SENIORS PRESENT PLAY

"And Home Came Ted" Attracts Large Crowd—Nets About $100.

The Wayne opera-house was filled to capacity Friday evening, April 23, for the play, "And Home Came Ted," given by a cast of six boys and six girls chosen from the class of 1920.

The play is a three-act comedy-mystery. The cast follows: Miss Loganberry—Helen Felber; Ira Stone—William Lase; Aunt Jubilee—Margaret Eichoff; Mr. Man—Howard McEachen; Jim Ryker—Marion Surber; Mollie Macklin—Faulstich Center; Henrietta Darby—Martha Crocker; Ted—Lowell Henney; Elsie—Lynette Rennick; Senator McCorkle—Harry Prescott.

The scene is the office and reception room of the Rip Van Winkle Inn in the Catskill mountains. The plot concerns the struggle for supremacy in a furniture factory between Ted, the rightful heir, and Ira Stone, an unscrupulous adventurer. Ted is assisted by Mollie Macklin, the little housekeeper of the inn, who aided and abetted by Skeet Kelly, persuades a young civil engineer whose work brings him to the vicinity, to impersonate Ted, who is absent and who must sign certain papers "before midnight" in order to make his claim legal. The plot becomes complicated when the supposedly dead Ted arrives with his bride, and a mysterious widow from Honolulu appears and places some shares of the furniture stock in the safe. During the night these are stolen. However, the following morning, everything is cleared up when the civil engineer reveals the fact that he is the real Ted. The play ends very happily for everyone except the pretender, Ira Stone, who is summarily arrested.

The players interpreted their parts well and their voices, acting and make-ups were good. The play was coached by Miss Leona Mills of Lincoln, who chose the characters for the play after a tryout by the twenty-six members of the class. All the rehearsals of the play were held within a period of ten days. This method makes the preparation rather strenuous for those taking part, but is found to be much less difficult for the pupils than the old custom of less intensive training extended over a longer period of time.

Madelene Reinert, 1920, pianist accompanied by Erwin Larson, violinist, rendered the musical selections.

The following members of the senior class acted as ushers: Lila Gardner, Helen Reynolds, Bonnie Hess, Ethel Bonawitz, Spess Sanders, Esther Vernerberg, Alice Lewis, Faith Phillo, Doris Myers, Edith Huse, Vida Beck, Katherine Strickland and Effie Carpenter.

Ralph Cachart, member of the class, who is convalescing from an operation in the Wayne hospital, was unable to take any part in the entertainment.

The receipts of the entertainment were about $235; net, $100.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

From the Wayne Herald for April 23, 1899.

Mrs. File went to Illinois to visit relatives. The Minerva club met with Mrs. A. H. Ellis this week. G. W. Cutler is building an addition to his residence. Miss Charlotte White, county superintendent visited at the college. Lawrence Brown of Breuna precinct, started planting corn this week. K. R. Smith of Winside, is having the power house moved to his residence property where it will be made into a barn. A dispatch from Washington states that there is rumor to the effect that Judge W. F. Norris of Wayne, late candidate for congress from the Third district, may be appointed in Colton's place, in which case the latter will join his regiment. Colton has held the position of deputy revenue collector in the customs house at Mania.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

The second annual meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Bankers' association was held in Wayne this year. Mayor Lee welcomed the visitors to the city. Thirty-six towns and fifty-seven banks were represented. About twenty-two men attended the banquet given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church at the Mania social club. Arrangements for all the decorations for the banquet. Among those who took part on the program at the business session were: A. L. Fowler, J. D. Haskell of Wakefield, H. F. Wilson, L. Kimball of Wakefield, and C. H. Randall of Randolph. The officers elected for the coming year were: J. D. Haskell, president; A. M. Merrill of Harrington, secretary; G. L. Wood of Ponca, treasurer. The next annual meeting will be held at Harrington.

Parties who were on the river bluff Sunday afternoon could see with a field glass a small sail boat on the Dakota River, going from house to house taking off the inhabitants.

Fearful floods are being experienced all over the western states, but none of them can compare in destructiveness to the floods lately along the Missouri river, especially in Dakota territory.

