First Cost

We can't compete for battery business on price.

Willard Service does cost more, so does a Willard Battery. But in the long run, if you hire a fitter, engineer, or architect, or contractor, or carpenter, or mechanic, or doctor, or lawyer, that it saves in the long run.

We're in business to do the job right the first time—and that costs more than to fix it so it has to be done over again soon after.

When we sell a Willard Battery with Threading Rubber Insulation we charge more for it, but it doesn't come back for re-insulation with a big bill to you. It stays on the job till it's delivered all the service you bought—and generally a lot more than you'd expect to get.

Try it once—and you'll find the same as 99% of all who own Willard Batteries with Threading Rubber Insulation.

Drop in, glad to see you.

BAZAAR TOTALS $171.79

To Use Proceeds for Community House—Club Incorporated.

The Wayne Woman's club conducted a very successful bazaar Saturday, December 13, in the basement of the library, with proceeds totaling $171.79. Members responded generously and readily with donations for the bazaar. An excellent display of needlework was contributed. Besides the needlework, there were other means of attracting interest. The clever fortune telling of Mrs. S. A. Lutgen and Mrs. A. B. Cahart, drew the attention of many visitors. It is seldom that the weather permits fishing in the winter, but at this bazaar the fishing season attracted much attention, and all who fished made a catch. In the beauty parlor, conducted by Mademoiselle Vergine Chapigne, not only was there interest shown, but each was interested in his friend's welfare.

Lunches were an appeal. The lunch served by the Campfire Girls, with Miss Florence Gardner as guardian, during the noon hour and afternoon, attracted special interest. Several members of the Woman's club assisted the girls in serving. The W. C. T. U. organization had charge of the lunch and will receive credit through its county and local units for this work. An excellent display of foodstuffs was donated to the cause.

The bazaar will add a very substantial amount to the fund for the paying of the debt on the opera house property. It is the plan of the club to either work or remove the building now on the site as soon as possible, and to erect there a National Community House, which will commemorate not only the valor of the Wayne county boys who served in the world war, but will serve as a recreational center for them, and for all of the citizens of Wayne and vicinity, young and old.

Income Tax Returns.
G. W. Loomis, collector of internal revenue, has issued the following for the information of the public:

Income tax returns are due January 1, 1920. The last date of filing will be March 15, 1920. Banks for making returns will be mailed before January 1st to every individual, partnership, and corporation that filed a return for the year 1919, so all will have ample time in which to file complete returns within the time prescribed by law.

Those required to file returns should compile their figures immediately in the close of business December 31, while the transactions of 1919 are all fresh in mind. It will save time for you and all concerned.

Representatives of the Internal Revenue department will visit all towns, where the number of returns filed warrants doing so, to assist taxpayers in making returns. There will be but one visit to each place, and therefore taxpayers are urged to assist themselves of this service. Watch the newspapers for announcement of when the income tax man will be at your nearest town. He will be there only on the dates announced.

We will begin this service promptly on the morning of January 2, 1920. Your town may be the first on the list, so be prepared.

Every single person whose net income is $1,000 and every married person whose net income is $2,000 must make an income tax return. There are penalties for failure to do so.

Those who did not make returns for the year 1918 should request the collector of internal revenue, Omaha, Neb., to send a blank on which to make return. Those who made returns in 1918 will be mailed returns, but should one not be received by January 1, 1920, write the collector to send you one.

The law contemplates that taxpayers make their own income tax, you should avail yourself of the service of the income tax man when he is in your vicinity.

Make your return at the earliest date possible as you may find it convenient to do so later. The Internal Revenue department can render greater and more efficient service if taxpayers will act promptly and record their figures in advance. If you want an income tax man to help you make out your return, have your figures and books of account with you. It will save time.

The general smashing and final wind-up of the year, for yesterday were probably delayed on account of the weather.

Attorney General Mitchell A. Palmer has announced his intention to make a determined attack on professed and indirectly admitted high cost of living. It is hoped his talk will find expression in effective action.

Sliding is good, and is often substituted for automobile. One man in a sled and another in an automobile were not far apart Monday. Sometimes one was ahead and sometimes the other. A few times the sled had to pull the car out of deep snow.

Now that the strike is over and miners have returned to their jobs let everybody realize that production should be increased following the war. Increased production of a time has been abandoned and normal production has resumed. Increased output along all lines will pull prices down gradually and will prevent any further inflation.

The Christmas season is the time when candies and other sweets, involving sugar, are in greatest demand, but it so happens that sugar is never so scarce as it is at this time now. This is unfortunate and vexing. If anyone has given a detailed long-winded and conclusive explanation of the vegetable stock, we haven't connected with it.

We only know sugar is circulating in small quantities and that the price is so painful a store of sugar. It is hoped by another Christmas sugar will become so plentiful that people will not have to deny themselves the satisfaction of all the candy they want.

In Omaha and Sioux City, the coal strike, a policy which was enforced to deal equally with competing business houses, was really unfair to the public. A theater or other institution serving the public and not using coal or coke, and thus not trespassing on fuel resources, was closed in order to bring the coal strike institutions which were less fortunate.

prospect. People who are inclined to accept the worst, were made miserable until the period when things were scheduled to blow up, and passed. If a man be an astronomer or other savant supposed to specialize in any particular knowledge, it is doubtful if he should be in the line of business with the peace of mind. A doctor will do the most good by keeping fears to himself.

Superstitious people who had figured on the wind coming to an end yesterday were astonished this morning to find things had not gone so smooth. The windup of mundane affairs has been predicted so often that we have lost faith in such prophecies.

We were reminded that we had a "Birds Birthdays" by several appreciated gifts and a thoughtful poem written by Mrs. M. A. Phillips, former principal of the Wayne high school, and at one time employed on the staff of the Herald, now teacher in the city schools of Omaha.

We have often been able to slip over a birthday without anyone knowing it. But this year we didn't. It is one who is anxious to grow old and feel mature. After 40 time speeds too fast, and one imagines himself to be toiling toward the end of a journey too little accomplished. Every year "topped off" of middle life materially reduces power of greatest endeavor and the chance of doing things worth while.

"THY BIRTHDAY." "The winds and snows be wild, "And life be full and gay, "May life be calm and mild. "On this, thy natal day.

"Tho' years speed as on wings, "And age comes on apace, "Thy memory fondly clings, "To childhood's time and place.

