Disposed of $2,000 Pure Bred Animals Within Two Weeks.

During the past two weeks H. J. Miner sold six pure bred animals from his royal herd of Shortborns, one mile south of town, for a total of $2,000, averaging about $333. One 8-month-old calf went to Tilden, and another of the same age to Clarisburg. A breeder from the Wayne vicinity bought a calf 4-1/2 months old. Demme Brothers of Emerson bought a cow and calf and an 8-month-old heifer. Mr. Miner has some fine stock as attested by the way the animals sell and the prices they bring.

LABOR AND TRADE.

Sioux City Journal.—The industrial condition of the last week has firmed upon a coal strike. Optimism that an agreement between operators and miners would be reached in a few days, has been dispelled. The first, but as the week advanced it became apparent that the struggle would come, and trade and industry began shifting themselves to meet the contingency. Some seemingly inconsistent policies developed. Shippers are confident that if the coal strike is maintained for a few weeks, transportation will be so badly crippled that deliveries even of the necessities of life will be uncertain. But in the face of that proposition there was noticeable reduction in orders for immediate delivery and a cancellation of others not yet filled. Retail trade during the week showed a considerable shrinkage in volume, though this shrinkage came in the last few days of the week after all hope of averting the coal strike was given up. Reports to commercial agencies show the biggest declines in anticipated business in the regions directly affected by the strike, while the agricultural regions show a slight increase.

Industries dependent upon coal to operate are adjusting themselves so that an enforced shutdown or a partial suspension will not result in material losses. But in these districts trade shows a sensitive response to the fear that buying ability of working men will be reduced, by a slackening of future buying and considerable cancellations of orders. Increases in prices are expected to result from the uncertainty and the increased cost of production. This result is a cross current to the idea that present buying and immediate deliveries would be advantageous, even if stocks had to be carried longer for the turnover.

Money remains easy and interest rates are largely controlled by the slackening in demand for short-time loans. There is a disposition to make a change in public money and government bonds, and a general firmness in dealing with public affairs.

payment on Victory bonds will take considerable cash out of the deposits, but as this money will go directly into circulation, the payment will have no effect upon the volume of available cash in the country.

Foreign loans are being considered by leading bankers, and such loans, if brought to completion, would set in circulation much money now inactive. Some of these loans are intended to pay for purchases in this country. But a considerable percentage would find investment outside the United States, and would thus draw off some of the volume of money which is charged with its share in the continuation of high prices.

BEARD - ADDRESSES CLUB

Local Pastor Points Out to Women Causes of Social Unrest.

Rev. John W. Beard, pastor of the Presbyterian church, addressed the members of the Women's club on 'The Causes of Social Unrest' at the meeting in the basement of the library Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Beard pointed out that social unrest was the natural result of the war. Millions of men were snatched from their ordinary pursuits and environment to go into service or some form of war work.

Insofar as conditions were the result of an effort to attain better things, Mr. Beard declared they were progressive. He pointed out that the laboring classes the world-over had caught a glimpse of better things.

The extravagance of the leisure class, which spent money but did not add to production, was also claimed as a cause of social unrest, as it created jealousy.

The ideal of service, Mr. Beard held up as the solution in present conditions. He pointed out that when the selfishness of both capital and labor could be supplanted by a sense of responsibility for the welfare of the public, coal miners would not hold up production when women and children would have to suffer.

Following Mr. Beard's discussion, the members of the Women's club discussed the constitution and by-laws were recommended and will be voted on at the next meeting, November 15.

Uniformity

Uniformity is the secret of success of any good product.

It's the reason Willard Batteries with Threaded Rubber Insulation are making such a wonderful record of long life without repairs.

Ordinary materials used for insulation between battery plates are taken just as they come from nature and can't be made uniform by any process.

But Threaded Rubber Insulation is built up by a scientific manufacture. Every piece of it is like every other and almost invariably Threaded Rubber lasts as long as battery plates.

No wonder many of these batteries have given three and four years of uninterrupted good service.

