COUNCIL RECEIVES NO BIDS ON SEWER

Engineer Says Job Too Small to Attract Contractors To Consult Residents.

TO HAVE HITCHING RINGS

Opposition to Wide Paving and Railroad Spur Damned To Add to Police Force.

No bids were received by the city council for the sanitary sewer in the east part of town, at the Tuesday night session. E. M. Thornburgh, the city's engineer, explained that contractors did not complain of the estimate being too low, but in unwilling to accept such a small job. One contractor not working at Wakefield who expected to bid, decided the Wayne job was not important enough to justify him in delaying work at Blair he had contracted to do. Another contractor who expected to bid could have found anyone to finance him in the course of construction, which put in the storm sewer, but not care to bid on the sanitary sewer.

The council was informed that a man was in town willing to contract to dig and fill the ditch and lay the pipe if the city would furnish the material. He would need about 90 cents a foot and the city could get pipe on cars at 35 cents, which, under the estimate, would leave the contractor with a profit of 50 cents per foot. It was not known whether or not this man could construct the ditch tanks required. E. M. Thornburgh said the city council could raise the estimate or advertise for bids at the present estimate, but the council decided to wait until the wishes of the persons living in the district are ascertained.

The need for hitching posts was brought up through the city council last night. It was pointed out that many times in the winter and spring farmers had to drive teams to town and find no place to hitch them. E. M. Thornburgh said the best arrangement was to have rings put in the top of the sidewalks. The city council decided to have the hitching rings in the curb on First, Second, Third, Pearl and Logan streets.

H. J. Ludwig, city engineer, spoke against the width of the paving on the north-half of the block between Second and Third streets on Logan, saying that the city would be paying for it from fifty-four to forty feet. He maintained that only a small amount of traffic passed over it, and that it would not be worth the cost of widening it. He spoke for other property owners who were present. The council, considering the matter, the council agreed that it could act only to gain the greatest good for the greatest number of the city. The council would indicate that, in a few years the north half of the sidewalk would be prepared for the future growth of the city, the council believed it necessary to have paving on the north half of the sidewalk. Its former attitude against alterations in the paving plans.

A petition signed by thirty-three citizens was presented, protesting against a spur of the railroad track being extended from the present place to the city. The petition claimed that such a spur track would block the street, obstruct the walk and be a nuisance. The council agreed to encourage industry in Wayne, it was necessary to let companies have the best possible railroad service. The council decided to be used properly, so as to become a nuisance, the council said the companies could be restrained from using the spur.

Grunemeyer asked the council for permission to close blocks on Main street where the water pipes are being laid. He said that all the plumbers would concentrate their efforts in that block at a time, the plumbers would be working very rapidly and systematically. The council agreed that it would be safer to have the block in which the plumbers were working closed. Mr. Grunemeyer reported that only about three property owners who had to put in service pipes were made arrangements to have it done with the rest of the work. Mr. Hogwood came before the council with several proposals. The council instructed him to clean up the city dump and to have the water pipes laid so that the city could haul trash to the dump. Sprinkling this year will have to be limited on account of paving op-

AIM TO STR TEACHERS TO IMPROVED EFFORTS

Harmony Always Dominates Association in Session Here.

Inspiration for improved teaching has always been the principal motive of the Wayne teachers' association, Harmony has dominated the meetings to a degree not always found in other teachers' associations.

In order to stir the teachers of this section of the state to greater efforts, some prominent men and women of the profession have gathered at the meetings. Other speakers have been prominent in the nation's affairs. An object speaker was T. W. J. Bryan, for lecture, $10. This was in the early nineties before Bryan had become famous as a presidential candidate.

The increasing crop of talent has not prevented the association from having well known speakers. Among them have been former Governor Buchtel of Colorado, James Gardley, Mary E. Bradford of Colorado, and W. J. Cavannah of Indiana. Probably no more prominent educator has addressed the association than Dr. David Bruce of Cornell University, who is to talk this year.

JUNIOR CLUB SCORES HIT

It was the unanimous feeling, freshly expressed by applause and delighted comment by the hearers that the Junior class scored a hit last Tuesday evening in the play, "The Old Maid." The production, involving the pride of a family of English nobility and the highly emotional and dramatic nature of the plot, was well kept with the finish, developed many amusing incidents that occasioned much approval. The play was a success. It was increased in interest as the story progressed, the young actors rising to their parts in gratifying manner. The play was well received by a large sense of satisfaction and pride in the achievement. The title role was acted by Gladys Biermann, who was well supported by the play, witty, stubborn, changeable, paradoxical, loving, winning, and "sudden" Peggy. The part of the soldier was carried out by Frank Clark. Bernice Clayton made an excellent proud English aristocrat. The play was the best acted parts was that of the gay and parasitic major, brother of the high and mighty. The play was well received by a large sense of satisfaction and pride in the achievement. Can Junior Red Cross funds be used to return soldiers or a public auditorium? Can they be donated to other organizations? The Junior Red Cross funds will be accounted for.

