

FALL TERM OPENS PROSPECT UNUSUAL

Enrollment at Wayne State Normal Greater by Sixty-Eight Per Cent Than Last Year.

MEN BACK FROM SERVICE

School Activities—Football, Orchestra Work, Band—to Be Resumed Immediately.

At the end of the third day the enrollment at the Wayne State Normal is greater by sixty-eight per cent than the corresponding day last year. This flattering increase in attendance is believed in large measure due to the work of Prof. S. C. Cross who last spring traveled over a considerable portion of this section of the state and aroused much interest in the work of the institution. The attendance is the increased number of young men which is very marked. It has always been the tradition that many boys came in during the winter. The present situation indicates that with the end of the war the young men are returning to the institution, learning a thing which was not generally expected.

It is pleasant to see upon the campus many of the boys who saw service in the army, several of whom held commissions.

Very near the coming of Prof. J. J. Coleman, the Normal has had an excellent orchestra and also band. Owing to pressure of other duties Prof. Coleman will not work this year but is in charge of Prof. W. C. Hunter. Apparently these organizations are in the picture and enthusiastic.

Under the care of Coach Serjling, football, which has not existed in the past, will be resurrected. With the large amount of material it would seem that the Normal should have a successful team, consisting of jerseys, pants, socks, headgear, for the players, has just been received.

MARRIED IN SIOUX CITY

Frank Roe of Wayne Weds Miss Ella Jones of Wynot Today.

Today at noon, in the first Methodist church in Sioux City, took place the wedding of Frank Roe, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Roe, of Wayne, to Miss Ella Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Jones, of Wynot. Rev. M. Hutchinson, officiating and using the ring ceremony. Only immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The attending from Wayne: Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Roe, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fortner, and Mrs. H. A. Fortner. Frank Roe is a Wayne product, having been born and reared here. After graduating from the Wayne high school, he entered the Wayne State Normal, he entered the county treasurer's office as deputy, in which capacity he served until the spring of 1918. He served four months in France, returning home in February, 1919. He is now in the employ of the "Treasury" Harlow Lumber Company at Sioux City, where he and his bride will make their home. His bride was a student in the high school at Wynot one time and last year taught school at Emerson.

Wayne friends of the young couple will wish the unbounded happiness and prosperity.

G. W. McCullum Passes Away.

G. W. McCullum, who lived for twenty years in Wayne, and who went to Kansas a few months ago to visit a sister, died at Greerwood, Mo., September 10. He was 70 years of age. He was a native of Wayne. McCullum was aged about 75 years. His wife died many years ago. He was a long hearted man. He had lived a rather lonely life. He was a member of the local Presbyterian church, and had a circle of good friends here and there. He was a Wayne citizen. Mr. McCullum expressed a wish to be buried in Wayne.

Gets Divorce; Seeks $10,000.

Fremont, Neb., Sept. 9.—Mrs. Mae Maxwell, widely known Fremont woman, here granted a divorce from Jake Maxwell, son of the late Judge Maxwell, in district court on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Maxwell asked for the defendant's husband's share in the estate of his father, which is valued at about $10,000. Judge Button took the matter in hand, and after a hearing and a verdict. Mrs. Maxwell has three children. She testified that she had not heard from her husband for eight years.

Final Alcohol in Bitters.

Kearney, Neb., Sept. 9.—Two cases of "bitters," containing the deadliest of alcohol, were located in one soft drink place here by a state liquor agent, assisted by the local police. The dealer admitted having sold several quarts of the stuff and paid a fine of $100 and costs. Another shipment of same style of "bitters" was found at the depot, with no one to claim it. No arrests were made for bootlegging, but the dealer's evidence, showing no money was found. During the week a party of local men paid $12 a quart for an entire case of "bottled-in" liquor. The dealer was arrested, but when they opened the case, they found that a fancy price had been paid for colored water.

VIGOROUS CONDITIONS. MARK SCHOOL AFFAIRS

Much Interest Aroused in Annual High School Reception.

Once every year the new pupils and teachers of Wayne high school are the honored guests at the annual "all-school" reception. From the time they reach the building until everyone leaves, Friday night, they are amused and entertained in various delightful and unexpected ways. The party which is to be held on Friday night at the high school building will be no exception to former times. In fact, the plans which are now under way promise that it will be more clever than usual.

Few high school affairs have a chance to compete for world's record, but whether you have ever gone out for "track" before or not, there will be a chance to make a name for yourself.

It is hoped to follow out a new plan in the high school which will give all the students a chance to get together on one day. Each day a high school convocation will be held. Special programs of various nature will be presented. This gives the school a chance to hear good local speakers and occasionally a famous person who happens to be in the city.

The following were visitors at the high school on Wednesday: Margaret Ellis, Neith Wright, Alice Blair, Eloise Murre, Dorothy Crawford, Mary House.

The high school enrollment has increased to 133.

CAPTAIN FRANCIS, ARMY CHAPLAIN, VISITS HERE

Many Months of Service with "Twilight" Division at Lodge.

Rev. George E. Francis, captain and acting chaplain of the 19th division, is spending this week in Wayne visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Francis, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jeffries. Captain Francis was with the 19th or "Twilight" division from the time of its organization until this summer when he received his discharge.

Over thirteen months he spent with the 17th infantry at Camp Dunderberg, Ft. Monroe. This division was made up of Iowa and Nebraska boys who were badly disappointed in not being sent overseas.

Since receiving his discharge, Rev. Francis has spent the summer on the theatrical platform with the Acme company of Des Moines. Before entering the army he was pastor of the First Methodist church in Fremont. This is the church with the record of having 3,000 enrolled in the Sunday school, which is the highest in the state. He expects to return to Indiana and receive an appointment from the northwest Indiana Methodist conference.

Pershing's Fame Secured. Springfield, Mass., Republican Whatever may be asked against him hereafter to discredit his work as a general, Pershing has won as great a military distinction as any soldier in our history in the permanent grade by the vote of both houses of congress. While in the house a negligible minority of four votes was against the promotion of the senate was unanimous.

This action makes Pershing's fame secure, and the approval of his work by congress cannot be undone by any campaign of detraction later on. That he will have to face such a campaign hereafter as General Pershing's fame is so secure that it is fairly sure from it if he keeps his head and keeps also out of politics.

Thanks His Stars. Knoxville Journal and Tribune: The more lines black things up the face of General Pershing, the louder and more fervently McAdoo thanks the Lord he dropped the job and ran.

NEBRASKA CROPS IN UNEVEN STATE

Corn Shows Increase Over Last Year in Tough Part of South-east Section of State.

WHEAT YIELD REDUCED

Barley and Oats Nearer Normal Than Last Year, with Less than Half Potato Crop.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 10.—Nebraska's 1919 corn crop will yield 172,400 bushels, an estimate made in the September crop report issued today by United States census bureau.

The state bureau of markets and marketing, in 1918 the production of corn was 123,089,000 bushels, but hot, dry weather greatly reduced the yield that year. During August, this year, says the report, the crop deteriorated 10 per cent, making the 1919 crop 172,400 bushels per acre of a normal with an increased yield of 25.5 bushels per acre.

"The yield is a gain," says the report, "but a failure to yield an excellent condition. Parts of the south central and most of the western portion of the state. The southern quarter of the state, with few exceptions, has a very poor crop."

W. A. Williams of Fairmont, recently appointed as chief of the state's bureau of markets and marketing, helped for the first time in the report, in conjunction with A. E. Anderson of the U. S. crop estimate bureau. The report states that the production of the state's other crops besides corn continues as follows:

"The condition of spring wheat at the present time is good, and the production of 6,870,000 bushels compared to 6,500,000 bushels last year. The yield is a gain, but a failure to yield a fair crop. Some western and central counties have fairly good yields and with a normal yield of 25 bushels per acre, a higher state average than one might expect. Spring wheat ripened too fast in eastern half of the state, and the yield was also a factor in reducing yields. The total production of hard spring and winter wheat is 55,800,000 bushels compared to 43,461,000 bushels last year.

"The condition of oats of the time of harvest was 85 per cent, which should amount to 222 bushels last year. The production will approximate 1,380,000 bushels, a production of 1,900 bushels last year. The southern quarter of the state has a better oats crop than northeastern Nebraska, which is rather unusual.

"The condition of barley at the time of harvest was 83 per cent from which a yield of 25 bushels per acre should amount to a production of 7,951,000 bushels compared to 5,600,000 bushels last year. Barley and oats are nearer normal than other crops. The yield is a gain, but a failure to yield a fair crop. The acreage has increased considerably.

"The potato crop this year is the best in the state, which was generally very promising previous to July. The yield has been reduced to 52 per cent of normal, the commercial crop of western Nebraska, while slightly better than a half crop, may turn out less than half of normal. The yield is a gain, but a failure to yield a fair crop. The acreage is smaller. September 1 condition indicates a total crop of 6,438,000 bushels compared to 10,400,000 bushels last year. The western Nebraska crop was very good last year, while the general farm crop of potatoes was very small.

Did You Get Good Wear Out of That last Suit You Bought?

We'll bet you did. If you bought it here you surely did. Suits that have got lots of good long wear in them are the only kind we sell.

Generally, when a man purchases a suit of us it is the wear that he gets out of it that induces him to make a return trip here for another of the same sort. If wear you're looking for in a suit then this is the place to come to get it.

We have them in all styles, plain, belted models and waist seam; one, two and three button effects. Your size is surely among them.

Get Out of The Rut or Stay in It

Goodrich Tires

Best in the Long Run

YOU MEN of the farm pay for it. Stay in and you wear out the sidewalls of your tires; get out and you ride the bumps. You pay either in the discomfort, or your tires. But in or out of the rut, you pay less if your car is shod with Goodrich Tires. For Goodrich Tires are built to meet the harsh demands of unpaved roads. Examine their extra thick, extra wide, SAFETY TREAD. See how the Goodrich interlocking safety bars spread beyond the ball of the tire to the sidewalls. Under weight and pressure it lays more tough tread rubber, and more safety clutch on the road. See how the wider tread carries on up the tire, and beneath the side strip, giving an extra shield of tough rubber to fortify the tire in the weakest spot, the spot where ruts attack it. There is a full farm day work, and long farm life in the hubs, broad shouldered bodies of Goodrich Tires. For high-powered cars always use Goodrich Silvertown Cords. And the same advice holds good for Goodrich Truck Tires in your heavy hauling.

Do You Want to Save Some Money?

Re-insulating a battery is about the most expensive repair there is.

And there's only one kind of battery in general use that isn't practically certain to be re-insulated—or junked within the next year, or two.

That one exception is the Willard Battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation.

