

HERBERT H. BARGE GIVES HIMSELF UP

Herbert H. Barge, cashier of the Farmers' State Bank of Hoskins in custody of Sheriff Following Failure.

BANK IN HANDS OF EXAMINER

Investigation Being Made to Determine Condition of Assets. No Complaint as Yet.

Herbert H. Barge, cashier of the Farmers' State Bank at Hoskins, which was closed last Saturday by Sheriff following failure of the bank to pay its liabilities.

The bank is in the hands of the state examiner. It is understood that the state banking board at Lincoln, after hearing reports of the condition of the bank, directed that it be closed.

The bank is the second one in Hoskins. It was opened about six or seven years ago. Herbert H. Barge is cashier. Henry Tiedje is vice-president.

The Norfolk Daily News of Tuesday quoted Mr. Barge as follows: "Cashier Barge in reply to questions declared there was no shortage and no trouble was the lack of funds."

What a Difference It Makes

What a difference B. & V. Washable Interior Colors make in the appearance of walls and woodwork.

These velvet finish colors make walls and woodwork look like the work of some great watercolor artist.

And they endure for years.

At housecleaning time, soap and water take the place of redecorating.

One of the big reasons for the popularity of B. & V. Washable Interior Colors lies in the fact that they are tinted when used—an insurance against "stain paint."

Are You Ashamed of Your Floor?

It's not sanitary, you know, nor is it fashionable, to cover your floor with carpets.

Rugs are the proper thing now, for both appearance and health. But rugs call for a good looking floor.

With a smooth, waxed hardwood floor you can use small rugs or large ones with pleasing results. You won't be ashamed of such a floor.

Perhaps it would be best in your case to lay a new hardwood floor right over the old one. Or again, maybe you ought to have a complete new floor.

We can give you just what you need in several woods and in different grades. Come in and look over our stock—all clean and smooth and bright.

Measure your rooms and we will tell you how much it will cost to re-floor them.

Just received a car of nice White Cedar Posts, fresh lime and plaster. Try our Hot Stove Nut Coal. This is the thing for summer use in cook stoves.

Rain Fell Over This Part of State Sunday

An unusually long dry spell was broken by a rainfall of thirty-two one-hundredths of an inch at the point Sunday night. The fall was heavier in some other parts of northeast Nebraska, amounting to a veritable cloudburst west of Norfolk. The Norfolk Daily News gives this report of the storm:

"A soaking rain which was of cloud-burst proportions in some localities, was reported general from Long Pine to Omaha and from Winnetonka to Norfolk and Columbus Sunday night. Although streams everywhere are reported swollen no floods occurred and there was no delay to railroad traffic, reports from all parts of the eastern division of the Northwestern road indicate. Telephone company wires were slightly damaged by lightning which accompanied the storm. Telephone reports indicate the rain was heaviest in the south-east portions of the Norfolk district. Light rain was falling around Winnetonka Monday morning. West of Long Pine on Sunday snow fell, but it melted as fast as it reached the ground.

"Country roads which have been in splendid condition all over north Nebraska owing to prompt work by road patrolmen and supervisors, were very soft. Monday morning conditions were such that drags would be put on the highways immediately.

Hoboes Must Move On

Alliance and Box Butte county police are cooperating with railroad detectives in an effort to "keep moving" the "hoboes" who drop off trains here.

Spring weather has always brought an increased number of "sons of reds" through Alliance, but this number is said to be greater than ever this year. Train crews report that few trains coming from the east carry fewer than half a dozen "hoboes."

Some trains, they report, carry as many as fifty free riders.

Omaha World-Herald: Cats are nearly always an enemy of birds and attack them whenever possible. They will climb a tree and kill the old bird on the nest, or the young. A beautiful songster is no more to the average Omaha cat than a worthless English sparrow, which the government avails itself of.

Washington Post: Frequently it is argued that persons who invest their money in get-rich-quick schemes do it with a desire to get easy money and therefore are not entitled to sympathy for their losses. This is a very flimsy excuse and offers no reason why a band of financial buccaneers should be permitted to prey upon the public. Congress should devote a day to the passage of a bill which would put them out of business.

Annual Gathering of Bankers at Norfolk

The twenty-fifth annual convention of the Northeast Bankers' Association at Norfolk last Friday had a record-breaking crowd. Fine weather and good roads, coupled with extraordinary banking problems, increased the attendance and stimulated the interest.

H. A. Oelrich of the First National Bank of Bates, Neb., was elected president of the association during the business session; Willie McBride of Elgin, Neb., was elected vice president; Carl A. Sling, Norfolk, secretary; C. J. Hulan, Norfolk, treasurer. Wayne banks were represented by the following:—H. S. Ringland, D. E. Brainard, Herman Lundberg, John Jenks, M. C. Meyer, Don Brainerd and Owen Brainerd. D. E. Brainard was accompanied by his wife.

This excerpt from the Norfolk Daily News' report of the convention will be of general interest: J. B. Gain of the Peters National bank of Omaha made a delightful toastmaster. He sounded the keynote of unity and the gathering of financial men was filled with further enthusiasm when Mr. Flanagan responded to a toast "The Country Banker." Mr. Flanagan detailed briefly the origin of banking, the organization of the bank until the organization of the Bank of England by a Scotchman, making England the most powerful of nations until the organization of what might be termed the most banking system the world has ever known—the federal reserve bank of the United States. Mr. Flanagan told country bankers that the real part of banking is found in a good note case. Nebraska bankers, he declared, are launching a movement to force every borrower to furnish a property statement. Much trouble has been caused heretofore, he said, because many bankers did not know what they were loaning money on.

Note Case is Vital.

The credit problem, said Mr. Flanagan, is what makes banks. No banking is in trouble where the note cases have been kept in good condition.

