

FORMER RESIDENT WANTS NEW HOTEL

J. H. Kate of Des Moines, Visiting here, makes Suggestions for Improving Wayne.

URGES BIG AUDITORIUM Says City Must Furnish Place for Entertainment if It is to Lead Neighbors.

J. H. Kate, of Des Moines, formerly of Wayne, is here visiting relatives. Kate at one time had a clothing store here, but later sold it to become one of the organizers with X-ray freeholders' committee. He moved to Des Moines about seven years ago, where the company has done a growing business. He was mayor of Wayne two years in speaking of improvements in Wayne and of the future of the city. Mr. Kate expressed himself as follows:

"I was exceedingly surprised when I came to Wayne and saw how beautiful Main street looked since the telephone poles have been removed and handsome lights installed. When your pavement is finished, the environment you will get will be worth the price of putting it in, for everyone passing through your beautiful little city will carry with him the remembrance of the clean streets and will speak a good word for Wayne."

"I have always said Wayne was the best place to live and I have not changed my opinion, after seven years absence. As my good wife and I decided when we left here that we would return again and live with our own people the balance of our lives, we have not lost our interest in any improvements you may make."

The Roosevelt memorial drive for which Wayne is $75 and there is still a considerable portion of this to be raised. The public school building and the auditorium the State Normal have contributed. As yet there have been no large amounts turned in by individuals, but the des of the campaign has as large a number of persons contributing.

It is necessary to have something which will attract the attention of the people now living in other towns. You must have a better building for a hotel, for everyone visiting your town will give it a black eye if your hotel is not up to date. You can't afford to have one here with a poor opinion of your city. An out-of-date hotel building will give anyone a bad impression of the city. A good hotel is a good investment for any city and especially for Wayne, an advertising medium for the city.

With your kind permission let me make one other suggestion. You need something here that any other town near you is likely to have soon and that is an auditorium, one big hall for a community house, one big hall for a community house, but an auditorium large enough to hold an automobile show, chicken show, corn show or convention. A show hall a floor space big enough to hold all the people of three or four counties dated at one time. It ought to be big enough for a movie, for a moving picture show, to hold a crowd to hear the president, to accommodate the crowd for an entertainment of ten for ten or twenty thousand dollars. You must look into the future to realize what can be done for Wayne.

With the arrival of the automobile and good roads that can be traveled in any kind of weather, distance will mean nothing. It is not twenty or thirty miles from attending any entertainment in the auditorium. It will be a great pleasure to see with his sweetheart to a dance or to see "Daddy Long Legs" at a movie, even to think of an evening drive in an automobile for an hour's ride and will

PROCTOR COMPANY GAVE SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

Lecture Course Number at State Normal Well Received.

The Normal school entertainment course committee scored another success in the presentation by the Harold Proctor company last Friday evening of a program of vocal, instrumental and dramatic recitations. The recitations were enthusiastic concerning the work of all the artists. Miss Lee Cronner, director, and several members of that instrument, Miss May Rees, won fine strains from the violin, and Harold Proctor delighted all with his tenor solos. Perhaps the most notable feature of the program, and one of the longest remembered, was the singing of the Jones classics, which were clear and understandable English. Whether it be the general lack of musical training of our public, or whether the recitations were not deeply in the fundamentals of human nature, certainly the listeners were overjoyed to hear the songs as seldom, if ever, the case when people are called upon to listen to music in other than their own homes. Not only were the musicians competent artists, but their recitations were well received. The violinist had been over two years, and appeared on the program in her own town. Not only were the artists pleased with the evening's experience.

Roosevelt Day Observed.
On Monday Prof. J. H. Brill gave an interesting and enthusiastic address on Theodore Roosevelt, it being the natal day of this famous American. Professor Brill gathered details from the career of Mr. Roosevelt, illustrating his characteristics by a brave, rugged and far-seeing man and statesman. It was the sort of address that young people should hear, in order to get a better understanding of the virtues that should characterize not only the leaders but the great masses.

Yesterday morning President U. S. Corman put into operation a plan for enforcing attendance on chapel exercises. For nine years attendance has been practically out it was found that some, and other those most needing to be present, were very often absent. Attendance at the general session is necessary that the school may act as a whole, that it may develop in each student a spirit of understanding and co-operation. Modern insight into the facts of human nature has revealed that there is perhaps nothing so educative as the experience of association with others in general enterprises.

Last Friday morning Miss Margaret Mason, voice pupil at the Madison College, sang songs with great acceptance by the hearers.

Defeat Explained.
Last Friday early in the morning the football team went to the South Dakota, arriving there toward 1 o'clock. The day was cold and windy, and the team was not in no condition for the football game with the fast Yankton team. However, the playing of football was postponed because of the score of 62 to 0. Three things which threatened the Yankton club and since were able to carry the ball over, the touchdown being dissolved by a close decision on bounds. At the boys have the honor of having the best record in the state with a score that Yankton has experienced this season. It is hoped that next year these teams will meet.

Teachers to Return.
Word has been received from Miss Edith Stocking, teacher of the first intermediate grades in the training school, and Miss Edith Stocking, who will commence with the second quarter. Improvements at Normal.
During the fine weather the Jollis-Manville company of Omaha, Neb., has been working on the underground heating pipes from one building to another, whereby the efficiency of the heating is greatly increased. Work on the grading of the campus is also progressing in a satisfactory manner.

RED-CROSS CAMPAIGN DURING ALL NEXT WEEK

Coming Membership Drive Hopes to Keep Up Present Roll.

The Red Cross membership drive will keep going on, and will continue until November 11, the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice. Mrs. E. W. Huse, county chairman for the Red Cross, is in charge of each precinct and all organization work for the campaign is being done by the Red Cross.

The coterie club will make a house-to-house canvass in Wayne every effort to enroll each individual in the county in the Red Cross will be made. Last year the roll showed 4,000 members from Wayne county, and the committee hopes to get a larger number for 1919.

The ministers have been asked to devote at least part of their Sunday morning services to an explanation of the Red Cross roll call. This is the means by which the organization is made of the so-called laborers. The demobilization of soldiers calls for work from the Red Cross in making sure that each one has a job. Support for wounded soldiers will be in the hospitals department.

Chicken Pie Supper.
The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society will meet with Mrs. C. A. Wright, Wednesday afternoon, November 27, at 7 o'clock. Proceeds from the chicken pie supper held at the home of Mrs. J. Williams last night was $80.73. The officers and committee wish to thank the public for the very liberal patronage. The money will be applied to the repair work on the church.

Rural Home Society.
The Rural Home society was entertained Thursday by Mrs. W. A. Huse, at her home. The officers were: Mrs. Huse, president; Mrs. Huse, secretary; Mrs. Huse, treasurer; Mrs. Huse, clerk; Mrs. Huse, reporter; Mrs. Huse, reader; Mrs. Huse, singer; Mrs. Huse, prayer; Mrs. Huse, benediction; Mrs. Huse, dismissal.

Birthday Celebration.
Mrs. J. R. Armstrong entertained her daughter, Ruth, who celebrated her seventh birthday. She was assisted by Miss Edna Gemlich. The afternoon was spent in playing games and refreshments were served. A large attendance is especially desired.

Teacher Entertained.
A group of high school students entertained in honor of Miss George Little Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. J. Williams. The evening was spent in playing games and refreshments were served.

In Honor of Mrs. Volpe.
Mrs. Bert Johnson was hostess at a 6 o'clock dinner Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. Williams. The dinner was given in honor of Mrs. Volpe of Scribner and Mrs. A. O. Hedge of Conrad. Mr. and Mrs. M. Kroger and family were the other guests.

Birthday Party.
Phillip Kluckhahn entertained a birthday party for his daughter, Ruth, at her home Friday evening. The occasion being his birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in playing games. After the entertainment the guests were entertained by Mrs. J. Williams.

U. D. Club.
Mrs. H. J. Felber was hostess to the U. D. Club Monday afternoon. Mrs. H. S. Ringland contributed a paper on the Causes of Social Unrest. Mrs. Edward Forbes of Wisconsin was a guest of the club. Mrs. H. B. Craven will entertain the club at a dinner November 7.

Progressive Party.
The Progressive party of the Baptist church enjoyed a progressive party Friday evening. Their first met at

TRAIN HITS FORD WEST OF WINSIDE

Sam Simonson, Sioux City Traveling Man, Hit and Fractured as Result of Accident.

A Ford automobile, driven by Sam Simonson, traveling man from Sioux City, was struck by an eastbound freight one mile west of Winside Friday evening at 6 o'clock, and was converted into a tangled wreck. Mr. Simonson suffered a broken leg and was otherwise hurt. A companion, another traveling man, whose name was not learned, was considerably bruised, but escaped serious injury. The wreck was east of the Winside and later to Sioux City.

Automobile Is Wrecked.
Another Traveling Man in the Car Considerably Bruised—Both Taken to Sioux City.

Although it is said an approaching train could ordinarily be easily seen at the point where the accident occurred, the weather was misty, curtains were up and the windshield was covered by a film of water. As a result, the driver did not see the train without hearing the locomotive and the crash and wreck instantly followed.

TAKEN TO FEDERAL COURT
Damage Case Against Railroad Removed from District Court.

The case of Frank H. Carpenter vs. the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railroad was removed to the federal court at Norfolk October 27, on the petition of the defendant. It is a suit for $26,400 damages claimed by the plaintiff who alleges that he was injured and his car damaged when a train ran into his automobile. Mrs. Carpenter, who is the plaintiff's wife, her name is not mentioned in the suit.

Operated on for Gall Stones.
Last Saturday at the Mayo hospital, in Rochester, Minn., V. A. Senter was operated upon for gall stones. Three hundred forty gall stones were removed. It was found that Mr. Senter had no appendix. This condition was explained by saying that his probability had had appendicitis some time ago, and at that time the appendix was removed. Mr. Senter is recovering nicely.

Dental Dealer.
George J. Deuel, and Ida Marie Euler, both of Norfolk, were married here October 25 by Judge J. M. Cherry. Mr. Deuel has just received his diploma from the U. S. Army. The bride has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. McFarland of Norfolk. They will live on a ranch near Deuel, Wyo.

Koepsel-Schutz.
A marriage license was granted to William Koepsel and Len Schütz, and Len Schütz of Hoskins, who were married October 27. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. L. Koepsel.

Davidson Bros. Co.

The Big Store. Sioux City, Iowa

COMING

Beginning Monday, Nov. 3

Davidson's Annual Quick-unloading Sale

ORDERS are out for all our department managers to clear the decks quickly and effectively before the Christmas season is upon us. Stocks at "The Big Store" are heavier than they have been in many, many years, and these must be reduced to a minimum in short order.

Yes, we know that by holding the merchandise and not pushing the sales, we could make considerably more money, as prices you know, are continually advancing. But that is not the way Davidson's are doing business. They are distributors and not speculators.

Hence, all those who are alert enough to take advantage of the tremendous selling which will be inaugurated with the beginning of this event, will save a handsome sum of money on their fall and winter needs. The seventy-odd departments of "The Big Store" will participate with the greatest outburst of bargain giving of the entire year of 1916.

This message is particularly intended for our out-of-town patrons who are urgently requested to make preparations for coming to Sioux City as often as possible, in order to attend this sale. It would also be well for you to read Davidson's advertisements in the Sioux City papers daily.

But best of all, come and come as often as you can; buy and buy as generously as you can; save and save as liberally as this Annual Quick-unloading Sale permits you.

"WHY DON'T YOU WEAR KRYPTOKS?"
Yes, too, wore those old-fashioned bifocals with their disfiguring seam. The seam annoyed me and blurred my eyes. And I never realized how old those "antiques" made me look until one day my daughter asked, "Mother, what is that queer-looking crack in your glasses?" I forthwith went in search of two-vision glasses without the disfiguring marks. I found them in KRYPTOK GLASSES. ### THE WAYNE WOMEN'S CLUB

At Meeting Women Attend to Business and Hear Program.

On account of the cold weather Saturday afternoon, the members of the Wayne Women's club met at the home of Mrs. Henry Ley instead of at the opera house. During cold weather hereafter the club will meet in the basement of the library building.

