E. B. Giffin of Wayne has accomplished the unusual result of raising sweet corn ready for use before the fourth of July this year. This is a month early as the average crop comes about the first of August. The corn was somewhat damaged by the hot weather in June, the rain finally coming too late to be of much use. If it had rained earlier the yield would have been much greater.

The United States department of agriculture has issued Farmers' Bulletin 1041. "The Efficient Operation of Thrashing Machines," which contains much good advice on this subject.
This bulletin may be obtained by writing to the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.
Boys and Girls Club.
Very important improvements in farm practice are frequently introduced into a county through the medium of the boys and girls' dairy, beef, poultry, or pig clubs, special sets in club work in the United States department of agriculture point out. In one county in California purebred sows have been developed, in which boys and sold to over eight per cent of the farms of the county. Farmers who are doubtful concerning the wisdom of any innovation suggested by the county agent often approve when they see the results obtained by the boys.

"We can think of the boys under 20 in a community as either the 'ins' or the 'outs,'" the specialists say. "Those from 6 to 14, who are still in school, are the 'ins.' Our work is more directly with the 'outs'—from 14 to 20—of the 600,000 boys in the thirty-three northern and western states who should have some sort of instruction and stimulus to accomplishment because they have dropped out of school."
"The 20-year-old boy, helped and guided to good practices, has some likelihood of using what he learns for the ensuing 50 years of normal life expectancy; but if work is begun first with the 50-year-old father, even if he is equally capable of adapting himself to new ideas—which is seldom true—he can have but 20 years or less, according to expectancy calculations, in which to use what he has acquired."

Agriculture Notes

Farming Risks in Plain States.
Risks in the production of three great staple crops—corn, wheat and oats—are greatest in the plains states extending from Texas to North Dakota. This general fact is established by the average deviation of the yield per acre from the average yield, computed by the bureau of crop statistics, United States department of agriculture, for these three crops for each state from the records of fifty years.
On the other hand, the North Atlantic and the western states are regions of comparatively low risk, or deviation of yield per acre from the average for wheat, oats, and the entire Atlantic coast and the west for corn.
The great corn belt, with its enormous production and surplus above local consumption, is after all, prominently subject to risks of weather, insect, and disease in the production of crops; and, while it would be going too far to say of this region as a whole that the results of its agriculture are likely "to feast or to famine," yet there is a tendency in this direction as the area covered by the average becomes more restricted to county, township, and individual farms.
Carelessness in Threshing.
Hundreds of thousands of bushels of corn are lost to consumption each year on American farms because of improper adjustment and lack of efficiency in operation of threshing machines. The United States department of agriculture has given considerable attention to this loss with a view of ascertaining how far improved methods can be economically introduced to adjust waste. It is introduced to adjust waste. It is true, experts point out, that sometimes the time and labor involved in checking a small loss are worth more than the value of the loss. Nevertheless, there are many leaks on almost every threshing job which might easily be stopped by the farmer, as machine

The Early Days in Two Counties

From Wayne Herald July 5, 1881. The fire department building will soon be finished.

Boy Oliver and Mercy Crane were married Monday, June 25, 1884, by Judge Martin.

The small daughter of G. Thompson was badly injured when a board fell on her at the bovery on the Fourth.

Dr. Crawford, recently returned from Chicago, states that the strikes does not exist that city nearly as much as it does Sioux City and other places.

Monday evening a division of the Union Bank Knights of Pythias with thirty members was mustered in at Castle Hall in Wayne by Colonel Sabin of Omaha.

A heavy wind accompanied the rain which fell Friday evening. The sheds on the fair grounds and the crib and windmill belonging to Ray Frazier were blown over.

The marriage of Mr. Chas. S. Beebe and Miss Cora Mae Reynolds took place at the Methodist church in Wayneson Wednesday of last week. Miss Reynolds taught in Norfolk last year.

Markets, July 6, 1884: Eggs, 10c to 12c; butter, 12c to 15c; potatoes, 65c; wheat, 40c to 45c; oats, 25c; rice, 65c; corn, 25c; flour, $3.15; hay, $4.00; logs, $4.00 to $4.30; cattle, $4.00 to $4.25.

The fire alarm was sounded at 2 o'clock on the Fourth and did not quite a commotion. A blaze started in the rear of Furchner, Duerig & Co.'s store, but was soon put out by the fire department.

