In speaking of an automobile accident, a newspaper reporter states that a boy was "struck on the crossing," and we are wondering if the boy in the human anatomy, the "crossing" is indicated.

The city park has become a beautiful spot, particularly shaded, and is a source of great pleasure. The park board is to be commended for fixing up the place and making it most attractive and useful.

If a man applies himself to his task and makes a reasonable success, he is apt to be regarded as selfish and greedy. If he is a loafer and does nothing, he is regarded as a man whose affairs, he is dubbed a failure.

Japan's increasing strength is a source of concern to many. It is reducing and restricting armaments and enduring peace may be established.

Often people expect too much in profits. Frequently men who are not doing even better in business than they did a year ago when prices were high and money was circulating plentifully, are dissatisfied. In going to a lower level of prices, many losses were necessarily sustained. With fewer and better bargains being picked up, no one has good reason to be other than encouraged.

This week closes another summer term at the Wayne State Normal, and it is worthy of note that the attendance has largely surpassed all previous records. It is believed the new year which opens in September, will be a record-breaking one in attendance. The State Normal has enjoyed a steady growth, and it is filling an important part in the educational circles of Nebraska.

Go to any northeast Nebraska town on Sunday and you will find the bulk of the population engaged in a ball game from the local team and that of some neighboring town. If you should want to find a citizen the average town will have a game in progress, you are more than likely to find him next to the diamond stand for his favorite team. The ball is evidently still the great national game.

Some members of the police department of Sioux City have been exposed and denounced by the mayor of that town as corrupt and unfit. Police officers are not men of sense, who are given much temptation, often fall in and obstruct rather than aid the ends of justice. If the mayor's charges are true, Sioux City's police department needs a vigorous overhauling. It looks as though a policeman would be a good need of watching and correcting than other sinners when they are supposed to keep orderly and respectable.

It is annoying, to say the least, to read a newspaper, even out of sympathy, and then, at the expiration, to be unable to stop it. During the Herald's canvass from year to year, some complaints have been made that publishers have not discontinued subscriptions when repeatedly asked to do so. When a man has been asked to discontinue, it is his duty to do so to expect that he will be able to stop it, when the time is out, and so to prolong a needless expense on the state militia. The Herald's unvarying policy to stop a subscription when a paper is not wanted helps materially in extending its list.

It is when the "fads" and "leaves" lead into a basket of evil, and on every afternoon, a large crowd was present to witness the sidewalk show of men, and all the skill and skillful on the baseball diamond, have other accomplishments that would become part of development of boys until the meeting of the two extremes, long unacquainted with playing, securing a number of errors which people enjoyed. It is when the "fads" were the better players, but that they could not get anywhere on time on any of the other side had to carry. The "leaves" were less aerial displacement and were more nimble and fleet-footed.

A traveling man who has been visiting throughout Nebraska for the last thirty years, says he has never never seen a better corn crop than the one now maturing. It is uniformly good, and it is higher in proportion to the acreage. In the average yield of the greatest quantity and finest quality. In June when more than two weeks of scorching, dry weather had set in, the crop in many people, go to trembling with apprehension. The corn was well up, and when ample moisture punctuated the inclement weather, it developed luxuriantly. It is two or three weeks ahead of the usual year, and early frost could hardly be hard enough to find the crop unimpaired.

We fear the human backbone is more stiff than it used to be, and that it needs to get back to pre-war stability and courage. The stress of reconstruction, in the maze of which we are now living, has been a disadvantage—often to get something for nothing—seems to have tended to dull conscience and cultivate selfishness. In the interest of the public good, people should feel more independent of less fellow-conscience. Instead of being so selfish, ambition, the conscience should be allowed to be higher and finer things. Like the pendulum of business which is swinging toward recovery, the pendulum of conscience should be encouraged.

It is a mistake to suppose that the man who looks for an unprejudiced opinion should be considered a man of weak and higher standard. A man of unselfishness, sympathy and helpfulness.

Nebraska Crop Leads.

Lincoln, Neb., July 27.—Nebraska ranks the nation in corn condition. It is the only state exceeding expectations in quality and general yield, while other states are reporting "disappointing yields, abnormal quality." Some of the leading crop reports of the United States, by means of reports compiled from the state reports. Nearly all of the important crops of the state are reported a "lowered condition," according to the report.

