See That Hand, Young Man?

It can lead you away from discouraging thoughts
if you so will it.

What if eight men out of every ten are BROKE at 65?

What if only two men out of every ten have the foresight to provide for old age?

Sure it is easier to invent excuses for having spent than to tell why you DIDN'T save.

BUT—It's not too late now.

Be one of the TWO men out of the ten who are not broke at 65—be one of the two men out of ten who have the foresight to provide for old age.

That hand will lead the way—to our bank—to a saving account; to 5 per cent interest—money working for you.

Mrs. Ellyson, fifth grade teacher, was ill the first of her week and unable to attend to her school duties.

Masonic Lecture. A lecture was given at the Masonic hall Tuesday evening by the Rev. L. M. Dorek, a prominent Mason and pastor of the First Christian church of Sioux City.

Thanksgiving Feast. At the George Childs home on Thanksgiving day covers will be laid for the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Archie Child of Wayne, Mo. and Mrs. A. G. Mettlen of Morning side, Sioux City, Ia.

Mission Church. (Rev. C. J. Holm, Pastor.) Sunday school at 10 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Methodist Church. (Rev. E. N. Littrel, Pastor.) The address of Miss Ethel Lasby who serves for the Women's Foreign Missionary society at the church last Sunday was well received.

Wakefield vs. Bloomfield. Wakefield's victory over Bloomfield by a score of 22 to 14 in the high school football game Friday gives the Wakefield boys the high school championship of northeast Nebraska.

For Sale. One Pure Bred Chester White Boar. Took first premium at Wayne County Fair. Also other three male pigs, pure bred, but not registered.

Coal is Cash

NOTICE TO OUR CUSTOMERS: On account of existing rulings, which require us to pay cash for our supplies of coal, when purchasing them from producers and wholesalers, together with other conditions which exist, make it necessary for us, the undersigned coal dealers of Wayne, to strictly enforce the rule of CASH ON DELIVERY of all coal sold by us in the future.

Our customers, both in town and country, are requested to read this announcement carefully, and understand it fully, as we will not be able to make any exception to this rule whatever.

Our patrons and patrons who now have accounts on our books for coal purchased heretofore are respectfully requested to make prompt settlement of the same.

Signed, Crowell Lumber & Grain Co., C. H. Fisher, Philco & Harrington Lbr. Co., M. Kroger, C. A. Chace & Co., Farmers' Union Co-Op. Assn.

The Martha society will hold its bazaars and sale in connection with this, its upper. Further announcement will be made next week.

Shoes. Ira Swearingin returned to his home at Seligman, Mo., after spending the fall in the Shoes vicinity.

Miss Gertrude Fair, the school nurse from Wayne, conducted physical examinations at the school on Thursday.

The six-weeks examinations are being conducted at school this week.

The school will be dismissed Wednesday evening for the Thanksgiving vacation.

Important if True. Indianapolis News: If coal is really moving direct from producer to consumer, this new route is as important as the discovery of a Northwest passage would be.

Who's to Blame? Springfield, Mass. Republican: The Cleveland judge who has declared it to be "extreme cruelty" for a minister with a wife and five children to support to retain his post when he pays only $93 a month should prove to be the prodler of many consciences among "thrifty" parishes throughout the country.

It Doesn't Matter. Tacoma Ledger: An edict from Moscow has closed Russia to tourists. However, very few of us have been intending to spend the winter there.

MONUMENT MAKING ISN'T SAD

Wayne Dealers Manufacture Many—Month, and Keep Cheerful.

Manufacturing monuments and selling materials is no such gloomy undertaking as one might think, according to Mitchell & Christensen, the Wayne dealer in this business. The stock, if the manufacturers have a large new building with first-class equipment, skilled workmen, and a growing trade they are able to present as smiling countenances to the world as any other class of business.

Wayne's monument industry has just been moved into a new $75,000 building, as large and well equipped as any structure of its kind in any city west of the Mississippi. The thriving trade in monuments which this company is already conducting, is to be enlarged, and the size of their new quarters will enable them to handle a greatly increased stock and to engage in the manufacture of monuments from rough stone.

A gray stucco, warranted not to crack, has been used for the outside finish of their new building, and the trim for the window casings and for the large lettering across the sides and front.

A large crane on the left of the building, one enters will be used as a showroom and here monuments will be displayed. The dimensions of the building are 110 and 140 feet floor is made of concrete.

At the right of the building, a large office and a dining room adjoin, where visitors may go to rest, and to examine the samples of granite and bits of workmanship which will be on display there. A new cabinet and other pieces of furniture which have been purchased for these rooms are of oak and the inside finish is also to be of oak.

One of the most interesting pieces of machinery to be installed will be the new travelling crane which will have a lifting power of five tons and with which one man can move the most ponderous pieces of granite to any part of the showroom or shop without loss of time.