Speaking of present conditions Mr. Flanagan declared that bankers of the United States have received a terrific "wallop" through the new change in financial events and low prices of farm products. He declared this is making it hard to win, but it has come to a time when it takes a fighting banker to win out. "Right now is the time when the yellow will come out of the banker if it is in him. He is up against a real fight and it takes a real fighting banker to win this battle," he declared with considerable enthusiasm. "This is no time to quit and bankers must get together and fight their way out of the difficulty."

Praises Bankers' Work.

Prof. Newton W. Gaines of the Nebraska state university was the head-line speaker of the banquet, in a rapid-fire talk filled with humor and poetry appropriate to the subject of "Paying The Price," the professor kept the crowd laughing and thinking deeply simultaneously. He praised the bankers of Nebraska and the United States for the way they have stayed on the job this year. He gave credit to American bankers for averting a real crash in America.

With witty introductions he brought a serious tone to his address by declaring that the people of the United States are in the process of building stronger and in America the time has come when the fittest will survive. Men who turned up their noses at the possibility of being farm experts and the man who expects to do skilled labor will be junkies for the remainder of his life's work. The time has come for real men and real men are competing in the fight for success today. The man who is crawling like a slug upon the wonders of Nebraska, the professor told the bankers that the organizing of resources must be looked after and present the American farmer for doing more now than ever before in organizing his resources. He warned the bankers that they must work hand-in-hand with the farmer and help him in all of his problems. He urged bankers to give every encouragement to the Farm Bureau Federation of America. He declared it the duty of all bankers to get behind the farm bureau movement because it is an organization based on a scientific and economic foundation through which the farmer is organizing his resources. He declared it necessary for all bankers to stand by the principle of a good cause. He believed in national organizations of labor, business men and farmers and in case of any differences the most business-like and most scientific way to solve the problem is to sit around a common table and reach harmonious agreements which come when proper cooperation is attained.

To Form One Big Union.

Omaha, Neb., April 28.—Representatives of Nebraska farm organizations here last night decided to form one union May 6 to work for mutual cooperation. A committee to perfect the plan will meet on the date.

One reason for the union, suggested by J. W. Shoerliff, manager of state co-operative grain and livestock association, was because a "multiplicity of farmers' organizations has reached a point where there is danger of disorganization through too much organization."

F. W. Norton of Bala, representative of the farm bureau federation, served as secretary. Those who attended the meeting included:

State board of agriculture—J. C. McKay, Omaha; J. W. Shoerliff, Bancroft, and William Prahl, Pierce. Farmers' Union—Benn L. Peters, Albion.

National Co-operative Grain Association—E. L. Shoemaker, Omaha.

Farmers' Union State Exchange—John H. Hecox, Hastings.

K. Frost, Plattsmouth; C. E. Statt, Edgar; L. Lauritzen, West Point; Con McCarty, York; J. M. Martin, St. Edward.

Wheat Growers' Association—J. L. Hull, Holstein and L. C. Johnson, Seward.

Nebraska Farmers' Co-operative Grain and Livestock Association—J. W. Shoerliff, Omaha; William Grueber, Byron; G. A. Ernst, Kimball, and J. R. Morrison, Chappell.

Odd Fellows to Meet.

Bloomfield, Neb., April 24.—Between five and six hundred Odd Fellows will gather here on May 17, that being the date of the district meeting of the Northeast Nebraska I. O. O. F. association. Preparations are now under way for a big meeting. Some of the best degree teams in the state will confer the degrees. G. H. Liddell of Bloomfield, is president of the association, and J. B. Shearer of Emerson, is the secretary.

It is pleasing to note that property owners whose streets have been smoothed out and fixing up contiguous parkings in attractive style.

Local business men have scored one hundred percent this week in animation and zeal looking to next week's bargain days. It will be seen that offerings are uniformly attractive and deserving. The opportunity will be appreciated and embraced.

Bids for additional paving in Wayne will be opened next Saturday evening, and it is likely contractors understand that they will have to have enough concrete to meet a price in accordance with the downward trend if they expect a contract to be awarded. It is understood the council will not give favor to any proposal that is inconsistent with reduced cost levels. It is up to those wishing contracts to slide down within reach of the prevailing financial status.

We are ready with encouragement for our energetic effort to bring socks to improve economic conditions in the United States; but we are firmly opposed to any scheme that would substitute a dominating mercantilism. The soviet government of Russia was accomplished in the name of the oppressed, though the oppressed under the heel of the new regime, is more oppressed than ever. American discontents who have gone to Russia to take lessons in bolshevism have been so struck by the army of that form of government that they would be glad to return to the liberty and security here guaranteed. Reactionists entertained last and no respect for orderly processes. Progress without oppression and without ruin, safeguarding all classes and all conditions, is genuine Americanism.

Complaint is made that the popular outdoor sport of stealing milk and other articles of diet in the eastern part of town is becoming unbearable and must be stopped. Between the time the milkman delivers his supplies and customers are able to take care of them, someone comes along and swipes them, Britches milk contents. One family lost 78 milk supplies—milk during the past month. Children have often been robbed of important lactical nourishment by the skulking villain of petty plunderers. In one case, not only milk was taken, but a piece of meat was boldly snatched from the family icebox. Guilty marauders are invited to stop their daily business supply and fastening their talons into prime meat roasts and other entables if they don't want to feel the sharp hooks of the law.

The thing that the average advertiser will do last is to furnish copy for his criticism. One who has his copy in early in an exception to the rule and stands out, in the eyes of the publisher, like a planet at perihelion. Therefore the publisher of a great deal of satisfaction this week to see committees at work laboriously cudgeling copy out of procrastinating who wanted announcements in the bargain day pages. In most cases, if a dealer can think of anything else to do he will do it before preparing advertising copy or figuring out what he wants to advertise. He will look after the details of his store and the wants of customers, but he seems unable to settle down to serious contemplation of what he wants to say to thousands of people about his daily offering until the time limit is up and the publisher of the advertising manager is about exhausted. But in the evolution of business, in which increasing attention, preparation of copy will not be the last but the first thing considered. Advertising is coming to be recognized as the most important factor in business, and it will not be put off until the last has been managed and every other business chore has been looked after.