Nebraska, Iowa and Ohio are mentioned in the favored crop states, while Indiana, Illinois and Missouri report danger from drought. Conditions are in South Dakota and Minnesota, but unfavorable in Wisconsin.

Nebraska appears to be at the head of the list for the condition for winter wheat, except for Kansas, for which no state report was received. This is an important matter as Kansas, Illinois, Missouri and Ohio report disappointing yields, poor quality grain, while Nebraska is reported to have an excellent quality of grain. No recent reports have been received from Kansas and Ohio, but not previous reports indicated somewhat better yields than had been anticipated.

Using the Interest Money.

Springfield, Mass., Republican. The interest on the allied debts of the United States—none of which has yet been repaid—has been loaned to the promoters of nearly all new legislative projects involving appropriations from the treasury. They propose an easy solution of the finance problem that the interest money on those loans be used for defraying the cost of their several endowments. It is invariably presented as a brilliant idea, completely disposing of all possible objections on the part of the taxpayers who would not be raised by the taxation of the American people.

The chief object that the existence of the allied debts to the United States might promote extravagance and waste of public money if congress should pay the interest of the loans from other public funds in the treasury and draw upon them for special purposes. Schemes that could be carried out on the basis of loans on their own merits might reach the statute book if the financing of them were to change from the present method of interest payments. It is also to be observed that large appropriations thus conditioned might cause a concentration of money, and owing to the increasing disposition of our government to play the part of a hard creditor in response to the financial policies that "overriding this aim, from toothache to eternal torment, results: from a liberalization of the terms of the same—versus—may be the better way to carry the money is interrupted or entirely subordinated by the remedy. The remedy, then, is not to be found in the taxing of the proceeds of mental demonstrations. It is to be found in a strengthening of mental discipline, such as manifested tion is indicated, but to proceed by scientific method, and to put the offending side, in which it is to be corrected. It is never from this line of argument we reason that phlebotomy is the result of faulty distribution of vital energy by the nervous system, and that it is to be moved from the point of inflaming activity, that might be admitted to be a cure. It is a mistake to suppose that the man who looks for an unprejudiced opinion should be considered a man of weak and higher standard. A man of unselfishness, sympathy and helpfulness.

It is a mistake to suppose that the man who looks for an unprejudiced opinion should be considered a man of weak and higher standard. A man of unselfishness, sympathy and helpfulness.

What took place, this may be said by the best of us. I had to go to bed. And questions troubled me a lot. Like this one "Is my back on straight?"

Some applicants told me they were quoted "good for veins so wrecked."

I used them all with grand effect. It seems that they have drained the life of mortal error of this kind.

Helping the Railroads.
Sioux City Journal: Committed from the beginning to a speedy reconstruction which could be effected, the Harding administration has seen a slower movement toward normalcy than it was the confident belief of many that the administration would bring about the desired results which would restore business confidence. Always in time of stress, and in every emergency, it is the duty of the administration to help the railroads.

President Harding is at last convinced that the administration must make a more heroic effort to reconstruct, must undertake the carrying of a greater part of the burden, which the people have not helped to shoulder. It is more determined today, after observing the diffidence of the public, than he was when he took office. It is invariably presented as a brilliant idea, completely disposing of all possible objections on the part of the taxpayers who would not be raised by the taxation of the American people.

Anybody can see that a business revival, such as is needed everywhere throughout the country, must come. Its delay does not make the revival less possible, it simply postpones it. Too much money is invested in American business for the thing to be long drawn out. The demand for the products of business is too insistent for producers not to hear it. None needs to guess what is the most necessary thing today in the business world.

It is not necessary to go to the heart of the question is in what the railroads are going to do, or rather what they are going to do. Transportation is a necessary thing in any country. Here in America it is absolutely impossible to conceive of a country being able to flourish without efficient transportation systems. That conviction is what has actuated President Harding to go forward with the program that it refound the railroads' debt—help them to re-construct—help them to re-construct—help them to re-construct.

The solution President Harding has recommended to congress is one simple in the extreme. He pointed out that the present method of financing the debt, by adding tax to tax, would be a heavy burden on the people. It is merely means the helpful offices of the government tend to the railroads to remove their financial burden.