Vandalism on Halloween is growing less as civilization develops. There never was more reason for depredations on that night than any other night. There never was more reason to trespass or destroy property, and the so-called prank is no joke to the person who suffers injury in time Halloween will, if permitted at all, be a more appropriate social functions and other amusements.

Prof. J. C. W. Lewis has good reason to feel proud of the vote given him by home-folks, and his endorsement of governmental problems and his anxiety to serve well in the constitutional convention, give assurance that he will justify confidence placed in him. The vote contradicts any notion that people are out of harmony with the Wayne State Normal or would oppose anyone on the ground that he is a member of that worthy institution.

It has been suggested that farmers and labor unions might organize a new political party. This is inconceivable. The demands of organized labor, often resulting in strikes and business disaster, injure the farmers quite as much as any other class. Farmers who work long hours and win success on a basis of actual merit, are not likely to join a movement which gives to the inefficient and inefficient the same compensation received by the alert and efficient. The farmer is not built that way. He believes in earning what he gets, and believes in others doing the same thing.

 If Wayne is to have a new hotel, one that will adequately meet the demand, its people will have to build it, and the so-called organization is effected for that purpose, the sooner will the city receive the stimulus it needs. People should get down to brass tacks, saying how much stock they will take in a hotel corporation.

One who is poor in friendships is more unfortunate and more unhappy than the one who is poor in dollars and cents. Though sufficed with material comforts, one is still in painful need if he has no friends or kindly associates. Friends are not to be had as an asset as a fat bank account. Palatial surroundings and magnificent finances count for little without people who will lend cordial interest. Friendships which give buoyancy and courage to the weary soul—should be as carefully cultivated and preserved as one's material possessions. Value cannot be stock to insure high comfort, is not restricted to things that may be bought and sold.

It is the hope of the community and the ambition of the municipal body, to see the local lighting plant work on the most economical basis possible to encourage its increased use. Present rates are so high that there is no incentive to enlarge consumption, especially in power and heating. Some believe, with basis of convincing evidence, that a private corporation would be able to work out the most economical proposition, with less cost to the public. It is also suggested that the Niobrara river, which is running to waste, could be harnessed and used to furnish electricity to northeast Nebraska towns at comparatively small cost. Such water power would be a source of great economy and comfort during times when fuel is scarce and high priced.

The two young men who are serving life sentences in the state penitentiary for killing Harold C. Croomer and Dr. Sackett at Laurel in June of last year, have appealed to the supreme court for a new trial on the ground that the evidence did not show a premeditated murder of which they were found guilty, because the killing did not take place until after the burglary had been committed. It is said the killing would have been first degree murder if it had taken place while the burglary was going on. The fact that it was a cold-blooded murder is enough to convince people that the two men should not be allowed on technical grounds to escape their one too severe punishment imposed. One way to discourage possible mob outrages is to see that the guilty do not slip through any loopholes in the law.

The New Motor Car

The Greatest Improvement In Riding Comfort Since The Introduction of Pneumatic Tires

THERE is a brand new type of car. It solves the problem which has baffled automotive engineers—how to combine riding comfort with light weight and economy.

Our new Three-Point Cantilever Springs make this possible.

These are the first springs of their kind and they are made of chrome vanadium steel. They are exclusive with Overland.

Because of these springs, Overland 4 combines the riding qualities of large heavy, expensive, long wheelbase cars, together with the advantages and economy of small light cars.

With 100-inch wheelbase, Overland 4 has the luxurious riding ease of 130-inch Springbase.

The exclusive Three-Point Cantilever Springs cushion the car so that it rides well on all roads: they reduce choppy rebounds and side swaying, protect the car from road shocks and prolong its life, minimize twisting or racking of frame and body, enable the car to hold the road better.

The car and passengers ride smoothly as though floating, free from road shocks that the springs ward off.

But this new riding comfort, possible only with these Three-Point Cantilever Springs, is but one of the advantages of Overland 4.

Its light weight makes possible great economy of gasoline and tires.

