THIS IOWA MAN HAS GAINED THIRTY POUNDS
Lost Strength and Energy Have Returned Since He Began Taking Tanlac.

"Since I began taking Tanlac I have not only gained thirty pounds in weight but am enjoying better general health than I have in years, and I just can't find words to express my gratitude for what it has done for me," said Charles J. Parker, 304 Oakland avenue, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Weighs 235 lbs.—the Quaker Oats Co.

"I had always been a strong healthy man up to about three years ago, but at that time I began losing weight and strength until finally I had no energy left and was in a badly run-down condition. Although I tried many different kinds of medicines, until I started taking Tanlac I had never found anything that did me any good. My stomach was in bad condition. I had no appetite and every time I did manage to eat I had something I would fill up with gas until I would be in perfect misery. No chance at all and I would feel heartburn so bad just about the time that I really did not care to be disturbed."

"Finally on the advice of a friend who had taken Tanlac with fine results, I began taking it. Well, in a short while I had a splendid appetite and could eat just anything I wanted without having a sign of gas, and I am only too glad to have this statement published, hoping it may be of benefit to some one else who may be suffering as I was."

Tanlac is sold in Wayne by H. J. Felber, his partner by R. King, and in Winfield by B. & C. McIntyre. R2314d

BUICK

UTILITY is the dominating characteristic of the new Nineteen-Two One Buick Valve-in-Head Series.

Buick engineers have always made service and power their leading principles and those who buy motor cars on this business basis will find in the new Buick series high-powered transports just as strong, durable and dependable as the highest engineering skill can make them.

While service and power are emphasized, the new Buick models are cars of striking beauty, highly attractive in lines and in appointments. In resilient spring suspension, making riding smooth and easy, and in the generous room provided for the full number of passengers, they offer a high degree of comfort.

The roomy, commodious new Buick seven passenger open car is a happy selection, combining comfort and utility with extra passenger capacity to meet every need.

And now a word or two about the cost of operation of the HUGHES ELECTRIC RANGE. That depends of course on the size of the family and on the operator. The largest burner run on "full" for one hour costs six and three-quarter cents; on "medium" costs three and four-tenths cents; and on "low," one and seven-tenths cents. To cook for a family of four persons costs from four to five dollars per month. It will therefore be seen that the cost of operation compares very favorably with kerosene and gasoline and is very much less than the cost of coal, to say nothing of the elimination of heat, smoke, gas and dirt. Ask us to show you this wonderful range.

RURAL SCHOOLS IN SESSION

Teachers Well Qualified This Year—Range of Salaries is Wide.

Most rural schools in the county are now in session. Many of second grade certificates than of any other class are held by teachers of the rural schools, but several teachers have first grade certificates, a few have state life certificates and quite a number hold certificates of the third grade.

Salaries range all the way from $uns below $100 a month to $150 a month. To fix prices on the services of teachers has been a difficult task since neither school boards nor teachers are sure of what is a fair wage under present living conditions.

AGRICULTURE NOTES

Fall Army Worm Invading North.

The bureau of entomology of the United States department of agriculture, reports that the invasion of the fall army worm is working northward from South Carolina and has been found in eastern Virginia. It is quite probable, say the experts, that the pest will continue its progress northward throughout the fall. The last severe outbreak of the worm was in 1912, when the damage done to cotton crops was enormous. The worm does not confine its attacks to cotton. It is a voracious feeder, and will destroy corn, grasses, sorghums, rice, oats, millet, and will sometimes attack cultivated crops such as the sweet potato, turnip, spinach, tobacco, tomato, cucumber, and grape. During the 1912 infestation many people reported great damage to lawn grasses by reason of the worm's insatiable appetite.

When the worms are observed to be feeding on the grasses they should be sprayed immediately with a solution of powdered arsenate of lead, one pound, or arsenite of zinc, one pound, to fifty gallons of water, in order to kill them before they can attack the corn and more valuable crops, which they will do as soon as they have destroyed the preferred grasses.

The department of agriculture does not anticipate that the present invasion will reach the disastrous proportions of the 1912 invasion, but it does advise that the bare striped caterpillar be watched and checked whenever seen on any of its favorites. A delay of twenty-four hours in applying control may result in the destruction of a valuable crop, or it may ruin a lawn.

May Introduce Corn Borer's Foe.

It is possible that parasites which destroy the European corn borer may be brought to the United States to help in controlling this pest. Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the bureau of entomology, United States department of agriculture, has just returned from Europe where he made an extended study of the borer and its enemy parasites in the cornfields of France and Italy. He reports that the corn borer is to be found in nearly every European field, but that its ravages are not severe, probably due to some natural control which checks the insect.

In the United States the European corn borer does considerable damage in some portions of the country. In Massachusetts the damage to the sweet corn in 1919 was estimated to be between five and ten per cent of the crop. It seems evident that there is not, as yet, the natural means of control which evidently does keep the pest from the European fields from disaster.

