The Early Days in Two Counties

From Wayne Herald July 11, 1920:
A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jefferson, July 3.
At a meeting of the city council it was decided to purchase a 500 pound fire bell.
Ray Frazer brought a stalk of corn measuring seven feet and one-half inches.
Miss Lulu Schardt was elected to teach in the primary department at Emerson next year.
John Shoshon began the manufacture of brick today and expects to make a half-million during the season.
Over 11,000 Thomas of Buffalo wire have been sent to Wayne. This is more than any other town in northern Nebraska has had.
Wayne county will raise all the sugar that will be consumed for the next year in the counties of Wayne, Cedar and Dixon, figuring an average of thirty pounds per inhabitant. It is impossible to estimate the wheat and oat crop of Wayne county as it is enormous. The corn crop is also enormous. The sugar beet and potato yields are equally promising.

The 13-year-old son of Wendell Baker received a fractured leg when he was thrown from a buggy. He and several boys were coasting down a hill in a buggy which ran against the barn throwing the boy out.
About five hundred people attended the bicycle races given by the Wayne county fair. The winners were: Half mile, James Miller; two miles, Harry Craven; quarter mile, Sam Alexander; Ten yards, Everett Lamborn.

The members of the Fourth of July parade in Wakarusa and Winside. A special excursion train took a crowd to Winside. The Wayne Form Police band furnished the music at that place. Others attended the Catholic celebration at Neola, Mo.

Sunday, while Theo. Land, of Winside, and Mr. Zeeman, a merchant of the same town, were walking through an art field they met with a strange experience. The ants were thick and were so high they could just see along the top on a level with their eyes. All of a sudden Mr. Land heard a buzzing noise and just ahead of him he observed a large, white, snake lying along the top of the ants. His tail wrapped around a few of the heads. He stepped back and called Mr. Zeeman's attention to the snake. He understood and watched it in wonder and then turned away. These two men are temperate and they swear by all that is good and small, that the above statement is true.

From Ponca Journal, July 6, 1920:
Dr. O'Connell and D. Hurley returned on Monday from a trip to Holt county near Long Pine, a distance of about 125 miles. They had a very pleasant and healthy trip and saw much fine country and several thriving towns. But they saw no country which was to be compared to Dixon county.

On Friday at Washington, the last scene of tragedy of a year ago, was enacted. The cavalryman, Calles, who laid in wait for President Garfield, and coldly shot him down, without a pretense of provocation, and the penalty of his course upon the gallows. It seems tardy justice, but the country is to be congratulated that it has not meted out its penalty—and in order, strictly according to law.

A correspondent of the Sioux City Journal, writing from Wakarusa, June 20, makes the following statement in relation to the contemplated new mill at that place: "The parties who were looking over the water power of the Logan river at this place returned a few days since, and on close examination of the stream and surroundings decided to locate here. The required dams has been raised and the parties will put in a mill with the latest improved machinery and a capacity of seventy-five barrels of flour per day, and if possible in time for this season's work. The site selected will be immediately north of the depot to which the railroad company will probably run a side track. This enterprise will give a fresh impetus to the already thriving town of Wakarusa."

Dr. Hason met with a very serious accident Sunday night. He had been up to George Mattison's place and while returning, the road being through the timber, his buggy ran against a stump and was upset over throwing him out and breaking his leg. It was a critical situation to be in, as he was entirely alone. There was no horse nearer than a mile, and at that time of night there was no one passing from which to obtain assistance. The doctor, however, managed to right up his buggy and get into it. He drove along a short distance further when the buggy hit another stump, this time heaving the doctor out and throwing him out a second time. He then untied the horses from the buggy, got upon one of them and rode to the nearest house, Mr. DeWitt's. He tried to walk the family up, but found after considerable time that on one was home. He then rode along to Elmer Council's house, but there was nobody there. He then went to the house of Mrs. Corpeil where he fortunately found the family at home, and from whom he received all the attention possible. He remained there until Monday morning when he was brought home. The broken leg was set and the bones of the right leg below the knee were broken. That the doctor is possessed of "wonderful nerve and power of endurance" is fully shown by the experience which it passed through.

