A number of young people were entertained by Miss Helen Feber at her home last Thursday evening. Cards furnished the entertainment. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gurnon entertained Thanksgiving day Miss Anne and Miss Theresa Beate of Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McLennan and family, and Mrs. J. R. Almond and daughter Dorothy.

Mrs. J. C. Forbes entertained the members of the Acme club at her home Monday. The club members discussion were about current events. After the program, Mrs. Forbes served light refreshments. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. C. Mines Monday.

Saturday morning Mrs. Gladys Olson invited a number of neighbors and friends to her home to hear Misses Fern and Frances Oman sing. All who were present considered it an exceptional treat. The Oman girls are receiving very favorable press comments in the Lincoln papers. They both Mr. and Mrs. Oman show marked talent in the musical line.

Rebekahs Meet.
The regular meeting of the Rebekahs was held Friday night. Although election of officers was planned for this evening, it was postponed until a later date.

Service Men Meet.
Rev. John W. Beard informally entertained the men of Wayne who were in service, at the Presbyterian manse Friday night. Mr. Beard was a disciplinarian with the unity-first decision and was in service overseas. The men exchanged experiences and stories of the war and enjoyed a social evening.

Sunday School Party.
The members of the R. S. A. class of the Presbyterian church entertained at a covered-dish supper at the manse at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night. Mrs. J. W. Beard is teacher of the class. The husbands of the members of the class were invited and also Rev. Mr. Beard's class and some State Normal students who are Presbyterians. After the supper, the evening was spent in games.

Girls' Bible Study Circle.
Miss Hannah West entertained the Girls' Bible Study circle last Friday evening. Miss Thompson led the study of the story of the apostle to the Romans. As it was a birthday occasion light refreshments were served and a pretty gift presented to the hostess—Mrs. E. B. Young will entertain the girls next Friday evening.

U. D. Club Program.
Mrs. J. G. Miller was hostess to the U. D. club at her home Monday night. Mrs. J. W. Beard is teacher of the Progressive World Struggle of the Jews for Civil Equality" was read by Mrs. J. W. Jones. An instrumental duet was played by Mrs. H. S. Ringland and Mrs. J. H. Kemp. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. H. B. Jones, Monday afternoon.

Coterie Club Meets.
The Coterie club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Paul Mines. A short business meeting was conducted and all well reported to by the members. Mrs. A. R. Davis sang two solos. Mrs. William Mellor used a map in presenting the lesson on the world as it is now. Miss Virginia

Chapin was a guest. Mrs. Mines served refreshments. Next Monday the club will meet with Mrs. L. A. Fenske.

Early Hour Club Dinner.
The Early Hour club will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Alben tonight. A dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock, after which the evening will be spent in playing five-hundred.

Entertained P. N. G. Club.
Mrs. C. T. Jagham entertained the members of the P. N. G. club at her home Tuesday afternoon. A general discussion of current events was followed by light refreshments served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. R. W. Loy January 6.

Royal Neighbors Meet.
The Royal Neighbors society met Tuesday evening in the Odd Fellows' hall. The following officers were elected: Orator, Mrs. H. D. Dewey; vice-orator, Mrs. W. O. Hanson; chancellor, Mrs. George Lamerson; recorder, Mrs. Edw. Miller; receiver, Mrs. Edna Kemp; Marshal, Mrs. J. W. Kottig; number sentinel, Mrs. Ira Wellbaum; notes-entrance, Mrs. John Swanson; manager, Mrs. Chas. Ash. Installation will be conducted in January.

P. E. O. Meeting Not Held.
The meeting of the P. E. O. sisterhood, which was to have been held at the home of Mrs. M. S. Davis Monday was called off on account of the bad weather and the sickness of those on the program. The organization will meet at the home of Mrs. Edna Hutton December 15, when the leader will be Mrs. William Mellor. A constitutional quiz will be given and Mrs. W. H. Morris will sing.

Bible Study Circle.
Mrs. I. E. Ellis was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a most interesting and profitable meeting of the Union Bible Study circle. Mrs. Dora Fenske led the lesson. A letter from Rev. H. C. Morrison, president of Ashby college in Louisville, Ky., was read. The letter spoke very sympathetically of the Bible circle work. A number of requests for prayer were mentioned and remembered in the prayer service. Mrs. B. Young will be hostess next Tuesday. A hearty invitation is extended to all.

Entertained for Miss Redmond.
A number of young people entertained last Thursday evening at the E. Strahan home in honor of Miss Gladys Redmond of Lincoln. Dancing and visiting furnished the evening's entertainment. Refreshments were served. Those who were present were Miss Gladys Redmond, J. M. Strahan, Francis Jones, Miss Marguerite Chace, James McEachern, Miss Alma Craven, John Bressler, Miss Edna Gimblech, Miss Virginia Chapin, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mines, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cavasough, Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Leay, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan.

Entertained W. G. T. U.
The members of the W. G. T. U. were entertained by Mrs. J. H. Foster at her home Friday. Although the weather was unfavorable, a good attendance was out for the meeting. In the absence of Mrs. I. E. Ellis, Mrs. George Fortner led the devotional. Mrs. Anderson of Sioux City sang "Little Gray Home in the West." Mrs. Foster tendered two solos, and Mrs. A. A. Wofford read a paper on "The Absence of the Important," which was followed by a discussion of the same subject. At the urgent request of the hostess, Mrs. Fortner gave a reading. After a business meeting, Mrs. Foster

The bazaar to be held December 13 will be planned at the meeting. Everyone is invited to attend.

Hospital Notes.

Mrs. Frank Klopping of Carroll was the first person to be operated upon in the new Wayne hospital. Her operation for appendicitis was performed Saturday.

Mrs. Craig Benson of Pender had her tonsils and adenoids removed Monday.

Mrs. William Baden of Pilger was admitted to the hospital as a medical patient.

William Raschke of Norfolk underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday. He was one of the visitors who inspected the hospital at the opening.

Miss Gertrude Garton of Sioux City, a nurse in one of the hospitals there, was a visitor at the Wayne hospital Sunday.

How Did He Think of Them All?
Kansas City, Mo., Victor Berger has announced his new platform for the next race for congress. He alleges himself with pro-feminist, pro-union interests, the W. W. and against the power of the house to reject or admit its own members. Aren't there any other possible issues for Mr. Berger to espouse, or did his imagination just go lame on him when he finished picking these?

Have Nothing on Us.

Omaha World-Herald: Some professors in the Carnegie Institute are so poorly paid, we are told, that they can't afford to have eggs for breakfast, but we need further evidence to convince us that they are worse off than lots of other people who are still getting joy out of life.

Students Volunteer.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 2.—With temperatures in Nebraska reaching as low as 12 below zero, and the fuel situation rapidly growing more acute, Gov. Samuel R. McElwain today called for volunteers to serve if necessary as miners in the states from which Nebraska obtains its fuel supply. His action took the form of an official proclamation, followed a mass meeting of state university students to obtain recruits for this work. Several hundred students pledged themselves to work in the mines if needed.
The governor's proclamation characterized the situation as rapidly becoming "unbearable" and it was announced he had sent telegrams to the governors of Colorado, Iowa, Wyoming, Kansas and Missouri, advising their volunteers from Nebraska would be available for mine work in the states as emergency forces, provided they would be given adequate police protection.

Mr. McAdoo's Testimony.

New York World: Such testimony cannot be ignored. If corroborated, it must convict the mine-owners not only of outrageous profiting but of inhumanity. They have underpaid their labor and they have overcharged the public. Furthermore, they have put their labor

Public Ledger: The column has expressed its admiration for the official acts of Gov. Colledge, but it is the news that he lives in a rented house that really inspires your curiosity concerning him. We should like to know how he managed to find the

in the wrong and then have appeared to a plundered public to make the odious cause of monopoly its own. There may be something meaner than that but we do not know where to look for it.

CHURCH CALENDAR

Evangelical Lutheran Church.
(Rev. H. A. Tackhaus, Pastor.)
December 7.
Sunday school at 10 a. m.
Let us have a good attendance.
Wednesday, 7:30, choir practice.
Even. Saturday—catechetical instruction at 2 p. m.

Presbyterian Church.
(Rev. John W. Beard, Pastor.)
Services December 7, 1919:
Morning service at 10:30. "The Regular Quarterly Communion Service."
We will unite in a union service at the Baptist church Sunday evening.

Sabbath school as usual at 11:30. Classes for all.
Always a hearty welcome for you and a chance for you to bless us await your coming.

English Lutheran Church.
Sunday school at 10 a. m.
Public worship with sermon at 11 a. m.
The coal shortage has made it necessary to save all the fuel possible and in order to do this the city council has requested that evening services be cancelled until further announcement. But there will be a union service in one of the churches every Sunday night. The first meeting will be held in the Baptist church next Sunday.

The attendance at the Thank offering meeting of the Missionary society last Sunday evening was more so large as was expected and the program had to be revised at the last moment. While people cannot regulate the weather they can regulate their giving. What the meeting lacked in numbers was made up in liberality of offering. The offering amounted to $42.

Pre hour of meeting of the catechetical class has been changed from 2:30 to 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

Methodist Church.
(Rev. W. Kilburn, Pastor.)
The churches of Wayne have been requested by the city council to make the following arrangements owing to the scarcity of coal: The Sunday schools and the regular morning services will be held at the usual hours in each respective church.