PAULINE BIEGLER DIES

Former Wayne Girl Passes Away at Her Home in Sioux City.

Wayne friends of the family of Mrs. Dorothea Biegler, who moved to Sioux City from this place five years ago, were shocked Friday to learn of the death of Miss Pauline Biegler, aged 27 years. Miss Biegler was employed by the Home Furniture company of Sioux City, and on returning home Thursday evening she complained of a severe headache. Two doctors were summoned to give relief. The pain ceased, she fell asleep, and Friday morning she was found dead. A postmortem examination is said to have revealed a tumor in her brain and an enlarged heart.

Funeral services were held in the English Lutheran church at Sioux City Sunday afternoon, followed by interment in Graceland cemetery. The following Wayne people attended: Mr. and Mrs. William Kugler; Miss Dorothea Kugler, Geo. Leindecker, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Lesner, Mr. and Mrs. William Piepenstueck, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Vath and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ringer.

Miss Biegler lived most of her life in Wayne, and was for a number of years in the employ of the Wayne Herald, resigning the place to go to Sioux City with the family five years ago. She had many friends who regret her death. Her father died a few years ago. Her mother, she is surmised by three brothers, George, William and Jacob, and four sisters, Miss Elsie and Miss Louise Biegler and Mrs. Margaret Taylor of Sioux City and Mrs. Rose Weimers of Los Angeles.

PLANS OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Chicken Pie Supper to Raise Funds for Community House.

A chicken pie supper to be served next Saturday afternoon from five o'clock at the opera house, is the first of several plans which the Wayne Woman's club expect to carry out to raise money for the community house. This supper is to cost only fifty cents, and it should be patronized by everyone who is interested in seeing Wayne have the first community house in this part of the country.

Other projects were discussed at the meeting of the club which was held last Saturday afternoon at the opera house, but these are not developed fully enough to be made public at this time. It is sufficient to say that with the cooperation of everyone, these plans will mean success.

A committee to meet with the Pure Bred Stock Breeder's association to discuss plans for a stock show in October was named by the president, Mrs. G. W. Lewis. Mrs. E. W. Huse and Mrs. L. C. Gilder-leeve were the ones appointed.

Several new members were taken to the business meeting. The food exchange held during the afternoon netted the club approximately $28.

Palmer Certificates Granted

This summer Miss Charlotte Emde of Elgin, and Miss Belva Nickel of Weverka, were the two winners of the Palmer certificates whose work was sent into national headquarters at New York, as worthy of Palmer certificates. Word was recently received from Mr. Martin, head of the department, to the effect that both of these students had been granted the Palmer certificates. The pennants in this summer had practically only six weeks work and the progress of these two young ladies and the excellence of their work excite a commendation from Palmer headquarters. Miss Nickel teaches the third grade in the Wayne public school.

The Coats

Our collection of coats is large enough to offer a splendid choice of style, material, and price. You will admire them in both the straight full belted and loose back, and front belted styles. The high "snuggle" collar has special notice and don't forget the fancy silk and satin linings. The materials are the latest: Pussytoot, heather mixtures, silvertone, Pomery, Frost Glow, and tweeds.

The Suits

Which we are showing have many little style features that distinguish them—give them an individual look. The straight silhouette is a favored one. Belts, pockets, linings, and soutache braidings are some of the special features.

The Dresses

One piece dresses in serge, gaberdine, twill, tricotine are found in a variety of simple and irresistible styles.

Farmers Say Lally Saves

13 to 66 Hours Per Week

Doubt of the positive saving of Lally Light has disappeared. Proof is piling up on all sides. We no longer need to ask you to accept our statements. We never doubted for a minute that Lally Light and Power was one of the greatest blessings that had ever come to the farmers of the world. Now we can quote the farmers themselves—thousands of them.

The grandest saving in all the records compiled thus far is better than 13 hours per week

Many of these farmers admit they installed the Lally because their wives, sons and daughters gave them no rest till they did. They weren't thinking so much of the saving. They simply couldn't get away from the conclusion that their wives and families were entitled to the comfort, the education, the conveniences of Lally Light and power. Now they are finding that Lally is even more than a wonderful comfort and convenience.

It is making money by saving time for them. Think of one man's achieving cheerfully that he has gained 66 1/2 hours' labor in one week! The wise thing for you to do is to see Lally Light. It is value to you, your family and your farm is so great that it would pay you to make a special trip to us as soon as you can. Or we will come to you if you telephone.

Ask your Lally dealer to show you the Lally Saves Book telling experiences of Lally owners.

English Lutheran Church (Rev. J. H. Fetters, Pastor)

September 14—10 a. m. Sunday school. 11 a. m. regular morning service. All parents are earnestly requested to send their children to Sunday school.

First Presbyterian Church (Rev. J. W. Beard, Minister)

Sunday, September 14, will be observed as school day in this church. All the services of the day are in honor of the teachers and students of the schools of Wayne. The morning service is a welcome service for the teachers. The evening service is a welcome service for all students.

Morning hour of worship, 10:30 o'clock. Subject of the sermon, "The Key of Tomorrow."

Sabbath school at 11:30. Senior Endeavor at 7 o'clock. Miss Paul Phileo is the leader.

We want you, teachers and students! Let us think together, let us work together for great lives and greater service.

First Baptist Church (Robert H. Pratt, S. T. M., Minister)

The air we breathe is life-giving or harmful. The moral air of a city we must all breathe, and we each help create it. What do you think of a man who wants good, moral air for himself and family, but who will do nothing to create it? Real religion is the moral ozone of a city.

At the morning service at 10:30, the pastor will speak on the topic, "The Builders," and in the evening at 8 o'clock, the "Christian Triple Alliance." The Sunday school opens at 11:30 and we are anxious for all our scholars to be present.

The young people's meeting started again last Sunday at 7:30, had a fine meeting. Come out next Sunday.

Long Distance Calls and Operating Expense

Long distance telephone calls can be handled with much greater speed when conversation is not required with a particular person but when anyone at the telephone called will talk.

Also, the operating cost and use of wires involved in handling a long distance call for a particular person is much greater than for a message where the person will talk with anyone answering the telephone called.

A lower rate is now offered to telephone users who place long distance calls for anyone at the telephone wanted rather than for a particular person.

A "report charge" is made to cover a portion of the expense we incur when a long distance call is placed but which is never completed.

POOR WAY TO WOOD SLEEP

Man Who Experimented Pronounces Incrimina "Cure" to Be at Least "of Doubtful Value."

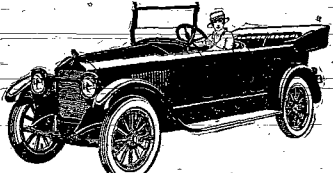

A new cure for insomnia, we read, is to "list the first names of all your friends and acquaintances, taking each letter of the alphabet in order." Of course this is only a variant of the old device of counting imaginary sheep jumping over a wall. Forasmuch we never found that to work at all. We counted between 11,000 and 12,000 of these alleged soporific sleep one night, and then the stars came out off and it was time to get up, which we did with a groan, a headache and a pair of astigmatic eyes.

Looking an alphabetical catalogue of your friends' first names is an even more stimulating and nerve-exciting process. We would be willing to wager that the number of names you remember than the N's before being interrupted by the first call for breakfast. It is doubtful, at least, if the night comes, enough time to go through with the whole list from Alfred to Zerkia.

We should say that this might be the best way to begin sleep altogether. The best way to wood stumber, we have been told, is to go into the silence, relax all muscles and nerves, and then in a next way, pull all the edges of the mind into a dead mental center and fold them in. It is hard to say just how this is done, but it sounds plausible. Frequently, of course, there are some difficulties merely in going into a silence. Somebody on the premises, perhaps in an adjacent apartment, there may be someone who has gone to sleep without going into the silence.

This interferes materially with the working of the very center of the mind, and it is a neighboring obstacle of this sort it is a much easier matter. And yet, even after the silence is arranged, there is a great deal to be avoided its own disturbance. Arithmetic and alphabetical diversions only accentuate the trouble. The only thing to do is to get into a very quiet center of the mind as if by a hypothetical hole, or vacuum, contract the mind until it is all pulled into this hole, and then pull the mind in after it. And there you are. Of course if there is a certain degree of reality in this imagined condition, there is not a way to exercising the hypothesis, and that might be a much easier. P. H. Young in Providence Journal.

To the Public. Having got blacksmiths to join B. F. Strahan in the establishment of a filling station, Lewis to thank him for his generous offer of the past and ask for favorable consideration in this new venture. Also all those knowing themselves inclined to well-wish please call and settle. H. Marchant.

STUDEBAKER

The Big Six

The New Studebaker cars are the fruit of the combined experience and genius of the entire Studebaker engineering staff—among the ablest men known to the automobile industry.

They do not represent the untried theories of any one man, but are rather the fruit of the ripened experience of this group of prominent and successful automobile engineers.

The performance of each new car, through the gruelling factory test run of 40,000 miles, and in the hands of thousands of thoroughly satisfied owners everywhere, is proof of their mechanical excellence.

Studebaker quality, dominant for 67 years, is reflected in these new models.

Studebaker operates huge heat-treating plants where all steel parts are toughened and hardened to withstand severe strains and terrific wear. Many of the heat-treating methods which are now standard in the entire industry were developed in Studebaker laboratories and shops.

Studebaker makes all its own forgings, castings, machines, and builds complete every Studebaker motor; makes its springs in its own spring plant.

Being complete manufacturers—and one of the world's largest and oldest industrial institutions—Studebaker can and does make its parts of better, stronger, longer-wearing materials, and puts better value into its cars at a stated price.

Studebaker bodies are designed by Studebaker's own body engineers and built complete in Studebaker's own body plant. The paneling and the beautifully moulded fenders are developed by Studebaker's huge presses.

The framework of the Studebaker body has been developed through many years of concentrated study. There are no squeals or annoying rattles, not even after years of service over the roughest roads.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

J. R. Armstrong is Chairman for Campaign in Wayne County.

A drive for funds for the Salvation Army will take place during the week beginning September 22 and ending September 27, and the quota for Nebraska is $512,000 and for Wayne county $2,117. J. R. Armstrong has been chosen to look after the campaign in Wayne county. A. L. Sutton of Omaha is the state chairman and J. B. Kennedy of Omaha is the state treasurer. C. H. Burnham of Norfolk and Judge A. A. Welch of Wayne, are members of the committee at large. The amount of money asked is not based on any previous drive, but on minimum necessities of the organization. The fund secured is expected to take the place of personal solicitation of funds by army members as has been the custom in the past. The eminently worthy service of the army during the late war will be a source of inspiration in raising the funds desired.