Winnegoes Form Church.
Lincoln Journal, June 30.—The Pezote church of Christ is the name of a religious organization incorporated by Jesse Clay and twelve other members of the Winnegoes settlement in Thurston county. The name of the organization might give the impression that its members propose to use the drug known as peyote, but the articles of incorporation read with the usual care that no effort to make plain that the organization proposes to use bread instead of peyote and water instead of wine. The members of the church say they abhor peyote.

The articles state that who will not be in the sacrament for the reason it cannot legally be obtained by Indians. An effort is being made by federal officials to prohibit the use of peyote among Indians. The recent constitutional convention was asked to submit an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the use or sale of the drug. The legislature has refused to do so. Both bodies declined to take action. There is no state law on the subject. Mr. Clay did not explain to Douglas Secretary of State W. L. Gaston why the word "peyote" is desired as a part of the church organization's name. In consideration of counsel and advice in regard to the form of the article of incorporation filed Mr. Clay presented the "deputy" with a handwritten back-slash labeled watch builder and gold.

The One True Church.
The articles filed set forth the religious views of the organizers in this form: "That the name of this corporation shall be 'The Pezote Church of Christ'. That the purpose for which this corporation is formed is to worship the one true and living God and to devote and consecrate our lives and works to his service."
We recognize all people who worship God and follow Christ as members of the one true church.
We believe that all earthly sects are all human organizations.
We abhor the creeds as fetters of the dark ages in dividing the followers of a risen savior into contending factions and we seek for union and worship and in spirit.

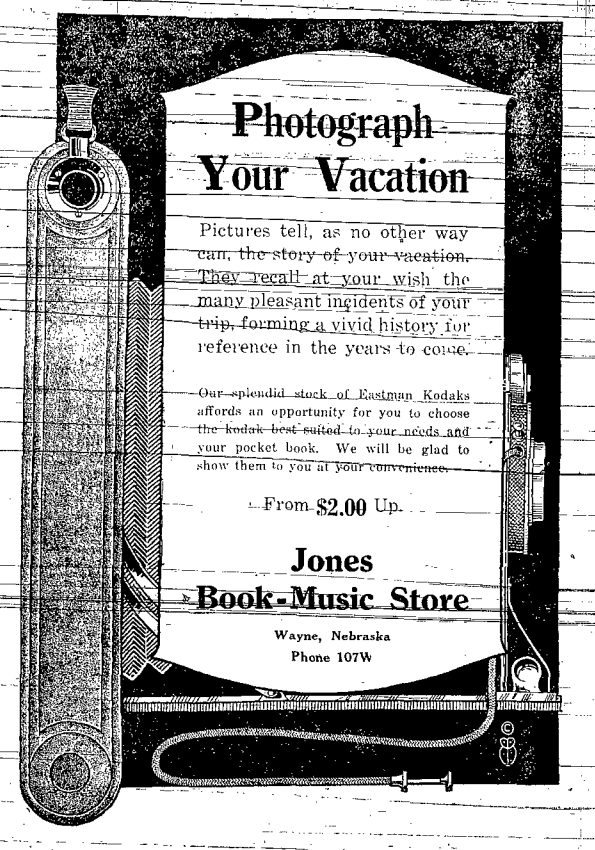

We do not condemn the practices of any but so far as the same tend to spiritually harm in the same.
We believe in the sacrament and the sacramental bread and wine, but in so much as the use of the same is forbidden to Indians, we of the people who cannot obtain or use the same have adopted the use of bread as Pezote and water as wine.
We find consolation and encouragement in Romans the fourth chapter and second verse and the rest of the said chapter as to be practiced.
The following are tenets of our religion: One Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God, the Father; to those who are faithful in both kingdom of nature—heaven and earth. Our hope is glory, honor and immortality.—Ephesians—fourth chapter, fifth and sixth verses.
We denounce and effect those objects the church is being incorporated to.
That the places where its principal business is to be transacted is at Winnegoes and Winnegoes Indian reservation in Thurston county, Nebraska. Address, Winnegoes, Neb.