On the evening service the churches will unite. The schedule for union service is as follows: December 7, Baptist church, at 7:30 p. m.; Monday by Rev. W. Kilburn; December 14, M. E. church, Bishop Stantz, all day; December 21, Presbyterian church, Rev. Mr. Pratt.

Bishop Homer Stantz is to lecture at the Wayne State Normal on December 13. This arrangement has made it possible to hold him in Wayne over Sunday, December 12, when he will preach twice at the M. E. church. This will be a fine opportunity for Wayne people to hear one of the foremost preachers and lecturers in this country.

Sunday school at 10 a. m. Sacramental service at 11 a. m. Union service at the Baptist church at 7:30 p. m.

Wednesday evening, prayer meeting at the parsonage.
N. A. Martin will visit Wayne on December 2 in the interests of the Methodist hospital, Omaha.

Neligh Suffers Fuel Shortage.
Neligh, Neb., Dec. 1.—The serious situation brought about by the shortage of coal resulted Monday in a call for a meeting of the executive committee of Neligh commercial club, which will consider steps to be taken looking toward conservation of fuel. Although the shortage here is not acute, it is feared unless precautionary measures are taken considerable suffering will follow.

The high school has only a three weeks' supply of coal, according to a preliminary survey made Monday, while the West Ward school possesses nearly enough fuel to last it throughout the winter. It is contemplated dividing the coal between the two schools evenly, trusting that the situation will have returned to normal by the time it is exhausted. Monday afternoon's meeting is expected to curtail the hours of many business-homes and other non-essential industries.

Wages of the Miners.
Knoxville Journal: The record of Marion county mines show that the miner has been receiving big wages—that 45 per cent of the miners in that locality averaged more than $8 per day during the twenty-two working days of October. If such miners get 200 working days a year they earn and get $1,600 per year wage on two-thirds time. That is good pay, more than nine-tenths of the school teachers, preachers, newspaper men and other professional classes receive for full time. But that is not saying they are not entitled to a reasonable increase in wages and better working conditions. The Journal thinks they are. And it also believes that the operators can afford to pay a reasonable increase without raising the price of coal to the consumer.

It might be advisable to try to exchange with the coal miners and its mine owners.
Last year the "flu" jolted the coal and business order. This year it is the strike and coal shortage. We wonder what will be pulled off next year!

We seem to be returning to "primeval" times, as Mose Warner of Lyons would say. In the order of necessity we will see the men naturally arrive at the point where we will comb our tangled tresses or play checkers, or read about the rise and decline of civilization by the aid of a tallow dip or a woodled knot, as a Lincoln.

The present rather discouraging and vexing state of civilization, caused by our social discord and a too sprawling civilization to fight, the struggle just preceding the unfolding of nobler and more unselfish characters. The scourging may bring the world to its right senses and give progress a big uplift. Let us hope so.

Using tobacco for domestic purposes becomes an unsightly nuisance when one carelessly decorates his city. The coloring is not so bad, but objection lies in the reckless disregard of the "five" avers in application. An accomplished chaperon of tobacco will handle the domestic civilization as a soldier does a hand grenade. He will clear everything but the object aimed at.

Merchants are asked to close up at 5 o'clock even if they use no city power at night. They must keep up their fires anyway. This restriction does not seem necessary or just. We are not merchandising, and don't know the vicissitudes and possibilities of the business. As an outsider we judge, however, that curtailment of hours for trading that mean no trespass on the municipal supply does mean a great loss during this pre-Christmas period. Stocks are bought and are on display. Obligations must be met and are dependent on sales of holiday goods. The future of individuals and thus indirectly of the town may be shaped by results of this vital time of year. A constructive policy of saving should not be allowed to go to the unnecessarily destructive extreme of closing the door to opportunity which, if it benefits one, indirectly benefits all. We believe merchants should be consulted in the adoption of any restrictive policy which involves their affairs or their future.

"Do unto others as you would have others do unto you," or words to that effect. We thought of that yesterday. The sudden and unexpected action of the city council in enforcing a rule to cut off forenoon power and thus compelling us to reduce our paper from the originally planned thirty-two pages to twenty-eight. Members of the city council and others not on the inside of the newspaper game, do not realize the intense ambition that grips the soul of a man who is functioning as a newspaper that will approximate his ideal. The stage is set for thirty-two pages. Along comes a peremptory withdrawal of necessary motive power. Our expectation is dashed to the ground. Hope of achievement in rural newspapering receives a staggering blow. Instead of thirty-two pages we are compelled to squeeze into twenty-eight, and in the last run reduce advertising and omit trimmings essential to a well rounded newspaper. We do not lack full appreciation of the need of conserving fuel. But we do not see why the condition could not have been anticipated and more advance notice given. It is not alone a matter of monetary considerations. Far from it. This will seem strange to those who measure everything by dollars and cents. But this newspaper is trying to work on an ideal—attainable—basis yet attained. This will also seem strange to those who, in this material period, don't believe in attaining ever the things that have been attained. In view of the above can we be justly blamed for expressing at the moment language not employed in polite society? If this experience teaches us to more carefully observe the quotation introducing this paragraph, it will not be without benefit.

THE COUNCIL'S ACTION:
The city council has been very serious with the city power plant at the close of last week that the local authorities decided to further curtail use of electricity. The service was shut down at 9 o'clock at night and resumed at 6:30 in the morning. At a meeting of the council Tuesday night it was decided to adopt further entertainment. It was decided to furnish no power during the absence of the electrician. The rule concerning this morning. We believe the council should know what it is going to do far enough in advance of consulting the consumers to give them opportunity to prepare for the change. As a manufacturing industry, the Herald had certain production planned for this issue. The unexpected notice that no power would be available this morning has required quick readjustments and the necessity of omitting considerable advertising and news matter. Two days' notice instead of one would have permitted the issuance of this paper as planned and given time to arrange for the future. Mayor J. H. Kemp expressed the belief that he could persuade the council to extend the time one day, but after interviewing the members came back with the ultimatum that they would not extend the time. The council for the time designated the night before. The Herald will endeavor to equip to handle its production, and trust that future apology will be unnecessary. A newspaper is not like a cake. A thing not sold by a store one day is kept on the shelf and may still be sold. The Herald offers effort which must be expended on the one or the other. We wish to advise it is a total loss. A newspaper cannot operate without power. As the forenoon in Wayne, according to present schedule, would be a loss to newspapers, they must operate according to hours when electricity will be available.

Lincoln Flour

The last word in perfecting a flour that gives perfect satisfaction is Lincoln. Three hundred sacks have been sold during the last 90 days and the best of satisfactory reports are coming from every direction. If you are willing to permit us to show you Lincoln is the best flour on the Wayne market we thank you for the opportunity. Try a sack of Lincoln and compare it with your favorite flour. It will develop a right in your own kitchen which heretofore have been unobtainable.

Every sack contains a guarantee backed by the largest milling concern in the world, the Pillsbury Milling Company.

Every housewife is interested in using flour that makes perfect bread and every sack uniform. That's why we want to impress upon you the importance of using Lincoln. The demand is growing every day and we will soon have the favorable endorsement of 150 housewives. When this number has increased to double the number we feel we have done a double duty toward the housewife who seeks the best and a loaf which is second to none.

How is Your Apple Supply?

We have apples, good ones, for $2.00 in bulk which are fine for cooking. Jonathan or Delicious have even honors for fine eating and are renowned for fine eating; for late keepers we have Black and Ark.—Black.—We are best prepared to supply your apple needs in any grade or variety from all priced on a basis of carload service. Apples are a necessity to keep the children healthy. If you apples are running low get another box; they are cheaper than medicine and the children use them.

White Syrup

Sugar is scarce and there will be no relief until the first of the year and then you may expect to pay 20 cents to 23 cents per pound. Syrup will be in sympathy with sugar in price so why not buy your own now while it's cheap? Buy a supply to last all winter and save possibly 50c per gallon. This is a common sense forecast. Let's everybody get busy and profit by it.

Coffee—25-lb. Lots

We are still maintaining the low prices of 40c, 45c, and 47c on coffee in 25-pound lots. Another advance is due very soon, so let us protect you for your next six months' supply. Our prices are lower than any mail order house you can reach. Come in and let's talk over the coffee situation. Take out a sample pound of Basket Store blend. You will be back for 25 pounds.

to lock it in her desk for the moment and had then forgotten it. The robbery was not discovered until the arrival of the store engineer about 7:30 Sunday morning. The robbers departed as day broke. The police have no clue.

Horses at Stanton Burned. Stanton, Neb., Dec. 11.—W. R. Page was awakened from sleep Saturday morning by noise in his barn. Upon looking out toward the barn, he discovered that it was all ablaze. The alarm was given but the fire company arrived too late. The entire barn burned to the ground.

There were two trucks burned, a touring car, six head of horses, three tons of hay, and 800 bushels of corn.

Mr. Page is just back from the army and nicely started in business, but this loss will practically leave him penniless. Very little insurance was on the property. Damage is about $5,000.

A petition is being circulated, and up to date $2,000 has been raised to be presented to him with which to purchase new equipment for his transfer business.

