SENIORS ARE ENTERTAINED

Junior Banquet at High School—Toasts Win Applause.

The annual Junior-Senior banquet took place at the high school Friday night, April 16. The two classes with the members of the faculty assembled in the music room at 6:30 o'clock. After a half hour's conversation, they entered the Junior Red cross room which was used as a banquet hall. Covers were laid for fifty-six guests.

The room was festooned in streamers of the senior colors, red and white, beginning in a large bell in the center of the room, and forming a canopy over the tables which were placed on the lines of a square in accordance with the senior motto, "B on the Square."

Ferns made a pretty background for the tables with their baskets of red roses, the senior class flower, and red favors. Red shaded electric lights shed a soft light on the rainbow tints of the gowns and over the happy faces of the banqueters.

The banquet was prepared by the mothers of the members of the junior class and the ladies are to be highly commended for their efforts. The sincerest compliment was paid to the four teachers which were related on the success of their efforts. Frank Martin, president of the junior class, presided as toastmaster. His speeches were apt and pertinent, and he related on the success of his first introduced Martha Crockett, the president of the senior class, who spoke on the subject, "Wayne High School." Her speech embodied the high ideals of Wayne high and was well received.

Next introduced was John Carhart of the junior class on the subject of "High Standard." This subject was ably treated and interpreted with wit and humor.

Leslie Rundell, 1920, followed on the subject, "School Achievement." His remarks were characterized by the brilliancy of pep of the genuine "Skeet" brand.

Bonnie Hess, 1920, presented many valuable thoughts, "Of Interest in the Country."

Mrs. Alice Pollard, principal, was next introduced, having been assigned the subject, "The Thing for Which We Are Looking." She treated her subject negatively and presented ideas for which her hearers were probably not looking.

Marian Surber, 1920, who was given the subject, "Past Memories," told amusing incidents of school days gone by.

Donald Miller, 1919, spoke on the subject, "And Wayne Will Run Also." His ambitions for the high school year well expressed.

The toastmaster then introduced Supt. J. R. Armstrong, who portrayed Wayne High. It is hoped that his dreams may be realized.

The teachers of the high school were called upon at the close of the program and responded with fitting remarks.

The theme of the toasts of the evening was expressed by the speeches, "Wayne High School of the Past and Future."

Never a prettier or jollier banquet was the general verdict of home-going students and teachers when the speeches were said at 10:30 o'clock.

TRIES TO WORK OLD GAME
Man Claiming to be in Spanish Prison Wants Co-operation.

C. H. Fisher of Wayne received a letter last week bearing a Spanish postmark and seeking through fraud to reap a harvest from greedy, synthetic Americans. Signior somebody in Spain didn't know his intended victim in Wayne or he would not have picked him out as one who could be easily gulled. The fraud is an old one, and it is so manifest that it is a wonder any one could be caught. The scheme is designed to both enlist sympathy and arouse interest in a project in the United States. When an American victim is adequately plucked to meet preliminary expenses, the plotters—of course hide away.

Following is the letter received by Mr. Fisher:
"29-2-920, Dear Sir: Being imprisoned here by the Spanish Government, I have a sum of 200,000 dollars I have in America, being necessary to come here to raise the seizure of my baggage, paying to the registrar of the court the expenses of my trial and recover my portmanteau containing a secret pocket where I have hidden one check for that sum. By reward I offer you the third part, viz: 120,000 dollars.

"I cannot receive your answer in the prison, but you must send a cablegram to a person of my confidence who will deliver it to me. Avoid your cable to distrust you all my secret. Yours truly, R. de S."

Station-to-Station Calls Are the Cheapest and Quickest Long Distance Telephone Service

Two principal classes of long distance telephone service are in use. They are known as "STATION-TO-STATION" and "PERSON-TO-PERSON" service.

Station-to-station service should be used when you are willing to talk to anyone at the distance telephone called. Person-to-person service is intended for use when you wish to talk to a particular person or persons.

Station-to-station service is not only cheapest, but it is more rapid and less subject to error than person-to-person service. On station-to-station service the call can be completed as soon as the distant telephone is answered, while on person-to-person service the particular person wanted must be located and summoned to the telephone.

The charge for a station-to-station call can not be reversed; that is it can not be charged to the telephone called, for in that case the telephone operator would have to locate a particular party to approve the charge which would make it a person-to-person call.

HOW STATION-TO-STATION CALLS SAVE MONEY.

Station-to-station calls, no doubt, can always be used for a large part of your business or social calls, but you may be able to make greater use of this lower-priced service if, just before you place your call, you will analyze the probable conditions in the office or home of the person wanted.

For example, if it is possible that Mr. Brown may be out but his clerk can give you the information you want, a station-to-station call will meet your needs. Or if you are reasonably sure Mr. Jones will be at home at a certain hour, a station-to-station call could be made advantageously.

Then, too, by making previous arrangements, the person you want could be near the telephone at the time you put in your call.

For example, if Mrs. Jones calls her daughter regularly once a week, it could be arranged between them that the call will be made at a specified time so that the daughter can be near the telephone to receive the call. Or if it is an occasional call, a postal card could be sent to the daughter telling her what time the call will be made.

HOW TO MAKE A CALL.

When making a STATION-TO-STATION call, you would say, for example, "I want to make a Station-to-Station call to George Smith's store at (give town and state and, if known, the street address and telephone number).

If you want to use PERSON-TO-PERSON service you would say, for example, "I want to make a Person-to-Person call to John Smith at George Smith's store at (give town and state and, if known, the street address and telephone number).

EXAMPLES OF DIFFERENT RATES

Following are examples showing the station-to-station and person-to-person rates for distances up to sixty-four miles:

Miles	Station-to-Station	Person-to-Person
0-12	$.010	$.015
12-181520
18-242025
24-322530
32-403040
40-483545
48-564050

APPOINTMENT AND MESSENGER RATE

Appointment calls and Messenger calls are special kinds of person-to-person calls.

An APPOINTMENT CALL rate, which is about 50 per cent higher than the station-to-station rate, is quoted for service when an appointment is made by the calling party to talk at a particular time.

When a person who does not have a telephone is called over long distance and a messenger must be sent to summon the party to the telephone, the MESSENGER CALL rate, which is about 50 per cent higher than the station-to-station rate, is charged, and to this is added the necessary messenger charges.

THE REPORT CHARGE

When you place a call for a particular person or persons and for any reason they can not be reached the same day at the address given, or will not talk, or if you make a call and you are not ready to talk when the other person is ready within an hour, a REPORT CHARGE is made. The report charge is about one-fourth the station-to-station rate. It is intended to cover part of our expense of handling the uncompleted call.

SPECIAL EVENING AND NIGHT RATES

The EVENING rate, between 8:30 p. m. and 12 midnight on station-to-station calls, is about one-half the day rate. The NIGHT rate, between midnight and 4:30 a. m., is about one-fourth the day station-to-station rate.

However, no evening or night rates are quoted on station-to-station calls where the day rate is less than 25 cents. On such short-haul calls the day rate applies. For longer distances special evening and night rates are quoted.

Because it is difficult to reach particular persons at night, when many are away from their homes and places of business, there are no special evening or night rates quoted for person-to-person calls.

WOOD SPEAKER IN WAYNE

A. M. Hall Tells Why General is One to Meet Nation's Needs.

Archibald M. Hall addressed an attentive crowd at the city hall Friday night in the interest of the Wood for President campaign. Mr. Hall is supervisor of education in Indiana and is well versed in present day conditions.

After pointing out some of the problems the next president will have to solve, Mr. Hall described General Wood's characteristics and experience which would fit him for that position. "The spirit of unrest and the idealistic spirit in the country," he mentioned the general's quiet handling of the Cury strike. "The Nation does not need a radical for president is Mr. Hall's opinion, who believes there is already too much radical spirit in the country. Mr. Hall's criticisms of the present administration were in regard to the present going to Europe, permitting Article X to be incorporated in the peace negotiations and refusing to take account of experienced statesmen of the nation. The speaker closed his talk with a fine tribute to the American soldiers of the recent war.