The committees whose reports of service during the late county fair were presented, were given a vote of thanks and appreciation. Also a vote of gratitude was extended to the members of the Pure Bred Stock Breeders association for co-operation in efforts incident to raising funds for the proposed community building. Reports showed that a total of somewhat over $400 was cleared for the Women's club during the fair.

Business disposed of, a brief program was given. Miss Dewey, teacher of expression at the Wayne State Normal, read "Kentucky Cardinals" and responded to an encore with "A Dairy Maid." Miss Pierce of the art department of the State Normal, gave a talk on Maxfield Parrish. His work as a natural artist was emphasized. Some of his pictures were exhibited.

Contributions for the Roosevelt memorial were made at the close of the meeting.

Sunday School Convention.

Laurel Advocate: The Cedar County Sunday School convention meets at the Presbyterian church, Laurel, November 3 and 6. Plan to come to get and to give help in this work. Young people's Sunday school classes have charge of Wednesday evening service. Miss Brown gives a stereopticon lecture Thursday evening. Good programs Wednesday afternoon and all day Thursday.

Purpose of Education.

Dr. Frank Crane: One rotten idea we must get rid of is that it is the purpose of education somehow to enable us to escape work, and we measure its advantages in terms of idleness, whereas its real use is to equip us to find joy in work. In other words, we go to school to get out of school, not to get into work.

Fighting on the Danube.

Springfield, Mass., Republican: In 1914 who could possibly have foreseen a naval encounter on the Hungarian reach of the Danube between Rumanian and British gunboats? The fiercest warfare of the great war might give material for an interesting history.

Tire Making is Cost Plus Care

A MATTER OF STANDARDS AND POLICIES

THE making of any tire is chiefly a matter of standards and policies. Any manufacturer can build a good tire if he cares to pay the price of perfection. It is merely a matter of combining the best features known and building according to the highest standards.

Costs Vary Greatly

Formulas, fabrics, and standards vary vastly in cost. Reinforcements, plies, and thicknesses are a matter of expense. And these variations affect endurance. It rests with the maker how far he wishes to go—how much he can afford to give. After you have thought these facts over and then tried a Goodrich tire, you will understand how we have built model tires, regardless of factory expense.

One Goodrich Will Tell You the Story

And then you'll want ALL GOODRICH TIRES. No other tire you'll agree, gives so much for your money. It's because they are practical tires for practical drivers.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Graded Butter Prices Higher.

The United States Department of Agriculture provides a butter-inspection service on the New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and Minneapolis markets. This service is not compulsory, but it is valuable to producers or dealers who market butter of superior quality as the "official once over" guarantees the quality of the product and correlates it to its selling price. One day recently a 63-pound tub of butter at one of the markets scored 87 and sold for 50 cents a pound, or a total of $3.50, as compared with another similar weight tub of butter which scored 93 and sold at 63 cents a pound, or $3.99. The higher-scoring butter commanded a gross price 12% higher than that of its lower-scoring mate. It is possible to make the best grade of butter possible and then to market it on the scored basis in order to realize its full worth.

Co-operators Provide Funds.

An interesting reversal has taken place in the co-operative extension work of the United States Department of Agriculture. In the employment of county agents, home demonstration agents, and boys' and girls' club workers, the Federal Government last year provided $3 for every $2 coming from States, counties and other sources. This year the proportion is the other way. The Federal Government is spending only $2 for every $3 from co-operative agencies. This change is due to the fact that when congress made appropriations to the department of agriculture for the present year, it eliminated entirely the emergency item of $6,100,000 to be used in the co-operative demonstration work, and provided in its place an item of $1,500,000 to be used by the states under the same conditions as funds provided under the Smith-Lever act. Contributions from counties last year amounted to $2,000,000. This year they will exceed $4,100,000. At the same time, contributions from sources have increased from $3,500,000 to $4,300,000. The number of county agents, home demonstration agents and club workers has decreased decidedly, but the shrinkage is nothing like so large as would have been the case if the states, counties and colleges had not provided more funds.

Because of the readiness of the states to meet the federal government more than halfway, it is hoped, despite the reduced funds at its disposal, to hold the force of county agents at the present number, but it is admitted that the services of a number of women and club agents will be lost.

A Point of Vital Contact.

One of the points of vital contact between the United States department of Agriculture and the state agricultural colleges and experiment stations—the chief means, perhaps, by which the extension work, the extension work and the like are co-ordinated and kept fairly uniform throughout the country—is the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, which will hold its thirty-third annual convention in Chicago November 12 to 16. At the same time a number of subsidiary and related organizations will hold their annual meetings. Among them are the Country Life Conference, American Association of Farmers' Institute Workers, the Conference of Farm Management Demonstrators, and of the state leaders of county agents for the North and West, the Association for the Advancement of Agricultural Teaching, the Society for the Promotion of Agricultural Science, the Society of Agronomy, and the Farm Management Association. Some of these organizations have been fostered by the department of agriculture and the agricultural colleges. Others are independent organizations with related interests. In practically all of them, officials of the department of agriculture are interested. A number of department men will be in attendance and, through the various meetings, will feel the will and the wishes of the people at the same time that they pass their own thoughts along to workers in various lines throughout the country.

SPECIAL AT THE CRYSTAL

Big Crowds Enjoy Harold Bell Wright's "Eyes of the World."

"The Eyes of the World," a photoplay adapted from the book by that name written by Harold Bell Wright, was presented at the Crystal Theatre last night. The two crowded performances were a success. When Mr. Wright first wrote the book he did not give the characters names, but called them by symbolic titles, such as Art, the Age, The Spirit of Nature. Although a definite plot is worked out in the picture, it is merely the medium by which the author expresses his ideas about modern conditions.

The first part of the picture was a prologue explaining the situation which later developed, and testifying that the sins of the fathers are visited upon the children. In the latter part, the second generation continued the story. In the end Art and the Spirit of Nature, typified by a young artist and an unsophisticated young girl, triumphed over the Spirit of the Age and Sensuality, while Civilization observed and applauded.

The scenes of the play were in Boston and California. With mountains and canyons as a setting, the characteristics of the Age and Sensuality appeared less attractive, and those of Art and the Spirit of Nature showed their true worth.

The Young Man's Opportunity.

Orison Sweet Marden: Never before was the world so eager for the exceptional young man, never did it call so loudly for young men of brain and heart as a setting, the character of the age and the spirit of the time will always be at a premium, determination and grit will never go begging for an opportunity. If you have these you need never be idle, you need never look for a position after your first one.

No Shortage of Talk.

Chicago Daily News: At least it can be asserted without fear of successful contradiction that there is no underproduction of debate in this country.

THE Ford Model T One-ton Truck is really the necessity of the farmer, manufacturer, contractor and merchant. It has all the strong features of the Ford car—made bigger and stronger. It has the powerful worm drive, extra large emergency brakes acting on both rear wheels and controlled by hand lever; 124 inch wheelbase, yet turns in a 46-foot circle, and has been most thoroughly tested. Equipped with pneumatic tires, demountable rims, which gives it sure footing, speed and efficiency. We know it's absolutely dependable on all kinds of roads. We would advise giving your order now as we can make prompt delivery at present on trucks.

LOCAL PREACHERS MEET

Form Wayne Association to Promote Spiritual Welfare.

The Ministerial Association in Wayne is very much alive. On Monday, October 26, the ministers met in the study of Rev. J. H. Petteroff, the English Lutheran pastor and there completed an organization. Rev. J. H. Petteroff was elected president and Rev. W. Kilburn, secretary and treasurer.

A union Thanksgiving service is being arranged for to be held in the Methodist church. The preacher for this occasion will be Rev. J. W. Beard, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The choirs of the various churches will combine under the directorship of Professor J. J. Coleman. It is hoped to make the most impressive service ever held in Wayne.

Also an Interdenominational canvass will be made in the city. The ladies will be chosen from each church for this important work. The campaign will commence on Friday, November 7, at 10 p. m. It is expected the force of workers will complete the canvass in the afternoon. After the completion of the canvass, supper will be provided for those who have assisted in the completion of this necessary task.

Ministers who are members of the association are as follows: Rev. Petteroff, English Lutheran; Rev. Beard, Presbyterian; Rev. Pratt, Baptist; Rev. Teckhaus, German Lutheran; Rev. Kilburn, Methodist Episcopal.

Nickel-Farrier Wedding.

Western, Neb., Waver, Oct. 23: A very pretty wedding was on Thursday evening, October 16, 1919, at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Nickel, when their youngest daughter, Miss Clara Belva Nickel, became the wife of Mr. Elmer Farrier of Wayne, Nebraska.

Promptly at 7 o'clock the bride and groom, preceded by the minister, entered the room and took wedding vows in the presence of a decorated spot which consisted of draped lace curtains with green trimmings. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Wilis Nickel and the music continued softly during the ceremony.

by the Rev. H. W. Fragner, of the Western Methodist church. During congratulations, Mr. Earl Lackey of Wayne, sang "When Song is Sweet." After a ceremony and exchange of greetings the guests were invited to the dining room, where a bounteous wedding supper was served.

Due to the sickness of the bride's father, only immediate relatives and friends were present. Miss Naomi Nickel had charge of the wedding book and secured the names of about fifty guests.

The bride was beautifully gowned in a white, Georgette crepe dress over a white tulle undergarment which Mr. Lackey brought from France. She also carried a bouquet of bridal roses.

A significant feature of this wedding ceremony is the fact that it was performed on the golden wedding anniversary of B. F. Nickel and Mrs. Wilis Nickel.

The latest news marriage in the state of Ohio, fifty years ago. More elaborate plans had been made for this double occasion, but because of Mr. Nickel's health, some of the details were abandoned. Many useful and beautiful gifts were presented, not only to the newly wedded couple, but also to the bride and groom, of fifty years ago. Among them was a fine victrola, the gift of the Nickel children, who were all present.

Mrs. Farrier for some years has been a very successful teacher in the public schools of Saline and Jefferson counties. At present she is teaching her sixth consecutive year in the schools of Wayne, Nebraska.

Mr. Farrier is connected with the state department being deputy state sealer of weights and measures. He gave nearly a year of service overseas during the late war, being connected with the ambulance department of the Sixth Division of the A. E. F. in France. After a short honeymoon visiting relatives of the groom in Kansas, this happy couple will make their home in Wayne, Neb., where they will be at home to their many friends about November 1, 1919.

The Wave joins their many friends in congratulations.

What Keeps a Battery Young

To be reliable, a storage battery must have well-made plates.

Battery solution must be proper strength and required purity.

Batteries must be mechanically strong and must allow no leakage of current or battery solution.

But it's the insulation between the plates that keeps that battery full of life and adds months to its term of useful service.

Drop in and ask us to tell you about Threaded Rubber Insulation, and some of the records it has made in keeping batteries on the job far beyond what used to be the battery age limit.

Given Appreciated Semifinal

Stanton Pickett, Oct. 23, 1919: The Stanton high school gave a farewell party Saturday evening in honor of Miss Dorothy Huse, who resigned her position as teacher in our schools in order to enter her father's newspaper office at Wayne. The lower hall of the high school building where the party was held, was beautifully decorated in orange and black in honor of the occasion. The evening was spent in playing games in the gymnasium. A one course luncheon was served at a late hour. Miss Huse has been herself a capable instructor and has made many warm friends during her stay in Stanton who will join in wishing her abundant success in her new undertaking.

Stanton Pickett, Oct. 23, 1919:

The Junior class of the Stanton high school gave a party at the home of their former sponsor, Miss Huse, who left for her home in Wayne last Sunday.

The members of the high school faculty and Mrs. W. E. Flake were the guests. A lively evening ensued during which every one took part in the games and singing. An elaborate two course luncheon was served after which Miss Huse presented with a beautiful gift a symbol of the class appreciation for her kind and faithful sponsoring. The Juniors then gave some of their class yell after wishing gift, claiming the evening well spent.