The department has been active in the effort to eradicate or control this insect in order to prevent its spread to the great corn-growing belts of the south and middle-west. The insect normally has a wide range but though it has been known to spread for ten years, it has been unable to spread far from the original infestation spots. There is some ground for hope that damage by this pest this year will be less than was sustained last year. The European corn borer differs from all others in that it attacks all portions of the plant, with the exception of the broad leafy parts. Its attack sometimes results in very serious injury to the plant and it is this phase of feeding activity which makes the insect a dreaded and dangerous enemy.

This is not a good time to fan the fires of social unrest by inflaming ill and proposing doubtful experiments in government.

If Wayne county is a criterion of results over the state, the amendments to the Nebraska constitution have been adopted without exception.

The attempt to blow-up Wall street last week reflects the red hand of anarchy that would upset orderly government. The National Government must deal vigorously with anarchists if violent outbreaks are to be avoided and American liberties safeguarded.

Touching one phase in the high cost of living, Bixby makes this objection in the Lincoln Journal: "Governor Cox is peeved because the newspapers of the country do not quote his speeches more fully. He thinks his under the present administration the high cost of living print makes it necessary to economize space. We suggest that he shorten his speeches and make the same more epigrammatic."

Fair weather the last few weeks has not yet torn out of danger of damage frost and issues a big crop. This good fortune will add materially to the prospects of Wayne county in the coming year. Favorable September weather has also stimulated spring results in Wayne, and as consequence people will feel more like coming here to trade and market their produce. No more getting out of cars and landing in a sea of mud.

The late Wayne county fair was a success beyond expectations. In quality of the stock, number of exhibits, was exhibited at state fairs. The crowds in attendance were large and uniformly well pleased. A proposition to buy and improve the county and build up a big and flourishing organization is being strongly urged. Some one has suggested that Wayne county should take over the counties surrounding counties, which seems entirely feasible and advisable.

The self-styled "Old Man" of the Norfolk Press, husband of Mrs. Marie O'Donnell Weekes, W. B. M. G. Jr. Would be Member of Congress, has an unwelcome and unwarranted desire to be heard: "Once upon a time Norris A. Huse remarked that his publicity is good. Even had publicity is better than no publicity. I hope his venerable uncle who edits the Wayne Herald can endorse the sentiment, for his town is coming in for a share of our publicity, owing due to the attitude taken by that paper's editorial policy."

CONTINUES TO STEAM.
Mrs. O'Donnell Weekes, candidate for congress and editor of the Norfolk Press, continues to efference to the editor of the Norfolk Press and his editor for molestation of the second Nonpartisan League meeting in Wayne. She assumes a holy mission of fairness, and yet she not only continues to charge us with influencing the disturbers to disturb, but she has the audacity to affront us, and we appealed to a lawyer to take steps to prevent holding the meeting. Her cobbling anxiety for the truth ought to send her from at least to a conclusion diametrically opposed to the truth: "It is plain to anyone familiar with the record of the Herald that its editor has always stood up-hold-law-and-order, that he has attempted are outpoken against mob rule. To question any one who may have been misled by bald and groundless presumption, we have the following statement from A. R. Davis:

"To Mrs. Marie O'Donnell Weekes, Norfolk, Neb. To correct the false impression which was being given by your paper, that E. W. Huse, editor of the Wayne Herald, sought my assistance to suppress the Nonpartisan League meeting which was so persistently molested in Wayne recently. On the contrary, Mr. Huse, having been in an effort to be made manifest to prevent the meeting from being held in my office and asked me to use my influence to prevent any possible disturbance, which I did. Mr. Huse was always opposed mob violence, always supported orderly process, and your charge does him great injury and is wholly indefensible and inaccurate.

Mrs. Marie O'Donnell Weekes has had sent to me a copy of her low-minded editorial treating the Wayne situation, and asks us to publish it in this week's Herald. She says she doesn't think we will do it, but we will not disappoint her in that one particular.

In view of her desire for us to re-publish her milking machine advertisement, we wonder if she will re-publish the affecting letter which she addressed to her mother just weeks ago? To see us right in the minds of the people she has been able to reach will she re-publish Mr. Davis' refutation of false charges? Some people are so fearful that they won't be treated fairly themselves that they forget to be fair to others.

Mrs. Marie O'Donnell Weekes reminds us of Don Quixote, Knight of the Sorrowsful Figure. Don was a valiant and noble knight, but he imagined things that had no existence. Mrs. Marie O'Donnell Weekes buckles on her armor and goes forth to battle against a hideous monster that she assumes is threatening to devour the farmer. As a matter of fact, the average farmer is far better off today than the average man in town, and he knows it. The average farmer could buy the average rural newspaper and not in the least detract on his large farm investment. Imagine the Quixotic wisdom shown by newspapers, worse expressed as unwisely rushing and instructing the farmer in the exercise of business or political wisdom! Imagine struggling newspapers going forth to educate the farmer, who is more oppressed than others and that he is in fact, far richer in judgment and material possessions—should forsake his peaceful life and take the wild trip of socialism to cure existing ills.

Farming communities which include the cost of reconstruction, following the war, is allowed to proceed. The farmer is more oppressed than others and that he is in fact, far richer in judgment and material possessions—should forsake his peaceful life and take the wild trip of socialism to cure existing ills.