High quality materials insure durability. All vital parts of the front axle and steering gear and all highly stressed gears and shafts for driving the car are made of alloy steel.

The equipment list of Overland 4 is high grade, including Auto-Lite Starter and Lighting System—Electric Horn—Marshall Divan Upholstery Springs—Demountable Rims—Three Speed Transmission—Slanting Rain Vision Windshield—Tillotson Carburetor—U. S. L. Batteries and many other high quality conveniences.

In every respect Overland 4 is a quality car. The body is all steel, all enamel, the brightest, hardest, most lasting finish.

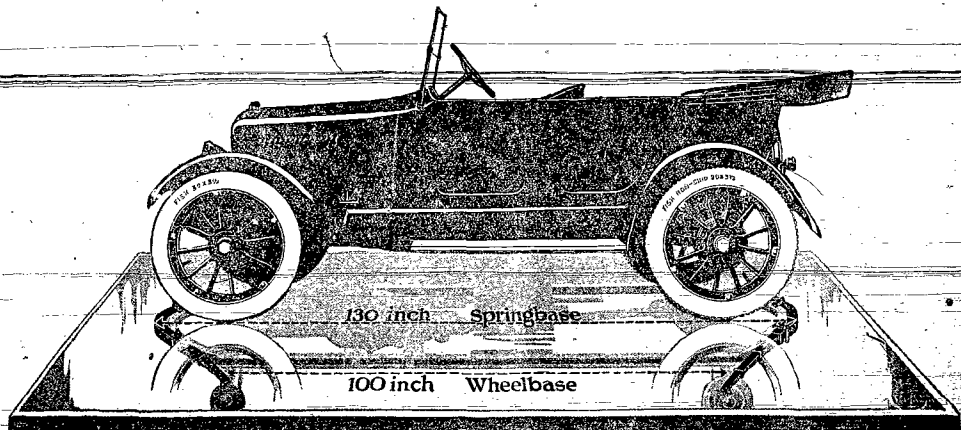

Overland 4 has been tested for two years and more than 250,000 miles over the Rocky Mountains, prairies, through deep mud and scorching deserts—through quick sharp climatic changes. As a result of these tests we were able to judge the car's performance under every condition and to perfect it before offering it to the public.

There is no previous car of any size or price to adequately compare with the character of service Overland 4 introduces.

The farther you ride in it the more you will appreciate it. Come in, see the car and ask for booklet. The demand will be greater than the supply for a long time.

Overland 4 Touring, $345; Roadster, $345; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375. Prices f. o. b. Toledo.

Nervous System of Man

CHIROPRACTIC FOR RHEUMATISM

Chiropactors locate and adjust the cause of Rheumatism by using CHIROPRACTIC VERTEBRAL ADJUSTMENTS with the bare hands only. The cause will be found in the pressure on nerves, through the vertebrae (small bones of the spine) being subluxated (displaced). The vital force is thus prevented from flowing through the nerves to the various organs, and abnormal metabolism is produced, with the resultant formation of uric acid. These vertebrae are put into proper alignment by the skilled hands of the Chiropactor, the formation of uric acid is eliminated and the pain in the different parts of the body disappears. What Other Phonograph Dares This Test?

DID you ask some one about the Edison Tone-Test recital given Friday evening, October 10, in the Normal Auditorium? The startled audience heard Alice Verlet's living voice flood the packed house. It then heard the New Edison match that voice, even unto its finest variation of shading and feeling. Anyone who was present will tell you:

The art of the living artist and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison can not be told apart.

It is no idle phrase that you can enjoy Case, Middleton, Hempel, Matzenauer, Spalding—in your own home. The New Edison Brings all that the great artist can bring, except his physical presence. It is the phonographic triumph of the age.

NORFOLK GIRL SUICIDES

Takes Deadly Acid in Lincoln Hotel
—Conceals Identity.