That the term for which this corporation is referred to is perpetuity.
The second verse of the fifth chapter of Romans exists in the articles of incorporation, reads: "For one believeth that he is equal to things; another, who is weak, eateth herbs."
Another verse in this chapter of Romans says: "It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended or is made weaker by thee."
Among the incorporators of the new church are: Late Dave, Mr. and Mrs. George White Wing, John Blackden, Mrs. Josephine Blackden, Jennie Closs, Henry Little Bird and P. T. Thunder, Green Cross. Others have ordinary names, some denoting French origin.

Dave's Vocabulary Unimpaired.
"St. Paul Pioneer Press:—Miss and Maria' Dave, secretary, appointed head of the budget bureau, says he intends to draft business men to serve without pay because of inadequate forces provided for him by congress. "One night," says Mr. Dave, "just as well be hanged a fool with with which to turn Phil's neck"—denied the words—state of speech are holding up well."

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobacco to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furberlows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigaretty aftertaste.

It's Camels for you.

In naming Mr. Traft for the chief justice at this time, although the supreme court does not meet until October, the president has been moved by the reasons set forth in The Times some weeks ago.

Important litigation is sure to come before the supreme court while Mr. Traft is presiding over it. There are critical law cases before the court which will be heard bearing on the application of anti-trust laws.

It is now common doctrine of law in the United States that the highest sense is not a fixed code. It is a quality which changes daily by statutory enactments, but by a judicial interpretation after an act is altogether prohibitive and applying great legal principles to make them answer to altered public needs.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller and children returned up from Thayer to spend the Fourth at Altona with Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Dyer.

Ans. Reduced Rate. Washington, July 6. Immediate action that will insure Kansas shippers of hay, grain and grain products a reduction in the Interstate Commerce Commission's "freight" rates was announced by the Kansas commission and the Kansas congressional delegation.

A formal application will be made for a reduction in the freight rates on grain, grain products and hay.

Other hay and grain producing states are expected to join in the application later.

"These rates vitiate all attempts at a readjustment toward economic normalcy," Chairman Reed declared in his formal application. "The existing economic condition is such as to warrant giving special consideration to the wheat and other products and hay freight rates first consideration in the inevitable revision of transportation rates."

"Owing to the great reduction in the market price of grain, grain products and hay, which reduction has not been accompanied by a corresponding relative reduction in the freight rates, the grain and hay producers of the state of Kansas are financially in a precarious condition."

The horizontal increase of 35 per cent applied to rates in the western group last July has resulted in a misadjustment of rates because of the marked decline in the prices of grain and hay, the Kansas officials declared.

"The petition says the rates are prohibitory" and will "lead to bankruptcy and ruin of the grain and hay producers of the west."

Representative Christopherson of South Dakota introduced a resolution in the house today providing that the Interstate Commerce commission be requested to consider the agricultural products freight rates forthwith.

Accused of Squandering Fund. Fargo, N. D., July 6. Charges of mismanagement by the state executive committee of the Nonpartisan league had squandered $50,000 of the league's recent election campaign fund were made in a special edition of the Fargo Courier-News, a Nonpartisan league daily newspaper here today.

One leader charged that the league's newspaper, however, had "overdrawn" his account of more than $10,000 of league campaign funds since June 30 and said that "the league is facing the coming campaign empty-handed and it is necessary that some immediate and drastic action be taken."

Any suggestion that the subscription price will be reduced at any time is wholly without foundation. Subscriptions for 1921 are worth $10 a year. The reason for this is because of the large volume of advertising carried each week. The circulation is now half the size of the Herald, but charges $2.50 and $3 a year. The present price of $2 is accepted by most people as cheap for the value and, there is no possibility that the price will ever be lowered.