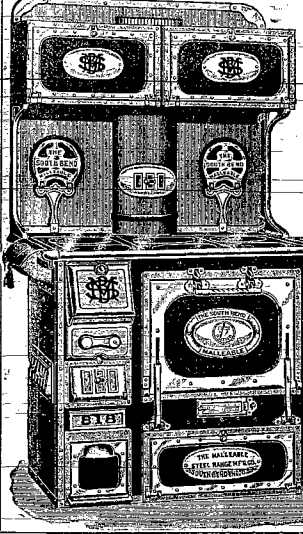

Some of Army's Activities.

- 1. This is a list, in brief, of activities the Salvation Army will continue to extend as a result of the Home Service campaign.
- 2. The field of evangelistic work. The preaching of the Gospel in dictation suited to the simplest of men, with the hope of immediate decision for Christ.
- 3. Slum settlements—from which radiate all forms of temporal and spiritual help to the families of the district.
- 4. Rescue homes—for the reclamation of fallen women; or to prevent from falling, those who are especially tempted. About 85 per cent of the girls passing through the homes are permitted to restore their homes and resumes to their usual connection with the rescue home.
- 5. Industrial homes—for homeless and otherwise unemployed women who are given temporary work until such time as they can be found permanent employment.
- 6. Working men's lodges where a poor man may find a clean bed at a merely nominal price in surroundings which make for his moral and spiritual regeneration.
- 7. Children's home for the care and training of orphaned or neglected children.
- 8. Young women's boarding homes, where girls who labor for a modest salary in factories or department stores may board at very low cost. That avoid the evils of the common pernicious boarding house.
- 9. Christmas dinners furnished by ticket to poor families who are in need. Toys and clothing given to the children.
- 10. Fresh air camps in the country districts or on the lakes, where poor mothers and children are taken for ten days in the summer.
- 11. Free employment bureaus which find work chiefly for unskilled labor, or what may be termed "The Chronically Unemployed."
- 12. Missing friends bureaus which locates missing friends or relatives in any part of the world.
- 13. Prison visit to care for the families of prisoners or for released prisoners and start them in useful employment and helpful associations, and also to provide spiritual help for those who are still serving time.
- 14. Training Colleges where young men and women are trained for officership in Salvation Army.

Besides the above, there is a vast amount of temporary relief, which includes the distribution of coal, wood and coal, of clothing, shoes and medicines and the actual cash disbursed to save families from eviction on prosecution, or for other purposes. It should always be borne in mind that the plans for social relief of the Salvation Army are beyond the experimental stage.

Styles and Prices.

Sioux City Journal: "Some time ago, one of the congressional hearings, five farmers, who were attending it, dined together at one of the average hotels of the national capital. Their bill for the dinner was $12. Afterward they figured up how much of the total cost went to the farmer and found that the food consumed brought the farmers who produced it approximately $2 cents. The rest of the $11 went into cost of transportation, distribution, profit, taxation and service. W. J. Jarnagin, writing in the September issue of the Iowa Farmer, cites a personal experience in which he paid $2 for a hotel meal. After thinking the matter over, he concluded the outlay for the food consumed was but a small part of the price charged for the meal. But he figured out some of the other things which entered into that $2 cost. He says: "While the large company of us were eating there was a high class orchestra furnishing music for the occasion, and a lady sang beautifully as did also a couple of men and the expense of these 'luxuries' was included in the price charged for that dinner." The tables were decorated with the choicest flowers. We apprehend the roses cost $10 a dozen, maybe more. There were cashiers, some full dressed and some not, and a charming band. Waiters told the rest of the girls how to wait upon the tables and there were fancy champagne, handsome dresses about the windows and wonderful electric lights and mellow reflections from large chandeliers. The farmers who dined in Washington and received 10 cents worth of food each for which they paid $2.20 were paying for the same sort of entertainment the Iowa Farmer editor did. It was style and service. In the cities, the public eating places are not only expected to provide food to eat, but must provide amusement for the eaters. If the price of the cabaret entertainment of which Mr. Jarnagin speaks had been deducted from the price of the meal, to "those enjoyed by the German general staff in 1914." The bill interferes with enlistments in the national guard, the analysis charges, because young men would not enlist in the guard until they had completed the training period prescribed by the measure. The analysis also charges that the bill would provide conscription in time of peace because these men after they have completed their training period may be conscripted for service in the regular army, navy or marine corps, for an additional period of one year.

WAYNE TESTIMONY.

Home Proof Here, There and Everywhere.

When you see Doan's Kidney pills recommended in this paper you must always find the recommender a Wayne resident. It's the same everywhere, in 3,800 towns in the U. S. Fifty thousand people publicly thank Doan's. What other kidney remedy can give this proof of merit, honesty and truth? Home testimony must be true or it could not be published here. Read this Wayne recommendation. Then insist on having Doan's. You will know what you are getting. "I have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills for some time. The relief they gave me and others of the family from backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble has convinced me that Doan's are reliable."

Steady Work. Seattle Post-Intelligencer: Still, for a good permanent job, a place on an arbitration commission ought to place its possessor beyond worry.

Experts or Theorists—Which?

The packing industry is intricate, complex—far more so than the railroads or the telegraph.

Every day multiplying needs of society increase its problems and multiplying responsibilities demand more of it.

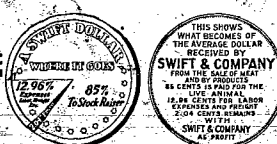

Highly trained experts, specialists of years' experience, thinkers and creative men, devote their lives, their energies, their activities, to solving the problems of the packing industry and meeting its widening duties.

Swift & Company is not a few dozen packing plants, a few hundred branch houses, a few thousand refrigerator cars, and a few million dollars of capital, but an organization of such men. It is the experience, intelligence, initiative and activity which operates this physical equipment.

Can this intelligence, this experience, this initiative and creative effort which handles this business at a profit of only a fraction of a cent per pound from all sources, be fostered through the intervention of political theorists, however pure their purposes? Or be replaced by legislation? Does Congress really think that it can?

Let us send you a Swift "Dollar." It will interest you.

Emerson's School Dedicated.

Norfolk Daily News, Sept. 6: The Sacred Heart Catholic school building, paid for by the Catholic parish at Emerson, Neb., was dedicated at impressive services Thursday afternoon. The building is a beautiful structure, completely modern and made especially comfortable for parochial school work. It will be conducted by the Catholic sisters. The building cost $70,000.

Fights Military Service Bill.

In his opposition to the Chamberlain-Kahn bill which proposes that young men between 18 and 26 may be compelled to take a six month military training course, Adj. Gen. H. J. Paul of Nebraska has made public an analysis of the bill sent him by the organization committee of the National Guard association declaring the measure would give powers to the general staff, similar

The world is on the operating table—Woodrow Wilson. And the world is a trifle uneasy lest the surgeons prove incompetent.

"Delicious," taboed during the war, has come back in describing the social lunch. "Boutiques" will come when the high tide of H. C. L. recedes.

A western rancher has bought an airplane to be used in looking after the affairs of his big land holdings. Airplanes for practical purposes promise to become common before long.

A newspaper headline says: "Florida—Escapes Hurricane Damage." So does Nebraska, though the elements have been fearfully hot and have seemed to threaten some thing unusual.

Some people who assume to work seem fearful that the high price they ask will be accepted. Also, they go to work. They seem to entertain the needless fear that they will earn what they are getting.

If country roads were as rough as the average town's streets, automobile-riding would be a terrifying and unbearable scourge. The condition is a powerful argument in favor of paving. And it is encouraging to observe that most towns are moving in that direction.

The principle of a league of nations to minimize the chance of future wars is generally accepted as sound, though changes in the present world are visible to safeguard the United States against becoming unnecessarily responsible for the conduct of little neighbor countries. The idea that chaos would follow any alteration in the pact is an extreme and we believe, an untenable view.

Excerpts from Germany's new constitution, published in the current Literary Digest, show a very democratic and progressive document. For such improvement in form of government, the German people ought to feel grateful to the allies, especially to the United States, for breaking down the iron rule of autocracy, and making freedom and equal opportunity possible. If the new constitution carried out, Germany will become a practical democracy.

Farmers will be slow to give favor to any form of socialism which would rob them of the fruits of their initiative and industry. Any scheme by which people of energy and purpose are expected to share equally with those who are indifferent to production and usefulness is manifestly unjust, and would tend to destroy ambition and weaken society. Nature intended every creature to arouse his spirit and put effective momentum behind worthy objects of achievement. Remove incentive by rewarding the inefficient with the efficient and you remove the spur to highest accomplishment. Those who would return little in labor for much in profit, should know that they increase the burden on the industrious and careful, and should learn that their course is at variance with all just rules of nature and man. Any system which would take the material advantage from a man who has had his nose on the grindstone for a quarter of a century or more in the hope of security and ease in declining years, and give it to those lacking ambition and purpose, is clearly antagonistic to sound, forcible, and progressive society.

WELFARE OF TEACHERS.

Places for teachers of the public schools to roam and loaf constitute a serious problem in every town, and the time will come when school boards will have to do more than hire them and make salaries. They will have to see that they are furnished with comfortable lodging and plenty of nourishing food. It is often a struggle for teachers to find room and lodging, and if they are not adequately provided with both, they are not so well fitted for service to the children, and the latter suffer. The Herald has long taken a more or less active interest in the comfort, health, and habits of its employes in order, for one good reason, to get the highest possible service, and has found it advantageous as well as kindly to do so. Similar consideration must be given school teachers to maintain efficient and satisfied teaching forces and develop the standard of the public schools.

In touching the need of good homes for teachers, the Norfolk Daily News has this to say in pertinent part: "No teacher who lives in a dark, unventilated place and who is furnished with food of inferior quality can do as good work as the one more fortunately situated. And it may be easily seen that many a difference between teacher and pupil which reaches serious proportions might have been avoided had the teacher come to her work from a cheerful place and a good breakfast."

"Teachers are human. They are affected by exactly the same things which affect the rest of the human race. Yet in their hands lies a task requiring the finest tact, the greatest ability and an almost superhuman patience."

"No class, then, needs more than the teacher the surroundings which shall increase rather than detract from mental, spiritual, and physical well-being. Any community which has as its goal the best possible education for its children will not overlook the importance of comfortable home life for the teacher."

Japan as Competitor.

Buffalo Express: Not only has the cost of living risen in Japan, but the Japanese are now willing to buy a cheap country, and, on that account, a dreaded competitor in countries where labor lives well and is paid correspondingly.

Mystery Solved.

Providence Journal: Another explanation of the high price of pork is that skim milk, which used to be fed to the pig, is now used for ice cream. This has long been suspected.

