Wash Your Clothes the Clean Way—and the Quick Way With Electrical Hands in the Home

The vision of snowy white clothes blowing in the breeze bright and early should be real and it is when you use the One Minute Washer with the swinging wringer. The trials and tribulations of washday are done away with. If your washwoman disappoints you—you needn't worry, for it's an easy matter to take care of the washing yourself when electric hands do all the laborious part.

Connect the plug on the machine with the most convenient outlet; put the clothes in the tub, pour in the hot-soapy water and start the switch.

With the swinging wringer you can wring the clothes from the machine into the rinse water, from there to the bucket and then into the basket without having to move the machine.

Facts About County Seat Removal

Vote for County Seat Removal February 8, 1921

IN THEIR grandiloquent farfetched campaign committee county seat election make at much greater length a series of weird statements which the Dixon county electors will not allow to pull the wool over their eyes. Some of these excursions into the realm of fancy must be met, however silly they are.

In the first place the aforesaid, "Campaign Committee of County Seat Election" ought to identify itself clearly as the Ponca campaign committee, as there are two committees working, one of which is at Ponca and the other at Allen. It would be fair that each committee should let the electors know without question who is speaking. We do not suggest that Ponca is taking an advantage by subterfuge, but we must point out to the electors that a circular was issued last week entitled, "A Discussion of the County Seat Proposition" with the sub-title, "A Correction of Statements Made in Allen News, January 20, 1921." This circular signed Campaign Committee, was issued in exactly the same size, style, etc., that the Allen committee has used in all its literature so far issued to the people. We wish electors to know that this circular was not issued by the Allen committee, that no correction of our literature has been thought of by us, and we venture to suggest that our Ponca friends should not fear to reveal their true identity in the future.

And let us disabuse the electors' minds of what seems to be a wilful misrepresentation on the part of the Ponca committee. They say via the way of the Wayne Herald, that "bonding the county for a new court-house seems to be in the minds of the Allen people from an item sent by them to the Sioux City Tribune issue of January 14." The members of the Ponca committee and every elector in the county has had sent to them by us our strong protest against bonding the county at any time for the building of a court house and our equally strong advocacy for proceeding by levy whenever the time came for building. Let us play fair, fellows!

Ponca centers its arguments, if such they can be called, around the questions of county indebtedness and taxation, the present value of the court house, railway facilities and securing suitable premises in Allen when the re-location is voted.

Indebtedness and Taxation

Ponca says, "You do know that your taxes will be greatly increased in 1922, 1923 and 1924 and so on for many years by the county seat removal project." We have already put into every elector's hands a copy of the law on this question which unequivocally fixes the maximum county tax at 15 mills, practically the last year's tax, so that your taxes cannot be increased even by a single mill. Furthermore, the law says that, even this limit shall not go on indefinitely, but fixes five years as the longest time this maximum tax shall be levied. You need not fear as Ponca seems to suggest, that your grandchildren are going to be paying the maximum tax for this court house long years after you have finished with all such things. Bridge work for which we paid $85,000 last year, is well over the peak and this levy must come down considerably. When it does and when the financial stringency is over, and when our county feels able and wishes to do it, a $100,000 (or less) court house can be built, according to the figures of the state board of equalization and assessment, posted to every elector, on an annual levy of 2.35 mills for five years, costing the owner of a quarter section of land on the average $7.44 for five years. No one can dispute this.

On a card Ponca states that the floating indebtedness of the county is $150,000; in their circular they state $192,005, and in the Wayne Herald they make it $200,000. Which of these figures do they really mean? As a matter of fact none of these is the correct figure. In one of their emanations, they state that this indebtedness is not including bonded indebtedness of detached towns, but there is NO SUCH INDEBTEDNESS whatever, though they would like the electors to assume there is. Perhaps the present large indebtedness of the county and the methods of business that caused the same, are the strongest arguments in favor of the speedy removal of the county seat, to any other place than Ponca that could be advanced.

Present Court House

It is surprising that Ponca should defend this old relic, so tenaciously, but this gem, which is in their circular, is surely intended as a joke: "Why cause the total loss of a building valued at a $100,000." The court house was first completed in 1883, and at the present time is an antiquated, worm-eaten, moth-eaten, unsanitary, unstable, unsafe, shell of a fire trap, inside of which you must step warily lest you find the floor below without descending the stairway. And as for the vaults, it is unquestionable that to step inside one of them, is to have one's nose assailed by the smell of mold and mildew, is pretty rank. Valuable records court house to be built right now, but every impartial judge will admit that it cannot long be delayed, and our opinion is that if this removal of the county seat had not been put up to the electors by Allen now, there would have been a new court house built in Ponca, sooner than it will be in Allen if the electors order the removal of the county seat. Surely this present building has done good service, has fulfilled its purpose, but like everything else, it must give way sometime to changes which time compels.

Premises for Transacting County Business

Allen is twitted with the lack of specifically stating where they propose to house the county officers, etc. It may be Ponca's ignorance that dictates this appeal; it may be their desire to mislead the voters, or it may be their wish to have Allen walk tamely into the trap thus set. The voters should understand what the Ponca committee know, namely that it is altogether outside of the law for Allen to contract for or offer anything in the nature of a building, or to secure options or to contract for same. The law construes such action in the nature of bribery to win votes. But the unprejudiced person need only to walk through the streets of Allen to see much better buildings than the present one at Ponca, and one business man, voicing the opinion of his fellows in the town, said the other day when asked if he would move out if the building he was occupying was required by the supervisors, "Well, I'd hate to be the man to stand in the way of the county seat coming here, if the electors so decided." There is no doubt about suitable premises, modern and fire-proof being secured at reasonable rental, and vault accommodations can be built in or on any of these buildings. The joke about the present court house building being valued at $100,000 is only excelled by that which states on Ponca's card that "vaults could perhaps be built for $50,000." The law states that $100,000 can be spent on a new court house, and Ponca is suggesting that half of this sum must be expended on vaults. If the matter was not so serious, it would be funny. But the voters need not consider these items at this time. An election has been called to decide the one question as to where the county seat shall be located. Allen is much nearer the center of the geographical area of the county, nearer the center of valuation, nearer the center of population. And in spite of what Ponca may say, the man farthest from Allen when it becomes county seat, will be nearer than the man who now has to travel farthest to Ponca. Verify it yourself by measurement on an authorized map in your banker's or your real estate office. Vote with the one consideration of location in your mind. Everything else is secondary to that. It is up to the Allen community to place suitable premises at the disposal of the supervisors on their request and in contract with them, and with no one else. Give Allen the chance, that's all.

Does the Ponca committee wish to be taken seriously when it says, "We are informed by a reliable party that in a certain county in Nebraska an annual rent of $10,000 was paid for court house quarters." Like the man whose wife told him she had heard somebody else's cousin, Mary, had heard from somebody else's sister-in-law, who had it from the great-aunt of somebody else's thirty-third cousin, that something was going to happen if it came to pass. You need only to look at your neighboring county of Thurston, where Pender, the county seat for many years, has no court house yet, and has no difficulty in renting suitable premises for a court house at reasonable rent. Perhaps Thurston county has found the cheapest way, anyhow.

And if anyone in Ponca is so dead as to believe that the present financial stringency is to be permanent, that America is done for financially, why the sooner he is buried deep, the better.

Railroad Facilities

There is not much difference to be proved, the slight balance of time saving being in favor of Allen, if any. Ponca says a Wakefield man could cross the state in the time it would take him to go to Allen by rail. Well, anyone can really go from Allen, Dixon or Wakefield, get to the state capitol at Lincoln, and do a couple hours' business before the time he could even reach Ponca by rail. And a man showed the other day by rail schedule and by actual achievement that it was possible to leave Wakefield on the train he would go to Ponca by, cross several states to Chicago, spend the day there doing business, and arrive back in Wakefield on the same train by which he would reach home again from Ponca. Of course if a man from this end of the county wants to just go up to Ponca, get out of the train, and step into the passing return train, he can do it just for the say so. But not to do any business of moment with the county officers. As a matter of fact, the morning train from Ponca during the noon hours when the officials are not available and the thing is virtually impossible. Regard must be had to the fact that by far the larger number travel to the county seat by car. Newcastle and Maskell will certainly have a little further to travel, but we believe they will recognize the principle of give and take, live and let live, by voting to save time and money to many more people by their willingness to travel a little further when they have to visit the county seat. Martinsburg would be the ideal location for the county seat, but for the fact that she has no railroad facilities at all. In case Martinsburg was so qualified, Allen would not be seeking the location.

And now the cat is out of the bag. Ponca is desirous of securing a permanent monopoly of the county seat, but we hardly expected to see her do it so unbenevolently and simply. She says Ponca was selected for the county seat when the county was organized; it should always remain the county seat. It reminds us of the chautauqua manager, who in a certain village, suggested that the ticket stand was in the muddy and inconvenient place and would be better and more accessible to the public if moved to another place. "Only do, have an old moss back member of the local chautauqua committee blurt out, "The ticket stand has always been there, and there it is going to stay." If our friends have no better arguments than this they had better quit and let the electors decide upon sound and sensible evidence with the facts before them, overwhelmingly increase in population in the southern half of the county, growth of towns there, changed conditions of travel, and of everything else that progress means, and fit herself to the altered times. The southern towns have gained tremendously in the last twenty years, Wakefield with the largest total gain. Newcastle has forged ahead splendidly owing to the enterprise of her people, and in spite of her proximity to the county seat, a thing which some folks seem to think is against the growth of towns nearby. Ponca is the only town in the county that has gone backwards having fewer inhabitants in 1920 than she had in 1900. Wakefield is the best business town in the county, notwithstanding her proximity to Wayne.

Remember to vote. And remember that women can vote on this question.

All vote for Allen, Tuesday, February 8, for county seat removal.

And hurrah for a new county seat and a new lease on life for good old Dixon county.

A number of other bills have been introduced that have appeared objectionable to the merchant interests, Mr. Barr says. These bills, if passed, would have a very serious effect on the general public as there is no question but what they would add to the overhead expense of retailers, he says.

Scouts Influence of Stars.
Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 31.—Young married folk need not worry about the prediction of Prof. Charles Kirschhoff, Milwaukee astronomer, that the country will be flooded with twins, triplets and quadruplets during the next six years—according to Prof. Goodwin Del Sweeney, astronomer at the University of Nebraska. Any such statement is based upon superstition, according to Prof. Sweeney, and is without scientific reasoning.

"It is ridiculous to say that the conjunction of certain stars with the new moon will have any effect upon humans," declared Prof. Sweeney. Predictions of this sort, he says have been made by the superstitious for centuries, but have always been disputed by scientists.