SIX BLOCKS ARE GRADED

Paving Contractor Begins Putting in Curb on North Main.

Six blocks on North Main street and fifth street have been rough graded so that the paving contractor is ready to start putting in the curb and gutter. The latter work will be begun Monday on 1200 feet which would be curb and gutter on both sides of the street for two blocks. Stakes are set for about half the curb in the second paving district.

About sixty men are now employed on the paving here, and more will be used later. Twenty-five teams are in use now. Material and equipment are coming in regularly and the Asphalt Company, which company now has on hand fifteen or twenty cars of cement, a hundred cars of gravel, and ten cars of asphalt.

One thing we like about this weather—it lets the sun shine often enough so we won't forget how it looks.

The annual seed time is here, but the weather seems to work back extra hours to keep things from going forward in the regular order.

Print paper prices didn't take the trouble to stop at ten cents a pound. In the last jump, they swept over that point with wonderful facility.

This is Arbor day—the occasion of tree planting—but it will be observed this year by praying for warm sunshine, so that people may set out trees and vines, plow and seed, plant gardens, and enjoy the fragrance of buds and flowers.

Who is a "laboring man"? Is he daily a man who works for wages—$3 or more a day—in manual employment? Or is he one who works with hand and brain nine or more hours a day for himself or someone else? Are so-called "laborers" restricted to any one class?

Instead of wearing overalls and increasing the already high prices of garments, so that people may necessarily costly for those who really need them, why not buy regulation suits of cheaper qualities? Why drop from $100 suits to overalls? Cheaper varieties of clothes would serve the purpose sought without disturbing the overall market.

It is an interesting fact that school of journalism to which we refer for recommendations of a young lady for a place on the staff of this paper, reports that all girls of the class of 1920 have positions, but that a number of young men are available. Does this mean that young ladies are chosen in preference to young men? It is the high time the young men found out the reason and applied a remedy.

As contemplated by the primary law, when one selects a ballot it is presumed the voter expects to support in the main, at the subsequent election, the party whose candidates of persuading women to enter the democratic column in order to support a cause that is settled and great as slavery, was perhaps good politics, but was not necessary to the welfare of society. The republican party has a few chores of its own to do, and women of sensible inclinations should not allow themselves to be hypnotized into exercise of their franchise where no great cause is really involved. If Mr. Bryan should happen to be nominated for president at San Francisco and his friends next summer will ask the women to support him on the ground that the liquor question, already outlawed by the constitution, needs further settling.

Employees who want higher wages are usually farsighted enough to get their best in making and saving for employers, thus justifying the increased cost. But it seems to us that men who handle freights, do not have proper regard for the safety of things in transit, and therefore do not run out for the interests of railroad companies or the shipping public. Freight is often carelessly loaded in different ways and carelessly unloaded. Often damage results, and loss is sustained by some one. If the injury is sufficient to warrant the rate of filing a claim, the railroad ultimately pays. If not great enough, the individual suffers the loss while the beneficiaries are the heads of railroads and their freight haulers. The railroad company loses through the carelessness of its employees. The first step is to penalize and forfeit justification for larger compensation. If employees care to show by careful handling of freight greatly decreased damage to shipping companies; they could show better reason for larger re-ward services rendered. A reference to breakage and loss, increasing through damages of cost of operation, is not a sound record of the best means for increasing pay. Serving the employing company well means to serve the public well, and the satisfaction of both should be desired first, as a first step in establishing a claim for personal benefits.

A citizen protests against the Herald's opposition to the Non-partisan League and its attempt to usurp the functions of the republican party. Our understanding of what has been done by the League in North Dakota has prompted us to issue warning against introduction of a similar system here. We cannot stultify conscience and shirk duty by palliating or ignoring a proposition which would place a mere to stable and substantially progressive government. We think we are quite as sincere and sound in our judgment, quite as much interested in and anxious for the prosperity and welfare of the people of this county as wild and visionary agitators who are here today and gone tomorrow. Our critic is apparently not so willing to grant us opposing judgment. The free speech demanded for a litigious self-seekers who travel over the country spreading discontent and hindering instead of helping a feverish world in its rebirth after the wreck and ruin of a terrible war. Our critic thinks we are wrong. We think he is wrong. He seems ready to swallow the whole Nonpartisan League proposition, and would evidently, if possible, coerce into silence any dissent without a hearing. However we may think in all sincerity, he believes we should keep still while patriotic wind-blows from afar go up and cover the land filling credulous people with the virus of unrest, discontent and confusion. We will stand with others of like mind from the pangs and regret of the very system they would saddle on themselves.

THE "OUTLAW" STRIKE.
Harvey's Weekly thinks the so-called "outlaw" strike will lead to greater unity and orderly progress in industrial circles. In its current number, that paper says in one paragraph of an article treating the subject:

"The 'outlaw' railroad strikes centering chiefly at New York but to a considerable extent involving the entire country, are unjustifiable and iniquitous to a degree never before known. In some aspects they are so ominous as almost to warrant some fearful soup regarding them as a revolution; which indeed they would be, if they were to prevail. Yet we must regard them as an entirely logical and by no means surprising culmination of recent social, political, and economic tendencies, and as calculated, despite the contrary and malign intent of their promoters, to result in a salutary clearing of the air and a substantial advance of the nation toward industrial and governmental stability. While some phases of their origin and conduct are still obscure to us or three salient features are unmistakable and these are quite sufficient for judgment of the whole, to wit: 1. The strikes are in effect a negation of the public conscience and welfare; they are in defiance of the authority of organized labor as represented by Mr. Samuel Gompers and the American Federation of Labor; and they are meant to compel adoption of government ownership of railroads, of shipping lines, and industries in general."

CHEAP POLITICS.
Sioux City Journal. Chairman Cummings, of the democratic national committee, lacks the ability to fill that position with credit to his party. He is too cheaply disposed to play cheap politics. A national chairman is presumed to use every honorable effort to win and to claim credit for his party for everything possible. But when Chairman Cummings attempts to claim credit for the democratic party for winning the war he is falsifying the position of half of the people of the nation and assuming an attitude that is shallow and cheap. The democratic party did not win the war. The American people, irrespective of party, won it. The boys who went from republican homes had as glorious part in the bloody carnage as those who went from democratic homes. And in the end, it was these valiant boys who formed the lines and did the fighting who brought home the victory.

Chairman Cummings qualifies his radical and unfair claim by attributing the victory to the brains of the war leadership, and by asserting that the leadership was democratic, hence the party is entitled to credit. If President Wilson desires to pass into history as infamous, all he need do is to claim for himself that which Chairman Cummings claims for him, that he led the war and executed the mandates of congress and carried out the will of the people, not as the president of the United States, but as the head of the democratic party. The great mass of patriotic democrats in the nation who forgot their party supremacy in their devotion to the common cause of the country would resent such an attempt to prostitute patriotism on the altar of party politics. The people should be reminded that it is such debasement of the national spirit when they flung a republican congress in the face of the president of the United States, that the test of patriotism in its members be membership in the Democratic party. They will think of the republican party as the party of Chairman Cummings as their answer to his claim that his party won the war. They are supplying the brains which won the war. And that victory will not be brought about by republican votes alone, but by patriotic democrats who will refuse to join in prostituting their party by such un-patriotic falsehoods.

News of Value to Thrifty Buyers

A big saving is in store here for every family who have several children to fit out with low shoes this spring. We have a good stock of strap slippers, oxfords and pumps carried over from last season and we are selling them at last season's prices which are $1.50 to $3.50 per pair, according to size, below this year's prices.

Styles don't change much in children's slippers; these carried over styles are as pretty as any we have this season and you will be well repaid if you come early and fit your girls before the styles for fall or low shoes are entirely sold out.

We also still have a good supply of ladies' fine high shoes at $7.50 to $12.50, which means a big saving to anyone we can fit. Most all sizes are here yet. You will make a good saving of $3.00 to $5.00 per pair by buying shoes now for next fall.