Driven by the wind from the northwest, a prairie fire made rapid march upon town Tuesday afternoon. People at one turned out and after a desperate fight subdued the flames. This was the first prairie fire that has threatened town this spring. It will not probably be the last.

On Tuesday the ferry boat came from Sioux City to Jackson, bringing several tons of freight for Ponca. It was transferred at Jackson to the cars, and by them brought to this town yesterday. The mail also was sent up and as it was the first this town had seen for a week, it was joyfully received.

On Green Island there is not a house left. All that once fine country is devastated. Every evidence of settlement, fences, roads, dwellings and groves, has been swept away. In their place is seen a vast field filled with flood water, ruins and ice. There are immense masses of ice, some of which are thirty feet high, and which will take all summer to melt.

There is to be a new mail route from Yankton down the river on the Nebraska side. Yankton is now completely isolated and cut off from the outside world. The railroad to that place is almost ruined, and it is very doubtful whether it will be repaired. The telegraph line to that place is also down. Yankton is surrounded by a vast body of water, and there is no getting out of town except by boat.

Attorney Gantt and Sheriff Jones went to Sioux City on Sunday and returned Tuesday. They were by Monday morning they again embarked and sailed into Sioux City. They came back by the ferry boat as far as Jackson, and thence by wagon home, bringing with them a portion of the mail for this place.

Seeing Red. Baltimore Sun: If there is any evidence that any relatively large number of the American people are in favor of a revolution in hasn't made itself visible to the naked eye. Many classes of railroad workmen of this country are well paid and the whole of them have always been organized labor's forces. If they have suddenly turned dangerously red, then the situation is indeed alarming. The answer, of course, is that they haven't.

WAYNE HOSPITAL

but a false alarm when all is said and done; if you have lived upon a farm, you know they eat up man. They scratch up seeds, and care no footing that seedstuffs cost like sin; they spoil a lot of priceless fruit by peck holes therein. I cannot bring a vernal breeze that with due passion thrills, but I must boost the springtime breeze that fans the thingumboos. That lovely breeze along the street is smashing things today; it's spooling a thousand miles of wheat by blowing soil away. It whoops and blithers till it's hoarse, and, while we stand and gaze, it may attain cyclonic force, and kill a score of jays. I can't transcribe my blissful dream of spring and all its joys, without some mention of the stream that has overflowed its banks and drowned a thousand sheep, and farmers stand in mournful ranks, and rear and swear and weep.

OUR DAY.

I know not what tomorrow's dawn may bring along my way; perhaps by then I may be gone from this cheap ball of clay. This day, however, is my own, the day that's now on deck; and I will chase the shining home with bells around my neck. I'll do a dozen helpful stunts before the night arrives; assist sales weak, dispatching runs, and brighten up their lives. I've played a lot of knavish tricks for which I should atone, and now I should my record for, for today that hasn't yet had birth; before it comes and slides away I may fall off the earth. But at this writing I am sound and full of vim and pep. I'm full of life, I cave around with high and buoyant steps. Tomorrow they may come to me for monumental stone; today I'm busy as a bee, for this day is my own. So while I am a dweller here you'll find me out and about, and take the widow's tear, and can the orphan's sob.

INTERLUDES.

I have a hundred tasks in mind, a hundred useful chores; I have the eight-day clock to wind, the car to chase outdoors. I'm planting rhubarb, that our pies you'll praise in glowing terms; and soon I'll have to swat the flies, and boil uncutted germs. And so it makes me tired and sad when some one takes my time, to boost some patent liver pad that retails for a dime. Oh, when the agent comes along (you know how 'tis yourself) and springs his old accustomed song concerning six-foot shelves, and large I see him from his grip his large prospectus draw open, and says, "I sip—there ought to be a law. For I have many things to do; I have to fix my fry, and patch up the defective flue that spoils the kitchen fire. I have to prime the cistern pump, and make the mower run; however, heebly you may help, my never will get done. And so, it makes me tired and sick when I am asked to pause, and listen to some windy hick—theg ought to be nine laws!