The owners expect to lay a private track at the back of the building which is adjacent to the railroad. It will then be possible to lift the stone directly from the car into the building with the crane. Large beams on the ceiling of the structure form the track upon which the crane will run and its system of pulleys will enable one man handling the rope to lift enormous weights without difficulty.

All work in a stonecutting establishment is done by air under pressure, and rather costly and complicated machinery is needed for the work. Hitherto the Wayne monument men have procured their granite already polished and have been obliged to pay a higher freight because the stone would have been charged for rough material. This disadvantage will be overcome with the new building with the other machines for polishing and surfacing so that from now on the firm will contract for rough stone and manufacture it here.

More than pay for the labor required to run the machines. In fact the owners say that with their new building they will be able to save at least ten per cent of the operating cost of their plant, and that one ordinary laborer can now do more in the new plant and with the new equipment than three experts could have done under the old conditions.

Leaving Johnson, foreman of the cutters in the monument works, has been with the company for some time and is considered an expert in the work. Samples of his workmanship can be seen on the pieces displayed in the showroom.

Ed. Hallberg, who has had experience in his art both here and in Sweden is another skilled stonecutter. Ten or fifteen workmen are usually employed in the plant. A trip through the works is well worth taking even if one never expects to need a tombstone. The variety of different varieties of granite and the different ways of finishing them is as instructive as a lesson in geology and somewhat more interesting.

Why is the Guarantee?

Many car owners today are being misled by the advertising quantities when buying accessories, but the wise motorist will stop to consider whether he wants to buy a guarantee of an article of dependable merchandise. More and more, the American motorist is coming to regard the long guarantee with a bit of suspicion. "If this article is made right in the first place," he says, "and the manufacturer is sincere in his desire to produce his good reputation, why should it be necessary for him to extend his guarantee from the house-top or parade it in front of me in his effort to sell me his product?"

Such reasoning is perfectly logical. Any manufacturer knows when he advertises his product, that he is making his name familiar to thousands of prospective customers. He spends a goodly number of dollars annually to do this, and to get value received from this expenditure, his product must live up to all that he says about it in his advertising. A fair guarantee on motor car accessories is practically impossible, because the service which any article can provide depends very largely upon the care which the owner gives it. Any guarantee for a specific amount of service must necessarily be based on averages. For this reason, the careful man is tired to pay for the acts of the careless man.

Take tires as a familiar example:

Two tires of the same make and of same quality throughout, will be sold to two men under a definite mileage guarantee. This mileage guarantee is based on the average mileage of these tires in the hands of all users. One of these tires may go to a motorist who never gives a thought to his tires until they are flat. He runs them until he is gutted either because he does not know the pressure in them or he is too lazy to find out. He rides blithely in the street car smoking it. At the time Mrs. Gaston began fighting the cigaret an average of one woman in every hundred thousand used tobacco in one form or another. Not more than five out of every ten now do so.

the lady who put the cigaret on the "blink" and whose earnest efforts did so much to discourage the habit of smoking it. At the time Mrs. Gaston began fighting the cigaret an average of one woman in every hundred thousand used tobacco in one form or another. Not more than five out of every ten now do so.

Minneapolis Journal: "The place of the father in the home—if any."

was the rather ominous subject of a lecture delivered recently by Mrs. Shaw McLaren before the Women's Freedom league, says the London Mail. Father's place is in the outskirts of the home.

Kansas City Star: Before Bavaria goes in for revolution the rest of Europe should perhaps require her to give bond for her ability to take care of it after she gets it.

Threads and Rubber
 Threads, because they provide an easy path for passage of current from plate to plate.
 Rubber, because that is the ideal insulating material for use inside a battery.
 Ask us about Threaded Rubber Insulation — the kind that has been selected by 152 builders of trucks and passenger cars.
Wayne Storage Battery Company
 Second Street, West of Main Street
 WAYNE, NEB.

Another striking example is storage batteries. The average storage battery will give good service if it is given good care. The best battery made will not last its full life time, if it is abused and ignored. The battery which is allowed to become dry or is overworked or is frozen or overheated must necessarily give up the ghost earlier than one which has had a fair chance to make good. The specified guarantee on a storage battery does not necessarily mean that it is good if it won't start his car in an emergency. You cannot crank a car with a guarantee any more than you can inflate a tire and get home on it with a mileage guarantee. The wise motorist who believes in the principles of "Safety First" will buy his tires or his storage batteries of a concern whose only guarantee is that he must be satisfied. Such a manufacturer has a reputation to maintain and protect and he will use his last dollar to do this. Usually, long battery guarantees are simply selling points and because of the peculiar circumstances surrounding a storage battery, it is almost impossible for the average motorist to live up to the many conditions with which his guarantee is hedged about. The safest rule to follow is to buy a tire or a storage battery with a reputation and not buy a guarantee. A. C. Garzon, manager, Wayne Storage Battery Company. n251

The World Record for Telephone Service

The telephone was invented in America over 30 years ago, and ever since, the United States has led the world in telephone achievement and has continuously given to the public the highest known standard of the telephone service. In no other country have there been such tremendous problems of engineering construction and operation to be solved. The Bell system that is the American Telephone and Telegraph company and associated companies, has earned an unparalleled record for scientific development, sound financing and efficient public service.