Prof. Kirschhoff based his prediction that "the world will be startled by the fecundity of all human races" upon the fact that the planets Mars and Venus were in conjunction on January 5, a "bad sign," causing a "critical sign of the zodiac." In addition, he said, the planet Mars passed through Pisces January 12, and came in conjunction with the new moon January 23, stating that during the latter part of this year and for a period of five years thereafter, the human race will be astonishingly fruitful.

been introduced that have attracted the attention of the merchants' legislative bureau. House roll No. 53, introduced by T. B. Dyant, of Omaha, which seeks to amend "the law, relative to exemptions and striking therefrom the exemption of wages, and also striking out the provision that no attachment or garnishment shall be issued until judgment is recovered," appears to the merchants' legislative bureau as being obnoxious. J. Frank Barr, general secretary of the federation of retailers, says this proposed bill seeks to amend the "garnishment law" which they worked four years to get on the statute books. "It is the original 10 per cent garnishment law that we tried to increase to 25 per cent two years ago and succeeded in getting through the house but failed in getting through the senate," he said. "We will oppose the passage of this bill."

Merchants Scan Bills Before Legislature

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 31.—Bills introduced in the Nebraska legislature that have the least possible reference to any mercantile interest, are analyzed carefully by experts from the recently organized Nebraska Merchants Legislative Bureau, an organization representing practically every retail and wholesale house in the state. The bureau was organized that the various retail and wholesale organization members of the state may keep better informed upon the activities of the legislature.

A. L. Anderson, president of the Federation of Nebraska Retailers, is president of the bureau, and E. E. Hall, secretary of the Nebraska Lumber Dealers' association is secretary. A number of bills already have

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Announcement

Mr. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, gives out the following statement:

"The price of the FORDSON Tractor has been reduced from $790.00 to $625.00, effective immediately.

This price change has been made possible through lower costs of materials and the fact that we are now located in our new tractor plant with greatly increased economic manufacturing facilities in immediate connection with our foundry and machine shops and large blast furnaces where iron is poured directly from the ore, giving us maximum efficiency with the power to reduce cost of production, and down comes the price in line with our policy to market our products at the lowest possible figure without in any way affecting our high standard of quality.

"We are particularly pleased in being able to bring about this big reduction in price at this time because the farmer needs all the help we can give him and this big cut in price will be the means of placing a valuable power unit within the reach of practically everyone of them, not to mention industrial and commercial concerns which likewise have benefited through its use and are already realizing to a much greater extent, its value as a power and hauling unit. But particularly has the Fordson tractor proved a most valuable factor in the saving of farm labor, at the same time increasing the per acre crop yield as well as making possible a utilization of previously uncultivated land, to say nothing of removing no end of drudgery.

There is no question that the use of the machine power on the farm is the greatest advancement made in the development of agriculture, not only in money saving and money making results, as well as raising the standards of living on the farm to a much higher level, but because of its proved value in making every type of land more productive and consequently our desire to place the Fordson within the reach of all.

"There is no change in the present Ford car and truck prices, which are already at the lowest possible figure and now with rock bottom reached on the tractor price a further reduction in price of either the car, truck or tractor is out of the question; in fact, the big price cuts have been made in anticipation of continuous maximum production and increases may be necessary before long if a large volume of new business is not obtained. Therefore, present prices of Ford products cannot be guaranteed against possible increases."

Ask for the book "The Fordson at Work," which will be supplied free of cost. Let us demonstrate the value of the Fordson on your farm, in your factory, lumber yard, coal yard, or in any general hauling or power work you have to do and let us have your order for a FORDSON.

Geneva Signal Treats Paper Consolidation

Geneva Signal: E. R. Purcell, publisher of the Broken Bow Chief, last week purchased and consolidated with the Chief the only other newspaper published at Broken Bow, the Southwestern. Mr. Purcell has served in the legislature as a democrat but for a number of years the Chief has been his friend and has been an independent newspaper and has been conducted in very much the same manner as the Signal. The Republican was conducted as more or less of a party organ but it has been weak and inefficient for a long time and has changed publishers a number of times in recent years.

Broken Bow is at least fifty per cent larger than Geneva and is the county seat of Custer county, the largest well settled county in the state. Custer county is practically fifty miles square and has an area four times as great as that of Fillmore county and a population probably about three times as great. Therefore it is not surprising that the Broken Bow Chief already had a circulation of 4,000 copies a week, the largest in the state, because the Chief has been a good newspaper and its publisher has been very active in public circulation. He had the population and the territory to work on and he worked effectively. Incidentally the Chief is the only county newspaper in the state with a larger circulation than The Signal.

There are two remarkable features connected with this consolidation that are worthy of special note by both business men and publishers, and, we might add, the politicians and the other common people. The politicians of all parties consented to the consolidation. The republicans had nothing to gain by trying to keep the Broken Bow Republican alive. It was too weak to be an effective party organ and the day of organs is over anyway. Politicians find that they have to pay for what they get and it is a real saving of money to go into just one newspaper with a big circulation, order what you want and pay for it. Of course the republicans that you can trust the publisher to give you a square deal. A crook doesn't last long in the publishing business anyway.

Second, and most remarkable, practically every business man in Broken Bow, every one whom the two publishers concerned were able to find and consult, agreed to the consolidation and signed an agreement not to patronize any other newspaper than the Chief for at least two years. There were just two provisos. The first was that Mr. Purcell should remain the editor and publisher of the Chief and the second was that it would continue to be published along the lines the paper has followed for a number of years. There was no agreement or control as to advertising rates. That was a matter left for Mr. Purcell to decide, as in the past, on the cost of production and with the expectation that the business should be kept prosperous.

It is remarkable that perhaps a hundred men engaged in business, there must be at least that many in a town of 2,500 or more people, could agree on any one thing, especially if that one thing were a newspaper deal, but this was a good time psychologically to propose to business men a plan by which they could get their advertising better and cheaper, and that is what consolidation means. Republican business men of Broken Bow will not be deceived by the solicitor of the party organ begging for advertising to keep the old ship afloat. The party rancor of the old days is largely gone and business men no longer run their stores, their banks or their blacksmith shops exclusively for the members of their own political party. They want real newspapers with tremendous circulations so that when they spend money for advertising they are sure to get action.

The Broken Bow Chief had about 4,000 circulation before the consolidation and after the consolidation with the Republican it had only about 4,500 circulation after all duplications had been cut out. Undoubtedly Broken Bow business men had been paying for something they didn't get if they had been advertising in the Republican. They will know now that they are getting all there is in the way of circulation when they buy space in the Chief and there won't be any guesswork about it.

Mr. Purcell has always been a working member of the Nebraska Press association. He is serving this year as its president, an honor so coveted that custom requires that a new president be elected each year. Mr. Purcell has found time also to take an active interest in his county fair and the state fair. He is president of his county fair association and is a member of the board of managers of the state fair. Those who know him are confident he will administer the consolidated newspaper property wisely and in the public interest. He has published the Chief for twenty-nine years and the business men of Broken Bow knew exactly what they were doing when they signed the contract on which the consolidation was based. They were not dealing with a stranger or with a man without experience. Since he has been able to run a straight course for twenty-nine years it must be assumed he won't go far wrong in the next two years.

All over the United States newspaper consolidation has been in progress for two or three years. The tremendous jump in the price of print paper last year crushed the life out of a good many weekly newspapers. For the last year or two there has cost about double what it used to cost and everything else needed around a printing office has been on about the same basis as to price as print paper. All printing machinery has practically doubled in price. It is difficult to keep a newspaper afloat and it would be a tremendous task to start a new one under present conditions. Publishers see no reason to expect an early decline in their cost of operation.

Urges Fishing Through Ice. Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 30.—Fishermen in the lake regions of Nebraska are unmoletted from fishing through the ice even though it is against the law to angle in any way at this season. State fish and game officials have issued orders to wardens not to arrest persons found fishing through the ice. It has been found, it is said, that the opening of holes in the ice does much to sustain life of fish. The few fish caught in this way are said to be small in comparison to the number saved from suffocation.

A severe winter, it is said, will freeze ice on the lakes to such a thickness that it is not possible for a great number of fish to survive. Most of Nebraska's lakes are shallow, and unless openings are made that a little air may strike, the water, a great many fish will suffocate as they did during the severe winter of several years ago.

Ringed perch are practically the only kind of fish that must be caught through the ice with hook and line. Game fish, such as bass, croppies, pike and trout, will not be fured to bait at the time of the year.

Fishing through the ice is declared to be a sport. When properly equipped it is not nearly so uncomfortable as one would imagine. Fishermen construct little shanties of light wood or canvas, and equip them with small stoves. These are hauled by hand over the ice on runners to the place where they want to fish.

Fish at this time of the year are usually to be found where the ice is deepest. The perch are not particular as to the kind of bait offered. As angle worms are next to impossible to obtain, the fishermen use raw trout or a piece of breast-bank-they catch one. After this they usually use fish meat as bait.

The Redistricting Proposition.

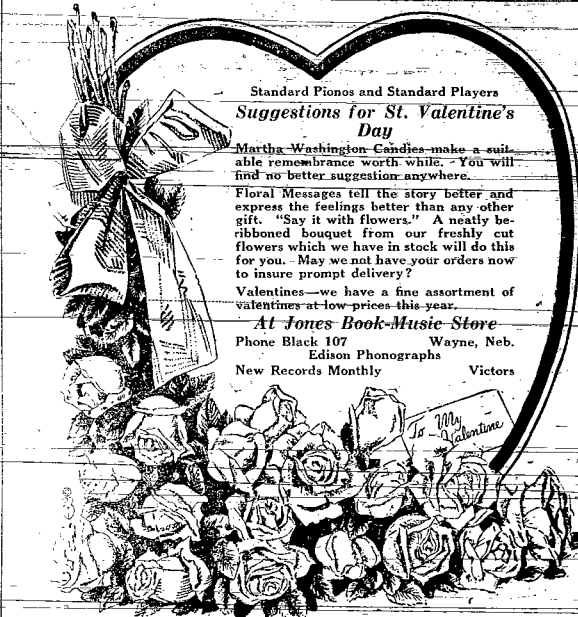

O'Neill, Neb., Jan. 30.—Residents of western Nebraska, north of the Burlington railroad and the Platte river, view with alarm the proposal of Representative Mellor of Lancaster county to redivide the state for congressional purposes in such a manner as to take Holt, Boyd, Cherry, Keya Paha, Brown and Rock counties out of the 6th Sixth district and attach them to the Third district.

Such a division by creating the new Fifth district out of the rest of the present Sixth, they declare, would throw the center of population of that district in Buffalo county, assuring Kearney a perpetual balance of power, which would leave the live stock industry entirely unrepresented in congress, as the five counties attached to the new Third district would be too far west of its center of population to ever interest the Third district congressman. A petition in boots may descend upon the legislature if the ditactic is thus jerry-mandered, it is declared.

The "U. S." Bootee

The protection of a boot—the comfort of a shoe A miner's rubber shoe that is becoming popular among farmers everywhere

In wet weather—over muddy ground—you can keep your feet as dry as in boots, and yet have all the light-weight comfort of a shoe.

Farmers everywhere are buying the new U. S. Bootee—a water-tight rubber shoe that is just the thing for everyday service around the farm.