Ladies who find it almost impossible to get sewing done will appreciate the stock of dresses we have assembled for summer wear. We have put in several new lines this season and will have by far our largest and finest display we have ever shown. This week the dresses of fine dark figured Voiles began to arrive and from now on expressions will arrive twice a week. These are out of ordinary dresses, made of the very nice materials in the real dressy styles. No two will be alike, so you are assured of an individual dress. We also have a fine showing of silk, satin and georgette dresses in styles suited for afternoon, evening and party wear.

The ladies' raincoats we placed on special sale last week at $5.00 are in great demand. They are just the garment to save your good clothes from rain, dust and car wear. School girls and teachers will find them particularly useful. At $5.00 they are priced at about one-half their real cost to date. Nothing at all the matter with them. We carried over from last year which accounts for the very low price.

It is remarkable to have nice, fine, white mercerized table linen offered for sale at the same price as the common run of table covering, but we bought a big lot of these linens last year and while they last our customers can have them at the old price, $1.50 per yard. They are fully wide, fine quality, perfect bleach and elegant pattern.

We just received our first case of traveler's striped blankets for next fall's selling. The traveling men are just starting to buy and we are getting our share of the business. We are selling them at the old price, 85 cents per peck. $225 a bale, at which price they are by no means a hot trail of any kind to be had, fresh or canned.

Apples are splendid for medicine. If they are raw, bake them, make sauce, apple pie, cook them and eat them. They are safe for you and the children. We still have about 30 barrels of those splendid Blue Wonder Apples. Sap apples we shipped in last fall and they are now mellow and juicy and at their very best. We are still selling them at the old price, 85 cents per peck. $225 a bale, at which price they are by no means a hot trail of any kind to be had, fresh or canned.

Ahern's The Ready-to-wear Store

We specialize in ladies' ready-to-wear, carrying one of the most complete stocks in northeast Nebraska.

We handle only good, dependable lines that we can guarantee. We make a specialty of the popular and moderately priced garments. We buy for sixty towns and get to choose from the best factory lines in the east at their lowest prices.

We do not buy jobs, close outs of poor selling styles, returned goods, misfits or left-overs which you now see advertised so freely in many city papers as special purchases, etc. Our stock is clean and up-to-date and on this kind of dependable ready-to-wear our prices are lower than the city stores.

A Special Sale

Ladies' Spring Coats

at $23.50 TO $50.00

Now we are giving special values in Ladies' and Misses' Spring Coats. Our factories have shown us special favors in getting out some exceptional garments to sell at these moderate prices and we have provided a very complete selection of the very best and latest styles for you. Over 300 coats are offered for your selection and you will find them equal in style and value to any garments shown anywhere. The very newest clothes—the latest colorings—the cleverest designs of the season are shown in this special sale at $23.50 to $50.00.

Low Shoes That Fit

Some women who are extra particular about the fit of their Winter Boots seem to be satisfied with a "half-way" fit in their Summer low shoes. Why? If we are able to get it we will, let you know when we get it and if you don't want your order at that price we will gladly keep it for store use.

Every Pair Guaranteed to Fit the Arch. and when the arch is fitted, the entire foot is fitted. Don't be satisfied with a "fifty-fifty" fit this season or any season. Wear J & K footwear and get 100 per cent fit.

$9.00 to $13.50

Last month we managed to have plenty of sugar by the sack at $17.50 and $18.50 for all of our customers who wanted to lay in a supply. From now on, however, the one can say what sugar will be worth or where it can be bought. We have promises of sugar and could take your orders, but we have no great amount of faith in these promises being kept, so rather than have you give us a definite order and depend on us entirely for the sugar, we are handling the matter as follows: We will put you down for as many sacks as you want—if we are able to get it we will call you up when it comes and tell you the price and if you want it you can take it; if you don't want it we will gladly keep it ourselves. In the meantime buy sugar any place you can get it and so make sure you will have it. We think this is the best way to take care of our customers. No merchant can be sure he will get sugar as it is pretty much in the hands of speculators and we don't want our customers to lose out by depending on us entirely. Buy sugar wherever you can. Leave an order with us however, and we will be doing our best to get it for you. We will let you know when we get it and if you don't want your order at that price we will gladly keep it for store use.

The next meeting will be the first Thursday in May with Mrs. T. T. Jones.

Receive Letter from France.

Members of the Coterie club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Fleetwood. To roll call each responded with her assigned letter from Madame Falcinetti, the mother of the French orphan whom the club has adopted. Mrs. W. E. Jenkins read an interesting paper on "What Will Become of Aviation?" The hostess served refreshments. The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. E. Jenkins at the home of Mrs. Fleetwood, April 26.

Girls' Bible Circle.

The Girls' Bible Study circle was entertained at the Liebigood home in the country last Friday evening. After assisting in the evening social work they indulged in an hour of study. Mrs. Liebigood served cocoa and cake before they departed for home.

Entertain Aid Society.

Mrs. W. H. Gildersleeve and Mrs. M. W. Jones entertained the Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyter-terian church Wednesday afternoon. The time was spent in sewing. At the close of the meeting the hostesses served refreshments. The next meeting will be held May 5 with Mrs. W. O. Hanssen. Mrs. W. I. Kortright assisting as hostess.

Mrs. Hess Entertains Club.

Mrs. G. J. Hess was hostess to the meeting of the Coterie club this week. Those present responded to roll call with current events and with discussion of the primary section. Mrs. J. Chace gave a summary of her paper on the Hawaiian islands. Miss Bonnie Hess favored the guests with piano selections. Gustavus J. Williams, Miss Mary Mason and Miss Nettie Craven. Mrs. Hess assisted by Miss Bonnie, served refreshments. Mrs. J. Chace gave a summary of her paper on the Hawaiian islands. Mrs. W. W. Current events will furnish the lesson study.

St. Mary's Guild Party.

Members of the St. Mary's guild invited guests to enjoy a card party at the home of Mrs. A. Pryor last Thursday evening. Those present numbered about 80. Cards throughout the evening were given. J. H. Brugger won the first prize offered the men and Mrs. T. W. Moran won that offered the women. William Hunter was awarded the consolation prize. Mrs. Pryor and Miss Margaret Fryor served refreshments.

The St. Mary's Guild will be entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. J. Hunter.

Class Party at Normal.

Miss Elsie Ford Piper and Miss Louise Wendt entertained the senior and junior members of the Normal school at a party in the gymnasium last Saturday evening. The guests numbered about 125. The feature of the entertainment was a grand march. Each one present wore a paper cap of his class colors, making the march very effective. The tournament was also conducted in which the four groups of students contested in various games. Those who wished went to the calisthenic room to dance. The hostesses served refreshments.

Join National Federation.

The Alpha Woman's club held its meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ed Samuelson. The club has joined the National Federation of Women's clubs and elected Miss Martha Pierce and Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve to represent the club at the national convention in Des Moines the latter part of June. Mrs. E. Samuelson was chosen president for the coming year to take the place of the officer who declined her election. Mrs. C. W. Hiscox and Mrs. Samuelson were the hosts for the evening. Refreshments were served. This was the last regular meeting of the club this spring. A picnic will be planned to take the place of the usual week-end club disbands for the summer.

Third Anniversary Dinner.

Members of the Coterie entertained their husbands at a 7 o'clock dinner last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. W. C. Shulteis. The occasion was in honor of the third anniversary of the club. The guests were seated at two long tables decorated with suggestions of spring. A committee composed of Mrs. L. A. Fenske, Mrs. W. E. Jenkins, Mrs. Horace, Mrs. C. Shulteis and C. Shulteis served a well-appointed three-course dinner. Cards furnished the evening's entertainment and Mrs. D. M. Donohue was in honor of the club. Each guest their capable committee.

Genuine Early Ohio Seed Potatoes

This will be the big week for seed potatoes. The cold weather has delayed planting—the big demand will begin at once. We guarantee our stock to be the best obtainable—shipped direct from Red River Minnesota where potatoes are grown for seed purpose only. We also have table potatoes at $1.00 less or $4.50 per bushel.