Bold Omaha Robbery

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 11.—Bobblek blew the safe of Hayden Bros' store one of Omaha's largest retail houses, at midnight Saturday after over an hour's watching who were bound and gagged. The robbers looted the vaults of $63,000 in cash, securities, and other valuables, including $25,000 worth of groceries department, danced and sang before their captives for three hours, paid each watchman $20 for his trouble, and escaped in the daylight. It is believed the robbers were professionals and that they hid in the store during the Saturday rush and remained when the place was closed for the evening. They surprised the watchmen separately and after binding them they left them in a vegetable room outside the safe. They secured rugs from the drapery department to muffle the explosion and blew the safe with nitroglycerine. Joseph Hayden, president of Hayden Bros., said the store had not made any bank deposit on Saturday and that the cash in the vault alone amounted to $30,000. Among the loot were also many Liberty bonds which employees had left in the vault for safekeeping. A check for $100,000 which had just been received by Mr. Hayden was not left in the safe because Mr. Hayden had instructed his secretary

Need More Lincoln.

he continues: "What America needs in this day of strikes and unrest is more real kindness. Lincoln was passing a house one day and saw a young woman apparently in distress, standing at the gate. When he inquired the trouble she replied that she was late for her train and the man had not come to carry her trunk from the house to the wagon. Lincoln went in, brought out the trunk and drove the wagon to the train. Retail kindness—that is what we need. A dollar's worth of hand-to-hand kindness is worth more than $1000 worth that has grown cold. The manufacturer and capitalist of this country generally are doing big things in a big way—a wholesale kind of kindness, as it were. But if they would take time to come in close personal touch with their employes there would be fewer strikes and happier employes. On the other hand, Lincoln could not tolerate tyranny in any form. The love of justice was the leading characteristic of his nature. He would never have been sympathetic with any group of men who made any other group suffer or who attempted to enforce their own belief on other people. He would have sold the strikes of this country they had the right to quit their jobs if they were dissatisfied, but there was no justice in a doctrine, which attempted to say their vacant places must be left unfilled. It is the lack of this spirit that is causing our troubles these days. We the neighborly help each other feeling during the war, but since the close of those sufferings it has got so each of us is forgetting everyone except himself. Capital profiteers, labor profiteers. "Hang the other fellow" is the general motto. And there are men who ran the nation isn't going to get back to the true American way of dealing one with the other until we go through another period of suffering. These are saying that the only thing that will stop the present riot of extravagance and inequities for the rights of others is a plentiful dose of "hard times." Are we going to have to be knocked on the head before we come to our senses? Can't we awaken the latent spirit of Lincoln?

We Fiddle and Fiddle While Rome Burns! O, the Pity of It!

A statement on the times by John S. Capper, President Capper & Capper, printed as a big advertisement in Chicago Tribune: "The world is hungry for the things you have and vice, Stark hungry! The cupboard is bare as a bone. Prices mount to staggering figures and the cry of our workers is—more sweep, one A. H. P. Fairbanks-Morse gasoline engine, one Fairbanks-Morse feed grinder three sets of harness wheels, one saddle, one sledge, one pump-jack, four hay slings, one hog oiler."

Ye Gods! Must the vicious circle continue? Shall we never see that it is more hours we need, that to reduce the cost of things we use, we must produce not less but more?

I just received a cablegram from my brother in London, reading: "Market here, prices awful, helplessness, sailing home. Oh, if America would ever think of competition!"

Prices had gotten so high in this country and merchandise so scarce, we sent two of our firm abroad, hoping to find things at lower prices. The cable message is the answer! Merchandise is even shorter on the other side than here. They have nothing to sell and their shelves are bare. "They want to buy—to buy from America—to buy the things that Americans make—and the answer of our workers is—reduce our hours—44 hours a week instead of 60—a cut in production of 25 per cent."

The writer sympathizes with those who work. He understands what hard work, privation and the struggle of life is—he has lived it. He has walked eight miles a day to carry canteens, carrying water for the workers who built the town of Pullman. He has gotten out of bed at 3:00 o'clock to milk 15 cows on a winter's morning. He has put in 15 hours a day in a store. He is not a natural born plutocrat—he is the son of a steel worker. He feels that he knows the needs of those who struggle, but anyone would be indeed foolish who failed to see that the waste of time by carpenter, plumber or other worker in their raising the price of real estate is the price of the very clothes that he himself wears, and everything used by him or his fellow worker.

There are many who have made the farm worker restless; he, too, wants short hours and increased pay. Many kind Providence preserve us if farm workers ever insist on 44 hours a week, or an eight-hour day. You and I, my friend, will go hungry. I farm 80 acres and know what farm workers ever insist on 44 hours in the city is doing for the farm.

faithful service—not eight hours, rather ten and then some. Let us for one year, at least, resolve to work, and work like H—!

Two Dollars a Word.

Unaltered by the fact that is what newspaper publicity cost in a recent New York campaign, so we are not talking about anything extraordinary for some retail advertiser.

Is that the way you would figure the cost of advertising in your local paper? If your local newspaper man tells you he wants $25 or $30 or $35 for a full page space in his paper, in which to run your ad do you think you are buying so much space? Or do you consider how much per visible sale?

The chances are that the New York paper's advertising rate, at $2 a word, was cheaper than the rate of some small papers, if the rate were to be figured at so much per reader.

We have heard merchants say they can do more with circular letters direct to the trade than by using the newspapers. Usually when we hear that we think that either the merchant does not know how to use the papers as he should or he has never compared costs. Circular letters are all right, too, but as we have so often said before, they will not and never can take the place of the right kind of newspaper advertising.

Trade and Unrest.

Sioux City Journal: Last week was a season of varied influence in trade and industry. The acute situation in the coal strike, while not directly affecting coal carrying roads, served to enhance prices on account of the threatened shutdown of industry for lack of fuel. The stock market responded to the general trend of depression, but the factors were mostly outside of the fact question. Stocks which have Mexican connections, including oils and shipping, declined on account of the threatened breach between this government and that of Mexico. Traders in the interior cities are discouraged and the unloading process sent prices downward during the Friday bear tendency of the market. General motor prices fell off 24 points, leading the slide of prices on stock markets.

There is a firm demand for American products abroad, and if the labor unrest were ended and industry restored to normal production, the effect on foreign trade would be pronounced. However, nothing is being done except—namely, to within limits for possible contingencies in the immediate future. European countries are making earnest efforts to finance purchases in this country, but are unable to procure the desired supplies. Orders are being transferred to other countries whenever such countries are able to deliver goods.

Domestic trade is on the increase. Holiday buying already is on and high wages and abundance of money among the masses leads to the conclusion that all records will be broken in this direction. Retail stores are well stocked and the turnover already has begun. Costs of living are slightly higher, but there is little retrenchment among buyers. The best food supplies are in demand over those of lower costs.

Large offerings of Liberty and Victory bonds are being sold in bulk. Most of the sales are made in order to utilize the funds in paying government taxes and readjusting business at the beginning of the year.

Skilled Labor.

Burlington Hawkeye: The first class farmhand has a better claim to the title and the pay of highly skilled labor than do some of the workers in town who are thus classified. It is the height of folly to imagine that anybody can go out on the farm and work there and accomplish something. The farm worker must serve a long apprenticeship and he is always learning and never comes to know it all. But he must be, if not a master, at least fairly conversant with so many different things that the man who works in a factory at one thing year in and year out, will be puzzled indeed, if he were to go out on the farm and try to earn a living as a farm hand.

Notice to Creditors.

This Store is Now a Great Gift Center Offering Hosts of Timely Christmas Suggestions

Our every move these days is actuated by a desire to to simplify the tasks of gift shoppers

Countless articles of apparel for grown-ups and children—all suitable and welcome as gifts—are conveniently displayed here. Since we can't tell you about them all we are merely mentioning a few of the more notable offerings. For greeting a woman scarcely any lovelier means could be found than these so briefly outlined.

This store is ready both with service and merchandise—the prices of which are consistent with qualities—to make this a happy—and—long—to-be-remembered Christmas for you and yours.

It's very pleasant to Greet Santa in one of these Negligees or Robes.

Some of them have come over from the Orient to make someone happy on Christmas morning. They are of silk and in many instances richly embroidered in cherry blossoms or chrysanthemums.

American made—and quite as attractive as the Japanese robes—are lovely negligees of crepe de chine. Collars and soft flounces falling from their sleeves are of soft colored georgette.

A great variety of tints assures gift seekers of a wide choice. Also of domestic designing are comfy bath robes. Like the negligees they are soft, warm and quite simple of line.

Considering moderation-of price, beauty, and appropriateness, these are exhibits that the discriminating will not want to miss.

—Toyland—

is now open. Here you will find a host of things for the Kiddies.

Family Gift Seekers Turn to These Displays

—when they want to select remembrances that are sensible and substantial. But they will have to see these smart Coats, Suits and frocks to appreciate their exceptional modishness and adaptability. The beauty of the fabrics, the warmth of the colors and the painstaking tailoring represented are points which you should take into consideration when choosing gifts of this nature—you will find them unusually satisfying here.

A Sweater—

—is something which many women admire, but oftimes do not feel like investing in for themselves; hence by selecting one of these attractive models you run very little risk of duplicating something already in the recipient's wardrobe.

Make the Children's Christmas Last Longer

Children all look forward to Christmas. Of course, it wouldn't be right to deny them the playthings they wait for so anxiously. But they are sure to receive enough of these playthings to make a Christmas—nothing something lasting and substantial, something to wear, such as little dresses, coats, fur sets, sweaters, middys, shoes, slippers, caps, or a host of other things we can show you.