Did You Hear Something-Drop?

You may not have heard it but visit the Basket Store and you will see with your own eyes what has taken place—10, 20, 30, up to 40 per cent reductions. We have worked early and late, going over our entire stock, making reductions on 60 to 75 per cent of stock.

Big price tickets and placards announce present prices. Everything in plain figures. If our salespeople are too busy to wait on you, the price placards are for your convenience. You know the price, realize the saving, simply help yourself, assemble your own order, ascertain the amount and deposit your check on cash register.

You may wonder why such an unusual number of farmers trade at the Basket Store. Reason enough: Scores of farmers have volunteered the statement that the cash system was the correct way to sell merchandise. It enables the merchant to make a close price on the basis of a quick turnover.

Our patrons are indeed very glad this store has added to the cash system; preached the evil of the old-time charge account, encouraged the rule "pay as you go", and they are not confronted with a big store bill for which they must sacrifice their farm products to make payment.

If the cash system is a good thing during times of prosperity, it is doubly important that you pay as you go under present conditions. Right now, people are resolving never to contract another store bill. They are turning over a new leaf, every day we see new faces; the saving in actual money on necessities of life have brought them to a cash store.

If we are too busy to wait on you, don't go away; that's when we both lose. Just help yourself. You will find no signs, "Keep from behind the counter." The man who originated that sign went broke and joined Coxeys' army years ago.

The Early Days in Two Counties

From the Wayne Herald, November 21, 1880:

Wayne must have an opera house. The Stanton depot was burned Sunday.

D. W. Britton went to Washington, Kansas.

A. A. Welch is attending court at Herington.

W. H. McNeal will move into one of J. H. Lewis' new houses.

E. T. Rice and wife of Pender, have been visiting D. C. Main and wife.

H. N. Cunningham will have a public sale, twelve miles southwest of Wayne.

Don't heap coals of fire on your enemy's head. Coal is worth ten dollars.

Horace Gregory has torn down his wagon and blacksmith shop and is re-erecting in the best building.

Miss Justa Miller starts for Boston where she will study for a year at the Boston Conservatory of Music.

Last Sunday for the first time Wayne had Omaha Sunday papers on Sunday morning. The morning train was late enough to catch the local special train at Columbus.

A. P. Childs has decided to locate at Parker, S. D., where he will again change his business.

He has sold his residence to A. H. Ellis and will leave for his new home next week.

J. E. Bennett and E. J. Sherman have purchased twelve acres of Mr. Whitman adjoining the town site on the west where such will build a residence. Mr. Bennett will build a house, having already bought the lumber.

J. W. Bartlett has been making an estimate of the number of cattle being fed in the county and finds that he knows of about 3,000. The entire number would probably not fall much short of 5,000. These with the 6,000 or 7,000 hogs fattening for the year will bring a nice sum of money into the county this winter.

The five proudest men in Wayne Saturday were, his honor, Mayor Charles Henry Meyers, P. L. Newby, W. J. Enry and W. H. McNeal. They went out Thursday after deer and their friends smiled pityingly. "Five changes come out to freesees" but they didn't and they came home Saturday with three fine deer. Perry and McNeal were particularly elated as it was their first deer hunt, and each killed a deer. About everybody in town dined on venison.

From Ponca Journal November 25, 1880:

Worthy Father Martin in his exhortation to the people of St. Louis and some of its leading inhabitants. We hope he will also be for the horses and herdsman, and for Ponca and see out coal holes and prospects and give them and our citizens a good send-off.

The stockholders of the Ponca Coal and Mining company met pursuant to notice on Saturday evening at Stough & Welby's bank in this place, and elected the following named gentlemen as directors for the ensuing year, viz: John Stough, T. J. Welby, W. E. Gantt, W. Huss, D. Hurley, J. L. Barnes, O. P. Sultensberger, J. Leach and S. Gamble. The directors thereupon elected the following officers: John Stough, president; W. Huss, treasurer; D. Hurley, vice-president; J. L. Barnes, secretary.

The next meeting of the directors will be held Saturday evening, November 27, at 7 o'clock.