It is not only three-fifths sick and people who are rich enough to justify the passion of envy. It is discouraging to devote a lot of time and effort to envying another and then find out that a mistake has been made—that the object of envy is having hard sledding and nearly worrying his head off trying to escape the sledgers of financial ruin. On the other hand, one often finds that he has neglected some people who are well-to-do and whose envy should be avoided. As a matter of fact, envy

Just as Attractive as Bargains

Although there is a great demand for bargain merchandise all over the country and we, ourselves, have been keen as anyone to buy good bargains for our customers in all the lines we handle, still we find that keeping our stock up to date with the new goods and new styles has brought us just as much business as did our best of bargain purchases.

We have bought and are still buying the new things in Dry Goods, Shoes and Ready-to-Wear as fast as they come out and you can depend on finding what you want in these lines here.

Silk sweaters of real silk in black, navy and brown are just in. They will be stylish looking garments worn with a skirt of white or light colored baronet satin and a fancy colored blouse.

Velvet jackets are to be stylish and they are a garment you can make at home, too. We have a beautiful piece of chiffon veils for this purpose.

Blouses in the new shades of burnt orange, tomato, carrot, neptune and honeydew or apricot, as it was called last year, are in great favor. We expect another new shipment by Saturday.

Faded skirts of fine striped and plaid wools are the thing in dress skirts. We have some beauties to show you. Women who wear large sizes will appreciate the new crepe de chine waists and silk and voile dresses we have for you. We found a man who really knows how to make wearing apparel for our sizes that fit and have fine style.

The newest thing in fancy dress accessories, as beads, bags, bag tops, ribbons, trimmings and neckwear are all here for your selection. For the new things come to Ahern's.

Here You Will Find The New and Most Wanted Things in Silks and Dress Goods

Certain most popular weaves and colors in silks and dress goods are very scarce and hard to get. We have them for you. This week a shipment of these much wanted things came in and you'll find just what the latest fashions call for here, now.

FOR BLOUSES—Tomato, carrot, honey dew and neptune shades in GEorgette, crepe de chine and La Jaz are most popular.

FOR FANCY DRESS SKIRTS—Baronet satins in white, rose and apricot shades are the great favorites.

FOR DRESSES—These silks in brown and navy and foulards in new dress are most liked. ORGANDIES are wonderfully popular and we have them for you in plain figured and embroidered in the best imported grades that will launder and stay nice. McCall Patterns on Hand to Help You In Your Sewing

WE CARRY A FINE STOCK OF

Curtain Nets, Draperies and Cretonnes

If you are planning on new curtains this spring be sure and see our fine display of these goods.

We will be glad to help you plan new ways of making up your window hangings and we have the correct nets, cretonnes and drapery materials for carrying out the latest ideas in this work.

Panel nets are still much in favor and make an attractive and inexpensive curtain. The panels come at $4.00 to $15.00 each and only three are required for the ordinary window.

The new imported cretonnes for side drapes come in colors and figures suitable for any room, sun parlor or porch and we have a large assortment for your selection.

Blind nets, marquisettes, velles and swisses by the yard are all here in fresh, new patterns and moderately priced.

Crepe Bed Spreads with fancy stripes of pink, blue and yellow are a new item in bed room furnishings that are very popular. They brighten up the room, are easy to launder and are very moderately priced at $2.75 to $4.25.

You can also replenish your stock of linens, sheetings and towels here at the very lowest prices the market calls for.

All Our Fine Silk Dresses on Sale at Greatly Reduced Prices

We have been receiving dresses the last two weeks which should have been here in March, in time for our special out of town sales. Our sales being closed for this season we must sell all these extra dresses here at home and we have marked our entire stock down for a special sale until we can dispose of at least half of it.

So come now if you want a fine dress at a very moderate price. Remember these are not flimsy cut, half tailored dresses made of thin silks for special sale purposes. The country is shipped with just such stuff this spring and in comparing our prices with those you see in city papers and catalogues we want you to consider that these dresses are the kind of full cut, finely tailored, heavy silk garments that particular people like. We selected them carefully for our best trade and you will be pleased with every one of them.

There are some fine styles amongst them for extra large women up to 53 size.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

is never warranted, and is always disagreeable. The fact that one man has a few dollars more than another is no reason to arouse the yearning and hate of covetousness. Usually a man pays for all he gets and gets all he pays for. If one would take another's possessions, he should be willing to accept the other fellow's pieces and trials and burdens with which he paid for them. The big law of compensation works unerringly. The man who is rich in dollars and cents, may have sacrificed in his material quest, the boon of health, perhaps sacrificed friendships, is possibly poor in attributes of peace and content, that quicken soul growth and enlarge the capacity for joy enjoyment. Whether a man has a thousand or ten thousand or a hundred thousand dollars less than he thinks he ought to have should really make no difference in fellow considerations or in feelings of self respect.

EXTRA COPIES ISSUED.

This edition of the Herald is limited to 3,000 copies. The homes not accustomed to receiving the paper. Approximately 17,000 readers will review today's Herald. For our aid, we are sending you acquainted with the paper to look it over critically and with a view to becoming regular subscribers. Try it for six months, and then see if you will not want it longer. We print from sixteen to thirty-two pages, and we seek to give all parts of the territory impartial consideration.

Of numerous comments on the Herald, received from time to time during the past few years, the latest came from the editor of the Army and Navy Journal, published at 20 Vesey street, New York City. The New York editor has written for copies of the Herald and his acknowledgment under date of April 13, contained references which we shall be pleased to reproduce with grateful appreciation. It shows how journalists in the eastern metropolis regard the evolution of a rural newspaper in Nebraska. We do not quote from our generous correspondent in a spirit of vainglory, but to bring to this territory outside estimates of a developing local institution. Here is what the New York editor says: "I have never seen a better weekly newspaper in my life than the Wayne Herald, typographical and mechanical, the editorial work excellent, the geographical work would be a credit to a metropolitan sheet, the press work is of the highest class and extremely well done. The way in which you evidently consider the news of your outside territory as well as your town's fine!" Our correspondents' cheering words.

