

THREADED Rubber doesn't protect a battery against abuse any more than a check book protects you against the high cost of living. But it unfailingly guards against need for re-insulation during the battery's life, and that is a thing that never can be truthfully said about ordinary insulation.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

SCARRED:

My neighbor, J. Whangoodie Brown, came up to me and cried, "The Spanish flu has struck the town, and two or three have died. I know 't'll have the blamed disease, such 'is don't pass me by; I feel the symptoms in my knees, and in my eye." The sweat was streaming from his brow, his face was drawn and pale; "Why worry, said I, 'you are now exceeding strong and hale. Just think of pleasant things, forget the microbes germs; just talk of cabbage and kings, and let the flu go hang. Don't cross your bridges, friend of mine, until 'they're at your feet; and so far you the sun will shine and life be fair and sweet." He did not take my sane advice, designed to keep him well, and now they've placed him on the lee, and rung the passing bell. Sage council seems a whickered wheeze, the gift of dreary bibles, to those who go to meet disease, and lead it to their doors. And worry over passing ill invites the doc and nurse, invites the druggist with his pills, the sexton and the hearse.

THE PARIASH:

Before the drums of war were still, I hated all things Hunnish; I hoped some day we'd get old Bill and most severely punish. I'm not a fierce, bloodthirsty bard, and I hoped the Kaiser some morning might be fried in lard, if boiling were not wise. But now he will not face the law, the news department hollers; he will not meet the judge and draw ten days nor yet ten dollars. And as for me, I care no hoat that he's not in the cooler; I would not lend a gun to shoot that poor old jail ex-ruled. The glory that was one time his has with his dreams departed; and now he weeps and sighs, "Gee whizz," an outcast, broken hearted. We can't punish him so much by hanging or by burning, as he is punished where the Dutch behold him weeping, yearning. I'd rather forty times be dead than lead old Bill's existence, with all of peace and honor sped into the purple distance. And so I view not with alarm, nor depths of grief I'm plumbing, when that Justice will not harm or hand him what is coming.

AUTHOR'S ART.

A lot of authors kill our laughs and bore all gentle readers, by finishing their paragraphs with foolish strings of leaders. It's spoiled a lot of books for me, this silly affection, and when a "leader-ed" page I see I'm filled with indignation. They say the Wayne Bibles are great, they boost his "Secret City," but me they chafe and irritate, inspiring this punk ditty. His sentences all disappear in leaders running tandem, and if I had some state eggs near to Walpole I would hand em. I Oer books I never am enthused, however apt their phrases, if in them fly-speck lines are used, when words are cheap as blazes. I do not think the writer fine.

(grieve to make confession) who has to use a dotted line to help out an impression. The stratagems of writing hooks of make me sighs and sivers; no author need resort to tricks, who can the goods deliver.

BREVITY

If you desire to make a hit it's well to bear in mind that brevity's the soul of wit, the wisest scheme you'll find. Long-winded men are always shunned, they fill our souls with care, although they may possess a fund of knowledge rich and rare. We all detest the dreary chump who tells a rambling tale, so long it reaches from the dump clear to the county jail. We all are lured by dizzy birds who know not when to stop; who pile up endless words on words, and other words on top. How comforting the silent gent, who makes a brief return, who's always said just what he meant, and cut the saying short! The words he pushes through his face are chosen as the best; for brevity's the soul of grace, and sense and all the saying short. The man who lectures for an hour will make his hearers mad; he'll see the faces turning sour that at the start were glad. Ten minutes are enough, I wot for my speaker's junk; for nearly all we say is rot; the rest is mostly bunk.

THE AUTO SHOWS.

Each year I go to see the show where autos are displayed, those works of art from every mart, the finest wagons made. The limousine in brewster green, with cushions large and fat; "Some day," I sigh, "I hope to buy a gorgeous van like that." The new sedan of noble plan suggests a lifelong bliss. "Some day," I mean, I hope to own just such a bus as this." And, bright and gay, the new coupe appeals to me, you bet; had I the wherewithal I'd scorch about in such wagonette. I view them all, the big and small, the open and the closed; they are so fine I shed some brine, as haply you've supposed; the luscious peach beyond your reach is worwood to the soul, and gorgeous beauty cost many groats, and I've mislaid my roll. I walk the floor and look them 'er, and sigh to gaffers near. "The old tin boat that gets my goat must do another year."