"Dear Father, strong and true, "Sweet Mother, patient kind, "This all they pray for, "Today you'll call to mind.

"And as you see the years "While future prospect cheers "May you find their hopes come true.

"May the years that lie before "Be rich in love and peace; "Each bring of joys full store "Till life on earth shall cease.

Dec. 12, 1919. Mrs. M. A. Phillips.

CONFLICTING REPORTS. Facts in the soft coal fields, says Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger as quoted by the Literary Digest. The Digest quotes from the Springfield Republican: "As matters stand, the facts upon which permanent settlement must be based are not known, and there is wide disagreement among those who are concerned in this important controversy, involving every industry and individual in America, the government should ascertain the exact facts and conditions of the situation in a free country like the United States, governed by the whole people. There is too much concealment or confusion of mind of the majority of taking the public into full confidence. More publicity is essential. With disagreeing reports it is impossible for the people to arrive at impartial judgment and do justice to all directly concerned.

The Digest quotes this from the Springfield Republican: "That part of the public that has looked into the mining situation with any care does not ask the miner why he works only two hundred days in a year. He works when the mine is open. Frequently the operators close the mine entirely, and other times they work them all half time only; yet the miner cannot leave the fields for other employment, for he does not know when the mine will open again. One way it may be operating, while the next it may be shut down entirely.

"President Compton of the American Federation of Labor, charged some time ago that the operators kept the mines closed to keep the prices up, and that miners suffered enforced idleness as a consequence. The operators vigorously denied this, admitting that the mines were frequently closed during the winter because of the shortage of railroad cars and the refusal of the public to buy except at certain seasons. The whole contention of the miners for their shorter working day is that they will be employed regularly rather than intermittently.

quotation from a statement issued by the coal operators of the Central Competitive Trade Association. In connection with the earnings of the men under the present scale, it should be quite clearly understood that only about 20 or 25 per cent of men work steadily. A recent report of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that pig-miners in 1919 are earning only $4.5 per cent of the money they could have earned if they had worked steadily during the days the mines were offering them work.

APPROPRIATION. We were reminded that we had a "Birds Birthdays" by several appreciated gifts and a thoughtful poem written by Mrs. M. A. Phillips, former principal of the Wayne high school, and at one time employed on the staff of the Herald, now teacher in the city schools of Omaha.

The official figures of the Department of Labor show that the men can increase their earnings from 15 to 25 per cent, merely by working steadily on the days when the mines are offering them work.

With such conflicting reports and without due inquiry and full publicity on the part of the government, how can the public draw just conclusions?

YOUR LAST CHANCE This Year to buy a Real Farm at Your Own Price. NW 1-4 Sec. 32, Twp. 27, R. 7, W 6th P. M. AT AUCTION Tuesday, December 23, 1919 Free Lunch at Noon. Sale After Lunch.

DESCRIPTION. In buying a farm, the first thing for the buyer to consider is soil. We offer here a farm with a deep, rich, black loam with just enough sandy surface to hold moisture well, and having a good CLAY subsoil. The surface lies level to gently rolling, with an eastward slope, and is easily farmed. About 100 acres of the best farm land in the county that will produce any crop grown in northeast Nebraska. Corn on this farm this year averaged 40 bushels per acre. Aside from the corn and small grain and alfalfa were grown, 20 acres of good pasture well provided with a nice ash grove for protection to stock and watered by windmill and well of soft water.

Being unable to farm on account of poor health, I am going to offer the above farm and my personal property at public auction on above date. The Live Stock listed below represents only one-half of the amount of stock usually kept on this farm. My son and I for some time past have been operating this farm together, each owning a half interest. The offered here is my part and will without reserve. My son has other land and is going for himself, and because of my illness coupled with my advanced age prompts me to sell, and I will sell on such good terms that will give some younger and more able-bodied man an excellent opportunity.

IMPROVEMENTS. Are nearly new and are nicely located in the protection of the grove, farm is so fenced that fields and pasture are conveniently located. House has six rooms and bath, barn which will hold six to eight head horses, a good cow barn with stanchions, crib, hog house, chicken house, garage. This constitutes the improvements, and while not really large, they are new and well built.

LOCATION. Better located farms are few and seven and one-half miles to Orchard, a town of 800 population; five and one-half miles to Royal, both of which are thriving business points, and are on the Burlington railroad to Sioux City, with Live Stock and Grain markets known to the world, a distance of about 120 miles; fifteen miles from Neligh, Neb. county seat of Antelope county, and seven miles to Clearwater, Neb. both of which are on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, the main line from the Black Hills country to Omaha, Neb., the greatest market for all farm products.

LEGAL NUMBERS are N. W. 1-4, Section 32, Township 27, Range 7, west of the 6th principal meridian.

One feature of this farm is the excellent terms that are obtainable. 10 per cent of the purchase price on date of sale; 40 per cent due March 1, at which time deed and title are transferred to the purchaser. The balance of 50 per cent may be carried back on the purchase as the purchaser so desires, with interest at 6 per cent for five or ten years.

EXTRAS. In addition to the farm, the following articles will be sold at the same time: Five good milk cows coming in soon; one White Face calves; thirteen fine shoats; twenty acres of good corn in field; fifteen acres of fall seeding of rye in field; some millet in stack; some corn in the shock; three dozen chickens; household furniture, and other articles too numerous to mention. Also one span of 5-year-old jenny mules. D. A. POLLOCK, Owner. A. J. SCHULTZ, Auctioneer. Col. C. E. Magnus, Auctioneer. J. C. Ferguson, Clerk.

MR. FARMER. If you wish to have your money on Real Estate Mortgage Security earning Six Per Cent Interest, per annum, and free from Personal Taxes in Nebraska, and from the Normal Federal Income Taxes, see Mr. B. W. Wright, Agent. Wayne, Nebraska.

Mrs. Julius Bieschke and Mrs. Floyd Carroll of Randolph spent Wednesday with Miss Florence Bieschke at the Wayne State Normal. Miss Dorothy Carroll accompanied them home.

to the Patrons of Wayne Postoffice.

Beginning Thursday, December 18, and ending Wednesday, December 24, the postoffice will be open, for the dispatch and delivery of parcels, most until 9 p. m. Parcels will be handled at the usual place, that is, the side door.