Gloves

Gloves—because they cost more than they ever have on account of labor conditions and scarcity of materials—assume new importance this year. That's why every woman will be delighted to receive them as gifts.

Choice here is highly gratifying.

Hosiery

It's a rare compliment to present a woman with one pair, or a box of three, of this splendid quality silk hosiery.

You will find plain hosiery to match all costumes, as well as smartly colored and embroidered offerings.

No Woman Can Have Too Many Blouses

—especially when they are so very becoming as these stunning models.

And, since tastes differ in Blouses, just as they do in everything else, we have provided an assortment of styles which—we believe, include types to please all preferences.

FURS— The Ideal Gift

Even more than diamonds are furs treasured and because of that fact they must be just as carefully chosen.

By making selections here you are assured of a good investment and protected by this store's reputation for reliability and quality.

Gift Petticoats—

They're offered expressly for gift purposes—we'll put them in fancy Holiday boxes for you—but almost every gift shopper will want to purchase several for her own use, so very moderate are the markings. Some have taffeta bound plaited flounces while others are sheered at the top and finished with neat tuck effects.

One Has Many Uses For A Separate Skirt

When they are as pleasing to look at and don, as these, feel at home mornings, shopping, at afternoon parties, or when worn at informal evening affairs.

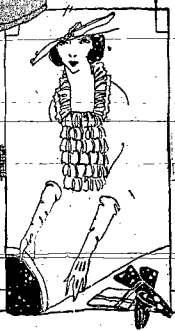

Considering these facts gift choosers will do well to investigate these handsome offerings.

Sure!—Slippers

Dainty soft wool lined slippers, to match one's bath robe. Many come with soft sole and cushioned heel, or with the regular sole and heel. When one considers the pretty colors these come in your gift problem seems solved. Oh yes—little ones for the Kiddies, too.

Dainty Christmas Neckwear

Neckwear certainly never was more beautiful or desirable as a Christmas gift than it is now. Come and look over the choice styles in this display—you won't find a better way of solving your holiday problems.

Of Course— Give Handkerchiefs

They have an important place on every gift list and here they are. We have a wonderful variety in spite of the fact that they are so very hard to get—and many of them are of fine linen, too. You will want to buy many when you see them.

WAYNE HOSPITAL HOLDS THREE DAYS' RECEPTION

About 800 Inspected New Modern Building and Equipment

Approximately 800 persons inspected the new Wayne hospital during the opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. Most of these came from Wayne. Unfavorable weather prevented the expected number of visitors from the surrounding towns, who expected to be here, from coming to the reception. The hospital is intended to accommodate twenty patients, allocated by nurses. The interest taken in the hospital enterprise was shown by the number of gifts made to it. Those who furnished rooms in the hospital were George Harshorn, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Lansing of Wakefield, Mrs. Laura Buskirk, Low Owen, Dr. W. C. Wightman, Mr. and Mrs. William Beckenhauer, Charles Gildersleeve, Mrs. Lida Harshorn, Frank Coetner, Ray B. King, John Bennett, Henry Key, R. W. Ley, Fred Blair, A. J. Smith and the Midway club. Mrs. S. C. Luigen of Auburn, Dr. S. A. Lutgen's mother, furnished his private office. Other gifts to the hospital and their donors were:

perna and Alpha Women's clubs assisted Dr. and Mrs. Lutgen in showing the visitors over the hospital and in serving light refreshments.

School Notes

Visitors in the grades last week were: Mrs. William Mellor, Mrs. Robert Mellor, Mrs. Gay Lyons, Mrs. L. A. Banke, Mrs. F. G. Phillips, Mrs. V. S. Johnston and Mrs. W. O. Thussen.

Marie and Anna Chiebert are new pupils in the second grade. Charles Keyser of the sixth grade has been absent on account of illness.

Alice Loberg is a new pupil in the tenth grade.

The total score of the spelling contest is 34.24.

Last Wednesday, the Senior English class gave the following program:

RABBITS SERVE IN MENU Cottontails Killed in Large Numbers for Table Use.

The late snow has inspired hunters to shoulder their guns and go out after rabbits. The little animals are numerous, and they have fallen before unerring marksmanship in large numbers. Many people wish rabbit meat and find a rabbit better for winter food than the butcher's counter.

Charles Van Norman relates an experience with a jackrabbit Tuesday. He caught the animal alive, and has it in training to become the central figure in an extraordinary feast to be held here.

Seeing the long-eared specimen frisking around not far away, he started after it. He walked under some snow, and he dropped his entire anatomy on top of it. He had a terrible struggle before it yielded, and he was able to drag it away in triumph. It doesn't appear to get realize that it is soon to be sacrificed to gratify human appetites.

The Herald has heard of a single hunter who has gone out and brought in over a hundred rabbits in one day. It is pointed out that these hunting excursions make a very favorable impression on meat bills, and that cooked rabbit contributes a very acceptable dish to the daily menu.

THE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY

Preparations Are Going Forward for the Great Event.

Fulfilling the Thanksgiving day rest, people have spirited up in preparation for the Christmas holidays. Stores are resplendent in Christmas decorations and displays of goods suitable for gifts. Housewives and young ladies are busy picking and making things that will please their friends. High prices are somewhat noticeable in the "plumcake" of market. Also high prices have stimulated the effort of skillful fingers. No small part of the Christmas joy lies in the preparation. The good thoughts developed in planning to give to others are refreshing and uplifting. A review of Christmas stocks will give anyone the Christmas spirit. It is catching.

FUEL SHORTAGE SUGGESTS GETTING BACK TO FUNDAMENTALS.

(By Dr. J. T. House.)

"He was a true philosopher who said: 'A man's riches consist of what he can do without.' The people of this country are in a way to do without many things. During the next few months we may discover how to eschew the artificial, and get back a feeling for fundamentals that will restore that sense of control that is the essence of riches.

Such considerations took hold upon me with special force last night when the lights winked at 9 o'clock. Out of the cellar my wife brought a kerosene lamp and I was able to continue reading until a late hour. The rest of the family retired in the dark. It is fun to go to bed in the dark.

I recalled my boyhood when, on an Iowa prairie, on a winter night the entire family gathered about the kitchen fire, fed by stove wood or huge ears of corn. We had neither coal nor electricity. The tallow candles were insufficient to chase the shadows from the corners of the room and yet, as we popped corn or made candy from sorghum molasses and told weird stories or sang songs while without the north wind howed, we were rich enough in the joy of living.

For many years I supposed that the only portion of the new world, eating was the thick, juicy porridge, but necessity has compelled exploration and I have been surprised to find how luxurious is a flank steak, how the odors of a "pot roast" was, especially when potatoes are boiled in the brew. Indeed, the aristocratic tea table tastes.

Then there is the fun of "beating the game." Fashion says, "Get a new pair of shoes," but Jack Koch and I conspire to make the old "as good as new." Then you can raise a large garden and pretend you do it for your health, brag about how early your radishes come and how large your potatoes grow.

"The American people do not need half the goods they consume and the necessity to consume makes a man poor. The measure of his poverty is just the gap between what he wants and his ability to pay for it. This winter we may learn to want less of some things and get more of others. Less light, less coal, less expensive food and costly clothing and more good fellowship, good books and high courage, and we shall be rich; not as Croesus or Rockefeller, but as Socrates or Theaetetus.

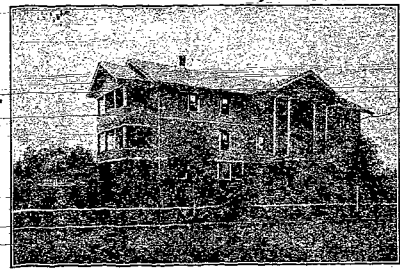

GIVE CHINESE OPERETTA

"The Feast of the Little Lanterns" by Girls' Glee Club.

"The Feast of the Little Lanterns" is the name of a Chinese operetta which will be given December 12 by the girls' glee club of the Wayne high school. The boys' quartet will also sing and the school orchestra will take part. Those in the cast who will take solo parts will be announced later. The operetta has been prepared under the direction of Miss Maude Shapton, who is music instructor in the Wayne schools.

The operetta will be given in the opera house, if sufficient coal is available. Friday night, December 12, has been set as the date for the performance.

Miss Addie Rinkler, of near Deatur, Ia., left Wednesday for Lyons, after visiting her sister, Miss Myrtle Hightree, who attends the Wayne State Normal.

Robbery at Essex. The store owned by Alfred Sar, a clothier in Essex, Ia., was robbed Wednesday of last week of stock valued at $3000. Although there was a night watchman in the business district the men boldly drove a car up to the rear door of the store and took the choice part of the stock. No clue to aid in discovering the thieves has been found. Mr. Sar is a brother of Charles Sar of Wakefield.

School Notes. The prevalence of scarlet fever has put an end to all class meetings or any school activities which cause meetings. About a dozen girls returned here with the disease because some members of their fam-

ENABLE WOMEN TO VOTE Constitution Is to Be Fixed to Extend Full Privilege.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 2.—Amendment of the Nebraska constitution so as to give unrestricted voting privileges to women will be sought by the Nebraska woman suffrage association through the state constitutional convention which will meet to session here today to revise the Nebraska constitution.