Forgetting the Essential Thing.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: It is one of the troubles that is not confined to labor or capital, that we hear too much, these days, of our rights and too little of our duties.

Poetic Justice.

Louisville Courier-Journal: A correspondent declares that the rich in Germany will be reduced to beggary by taxes occasioned by the war. An effort at burglary ending in beggary is poetic justice.

Cure or Kill.

New York World: Judge Gary says that the best antidote for bolshevism is plenty of work at reasonable wages. One good dose of work will either cure a bolshevist or kill him.

Unfit to Live.

Sioux Falls Press: Quoin must die for his betrayal of Fifth Cavalry. Death should be long to a man so despised among all civilized peoples.

Providing for Posterity.

Savannah News: Has anybody a plan to offer to reduce the terms and the amount and all that when the treaty is signed and the strikes are all over?

This Store Offers 3,000 Pounds High-Grade Coffee in Bulk

These coffees are late arrivals contracted at considerable less than present prices. If you will stop buying tin cans and fancy grades and take advantage of our offerings in bulk coffee, you will save 25 per cent on your coffee bill.

25 and 50 pound lot buyers

Should avail themselves of this opportunity. We guarantee our prices the lowest than any offering in Sioux City or Omaha, and 15 to 20 cents lower than any peddler may offer. Come in and see the mammoth Guatemala coffee (big berry) which peddlers ask you five a pound. This store will sell you at 40c. Our annual coffee sales aggregate over 10,000 pounds. At least one-half of this amount is sold in 25 to 50 lb. lots. We have scores of satisfied patrons throughout the community and it is quite important that every family secure a supply of coffee while we offer this big saving.

OUR GUARANTEE: It matters not what quantity you buy, if the coffee is not satisfactory in every respect, we will gladly refund purchase price.

- Ideal Blend Coffee, 25 pounds lots at 42c. $11.75
- Best Grade Santos Coffee, 25 lb. lots at 45c. $12.25
- Mammoth Guatemala Coffee, 25 lb. lots at 40c. $10.00

Honey Wanted

Desire to contract for more honey. About 500 pounds. Phone No. 2.

2,300-Boxes Fancy Washington Apples

That's our contract. The price is made and the quality will be first-class, same as last year. First car will arrive first week in October. This store will be headquarters for box apples—a full supply of varieties and the quality such that you will be a regular patron—the entire season. Watch our ad for announcement of arrival.

My-Kind or Quaker Flour

Old wheat grinding. Never fails to make perfect bread. You may buy new wheat flour for less but why take the chances. Better to be safe than sorry. Our flour makes perfect bread.

Potatoes in Car Lots

We will sell several carloads of potatoes this season. We have contracted for a quantity of our supply and we believe the fellow who contracts early will buy at the low price. On bona fide orders for delivery about September 25 we offer genuine Early Ohio Minnesota potatoes, graded as to size and quality, sacked 120 pounds at $2.15 per bushel at the car. This stock is guaranteed well matured, smooth and good size. Fine for table use or for seed next spring. If you think this is a good price let us know how many. We believe it's a good buy.

Buy Soap by the Box

The present wholesale price on White Laundry soap warrants a retail price. It's sure to come as soon as merchants dispose of their surplus bought before present high prices. ANY BRAND WHITE SOAP, 100 BARS, $6.25. This would cost to replace about $7.00 per box. This is a real opportunity. Don't wait until our surplus is sold and we are forced to ask you a $2.00 advance.

Nut Butter

A household favorite. It's in big demand. Costs so much less than butter and answers every purpose. Buy it at 35c per pound and help reduce the H. C. L.

Car Load Holland Seed Cabbage

In a few days we will have a carload of first class cabbage which you can put away for winter or make your usual supply of kraut. You can't make kraut in cold weather, so call up particulars. We guarantee price and quality.

Why Sprague Tires Are Better

There's some difference in the prices of Sprague tires, made in Nebraska, and in the ordinary brands.

The Sprague costs a bit more, at first, but MUCH LESS in the end. That's because of Quality

Sprague is a QUALITY tire, most others can be called "price" or "production" or "turn-'em-out-quick" tires. Sprague puts quality first.

Hand-Built

The Sprague is a hand-built tire. Do you prefer hand-made or machine-made shoes?

100 Per Cent Perfect

In Sprague hand-built tires, construction is inspected and re-inspected many times. In these tires a human being constructs and carefully builds layer on layer—first of fabric and then of rubber. He must do 100 per cent work. A machine turns 'em out fast, with a mechanical error and regard for perfection. Human hands build perfection into Sprague tires.

Sea Island Fabric

is used exclusively in Sprague tires. It is made of the strongest cotton that grows—1 1/2 weights 75% cotton to the square yard. It has pulling strength of about 200 pounds per inch. Other fabrics used in ordinary tires, weigh 10 to 14 ounces and have a strength of from 50 to 70 pounds.

More Fabric

Fabric used in Sprague tires is stretched only 10 per cent. Fabrics used in ordinary tires are stretched from 12 to 18 per cent—to make all LESS fabric for 300R tires. In fact, the life is stretched out of the fabric in most other tires.

Pure Para Rubber

the richest and most costly of all, is used exclusively in the tread and sipes and friction of the Sprague tire. Synthetic tread and sipes will wear 75 per cent Pure Para. Some others carry as low as 40 per cent, with the rest "filler"—compound to cheapen the tire.

Oversize

Sprague tires are oversize. They weigh from 3 to 5 pounds more than other tires of the same size. They're made of rubber, and an EXTRA amount of the BEST FABRIC in THE WORLD. For instance, the tread and sipes in a Sprague 3 1/2 inch tire carries 100 pounds in gauge. Other brands carry from 80 to 85 points.

AUCTION SALE

320 Acres of Wayne County, Nebraska, Land

Tuesday, September 16

This land is known as the W. S. Brown half section and is located 4 miles straight south of Wayne, in Wayne county Nebraska. The description of the land is: South half of section 1, in township 25, range 3, east.

Improvements

The improvements on the east quarter consist of good, large, roomy house, barn, hog house, granary, garage, cattle shed and double corner. There is also a good grove and large orchard. On the west quarter is a house, barn and shed. Both places are well fenced. The land will be sold to suit purchaser, with choice of either of the two quarters with the privilege of taking the full half section, or half section will be sold intact if so desired.

Don't Forget This

There is no better county, taken as a whole, in all Nebraska than Wayne county, and this farm is one of the good ones. Land is all tillable and in a high state of cultivation. Its location on the State Highway and the fact that it is only 4 1-2 miles from high school and state normal school, make it an ideal place for a home.

Sale will take place on the premises and will start promptly at 2 p. m.—OLD TIME

Terms of Sale are Extremely Easy

$6,000 on contract day of sale. $66,000 carried back for 10 years at 5 1-2 per cent. Mortgages will be divided if farm is divided. Balance cash March first. More details as to terms sale day.

Party Without an Issue. Springfield, Mass., Republicans. The prohibition party face the situation, probably unique in American history, of being threatened with extinction because of the accomplishment of its main purpose. A proposal that it shall continue as a party with enforcement of the law as its issue is not very promising. Where's Silesia? Kansas City Times: By executive order American troops are to be sent to Silesia. Of course you know where Silesia is?

"FEELING BETTER EVERY DAY I LIVE"

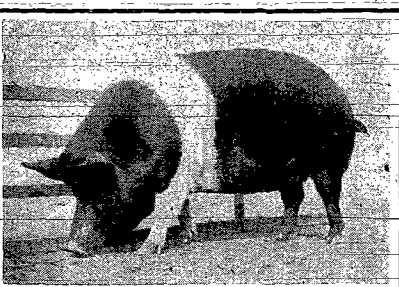

Mrs. Gossage Gains Twenty-Pounds Taking Tanlac—Troubles End.

"I've gained twenty pounds since I began taking Tanlac and I'm feeling better every day I live," said Mrs. J. A. Gossage of 440 North Lawrence street, Kansas City, Mo. For two long years I suffered from stomach trouble and nervous indigestion," she continued. "Everything I ate soured on my stomach. Gas would form and press against my belly until I could barely get out so fast I felt like I was going to smother. I had severe pains around my stomach and there was a gnawing feeling there, too. I was so dizzy that if I stood up suddenly I would stagger and had to hold on to something to keep from falling. "I had tried all sorts of medicines hoping to get relief but nothing did me any good until my brother-in-law persuaded me to try Tanlac. He had been greatly helped by it and I hadn't taken a half a bottle before I noticed gas didn't form and make me sick any more. Of course I kept right on taking Tanlac after that and now I can eat anything I want without any trouble and I feel so fine I can do all my housework without getting tired. From the way I'm gaining in strength all the time I am convinced that I'll soon be as well as I ever was in my life and I'm glad to tell others what I think of Tanlac. It's done me more good than everything else put together. Tanlac is sold in Wayne. 5111

Where Bryan's Unsurpassed. Jay E. House in the Philadelphia Public Ledger: "The activities of Mr. Bryan, we gather from a perusal of the public prints, now concern themselves with the menace of near beer. In one field of endeavor Mr. Bryan holds a record. He has fought more windmills than any other man living or dead."

Prosperity. Columbus Dispatch: "You would never have suspected it by looking at the railroad trains, the lake steamers, the automobiles and the having much trouble in making both ends meet."

most comfortable home possible, where she might be cared for. Suddenly it was deemed necessary for him to undergo an operation, wherefore he immediately went to St. Vincent hospital, Sioux City, where he was operated on about two weeks before he died. All that medical skill and care could do, with children and friends beside him praying for his recovery, could not prolong his life.
He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran church in the fatherland, and at once he became a member of the Lutheran church in Concord since 1910. He has served as Sunday school teacher, trustee and deacon, and was a field in high esteem by all who knew him. This was shown by the many and beautiful floral designs given by relatives, church ladies. And the business firms and friends of town and community.

He leaves behind him his beloved wife, two sons, two daughters, two daughters-in-law and two sons-in-law, namely: Axel Pearson and wife of Sugar Grove, Penn., Bilger Pearson and wife of Andover, Minn., Fredrickson, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Peterson, also seven grand children of Concord, two sisters in Wakefield, and other relatives and a host of friends.