One Result in Illinois.
St. Paul Finance Press: Governor Cox might find the returns from the Illinois primary Tuesday an interesting study. There were two candidates for the republican nomination for governor and likewise a pair of democrats contested for that nomination. The two republican candidates received an aggregate of approximately 700,000 votes, while the two democratic candidates had together approximately 100,000.

Old Staff.
New York Morning Telegraph: We have with us every now and then the men who raise at women because their clothes are immodest. But the idea is old. Adam first began it when he criticized Eve for substituting one for fig leaves.

All One Way in South Dakota.
Sioux Falls Argus-Leader: The vote of South Dakota will go overwhelmingly for Senator Harding. There cannot be the slightest question of this. In fact, the fight in this state over the national ticket is so one-sided that it is a void of interest.

Baffles Understanding.
Kansas City Star: The Sinn Feiners in a separate Irish party are being set up in Ulster, although they claim to have set up a separate one in the south. But that's only one of the little things that make the Irish question easy to understand.

Easy Imagined.
New York Sun: "You can well imagine," said Candida Cox in his San Francisco "auditorium" speech, "how deeply my emotions are stirred when I come into this great auditorium, the Yea, Aye! The precious spot where Murphy, Taggart, Nugent, and Brennan pit him across."

Self-Determination in Korea.
Kansas City Star: The Koreans are continuing to shoot Japanese planes over the Korean peninsula and are continuing to shoot back. Korea seems to be another place where self-determination is having high emotions, but few practical results.

Gold the Final Appeal.
Chicago Daily News: British labor is said to be in demand. The discovery that the Russian reds are seeking to bribe British labor leaders with gold. Still, gold forms the only valuable appeal that the Russian could make.

Accounting for High Prices.
Baltimore Sun: The reason an article costs $10 more is because the material in it now costs 18 cents more and the labor 9 cents more.

Meaning Whom?
Washington-Star: Occasionally an employer will be so much so successful and goes on a silence strike.

view of her desire for us to re-publish her milking machine advertisement, we wonder if she will re-publish the affecting letter which she addressed to her mother just weeks ago? To see us right in the minds of the people she has been able to reach will she re-publish Mr. Davis' refutation of false charges? NOT WANTED IN BURT COUNTY Nonpartisan League Meeting Failed to Materialize at Tekamah.

Tekamah (Burt County) Journal: Advertising matter was sent to the Journal last week for a big nonpartisan meeting to be held at the Legion hall. The writer recalled the intention of the boys was the fact that the meeting was to be held in the interests of this new league and they were not allowed to use the hall. Sunday morning the postoffice boxes were filled to overflowing with cards calling attention to the meeting. Mrs. Weekes of Norfolk, a candidate for congress on the Nonpartisan League ticket, came Monday evening with another speaker, but as they had no place to speak did not appear before the public. The writer has known Mrs. Weekes for several years and had a short visit with her that evening. We would have liked to see her on some other ticket and regret that as bright a woman as she is has consented to take the stump for this organization.

Onland (Burt County) Independent: The meeting of the so-called Independent Party, advertised to be held in Tekamah, Monday evening, did not take place. It was to have been held in the Legion hall when the boys learned that it was to be a Nonpartisan meeting they refused to open their hall to the speakers whom they scorned. While the Nonpartisan movement has spread all around Burt county, in this county the zealous workers for the cause have not found friendly soil, and no growth to speak of has been made. There was a meeting in a school house in the community, but the attendance was discouragingly small. Here and there is a man who has parted with his $18 for the privilege of being enrolled one of the faithful followers of Townley.

The name Nonpartisan is a misnomer in the first place, for if any organization is partisan, the same is the machine built up by Townley. It is a class movement, purely, and the idea is to arraign the farmer against all others. There is no room in this country for class movements, attempts to gain benefit for one class at the expense of the rest of the good people of Burt county will be enough to see that nothing good can come out of such propaganda. There are many conditions which can be removed in the industrial life of the country, but this had best be done in an orderly manner, and through the recognition of parties. In Nebraska, overwhelmingly an agricultural state, the farmers are quite competent to secure the legislation they desire, and they can do it without any hired Hessians from other states.

The attempt to build a party of farmers and labor organizations is bound to fail, because the two classes view things from diametrically opposite sides. The farmer wants the high price for what he produces, and the laboring man wants to buy these products at the lowest possible price. Or later years the farmer has been in the mercy of the hired man, whose aim seems to be to do as little possible for wages that appear "upright" to the farmer. There are, of course, many exceptions to this rule, for there are still some men who do give in "labor value" for wages received, but unfortunately the trend is toward selfishness and irresponsibility on the part of the wage earner.

At any rate, any party that suffers to it all the discontented, the reformers, the fault-finders, those who see nothing good in our institutions, does not deserve to get any support, and will not get it from thoughtful people.

Governing at Home.
Seattle Post-Intelligencer: Our first contest with government is in county and city. If we cannot give ourselves good government in our own community units—or at any rate, get-a-fair-forward good government—we can by the election of good men—we put a heavy discount on our ability to discriminate as to state and national government. Our reasons for preference among national and state candidates fall flat if we must confess inability to pick a man for sheriff or auditor or other county office from among our immediate neighbors, and will not get it from thoughtful people.