Today, Thursday, by the proclamation of the president and governor, it is to be observed as Thanksgiving day. Here in Dixon county we have as much reason to celebrate the occasion as has any other locality, as far as we can learn. Our citizens are enjoying a wonderful prosperity. During the past season the immigrants have placed Dixon in the first ranks as an agricultural region. This county is blessed with good health, with good schools, good roads, and other things, markets, splendid farms and comfortable homes. "What more could be asked?" With the remarkable prosperity of the past season, people are getting out of debt and are concluding that a home here in Dixon county is as good as a bird in the hand, and as good as any part of the world. Yes, the people of this county have reason to be thankful, and in requesting them to make a royal feast on their turkeys and fattened calves, and to otherwise show their grateful appreciation of such bounties which have been dish-dished to them, the president and governor have not, under all the circumstances, been unreasonable.

Bridge Notice.
 Notice is hereby given that bids will be received at the county clerk's office for Wayne county, Nebraska, for the furnishing of all necessary material and labor for the erection and repair of bridges between sections 20 and 27, township 25, range 5, 18'.

One 12-foot arch concrete, 16-foot roadway, between sections 33 and 34, township 25, range 5.

All bids to be made on both 15- and 20-ton capacity.

Community Singing.

In the days of peace, the old-fashioned singing school was a very popular institution. It gave all the folks in a community a chance to meet and sing together. It was enjoyed by old and young. Believing that people still like to gather to sing together, the Baptist church has planned an experiment in community singing for a month to prove whether or not this spirit still exists.

Warm Clothes for Cold Weather

NO MATTER what you want in sheep lined or fur collared leather coats and warm-leather vests, we have it. No matter whether you want a light leather vest for sport or street wear, or the heaviest sheep lined vests or coats, they are here for your inspection and in a variety of colors and kinds.

They are all on sale at 10 per cent discount and at this price sheep lined and leather stuff is the best buy on the market. Fur coats of all kinds are too high for practical hard wear. Sheep lined and leather stuff cost little more than mackinaws.

Look over our big stock if you need anything for the cold winter that always comes in Nebraska.

Our cloth overcoats are on sale at 29 per cent discount. This makes an average of $10 off on every coat and a lot more on better ones.

You'll find that this store is meeting any values that can be found anywhere and we stand squarely behind all our merchandise, as usual.

AMATEURS ENTERTAIN CROWD

Wayne High School Boys Give "Merchant of Venice" Up-to-Date.

In the management of trains, the boying with kerchiefs and all coy arts of flirtation, the Amazonian young person who took the female lead in the play, "Merchant of Venice Up-to-Date," which was given by high school boys at the opera-house Friday night, were quite as adept, as smaller and more dainty heroines would have been. Only a slight business of voice and an occasional dramatic gesture—long, measured, the feminine effect.

A good crowd was in attendance to hear the play and the several scenes were given with a fine dramatic glee club. Superintendent J. R. Armstrong spoke of the latter as Wayne's youngest glee club as it is composed mainly of the freshmen and sophomore classes of the high school and in the grammar grades. Miss Audrey Burgess, music teacher, directed the singing.

Golden-haired Portia's part in the play was taken by Tripp Michael who carried off the role with proper dignity—without the impulsive Blanche (John Carhart) could hardly have considered his rich bride a very affectionate sweetheart. Owen Train acted as Antonio, a lady of more yielding nature and her smiles and sippers quite won the heart of downy Portia.

The Shakespeare plot was riddled, jugged with when long-suffering Antonio (Don Miller) eloped with a demurely dressed but very bold lady (Miss Helen Moran) there was at least consolation in the fact that if he did not have any brains as suggested by at least had a brain. John Hufford, who was not the most villainous of Jews, had at least a most ferocious manner of clanking his rheostat, and a look at the handsome proportions of Mrs. Gobb (Nerrett McConnell) left no doubt in anyone's mind where her voracious son, Lancelot, got his appetite.

Barring an unfortunate accident when a stubborn curtain refused to go up—in fact, in a coming, as just to be staged, the play went off without a mishap, and parents and friends went home well pleased with the work of the amateur performers.

ASKS EXTENSION OF CREDIT

Farmers From Laurel Vicinity Send Petition to Washington.

Laurel, Neb., Nov. 20.—The following petition, signed by 100 farmers, is being wired to the governor of the federal reserve board, Washington, D. C.: "Our country is full of corn, oats, immature pigs and partly fattened cattle. Your board is insisting that farmers reduce production to existing indebtedness. The only saleable produce is corn at 40 cents, and oats at 33 cents per bushel. A sale at this price will not pay the cost of raising the crop and will not liquidate any indebtedness, but will simply force the crops into the hands of speculators and a large part of our farmers into bankruptcy, and at a time when the consumer is able to pay a fair price. This means that general bankruptcy will follow.

"We earnestly urge your board to declare that an emergency now exists, and that to arrange for credit extension to farmers so that some of the existing indebtedness can be paid out of the proceeds of the present crop. Your board outlined a policy last spring to bring down prices, and insofar as prices of farm products is concerned you have certainly more than accomplished your purpose. If your board would bring pressure to make a decent market our farmers would gladly sell their produce at these prices. This means that general bankruptcy will follow.