Obituary.
Nels D. Pearson of Concord, died at St. Vincent hospital, Sioux City, Thursday morning, September 4. He was born in Gyro parish, the province of Malmo, Sweden, January 26, 1855, being thus 64 years, 7 months and 7 days of age. In the spring of 1880 he emigrated to the United States and located at Paxton, Ford county, Ill. On March 10, 1882, he was united in marriage to Anna Bengtson, who had arrived from Kellsforj, Sweden, the Rev. A. Edgren pronouncing the ceremony and the first and only Swedish paragonage. In the spring of 1883 the family moved to Sibley, Ill., where they took up farming, remaining there for sixteen years as renters. In the spring of 1900 the family came to Concord, settling on a farm four miles south of town, which farm Mr. Pearson had bought the year before.
As Mr. Pearson was a progressive farmer, and met with fortune, he soon bought more land and a few years ago erected modern buildings on it. He retired from farming in the spring of 1910 and moved into town, having bought a new house. He had just finished building a new and convenient, up-to-date house this summer, and moved into a few days before he took seriously ill. As Mrs. Pearson had been sick for over two years, and is yet unable to walk or take care of herself, Mr. Pearson desired to build the most comfortable home possible, where she might be cared for. Suddenly it was deemed necessary for him to undergo an operation, wherefore he immediately went to St. Vincent hospital, Sioux City, where he was operated on about two weeks before he died. All that medical skill and care could do, with children and friends beside him praying for his recovery, could not prolong his life.

Business Trend Upward.
Sioux City Journal. The last seven days have witnessed a slight recovery in business largely caused by temporary adjustment of labor difficulties. While some of the more dangerous of the disturbances are postponed and others avoided it is now recognized that the permanent recovery of the hard-hit industries is well up with the high country and that the adjustment of the latter will automatically adjust the former.

Business. The cotton business will take up some of the slack caused by the acute conditions of the last few weeks. As a result of this restriction the volume of trade has increased over that of the previous fortnight and short time orders are being made for commodities which can be turned before a new acute situation arises.

A predominant element in the speedy recovery of business and its quick response to changed conditions is the fact that the greater bulk of retail trade is on a cash or short credit basis.

There is an abundance of money and most purchasers pay cash over the counter. This policy allows the possibility of financial failures and the inability to respond readily to new conditions with no danger of loss except from overstocking.

The campaign for lower priced commodities is being somewhat and prices which slumped when the campaign opened, are becoming steadier or recovering some of the lost ground. This is particularly noticeable in hogs and corn, both of which have become firmer in tone during the last week.

The important nimbus quantity in industry is that new lines which might not be turned over during what is believed to be a few months of steady conditions, are hesitant. Failures are low with small liabilities, most of them resulting from an attempt by men of little or no business experience to enter into lines to which they are strangers for the purpose of getting a large profit out of the present flush.

Notice to Creditors.
The State of Nebraska, of and against the county court, in the matter of the estate of

Kit Carson County Colorado

A greater number of actual settlers have bought land here than in all the other counties in eastern Colorado put together because it is the best land in eastern Colorado. Eastern Colorado means:
Good Soil. Ideal Climate. Good Water.
No Hot Winds. Plenty of Rainfall.
For the Homeseeker and Investor.

Eastern Colorado can boast of a good climate, mild winters and summers, that are not as hot and sultry as those of Eastern Nebraska. The territory is now being rapidly settled and in a few years the price of land will rise to $200 an acre. With as careful farming as is done in Nebraska one can produce on this eastern Colorado land as large and as good crops as are produced here. This territory is on a main line railroad from Denver to Chicago and market facilities are good. If you buy now when this land is selling so cheaply, you will find in a few years that you have taken on a paying investment.

Eastern Colorado land will boom as has Eastern Nebraska land and it will sell at four times the price of today

To the creditors of said estate: You are hereby notified that I will sit at the county court room in Wayne, in said county, on the 4th day of October, 1919, and on the 11th day of February, 1920, to receive and examine all claims against said estate with a view to their adjustment, and allowance. The time fixed for the presentation of claims against said estate is six months from the 11th day of October, A. D. 1919, and the time limited for payment of debts is one year from said 4th day of October, 1920.

I assign my hand and the seal of said county court this 8th day of September, 1919.

Obdurate Rumania.
Kansas City Times. Up to this time Rumania has refused to play any part in the order of the league of nations. Europe, it is feared, is full of Romanians.

Determined to Make Good.
Sioux Falls Argus Leader: It was testified before a senate committee during the ten weeks ending August 9 coal production was cut by 12,000,000 tons by car shortage. The United States fuel administration predicted a coal shortage and it proposes to make good even if it has to get the railroad administration to help the shortage along by denying cars.

Why Mayor Ole Quit.
J. E. House in the Philadelphia Public Ledger: Having had an experience not entirely dissimilar, we know why mayor Ole Hanson resigned. Mayor Ole got tired listening to the fellow who "voted and worked" for him. That, in the course of time, becomes the most negligible adventure in the category of experience.

Not Imprudent.
Sioux Falls Press: Maybe when some of the actors who have been on strike in New York get back on the job they will find that the theatregoers also have gone on a strike.

La Perche Stock Farm AT AUCTION

A real Nebraska stock and grain farm of 240 acres will be sold at public auction on

Wednesday, Sept. 24

Sale will take place on the premises, starting promptly at 2 o'clock, old time

"The Home of Imported Percherons and Registered Chester White Hogs"

Land in High State of Cultivation

Farm is located 3 1-2 miles north of Carroll; 11 miles southwest of Laurel; 9 miles west, 7 miles north of Wayne and 6 miles south of Belden, the latter on the Burlington railroad.

22 acres of alfalfa, 35 acres of timothy, 40 acres seeded last spring to Alsike clover, Brome grass, blue grass, and timothy, two pastures of 10 acres each for hogs and calves, balance in corn and small grain. This 240 acres makes up as good a stock and grain farm as will be found in northeast Nebraska. Stock has always been kept; therefore, it is in a high state of cultivation. There is no waste land. Every foot, except the building site, orchard, and grove, can be plowed.

Improvements

Barns

Barn, 40x54, 16 foot posts, room for 19 head of horses, granary in barn, is lighted and has running water.
Barn, 52x56, 20 foot posts.
Cow shed 16x48, with granary.
Hog house 16x32, with water.
21 farrowing pens.
Double corn crib.
Chicken house—plastered.
Machine shed, 16x72.
Small barn in orchard.
Cement watering tank, 6x14.

House

The house contains seven rooms with a closet from each room; built-in cupboard and sink with soft water in the kitchen; screened porch and c.m. creatively new lighting fixtures. The acetylene gas plant which furnishes light for the farm is located in the large cave, directly back of the house. The house is in excellent repair. It is fenced off from the other buildings and has a fine blue grass lawn and cement walks.

A wash house and cob house are also close to the house.

Fencing

There are 1100 rods of woven wire fencing on the west 160 acres.

Orchards and Groves

There are two good bearing orchards on the place, consisting of apple, cherry, and plum trees. There is also an abundance of small fruit, raspberries, strawberries, and gooseberries. A grove of evergreens is found in the house yard. The windbreak to the north screens the house from the winter winds, while the evergreens protect it from the hot, dry breezes in the summer.

Water

A never failing supply of pure water is something which no farm can afford to be without and is one of the attractions which the La Perche farm offers to the prospective buyer. The well which is located in the house yard, has never failed since it was first drilled and furnishes an abundant supply of pure, cold water.

East Section

On the 80 acres east of the road, there is a four room house with closet and pantry, the main part being 16x24, with a 14 foot addition. A cob house, chicken house, and soft water cistern are also located here.

TERMS: This farm is to be sold on the best of terms and offers a rare opportunity in a Wayne county farm. Parties wishing to see it will be shown over it at any time.

The quarter on the west side of the road will be sold with the privilege of taking the 80 acres, if desired.

Watch Next Week's Herald for the Exact Terms of Sale.

The Lessmann Loader

(Less Men Loader)
Something New

One man and a team will load a spreader or wagon in five to ten minutes and the driver never leaves his seat.

Manure is worth $10 to $20 a load in your fields and the Lessmann Loader will do the hard work of loading at lowest possible cost, so you will get the manure on your grain fields where it will do the most for you. It is surely expensive to leave it in your feed yard.

Will load many other things as well as manure.

Loads manure from the feed yard or the manure pile with a driver and a team perfectly.

Makes one hard job on the farm EASY.

It has been proven many times, manure on your fields is the most profitable investment you can make and the Lessmann Loader is the one machine that makes it possible to get manure loaded on the spreader at a low cost and very speedily.

There is practically no limit to the amount of manure you can load with the Lessmann Loader.

The Fork lifts 200 to 500 lbs. at a time, and you know from this how quickly a spreader or wagon can be loaded.

Really makes the hardest job on the farm the most pleasant and profitable as well.

Will clean manure right up from the ground in your feed yard and place is directly in your spreader or wagon.

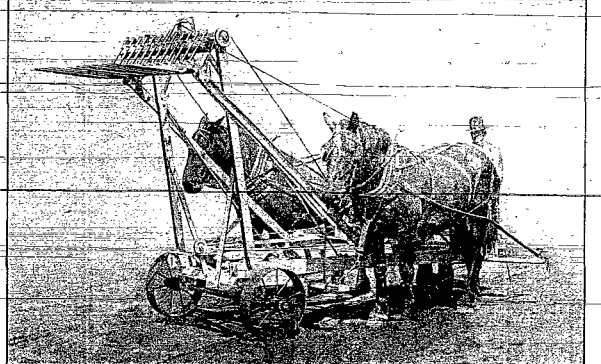

Loads manure from the pile with equal ease.

The Lessmann Loader is designed and built for practical use. It is constructed nearly entirely of steel and thoroughly painted so there is nothing about it to wear out.

We use an air brush in painting, so that every joint, crack, or crevice is thoroughly covered with weather resisting paint.

The Lessmann Loader is a practical machine in both use and looks.

We know from experience, and have been told many, many times that it is an impossibility to get men to load manure.

The only machine that will load manure on spreader or wagon without driver leaving his seat on the machine.

A Lessmann Loader, one man and a team will load more manure on a spreader or wagon in one day than you can hire men to load during the entire year.

Manure on your grain fields is the largest profit-maker on the farm and we believe the largest money loser when left in your feed yard.

Write us any question you wish answered about the Lessmann Loader.

Why waste time and man strength loading manure when the Lessmann Loader will make you a thousand per cent profit doing the work, and what is more, you will get it done when it should be done.

Labor-saving machinery is the big item farmers and cattle raisers are looking for. What could be suggested of more importance than the Lessmann Loader?

The Lessmann Loader does work you cannot hire done and makes it possible to get the manure on your grain fields where it makes more profit for you than any other item on the farm.

Men will have no objections to sitting on a spring seat and driving a team to load manure.

When its real value is known the Lessmann Loader will be considered one of the most valuable pieces of machinery on the farm.