THE FLU.

Last year I had the well known flu, and now I have the flu once more; I lie in bed and say, "Kerchoo," and other words I have in store. My dome of thought, full of ache, and pain through all, my system vents, and busy druggists strive to make the pills the sawbones recommend. "I was sure that brought this punk disease, that threatens now my useful life; and Wilhelm, with his war lord wheeze, was at the bottom of the strife. I cannot think of any ill in all this sorry world so wide, that can't be charged to old Ex-Bill—and now they say he'll be tried. Ah woe is me! this tincorn sport won't reap the punishment that's due, hell pot appear in any court, for having uttered in the flu. If I should spring some punk disease, that made your pills of no avail, how long before the cops would seize my frame and put the same in jail? This lack of justice makes me blue, my anguished breast with wrath it fills, and so I cry, "Kerswoosh-Kerchoo!" and take another mess of pills.

Former Wayne Young Man.

The Detroit Free Press has this complimentary mention of the Detroit church presided over by Rev. Weldon Crossland, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Crossland of Wayne: "This newly organized church is forging ahead in splendid fashion. It is located in one of the most rapidly growing and most desirable sections in Detroit. There is no other vigorous Protestant church between Vicksburg avenue and Redford, some ten miles away. It has a clear and rapidly growing field. Under the leadership of that indomitable and tireless worker, Rev. Weldon F. Crossland, the church is having a remarkable growth. The membership has been doubled since conference. Many of the accessions have been from the city proper." The Sunday school has grown 400 per cent in a year. An Epworth League of sixty members or more has been organized. "As an expression of appreciation of the unusually fine work being done by the pastor the official board at its last meeting unanimously voted to increase the salary $500 per year. The congregation is still worshipping in the little church formerly known as the "Tracy" (now owned by the English Lutherans), but work on the first unit of the splendid new church being erected at the corner of Grand River avenue and Beverly Court is going rapidly forward. The dedication will no doubt occur shortly after Easter. The church is thoroughly organized for the evangelistic campaign. "The quota as a minimum" is the slogan.

A train hog is a two-legged animal that occupies two rolling seats in a passenger coach and acts peevish when asked to give up a small fraction of the accommodation.

Speakers from supply houses at the press meeting in Lincoln last week poured forth terrible stores of news print scarcity. But if the big dailies can get enough to meet their demands, it would seem that weeklies ought to be able to get supplies adequate to their needs.

Really, what does the Non-partisan League want? In every movement, some central idea or purpose gives inspiration and force. Now, what is it? Some grievance, real or fancied, usually prompts a political innovation seeking control and power. Really, what is the complaint or what is the expectation?

On the way to Lincoln last week we heard two women recounting the number who had been sick or dead in their respective families. They took turns. We did not learn who came out ahead. Two other women were finding fault with the same woman, who they agreed, had not furnished her share of eatables for a church function. She probably got more lambasting than was coming to her.

The democratic party is divided into several factions over prohibition. The extremes are represented by W. J. Bryan who stands for a perfect drouth, and Governor Edwards of New Jersey, who announces himself in favor of restoring the "ancient principle of freedom." Between the extremes, several degrees of prohibition are represented, among them William G. McAdooy, former secretary of the treasury, who is heralded as a "four per cent beer candidate." The party may take its choice.

The presidential candidate of each party receiving the "highest vote" in the primary April 20 will receive the support of the state's delegates in the national convention, according to the statute of this state. But it is presumed a delegate's instructions will cease at any juncture when choice for the success of the candidate of the state becomes apparently hopeless, thus enabling exercise of individual judgment in contributing to a nomination. If a delegate were to stick to instructions throughout the proceedings, regardless of consequences, he would be a mere automaton and not be able to do his best in serving the wishes of the people whom he represents.