Stanton Register, Oct. 23, 1919:

Miss Huse left Sunday for her home in Wayne having resigned her position in the city schools that she might assist her father with his newspaper business. Miss Huse has been a very well liked and proficient instructor in our high schools, and it is with regret that the children, faculty and school board parted with her although she had secured Miss Hathaway, of Bloomington, this state, to supply for her. Previous to Miss Huse's leaving various social affairs were given in her honor.

Stanton Register, Oct. 23, 1919:

Thursday evening at the home of the class president, Miss Fayne Smithberger, a farewell surprise party was given in honor of the class sponsor, Miss Huse. The evening was spent in playing games and visiting. The class presented Miss Huse with a parting gift. Light luncheon was served.

To Republican Women.

R. W. Devoe, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee has issued the following call from the state headquarters, Suite 420, Bankers Life Building, Lincoln, to the republican women of Nebraska, through the county and precinct committees of the state: "The Republican women of your precinct are hereby called to meet in caucus on November 11, 1919, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of electing a precinct committeewoman who will serve as a member of the precinct committee until the primary election is held in April, 1920, or until her successor is elected."

Pursuant to this call, you are hereby requested to give notice of the time and place for holding such caucus in your precinct. Wide publicity of this meeting should be given by you through every agency possible to the end that a full representation of republican women may be present. You are further requested to be personally present and preside over such caucus, as the official representative of the party in your precinct as now constituted. None but republican women shall be entitled to cast a ballot at the caucus. Kindly report the results of the caucus to the chairman of the county central committee and also to the undersigned, after which the chairman of the Republican State Central Committee will be notified.

In full confidence that this important matter entrusted to your care will be faithfully executed by you, I beg to remain, Yours truly, R. W. Devoe."

Paved roads to a paved town would certainly make a contiguous and benefiting farm worth enough to more than justify the cost.

If a city ordinance is unreasonable or oppressive, the way to do so to have it repealed. If ground for repeal is just any municipal body can be easily convinced, and may be persuaded to act accordingly.

Unfortunately some people cannot stand prosperity. They become inconstant and unbearable. It is certainly to be regretted that conditions and circumstances make them as some an attitude of cold indifference to service and intolerant arrogant to everybody. The reverse is true of most people, but it ought to be true of all.

Nest Tuesday, voters will be asked to go to the polls and elect delegates to the coming constitutional convention. The task before them is to frame a constitution, and every voter should exercise a voice in naming delegates.

The dumping ground west of Wayne has been so misused, to the injury of surrounding ground and the highway, that the city council has found it necessary to fix restrictions. The place will have to be cleaned up at considerable expense and the city needs the money for other purposes. Hereafter the ground will be in charge of one man, and he will be held responsible for the future of the place. It is said it would have been just as easy to have a fence and a plank walk, but it is long, but many elected to dump it where it does not belong, resulting in injury and expense.

In October, 1902, just seventeen years ago, this country was threatened with a coal miners' strike, and it would have happened if President Roosevelt had not taken prompt and vigorous action. The report at the time states that he acted without legally constituted authority, but, disregarding precedents and red-tape restrictions, he sent the miners back at work to the great relief and praise of the whole country. A similar situation exists today, and it would seem that the president ought to be able to take the bull by the horns, arrive at a sound and fair basis of operation, and then demand and insist on cessation of activities. An entire continent should not be allowed to suffer while miners and mine owners are trying to adjust their differences.

The spirit to disregard law and orderly regulation is no doubt a product of the late war, but if it were not checked our hoisted labor from the consequences of the war.

A country is not free if people's rights may be trampled on by unauthorized mobs. From the same organization to the national government, rules or laws must apply and be observed to guarantee equal privilege and equal opportunity. Neither life nor property is safe if any group, acting on impulse, is allowed to usurp authority and violate social order. Even if a rule or law is unjust, it should be changed rather than roughly brushed aside. The one who would overthrow authority could have no protection for his own rights or his own life. His security if he were allowed unrestrictedly to take a free country would be a wretcheder in order were not enforced.

The president showed encouraging backbone in his statement to miners, made public Sunday. It is hoped his delayed firmness in dealing with the unions will be seen in the face of the impending calamity. Few wish to be unjust to members of the labor union. On the other hand, when an organization asks for a thirty-hour week and a sixty per cent advance in wages—advances not connected with any aid by people outside of unions—its demands are manifestly unreasonable and would not be endorsed by the country without a convincing proof not now apparent. To afflict the innocent public in an attempt to extort extravagant concessions will receive little sympathy. The president is right in denouncing the proposed strike as a crime. It involves and is in fact to the honor of the nation. It breathes the spirit of defiance, riot and anarchy. It regards the millions who are working long hours without adequate compensation, with brutal indifference. If a man wishes to quit his job, he should be permitted to quit, but he should not be allowed to insist on other people quitting their jobs or disturbing those who are willing to work to the distress of the general public. The consuming masses do not find the coercive threat of labor organizations less distasteful or less oppressive than the hovering, grasping tentacles of conscienceless profiteers. Neither should be allowed to crush innocent and dependent society. Neither should be allowed to defy authority and trample under foot the rights of a free government.

AN ILLINOIS COMPLAINT.

This from the World Herald, produced from the Congressional Record will be read with interest: Mr. King—Mr. Chairman, in the time granted me I desire to send up and have read at the clerk's desk a communication, signed by Francis Abbe, from the Honorable Frank Abbe of Illinois: The Chairman—The clerk will read. "I have been held up, held down, sandbagged, walked on, sat on, flattened out and squeezed. First by the United States government for federal war tax, Liberty loan bonds, thrift stamps, war savings stamps, for state, county, and other taxes; capital stock tax, and auto tax; and by every society and organization that inventive mind can invent and extract money—I may or may not possess. "The government has so governed my business that I do not know what I am doing. "I am inspected, suspected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, restrained and commanded, so that I don't know who I am, where I am or why I am here. "All I know is that I am supposed to contribute an innumerable supply of money for every human need, desire or hope of the human race, and because I will not sell all I have and go around being—how do you call it?—I give away. I have been cursed, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, robbed, and nearly ruined; and the only reason I am clinging to life is to see what is coming off next. Mrs. Will Mathiesen was taken by surprise Sunday afternoon when a number of relatives, children, came to help her celebrate her birthday. Fine social time was enjoyed. A delicious lunch was served from well filled baskets prepared by the ladies. Mrs. Mathiesen was presented with several nice gifts as reminders of the occasion.

"New Zealand a Masterpiece."

"I have a smaller, the impression of the president of the British weekly, 'that the U. S. A. had secured the cooperation of the entire God-sown country, and had thereby accomplished it to the United States. It is just that our colonial troops here find the phrase—and are probably imitating it in the headlines—'and the empire they happen to live from. The other day I was a soldier with a red band, round the white wake hat on my coat, to his neighbor how pleasant it was to be going back in a few days to God's own country. 'Why, I didn't know you were an American,' he said, 'and he spoke in an accent that left no doubt on which side of the Atlantic he was at home. 'Who said I was?' complained the other. 'Well, you started out as a New Zealander as your home, and that's America sure.' 'America?' repeated red-band. 'Yes, I dare say God had something to do with the making of it. But New Zealand is his masterpiece, and don't you forget it!'

Disputes of Peace. Washington Post: One part of the United States government has promised to deliver the Emperor to Great Britain, and the other part refuses to surrender her. Peace is hell!

Moderate Prices on Goods Now Wanted

These Prices are Below the Present Market

Early Buying in Large Quantities is the Reason

Silk Plush Coats

MODERATELY PRICED AT

They are good silk plushes, stylishly cut, well made and well lined, and carry our regular guarantee for service and satisfaction. We have about forty of these real bargains, bought by us very early when prices were at their lowest. We also have cheaper coats at $20.00 to $25.00, and fine fur trimmed coats up to $35.00, but we call particular attention to the $31.50 to $45.00 coats, because we have found many people who thought they could not get a good coat this winter at so moderate a price.

Ladies' Wool Dresses

MODERATELY PRICED AT

They are made of fine all-wool serges and tricoots, cut in the very latest styles, suitable for our winter weather, and attractively trimmed in silk braiding and beading. You will see dresses of serge advertised as cheap as $18.00 to $20.00, but this is cotton warp serge which gives very poor service and has a lifeless color that fades. Good wool serge dresses like these, well made and so nicely trimmed, are very moderately priced at our prices of $30.00 to $37.50. You have the advantage when buying here of trying the dresses on and seeing just how you look in them. Necessary alterations are made by our dressmaker without extra charge. We had a good shipment of new dresses last Saturday and we'll have about thirty more by next Saturday. Mostly priced at $30.00 to $37.50, a few at $25.00, and a few extra fine ones at $42.50 to $57.50.

Ladies' Fine Dress Shoes

MODERATELY PRICED

and these prices apply to our fine kid and calf shoes in the very nicest leathers and styles. We have one very fine, black shoe priced at $12.50, because of an extra cost for celluloid heels and two fancy colored shoes priced at $15.00 on account of some special heels and trimmings, but outside of these few styles, you can be fitted out here in fine, stylish footwear—both Queen Quality and J. & K. grades—at the moderate prices of $8.75 to $11.50. These are quality shoes made in the best factories in America, and in the latest styles and we would like to have you try on some of them and see for yourself that fine footwear is to be had at moderate prices in spite of all the newspaper talk and general feeling to the contrary. We also have good serviceable shoes at $5.00 and $7.50, of good leather, that insures wear but lacking in the fineness and style of our better shoes. We carry a big stock, complete size assortment, and know how to fit correctly. For fine footwear, reasonably priced, come here.

Children's Shoes

MODERATELY PRICED

The price on children's shoes varies so much with the size that we will give you a general idea of the prices we are showing you the children's shoes you need. We will promise, however, that you will be pleased enough to buy if you come in and look at and price them. We have always handled Kinder's shoes for children and they have grown to be the largest manufacturers of children's shoes in this country, because they have specialized in making honest, good wearing shoes at a moderate price. They use good materials and make good looking shoes with neatness and style to them. We carry all their best styles, in both black and colored leathers, with plain and fancy tops, and are prepared to fit out any family of boys and girls in these good, moderately priced shoes.

Wool and Silk Dress Goods

VERY MODERATELY PRICED

We carried over from last season a good stock of all-wool Serges, Poplins, Silk Poplins and Battens. We are offering them at last year's prices which means a saving of 50 to 75 cents a yard, according to quality.

Also fifteen pieces of nice plaid goods suitable for children's dresses are still priced at 35 and 85 cents a yard, which is much below the present market.

Investigate our Dress Goods stock before buying—it will pay you well.

2 1-4 Yard Wide Sheetting

MODERATELY PRICED AT

70c yard

Fine bleached sheetting, full bed width, 2 1/4 yards required for a big sheet. Ready made sheets of similar quality are selling at $2.35. Here is a chance to save 60 cents on every sheet you will need this winter. Only 200 yards left at this price.

Georgette Waists

MODERATELY PRICED AT

Besides these moderate priced waists, we have the agency for the nationally advertised line of Wirtmoor Georgette waists which sell the country over at $5.00. While the materials, or the trimmings are not as fine as in our better waists, they are the very best $5.00 georgette blouses in the country and should you have use for a waist of this grade, you can do no better than buy a Wirtmoor. We also handle beautifully trimmed and designed georgettes up to $20.00 and $25.00, in a good, complete assortment of shades and sizes. Our largest collection, however, is at the moderate prices of $7.50 to $10.00, and no better values are to be had anywhere than you will find here at these prices. Navy blue, brown and taupe shades are now much in demand for wear with suits. They are to be had here—just out of the factory last week. Newest styles in design and trimming; all moderately priced.

Big Woolnapped Blankets

ARE PRICED CHEAP AT

These are the big, heavy wool finished blankets that come in pretty plaids as well as plain colors. They are priced one-third less than usual because they are traveler's samples. We have blankets as low as $1.25, and a few all-wool at $12.50 to $20.00, but for real value we recommend these big, warm, wool naps at $5.00 to $7.50. At the rate we sold them the past week, they won't begin to last through the season. Last year we had sold out on samples before winter was half over. Early buying means good savings on blankets.