Just consider how much more valuable your manure spreader is the instant you have a Lessmann Loader to load it for you.

Manure doubles the crop production of your land.

The Lessmann Loader pays for itself and more the first year.

It's easy to spread manure when once loaded. The Lessmann Loader does the hard work for you easily, speedily, and cheaply.

Write us if unable to call personally.

We invite correspondence.

Place your order now for a Lessmann Loader and get the manure out on your fields this fall. It will double your next year's crop.

MISS BELLA K. MORRISON RETURNS FROM ABROAD

Brief Account of Her Travels and Experience in France.

Miss Bella K. Morrison returned Monday from France where she has been engaged in Red Cross canteen work for the past year. The question of who won the war has not yet been settled, but the canteen should be given a full share of the credit. Miss Morrison was first at Dijon where she aided in the canteen. Later she was transferred to Langres, which with another worker a new canteen was established. The last place Miss Morrison was stationed was Le Mans. This was the last stopping place the troops from the front made before reaching the embarkation point at Brest. Here Miss Morrison aided in the canteen work. At these canteens the troops received fresh services of coffee, cakes and doughnuts.

At the casual canteen meals were served in a dining room seating between three and four hundred soldiers. The price for most was thirty cents and for a cup of coffee and a sandwich, nine cents. At Dijon the canteen grounds covered a recreation hall, the dining room and dormitory for the enlisted men on leave and quarters for the officers. The canteen girls were in demand almost any day when the men who were at the canteen on leave wanted to dance. The American Red Cross girls were aided in their canteen work by French women and boys and Russian and German prisoners. As a side line at Dijon Miss Morrison often visited the hospital with cigarettes and candy for the casuals. At Dijon and Langres the canteen workers stayed in French homes, but at Le Mans the girls lived in a French villa. At the latter place Miss Morrison took of a week's leave and stayed at another villa. Besides giving food to the American troops, the French, Poles and other troops coming through were served. The one thing that impressed Miss Morrison the most was the resource and appreciative spirit of the boys. When entering the canteen the boys forgot their worries and always had smiles for the workers. When extra help was needed the soldiers were glad to join in and help the canteen girls.

The last week in July Miss Morrison in company with another canteen girl made a memorable trip to the front line. They were gone from Paris for six days. Most of the route was through the devastated country and this is well described in a portion of a letter which she wrote about the trip: "One hour and twenty minutes after leaving Paris we came to the first devastated village, a souvenir of 1914, the first and farthest advance of the Germans. From that point on we traveled through ruined villages, passed through acres and acres of barbed wire entanglements, saw trenches and ditches, and here and there a lonely little wooden cross. German prisoners were at work filling shell holes and trenches and putting up wooden barracks for the returning refugees. The courage of these people in going back to reclaim the country is remarkable. The devastation of these battle areas. They are simply a wilderness, a desert, as far as the French government is concerned for miles and miles except the ghastly, stricken remnants of those typically French poplar avenues. The French government is endeavoring, in fact, requiring the people to return to their farms, and is going about the reclaiming in a very systematic manner. We saw a carload of American farm machinery, and in a few places motor plows were being used after the holes had been filled in."

A day was spent at Brussels and on the surface the people seemed to have suffered little. People were still in gala attire from the victory celebration and the city was gay with the country's colors.

Miss Morrison made stops at Antwerp and Lille. The latter city was systematically and efficiently captured by the Germans. The cathedral, library, art museum and university were practically destroyed. The great factories and the districts where the working people lived were blown to atoms.

The fact that France is coming out of her devastation into a new life, much better than the life before the war, impressed Miss Morrison. Restoration is being supervised and narrow streets and the usual accompanying unsanitary conditions are to be done away with.

Rheims was visited on the trip to the front line. The noted Rheims cathedral was wrecked. The framework and the towers remain, but it is roofless and in ruins.

The most interesting point visited was hill 108 at Berry-au-Bac. Miss Morrison wrote home the following description of this place: "Hill 108 is a high wooded knoll, now a dazzling mass of crushed white stone, with two enormous craters, one caused by a German mine. In 1918 French, English and American engineers worked for three months and then in August when the Germans took a position to cross hill 108, the three months work was finished in an instant and so were 3,000 Boches and the German retreat at this part of the line began. Later we went down into a German dugout and saw the room of old Hindenburg, himself. It is said that the Kaiser and Kaiserin visited this dugout. There are tunnels from here leading to Soissons and other points on the front line. From this place the party went through Chateau Thierry and Belleau Woods. This section is not in a complete state of devastation as the areas which were constantly in the battle line. The home trip from Genoa took thirteen days. Part of the delay was due to the ship's answering an S. O. S. message. The vessel left its course to go to the rescue of the ship which had sent the signal. No ship could be found. Several other vessels joined in the search, but the signal still remains a mystery.

Miss Morrison will make a business trip to Lincoln this week and then return to Wayne where she expects to make her home.

FINE FARMS ARE OFFERED

Interest in Land Deals at a High Point in This Section of State.

LaPerche Stock Farm to Be Sold.

On more unusual farm sale has taken place in Nebraska. The 240-acre farm of W. H. Bittler, which is known as the La Perche Stock farm, is to be sold at auction on September 23. This is a highly improved, well cultivated grain and stock farm, three and one-half miles north of Carroll. Mr. Bittler is known in this part of the state as an importer of the best type of pure-bred Percheron horses, and a breeder of Jersey White hogs. Because stock has always been kept on the farm, its fertility is unimpaired. Corn, small grain, alfalfa, timothy, Alsike clover and bluegrass are some of the crops which have been grown during the last few years.

Improvements which appeal to the buyer are the long range of home are the orchards, bluegrass lawn, well of pure water, cistern, and acetylene gas plant.

Half Section of Land for Sale.

The W. S. Brown half-section, four miles straight south of Wayne, goes on auction on September 16. The acreage is 160. Mr. Brown, of Kruse, are willing to put this farm up as one of the good ones in Wayne county. It is well fenced and has a fine house. The location on the state highway makes it an ideal place for a home.

Known as Chris Holt Eighty.

An eighty-acre farm, eight and one-half miles south of Wayne, will be sold at auction on Tuesday, September 16. This is a farm in a high state of cultivation, with modern improvements. A comfortable seven-room house, ample barn, electric light plant, supplying lights, a garage, buildings, two garages, an orchard, are improvements which will appeal to the buyer looking for a fine farm. The farm is known as the Chris Holt place, but is being sold by C. A. Berry. The sale will be held on the W. S. Brown farm, immediately following the sale of the former place.

Auction Sale Near Osmond.

On September 16, south of Osmond, will be held a sale of 107 acres of good, heavy land. This tract consists of seven improved farms and four pastures. Secure fencing and good buildings are two of the assets of these farms. An abundance of pure water is also found on each place. The sale is being offered at auction by the owner, S. D. Berg, of Pierce.

Large Sale Near Wausa.

The second sale of the Burdick farms, which is to take place on September 15, near Wausa, will not be forgotten by those interested in watching the sale of the Nebraska farm sales. The eleven quarter sections up for sale are in the southeast corner of Knox county, in a rich farming section of Nebraska.

Detailed Descriptions.

Extensive descriptions and particulars of these land sales will be found in advertisements in this and last week's Herald. They merit close attention of Wayne county people, who are watching the development of land values in this state.

Methodist Church.

This Sunday is conference Sunday and the pastor will be away. However the church will hold its regular services.

Try to make this a record Sunday.

This Sunday is conference Sunday for attendance. The students' class will be organized with Mrs. S. A. Sargent as teacher. There will be a very large and inspiring class. All students of the Normal are invited and all from Methodist homes or congregations are urged to help make the class the best and largest class the school has ever had. Captain George Francis is in charge of the class. Will it be too much to expect one hundred men in this class next Sunday?

Teaching at 11 o'clock.

Rev. S. Cress will preach and those interested in the Normal and the students of the Normal should arrange to attend this meeting. All students will find a welcome at this service.

Special program at 8 o'clock.

Captain George Francis, junior chaplain of the Twilight division, will give his chautauqua lecture, "The Philosophy of Democracy." Formerly Captain Francis was pastor of the First Methodist church of Brazil, Ind. This church is noted as having the largest Sunday school in the world. Over 1000 of the men's class. The captain is visiting relatives in Wayne and has consented to speak to us at this time. Good music and a fine lecture.

WHY THE COUNTY FAIR? REASONS FOR SUCCESS

Wayne County Planning on Live-stock Exhibit Soon.

The Herald has been noticing much excitement in papers from nearby localities to their respective county fairs. Wayne county is celebrating this year with races, ball games, band concerts, livestock, and household exhibits, and the various attractions of the Saviger Carnival company. The Cedar county fair is also taking place this week at Hartington. Nature of exhibits and interest there will be the large exhibit and program given by the boys' and girls' clubs. The latter will include demonstrations of correct meal serving, sewing, bread making, canning meat, chicken cutting, and pig judging.

The fair county fair to be held from September 23 to 25 is being mounted by Oakland citizens. They wish to secure a list of exhibitors from all the surrounding territory and fill the barns to capacity with stock.

Stanton county is planning on the biggest and best fair ever held, at the same time as the Burt county fair. Exhibits and attractions are being prepared by those who have the matter in charge.

Two other counties which are planning fairs for October are Valley and Nemaha. The idea of both counties is to display the stock and crops raised in their part of Nebraska.

It is evident that there must be some strong motive behind these fairs, representing different sections of the state.

Why is a county fair considered an asset?

It appeals to and fosters local pride. It gives residents of the county a chance to become better acquainted with one another, and with the products of their county. Few citizens would be able to name off-hand the products of industries for which their county is noted. What does your county stand for in the way of pure-bred stock, good roads, grain production per acre, progressive retailers, modern schools, and up-to-date industries? These are some of the questions which the county fair helps to answer. The Pure Bred Stock Breeders' association of this district has come to the conclusion that a county fair would be a great asset to Wayne county. The pure-bred stock raised here should be put on exhibition so that people may become acquainted with the real value of the county's products. Plans are under way to stage a livestock exhibit and county fair some time in October. A meeting will be held Saturday, which committees from the Commercial club and the Wayne Women's club have been invited to attend. Cooperation means success for the Wayne county fair.

DEATH OF MRS. CLAUSS BOCK

Passes Away in Omaha Hospital on Monday—Funeral Today.

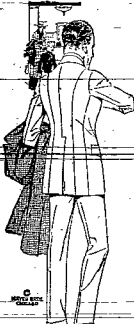

Mrs. Clauss Bock whose home was at Carroll, died in an Omaha hospital Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, aged 65 years. She had undergone an operation on the previous Wednesday. The body was brought to Wayne Tuesday, and funeral services were held at the home of her son, George Bock, eight miles northwest of Wayne, this afternoon at 2 o'clock, followed by interment in Greenwood cemetery, at this place. Rev. W. Serrano of Carroll had charge of the service.