P. O'Furey more or less modestly claims that his Cedar County News was the first newspaper in northeast Nebraska to install a linotype machine. This is of course incorrect. Out of the plant of the Norfolk-Daily News, the Wayne Herald was the first northeast Nebraska publication to adopt a chine composition. O'Furey says his paper put in a linotype nearly ten years ago. It was exactly nine years ago that the Herald installed its linotype and it was some time later that the News and Herald at Hartington followed suit. We offer this correction as a check to O'Furey, so that in bombing the air he won't suffer any boomerangs, because if his stupendous and applauding constituency should find out that he is accustomed to getting his wires tangled and giving expression to bald inaccuracies, his airplane is liable to take a tail-spin and hit the ground with a terrible crash. We hope arrogating to the News the distinction of the first linotype was an unintentional mistake and that it is not proof of deficient power to differentiate between fact and fiction, between brass tacks and intangible hot air. O'Furey should hasten to correct this wrong impression. If he does not, his real achievements, which we assure are great and numerous, are liable to be unjustly discounted and discredited. This reincarnated Horace Greeley will more nearly reflect the essence of wit and wisdom and thereby excite and hold the plaudits of his admiring constituency if he will stick to the facts through the treacherous fall-

"Impost in a teapot" is the way many people will regard the disagreement between high school teachers and students developing as the result of a dance which followed a class party a few weeks ago. The propriety of dancing out of doors is a question which has been discussed in a most vicious circle on the part of students, causing some differences of opinion, is not involved in the mooted question. It seems a fast rule, and the Norfolk-Daily News, the Wayne Herald was the first northeast Nebraska publication to adopt a linotype had been hung down on the class party and then the students had respread and reorganized as individuals for the dance. It would seem the school had forfeited its authority. This is disputed. If the class party was transfigured into a dancing party without losing identity, the motives of the school would apply, as we understand Students who appreciate the rule and wish to observe it figured that the class party was over and that they were no longer under the restraint of the school. If they erred in their off-hand judgment and unintentionally violated a school rule, they may reasonably seek pardon for the one offense on the ground that older heads have been unable after much discussion and careful analysis, to determine the elasticity and scope of the rule. However, rules should be clearly defined and scrupulously enforced. Students should be frequently advised—and, if necessary, commanded by their sponsors, to resist the expenditure of nerve force before instead of since the dance would likely have prevented it. From the standpoint of the highest good to the students, the dance following the school function, was inadvisable whether the school authority should be allowed to interpose or not. We don't believe students can be at their best if they attend dances and are up late nights. In the same breath we would say that teachers cannot give their best service to their pupils by going to dances and observing irregular hours. The most capable and efficient person, whether a student, teacher, clerk or newspaper reporter, is the one who is regular in habits of rest and eating, and thoughtful and discreet in all social activities. These essentials should be required in every venue of endeavor that is worth while. This hullabaloo over the late school dispute should be dismissed with the establishment and understanding of proper rules for future guidance. The motives of teachers should not be wrongfully impugned. Quite as apparent, the motives of students should not be carelessly impugned. Responsibilities should not be shifted, and snags and justies should inspire the effort for building education and character.

AS TO PUBLICITY.
A policy of concealment which assails the liberties of the people, and which makes them form judgments more fearful and more critical than full revelation of facts would prompt or warrant, is pointed out by a recent editorial in the Omaha Bee. The Bee says: "The administration at Washington has decided not to give out the text of the peace note from the bolsheviks; because, according to the state department, it is intended for propaganda." A peculiar reason, and not based on good reasoning. The suppressed notes will be far more effective propaganda than if they were published. If they contain anything the radicals want to get before the people, Lemnie and Trotsky will see that the text is given out. Meanwhile, every soapbox in the land will ring with the fact that the government is suppressing a communication from the people of Russia, keeping the people in ignorance of the terms on which the reds seek peace. If the radical movement is to be successfully combated in America, it will not be by adopting the tactics of the ostriches. The wider circulation that can be given the absurdities of the Russian creed, the more certain will America's answer be. In the negative. Facts are the one thing before which the red flag cowers."

BUGHOUSE PRIMARY LAW.