Boys' and Girls' Sweaters at $3

Men's and Ladies' Sweaters at $5

ARE VERY MODERATELY PRICED.

Priced so low because we carried them over from last year. If you have been shopping for sweaters you know that any kind of a good, heavy worsted sweater for men or women costs $7.50 to $10.00. Here you can get a bargain on the famous Bradley make for $5.00. The boys' and girls' cost but $3.00. There are not a great many left, so early selection is advisable.

Mercerized Table Linen

AT A VERY LOW PRICE

$1.15 per yard

This cloth is a fine yarn, good weight damask that will launder and look almost like linen if a little starch is used. It comes in ten different patterns, each one as pretty as those used in the best linen cloths. We would like to have you compare with any $3.00 cloth you can find on today's market. This low price is possible because we got a bargain on this ten-piece lot last May. Thanksgiving is not far off. Get your table linen now at a saving.

Outing Flannels

25c yard

Twenty pretty patterns to choose from in soft, heavy outings suitable for gowns, petticoats, etc. Lay in your winter's supply now before any $3.00 cloth you can find on today's market. Get more of them to sell at anywhere near this low price.

COULDN'T RIDE ON THE STREET CARS

Was Almost Nervous Wreck—Says TANLAC Is Worth Its Weight in Gold.

"I would not take one thousand dollars for the good TANLAC has done me," said Mr. Bars, employed by the Milwaukee Paper Box Co. and residing at 1207 Eighteenth St., Milwaukee, in calling the TANLAC representative of his improvement since taking the medicine.

"Yes, sir, this medicine has put me to sleep more than I have been able to do before in years, and you can just tell the people I think it is worth its weight in gold," continued Mr. Bars, as he went on with his statement.

"My trouble started three years ago when I had a colic case by over-eating. I was down in bed three months from this spell, and it left me in an awful fix; in fact I became almost a nervous wreck. I couldn't work regularly—was up one day and down the next. Actually, I was so nervous I couldn't ride on the street cars. I got in a crowd or amongst a little excitement would completely upset me, and I would shake like a leaf and could take a few seconds to get over it. I had such terrific headaches at times my head felt like iron bands were tied around it. Some nights I would have to sit up in bed and get my wife to bathe my head to give me a little relief, and morning I could not get to sleep until four or five o'clock in the morning on account of these headaches and nervous spells. This was just the shape I was in when one of the men at the shop suggested to me that I take TANLAC and I agreed to do it, but I had little faith in it or any other medicine.

"By the time the first bottle was gone the headaches had disappeared, and my nerves began to get steady. To make a long story short, this TANLAC made me feel like a different man and now I have no sign of nervousness or the other trouble that had been pulling me down for the past three years. I sleep fine, get up in mornings feeling refreshed and rested and ready for my day's work. I eat three hearty meals every day, something I couldn't do before, and what I eat agrees with me, and I am getting in strength and weight every day. This TANLAC certainly beats anything I ever saw in my life."

TANLAC proved of great benefit to Mr. Bars because it contains certain medicinal properties which enrich the blood and promote a healthy appetite for nourishing food. TANLAC has been very successful in overcoming nervousness and sleeplessness, and has a quieting effect on the nerves, for it has no such effect, but by strengthening the nerves and body and bringing the blood to the health through its effect on the appetite and nutrition of the body.

TANLAC is sold in Wayne.

On Trail of Profiteers.

Lincoln, Oct. 26.—According to members of the special committee appointed from the legislature to look into the matter of the high cost of living and profiteering, it is probable that an entirely new line of procedure will be adopted which will be able to really fix the responsibility for the high prices in this state. The committee probably will meet again next Friday in the hall of representatives at the state house, and if hearty co-operation is given the committee it is believed that the real responsibility can be located.

The committee just now does not care to outline its program, but it will be thorough and among other things will endeavor to discover why the people in a town where a sugar factory is turning out sugar by the thousands tons have to pay in addition to the regular price charged to Omaha and return when the sugar is purchased direct from the factory.

Another item which may be looked into is why last summer a live chicken should bring the farmer only 35 cents a pound and then by the time it reaches the consumer the price had increased to 55 or 60 cents a pound, when all that had disappeared from the bird was the feathers and what little blood had been spilled when the chicken met its untimely death.

It may not require a special session of the legislature to solve the problem. It will be simply up to the fellows who have adopted the "make all you can and let the market be damned" policy to sit up and take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Luxuries and Trade.

St. Louis City Journal: It is remarkable that with all the present industrial disturbances, trade has maintained a standard level during the last week. The only conservative colored anywhere is among the merchants, who in spite of the heavy consumer purchases of high priced commodities, are not making heavy profits. They are not willing to run short rather than be caught overstocked at any time a retrenchment might become imperative. The middle west is spending money as though there would never be a depression in incomes and wages. Most of the investment is in luxuries. Anything that is not a necessity is being found purchasers and prices are seldom questioned. The people have the money and are ready to spend it. Wearing apparel of the costly sorts finds ready sales, while common goods hang on the shelves and the merchant must be disposed of through special bargain sales.

In the west a heavy line of borrowing is reported by the banks. Security offered is of a poor basis, but investments of loans are on present bases. Cattle feeding and manufacturing is taking up a portion of the borrowed capital, but a considerable percentage is being invested in things which would under close money conditions would be done without.

Prices of foods are slightly lower than on August 1, though retail prices are slow to follow the decline in wholesale prices where the reductions are noted. Aside from this decline, there is no change in prices in general. The demand is such that almost any reasonable article is paid if the goods can be secured. This tendency is keeping the whole price level up where it has been for several months.

The threatened coal strike, which is now accepted as a certainty, is likely to result with the same indifference that has marked the strikes of recent weeks.

The general public has an optimistic belief that the country will come through without suffering. Business, except among the coal dealers, is not adjusting itself to the impending custom, and seems indifferent to the result. If the price of coal is advanced, the price of other things will be advanced to meet it, seems to be the general view.

Tragedy and Comedy.

An Illinois editor gives this account in unique language:

"Billy Dingbats, ten years, two months, one day and seventeen hours in jail, was taken to the penitentiary in Dingbats, the well-known and popular junk man, had his fatal punctured yesterday while playing pool in the back yard of his up-to-date lumber yard by a 22-caliber revolver just bought of Al McClain, the good-looking and accomplished clerk in Charley Auer's complete hardware store.

The bullet, entering his left side, made a bad powder burn in a new purchased auto. Reins, Reins, Reins! heimer's big sale, now in progress (see ad elsewhere in this issue). Billy had was attempting to open a 12-cent box of Uncle Poodle's delicious crackerjack with the barrel of the gun when the sad accident occurred. The bullet, entering his left side, almost busted an expensive never squirt fountain pen, sold only by Engle, it being saved only by the fact that the fountain pen furnished each purchaser without extra charge.

The funeral was held in the community undertaking parlors of our well-known and flowing-haired Sipe and the service was in charge of that elegant and tear-producing pulpit pounder and son of Heaven, J. M. Mournful. It was a very sad affair and many handkerchiefs were in evidence among the weepers. These beautiful lace-edged ones

Sunday morning's sermon will be on the subject, "Christ's Power on Earth." The attendance at Sunday school last Sunday was very good considering the weather and change of time. The enrollment was 147. All church members, men as well as women, are invited to come to the church Wednesday, November 5, to discuss the housecleaning to be done at that time. Bring your baskets and stay for dinner.

Baptist Church. (Rev. E. Bishop, Pastor.) Present at Sunday school last Sunday morning; also see them on time. Although our Sunday school has almost doubled, let us remember that there are others to be taught to be meeting with us. By each one's seeking to do what he can to interest them in the Sunday school we may thus win them for our school.

The Young People's class is doing nicely, only one absent last Sunday. Let us see if we cannot for the month of November, make a record of one hundred. A new member was received last Sunday. While we have a membership committee, let each one see if he cannot help to add new members.

Don't forget the date, November 2. What will happen? Mr. Froshier of Omaha, will tell of his wonderful experience of God's great blessing and of His wonderful help and power. Where? At the Baptist church at 11:00 o'clock a. m. Be sure to come and hear him next Sunday morning.

Mrs. Fisher, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Hurlbert, who is visiting here, attended services with Mr. Hurlbert's Sunday evening. Bring your friends with you to church and do not let them keep you at home.

The Ladies' Aid did not finish business last week in typing computers. They have decided to visit at Mrs. T. J. McKay's home for the winter.

Don't forget to hear Mr. Froshier next Sunday morning at the Baptist church.

There will be no preaching service at the Baptist church next Sunday evening.

Wanted. Every boy from 12 to 14 to be present next Sunday morning at the Baptist church, to become charter members of a boys' class.

Springfield, Mass., Republican passengers arriving at New York from Copenhagen report conditions terrible in Denmark as the result of a big strike of longshoremen. The first word of a trolley strike in Brussels lasting a week came with the news of its ending. A number of strikes of comparatively small dimensions, which have been in progress recently in England, have scarcely been mentioned. The extent of the industrial unrest evidently cannot be judged by those that receive much public mention.

Long Distance Rates are Uniform

The schedules for long distance telephone service established a few months ago are proving generally satisfactory to the public.

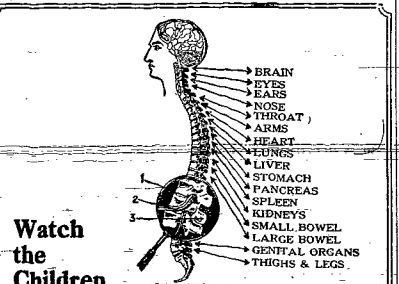

Long distance service is often conducted over the wires of more than one company and frequently across state lines.

Heretofore various companies differed in their methods of quoting long distance rates.

Under the rates now established long distance service is on the same basis throughout the country.

Most diseases from which man suffers could be prevented, if the influence of the spine as a causative factor were recognized. About 95 per cent of all diseases in children are dependent upon traumatic causes. Falls and stiffness in play are responsible for a large share of the trouble. The control of children during their play is well nigh impossible and to guard against disease, parents should insist upon a spinal analysis being made at least once every six months. While most accidents are under the impression that their children are enjoying robust health, if an examination of the spine is made, displaced vertebrae are reasonably sure to be found that will produce future trouble unless corrected.

ANSWER "HERE" AT THIRD ROLL CALL SAYS E. K. HARDY

Manager of Central Division Tells Hopes and Needs of American Red Cross.

ASKS VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

War Work Has Entirely Completed and Peace Program Outlined Require Members and Funds.

By E. K. HARDY, Manager Central Division American Red Cross.

The varied forms of war activity, to which the American Red Cross has devoted almost its entire energy are gradually diminishing. Much thought has been given to change this organization from a general peace footing, but a general program has been mapped out, to be adjusted and readjusted as needs require, for chapter, division and national organizations.

Between Nov. 2 and 11 the Red Cross will call its roll for the third time and ask the people to give a vote of confidence in the past performance and recommitment to the principles which will guide its progress in the future.

The war activities have not all been stopped and will not be stopped until the last American soldier is home and able once again to take his place in the business or industrial world. The soldier's family also must be cheered and comforted and assisted until he is able to care for them. No program can be laid down by the Red Cross that does not include this unshakable war work as first obligation.

Ever since the organization of the Red Cross there have been responsibilities which now have become traditional. These include service to the standing army and naval forces, mitigation of suffering either at home or abroad from famine, fire, floods or great disasters. The Red Cross also must continue and broaden its work in the field of nursing, maintain its hospitals in first aid, dietetics and home care of the sick.

New responsibilities have come with the war. Higher standards have been set up by individuals and nations in regard to human service and preventing needless suffering. In connection with the new tasks these responsibilities entail, the Red Cross will build, estimate and supplement, but not supplant, local agencies engaged in the same lines of endeavor.

The volunteer spirit which brought such a measure of success during the war, will be carefully nurtured. We will need volunteers to conduct the Third Roll Call and when emergencies arise we will call for volunteers to Plan World War on Plague. Twenty-six national Red Cross societies forming the League of Red Cross societies, have opened a united war on disease, famine and disaster in all parts of the world. The league has started its work in Poland, where typhus is raging and threatening to spread over western Europe. A medical commission has been sent to handle the situation there and to report on methods of checking the plague. The roster of the league includes Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Cuba, Denmark, France, Great Britain, Greece, Holland, India, Italy, Japan, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Prussia, Rumania, Serbia, South Africa, Spain, Sweden, the United States and Venezuela.