The Bock family came to Wayne county from Omaha in 1892. Mr. Bock died two years ago. Surviving members of the immediate family are three daughters and one son as follows: Anna, Fork of Carroll, Mrs. Caroline Schaeffer of Osmond, Miss Mary Bock of Carroll, and George Bock, northwest of Wayne. In their bereavement, the relatives have the cordial sympathy of many friends.

The Brunswick Name Certifies an Extraordinary Tire

Many motorists buy Brunswicks because of the name alone. It is sufficient assurance for them of super-quality. They have known this ancient house for its high standards, as have their fathers and grandfathers. Since 1845 the House of Brunswick has been noted for its rare workmanship. Brunswick standards, as applied to tires, mean giving the utmost. In them you will find combined all the approved features properly related. No one advantage overshadows others nor hides shortcomings. The best tread that's known, the strongest fabric, the most enduring side-wall construction, every addition, every extra, make Brunswicks prove their superiority. No factory cost has been too great. ONE Brunswick will win your decision to have ALL Brunswicks. It will be a revelation. Buy it today. It costs no more than like-type tires.

Wayne Preacher Speaks.
The Harrington Herald makes the following reference to the speech given by Rev. John W. Beard before the bankers' meeting in Harrington last week.

Rev. J. W. Beard of Wayne returned army chaplain who saw service in Belgium and France, facing the machine with an address in which he recounted his experiences at the front. He is a speaker of unusual ability and forcefulness, and some of his descriptions of trench warfare aroused intense interest. Mr. Beard believes in the League of Nations, and while he is a republican, was merciful in his denunciation of those senators who, he declared, were obstructing the treaty for the sole purpose of raising a party issue. He said: "If those senators had gone through what some of the rest of us have experienced, had the brains of some of our already wounded boys scattered over their first aid kits while they were trying to give them assistance had been compelled to throw over the parapet with their hands the mangled remains of others who were awaiting attention from the first aid workers, they would realize that anything—even the imperfect—that will lead to the escape of the world from the scourge of war, should receive united support."

Boy's Success Due To Potatoes.
A clipping from the Randolph Times gives a good idea of what may be done in the line of potato raising, if one has persistence and energy.

Wray Drake, a member of the boys and girls club of Kimball county, who started in his potato business with some seed picked from his father's spuds, has the following record: With the proceeds of his first crop he purchased a bushel of pure Red River Valley Ohio seed for $250, which he planted. That fall he harvested sixteen bushels for which he received second prize in the county. Half of the seed belonged to his father and he traded it for a calf which he still owns. He joined the club again and made about $40 profit besides taking first prize at the county fair and first in his county at the state potato show. Last year he raised 150 bushels and won third prize at the state fair, first at the Scottsbluff show, the silver cup, the state banner, and the blue ribbon and gold honor medal for the first in his county. He received $15 in cash prizes and other profits amounting to $60 or $70. He says the secret of his success is sticking on the job.

Cedar County Fair This Week.
The twenty-sixth annual Cedar county agricultural fair is being held in Harrington this week. Horse races of unusual interest, large live stock exhibits, farm and garden produce, and household products make the days attractive to all the family. Canning and sewing clubs are holding demonstrations to show their work or the girls' clubs. The boy members of the pig clubs will also hold a pig judging demonstration. Several baseball games are attracting attention. Friday is set aside as home coming day for returned soldiers and it is expected this will be the biggest day of the fair. The Fourth Nebraska Post of the American Legion has a booth at the grounds where the needs of the service men are being looked after.

Emergency Cattle Movements.
An unusual and suddenly necessary traffic movement has been the transferring of range cattle from the drought stricken regions of the northwest to Texas. According to railroad men quoted in the Nebraska State Journal these unexpected hauls have played havoc with car distribution and equipment supply plans. It has been necessary to move large numbers of these northern cattle from Minnesota and Wisconsin to Texas. This has meant the loaded haul down and the long empty haul back, with the result that all the cars will be in the north.

At the same time, stock cars are being needed for the movement from range to market and the grain rack also requires cars. The problem of taking care of these "peak" loads is one which requires the services of the best equipment experts that the roads can furnish.

Wouldn't It Be Nice If?
Wouldn't it be a fine thing if the baker would patronize the butcher and the butcher in turn would patronize the grocer? If the grocer would patronize the clothing and the clothing would patronize the printer, and so on? We repeat wouldn't it be fine. What a grand and glorious feeling would always prevail. And that is the way it should be in a small place like Tekamah. If every business man would patronize his neighbor and the banks and mercantile firms would not send away for printed matter the printer could buy shoes and clothes at home. If the registrar would patronize the furniture man and the butcher should buy from the grocer because it would be. The dry goods man could purchase some necessities from the hardware man and the real estate dealer would not have to send away for anything. In the small town there is no need of sending money out of town to help build up some other place. Every penny sent out of town leaves Tekamah that much poorer. When you buy at home you save the money. When you take your money to some other place you can return them the same day, but if you send away you experience a great deal of delay if the goods are not what you want. It is a good trade at home.—Tekamah Journal.

Farm Notes - From Nebraska Counties.

Three hundred dollars was the price per acre paid for a section of land, located three miles north of Humboldt. This was less than a month ago. A few days ago a half section of this same land sold for $375 an acre, making a net profit of $24,000.

Peter P. Cronk set a new standard for land prices in his vicinity when he sold his farm, one mile east of Wahoo, to John T. Pokory for $49 an acre.

Estimates on Nebraska's 1919 crops furnish a reliable basis for appraising next year's prosperity. Crop experts in the various railway estimate that Nebraska's corn production will reach 175,000,000 bushels. The state board of agriculture give approximately the same figures. Government and state figures, for the whole crop are 49,000,000 bushels, while railroad crop officials estimate that Nebraska has produced seven hundred twelve bushels of wheat on a fourteen acre field is the highest record of production in the district around Lincoln.

Postspeech accomplished this feat of upstate farming.

Kanrad wheat which was developed at Kansas State Agricultural College is being grown with entire satisfaction in Dodge county.—Warren Muliken reports a yield of 25 bushels, or 3 bushels more than his other wheat. S. W. Peters also reports his Kanrad wheat superior to the other grown on his farm.

Demand for Canning Club Products.

Canning club girls are finding a constant demand for their products on the market. Formerly they utilized their canning knowledge only for the benefit of their families, for many are now marketing their surplus fruit and vegetables. The home demonstration agents of the United States department of agriculture or girls are now active in marketing the products. There is no difficulty in this, because the uniform quality of the "4-H" brand, as it is known, makes it easy to get and keep customers. In a county in Mississippi, fruits and vegetables amounting to $175,000 were sold and shipped on one day.

They Satisfy

What d'yer know about that?

EVERY other cigarette you ever smoked stopped somewhere short of giving you what Chesterfields can and do give—the greater enjoyment of a cigarette that satisfies.

Chesterfields do more than please the taste. They go straight to your "smoke-spot". They let you know you're smoking. They satisfy—just as a bite before bedtime satisfies when you're really hungry.

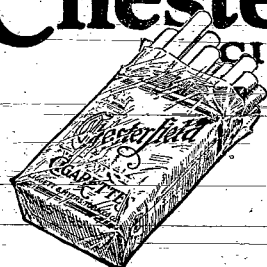

Fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—wonderfully blended—that's the answer.

And the blend is the manufacturer's private formula. Unlike a patent, it cannot be copied or even closely imitated.

It's Chesterfields—and Chesterfields only—if you want this new thing in cigarette enjoyment.

Buick Seven-Passenger Touring Car

THE BUICK Model-K-Six-49 is a big, roomy, open car for seven persons, with a range of service in keeping with its powerful Valve-in-Head motor. The long wheelbase, the extra size tonneau, the completeness of all details making for comfort and convenience give it an air of unlimited capacity that is amply borne out by its continued and consistent performance.

This body is divided by a double cowl, into which the folding seats disappear when not in service. These extra seats are so arranged as to give liberal space to all occupants in the tonneau, thereby avoiding any possible crowding.

The slanting windshield braces form the front support for the high-grade top, which is also equipped with well-made side curtains that swing open with the doors.

THEO. CARLSON COMPANY

Wakefield, Neb.

1827, he was united in marriage with Miss Ida C. Lindstrom at Paxton, Ill. The following year Mr. and Mrs. Holmberg moved to Elliott, Ill., where they lived until 1884, when they came to Wakefield, Neb. Mr. Holmberg was a blacksmith and worked at his trade as long as his strength permitted, and then moved out to his farm north of town. Some years later he retired from the farm and moved back to town. He has been an active worker in the church, having filled the position of janitor for many years; was also Sunday school superintendent during the early years and also served on the board of deacons. He was of a quiet and unassuming nature.

June he had to give up his work as janitor on account of failing health. His was, however, light duty, only a few weeks. The end came more suddenly than had been expected. He leaves a widow, nine children, and fifteen grandchildren. His sons are Henry, Victor, and Carl of Wakefield, and Anton of Sioux City. His daughters are Mrs. Evelyn Mortenson of Wakefield, Mrs. Elm Anderson of Omaha, Mrs. Esther Erickson of Mead, Miss Edith Holmberg, and Miss Clara Holmberg of Omaha. The funeral was held last Sunday afternoon, and was conducted by Rev. E. G. Krock. The four sons and two of the sons-in-law acted as pallbearers. Four granddaughters were flower girls. There were many beautiful flowers. The church was crowded to the door with relatives and friends who had gathered to pay their last tribute of love and respect to the memory of the departed one. As a sinner saved by grace, he longed to go to his heavenly home. To him it was a source of joy and comfort to know "that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory that shall be revealed in us." Romans 8:18.

Springfield, Mass., Republican: The class in politico-mathematics is left to struggle with the problem: How much Ireland is there to the square foot in America; and why?

Little Hope of Relief. Troquets Chief: If more production is the solution of the high cost of living there is no immediate hope of relief. Everybody is too willing to let George do it.

Cool to the President. Kansas City Times: The coolness of the reception to the president in Kansas City Saturday was in marked contrast to the welcome he received on his "preparation" tour before the war. The sidewalks were not thrashed in the usual way, and the lack of applause was noticeable. Convention hall was filled, as it always is on such an occasion. But the audience was polite and respectful, not demonstrative. It is not recalled that any president within a generation has received so mild a greeting—to speak conservatively—as Mr. Wilson.