CITY TO ELECT TUESDAY

No Contests and Few Changes are to Be Made in Council.

There are no contests in the city election to be held Tuesday, April 6, as only one ticket will be voted. The city council has been nominated to serve a second term as mayor, George Lambertson is the candidate for city clerk, H. M. Owen for treasurer, and Robert Jones for city engineer. The nominees for the board of education are A. E. Davenport, to succeed himself; W. H. Gillespie, C. W. Higdon, and L. M. Owen to succeed the winners of the election from first, second and third wards respectively. These selections will make very little change in the city council, which was the object of the nominating convention. It was believed that the paving of the city streets would be completed by the same officers who started it.

EASTER SHOWINGS MADE

Merchants Feature Spring Suggestions in Window Displays.

Easter window displays are particularly attractive this week, when between five and six hundred teachers are visiting in Wayne to attend the North Nebraska Teachers' association. One unique window is that of the Orr & Co. company, which has decorated its window with the rabbits of the C. F. Whitney farm. A dozen tiny bunnies have been placed in a garden of tulips, and the active little animals attract the attention of every passerby. The J. J. Aerns store has a dainty display of children's spring frocks in one window, and in another the girls are decorated with the spring frocks. Shoes are the principal feature of the window display made by Mrs. J. F. Jeffries' Ready-to-Wear store. That buttoned boots are again the style is favored by the makers of these shoes displayed with the pumps and oxfords. Spring costumes for women are displayed in the window of the Tealold store. Sheer white goods are arranged in the Hurst store windows in the midst of flowers. Easter favors are the window of the Jones Book-Music store. Chickens, rabbits, Easter basket are among the suggestions for gifts for children and favors for parties.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

THE TEACHER

The teacher's is the noblest task a mortal can pursue; and yet today we see her hunted for something else to do. She loves her high, white, shining trade, and quits it with a sigh, but she can't live on what she's paid and can't afford to die. For years she studies night and day, to qualify to teach; and we behold on her way, and say she is a peach. We hand her notes when they're cheap, and call her Buttercup, and say the blessed schoolmarms keep our bellwicks right side up. Without her this enlightened age would sadly be bereft; she guards the priceless heritage our well known fathers left. We hand her tally with a spade, but when she makes complaint about the measly wage she's paid, we sweat some blood and faint. We may fondle, to spendthrift ways, hold miser greed a crime; but when the schoolmarms asks a raise, we're tightwads, every time. And so she's going from the school to seek some other trade, to carve her way with some new tool, a corkcreeper or a spade. She can't thrive on rosegay sweets, or flourish on hot air, for she must have a prune to eat, and decent rags to wear.

WEIGHT REDUCTION.

I'm trying to reduce my weight. I'm eating many things I hate, attempting to grow thin by following the diet game I hope to shrink my ample frame, and lose my double chin. I've cut out bread, and butter too, and all things sweet, and liquid glue, and milk and clover, and while I hope to lose a ton, the stunt I'm doing is no fun, existence is a scream. Oh, others seek the groaning board, and wack off victuals with a sword, and eat whatever they please; and they may fill themselves with jam, indige in gravy, pie and ham, and forty kinds of cheese. And I alone must busy browse on foddies, was meant for cows, and shun the tempting things; the dinner bell for me no more brings tidings of good grub in store, it jags me when it rings. The Jeweler in the crowded flat, the artisan, the plutocrat, may eat what'er they wish; but I must hold a mess of straw, or feed on germ-proof prunes and slaw, and cheap denatured fish. And while the mash of bran is mixed, my eyes are on my wastebasket and fixed thereon in vain; I do not lose a single pound, I starve where whole-some pies abound—is weight reduction sane?

BACK TO NORMAL.

We won't get back to normal ways until we've had some rainy days. So long as roullies grow on trees, and greenbacks wave in every breeze, we'll hit high places and repeat, and scorch the length of Easy street. We can't be prudent, while the rest are blowing money galley west. It's epidemic, like the flu, this gorgeous spendthrift how-do-you-do. Some day a panic, large and pale, with four white feet and braided tail, will land upon us while we spend, and to our orgy put an end. Then you will see men out of jobs, and you will hear the house-wives' sobs; and you will mark the loam sharks thriving, while others scarce can keep alive. Then we'll quit blowing useful coin for canvasback and tenderloin, and thank our gods if we've the price of whole-some hies off the ice. And we'll cut out the silk attire; the princely tips, the chauffeur's hire, and all the costly pomp and vain, and demonstrate that we are sane. Then every sad and chastened gent will ponder ere he spends a cent, and figure for a weary time before he cuts loose from a dime.

FROM FAR AWAY.