Under the state's partial suffrage laws, women have only limited suffrage rights. They are prevented by constitutional provision from voting for such candidates seeking office, which are provided for by the constitution. This makes it impossible for them to vote for governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor and referendum laws, and members of the state railway commission, members of the legislature.

United States senators, United States representatives, delegates to constitutional conventions, questions submitted under the Nebraska initiative and referendum laws, and members of the judiciary, except municipal court judges at Omaha.

They may vote, however, for non-United States officers, including constitutional officers, including presidential electors, local officers and issues, party national committees, delegates to the national political conventions and precinct delegates and commitments. Any amendment giving them full voting rights will have to be approved by the male voters at the next general election, however, before it becomes effective, as well as any other changes in the constitution that the constitutional convention delegates may make.

The present constitution of Nebraska has been in force since 1875. The convention is the outgrowth of a popular demand for revision on the ground that the constitution does not meet the modern needs of the state. Call for the convention was approved by the voters in 1918, following which the next regular legislature made provision for selection of delegates.

The delegates were elected last November on a non-partisan basis. Happy Mary. Municipal Judge Harry Pickford testified in New York that her salary was $1,080,000 a year. Here she was a woman who had done as she wished.

OPENING OF CONVENTION Body to Change Constitution of Nebraska Is in Session.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 2.—For the first time in forty-four years and seven months a state convention that is to revise, alter or amend the state constitution has met in Nebraska. The opening session was held at noon Tuesday in Representative hall, where Secretary of State Amshery is empowered by law to call it to order.

Today's session will be devoted entirely to getting organized in a preliminary sort of way, but full organization is not likely to be made until toward the end of the week. The same reasons that caused delay in getting executive machinery started apply to the convention. Most of the important work is done by and through committees and it will take some time to pick the personnel of these. The number is not yet fixed, but will probably be in the neighborhood of thirty.

The first order of business will be the selection of officers. Several bids were made for these were in progress all day Monday, nearly all of the members having shown up before evening. Farmer members of the legislature who served under Speaker Johnson were canvassing delegates in his interest as chairman while A. J. Weaver had several good friends among the delegates who were pushing him.

Half Billion Higher. Washington, Dec. 2.—Increase of nearly half a billion dollars in receipts over 1918 was noted in the report today to the treasurer of the United States for the fiscal year 1919. The ordinary receipts were $4,547,603,824.46 and the ordinary disbursements $15,365,362,741.76, an increase of $6,888,830,475.74 as compared to those of the year previous. The disbursements on account of the Panama canal were $12,265,775.09 while receipts were $6,777,046.55.

The general stock of money in the United States at the close of the fiscal year was $7,518,789,000, an increase of $777,16,706. The money in circulation increased in volume by $386,602,549 and amounted to a grand total of $5,766,029,973.

Politics and the Legion. Alexandria Herald: The American Legion as an organization may not pay much attention to politics, but politics must pay attention to the legion. It should not be forgotten that the soldier vote is the political tide in whatever direction it may choose.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

IN THE DEPTHS.
The future looks gloomy; my eyes have grown rheumy, from viewing yesterday and today. I sit up this morning as loaded with sorrow, it hasn't a grace or a charm. Oh, don't denigrate me, as a cold man than the story in all I behold; our indivisible are shanking, pallidiums breaking—what avarice my filly's are cold. For I'm feeling rummy with cramps in my tummy, from eating too largely of pie; the pains of the cold inside of me frighten and I'd curl up and die. So sadly I'm viewing the future and chewing a rag in a desolate way; and so one who hears me, who passes and hears me, I thought care seven years' cost. I say, My message prophetic would be less pathetic if I had no spasm or ache; but gloom is the rule, and I'm sick, who mixed up his life and his cake. The prophetess who sing about weevil when they sing of talking of wheat, would doubtless be cheery if they were not very of pain in their stomachs or feet. The way we are feeling thus governs our spinning; our outlook and all that we do; a see can't be sunny for marbles or money, when he is tied up with the flu.

SOME DAY.
Some day good sense will reign again, so let's throw up our hats and sing—let's all be sane again, our bellies—free from bats. Some day, we'll quit our foolery and backle down to toil, cut out the rags and rascals and make the tattle boil. Some day we'll tire of clamoring and pawing up the ground, of knocking and of meeting, of yawning and empty sound.
We'll tire of all the driving of loaf wind-jamming men, and we'll go swiftly—swiffling to our agony, and we'll be glad to pass the windmills by, and he will fire his plane, when he has sharpened his, will strike the whirring—Oh, the doves of peace, and the big crowd of us from our place; the big commotion rattled us, and got us off our base. We've all been silly—careless since we were the kids; we've all been vainly vaporing, and talking through our lids.
Our old-time jobs are calling us;
let's get to work again, or coppers will be hauling us to poorhouses in the gloam.

WATCH THEM.
Having had a thorough whipping on the field of death and gore, we may see the Germans skipping back to their tanks and their lump-dumped the old ambitions, having strapped the Wilhelm dream,
they get down to new conditions,
and to trade their old supremacy.
While the other wrangling nations yap around and paw the air, back to old time occupation, it is the Germans, carry where. With a single earnest purpose they go back to forge and loom, while our foaming windmills chirp us songs of anarchy and doom. If we do not quit our yipping, making smoke and fur as the Germans that get the whipping, will be winner in the end.

For she's heating up her boilers and she's speeding up her mills, and her bravely busy toilers go to work with loyal wills. While we rant around and clamor of our rights and of our wrongs Germany takes up the hammer and sounds forth the work time gongs. Watch the Germans, see them grinning in their efficient way; while we're squeaking, squabbling, squirming for a big advance in pay.

IT IS COMING.
Let us think of Kris H. Kringle, who will soon be scheduled here,
and we'll hear his sleighbells jingle on the frosty atmosphere. Long our thoughts have been of battling, and of captains in their pride, and of blood and dry bones rattling where some fellows crawled and died. We've been wont to walk and mingle with the things opposed to mirth, let us walk with Kris Kringle, who is doing his best on earth. We have been immersed in trouble, we have sloshed around in care, we have long been pulling double, and our team mate was despair. Every kind of tribulation that the grief woe could produce, has been dumped upon this nation, every evil has been loosed. But the Christmastime is coming, when our sorrows find release, and Kris Kringle's happy humming with the melodies of peace. I am glad to meet the season when Dad Kringle comes to town, when there isn't rhyme or reason in protest as a few miles in the snowy, corpse and dingle, in the pinney, and the ghost, I will root for Kris Kringle, who has not got boast again.

ANTHONY NO. 44
My country, you're a peach, best sibble on the beach! This I con-fend, e'en when the High Cost queers all of my later years, e'en when the profiteers rob without end the Land of the pilgrime pride, land where the well known hide goes with the tail, I'll always sing your praises, even if talking says that in fifty ways, taking my kale. Land where the income tax puts automatic jacks under my wad! If we have trials and woes, problems and things like those, sores on our heads and toes, let's look abroad! Over our-our-ours there are a million sore where we have one; bark to the foreign locuis, see how the peasant grows, wiping his tear wet look at the Hun. We have scattered Reds, battling their futile heads on a stone wall, they have their legions there, arguing black and white, jawing with spare, also with gall. My country, soon or late, you'll get things going straight, get things in tune; men to do the job will be cutting out useless strike, and for the love of Mike, let it be soon!

WINTER NIGHTS.
Winter has unpleasant features,
as all honest men admit; when it comes, half frozen creatures are chilled, and a cold wind blows big chunks of snow are whizzing on the bosom of the blast, and the blizzard comes a blizzing, people sigh and groan and curse for all they can beastly weather there is recompense at night, when we camp around together by the grate fire, glowing and warm, and for all the cold story, and he chortles as he rocks; mother's feeling hunkydory, while she darns a pair of socks, and the little sons and daughters, they have put away the sweaters, that the summer-time required. There are moments of joyous laughter, there is happiness galore, though the temperature shakes the rafters and comes pounding at the door. Oh, this is an hour enchanting, for this is companion meant, and old winter's wildness ranting cannot scare us more than a cent and he renders in his madness, and we hear him roaring 'Tis but our hearts are full of gladness, and we chuckle in his face.

FOREMAN TELLS ABOUT TROUBLE

For Twenty Years He Had Suffered - Gains Eleven Pounds and is Restored to Health.

"For about two years before I began taking Dr. Blair's health was so bad that I lost two or three hours from my work nearly every day," said C. H. Melton, a construction foreman for the Western Union Telegraph Co., Omaha, Neb. Mr. Melton's home is at 3336 Tracy Ave., Kansas City, Mo., and it was while he was in Kansas City one week, and on business for his company that he made this statement to the Tribune representative.

For twenty years before I started taking Tanlac I suffered from stomach trouble and nervous indigestion," he continued, "and my condition kept getting worse until about five years ago I was in such awful shape, that nearly everything I ate caused me terrible suffering. I had burning headaches and gas would flow so bad on my stomach at times that I could hardly breathe, and felt heavy and stuffy all the time. I suffered from constipation and got so weak and run down that I could hardly drag about and sometimes it looked like I would just have to give up my work entirely.