Tomato and Cabbage Plants in Dirt

About 100 plants to the box. Transplanted in dirt. Buy a box and plant now convenient. Sold by the dozen if you prefer. Our onion sets are the best ever—small, perfect, just ready for planting. We have a complete line of garden seeds. Early peas and beans in bulk. All seeds new stock and will grow.

Hofstra Kill Chicken Mites and Lice

Hofstra is non-poisonous, yet is sure death to mites and lice. Kill this menace; it will save you many dollars and the cost is but a few cents. Hofstra kills all insects, even sure death to bed bugs.

1000 lbs. Michigan Navy Beans

Potatoes are high and no hopes of a lower price. Beans will take the place of potatoes to a great extent. We offer the opportunity to secure a supply of A 1 quality beans at 11 cents per pound, 10 pounds or more. The expected beans will advance in sympathy with the potato market.

King-Nut Margarine

Costs just one-half the price of creamery butter and the King-Nut people do not realize their produce as good as butter—it's better and if you fail to find it better, return the empty carton and money will be refunded. King-Nut is made from the oil of roasted peanuts, the white, sweet meat of the coconut, a little salt and churned in sweet milk. That's all there is to the manufacture of King-Nut. You imagine any food item more clean and sanitary? It is not a poor man butter substitute, it has attained favor with the public in general because of its superiority to butter. Many farmers buy King-Nut and sell their cream. Country butter will soon be a thing of the past. Farmers profit more by selling cream and save the labor. Remember there is as much difference in margerines as there is in grades of country butter. Try one you will relish—that's King-Nut.

Monarch Baked Beans

We have no apologies to make for Monarch Beans—neither for the demand or quality. We are of the opinion more are sold at this store than any of the well-known brands you could mention. Monarch beans are "repeaters"—repeat sales are usual at this store. BUY A DOZEN CANS. The saving in price warrants buying in quantities and saving the difference. Ask for Monarch beans; they cost less and the quality will please. See our window display.

Strained Honey, 60-lb. Cans

Sugar is scarce and high priced. We have pure strained honey; sixty pound cans at 23 cents per pound. If you like honey, this is a good buy.

- 10 pounds Navy Beans, good cookers $1.10
- 10 pounds Santa Prunes. $1.50
- Table-topatoes, per bushel. $4.50
- Tall Milk, Hebe, per can 15c
- Large Toasties 20c
- Crisco, per pound 25c

Best Grade Chick Feed

AT $4.50 PER HUNDRED. Our fall contracts permit making a $4.50 price. Deliveries have been slow, but at this time is an unusual offer. This food is all food, properly balanced to produce a full-grown chick in the shortest length of time. Exchange your eggs for chick food.

600 lbs. Santa Clara Prunes

AN UNUSUAL BARGAIN. Ten Pounds for $1.00. This price of prunes is new, fresh stock. This price of prunes is about one-half the usual price; require very little sugar and are much in demand at this season. This is an unusual offer and we doubt if we can duplicate the purchase. Bring your eggs in exchange.

Security Calf or Pig Food

In this time of high priced milk, pig and calf raisers should be interested in Security. It's been an active seller for years and from the fact it fully guarantees should warrant a try out of all stockmen. This is a concentrated food; when mixed with water or separated is equal to whole milk and at a cost of 3 cents per pound. It will save the raising in considerable. Don't fail to try this for your pigs after weaning time. Segregate a bunch for a "try out" and note the difference.

Careyed Stock Tonic Salt Block

You have read the nation-wide advertising in every well known stock or farm paper. You will note how Mr. Carey safe-guards every user with his sixty-day guarantee. Personally we stand back of every claim Mr. Carey makes. We are selling his stock tonic block every day. This agency connects the farmer with the best on the market and sold on a smaller margin than from any other source. We also have the agency for Salt-Vec.

My Kind and Lincoln Flour

On quality and quality alone we have created a demand for flour which is unusual. We have a big stock on hand and can sell for much less than flour based on present market. The market has fallen on a decided advance and we advise our patrons to anticipate future wants and buy flour. Look up the flour situation—don't wait. Try it to protect you while we have stock on hand.

We Make Our Own Peanut Butter

Our machine makes peanut butter from freshly roasted peanuts—salted just to the proper taste and one of the best food items in constant demand. You will save the opportunity to buy home-made peanut butter at nearly one-half the price asked for advertised brands in glass. People desirous of reducing the high cost of living will take note the Basket Store is the first to install an up-to-date peanut butter machine. Try this product—the children like it and you will too. Bring your own container.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

DEAFNESS.
My ears don't work the way they should; my hearing isn't extra good; and agents come most every month to sell some patent audiphone, some strange contraption, printed blue to make me hear as well as you. I then send agents from my door and tell them to come back no more. To buy such traps I'd be a fool; my deafness is my greatest boon. The fellow with weary talk with fungus on 'it, it's so stale, will pass me by before he'll tell his story when he has to yell. I miss so many tales of woe, so many chestnuts all men know, so much of gossip mean and punk, so much of scandal-mongers' junk, that I'd give to see the meddling men who brought my hearing back again. And when I seek my couch at night I'm like a child, I sleep so tight, and the noise that keeps you all awake my gentle slumbers' canior break. I do not hear the runder vep, do not hear the milkman's bell; the chugging motors scorching by can't make your uncle 'bat an eye. I'm satisfied, the way I live, and as busy as a clam, and if I heard as well as you, no doubt you'd find me grim and blue.

THE SPRING COLD.
I have a cold; it should be hard to be a cheerful sunshine brack. I'd like to creak about despair, and rear on my hind limbs and swear; but habit is a wondrous thing, and so I dance around and sing. My head is clogged, my eyes are sore, and every breath sounds like a snore. I'm full of fever, and my brow feels like an old Dutch oven now. You, my friend, would say I had excuse, if I should rant and rave. I have a cold, but habit has me in its grip, and so I sound my cheerful vep. For years I've pined this sunshine stunt, and kept a smiling face in front, and now when I would make lament, I can not do it worth a cent. I'm feeling punk and tough as sin, but every grain ends in a grin. And this, my friends, methinks should teach that wholesome habit is a peach. I'm glad I learned when I was young to leave the doleful dirge unsung, and chant gay ditties, span and spick, till some one hit me with a 'bluck; to push 'em ballads through our heads, until the peeters inter-fered.

TOURISTS

The starry-eyed scholars of the war-torn Europe say, "We must have Yankee dollars to shoe the wolf away. So let the tourists travel, and blow in bucks and crowns, and tread our bloodstained gravel, and give us our shattered towns. They give us all the woe, those Yankee tourist mobs, the rubbernecks and sillies, the schweinbunds and the swabs. But we must have their boodle, and so we rise and wail, 'Hurrah for Yankee Doodle, and for the eagle's tail!' The tourists will be flocking for many years to come, to scenes that once were shocking, where shrapnel used to hunt. Through regions gora historic the frowsy bunch will tread, and say, 'Aias, poor Yoric!' above the hero's bed. Where once some dauntless creature fought on, though shorn of hope, the dowdy old maid teacher will read her guide-book dope. Where soldiers used to mangle to gain the hero's fame, some cornfed Kansas banker will ply his snapshot game. Where once the armies wallowed in mud and bloody foam, on soil that should be hallowed, the rubbernecks will roam. And if old Europe bleeds them, and stings them full of grief, she'll while she pets and feeds them, really will not mind.

SUFFERING GERMANY.
The Huns are shot to pieces; the telegrams declare; things are 'not tick as grease is -border's every-where; the peasant's wretched are both in sad condition; they're eating ammunition, there is no grub to spare. No useful wheels, are turning the church bells do no ring; no smithy fires are burning, no workmen's hammers swing; but gloom is all about the streets, and bitter wailing; men are so busy railing they do not smile and sing. I ought to view with sorrow, the troubles of the Hun, and say tomorrow will see his anguish done; and yet I see him sweating without, a great regretting; he says that he is getting scared, and trouble by the ton. Had he but shown repentance for any crimes of his, had he received his sentence with a remorseful pliz, I might compose a ditty of condolence and pity, more generous than 'twity, but as things are—so sassy, so nery and so smart, he thinks himself so classy, and greater-than-thou-art, that it is hard to view him with sympathy, he'd ruin him! so let his woes pursue him until his change of heart.