NEW INDUSTRY IN WAYNE

Old Monument Works Building to be Occupied by Planning Mill.

A new industry is soon to be started in Wayne. William Zastrow, a business man of Emerson, has rented the old monument works building, now being vacated by Mitchell, Christenson and plans to start a planning mill here. He will employ four or five men.

Mr. Zastrow was in town Friday to make final arrangements for taking over the place. He says that he plans to buy the building next spring, if everything goes well, and that he will move to Wayne with his family as soon as he can find a house. In Emerson where he has been in business for several years Mr. Zastrow is much respected and citizens of Wayne will be glad to welcome him to this community.

RELATIVES CHASE BRIDAL PAIR

Ten Come in Cars From Laurel to Catch Newly-Wedded Ones Here.

Ten relatives of a bridal couple, provided with bags of rice came by automobile to Wayne from Laurel Saturday to meet the Omaha train which leaves here at 2:40 p. m. But the newly-married pair, Mr. and Mrs. H. Artman, did not take the train here, so the relatives boarded it themselves, hoping to catch the bride and bridegroom at Wakefield.

Mr. J. H. Artman of Omaha, and Mrs. Dorothy Besire of Laurel, were married at Laurel at noon Saturday by the Rev. W. B. Bliss. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Besire of Laurel, and a graduate of the Wayne State Normal school. The bridegroom resides in Omaha and is city salesman for Crane & Company of that place. Mr. and Mrs. Artman will make their home in Omaha.

FREED BY DISTRICT COURT

Everett Hoguewood Acquitted of Charge of Concord Robbery.

Everett Hoguewood of this place, who was charged with complicity in the robbery of a drug store at Concord, early in the fall, was pronounced not guilty in the district court at Ponca last Friday morning. The contradictory testimony of Loren Wright, who has pleaded guilty, seems to have been unsupported by other evidence.

Harold Bell Wright, the world's greatest author, who boasts a following of more than 40,000,000 readers, has turned motion picture producer, and his film "The Shepherd of the Hills," which transplants that famous story to the screen, will be the featured attraction at the Crystal theatre starting with the matinee on Monday, Nov. 29.

Trade Limits Narrow

Sloux City Journal: Whatever change there has been in trade during the last week has been rather meagre than substantial. The improvement, if any, is slight and there has been none at all in many quarters. There has been a slight increase in the demands for seasonal goods, but weather conditions, not business conditions, are responsible for that betterment. Buying is still conservative, and in retail trade especially price reductions to induce increased buying have not been productive of substantial sales increases. Pre-war prices in grain were experienced for the first time last week on the Chicago board of trade. These prices were reached in corn and oats both of which were slaughtered on trade contracts. Wheat did not reach the same low levels, but followed corn and oats. Large imports of Canadian wheat, estimated at 100,000,000 bushels either in United States elevators or out of the hands of Canadian farmers and available for American demands, have offset the effect on the market which the withholding of wheat by American growers would have accomplished. So long as American farmers refuse to market their crops, their buying is limited. That is one of the elements in the present restricted retail trade.

The stock exchange reflected the bearish sentiment of the country. In the money market during the week, but it was not sufficient to overcome the tendency towards lower levels in other ways. During the slump of prices on the New York exchange brokerage houses sent out numerous appeals to patrons to increase their margins and insure their accounts against deterioration. But the responses were so few that they led to the conclusion that the banks were averse to making loans for speculative purposes. Many trading accounts were wiped out in the decline, because the speculators were not able to put up margins to meet the fall.

At bottom, the difficulty of the present situation is that prices are being deflated without a corresponding deflation in the dollar. So long not reduced has no effect on the slump of their stock quotations. Motor stocks have displayed a nervous, and in some instances a near panic, condition. Leathers, oils, tobacco and food stocks were involved in the general declines, though they were not so forcibly hit as some of the other lines.

There was a slight relaxation in the money market during the week, but it was not sufficient to overcome the tendency towards lower levels in other ways. So long not reduced has no effect on the slump of their stock quotations. Motor stocks have displayed a nervous, and in some instances a near panic, condition. Leathers, oils, tobacco and general bank loans, have increased $6,800,000,000. How much of this inflation has been taken out of credit and currency is not known. But until both are deflated to the same level as prices, deflation will look in the direction of bankruptcy instead of prosperity.

Holiday Opening

Christmas, the season for forgetting old worries, wounds and whatnots for the pleasure of making others happy, is growing into our lives again. One by one we swing into the merry throng of gift choosers, smiling importantly, but keeping most secretive about our personal affairs. Color steals into the cheeks of mother and father and their eyes grow soft and tender when they think of little Johnny's of Susie's delight over this or that toy. And watching them, we find ourselves smiling and knowing that the world is a wonderful old place, after all.