LAUGHS ARE HIS HITS

American baseball fans in all of their serious racing like to relax in a good laugh occasionally. Nick Alcock, former world champion pitcher, but now baseball's most unique character, is proving it so, year after year. "Once again he is on top of the coaching with the Washington American League club, capturing the attention of many thousands with his laughter. Alcock's pitch is a curve ball. In his White Sox years ago, pitched Comiskey's team to a world title over the Cubs in world series.

West Point to Vote Bonds

Wayne, Neb., April 27.—A special election has been called to vote on a proposed bond issue of $50,000, to be used in the erection of a municipal lighting and power plant. A committee has been appointed to inspect various municipal plants of the kind throughout the state and to obtain information to be used in constructing the plant. The election will be held May 24.

Fall Wheat Benefited

Sidney, Neb., April 27.—The continued rains and snows have advanced fall wheat far ahead of last season. Spring wheat and oats have been sown profreely. The rye crop is doing fine and will be ready to harvest in June. A large acreage of corn and potatoes will be planted. Fully 82 per cent of fall wheat will germinate.

Statisticians Continue to Show Depression

Wayne, Neb., April 27.—A pessimistic note is being sounded by the statisticians who are showing the trade of the world as some pessimists are inclined to believe. It comes rather from a world-wide slackening to pay for imports. The world is just beginning to realize the gravity of the economic shock brought by the war, and the extent of the disaster is being overestimated, and business suffers from the prevailing gloom. A sure view will gradually be restored and unless further disasters overtake us, we may look for improvement in the near future.

Chemists and War

Philadelphia Public Ledger: Certain Americans at Washington and elsewhere are talking hard sense. They have not forgotten that one of the great German resources through four years of siege and torture were the dye plants and chemical works. Two years ago we were all mighty keen about making America independent in life and chemical matters. "But two years is a long time. We were not so keen as once we were. Dr. Charles H. Henry, of the American Chemical Society, has reminded Washington about dyes and chemicals. He pointed out that Germany has more plants of this kind than when the war began. In his opinion Germany ought to be "discarded chemically" and at once. The inference is that until this is done and that until the world is disarmed chemically we had best look to our defenses in gases, dye plants and chemical works.

Sloux City Journal

"The nincompoops are out," says Col. Harvey in his vocabulary in the final issue of Harvey's Weekly. "This is not so-called unbusinesslike language, but it is quite after the manner of Col. Harvey. Is such language to adorn the future outcries of the United States ambassador to the court of St. James?"

Interstate Spelling Contest

The interstate spelling contest between South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, and Nebraska will be held at the Wayne State Normal school, tomorrow afternoon at 10 o'clock sharp. Each county is entitled to two contestants. The state conductors are as follows: County Supt. Marjory Warner, Faulkton, S. D.; County Supt. J. R. Campbell, Platteville, Minn.; County Supt. Charles H. Tye, Orange City, Iowa; and County Supt. Pearl Sewell, Wayne, Neb.

The interstate spelling contest was held at Sioux Falls, S. D., last Friday. The county superintendent who entered met and organized the contest here, was extended. This invitation was accepted. Every county superintendent in the state represented has a voice in the management of this contest. It may be counted as a state contest, also, and first and second places in the contest will be awarded for the winners in the interstate contest as follows:

Oral contest—1st place, $20; 2d place, $10.
Written contest—1st place, $20; 2d place, $10.

It was also decided at the Sioux Falls meeting to use the contest list of words in Eaton's Grand Speller for the year 1921, and R. W. Eaton of Omaha, Neb., the author of the book, was unanimously elected to conduct the contest.

Spelling contestants are here ready for work and this is thought to be the best spelling contest ever held between the states.

Artificial Stimulant Fails

Sioux City Journal: Wheat growers who participated in the hold-over-wheat movement of last year have now profited thereby. The plan of the movement was to hold wheat until the price had been forced up to $3 per bushel. Now, however, it is reported that the price is being raised at the current price, which is around $1 per bushel. Corn growers who held their corn last year with expectancy of a higher price had a similar experience. It is difficult to overcome the operation of the natural law of supply and demand. Though the grain was held on the market, it is now known to be in existence, and available, and for that reason the price would not respond to any artificial stimulant.

French Play at Normal

The class in French at the Wayne State Normal will present an adaptation of the French play, "English as It Is Spoken," at the State Normal auditorium next Wednesday afternoon during the chapel period. The participants have been coached by Miss Marion Tamm, French instructor. Though French is spoken in the play, much English is employed to make it easily understood. Patrons of the school are invited to attend.

All Restrictions Removed

The clerk of the district court has received notice from the government that there are, according to late legislation, no more limitations, and that all restrictions touching naturalization have been swept away.

Harding Knows How

Sioux Falls Argus-Leader: President Harding is smoothing the way for the legislators that the country desires and the old time hostility between the two ends of Pennsylvania avenue is a thing of the past. All the correspondents at Washington agree that the new president is a man who is likely to get things done. He has served in the senate and knows how the thing is worked.

Chiropractic DID IT

April 26, 1921.
 To Whom It May Concern: My son William Schmitt at 4 years of age could speak only two words, mama and papa, very indistinctly. We took him to Rochester where he was X-rayed and had three blood tests taken. They removed his tonsils and adenoids and said that he would talk within six months, if ever. At the end of that time, as he had shown no improvement, we took him to Drs. Lewis & Lewis, chiropractors. He has now had fifty (50) spinal adjustments and now speaks anything as distinctly as the average child his age. Any further desired information will be cheerfully given by his mother.

H. E. Anderson is on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harrington were Sunday guests at A. W. Dolph's.

Mrs. and Mrs. H. R. Bean and children were Sunday guests at the G. W. Packer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Chittick are the proud parents of an 11-pound girl, Miss Ruth, who arrived Saturday.