MOBILIZED FOR DISASTER CALLS

Red Cross Machinery of Organization Ready for Any Demand for Service.

50 BASE HOSPITALS READY

Chapters Provide Emergency Relief Committees and Establish Supply Centers to Answer Appeals.

Preparedness for disaster rolled on a scale never before possible is being undertaken by the American Red Cross as one of the important features of its new peace program, in support of which it has mobilized 50 Red Cross Roll Call will be conducted from Nov. 2 to 11 to obtain 20,000,000 members and $15,000,000.

Plan Survey of Supplies.

Since 1900 disasters of peace have cost many thousands of lives and have brought personal injury or property loss to 1,500,000 persons, destroying property valued at $1,000,000,000. During 1917 eighty disasters were reported to the American Red Cross, 42 tornados, 5 floods, 4 great fires, two earthquakes, two serious mine disasters, two munition plant explosions and the tragic calamity which befell Halifax.

Under the direction of the Red Cross the entire resources of all communities will be mobilized for instant use when needed. Chapters everywhere will create committees to make surveys, locating emergency food supplies, drugs, hospital supplies, cots, mattresses, blankets, clothing, amulets, schools and other buildings for housing refugees and will canvass physicians, nurses, social workers and others prepared to respond instantly to calls for their services in disasters.

National Resources Available.

The efficient business organizations will establish disaster relief supply centers and take charge of operations when assistance is needed. In cases of major disasters where direct resources of the division in which it occurs are overtaxed, the entire strength of the Red Cross in the country may be mobilized through national headquarters.

Fifty Base Hospitals Organized by the American Red Cross and turned over to the government for use with the military forces will be ready for immediate service.

NURSING CLASSES PLANNED BY RED CROSS CHAPTERS.

Classes in nursing the ill, conducted by trained nurses and open to every woman, are being organized by the local chapters as a part of the peace program outlined by that organization. The courses with instruction in home sanitation, hygiene, care of the sick, and dietetics. These classes are being introduced into public schools and colleges and are offered to employees of department stores and factories, girl scouts, or anyone who desires to learn to prevent illness as far as possible, and to care for the patient when illness comes.

GEN. PERSHING GIVES $10,000 TO RED CROSS.

The last act of Gen. Pershing before he left France for the United States was to turn over to the American Red Cross $4,625.40 francs, about $10,000, to be used by the Red Cross for the care of French orphan children who have been adopted by the Red Cross. A chaplain attached to Gen. Pershing's staff visited the Red Cross headquarters and saw the work which was being done for the children. Apparently he had carried a report to the commander in chief, and the check was the result.

How Kansas City Times: Of course, the country doesn't know much about the details of the situation in the threatened coal strike. But it has a pretty definite notion that most of its working force is on the job from five and a half to six days a week with an eight-hour day or more, and that the output isn't big enough to provide a good living for everybody, at that. So it can't quite figure how everybody is going to be made rich and happy by making coal scarcer and so more expensive through cutting down the working week to six hours, and what would happen if the farmers did that?

Next Year's Issues. Lincoln Journal: The gentlemen of the senate may think they are making up next year's campaign issues. They may be right in thinking that. But outside the senate one finds many reasons to think the senators are wasting their power on the league of nations. By next summer the league of nations is likely to be a closed issue. By that time, economic issues will be pressing so hard on the experience and pockets of the people that not all the politicians in Christendom could recall them to this year's issues. Such, to say the least, is a reasonable expectation.

If They Can Spare Time. Columbus Dispatch: If the Chicago packers can spare time enough from their indignant refutation of those horrid charges of profiteering, maybe they'll tell us why pork went higher when hogs slumped in price.

Quite Likely. Minneapolis Journal: "There is no sugar shortage," says Spreckles the refiner. Presumably, Mrs. Spreckles has had a whole hundred-pound sack of the stuff in the attic enough to provide a good living for everybody, at that.

Any Housewife Knows. Pittsburgh Dispatch: The utter worthlessness of H. C. L. statistics is again demonstrated to every housewife by a federal bureau claim that food prices dropped last month.

Rainbow and Aurora Surpassed. Philadelphia Public Ledger: Aurora borealis and the rainbow can lie down and take a rest while we have the silk shirt of the current season.

Organized Farmers. Boston Herald: Politicians with ears to the ground report the formidable trend of organized farmers.

To the creditors of said estate: You are hereby notified, that I will sit at the County Court Room in Wayne, in said county on the 21st day of November, 1919, and on the 21st day of February, 1920, to receive and examine all claims against said estate, with a view to their adjustment and allowance. # "An Apple a Day Keeps the Doctor Away"

Bulk Apples

TWO CARS JUST UNLOADED FROM IDAHO

Never was there a more opportune time to lay in a sixty or ninety day supply of apples. That we might be privileged to offer an assortment of varieties of good quality apples at a third the price, we have just received several tons from the orchards of Idaho. These open bushels will secure a reduction in price and an assortment of varieties which will please every member of the family. For eating and cooking they are unsurpassed. The assortment consists of Gano, Winesap, King of Rome Beauty. Don't fail to see this stock and don't delay in placing your order as demands are very active and people are coming for miles to secure a supply. All three varieties are the same price, 63 cents per pound. 50 pounds for $32.00 and for 100 pounds $64.00. The same amount invested in fancy box apples will cost one-third more.

Barrel Apples

From Missouri

Black Twigs, Wine Sap and Arkansas Blacks. Full three-bushel barrels and the quality A. I. only a limited supply. Persons partial to this particular variety please call and inspect.

Fancy Box Apples

Delicious and Jonathan

Delicious apples are in a class by themselves. Lovers of this particular variety of fruit will now find them at their best. This store has a good supply from $5.00 to $6.00 per box.

Jonathan Apples

We have a good supply. As usual, they maintain their standard as a good eater. Being red in color, pleases the eye and the taste as well. Packed in forty pound standard boxes, $3.75 to $3.40.

Winter Keeping Onions

$5.50 PER HUNDRED

Onions are predicted to be double the price by December 1. We must have a supply of $5.50 per hundred last week, and our contract permits us to continue this offer another week. Do not ask us to break 100 sack packs at this price. Only 200 sacks for $11.00 and less quantity 6 cents per pound. When we are selling onions from 10 to 15 cents per pound this winter, remember you had an opportunity to buy for 50 per cent less. This will be the offering at this price.

Basket Store Blend Coffee

This distinctive blend has attained the sale of 10,000 pounds in twelve months right here in Wayne. Persons who never thought of buying coffee except as they needed it are now repeat buyers on our 25-pound proposition. Basket Store Blend is always sold with the understanding that money are refunded if coffee fails to please. Now is the time to replenish your supply. 25 pound Basket Store Blend now costs $11.75, and it is just as good as coffee in packages at 60 cents per pound.

MAMMOTH GUATEMALA

such as the peddler asks 55 cents per pound, we offer in any quantity at 40 cents. Come in and let's talk over the coffee situation. you are not in the market, it is a wise idea to be posted on prices.

Big Special on Cookies

200 pounds just received, per pound 25

Sugar is scarce and this is an opportunity to provide the little folks with a supply for their dinner. Most children like "store cookies" better than mother's. Considering the present cost of baking material, you can buy them for less and save the bother. These are regular 20 and 25 cent values assorted, any quantity at 25 cents per pound.

Sweet Potatoes

FIFTY POUNDS FOR $2.65

We have ten barrels, just arrived for this sale. Next Wednesday will have another lot at a slight advance in price. If you like sweet potatoes this is another opportunity to buy at a right price.

Hand Dipped Chocolates

Friday and Saturday, 40c Pound.

The scarcity of sugar and labor has made candy high in price and hard to get. The chocolates we offer at this time were bought sixty days ago at much less than present market. They have just arrived. Remember Friday and Saturday at 40 cents per pound or five pound boxes $3.00.

Tel-mo Coffee

This was the coffee the ladies of the community club served at the city hall during the fair. You remember how good the coffee was—that was Tel-mo. This demonstration put Tel-mo on the map in the community. Just a trial is sufficient to make you a friend of Tel-mo. You like well the first pound and if you use a hundred more, it will be just like first pound as it's always uniform. If you forget the name tell the clerk "the coffee with a red bar across the package." He will know you want Tel-mo. Try a three-pound carton; if it fails to please—just return the empty carton and receive full purchase price. We know the good quality of Tel-mo, and want you to know too.

New Arrivals

Keq sweet apple cider, quinces, dates, figs, California walnuts, pure country sorghum, pure buckwheat flour, seedless raisins, New York Concord grapes and all kinds of canned goods.

Morrell's Hams and Bacon

A big shipment every week. From a quality standpoint, there is none better. It's the taste that tells—that accounts for the increased sales on these items.

Cabbage

ANOTHER TON ON SALE $3.50 PER CWT.

Demands for cabbage have been so active we have secured another ton. When this lot is sold we must advance price $1.00. This cabbage is good kraut stock. 100 pounds will make ten gallons.

Early Ohio Potatoes

NORTHERN GROWN $2.00 PER BU.

We have about 200 bushels at this price. This will close the season at this price. There are a few who have not laid in their winter potatoes. This is your last opportunity at the price.

OVERLOADED ON Parlor Brooms

We have ten dozen good parlor brooms which we are going to convert into money at a loss. They have been selling for $1.00. When you see them you will buy a year's supply. Sale price 75 cents.

Basket Store Wayne, Nebraska

JUST ANOTHER WORD ABOUT Specials

Bushel baskets, twenty or thirty of them, are constantly full of bargains, all plainly marked. These are changed every week and any day you come to the Basket Store you may be assured of having an opportunity of securing some staple specially priced items.

The bride was gowned in white georgette over satin and carried a bouquet of roses. Miss Edith Hoskins were Mr. William Koepsel's bridesmaid, wore pink georgette. Mr. Eddie Planner, of Hadar, acted as best man. Miss Lena Schultz, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. The young couple will make their home in Norfolk.

A Substitute.

Barrington Hawley: An old tale relates to an obstinate old bachelor whose housekeeper notified him that there was neither bread nor flour in the house. "Oh well," was the response, "just give me toast, that will do as well!" If the miners refuse to dig coal, the public can get a time when the miners will deliver coal. That will do as well.

Revision Inevitable.

Lincoln Journalist: With so eminent a personage as Lady Astor running for a seat in the house of commons, it isn't risky to predict a time when the house of lords, if it lasts long enough, will have to be revised into the house of lords and ladies.

Mrs. Henry Pfleger of West Point spent Wednesday with Mrs. K. Wieland in Wayne. She went from there to Sioux City.

Mrs. C. C. Bacon and Mrs. A. R. Bacon of Randolph visited between trains Wednesday with Miss Mildred Bacon who attends the Wayne State Normal.

Miss Sarah Halliburton, graduate of the department of journalism of the state university of Missouri, and for a year and a half employed in the "Life of Theodore Roosevelt" newspaper, Newkirk, Okla., arrived in Wayne Monday to enter the employ of the Wayne Herald.

James Rennick of Pilger, was in Wayne yesterday, having arrived three weeks with his nephew, L. R. Winegar. Mr. Rennick's mother was looking after a spot of mule which Mr. Winegar was shipping to this county, and the experience was a trial to him.

He was out four nights, and he says he couldn't sleep because he couldn't stay long enough in one spot at a time. It is his first experience of the car, and certain uncontrollable exterior forces persuaded him to use all parts of it impartially.

The greater part of Monday afternoon was devoted to the following Roosevelt memorial program: "America," by the entire school; invocation, by Rev. Mr. Kibbourne of the Methodist church; speech by the chairman, Leslie Rundell; essays on the "Life of Theodore Roosevelt," by Gurney Laase and Harry Hattisen; "How Firm a Foundation," Roosevelt's favorite hymn; "Life of Theodore Roosevelt," by Fausell Street; flag ceremony—salute; speech by chairman, selection; "Boys' Glee club; essays on life of Theodore Roosevelt;

Lowell Henney and Frances Surber; main address by Professor Brittel of the Wayne Normal; song, "Star Spangled Banner." Donations were then received from the students for the Roosevelt memorial monument.