Lincoln Journal, Oct. 31: The scantily clad body of a woman, apparently about thirty years old, was found about 3 p. m. Friday stretched across the bed in room 310 of the Lincoln hotel. An ounce bottle, bearing a carbolic acid label and half-emptied of its contents stood upon a shelf near the bed. Examination showed death to have been due to carbolic acid poisoning. According to Sheriff Miller, she was identified for about eight hours when the body was discovered by a maid. It was the officer's opinion that she had taken her own life. Though the woman had registered at the hotel Wednesday about 10:45 a. m. as Vivian Adams of Norfolk, Neb., a note addressed to "Those Who Find Me" stated that she had not used her real name. Pains apparently had been taken to disguise with all means of identification marks on her clothing having been removed. A silver ring bearing an "N" and initials were by students at the University of Nebraska, was on the little finger of her left hand. Among her effects was found a pack of kodak films, groups of five and six girls, which Sheriff Miller said might aid in establishing her identity.

The note, written in a fine hand upon fancy stationery read: "I am not whom I registered to be. Do not try to locate friends and relatives. Please ask the city to dispose of me as easily as possible. You will find money enough in purse to pay for trouble." The signature in capitals, read, "Numpy. The city" was taken by Sheriff Miller to mean attorney.

The woman, in the opinion of the sheriff, was between twenty-eight and thirty years old. She was five feet, four inches tall and weighed about 125 pounds. Her hair was dark brown and her eyes light brown. Her skin was fair and her teeth even. One upper incisor was filled with gold. An oval scar, about an inch in length was on the left cheek.

A black leather traveling bag was in the room. It was false hair and writing paper and envelopes. A brown beaver hat, a black velvet dress and gloves and a pair of black suede shoes, comparatively new, lay on the floor. "They bore the label of a Lincoln firm. The money referred to in the note amounted to $3.27 in small change and was contained in a purple envelope. The hotel clerk on duty at the time the woman registered did not remember her. During Wednesday and Thursday she was about the hotel but little. She was last seen about 3 a. m. Friday coming out of her room. Shortly before noon a maid entered her room and saw her lying upon the bed. Believing her to be asleep she did not disturb her. The maid returned in the early afternoon and found her in the same position. About 5 o'clock the maid again entered, and noticing that she was lying in the same posture, investigated.

The authorities were unable to throw any light upon the affair. Investigation by the sheriff at a late hour had not aided in establishing her identity. According to a communication from Norfolk a girl from that town by the name of Washburn, who answered the description of the dead woman, was married to a man by the name of Adams, a few years ago. Shortly after their removal to Omaha, about three years ago, she disappeared, leaving her husband in a helpless condition.

The body was taken to Robert's undertaking parlors.

invited. The occasion will be a joint armistice and home coming celebration, and will be the biggest event of its kind which has ever been held in the history of Cedar county. There will be speaking, dancing, football and a big feast for everybody, and everything will be free. It will be one great, memorable event in the life of the community, and will celebrate in an appropriate and fitting way the end of the great war.

Plans for this big celebration were started at the smelter last Friday evening, and are rapidly maturing. It has long been thought that Hartington ought to hold some suitable homecoming demonstration for the returned soldiers and sailors, and the idea will be carried into effect on November 11. The business men are responding liberally with contributions, and the event promises to be a tremendous success.

Rob a Poker Party.
Word comes from our metropolitan neighbor, Newcastle, that last Saturday night bold highwaymen held up and robbed a poker party in a sparty city. There were two tables "sitting in" at a very interesting session, when the robbers made their appearance and it is said Lawrence Sangster, a high-powered machine while the others were entertaining their hosts. Then they all bade the Newcastle sports a fond adieu and took their departure. It is given out that hereafter these parties will be protected by armed sentries in the vicinity of headquarters.

What Happened to the Sheep?
Hartington Herald: Lawrence Samelson had the misfortune last Sunday to sustain a broken left arm in an automobile accident. Mr. Samelson and Laurence Nelson were driving a Ford in the vicinity of the Henry Wittler place when they ran into a sheep which was in the road. The force of the impact was sufficient to tip the car over, and the boys were thrown out. Lawrence Samelson had his arm broken, but Laurence Nelson was uninjured.