Mr. Mol's Effects Far Reaching.
Lincoln Journal: California's mob deportation of Japanese immigrants will help the government's negotiation for a peaceable understanding of the long pending Japanese question. The Harding administration has not yet done all that it means to do for a revival of business. It can be depended upon to exhaust its resources and to carry over the task. It would be to the advantage of the entire country, however, if the people everywhere would cut their losses with the government in the effort to bring about business revival as speedily as possible. The mutual interests ought to be sufficient to induce the public that it would be serving itself by joining the movement.

Announcement

We have just received our new fall and winter woollens from Ed. V. Price & Co. for your fall suit. This big display of 500 woollens is now ready for your inspection.

This fall line embodies all that is good in woolen patterns—the new herring-bone pattern in all shades of grey and brown—neat pin stripes, tartan plaids, and more clear hand finished worsteds than we have seen since the days before the war.

Select the pattern you want now and lay your order for your fall suit, thus insuring that you will get the woolen you like. Have the finished garments come out when you want them, as late as October if you wish.

The prices for this season are down a full third or more from the peak of prices of last fall, marking the range now $35.00 and up.

Select your fall clothes now; have them come out when you want them. We guarantee a fit and perfect satisfaction in every instance.

DADDY OF TRAINS STEAMS FOR ANOTHER RUN

In August, 1831, the DeWitt Clinton, first train of the Mohawk and Hudson Railroad, now of the New York Central lines, made its first trip from Albany to Schenectady. Times changed as man advanced and the little DeWitt Clinton gave way to bigger and better locomotives and passenger cars. All this time the little train has been kept intact and used as an exhibit. This month it comes to life again and will make the trip from New York to Chicago under its own power, where it will be exhibited in the Pageant of Progress to be held here the latter part of this month. The picture shows the DeWitt Clinton and Twentieth Century in New York Terminal.

Iced Watermelons

33c PER POUND

Carload service on this item makes this low price possible. Melons shipped by local freight have to be sold at nearly double the price. Wayne patrons have access to carload service on various items and deserve plenty of co-operation. This is the first season you have had an opportunity to buy melons thoroughly iced cooled. Call us up; we deliver free.

Gallon Fruits—All Kinds

Gallon fruits are selling well. Threshing has helped the demand. The truck represents most anything you can mention in the fruit line. Special gallon—red raspberries, 20c per quart, 1 quart for $1.65, now on sale at $1.25. Good for table use or fine for pies. Include one or more in your next order.

Five Pound Can California Prunes 80 Cents

A big cash purchase makes this price possible. This stock is the best ever, selected in a tight tight; no chance of having been contaminated with weevil. A rare bargain.

Have Your Peach Orders Booked Now. Car to Arrive About August 10

You can't lose as we guarantee quality and price. It begins to look like higher prices on peaches for August delivery. If you have your order booked you are protected against probable advances. This car will be the best freestone canning peach—that's Ebertas.

Old Wheat Flour—We Have It

If you have heard "bad luck" with flour, Mystic, My-Kind, or Ethan Allen flour will cure all bread-making troubles. It's really a pleasure to sell flour—the kinds that require no apologies.

Holsum Bread

The loaf has lately been increased in size and the quality better than ever. If you buy bread let it be Holsum. You secure a full measure of value in every loaf.

Sinclair Auto Oil, 75 Cents, Five Gallon Lots

Sinclair auto oil has stood the test for all makes of cars—there is no better oil made. Ask for the little book "Law of Lubrication." It's free. Contains information all car-owners should know.

Buy Sugar For Canning, $7.40 Per Bag

We would not be surprised to see sugar advance $1.00 or possibly $2.00 per bag. Some say it will go to $10.00. The market is strong.

Canned Apricots, Five Cans for $1.00

This is the best bargain and the best selling item we ever offered. Think of buying a solid pack No. 2 1/2 can at five for $1.00. It's not unusual to sell to a single customer from one, up to three cases. 100 cases received last week are half sold. Canned fruit is advancing and it's probable this will be the last lot of apricots at this low price, $2.35 per dozen.

Pure Cider Vinegar, Three Years Old, 50 Cents Gallon

Rich and mellow, full strength and natural color. Costs no more than newly made raw vinegar. You will appreciate the difference for table use or home pickling. In bulk or glass gallon jugs.