MOTOR GRIEFS.

All things the motorist must buy I have a saying: they are so absurdly, beastly high the prices are a crime. Gas costs so much the buyer swears and madly pans the ground; I've bought a span of old gray mares to haul my car around. The gal they hit is sad and strange, their progress is a joke, they're spavined and they have the mange, but they don't leave me broke. It takes the income of the rich to buy a set of tires, and when one prices oil or such, he gurgles and expires. The punk mechanic with his tools calls for your final red; so go and buy a span of mules and hitch them to a sled. Five years ago I'd drive all day, and then at night return; and when I put the car away I still had coin to burn. Five years ago mechanics stole my old car, and work fine; they took the messy carbon out, and got the valves in line. Their charges never set me back so much that I would sweat; but now I've bought a brandied yak to haul my wagonette. Five years ago—but what's the use? The dead years are on file; now any seven-cent excuse will do to hoist the price.

Heavily Handicapped. Kansas City Star: After all, Attorney General Palmer did pretty well in the Georgia primary, considering that he hadn't been able to dodge the charge that he was the administration candidate.

UNCLE WALT

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

HOUSES ARE SCARCE.

The town is short of dwellings of small by largeness, and so we hear the yellings of heart-sick homeless folks; they hustle; helter-skelter, they try to rent a shelter of some hard-hearted nester, unmoved by all their cries. It's hard to raise the ante, for any common gent; for he could build a shanty with what he pays to rent; but there's no buidler willing to take his hard-earned shilling and help him make a killing and hence his loud lament. I see the homeless helping around me everywhere; their bosoms they are striking, and tearing of their hair; men beam their rolls of kroners, and cry "Rent us a shack, or we are simply goners, alas, and eke alack! Our kind and wives, are weeping, for they must do their sleeping in some wretched inn; they're through the open windows gas whizzing by; then rent to us, my master, a house with hah and plaster, or there will be disaster, and fireworks popping high!"

And there are no houses that they can rent or hire, which gressome factories may steam patrician trees; but that men who have the plander can't rest, a roof-tree under, fills me with wrath and wonder, the while I kick my lye.

POTATOES.

Today I bought a bushel of spuds, my lubry form to fill; I had to soak my Sunday duds ere I could pay the bill. I paid as much to buy a peck as once a bushel brought; and so I wept and cried "By Heck, and drank a willowwag. I drank a horn of Adam's ale, my spirit to revive; for how can one dig up the wale, and keep his pep alive? They say we run to luxuries, when we a- shopping go; for costly meats, imported cheese, our hard-earned buckets we blow. "Eat simple fare," the wise man say, "cut out the rich and fine." And the wise men sagely come to the retails for that; but is there more to be had than the spuds, the stand-by of the poor? 'Tis not the farmer makes them dear; the grocer's not to blame; some fat and heartless professor is at his beastly trade. Somewhere there is a middleman whose rake-off is a crime; the buyer is the also-ran who gets stung every time. Somewhere there is a sycamore, the somewhere a heep-wards go whizzing by; then rent to us, my master, a house with hah and plaster, or there will be disaster, and fireworks popping high!"

I hope.

LIGHTNING BURNS BARN

Roadway Near Completion—May Reduce Automobile Theft.

A barn on the farm of Larry Gilliam north of Wausa, was struck by lightning Wednesday of last week and burned to the ground. One valuable horse, harness, grain and hay were destroyed. Some horses belonging to Carl Pearson, were removed from the barn.

The Lyric Male chorus of Gustavus college, St. Peter, Minn., is scheduled to give a concert at Wausa this evening, April 29. This chorus includes twenty voices. These young men make a tour each year in the interest of the school.

Last week was Go-to-School week in Harrington. No special programs were planned at the school for the week but parents were urged to visit and see the work done under ordinary conditions. School officials wish the people to become familiar with the work and with the teachers in order that they may have no cause for complaint.