Misses Ruth and Edna Erickson, Messrs. John Erickson, Bernard and Emma drove to Sioux City one day last week.

Little Levinus Packer had the misfortune to get the middle finger of his right hand quite badly injured in a hay patch on Saturday.

The Misses Edna and Loretta Bartling entertained several girl friends Sunday afternoon in honor of their birthdays which occurred the past week.

A group of young men went over to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nolle on coming last week and to make a little noise. They were generously treated.

Hoboes Blamed for Crime.

Alliance, Neb., April 27.—An infamy of burns and hoboes is believed by the police to be responsible for a number of attempted burglaries here during the last few nights. Frackers picked off the door of a conch at the rear of the Golden Rule store, but were foiled in their attempt to gain entrance to the store by an iron door. A brick was hurled through a rear window of the Fourth street market, but nothing was missed from the store. A mysterious fire, which destroyed a building, was traced to a dead dollar to a dry cleaning establishment and a shoe repair shop in the neighborhood. A basket of clothes in the dry cleaning room was found empty, and half-gained, one of the shoes was found on the street. A man who was seen prowling about

A Bolshevist Oversight.

The New Republic: Even many of their worst enemies do not deny to the leaders of the soviet government a high degree of political sagacity, but by suggesting one act, which would have cost them almost nothing, they have misjudged, or at least defrauded, the psychology of Americans. There are, in prisons and concentration camps in Russia, a small number of not at all important American citizens, locked up perhaps for good reasons, but more often for no reason at all.

What Worries Japan?

Minneapolis Journal: "The eight-night program means that the situation is to begin where Britain's left off. It shows her more keen for armament than she was even during the war. With such a neighbor as the orient, and with Germany, eliminated, Japan's military expansion calls for deep study. What does Tokyo see on the horizon, and why the rush of armaments? America should ponder."

Petroleum and Art.

Stony Falls Argus-Leader: The alleged gasoline robbery picture found in Oklahoma has proved to be a fake. The artist who painted the picture is a well-known expert in the matter of oil painting.

Women Have Their Rights.

Chicago News: "The delightful inconsistency that prompts women to wear hats in summer looks more of a fiction to discard their umbrellas and paddle around in thin-soled pumps during the rainy season."

A New Memphis Guest.

Manchester, N. H., Union: Guess the agencies of labor is solidarity for adequate wages, reasonable work hours, and livable working conditions, not for the dictatorship of the proletarians.

FAMOUS GIRL BEAUTY GIVES HINTS ON GRADUATION FROCKS

Sweet girl graduates who have already started to plan their graduation frocks may well take a hint from the girl in the styles worn by the beautiful Nana Manning. On the left the styles and hair of the boned frock of white has a baby blue bodice and is trimmed with blue and white ribbon. The dropped shoulder effect is from grand mother's day and promises to be very popular this season. On the right is a dainty frock of embroidered handkerchief linen and with beauteous adding to the beauty. It has a beautiful lace yoke. In

Attend Wayne's Great Community Sale next Tuesday and Wednesday, May 3 and 4

Merchants here have joined in a carnival of unexampled bargains—things that are in demand at this time. No shelf-worn junk will be offered. It is not the intention to try to get rid of a lot of depreciated accumulations. The goods are new, and fresh from wholesale markets, usually purchased for this special sale. Often wholesalers have cooperated and materially aided this distinctly rare buying opportunity.

Wayne dealers are perfectly organized for these special buying events. It is axiomatic that Wayne accomplishes more—never less—than it undertakes or promises. This bargain festival will not detract from its record of achievement and triumph. Merchants say what they mean and mean what they say. They want to interest people not accustomed to coming here. It is firmly believed the experience of trial inspection and buying will prove completeness and superiority of stocks, and result in an extension of the local trade territory.

The object is to show off the town as a trade center. The purpose is to acquaint, by special inducement, more people with the advantage of coming here to market produce and replenish stocks of household necessities. It will be found that Wayne can supply everything needed at prices that touch bottom.

It will be noted on the double-page bargain feast in this paper that no two dealers advertise the same things. This plan gives the advantage of picking up a raft of seasonable merchandise at slaughtered prices. It presents a complete bill-of-fare of practical, needed articles.

Attention is called not only to Wayne's well stocked and well equipped business houses, but to its paved streets, its educational institutions, its modern hospital, fine homes and spirit of hospitality and good fellowship.

Come to Wayne, get acquainted, review the city as a market and trade center and see if you will not like it and its people well enough to come here regularly.

The Commercial club band will enliven the occasion by giving a concert each afternoon.

Use of Soy Beans

Drillers Journal-Stockman: Data are not at hand to determine the profit of planting soy beans with corn in Nebraska for hogging-off purposes, according to a bulletin issued by the state college of agriculture and the United States department of agriculture.

P. H. Stewart of the federal department of agriculture, who wrote the bulletin, gives the following summary of obtainable facts:

The practice is a growing one, however, and the points discussed in this circular may be of value in carrying on further trials. There are at the same time probably more than 250 farmers in eastern Nebraska, who are growing soy beans in corn for hogging off. Some of these men have carried on this work for several years. Data from a large number of these men have been gathered, a summary of reports from thirty-four farmers being shown on page 8.

Of recent years there has been a general increase in the amount of corn "hogged down" or "shut down" in Nebraska. This practice brings up the question of whether it is more profitable to grow soy beans in corn to balance the ration than to feed alfalfa or to buy tankage.

There is probably little question but that raising alfalfa is a better and cheaper practice in most cases than buying tankage; whether soy beans in corn can compete with alfalfa is somewhat doubtful.

For reasons having to do with where alfalfa fields are not fenced or accessible for hogs, soy beans may be given a trial.

Where Plan is Best. Co-operative trials seem to indicate that growing soy beans in corn is adapted in general to the three tiers of counties bordering the Missouri river, south of the Platte, and to the five tiers of counties in the eastern part of the state, north of the Platte. The northern counties of this section would normally have a short season for maturing the beans.