800 Acres

Elkhorn Valley Land AT AUCTION Monday, November 10

The sale will be held on the premises, beginning at 1 o'clock p. m.

HEIRS DEMAND SETTLEMENT.
At the mercy of the land-seeking public, this valuable tract is thrown on the market. The heirs interested in this estate want their money and it must sell—settlement must be made—a rare opportunity for YOU—Mr. Investor. A tract of fertile valley tame grass land lying between two great grain growing areas, where feed can be had at all times.—See this before sale date.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS BUT ONCE.
This ranch is in the very heart of one of the best farming sections in northeast Nebraska, where hay sells at a premium, and hard to get. Mr. Farmer! the selling of this tract gives you an opportunity to buy land still in hay and can be sold in tracts to suit any purchaser. Let us show you this land before sale date.

DESCRIPTION.
This ranch consists of 800 acres in the fertile valley of the Elkhorn river. About 120 acres of this ranch is under the plow and nearly all the land can be cultivated. Six hundred and forty acres are the best tame grass valley land and will cut between 500 and 600 tons of hay per season. The improvements are in fair condition, and located in the protection of a fine grove on the W half Section 34-26-8. They consist of a seven-room house, large barn for ten head of horses, will hold many cattle, and has a roomy mow, granary, bunkhouse, and other small improvements. Watered with a well and windmill. It is nearly all fenced and crops favored. A fine spring creek passes through the land affording an abundant supply of fresh water at all times. The soil is a good black loam mixed with a little sand and of great depth, just the kind that grows good crops and is easily farmed. The grass is of the best quality color and red top slightly mixed with native grasses, making excellent hay and fine pasture.

It is an acknowledged fact, Mr. Farmer, that good grass makes good beef, and good grass and hay are among the best features of this ranch. Grass fed cattle go on the market in the early summer when the price is good, and this class of beef always demands the top price. Then, the Hog, the mortgage litter, also thrives on good tame grass range and spring water. Finally, Mr. Miller, the previous owner, operated profitably on a combination of hogs and cattle when prices were much less than today.

TERMS.
Ten per cent of the purchase price cash in hand with contract on day of sale. Thirty-five per cent of purchase price cash in hand March 1, 1920, at which time it is agreed to furnish the purchaser with a warranty deed and abstract showing clear title to said ranch and give purchaser possession. If desired, a balance of 55 per cent may be had and to be secured by a mortgage on the ranch, running five years with interest at 6 per cent.

LOCATION.
Location is of the best, being only 150 miles northwest of Omaha, Neb., the greatest livestock market in the world, and 120 miles west of Sioux City, another great market. Clearwater, the nearest city, is only three miles distant. It is a bustling little city having two banks, two elevators, two lumber yards, five churches, several general stores, a fine high school offering a commercial course and is on the main line of the Chicago & Northwestern R. R., running between Omaha and the Black Hills. The railroad passes through the ranch, and there is a place for putting in a siding on an adjacent ranch with loading yards for the benefit of the stockmen and those wishing to ship grain. Neligh, the county seat of Antelope county, and a thriving little city of about 2,500 population lies only fourteen miles to the east and is a fine business point.

ADDITIONAL.
In addition to the above there will be sold at the same time a piece of town property belonging to the estate and located in the business section of Clearwater. This is a fine chance to obtain a piece of town property in this flourishing little city at your own figure. Let us show you this ranch and town property before the date of the sale.

weighs his boneless prunes. Tired of hearing people brag, it is to me great relief, to encounter, then and now, one who has unfurrowed brow, and who chortles as he sells hard boiled eggs and says, "I've sold too many people white in the grad of mine, putting-up-a-dolful wheeze, when they should be on their knees, thanking Providence all day for the good that comes their way."

PROPHECY.