Rainy weather has caused delay in the completion of the federal state road from Laurel to Harrington according to the Harrington News. The road is 80 per cent finished. The News says, "Mr. Culver will move his outfit to the Laurel bottom as soon as possible and will complete the work in that vicinity which will require about 20 days of favorable weather." It is expected the road from Harrington to Wayne can be completed during May and June if the weather is favorable. This will then be one of the best if not the best piece of road work in northeast Nebraska.

Carl A. Pederson and family of Harrington, expect to leave the last of May for a visit with Mr. Pederson's parents in Denmark. They will travel through the war zone.

Attorney C. W. Pennington of Randolph, who announced his candidacy for county judge of Cedar county just this Thursday before the primary, received the complimentary vote of 762 for the nomination. Judge Bryant received 1028 votes and the two names will appear on the ballot next fall.

The ladies of the Harrington Red Cross society are giving the exercise men of the vicinity a banquet this evening.

Emil Buckendahl of Pierce, who has been in the army hospital at Fort Baird, N. M., is discharged from the same and is visiting in Colorado. He is almost entirely cured of the lung trouble contracted while in the U. S. army service.

According to the Pierce County Call, Pierce will join with Plainville in celebrating the Fourth of July this year. No definite plans have as yet been made by the commercial club.

The commercial club of Pierce, which asked to help finance the next of the government post office quarters, voted against making such a donation.

A. O. Schramm, a farmer of the Pierce vicinity, purchased the Pierce city station last week from Fritz Lierman. The former will retain his land and Mr. Lierman is undecided what he will do.

Water dripping into the M. & O. railway station at Bloomfield, April 22, caused a short circuit between two electric wires and this set fire to the building. A boy passing the building saw the blaze, and sent in the alarm. It is thought that a few minutes more would have seen the entire building destroyed.

The Bloomfield Journal suggests that the automobile owners and dealers of the towns of northeast Nebraska organize an automobile protective association to prevent or at least decrease automobile thefts.

The Journal states that an organization interested in this matter with the proper co-operation of the automobile owners would do away with the greatest share of this menace.

Edwin Burgard of Bloomfield, was arrested on the approaching railway crossing his car onto the railway drowsing Wednesday of last week just as the afternoon passenger was passing. The pilot of the engine caught the rear of the car. Both rear wheels were demolished and the body and one fender damaged. Mr. Burgard escaped uninjured.

One of the largest church gatherings of its kind will be held at the Emmanuel Lutheran church in Tekamah May 4, 5 and 6, when the North Platte and South Platte conferences of the United Lutheran church in America hold a joint session. Prominent speakers will be there for the occasion.

The city council of Tekamah met Monday evening to consider bids for a drainage system.

Judge Bryant of Harrington, ruled that the four children of Mrs. Andrew Johnson of Randolph, were taken to the state home because the mother is unable to give them proper support. She protested to the action but the court stood firm in the decision that the children must have better clothing and nutrition.

Father John of Stanton, delivered an address at Harrington, April 15, denouncing the actions of the Non-Partisan League. Mentioning the substance of the speech the Harrington Herald says: "The speaker conceded the right of the farmer to organize to protect himself and advance his cause, just as any other organization of workers is permitted to do, but he resented the idea of agitators preaching the doctrine of class hatred. The speaker proved that both

How much should I give to make this a better world?

- A CERTAIN man in New York filled out his income tax report.
- It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.
 - Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!
 - Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.
 - Our average daily gift for all church causes is:
 - less than we spend for daily papers
 - less than a local telephone call
 - less than a third of the day's car fare
 - less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't just want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty denominations. They have surveyed their whole task, no business could have done it better. They have budgeted their needs; no business could have more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men or women who love America—to you—this week asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be.

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better will the world be because you passed through?

HERRICK HIGH GRADE REFRIGERATORS.

This refrigerator is as strong and durable as it looks, and as efficient in ice economy and food preservation as it is artistic in design and finish. The ice chamber is sufficient, like all HERRICK refrigerators, to maintain a proper temperature with a minimum amount of ice and creates circulation throughout as long as any ice remains. Nothing has been overlooked and no expense spared in making this refrigerator all that workmanship and the highest quality of materials can possibly make it. It is the crowning masterpiece of more than a quarter of a century of refrigerator making. Nothing but genuine oak is used in HERRICK refrigerator casings.