Agriculture Notes

Breeder's Animal
An effort is being made by the cooperative cow-leasing association, lenders in the western states to make the bulls of their associations 100 per cent purebred. The movement has much interest in this movement is shown by the fact that the report recently received from the western office of the dairy division, United States department of agriculture, shows that recently two associations have been added to the 10 per cent list. These are the Sacramento-Yolo and the San Diego, both in California. There are now eight cow-leasing associations in the territory supervised by the western office of the dairy division, having all bulls purebred. Of these, three are in Idaho, two in Colorado, two in California, and one in Washington.

Wild Geese Increase.
Reports to the bureau of biological survey, from the western department of agriculture, from many parts of the country indicate that the unlawful killing of migratory waterfowl during the spring flight was greatly reduced this year as compared with the heavy slaughter during the spring flight in former years. It has been found that a large majority of people are impressed with the fact that the government's work for bird protection is not only a wise conservation measure but is necessary to permit hunting as a sport. The federal law protecting migratory birds is thus being better observed, and birds are not being molested so much in spring as formerly, with the result that they are now breeding in many places from which they were formerly driven because of constant disturbance from spring-shooters. A message from one of the wardens regarding the spring flight of geese in South Dakota shows the excellent results being secured under the migratory bird treaty act regulations. "Never, even in the memory of the old timers," has eastern South Dakota seen a spring flight of wild geese such as has taken place this year. They have flocked into lakes and fields in countless thousands, and the beautification of farm homes. The beautification of the farm home itself, and of its surroundings, is the latest step in a consistently graduated plan, among club workers in the southern states. The realization that a widely extended effort was necessary to obtain satisfactory results made here and school improvement the object of a campaign conducted in April in Iredell county, N. C. under the direction of the home demonstration agent of the United States Department of agriculture and the state agricultural college. Hundreds of men, women, and children throughout the county entered into the plan with zeal. Numerous prizes were offered by business firms to stimulate interest. Snapshots were taken of school-houses, front and back yards, living rooms, living rooms, "the force" and "after" improvements were made in the school-houses. The community of Mt. Mourne won a prize of $100 for making the most improvements in schools, homes, and grounds. This progressive community held a successful fair; it obtained an increase in the teachers' salaries and an extra month added to the school term; through it another grade was added to the course, and by many social diversions the active cooperation of all its citizens was secured. Pastures, chimneys, and money were awarded to those changing old, unattractive rooms most pleasing for the least outlay. For the most convenient kitchen a washing machine was given. The benefits of electricity on the farm were brought out by debates on school children's compositions, and various other devices. The success of the campaign lay in the awakening of the "improvement" spirit, which seized hold of the county and contributed much toward setting up ideals and standards of comfortable living, of good judgment, and good taste.

Day of Opportunity at Hand
Yankton Press and Dakotan: It is a pitiful mistake to assume that the day of opportunity is not. Opportunity is greater in proportion as the number of producers and consumers in the world, the scope of their wants, the sum of human wealth, the volume of business and the varieties of business are all greater, and for all of these things no limit can be set. Economic progress grows with human progress and opportunity for the able and ambitious, in all lines of activity, grows with it.

No Use for Prize Fight.
Iowa City, S. D. Chief: This newspaper is in hearty accord with the large number of people who have no use for prize fights and we expect to join them in the mad rush of obtaining the very first news flashed over the wires telling of the progress of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight today.

Youth and Beauty Unbeatable.
Kansas City Times: The state's attorney in that Chicago case explained by saying it's impossible to convict a woman of murder in Cook county if she's young and good looking. But is it to be admitted a competent prosecutor can't prove to a jury a woman defendant is not?

Frenchman Would Win by Default.
Chicago News: Of course it would be unfair for Carpenter to appear in the ring in the uniform of a visiting sergeant.

