The city of Randolph expects to change the light current there from the 220 direct to the 110 alternating, very soon.

County fair is being held at Hartington in Cedar county this week. Plans have been made for a larger live stock exhibit than usual.

Fred Dale and Miss Edith Wrigley, the former well known in Wayne, were married at Lincoln. Mr. Dale is a graduate of the Wayne State Normal and Miss Wrigley was kindergarten teacher of Hartington schools.

The resignation of Rev. Jerling Thompson, pastor of Trinity Lutheran and Paragon Lutheran churches at Hartington, was not accepted by the congregation, but he has been retained at an increase in salary.

T. H. Cresse, secretary and treasurer of the Hartington Threshermen's association says that there is a balance of $48 on hand, which he will turn over to the American Legion if nobody objects. The association was a war-time society and he feels that whatever funds are left are the property, before by right to the soldiers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sabih, Mildred, Minn. and Arthur, of Laurel, plan to spend the winter in Texas, where Mr. Sabih bought land a year ago. Clarence, the older son, who graduated from the Wayne State Normal, has accepted the position of principal in the Elginview schools.

Glennie Baron of Randolph, graduate of the Wayne Normal, has gone to O'Neals to teach the coming year. She spent the summer at Trineburg, Colo.

In September. The Sun and New York Herald: There is a faint haze over the landscape these days in spite of the brilliance of the sunlight. For some of the thickening shadows of autumn. Daylight saving begins to lose some of its potency of appeal to early risers and the dark comes an hour earlier than this time a month ago. Crispness is in the morning and night air in spite of the summer's heat of noonday and a prudent folk begin to plan for heavier attire. School looms up on the immediate foreground for teachers; pupils and parents. The sitting room lamp instead of the screened porch is now the center of evening life. Theatrical advertisements have a more telling note than they did during July and August. We are once more on the threshold of the indoors season for men in the north temperate zone.

Yet those of us who fall too closely under this spell of shirking the rigors of outdoors as autumn comes miss the second finest season of the year in the open. The Scandinavians have a theory that man should absorb all the heat of the summer sun before he can stand the chill of winter which is their avowed reason for bathing, as Zorn shows them in his well known etchings of the nude. If this theory be true there is no time when the beneficence of the sun's rays may be gathered into our bodies as well as in these gorgeous days of September. This is the month in particular for walking, for the pedestrian art can be practised now without the discomfort attending it in summer time. Moreover it is the best for the same reason. And for the man who loves the woods and the shooting, his year now narrows at its prime.

With the coming of September a certain type of gourmet feels life is worth living again with the advent of his beloved oyster. This is the month in which the gourmet and heliophilic instincts to the last fulfillment against the assaults of winter with its inevitable shutting of our conscious systems by confinement indoors. In September there are still a few half holidays left. And for men and women should take as their motto: Get out into the open. The physical benefits of such a course may not seem very important, but they are certain, nevertheless. September ought to be one of the greatest outdoor months of the year.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

Determination. Jonah said he'd bet some kale he could travel in a whale. All the village sports were shocked and they looked him and they looked. "No one ever yet," they cried, "journeyed in a whale's inside. It would be all kinds of fun, but, alas, it can't be done." For the fish's throat's so small it can't bolt big things at all, even if you got inside you'd be smothered soon," they cried; "you could not trip endure, for the ventilation's poor." "That's the way all timorous spiel," answered Jonah, of the reel; "Just because no other male ever traveled in a whale, you insist it can't be did, but I'll bet my Sabbath lid that I'll pull the start ere long; just to show' you're all in wrong. No one ever makes a bit if he's willing to admit that a warden's beyond his skill, he should say 'I can't will!' Obstacles are doubters' their trouble, grief and woe to spare, he must face a score of foes, but he laughs at things like those. Men who falter, doubt and crawl, never travel in a whale. When say I'll do a thing you may bet your wedding ring that I'll win or break a stat; you may bet your roll on that."

dwelling there roams a skunk; at break of day the whole charmed neighborhood is smelling of Jockey Club or New Mowr Hay. I know not why this midnight vagrant should always to my cottage steer; I only know he renders fragrant a hundred leagues of atmosphere. I would not in this way be haunted, were it a lion or a bear; for I'm of courage, high, undaunted, and I would shoo it to its lair. Oh, bring your ferocious man eating tiger, and I'll face, and never quail, and chase it to its native Niger, and tie a tin can to its tail. I'll meet in any man's arena the fiercest brutes the world can dig, the warthog and the rude hyena, the polar bear and guinea pig. No man can say I am a quitter, but all my courage seems like wind, when comes that avonitic gritter, with incense from the storied Ind. Which shows, my friends, that circumstances will alter cases, now and then; and when some sort of doom advances, the grit falls in the bravest men. Call me not creaken if I tremble, say not that all my boasts are bunk; my inward fears I can't dissemble, I will not try to kill the skunk.