The prophets afflicting are always predicting that evils are coming to pass. The one we are punning is billed for a slumping, and I soon we won't have any gas. The prophets are waiting that coal mines are falling and soon we'll have nothing to burn; we'll sit up and shiver from wishbone to liver, and wish that old times might return. Our lands are exhausted and husbandry frosted, and soon we'll have nothing to eat; there's not enough leather to make a good settee, and there'll be no shoes for our feet. The sheep are not bearing the wool for our wearing, and we'll have no tags for our backs; it's no world for boosters, our hens are all roosters, our milk cows won't get down to tacks. The gods are against us, they've herded and fenced us preparing to hand us a jolt; the future's alarming, so let us be arming, for anarchy, riot, revolt. And yet we're so silly we heed not from our own mouths words of the seers; we're joking and playing while doing our buying, and jipping and wagging our ears. The salt of existence, it seems, cannot master the natural pen of the soul; we ought to be drooping, but gayly were whooping while laying in cardwood and coal.

Order to Show Cause.

In the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska.
In the matter of the application of Mathilda Kaun, administratrix, with the will annexed, of the estate of Reinhard F. Kaun, deceased, for license to sell real estate.
On this 14th day of October, 1919, this cause came on for hearing upon the petition under oath of Mathilda Kaun, administratrix, with the will annexed, of the estate of Reinhard F. M., all in Wayne County, Nebraska, for the purpose of paying the debts allowed against said estate, and the costs of administration, and for the reason that there is not sufficient amount of personal property in the possession of said Mathilda Kaun, administratrix aforesaid, belonging to said estate to pay said claims, expenses, and costs.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

THE STRIKE FEVER.
MY job is all I could desire, it yields me handsome pay; I wrestle with my blooming 'ye' for right brief hours a day. I ought to think myself in luck to have a job I like; but all the other boys have struck, and so I think I'll strike. No stern oppressor grinds my face with cruel iron heel; to tyrants in the higher place I make no vain appeal. No rank injustice I lament, my spirit isn't sore; I have no grievance worth a cent, that makes me weak the floor. But I see all the striking lads parade along the pike, they've quit their work in all the grades, and so I think I'll strike; I am the only man at work in all this lovely land, who does not find his labors irk, who makes no stern demand, 'I'm satisfied with what I do, and with the pay I get each day. I earn three bones or two, in damp but honest sweat, I'm treated better than a king, and life seems pretty slick, and as I sit around singing I can't think up a kick. But I am lonesome all the day, the one contented guy; the rest of 'em throw their tools away, and they go marching by. I see them waving bright red flags as I go the street they hike; and so my heart is full of living labor drags—I'll strike.

MARY'S LAMB.

When Mary had her little lamb, existence was a joke, then people lived on pie and jam, and weren't always broke. The prices then were not so steep as those our market quote, and so a girl could have a sheep, a warthog or a goat. If Mary had a lamb today, and wished to feed the same, and want to buy a bale of hay, she'd find the price a shame. And she would cry, "Oh, mutton dear, the prices freeze my blood; if you can't live on amputated paws, and don't you mind I gnash my teeth and mourn and weep to see you go away; but I must have wool for my cat, and it doesn't beat for hay." When Mary had her little lamb you'd buy a herd of swine, for what you now pay for a ham, that's mostly bone and skin. Then little girls could have their lambs, to trail along behind, and bobcats, eroundies and chams, and pets of every kind. And they could have their polar bears, and wolves, and snakes galore, and build them neat and cozy lairs beneath the kitchen floor. But now a girl would get in wrong, if she with pets should fool; and Mary takes no lamb along, when she proceeds to scold.

THE CHERFUL GROCER.

Grocer Johnson is a peach, and he should be hired to teach optimism to his kind; he's a man of hopeful mind. In the thronging mass of life, optimism seems decayed; nearly every merchant prince seems to think that life's a quince, and he tells me tales of tears, and of doleful doubts and fears. Every day I hear a spief from the dealers as they deal, hear a narrative of woe, and of commerce being low, lying profits and dead end, and of frightful times ahead. Every day I hear men think when I go to spend my money.

THE CRISIS.