What Will Santa Claus Bring This Year?

The children ask it with wondering and hopeful expectations. The older people ask it, not so much in speculation, but rather as an inquiry as to how to provide suitable and satisfactory presents for relatives and friends without too heavy a drain upon their time and purse.

The Variety Store is in a position to help solve this question. It has a carefully selected stock of which insure the greatest pleasure in buying, the most joy in receiving. You will find these Christmas offerings in harmony with your needs and the prices in harmony with your pocketbook. From inexpensive dime articles to more costly gifts, the offerings for your selection are the newest and best of the season.

I cordially invite everyone to the HOLIDAY OPENING SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27, without feeling the slightest obligation to purchase. You are welcome whether you come to see or to buy.

LEAVE GRAIN-FUTURES ALONE

So Advised Former Secretary Short, Hill at Farmers' Convention.

Drivers Journal-Stockman, Nov. 15—"Farmers and elevator men, leave speculation in wheat futures alone," emphatically said W. Shorthill, former secretary of the Nebraska Farmers Cooperative Grain and Live Stock association, to the members of the association at the second meeting of their annual convention, held in Omaha yesterday.

The business of speculating is for the professional," he continued. "The man who has dealt in speculation is incapacitated for other work. His interest is in the future market and, if he is an elevator manager, he cannot compete with the man who receives the market quotations as they change. A farmer has no more right to speculate in grain than he has of betting on the seather."

Fears Proposed Legislation. Mr. Shorthill also said that elimination of future trading is not for the best interest of the farmer. He said that manipulation of the future market kept the price of wheat steady. "Who was high because many men sold short and had to buy. He stated that if future trading was abolished that the entire wheat market would soon be controlled by a few big factors."

In speaking of possible legislation against the wheat market, Mr. Shorthill said: "There is no use to avoid the truth. Future trading cannot be changed by legislation. During the war we had higher future prices. It cost you more with the government grain corporation in existence than if you had shipped your grain to an open market. The grain corporation during the war, however, may have been necessary."

Condemns Tariff Move.

"Removal of the tariff on Canadian wheat was a stupid move. Canadian wheat became a good market for our money," he said in argument. "The board put a higher freight rate on flour than on wheat. What was the result? Flour prices were run up full blast while the American miller got no flour except for export trade."

"The most powerful factor in the present price of wheat is the financial condition of the world. If we sell to Europe we must first loan them the money to buy it. Europe already owes us $140 for every individual in this country."

"Europe could use all of our surplus wheat and our money. But she can not pay for it. Last year the consumption of bread grains in Europe was reduced one-fourth from the normal and conditions here and the amount will be further reduced this year."

ENGINEER SAYS

IT HAS NO EQUAL Had to Use Two Canes to Get Around Before Taking Tanlac, But Rheumatism Gone Now.

"I made a statement soon after Tanlac set me right, two years ago, and as I am still enjoying fine health I want to go on record again, this time to let my friends know how thoroughly the medicine did its work for me," said Cornelius O'Connor, 1312 Q street, Lincoln, Neb., a few days ago.

Mr. O'Connor, who is now retired, was a locomotive engineer for thirty-two years. He helped to construct the Chicago-Burlington & Quincy and for a long time pulled passenger trains number 1 and 2 over this road between Omaha and Lincoln.

"Before I took Tanlac," said Mr. O'Connor, "I had suffered with rheumatism for six years. My legs were so lame and painful that I had to use two canes in order to get about at all and the joints in my arms and hands ached so bad I could hardly stand. I was in perfect misery for days at a time and had lost strength until I couldn't get as far as one block without stopping to rest. I tried everything I ever heard of for rheumatism, but nothing helped me a particle."

"One day, an old railroad man and friend of mine told me how Tanlac had helped him and advised me to give it a trial. Well, I have felt thankful a thousand times that I took his advice. Before I finished the second bottle my pains had eased up so I could get around better. While on the third bottle my improvement was especially noticeable. My pains left me and I was walking better and ment in tax returns are about one in ten thousand."

Mr. Loomis also explained that under the old system all adjustments were made through the Washington office, but since last August this duty had been turned over to the branch departments. Ninety days after a complaint has been made the taxpayer receives a check to cover the difference. Formerly it may have been one or two years.

Mr. Foley, who followed Mr. Loomis, intimated in no uncertain terms that the only solution to efficient reporting of tax reports was good bookkeeping. "For as sales a corporation cannot speak unless it has figures to show its business. He said that most co-operative associations are not familiar with corporation laws and that they must have a balance sheet and a profit or loss account. With these records it is a simple matter to make out the reports."

The Capital Stock Tax.