It was first designed for miners, who must have a waterproof shoe that will not tire their feet. Today it's fast becoming popular all over the country—with all men who have to work much out-of-doors. Worn right over the sock like a leather shoe, the U. S. Bootee gives perfect protection always—whatever job you have to do.

Its light weight and its smooth, easy fit will give you a new idea of real comfort in rubber footwear.

Ask your dealer to show you a pair of the new U. S. Bootees. Look over the rest of his U. S. line. There's a type for every need—artics, rubbers, "overs"—all built in the same, rugged, reliable way.

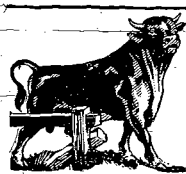

They all have tough, heavy soles—special reinforcements at every point where the wear is hardest—and the highest quality rubber from our own plantations.

Always look for the "U. S." Seal—it means solid wear and long service for your money.

Merchants Scan Bills Before Legislature

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 31.—Bills introduced in the Nebraska legislature that have the least possible reference to any mercantile interest, are analyzed carefully by experts from the recently organized Nebraska Merchants legislative bureau, an organization representing practically every retail and wholesale house in the state. The bureau was organized that the various retail and wholesale organization members of the state may keep better informed upon the activities of the legislature.

A. L. Anderson, president of the Federation of Nebraska Retailers, is president of the bureau, and E. E. Hall, secretary of the Nebraska Lumber Dealers' association is secretary. A number of bills already have been introduced that have attracted the attention of the merchants' legislative bureau. House roll No. 55, introduced by T. B. Dysart, of Omaha, which seeks to amend "the law, relative to exemptions and striking therefrom the exemption of wagons, and also striking out the provision that no attachment or garnishment shall be issued until judgment is recovered," appears to the merchants' legislative bureau as being objectionable. J. Frank Barr, general secretary of the Federation of Retailers, says this proposed bill seeks to amend the "garnishment law," which they worked four years to get on the statute books. "It is the original 10 per cent garnishment law that we tried to cut garnishment law that we tried to increase to 25 per cent two years ago and succeeded in getting through the house but failed in getting through the senate," he said. "We will oppose the passage of this bill," he declared: "A 10 per cent garnishment is a small enough amount, but we don't want the gates to open again for a flood of 'deadbeats' to again gain a foothold. The law as it now stands is a positive protection to honest debtors and a detriment only to the 'deadbeat'."

A number of other bills have been introduced that have appeared objectionable to the merchant interests, Mr. Barr says. These bills, if passed, would add to the cost of goods to the general public as there is no question but what they would add to the overhead expense of retailers, he says.

Scouts Influence of Stars.
Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 31.—Young married folk need not worry about the prediction of Prof. Charles Kirschoff, Milwaukee astronomer, that the country will be flooded with twins, triplets and quadruplets during the next six years, according to Prof. Goodwin Del Swesey, astronomer at the University of Nebraska. Any such statement is based upon superstition, according to Prof. Swesey, and is without scientific reasoning.

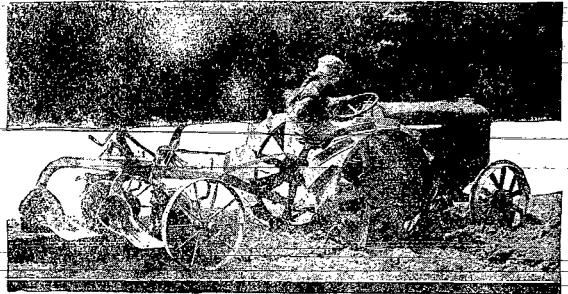

"It is ridiculous to say that the conjunction of certain stars with the new moon will have any effect upon humans," declared Prof. Swesey. Predictions of this sort, he says have been made by the superstitious for centuries, but have always been disputed by scientists.

Prof. Kirschoff based his prediction that "the world will be started by the fecundity of all human races," upon the fact that the planets Mars and Venus were in conjunction on January 5, a "bad sign," causing a fruitful sign of the zodiac. In addition, he said, the planet Mars passed through Pisces January 12, and came in conjunction with the new moon January 23, showing that during the latter part of this year and for a period of five years thereafter, the human race will be astonishingly fruitful.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Announcement

Mr. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, gives out the following statement:

"The price of the FORDSON Tractor has been reduced from $790.00 to $625.00, effective immediately.

This price change has been made possible through lower costs of materials and the fact that we are now located in our new tractor plant with greatly increased economic manufacturing facilities in immediate connection with our foundry and machine shops and large blast furnaces where iron is poured directly from the ore, giving us maximum efficiency with the power to reduce cost of production, and down comes the price in line with our policy to market our products at the lowest possible figure without in any way affecting our high standard of quality.

"We are particularly pleased in being able to bring about this big reduction in price at this time because the farmer needs all the help we can give him and this big cut in price will be the means of placing a valuable power unit within the reach of practically everyone of them, not to mention industrial and commercial concerns which likewise have benefited through its use and are already realizing to a much greater extent, its value as a power and hauling unit. But particularly has the Fordson tractor proved a most valuable factor in the saving of farm labor, at the same time increasing the per acre crop yield as well as making possible a utilization of previously uncultivated land, to say nothing of removing no end of drudgery.

There is no question that the use of the machine power on the farm is the greatest advancement made in the development of agriculture, not only in money saving and money making results, as well as raising the standards of living on the farm to a much higher level, but because of its proved value in making every type of land more productive and consequently our desire to place the Fordson within the reach of all.

"There is no change in the present Ford car and truck prices, which are already at the lowest possible figure and now with rock bottom reached on the tractor price a further reduction in price of either the car, truck or tractor is out of the question; in fact, the big price cuts have been made in anticipation of continuous maximum production and increases may be necessary before long if a large volume of new business is not obtained. Therefore, present prices of Ford products cannot be guaranteed against possible increases."

Ask for the book "The Fordson at Work," which will be supplied free of cost. Let us demonstrate the value of the Fordson on your farm, in your factory, lumber yard, coal yard, or in any general hauling or power work you have to do and let us have your order for a FORDSON.

"The Will of the Few." Omaha Bee: The case for moving pictures censorship is fairly summarized in two letters, published in The Bee today. Ascribing to each writer the utmost sincerity of motive, it remains true that each seeks to impose his own views of right and wrong on the world. The one wants to be assured that whatever picture shows he visits, he will see nothing but what accords to his ideas of the good and beautiful; the other doubts whether fathers and mothers can select for themselves or their offspring, in matters of amusement, and so should have the judgment of somebody else.

A man's moral-ether so deteriorated that divine law must now be bolstered up by human enactment? Are we as a nation become so flabby in conscience and conscience that we select an anointed group and clothe it with power to determine for us what is good and what is to be forbidden?

The Bee believes that ample authority exists under the law as it now stands for the suppression of any unwholesome picture that law and has been operative for a long time. It also believes that the world is getting better, that the moral nature of man is taking on a brighter hue with each passing day, but we do not believe that ultimate perfection will be hastened by imposing the will of the few on the many. Character is of slow growth, and is strengthened as it meets and overcomes temptations.

The proposed censorship of moving pictures is a thing apart from the so-called censorship of text books. It is used in public schools, and even the latter has been subjected to a great deal of criticism because an effort has been made to provide such books for use by the children as well. It is a common demand, the objectors seeking to impose special requirements on the whole. Confusion has inevitably followed the attempt to guide men's morals by statute law. The bloody history of twenty centuries attest this.

The main question however, is: Have the people of Nebraska sufficient moral stamina to stand for themselves and make a deliberate choice between right and wrong? Will they give that choice into the control of a board, no matter in what manner selected, and abide by the will of the few?

Financial and Business Review of the Mechanics and Metals National Bank of New York: One direct effect of confining grain speculation to persons in the trade is that the market would be made so narrow as seriously to interfere with hedging operations by millers and others in the trade, while the prohibitive tax proposed on future trading would virtually eliminate it.

Hedging is not speculation; it is the avoidance of speculation. It is a form of insurance. Between the purchase of a stock and the sale of its milling into flour and sale upon the market, time must elapse. This interval may often be very long, for in order to assure himself of a supply of wheat, the miller may purchase at one time his requirements for a substantial period. During that time the price of both wheat and flour may decline so sharply as to wipe out his entire margin of profit and more. He would avoid this by hedging with exchange contracts for future deliveries of wheat, and closing these out by purchase as his own holdings of wheat mature. If the price of wheat is a sharp decline in wheat, he will make as much on his future contract as he loses through a fall in the price of the flour he produces, leaving him the profit from his own business of milling. If these hedging facilities were taken from him, the miller would have to hedge with a larger margin of profit in order to protect himself from market fluctuations; this would mean a higher price for consumers of flour, and a smaller margin of profit for farmers. Moreover, banks lend liberally to millers because their grain holdings are hedged; if they were not, the banks, in their own interest and in that of their clients, would be compelled to reduce credit extensions to from one-half to one-quarter of their present volume; and the farmer, in consequence, would find himself without his present in-stantaneous market in wheat. The very great advantages of hedging, in fact, suggest that what is needed is not restriction, but expansion, and that its application to other commodities, where practicable, would be of no small value to trades which deal in such commodities.

Now you see, friends, how prices have come down to a good sane level which should cause you to buy with confidence of getting full worth for your money.

It is the wise, sane, economical buying that causes the wheels of industry to turn. This is the kind of buying that should be encouraged today. Don't let industry suffer, but buy for your present needs. We are constantly catering to your wishes in the matter of service and low price.

—Dies on Original Homestead. Norfolk, Neb., Feb. 2. Herman Wachter, the last father of the original colony which settled Norfolk and thirty nearly 60 years ago, died on his original homestead, three miles north of Norfolk. Wachter was one of the leaders of the colonists, which left Wisconsin and drove their families overland in ox teams. He leaves a very large family of prosperous Nebraska farmers.

The Law of Growth. Omaha World-Herald: It is an understanding of the laws of growth that leads many not especially of especially religious inclination to the conclusion that the span of years in our so-called life is but a beginning or a part of the growth within us. It must have been in the mind of Charles F. Johnson, who, as he stood on the deck of the sinking Lusitania, exclaimed to his friend, "The most wonderful adventure in life is death."

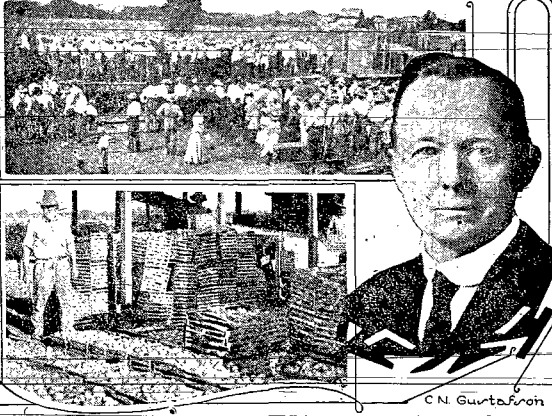

Senator Calder Exaggerates. St. Paul Pioneer Press: Slanderous, in the opinion of President Thomas H. Watkins, of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke corporation, was the statement of Senator Calder that the coal baron had rebbed the people of $1,500,000 in 1920. He says the job netted a lot of only $600,000,000.