Question of Time.
New York Record: Germany is calm, but not yet collected.

A Better Price for Grain

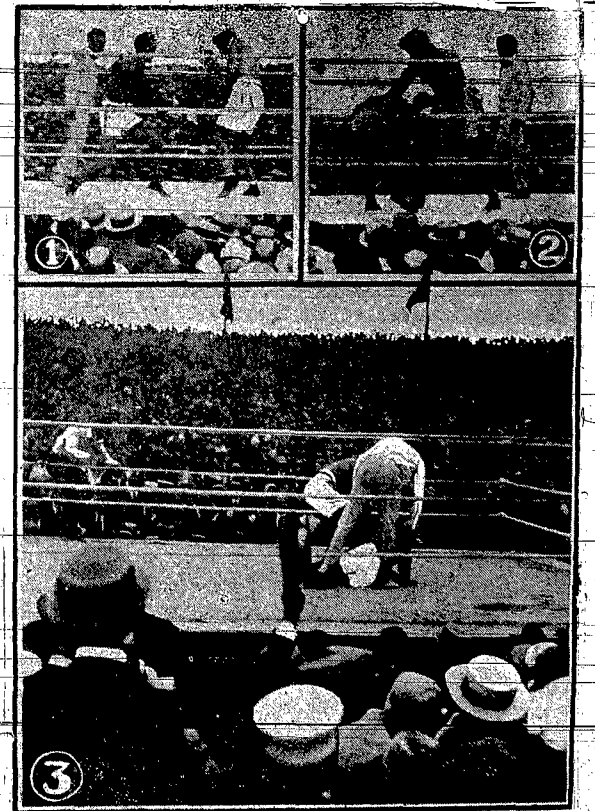

"That granary makes me money on every bushel of grain I put into it. It is built of wood because wood keeps grain in better condition than any other material. It's easy to build with lumber and my granary was built in a hurry. The shiplap was nailed on the inside of the studding, and I'll have the siding on next month."

Every good farm building is a money-saver or a money-maker. A granary keeps your grain in good condition until you are ready to sell it. That may mean a better price for your grain.

Experience has taught you what kind of storage buildings are best for your needs. It has taught us what kind of lumber is best for each particular purpose. This service is yours for the asking.

Culled From Herald's Exchanges For Week

The ice plant at Randolph broke down and was out of commission for a week. An expert from the factory was called and overhauled the plant. The accident caused a good deal of inconvenience as Melican, Carroll and Gammell depend entirely upon Randolph for their ice supplies. Randolph also has been getting a quantity of the plant is running right and does not expect to have any more trouble.

J. H. Massee and Herman Kasper examined a number of old fields on Monday and found that the crop was starting the best weather in good shape. We hear that other farmers showing the effects of the drought and the duds are heading out light and chaffy, and the prospect is anything but promising. There is a difference in oats this year as in every year. The long dry hot spell has not helped them any. Randolph Times-Enterprise.

Miss Hazel Sullivan of Laurel, was first woman to apply for a fishing license in Nebraska. The other Cedar-county women have also applied.

At Devatur last week large trees were felled, hauled by trucks and dumped into the river in an effort to keep the Missouri from cutting into the village. Hundreds of trees have had to be cut down and the work has required years to mature and the sacrifice that the old settlers made can be appreciated.

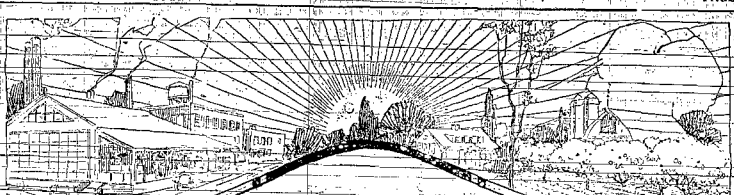

A business firm in Bloomfield will build and maintain at its own expense a rest room for women and children on the fair grounds during fair week this fall. A nurse will assist the women in caring for their children.