In regard to the preparation for mailing of Christmas parcels, I wish to again make the following suggestions:

1st. Be sure you have your parcels properly addressed, with your return in the upper left hand corner.

2nd. Wrap them securely with heavy twine, and be sure they are properly sealed.

3rd. Mail them early, especially since the train service is limited. Parcels may be marked "Do not open before Christmas," on the address.

4th. Place your Christmas seals on the back of the parcels, never on the front side. Do not seal parcels unless intended for first-class mail.

Our cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

A Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all.—C. A. Barry, Postmaster.

Wage Scale for Preachers.

Omaha Bee: In one of his illuminating discourses Rev. Billy Sunday called attention to the fact that preachers fight an even more in-fictitious minutes than a country parson can earn in fifteen years. That this is true is no credit to our profession. A more immediate instance is brought to light at Pelee, N. Y., where the pastor of a large and wealthy church is unable on that fact to close out his salary. The congregation pays him $1,000 a year, and he earns double that amount in his salary. No objection would ordinarily lodge against this, but the fact that a strike is on against the hat factory, and the preacher is working at a strike breaker gives it a tinge of unusual interest. His congregation, which contains many of the striking workmen, is indignant at his course, but he justifies it by pointing out that he can not live on $1,000 a year any more than can the strikers. The parson has the better of this argument. Salvation is free, but a minister of the gospel deserves and should have a living wage for his work. If the pastor's congregation is on strike against wages double the amount allowed him, what answer can it make to him? If a preacher is not worth a living wage to his congregation, he is not worth anything. Church members do not care to realize this ought to be a short course in economics.

Sugar Situation Still Bad

Very little beet sugar coming to this market. Jobbers say the refineries accept orders, but are very slow filling orders.

Southern Clarified Cane Sugar

In the absence of beet sugar we are able to secure a limited amount of clarified cane sugar from the south. This is high in price and not up to standard in quality. We do not encourage the sale of this sugar. We simply use it as an emergency item to provide patron with sugar who are entirely out. The price is 23 cents per pound which is within bounds of government restriction. By January 1 we are promised sugar will be more plentiful. Here's hoping.

Special on Candy, Nuts and Apples; School or Church Entertainments

This store has an unusual large supply of candy, nuts and apples. Purchasing committees will not get other a special discount or an unusual discount in original packages. Please make your inquiries early before stock is depleted.

Coffee Market Strong as "Horse Radish"

If you will say to the clerk: "Please include twenty-five pounds of Basket Store Blend coffee in my order," you will be doing yourself a favor to the extent of at least $2.00 on the purchase. We cannot replace our present stock of bulk coffee for ten per cent more and many jobbers have no coffee to offer. European demands have exhausted the major portion of present coffee crop. An advance of twenty per cent would be no surprise? We desire to impress you with the importance of buying a supply of coffee and DO NOT WAIT. Our prices of 47 cents on Basket Store Blend in twenty-five pound lots must advance after present stock is depleted.

Don't Wait Until Flour Goes $1.00 Higher

People realize more and more every day that Lincoln or Pillsbury flour has got 'em all cheapest on quality and our quantity price is less than present replacement price. It's our advice to buy flour and by enough to last until wheat is milled next year. Don't wait until flour goes to $1.00 per sack. Best advice say it will be that high before March 1. Better be safe than sorry—so come in and let's talk flour. We have both quality and price to offer.

How About Christmas Orders?

All Orders for $5.00 or More Delivered Free

It's rarely you will find a store which affords the complete assortment this store offers. Everything in season and many items unprepared. Our volume of business is so large turnovers are quick and fresh goods are arriving daily. We buy and sell for strictly cash which affords buying power for cash which results is better values, and goods that are well bought are always easily sold. This store renders an unequalled service in quality and price. We extend no credit. All orders of $5.00 or over delivered free.

Syrup in Case Lots

Southern cane sugar, not the best quality, is selling in small lots at 24c per pound. Syrup will surely advance in sympathy with sugar. Ordinary corn syrup will be selling for 25c per cent advance in the very near future. Buy a supply of syrup while you may secure it at a reduced price.

King-Nut Margerine

Is not sold as a butter substitute. It's sold on its merits and the Kellogg Manufacturing company maintains King-Nut has merits unequalled by butter or any other brand of Margerine. There is as much difference in various brands as there are grades of butter. King-Nut sells on its individual merits and every sale is backed by a money-back guarantee. Just because you may have tried some other brand of margerine without satisfaction is no indication you would not like King-Nut King-Nut without doubt, is the most popular demand in Wayne. It sells for less than one-half the price of creamy butter and it's better. Your money is ready for you if it's not better. Yes, if it fails to please, just return the empty can and receive full purchase price.

Every-day butter is losing ground and King-Nut is winning. It's not unusual for farmers to sell their cream and buy King-Nut.

Battery Dependability

The war proved conclusively the great importance of the motor car. It also proved the importance of the starting and lighting battery. On a vast number of cars used by American officers in the field of operations the was used as the power supply for automobile starting and lighting.

The "Exide" will serve you just as faithfully as it served the United States Government in time of war. Made by the largest maker of storage batteries in the world, the "Exide" Battery represents the last word in storage battery design and manufacture. The "Exide" costs most to make, but least to use. Come in and let us show you why the "Exide," that is made to meet the specific demands of your starting and lighting is the right battery for your car.

There will be no school at the Wayne College on Christmas day. With this exception, the school work will continue through the holidays without interruption.
 Snow fell Sunday and Monday to the depth of four or five inches, preventing corn husking. Considerable corn yet remains in the field, but little of it will be lost.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wright celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary December 15, at their home, southeast of Wayne. Friends from Wayne and the vicinity were present for the evening. Some Christmasware was presented the happy couple.

Messrs. Bailey and Brockman of the Y. M. C. A. organization, conducted a meeting Saturday at the college for the benefit and instruction of the men of the Y. M. C. A. That meeting, together with the meetings in the past, Sunday proved very beneficial to the young men of the city.

 The student dignitary who has been running the express office for a few weeks past, has been induced to quit and another hand has taken hold of the business. There will be a great improvement, it is to be hoped.
 We never saw in Sioux city, even on circus days, more crowded and busy streets than there were in Ponca on Tuesday afternoon. And yet, so accustomed are we to big crowds, that the rush excited little notice.

Ban Off at Wakefield.