In sub-irrigated or otherwise favorable conditions the combination might be successful even in western Nebraska counties. Drouth, hot winds, short growing seasons, grasshoppers, rabbits and other pests are most apt to be factors limiting the area where this practice is successful.

There are a number of factors that need careful attention and consideration in order to successfully grow soy beans with corn. Failure to consider any of these may mean crop failure. Many failures and adverse reports regarding soy beans are due to farmers' unfamiliarity with the crop and its management.

Plant on Fertile Soil. Soy beans will do best on good fertile soil. They are not especially adapted to poor "clayey" lands and should not be put on such land in an effort to build it up, as is the practice with clover and alfalfa. They do fairly well on medium sandy soils.

Richly at least fairly free from weeds should be noticed.

Sow Pennies Reap Dollars

Such is the theory of saving. It is not the small amount of money which starts your account today that counts, but what that amount will grow to in time to come. A dollar put away today will be worth considerably more in a year from now because of the interest it has earned for you.

Hence, there is a hint for everyone who has not acquired the saving habit. Take what few dollars you can spare today, bring them to us and watch how they grow while in an account here. Think it over, and act.

is very important. Care should be taken in buying to ask for early varieties from reliable sources. Seed of late varieties is usually more plentiful than that of early varieties and, therefore, often substituted. There is also some confusion, due to several names being applied to one variety, and also to several varieties being sold under one name. It is always best to buy by special varieties rather than the general names, as "Early Yellow" or "Medium Yellow." Locally produced seeds are less apt to be lost when hogging off a field. Springfield, Mass, Republican: Insurgency in this congress is looked for but, as the watched pot never boils, an insurgency looked for may not insure. A more substantial reason is that the big republican majority does not encourage would be insurgents to defy the steam roller.

An advertising contest was conducted in the Allen high school the past week in which the members of the junior class were allowed to write, without instruction as to details or subject matter, an advertisement for an Allen store. The advertisements were written and handed in unannounced. They were then judged by a disinterested jury and the best of them were printed in the Allen News.

Last edition of the Stanton Register and Stanton Weekly Picket announced a bargain day in that city for Wednesday, April 28.

The Bloomfield Monitor, in its issue of April 21, stated that an offer of a phone company to the telephone company to effect that those who made applications for restoration of telephone service could have their telephones connected within twenty days after April 21, free of charge. The company failed to state, however, that there would be a decrease in rates and it is thought that the Bloomfield Monitor will "stand pat" on the issue of lower rates. It will be remembered that the majority of Bloomfield's telephones were disconnected on the evening of March 31 upon an order issued by authorities that rates were to be raised 25 per cent on April 1.

The interior of the Presbyterian church at Wahoo is to be decorated to the extent of $3000. It is reported that the background will be a light tan color. The panels between the windows are to be of ivory color with gold coloring along the edges. The main background is to produce the effect of a column and certain setting with delicate shadings of blue and gold. Louis Rothman of York will be employed to do the work.

Ralph Jones of Aurora, a young married farmer living north of town, was thrown from a wagon and seriously injured last week when the team which he was driving became frightened and started to run. All attempts of the young man to stop them were futile until the traces became unfastened and the tongue ran into the ground throwing Mr. Jones into the air. It was thought at first that his back was broken, but an X-ray picture revealed the possibility of concussion. A chain which held the sides of the wagon at which he landed was broken, squaring into. Latest reports indicate that Mr. Jones is gradually recovering.

The current issue of the Pierce County Call states that the community bargain day held there recently was a great success, many merchants having reported that their wares were exhausted before noon and that they were forced to offer other leaders. Plans are expected to have another bargain day during the next month. Signs of activity in the building line are evident in Wahoo. It is reported that more than seven new houses are in the process of construction, notwithstanding business stagnation and the financial depression. Several other residences are to be erected during the late summer. It is stated.

A petition circulated recently among the business men of Wahoo for the support of the town baseball team resulted in a collection of $288. It was decided that new baseball suits would be bought with the money. It was further decided that the suits would be the property of the city and should be turned in to the officers at the close of the season.

Cattle belonging to J. L. Young of Coleridge, recently got into his silo and began eating it. They acted strangely. A veterinarian who was called, said the animals were drunk and would soon sleep it off.

A fire in the garage reported to have occurred at Columbus recently when Fulmer's garage, together with forty-three automobiles, burned. A high wind fanned the blaze. The building was covered by insurance. Many of the cars which burned belonged to people who had them in storage there. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is attributed by many to spontaneous combustion, by others, to a short circuit in the wiring of one of the cars.

Trees are being planted at Wahoo park at Wahoo with the idea of beautifying the recent addition to the grounds. Organizations and lodges are planning to plant individual trees and shrubbery.

Major Walter Harry Sperr, aged 87, died recently at his home at Council Bluffs. He was reputed to have been the only surviving member of the escort which accompanied General Phil Sheridan on his famous ride during the Civil War. Major Sperr was not often described—the famous ride, stated that his horse considered an unusually good one, died a week later from the effects of the pace which the general set him.

Editor R. J. Taylor of the Emerson Enterprise, in the St. Joseph's hospital at present, being treated for falling illness. During his absence, Mrs. Taylor and son, Gaylord, are conducting the newspaper.

Plans are on foot in Tekamah to raise $2,000 by the first week in May for the purchase of a pressure engine which will enable the firemen to extinguish fires in the very short time. It will be able to save farm dwellings with the new method. If there is a serious fire, it is stated, it is stated that the machine is the same type that is used in Omaha and Fremont, and carries a liability guarantee with free inspection every six months. Tekamah firemen are seeking to raise funds partly through a series of public entertainments.

They were found spiked to the track a mile north of Foster last week, and it is thought that the act was the work of someone evidently intent on wrecking the passenger train from the north. It happened, however, that a freight train preceded the passenger and stopped upon noticing something dark upon the track. It is stated that had the train been moving more rapidly, there would have been much damage might have resulted. Detectives of the company are working on the case.