Marconi, who is strong in science and on whose words we place reliance, informs us that some distant planet (whatever kinds of clothes man it), is sending signals, although nightly, attempting patiently, politely, to gain some share of our attention; it may be Mars, it may be Venus, which through the reach-of-space has seen-us; it may be Jupiter or Saturn, or planet of a humbler pattern. Just the blamed world is wiggling-wagging, and hopes to do some chew-the-ragging. And if at last we make connection with worlds in vertical direction, it distant globes can get together, no doubt they'll talk about the weather. It looks like rain," I hear wires creaking; "drizzly sundry drups are falling, and from the east the wind is drilling; Old Plover will make a killing. And further to our imaging, will say the corn is badly fring. Already we are daily spelling with shades through twilight spaces reeling, and what they say is all so fruitless, long distance talks seem vain and bootless. We never get a word important, ghosts give us piddle, when they're n'rth."

HELPING HANDS.

"If I had a lot of money," sighs the man of dreaming soul, "I would make the world more sunny, help the people from the hole. I'd take baskets to the thimble, heal the sick, ones' pains and aches, and pack victuals wienerywurst to the hungry rubes and jakes. But I'm poor, and this world loves a cat, give me golden showers; ah, that bent-up Syracuse are contracting of my powers!" But a man can make things better, make his fellows smile again, though the belt beneath his sweater holds no store of iron men. I have known some better actors who were lacking fifteen cents, and they were the ablest actors in the ranks of helpful gents. You can give a friend assistance, help a neighbor, every day, though your roll be in the distance, forty thousand miles away. You can cheer some struggling mortal, tote his burden for a while, hand the heart-sick one a chorle, and the grouchy one a smile. If you had a lot of plunder, bundles that would choke a cow, would you do much more, I wonder, than we see you doing now?

EVER HIGHER.

We all are after higher wages, the old time stipends won't suffice; even our clergymen and sages rear up and say they're raised the price. The price is multiplied by seven, though nothing has increased in worth, cost, or value, more to go to heaven; it costs us more to stay on earth! Today I met a sad-eyed father, whose frabzon jupe arrested me; he said: "he said the justice—other's" left my bank account a wreck. The doctor soaked me good and plenty, though the justice came and skinned away; the nurse, a dame of three times twenty, demands five setrewe a day. This is the grand old world, and it leaves me with two arctic feet, how shall I feed that little kiddie, when he is old enough to eat? And when I met the stage squire, he said he'd dug a grave for Jones; "it was a bargain, but the next 'un will cost the buyer two more dollars. The price is rising, and it's humming, each day it makes a record new; the blamed thing gets us when we're coming, it gets us when we're going, too."

FARM EQUIPMENT

Really efficient machinery for the farm and farm home is essential in these days of high priced labor. For standard equipment made by the companies you know to be reliable, come to Kay & Bichel.

Maytag Multi-Motor Washer

Is made with a built-in, air-cooled gasoline engine. The motor is started by simply pressing a starting pedal. The power is constant and steady. The engine, as well as the entire machine, is so simple that there is nothing to get out of order. Operating is simple and, because the machine does not depend on the farm power plant, wash day demands do not interfere with other farm work.

The machine is no larger than a hand washer, is portable and requires no special location. Put in water, soap and clothes, give the starting wheel a flip. That's all there is to doing the week's wash. In a few minutes clothes come out beautifully clean. This machine handles light or heavy pieces. It has a reversible power wringer which can be adjusted to wring from washing into blue, from blue into rinse water, from rinse water into basket.

Primrose Cream Separator

In buying a cream separator, it is important to know what kind of service it will deliver. The Primrose separator is made by the International Harvester Company and maintains the same high standard of all their machines.

The Primrose is the only separator with two wide open cream outlets. Another distinctive feature is a simple skimming screw which makes the regulation of cream density easy. The separator is equipped with a self-draining anti-splash can. An even flow of milk is insured.

Convenience has been considered in building even the smallest features of the Primrose. The feet are inside the frame so they are not in the way of milk pails. The pail shelf is extra large and the pail hooks fit any bail.

DeLaval Cream Separator

Simplicity and efficiency are characteristic of DeLaval cream separators. Some of the advantages obtainable in this machine are: Greater Capacity—new capacities have been increased 10 per cent. Closer Skimming—the improved level design and patented agitator give still greater skimming efficiency. Easier to Wash—simpler construction makes the bowl easier to wash. A Belt Speed Indicator on every new DeLaval. Easier to Turn—low speed, short crank and automatic oiling throughout prevent the operator from being weary. Lower—low bowl speed, high grade material and exacting workmanship make the DeLaval outwear other separators.

Cut Out the Blue Mondays

with the Alco Power Washer

This is a twin tub machine, which will save drudgery and time. There is no reason why women should dread wash day when the Alco will do the hard work quickly, without effort on the part of Mother and turn out clean clothes that have been saved the wear of the wash board. The Alco is an economy—it saves time, strength and clothes.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

From Wayne Herald, March 30, 1899:
Miss Maude Britton entertained a number of the young folks at a party.
Mr. and Mrs. Homer Graves entertained the members of the Methodist church at a "spook" social. There were 150 present.
Chas. Weeces of Colfax county, and Mr. Anderson of Dodge county, have moved to the A. H. Ellis place north of town. Mr. Weeces purchased the farm.
The North Nebraska Teachers' association will be held at Norfolk April 5, 6 and 7. Fourteen towns will be represented in the declamatory contest and six in the debating contest.
The wolf hunt near Winslow called out 150 men and only four wolves. One line of men was not well kept up and it is thought the wolves went through on that side. It was expected that at least 25 animals would be killed. They have done great damage in this vicinity lately.