The fuel-saving bans on business were lifted Tuesday afternoon, after they had been in force a little more than one day. They were adopted last week, before the close of the coal miners' strike, but changes in conditions made them unnecessary. They were decided upon more as a measure to prevent a shortage in Wakefield than because the scarcity of fuel had become noticeable. The stores did not open until 9 o'clock in the mornings and closed at 6 o'clock, but beginning Tuesday they remained open after supper.

Death of Joe Turner.

The funeral of Joe Turner who died at his home in Woonsocket, S. D., December 10, was held at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Dittz, in Wakefield, Saturday. Rev. P. M. LIVED UP TO HER MOTTO

Indianapolis Woman Had Made a Rule and Kept It—Not Holding Stand in the Way.

She is one of Indianapolis' most successful business women—and one of its best-natured ones. And her three small nephews identify her quite as much as do her business associates. One afternoon she had a room from which a party—out in the country and a winger and marshmallow lost by the feeling of the cold and the cold. But for two days it rained and on that afternoon it was raining too. The three youngsters piled into her car to get to school. All out of disappointment. But she smiled at them. "Get your waterproofs," she commanded. "Why are we going?" they asked in amazement. "Why, of course," she mimicked their tone. "My car can get over some more than that!"

COGS KNEW THEIR MISTRESS

Woman Who Had Lost Pets Had No Trouble at All in Finding Them.

A happy reunion took place at the union stockyards, Here's Island, Pittsburgh an exchange of glances, late the other evening, when Mrs. T. B. Riley of Fox Chase road, Ottawa township, recalled her four stolen cows, availing their doom at the hands of the executioner. Having a heavy rainstorm the other afternoon the animals were stolen from the pasture and driven to the stockyards and sold—County. The cows had the cows but among the hundreds of other "bossies" were unable to identify them. Mrs. Riley was not far from the cows when she saw a tag she stepped into the big pen a tag among the animals for a time threatened serious consequences. When it had subsided, the detectives who were with Mrs. Riley were pleased to see four of the cows running toward the woman. Brushing their heads against her shoulder, the animals snuggled and nuzzled soft expressions of relief. Overjoyed Mrs. Riley greeted each around the neck in turn, stroking their glossy coats and petting them.

Valuable New Metal

A new invention, called conducting aluminum, which is said to be creating a profound impression, has been made by Dr. George Gilfillan, the most famous in the world. The United States Consul Philip Holland, Basel, Switzerland, in a recent report. This new metal is produced by purifying the metal aluminum with a special patented process, by which it acquires the same mechanical qualities and properties as bronze, copper and brass. It is said that the price of the new metal can be kept within very low limits, so that even at the present prices of other metals it will be able, by reason of its special specific weight, to compete with copper and brass very favorably. The fact that the new metal is a conductor will make it especially in demand in the electrical trade.

Valuable Tool Chest

War created many ingenious devices, developed in the line of stress to aid the fighting men on the battle-field, but countless of them in the line of peaceful industrial art. One of these is a mobile tool chest, described in Popular Mechanics Magazine. It resembles a foot locker, except in which are packed implements and supplies in great variety and quantity, and is recommended for building contractors, farmers, and builders and others who require a complete, easily moved tool chest. Among the articles packed in the box are: saws, mattocks, axes, hammers, pliers, wrenches, extra hands for axes and picks, chains, nails and wire, handles—nails, oil.

Cleaning Rusted Tools.

Efflow grease is usually the best thing to use when cleaning rust from steel, but the following manager has also been suggested: Fasten the steel tightly to a piece of zinc by means of wire and place it in a jar containing water to which sulphuric acid has been added. Leave it there until the rust has disappeared. If the article is very rusty add a little more acid from time to time. The process by which the rust is removed is electrical. The steel being in contact with the zinc short-circuited battery cells are formed, and the rust is reduced to iron again by electro-chemical action. The steel will become darkened by the process, but will regain its brightness if rubbed with sweet oil or a mixture of petrolatum and kerosene.

At an Indiana high school the other day the athletic society was putting season tickets for ball games on sale. One of the most popular boys in the senior class came up to the desk at which the tickets were being sold, bought two, had his name inserted in the blank on one of the tickets and then reached for the tickets.

"But you haven't told us whose name to write on the other ticket," protested the ticket seller, "and the rules of the association require that all ticket purchasers have their names on their tickets."

Now, the senior had planned to give the ticket to a girl, but he jested to several girls. "Well," he jested, "if you would like to write something in that blank, just write anonymous."

New and Stronger Bricks.

More substantial walls may be constructed with a new type of brick, patented not so long ago by a retired soldier from the southwest, and known as self-healing and interlocking. The inventor states—On one side of each brick are two circular, bowl-shaped bosses, while on the reverse side, in the same relative positions, are two depressions into which the bosses fit exactly. The brick is recommended for domes or arches, chimneys or hollow walls.—From Popular Mechanics Magazine.

$30,000 Fire at Neligh

Neligh, Neb., Dec. 15.—A $30,000 fire started in the garage of J. C. Wins Sunday afternoon between 5 o'clock and 6 o'clock and destroyed the building and damaged to the extent of $25,000 and the building to the extent of about $5,000. The fire was caused by the failure of a machine, and although there were several men in the building at the time, it was impossible to extinguish the fire with patent extinguishers.

The fire department was called, but the chemicals apparently did not get and until two streams of water were turned on, the fire remained unchecked. A second decay was caused as the hose reached only within a half block of the fire and although six months ago the fire department purchased 300 feet of new hose, it had not been wound on the cart, and was taken to the scene of the fire in fifty-foot lengths.

This is the third fire in garages in Neligh in five years. The Winn garage is one of the best in town. Most of the automobiles were owned by private men and, although they were not destroyed, the tires and upholstery were burned off. The auto house of Skinner Bros. was removed.

Among the automobiles damaged with the greatest loss were those of Dr. M. F. Hall, H. A. Wright, M. B. Mallory and E. S. Seofield.

BISHOP SPEAKS IN WAYNE

Appreciative Audience Hears Him at Wayne Normal Auditorium

Bishop Homer E. Stuntz of Omaha lectured in the auditorium at the Wayne State Normal. Stuntz's night before a large audience. His subject, "Educating Half the World," he treated from his own experience, when he was for many years a teacher and traveler in the Orient. Mr. Stuntz declared that the greater part of the people of the earth are in total darkness as far as education was concerned.