The utter foolishness of the provision of the South Dakota primary law which requires a candidate for governor to challenge opponents to public debate on a platform which the individual has adopted, is emphasized by the Sioux-City Journal. The thing a man offers may be as insane and inapplicable as a Mother Goose rhyme, and yet it must be thrashed over by rivals for the state's chief office. The Journal, which quotes one candidate as follows: "Efficient temperance legislation consistent with inherent individual rights," and which points out the infinite folly of this law as a warning to other states, concludes by saying:

"The candidates for governor might have served the people of the state by a discussion of taxation, future development, immigration, war and its conditions, and scores of other issues which and the people's pocketbooks and lives of the people. But debating an issue that is as dead as slavery is the height of political absurdity. Other states which might break loose from conservative moorings in primary election returns would do well to follow the workings of the bughouse machinery under which South Dakota is operating."

Who Said He Was?
Kansas City Times: Mr. Hughes says he is not a candidate for president. Who would be perfectly candid, we never heard anybody say he was.

Who's Sorry?
Minneapolis Journal: Senator La Follette has been in the hospital and it is doubtful if he will be able to speak seventy-two hours steadily on the newly amended treaty.

Notice of Consideration on Resolution.

Notice is hereby given that the following proposed resolution is on file in the office of the city clerk of the city of Wayne, Nebraska, to-wit:

Whereas, it is deemed necessary and advisable to build and construct a lateral sanitary sewer within the city of Wayne, Nebraska, for the benefit and use of the property lying within the outside boundary lines hereafter described.

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the mayor and council of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, that the property lying within the following boundary lines to-wit: Commencing at the northeast corner of block 1, east addition to the city of Wayne and running thence south along the west line of Dearborn street and the east line of Dearborn street produced south to the north westerly line of the right-of-way of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad; thence south westerly along the northwesterly line of the right-of-way of said railroad to a point 150 feet south of the south line of Fourth street; thence west along a line 150 feet east and parallel with the south line of Fourth street to a point 150 feet east of the east line of Window street; thence south along a line 150 feet east of and parallel with the east line of Window street 166 feet; thence west 150 feet to the east line of Window street; thence north along the east line of Window street to the south line of 7th street; thence east along the south line of 7th street to the place of beginning, be and the same is hereby established and made Sewer District No. 5 in said city.

Be it further resolved that lateral sanitary sewers be constructed to serve said district, the location and terminal points of which are as follows:

Commencing at the manhole on the present sanitary sewer in Third street midway between Nebraska and Window streets and running thence east to a point in Window street 33 feet east of the west line of said street; thence north in Window street to a point in Fourth street 33 feet south of the north line of Fourth street; thence east in Fourth street to its east terminus 23 feet west of the west line of Dearborn street; also a sewer in the alley between Window and Walnut streets from the sewer to be constructed in Fourth street to its north terminus at a point 30 feet south of the south line of 7th street; also a sewer in the alley between Walnut and Dearborn streets from the sewer to be constructed in Fourth street to its north terminus at a point 30 feet south of the south line of 7th street; also sewers in the east and west alleys in blocks 1 and 4 of east addition to the city of Wayne from the sewer to be constructed in the alley between Walnut and Dearborn streets east to their east terminus at points 23 feet west of the east line of Dearborn street.

The method of constructing said sewers shall be the placing in position at the proper depth and grade 8-inch vitrified clay pipe with a sufficient number of 3-inch 1/2 to serve the property in the district and a sufficient number of brick or concrete manholes and other appurtenances to insure the proper working of the sewers.

The length and size of the said sewers with their appurtenances and the material to be used in their construction are as follows:

4018 lin. 8-inch vitrified clay pipe, including 102 6-inch 1/2 Y junctions.

Two flush tanks constructed of brick or concrete and cast iron.

Eighty vertical feet of concrete or brick manholes.

5000 lbs. of cast iron for manhole covers.

The engineer's estimate of the total cost of the construction of said sewers is the sum of $6,525.16.

All persons interested are hereby notified that said resolution will be considered by the mayor and council of the city of Wayne, Nebraska, at city hall in said city on the 10th day of March, 1920, at 8 o'clock p. m. at which time and place all persons interested and all owners of property which might become subject to assessment for the improvement set forth in said resolution may appear and make objection to said proposed improvement.