French Paper Clears U. S. Harvey's Weekly: The proposition that France will have to assist against the failure of the United States to repay the loans which were made from France during the revolution have been seriously worried here, where all intelligent people are assumed to know the facts. But it is none the less gratifying to have the French people generally or at least passed authority categorically and in detail dispose of them. We should, of course, never have supposed that the French people generally or at least regarded us as defaulters, but it is well to have a notification made which leaves no room for even a single French phrase which gives doubts or suffer from any uncertainty on the subject.

Bridge Notice. Notice is hereby given that bids will be received at the county clerk's office for Wayne county, Nebraska, for the furnishing of all necessary material and labor for the erection and completion of the following bridges, or so many thereof as shall be ordered built by the county commissioners for the year 1921.

One 32-foot steel girder, 18-foot roadway and 20-ton capacity, located between sections 13 and 24, township 25, range 4, east, over and across the Buskirk slough.

One 60-foot steel span, 16-foot roadway, 20-ton capacity, located between sections 32 and 33, township 26, range 2, east, about 10 rods north of the south line of sections 32, 33, 34, and 35, over and across South Logan creek.

All bids to be made on both 15 and 20-ton capacity. At the same time and place as herein specified, bids will also be received for the repair of all bridges which may be ordered repaired by the county commissioners for the year 1921.

All such bridges to be built in accordance with plans and specifications furnished by the State Engineer and known as the standard plans and adopted by the county board of Wayne county, Nebraska, on November 16, 1920.

Bridges to be built within ten days of notice by said county to construct the same, and in case any new bridge is to be constructed where an old one stands, the contractor to tear down said old bridge and remove and pile all old lumber in such bridge, this to mean also the removal of all piles with the lumber in said bridge and to deposit the same safely near the site thereof, and all lumber and piles to remain the property of the county.

Said bids to be filed with the county clerk of said Wayne county, Nebraska, on or before 12 o'clock noon, on the 27th day of May, A. D. 1921.

Said bids for the building and repairing of said bridges will be opened at 12 o'clock noon, on the 27th day of May, A. D. 1921, by the county clerk of said county in the presence of the board of county commissioners of said county, at the office of the county clerk of said county.

No bids will be considered unless accompanied by cash or a certified check for $250.00, payable to Charles W. Reynolds, county clerk of said county, to be forfeited to said county, in case the bidder refuses to enter into contract with said county, if said contract is to be made.

Also bids will be received for all of the above work at same time and place and under all conditions, as above set forth, the county to furnish all material delivered at nearest railroad station, except piling, which will be delivered at either Wayne or Carroll.

The plans and specifications as adopted, and the bidding blanks as furnished by the State Engineer, of Lincoln, Nebraska, who will, upon request, furnish copies of the same, and the same to be used for the work, as no extras will be allowed.

The board of county commissioners are authorized to execute the contract to construct any other concrete bridges, arch or slab other than steel, which may be ordered by the county board of Wayne county, Nebraska, as furnished by the State Engineer and adopted by the county board.

The board of county commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

THE WAYNE HERALD

UNCLE WALT
The Poet Philosopher.

All's Well.
The storm that blows your roof away, and winds your cow around a tree, and causes you to roar "Hully boy" such caustic things as "Hully chow." And you may rave until you're hoarse, and on your gods do you swear, in his "Frantic course," is looking for the good of all—She carries no heat for private woes, nor marks the briny on your face; about her age-old groove she goes, and strives to benefit the race. The storm that killed your setting sun, and from your anchoring took the hair, and purified the fever from the veins, and purified the noxious air. The flood comes racing down the creek, and drowns some seven head of hogs, and you, declaiming like a bard, are ready to take in your sign. The loss of seven Chester Whites put you in the hole, and you will walk the floor o' nights, but Nature stops not to condole. The Nat that made the rushing flood will make the grasses and millers grow, and hundreds bless the wholesome mud, where one puts up his wail of woe. Each fellow thinks his own concerns are all that count, the one big bet; but Mother Nature never turns to see whose hecives she upset. She sings and hums, and hums and sings, starts a tempest on the sea; she has a universe to run, and cannot look with you, or on.

The Speaker.
The man who wants to make a speech infests all towns in which he might be needed, along the beach, and lingers in the sylvan dell, for years I've tried in vain to reach a place where he won't come and yell. He speaks, and will be done, and lies, wherever there is standing room, his mouth is ever yawning wide, and multiplies the public good. He speaks, and will be done, and lies, wherever there is standing room, his mouth is ever yawning wide, and multiplies the public good. He speaks, and will be done, and lies, wherever there is standing room, his mouth is ever yawning wide, and multiplies the public good. He speaks, and will be done, and lies, wherever there is standing room, his mouth is ever yawning wide, and multiplies the public good.

of snakes who have deigned to write his shallow stream of language flows without a saving thought-in-sight. If he'd but quit when he is done, we might forgive him now and then, but when his works begin to run, there is no end and no "amen," he thrashes chestnuts by the ton, then thrashes them all o'er again.

Reading Books.
Read helpful books that fill the mind with "remembrance" and find the world's sublimest store. "But if you read them all-these lines, your patience will exhaust you, and you will think such books a crime, and noble lore a frost. If you would keep an appetite for thoughts from noble domes, you ought to read some fiction light between the stately tomes. Read Milton till his soundings veer no longer thrill your bones, then buy and read "The Tinker's Curlew" or "Wine Slugged Johnnie Jones." Read Bacon's essays, one by one, until you're feeling bored—then buy and read "The Poisoned Bin, or Who Stopped Henry's Ford?" The man who lives on pie alone will find that diet diet; 'twould do him good to gnaw a bone, and a dog a bone, too. The modern pie's the greatest treat that science can produce, but it should go with each fellow—eat and examine, stewed in their juice. And so the works of guys inspired, like Milton and that bunch, as steady grub are not destroying what they build up a lunch. I always shun the student pie who says, with might pride, he never reads the trilling tale with vamps and gore supplied.