Bishop Stuntz gave credit to church schools for the first steps toward spreading education in South America and the Orient. He ended his talk with a stirring appeal to all teachers to do all in their power to scatter knowledge and extend education. The eagerness with which people drink in knowledge was shown by the progress made in the school. Bishop Stuntz said the first school in South America was established in 1879 in Argentina by a graduate of Northwestern University.

The importance of the United States as a leader in extending education was pointed out in the audience toward the Philippines. Bishop Stuntz was in the Philippines when Taft as governor called upon him to extend education to the island teachers. More than the number responded and the lecturer declared the progress since then had been more than Spain had accomplished in the 375 years that country had controlled the islands.

Japan is today as militant as Prussia ever was, the bishop said. He explained this by the fact that 65,000,000 people are living in a country with no more tillable land than Iowa has. He suggested that the nations of the world could better afford to buy a country in which the Chinese could expand than allow Japan to seize land by force. Education in Japan has been made compulsory through the university and the literacy is now 90 per cent.

The Chinese have mapped out a stupendous program of education, Bishop Stuntz said. They would make that country a power to be reckoned with and which would in all probability take the labor situation in the United States. He spoke of the earnestness of the scholars in China in preparing for this educational campaign.

Mr. Stuntz told of the progress of education in other oriental countries. He pointed out that the spread of Mohammedan religion tended to check education, and gave figures to show the many more Mohammedan priests being trained than Protestant ministers. He also showed that without the church schools the government schools could not accomplish their work in Nebraska. The bishop's visit to Nebraska received favorable comment from Bishop Stuntz, who said this state ranked higher in literacy than any political unit on the globe.

Another War? Nebraska Farmer Reports which have been coming from the state department at Washington, and from a special committee appointed by the United States congress to look into the Mexican situation are not very promising of a peaceful termination of our difficulties with that country. For years we have heard of any land that the helix expressed, always with regret, that it will probably be necessary sooner or later for the United States to go into Mexico and clean up a nasty situation.

The difficulty down there is that they have no population. Back of that, however, is that they have no civilization. There is a very large percentage of illiteracy in the country and the population contains a mixture of Spanish and Indian blood.

The people are not without ability and they are not without cunning. Properly educated they would be able to do direct energies that Mexico would be one of the important and influential world centers. It does not seem possible for any one faction to remain seated long enough to put reforms into effect. There are many outlaws and the leaders of these gather about themselves bands of disreputable, uneducated citizens. The geography of the country is such that they cannot operate from the northern and western parts and therefore the United States often has to suffer from their lawlessness.

Because the government of Mexico is inefficient, and perhaps has been recently that is not counting at heart than the roving bandits, it becomes very difficult indeed for a long suffering neighbor to maintain patience and peace.

Let us hope that a solution to the difficulty will be found without resorting to intervention. At this writing, however, it looks as if intervention is the only method of straightening out the tangle. We are likely to be plunged into a new war before we are out of the old.

Burlison Half Truth. St. Paul Pioneer-Press: Mr. Burlison should remember that a half truth is even worse than a full lie. He boasts that the postoffice department has avoided a deficit, but neglects to state that it also has avoided efficiency.

Fire Without Heat. B. L. T. in the Chicago Tribune: The coal which the railroads are using is so stink that the engineers on the Northwestern call it "real estate." That's why your train is late.

THE WEATHER STOPS WORK

Frost Makes Suspension of Storm Sewer Work Necessary.

Work on the storm sewer has been discontinued until spring and the tiles are being taken out of the gutters and stored on a vacant lot. Dillon, who has been supervising the work on the streets, said the frost was so deep it was impossible to finish the few remaining blocks now. He said the trenches would be covered and made safe for traffic. The tile not yet laid will be removed from the streets so as not to interfere with water running through the gutters.

Mr. Dillon has received parts of the walking dredge, which was shipped recently from Jefferson City, Mo., and expects to bring it down soon. The small brass parts which might be stolen in transit were sent to him separately. The dredge will be used to widen the open ditch at the top, to prevent the sides caving in. Mr. Dillon said he did not think the frost would interfere with work to be done by this machine, and J. B. Katz, the head of the construction company agreed with him when Mr. Katz was in Wayne last week.

"Kodak King" Has Real "Wad." Boston Post: George Eastman at heart than the roving bandits, it becomes very difficult indeed for a long suffering neighbor to maintain patience and peace.

Let us hope that a solution to the difficulty will be found without resorting to intervention. At this writing, however, it looks as if intervention is the only method of straightening out the tangle. We are likely to be plunged into a new war before we are out of the old.

The President's Refusal. Mitchell Republican: Senator Lodge acts miffed because the President will not accept the proffer of the senate committee on foreign relations to handle the Mexican affair. Perhaps the president thought it would be done by this machinery, as shown on the peace treaty.

Fairbury News: To insure advertising in this paper, it will be necessary to get your copy in early in the week—or at least to contract for the space you expect to use, so that we may arrange to carry it. Help if prices are high and the price goes away beyond a reasonable comparative rate with the price charged for advertising, and we cannot afford to run extra pages unless they are well filled with advertising to illustrate. Last week at the beginning of the week we did not apprehend a great demand on our advertising space and we prepared to run only twelve pages. Later in the week we were forced to turn away about two pages of advertising that we could have made arrangements to accommodate had we known it earlier. A year or so ago we would have started the week with a 16-page presentation.

At the present cost of issuing extra pages we must know that they are to be filled before taking a chance. You will not only be advancing your own interests, but you will be conferring a great favor upon us if you will endeavor to get your advertising copy to the office earlier in the week.

From Souvenir Edition Man.

Many Wayne people will remember A. C. Gant who was editor and promoter of the souvenir editions of the Wayne Herald and Democrat since July, 1914. Since then Gant has been issuing special editions at different points in the west, and he has frequently dispatched cards to the Herald relating his experiences and observations. The Herald has just received one from him dated at Tucson, Arizona. His latest card, introduced with a newspaper clipping, is sufficiently amusing to warrant publication. It follows:

"Straw vote on whether there is a hell or not was taken at the Methodist church at Grand Junction, Colo., recently and resulted:

"There is a hell 131
 "There is no hell 24
 "Doubtful 12
 "Now that a majority has decided there is such a place, let us proceed with the task of keeping our-
 "Of course this settles the question. However, before accepting this vote as final, I should like to hear an expression from the Presbyterian church. Wouldn't you? Even at that I think everything will work out all right. Is Gardner a Methodist, or a Baptist? No, I remember now, he's a democrat. How's the Herald? Give Mr. Bressler my regards.—Gant.