Restaurants are in the majority as farm operators in Hamilton county, according to the Aurora Republican.

School patrons of Pierce met last week and voted for a new school building to meet the increased attendance.

Mrs. Antonia Kuderka of Ravenna, Neb., who with her husband was visiting at the John Gross home near Pierce, committed suicide June 29 by hanging herself by a strap to a rafter in a corn crib. Mr. and Mrs. Gross notified Mrs. Kuderka's doctor, who wanted Mrs. Kuderka to accompany them, but she refused, saying she would stay with the children.

The business men of Stanton voted last week to hold up a tourists' park for the convenience of the travelers who stop in Stanton. It is the plan to provide camping place, water and a place for cooking in the city park. Four committees have been appointed. The business men of Stanton should devote one day to fixing up streets of the town, cutting weeds, leveling ditches and clearing away rubbish. Last week was baby week in Cumming county. Monday and Tuesday being assigned to West Point, Wednesday and Thursday to Besmer, and Friday and Saturday to Wisner. The plan was to "urouse" interest in the care of the children.

continues with buyers of steel and iron products responding more readily to the new attractive prices levels, not quite so optimistic as the report of the work being done by the United States Steel corporation, the production of which is only 30 per cent of normal. Railroad buying is improving, western roads especially planning anxiously with the Chicago mills and increasing the demand appreciably. Material for car repairs forms the principal basis of activity, indicating that the mills are making preparations for handling a greater volume of business.

From Seattle, one of the busiest trade centers of the Pacific coast, comes news that holds a promise of increased activity. Retailers in the northwest, it is said, are "getting down to business" in the matter of prices and are cleaning up their old high priced inventories at marked reductions. That is to make room for new and better stock in anticipation of a livelier autumn trade. Dun's review for the week is gloomy, reflecting, it may be, an impatience because the country does not throw off its lethargy and be done with foreboding. The review does admit that vacations, holidays and other mid-summer deterrents are interfering the quiet of trade and industry. Some manufacturing plants are well engaged, Dun's admits, but insists that the results of the last six months have "proved disappointing" to those who had expected general and substantial economic recovery.

Crops generally are not in the best condition, but it cannot be said that the condition is the worst. Some sections have suffered from long periods of dry weather, but, due to copious rains earlier in the season, soil moisture has enabled crops to grow rapidly during "long" which was unusually hot. A dry June for a good crop year, long has been the saying of the farmer who devotes his effort to the growing of corn. It is a matter of some interest to those who have been interested in the promises from congress, with attention given in detail to the farmer's needs. The railroad if they reach a decision to let the government pay their claims, could influence much of business revival.

Some bankers, critical of the dilatory manner of the railroads in reaching an agreement with the government, declare that reviving of the railroad's claims would start liquidation of frozen credits all along the line. It probably would do that and it also might enable the roads to see their way clear to a more equitable adjustment of both transportation and operating costs.

Lack of Editha Best Sign. Sioux Falls, Arpa's-Leader: The one best best that the farm bureau organization, county, state and national, will solve the farmer's marketing problems, is that the farm bureau is a non-political organization. It is composed of farmers—and led by farmers—not ranting socialists—farmers who are interested in solving growing and marketing problems, not politics.

Short-Sighted Policy. Hoosier Farmer: Opponents of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who seem to fear that this national organization of the farmers is for the sole purpose of boosting food costs to prohibitive heights, have adopted a very foolish policy in attempting to show that public funds appropriated for the support of the department of agriculture, particularly the states relations service and county agent work, are being misapplied. As a matter of fact the general public is as vitally interested in the continued welfare of the farmers of the United States as are the farmers themselves.

Not Shocked by Palmer. Mitchell Republican: Judging from the haste with which congress does not pass an act to stop the sale of real beer on physicians' prescriptions, it must be concluded that the members of congress were not very much shocked by the Palmer ruling after all.