Death Has Many Causes.
St. L. T. in the Chicago Tribune: As there are a thousand doors to let one live, so there are a thousand doors to let in death, and none of these may be barred against it. As an example, the explosion in Wall street was more striking than the fall of the gallows far-forward good government—we can by the election of good men—we put a heavy discount on our ability to discriminate as to state and national government. Our reasons for preference among national and state candidates fall flat if we must confess inability to pick a man for sheriff or auditor or other county office from among our immediate neighbors, and will not get it from thoughtful people.

Not Worth the Price.
The Sun and New York Herald: A really useful air mail service will be established in the United States some time and it will be free from the casualties which now sicken the public. When scientists in the army, the navy and in the world of commercial aviation have worked out the right kind of machine the problem will be simple, we think, for there is plenty of pilot material ready for careful training under an efficient chief. Meanwhile, the results of the air mail are not worth the ghastly price.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

From the Wayne Herald-Tribune 28 September 26, 1884:
P. L. Miller was over to Sioux City yesterday.
Wayne county has twenty-nine school districts.
Mrs. M. P. Ahern starts for Chicago Monday morning.
L. E. Hunter of Wakefield, was in Wayne last evening.
L. G. Deaton spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Sioux City.
B. F. Feather is engaged in flailing seven and a half acres of beans.
D. C. Patterson is talking of spending the winter in southern California.

The new Menely bell for the new school house was placed in position on Friday.

D. C. Patterson went to Norfolk last evening to take in the democratic judicial convention.

Mrs. H. E. Jones went to Wayne Wednesday to visit her daughter, Mrs. M. S. Davies.—Ponca Journal.

A slight earthquake shook up the central streets last week, and for the moment attracted as much attention as the campaign.

Rev. J. D. Van Doren preached at the Presbyterian church last Sunday. He is traveling in the interest of the Oakdale theological seminary.

The cards are out for the marriage of H. H. Rowledge of Wakefield and Miss Carrie Wright, daughter of the Hon. J. G. Wright of Martinsburg.

Mrs. J. B. Panabaker arrived in Wayne last evening. She has been visiting friends in Chicago. Her husband could get their new home here ready.

Although we offered no prize for the largest melon this year, we have been made the happy recipients of several very fine ones, the largest coming from William Miller.

The Wayne county teachers' association meets in the Presbyterian church this evening. The evening will be devoted to a social meeting, the regular exercises taking place tomorrow.

Blaine's journey through the eastern states has been a continual ovation and the greatest enthusiasm has been manifested wherever he has appeared. It is expected he will come as far west as Iowa.

The recent county seat fight in Dixon county promises to make politics in that county lively for years to come, and give rise to many an unpleasant fight between the northern and southern parts of the county.

Wayne markets are: Wheat, 48c; corn, 25c; oats, 16c; rye, 25c; barley, 25c; flaxseed, 95c; flour, 22.50c; $3.50; corn meal, $1.50; potatoes, 85c; butter, 15c; eggs, 12 1/2c; lard, 12 1/2c; hams, 16c; cattle, $2.30-$2.80; hogs, $3.40-4.50; sheep, $3.25; hides, $1.00.

The sensational novel spectacle of corn selling at eighty cents, while wheat was dragging at seventy-five cents was witnessed in Chicago Monday. The price was forced up by speculators to squeeze those who were forced to buy to fill contracts and was a purely speculative one with which the actual corn supply had nothing to do.

From Ponca Journal Sept. 23, 1881:
On Sunday afternoon John Lawrence, accompanied by Dan Donlin, was coming up from Jackson and when about half way between that place and Ponca, a young man riding a horse came up behind them. It was a young horse which the man was riding and appeared as though it had been ridden very hard. Lawrence spoke to the fellow and told him his colt was too young for such fast riding. The man replied that the horse was seven years old and that he had ridden him for the past four years. Lawrence thereupon jumped out of the wagon and examined the horse's teeth, and found that the age, instead of seven, was but three years. This circumstance, and the appearance and great haste of the man to go along, convinced John that the horse had been stolen, and he announced that conclusion, and immediately took possession of the horse which he tied to the wagon. He also proposed to arrest the thief, but he found that part of the job more difficult. The thief admitted he had stolen the horse and said they could have it, but remarked that so far as he was concerned, he had no intention of being seen.—He then jumped off the horse and drew a big navy revolver, took to his heels and made himself scarce.

Messrs. Lawrence and Donlin then unhitched their horses from the wagon and mounting them gave pursuit. One of the young men was riding near by, fortunately happened along, and joined in the hue and cry after the thief. They chased the thief some distance and finally overhauled and captured him. Then they loaded him into the wagon and brought him to Ponca.