LEAN AND FAT.
The lean man, when he'd gain in weight, will find the process quite a treat; he is indeed a lucky skate, for all the good things he may eat. His bill of fare may be a scream, no tempting grub must he eschew, and he may food his works with cream, and eat mince pies and doughnuts too. But when a fat man is inclined to lose a ton or so, or are the prospect of a long grind, the sledding is extremely hard. For him the busy housewife bakes a sickly loaf of sawdust bread; for him there are no luscious cakes, but he must eat bran mash instead. If he would take a mid-day snooze, he fears the leagard physician, say, "Be active; if your grease you'd lose, and walk four hundred miles a day. Your fat increases while you sleep; it gains when you are sitting down; go forth, go forth, and walk a heap," and circumnavigate the town." The fat man straves and toils and grunts, and when he goes down town to weigh, and note results of all his stunts, he finds he's gained eight pounds a day. Then he goes back to living well, consuming pies and pork and beef, and all the neighbors laugh and yell, and make his life a long-drawn grief.

THE HELPFUL RAIN.
For months our state was dusty, no-water fell thereon; the wheat was brown and rusty, dried out the sickly lawn. And sit we got together, with briny in our eyes, and cursed the sinful weather and all the forecast gays. And pessimism brooded among us, far and near, and it, alas, included much language punk to hear. Sometimes the clouds assembled and made a bluff at rain; then how we stood and trembled, and hoped—and hoped in vain! The fool winds came a-whooping and with spirits drooping went weeping to the bay. And all our faith was shaken in everything be-fore; our world had lost its bacon, our heritage was woe. And then at last the water came tumbling from on high; Old Pluvius, he shot her from somewhere round the sky. All night the rain was pouring and plashing on the sea, and soon the hills were roaring in tumult to the sea. And then you should have seen us, how merrily we strode, the mudholes strewn between us, ah we went up the road! Then all our griefs were banished as cheap and timhorn-fakes, and pessimism vanished in less than seven shakes.

Just Where and How Is the Money to be Spent?

A businesslike Answer to a businesslike Question

THIRTY denominations cooperating in the Interchurch World Movement have budgeted their needs. No business could have done it more scientifically.

They have united to prevent the possibility of duplication or waste. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

Each denomination has arranged its budget under six main heads:

- 1 FOR THE CHURCHES WORK UNDER THIS PLAN. Contributions are made to the United States campaign over and over again. The money is carried forward week by week of a denomination. If the church does not contribute, it is lost.
- 2 FOR HOSPITALS AND HOMES. Every year thousands of people who are seriously ill are treated under Church hospitals because of lack of room. The children who are compelled to turn away more children than they can receive.
- 3 FOR HIGHER EDUCATION OF THE YOUTH. American students in institutions of higher grade, supported by the Churches. Many of these institutions have no endowment campaigns, but this year they are pressing as the need of larger schools and you have only to read the list of their contributions to America.
- 4 FOR RELIGIOUS TRAINING. As people under 25 years of age are so scarce, American churches are sending religious training at all. Remember the Great Lakes. The United States is a land of opportunity. Washington, D.C. and the faith of Washington and Lincoln, D.C. are the faith of Washington and Lincoln. If your faith dies out at the end of the year, it is lost.
- 5 FOR THE CHURCHES WORK ABROAD. Infinitely more people are being trained in Oriental lands. The Great Lakes. The United States is a land of opportunity. Washington, D.C. and the faith of Washington and Lincoln. If your faith dies out at the end of the year, it is lost.
- 6 PREACHERS' SALARIES. The preacher is called the "breadwinner" and will be paid less than the other workers. The list of the contributions to America.

Each denomination has its own detailed budget, and will administer its own funds. Your pastor has copies of the budget; examine them for yourself. In the week of April 25th-May 2nd you will be given your opportunity to help. You can do it with the full satisfaction of knowing that every dollar of your gift has its post assigned to it in advance.

Every dollar for better America and a better world. When your church calls on you give—and give with your heart as well as your pocket-book.

Work on the Presbyterian church is being pushed forward rapidly. Dr. Nieman has commenced the erection of a fine residence on the lots just north of J. W. Mason's.

Dr. Owen A. King and Miss Ethel Buffington gave a concert at the Methodist church in Bloomfield.

Phileo & Son have filled in the lot just north of the depot where they will place their stock of heavy lumber.

At the meeting of the school board, Prof. Conn was re-elected principal of the public schools at a salary of $145 for the ensuing year.

Dr. Blair will occupy the office room just used by Judge Norris. The rooms are on the ground floor in the east end of the Wayne National bank building.

From Ponca Journal, April 21, 1881.

Quite a profitable business is being carried on by a number of those living along the river, catching floating material which comes down.

Many articles of furniture and bedding have been caught, and doors, sash and all kinds of lumber and an occasional ferry boat are captured.

From Cottonwood hill and the bluffs near Jackson, a wide view is obtained of the entire country along the Missouri. With a field glass one may see a large part of the country between Elk Point and Sioux City, also the northern counties of Dakota county. On Monday, as far as the eye could reach, nothing could be seen over all that country but a great sea of water, with here and there clumps of trees, houses and a few bare spots of ground.

On Monday, in company with Captain Wingett of Sioux City, we had a pleasant ride down to Jackson and vicinity. The captain related some of his adventures during the past few weeks. On the third of February he was in Lyons county, Iowa, on business for a Sioux City firm. That night he stayed at a farm house expecting to go on his journey next morning. The next morning, however, he was greeted by the most terrible blizzard and storm ever known in that country. It snowed and blew day after day, and the result was that Capt. Wingett got stuck in the snow for twenty days. They sustained life on corn which they ground in a coffee mill and cooked. This was hard fodder, but the active labor required to grind and prepare the corn gave them good appetites, and the little they had to eat tasted good. At the end of twenty days a lift in the weather occurred, and they managed with great labor to break a road to the nearest town. Capt. Wingett then determined to go back to Sioux City and not again stir far away from that place until spring opened and the roads became firm and good. He accordingly returned to Sioux City, and ten days ago ventured out as far as Ponca. Hardly had he reached this place, when the floods broke loose and he was nailed again. He stayed here until Monday and then went down to Jackson to look at a place of residence through a telescope. He saw that Sioux City still existed, although apparently in a very watery condition.

Old Machinery Will Have to Serve

In many cases old farm machinery will be all that is available this year. Strikes have so tied up the implement business that it is doubtful that even a small per cent of the new machinery needed can be shipped to this section.

To be prepared for spring work, now is the time to get repairs for farm implements. Many that you intended to discard this year can be made to give good service. Find out what repairs are needed and get them before the busy season finds you with machinery having weak or broken parts.

We carry a full line of standard repairs for farm machinery.

WET WEATHER PREVAILS Blizzard in Western Part of State Takes Form of Rain Here.

Rain with an occasional flurry of snow Saturday and the fore part of this week made people yearn for warm sunshine, though the storm here was mild compared with the blizzard that raged in the western part of the state. If the weather were an issue in the political campaign people would unanimously vote against the present variety. Alliance, Neb., April 18.—Northwestern Nebraska and Wyoming are in the grip of the worst blizzard for six years. The storm, which began Saturday, extends from Billings, Mont., on the west, to Broken Bow, Neb., on the east. Train movements on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad is practically suspended, with no freight moving and most of the passenger trains tied up. The Pacific coast express due here shortly after midnight this morning, is stalled at Grand, thirty miles west. A snow plow sent out this morning to clear the track is also fast in the drifts just east of Grand, where the snow is reported piled eight feet deep. The westbound St. Louis-Billings train, due at Alliance this afternoon, is held up at Seneca, Neb., until the time of its arrival is problematical. There are many passengers on both trains, but they are reported comfortable. The train from Grand is held at Edgemont, S. D., with probably no prospect of getting out tonight. In Alliance the snowdrifts are three to six feet deep. Heavy loss of stock is feared in the eastern country. R. M. Hampton, president of the First National bank of Alliance, interested in cattle raising, says the shortage of feed is the serious matter. Herman Krause, owner of one of the largest ranches in the state, expects the loss to be heavy. Denver Lines Tied Up. Denver, Colo., April 18.—The second day of the blizzard prevailing in Denver brought almost complete paralysis to all railroads entering Denver and so completely blocked the streets of the city that no traffic except street cars will be permitted in the downtown section tomorrow by order of the mayor. The Santa Fe, Colorado Southern and the Denver and Rio Grande railroads have cancelled all freight and passenger schedules. They will make no effort to move trains until they have succeeded in clearing the tracks. The Rock Island, Burlington and Union Pacific are attempting to operate trains, but their efforts are meeting with small success. The few trains arriving here are hours late. Seven passenger trains, one freight train and four crowded interurban cars were stalled in huge drifts on various lines. Hundreds of men, women and children—passengers spent Saturday night and Sunday in the coaches, foodless and sleepless. Many are facing another night in the cars.