Important News. Philadelphia Public Ledger: Never doubt it. The most important news item of last Monday was that four-line paragraph that told of the passage of the $300,000 free-see-distribution amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill. Well does the congressman know.

Lenin Has Vacation Coming. Washington Post: Possibly Lenin thinks he can afford to take a rest of the strength of the $40 in real money that a Canadian railroad owns Trotsky.

California Plan of Marketing Appeals to Farmers

Commodity marketing as successfully launched in California, the bid fair to spread into national practice, as shown by recent action of the American Farm Bureau Federation. The plan can and does apply to all farm commodities. A state or national pooling of all products to be sold by expert marketing men appointed by the farmer, membership organization during one year. Wheat growers, corn growers, two growers, cotton growers, live stock men, farm produce men, etc. are to be so organized, under the Farm Bureau present plans, to furnish the assurance of the highest-possible market to all its members, no matter what their crops may be. Photos show up- per left: Crows in western Kansas at mink meeting on compressed by the farmer, membership organization during one year. Wheat growers, corn growers, recent Farm Bureau drives; right: C.N. Gustafson, chairman of the newly formed marketing committee of the Farm Bureau Federation, who reported Feb. 14 at a Kansas City meeting on the "California plan" to his grain growers. GROW CUCUMBERS IN FIVE DAYS

America for speed. Now we have the "five-day" garden. Fred Howard, secretary of South Easton, Mass., has developed a cucumber which is ready for table use five days after the blossom has dropped from the vine. The cucumber was developed from Russian stock by selective breeding. Climate and soil has much to do with the rapid growth.

No More Cold Weather According to Snakes

O'Neill, Neb., Jan. 31.—Snakes along the Niobrara river bottoms already have broken their period of hibernation and spring is here whether the calendar says so or not, according to trappers who have been spending the winter season on the river. The trappers' enemy, however, was killed on the river five miles west of Butte on Jan. 9 by three Butte citizens, Ernest Storm, Charles Cline and Jesse Hild. The boys had not been partaking of "home-made" before they killed the snake, either. Just to prove that it was a real snake it was broiled and exhibited. Trappers still declare that they also have killed several already this year, and that they have encountered other hibernating animals and reptiles that evidently have concluded that winter is over. Snakes in this latitude rarely come out of their winter sleep until well along in April or even in May, and never until all danger of extremely cold weather is passed. Where the reptiles first break their slumber, they do not know, but they are willing to back it to the limit.

In Interest of Full Service to the State

Randolph Times: There is a strong sentiment in this legislature to secure one hundred cents in value, be it labor or goods, for every dollar the state expends. This is as it should be and it was the avowed policy of Senator Randall of this district to do what he could to gain this end. Not only the man in position to accomplish such, but now our representative in the senate is in such position. He has been appointed as a committee of five to inquire into overlapping of duties, or activities, or any uneconomical administration of the state government. Lieutenant Governor Barrows was allowed to appoint the committee. The select committee had Mr. Reed for chairman, although that senator asked that he be not made a member of the committee. The others are: Cooper of Douglas, Bliss of Buffalo, Haldeman of Pawnee and Randall of Cedar. The senate adjourned until Monday at 3 o'clock, immediately after adjournment the committee held a conference and decided to hold the first meeting Monday night at half past 7 o'clock. The scope of the committee's powers is almost unlimited. Any one who may be working for the state without a good excuse is liable to investigation. Any state officer or employe who is spending money of the state, in an uneconomical way may also be in for a grilling. Any one of the state payroll who is not earning his salary is likely to be pointed out in the committee's report, and in such an event the legislature can act accordingly.

WAKEFIELD NEWS

Miss Tillie Solfermoser of the Herald staff, is editor of this department, and will visit Wakefield every Tuesday. Any news contributions to these columns from town or country will be gladly received by her. She is also authorized to receive new or renewal subscriptions.

Alma Childs of Wayne was here on business Saturday.
George Childs left for Paige Tuesday morning on business.

Miss Eleanor Borg was a Sioux City visitor last Saturday.
Miss Martie Larson and Miss Nellie Johnson spent Saturday in Sioux City.

Mrs. Moseley is suffering from a stroke of paralysis at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Olds.
A business meeting of the Senior Christian Endeavor, was held at the home of Miss Dorothy Green Monday night.

Miss Clara Colwell, who teaches in the third and fourth grades here, visited at her home in Ponca over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Turner of Wayne, spent Thursday in Wakefield on business. While here, they also visited with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ware and daughter, Miss Eleanor, and Miss Cynthia Mays went to Sioux City Friday. They returned Saturday.
Mrs. G. W. Hutton of University Place visited with her daughter, Mrs. H. B. Ware, the fore part of this week. Mrs. Hutton is on her way to California to spend the winter.

The Sunday school teachers' meeting of the Presbyterian church was held at the home of Miss Sylvia Ingram Tuesday evening at 7:30. The business session was held at 8:00.
Mrs. Ben Carr was pleasantly surprised last Tuesday evening when a few of her neighbors and friends called her home and took charge of it, reminding her that it was her birthday.

The girls of the W. A. C. pleasantly surprised Mrs. Ed. Buran Tuesday night, the girls bringing refreshments. The hours were passed in doing fancy work and in social conversation.
Miss Alice Johnson invited in a few of her girl friends the other evening to help her celebrate her birthday. Refreshments were served to the guests who report her a royal hostess.

A. C. Paul Tuesday sold his meat market, the new proprietors taking charge that day. Mr. Paul will remain in Wakefield temporarily. A. B. Burdick of Randolph is one of the new proprietors.

Miss Edna Nyberg who is in training in the Samaritan hospital at Sioux City, came up from that place to be under the parental roof over Sunday. A friend Miss Hazel Petersen, accompanied her home.

Monday evening was indeed an evening of excitement, for on the same evening, Mrs. N. P. Nyberg slipped on the icy pavement and sprained her ankle, while on the way to the Parent-Teacher meeting.
Elmer Skinner and sister, Miss Iva, gave a party to about sixty of their friends on January 22. A very pleasant evening was spent. Lunch being served, the guests departed for their homes regretting that they will soon lose these young friends from their circle.

Mr. E. E. Hyse had the misfortune to slip on the pavement last Monday evening while on her way to the Parent-Teacher meeting and break one of her arms. The broken member was set once and we are glad to report that Mrs. Hyse is getting along as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Beckenhauer, a student in-law of J. O. Peterson, arrived from Wisconsin the fore part of the week. She expected to return yesterday.

Mrs. Beckenhauer formerly lived at Coleridge. Tuesday afternoon, a party was given in her honor at the W. S. Ebersole home.

Tuesday evening the Chattahoochee Camp Fire girls attended the "Campfire" in a hall at the Swedish Lutheran, the Presbyterian and the Methodist church services Sunday.

The Chattahoochee Camp Fire held its regular meeting Thursday evening at the home of the guardian, Mrs. L. P. Louck.

The Wakefield boys' and girls' basketball teams entered the Lyons boys' and Hastings girls' teams at a game at the home of Henry Neurnberger on Friday evening after the games. The evening was spent in games and music, after which refreshments were served. All who were there reported an enjoyable time.

Stock Shipments.
The following shipped stock to Omaha Monday: Leonard Fredericks, one carload of cattle; P. N. Oberg, one carload of cattle; Farmers' Elevator, one carload of hogs; Emil Lund, one-half carload of cattle.

School Notes:
The basketball game which took place in the gymnasium last Friday night proved both victory and defeat for the home teams, the Hastings girls winning by a score of 21 to 13 from the Wakefield girls, and the Wakefield boys winning the laurels from the fast Lyons quintet. Both games were close as well as interesting, the Lyons team foreriding ill luck when they held the lead throughout the first half. The home boys, however, came back with a new turning the tide of bad fortune in the last half.

The girls' game with Laurel, which was cancelled the fore part of the week.

The Wakefield boys' basketball team will play Coleridge tomorrow night.

Miss Harriet Jones, who teaches the primary room, visited at her home in Carroll last week-end.

Miss Rose Brodthagen spent the week-end at her home in Pierce.

Miss Lottis Ostrander had the misfortune to sprain her ankle yesterday. The accident was not such as to keep her from her place in the schoolroom.

Parent-Teachers' Association.
The organization meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association took place last Monday night at the school house. A constitution and by-laws were drawn up. Two women who were on their way to the meeting fell on the slippery walk fronting the school yard, one breaking an arm and the other spraining an ankle.

First Step in Self-Government.
Because many dissenting members from the various grades found fault with the ruling providing that all students having an average of 90 per cent. and who were neither absent nor tardy should be exempt from the six weeks' examinations, it was decided to appoint a student council consisting of five members to pass upon the complaints of those who objected to the committee, who they considered to be excusable cases of tardiness or absence. The committee consists of one member from each of the four classes in the high school, headed, at present, by Supt. Smith. Those who think they can show justifiable causes why judgment should not be passed upon them are required to enter their names, the date of the alleged tardiness, the number of minutes tardy and the reason for the tardiness upon a document, which document is passed upon prior to the six weeks' examinations and the legitimacy of the cases judged. One clause of the constitution reads: "The council shall have recommendatory power in all matters whatsoever referred to it by the faculty." This clause makes it possible for cases of discipline to be included within the range of the council's power, or it may include any cases which shall have been referred to it by the faculty. It is thought by many that this student council will accomplish great good and that it is a proper step in the direction of self-government.

The class in commercial law, taught by Prof. Smith last Friday debated the question: "Resolved, That the County Seat Should be Changed from Ponca to Allen." The question having been decided by the fact that it is now pending final decision at the election next Tuesday, Feb. 8. The negative was upheld by 78.

Poland China Bred

Sow Sale

Thursday, February 17, 1921

We will offer at the Farmers Sale Pavilion in Winside

FORTY HEAD

Of Pure Bred Big Type Poland Chinas

15 Yearling Sows; 25 Spring Gilts

Most of the yearlings are sired by Big Chief, a few by Logan Wonder and Black Diamond and the gilts were sired by Giant Timm 2nd, Bob, Jr., and Long Buster. All of these boars are strictly of the big type. The tried sows are the kind that farrow good litters of pigs and raise them. The gilts are the big, stretchy kind, well developed, and have the making of good mothers. These sows are mated to boars carrying some of the best blood in the Hog Kingdom. Giant Timm 2nd, a 2-year-old, is not an experiment. His get in our herd will speak for him. The Avalanche, Long-Buster and Big Buster and Rainbow 2d are young boars but have the making of great herd boars. They have the backing that gives us confidence to say that their offsprings will not be a disappointment.

This is your opportunity to put some of this rich blood into your herd. Every sire used has a long line of big ancestor; that grow big and bring big money when sold.

Church Night. The regular "church night" program will be varied somewhat at the meeting tonight. The regular supper and business meeting will be held, after which a religious motion picture "The Stream of Life" will be shown at the opera house. This play, which was given at the general conference last summer, was a great success. It comes highly recommended, from the International Film Company of New York City. A comedy, "Once a Mason" will be shown in connection with the program. All are invited.