Suckers Inspire Nerve. Washington Post: A Chicago aquarium manager says that looking at a group of fish strengthens the nerves. That explains why the profiteer has such nerve.

ISN'T IT QUEER

That a person will invest from $500 to $5,000 in an automobile and then figure because the original investment was satisfactory, and they have a good car, that it should thereafter take care of itself. If the same careful thought was given to the proper lubrication of the automobile as was given to the original investment all car trouble would be reduced to a minimum.

It has been figured out by people who know that 87 per cent of all automobile trouble is due to faulty lubrication of the working parts. This being so, don't you think it would pay you big dividends in dollars and cents to drive into our filling station and let us supply the proper grade and weight of oils and greases for your car?

Use good oil, keep track of your mileage and upkeep costs and we will prove to you that, without a doubt, it pays to use our products.

When we say Monogram Oil is good oil we are willing to back up every statement with any test you may suggest. Take a sample, send it to your experiment station for tests and settle for all time the question as to what is really a good oil to use in your car. Don't guess, be sure.

Harding Awaits to Place
 Kansas City Times: Now that Congress, in the face of disapproval from the White House, is about to express its views on a new presidential inauguration, President Harding will be the focus of much speculation. You just can't beat such a disposition.

Knocking Down Prices
 Philadelphia Public Ledger: From time immemorial the story of the short year—the so-called panic—has been taking its toll of the pocketbooks of the people. First they say it is a proclamation that prices must come down, and then these exorbitant and students entered the streets in armed bands to make sure that the shopkeepers have complied with their demands. A compromise government formed by three political organizations, arranged a conference between the tradesmen and the insurgents and the former immediately marked down their prices by a fifth to almost a half.

Congress and the Doctors
 Louisville Courier-Journal: There is nothing in the eighteenth amendment that gives congress the power to prohibit intoxicating liquors as medicine, to decree which of those liquors may be prescribed, how much of them a physician may prescribe or how many prescriptions for them be allowed to write. And if they have any such right at all, then the rights of physicians are not protected by the constitution.

Governor Holds Parade

Lincoln, Neb., July 6.—The governor is the boss of the executive and all of the state officers must look to him for money. The legislature appropriated a total of $30,000,000 and none of it can be expended without the approval of the chief executive.

The budget bill not only gives the governor control over the state departments, his immediate charge, but control over all other branches of the state government, including all executive and judicial state officers, all agencies receiving appropriations from the state.

The budget system provides that the officers of the state government can ask for whatever appropriations they please, but the governor can recommend what he pleases to the legislature, and the legislature can appropriate as much as it pleases, if it can muster a three-fifths vote when disapproving or disapproving the recommendation, but to matter what happens, the appropriations are under the control of the chief executive of the state. He has the power to veto any appropriation after it is passed by the legislature, by failing to approve its expenditures, over the appropriations passed by the three-fifths vote of the legislature.

Railroad Labor Shows Track Clear. Omaha Bee: "There will be no general strike unless the men are driven so," says B. M. Jewell, president of the Railroad department of the American Federation of Labor. The statement is not cryptic although susceptible of at least two interpretations. The one would likely be placed upon it by the men in the railroad union inclined to accept the reduction in pay ordered by the wage board. The fact that the split on the question has not been a matter of strict opinion among the men themselves, easily understood, neither side having taken the initiative of making a threat incident to a strike; the one is ready to remain at work with a loss rate of pay, rather than to accept enforced idleness with no pay, while the other is ready to go to work, but is reluctant to let go of the contents of the pay envelope. Both realize that the lowering of wages is inevitable. The attitude of the men in this matter is most encouraging. A question here would have been no question as to the outcome. The 'outlaw' strike then seeing those parties themselves by their passion, anti-conditions and greed, rather than a good judgment when it demands government ownership of railroads. Nobody is being fooled, however, by the demands. What the labor wants is to take over the railroads and run them in labor's interests. The leaders know that a strike will be a financial disaster, but the long suffering taxpayer would make this good. The public knows this is labor's plea. Furthermore, the public has had its own public utility experience with public operation and with deficits that must be made up by the taxpayer. The public wants no more of this.