He laid stress on the two kinds of reports made: First, the income tax, and second, the capital stock tax. A lively discussion followed. Mr. Foley said that most co-operative concerns realize that they must pay a tax, but they did not understand the details of the law pertaining to corporations.

"A co-operative association is exempted from tax where it deals as a sales agency only," he explained. "But where the business is conducted for a profit, then it comes under the taxable list. If a rebate is made to members and non-members of the co-operative association alike, then the money is not taxable, but as soon as discrimination is made in favor of the directors or the members, then the association must pay the capital stock tax."

Watch Your Kidneys.

Inhaling the fumes of turpentine and white lead often weakens the kidneys. That's one reason why so many painters have had backs and sick kidneys. Exposure, frequent colds and chills and the strain of climbing up and down ladders help slow the trouble.

If your back aches, if sharp pains strike you in the back when stooping, lifting, or working, if you have headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy so widely used and so well recommended by men in the painting trade. Here's a Wayne testimony: Melvin Norton, painting contractor, says: "I have been a painter for the last forty years and the continual inhaling of the turpentine fumes put my kidneys in a bad condition several years ago. At times I could hardly move or get around on account of the steady aches and pains in my back. I tried other remedies for this trouble but to no effect. At last I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and they benefited me. I kept on using Doan's and several boxes relieved me. I use them at different times now when I feel my kidneys need a little attention and they always remedy the trouble."

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher.

November Winds.

November winds are harshly blowing about my shack, the long night through; and in my bed I hear them squalling around the window and the blue. I hear them hammer at the eaves, I hear them spring the ancient wheeze. "Stoke up your fire, shake down the ashes, or all the hanging plants will freeze!" November's wind and raucous, the general set of life, it kills, and all night long it seems to mock us, with hints of coming plumbers' bills. By day we hear it well beneath our cross, although we know that autumn's sneaking and wiper comes, a total loss by day we have our toils and troubles to occupy our divers minds; we saw our wood and blow our bubbles, and give small heed to wailing winds. But in the night, with darkness around us, and ghost steps creaking on the stair, the wild winds seem to hunt and hound us, and fill our brains with despair. There's nothing speaks more poignant sorrow than bleak November's wind at night, and how he and with the murre would come and bring its helpful light.

The Great Blasting.

I had a very severe case of sickness that I called for pink and purple pills; my humbly "hot" pills were the answer when I had paid the price of my medicine. And pharmacists and well trained nurses were "chasing" me up the saving the pulitzer and the crown, and underlakers with their "beavers" were hanging round my sad people and sane, who think such a joke. Now I am feeling vastly better, the gout and mumps have left my frame, likewise lumbago, crowd and letter, though rheumatism still plays its games. No longer do I wear a plaster, there is no putty on my arm, and I'm not scared by bleak disaster, or by the bills that round me swarms. If one has health he is craven to talk of grief and trouble, and even like Edgar Allan Poe, says baldly as "November." Health is the only thing that matters, beside it other boons are vain, and men are surely mad as butters who kick when they are free from pain. Recovered from my indigestion, and convalescent from my 100, I face my tasks without a quiver, and life seems full and great and rich. Yes, up problems crowd around me, and threats and things invade my den, but they can't daunt me, or confound me, for I am feeling well again.

Wear of Virtue.

For months I save the dollars with energy sublime, and wear old shoes and collars to save another dime. For months I am a student of thrift in every guise; I am so hoastly proud I make me blink that eyes on I preach on self denial beneath my own roof-tree, till life becomes a trial one to all who live with me. For months I keep on raving about the penny gained; then I get sick of saving, by that my soul is pained. And so I blow my money, as though I had no sense and live on milk and honey regardless of expense. I put onize the tailor and buy a new automobile, and like a jingled saloon I have the hard earned wheel when I had paid the price of my medicine. And pharmacists and well trained nurses were "chasing" me up the saving the pulitzer and the crown, and underlakers with their "beavers" were hanging round my sad people and sane, who think such a joke. Now I am feeling vastly better, the gout and mumps have left my frame, likewise lumbago, crowd bound to badly hurt you, unless you call a halt before the shining dollar to you seems as immense that all the world is made of money. The stream of money is the spendthrift's lake; but, oh, the greediest miser! He takes my words to heart.

The Toller.
I hired some honest working men (to find such men long leagues I chased) to come around and fix my den, which time and weather had defaced. The carpenter, arrived in state, he was attired in raiment glad; his touting car was simply great—right colors the blomed thing had. The plasterer, a stalwart man, gave evidence that he was lush, for he rode in a fine sedan upholstered in the richest plush. The electrician, as he'd agreed, a man of rather naughty mien; he used to drive an old Buick, but he had a new one, a limousine. The ironmith came, an able cuss, who labors through a six-hour day, and I admitted his handsome Buick was a superb one. There was one who came to deliver a ditch where concrete would be poured; his wagon was a superb one, whose power engine he reared and tanned. They parked their cars around my shack with the street both ways, as level, and of the toiler's burdened back, throughout the day they warily talked. They spoke of Capital that sat in piddled pose and wore a grin, and on it tall grews grew fat, while Honest Toil grew lank and thin. They talked all day of tyng cans to plutocrats and men of means, then drove away in rich sedans, and touting cars and limousines.