Political Essentials. Beforehand: There seems to be two kinds of politicians; the one who can make people think as he does, and the other who can anticipate what the people are going to want and get at the head of the procession. Failure to be one or the other of these has made many political graves.

So Efficient

HUGHES ELECTRIC

...es, that word "Efficient" as used for the title, means exactly what you think it means. It means that the HUGHES Electric Range

- is competent to do everything that any range will do quickly and well.
-that you do your work with less worry and bother, while securing better and more uniform results.
-that the oven, built on the fireless cooker principle, enables you to cook an entire meal without using the surface burners.
-that the kitchen is easily kept immaculate because there is no fuel, refuse, no soot or vapors.
-that you will work in comfort because practically all of the heat goes right into the cooking operations and the temperature of the kitchen is not increased.

Surely these reasons entice us to call the HUGHES efficient. Let us give you a copy of "How to Modernize" and tell you more about the HUGHES Electric Range.

The huge majority rolled up in Maine for the republican ticket may be reasonably accepted as an indication of how the country generally feels.

We are informed that stealing has become a frequent practice. It is likely the authorities will have to put forth extraordinary effort to catch the guilty in this respect to the thieving business."

Women are receiving electric attention in the matter of electoral instructions. The likelihood is they will be able from the start to vote quite as intelligently as men.

There is no reason why politics should not be as clean and free from corrupt practices as other lines of business. Politics has to do with the welfare of the people and involves liberty and opportunity and every private interest. Politics should not be regarded as mere game and a means to an end. It calls to duty of the highest order.

A manifest weakness of the Wilson administration has been a preclusion to presidential bias rather than consideration of best public service in the selection and retention of cabinet members. This fact has aroused unusual interest in future holders of cabinet portfolios.

People would like to see cabinet members, able and anxious to respond to the highest sense of public duty will be chosen. Senator Harlan is the most prominent name mentioned in connection with the large field of able republicans to choose from, prove influential in behalf of the republican candidate. No protest is regarded as big enough to measure up to the requirements of the period without the hearty support of a strong cabinet. In the election of Senator Harlan, the unfortunate Wilson regime will entirely disappear, and a refreshingly new order of statesmanship will be established.

Dear Marie: I read with lively interest your stupendous onslaught in last week's Norfolk Press, many copies of which were returned to me in Wayne county. You send out a lot of extras to Wayne's farmer friends to discredit the town and the American Legion, or the Herald, or to boost yourself for congress? I cannot believe a woman of your fine mentality would resort to such attempts at political coming.

unless easily influenced by those who would put justice for power above sense of justice. If Wayne is as bad as you suggest, it will the Herald, ought to be obliterated. And you, my friend of the town ought to vote against you as a fitting retribution to an unwarranted attack on the Herald. I regret you are in the furthest ground that you would be unlikely to exercise a better judgment in congress than you have lately exercised out here.

Now, Marie, it grieves me to see you follow a lead that is so screamingly inconsistent. A sane man would be mildly facetious, and get away rather gracefully. But wholesale disregard of consistency makes the present mess worse than with legislation and contentment.

You say the Herald's opposition to the Nonpartisan League is responsible for the unfortunate treatment of your meeting in Wayne recently, notwithstanding that the editor, hearing of the effort to prevent the meeting of the hall, put forth his earnest effort to head off any possible molestation. "One leader who goes somewhere in your group, and is a constant intruder, and makes the having of no clothes interesting and makes it a pleasure to be stylish and correctly dressed."

The republican candidate for the state senate in this district is so much more in sympathy with the Nonpartisan League than the party which he represents, that he has been so far from the party that he has apparently lost his mind when opposition is offered to the former. It is that consistent.

World that he is consistent? It would be to be a consistent world to which one or more of his candidates belong, would we be responsible on that ground for any of the "Nonpartisan League" political talk of your star of hope?

In your closing paragraph, you say "you think it is a crime for thoughts to perish in embryo, and yet you would have the Herald remain silent on the subject of the North Dakota nightmare which you wish to fasten on this state. You are consistent, Marie?"

You say the American Legion is an "organized farmer group." Why didn't you say "against the Nonpartisan League?"

You connect the American Legion with the disturbances at the opera house, and then, before you get through you express the belief that the soldier boys would not indulge such conduct. Really, Marie, did you think the boys were here that you had blamed them in another?

You criticize Mayor J. H. Kemp for not throwing himself into the breach of the Herald, who you defended the bridge, and causing a spell of quiet to spread over the disturbing elements. Now, Marie, what would you do under such circumstances? Then you say he "slipped away in the darkness." The lights having been cut off, how could you expect the Mayor to be in anything else. Did you think he could, by slipping some occult mesmeric force, call forth a cloud of fire from heaven, to light his way in anything else.