A. B. Persen of Dodge, who was attending the Nebraska Normal in Wayne, died here at the home of B. S. Olmstead yesterday following a week's illness. He would have graduated at the close of the term.

A large crowd attended the celebration of the Fourth in Wayne yesterday. Music was furnished by the Madison band and Judge Norris of the Eighth Judicial district delivered the oration. The parade was composed of floats from all the business houses and about twenty bicycles from the Wayne Cycle club.

From Ponca—Journal, July 14, 1881. The frequent and heavy rains lately have done no good to the crops.

Ex-senator P. W. Hitchcock of this state, died at Omaha Sunday morning, after an illness of but a few days.

der the management of the band, which has resorted to the most successful manner in which the proceedings were conducted. The presence of Judge Norris was most able and interesting. It was about 10 o'clock in length, and by all who heard it, was pronounced a masterpiece of oratory. It is impossible to do justice to the interesting and eloquent remarks by attempting to give a synopsis of them. The course of the band and singing of the choir were also magnificent. After dinner there were numerous short, but interesting speeches in response to toasts. A novel feature in the entertainment was a declamation by Officer Beatty, a young girl of this place. She acquitted herself in a most praiseworthy manner. The most intricate favored the audience with his poem. There was also before the largest crowd Ponca has ever seen. There were between 2,000 and 3,000 people, among which many of the best of the city were present. After the speeches, toasts, etc., interlarded with the music which the band played, the dance of the refreshment stands, sailing in the swing or otherwise. The dancing was kept up in the bovery until past midnight. In the bovery stand, many were enjoying themselves till near morning.

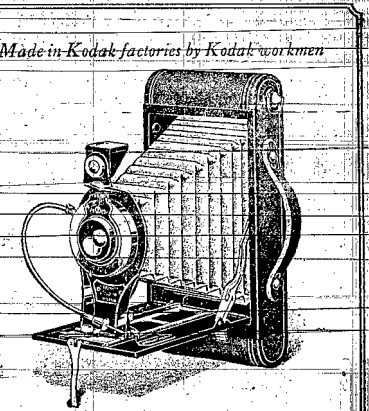

Much Ado About Nothing. Los Angeles Times. The court holds that the Peckford divorce was perfectly good. If anybody has any risk touching it, he would be better off to get it out of his system. At any rate, the attorney general of Nevada is not a wronged or aggrieved party and has nothing to say about it. The court, which tried that case was in error, and the case should be set aside. A longest of factors. There was no warrant in stirring it up from the attorney general's office. The court is quite unrighteous on that point, although the attorney general may not yet be convinced. It is quiet likely, however, that the divorce decree was one of the most costly documents of its kind ever written in Nevada or elsewhere.

No Reason for Alliance. Sioux Falls Argus-Leader. The Manchester Guardian, the ablest daily newspaper in England, sees no reason for an alliance between Japan and England. It says that the more formidable power of Russia and Germany justified such an alliance, but the collapse of both governments put an end to the need of it. The Guardian sees no obstacle to a closer understanding between England and the United States, and it is a most desirable expectation.

Dealer Value and Price Value

An automobile has a certain sale value in dollars and cents, depending upon the market price.

It also has another value measured only by the satisfaction its owner gets from the use of it. The market price is no indication of this value.

This latter value is put into the car by the dealer who sells it. His readiness and ability to serve the car owner makes this value little or great.

Our organization is built up to serve, as well as to sell.