Owing to shortage of materials, we are advised by the factory that no more refrigerators can be furnished on this season. When our present stock is exhausted we shall have no more to sell this year. Place your order now.

EXPLAINS STATE ROADS

Commissioner P. M. Corbit Gives Light on Public Highway.

(To the Wayne Herald.)

In order that the public may have a better conception of the roads known as state roads in Wayne county, I deem it advisable at this time to explain as clearly as possible what roads are entitled to state highway aid. Road No. 23 commences at West Point, running through Pender thence west to Wayne county line, thence west two miles in Leslie precinct thence north ten miles to Wakefield. These twelve miles will be known as highway patrol number three and will be kept up at state expense for the year 1920 and will receive federal aid in 1921.

Road No. 17 commencing at Wisner running through Altona, Wayne, Laurel, Coleridge, Harington, Fordyce to Missouri river south of Yankton.

That portion of this highway in Wayne county commencing at Cumming county line running north two miles, west through Altona to township line between Brenna and Plum Creek, thence north to within one one-half mile south of Wakefield, it will be known as patrol number two and will be kept and maintained the same as patrol number three, south of Wakefield, but it is very likely that the Wisner and Wayne road will be advertised and let in the near future, and receive the federal aid that is due it. That will mean the elimination of the heavy grades, the filling of all low places, giving it proper culvert construction, thence by giving it the necessary drainage. A new steel span is on the ground to be put in across Plum Creek, at the Cozad place.

The highway north of Wayne, a continuation of highway seven, north to the Cedar county line will be completed in a short time. State and federal funds will have put it in the highest class condition that is possible for an earth road; this road will be turned to the county when finished and will be patrol number one.

The roads that have been designated and that we have made application to the state and the state to the federal government for aid are the roads running from Wayne to county line west of Hoskins and from Wayne via Carroll to the Cedar county line northwest of Sholes. The matter of making the last mentioned roads eligible for the state and federal aid will be a legislative matter in the coming legislature and they will be recognized and become a part of the state system next spring and placed under patrol as have been the other mentioned above.

I hope this will explain the present and the future intentions of the state as regards the state system. All the maintenance for the patrols mentioned, is paid from the seventy-five per cent auto and truck license that is paid to the state, and the county is reimbursed for any money that it may spend.

Any other matters pertaining to roads I will gladly try to explain.

Yours,
P. M. CORBIT.

DEATH OF JUDGE HOLCOMB

Former Nebraska Governor and Supreme Judge Passes Away.

In addition to serving as governor and on the supreme bench, he was a member of the board of control, which was created in 1912 to take charge of the fifteen state institutions and was assigned to that post, but failing health compelled him to resign.

Calls Pardon Illegal

Lincoln, Neb., April 26.—Under the Nebraska law, as construed by Gov. McKelvie, the pardon granted by Roy Sandovick, automobile thief, last Friday by Lieut. Gov. Barrows during the absence of the governor, is illegal. Gov. McKelvie, who has just returned from the east, contends the law provides that a pardon for a crime which has been refused, cannot be revived for a period of one year. It is much less than that time, he says, since he definitely denied clemency to Sandovick.

The City of Wayne

Wayne, the county seat of Wayne county, is a growing city of 3,000 inhabitants. It is surrounded by the richest agricultural lands in the state. Farms are well improved, and reflect the prosperity and enterprise of the owners. The largest State Normal school in the state is located here and within a stone's throw of the lots to be offered at auction. The excellent public schools are housed in a fine modern structure. There are six church organizations—Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, English Lutheran, Evangelical Lutheran and Catholic. The city has electric light plant, city water works, sanitary and storm sewer systems, and has let a contract for four miles of paving now in course of construction. It has two hospitals, ice manufacturing plant, flouring mill. Wayne is ideal for residence, and is desirable for business or industry. It is wideawake, substantial and progressive. No one was ever disappointed in putting dollars into Wayne or pinning faith to its future.