In conclusion, Marie, I would ask you not to agree to any such impending demolition which you fear will overtake the Herald. We have lost exactly three Nonpartisan League members in the last three months, and during the same time we have gained 200 new subscribers. People like the paper even if they don't agree with it. I have heard nearly everybody talk it regardless of politics or religion. So don't worry about this.

WALKER'S STORE NEWS

VOLUME 1 SEPTEMBER 16, 1920 NUMBER 1

This is the time of year when we especially like to have you visit our store and "just look around" at the new goods. Our Fall and Winter stocks are now on display and we want you to see them while the assortment is most complete.

ret styles and ready to help you plan stylish ways in which to make up the new materials they selected in dry goods and home furnishings.

time and package you can make one yourself and we will get the materials for you.

you get your children's shoes here from this stock. There are several styles in all leather shoes, our best leather shoes at $4.00 to $5.00, and if you have young boys to shoe be sure and see the lace boots of fine brown calf skin we're selling at $4.25.

You need feel under no obligations to buy. We will welcome an opportunity to have our new stocks make a favorable impression that will bring you here when your buying time comes.

The outstanding trimming features of every dress, suit and waist this season is heading, braiding or embroidering. If you saw at home remember you can depend on us for the materials necessary to carry out this work. We have colored seers and fancy beads, tailored yards and tangle braids that are cited for and also the transfer patterns which furnish the designs for applying them to your goods. There is also a good deal of pleating, especially on skirts, and we have arranged to send away your material and have it plated for you at slight expense.

Plain cotton goods like sheetings, muslins, sheets, cases, tickings and denim are all a little lower in price and we are selling them at the bottom of the market. We are lucky in having a good stock of outings left from last winter on which the price is ten cents a yard below the present market. Also a good stock of Fleisher's yarn which we are still crediting at 50 cents a skein. We can save you money on underwear which we carried over a good stock which we will continue to sell at the old prices.

Some of the finest peaches we have seen this year are here now from "Yuma." They are packed in bushel baskets and weigh with the basket 60 pounds, which is about three times the weight of ordinary boxes.

Styles for the coming season are quite different. But who would want the styles to stay the same? It is the constant change that makes the having of new clothes interesting and makes it a pleasure to be stylish and correctly dressed.

The popular wool material for fall apparel continues to be Tricotinor. It combines good wearing qualities and warmth with a deep weave that lends itself to a richness in coloring not found in other hard twisted cloths. Navy Blue is still a favorite color for dresses, although brown leads for coats and suits. The navy blue is the favorite colors. But you will get the best idea of all these styles by coming in to see just how they are made.

Traveling men are very particular about their samples. In the first place they select their own material for their suits. They are very careful in carrying them along in their trunks they are very careful to keep them as good looking as possible for when their appearance depends their sale nowadays when everyone wants good looking blankets. They do get rough when they used to and a saving of one-third means something worth while. We have every grade and hundreds of pair for your selection.

A cartload of Bartlett pears is expected today or tomorrow.

The coats, for instance, have very large collars, almost like capes, and suits have longer jackets and different lines, the dresses are ornamented with a great deal of heading and braiding. The skirts are pleated in various ways, the waists are again made with long pleated "mutton" waists, and there are many shades of gray and the favorite colors. But you will get the best idea of all these styles by coming in to see just how they are made.

For party and best-dress, handsome and are particularly good in black. Some of the handsome gowns we saw were made of chambrase or satin combined with a beautiful quality of fabric.

Traveler's sample blanket is not very badly soiled or mused. In fact, if we did not call your attention to it you would not notice this slight soil on most of these samples. Traveling men are very particular about their samples. In the first place they select their own material for their suits. They are very careful in carrying them along in their trunks they are very careful to keep them as good looking as possible for when their appearance depends their sale nowadays when everyone wants good looking blankets. They do get rough when they used to and a saving of one-third means something worth while.

If we bought a bag of the best green coffee known and roasted it ourselves you know it would have a "kick" that would drive away every coffee customer we had. The roasting of coffee used to be done by our grandfathers and people used to drink it. But we have been educated to a much finer taste now and it requires the most expert roasting, and the most expert blending, to bring out the coffee we demand today.

John and Arthur are now out giving their special ready-to-wear lines. Every day finds them in a different town—where they open their trunks and sell coats, suits and dresses to the ladies who have not pressed in advance of their coming. Every night we ship their goods to the nearest express garments for their next day's sale.

We must carry a large stock of coats, suits and dresses here at Wayne in order to supply these sales and you are interested to know this because you have all these garments to choose from here at the store before they are shipped out. Our stock is kept up by weekly express shipments from manufacturers in New York, Cleveland, Toledo, and Chicago, so we always have the latest styles as fast as they are brought out.

When the salesmen came along with their samples of the shoes for children we looked them over and priced them and decided not to buy for the following reason. The styles were no different from what we had in stock; the prices were one-fourth higher, and we had a good-sized stock of our own carried over from last year. We made up our minds to sell the shoes we had as long as the supply held out and then take a chance of getting a new supply at lower prices than the salesmen were then asking. We felt that prices could not very well go any higher at any rate. There has been no lowering in prices yet, however, and it don't look like there would be any for some time.