Estimates Tax Levy. Lincoln, Neb., July 11.—An estimate made by State Tax Commissioner W. H. Osborne, based on an estimated reduction of the assessed valuation of all property in the state since the proposed levy of 15.16 mills compared to an excess of 10 mills last year, it is pointed out that increased appropriations call for higher taxes for the support of the state government. This year the increase is to be made upon the full amount of the one-fifth value of property. The legislature changed the law requiring the re-valuation of real estate this year and every two years thereafter. This year the rate of every four years. It is said that this was done to please the farmers, who were loudly complaining of the heavy increase in taxes. In Near Death in Fall. West Point, Neb., July 11.—Claude Harrison, of Beemer, was seriously injured when he fell off a hay stack, striking the ground twenty-five feet below and breaking his left arm and left leg, fracturing two ribs, tearing from the spinal column, a rib, and fracturing the largest vertebra. The crushed vertebra ground into the spinal cord, almost severing the cord. Paralysis of the entire body below was the result. He was immediately taken to Omaha and an X-ray examination made. He is reported to be in a serious condition. Hospital and doing as well as could be expected, but doctors hold out little hope for him. War Extends Visit Eight Years. Kearney, Neb., July 11.—Following an absence of eight years due to the war, Julius Weigel has returned home to his home in Kearney. In 1913, Weigel went to Germany to visit relatives there, but the European war broke out and he was prevented from returning to the country. Afterwards the United States entered and he stated he was held a virtual prisoner in Germany for a few months, due to the errors of the Swiss consul, he was released. More American Palates Changed. Sioux Falls Argus-Leader: More trouble among Chicago restaurateurs. They claim men, deprived of the cocktail as an appetizer, do not enjoy their meals. Physiological Action of Tanlac Explained World's Leading Authorities Show Just What Tanlac Really Is and Explain Effect of Each of Ten Ingredients on the Human System. Power of Medicine Conclusively Proven.

A day never passes but what thousands of people ask the questions: "What is Tanlac? Why its phenomenal success? Why do we hear so much about it? and Why has this preparation so far outstripped all other medicines of its kind?"

The answer to these questions ever and can be explained in just one word—Tanlac is scientifically compounded and represents years of work, study, experimentation and research by some of the foremost chemists and pharmacologists of America.

The Tanlac formula is purely ethnical and scientific. All National and State Pure Food Laws. It is purely vegetable and is made from the most beneficial roots, herbs and barks known to Materia Medica. The Tanlac Laboratories are among the largest and most modernly equipped in the country.

Ten Ingredients in Tanlac. Although there are ten ingredients in Tanlac, each of which is recognized therapeutic value. In referring to one of the more important ingredients of Tanlac, the Encyclopedia Britannica says: "It has been the source of the most valuable tonic medicines that have ever been discovered."

Tonic and Body Builder. Tanlac was designed primarily for the correction of disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. At the same time, however, it is a powerful reconstructive tonic and body builder. It is highly esteemed in loss of appetite, nervousness, convalescence from acute diseases.

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher.

Parasit Animals. I ride in pomp and circumstance, in my large shining ambulance that cost three thousand bucks; with pride I drive my gorgeous rig, my motor and then I squash a pig, or maim some hens and ducks. The chick is played and grows no grass, no rock-bedded dirt, they mean to attract; yet, in their feeble mind, all day they haunt the public road. They have the green and grassy plain; they'll quit the meadows, lush with grain, the orchard and the lawn, to loiter upon the dusty rick, and walk rather than they strike and then they leave the grateful shade along the highway to invade a strange, besotted band and all the critics of the farm in naked apron and chain that's hard to understand. By dell and spriny I proceed, my cocklebur and jimson weed, and by the roadside, yod, by yagrent yod, and clouds of gorse, and here and there I hit a hare and there a mule. In vain this sort of dreg I sing; one can't do justice to this thing, my brethren, in an ode; the rick with animals is it seems to me that Noah's Ark was emptied

His Worst Foe. His own worst enemy, a man said when Jasper Piffleton lay dead. And another who would never have dumped into a cheap-john garage, ranged high among the piled joys which came after the auction in every vein and the game. His friends beseeched him to reform an guard against the day of storm by selling the property at once and the piece of night. The village banker, a good advice, and said, "You'll never get back the price; then you'll regret, in scullion terms, the folly of these wasted years." But Jasper Piffleton ignored the wise man's counsel, and was tormented by the street-walkers full of filthy muds. One day he found the job man and never could get back again. "Oh, you're a fool," he said to the man when advancing years brought him, he could not buy Doc Dingbat's pills, which heal all pains and raise the dead and give new whickers on your head. And in one bleak and dismal day this Jasper gem was laid away in the ground, and the hill-top country doctor told the hill-top "It may be used in all cases of new debility of the digestive organs, or nervous and tonic impression, or required."