The Exclusive Party.

Buffalo Enquirer: The communist party does not want democratic editor membership, yet the average communist will appeal to the doctor to bind up his wounds, hire a lawyer to keep him out of jail and beg the editor to keep the affairs out of the newspaper.

THE BLIZZARD LAST WEEK

Snow and Intense Cold Delay Traffic in This Territory.

Norfolk Daily News, Dec. 14: The blizzard which paralyzed rail road traffic all over the north and west portions of the Norfolk territory Friday blew itself out Saturday morning and clear, sunny weather was general everywhere. Passenger service on the main line of the northwestern road was rapidly catching up with the schedule and a wrecker was taking a snow plow out of the snow near Dallas. The plow went on the track after extricating itself from the snow by noon.

Saturday the entire north line of the northwestern road was practically clear and passenger trains, although delayed several hours, were running through from Dallas to Norfolk. The entire line to Winner was expected to be cleared by Saturday night. Freight service which had been snarled because of the storm was again inaugurated Saturday morning.

The blizzard was most severe around Valentine and Chadron and near Butte. The passenger train which was reported stalled at Ell, Neb., and later at Nenzel, Neb., was out of the snow Friday afternoon. The storm hit train service on the west line a hard blow Friday. Passenger train No. 1 was tied up in Norfolk after arriving from the east. U. P. Is Hard Hit.

The Union Pacific line between Norfolk and Columbus was also hit by the storm. Passenger train No. 30 leaving here at 9:30 Friday morning reached Columbus about 8 o'clock Friday evening. The train has been stuck in the snow near Platt Center for several hours and a snow plow was sent to dig it out. The Union Pacific passenger train which was stuck in the snow near Platt Center for several hours and a snow plow was sent to dig it out. The Union Pacific passenger train which was stuck in the snow near Platt Center for several hours and a snow plow was sent to dig it out.

On the M. & O. line between Norfolk and Emerson the snow delayed train service. Passenger trains were sent out behind snow plows and service was about two hours behind schedule. In the Norfolk vicinity warnings of the coming storm were heeded by farmers and no sufferings to stock was reported here. The storm had been scheduled to reach the city some time during the day, but it did not assert itself with the strength it displayed farther west and north. The temperature in Norfolk reached 10 degrees below zero at the lowest point, and Saturday morning found the barometer climbing, indicating clear weather.

Papers from railroad men indicate that west of Atkinson the storm was one of the heaviest of the year and rained in 12-hour tempering nature and with a terrific gale blowing the tracks was exceedingly difficult. Similar reports came from the Lincoln Country but Saturday morning brought calmer, warmer and sunny weather and relief to all the Norfolk territory. Country roads all over the territory were blocked by drifts Saturday morning.

Coal Situation Changes Little. There was little change in the coal situation in the eastern division of the Northwestern Saturday. Some commercial coal was being delivered at some points over the division.

Some coal was being delivered from the Burlington road at Crawford and the Union Pacific was delivering coal to the Northwestern at Fremont. This was destined to points in the South Platte country where some of it was to go west of Norfolk.

Put Into Non-Essential Class. Harrington Herald: During the war, moving picture theaters were considered essential industries and were recognized factors in winning the war, but since the war they have been put back into the non-essential class and are now being treated as such.

Consequently the Lyric can get no coal during the present crisis, but the manager, W. A. Bowker, nothing daunted, is furnishing his own fuel, and the theater is running as usual. Mr. Bowker is heating the theater with wood during the coal shortage, and it is as warm and comfortable as ever. This wood is hauled from St. Helena island and a hard, dry wood. It has to be hauled twenty-two miles, and costs $25 a cord, $15 for the wood and $10 for the hauling.

End of the Coal Strike. Chicago Tribune: A settlement of the coal strike has been reached on terms which will impress any fair-minded man with their reason and justice. The miners are insured a substantial increase of their pay and a thorough investigation of their claims, with a pledge that their wages and conditions of labor will be further amended if such investigation justifies. But this same conclusion ought to have been reached without the sacrifice of millions of dollars to the country. We must grant that mistakes were made on all sides. We make allowance for the fact that the miners had suffered injustice and that conditions in this basic industry had continued long without public protest or official relief. We are theoretically our brother's keeper, and theoretically the public ought to see that economic inequities and social injustices are not allowed to exist in this country. Nevertheless, the public cannot in practice be charged with neglect where conditions are not known and ought not in justice to be held up, as at the point of a gun, to accept as paria claims.

We can understand that the workman believes he ought to have a larger share of the products of enterprise. We can understand his persistent pressure for a division more favorable to him of the proceeds of industry. But when he adopts methods which are rapidly reducing these proceeds to nothing he is hurting himself, and it will be no consolation to him if his employer suffers with him.

We think not only the public but the membership of the United Mine Workers owe a solid debt of gratitude to Mr. Lewis and Mr. Green, who stood out staunchly against the radicals in the union and led the fight for rational settlement and peace. These two leaders have not only saved the country much suffering. They have saved their union. Let the mines have no doubt about that. Had the strikers followed the radical leadership that is bent on overturning the American government, the miners would have a fair share of the proceeds of industry. The American public wanted the miners to have a fair hearing and redress of their real grievances, but if it had come to an issue on the folly of radicalism, the miners would have been a fair and the finished would be the miners' union.

"This is a Pleasant Surprise." Oakley Kean, Crappler: Things a woman does before answering the door bell: Throws two pairs of Willie's shoes into the closet under the stairs, kicks sister's kitchen apron under the front room couch, takes a swipe at the dust on the center table, empties the ash tray, straightens the lace curtains (throws off her kitchen apron, strikes fourteen hairpins in place, takes a dab at her nose with the powder puff, straightens three rugs and then—in a casual way—opens the door and says "Why, good morning."

France's Lesson.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: Having learned that peace without victory is not peace without worry for France seems inclined to eliminate the worry even if the peace has to go with it.