The high grade coffees are almost always a mixture of coffees grown in different localities and the average grade would be a failure at this mixing and blending because it requires a great deal of experience and taste to do this. We depend on Chase & Sanborn to do this work—they have been at it fifty years and have built up the largest and finest coffee trade in the world, so we are satisfied to trust our roasting and blending to them. Their coffees are the best to be had and they always keep the quality of their coffee brands the same. When you find a grade that suits you, we'll be glad to get you that same grade here year after year. The Chase & Sanborn company have donated Seal Brand coffee to the ladies' club and the P. E. O. who are serving at the city hall and fair grounds this week where you will have an opportunity to judge of its flavor.

Handing garments in this way greatly reduces the expense to us and we are able to make very low prices. We would like to have you look through our stock and see what you can do before buying your fall and winter wardrobe. We have the styles and can save you money. Now is a very good time to come as the assortment is much larger than this time than it will be later on.

Fancy hand bags of silk, both plain and beaded, are very popular. We thought some very beautiful and stylish handbags from which you can make your own. We wanted to buy some of the new real beads but when they were $1.00 each and $1.50 each for a real nice one we were lost our nerve. If you have the

If the style of a piece of merchandise isn't the best, we don't want to stock it. If the workmanship on our standard isn't up to our standards, we don't accept it. If the materials offered us in anything we don't think they ought to be it doesn't get into our store.

Mrs. Brown and Miss Fox went along on the first of the article to help select the dry goods and to gather ideas about the new styles. When you come in to select material for your wardrobe, we will be glad to help you find them thoroughly informed about the current styles.

Dr. E. J. Ackley

Sioux City's Wonderfully Successful Dentist. Explains Briefly How Bad Teeth Affect the General Health.

(From Sioux City Tribune.)
Every young person has known for years that the mouth is a good wonderful breeding place for bacteria and that to just clean the mouth in the morning has a great deal to do with how well you feel during the rest of the day. Dentists and physicians have known for years that in hundreds of chronic cases that would not respond to the regular treatment of medicine the treatment of teeth or the extraction of the bad ones have caused the complete recovery of the patient but until the last few years neither the physician or the up-to-date dentist could tell you just why. Now we can tell you. We can diagnose your case intelligently.

Today we can explain to you just how many of the diseases of the flesh can be caused and directly traced to dead teeth and the infection that accompanies them. Of course you will probably say if you happen to be a sufferer—it can not be my teeth as my teeth have been regularly looked after by my dentist and say they have never given me any pain. It is the teeth that give no warning that are the dangerous ones. If we have a pain in a tooth we don't need the advice of anyone to let that tooth be faulty.

Being a member of the dental profession I am not proud to say that the worst offenders to the general health and the cases that are filling more cemeteries than any other are the teeth that have had the nerves killed by good, bad, and indifferent dentists, and on many of which are gold crowns and bridges. Some dentists of my acquaintance are big enough today to tell you they made a mistake when they did your dental work in the past while others, I am led to believe, would insist, even if you were sick, that this infection never could not be traced to your teeth. An X-ray diagnosis is unnecessary. I suggest that should you have had this experience just look up some BIG man. Some man who is ready and willing, even if he has made a mistake in the past, is willing to admit it, or if he is still ignorant of what real dentists are doing for humanity you had better consult someone else any way. Just remember that it makes no difference how beautiful your dentist may look it may be covering up these millions of bacteria that are breaking down your health.

Practical experiments on rabbits and guinea pigs by such celebrated scientists as Rosenow Billings and others that have conclusively proven that many diseases such as kidney disease, eye infection, heart trouble, rheumatism and others too numerous to mention in this space are, in many cases, directly traceable to infected teeth.

This is no longer theory. It is FACTS. Don't wait until you are sick. If you feel that anything was not correctly done especially in your root canal work come down to this institution and learn the truth. Don't let the penny wise—and pound foolish. Come to a real organization that not only is headed by a man whose dental experience and education has been gained by actual association with the biggest dentists in Europe and this country, but one that spent thousands of dollars that Sioux City and this community might have this wonderful institution and service.

Should you be a poor person and feel that you can not pay even our reasonable fee a letter from your postmaster stating that fact will assure you of our service without cost.

We guarantee our dental work.

AGRICULTURE NOTES

Fight Insects Now With Plow.
Fall plowing is the most universal fly effective way of controlling insect pests that annually cause great losses to the grain farmer. It is much easier and cheaper, says the bureau of entomology, United States department of agriculture, to prevent an insect outbreak in this manner than it is to stamp out the infestation once it is fully developed. The Hessian fly, so destructive to wheat is one of the insects that can hardly be eradicated once it is established in the crop. Fall plowing is recommended because it breaks up the soil and destroys the grubs and pupae of many insects by exposing them to the sun and air.