Death of Mrs. William James. Mrs. William James of Thurston, Neb., died in Wayne Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock, and funeral services were held in Wm. Beckenhauer's undertaking parlors Monday, conducted by Rev. Mr. Kerber, pastor of the M. E. church at Thurston. The body was taken for interment to Potter, Neb., where the family had lately moved from Thurston.

Mrs. James was aged 46 years and is survived by her husband and four daughters and three sons. The following Thurston friends who came here to attend the funeral attested to the high esteem in which the deceased was held in her home town where she family had resided for ten years: Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Ridder, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Raamsten, Mr. and Mrs. Luke A. Brough, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fry, J. W. Ustick, Her Jensen, Mrs. Richard Takken, Mr. Tinque, Mrs. Wayne, Spinward, Mrs. Iva Service, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stevens, Mrs. A. Slaughter, Mrs. Frank Donat, Alpha Johnson, Lynn Rosson.

CHANGE TRAIN SCHEDULE

Purpose is to Serve Passengers and Train Men on Branch.

The new train schedule which went into effect Sunday at 6 a. m., has been considered for some time and will affect chiefly the train service on the Bloomfield and Crofton branches. The purpose of the change is to give better passenger service by changing the time of the freight going up the branch from evening until morning when it can do the best work which has had to be done by the noon passenger on the branch, thus avoiding delay of the passenger service. This will also eliminate irregular hours of railroad employes on these branches. Their work can be done almost entirely in the daytime and within the eight hour schedule. The passenger on the branch will not need to start as early in the morning as previously and will not be so late in arriving at their destination when traveling to points on the branch. Also, those traveling west from Norfolk will have more time at that point to make connections in the evening. The morning train from Norfolk will leave here at 8:50 and arrive in Sioux City at 10:53 a. m. The evening train will leave Sioux City at 4 p. m. and arrive here at 6:30. Passengers to Omaha will arrive there at 2 p. m. They will leave there at 1 p. m. to arrive here in the evening.

New Train Schedule.

BRYAN EXPLAINS POLICY Tells What He Thinks Should Be in Democratic Platform.

After a difficult ride in the mud from Wakefield William Jennings Bryan arrived in Wayne two hours late Saturday to find the opera house crowded with people who had waited patiently to hear him. After explaining that he felt it his duty, as the veteran in politics, to offer his services to the democrats of Nebraska as delegate to the San Francisco convention, Mr. Bryan announced what policies he stood for and would try to put in the democratic platform. Bryan declared himself absolutely opposed to universal compulsory military training because with that system he believed this country could never lead the world toward peace. He said he never favored a private monopoly; that where competition was impossible he believed the monopoly should be operated by government. He maintained the liquor question was as dead as slavery, and in this connection Mr. Bryan took occasion to rap Senator Hitchcock.

An effort to eliminate the profrat, Mr. Bryan declared would be one of his responsibilities at San Francisco. In regard to the soldiers' bonus, Bryan said a good way to raise the funds might be to take part of the unexpected wealth made by war profits. He said he favored immediate ratification of the peace treaty, with reservations since it could be ratified no other way. He did not think this should be allowed to become a campaign issue. If not ratified before the convention, however, he thought a plan for quick adoption should be worked out as part of the platform. Bryan also declared himself in favor of equal suffrage.

Before the principal speaker arrived, others talked. S. Toledo Sherry spoke of "Present Urgent Issues Cause and Cure." He brought unrestrained self-interest as the cause, and restraint the cure. He brought up the Non-Partisan League and described it as "the straw which drowning farmers were clutching." Although he said farmers do not have a square deal, he declared the Non-Partisan League did not promise any relief and that its doctrines should be combated with reason. Mrs. Marie Weikes of Norfolk, spoke for a few minutes, telling what her efforts would be if she were elected as delegate to the San Francisco convention.

E. M. Barney of Indianapolis, spoke on the danger of the doctrine of light beer and wine. He said that if the saloons had never caused drunkenness or poverty, they would still have been a great force for evil in politics. To illustrate his point, he described instances where labor interests represented in legislatures had combined with other corporation interests to secure dangerous laws or block good ones.

Married by Judge Cherry. Mr. Clyde P. Wilson and Miss Doras M. Engle, both of Bloomfield, were married by the county court in Wayne Saturday, April 17. The bridegroom is a returned soldier, and is engaged in business at Bloomfield. The couple left for a short wedding trip before returning to make their home at Bloomfield.

Mr. Geo. Rounds and Miss Lettie M. Johnson, both of Cherry county, were united in marriage by the county court in Wayne Saturday, April 17.

Baptist Church's Drive

During the week of April 25 to May 2 Baptists of the Northern Baptist convention will be making their drive for $100,000,000. The state of Nebraska has been asked to raise $1,306,000 of this amount. The First church of Wayne has received an allotment of $2,970. Realizing the largeness of this task the church has requested special help in the form of a special canvass authorized by the state headquarters. On Wednesday, April 22, the members will gather at the church to hear Dr. Braden of Stromsburg a stereotypical lecture on the foreign survey. A team of special solicitors will come to Wayne to make the "New World" movement canvass. The church is determined to do its best for this great campaign, although it realizes that this quota is more than ten times the amount which the church has ever contributed to benevolences before. During the past year the church has raised over $3250, having paid off all its old debts, and reported a deficit of less than $50 for the year closing April 1. This progress encourages the church to meet the challenge of the New World movement with the determination to do its full duty.

Postponed Meeting. The annual stockholders' meeting of the Wayne pavilion, to have been held Monday, was postponed until next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All stockholders are urged to attend.

A New and Complete Line of Ready-Made Dresses and Aprons

—that will mean—

Service and Economy

for you in planning your spring needs. These are dresses of extra-quality gingham and are made with an artistic touch as well as for service. If you are wanting a house dress, an afternoon dress, aprons, or dresses for the children, you will profit by examining our stock while it is complete. The dresses are well made and can be had in a variety of color combinations. They are attractive and economical besides expressing an individuality which you want to show. The aprons are of styles that will suit your needs. Some are the popular bungalow aprons so desirable for summer. Another very important feature of all these aprons and dresses is that they can be washed without fading. They are attractive when you get them and remain so after being laundered.

We also have an excellent selection of voiles, organdies, silks and other piece materials for the dainty dresses.

BUILDING BOOM IN WAUSA

Sulphuric Acid Burns Girl—Randolph Sells Paving Bonds.

The Wausa Gazette predicts a building boom in that town this spring, regardless of high material prices. A business block west of the old city hall and a filling station are among the proposed improvements, which also include several new residences.

J. H. Bessie has been elected cashier of the Laurel National bank. He was connected with this bank before he went to Agar, S. D., a few years ago to be cashier of a bank.

The American Legion post at Pierce held an athletic carnival there last week. Besides a wrestling match and some boxing matches, several musical numbers were given.

The Emerson Enterprise has moved into what has for several years been the city jail. The steel cells have been removed and a new front put in the building.

La Verne Bierschenk, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bierschenk, was burned last week with sulphuric acid, which she found in the kitchen cabinet at her home. She and her 4-year-old brother were playing and climbed up on the cabinet. The little girl tasted the liquid, which burned her mouth and throat. She spilled some on her hand and legs. A little of the acid was swallowed, chances for the child's recovery are encouraging.

