need adjustment. Do you believe that? As a matter of fact, they omit necessary tools for the same reason they omit the essential features described above—to make a low "camouflage price"! The Titan 10-20 complete tool kit is furnished without extra charge.

What's Your Tailor?

Fall Tailoring Samples Now are Here

Yes, They're Here---over 1,000 of Them

And We Want Every Man in Wayne County to See Them Before He Buys His Fall Suit or Overcoat

IF you bought a tailored-to-order suit last spring, you will remember that deliveries were slow then and that in many cases customers were forced to await second selections on their suits. This will not happen this fall—at least not so often. It will not happen at all if we can have your selections NOW.

The woolens this fall are better than those for several seasons past, but there is a real scarcity of good woolens—the all-wool kind—and this is the only kind we handle, and we expect that many good patterns will be sold out early in the season.

So Come In Now --- Order Your Suit or Overcoat.

Have the Finished Garments Come out as Late as November If You Like, BUT ORDER THEM NOW

PRICES are somewhat higher than a year ago, but they are less than you will expect to pay---and less than you will pay in many other places.

THE colorings for fall are varied with brown mixtures or heathers predominating and a generous selection of overplaid. In fact, you will find most any color that you like

Heavy purchases of furnishings made months ago will enable us to take good care of your fall needs in every line

Shoes

Especially have materially advanced, but we have many lines of shoes priced from $2.00 to $4.00 per pair under the present market.