Death of William Zutz

Norfolk Daily News Item:—William Zutz, pioneer of Norfolk, farmer, stock raiser and bank director, died in the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Scammon at Los Angeles, Calif., at 9 o'clock Saturday night. This news came to his son, Ernest Zutz, vice president of the Norfolk and Norfolk State Saturday night, following the return of the son from his father's bedside. The body will be brought to Norfolk and will be buried in this city. Mr. Zutz had been spending the winters in California for the past five or six years and was feeling well until a few days ago. Complications due to old age are the cause of death. He was 84 years old and is survived by his wife, who was at the bedside at the time of death, his son, Ernest, and two daughters, Mrs. R. G. Rohrer of Hoskins, Neb., and Mrs. Soenneken. Another son, Paul Zutz, died about eighteen years ago and his widow lives on the Zutz farm two miles north of Norfolk.

Helps Break Trail

William Zutz was one of the old trail breakers of this territory, an inspiration to the old settlers, a well-educated American and one of the sturdy men who helped develop this rich territory.

He was born in Pommern, Germany in 1835. His father was a professional gardener and a lover of things productive. These ideals were transmitted to the son whose life among Nebraska pioneers developed this fact. In 1860 William Zutz married Miss Louisa Schwerteger. Nine years after this couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at Hoskins.

In 1869 Mr. and Mrs. Zutz broke ties with the fatherland and parents and traveled across the Atlantic arriving in the state of Virginia where Mr. Zutz began his apprenticeship on farms. During the winter months he studied the English language, became an apt scholar and later a fluent master of the language. In April 1870 he went to Omaha, there secured a team and wagon and with his family he drove to Norfolk. He took up a homestead north of the city and cast his lot among the makers of this locality. He went through the hardships of early pioneering and his winter studies on Wagoning, farming helped him materially when it came to transmitting his knowledge to his neighbors. Some of the old men of today were students under Mr. Zutz who occasionally taught school when teachers were scarce.

In 1896 Mr. Zutz decided to farm on a larger scale and took up land near Hoskins where he raised stock and did general farming. Later he sold his farm and engaged in the mercantile business in Norfolk. He has now over six years of hard business life, he retired. He became a director of the Hoskins State bank and for about twenty-five years he was a director of the Norfolk National bank. Although his last years were spent at Hoskins, he was a family figure at Norfolk avenue. He had often told friends that while he lived at Hoskins, he always considered Norfolk his home.

CHURCH CALENDAR

Evangelical Lutheran Church
Sunday school at 10 a. m. Every one ought to be present next Sunday.
Evening worship (English) at 11 a. m.
Saturday, December 20, no school.
Wednesday, December 24, Christmas eve, 6:45 p. m. A hearty invitation is extended to you; please make arrangements to be present.
Thursday, December 25, Christmas morning worship, 10:30.

M. E. Church
(Rev. W. Kilburn, Pastor).
On Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the choir will render a splendid cantata. We invite all of our people to make an effort to be present.
The Sunday school will meet at the usual hour. We hope there will be a large attendance so that our records may not be spoiled.
Owing to the necessary restrictions placed upon the churches we are unable to announce definitely when the children's program will be given.

English Lutheran Church
(Rev. H. Fetteroff, Pastor).
Sunday school convenes promptly at 10 a. m.
The Holy communion will be administered next Sunday evening at 11 o'clock. This will be preceded by a short communion sermon.
It was a great disappointment to the children when they learned that their cantata for Christmas had to be cancelled on account of fuel shortage. But in order to somewhat make up for this loss and not let them pass through the Christmas season without some reminder of its joys, they will meet at 7 o'clock to sing their Christmas carols and receive their treat from the Sunday school.
The pastor will meet his class of catechumens on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

First Baptist Church
(Robert H. Pratt, S. T. M., Minister).
Next Sunday the church will conduct its usual mid-week Christmas program at the hour of the morning worship, 10:30 a. m. This is done in accordance with the agreement made by the ministers with the city council to hold but one service a week until relief in the fuel situation was assured. The program will be given in the main auditorium. A cordial invitation is extended to all the parents of children in the Sunday school to attend and share with us the pleasures of the Christmas season.

The regular Sunday morning worship and Sunday school will be held downstairs for the sake of fuel economy. The services will remain the same in every particular. So soon as conditions warrant the church in asking for additional fuel the meetings will be again held in the auditorium. The temporary inconvenience is for the sake of the community welfare as a whole and we ask you to cheerfully accept it.
If the council permits a Christmas eve program we will hold ours at that time and have the regular Sunday morning service and Sunday school. See notice of the mayor.

Passing the Buck.

Robert T. Small in the Washington Post: When President Wilson told the visiting senators of Friday that the burden of responsibility for the treaty of peace and the league of nations had been shifted to other shoulders than his own and that he was contented to let it rest there for the present, he merely repeated in formal language what he had previously stated more picturesquely to a White House caller. At that time he said:

"Now that the senate has taken the infant from my doorstep, let the senators feed it and nurse it for me."
The difficulty with this proposition is, however, that the senators insist the "child" is not in need of food, but of a little shroud. The senators also certain the treaty is "dead" but the corpse keeps rattling about the senate chamber.

Officially it is lying on the table. However, the senators honed the president would send the "child" the day the new session opened, but the president, notwithstanding the terrible reports as to the infant's condition, seems willing for the time being to leave the poor wail right there on the scabiate table to cast an accusing eye at the wrecking crew and the battalion of death every time they look in its direction.

ORPHANS FROM NEW YORK

Even Adopted by Oakland Families—Other Nearby News.

Eleven orphans, ranging in ages from 3 to 12 years, arrived in Oakland from New York City last week and were adopted by Oakland families. They were brought by Miss Alice A. Bogardus, who is connected with the children's aid society of New York City. The waifs were awarded to those adopting them who furnished satisfactory pledges in care for the children properly and appropriate supervision until they were adopted. Some of the children were disappointed, as there were no enough to go around.

The coal scarcity at Aurora became so acute last week that the city council passed regulations restricting the hours of business and the use of electricity. The picture show was allowed to remain open from 6 to 9 every night, as the council explained that this was the only amusement permitted and was on a commercial basis. The business hours were given from 9 to 5 o'clock except on Saturdays when they were permitted to remain open until 9 o'clock. In every case one-third the usual electric light in all places of business was required, no bright light was required and reductions were allowed only one electric light each. The public schools were closed.