Farmers' Bulletin 835, prepared by the bureau of entomology, tells how to control the most common and dangerous of the grain farmer's insect enemies. It gives briefly the life histories of the Hessian fly, army worm, cutworms, grasshoppers, white grubs, billbugs, corn rootworms, and wireworms, with authoritative data describing the characteristics of each pest and the best practical remedies for control. The bureau advises the grain farmer to plow in the fall, if possible; to keep a supply of insecticides and a spraying outfit on hand to watch the crops carefully for an outbreak, and to report all outbreaks to the county farm adviser, or direct to the bureau of entomology, United States department of agriculture.

The Fatted Calf—How to Grow It.
For the profligate who has insistently urged that the government should stock the United States department of agriculture has prepared a special "bulletin" from which to be taken the title "The Fatted Calf: Its Growth and Development," this new publication, written principally for young farmers, contains a complete description of the calf and how to raise it for use as a breeding animal. The bulletin is a response to an unusual demand by members of boys' and girls' clubs for specific information on the principles and practices of raising well-bred calves, preparing them for show or sale, and disposing of them to advantage. Desirable and undesirable types of calves are discussed and illustrated.

There are chapters on equipment needed, keeping the calf healthy, feeding, and the importance of changing the ration as the animal develops, also methods of preventing parasites and disease. The bulletin describes clearly how to clip, curl, or otherwise prepare the coat of the various breeds of cattle preparatory to showing them, with additional directions regarding shipping and exhibiting. Persons desiring such information should write to the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., for Farmers' Bulletin 1135.

Farmers' Bull Clubs Will "Work."
Are you one of those who think a bull association can not be formed? The United States department of agriculture says "If so, probably you are mistaken, for experience shows that bull associations are being organized in every kind of dairy community that can be found. The annual report of the dairy division shows that there are about 100 such associations in thirty different states of the union, and among all classes of communities.

The extension men of the dairy division find that in very many cases, when the idea of a bull association is discussed, people think that, while such an organization is clear-headed thing on general principles, the conditions in their particular community are not suitable. Many times, in such places, it has been thought to the surprise of some it has been found that the conditions did not stand in the way at all. There are many such communities. They have men engaged in dairying; they have scrub or other inferior bulls which should be replaced; and they have the need for better bulls.

Any community in which there are 200 or more cows can better afford to have a bull association than it can afford to be without one; and if the people of the community are neighborly and able to work together in every-day business affairs, they can just as well have strong association with all its benefits.

COLERIDGE BANKER DROWNS

His Health From Overwork Said to Have Caused Suicide.

Omaha Bee, Sept. 14: U. G. Bridenbaugh, 56, retired banker of Coleridge, Neb., leaped to his death yesterday afternoon from the Douglas Spruce bridge into Des Moines river. Mr. Bridenbaugh, who had been confined at the St. Bernard hospital in Council Bluffs for the past two weeks, is thought to have suffered a relapse and escaped from his nurse, Miss Nancy Fogar, the hospital attendant, had taken Mr. Bridenbaugh and another patient to an Omaha theater.

The body of the suicide victim has not been recovered. How the man escaped from his nurse has not been learned. Authorities at St. Bernard hospital had not learned of Mr. Bridenbaugh's death until Omaha detectives informed them.

Identify Victim by Letter. Identification of the victim was made through a letter addressed to Dr. Frank T. Seybert, found in a coat left on the railing of the bridge by the suicide victim, before he climbed to a water barrel and took the fatal leap.

Mrs. E. McGuire, 1706 Fourth avenue, and Mrs. W. E. Murphy, 2100 Avenue A, both of Council Bluffs, saw the man leap from the bridge as they were crossing in an automobile. Mrs. McGuire screamed. The man turned his head, shouted, "I am going!" and hurled himself into the water.

Women Report Suicide. The two women spend to Central police station and reported the affair. R. Allen, Lollman, 2974 Avenue B, Council Bluffs, saw the man climb to the railing, but too late to prevent him from taking the leap, he said.

Mr. Bridenbaugh had recovered sufficiently to be released from St. Bernard's hospital, Council Bluffs, within two more weeks. Dr. Frank T. Seybert of Council Bluffs, who had been attending the aged man, told Detectives Trapp and Warrin, Overwork caused his demented condition, Dr. Seybert said. His widow and three children survive him, all living at Coleridge, Neb.

WHY DOES IT WASH CLEANER?

BECAUSE: By the vacuum principle the dirt is all forced OUT instead of rubbing part of it into the fabric.

WHY WITH LESS WORK TO THE OPERATOR?

BECAUSE: By the vacuum principle it requires only power to handle the water, not the clothes. This eliminates the wear on the fabric and makes the machine run much easier.

In order to fully appreciate the real value of THE NATIONAL VACUUM WASHER, YOU MUST GIVE IT A TRIAL.