A new camp of the Modern Woodmen of America was organized in Wayne. The following are the officers elected and installed: Clyde Oman, V. C. June Conger, W. A.; Bert Brown, Banker; Chas. S. Beebe, Clerk; E. Roy Surber, Excort; Chas. Jeffrey, Watchman; Fred Benushoff, Sentry; E. S. Blair, Physician; O. C. Likken, Frank Hooper and O. W. Miliken, Managers.
Elmer Frederick Bartlett died February 5, 1899 while on a charge with his company to capture the water works near Manila. He was 24 years of age. He had lived in Wayne most of his life time, having graduated from the Wayne high school and from the Nebraska Normal college. He enlisted in the Colorado National Guards in 1898 and served his country in the Philippine Islands. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bartlett, live in Wayne.

From Ponca Journal April 7, 1891:
Is this a glacial period? If not, appearances are very deceiving.
One Saturday snow and wind-compelled the portion alluded to this region.
At the present rate of progression spring plowing will take place next August.
T. R. Orr had an exciting experience crossing the river yesterday at Sioux City. The ice took the skiff down the river about two miles, and then he and the other passengers had to get out on chunks of ice and tow the boat to land.
"Around town quite an amount of bare ground is being seen, and the snow is slowly disappearing. Out in the country, however, the snow is immense, yet. If a rain should set in, then those living on the low lands along the creeks had better look out. A rain would bring a terrific flood here, the worst this place has ever experienced.
In Montana, gentle and balmy spring, with the mercury at 70 degrees above zero, has been making life pleasant for the past four weeks. It is different, somewhat, in Nebraska. But why is it that in a country so far north of us as Montana, the climate is so much more southern and agreeable than here in the Yellowstone valley the snow was all gone weeks ago, farmers are putting in their crops and the cattle are getting fat on the luxuriant new grass. Here, however, winter sticks yet. If this style of weather is as durable as present appearances indicate, people will want to migrate either to Montana or Mexico.
A Fatal Conjunction.
Minneapolis Journal. The democratic party is likely to be beaten in November, but it will not improve its chances by renominating Mr. Wilson for a third term. Neither Grant nor Roosevelt could be elected president a third time and the Washington example and precedent will probably always hold.
Even if Mr. Wilson were a well man and is the logical champion of the treaty against the senate, he is fatally disqualified by his two terms as president. Much as the democracy might wish to combine the issue of the campaign with that of treaty, it scarcely could succeed, and certainly would not do so if it dared to challenge the latent opposition of a third term.
Upon such narrow issues Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, would furnish as consistent a candidate as would the president himself, and without the president's disability. But there are other issues that concern the people mightily. And the question is how far any more the people are concerned for the treaty. In case congress declares the state of war to be ended, and lets it go at that, will the people not tacitly concur? Have not the people already decided that the traditional policy of the United States of attention to this hemisphere and abstention from the European mix, is good enough for them? Can their interest again be focused on the covenant even by a restored to signor Mr. Wilson playing most felicitously his orchestral rhetoric.

Either the third term or the treaty to be ratified without reservations would as an issue constitute a forlorn hope. Link them and they would sink any candidacy without trace.
Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia Public Ledger. Frequent quorum calls in the senate will be the rule now that the treaty is not the order of business. A score of senators left town yesterday, many bent on political activities, others for a rest. Regardless of individual views on the treaty, everyone around the senate agrees that Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock deserves the brief holiday he will obtain at Augusta, Ga. The senator from Nebraska conducts a vigorous fight against a half dozen able debaters on the republican side almost single handed. His ablest lieutenant, Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, joined the ratificationists on the final vote. Mr. Hitchcock obtained the desired two-thirds majority those close to the White House.

NORTHWEST WAKEFIELD

Arthur Felt has a new Cleveland car. Miss Nellie Oak spent Sunday with Mrs. Label Nelson. Miss Ethel Erickson spent the week end under the parental roof. Mrs. Mary Murphy spent the week end at the Ernest Packer home.

Miss Nellie Oak returned from a visit at Oakland Wednesday evening. Cleve Murphy is ill with pneumonia but at last reports was recovering. The Allen and family were out eating Friday evening on relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ring attended the reception for Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Luthard last Wednesday evening at the Mrs. Carrie Bard home.

The heavy sleeting on Sunday broke down many telephone poles and our telephone service has been rather poor. A large crew of men were out Tuesday forenoon repairing the line and we hope for better service.

The Farmer's Place in the Republic. (Omaha, Neb.)