Convention Slaves. The rags I wear are always duller than in the autumn months. I regret I would not lead a gorgeous coat. I had contrary so to do. I'd wear silk shirts with stiffies of crimson and garnet, and garnet trousers; smart; I'd be a sight to cast your glances on; I had not a rabbit's tail. But I'm doomed to something else. For dreary days we make our payment, and like morticians we appear. If I should drap my ancient hood in bright tins, the folks would say, "That pelican is much too gaudy for one whose head is bald and gray; instead of wearing silk garments stand, and spend his evenings reading sermons; preparing for another land." I'm old in years but young in spirit, and I will dress like sweet sixteen; but men's rube! alas, I fear it, and cut out pink and red and green, but she has zaiment on the mind, and you would take her for a chicken if you should run from behind in the crowd. I was a dash of yellow, she lifts her head in wild dismay, and cries, "You fool, fish, silly fellow!" Such colors when the head is gray, and the hair is thin, and age becomes a fair ally to the soul of a thing and a piece of cheese.

Popularity. I have a lot of good friends who greet me every day, and genuine affection lends much warmth to things they say. They meet me on the street, or track where I go out, and call me gaily on the back, and call me Good Old Scout. For I have never sold a rick for a profit. I was dress like I've never promised, with I never tried that I would save the voters' prejudices, as volunteered to fill a grave to save our Precious Peace. I've never pledged myself to ease the burdens that men bear, or hunted out the cheery where, where Statesmen pass the air. I sit beneath my tree and view and pen my remembrance. I've never, since a friend of mine to help me at the polls. So there is nothing that abates the love men have for me; for they are tired of candidates and talk of Liberty. Our Sacred Bulwarks sometimes seem a tople rather vain, and men require some other things to keep them set and sane. And when they see me lead my goat along the village street, they know I will not ask a vote, nor my people cry, "It is a comfort for the people cry, 'that there's one man in town who never has the wish to try to help an office down. They are men with loving lamps, with lamps that shine like stars, and borrow two-cent postage stamps, and touch me for cigars."

Fatigue. When worn from toiling in the sun, from bolding an cutting ice, the rest that comes when day is done, is surely, surely worth the price. I labored hard for a week, I sprung new curves in honest toil; the neighbors heard my hinges creak as though they needed castor oil. The night I lay in bed, my head breaks, and cultivate the growing spuds, as they rotted by in limousines, all draped up in their costly blades. The nearest road along the shore and up down the asphalt paved and found all modern things, as last it bored them so they had to accept their fate with a sigh and sighs, and cursed because they couldn't sleep. And I, fatigued by honest toil, found peace and comfort in my bed. I'd let my trousers on the soil, over where the pallid pumpkin grows. Oh, I had done the best worth; I felt I had achieved something to venerate my stay on earth. And that's a feeling most sublime for any man to entertain, to know he has not wasted time or led a day get by vain. And in a spirit calm was mine, when to my couch night

Get the joy that's due you!

We print it right here that if you don't know the "feel" and the friendship of a joyous jimmy pipe—GO GET ONE!—And get some Prince Albert and bang a howdy-do on the big smoke-gong!

For, Prince Albert's quality—flavor—coolness—fragrance—is in a class of its own! You never tasted such tobacco! Why—figure out what it alone means to your tongue and temper when we tell you that Prince Albert can't bite, can't parch! Our exclusive patented process fixes that!

Prince Albert is a revelation in a man's cigarette! My, but how that delightful flavor makes a dent! And, now it does answer that hankering! Prince Albert rolls easy and stays put because it is crimped cut. And, say—oh, go on and get the papers or a pipe! Do it right now!

Make Yourself Winner of Dodge Touring Car August 13

First Period
Terminating July 31, the following number of Credits will be issued on subscriptions:

	Old Sub.	New Sub.
5 Years	$10.00	25,000 50,000
4 Years	8.00	18,000 36,000
3 Years	6.00	12,000 24,000
2 Years	4.00	8,000 16,000
1 Year	2.00	4,000 8,000

Easy to Get
This shows how easy it will be to get your high credit total in this campaign. The "credit" schedule will not be repeated or continued. During the next sixteen days more credits are allowed for subscriptions than will be given at any other time during the Campaign. As a consequence, more activity should take place during the next few days than at any other time during the life of the Club.