SOCIAL. The Ladies' Association met with Mrs. Frank Francis last Monday night. The five hundred club. The five hundred club was enjoyably entertained by Mrs. Frank Pryor and Mrs. John Thiesen at the latter's home last Thursday night. Mrs. Herbert Honey was the first prize. Delicious refreshments were served.

L. K. Club. The L. K. club met with Mrs. Will Jones Tuesday evening, January 26. The time was spent, largely, in doing fancy work. Mrs. Jones, assisted by her daughters, Alba and Cella, served the refreshments. All voted Mrs. Jones a royal hostess.

Rag Party. Last Friday night the men and women composing the Thirty Member Club surprised Mr. and Mrs. John Grier at their home in the vicinity of Carroll. The guests brought well-filled baskets, and judging from the beautiful feast which followed, it was not at all in accordance with an old-fashioned "hardtime" party. Mrs. John Grier was awarded first place, her costume provoking great laughter.

Umpire fees were imposed, the proceeds of which will be used for an extra supper some time in the near future. This club has no special time of meeting. The various members are "surprised" at times unknown to them, the guests furnishing the tables.

M. E. Church Notes. The usual services of worship will be held Sunday at the usual hours, 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

School Notes. Although many did not witness the Winside-Carroll basketball game here last Wednesday evening, an interesting game was played during which the visitors were defeated to the tune of 38 to 6.

The basketball game at Randolph Friday night resulted in a defeat for the home team, the opponents taking the long end of a 42 to 23 score. Miss Florence Anderson spent Saturday at her home in Wakefield.

Miss Nora Anderson was in Wayne to take her saxophone lesson last Saturday afternoon. Charles Collins of the eleventh grade was out of school on account of sickness last week.

Miss Eva Griffin, third and fourth grade teacher, visited the dentist at Wayne Tuesday afternoon to have a very painful tooth treated. Miss Jones, a teacher in the high school, is substituting for his sister, Miss Elvaner, this week, who is suffering from rheumatism.

The tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades Wednesday evening organized a literary club which shall meet every other Wednesday evening in the future. The first meeting, held at the school room, was for the purpose of organization. As yet the club has not been named.

The history class, taught by Miss Esther Anderson, has started some experiment work in the way of starting seeds to growing. Much interest has been manifested in this branch of the work.

The ninth grade English class, under the direction of Miss Florence Anderson, has started the writing of "Miss Marner".

Supt. G. E. Jones reports that everything is running nicely since the beginning of the new semester.

Order to Show Cause. In the district court of Wayne county, Nebraska, in the matter of the application of Rollie W. Ley, guardian of the person and estate of Harold W. Corzine, and Kermit A. Corzine, minors, for leave to sell real estate.

Minerva Club.
The Minerva club met at the home of Mrs. C. M. Christman Wednesday afternoon. The lesson on "Music" was conducted by Mrs. W. E. Beaman and Mrs. W. R. Ellis. The first part in charge of Mrs. Beaman, covered the history of Indian music and the part it played in the lives of the original American. Following her paper a group of Indian songs were given by Mrs. J. R. Armstrong sang, "A Rose on an Indian Grave," by Leuzance; Mrs. S. A. Lutgen sang, "By the Waters of Minnetonka," by Leuzance; and Mrs. O. W. Crabtree sang, "In the Land of the Sky Blue Water," by Cadman.

Bible Study Circle.
The Bible Study Circle met at the home of Mrs. F. H. Krueger, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. McClennan presided. Mrs. E. H. Young presided at the meeting. Mrs. C. M. Christman presented the Sunday school lesson, continuing the fascinating Matthew studies. The secretary read letters as follows: Foot and Hand, regarding telling of her work among the Mexican families in Garden Grove, Calif., where her Bible Circle of Mexican girls is having abundant fruits. Work from the only lady missionary working among the Indians of Central America who comprise sixty per cent of the population, and two million of these depressed, enslaved people are practically untouched by the gospel, was a strong appeal for labors among the people.

Our Homeless Ambassadors.
New York World: The opposition which has developed in the house of representatives to the acceptance by the government of the London office of J. Pierpont Morgan for use as the residence of the American ambassador, is in no sense peculiar. It reflects the traditional antagonistic attitude of congress toward any proposal to augment the dignity of the American diplomat by the acceptance in the matter of providing its representatives with quarters adequate to their station.

Can It Be Done?
St. Louis Argus-Leader: Fashion has decreed that trousers are to be worn longer. But the average man is wearing them as long as they will hold together.

Congress May Lose Step.
Chicago News: Congress may become so fixated with the habit of marking time that it will not be able to march when ordered to do so.

The Trouble Would Begin.
Buffalo Enquirer: Buy an abandoned farm. Then you can get in on the benefits of national legislation for farmers.

Wicked Relation.
Birmingham Age-Herald: King's school has a wicked relation named Wood, who frequently travels ignominiously.

AMERICAN FARMERS GIVE CORN TO STARVING EUROPE

Corn growers in attendance at the Illinois Agricultural Association convention last week started the ball rolling in what is fast developing into the greatest movement of its kind ever indulged in by the farmers of any nation. Listening to an appeal by President Jim Howard of the American Farm Bureau, the delegates authorized 10,000 bushels of corn to the starving nations of the "Old World." Now Indiana, Kansas, Missouri and Ohio corn growers have joined in and a total of 100 cars of corn is being made ready to speed seaward to the seaboard port. Herbert Hoover will assign the corn to the most needy nations. The pictures show a portion of the Illinois corn growers' convention at Chicago and some corn in Indiana which will go to the starving nations.

TERM Bill an Embargo. Washington Post: The pending so-called emergency tariff is not a tariff bill in the true sense of the word. It is an embargo, proposed for the benefit of special interests. It is supported by some men who have no faith in it and who do not desire its passage. As Senator Underwood describes it, it is a prohibitive measure at the custom house to cut off the importation of goods for the avowed purpose of increasing their cost, and piling up additional costs of living upon the American people. It now seems probable that through the operation of a filibuster the bill will be defeated.

Mrs. Newton Passes Away in California

News of the death of Mrs. D. E. Newton who moved from here to Orange county California, in 1906, has reached Wayne friends. She died in California December 22, 1920. She was a sister-in-law of C. A. Berry of Wayne, and visited the Berry family here three years ago.

The following obituary appeared in the Orange, Cal., Daily News, on January 2:

Mr. and Mrs. Kortright was born in Lock Sheldrake, N. Y., in 1871. When a child of 6 she moved with her parents to Richmond, Va., where she lived until 1883, when she moved to Wayne, Neb., remaining in Wayne until 1906.

On the 12th day of February, 1889 she united in marriage with D. E. Newton, who survives her. Mr. and Mrs. Newton came from Nebraska to California in 1906, and resided at Concord, where they lived almost continuously until her death, which occurred December 22, 1920.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton greatly enjoyed the climate of Orange county, and were expecting in near future to establish a home for themselves on the Santa Ana mountains. Mrs. Newton possessed unusual ability both of heart and mind. Her alertness in business matters made her a leader in the church and in the community. For three years she filled a place in the Huntington Beach assembly which called for rare tact and ability. Her strength was unequal to the task she could have had the unanimous support of the directors as permanent manager of that institution. She knew how to deal with people in a pleasant way, yet she possessed of firmness of character and a fine sense of fairness which saved her ever being imposed upon by the public.

During the years of the war, when she was in California, busy with the Red Cross knitting and sewing, Mrs. Newton gave herself with fine devotion to this work. It was for this reason that she was known to her friends as "the group" of women under her direction accomplished more than other groups—not that they worked harder, but because of the efficient planning of this systematic leader.

Mrs. Newton was a christian in every part of her being. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, every trust committed to her hands. She died in the midst of the full strength of her womanhood, but so splendidly had she managed up to the responsibilities of this life that she was ready at the minute's notice to pass on into the larger sphere of the heavenly life.

She leaves to mourn her sudden going, her husband, D. E. Newton, one daughter, Mrs. C. E. Dessery, of Santa Ana, one son, E. A. Newton, of Corona, and one little grandson, Donald Newton, of Corona. In New York state are left the aged mother, Mrs. O. B. Kortright, of Woodbourne, one brother, R. L. Kortright, of Woodbourne, and two sisters, Mrs. E. J. Woodbourne, and Mrs. Carl Finch of Woodbourne. Her funeral service was held at the home of her loving friends.

The funeral was held from the Methodist Episcopal church in Corona, where she had held her membership for many years, her pastor, Rev. S. S. Sampson, of Orange, conducting the service, and assisted by Rev. J. E. Smith, pastor of the Corona church. A quartet from the Corona church, Mrs. Charles Hillbrecht, Miss Laura Wilson, Mr. P. F. Thompson, and Mrs. Leah Grey, with Miss Dorothy Lincoln at the piano, sang "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." There were also the hymns, "With My Gladly Home, Father," sung by Miss Mae Kimball and Mr. Harold Girton, and "My Jesus, as Thou Wilt," sung by the choir, with Miss Gladys Girton as accompanist.

The burial was in Fairview cemetery, where under a blanket of beautiful flowers her body was laid to rest.

F. S. Morgan went to Omaha yesterday morning to attend the annual clothing's convention.

The Orr & Orr Company

QUALITY STORE

Yesterday's Prices Are in The Discard--Lower Prices Are Now Permanent

Today's wholesale prices make possible a new selling basis for retail merchants.

A legitimate trend of lower prices prevail at Orr & Orr Company.

- Ginghams now selling at 25 cents a yard are worth just 25 cents.
- Muslins selling at 35 cents a yard are worth just that.
- And so on throughout all lines of merchandise.

We are convinced that the lowest point has been reached for this season.

It is a matter of what all merchandise is worth today—not what it sold for, and last year.

A comparison of qualities and prices is always of interest—especially when there is some confusion in the mind of the buying public.

You Can Depend Upon Orr & Orr Company to Serve You Fairly.

Carver of Emblems is Guest of Wayne Man

Ernest Jehu, traveling man for the Handorf Produce company of Sioux City, was in Wayne Friday and Saturday to visit his old friend, E. E. Galey. Mr. Jehu displayed a number of miniature hand-carved articles to an interested group of spectators at the station Saturday. It is known by many as the "Original Jackknife Man" for the reason of the fact that his perfectly carved figures of elephants, squirrels, monkeys and various other articles are carved from ivory billiard balls, peach-pits, etc., with a jack-knife. Mr. Jehu is at present making his headquarters in Norfolk.