The first farmer was the first man, and all historic nobility vests on possession and use of land. Emerson says: This observation of a philosopher, student and sage, goes back to the beginning of human initiative. Man had only the soil for his start, and everything that has been built in commerce, in manufacture, in transportation, in wealth in general, has for its foundation the product of the farmer's labor. As David Webster said eighty years ago, "when tillage of the soil first began, the world began, therefore, are the founders of human civilization." More than that, they are its strongest bulwark today.

No occupation is more honorable than that of the farmer and none yields richer returns in health, tongue and the joys of existence. His life in the open, with no roof between him and the blue sky during working hours, uncramped by walls or partitions open to the breezes and the songs of the birds, is such that he need never envy the dwellers in cities whose feet seldom touch the soil, and whose souls are largely shut out from the inspiring influence of nature's finest manifestations.

The farmer, who sees and feels the miracles of spring, with its buds and blossoms and quickening powers, the gentle rains and genial evening heats of summer, the crops and glories of fall, and the long cold intervals of winter, with its discomfiting frosts and hazards; who gives him stability of character. His is the one business in direct partnership with nature. He knows the laws and true principles of life. He knows the world has no safe promise for the idler, the speculator, or the man who thinks the world owes him a living. Industry is his daily habit. He does things when they should be done. He is a foe of the shirk and trickster. If ever the farmer should go wrong, if he should lose his firm grip on basic truths, it is he should ward off into the wild heresies and impotent efforts to set aside the laws of God—economic and spiritual—then will come the beginning of a decline and fall of the American republic.

Let Everyone Work. Manufacturers Record: "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." - II Timothy. How many men when judging themselves in the light of God's truth can feel that they are working as they need to be? The rich man and the poor man, the employer and the employe, the preacher and the teacher, the hod-carrier and the poet, are all on the same level when they measure themselves as workmen that need not to be ashamed.

The employer must work as faithfully as the employe, the rich man must recognize that in some part of work for his own good, his responsibility to work earnestly and with a whole heart is equally as great as that of the poor man struggling to support a family. Increased wealth or power merely intensifies a man's responsibility to his family.

Wife brings no release from work; it simply creates new and broader responsibilities. The man who bears his burden on the part of labor must study himself and his associates that he may see whether he is setting labor a good example or not. It is worse than folly to denounce labor for not producing so full a yield unless the employer is mentally, morally and physically producing to the utmost power of his strength. Increasing strength does increase the responsibility to do. The laboring man who has lacked the opportunity for full development and who finds his job does not deserve blame as much as the rich man or the employer who has not made his job his own. In these days when all the world is clamoring for justice, the man must bear the call of humanity for more production, when men and

Spring's Earliest Showing of Daintily Draped Dresses

Here are dresses so bewilderingly delightful that you will be in a maze to know not which one, but how many of them you prefer. Every dress is of an original styling, rich in design, but more beautiful still in the gaiety of the patterning and coloring, and when it comes to the trim effects, the clever uses of knife-pleats, the many opportunities offered for embroidered effects in the tunic drapes, and the richness of the fuller draped types, you will find yourself face to face with the dresses you have dreamed of but never before saw so perfectly put into actuality.

And the prices are as modest as the styles are elaborate. These wonderful dresses come in such fabrics as tricotine, silk and serge combinations, foulards, tricolets, satins, embroidered and beaded gorgesettes and taffeta.

women and babies are suffering for food or for medical attention, or for the gospel message of love, the sifting rich man should never dare to utter one word of criticism of the idling, inefficient laboring man. Let the rich man, the employer and every man who has achieved success to the man lower down in financial power, come on, not go on. Then labor will march side by side in productive work with capital.

Gen. Wood's Leave. Stillwater, Okla. Gazette. An incident which the administration of Gen. New York Exports. Syracuse Post-Standard: The new chancellor of Germany was born in New York. The president of the Irish republic was born in New York. The boss of the Ku-Klux-Klan lives in New York. Both heretofore lived in America. We are glad to see the trouble-forgers bringing to New York. We have exported some outsiders.

That Mysterious "A." St. Paul Pioneer-Press: Critics should not be too hasty in condemning A. Mitchell Palmer as a presidential candidate because he makes a mystery of his first name. It may be the same as Mr. Burleson's.

Solomon's Wisdom Questioned. Jay E. House in the Philadelphia Public Ledger: - Book Kilby says you can't make him believe Solomon was wise. "Solomon," says Mr. Kilby, whose marital misadventures have had publicity in the column. "Solomon had 900 wives."

Modern Improvement. Indianapolis News: It used to make a man angry to call him insane, and now he hires lawyers, attorneys and others to try to convince him that insanity is just what ails him.

It may stand, because the nation is helpless. But it isn't the verdict of the nation.

Wilson the Logical Candidate. St. Paul Pioneer Press: Inasmuch as the next presidential election will turn on the condemnation or approval of the Wilson administration, why not let Wilson head the democratic ticket as a matter of logic.