If you really knew you could win one of the prizes The Herald will give away next month you would pull off your coat, roll up your sleeves and hustle day and night, wouldn't you? But when you have an equal chance to own one of them why hesitate in getting busy? Why? Self-reliance is all you need. Muster up the determination you possess. This is an American campaign filled with all the things that typical Americans like; such as health, opportunity, speed, luxury—everything combined in a manner to make it exhilarating and profitable. Do you want the Dodge car? If you do, what keeps you out of this interesting and worth while? Get busy now. Make things hum the next sixteen "Big Credit" days.

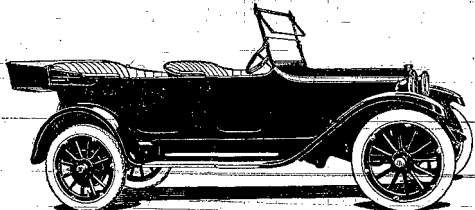

Get Busy Now
Only sixteen more days of the big "First Period" credits—sixteen more days in which to secure the maximum of credits for subscriptions in the Herald's Salesmanship Club. Sixteen days in which to win or lose, for that is exactly what it means. There is just one thing to do and that is get every available subscription now.

Rules Governing Credit Schedule and Special Credit Offer
The credit schedule printed on the covers of all members' receipt books, is on a declining scale basis, and will not be changed during the "Salesmanship Club Campaign." However a special ballot, good for 75,000 Extra Credits will be issued on every club of "$25.00" worth of subscriptions turned in. This arrangement will be in effect throughout the campaign and is to be considered a part of the regular schedule. There will be no extra Credit offers of any kind made during the campaign. Remember this and lay your plans accordingly. No subscriptions will be accepted for less than one year, or more than five years in advance from any one club member. The subscription price of the Herald is $2.00 per year.

Saturday night, July 30
Marks the close of the "First Period." After that there is a decided decrease in the credit value of subscriptions. And then in a few more days there is another decline until finally the credit schedule is cut in half. Put in your "best bets" now while every moment of your time can be most valuable to you in winning one of the major prizes.

Mid-Summer Offerings of Voiles and Organdies

A fresh lot of piece goods just received from the makers. We have a most enticing display of the very newest styles in cool-summer fabrics. These are on display now and you will profit by examining them soon. The new pieces of voile and organdie are in beautiful shades for dainty summer dresses. There are also new, figured pieces which will attract you because of their beauty and the reduced prices. They will make beautiful dresses or blouses and are comfortable and neat during the warm mid-summer days.

While attending the chautauqua this week come in and we will gladly show you these pretty new pieces. If you need one new summer frock let us show you our line of new piece goods. There are still three months of warm weather and you will get a great deal of service from a thin, dainty organdie or voile dress. Now is the time to buy goods for dress because they can be of such use and they cost less at this time of year.

If you are planning school dresses for the children let us be of service in showing you the new materials.

Trimmings and Patterns

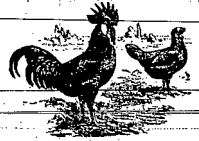

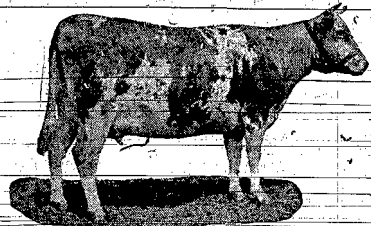

We will also be glad to show you our complete line of trimmings, dainty pieces, embroideries, and other finishing materials that will give the added touch to the new dress. Let us help you plan the dress. We always have a good line of patterns and will be glad to help you with your new summer frocks.

Are You Getting all the Money You Should for Your Cream, Butter, Eggs and Poultry?

In fairness to yourself you should give the above question considerable thought. There was a time when most of the farmers considered their poultry and milch cows as only a side line.

Pin Money for the Wife

as some put it, but the constant efforts of the different state's agriculture departments, and of leading produce dealers in educating producers to the importance of this branch of the farm have begun to bear fruit, until the time has arrived when most of the farmers are giving these items due consideration. As a matter of fact, there is nothing on the farm that will bring the steady year-round returns as do the chickens when given half a chance, and the same may be said of the milch cow, but after you have given these the proper care and attention on the farm, there is yet another very important factor which goes to make it profitable, and that is finding the proper market for your stuff and—

HERE IS WHERE WE COME IN

Our scales are tested several times daily, also our cream testing apparatus is examined frequently, and by keeping these things in proper working order, enables us to guarantee correct weights and quality on every purchase. This in itself is a big factor in getting all the money due to you, but we also have the price and can give you all your stock worth in line with the large markets. We have but one method of doing business and that is fairness to all, either new or old customers, we treat you with the same consideration, so if you sell to us once and are satisfied with the results, you are going to be satisfied with all your future transactions. We did not come to Wayne for a few weeks or months, but have come here to live and make it our home, as the saying goes.