The crisis of a year ago looks flabby now—its days are long, but oh, what fits we used to throw, when that cheap crisis had the floor! We thought that crisis with alarm, it was a frightful thing to see 'em didn't fail to wound and harm the bulwarks of our liberty. It crised round a day or two, and then slackedly looped the loops; another crisis loomed in view and called for wails and maudlin whoops. I've seen a hundred crises come and rear themselves on end and go; I've seen my neighbors stricken dumb by threats of coming doom and woe, and then, when the crisis had passed, and had faded from every sight, and if a dozen things are right, about a million things are wrong. Whenever a crisis flows its tramp, the rabbit-hearted rear their barb, and say we're headed for the dump, but I refuse to be scared. I've heard the cry of "Wail" so long, I look on wolves as hop-joint brutes; no crisis can disturb the song of sane and joyous souled galoots. Bring on your crises, one by one, or trot them forth in groups of eight—the optimist will take his gun, and make the blamed things pull their freight.

It is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate and in said real estate appear in open court at the courthouse in Wayne County, Nebraska, on the 26th day of November, 1919, at 9 o'clock, a. m., to show cause, if any there be, why license should not be granted to said Mathilda Kaun, administratrix, to sell so much of said real estate as was not the homestead of the decedent, as may be necessary to pay the debts allowed against said estate, and the cost of administering said estate.

It is further hereby ordered that a copy of this order be served upon all persons interested in said estate or in said real estate by causing the same to be published once each week for four successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Wayne Herald, a newspaper, printed, published, and of general circulation in said Wayne County, Nebraska.
Sharon A. Welch, Clerk.

Object.

Trade, where the lam and spud are weighed. But in Johnson's moral shop I have heard no doleful wail; the rest of 'em around his store, leaving smoke along the floor, and he murmurs cheerful tunes as he

MRS BAUGHMAN GAINS TWENTY-THREE POUNDS

Cedar Rapids Woman Feels Like New Person Since Taking Tanlac.

"Besides getting relief from my nervous prostration and my weight increasing twenty-three pounds in weight and you may know by that what I think of Tanlac," said Sadie Baughman, residing at 1222 P street, East Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in an interview, recently. Mrs. Baughman is the wife of Harry C. Baughman, a retired employee of the Quaker Oats company. Her statement while indeed remarkable, is by no means unusual as many thousands throughout the United States and Canada have testified to having used the master medicine with the same wonderful results.

"It has been something less than three months now," continued Mrs. Baughman, "since I began taking Tanlac and if anyone could feel like a new person I do. I had been suffering from stomach trouble, rheumatism and extreme nervousness for five years. My liver was also in a very bad condition as my skin was like yellowing and my stomach would sour on my stomach causing gas, pains and spells of palpitation of the heart when it just seemed like my heart would stop. It seemed that I was right on the verge of nervous prostration and my lower limbs ached so with rheumatism that I could hardly stand. I could neither rest myself or let anyone else in the house rest, I was so nervous and miserable. These troubles had reduced my weight until I was almost a living skeleton and was so run-down and fat so bad I could not attend to my household affairs.

"I had used everything in the way of medicines and had been told a number of times that an operation was my only hope of recovery, but I have gotten rid of it all by taking a few bottles of Tanlac. My husband had been wanting to get me to try Tanlac for some time, but I refused to do so because I thought it was like other things I had taken and would do me no good. But I kept on suffering and getting worse until one day he brought home a bottle of Tanlac and I began taking it. Well, it wasn't long until I found Tanlac was altogether different from any other medicine I had ever used, for soon after starting on my second bottle there was a wonderful change in my feelings. I am now eating just anything and am not even troubled with the least bit with gas on my stomach, palpitation of the heart or any unpleasant feeling afterwards. My complexion has cleared up until it is like new. The rheumatic pain has disappeared from my limbs and my nerves have quieted down until I can sleep just like a baby. I am really and truly feeling like a new person and owe it all to Tanlac." Tanlac is sold in Wayne by Wayne Drug Co., and in Carroll by L. R. King—adv.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

From Wayne Herald, November 6, 1902.