Asking for Information. Mitchell Republican: By the way, how did the "votes by women" affect the result of the Tuesday primary? We don't know, that's why we are asking you. Speaking of Modesty. Jay E. House in the Philadelphia

Will Mack Expatriate. Sioux Falls Press: William Gibbs McCaffrey would serve his country much better if he would explain how it comes that he was such heavy federal taxes. He has in office when money was being thrown around like so much water.

Contrary. St. Paul Pioneer Press: Nothing is quite so perverse as the retail price of meats. It persists in going up when the wholesale and food prices go down. Dealers say it is because people insist upon buying only the choice cuts.

BIG MONEY IN HARES

NOT "Rabbits" for pet- but Belgian and Flemish Giant Hares for meat and fur. Few people in the middle west realize the magnitude and rapid growth of the hare industry. Get the truth from the U. S. Government by sending to the Department of Agriculture-Washington, D. C., for Farmers' Bulletin No. 492. Every farmer, poultryman and breeder should keep a herd of hares. Every business man, professional man and laborer should have them in the back yard. Little room required. No trouble. No expensive buildings. Interesting, profitable occupation for women and young people. Best money in the world, like chicken - NOT like wild rabbit - can be produced for 5 cents a pound and sells for from 25 cents to 50 cents a pound, according to locality. Felt alone will pay expense of feeding to maturity. START WITH PEDIGARED STOCK and sell your best animals for breeders, the demand for which is far greater than the supply, and will continue to be for years to come. I have some of the best stock in the country. Will make a limited number of pedigreed young ready for delivery May 15. New brooding orders - Address: C. F. Whitney, Wayne, Neb., Member N. E. & P. TO DEBATE WITH OAKLAND

High School Team to Defend Negative on Strike Question.

The high school debating team will meet representatives of the Oakland high school here Friday night, April 9. This will be the local team's first debate this year. If Wayne wins, the team will meet Ponca, and, if successful there, will go to Lincoln to debate.

Wayne will take the negative side in the first debate. The question is, "Resolved: That the government should prohibit strikes on railroads doing interstate business." This is the same question used by all high schools in Nebraska this year.

Miss Bonnie Hess, Leslie Rundell, Miss Lynette Hennick and Howard McFadden will represent Wayne. Miss Hess and Leslie Rundell were on the winning team last year.

Robbers to Other Fields
Sioux City Journal, March 27: The robbery of merchandise stores at both Burlington and Gayville, S. D., was reported to Chief of Detectives C. A. Danielson yesterday. The same ring of thieves that robbed stores at Homer, Walthill, Ponca, Wayne and Jackson last week are suspected of being implicated in both of the South Dakota robberies. Clyde Foster, arrested in Sioux City a few days ago, is alleged to have belonged to the same gang. Evidence was found in his possession connecting him with both the Walthill and Homer store robberies.

WORK OF THE CONVENTION

J. G. W. Lewis Points Out Things Done for the Constitution.

Prof. J. G. W. Lewis who returned Friday from Lincoln where he spent the winter as a member of the constitutional convention, makes the following report for publication:

"It occurs to me that what your readers would most appreciate would be a short resume of the work of the convention as expressed in the proposed amendments offered to the people.

"There will be about forty different propositions submitted to the people at a special election to be held September 21, 1920 and they will be submitted as amendments to the old constitution rather than as a new constitution. Some of the principal ones are in substance as follows:

"No. 1. Authorizes five-sixths jury verdict in civil cases.

"No. 2. Permits regulation by law of property rights of citizens.

"No. 3. Declares English to be the official language of the state and requires common school branches to teach therein.

"No. 4. Reduces percentages in number of signatures required for initiative and referendum petitions. "No. 5. Permits signatures of counties entitled to two or more representatives or senators shall be divided into districts, each district to elect its own member.

"No. 7. Permits state senate to be increased to fifty members.

"No. 11. Reserves mineral rights in state lands.

"No. 13. Provides an executive budget and a board of pardons.

"No. 14. Provides an office of state tax commissioner.

"No. 15. Reorganizes state judiciary.

"No. 16. Requires concurrence of five of the seven judges of the supreme court to declare acts of the legislature unconstitutional.

"No. 17. Provides for the election of judges of the supreme court by districts.

"No. 18. Provides for equal suffrage. No. 19 for soldier voting.

"No. 21. Prohibits sale of school lands except at public auction.

"No. 22. Provides for election regents of the University by districts.

"No. 25. Provides board of education for state normal schools, and gives such schools constitutional recognition.

"No. 26. Provides uniform and proportional taxation on tangible property and franchises; permits classification of other property and permits taxes other than property taxes; No. 27. Exempts from taxation $200 household goods to each family.

"No. 28. Places county tax limit at fifty cents on one hundred dollars actual valuation.

"No. 29. Permits adjustment of county boundaries to nearest section lines by the legislature. (Of interest to Wayne and Thurston counties.)

"No. 30. 31, 32. Place public utility corporations under railway commission, prohibit consolidation competing utility corporations with consent of the railway commission, regulate stocks and dividends of public utility corporations. Other corporations covered by another proposed amendment.

"No. 36. Protects public rights in use of water power.