Birthday Celebration

Beulah Holcomb entertained a number of friends Saturday afternoon in a party in honor of her birthday. The anniversary was furnished a pastime and refreshments were served. A birthday cake with twelve candles delighted the children.

Methodist Church.

(Rev. George Carter, Pastor.)

Regular services will be held next Sunday.

Sunday evening the Epworth League societies of Norfolk, Winnsboro and Winside will hold a joint meeting at Winside to arouse interest in the Epworth assembly to be held in Norfolk. The Epworth assembly is an annual occasion and it is hoped that the leagues of this part of the state may be well represented.

Fortie members will have charge of the meeting next Sunday evening.

The Missionary society met Friday afternoon at the church parlors. It was decided that the next meeting which will be the first Friday in August, will be held at the George Lewis grove. Supper will be served for the members of the society and their families.

The Epworth League members were entertained last Friday evening by Miss Faye and William Wylie at their home near Winside. Games and the carrying of a pleasant diversion and the host and hostess served ice cream and cake.

Postal Accounting.

Philadelphia, Public Ledger: As being the memory of man running up to the contrary, one of the most splendid games played in official Washington has been the ingenious adaptation of Childhood's pastime, "Duck on a hot iron, who's got the button?" in which the postal deficit has been the button and almost everyone else, including present postal master general and public, has at one time or another been the searcher. The nice part about this game as it has been played in Washington is that you never can be sure who is hiding the button or who is seeking it, but you can always be sure there is a button.

Philippines Missed Up.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: Under the Wilson administration the Philippine natives were given entire control of their local government. Americans previously employed being sent home. Having had little or no experience in self government, the polyglot mixture of white men, brown men and other colors made a mess out of things in a financial way. They were exactly on a par in such knowledge with the socialist dreamers and agitators that Twain imported to advise and rule the people of North Dakota.

Prepared for Emergencies.

Washington Post: Cincinnati's new $3,000,000 hospital is probably intended to accommodate that large part of her population which said it had to have beer as a medicine.

No Incentive.

Iroquois, S. D. Chief: We don't see why anyone wanted to join that anti-prohibition parade in New York. If there had been a brewer at the head of the march there might have been some inducement to take the look out.

Better Have Too Much Granary Space Than Not Enough

Out of the grain belt within the past year came tragic stories of threshed wheat spoiling on the open ground because farmers who were holding it for a better price had no granaries.

This was an unusual condition and may never occur again, but most farmers have, at other times, found their granary space over-taxed. It meant a loss large or small. At any rate it is true that—

It IS Better to Have Too Much Granary Space Than Not Enough.

And everybody knows the ideal granary is built of wood. Wood keeps grain in splendid condition. Lumber is easy to handle and work, frame granaries can be built rapidly. They can be moved to a new location. They can be added to. They are inexpensive.

Ask us for an estimate of the cost of the granary you want to build.

RICKARD WOULD MATCH GIBBONS-CARPENTIER

Tommy Gibbons, 170-pound brawler of St. Paul, is to be matched with Georges Carpentier for a big Labor Day bout in the ring at Jersey City, where Dempsey defeated the French champion, if Tex Rickard has his way. Willard is so hopelessly out of condition, and so old that Rickard thinks a Dempsey-Willard return bout will be an imposition on the public, while if Gibbons whipped Carpentier—then a Dempsey-Gibbons match would be in the offing.