"A friend of mine, who had tried Tanlac, recommended it to me so strongly that I began taking it. In three days of time I could tell that I had at last struck the right medicine, for my appetite began to improve, my stomach got better and my feeding built up on every day. I have now taken five bottles of Tanlac, eat anything I want, have gained eleven pounds in weight, and never have a pain in my stomach. I have almost forgotten that I ever had a headache and I am now satisfied and my mind is clear. In short, I'm not the same man and was never in better health in all my life, yet, of course I can recommend Tanlac and I am glad whenever I get the opportunity to say a good word for it."

Tanlac is sold in Wayne by J. R. King, adv.

LEAGUE FULFILLS AMERICAN IDEAL

Herbert Hoover Says Democracies Replaced Autocracies at Our Bidding.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION CHIEF.

Urges Ratification on Ground That Peace Treaty Will Collapse Without League of Nations.

Herbert Hoover is so deeply convinced over the opposition to the League of Nations in the United States that he has let himself be interviewed at length on the League situation. In a talk with the New York Times correspondent in Washington, the Food Administration Chief asserts that having caused the League idea to prevail in America cannot be regarded as a success. He says, and he has let Europe to choose. "To abandon the League Covenant now means that the treaty itself will collapse."

Hoover's wide acquaintance with conditions both here and abroad, his reputation as an administrator, a man of great affairs who deals with facts and theories, make his statement one of the most important contributions to the recent League discussion.

"There are one or two points in connection with the present treaty," said Mr. Hoover, "that need careful consideration by the American public. We need to digest the fact that we have for a century and a half been struggling with democracy, not only as a remedy for the internal ills of all society, but also as the only real safeguard against war. We have believed and proclaimed in heaven and earth that a world in which there was a free expression and enforcement of the will of the majority was the true basis of government, was essential for the achievement of civilization, and that we have proved its economic superiority in our own country."

"American Ideas Have Prevailed."

"We went into the war to destroy autocracy as a menace to our own and all other democracies. It was our hope that the war would bring a new spirit into the world, that we would be able to inaugurate a new era of peace and democracy. We have indeed seen the fruits of this war. We have seen the fall of the great autocracies in Germany, Russia, Turkey and Austria and the rise of democratic governments in Poland, Finland, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Serbia, Rumania, and even Germany and Austria have established democratic governments. Beyond these a host of small republics, such as Armenia, Georgia, Azerbaijan and others have sprung up, and again as a result of this great world movement the constitutions of Spain, Rumania, and even England, have made a final assent to complete franchise and democracy, although they still maintain a semblance of royalty."

"We have been the living spring for this last century and half from which the world has sprung, and we have triumphed. The world today, except for a comparatively few reactionary and communistic autocracies, is democratic and we did it."

"A man who takes a wife and kisses the world with several infants cannot go away and leave their children to be raised by strangers."

"These infant democracies all have political, social and economic problems. Their institutions are being sought with the most intense interest. There are no natural boundaries in Europe, Africa and Asia. They bleed at every border. They need railway communication and sea outlets through their neighbors' territories."

"Many of these states must for the next few years struggle almost for bare lives to maintain their very existence. Every one of them is going to do its best to protect its own interests, even to the prejudice of its neighbors."

Governments Lack Experience.

"We in America should realize that democracy, as a statute form of government as we know it, is possible only with highly educated populations and large forces of men with administrative experience. Few of the men who compose these governments have had any actual experience at governing and their populations are woefully illiterate."

"They will require a generation of actual national life in peace to develop free education and skill in government."

"Unless these countries have a guiding hand and refer to their quarrels, a court of appeal for their wrongs, the world will go back to chaos. It is for this reason that we are getting the public opinion of the world, and able to exert its authority, they will give into stability. We cannot turn back now."

"There is another point which also needs emphasis. World treaties hitherto have always been based on the theory of maintaining power. Stronger races have been set up to dominate the weaker, partly with a view to maintaining stability and partly to maintain the balance of power. The balance of power is a form of auties and navies, aristocracies, plutocracies, and reactionaries generally, who can find employment and domination in these institutions and treaties founded on this basis have established stability after such great war for a shorter or longer time, but never more than a generation.

"America came forward with a new idea, and we insisted upon its inclusion in this peace conference. We insisted that it was possible to set up such a piece of machinery with such authority that the balance of power could be abandoned as a relic of the middle ages. We outlined an entire construction of this treaty and every word and line in it bend to this idea."

"Outside of the League of Nations the treaty itself has many deficiencies. It represents compromises between many men and between many selfish interests, and these very compromises and deficiencies are multiplied by the many new nations that have entered upon its signature, and the very safety of that treaty itself lies in a court of appeal for the remedy of wrongs in the treaty."

Benefits of the League.

"One thing is certain. There is no body of human beings so wise that a treaty could be made that would not develop injustice and prove to have been wrong in some particular. As the wrongs stand today there is a place at which redress can be found and through which the good-will of the world can be enforced. The very machinery by which the treaty is to be established and secured of points yet to be solved, which have been referred to the League of Nations as a method of securing more mature judgment in less heated atmosphere, justifies the creation of the League."

"To abandon the covenant now means that the treaty itself will collapse."

"It would take the exposure of but a few documents at my hand to prove that I had been the most reluctant of Americans to become involved in this situation in Europe. But having gone in with our eyes open and with a determination to free ourselves of the rest of the world from the dangers that surrounded us, we cannot now pull back from the job. It is no job of a man, but of a great race, and that goes away leaving a church for continued services half done."

"We have succeeded in a most extraordinary manner in imposing upon Europe the complete conviction that we are absolutely disinterested. The consequence is that the world is seeking a man, woman or child who can read in Europe that does not look to the United States as the ultimate source of relief, but that they must secure assistance and guardianship in the liberties which they have now secured after so many generations of struggle."

"This is not a problem of protecting the big nations, for the few that remain can well look after themselves. What we have done is to set up a score of little democracies, and if the American people could visualize their handiwork they would insist with the same determination that they did in 1914 that our government proceed."

Municipal Wood Yard.

Tekamah, Neb., Dec. 4.—A mass meeting of citizens of Tekamah was held at the courthouse here in Tekamah Saturday evening to try to solve the fuel situation which confronts the city. An organization was perfected to have full charge of the buying and selling of fuel in the city, and a uniform plan to obtain the wood exists in such large quantities.

A public wood yard will be made where all wood will be brought and sold to the public at a price fixed by the organization to prevent profiteering. Auto trucks and teams will be employed to start Monday obtaining the wood, while cutting gangs will be put to work cutting down trees in the heavy timber down near the river and on the various farms.

Mayor W. T. Poucher issued a public statement yesterday notifying the public that beginning Monday there would be electric power service only from 11 o'clock in the morning until 11 at night. The city schools and the churches were not asked to close at present.

Let Us Have the Facts.

Springfield, Mass., Republican: Mr. McMillin's declaration that the more coverage is afforded to hearing the cost of a sharp advance of wages to the miners without passing it on to the public is in direct conflict with the claims of the operators, but it is based on records that are easily accessible. The fact on unquestionable authority, should be promptly forthcoming. They are very much the public's business.

Backbone Needed Now.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 4.—If there were a case where patience ceased to be a virtue, the Mexican situation presents one now. If the United States would take over the Tampico region or land mines again at Vera Cruz, it would not take Carranza very long to answer an American note or to release the American consular agent held in prison. A little backbone on the part of Washington is what is needed.

A Real Innovation.

Chicago Daily News: More progress is being made. There is talk of protecting the public from higher prices of coal when the wages of bituminous coal miners are increased.

SCHOOL ALL RIGHT SO FAR

Plenty of Fuel on Hand to Run Until Holidays—More Expected.

The public schools will probably be kept open here until the Christmas vacation, according to the expectations of the board of education, which met Monday afternoon to discuss the fuel situation. The board recently received a car of coke, which can be burned with the coal. Another car of coal is expected any time, and the board believes this amount will supply the school until the Christmas holidays. About two tons of coal are burned a day to heat the school in cold weather. Although the board of education ordered fuel last summer, not enough can be stored in the building to supply the school all winter. This was the regular monthly meeting of the school board. The bills for the month were approved and ordered paid, but business of importance except the fuel shortage was brought up for discussion.

W. C. T. U. in 1920.

The year 1920 will witness a marked difference in the lines of public welfare work pushed to the front. The organized forces that have for years made it their special business to divide the help given from one community after another, and from one state after another, until he is a national outlay, will after January 16 be free to take up constructive social work as never before. The National W. C. T. U. fully realizing this, a year ago started a "million dollar drive," the funds to be available March 1, to carry out the big constructive program announced at their recent annual convention held at St. Louis. Besides simply providing for carrying forward the usual work of the organization, the budget sets aside $300,000 for gaining world prohibition; $300,000 for Americanization and for establishing a school in New York to train Americanization workers; $150,000 for various lines of child welfare work; and $100,000 for public health and moral education in the interest of a single standard of morals.

The convention declared for compulsory education of aliens and of ages of 10 and 15 years, and also pledged a nation-wide effort to fit women for their new duties as voters. The 1920 program of the Nebraska W. C. T. U., six thousand strong, is no less ambitious than that of the National organization, which it follows as closely as state conditions justify. In addition to contributing its full quota of the public drive Nebraska is providing a substantial fund for home welfare activities; Americanization of the strangers in our midst; classes in citizenship for all women; co-operation with the state welfare commission in both public health and child welfare plans and pushing social hygiene and moral education among the young, are new features of the work. It is a program big and broad, and one as new and useful enough to enlist the interest and help of every woman in the state.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE Urges Laws Against Radicalism and High Cost of Living.