"No. 37. Permits regulations as to minimum wage and conditions of employment of women and children.

"No. 38. Permits creation of an industrial commission to administer laws relative to labor disputes and profiteering.

"No. 39. Amendments to state constitution submitted by the legislature to be adopted by a majority of those voting in such amendment if such a majority is equal to 35 per cent of the vote cast at the election.

"No. 40. Fixes salaries of state officers, judges of the supreme and district courts, effective until changed by the legislature.

"As is always the case in such matters, I am quite confident that one will agree fully as to the wisdom of all the proposals submitted. However, it may not be generally appreciated that the work of the convention was of a constructive order, and that it fairly represents the general state of public opinion in Nebraska."

DR. SNEDDEN WILL BE HERE

Columbus Professor to Talk to Teachers on "Essentials."

Dr. David Snedden of the Teachers College, Columbia university, will address the teachers in Wayne, April 2. Friday evening his talk branches into two parts—"The Search for Minimum Essentials."

"Hard versus Soft Pedagogy," is the theme of his address in the evening session of Friday afternoon and "Current Attempts at the Re-Organization of Secondary Education" will be the theme of the morning session the same day. This author and teacher is a national figure of note and his messages will be an inspiration to all who hear them.

Professor David Snedden was born and reared on a cattle range in California where school facilities were so meagre that his first schooling beyond what his mother gave him was obtained in a log cabin school at fourteenth grade level. He attended Stanford University in 1897, prior and subsequent to which he had several years' experience as country school teacher, principal and superintendent of schools.

In 1901 he became a member of the faculty of Stanford University, and in 1907 was made Adjunct Professor of School Administration in the state machinery of education of Massachusetts was reorganized, he was made the first commissioner, with special responsibilities for the promotion of vocational education and for the supervision of the ten state normal schools of that commonwealth.

In 1915 he was recalled to Teachers College as Professor of Educational Sociology and Vocational Education.

Professor Snedden is the author, in collaboration with others, of two books on educational administration, and has also written three books dealing generally with vocational and liberal secondary education. He has just served his second year as president of the national society of vocational education and is especially well known as a constructive critic of the curricula of contemporary secondary schools.

RECORD PRICE FOR FARM

Total of 250 Acres Adjoining Winside for $310 an Acre.

Art and Guy Auker paid a record price for any considerable tract of Wayne county land last Friday when they purchased from the state 250 acres, adjoining Winside, for $310 an acre or a total of $77,500. The sale included the Needham elevator at Winside.

May Change Train Schedule.

Changes in the local railroad schedule have been proposed and are being acted on in the St. Paul office of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad. If the proposed changes are made, passenger trains will run about forty minutes earlier than under the present schedule and the hours for all freight trains will be rearranged. The district superintendent was here last week, but had no definite time to say about the probable changes.

Orchestra Cancels Date.

On account of sickness of some of the members, the Imperial orchestra was unable to give a concert at the Methodist church Wednesday evening. Rev. William Kilburn received a telegram cancelling the engagement here. He expects to receive a check for the possibility of the orchestra coming later in the season.

in this part of the state where much interest in the city election has been manifested. After a citizens' caucus nominated one ticket, a people's caucus was called, but the same candidates were nominated. As this did not eliminate the dissatisfaction with the ticket, three names were placed on the ballot by petition.

School bonds in the amount of $10,000 are to be retired two years before option date by the Columbus board of education. The bonds issued in 1912 amounted to $30,000, and retiring a third of them now will save $8,100 in interest. The school is in a position to retire the bonds because the levy was increased last year.

Because of insufficient salary and inadequate school buildings, E. W. Smith, superintendent of the Pierce school, has announced he will not accept the position another year. He maintains that he cannot give as satisfactory service as he desires to render in the present cramped building.

— Stop and Think.

Some sound logic that means wealth to you. It is a fact—that when a certain point of development is reached in a new territory further growth becomes almost automatic. The time to reap the harvest is before it reaches a stage of development that will raise the price of land several times to what it can be obtained for today.

We have 20,000 acres of Cherry county, Neb., ranch land and Todd county, S. D., farm lands, either raw land or improved, in any size tract, priced so you can make some money in a home or investment. The land in this territory has not advanced in comparison with other land, but is bound to come in order to place it on a par, considering the quality and productiveness of the soil.

Do not pay some one the raise in value that has already taken place, but come where you can make the profit yourself. The soil in Todd county, S. D., is two, three and even five feet in depth and has good subsoil which freely admits and retains the moisture. Good roads, pure water, free from alkali.

Now is the time, get busy.

Where Wood Stands

In Characteristic, Frank Manner Leonard Wood Speaks Out on Principles and Policies of Our Government

"Our government must be put on a budget system. Only by carefully estimating our expenditures and seeing that intelligent departments keep within their appropriations can we hope to end the criminal financial waste of any administration. Washington must cease to be the biggest spender from which flows all the foolish expenditures of the nation.