On Monday morning Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Canon went down to Dakota county with the thief and the horse. He would not tell who he stole the horse from, but his captors soon found out. It was George Boles who lives about three miles east from Jackson and who, on Sunday at the time of the robbery, was at church. The thief broke into his house and

The Lights of New York

A black thunder-shower gathers over the city. Although it is midnight, lights are turned on suddenly in thousands of offices and homes. So sudden and so great is this demand for lights that the generators in the central power station cannot be brought into action quickly enough to supply the current. Huge Exide storage batteries are called on to furnish power through the emergency. So powerful are these batteries, weighing hundreds of tons, that in any crisis they can supply 20,000,000 candle-power, enough to light almost every light on Manhattan Island.

Other great Exide Batteries are safeguarding, in a variety of ways, the street car and elevator service of Greater New York. More than 95 per cent of the central station batteries in America are Exides.

At the other extreme in size is the little Exide used for lighting motorcycles. Whether it be for automobiles, mine locomotives, industrial trucks, or propelling our submarines under the sea, there is an Exide Battery for every purpose. And back of each Exide as the experience and resources of the oldest and largest manufacturers of storage batteries in the world.

stole a coat and the revolver, and then went to the barn and stole the horse in question. Mounting the horse, he started for the upper Nebraska country.

The thief refused to give his name, but said he was a member of the organized gang of robbers and horse thieves which infest the region of upper Nebraska. He stated that he came down from that country about three weeks ago, and that several others of the gang came with him. His object was to steal horses. He said the others are now at Sioux City or lurking around the country, waiting for a chance to get their clutches on horses or other property.

Unshaken Testimony.
Time is the test of truth. And Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Wayne. No Wayne resident who suffers backache, or aching urinary tract, can remain unconvinced by this twice-told testimony.

W. H. Hogewood, proprietor Wayne drug line, Wayne, says: "My back was often so painful and lame I could scarcely get up after sitting down. Other symptoms of kidney trouble existed which left no doubt in my mind that my kidneys were in a badly disordered condition. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my home for a similar complaint and had given such complete satisfaction I decided to try them. Doan's relieved me almost immediately after I began using them and in a short time I was cured. I have since been free from all traces of kidney disorder. I recommend Doan's make-over—I have anyone complaining of kidney trouble." (Statement given August 4, 1910.)

On May 29, 1920, Mr. Hogewood added: "Doan's Kidney Pills gave me a lasting cure several years ago when I was in bad shape with my kidneys. Words can hardly do justice to the praise I have for Doan's." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mrs., Buffalo, N. Y. 52361 —AWAY out in the Orient grow rich aromatic tobaccos. A long-burning arm reached over and brought them to the U. S. A.—then combined them with our home-grown full-bodied tobaccos. Out of the blend was born Spur Cigarettes.

That rare, rich old-time tobacco taste and aroma—is winning right and left. Besides, Spur Cigarettes have imported paper, rolled without paste. The crimped seal makes Spurs burn slower, draw easier, and taste better.

And that smart brown and silver package is three-fold to keep Spurs right. You just can't stay on the fence once you have "met up" with Spur's good tobacco taste.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

Careful Driver.
I drive my car with jealous care, all laws and statutes minding, and only pause anon to swear when balky valves need grinding. I drive upon old fashioned lines, as though a speed cop feared; I hank my horn when danger signs before me are appearing. I put my hand out when I'd turn, so those behind may know it, and doubtless they remark, "Gold-dern! But he's the cautious poet!" Twelve miles an hour is what I hit, when I go forth to travel; my wheels don't fill the air with grit or throw up chunks of gravel. A man so careful, yet the soul's most doted, all kinds of danger; but one is crippled every day, and I'm that pilgrim stranger. Day after day they bring me news, from my dear plowin' nives, with compound fractures in my dome, and organs shot to pieces. The speed fiends go their crazy ways, unhampered, and still no factory; the reckless drivers spend ten days unscratched, nor know disaster. But I, who follow all the rules, and am needed for daily slaughter; and when my present palette cools, they'll put on one that's hotter.

Diseases and Remedies.
I've tried all kinds of remedies which are supposed to cure disease, and I have seen which give relief from anguish, fancies, pain and grief. Some pills will drive away the pain, and leave you feeling safe and secure, but only for a while. There is relief, but there's no cure. The dark green pains will all come back and make you groan, sige and crack, and another slide along your bones until you fill the night with groans. Beware the pills, whatever their hue, the green, the purple or the blue, which toll you for a little while, and seem to urge a hopeful smile. For when the aches come back again, as they will come to pilled men, they'll climb your tendons and your throes, and they'll have spikes upon their shoes. There's but one cure for the pain, and that's a cure not disguised as pills. The Good Book tells of one old gent who "neath his meales was bent; he of-fered to the doctor, and "and with his fathers then he slept." And that's the only cure I know for all life's miseries and woes; just cast away the juice of squills, the grovel plasters and the pills, the trusses and the liver pads, and go and slumber with your dads.

How Many?
The panic men forecasted has not yet centered by; our fling is not half wasted, and we are living high. What though the prophet rages throught the "hellish land"? We're drawing princely wages, our work is in de-pon upon the evergreen, when we are blithely going to wor kin inouapes. Where once the golden rule stood they now in raven shies; how many have you pickled, how many are in brine? The times, so brisk and breezy, have lapsed until now; and money's been so slow we fed it to the cow; and I am not predicting a dreadful time to come, or drearily interminable protractment of distress. But if you wake tomorrow and find the boom is dead, will you go and borrow before the week is upon. For months you have been lidded, the dollars came so swift; how many have you pickled, because of inborn thrift? How many have you cast to some safe banker's vault, while foolish spendthrifts tarried with grape juice and near malt? It is a time enchanted, when rubles grow like weeds; how many have you planted, how many helpful seeds?