Heinz White Pickling Vinegar

This item is well known and many depend on us for this item every year. It's an item of quality. In bulk or bottles:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Five pound can California prunes ($1.00), One gallon black raspberries (20 cent syrup $1.25), One quart Mason jar sweet pickles (50c), Mazola oil in bulk, quart (50c), Peanut butter, homemade (25c), Bulk cocoa nut, per pound (10c), Five one-pound cans sweet corn ($1.00), Five one-pound cans fresh mackerel ($1.00), Pickled herring, per quart ($1.25).

The Early Days in Two Counties

From Wayne Herald, July 20, 1891.

Markets: Corn, 45c; Wheat, 75c; Flax, 90c; Oats, 32c.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Grant Means Sunday, July 27, 1891. New floors have been put in the depot and the entire building has been painted.

Garner & Farrabee, of Blair will open a general merchandise store in Wayne August 10.

Rue & Fortner have moved their meat market into the new brick building just completed on Second Street.

Dr. Jones has engaged in the real estate and loan business with his office in the First National bank building.

The fine weather the past week has caused corn to grow rapidly. The harvesting of small grain has begun. The soil is large and the quality excellent.

Owing to the tremendous grain crop in Wayne county, which will cause an immense amount of business, people believe that the railroad company ought to reduce its freight rates.

A couple of tramps were found on the trucks of one of the cars on the U. P. passenger Monday and were ordered off. In attempting to get back one of them narrowly escaped being crushed by the wheels as the train started.

A man gets a snake show at the Sebald building Wednesday evening, exhibiting about twenty different snakes. He is making a collection to winter the reptiles.

About two hundred and fifty men were paid a bonus for their twenty five cents a pound for them.

The buildings at the Fair grounds have been painted and repaired, and additional sheds are being built and the old ones repaired. The race track has been put in excellent condition. It is planned to make the race west and fair the best held in this part of the state.

On last Saturday a man by the name of Crockett who had been in the employ of McKinzie for a week or more went to the residence of the latter about four miles south of West side and demanded his wages. Mr. McKinzie informed him that he did not have the money but would get it for him when he went to Winfield. Crockett said he would take it out of Mr. McKinzie's hide and taking a knife from his pocket carried him there in the session by cutting a severe slash in the latter's arm.

In return Mr. McKinzie, for self protection, plunged a knife with which he was armed into the breast of Crockett, making a severe wound and the latter is now in bed as a result of his folly. On Sunday evening Sheriff Rickabaugh received a band and went to Winfield and securing a team at Chapin's livery, proceeded to the country in the afternoon.

Mr. Crockett was in bed and would not accede to arrest. Rickabaugh then went to McKinzie's and arrested him without a warrant having been unable to get Crockett to make a complaint. He brought him to Wayne, notifying a number of witnesses to appear in a day or two next morning (Friday).

On Monday of County Attorney Wright in regard to the matter, he stated that he had nothing to do with the case as there was no criminal complaint made, and the prisoner was discharged. The witness came on the Thursday morning and made it known that the sheriff shall pay their expenses or they will make it lively for him. What the result will be in either case we cannot surmise as the stories are very conflicting.

From Pema Journal July 25, 1921.

On Monday a Tuesday gentle and refreshing showers visited us in place of the boiling hot weather of the last two weeks.

Grain is now being harvested throughout the county. Wheat is yielding wonderfully, consistent with the weather of the past ten days.

We noticed while at St. Louis City last week that the town was as dull as a church when the business are concluded and the people have gone out.

Considerable complaint is being made about cattle being allowed to run on the streets at night. C. S. Ford's garden was destroyed by the brutes a few nights since.

It was reported on Saturday that three more men had been killed by sunstroke, but investigation proved that the rumor was false. Deceased, named Parr and Wenter, were affected, but neither fatally.

The Indian war in Oregon still continues. It is believed by another Modoc arrangement. The red villains are snugly ensconced in their temporary headquarters and several hundred whites have already been killed in the efforts to dislodge them.

On the other hand, the news is coming into northern Nebraska is immense. At the present rate, before winter there will be about the same number of men were in the summer. Let them come. We have for their consideration any quantity of the best of land, well watered, with plenty of timber and a healthy and invigorating climate.