By order of the mayor and council of the city of Wayne, Nebraska. Dated 25th day of February, 1920.

L. W. Roe, City Clerk.

James Britton, Prof. J. M. Pile and R. W. Wilkins were Bloomfield visitors.

Mrs. F. F. Wheeler received two fine fur robes from Africa, sent to her by her husband.

C. C. Chase, S. B. Seace, F. A. Dearborn and H. D. Blancheard were in Omaha on business.

Mrs. Henry Levy and Mrs. P. M. Corbin started a number of ladies at the former's home in honor of Mrs. Kipp of Chicago, who was the guest of Mrs. J. J. Williams.

Immigrants in the north of Nebraska was the largest known in many years. Most of the newcomers came from Iowa and Illinois.

Within a week fifty car loads of immigrant goods arrived in Wayne.

Pred Berry, a fresher at the Iowa state university, was chosen from the Irving society to represent the organization in the principal debate of the year. Only two out of eighteen applicants from all classes were selected.

Many citizens residing along the line of the C., St. P., M. & O. railroad between Concord and Wakefield had petitioned the state board to compel the company to put in a station about half way between those towns.

A petition was circulated by land owners in Deer Creek precinct to have the county board appropriate $100 to be used in the expenses of having the precinct resurveyed. Each signer pledged $1.50 for every quarter section he owned to make up the deficiency.

Nearly every property owner in the precinct signed.

From Ponca Journal March 4, 1880:

We understand that our esteemed poet laureate, M. Rockwell, as soon as the coal boring business commences will tackle the divine muse and bring out a laudatory ditty, or poem, in relation to coal and coal boring.

As an evidence of the sunny and summer-like weather of Sunday, February 29th, we will state that "Squire" Barnes on that day made an afternoon visit to Mr. LaFollette and by reason of the oppressive weather, went bareheaded to and fro.

Gen. Holman of Dakota City and Mr. Swan of Sioux City, were in town on Monday on their way to Cedar county. We understand that the bond question is to be brought before the commissioners of that county this week, and that special elections will be ordered to settle the matter whether the different precincts will vote bonds or not.

F. Zimmer, Esq., of Cincinnati, Ohio, is in town, a guest of Treasurer Hurley. Mr. Zimmer resided in this county ten years ago, but on account of grasshoppers and other causes, he removed to Ohio where he has been engaged in business.

He is now in the line of purchasing a stock farm upon which to make his future home. We hope he will be able to make a satisfactory selection, he would be a number one citizen.

P. G. Wright, Esq., of Martinsburg, informs us that he has lately received a letter from Hon. H. G. Grattan of Waukon, Ia., in which he states that his son, Elmer Grattan, is coming out in the spring to this county with seventy-five head of young cattle and thirty cows, preparatory to opening up a farm on the Logan bottom, about three miles north of Post Hill.

The Strike a Poor Weapon.

Minneapolis News: It is to be hoped that the rail workers generally now recognize that a general railroad strike, under any circumstances whatsoever, would be a great mistake, not only because of what it would mean in the paralysis of industry and hardship to the country, but because it would speedily make inevitable some sort of legislation prohibiting strikes in key industries. The strike is a poor weapon with which to get justice. It hurts its wielder almost as much as its victim. The losses involved in any general suspension of transportation would be tremendous, and they would fall on everyone, on the railworker no less than on the public. So clearly is this becoming understood that it would need but the calling of a great rail strike to make pressure on congress and other legislative bodies to enact strike legislation almost irresistible.

Can They Explain It?

Chicago Daily News: One of the mysteries of spookdom that Sir Oliver Lodge or some other authority ought to explain is why the spirits find it easier to manipulate the primitive ouija board than an efficient typewriter.

"Houn" Dog of the League.

Louisville Courier-Journal: When it comes to being kicked around, Article 10 seems to have something on Champ Clark's "Houn" dog of the Ozarks.

SPRING STYLES

Artfully Designed and Painstakingly Executed in Accordance with Fashion's Latest Edict

The Suits for Spring

Spring is a delightful excuse for having a new-tailored suit. For smart wear, braid trimmed, conventional straight models and suits with splashes of embroidery on the pockets, handbags and panels. Belted models with blouses or straight waists and flares below the waist line, are made youthful by trimming with buttons, bright little vests of broadcated silk and other smart trappings.