The Big Sign.
They've put a monstrous wooden sign, where it obstructs my view; I cannot see the sunlight shine upon the waters blue. The sign appeals to passing rubes, and asks them for their trade; it says, "Eat Bulger's Tires and Tubes—The Kind that Minder Meads." Behold the sign, the tires whose strings I madly scratch. I s'pose I'll buy a thousand tires, with-innuz tubes to match. But take this statement from my hand, and paste it on your chest: In tires that bear the Bulger brand I never will invest. For Bulger's tires make my eye and makes my spirit sore, shuts out a section of the sky, degrades the blue sea's shore. I show that signboard to my friends, and they are as me as any carter needs; but when he raised that beasty sign, he lost for keeps, my trade. I'll toil alone—no weary limbs, or drive as slow as half mares, but I'll pay upon my rims, before I'll buy his wares.

Up-to-Date.
Alexandria Herald. It is a noticeable fact that the old-fashioned man who used to crank the grindstone, corn sheller and similar implements on the farm, now has a son who spends much of his time cranking a Ford.

Spineless.

Let Us Show You Eastern Colorado. Where the opportunities of the land owner are boundless. Where the soil is a deep, chocolate loam and produces everything you can produce on your high priced lands. Where there are no hot winds to burn up your crops and plenty of rainfall in the growing season to insure you a good crop. The new land which cannot be excelled for its productiveness can be bought for $35.00 to $45.00 per acre. Improved farms can be bought from $45 up to $75. This land pays for itself with one crop. We make a specialty of locating farms on these good eastern Colorado farms where opportunity is waiting for you in the face and literally facing you to come. Where prosperity, health and happiness reigns supreme. Eastern Colorado is fast settling up, and the man who buys today will reap a profit over the man who buys tomorrow. Don't wait. Prices next spring will be much higher than they are this fall. Call on or write us for further information on the wonderful opportunities of the landowner in Eastern Colorado. Our Colorado office is located at Cheyenne, Wyo. Kohl Land & Investment Co. Wayne, Neb.

B. L. T. in the Chicago Tribune: Spinning a meditative cough drop. Gov. Cox remarked: "The result in Maine was no surprise." Perhaps not. But it jarred him, apparently. For he began to talk about a republican campaign fund of $30,000,000.

The Cathedral is Not "Just Another Phonograph" but— A Great Improvement in Musical Reproduction

Cathedral Phonograph

The demand for a phonograph designed to properly reproduce all makes of records led to the development of the Cathedral. —without employing make-shift attachments this phonograph will give the maximum number of playings from all records, producing a tone which has never been equalled. —No mechanical skill is required to operate the Cathedral. It automatically adjusts itself to every type of record. —In design, construction and finish Cathedral cabinets conform to the high standard of its mechanical equipment. —No special care has been spared to make the Cathedral in every respect the highest grade phonograph that can be produced. —Ask for a demonstration—compare it with any other phonograph in style, quality, equipment and tone.

CATHEDRAL York Model Oak, figured mahogany and burr walnut; height 47 1/2 inches; width, 20 1/2 inches; depth, 22 inches. Nickel trimmings. Cathedral a triple-albums reproducer; Cathedral-resonator, Tone modifier, Balanced cover, Triple spring motor, Automatic stop, Record albums. Accessory compartment.

Other relatives who may be a brother-in-law and a niece of A. O. Quimby, from central Nebraska.

SCHOOL NEWS. H. S. Mixer a Success. The high school faculty and students attended the mixer held at the home of Thurlow Mixer on Friday. Everybody had a pleasant evening and much novelty featured in the entertainment. Two regrettable incidents occurred. Fredson was stranded on the hand a little deeper than was intended and deserve to be congratulated for the good natured way in which he got out of the jam. Those performing the initiation intended to use acid diluted to cause no hurt but a mistake was made and the acid was too strong.

The wetters and buses intended for the picnic were stolen but were later found at the park and put under lock and seal until Friday night after school. At that time a bonfire was made in the school yard and the students enjoyed the postponed roast.

Class organization has been effected in all classes of the school. Officers have been elected and sponsors chosen.

The baseball and football schedules are now complete. The football schedule follows:

Football Schedule. Sept. 24, Coleridge at Coleridge. Oct. 1, Coleridge, here. Oct. 8, Laurel, there. Oct. 15, Wayne at Wakefield. Oct. 22, Stanton, here. Oct. 29, Randolph, here. Nov. 6, Tekamah, here. Nov. 12, Stanton, there. Nov. 19, Tekamah, there. Turkey Day, Hartington, there.