Special interest attaches itself to this talented producer in a correspondence which appeared in the Sioux City Sunday Journal on January 25. Mr. Jehu recently sent a handsomely wrought elephant, the G. O. P. emblem, to President-elect Harding and a beautifully carved pin to Mrs. Harding. Mr. Harding's reply, thanking the donor for the gifts, is herewith given:

Marion Ohio, December 29, 1920.
My dear Mr. Jehu, 2015 Main street, Sioux City, Iowa.
My dear Mr. Jehu: I beg to acknowledge your very pleasing Christmas token in the ivory emblem of the G. O. P. which you were good enough to send me. I prize the emblem all the more because I now know of its making from an ivory billiard ball by your own hands with no other implement than a pen-knife. I am very happy to accept it and will treasure it among a collection of such emblems which Mrs. Harding and I are very proud to have. Mrs. Harding asked me to express her grateful appreciation of the hand carved ball. It pleased her very much. We join in wishing you a very happy New Year. Very truly yours,
WARREN HARDING.

Responsibility Rests Largely in the Home

In the World-Herald's "Public Pulse" column recently appeared the following letter from E. A. Barrows, newspaper man, and at present lieutenant-governor of Nebraska, regarding the responsibility of the home in shaping the character and future of the child:

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 24.—To the Editor of the World-Herald: I want to commend you for the publication of the cartoon on the front page of the World-Herald last Sunday labeled "Dad."

If you had written a story covering an entire page of the paper it would not have so impressively conveyed to the reader the conditions which exist as did that cartoon.

We are facing today many grave responsibilities, but none of greater weight than that of looking after the welfare of the growing generation.

We are endeavoring to pass laws to cover that matter but it is too much like locking the stable, after the horse has been stolen.

The real solving of that problem lies in the home, but with our homes so badly shattered by the onward tread of so-called progressivism, we are more and more getting away from the real responsibility.

Father does not find time to come home to his noonday meal many times he is kept downtown for the evening meal. The result is that no father concludes that it is no use to try to keep up the home and so they move to an apartment house where there are four rooms as possible and where mother can be rid of the responsibilities of the home and can have more time for social duties.

Death of Infant Girl.—The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Lincoln who moved to this county to Burlington, Colo., a year ago, died at the family home here the first of the week, and the parents are in Wayne residing in the home with the body. Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. Lincoln's father, H. D. Schroeder, in Wayne, and were conducted by Rev. O. C. Cook, and were held at the Lutheran church. Burial followed at the cemetery.

The little one was born Dec. 13, 1920. Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln will have the cordial sympathy of numerous Wayne county friends.

Pledge Will Be Result.—St. Paul Pioneer Press: The quite logical result of the intolerant effort to paint the laws blue is the disposition to turn the other way and indulge in the use of too much red.

Wayne Normal Players Lose in Basketball

The Wayne State Normal quintet offers no alibi because of the two successive defeats at the hands of the Midland team at Fremont last Thursday night and at the hands of Doane at Crete the following night. The score of the Midland-Wayne game stood 20 to 13 in favor of Midland at the final blow of the whistle, while the result of the Doane-Wayne game was 34 to 12 in favor of the former.

In the first half of the former game, when Midland placed a barrier upon the Wayne team by an insurmountable 23 to 4 score, it acted as an incentive, and the last half found the Normal team outplaying their opponents to the tune of 9 to 6. However, finding themselves unable to stem the tide of defeat because of the score which the opponents had piled up in the first half, the contest ended with Midland the undoubted victor. The following night, Friday, found the Wayne State Normal team in deadlock with Doane in a vain endeavor to erase the memory of previous defeat. But the splendid teamwork of the Tigers earned them the long end of a 34 to 12 score. Doane doing her hardest playing in the first half of the contest. Johnson, center, did stellar work for Doane. Merle Miller, of the Wayne team was substituted for Raymond Helt in the last half of the Doane-Wayne game, the latter having unfitness himself for playing.

Coach O. T. Marston and the six boys who made the trip, Jay Muhn, Lyle Miller, Harold Patterson, Frank Clark, Raymond Helt and Merle Miller, substitutes, returned to Wayne Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Gamble and little son left Wednesday for Omaha to attend a clothing's convention.

A Range Must Have a Fire to Give Service

The Copper-Clad Malleable range has one of the best fire departments ever made a part of any range.

Note the big, roomy, round-cornered fire box in the Copper-Clad as shown in the picture above—the finest ever designed. Beneath this fire box is a drop draft door, designed to force a quick fire.

Below the fire box is a long deep ash pan, and ash chutes are so placed that all ashes must drop into the ash pan.

Pictured above is the Copper-Clad pouch feed, made wide and sloping. No poking, no jabbing, to make the fuel go down.

It will be a pleasure for us to show you this wonderful range.

Thirty Head Registered Herefords

From Anxiety breed will be offered at public auction at Wayne Livestock Pavilion,

Saturday, February 12

Blanco No. 666062

This offering consists of nine heifer calves, coming yearlings; four bulls about 1 year old; two bulls coming 2 years old; balance are cows 3 and 4 years old.

There are five daughters of Beau Baron, bred by the veteran breeders, Judgell & Simson. Beau Baron is by the noted Mousel Brothers' Beau Mischief. Nine great grandsons and granddaughters of Beau Baron are in the lot. The entire offering is bred along the same lines of the Anxiety Herefords of today.

The offering will be of the type in demand today. They have not been pampered, but are just in good breeding condition. They are ready to go to your farm or herd without extra care.

The offering will show for itself, as every cow will have a calf in the sale or on foot or well along in calf to the great young bull, John Charming. This fine animal will be shown in the ring on sale day.

The curly-coated Hereford of today is here to stay. He has paid his way to the feed lot everywhere in the corn belt, and is noted for quick and early finish. The Hereford has no equal when it comes to baby beef for which it is a top-notch on all leading markets.

STORE IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Pierce Man Overcome by Gas—Auto Registrars at Piece.

The Golden Rule clothing store at Bloomfield caught fire January 22 and but for the prompt response of the volunteer firemen would have suffered serious damage. The flames were located in the back of the store and were soon extinguished.

While repairing some gasoline engines in the warehouse of the Pierce Hardware and Implement company, Herman Glover was overcome by gas fumes. Even in the open air it took considerable effort to revive him.

Over a thousand applications for registration for automobile licenses have been received by A. L. Brande, county treasurer of Pierce county, this week. Mr. Brande estimates there will be about 3,400 licensed cars in the county in 1921.

Monday morning of last week, Supt. A. M. Nelson of the Hartington schools suspended nineteen boys; the sentence varying with the degree of the offense. The boys attempted to break into the school basement and carry off the refreshments that the freshmen had prepared for their annual party. The superintendent and the janitor caught the boys in the act. The school board expressed approval of Mr. Nelson's action. The boys will be permitted to graduate if they study.

The newspapers of Broken Bow have combined and the business men of that city have signed a contract not to support another paper, should one attempt to start up. The general opinion is that two papers in one town are an economic waste.

Conrad Wegner of Stanton has designed and built a rotary snow-throw attachment for a highway truck. The device will remove snow drifts from the public roads. The arrangement is very simple and showed good work upon trial. It is believed it will become one of the great necessities of the modern road equipment.

Mrs. Mary Krier of Stone City, formerly a teacher in the Hartington public schools, married the Marchese Luigi Aliberti, an Italian nobleman, in New York City, Jan. 22. The Marchese met her husband in Europe while engaged in Armenian relief work. They will live in Tiffin.

At a parent-teacher meet in Columbus recently, a sever censorship was launched against Sunday night dances and the "movies." The Columbus delegation of January 29 has this to say in regard to Sunday dances: "It was the consensus of opinion that an appeal should be made to parents to prevent their young daughters, especially those of school age, to attend the dances unless properly chaperoned, and that an officer should be present to discourage the alleged drinking outside the hall." Many of the parents were of the opinion that some other than wholesome pictures should be shown, and that children of tender years should be accompanied by parents. No definite action, other than the appointment of a welfare committee, was taken. A Girl Scout troop was organized and papers relatative to non-training of children were read. Parents and teachers of Columbus believe they have taken a step in the right direction.

John H. Beckley has organized a new project devoted to the development of the country adjacent to the Missouri river. He has already received liberal pledges towards his support. A nephew of Mr. Halle, A. L. Beckley, who has recently returned from Argentina may be secured to work out the details of the plan.

For Marketing Data.

A statistical section has been established in the lower of markets, United States department of agriculture, to meet the need for accurate and complete figures in working-out marketing problems. The statistical section has already collected and distributed in mimeographed form extensive data relating to marketing conditions, receipts, shipments, supplies, prices, etc. This information has been largely used in studying market fluctuations over short periods. Many of these figures now cover a period of years, and when these figures are tabulated, summarized and analyzed by a competent statistician they show in detail not only the general trends and are of great assistance in the analysis of fundamental factors affecting marketing conditions. The data is being given to the comprehensive annual summary of marketing information in statistical form.

Freezing in Texas.

Enormous losses are being incurred annually because large quantities of fruits and vegetables are frozen in transit. Last winter shippers of apples in the states of Oregon, Washington, and Idaho filed claims against railroads amounting to over $3,000,000 to cover losses from freezing. To assist in reducing such losses, the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture, has distributed as widely as possible information relative to the proper methods of loading and heating both refrigerator and ordinary box cars. Recently, as a result of investigations, the bureau has practically completed the design for heating equipment for use in connection with the United States standard refrigerator car, the specifications for which were drawn up in this bureau. Experiments have shown that a refrigerator car, equipped with a heating system, will prevent fruits and vegetables from freezing even at a temperature of 40 degrees below zero. Service tests, to adapt this heating system to practical everyday conditions, will be carried on this winter.

Purebred Sires Increasing.

Purebred bulls have gained their value for improving range herds, and the number being bought in the cow country of the west is rapidly increasing each year. According to reports to the United States department of agriculture, the scrub bull is now blacklisted on the big national forest preserves.

During the season of 1919 three local livestock associations, the members of which use the ranges of the Fort and Morris National Forests, adopted rules for the purchase of purebred bulls. Under a special rule such association was required to place on the range a sufficient number of purebred Hereford, Shorthorn, or Aberdeen-Angus bulls. A committee to purchase and pass upon the credentials of each animal to be turned loose on the ranges was appointed.

Under this plan, during the grazing season of 1920, 115 Herefords, 27 Shorthorns, and six Aberdeen-Angus bulls were purchased by the stockmen through their associations and placed upon the range. It is estimated that at the end of the season of 1920 the stockmen had not less than 200 registered bulls on their ranges, resulting in a great improvement in the grade of steers turned out.

The Forest Service of the United States department of agriculture assists these local associations in enforcing the rules which require that the same kind and grade of bulls be placed on the same range. Permits are given to the range owners when the steers are refused those who do not conform to the association's ruling and who have not paid their share toward the purchase of the association bulls.

Paying the Price.