The First National bank has a very interesting connection with our figures faster than lightning and runs into the millions in amount. E. D. Young of Wayne, missionary for the American Sunday School union, was with us last Sunday and superintended the school—Dixon school.

Election day passed off quietly and it was difficult to tell what was forthcoming. In the city A. T. Witter was elected assessor, Charles Jeffers constable and R. F. Feather and L. W. After justices of the peace.

Mamie Elliott of Winslow, was instantly killed and her sister, Alice Elliott, was injured internally when a passenger train struck the buggy in which they were returning from Holston. The engine struck the buggy squarely and threw the girls sixty feet.

The team of K. H. Gibson, who was accompanied by his son, Ed, ran away Tuesday just a little way from their home as they were starting for the picnic in Hunter-reefment. Both were thrown from the buggy. Mr. Gibson receiving some severe bruises and his son a dislocated arm. However, they were in the mill just the same after Dr. Williams had tendered professional assistance.

From Ponca Journal, Nov. 9, 1883: The fine weather of this week makes up for the slight deficiencies in that line of last week and the week before.

Wes. Mattison is building a saw mill at the foot of the bluffs near the river north of town, about a quarter of a mile above where Geo. Mattison's mill used to stand. He is now in the mill and the mill is to be first-class in all respects.

It is perhaps safe to announce as a fact that the first issue of the paper printed on a large Taylor power press which was set up some three weeks ago. Heretofore, however, it has been printed on a small power mule, and we did not care to make much ado over our power press, but it has looked like a disaster that had been dragged through the mud. We think though we have now got it regulated so that it will do pretty fair work as it is hoped the looks of the paper will attest in future.

As before stated, W. E. Gantt was taken last week. From there he went to St. Helena by team with J. O. Gamble, an attorney of Yankton. They rode in the back of a buggy with the driver on the front, and when near St. Helena the horses made a quick start and threw the gentleman over backwards out of the end of the buggy to the ground, and resulted in breaking Mr. Gantt's left arm above the elbow, and seriously injuring Mr. Gamble about the head. The seat on which they were riding had not been fastened down, and when the horse jumped—tipped—over with greatest ease, Mr. Gantt came home Saturday and is now nursing his broken arm.

The Fourteenth Census.

Washington, Nov. 2.—That the fourteenth decennial census, on which the actual enumeration work will begin January 2, 1920, is to be the most important ever taken is shown by the fact that the act of congress providing for this census expressly increased the scope of the inquiries so as to include forestry never covered specifically by any preceding census act.

The inquiries to be made relating to population, manufactures, mines, quarries and agriculture were also extended in their scope by congress. The greatest interest over the forthcoming census having been shown by the members of the census committees of both the house and senate while the law was under consideration.

The statistics gathered on mining will include all oil and gas wells. Many startling developments in this important branch of the nation's resources are looked for. Kansas in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas will no doubt prove to be those most eagerly sought for, as shown by the fact that already received by the census bureau.

The compilation and gathering of forestry and forest products statistics will be the work of a special corps of experts. The accurate and comprehensive figures gathered concerning the forest products industry will be much in demand, and the comparisons made with conditions existing before the war will be of great interest to the public.

Agricultural statistics will likewise be the subject of special effort on the part of the census bureau as the importance of farming is being realized by the average citizen far more than ever before.

Take the Drudgery Out of Housework

HOUSEWORK can be made easy when electric accessories are used. Electric percolators, toasters and other cooking utensils save trouble and annoyance. They eliminate dirt and soot, save time and steps. Electricity is quicker and cleaner than any other fuel.

Sewing day is a pleasure when an electric motor is used. It gives you any speed you wish. The nerve-racking pump, pump-on-a-poisy treadle is done away with. No more headaches or backaches as a result of sewing day.

Electric irons make ironing easy. They prevent sticking and scorching, because the temperature is even. The iron can be attached to any socket and heats in a moment.