Express Rates Increased.

Lincoln, Sept. 14.—Twelve and one-half per cent increase in express rates within the state of Nebraska to balance an advance of the same amount on interstate traffic granted by the Interstate Commerce commission a month ago has been ordered by the state railway commission. The rate in rates becomes effective immediately upon the filing of new state tariffs by the American Railway Express company, which will be within a day or two.

It is made a proviso of this order as it was of the interstate commission's, that all the additional revenue realized from the higher rates shall be retained by the express company and none of it to go to the railroads. In the past the railroads have received 50.25 per cent and the express company 49.75 per cent of the total revenue. The new division will be 55.11 per cent for the express carrier and 44.89 per cent for the railroads.

Special commodity rates on live poultry are canceled. This action was agreed to by poultry interests, with the understanding that satisfactory rates will be established by the express company under classified schedules, to be submitted to and approved by the Interstate Commerce commission.

In a separate order, the railway commission has increased express rates to the state fair grounds 25 per cent, or less than standard 14-16 scale numbers, and on live hogs and sheep 30 cents per 100 pounds above the rates which are in effect at Lincoln.

Annual Convention. The annual convention of Wayne county farmers' union will be held at Winslow on Saturday, September 18, at 1 o'clock p. m. All members are urged to be present. Nels J. Johnson, Secretary.

An Ancient Precedent.

Minneapolis Journal: Dick's Store sold Torsh on a front porch, or its ancient Athenian equivalent?

MR. LEWIS SPEAKS TO WOMEN
Explains New State Constitution to be Voted on September 21.
On Saturday afternoon J. G. W. Lewis addressed the Woman's club and others in behalf of the pending constitutional amendments.
After briefly answering the objection that no revision of the Nebraska constitution is needed, and showing that sometimes a constitutional provision is needed to crystallize public opinion and direct the legislature, Mr. Lewis devoted his attention to the most important features of the pending amendments, taking the constitution article by article.
In the judgment of Mr. Lewis, some of the measures of greatest importance are those relating to the initiative and referendum, the executive budget, the reorganization of the judiciary, the provisions creating a state tax commissioner and providing a more just system of taxation, and the provision relating to normal schools, known as No. 25.
Mr. Lewis stated that in the opinion of some good authorities the most important single provision is the one known as No. 29 which provides a workable method of amending the state constitution. If this is adopted, a way will be provided in the future to correct mistakes without resorting to the cumbersome method of a constitutional convention or the laborious method of the initiative and referendum.
In conclusion Mr. Lewis pointed out that the attendance at the polls will be taken as an indication of the intelligence and public spirit of the people of the state, and that Wayne county should stand with the highest.

Business Optimism.
Sioux City Journal: The slight improvement in trade prospects notwithstanding, the outlook during the last several days. There is nothing sensational, or ominous, remarkable about the increasing optimistic tone of the reports of the business of the fall season changes trade prospects from summer indulgences to winter necessities. Summer purchases are being made, and the appeal to the fancy. Those of the winter are made for comfort. That condition gives winter frosts, which is not surprising in its first lay, a more substantial basis than summer trade. The change is one of the reasons for the better tone in business.
The volume of trade is much larger than in the recent past. Several changes are responsible for the change. Winter commodities are in demand, and the number required is greater. Weather conditions rather than individual sentiment are the controlling influence in purchases. For this reason merchants are venturing upon larger orders than they did a few weeks ago. But there is no inclination to open the large buying and high price organs through which the country has passed.
There are other influences which help in the betterment of conditions in general. The high interest rates are forcing speculators and profiteers who have been withholding large quantities of supplies from the consuming market, as in the case of sugar, to unload their stocks. Labor efficiency is higher than it has been since the close of the war, resulting in a substantial increase in output per capita. This increased efficiency is increasing the available supply and narrowing the gap between production and consumption. As this gap is narrowed prices will fall, because there will be no bidding among buyers for limited supplies available which would send prices far above their actual levels. Bidding for commodities was one of the causes of high prices, for the bid price was carried to the consumer.
A cut of 20 per cent in the price of wool cloth, announced by the American Woolen company, one of the largest concerns in the country, do not square with the general opinion of those profiteering clothes manufacturers who are making a desperate effort to increase prices because of the "higher" price of wool. Wool and other elements which enter into a suit of clothes.
The big crops now nearing the market are important influences in Tournament a Success.

Large crowd attended all the games of the Wakefield baseball tournament last week. Gate receipts at the Saturday game amounted to $700.

The Friday game with Emerson resulted in a draw the score being 3 to 3. On Saturday Wakefield defeated Thurston with a score of 4 to 0. The game with Allen Sunday was disastrous for the home team. Allen was the victor with a score of 11 to 0.

The Wakefield pitcher pitched for the Saturday game and all the team had been playing steadily during the week and were tired. It is thought that this may have caused the score to pile up against them.