Hartington Herald. The trouble with the rich young man who came to Jesus to inquire how he might inherit eternal life was that he was not willing to pay the price. He wanted eternal life all right, but he wanted it at bargain rates, and he was not willing to meet the conditions on which it could be obtained. So when the Master applied the acid test—"go, sell all that thou hast, give to the poor, and come and follow me"—he went away sorrowing for he had great possessions. The rich young man's experience is typical. There are countless people in the world who would like to achieve big things, but it didn't cost too much. Some Statements

The Allen campaigners started their movement for removal of county seat with the statement that the present court house is in a dilapidated and dangerous condition and that a new court house must be built AT ONCE. Running up against a solid wall of public opinion expressing the sentiment that the people would not stand for an unnecessary and burdensome increase of taxes for that purpose, they now come out in a circular entitled "Pledge Concerning County Seat Removal," signed by twenty-three citizens of whom twelve are from Allen, three from Dixon, two from Concord, two from Emerson, two from Wakefield, one each from Logan and Martinsburg, in which it is stated that they (i. e. these aforesaid signers) will not ask for a new court house building under two or more-years "but we will leave the whole matter to the people" and "will arrange for Allen to provide suitable convenience for the carrying on of the business of the county officers, etc., at reasonable cost."

This latter statement simply confirms what has been heretofore urged as a fact, that Allen was anticipating filling up her vacant buildings at the expense of the taxpayers of the county and is ready and willing to furnish everything (except water, overlooked in statement) for a reasonable (?) consideration, for quarters for the county offices. Let the voter think what this means: The expenses of two removals, the rent for unsuitable and unsafe quarters, the amount of this rent to be determined by the necessity of the county, in other words, "all the traffic will stand," the disarrangement and danger to the public business and records, the total loss to the county of the present court house, as it will revert to the original owners on its being abandoned as a court house, and this only the beginning. In two years, according to statements in aforesaid circular, the real thing may begin. Allen will then proceed to show the people of Dixon county how a $100,000 court house (which amount every one knows is entirely inadequate) can be built without "raising the taxes one cent" as per concluding statement of circular. This is hard to understand and we think that it is an insult to the intelligence of the people to attempt to cram such drive down their throats.

The copy of the law for building a court house by levy is copied from Session Laws of 1915, Amended 1919, and appears to be a true copy, except we did not notice the words "Note Carefully" therein. The law requires a petition of fifty-five per cent of the voters of the county to be presented and accepted before the board can make the levy and when levy is made, it will "not cost the farmer one cent more" (see circular), which we will concede to be true if the board does not make said levy.

A Few Concluding Statements

Allen is quoting a law of levy in which the amount for court house is limited to $100,000. Anyone knows that this amount would only fairly start a building of this character and then would come the appeal for bonds to complete it. Their argument would be, "Don't throw away what we have put in, complete it and spread the bonded indebtedness over a long term of years, nobody will feel it, times are going to be good, etc." It is true that Allen states in one circular issued by them that under levy such as is stated in the law quoted, "the farmer would not pay one cent more taxes," and in their later screed they say that, "the extra tax would be only $37.20 for each quarter section of land, a trifling amount which nobody would feel and of which nobody should complain." Of course these two statements are inconsistent, but then who ever accused our Allen friends of consistency. They conclude by asking "economy in county administration," their project is in the way of economy—NOT.

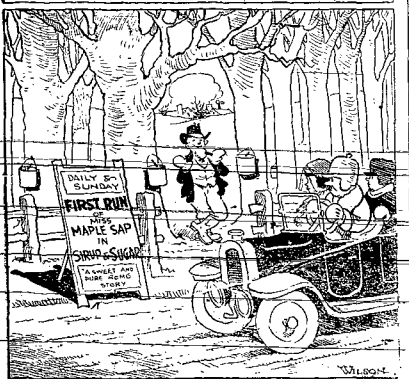

wealth of the county, the roads, (especially road 23), the religious, educational and moral institutions all center and converge at that place and she can if she gets the county seat, send out her beneficent influence to all the surrounding county.

We do not like, in view of their pure aspirations to have them make such false and misleading statements as in their desperation of a lost cause they are making in the closing hours of the campaign, samples of which are as follows: "If Ponca wins the county seat election she will at once begin a movement for a new court house."

Nothing is further from the truth. The present court house will function for many years. We are fighting against needless expense, in which we include court house building. We realize the fact that Dixon county has a floating indebtedness of $203,655.66 at the present time. We want to reduce this amount; we want it wiped out. We want a radical reduction in taxation and we really believe that building a court house, paying rent, call-

We like the calm assurance of Allen in sending broadcast statements that the

MOVIE METHODS ON THE FARM

Campaign Committee on the "Pledge"

The circular further states, "Look on back of receipt and see what you are paying." This is good advice but following it out is going to be disastrous to the ambitions of Allen.

The circulars seem to pass lightly over the question of taxes, stating "taxes should come down," with which sentiment we agree but fail to see wherein Allen is following such advice. Instead of doing so, it is making a desperate effort to increase the debt and taxes of the county. We have a floating indebtedness of $200,000, and the way Allen proposes to pay this off is to put $100,000 in a court house at that place. True, the circular says this could be done by going without new bridges for a year, but how would that action, even if practicable, reduce our indebtedness "one cent?"

One of the statements of this circular, "There is NO NECESSITY of building NOW," we heartily endorse, although it apparently contradicts former statements made by our friends. The people will decide that there is no necessity of building now and that the public business will continue to be conducted in the present court house at Ponca.

Another statement in the circular, which we hope will prove to be true in less than the time states, is, "Times will be normal in two or more years." We appreciate the fact that our friends have finally discovered that the present times are not normal. The people know that we are in the midst of times of great financial stringency, a period of stress and struggle hardly known before in the history of our county. Is this a time for unnecessary, useless and uncalled for squandering of the public funds for the sole purpose of gratifying the people of the village of Allen and its immediate vicinity?

Notice this that these twenty-three men whose names are signed to the alleged pledge (?) stating that they will not put the county to the expense of building a new court house before two years, bear upon their broad shoulders a guarantee binding (?) the whole county. Consider what a responsibility, what a burden they bear, when the people know that a movement to burden the county with the expense of a new court house could be started immediately after election by any of the few (?) residents of the county not included in this list of 23 (fatal number) names aforesaid.

Don't be deceived by any wild-eyed proposition contrary to law and reason, emanating from the Allen promoters, but vote for your interest and the best interests of all the taxpayers of Dixon county by voting to retain the county seat at Ponca.

Special election Tuesday, Feb. 8, 1921.

on the County Seat Question ing elections, (special and bond,) etc., is not the way to reduce taxation and indebtedness.

Another statement that is being circulated by our friends of Allen, in the south part of the county especially, is that the county officers can remain in the present court house until a new court house is erected at Allen (in the event of course of Allen's winning in this election, Feb. 8.) The law in this matter is as follows: "When any such county seat shall have been relocated it shall be the duty of all county officers to forthwith remove their respective offices and all county records and property in their charge to the place where said county seat shall have been relocated." See, Chapter 169, Sec. 3, page 381, Sessions Laws state of Nebraska, 1917. This should dispose of this matter and set at rest the idea of the county doing business in its old quarters until a new court house shall have been built at Allen.

We are glad to know that the village of Allen has, or claims to have, a number of essential institutions necessary to community life such as two churches, a public school building with excellent toilet facilities, (on the rare occasions when there is a water supply); a few shower baths (or the apparatus for the same,) an electric light plant which can be enlarged (and should be), but the poet laureate of spring township says they have no lawyers. (This defect can of course be supplied later.) We know Allen is a nice little town and that it is very ambitious to add a court house. But the people are not going to burden Dixon county with still greater taxes added to our large indebtedness to strain our financial condition to the breaking point, simply to please the residents of aforesaid nice little town, but will vote safe for Ponca, the present county seat—election Feb. 8, 1921.

Women are as much voters as are men at this election. We know that they will vote their conviction as to the best interests of Dixon county.

A jolly party for little folks was held in the church basement Saturday afternoon when Mrs. J. Overman, assisted by Mrs. Jess Clayton, entertained her Sunday school class, besides many guests, at a "fridge party" and "laffy pull". "We had such a good time, please put our names in the paper," requested one little guest. They were: Letta and Letta Hart, Allen Francis, Marjorie Misfeldt, Elizabeth Johnson, Thelma Carter, Pearl Snyder, Wilma Lewis, Arthur Reinbrecht, Ross Holcomb, Mildred Moses, Dwight Pinion, Ray and Marian Anderson, Ellen and Lillian Lawrence, Alta Overman, Hyacinth Halpin and Bernice Johnson.

Woman's Club. The Woman's club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. George M. Jordan. Fourteen members answered to roll call. Mrs. G. A. Mittelstadt led the study, calling on each member for a ten minutes' talk on some current topic. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. John Kemp served a two-course lunch. The next meeting will be an evening party for club members and husbands, with Mrs. G. A. Mittelstadt, Mrs. Wm. Misfeldt and Mrs. Bert Lewis as hostesses.

Two More Birthdays. On Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Anderson west of town, occurred a jolly birthday party which reminded Mr. Anderson that he had reached his sixtieth year. Games and visiting made the evening pass quickly. A two-course lunch was served. Those present were: Chris Nelson of Elger, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jacobson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Jorgen Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jacobson, Mr. and Mrs. Bar Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Christensen and Drevin Anderson and Miss Carrie Anderson. The friends of Otto Block also celebrated their birthdays. The Epworth League which has been reorganized held its first meeting Sunday evening with Miss Etta Overman as leader. The following officers have been elected for the coming year: President, Gladys Melton; first vice president, Essie Leary; second vice president, Etta Overman; third vice president, Momi; fourth vice president, Myrtle Leary; secretary, Elmer Halpin; treasurer, Edith Johnson.

How About America's Rights? Kansas City Star: A Washington dispatch says that through negotiations between the American and Japanese embassies Japanese rights in California have been defined. Is it too much to expect that American rights there also have been defined?

Method in Forgetfulness. Stillwater, Okla., Gazette: The average man doesn't think of the assessor when he buys any article of luxury; and the average man doesn't think of the article of luxury he has bought when he goes to see the assessor.

So They May Buy. Houston Post: We read a good deal about "buyers' strike." It's non-sense. The buyers are not striking. They are simply resting, waiting for somebody to die and leave 'em something.

Lincoln Memorial Completed

The great Lincoln Memorial at Washington, costing about two and a half million dollars, is virtually completed and will likely be dedicated this year. Its architecture is the impress and beauty of all who visit it, but big as it is, as beautiful as it is, it can only serve in its more limited way to remind the nation of the great center to come of the great spirit of the man whose memory it commemorates, the humble Abie Lincoln, American—born Feb. 12, 1809; died April 15, 1865.

The Early Days in Two Counties

From Wayne Herald, February 1, 1897: Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Phillips entertained in honor of their wedding anniversary.

John Stiner died at the home of his brother J. L. Stiner east of Wayne Sunday.

Markets: Wheat, 52c; corn, 35c; butter, 10c; potatoes, 20c; oats, 35c; sugar, 10c; flour, 55c; eggs, 22c.

Mr. Arthur Parry and Miss Effie Williams of near Carroll were married February 2, 1897, by Rev. W. L. Hughes.

The engine on the branch line jumped the rails near Carroll. The engine on the Black Hills line made the run and brought in the train.