Our Best.
If every man would do his best, whatever his task may be, his existence would be truly blessed, this world might be so. Most all the troubles that we know would quickly fade away, and if you wished, a little woe you'd have to hunt all day. No bums would fill the prison cells or in the alleys rest, for all men would be working hard, if each one did his best. The toiler would not cuss the plute, nor would the plute respond, but for each other they would root, vent, and fret. The thieves would quit their vain careers which get them in the hole, and put in their repentant years restoring what they stole. And all the sordid tricks of trade would travel gay west—there'd be no tar in marraige, if each man did his best. This life would be a grand sweet song, a joyride in a car; our duds would last us twice as long, our grub go twice as far; there'd be no business for the the sleazebags would be undone; the reserved man could buy his food and fain by the ton. We do not toil with proper zeal to earn our weekly pay; we do not strive to do our best, but watch the clock's dial; we're all afraid we'll do too much, as we our hammer swing, and so we've got the world in Dutch, and balled up everything.

Generous or Just.
My neighbor Biffkin, likes delight, in helping things along; if there's a charity in sight, he's whooping for it strong. His name is seen on every list of givers to the Cause; and people often say and with a frown, "Santa Claus. To brighten up the world he strives, he'll brighten it or bust; he's prominent in all the 'drives' that call for people's dust. But if he owes you iron muck he seems to hate to pay; you'll have to call again, again, and chase him day by day. I don't indorse the frequent 'drives' that bare us everywhere; that pester voters and their wives for coin they cannot spare. I do not give to every lay who tags me in the mart, and Biffkin has been heard to say that I've a calloused heart. But when a man presents his bill for something I've bought, I take the rubies from the till, and pay him on the spot. No merchant bones me for the kale upon the public street, and no collectors, on my trail, wear out your useful feet. I pay up every cent I owe, that creditors may thrive, before they get my dough-to-be-hold-along a drive. It may be Biffkin's course is right, and mine is badly wrong, but Biffkin's secrets are a sight, and mine is good and strong.

Getting Back.
We're getting back to normalcy a little at a time; the hoodoo fade, the seashell face, the grand old crime. This morning when I took my boat to have a bolt replaced, the workman sang a cheerful note, as to the kale upon the public street, and no collectors, on my trail, wear out your useful feet. I pay up every cent I owe, that creditors may thrive, before they get my dough-to-be-hold-along a drive. It may be Biffkin's course is right, and mine is badly wrong, but Biffkin's secrets are a sight, and mine is good and strong.

Senator Smoot's Sales Tax—Baltimore Star: Whether the congress will pass a sales tax measure is still uncertain. The majority of those who control the situation want to be sure of the public pulse before they take a stand. That the business interests of the country want a sales tax is hardly to be doubted, but the plain people, the consumers, have a suspicion of consumption taxes, and the event will probably depend upon how loudly they howl.

The tale of a dog with a moral

THERE'S AN old gag THEY USED to pull. SO OLD that nowadays PEOPLE THINK it's new. ABOUT THE man who had TO SHOOT his dog. AND A friend asks, "WAS THE dog mad?" AND the first guy SAYS, "WELL, he waan't. SO DANG well pleased." AND a chap told me THAT THIS described SOME SMOKE's bad tries. THEY SHINE exactly MAKE HIM AND BUT HE waan't. SO VERY well pleased. OF COURSE that was MY CUE to slip him. A REAL cigarette. AND AFTER he'd taken. A GOOD pull or two. INTO HIS constitution. HE GRINNED and said, "THE ONLY way these WILL EVER make you mad, is 'the way. YOUR FRIENDS eat 'em up. I ONLY hope you've got A COUPLE of packs. FOR THEIR sirs. DO SATISFY."

"CERTAINLY WAS BLESSING TO ME"
Lincoln Women's Life Was Burden Before She Began Taking Tangle-Health Restorant.

"I had tried nearly everything else without getting relief, and I finally had failed me I don't know what I feel better than I have in years."

Wrote Mrs. Catherine Therkelson, 2928 1/2

"For four years I suffered from a complication of troubles which finally resulted in 'nerves' and I almost despaired of ever getting well. I couldn't eat enough to give my strength and my sleep was without suffering agony. I got so weak I could hardly get up and had to be carried to bed."

"Well, I read a great deal about Tangle-Health Restorant, and I was so interested that I bought a box. I had taken seven years of it, I have never found anything that can half-way come up to this great medicine. My back has been better, and I began to improve in every way, and now I am as well as the same person. Tangle certainly has had a wonderful blessing to me, and I will tell every one who needs medicine about it."

Hesper Stolen
Fremont, Neb., April 26.—Hangers made their appearance at 9 o'clock yesterday morning about 3 o'clock when they forced an entrance into the A. H. Harns general merchandise store and made their getaway with a large quantity of valuable clothing and wearing apparel.
The thieves managed to make their way into the store through a side door, when they broke through a transom and then forced the lock. Investigation tends to show that the job was accomplished by a party of burglars who were familiar with the surroundings.
A small amount of money left in the open cash register, was taken by the marauders. Their hauls consisted mostly of ladies' dress goods, suits of clothing, raincoats and other merchandise.

How others were cured
"I had tried nearly everything else without getting relief, and I finally had failed me I don't know what I feel better than I have in years."

Wrote Mrs. Catherine Therkelson, 2928 1/2

"For four years I suffered from a complication of troubles which finally resulted in 'nerves' and I almost despaired of ever getting well. I couldn't eat enough to give my strength and my sleep was without suffering agony. I got so weak I could hardly get up and had to be carried to bed."

"Well, I read a great deal about Tangle-Health Restorant, and I was so interested that I bought a box. I had taken seven years of it, I have never found anything that can half-way come up to this great medicine. My back has been better, and I began to improve in every way, and now I am as well as the same person. Tangle certainly has had a wonderful blessing to me, and I will tell every one who needs medicine about it."