BAND-PICNIC-DRAWN-CROWD.

Parade, Mock Fire, Concerts, and Games Make Festival a Success.

Large crowds, fine weather, and plenty of fun made Wakefield's fall festival, held Friday, September 10, a great success.

The first event of the day was a parade through the main streets of the town. Three hayracks carried members of the Wakefield bands whose dress as well as their music furnished amusement for the watchers. Coons and crowsy pretimed in the parade and Jiggs and Maggie played a prominent part.

An overgrown baby wheeled in a small cart instead of a buggy and carefully tended by his anxious family kept the crowd busy with his antics.

After the parade there was a fake fire in the American Legion hall. Brave firemen rescued an inanimate lady from the second story of the ruined structure.

A mulligan stew in the park was the next feature of the day. A chef from Norfolk came the day before to make preparations for the stew. It was composed of meat and vegetables, well-flavored, and served free to the crowd.

In the afternoon the ball game and races at the park entertained the picnickers and in the evening the bands gave a concert.

The success of the festival day may lead the members of the bands and of the American Legion to make the occasion an annual event.

Legion Concert.

The Holloway Company, a ten-piece orchestra, gave a concert here Monday evening under the auspices of the American Legion. Those who attended were much pleased by the good quality of the music. The crowd was not so large as the character of the entertainment warranted. The total amount taken was $153.

Chiropractic is the Best.

When choosing a drugless health method take the best, i. e., chiropractic. It is a scientific method of adjusting the cause of so-called disease without the aid of drugs or instruments and is based on a correct knowledge of anatomy and especially of the nervous system. The chiropractic idea is that the cause of disease is in the person afflicted and the adjustment in correcting it is wrong that is producing it. The function of every organ in the body is controlled by mental impulses from the brain, which is transmitted through the nerves. Any impingement (pinching) of these nerves interfering with the transmission of mental impulses results in an abnormal function called disease. This interference is produced by subluxated vertebrae (displaced small bones of the spine) pressing upon nerves as they pass out from the spinal cord. The trained chiropractor is able to locate the point of obstruction of interference and by adjusting the subluxated vertebrae with his bare hands alone, corrects the cause. Health is the result. Try chiropractic for your health needs. It is the best. Consultation and spinal analysis free.

REVIVAL TO BE HELD HERE

Rev. C. H. Harrington, Evangelist, Will Lead Meetings.

The Carroll citizens co-operative evangelistic committee is being organized in the big shed at Carroll this fall according to all indications will be not only a certainty, but a great success.

Over fifty persons have been appointed to serve on committees such as executive, devotional, entertainment, advertising, and extension, building, decoration, and others, who have been chosen from the good workers of the congregations and will do all in their power to make the campaign the greatest ever waged in Carroll in the way of a church revival.

Delegations are expected from all nearby towns, and some have been arranged for already which furnishes encouragement and indicates the success of the adventure.

The work of organizing a large chorus has already been started and many have signed up for such work. The chorus leader, Mr. T. D. Gately, of the Harrington evangelistic party, has a wonderful ability and has had much experience and will be something of a musical education for the young people, it is thought, to have the privilege of participating in this chorus. Billy Sunday, Mr. T. D. Gately, of the Harrington party, is also an expert, as a gospel pianist, having played at the Pacific Garden Mission Chicago, the place where Billy Sunday was converted.

An aggressive advertising campaign is being planned by those assisting the Rev. S. David Sikes, who is chairman of that branch of the work, and it is expected a territory within a radius of twenty-five miles will be thoroughly covered in the way of the publicity end of the work.

The evangelist, Rev. Chas. H. Harrington, now in such a campaign in this county, has written the following statements are a sample selected from thousands of a similar type: "He is an evangelist of a message: 'Praise in the pulp'." "He is brotherly and affable: 'He is quick to detect the problem.'"

"He has no wrong theories to be proclaimed." "He has the power to square." "He is a man's preacher." "His party is well qualified for their part." "God's hand is upon them." "They are earnest in personal service." "It is believed that his coming to northeastern Nebraska will be a great benefit to the people of the county and the churches and will lead to a great awakening throughout the whole territory."

When Narrative Thrills

Minneapolis Journal: When the sailor who has been trapped in a submarine meets socially the gentleman who went over Niagara in a barrel and then landed up the man who attempted the first flight around the planet in an airplane, then we get some pretty good narrative.

CAN'T PUNCTURE NOR BLOW OUT
DAYTON AIRLESS TIRES in the past 9 years have been used by thousands of owners of light passenger and delivery cars in all parts of the civilized world, and have conclusively demonstrated—1st—They can't puncture.
 2nd—They ride smoothly and wear evenly.
 3rd—They also much longer wear than the average pneumatic.
 They have been endorsed by thousands of satisfied drivers, including the late George Westinghouse and the former Chief Engineer of the Ford Motor Company.
 Mrs. of Wyo. elastic rubber units about one inch apart, holding the casing and supporting it on a side line.
 They have standardized on 30 x 3 and 32 x 3 and the price is right.
 We have no exclusive dealer in every county—the experience and necessary. Expert chains to hold up in roughest territory a very profitable business either by field or a side line.