Randolph has sold its paving bonds amounting to $150,000, to the state with interest at 6 per cent. The arrangements include the privilege of taking up part of the bonds at once if the city so desires. Randolph has decided to undertake to lay water mains for an extension of the system, without letting a contract, in order to save $800.

Martin H. Harmon of Bloomfield has been arrested on the charge of forging a check for $10 on Bill Fisher. The young man claims to have found the check and held it two days before cashing it, and after the seriousness of the offense was explained to him he returned the money. Harmon has been paroled after stealing a car last fall.

The American Legion post at Verdigris has passed an unanimous resolution opposing the erection of a monument at the county seat in honor of the soldiers of Knox county. When the soldiers left Creighton to go to war, a fund was made up for their benefit. As it was impossible to divide the money among the soldiers, it is proposed to put up a monument. The Verdigris post prefers to have the fund divided among the American Legion posts in the county.

Simon Strate of Hoskins, broke his foot last week when he was backing a tractor through the door of the Farmers Union store. The tractor turned over and Mr. Strate was caught under it in such a way that his foot was broken.

A. J. Pirtle, a farmer living near Hartington, went to Sioux City about three weeks ago to have dental work done and had not returned six weeks. His friends had heard word from him and merchants and banks which had extended liberal credit to Mr. Pirtle were uneasy. Although Mr. Pirtle came to Hartington from Chicago, he formerly was a minister at Severance, Kan. While there a new church was built and at the time of its dedication a fund was made up to complete payments on it. The Cedar County News reports that this fund was not used for the intended purpose and Mr. Pirtle left Severance.

Happy, Nebraska.

Lincoln Journal: Chicago and a dozen other cities are living in fear of famine because of the railroad strike. New York is never more than three or four days ahead of the wolf. A strike of truckmen and it is without milk. A strike of freight handles and it is short of food. Of late commuters desirous of getting to their New York offices have had to fire the engines of their suburban trains. The elevator operators strike and half of the brokers with elevated offices are threatened with spotkeys.

Kansas is bleeding again. A battle has been precipitated by its new-fangled industrial panacea, which bids fair to last long ere the last armed man expires or flees. New Jersey is aflame with a scorching strike. Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Ohio, Illinois—all the industrial states are on the tenderhooks of industrial unrest. California has the Japanese nightmare. Minnesota is torn by political rebellion.

The bank of England interest rate is now seven per cent. The ice through all continental Europe is slippery, terribly slippery. Japan has Korea and China on its back. England is in the Jewish nuzzle match. People are starving in Warsaw, Vienna, Buda Pesth and Berlin.

Nebraska has nothing worse on its hands than a political campaign, and not a particularly nasty one at that. The Nebraska land owner is borrowing money at a lower rate than the government in Europe. He can do almost as well as his own government. Thank heaven, Nebraska is still a land where property is well enough distributed to make our balance firm. No bolshevism can get far here. Our one industrial city may have its troubles, but it is

If the railroad men quit, we can get about on our own wheels, Nebraska has automobiles enough to hold and carry every citizen it possesses. We are not so far from our food supply but that we can live without railroads for awhile. Everybody everywhere could strike all at once and we should get along somehow. That is what comes of being not too much specialized, and too top-heavy with organized this and organized that. And with wealth and power not too much centralized.

In point of general security one would be hard pressed to find anywhere in the world a spot the equal of Nebraska. We are not only secure; we are prosperous. May we have the wit to keep out of the quicksands in which so many other communities are struggling. And may we have the wisdom, in the midst of our good fortune, not to grow fat-headed and callous toward the less lucky.

BUILDING SEASON OPENS

Farm Improvements More Numerous Than New Town Houses.

Although high prices have affected building in Wayne to some extent, some of the dealers expect settled weather to open a season of active building. They agree fewer new houses have been started this spring than usual, but farm improvements are being made regardless of costs.

Among those who are improving their farm buildings are: William Test, building a hog house and corn crib, southwest of town; Broscher Brothers, remodeling house and making other improvements, south of Wayne; N. A. Mahoney, building new house and starting other improvements, south of town; Mark Simpson, erecting new hog house, northwest; Frank Long, new hog house east; Bernard Cronin, corn crib, hog house and barn southwest of Wayne.

One of the few houses being built in Wayne is the property of Horace Theobald. It is a $10,000 bungalow on Pearl street, Dr. T. T. Jones is remodeling the office at the corner of Main and Fourth streets to use it for an office. R. W. Ley and S. E. Anker are having new stone built, and the former is adding a cleaning porch to his home; W. K. Smith and Miss Ella Morrison, a residence; James McLaughlin, a residence north of town; A. T. Chapin, a residence; F. S. Morgan, a residence; John Ahern, a residence; A. M. Helt, a residence; Forrest Hughes, a residence.

down, throwing large numbers of men out of employment and reducing retail buying in the sections involved. Most of the laborers forced into idleness, but not connected with the railway strike were unable to estimate the length of time they would be without work, and in consequence, they reduced their buying to the lowest point possible so as to conserve reserve funds. The effect of this course was felt outside the retail trade. Many wholesale and jobbing lines were affected, because orders were restricted and many were canceled.

Cutting down production produced a shortage in many lines, especially those whose supplies are only one step ahead of their sales. With this shortage at hand, prices advanced, and the higher level will prevail until the lost motion from the strike is taken up by increasing production to the point where it was before the strike closed the industries. But advances in prices during the week are not all attributable to the strike. Sugar took an outward turn and in foods some commodities, notably potatoes, showed a decided advance. Against these is the moral effect of the "war-craft" campaign which is springing over the country as a fight against high prices of clothing. Started as a protest, it has become a contest. It strikes at the root of high prices by reducing the amount of clothing purchased. What effect it will have on prices is only one of its elements. What effect the boycotting of standard clothing will have on manufacturing and trade as well as on the price of the present year's crop of wool is substantially. If the sale of clothing is substantially reduced by the purchase of denims, the woolen mills and the clothes manufacturers must reduce their output because there will be no demand. How retailers will be able to adjust prices to the point where they can dispose of present stocks without losing money is not clear except in instances of previous profiteering. On the whole, the "overall" movement may become a disturbing element in business and industry within the next fortnight.

Advances in re-discount rates have tightened credits so that borrowing for other than conservative business expansion or substantial investment purposes has become difficult. This, however, is an indication of business improvement, and shows that the era of inflation is diminishing and that business is gradually returning to conservative levels.

Have Ford Mechanics Repair Your Car

The mechanics in our shop who will adjust or repair your Ford car, or Ford truck, are men who understand the Ford mechanism and who know the Ford way of making repairs and replacements. They are experienced Ford mechanics and because of their familiarity with Ford cars can do your work more intelligently and more quickly than can other skilled mechanics who lack Ford experience.

The work on your car will be done in a completely equipped shop with timesaving Ford tools and equipment. Whether your car needs an adjustment or a thorough overhauling, we are prepared to give you careful and prompt service. And nothing but genuine Ford-made parts and replacements will be used and when the work is finished, the charge will be the reasonable, standard Ford price.

Our stock of Ford parts is always complete. And our Ford garage and Ford mechanics are at your service at any time. We are authorized Ford dealers and not only repair Fords, but also sell them. Drive in or phone. Be fair to your car and your pocketbook.

Baptist New World Movement Means much to Nebraska

Nebraska Baptists are to subscribe $1,506,000 of the national quota of $100,000,000. The campaign starts April 25 and ends May 2.

Of the money collected in the state $735,000 will remain here for the aid of Grand Island College, educational funds, church edifice promotion and city and frontier missions.

The remainder will be used by Baptists of the nation in a strong religious effort.

Every Nebraska Baptist Must Pray, Work and Give.

Leaders in the state are predicting great success. But no one community can foster a bigger or more comprehensive confidence for this is Christ's work and must be done.

They All Do It.

B. L. T. in the Chicago Tribune: Why, when a man is asked to say a few words after dinner, does he begin by pushing the crockery and cutlery toward the middle of the table?