Death of Jonas Isaacson. Jonas Isaacson died of a disease in Wakefield Saturday at 12:30 o'clock. The cause of his death was cancer of the stomach. He had been ailing for sometime and his daughter had taken him to Excelsior Springs hoping to benefit his health. He died the day after his return.

The funeral was held Monday. After short services in the Mission church here, conducted by Rev. G. J. Holm, the body was taken to Tilden, Neb., and then to the cemetery at Newman Grove. Mr. Isaacson was a former resident of Newman Grove and he was buried beside his wife there. Rev. Johnson of Chicago, former pastor of the Swedish church in Wakefield performed the ceremony at the grave.

Jonas Isaacson came to Nebraska in the early '80's. He lived for some years in Newman Grove bringing his daughter here after the death of his wife. He was sixty-nine years old. He was a true Christian, a man of quiet disposition. The Mission church here feels a great loss. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Mitchell and Miss Mabel Hanson.

What Buick Service Means to Owners

Few people appreciate fully the extent of the motor car's influence in the development and progress of business. A car becomes such an accustomed part of a man's life and activity that he accepts it in much the same manner that he receives the assistance of his partners or associates in business.

Take Your Car to an Authorized Service Station

When a motor car fails to perform in the way expected, the present-day owner does not delay in investigating the trouble, he goes at once to an authorized service station.

Owners Entitled to Prompt Service

The fact that every Buick Valve-in-Head owner is entitled to prompt and efficient service was recognized by the BUICK MOTOR COMPANY years ago. Plans were adopted not only to insure a car of unusual utility and serviceability, but to build up a national organization that would assure the owner, at home or on a tour, a dealer service in keeping with the character of the BUICK car.

Prompt Service Given by Buick Dealers

No owner of an automobile buys a motor car to keep it in a service station. He purchases it to drive to save him time, to deliver satisfactory performance. Should he take it to a dealer for authorized service he wants it back in a reasonable length of time.

These are the considerations of the Buick Motor Company in building the new cars for the Twenty-One Season.

CARROLL
Miss Faith Hladky of the Herald staff, is editor of this month's issue, and will visit Carroll every Monday. Any new contributions to these columns from town or country will be gladly received. She is also authorized to receive new or renewed subscriptions.

GOOD TIMES AT CARROLL
Tomorrow will be Picnic Day—Father John of Stanton Will Speak.

Good times of all kinds are making their way to Carroll one which will be long remembered by its citizens. Tomorrow will be picnic day—a nucleus contest for which scores of residents have been practicing every day this week will come off in the morning. At 10:00 a. m. and 1:00 p. m. there will be a hand contest after which everyone will go to the park for a basket dinner.

One of the principal events of the day will be an address by Father John of Stanton, former chaplain in the army, who is considered a most able and convincing speaker. The subject of his address will be, "Causes of Social Utril."

After the address by Father John the young people of Carroll from the 15 to 20 years of age will participate in races for which money prizes are offered. The ladies' egg rolling contest, the fat man's egg rolling contest, and the Kiddie Car race, for children under 6, are three of the races announced. Pillow fights, water fights, and a tug-of-war are among the exciting events which will follow the races. The Dubinsky Stock company will give a play at 8:30 p. m. after the contests are over.

The American Legion, Lyons Post No. 165 and the Carroll band are the organizations in charge of Carroll home-coming festival and harvest home week.

Revival Plans.
There are 100 "stickers" in evidence among the workers of the Carroll Citizen Cooperative revival campaign and plans are rapidly progressing now.

One of the obstacles that was thought by some to be a slight hindrance was the matter of getting the shed emptied of the contents of lumber in time for the big meeting to be held in the early fall. This obstacle has been overcome.

Evangelist S. David Sikes says in regard to the cooperation of the citizens, that the old time objection offered by a few in previous campaigns pertaining to similar sheds and tabernacles used for such carnivals, "that a church was a better place for such a work and the only place," had been removed. "After Carroll," the evangelist says that Christ was born in a manger in a Bethlehem hotel barn and that He would be born to save the people in a shed or tabernacle of a similar type as in a cathedral of the old world or the new. He also said: "We need more tabernacles—'Red Blood' than 'Tap!' in christian work—and more spiritual life and less dead phariseans in the churches of the country."

Mrs. Harrington will accompany her husband as a worker in his party, which will greatly add to the force of the services as she is a woman of talent and experience.

The Trail-Hitter—a special and popular magazine published in the country, has spoken in terms of highest praise of the Rev. Mr. Harrington and says that he has been called to Sibley, N. Y., a city similar in size to Sioux City, Ia., four different times for evangelistic campaigns and with increased results each time.

There are now very many who are looking forward with increasing interest for the exact date of the evangelist's coming to Carroll.

The games arranged for are: Carroll vs. Carroll on Tuesday afternoon; McLean vs. Carroll on Wednesday; Randolph vs. Carroll on Thursday; no game on Friday as the night and other teams are to take place then; Magnet vs. Carroll on Saturday. The game with Magnet on Saturday will be a close one. The result, game with the score was five to four in favor of Carroll.