CEDAR RAPIDS MAN GIVES OUT FACTS
 Says Tanlac Has Wonderfully Beautified Both Himself and Wife.
 "Tanlac has not only completely restored my health, but I have gained ten pounds in weight since I started taking it," said Abraham L. Davis, 519 South Tenth street, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a prominent real-estate dealer.
 "Five years ago I began suffering from stomach trouble. My appetite became very poor and even when I did manage to eat a little something I could seldom retain it. Finally I got so bad I had to confine myself to a diet of breakfast food or milk toast; but even this caused me to blast up so badly with gas I was in misery—it was absolutely impossible for me to eat anything solid, for I always suffered with such intense pain in the pit or my stomach afterward I could hardly stand them. There was always a bad taste in my mouth and I had such terrible headaches they became almost unbearable. Quite often these headaches came on me suddenly while at my desk, everything became blurred before me and I would have to stop what I was doing, go home and go to bed. I began losing weight, my nerves became so badly shattered I could get but little rest and always got up with a draggy, tired-out feeling. Then, in addition to my other troubles I suffered with rheumatism in my knee-joints so bad I could hardly walk and just had to drag my feet."
 "Although I have taken only six bottles of Tanlac I have as good an appetite now as any one could wish, eat just anything I want and never have any bad after-effects. I sleep like a child and always get up greatly refreshed, feeling like an athlete. The rheumatism has almost entirely gone out of my knees and I can get around as well as ever. I have not had a headache since I began taking Tanlac and just feel good all the time. My wife had also suffered from a long while from stomach trouble, and is improving every day since she began taking Tanlac."
 Tanlac is sold in Wayne by H. J. Falber, in Carroll by L. R. Kipp, and in Winside by B. & C. McIntyre.

La Follette Scotched.

New York Times: The returns from the Wisconsin republican primary indicate that Mr. La Follette is scotched, if not politically killed. Perhaps he will feel justified in writing to his friends "leave public life at the end of his present term. If he does, there will be a great fall in the price of printing paper.

The "Creel Mess."

Sioux Falls Press: The expense of the Creel bureau of public information—sometimes it was information pure and simple—amount to about $8,250,000. A good deal of it was democratic propaganda. Will not Geo. Cox for a while forget those chimerical fifteen million and look into the Creel mess?

Not Too Far.

Louisville Herald: After Gov. Cox traveled that 9,000 miles and made all of those speeches he should be at least a million miles from the White House.

Enthusiasm Lacking.

Chicago Daily News: Schoolboys are rapidly attaining normalcy, but they are not wildly enthusiastic about it.

Investigating the Remnant.

Chicago Daily News: Fugent men are already beginning to find out how much the moths have left of the little old last year's waistcoat.

Cox a Republican Asset.

See City Staff: We do not know what is the highest remuneration spellbinding talent can expect in a presidential campaign. We are presently well convinced, however, that if Mr. Will Hayes and his organization had just $3,000,000 to bestow in a legitimate way for the election of Senator Harding they could afford to expend at least $2,000,000 of the available total, if the thing were possible, in employing Gov. Cox to keep in the stump and continue to exhibit his personal and irremediable unfitness to be president of the United States.

Tom Watson's Distinction.

Jay E. House in the Philadelphia Public Ledger: The news columns indicate that Thomas E. Watson has arrived by way of the Georgia primaries. Mr. Watson's distinction does not, however, lie in the "fact that he finally negotiated the journey. His distinction is that he was nearly thirty years on the way.

Providence Doing Its Share.

Washington Post: A beneficent providence is doing its best to rescue the American people from the burlesque of the high cost of living. If the people themselves, through their government and by their own efforts, will only co-operate, there is hope of relief in the immediate future.

In Henry Ford's College.

Columbus Dispatch: Henry Ford has planned the organization of a college to be operated as a part of his automobile manufacturing plant, and we suppose there will be no excuse for anyone connected with it hereafter to be hazy as to who Benedict Arnold was.

Reasonably Close.

Kansas City Star: It appears from the testimony that Mr. Cox was only about $11,000,000 out of the way in fixing the amount of the republican campaign fund, and taking it all around that really isn't so very far out of the way for Mr. Cox.

Quite a Drop.

Birmingham Age-Herald: George Creel's war publicity department cost nearly $5,000,000. Still, $5,000,000 was a mere drop in the bucket.

Another Difference.

Minneapolis Tribune: The third party is unlike the first and second parties in that it has no past and yet has any future.

Not Too Severe.

Washington Post: The soviet has made the punishment fit the crime by putting the deported American Reds to work.