From $40 to $85

The Coats for Spring

There is a swagger air to the new top coats few women can resist. Vertical and patch pockets, inverted back plaits, ragnan or set in sleeves are striking features of handsome polo coats. Other stylish coats are fashioned of fine plaits, mixtures and plain woolen materials. The range in styles and prices of our new stock will prove a most attractive feature in your deciding to purchase your new spring coat here.

From $25 to $75

Blouses for Spring

The blouse, a glorified and exquisite creation, has come back to its own again. There are delightful touches of femininity—necks, rounded, square or Ved, to suite one's fancy; little sashes and adorably quaint aprons. Bold embroideries and splashes of color, with the latest in sleeves, and other attractive devices known to the blouse makers add other interests.

Priced $6.75 to $20.00

The New Dresses

For spring wear show a pleasing variation in exquisite, droopings and cleverly designed styles with little touches of embroidery and braid here and there that lend them that different appearance from the dresses you make at home. There are extra quality materials of georgette, silk, serges and tricotines.

From $25 to $75

Your Corset

Just as important a factor in your new spring wardrobe as your spring frock or suit. When tailored clothes are in vogue too much attention can not be given to the proper corset to exactly meet your particular needs. Poor fitting corsets make bad figures and you can't put good looking clothes on bad figures.

DEBATING TEAM CHOSEN

Two Members Champions Last Year—Bloomfield Defaults.

A debating team was selected as the result of a preliminary debate at the high school Thursday afternoon of last week. Those who will represent the local school in debates in this district are: Miss Bonnie Hess, Miss Lynnette Rennick and Leslie Rundell. Howard McEachen was selected as alternate. Thursday's debate was on the same subject that will be used in the contests. Resolved, that Congress should prohibit strikes on railroads doing interstate business. Miss Bonnie Hess, Chris Will, Howard McEachen and Bon Moran maintained congress should not do so, but Merritt McConnell, Miss Lynnette Rennick and Leslie Rundell argued in the affirmative. The latter side won. Dr. J. T. House served as judge in deciding the debate and in selecting the high school team.

Wayne is in the same district with Ponca, Lyons, Oakbluff, Wakefield and Bloomfield. As Bloomfield defaulted the first debate which was to have been with Wayne, the local school may meet only one team before the finals. The winning team in the district will be sent to the state contest in Lincoln.

The team last year made a championship record. As Leslie Rundell and Miss Bonnie Hess were on last year's team and Miss Lynnette Rennick was alternate, Wayne would seem to have a reasonable sure chance of winning this spring.

What Kind of Peace?

New York Times: The supreme question continues to demonstrate that the peace is a peace of expediency and not a peace of principle. It is ashamed to admit it. Ever since Denikine and Kolchak collapsed events have been pushing the allies toward peace with soviet Russia. The great question was the kind of peace. Would it be a peace on favorable terms which would give us the greatest protection against the time, sure to come, when the bolsheviks will resume war—such terms as are now suggested by the Poles, for instance? Or is it to be a peace made high and dry, one at a time, by nations anxious to skim the cream off Russian trade? Is it to be a measurably safe peace or a peace that is the prelude to disaster?

JUSTICE AMERICA'S AIM

Rev. Beard Says Hatred for Germans Should be Abandoned.

That the United States went into the recent world war in order to secure justice for all men was pointed out by Rev. J. W. Beard in a talk at the opera house Thursday night at a memorial service for the soldiers who died in France. He repeated an incident in which a Frenchman had asked him what America expected to get out of the war. Mr. Beard had made it plain to the individual that the United States was not in the war for money or territory but for justice.

All feeling of hatred for the Germans should be cast out was the opinion expressed by Mr. Beard. He declared the boys who made the supreme sacrifice did not hate their enemies. Those who lived shared the food they actually needed with their German prisoners, Mr. Beard said. He made it plain that the soldiers who met the enemy face to face realized that German soldiers were drawn into the war without truly sympathizing with the purpose of it. He said all bitterness should be put aside by those who had come to hate the Germans.