The spelling contest stands eight-ten to twenty in favor of the south side.
The second grade will celebrate Halloween by having a party Friday afternoon, October 31.

A Roosevelt program was given by the sixth grade on Monday. Recitations and short items on his life were given by a number of the pupils. The children enjoyed a talk on Roosevelt by Rev. Mr. Pratt.

Robert Spencer is a new pupil in the third grade.
The following amounts for the Roosevelt memorial fund were pledged by the grades: Kindergarten, 40c; first grade, $132; second grade, $119; third grade, $169; fourth grade, $162; fifth grade, $175; sixth grade, $265; seventh grade, $235.

dump ground was discussed with W. H. Hoguewood. The mayor instructed Mr. Hoguewood to get together the coal and to haul and clean up the ground, throwing the dumpings into the creek bed, the council agreeing with Hoguewood to make arrangements to have Hoguewood be responsible and keep the dump grounds locked. Also made Hoguewood to do all the hauling and clean up, providing he does not charge more than $2.50 per load. If made up from more than one man's garbage he would provide to the several individuals comprising said loads. He also agrees if horsefeed would get cheaper, he would haul for ording, cheaper.

The council by vote agreed to pay A. A. Chance a salary of $110 as city marshal and janitor of the city hall.
On motion the council adjourned.

PRESBYTERIANS TO MEET

Drive for Church Funds Will Be Explained at Wakefield.

Preparations for the Presbyterian national campaign for $13,000,000 in funds for the church's work will be made at a district meeting of the New Era institute at Wakefield, on Friday, November 7. Dr. Albert E. McCarroll of La Crosse, Ill., Dr. James L. McKee of Kansas City, Dr. Arthur M. Boyd, all officers and will speak at the all-day session in Wakefield.

The New Era campaign is on the same order as the efforts of most of the denominations to raise great sums of money for missions and general church work, in order to take care of after-war conditions. A number of local Presbyterians expect to attend the institute in Wakefield.

Wayne Girl Weds.

The marriage of Miss Edith L. White of Wayne and Harold Aldrich of Rosalie took place in Rosalie Sunday afternoon.

Johnson, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich left Sunday for Omaha.

The bride is a niece of Miss Charlotte M. White of Wayne. She was graduated from the local high school in 1916, and has been employed in Sioux City since then. She is especially talented in music.

Mr. Aldrich is employed in his father's bank in Rosalie, and the young couple will make their home at that place.

HOTEL NEED IMPERATIVE
More Accommodations Necessary for Wayne's Hotel Trade.

Not less than a seventy-five room house," replied G. A. Gansko, proprietor of the Boyd Hotel, when asked how large a hotel he thought could be used to advantage in Wayne.

"We have accommodations for about thirty guests here, but have cared for an average of fifty-five a night for the last six weeks, by using cots and extra beds. Hardly a night goes by without a number being turned away, because we have no more cots. We've been serving room meals lately, too."

Mr. Gansko also gave as his opinion the fact that many more travel agencies make up their headquarters here, if they could be sure of getting rooms in a modern, well-equipped hotel. A great deal of trade would be directed here if this were the case.

G. W. Box of the Union Hotel said that by hotel constantly accommodations for about thirty guests, but from forty-two to fifty-two had been staying there every night for the past few weeks.

"In fact the last three weeks we've turned away fifty people for lack of room," he said. "It is a fact that they are losing business because of inadequate hotel accommodations."

At the same time, the Union Hotel is to be torn down in the spring, which will leave the Boyd as the only lodging place in the city. If this latter move has almost double the number of guests it can house comfortably, what will conditions be when the Union is gone?

It would seem that there is plenty of unemployed capital in Wayne and vicinity, which could be profitably employed in erecting a modern, up-to-date hotel building with adequate facilities for caring for the many travelers who would make up their headquarters.

Notice of Hearing.
To the heirs, creditors and all persons interested in the estate of G. P. Hitchcock, deceased.

You and each of you are hereby notified that Sarah Hitchcock has filed her petition in the county court in Wayne county, Nebraska, alleging that said G. P. Hitchcock died intestate at Omaha, Nebraska, on the 21st day of April, 1911, at the time of his death he was a resident of Wayne county, Nebraska, and seized of real estate in Wayne county, Nebraska, and filed her petition on the 13th of October, 1919, in Col-13 in book eighteen (18), in Col-15 in book eighteen (18), in Col-16 in book eighteen (18), in College Hill addition to Wayne, Nebraska, and in the same petition all debts and demands against said estate have been paid in full. That said estate has never been administered in the state of Nebraska. That said Sarah Hitchcock as widow of said G. P. Hitchcock is the owner of an undivided fee simple interest in and to said above described real estate.

The petitioner prays for a finding and decree determining the date of the death of said G. P. Hitchcock. For a determination of his rights. The degree of kinship and the heirs of descent of said real estate, and for an order barring claims of creditors, and prays for such other relief as may be proper.

Said petition will be heard at the county court room in Wayne, Nebraska, on the 24th day of November, 1919, at 2 o'clock p. m., at which time and place the heirs, creditors and all other persons interested in said estate may appear and show cause why a decree should not be made and entered as prayed in said petition.

Dated this 22nd day of October, 1919.

Price Inconsistency.
Washington, Oct. 21.—The farmers' cost of living question was presented to the senate today by Senator Capper, republican of Kansas, who declared that while farmers were being wrung dry at a loss in a declining market the consumers are paying rising prices.

Fairly distribution was blamed largely for this "remarkable spectacle" and the senator urged a number of remedies to increase production. He deplored the numerous industrial strikes and the small representation given agriculture in the industrial conference.

Livestock Men Threatened.
"In our efforts to get rid of the high cost of living disease," said Mr. Capper, "I fear we are in great danger of dying of the remedy. As a result of Washington's effort to reduce high prices by breaking down the cost of food, we have the remarkable spectacle of a rise of 1 percent in the cost of living, coinciding with a drop of about one-half percent in the price of livestock."

Illustrating the anomalous situation of farmers and consumers, Senator Capper said farmers are selling their wheat at a loss, adding: "Without visibly helping the consumer we have brought about a crisis in our most fundamental and vital industry by forcing the producer to accept prices at which he cannot equitably produce and which the consumer is compelled to curtail the home demand."

"Citing losses sustained by agricultural producers, Senator Capper said the recent decline in livestock prices had cost producers $80,000,000. Livestock growers, he said, do not control the markets and, like other agricultural producers, must accept prices fixed by others."

Labor and Land Go Up.
Farm wages have doubled, land values have risen enormously, and everything the farmer buys, he said, has risen from 50 to 300 percent.

Among the remedies suggested by Senator Capper were cessation of tariff protection on pigstays and which tends to bear down the prices of farm products.

"Executive departments," he said, "could save the market for the farmer by lifting the embargo on wheat and wheat flour to Europe, by extending credits to European governments, and by lowering ocean freight rates."

Legislation to free the livestock producer of alleged control of the markets by the packers also was urged by Senator Capper who suggested establishment of co-operative farm selling agencies.

Pumping by Electricity.
Hartington News: Hartington's city water supply is being pumped by electricity since last Saturday afternoon, when the connection between the big motor and the pump was finally completed. A new connecting shaft was ordered and this arrived only recently. Hereafter instead of pumping water the latter part of the day and evening it will be done during the day when the load on

"While everything a farmer must buy demands the high dollar, the price of his commodities, the cheapest in the market, are held down by a foreign embargo and a government guarantee."

Sees Crisis in Production.
"Without visibly helping the consumer we have brought about a crisis in our most fundamental and vital industry by forcing the producer to accept prices at which he cannot equitably produce and which the consumer is compelled to curtail the home demand."

"Citing losses sustained by agricultural producers, Senator Capper said the recent decline in livestock prices had cost producers $80,000,000. Livestock growers, he said, do not control the markets and, like other agricultural producers, must accept prices fixed by others."

Labor and Land Go Up.
Farm wages have doubled, land values have risen enormously, and everything the farmer buys, he said, has risen from 50 to 300 percent.

Among the remedies suggested by Senator Capper were cessation of tariff protection on pigstays and which tends to bear down the prices of farm products.

"Executive departments," he said, "could save the market for the farmer by lifting the embargo on wheat and wheat flour to Europe, by extending credits to European governments, and by lowering ocean freight rates."

Legislation to free the livestock producer of alleged control of the markets by the packers also was urged by Senator Capper who suggested establishment of co-operative farm selling agencies.

Pumping by Electricity.
Hartington News: Hartington's city water supply is being pumped by electricity since last Saturday afternoon, when the connection between the big motor and the pump was finally completed. A new connecting shaft was ordered and this arrived only recently. The work of installing this was completed and with the closing of a switch the big motor started the pump going at the rated horsepower of the old kerosene engine which formerly supplied the power. Hereafter instead of pumping water the latter part of the day and evening it will be done during the day when the load on generators is lightest. When the peak load is being used the pumps will not be used. This plan will keep the tank nearer full all the time and it is expected will give more pressure in case of fire. When the tank is full an automatic switch will shut off the current from the motor. The big kerosene engine will be retained in the pumping station, in case of emergency when it can be used by closing a clutch on the drive shaft.

Notice.
The state of Nebraska, Wayne county, ss.

At a county court, held at the county court room, in and for said county of Wayne, on the 16th day of October, 1919.

Present, J. M. Cherry, county judge.

In the matter of the estate of Amanda E. Dempsay, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Arthur Dempsay, praying that the instrument filed on the 16th day of October, 1919, and purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, may be proved, approved, probated, allowed and recorded as the last will and testament of said Amanda E. Dempsay, deceased, and that the execution of said instrument may be committed and that the administration of said estate may be granted to Arthur E. Dempsay, as executor.

Ordered, that November 7th, A. D. 1919, at 9 o'clock a. m., is assigned for hearing said petition, when all persons interested in said matter may appear at a county court to be held in and for said county, and show cause why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted; and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof, be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing.

J. M. Cherry, County Judge.

Ratify It!
Chicago Daily News: Enlightened discussion having cleared the atmosphere haze that hung over the peace treaty, that historic instrument should be ratified promptly with appropriate reservations.

A Present Day Reality.
Philadelphia Public Ledger: It is of no use to tell the schoolboy these October days that he may be president. He would rather be quarter-back.

RED CROSS ASKS FOR VOLUNTEERS

Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Workers Needed to Collect Third Roll Call.

RECRUITING LISTS OPEN

Every Local Chapter Will Enlist Men and Women to Obtain Annual Memberships From November 2 to 11. Two hundred and fifty thousand volunteer workers will be needed in the Central Division to conduct the third roll call of the American Red Cross, November 2 to 11. An appeal is made from Central Division headquarters in Chicago calling upon the men and women of every community to enlist for the ten-day campaign to secure double annual memberships. With approximately 900 chapters in the division, this number will allow for about 400 workers to a chapter. Every chapter will be a recruiting office for these workers.

Workers Will Wear Badges

Each worker will be supplied with a badge proclaiming that the wearer is a volunteer worker for the Red Cross. The success of the campaign will, in reality rest upon the shoulders of these volunteer workers, as the third roll call cannot be a success without a complete organization. The purpose of the campaign is to obtain, as nearly as possible, a universal enrollment in the Red Cross, an expression of confidence in the past performances of the Red Cross and a reaffirmation of allegiance to the principles which will guide its work in the future. In order to do this every man and woman in the territory of each chapter must be asked to join the Red Cross, and this will require the services of hundreds of workers. The Central Division wants at least 400,000 enrollments for 1920. Special stress during the campaign will be placed upon the annual one-dollar memberships in order to make the roll call an appeal to all the people. Past Campaigns Successful Success has attended all Red Cross activities in the Central Division in the past. In the last year alone, fund drive this division, with a quota of $18,900,000, subscribed $21,307,602.83. In the second roll call, more than 41,000,000 were secured for the Central Division is $5,000,000. Throughout the nation, the Red Cross will enlist 20,000,000 members and raise $100,000,000 to carry on its international, national and local work.