"I firmly believe that the income-war taxes which retard trade and prosperity and make life a burden for the small business man, farmer and household should be spread over a longer term of years. It is not fair that the people who worked and fought to save America for posterity should have to pay all the bills, too.

"America's most precious trust is its children—sure to be the hands of a wealthy underpaid group of high-souled citizens, our teachers. The educators of our country, highly trained for their greatest asset—the lives against bolshevism and the red menace promptly to invest them in our next generation. We must see to it that they are paid a better wage.

"Relations between capital and labor—between those who work and those who direct—must be on the basis of a square deal to labor and a square deal to capital; a wage which, with thrift and industry, will enable a man to live and save. We must provide the necessary machinery promptly to invest them in our conditions of issue in strikes and for making the same public. We can largely control these conditions through sound public opinion; but sound public opinion cannot be created by intelligent and frank publicity. We must strive to increase the human element in the relations between employers and employees. We must see that labor has suitable working conditions. We must abolish child labor. We must give an honest day's wage for an honest day's work, and in turn labor must give an honest day's work. We must not only let live but help to live.

"I believe in developing a department of agriculture that fully and intelligently co-operates with the farmer and the great farm organizations, with one at its head who knows and appreciates the farm needs from experience.

"The nation must be made to realize the importance of the farmer; and the government you establish in Washington must know what the hard-working producers of our country need.

"I have no apologies to make for the American uniform. If I had, it would be an insult to every soldier who died in France or in any previous war we have waged.

"Let us build up an immense American spirit—selfish but helpful—to a world in trouble, backed by the right kind of an American conscience. Fight loose-lipped internationalism as you would death, for it means national defeat. America has a great mission in the world, one which she can only perform by being a strong, united people."

The Nation Needs Such a Man

General Wood has, as an administrative official, held responsible positions, and has never been found wanting. He is absolutely safe and sane on fundamental principles of our constitutional government. His feet are always on the ground, and if elected president, will settle questions for the general welfare regardless of the political effect. The nation needs such a man in the white house.

TOLL SERVICE STOPPED

Sunday's Storm Broke Telephone and Telegraph Poles.

So many telephone and telegraph poles were broken in the storm Sunday that normal service has not been restored even yet. The Nebraska Telephone company suffered a larger loss than the telegraph lines. No toll service out of Wayne was possible Monday morning and nearly every town in this section had the same condition. Although not many telegraph poles were down near Wayne, eighty-five were broken between here and Norfolk and thirty-five between Wayne and Wakefield. Crews were sent out to reset the broken poles. These will be replaced later by new poles of full length. Trains were not delayed by the storm.

After raining Saturday night, snow fell Sunday morning until about noon. This was accompanied by a blustering wind. As nearly all the snow had melted by noon Monday, the weather did not delay work on the storm sewer in Wayne.

JOHN H. PERSHING FOR PRESIDENT

A Nebraskan led us in War—

A Nebraskan can lead us in Peace—

And— Nebraska decides!

NEBRASKANS! Show your colors!

Let the world know where you stand.

Are you going to join with California in putting that state's favorite son across?

Are you going to play "second fiddle" to New Hampshire by helping that state make a New Hampshire man President?

Or, are you going to join with other Nebraskans in giving your own Favorite Son the biggest majority a candidate ever received?

New Hampshire has Wood; California has Johnson; NEBRASKA HAS PERSHING.

If any other state had Pershing, would you expect it to give him less than its unanimous support?

NEBRASKA MUST NOT BE FOUND WANTING.

Pershing would not accept the nomination from professional politicians. He will accept it when it comes to him from the people of Nebraska.

The nation has weighed the other candidates and it waits. Its eyes are on Nebraska. Let Nebraska nominate Pershing, and the rest of the United States will elect him by the biggest majority ever given a Presidential candidate.

Do your part as a Nebraskan and an American!

Go to the polls on April 30th and vote for—

Pershing of Nebraska for President

A Knockout for Lowden.

Kansas City Star: "The vote in South Dakota, following that in Minnesota, appears to have lifted Gov. Lowden out of the race and left him at the roadside. If Lowden had any strength anywhere, outside of his own state it was conceded to be in the great farm states of Minnesota and South Dakota. It was there he made his fight, and it was to the interests supposed to be represented by the republican voters of these states that he made his appeal."

Let the Legion Educate Them.

AFTER FIVE YEARS

Wayne Testimony Remains Unshaken.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Wayne story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

Mrs. Ira Hoshaw, Wayne, says: "I was confined to bed several weeks with a severe attack of grip. Upon recovering, I found my kidneys had become weakened. I was a great sufferer from sharp pains across the small of my back and lameness through my joints. My head throbed for hours at a time and I couldn't rest well at night. After taking Doan's Kidney Pills a few days, the backache left me and my kidneys were strengthened. In three weeks all symptoms of kidney trouble had disappeared."

Almost six years after Mrs. Hoshaw gave the above statement she added: "I keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand all the time, getting them at Pelber's Pharmacy. They keep me in good health by driving away any signs of kidney trouble I may have."