Wheatfield Man Toss Market. Omaha, Drovers' Journal. Stockman Wm. Hugelmann, extensive dealer of Wheatfield brought in five lots of well finished 1,140 pound steers today which sold at the top of the day's market, $9.25. This set a new high mark for recent weeks—on steers that heavy. Mr. Hugelmann requests that his steers, which have been on feed since the first of this year, are money makers. Part of them were bought to fall at $8.50, weighing only a little over 600 pounds, and he later cheapened down the drove with a bunch of heavier feeders that cost him $11.00.

"The run of corn-fed cattle is nearly over for this season" Mr. Hugelmann said. "There are several bunches of finisher steers around Winfield, but they have been moving freely the last two weeks, and will not last much longer. It is too early to tell much about feeding prospects for next winter. I believe there will be plenty of money for feeder buying this fall, but a lot of stockmen want to buy good feeders around $8.00, and if they get much higher than that cattlemen may balk at the price."

"We have every prospect for another big crop of corn, and for that reason I look for a good deal of feeding. A good many farmers who have been holding last year's corn are cleaning out their cribs now since the new crop seems assured. One of my neighbors said all he had left at 37 cents a bushel the other day."

"Our oats crop is lighter than usual, but the yield of wheat is quite heavy, and the grain is of very good quality. Only a few fields have been threshed yet, but none of them have made less than 25 bushels to the acre. It is a matter of time before the summer is over."

"Hog shipments last week for export were quite liberal. The crop of hogs of last year was 10,655,000 pounds and the bright spot in export trade was the market for hogs in Germany. Our many's share of last week's exports was 5,043,000 pounds. Armour is reporting today the sale of 4,600,000 pounds of lard to Germany. We anticipated a good fall trade in lard. There has been a good deal of talk for the past week that the supply of hogs will be light for some time. In one of our recent letters we stated that opinions were divided on that subject. We hear little now but prospects for a moderate supply for the balance of the summer.

"The receipts of hogs in the twenty principal markets of the country for 1921 to date are 18,996,000, as compared with 19,870,000 for the corresponding period last year and 22,499,000 for the corresponding period of two years.

Looking Forward.

Neligh Girl Eloped With Parson, Found

Omaha, Neb., July 26.—A girl who last night was seeking Rev. W. O. Harrell, 50, and a grandfather, pastor of a church at Homer, Neb., was found to have eloped with Hazel Riley, 16, a farmer's daughter, after she had asked him to help her find work. The girl was returned to her father by a deputy state sheriff yesterday. She said she had lived at the minister's home for several months and had come to love him.

"When I asked him to take me away," she told the officials, "he said he would if it were for an honorable cause."

They are alleged to have left last Tuesday, Harrell is said to have left the girl at Hooper, Neb., rejoining his wife, who had been ill in an Omaha hospital, and left for the city in an automobile.

"He would kiss me and tell me he would marry me," Hazel Riley told a deputy state sheriff tonight.

Her claim to like him and to have come from a revival meeting several months ago. The girl declared she was in an automobile with Harrell traveling in an automobile. She said they spent one night in the car near Fremont.

Girl Lives at Neligh.

Norfolk Daily News: Hazel Riley, with whom it is charged Rev. W. O. Harrell eloped, is said to be a Neligh, Neb., girl, and the daughter of a prominent farmer in that town and the girl was supposed to have lived in Norfolk some time Wednesday.

It is stated that the girl lives in Neligh, according to the girl's father who was recently in Norfolk searching for her.

Harrell and Harrell met last year while the girl was attending high school in Clarwater, Neb. Mr. Riley said Mr. Riley is a farmer of Neligh.

The father, almost crazed by fear for the safety of his daughter, made it his business to search for her, arousing residents late at night and driving them "nuts" by his accusations. He told his story at a news conference and was given every possible assistance by the police who have had considerable work along that line during the past few months.

Newspaper reports that Harrell had married the girl, ended the hunt here.

At least three girls, all of whom under 18 years of age, have been rounded up in Norfolk during the search. It is believed that in all cases the girls had run away from home.

The Farmer and The Laborer.

Drovers Journal Stockman: Laborers have been working for many years to effect some kind of a coalition between farmers and working men. For political and industrial purposes, it is not holding of the kind has materialized. The farmers will not stand for it. In fact, the average farmer seems to feel that his troubles are due to high wages both on the farm and in the city.