Quoiquis Chief: The perplexing problem of the day is why anyone should want the democratic nomination this year.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured with Local Applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Halls' Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surface. Halls' Catarrh Cure is not a "secret" medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is the best blood purifier, acting directly on the mucous surface. The perfect combination of the best ingredients in a most progressive such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Halls' Catarrh Cure, Price, 50c. F. J. CHERRY & CO., Proprs., Toledo, O. Building in and Near Winside.
The amount of building in Winside and the vicinity this year is not as large as it was last year. The price of labor and of building materials has come soft upon this decrease. It seems true that building projects decrease some each spring when the farmers begin their spring work and live up again in the fall.

The need is for houses for rent. Some who are able, do not want to build houses for rent while labor is scarce and timber high while some who need the houses are unable to build, because of lack of capital.

Some of those who are building in and near here are: Thorvald Jacobson, a cottage in the east part of town; Adolph Rolf, a barn; Roy Foltz; a barn; William Pieper, a machine shed; R. H. Morrow, a porch; Henry Thielhoff, an addition to his house; Louis Schulte, an addition to his house; Kruger Brothers, a barn. A number of other improvements are contemplated.

SHOLES

Mr. Tom Sundahl was a Wayne passenger Friday. Mrs. Harry Tollette was a Randolph passenger Friday. A. E. McDowell of Sholes went to Wayne Saturday to hear Bryan speak. Ervin Williams and Erwin McManis were Wayne passengers Thursday. Miss Velma Burnham returned from the Wayne hospital Saturday with well-endowed home folks. Clyde Crego returned to Dakota City last week after a short visit at the home of Tom Reams and family. Clarence Hansen returned to Winer S. D. last week after visiting at the M. Madison home for a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Price left for Phillips, Neb., Monday to attend the funeral of Mr. Price's sister, Miss Jane Price. Mrs. C. A. Stewart and mother-in-law, Mrs. M. E. Stewart and daughter, were visitors in Randolph Wednesday. Charles Kinney was operated on at the Wayne hospital Saturday. His friends will be glad to know that he is getting along nicely. Many from Sholes attended the Boyan speech at Wayne Saturday. More from this vicinity would have gone had the weather been more favorable. Clinton Grant returned to Sioux City to take up his duties as fireman on the railroad last week, after spending several weeks in Sholes and vicinity for several weeks. J. T. Price returned from Phillips, Neb., Friday, after attending the funeral of Mrs. Price's sister, Miss Jane Price at Phillips, Neb. Mrs. Price went on to Omaha where she will make an extended visit. Mrs. M. E. Stewart and Marie Casted and Miss Wilma Garwood returned to their homes at Wayne, Randolph and Carroll, respectively, Friday after a short visit at the home of Mrs. Garwood returned Monday noon. The Sholes eighth graders received their returns last Thursday. Three of the class passed with good averages, while the other two failed in one and two subjects. The next examination will be given in May. Hugh Walters and family moved into the J. L. Davis property recently vacated by Victor Irons last week. Sholes has long been in need of a good blacksmith and we find a first-class one in Marhers and he should be well patronized.

Flour and Wheat Prices.

Sioux City Journal. The last advance in the price of flour in Sioux City brings it up to $16.90 a barrel. The advance since the beginning of the present year is $1.60 per barrel. Is this increase justifiable? If it is based on the law of supply and demand, why is the supply short? It is not demanded, greater than the supply, why has this condition developed? What sold last season at a premium over the price guaranteed by the contract, is this premium varied? But striking a different broad average to get the general trend of prices, $2.80 per bushel it costs below that point. An analysis of the prices by shorter periods breaks it much below that point. It takes four and a half bushels of wheat to produce a barrel of standard flour, the cost of the raw material for the barrel of flour on the basis of $2.80 wheat would be $12.60. It sells for $16.40 at current flour prices. The profit on the flour sold from the time it leaves the terminal market, until it is ready for distribution to the consumer is $380, less the cost of manufacturing, packing and distribution, the latter including freight on the wheat and the flour. But the $380 is not the whole amount in the raw and finished products of four and a half bushels of wheat. The by-products, such as bran and shorts are not included in the selling price of the wheat. The manufacturer has no additional expenses in manufacturing this material and the most of the raw product is included in the price of wheat for milling. Whatever he sells it for is net profit except for the expense of sacking and shipping. If flour averages the price of fifty-eight pound wheat the by-products from four and a half bushels would be sixty-five cents. Bran is quoted on the Minneapolis wholesale markets at approximately $49 per ton, or almost 1 1/2 cents per bushel. Shorts are higher. But at the quoted price of bran the by-products from a barrel of flour would be $1.62. Such a profit on $16.40 net is sufficient to induce a man to be near profiteering. But when that amount is added to the net profits on the flour the profit reaches a point where there is no longer any question about them being extortionate. If the producers were beneficiaries of this increased cost of flour they would be less grounds for complaint. It would reduce the issue to one-supply and demand—and competition. But the last of the wheat crop, which current sales of flour are manufactured was marketed at least 60 days ago. By far the larger portion was placed on the market more than six months ago. What has happened to that wheat since it left the farm to increase in price in the form of flour? It has been lying in the elevators since it was delivered from the growers. Yet within the last three and a half months its flour value has increased 35 cents a bushel, an increase which, if it goes to the farmer, would have meant the difference between producing a crop at par and producing one at profit. That increase has gone to the intermediate dealers or to the manufacturers. The federal grain corporation sold 5,000,000 barrels of soft wheat flour to the governments of Europe. The corporation asserted that at the time the sale was made that it would have no effect on the price of flour at home, as American housewives refused to use the soft wheat flour for household purposes, and that it would have no effect on the price of flour to keep the people from starving. The policy was a questionable one. The fact is that since that sale the price of domestic flour has steadily advanced, the last raising making a total of $1.60 advance per barrel since January 1. If the sale by the federal grain corporation is not responsible for the advance, it is peculiar that the results should be the same as though it were the cause. There is no other visible cause. If current domestic prices are based on the visible supply, then the 22,250,000 bushels of wheat which the foreign sale of flour represented enters into the price. If that is not true, if that sale did not reduce the available or visible domestic supply, the price of flour should not have advanced. If it does, it must be the result of profiteering.

What Makes a College. Saturday Evening Post. Every man who is interested in higher education has his own ideas as to what goes to make a good college. President Garfield, a loyal son of Williams, thought that a boy at one of the great colleges of the United States at the other comprised all the essentials of an institution of higher learning. Most persons who have given thought to the matter have usually drafted more elaborate specifications. Most of them have included the boy. Nearly all have had a deal to say about the plank, so far as it typifies lecture halls, laboratories, libraries, gymnasiums, but not infrequently they have laid but very little stress upon the Mark Hopkins, or teaching, element. This is demonstrated by the liberality with which rich men supply funds to athletic fields and college buildings and the reluctance with which they give money to be spent for professors' salaries. Not far from a plan of Mark Hopkins a man settles $100,000 upon his old college for the purpose of endowing a chair of history; it will be named after him in the college catalogue; but in most cases he will feel less satisfaction than as if he had spent the same amount of money to build a library which has his name nearly chiseled in the granite architrave over the entrance. A which, he if he goes to the farmer, would have meant the difference between producing a crop at par and producing one at profit. That in-

By the INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY

REPAIRS made for International implements and other farm equipment by the Harvester Company are the only repairs made from the original patterns. All others are copied from copies, and in this roundabout reproduction they are less in correctness of shape, sharpness of detail, closeness in fitting, and quality of material. These repairs are made for the following: McCormick, Massey-Harris, Titan and other International-made machines.

Genuine I H Repairs Are Better in Quality Fit Better and Wear Longer

The Harvester Company stands back of its machines. Be fair to the man who does not substitute inferior repairs for the genuine and expect best service. Repairs made by other concerns and marked "Made for" or "Will fit," are not genuine I H repairs. They often lack weight, are not always correct in shape, are imperfectly finished, do not fit properly, or are made of inferior material.