Husking Necessities

SHARKS OUT OF WATER

Government Puts Tax of Them in Penitentiary for Shady Stock Dealing. New schemes for inducing the investing public to part with its savings, its Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps in exchange for stocks of speculative or doubtful value constantly are being devised. One of the latest of these was disclosed recently in the trial of Ellsworth J. Green and his son, E. H. Green, et al., in the federal court at St. Paul, Minn. The scheme was the means of luring the Greens in Leavenworth Prison for five-year terms, but not until many hundreds of investors lost their savings. The Greens, through the Great Western Guarantee Investment Company of Oklahoma City, promoted the oil companies. The original sales price of the stock in these companies was $1.00 a share, but by means of agreement purchasers were guaranteed that the Great Western Company as fiscal agent would resell the stock if desired at the end of six months to the investor $2.00 a share or a profit of 100 per cent. As the date to fulfill this agreement drew near, stockholders were advised that the price of the stock had reached $5.00 a share. Naturally if they came to believe the stock was worth $5.00 they declined to accept the opportunity to sell for $2.00. For a time stock salesmen received rich commissions, but finally rumors that the reports were misleading began to spread. At St. Paul, a banquet at Oklahoma City it was charged that the Greens attempted to sell out to the salesmen. At this point the government stepped in, arrested the promoters and began to unravel evidence which finally landed the Greens in prison on the charge of using the mails in fraud. Now the stockholders are attempting to save what is left of the assets of the companies. Promises of profits of 100 to 500 percent made by stock promoters seldom become realities. The country is being flooded with wild cat stocks by unscrupulous investors. The resale plan of the Greens is only one of the many varieties of bait used. Any of those promoters are willing and anxious to take Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates in exchange for their bits of paper. They are perfectly willing to give promises of profits for the sure payment guaranteed by the federal government.

Levin's Reply.
Sioux City Tribune. Pres. John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, fails to meet the issue in his reply to President Wilson's warning to the mining industry.

"Our offer to negotiate," he says, "has been persistently declined by the operators." This is not in conformity with information given out by Secretary of Labor Wilson, who stated operators were agreeable to granting a 25 per cent increase in wages but could not accept the six-day week and the five-day week.

Mr. Lewis further says that the government "should assemble all coal operators and use its power on them to secure 'just consideration for demands.'" But when those demands include a six-hour day, a five-day week and a 60 per cent increase in wages, it is not the operators but the public that are being asked to pay.

"If the miners think they are just asking rich men for 60 per cent, etc., they err. The public is not rich. The average of the public is poorer than the average miner."

The quarrel therefore is primarily between the public and Mr. Lewis. Such questions as when a contract did or did not exist, which Mr. Lewis stresses, are superficial.

It is because miners cannot be set up as a favored class different from and above other workers that the president has notified Mr. Lewis that the public will have to protect itself.

But, of course, Mr. Lewis does not care to admit that truth.

Immigration Statistics.
Between 1700 and 1850 the estimated number of immigrants was 988,985, while the increase in population from other sources was 5,222,254—1850-60, immigrants 803,157, others 3,026,209; 1860-70, immigrants 1,814,257, others 4,281,156; 1870-80, immigrants 2,959,214, others 5,053,231; 1880-90, immigrants 3,818,834, others 4,706,220; 1890-1900, immigrants 2,812,191, others 3,285,221; 1900-1910, immigrants 5,246,312, others 7,220,591; 1900-1910, immigrants, 3,844,430, others, 9,527,095; 1900-1910, immigrants, 3,800,308, others, 1,771,608. Until 1908 all alien passengers entering the United States were classed as immigrants, hence the figure for the increase in population is not accurate.

The Eye Drill for Eyes.
The royal air force of England has instituted an eye drill that has made many splendid pilots out of men who would otherwise have been useless. It was discovered that a large percentage of men only use one eye at a time, and in the early days pilots were not tested for eye balance. Many men were then passed into the air service who might never land safely. When those deficiencies were discovered a school was formed and under an eye specialist twice a day airmen undergo the cure now provided for eye drill and taught how to use both their eyes at the same time. The result was that 10 per cent of the men who would have been lost were now "good ones in a little while."

Full Speed Ahead.
Iowa Falls Citizen: There can be no more coal, no more steel, no more iron, no more timber, no more anything in the world than the laboring people of the world make. There can be no more wheat, no more hogs, no more cattle, no more chickens in the world than the people of the world raise. It behoves all men, great, small and indifferent, to work full time and stop full head of steam, and to stop this everlasting gabble, "bank depositing, striking, bolshevizing, and revolting."

Ten Big Fine Calves Go Free With Their Dams

THIS is an offering of cattle that will appeal to our best cattle men. They are the money-making sort. Fifteen of the best females sell with calves at foot sired by the herd bull, Bonny Boy by a son of Cumberland's Last. All females of breeding age will be mated to him. Butterfly 9th is one of the good matrons. She is by a son of Carter's Choice Goods and out of Butterfly 8th, a member of the Butterfly family. She will sell well along in calf to Bonny Boy. Red Butterfly is a three-year-old of the same tribe that will appeal to many. Evelyn is a roan daughter of Choice Archer. She is the type that will please the most exacting buyers. A number of splendid heifers are in the offering sired by Bonny Boy. There is one roan that will compare with the best sale offerings. Among the bulls will be found the herd bull Bonny Boy, a roan three-year-old by Prince Cumberland, a son of Cumberland's Last. His dam is Bonnie Belle C-5th, a member of the celebrated Bonnie Belle family. Sylvester Lad is a roan son of Prince Ramsden, out of Patience 9th, a daughter of Lavender. The other two bulls are yearlings and will appeal to good stock men. This is one of the good offerings that will be sold in this part of the country this fall. They are practical cattle of the most reliable sort. Write for catalog.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

MAIDENS FAIR.

In old time books the damsels swooned where'er they had caught sight; and when with loving-sight they spooned, it was with shy evasion. They were such coy and modest things as hear romance discloses, that if you spoke of wedding rings they'd blush to beat the roses. They languished in their virgin hours, embroidering, crocheting, or spent the long and luscious hours, the spine softly playing. They all were maidens fair, and when the girls looked on bearded men, it made them pale and giddy. But times have changed; no more we greet the girls of Scott and Cooper, but in the modern tale we meet the woman known as "super." She doesn't care a penny for dainties or needs; you couldn't coax this girl to swoon, no odds-how much you wheedle. To her the old traditions seem vain, and old traditions please; she goes up in a moneysane or rides a bucking pony. She's struck our fiction with a rush, and when a yarn is finished, it is the headman's business to see that their heads diminished. I know it's treason, if not rot, but tired of woeful "sup," I long for hushing, helms-of-Scott, and swooning girls of Cooper.

CHEER UP AGAIN.

We say the prices 'now are high, so high we're often stricken dumb; we shudder when we go to buy, and sigh, the woe is yet to come. The shoeman says there are no hinders, and daily leather grows more rare; and so the price of footwear slides ten times up in a moment. The clothiers say there is no wool, the sheep are dead-and on the ice; it takes some influence and pull to get a suit at any price. The grocer says there is no flour, and so the children have no bread, and we are weeping every hour because our loaves are being dear. The lawyers say there are no bars, and so must let our whiskers grow until they spread like noxious yards, and wave and wiggle to any breeze. The doctor says he cannot groce for less than ninety-five percent; he sees the sheriff drawing close when profits sink, it is his lament. And so things go, from day to day, the whole blamed world is out of plumb; but let us all be little and gay; cheer up, the worst is yet to come. The worst will come, and then the slump, the big reaction will appear-and we will carry to the dump the pirate and the profligate.

WEATHER.

All moods are due to weather, often sadly think, when rain clouds get together they put me on the blink. They chafe my sunny spring, so you'd with me confide; they freeze, or pretty near it, the current of my soul. Outdoors it's raining, raining, with steady beat and slow; the night wind is complaining of some uncharred weevil. It tells of ghastly sorrows that long dead people knew, and hints that our tomorrows will all be lemons, too. And I have your foreboding that evil is store; disaster, stern, corroding, is waiting at the door. But now the dawn is breaking, the night has

CHARITY.

With charity for all I walk the village street; I see a duffer fall, and lift him to his feet. I dry the widow's tears, and still the orphan's sighs, and when a bum appears, I feed him pumpkin pies. With charity on me my failings do not count; my soul may harbor evils in fabulous amount; but charity's a cloak that covers all my sins, and so through town I poke, and meet with friendly signs. With charity for all I go my modest way, and strive not to recall all mistakes of yesterday; the rumor of an old dire that entitles a fellow's name, and drag through muck and mire some once unsuspected fame. I struggle to forget the libels doubly base which make the victim sweat in anguish and disgrace. With charity I greet the fellows who have failed, and all whose futile feet have failed, and so to demotion tread. I must not know white that I can sit on high, and hand out words that blight, to any erring gait. If charity is mine, I may have countless faults, but my white soul will shine, when through the Gates I waltz.

SQUARE DEALING.

You'll have customers contented if the goods in which you deal always are as represented in your advertising spiel. But if you deceive your patrons, lured by false goods to your store, there'll be angry men and matrons thirsting for you: rich red-gore. Claiming wool-and selling shoddy will not get you any white, and excuses large and gaudy will not make the matter square. I can sell a tinnhorn sonnet to consumers now and then; but when they want odesk doggone it, they won't come to me again; I must do the best I'm able every time I sell a song, or some poet will prod my gable with a pitchfork's rusty prong. Such excuses as I offer, broken health or Jim H. Jams, find the scooper, and the scooper and I cannot sell my psalms. Once you've fooled a human being, you have earned an eternal mark; and a hundred that mark seeing will avoid you as a shark. Let no bilking schemes enchain you.

string me once, I grant you, but you cannot do it twice. And the dealer who is wiser than a wise old setting hen is the honest advertiser who would have you come again.

WINDS.

The wind of spring is joyous, as pleasantly it floats; it never does annoy us with ghastly, warning notes. It seems to bring a rumor of blue and crystal seas; and with buoyant humor it swishes through the trees. We never hear it screaming, as though with stomach ache;

it helps us, in our dreaming, and soothes us when we wake. The stinging wind of summer blows morals galley west; and clergyman and plumber denounce it, with the rest. Tumultuous and torrid, it goes its burning way-and makes us think up forrid and beastly things to say. The woody wind of winter has little helpful use; evangelist and printer berate it like the deuce. It numbs our nerves and senses-as from-the north it skids; it soaks our expenses, and makes us add our lids. But oh, the wind of autumn! It seems to sigh, my friends, of woe that has no bottom, of pain that never ends. It wails around my cottage, what time the daylight dies, when I am tired of swatting, and chasing of the flies. Now hastily there's nothing so woful, or woful so full of dread. It sighs, in haunted channies, of long dead men and maids, of old forgotten grannies, who walked the earth as shades.

Order to Show Cause.

In the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, In the matter of the application of Mathilda Kaun, administratrix, with the will annexed, of the estate of Reinhard F. Kaun, deceased, for license to sell real estate. On this 14th day of October, 1919, this cause came on for hearing upon the petition under oath of Mathilda Kaun, administratrix, with the will annexed, of the estate of Reinhard F. Kaun, deceased, praying for license to sell the following described real estate of the said Reinhard F. Kaun, deceased, to-wit: Lot Eighteen (18), in Block Seven (7), Original Town of Hoskins, Nebraska, and the Northeast Quarter of Section Thirty-One (31), Township Twenty-Six (26) north of range one (1), east of the 6th P. M., all in Wayne County, Nebraska, for the purpose of paying the debts allowed against said estate, and the costs of administration, and for the reason that there is not sufficient amount of personal property in the possession of said Mathilda Kaun, administratrix, to pay said debts, expenses, and costs.