After Mr. Beard's talk, A. R. Davis explained the presentation of certificates of service by the French government to the nearest relatives of those who died in France in order that America's ally might know to whom each certificate was delivered. It was necessary for the relatives to sign receipts for them. For this reason, Mr. Davis merely read the names of those to receive certificates, and they remained after the meeting to get them.

Rev. J. H. Fetterolf offered the opening prayer. Rev. William Kilburn read the scriptures and Rev. Frankhauf announced the benediction. Singing of patriotic songs was led by Prof. M. S. Davis. Special music was furnished by the Wayne State Normal orchestra and girls' quartet.

Chicago Daily News: President Wilson is old enough and experienced enough to know that when a man loses his temper he plays into the hands of his enemies.

Sinclair Falls Argus-Leader: It is too bad that Burlington doesn't get into a quarrel with somebody and quit.

NEW SCHOOL MAP READY

Plan Would Reduce Number of Districts From 84 to 16.

Under the proposed re-districting plan for Wayne county, the number of school districts will be reduced from eighty-four to sixteen. A map has been prepared outlining the boundaries for consolidated school districts, and on March 6 the committee will meet any electors objecting to the lines. This meeting is not for the purpose of discussing the advantages or objections to a consolidated school system, but is an effort to arrange districts most satisfactory and practical. No part of the county has to adopt the consolidated school plan, but arrangements are being made now so that in the future the entire county can be consolidated to the best advantage of all.

The possibility of re-districting is particularly important at a time when teachers are scarce and the profession is not being swelled by new members from the colleges and normals. If the present fifty-four districts were reduced to sixteen probably not more than fifty grade teachers would be needed outside of the towns. The improvement in the school building possible through the grouping of teachers in one large district would make teaching in the country more attractive to most prospective teachers, and it would have investigated the teacher shortage.

Better, not cheaper, schools are the aim of the program of consolidation in Nebraska. Although the number of grade teachers would be reduced, the cost of transportation of students would offset the savings in salaries.

Neighboring counties are co-operating with Wayne county in the elimination of district boundaries which would seem most advantageous to all concerned. In some cases it seemed advisable for committees working for parts of neighboring counties to join Wayne county districts and in other places for small border strips of Wayne county to be included in districts of other counties. Transportation was the principal reason for this.

Order of Hearing and Notice on Petition for Settlement of Account.

In the County Court of Wayne County, Nebraska.

The State of Nebraska, Wayne county, ss.

To all persons interested in the estate of Fritz Borel, deceased: On reading the petition of William A. Keepe, Administrator praying a final settlement and allowance of his account filed in this court on the 14th day of February, 1920, and for a decree of heirship and for distribution of residue of estate. It is hereby ordered that you, and all persons interested in said matter, may do, appear at the county court to be held in and for said county, on the 6th day of March A. D., 1920, at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted, and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing. J. M. CHERRY, County Judge.

There Are Other Causes. Chicago Daily News: That extravagance is an American sin no one would think of denying. But extravagance is not the only sin, or even the chief cause of high prices for food. In his laudable desire to incite thrift and economy Mr. Meredith overemphasized one factor and minimized the major factor of wealth—land and capital. He could not have forgotten the war and the unprecedented destruction of wealth—and capital. He could not have forgotten the famine and hunger of central and eastern Europe and the extraordinary demand for American supplies.

BIG LAND SALE, MARSHALL COUNTY, S. DAK.
20,000 Acres at Public Auction

The Department of School and Public Lands Will sell 20,000 acres of fine agricultural lands, well suited for all kinds of farming at Britton, Marshall County, South Dakota, on April 15, 1920.

THIS LAND is appraised and sold by the land department of the state. It is appraised at $40.00 to $100.00 per acre. You can buy as much as you want from 40 acres up. You pay one-tenth cash and the balance in 30 annual payments at 5 per cent interest.

MARSHALL COUNTY is one of the best in South Dakota. It is equal to any, and surpasses many in production of small grains, and it grows good corn and tame grasses. By good margin it is the banner county in potato production. Some of our growers are specialists and are recognized as authorities in that line by the State College.