A prolonged law suit of Schwern & Sons v. Andersen was settled in district court in Pierce last week when Judge A. A. Welch instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of $10,200 for Schwern & Sons. This is the second time this case has been brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for less than $3,000. The case is the result of a fire three years ago that destroyed Mr. Andersen's garage. The plaintiffs sued for materials in the building, while the defendant argued the plaintiffs were negligent contractors, were liable for the structure, and the defendant had not accepted the building.

The fire famine in Pierce was broken Monday last week by the arrival of a car of hard coal. When it came, some of the stores were entirely out of coal and the supply in many homes was low. Another car of hard coal arrived later in the week and was distributed under order given by the fuel administrator.

an of Holy Trinity church at Hartington. He explained that the ample supply of coal on hand could be distributed to needy families if wood were used in the church. His appeal was met by the farmers, who volunteered to bring the church with them.

Thieves broke into the depot at Laurel last week and pried open the safe, taking about $25. This is the second time money has been taken from the safe.

Laurel, not wishing to be behind larger places in the establishment has raised $600 to establish a municipal wood yard.

The Official Language. Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 12.—A proposal to amend the constitution designating the "American" language, the official language of the state and prohibiting the teaching of any other in public or private schools to persons under 14 years of age, and another guaranteeing the right of collective bargaining were among those submitted to the state's constitutional convention here Thursday.

Delegates Wear Overcoats. The decision of the convention by a vote of 52 to 27 to remain in session was made in spite of the fact that many of the delegates wore their overcoats and huddled around like warm steam radiators. Some of the members wanted to adjourn until after the holidays when fuel restrictions might be less stringent.

constitutional convention has introduced a resolution which, if adopted, will abolish parochial schools. This resolution prohibits sectarian instruction in schools and the chief aim and purpose of parochial schools, as claimed by their advocates, is to teach religion and faith of the church to the children. There is nothing in the Bryant resolution to prohibit the teaching of religion in the home or using foreign language in the home.

The Bryant resolution has caused a sensation over the state, as it is well known that he is a member of the Catholic church.

A Yuletide Romance

WHENBY and carols, genuinity and blighted hopes, aspirations and hidden emotions—all these played a part in the dull experience of the old ten people who had lived year in and year out at Mrs. H. H. O. A. Markham's city dwelling-house.

It happened on a cold-hearted winter day, but the constant grind had worn her out.

Christmas was approaching, however, the fabled, but faithful old eyes twinkled, for, though poor and lonely, her little savings were good sums and a special purse was set aside for the Christmas tree and the gifts.

Mrs. Myrtle Deane had occupied the best room in the house for over three years. She lived on an annuity of $100.00 a month, and although twenty-five was not much of the freshness and charms of girlhood.

Reuben Willis, thirty, and a teacher for a student, retiring man, filled a subordinate position in a bank, and it was quite common for the whole family and his actions showed his poor breeding.

"It's about to be a match," prophesied Mrs. Myrtle, "between my friend and her son."

"If they only weren't too poor to marry," said Mrs. Deane.

Everybody in the boarding house took part in the preparations for and the celebration of the wedding.

The tree was trimmed and the packages of natal presents were piled about its base. Then Ben Willis started a vigorous propaganda in favor of each person hanging their stockings in front of the tree.

There was vast chattering and jolting as after breakfast next morning there was an attempt to get into the sitting room. The master of ceremonies' eyes twinkled as he after another the stockings were pulled down to the heels.

"Willis' socks are a laughing matter," Willis' wife said that his stockings were bulging and heavy. "He peered within it, then he showed a lump of coal and a raw potato."

Somehow his heart was chilled. Trivial as was the incident, it came like a direct blow in the face. Was this the erratic donation, a startling reminder of his poverty? All at once the barrenness of his lonely life overcame him in full force. He went up to his room gloomily.

A servant knocked at the door and handed him a letter. Mechanically he opened it and there, written in red ink, he read: "To his knave and ungrateful over. He stood like one in a maze. There was a second timid summons from the door.

"Miss Deane, a parcel in her hand."

"Will you please step into the hall," she flattered, and he thought how lovely she looked in her fresh, dainty morning dress.

"Mr. Willis, I hope the practical jokes of Mr. Bascom have not been so bad as you say," he asked in an effort. He did the same thoughtless thing with all of his now. And you run away before we could give out the presents. Here is yours, containing a pair of stockings. Will you please you, because I made it myself."

Willis parted the tissue paper to reveal a pair of knitted house slippers. His heart warmed toward this little, lonely, gentlewoman, who had devoted to him hours to show her friendly esteem.

"I cannot express how I appreciate them," he said, and she took him by the hand. The letter in his pocket reminded him of a vast change in circumstances and fortune. "They are beautiful," he said, and she smiled in a tone of pathetic reminiscence. "Miss Deane, we would know how to appreciate a home, you and I, wouldn't we now?"

"The fair lady slipped. A dim blur of tears crossed her eyes."

"If I had one," continued Willis, coming closer to her, "would you share it with me?"

There was a sob and Mrs. Deane wavered. Willis feebly clasped her wrist. He knew she had given assent to her clinging hand.

"I have just received a letter from the lawyer of a near relative appraising me of the fact that I have been named his legatee," announced Willis, sitting down to the table. "But that's not all. I have just received a letter from my own dear self."

Our Relation with Mexico.
Chicago Tribune: The relations of the United States to Mexico cannot possibly remain what Mr. Wilson's experimentation has made them during five critical years. Our instinct of self-preservation will permit Mexico to remain an exposed flank; an open door to any form of breeding ground for perpetual disturbance and danger. Neither will the progress of civilization and the pressure of the world's needs permit a part of the globe as rich in resources to remain undeveloped. Forces which are stronger than any idealistic theories will settle our relations with Mexico and it will be the privilege of Mr. Wilson, if he will, or of another to give these forces effect.

When you are worried by backache, by lameness and urinary disorders—

Don't experiment with an untried medicine.

Follow Wayne people's example. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Wayne testimony.

Verify it if you wish.

Mrs. C. Huff, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills a number of times and highly recommend them because they have always given me relief quickly. I had been troubled by a steady ache in my back and a run down condition. Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me and I advise anyone troubled in that way to give them a trial."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Huff had, Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Get the "Quently" Minneapolis Journal: Lady Astor, says the cable, entered the house of commons "with quently grace." That's what you'll get, now! Think of "quently grace" in the house of representatives.