Washington, Dec. 2.—General recommendations on legislation to combat the cost of living, labor unrest, radicalism and readjustment of the nation to peace time basis were the features of a President Wilson message to congress delivered today.

The peace treaty, the president told congress, will be discussed in a separate message, as will be the railroad question.

For the second time only since the president established the practice of advising congress in person, his message was read today by the clerks.

Urges Budget System.
Legislation looking to the adoption of budget system was urged at the present session, Mr. Wilson advised in playing whereby the executive would be made responsible for the preparation of the budget which should be handled by single committees in each house.

A not less important aspect of the problem, the president said, was the economy and efficiency with which money appropriated are expended.

The president asked congress to give immediate consideration to the problem of future taxation, declaring that a simplification of the tax laws is necessary.

The Mines Will Be Operated.
Omaha World-Herald: It is not only that the union miners are striking at women and children. They are causing fires, and most brutally the women and children of the poor. Their method strikes most menacingly against the cottages and the families that are the homes of labor. They are most cruel to their own kind and they lose sight of the fact that the high cost of living of every American, including the American working man, is loyalty to his wife and children, to his own home. There is no loyalty to any union or lodge or class or creed which they will permit to come between themselves and the families they have given as hostages to fortune, which they will permit without lifting a hand or a voice, to trample their loved ones miserably into dust and death. It is this elemental fact, which they so strangely overlook, that dooms the miners to defeat in their plan to prevent the operation of the coal mines. The mines will be operated for the simple reason that there are 20,000,000 men in the United States who need the coal to save their wives, babies, mothers, sisters, sweethearts, from a miserable death.

The Government Must Get Coal.
Kansas City Star: The people must have coal. They cannot be permitted to suffer from cold, their industries interrupted, their schools closed because of a dispute over wages. It is up to the United States government, it is up to all forms of government to see that coal is produced. The same resourcefulness and energy that Governor Allen is showing in Kansas, applied on a national scale, would get results. The government is the people's only instrument for defense in a situation such as this. It must not fail them now.

ROAD WORK IS SUSPENDED Smoothing of Highway to Laurel to Be Resumed in Spring.

Work on the federal highway between Wayne and Laurel has been suspended for the winter on account of the snow and cold weather, and the smoothing process is suspended.

All that remains to be done will be given attention next spring. H. G. Felber of Hartington, has been the engineer in charge. James Knapp of the state engineers' department, left for Lincoln Friday.

The new road is said to be in good shape for a permanent highway. When it is finished paving could follow, if decided upon, without extra effort. And it is believed only a question of a short time when the main highways like this one will be paved as a means of facilitating and reducing the cost of transportation.

High Cost of Strikes.

St. Paul Pioneer-Press: The printers' strike in New York involved a sacrifice of $3,500,000 in wages through idleness. And yet nothing is said about the high cost of strikes.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES

All Protestant Churches United—Sermon by Rev. J. W. Beard.

That the public school system of the United States was the new Plymouth Rock of this country was brought out by Rev. John W. Beard in his sermon at the union services at the Methodist church Thanksgiving-morning. He revealed the history of the old Plymouth Rock of the pilgrim fathers and declared the present strength of the nation was due to it being founded on principles of religious liberty and education.

Mr. Beard was twice heartily applauded when he spoke of the prevalence of strikes in industry and the general dissatisfaction of the times. He declared that all those who were unwilling to obey the laws of this country should right about face and go back to their former homes, where they would either obey the law or be stood up against a wall before a firing squad. In speaking of the demands of labor, he said that Mr. McAdoo's statements about the profits cleared by capital in 1907—were accurate, labor should be given more compensation. Mr. Beard also spoke sharply of the delay of congress in taking action on the peace treaty, pointing out that the soldiers had done enough to end the war in no longer time than congress had taken to accomplish.

The five protestant churches took part in the Thanksgiving service and in his sermon Mr. Beard spoke of the perfect harmony that existed in Wayne between the ministers and congregations of all churches, comparing the denominations to divisions of one army. Each of the ministers conducted a part of the service.

Special Thanksgiving music was rendered by a large union choir, which sang two anthems. Misses Fernie and Frances Oman, who attend the university and study music in Lincoln, sang a duet.

Barn and Smoke-House Burn. A barn and smokehouse belonging to W. A. Stewart burned early Thursday morning and a considerable amount of hay was destroyed. A team of horses, a cow and other stock were saved, as well as a supply of corn. The cause of the fire is not definitely known, although it started in the smokehouse, where an oil stove had been burning. Mr. Stewart said he thought he turned out the stove.

The fire was discovered by Mr. Stewart about 2 o'clock Thursday morning. By the time the fire department arrived, the blaze had spread to the hay. After the fire in the building was out, the stream of water was left on the burning hay until 8 o'clock in the morning.

When Your Battery is Tested

Have you ever wondered just what the battery man does when he tests your battery? You know the test should be made frequently but do you know why? When we start Mr. Gurton of the local Willard Service station to answer this question for our readers, you said "let me try to talk in words of one syllable and try to keep away from technical terms."

The hydrometer test simply weighs the battery solution. We take the weight of distilled water as a standard and call it "1." Sulfuric acid weighs more than water, so that when it is added to water, as it is to make the battery solution, the solution will naturally weigh more than the original water. It is this increased weight which we measure. If the battery is properly charged, the battery solution should weigh one and 28-100 times as much as water. This weight is called specific gravity. When a battery is discharged, the acid leaves the solution and enters the plates which makes the solution lighter or nearer the weight of the water.

When a battery is charged, the acid leaves the plates, enters the solution and makes it heavier. Therefore when we weigh the solution (to test the battery) and find that it weighs 1.280 times as much as water, it shows that the battery is fully charged. If, however, for instance it weighs 1.170 times as much as water, it shows that the acid is in the plates and not in the solution; therefore the battery is discharged.

Remember that you cannot charge the battery by adding acid. The original acid is still in a discharged battery. It is in the plates and must be driven back into solution by charging from an outside source. So you see if you add acid to your battery, you will have more than you should have in there which will cause damage.

There are just two things which a car owner can safely do to a battery lined with Mr. Gurton. He can add distilled water to a point a half inch above the plates, and he can weigh the battery solution himself with a hydrometer syringe. We will be glad to do this for him without charge but I would like to warn every car owner in Wayne, Neb., against trying to do anything else with his battery." d4d4d

Damage Suit for $5,000 Over Creek—Course Near Randolph.

Carl Thaden of near Randolph, has sued Jacob Volkert, his neighbor—for $5,000 damages alleged to be sustained as a result of the defendant disturbing the natural flow of the creek that passes through his land. A few years ago Mr. Volkert straightened the crooked path of the stream so that he has been able to raise three good crops where in past years the land was overflowed and washed out. Mr. Thaden claims that this change caused the creek to overflow his land and damage his property.

Miss Bernice Mitchell of Helden, a former teacher in Lausel, has left for Calcutta, India, to be married to Joel Campbell, who is connected with the Remis Ink company. A new branch of this business is to be established in China and Mr. Campbell will probably be manager of it.

The Cedar County News recounts the unusual situation of a man who thought he was a citizen and found that he was not. William F. Schwerin of Helden will appear in district court to ask that he be declared a citizen. He came to America from Germany with his father when a little boy. He believed his father became a naturalized citizen when he was still in infancy and under this impression, he voted and was elected to office as county commissioner. Mr. Schwerin's citizenship was later questioned by a government naturalization agent and no record could be found of the naturalization of his father. Instead of applying for naturalization in the usual manner, Mr. Schwerin comes into court with the claim that he has believed himself a citizen, has performed the duties of one and holds allegiance to no other country. He asks that the court declare him a citizen.

The brakeman on a freight train was caught when he was unloosening the coupling in Elger last week, and the cars ran over his leg, crushing it badly. He was taken to the hospital where a transfusion of blood was made and his leg amputated. His condition was so serious that it was doubtful whether or not he would live.

The mayor of Pierce has appointed a committee of three as a local commission to see that whatever coal received by the dealers is distributed where it is most needed and to find ways to conserve fuel. The appointment was made at the request of the dealers. The public in Pierce is urged by the mayor to burn wood or an artificial fuel, such as coal, as an emergency measure to prevent the necessity of closing schools, churches and public meeting places.

Efforts are being made in Bloomfield to prevent any more floods by sidetracking and straightening the creek channel. A ditching machine is being used for this purpose and the channel is being made wide enough to carry a big supply of flood water, according to the Bloomfield Monitor.

Peter Seiffert of Norfolk, was innocently killed Wednesday evening of last week when the Bonesteel passenger train crashed into the truck in which the young man was riding. He was going to work with two other men and they were crossing the track where freight cars on the sidings obstructed the view. A local man who was driving the truck said he heard no whistle or any signal to stop. The truck approached the train and the driver of the truck and threw Seiffert out, crushing his skull. The prompt action of Cochran in turning the truck around saved the lives of the other two men. The train probably saved his other companion's and his own life.

The boys in the high school in Allen, under the direction of the superintendent, have installed a complete wireless outfit for receiving messages. They will take the government weather report from Washington each afternoon, but will not be able to send messages.