Commenting on this state of affairs, the Drovers Journal says: "The farmer whose dollar has been cut in two can hardly be expected to help railway employees maintain their rate. It is 120 per cent higher than the rate on the farm. As that paper points out: 'The farmer is both a capitalist and a working man. The investment he has in his land, buildings, machinery, etc., makes him a capitalist. Most farmers themselves perform a large part of the manual work on their farms. From this point of view they are working men. Both the farmer and the laborer are capitalists and the wages for the work are paid from the sale of the products.'

"The farmer is working as many hours a day and as many days a year as he was eight years ago. The fact is reported by the Bureau of Statistics of the United States Department of Labor shows that in June, 1921, the average wholesale price of farm products was only 13 per cent more than in 1918, before the world war began in Europe. From his investment and the annual output of his farm he receives the same statistics show that the average wholesale price of farm products was 43 per cent higher in June, 1921, than in 1913, and the average retail price 44 per cent higher. In other words, the farmer is receiving 13 per cent more for his labor, he is paying approximately 44 per cent more for what he buys."

"Sandstrom" Reunion.

The 34th or "Sandstrom" division which was composed principally of soldiers from the states of Minnesota, Nebraska and South Dakota and was trained at Camp Dodge, New Mexico, will hold its 34th reunion get-together meeting at the fair at Omaha during the Ak-Sar-Ben 24th Festival, September 19, 20 and 21.

Fort Omaha located within the Omaha city limits will be Reunion headquarters and all "Sandstrom" buddies will be invited to free bill-boarding in permanent barracks at this beautiful army post.

Ak-Sar-Ben will provide plenty of entertainment such as parades, races and athletic affairs so that the "Sandstrom" men will not become bored. Reduced rates will apply on all railroads and fully 10,000 veterans are expected to attend.

Colonel John H. Malony, president of the Ak-Sar-Ben Veterans, headquarters at Creighton College, will have direct charge of permanent organization, and General John A. Johnston and General George H. Harries are expected to attend.

"Sandstrom" men and men ever identified with units of the organization obtain complete information by writing Ak-Sar-Ben, Omaha-Neb.

Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Krahnman, who were married in Wayne July 3, were pleasantly surprised at their home near Murdo, S. D., last Wednesday evening when about 200 people drove in to welcome them. The evening was spent in visiting, and refreshments, brought by the guests, were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Krahnman were presented with a rocking chair as a remembrance of the occasion.

To Vote on Four Laws.

Lincoln, Neb., July 25.—Farm and labor organizations have filed petitions with the secretary of state sufficient to require a referendum on four laws passed by the last legislature.

The laws include statewide registration of voters, anti-picketing, primary reform and restriction of new banks to those obtaining a "certificate of necessity."

Struck on a Crossing.

Bloomfield, Neb., July 26.—Samuel Steiner, 11, son of Sam G. Steiner, was badly injured last week in a car driven by Mrs. Emelita Stricklin on a crossing which has been added to a bicycle. The boy was riding a bicycle and was struck by the car while he would not recover.

City Council to Repair Sewer.

The city council met in regular session Tuesday evening. Bills were allowed and permission was given William Thiede to erect a sign in front of his store on Main street. After the short meeting the council adjourned until August 3.

The End of Thanks.

We want to express sincere thanks and appreciation for the kindness and floral tributes during the illness and death of our infant daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Green.

To Pay Depositors of Barge's Defunct Bank.

Norfolk Daily News, July 23: The state guarantee fund was called upon Friday afternoon for $23,110.00 to pay depositors of the defunct Barge bank at Holdrege, Neb., and 92,000 for depositors of the defunct Hadar bank. A claim for these amounts was made on the guarantee fund. Ben Saunders of Norfolk, receiver of both banks, Mr. Saunders filed his claims at Wayne to which place he was accompanied by his counsel, O. H. Kelsey. The order was to be certified by the court during the day.

The amount authorized by the receiver does not mean that these represent the shortage at each of the banks. The assets which represent property and notes will be converted into cash as rapidly as possible and replaced to the guarantee fund.

Mr. Saunders stated that the loss of the Hadar bank is about 50 per cent, while the loss of the Hadar bank is about 15 per cent.