Ole's Objective. Springfield, Mass., Republican: When Mayor Ole Hanson of Seattle resigned "to go fishing" there was natural interest in what he was to fish for and a Washington correspondent hears that it is the presidency of the United States. That takes pretty good bait.

PORTABLE FARM ELEVATORS

WOOD OR STEEL ELEVATORS THAT PAY THEIR WAY

Muscle-Saving Machinery

In these days when work is plenty and labor is scarce and high, the "hired man" problem looms up like a specter on the busy farmer's horizon. The farmer who provides himself with muscle-saving machinery not only gets the pick of men, but he cuts the corners of cost and time and makes more net profit on his crops than his neighbors who farm "by hand." Foremost among the modern inventions for saving time, money and muscle is the Farm Elevator—a machine that relieves farm help of the laborious, muscle-straining, back-breaking work of unloading corn and small grain from wagons to granaries, bins and freight cars. This work comes at the climax of crop-gathering, when nerves and muscles are already strained to the breaking point and when every minute counts. Probably as hard work as there is on the farm is where you, your family or hired hands, have to shovel the corn into the crib. It means constant bending, pushing and raising that tires the back and arms and makes every muscle of the body ache. It is exhausting, laborious drudgery for even the strongest men. It's a job nobody likes and that most hired men despise. It is such a need of help and haste at corn husking time that even the young boys are forced to do this work that is almost too much for men.

Don't lag behind! Don't work at a disadvantage! Don't depend on muscle to do the work that the elevator will do better, quicker and cheaper.

Don't Scoop

HANDLE YOUR GRAIN WITH AN ELEVATOR

A farm elevator will make money for you because it is built to satisfy and to meet your demands. In building cribs, it is the foundation, roofing, and flooring that costs you the most money. If you use a scoop or an inferior elevator you have to build low cribs, but if you use the elevator we offer, you can build one crib for all of your grain, both ear corn and small grain. You thereby save the cost of one or two foundations, floors and roofs. This is another way in which the farm elevator makes money for you. With large cribs in which to store your grain, you do not need to sell direct from the field; but can hold for the best prices. By holding your grain for favorable prices, you many times will make the price of both elevator and crib. Large cribs for storing grain are made practical by installing elevators. Another big saving is in repairs. You will need very few of them for farm elevators. In many large factories the repair end of the business is one of the most profitable parts, but frankly we will say that if we had to depend on the repairs we sell for profits, we would go broke. A farm grain elevator will not be an expense; it will be one of the best investments you have ever made.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

NIGHT.
The day is long and dreary, and sluggish it goes; and we are spent and weary, and soon we'll have to repose; the night, upon us creeping, will have us in its keeping, and we'll have to sleep.
Our woe's our tasks are hard and painful, and hours of rest are few; the world is too disdained of all things we do, our nerves are throbbing, leaping, and we're inclined to weeping; but one long night of sleeping will make us good as new.
Through daylight hours we're toiling like Vulcan at his chore, to keep the kettle boiling and feed the children four; but one long night of sleeping, until the dawn is peeping, and doodle-birds are cheeping, will brace us up once more. This life is sore and trying; its paths are hard to tread, and in the end the dangle harvests worth the keeping; the goal of all our weeping and striving and distress.

THE TREES.
The trees have music of their own, and soothing melodies, that come down upon your nose. This often I have lain awake until I saw the morning break and slumber would not come; and I would walk in the hay, to face another toilsome day.

may feel, yet eyes become a river when they look around, and see a sickly slice of liver, a string bean, and a pea. The boarders' cheeks are sallow, their eyes are full of woe, their washlines show no talloes, they totter as they go. Their lean ribs clank together and ever, as they reel, they wonder, wonder whether they'll ever have a meal. "Bring forth," exclaim the boarders, bent up with stomach ache, "the profilers and boarders, and burn them at the stake," they snarl, "they slight with every breeze; and when I gush this vale of tears I hope to see a million years beneath the nodding trees."

RELIEF COMING.
Be patient yet a little while, and winter will return; the blasts will come in arctic style, the blasts for which you yearn. A little more of ardent heat, that heat which is a crime, and we may all exit in sheets and have the hangedest time. What though all night we toss and flog and stumber does not come? "Twill soon be time to shovel coal, and make the furnace burn; then life will be one round of bliss without a parking care; remember it, on days like this, and cease to sigh and swear. Be patient for it's always safe to travel; stand the gaff; so boil the germs and sweat the filth; and at hot weather laugh. The gress will soon be flying past, to dodge the soon be flying past, to dodge the prime of summer, and following, the eager blast will cool our fevered forms. And all our cares will disappear when winter brings its snows, and we may have frobbin in the ear, and chilblains in the toes. How merrily we'll pay for coal that costs twelve bucks a ton, the precious days are done!

THE BOARDERS.
"What ho," exclaim the boarders, "bring forth the measly lot of profifiers and boarders, and let them all be shot." The boarders' grub is scarce, it's thin and pink indeed; ho-tellers or shanty, wherever they shell loading plant at Fort Delaware, the previously estimated cost of which was $1,500,000. And it isn't finished yet and hasn't loaded a shell." That's some boost for old H. C. L.

ON BEING FAT.

There's not much sense in being fat; in wearing too much; hard the twenty years have taught me that for I'm an obese man, who sees a simple I, uncertain, dire ailments, two or three; and though I'm twisted up with pain, I get no sympathy. Men laugh at me, for my protrusion, and though he's feeling tough, and has an ache in every bone, they think it all a bluff. If I were thin and drawn and pale, they would not treat me thus; if I put up an antiquated wall, they'd make all kinds of fuss; with soothing words they'd still my fears, and bid my pain depart; and shed the sympathetic tears that reach a sick man's heart. But I am fat and when I yell they say I'm to laugh and grin, but I'm being till my knell precedes my epiphany. A lean man falls, and people sigh, and wonder if he's hurt; they bring his hat, arrange his tie, and brush from him the dirt. There's tender feeling in the place that overyague bestows, and a loaded bed ambulance, some sympathizer goes. A fat man falls all in a heap, and telescopes his spine, and people stare at him, and bid my pain depart, brings the brine. The fat man goes his greasy way, with large and bulging vest, and to the whole world, every day, his every move, is jest.

Ladies' Aid Society Meets.
Mrs. William Smith entertained the Ladies' Aid society of the Grace church in the church basement on Thursday. After a bounteous dinner the afternoon was spent sewing. The society will meet again in two weeks with Mrs. Irving Jones and Mrs. H. S. Moses as hostesses.

Women's Club Hike.
Mrs. H. S. Moses, Mrs. H. E. Simon, Mrs. B. M. McIntyre, and Mrs. Figg "White" were hostesses at a "hike" to the members of the Women's club Thursday evening. The party met at the home of Mrs. Simon and walked out east of town where a "winnie roast" was enjoyed. The guests had been requested to be prepared to do their share toward entertainment, the results being a number of stories told and recitations given. Mrs. H. H. Hufaker of Silver City, was a guest.

Dinner.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wacker entertained at 7 o'clock dinner Thursday in honor of Mrs. Wacker's brother, Fred Bruno, who returned last week from overseas. The gentlemen present were returned soldiers and were Julius Schmade, Fred Bruno, Iren Leary, Hans Peterson, James Miliken, and Frank Krause. Other guests were Mrs. Julius Schmade, Mrs. Anna Martin and Miss Lottie Danne. After a three-course dinner the evening was spent exchanging overseas experiences.

LEARN FEW FACTS

Writer Criticizes Modern Teaching of History.

Important Happenings Recorded Without the Events Leading Up to Them Being Set Forth— Makes Heads Spin.

Take English history as it is taught in an English school. We begin with Celtic Britain. Enter Caesar and a Roman host. From where? We never learn. H. G. Wells comes in on Sunday Evening Post. Who is this Caesar and why did he come? Why did he get? Why did the Romans not come again for the best part of a century? Evidently something much more important was going on elsewhere.

A little way into the story certain names—Julius and Suetonius—dash in as inexplicably. Whence? Why? Later come the Danes. The history of England has the effect of something going on upon a dormant in a passage outside a room full of events, with several other doors. The door opens, the Norman king rush out of the room, conquer the country hastily, say something about some novelty of which we have learned nothing hitherto, the Crusades, and set to sleep again.

From which presently King Richard returns dejected. He has been fighting the Saracens. Who are the Saracens? We are never told. What becomes of them? We are never told. So it goes on. The broad back of history is turned to England, through about. His face and his broad back and we make what we can of the wriggling of his heels.

The American story is still more incomprehensible. An innocent continent is suddenly inundated by Spanish, Portuguese, French, Dutch and British, who proceed to do some things which the threat of various empires—initiated elsewhere. Someone called the pope is seen to be dividing the new continent among the European powers, and the countries are formed. What are colonies? These colonies, in what is apparently a strenuous attempt to simplify history, break off from their unknown countries of origin. A stream of Immigration begins from west and east. The American mind establishes a sort of intellectual Moore doctrine and declares that America has no past—only a future. From which sublime dream it is presently roused to find something of unknown origin called European Imperialism wrecking the world. What is this Imperialism? How did it begin?

The teaching of history in most other countries is after the same fashion. Everywhere the teachers present more or less similar histories of passages and doings. Great events, the Crusades, the reformation, the industrial revolution—come in with a bang and go out with a slam, leaving no trail, leaving our poor heads spinning. Is it wonder if history falls back to a little human touch upon children's anecdotes about Alfred and the cat, or the peerless beauty of Mary Queen of Scots, and King Charles—and his spallies?

6000 John Smiths.
The claims and record office of the ministry of labor at Sew, England, which is now dealing with millions of forms in connection with unemployment pay, has electrically driven accounting and tabulating machinery. Figures are transferred to peculiar cards by holes punched in certain notations and the cards are sorted by mechanical means into different groups that pass through a machine which prints the details from each card on sheets of paper, at the same time accumulating the figures and producing a total at any given point.

The Woman Who Knows

Peggy Paris For Little Women

8410

WHEN it comes to shopping a woman is in her own peculiar field. It is intent on seeing, on learning, on selecting. A man buys on the helter-skelter plan. He picks out in a hurry, has it wrapped up, and if he gets full value, he is more lucky than long headed. Women select carefully with an intuition of what is what, and a skill in selecting what she wants. She is an observer of style, a critic of what others wear, a connoisseur of values. She knows materials by name, recognizes trimmings and can spot real values. She can tell elegances of matching in linings and trimmings and knows what will look well on her and harmonize with her stature and profile.

That's why we are eager to have the knowing women come here to shop. They will find in this store their ideal as to selection, variety, perfection and value.