Tires, top, cushions, suspension and other everything but the motor and chassis of a Ford car belonging to Chris Nelson of Wisner, were stolen when he was forced to leave the machine in a lane. He had trouble with it on his way home Saturday night and finally pushed it into a lane and went home in another car. When he returned the next morning thieves had stripped the Ford of everything that could be carried away.

In Eight Words. The South Dakota law governing presidential primaries stipulates that each candidate for state delegate must make a statement of his policies and keep it within eight words. South Dakota may be neither busy nor bored. It may be merely wise. A candidate might disguise his opinion in 8,000 words, but he cannot in eight. He must say something. In brevity the language becomes a vehicle of expression. In prolixity it can become the method of suppression. The necessity of putting it over in eight words or less may drive some of the candidates to the familiar quotations: "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute." One word had to be dropped. There is a statement of policy which we suspect will get the candidate who will carry two votes in South Dakota. "Never had the old flag down."

HERE'S where the particular smoker meets the particular smoke—Chesterfield.

Particular is right! Not only do we use the four choicest varieties of Turkish tobacco—Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoon—but to these we add the rich, sun-ripened leaves of specially choice Domestic tobacco.

Fine as these tobaccos are, it's the exclusive process by which they are blended that gives to Chesterfields that satisfying body, that mellow richness which makes a smoke mean something.

Chesterfields certainly do satisfy as no other cigarette has satisfied you before—and to top it off, they are packed in a glassine paper package that preserves for you all that delicious flavor.

Lightly and gently to smoke.

A Newspaper Bargain

Buy Now and Beat Rising Costs

Although daily newspapers in all parts of the country are increasing subscription rates in order to meet the heavy increase in the cost of print paper, the Sioux City (Ia.) Tribune still is taking orders at the old price of $4.00 per year. There is no assurance that the present rate can be maintained after the first of the year, however, and The Tribune management feels disposed to issue due warning to old subscribers and prospective new subscribers.

No decision has yet been made to increase the price, and everything possible will be done to avoid that step, but conditions at the present time present problems that cannot be ignored by any business institution.

The increased cost of print paper, as announced by the Minnesota and Ontario Paper company—from which source both Sioux City papers receive their news print—will amount to something more than $135,000 for the year 1920. This increase is over and above the increased cost of $150,000 for print paper on account of advances in paper prices during the past 18 months.

As based upon print paper contracts for 1920, the net cost of the white paper in a year's subscription (312 issues) is more than $5.00. Were daily newspapers priced in the same manner as other commodities—cost of production, plus profit—the price of a year's subscription would be multiplied many times over quotations of the present day. It is the general theory of newspaper making, however, to make advertising revenues cover part of subscription costs and this theory now is working to the benefit of those who are securing daily newspapers for less than the cost of white paper.

While not prepared at the present time to make a definite statement as to subscription rates after January 1, 1920, The Tribune management frankly advises both old subscribers and prospective new subscribers to take advantage of the existing $4.00 rate before January 1. Rates will not be lower next year. They may be higher.

Profiteers Must Be Retained.

Webster City Freeman Journal: The government is doing all it can to protect the public against the results of a protracted coal strike. After the strike is over and the men return to work the matter of protecting the people against the exorbitant demands of the operators ought to be taken up. Some legal means must be devised to stop profiteering in all commodities. One of the chief causes of the unrest throughout the country is the general belief that much profiteering is being practiced. Workmen feel that they are entitled to a fair part of what the public is made to pay and they are right in that. It is no easy job that confronts the nation to enforce justice, but a way must be found to protect the public against the greed of conscienceless profiteers. It will take time to work out the effective plans, but that way and means will be devised to meet the issue there can be no doubt. The square deal must be enforced if the institutions of America are to be perpetuated.

Not Worth the Cost.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: The direct cost of the war is placed at nearly $200,000,000,000 so say nothing of the loss of human lives. And what was the value received?

The Place for the Reds.

Washington Post: Lost by Germany in the world debate, the Solomon Islands, the last home of the cannibals, is the place for the proper assimilation of the I. W. W. reds.

Plainly He is 'In Bad.'

Minneapolis Journal: The Mexican government points out to the United States that Consul Jenkins merely underwent 'preventive detention; then a formal imprisonment of seventy-two hours,' and then was "Regularly re-arrested." Anyhow he was "in bad."

Wholl Be Policeman?

Kansas City Star: Bulgaria has now signed the peace treaty, and nothing remains but to make her observe it, which experience unfortunately shows is the larger end of the job.

More of the Same, Please.

Washington Post: The coal operators accuse Billy McAdoo of the crime of playing politics, and disclose their profits. Give us more of this brand of politics!

Surely an Emergency.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: Ships that are allowed to carry liquor under the British flag will probably be regarded as belonging to the Emergency fleet corporation.

Worse Things Might Happen.

Omaha World Herald: Some things could cause a more copious flow of tears than an authoritative announcement that Carranza had been ousted.

One of the Most Important Inventions Developed Since Phonographic Reproduction Became a Reality

This is the statement of James C. Kelsey, America's foremost consulting expert on electrical apparatus, after he completed an examination of the Morrison Electro-Magnetic Reproducer, an exclusive feature of the Cathedral Phonograph

The invention holds the player faithful to the record always—the first application of an electro-magnetic principle for this purpose.

A second invention, the Rodgers All-Record Tone Arm, adds to the Cathedral's superiority, because it makes possible the reproduction of the fullest tonal values of any disc record.

Handsome cabinets of beautiful woods give the Cathedral an appearance in keeping with its position of leadership.

All models have been specially designed and copyrighted, that you may be sure of the individuality of your phonograph.

Selection is to be had from Period Styles in Cabinet and Console Types. The William and Mary Console illustrated is an example of a distinctive Cathedral model.

Delivery Will Come About

Gentlemen: Please send me descriptive literature about the Cathedral phonograph.

To Distribute Foodstuffs.

Lincoln, Nov. 28.—Formation of co-operative associations throughout the state, as planned by Governor McKelvie last week, soon will be started. The governor is having printed some pamphlets containing the laws regarding the forming of associations of this kind which will be in the hands of George A. Williams, chief of the bureau of markets and marketing for distribution. Speaking of the matter Mr. Williams said:

"The movement is in the interest of all the people and not for any one class. The question of the distribution of foodstuffs is at the present time a vital one. The enormous spread between the prices received by the producer and that paid by the consumer is a continual source of agitation and irritation. Organized efforts made by the consumer to secure the fancy retail price exacted of the consumer and similar effort on the part of the producer to obtain foodstuffs at the prices paid to producers have alike failed of satisfactory results."

According to Chief Williams it is the purpose of the bureau of markets and marketing to bring these two classes together and establish if possible a bond of mutual interest. The co-operative laws passed by the legislature in its last regular session make such a work possible and place in the hands of the people in large measure the solution of the problem. That food stuff can be secured at reasonable prices by the consuming public is evidenced by the fact that already there have been offered to the bureau of marketing some of the best quality of beans, prunes and honey at prices that are attractive.

The services of the bureau of markets and marketing are offered to the people of any town or community in the state and such services may be secured by application to the department.

Women and Politics.

Lincoln Journal: Men are prone these days to reckon their politics without the host of women who are hereafter to participate in political decisions. The men have been assuming, perhaps, that the women would vote as their husbands did. Have they heard from Turkey?

The women have been voting in Turkey the way the population of Turkey that the country now contains, according to reports made to Shieh Sulei, three women to every two men. At first thought this would not seem a serious matter to a country committed as Turkey is to polygamy. But here enters the cost of living has been increased by the war in Turkey as everywhere else. Any American house of a family knows that this is an important matter to a man with one wife. How about the Turk with an authorized limit of four? His situation has become unendurable. Men formerly able to maintain their full quota of wives have been compelled by poverty to retrench and now content themselves with one. It is even rumored that the sultan has felt obliged to cut down his harem. The upshot is a Turkey with millions of bachelor maids. Turkish women as a result of the war are at almost as great a discount as German maids. Turkish men are at a corresponding premium.

We refer to this Turkish situation as an example of a difference in view point and interest on one matter which would annul a politician's expectation that women will vote as their husbands do. The war in Turkey and the case is the same in England, France and Germany. It left millions of women without husbands or the hope of husbands. These can't well vote as their husbands do. And one can see how, in matters of peace, for instance, even husbands and their wives might take opposite views. The different effects upon the two sexes of a war makes this entirely probable.

The statesmen who are now making up next year's political issues and picking next year's candidates would better look carefully into this matter of the women's point of view. It may make a difference, for example, if there is allowed to be a change in the law which would make a difference when it comes to voting on the degree to which we are to make this a military country.

Liquor Found Near Bloomfield. Bloomfield, Neb., Nov. 26.—Ninety quarts of perfectly good liquor were discovered in the attic of the Keger school near Bloomfield by a number of children who spent a stormy day when the teacher failed to arrive, playing Indian and investigating all of the secret basins and lockers in circulation but no settling had been disturbed. Little was thought of the matter. The youngsters decided to rehide the liquor and tell their parents. They reported the facts at home and the Knox county sheriff and county attorney were soon on the job and took the golden liquid to Center where it was locked up. The usual legal steps will be taken for its confiscation as the owner is not likely to claim the liquor which is estimated to be worth, at prevailing prices, around $1,500.