W. C. Bonham has invented a fountain which can be attached to an ordinary pen and will hold enough ink to write an ordinary sheet of note paper. The invention will doubtless prove of value to the inventor.

Friday afternoon the coroner's jury in the Clarence K. Rash murder case held an inquest at the court house. Five witnesses were examined.

Items of interest to old settlers taken from the Wayne Review, published at La Porte, in 1880: September 27, 1880.

Geo. Scott raised sixty bushels of onions on one-fourth of an acre of ground, some of them measuring nearly eighteen inches in circumference.

Wayne county has only one colored inhabitant, and they have not him indeed and judged over in Madison county for obtaining money under false pretenses.

The democrats in this county have selected D. C. Patterson to represent them at the state convention at Hastings, and R. H. Wilbur to the judicial convention which is to be held at Nebraska.

September 30, 1880. Wheat is worth 75 cents a bushel. The highest yield of wheat yet had in the county this year is fourteen bushels per acre.

Since the organization of Wayne county the total amount levied amounts to $12,116.63 per acre, while its warrants have always been at par, and its indebtedness $100,000.

October 7, 1880. John Wendt and Miss Anna Green both of Spring Branch precinct, were married last night.

The cars are running to Keresaw Junction, six miles east of Logan Creek and connections will be made with the Omaha end of the line next week.

The Bourbons at their camp meeting held in Hastings last week, gave the nomination for state auditor to D. C. Patterson of this county. Although the nomination is in itself an "empty honor" it is none the less needed for the unscrupulous have few more earnest and zealous workers, or more exemplary young men than that.

October 14, 1880. A lot of railroad iron went west this week for use in the Summit cut to run dump cars on.

J. A. Lindly of Council Bluffs, Ia., has moved to our town and will engage in the real estate business.

Mr. Dearborn of Illinois, will open a store in our town in a few days. He will occupy the building recently used for that purpose by Dr. Crawford.

October 21, 1880. Last Friday and Saturday one of the severest storms ever experienced in this portion of Nebraska swept over us. The storm commenced about noon on Friday, accompanied by thunder and lightning. The wind blew a perfect gale from the northwest, and the air was filled with snow for twenty-four hours, drifting at a terrific rate. Coming as it did so early in the season, very few people were prepared to meet it, and stock was generally without shelter. The consequences are, that within a radius of ten miles of this town, $2,000 worth of stock has perished, consisting of horses, cattle and hogs. Drifts from the snow bank last Sunday blocked the highways in every direction, almost entirely suspending travel.

October 28, 1880. At the republican county convention held Saturday, October 28, A. S. Miller was nominated for sheriff, Ernest Behmer for commissioner and E. A. Feather for coroner. Jas. Britton was nominated as the convention and A. P. Childs secretary.

R. H. Wilbur and Perry Long found and dug some vermin out of a snow bank last Sunday that they had given up for dead, but three of them were alive and kicking, having been buried in the snow ten days.

November 4, 1880. The republican electors received 118 of the 160 votes cast at the general election Tuesday and the republican county officers were elected.

Nebraska governor, Gabriel, 59,000 majority and elects the whole republican ticket.

December 2, 1880. A shortage in the foreign markets, wheat, center of all. It is worth 90 cents in Sioux City.

A fourteen year old son of R. H. Wilbur, of this county, has killed three deer during the present season.

December 2, 1880. The Ponca train is the only one running into Sioux City which has not been snow bound this winter.

Last week trains over the Omaha line of the St. P. & S. C. railroad were suspended between Covington and Oakland and there is no further danger of a snow blockade.

The attempt to obtain the lost drill in the coal hole has been abandoned, after several unsuccessful grapplings had been made upon the rods attached to the drill. The difficult part did not seem to be in making a fastening, but after such connection was made the drill could not be raised, as the rods have become rotten by remaining under ground and break when a pull is made on them. It is proposed to let the work wait until the weather moderates when a shaft will be sunk and the four and a half foot vein opened.

Sioux City Journal, February 1: The advantages of having a wife were well illustrated in the case of S. P. Price yesterday, while on his way to this city from Ponca with his wife, covering him and a gentleman friend.

First one runner of the sled dropped off a piece of sliding road, spilling Mr. Price, who was driving. To the confusion of getting the line off the runner of the dashboard. The team then turned back toward Ponca and ran about half a mile when Mrs. Price secured the lines, started the team, and drove back to where her husband and his friend were picking themselves out of the snow. And yet there are those who deny the ability of women to take care of themselves.

Senate Investigates Public Employment

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 3.—The senate committee appointed to inquire if any duplication or extravagance exists in the administration of state affairs is going to direct to the respective state offices for information:—
 "The procedure is to call in a state officer—most of the constitutional officers having already appeared—and find out the number of employees in his department, the work they do and the salary paid."

The senate Tuesday passed the following bills on third reading:
 Senate File 118—Transferring interests on Spanish-American war funds to United Spanish-American War Veterans' association. Passed 27 to 0 with emergency.
 Senate File 119—Placing parental custody over services and earnings of their children and exclusive direction of their education on parents.

Railroad Bill Killed.
 House Roll 79, 80, and 81 were killed in the committees yesterday morning and reported for indefinite postponement. The three bills were introduced by Representative Acton of Geary, and all regulated railroad crews used in switching yards.

House Rolls Nos. 131 and 132 were recommended for general file. They provide for recording of motor vehicles with assessors and with forms for birth certificates.
 Senate File No. 7, Senator Wilson's bill authorizing a five-sixths jury verdict in civil cases, was passed by the senate and is now awaiting final passage in the house with an amendment providing that the jury shall have six hours for deliberation before the vote is taken.

Bills Flood Senate.
 Lincoln, Feb. 2.—Yesterday the last but not one for the introduction of bills in the state senate brought a flood of fifty-three. Several of them are aimed at bringing about economy in state administration. One was introduced by Senator Acton secretary and consolidate their work with that of constitutional state officers. Another prohibiting public officers from receiving salaries, a third is intended to save time and expense by combining the primary ballot and non-partisan, or non-party ballot.

A bill was introduced to permit cooperative banking, borrowers and depositors to share in earnings.
 The house yesterday passed the state banking bill without a dissenting vote. Among other provisions is one which seeks to eliminate men of questionable financial standing from engaging in banking and looks to greater safety for depositors.

Features of Bill.
 Some of the high-lights of the bill are:
 Prohibits the use of the words "bank" or "banking" or any derivative in the name of any institution not engaged in a banking business.
 Makes an exception for the cooperative banks if they are later established.
 Allows state commercial banks to require notice and a presentation of pass books before money may be withdrawn.
 Raises the capitalization minimum for new banks from $10,000 to $25,000.
 Grants discretionary powers in issuance of charters to new banks to state department of trade and commerce and provides that all officers of new banks shall be of known facts and integrity.
 Fixes heavy penalties for embezzlers or those who aid them and provides for licensing of all bank officers by the department of trade and commerce.

Members Everywhere.
 Los Angeles Times: Although Texas has had an airtight prohibition law for more than two years, the prohibition officials themselves admit that there are more than 1,000 moonshiners in the state, to say nothing of the bootleggers and border smugglers. There is so much moonshine in the country over that even the California medicine is being a little neglected.

The publishers of the Lincoln Journal believe that during the session of the legislature is the best time to demonstrate to non-readers the advantage of being a Journal reader; therefore, are making the very unusual offer of that fairly two months by mail for only 50 cents. Add 25 cents if you also want the big Sunday paper with its news and feature pages, its magazine supplement and colored comics. An account of being the only morning paper printed at the state capital, the Journal can give later news to most parts of the state, than any other paper. The paper will be stopped on the expiration of the trial offer. Every family should read a daily newspaper during these strenuous days of reconstruction. For those who for some reason must depend on a weekly, the Wayne State Journal at only 50 cents a year is a wonderful newspaper bargain. 5311ad ers by the department of trade and commerce.

Command-Tariff Bill.
 Eleven members of the lower house, including the four Democratic members, yesterday introduced a resolution endorsing the Fordney emergency tariff bill. The Nebraska members of congress are commended in the resolution for supporting the measure. The rules were suspended and the resolution adopted.

Ponca is Afraid of the Truth

Ponca Fears to Let Its Own People Know the Truth About the Coming Election.

Last week advertisements were sent by the Allen committee to the two Ponca newspapers for publication, to be paid for at regular rates by Allen. These advertisements were not arguments regarding the county seat question; they were not casting insinuations at Ponca people or community; they were merely the law and the facts. One advertisement was a copy of the law of Nebraska regarding the methods permissible for creating and paying for a court house and the other advertisement was a copy of a letter from the Nebraska State Board of Equalization and Assessment in which that office gave the exact figures as to the effect and cost to Dixon county citizens if the erection of a court house were ever contemplated in this county.

But, the Ponca papers, undoubtedly acting on instructions from the leaders in the Ponca movement, refused to publish the advertisements.

Furthermore, when E. B. Kingsbury of the Ponca Journal-Leader was called by phone, he flatly refused, without any reserve, to publish any advertisements for the Allen interests at any time. A telegram was also sent to each of the Ponca papers asking if they would publish an advertisement for Allen this week and asking that a reply be wired back at our expense. Neither paper answered—the only conclusion is that.

Ponca Dares Not Let the Truth be Known

The Ponca committee evidently know that the statements they have made regarding taxes, county indebtedness, court-house and county seat location, ARE NOT TRUE, are not based upon fact, and cannot be proved by law, county records, or in any other legitimate manner. They know that when the people learn the absolute facts as contained in the advertisements sent out by the Allen committee for county seat removal, the voters will no longer trust, believe or follow Ponca in their teachings. They even DARE NOT LET THEIR OWN TOWN PEOPLE KNOW THE TRUTH, for they would vote against Ponca.

Allen has at all times in this contest been fair, honest and on the square. She has made no statements that were not founded upon the law and the facts and figures as shown in the county and State of Nebraska records, or upon the geographical conditions of the county. THESE FACTS STILL REMAIN AS TRUE AND UNCHALLENGABLE as when we first gave them out, and Ponca has at no time tried to prove otherwise.

Allen is a more convenient place for the county seat for the majority of the people.

Allen is well able to properly care for the records and offices of the county business, in its geographical location as is Ponca.

The county seat located at Allen would save money to the taxpayers annually on account of its more central location.

No court house can ever be built in Dixon county as long as the present tax levies remain as high as the law will allow, and if the taxpayers ever do decide by vote to erect a court house the law will not permit a levy that will add even one mill to the present levy, nor make such levy last more than five years.

Allen has always been opposed to bunding the county to raise money for a court house.

Allen's railway facilities are in every way equal to those of Ponca as regards accessibility from all parts of the county.

All things considered, of the two locations, Allen or Ponca, Allen is absolutely the only logical location for the county's business offices, so VOTE FOR YOUR INTERESTS AND THOSE OF THE MAJORITY OF DIXON COUNTY PEOPLE ON TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1921.
VOTE FOR ALLEN FOR COUNTY SEAT.

(Signed) Allen Committee for Removal of County Seat.