By chemical analysis soil samples from Marshall County, tested the highest of any in the state. Rainfall 20 to 30 inches. MARSHALL COUNTY is east and a few miles north of Aberdeen; it is straight north of Webster. It is well situated as to railroads for travel and shipping. It has good business and banking facilities.

BE HERE a few days before the sale and get located.

Spring Ready-to-wear

YOUR entire spring wardrobe awaits your selection here. Be sure to see our complete line of ready-to-wear goods and accessories. As Easter is only a month distant, you will need to make your choice early

Spring Millinery

Pattern hats from five eastern houses are on display. These are unusually attractive and becoming. Soft, rich colors are used in trimmings of flowers and ribbon on clever novelty shapes now in vogue. We also have two milliners busy all the time trimming hats. Be sure to see these stylish beautiful hats.

Suits, Coats, Sweaters

Suits this season are trim and made on becoming lines in styles suitable to any person. Browns, tans and greys are the favorite shades in coats this year, but there are also French blues and other attractive colors. The designs, either in short, sport-length coats or in longer ones, are particularly graceful.

The new spring slip-on sweaters are here. Pink, coral, turquoise and tans are some of the fresh colors suggestive of spring. A sweater has become an essential part of every miss wardrobe.

Dresses

A big line of spring dresses is now on display. This includes the popular tiffetas, georgette crepes and crepe metcors, as well as dainty wash dresses, house dresses and aprons. Dresses for children and grown-ups. We can fit any size and have an especially good selection for stout.

Summer Underwear

Delicate lingerie is needed to make the spring and summer outfit complete. You will delight in these dainty garments of crepe de chine and sheer white materials, trimmed in fine lace and embroidery.

We carry a full line of Henderson, Madame, Linn, and Nage corsets. Our customers find these makes entirely satisfactory.

Silk petticoats in beautiful colors are in silk jersey, taffeta and soft silks.

Georgette Waists

Every woman needs a number of dainty georgette waists. These are really practical, as well as pretty. Here she can find clever new models, each with a distinctive touch.

Shirt Waist Skirts

These are very popular this season. Many come in rich plaids and others are in solid colors.

Wardrobe Accessories

Besides the stylish, well-fitting Hartman shoes, we handle two novelty lines of shoes. We can fit you with comfortable, handsome shoes in the new button styles or the popular laced hoots.

Those who use Victory silk hose know them to wear well and to be particularly pretty. To complete the spring costume, you need gloves. We have them to match your coat or suit. They will fit and retain their shape.

SOME BRIDE

"Some Bride," which comes to Crystal Theatre Friday night of this week, is a play of brilliant humor and heart-appealing romance in which Viola Dana is seen in a role of daring originality. The story is that of Patricia Morley, a bride with "can't behave eyes" that lead her into all sorts of scraps and cause her husband, Henry, much anguish and needless jealousies. She swims, dances, and flirts outrageously with other men and then is hurt and injured when Henry objects. They drift further and further apart until the dread Nemesis of married life—divorce—looms darkly before them. Trying to get out of the deadly mazes of long and intricate litigation into which she has fallen, Patricia at last devises a clever scheme by which Henry is made to see that he has some bride, and that all his fears have been groundless. The plot is full of unusual fascination and audacious incidents that make a play of unusual fascination and entertainment.

A FAVOR TO A FRIEND.

The feature of the program at the Crystal theatre, tonight, will be the captivating Emmy Wehlen in a brand-new type of screen comedy drama called "A Favor to a Friend." The plot of the play, by Luther A. Reed, is equally as fascinating as the dainty star herself and in a series of rich and colorful settings depicts the adventures of a demure little lady of the West who visits New York in order to secure a fortune which has been left her by her father. The story is full of thrills and has many bright and clever twists, which show Miss Wehlen's numerous talents off admirably. Supporting her are several prominent favorites including Jack Mullah, Hugh Fay, Joseph Kilgour, Effie Conley, Jack Miller, Jr., Harry Todd and Fred H. Warren.

Crystal next Thursday and Friday, March 11 and 12, "Bill Apperson's Boy," featuring Jack Pickford; also two-reel Herold Loyd comedy, "Bumping Into Broadway."