Notice of Hearing. To the heirs, creditors and all persons interested in the estate of Amos Wright, deceased. You, each and every, are hereby notified that on the 22nd day of June, 1921, P. L. Mabbutt filed his petition in the county court of Wayne county, Nebraska, alleging that Amos Wright departed this life intestate in Dixon county, Nebraska, on or about March 22, 1909, and that at the time of his death he was a resident of the village of Maskell, said Dixon county, Nebraska; that said decedent died seized in fee simple of the south 40 acres of lot 4 and all of lot 5, in block 9, in north addition to the city of Wayne, in Wayne county, Nebraska, and that he left surviving him as his sole and only heir at law, Stanley S. Wright, his widow, Lydia E. Munson, his daughter, Lillian M. Foltz, his daughter, Clarence E. Wright, his son, Robert E. Wright, his son, Eliza L. Wright, his daughter, Minnie E. Wright, his daughter, George S. Wright, his son, and Mary M. Wright, his daughter. Said petition further alleges that said P. L. Mabbutt is not the owner in fee simple of the above described real estate and that he has debts, claims, demands and obligations against the estate of said Amos Wright, deceased, including the expenses of his last sickness and his funeral charges have been paid in full; that no application has ever been made in the state of Nebraska for the appointment of an administrator of the estate of said decedent and that said estate has never been probated. Said petition prays for a finding and decree determining the time of death of said Amos Wright, deceased, that he died intestate and prays for a determination of his heirs, the degree of kinship, the right of descent of said real estate and for an order barring claims of creditors against said estate, and prays for general relief. Said petition will be heard before me at the county court room in the city of Wayne, Wayne county, Nebraska, on the fifth day of July, 1921, at 10 o'clock a. m. of said day at which time the heirs, creditors and all other persons interested in said estate may appear and show cause why a decree should not be made and granted as prayed in said petition. Witness my hand and official seal at Wayne, Nebraska, this 22nd day of June, 1921. J. M. Cherry, County Judge. (Seal) 1903

Rev. Frank Williams and using word for word the Herald's writup of Carroll's Fourth of July celebration, thus saving unnecessary mention of the local celebration, charges that Wayne people did not attend Carroll's celebration in sufficient numbers. How does our readers know how many Wayne people attended the celebration? Is the wall between the two towns so high that people in Wayne cannot see from among the hundreds who attended? Isn't it a fact that he just wanted to take a throb at Wayne in the hope of disturbing the good friendship between the two towns?

Preparation

Spending your last dollar each week is no way of preparing for the future. There may come a time when you will not have a last dollar to spend. Then where will you turn for aid and comfort? Surely those with whom you spent your last dollar will not assist you.

Better that a man practice Thrift and lay aside part of his income, even though it be only two or three dollars each week. Then he can rest assured that the road of the future will be easier to travel when adverse conditions come upon him. He will have the necessary wherewithal to tide him over the rough spots.

Stop in today and let us show you how a Savings Account with us will safeguard your future.

Gasoline + Oil = Mileage

But high-grade, straight-run gasoline plus heat-resisting Monogram oil equals economical mileage.

We wish to prove to your entire satisfaction that it pays to use our products in your car and truck and in order to do so we ask that you make the following trial:

Drive into our filling station, let us drain out the old oil from your motor and fill with clean fresh Monogram oil. Then let us fill your tank with our straight-run gasoline. During a period of thirty days, when your supply of gasoline or oil needs replenishing, drive in and let us fill you up.

If you will use no other grades than what we recommend for the thirty-day period, we are certain you will be convinced that it is the cheapest in the long run to get your supplies at our station. Just try this tip and learn what real automobile satisfaction is.

Distinction is Fine.
New York City. The increasingly painful gyrations of the C. O. P. Best Minds in seeking to arrive at a solution of the peace problem that shall have all the points of the Versailles treaty without being the Versailles treaty remind the sympathetic observer of the expert who denied that Shakespeare's plays were not to light wine and beer. If that were possible it would still be necessary to credit prohibition with having forced the country into a more decent and wholesome mode of living.

Bank Account Scandal Citizen.
Chicago Tribune—Possession of a bank account tends to make the possessor a more stable citizen. A bank check and a habit of paying bills in full are more solidly founded in the same pocket. The owner of a bank account becomes most intelligently interested in protecting and increasing his reserve by putting good men into office and supporting sound economic and political policies.

Prohibition's Effect Showed.
Springfield, Mass., Republican. If prohibition should ever be repealed it would still be necessary to credit prohibition with having forced the country into a more decent and wholesome mode of living.

Stultiver, Okla., Gazette. Firm judgment in threatening time are not broken up by prohibitions which circulate on other banks in the same component of the liquor laws as they pocket. The owner of a bank account in getting their crops taken care becomes most intelligently interested in