Masterpieces.
I stand the bulky book on end, give it a glance, and let it drop—the staff the wise men recommend to twither who yearns to read the ton. I wonder if the wise men read the dope they'd like to pass along, stale bank from magazines to read, and words who crank a dreary song. I've tons of volumes in my home, on reading them I'm always hoity; but I pass up the many come that reared and punished. The mildewed sages, when they wrought, held it a crime to start writing; I have no use for Gems of Thought couched in a dull and dismal style. The wise men like to stand on end, and say to youth, "Read useful books!" Here on it work we recommend the sermons of Aristus Snooks. But when these wise old boys were kids, they hid in their respective barns, in trembling terror of their dads, and read the Beadit brand of yarns. I say to youth, read high romance, and tales of daring and of gore; the day will come, as years advance, when they won't, thrill you any more. Then with the wise men you will stand and say to striplings, blithe and hale (some punk old volume in your hand), "Read anything that's flat and stale!"

The Impossible.

I cannot talk worth fourteen cents, and so no spicils I spring; and muck my ex-cy gifted gents who make the welkin ring. Chautauqua magazines ply, their game, and promise bundles fine, if I'll but write my moral nam upon the dotted line. And often I am tempted sore; then I hear Conscience say, "What right have you, I ask, to bore an audience for pay? You know that every time you've tried to paint the welkin red, a lot of witted eggs were siled, in anger, at your head." How much of honorjod we'd avoid, how much of language blue, if fewer fellows were employed at work they cannot do. I'm weary of the singer, and I'm tired of hearing blacksmiths preach, and seeing farmers sculp. I'm glad that I have sense enough to let the welkin sile.

Death of Mrs. Albert McClarin.
Sarah Catherine Drumm was born in Cass county, Nebraska, May 22, 1867. Her parents moved to Fremont, Ia., in her infancy; later they moved to Nebraska City, where on Nov. 2, 1892 she was married to Albert R. McClarin. They came to Wayne county three years ago. She was the mother of eleven children, seven of whom are living to mourn her death. Mrs. McClarin was ill but died that same forenoon at 9 o'clock of hemorrhage of the brain. Services were held at the home south of town Sunday afternoon and Monday morning the remains were taken to Iowa, near Pacific Junction, for burial.

Paper in Hands of Receiver.
Aberdeen, S. D., Nov. 18.—The Northwest Square Deal Nonpartisan league daily newspaper here, went into the hands of a receiver. A petition filed in circuit court on Tuesday by stockholders states that farmers of this vicinity invested $51,586.52 in cash and notes to support the paper since January of this year. In addition, a mortgage of $6,000 against the real estate of the newspaper and a running indebtedness of $1,600 monthly is said to have been incurred by the publication. The mortgaged plant is the sole asset of the firm, stockholders declare.

Consolation.
Houston Post: As complete returns are announced the situation doesn't look so bad as at first. Harding's popular majority has been reduced by late figures to something under 10,000,000.

What Mrs. Bronniger, of New York, Says About Rat Snap.

"Tried preparations that kill rats, but RAT-SNAP is the only one that prevents disagreeable odors after killing. Also like RAT-SNAP because it comes in handy cakes, no mixing with other food. You don't have to dirty your hands; it's the best for household use." Try RAT-SNAP. Three sizes, 36c, 66c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Wayne Drug Co. and Carhart Hardware Co.—Adv.

Drinkers Will Have Boon. Alexander, E. D. Herdick. There seems to be no lack of booze in the country, judging from the reports of arrests for intoxication in the cities and from the captures of stills in the homes. And the high cost of moonshine seems to have no deterrent effect, either, upon those who are determined to have it.

Also mice. Absolutely prevents odors from carcasses. One package proves this. RAT-SNAP comes in cakes—no mixing with other food guaranteed.

The Great Sale Has Just Started

(NEWS ITEM FROM SIOUX CITY TRIB. ONE OF NOVEMBER 19)

SIoux CITY PRICES SURPRISE THE EAST

"Sioux City is one of the few cities in America where merchants are cutting prices to the bone and pushing sales," said L. Weinberg, who returned Tuesday from a purchasing trip in the east. "Manufacturers and jobbers in the east, the amazed at the showing of local merchants are making of compared to other and competing cities."

Read what The Tribune states—then you will be convinced of Weinberg's superior buying ability—always watching the market—to get lower prices so that the women of Sioux City and the great Northwest may enjoy the greatest savings to be had any place in the United States.