Automobile Accident.
An accident due to a broken gear caused the automobile of David O'Keefe to overturn and injured his daughter, Miss Margaret, and Miss Katherine, Sept. 14. Mr. O'Keefe was driving down the hill northeast of Carroll when the accident occurred. He was accompanied by Mrs. O'Keefe and his daughters. Miss Margaret was slightly injured. Miss Katherine received a cut on her arm and the children had to be taken to his home and her sister was badly shaken up and had to remain in bed for several days.

SOCIAL.
Farewell Party.
A farewell party for the Rev. F. J. Sala was given at the Methodist church Friday evening. Mrs. H. W. Edwards's Sunday school class took a leading part in preparing for the party. A program consisting of readings and musical numbers was given in the upper part of the church. Sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee were served in the basement.

Rev. Sala was presented with a comfortable leather rocking chair at the close of the festivities by the members of his congregation.

Miscellaneous Shower.
Gladys Francis, Maude Williams, and Esther Bohler gave a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Faye Snowden Friday night. About twelve young women were present. The young woman was decorated with red and white flowers, red and white balloons and green foliage. While Miss Clara Kinn-played "magic music" Mrs. Snowden searched for her gifts which she found in a large red and white trimmed basket. Notes pinned about the room told her the names of those who were to assist in a musical program to be given later. After the program the hostesses served ice cream and cake.

Notice of Hearing.
To the heirs, creditors and all persons interested in the estate of Clara M. Johnson, deceased:
You and each of you are hereby notified that on the 13th day of September, 1920, L. C. Larson filed his petition in the county court of Wayne county, Nebraska, alleging that Clara M. Johnson departed this life intestate at her residence in Wayne county, Nebraska, on or about May 2, 1906; that at the time of her death she was resident of the village of Carroll, in said county, and state that she died seized in fee simple of the following described real estate, to-wit: Commencing 410 feet south of the southeast corner of Block 7, in First Addition to the Village of Carroll, in Wayne county, Nebraska, as a place of commencement, thence due west 75 feet, thence south 390 feet, thence east 75 feet, thence north 390 feet to the place of commencement; that she left surviving her as her sole and only heirs at law John W. Johnson, her husband, and John Biles, her father. Said petition further alleges that L. C. Larsen is now the owner in fee simple of said real estate; said petition further alleges that all debts, claims and demands against the estate of said Clara M. Johnson, deceased, including the expenses of her last sickness and her funeral charges, have been paid in full. That no application has ever been made in the State of Nebraska for the appointment of an administrator for the estate of said deceased and that more than two years have elapsed since her death. Said petitioner prays for a finding and decree determining the time of the death of said Clara M. Johnson, that she died intestate, for a determination of her heirs, the degree of kinship and the right of descent of said real estate, and for an order barring claims of creditors against said estate and trying such other relief as may be just and proper. Hearing will be had on said petition before me at the county court room in the City of Wayne, in Wayne county, Nebraska, on the 15th day of October, 1920, at 10 o'clock a. m. at which time and place the heirs, creditors and all other persons interested in said estate may appear and show cause why a decree should be made and entered as prayed in said petition.
Witness my hand and official seal at Wayne, in Wayne county, Nebraska, on this 13th day of September, 1920.
J. M. Cherry, County Judge.

Why Not Buy Certainties

THERE'S excitement in games of chance—that's your only excuse for purchasing goods of unknown or doubtful quality. But there's only one way to know and to be sure that the merchandise you buy is what you think it is—there's only one way to be positively sure that your purchase will give you the service you have a right to expect—to buy CERTAINITIES.

But you are not a merchandise expert—you cannot tell accurately, the value of the goods—don't know how to estimate the workmanship or material that goes into the hidden parts under the finish—you are not competent to value the amount of wear—comfort and service in the clothes you wear for instance.

You Must Look to Your Source of Supply

You must buy from a house that deals in none but absolute—positive certainties—the house that knows how—where and when to select those CERTAINITIES to best advantage and under the most favorable conditions.

DAVIDSON'S IS YOUR LOGICAL SOURCE OF SUPPLY

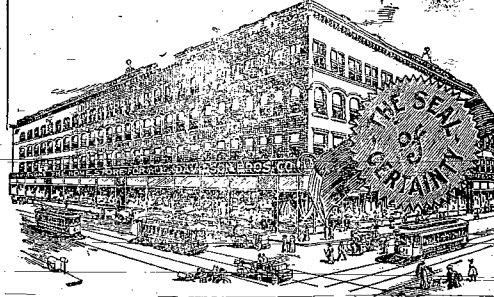

You can be sure of Davidson quality—because we see to it that the merchandise we sell is reliable—authentic—trustworthy. It is selected by experts who know how to test its worth—its value—its service. They are experts of life long experience competent to judge the material and workmanship that's put under the finish—because they are experienced in manufacturing processes—None but the very best will do, for every dollar's worth must carry which is your assurance—your safeguard—your warranty against uncertain, doubtful quality. We consider no sale complete until you are thoroughly satisfied with your purchase. When you buy at Davidson's your purchase is covered by an absolute seal of certainty.

When you go to Sioux City, make the big store your headquarters—make full use of its conveniences—a royal welcome awaits you—join the vast army of people who have grown to make Davidson's their meeting place.