It is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate and in said real estate appear in open Court at the courthouse in Wayne County, Nebraska, on the 29th day of November, 1919, at 9 o'clock a. m., to show cause, if any there be, why license should not be granted to said Mathilda Kaun, administratrix, to sell so much of said real estate as was not the homestead of the decedent, as may be necessary to pay the debts allowed against said estate, and the cost of administering said estate.

It is further hereby ordered that a copy of this order be served upon all persons interested in said estate or in said real estate by causing the same to be published once each week for four successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Wayne Herald, a newspaper, printed, published, and of general circulation in said Wayne County, Nebraska. THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

From Wayne Herald, October 30, 1917. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Max Moeller, Monday, Oct. 27. A little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Epler, Saturday evening, October 25.

Today's market: Corn, 25c; wheat, 54c; oats, 21c; hogs, $6.10; eggs, 48c; butter, 15c.

License issued to Mr. John Landerhage, of St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Louie G. Childs, of Carroll, Neb., Oct. 28, 1917.

Elmer Lundberg has purchased the Carroll Index and will engage in newspaper work in addition to the practice of law.

E. E. Owen left for Cedar Rapids Saturday evening when Owen Bros. have taken a contract for grading 4 1/2 miles of road for the N. D. Railway Company.

At eight o'clock on October 29, occurred the marriage of Miss Mary G. Coyle of Wayne, and Mr. Harry W. Whitaker of Craig, at the Catholic church. They will make their home at Craig, where Mr. Whitaker is in the harness business.

From Ponca Journal October 26, 1918. The first case left for Harrington yesterday to set the wheat of the Harrington Herald in motion.

District court adjourned yesterday, making Monday the next court day. A long list of cases were disposed of. The adjournment was made to Tuesday, the next day, when Judge Barnes will render a decision in the case of Blocker vs. Coats.

The grand jury was in session three days, and has understood no indictments.

We have pleasure in taking this occasion to thank our esteemed contemporary, Cotton City Argus, for the many friendly and encouraging notices with which he has favored this paper and also the new paper we are starting at Harrington. We remember Colonel Martin's generous notices and friendship, and shall endeavor to reciprocate.

Fire in City Hall Basement

Wayne Gazette. The city hall last a heavy escape Monday evening from being destroyed by fire. The Farmers Co-Operative had held a meeting in the hall Monday evening and as the weather was rather chilly a fire was started in the furnace. When the meeting was over and the smoke were about ready to leave, smoke was discovered coming up from the furnace. The fire was extinguished and found an automobile, belonging to Emil Hammarstrom and stored in the basement on fire. It appears that the car had been placed very close to the pipe leading from the furnace to the chimney. The drafts on the furnace had been thrown wide open and that the hall might be heated quickly the blaze set fire to the soot. It had accumulated at the pipe and this again kindled the fan in the automobile which was standing up against the pipe. When the fire was discovered it had not yet had time to involve anything more than the top. A hose was immediately connected and a stream of water played in the area and it was noted that it was soon put out. Had the fire not been discovered so early it would soon have spread to the gasoline tank in the car. In this case it is hard telling where it might have stopped. As it was no serious damage resulted further than ruining the automobile.

Car Stolen at Randolph

Randolph Times: Bill Frahm is missing one perfectly good Ford car and would like to get his mitts on the fellow's neck who did the job. The car is kept in the garage at the Frahm home and that is the question the door was properly locked. It was found that the lock had been twisted off by use of a steel bar and the car gone. Besides taking the car, Mr. Frahm is also the loser of new spare tires and two other good tires that had been thrown into the back seat. E. Morgan, who lives next door to the Frahm home, was also "paid" a visit. The lock on his garage was twisted off as was also two locks on a chain that held the spare tire on his car, and the fire was stolen together with Mr. Morgan's fire coat on which he had been counting to keep out the biting blasts of the coming winter. As the night was cold the auto thief may have thought the coat would come in handy. Mr. Morgan is thankful that his fire machine and did not carry off the wheels. The Frahm car is a Ford with 1917 body and demountable rims on yellow wheels. The bang of recovering it is practically nil.

AUCTION SALE

of Live Stock and Machinery

Having sold our Elkhorn Ranch located 4 miles southeast of Wausa and 2 miles west of Magnet, we will sell at public auction on said ranch on Thursday, Nov. 6

beginning at 12 o'clock noon, the following live stock and farm machinery:

430-Head of Cattle-430

As our yards will be full of feeders we want to dispose of the follow cattle: 150 Cows and 135 Calves—Shorthorns and Herefords in good condition—Cows weighing from 800 to 1400. A few choice milk cows in the herd. The bulk of the calves were born in April and weigh from 300 to 600 pounds—sired by purebred bulls. 140 yearlings. These yearlings have good color and carry considerable flesh. They will make good feeders. 5 Bulls—3 Shorthorns, 1 Hereford and 1 Angus—weigh from 800 to 1400.

17-Head of Horses and Mules-17

16 head of well broke and mated teams—ages 4 to 9 years, weight from 1200 to 1700. One imported Belgian stallion.

100-Head of Shropshire Ewes-100

These ewes are of the best Shropshire breeding and have been shearing from 10 to 12 pounds of wool per year. All bred to pedigreed Shropshire rams, due to lamb in March and April. Every farm should have a band of sheep to clean up the corners of the fields. Start now with the best of blood.

Farm Machinery, Etc.

This includes all kinds of farm machinery—cultivators, plows, corn and grain binders, discs, weeders, harrows, wagons, hay racks, wagon boxes, gas engine, harness and collars, feed bunks for cattle and sheep, hog oilers, a number of individual A-shaped hog houses, one 2-ton truck.

Give the world the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money, and a fine family but— He never "got out and saw things". After he gets settled down, it's too late.

The Navy goes all over the world—sails the Seven Seas—squirts at the six continents—thru's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of.

You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get in addition to "shoreleave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "bumped up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready to rough through and through for 50 years.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW! Right NOW your Uncle Sam needs you. He needs you men for his Navy. He's got a job for you. It's the biggest chance you'll ever get to give the world the once over!

The Strike.
 Minneapolis Journal: "The strike ought to be abolished. It is barbarous and the price for which it is invoked. It causes untold sufferings and losses, not only to those who are actually battling against each other, but to innocent neutrals who have no responsibility for the conditions and no power to change them."
 The strike is often attended with violence and disorder, and always with loss of earnings to workers and of profits to employers. On both sides come out of a prolonged struggle in a weakened and impoverished condition, no matter what the settlement. And while the price, or a considerable section of it, suffers almost as much as the participants in the warfare.

A war is a great curse, though fortunately it does not occur often. But industrial warfare is an everyday occurrence. This is a strike-tolerant world. Always there is concerted idleness on the part of the workmen somewhere.
 The steel industry is now hampered by a great strike which is slowly dwindling away. The coal industry is threatened with another great strike in a week. The long-shoremen in New York have paralyzed shipping in that great harbor by their strike. The magazines have suspended publication in a dispute in the printing trades is fought out. The railroad men are formulating fresh demands which they are ready to enforce by brandishing the strike weapon.

And while the strike lever spreads, while industry is demoralized by these stoppages, while workers everywhere are losing their wages, while prices are forced still farther upward by this enormous economic loss, the president's hand-picked industrial conference finds itself unable to agree on any conciliatory plan, any method of abolishing the strike, and maintaining the compensation of industrial justice without warfare.

We have just been entertaining in Minneapolis Sweden's delegates to the international labor conference in Washington next week. They have had a message for us, if we had ears to hear. It was a message which practically solved the problem of how to abolish industrial warfare, and for more than a decade has had industrial peace and prosperity. The employers of Sweden and the trade unions of Sweden have each formed national associations which cooperate in settling all controversies on a basis of justice to both sides. All labor agreements are referred to them, and all settlements must have their approval and mutual tolerance.

Not all the workers belong to the unions. Those who do not are treated with respect by their union brethren. It is recognized that unionism is a matter on which men must decide, and on which each is entitled to his own opinion. There is no effort to drag the non-union men into the organizations, and their right to stay out is respected. The Swedish plan may not be applicable to American conditions in all its details. But it is plain that a spirit of cooperation, and an industrial armistice, so that the contending sides can come together and formulate a perpetual treaty of industrial peace, is the only way.

Its first article should provide that strikes are forever abolished, and that peaceful means of settling all disputes on a basis of complete justice are to be adopted.

The conviction is slowly hardening that the strike is the curse of commerce and industry, with its rough and sometimes bloody battles, with its heavy cost to the combatants and to the public, with its bitterness and hatreds it engenders, must be cast out forever.

And if labor would realize the truth, the strike is its worst enemy. There is a better way. The strike must give way to a peaceful, just, an American method of settling industrial disputes.

It is up to the government to lead the way. It is upto all good Americans to follow.

Potato Hill Philosophy. E. W. Howe

Senator La Follette seems to have said a lot of good things at the wrong time.

Every day all of us accomplish a little good, and it becomes the great good.

Congress is doing more than the rest of the world with every reform measure, increases it.

A profound gentleman asks in a magazine: "How shall man's burden be lifted? Answer: He must lift it himself, place it on his shoulders, and carry it."

Americans over-estimate the value of democracy with the abandon which characterizes the people of a western town in speaking of their town lots and future prospects.

The newspapers are becoming daily the best of our country's reform measure, increases it.

There are three-quarters of a million ill men in Belgium, and a greater number in England, in Germany and the old territories of Austria-Hungary idleness is the particular curse of the situation, as it is in France, Italy, and elsewhere. Why are these men idle? They want work, they have democracy, and freedom, why are they idle? The trouble is lack of capital; lack of the great organizations which are necessary in the employment of labor.

contrary, we are all chasing capital, and denouncing it as the wickedest and most useless thing in the world.

No writing man seems to realize that the men who invested money in Mexican oil are entitled to protection. Nor does anyone seem to realize that owners of railroad bonds, or packing house bonds, are entitled to protection. If these useful investors are grudgingly given the slightest legal protection, we say it is protection of capital, as though protection of capital is not as necessary as protection of banks, women's virtue, farms, or any other worthy, necessary and natural thing.

Every little while we read that medical science has conquered disease. To prove it, we note that there were a great many more deaths from pneumonia in the army raised in Spain than in the army raised to fight Germany. Still, in the war with Germany pneumonia killed more American soldiers than were killed in battle, a fact brought out in the summary published by the general staff, in 200 days of fighting, in which 14,000 soldiers were killed, 21,000 men were listed as killed in action. There were more than 40,000 deaths from pneumonia.

Lloyd-George's victory speech has the British virtue of plain speaking. Nothing is glossed over, and there are no quick remedies for an outlook little short of desperate. We are spending more, earning less; consuming more, producing less. We are borrowing ourselves to death. We cannot exit without recovering and maintaining our international trade.

The sole salvation of British workers is the sole salvation of the more English coal miners are producing $7,000,000 fewer tons of coal than before the war. The price of coal has risen from ten shillings to twenty-six.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: The 500,000 coal miners for a six-hour international labor conference to be held, a five-day week and 60 per cent. held in Washington will have for its increase in wages which are already purpose in the words of far the highest in the history of federation, "more effectively to fight the industry. What about the life out the life and death struggles of, and death struggle of the consumer, the workers now in progress." Such, in the end, is the finances of for instance, as the demand of the all wage bill?

Suggest a Name

What's in a name, anyhow? The new firm of Homer Scace and L. V. Ley want to find out. They have looked in vain for an appropriate firm name for the new ice and cold storage company, so... they are now putting the question up to the public. What name would you suggest?

For the best name—best meaning the one which the firm accepts and uses—handed in before November 24, a ton of ice will be delivered anywhere in the city, in such quantities as the person receiving it may wish. If the suggestor of the name lives anywhere else in the county, except Wayne city, 3,000 pounds of ice will be given, but not delivered.

In order that the contest may be fair, Mr. Scace and Mr. Ley will not know the names of the persons handing in the titles. Clip out the following Coupon, put down your idea of a firm name, and sign your own name. Send the coupon to the Herald office, where a record will be kept. All the suggested firm names will be turned over to Mr. Scace and Mr. Ley and they will select the one which seems most fitting to them.