The public knows, too, that the nationalization is no more than an entering wedge. It is plain that mines, mills, public utilities and the steel industry are included in the nationalization scheme. It is useless for Messrs. Lewis and Morrison to deny that all this is socialism and communism. The public knows that it is and that nationalization moves on to communism. There is no escaping it, and Messrs. Lewis and Morrison know it. Labor is in worse odor right now in this country than it ever has been in the smashup of the Knights of Labor. It is a cold fact that the simple announcement that union labor favors a thing is all that is needed to turn the minds of reasonable men against it. The only way that labor can get its bill proposed through is to hideous it through. And hiding away a thing is all that is needed to turn the minds of reasonable men against it. The only way that labor can get its bill proposed through is to hideous it through. And hiding away a thing is all that is needed to turn the minds of reasonable men against it. The only way that labor can get its bill proposed through is to hideous it through. And hiding away a thing is all that is needed to turn the minds of reasonable men against it. The only way that Labor leaders gather in Denver in the old mood. Instead of reasoning together, working out their part in the national job of deflation, the chiefs ban their necks and that harkles' bristle at the bare mention of labor getting anything, but more money and shorter hours. They will nationalize all industries and vote themselves more wages and less work. (The trouble with labor's leaders is that they have no sense. If they had they would realize that now is no time to talk about nationalization.)

WARWICK MALE QUARTET

One of Chautauqua's Most Celebrated Quartets to Sing at Our Chautauqua.

The Warwick Quartet was organized for the first service by Elmer Day a number of years ago and in all the seasons of singing since this organization has continually held front rank place. The members are noted for quality work and versatility, and in the wide variety of their offerings no part of the program is introduced as a time filler.—Mr. Hartz, Smith, the manager, is exceptionally fitted for his position not only as a musician but because of the high standard which he demands of his company. Each member holds his place by virtue of special preparation and continued alert. Our patrons have accorded them high praise everywhere on their Wayne Chautauqua appearances. They have made multitudes of friends and will continue to do so by the high character of their work and their gentlemanly bearing and personality.

GIRVIN'S ORCHESTRAL QUINTET

A Company of Musicians That Rank With the Best and Is Exceedingly Popular.

After several years of uninterrupted success on the Mutual Chautauqua, in which their popularity and quality were demonstrated daily, it was decided to re-engage them for a tour of our western circuits as a special hand picked from the Symbony Club Orchestra of Chicago by Ramon E. Girvin, whose personal achievements and prominence in the American Conservatory of Music make it necessary for him to select artists of peculiar merit. Besides the distinguished leader in a liberal number of solos, a trio from within this company will execute exquisitely some specially chosen numbers in which their striking ability will be evidenced. Each member of this orchestra has won individual distinction.

THE BEN HUR PLAYERS AND SINGERS

A Company of Genuine Entertainers—One of the Many Good Things to Be at Our Chautauqua.

This company of years of successes in the Chautauqua and Lyceum is better than ever!—New songs, monologues, character songs, and instrumental numbers. Their program offers enough of the classical to please the connoisseur, and plenty of novel, clear humor to entertain the casual, the lifted, and the young, and to make them glad that they came to the performance. This is the most elaborately costumed company appearing on the Chautauqua platform, believing that something pleasing to the eye is as essential as something to the ear. Their program is comprehensive and ambitious, has been acknowledged by various managers as the best distributed before the public. Miss Edna Soverignius, contralto and character artiste, is exceedingly charming, and the rapidity with which she changes her character costumes is still a marvel to all audiences. Anna Murphy, mezzo and soprano, was a student of Leonard Powers, and has met with great success as an author and reader of short sketches.