Wayne Boy is Pastor Of Growing Church

The Nordic Methodist church of Denmark, which Rev. W. E. Crossland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Crossland, of Wayne, is pastor, has made a rapid growth the last three years. The church has 120 members. When Rev. Mr. Crossland took charge in September, 1919, there were only 40 members.

The church has a Sunday school of 881. The Sunday School has grown in like proportion from 43 to 658. The church was organized in 1880. At present the chief difficulty is lack of room. A new building is being erected at an estimated cost of $1,500 a community hall for social gatherings, seating 800, a weekday room with a billiard room and a gymnasium with a swimming pool and equipment for various recreations.

The growth of the church has attracted much attention.

Beginning of the End.

St. Louis City Journal—It is little points are current in there is little doubt in Russia many marks in honor of and distress, the beginning of the end of bolshevik rule. Two gaunt specters, the worst with which humanity ever had to contend, are stalking throughout the country—famine and disease. Either is terrible enough to fill the people with dread terror; together they make death a cut-throat, accompanied by the most repugnant sufferings.

It is said that millions are doomed to die. Starving communities that also must face the ravages of disease will die with them. The very bones of Russia's citizenry will be worn and torn until centuries may be required to replace it. In the hands of women writs and strong again. What a curse bolshevism has been to those people!

The old boasts that have brought this suffering to Russia hold on grimly while the terror of starvation and disease spreads over every village. But that should be flourishing and prosperous. The soviet government has seized food supplies and has set up a food warehouse for the people in the hands of the despised Trotzky, who may be depended upon to take the food supplies to the soldiers and they must. How much truth is in the statement that the soviets have permitted—some of the most intelligent of the relief work is unknown. It would be safer, perhaps, to discontinue the soviet power and result in its overthrow sooner than if the dread events which their course without an organization of the relief work. How far another thing that may make or break Russia is the soviet crushing power, or in the non-bolsheviks being a length in soviet dependence, both of which are destroying every vestige of street law. Lenin and Trotzky, it seems, accept a hazard by permitting the non-bolsheviks to aid in the attempt to raise Russian humanity. How it will turn out cannot be foretold, but it looks as though the better element has a chance to win.

Human beings ravaged by disease and starvation, and the non-bolsheviks look content. This is merely a picture that promises to be the climax. Nothing but it ever was known in history. Runt hangs like a cloud over one of the richest sections on the face of the Millions of people who might be thriving are in the throes of death, all brought about by a hated despotism worse than that of any czar. Appeals to the world for help may be answered or not. Relief probably will be forthcoming, relief in the form of food supplies, medicines, nurses. Who can tell what dangers the rescuers may face? The soviet government is not to be trusted by anybody. The very persons who are good Samaritans may rot in Russian prisons.

The effect of the Russian debacle of famine and disease on the world must not be overlooked. Epidemics that scourge large expanses cannot be kept from invading other countries. Little by little the horror will not put frontiers and contaminate other people. The civilized world must watch Russia as never before. A great part of its own salvation depends on how it meets this tragedy of Russia and how it helps the Russian people to recover. Russia's ills are one of the most serious problems of the day.

New York World: To make an inexcusable tariff infinitely worse. Mr. Forney and his associates have devised a scheme of American valuations which allows favored industries to practice extortion and exact their own duties by the manipulation of their own prices. Action Urged Against Damage by Parasites Driver's Journal Stockman—Thousands of dollars' worth of good hog feed goes every year to the feeding of mange, nits and lice. It is shown by reports to the United States Department of Agriculture. That is to say, after the hogs have fed on the corn and other forage and put it in the way of mangling nits, lice, or ticks, the parasites are working over the animals' bodies take their toll and reduce the victim's flesh through disease and disease. The same parasites are more numerous and active in cold weather, when the rate is thick, that summer is an excellent time to exterminate the pests that remain over the season.

Hogs Like to Wallow.
The instinctive habit of the hog to wallow in water when the weather is hot is a natural one. It is in applying treatment for external parasites—department experts say—by motivating the hogs to wallow in mud, manure, or other material for lice and mange may be applied in a satisfactory manner with a minimum expenditure of money, time and labor. If the results from the use of medicated wallows are to be satisfactory, however, it is necessary to consider the nature of the soil on which the animals are to wallow and plan accordingly.

If conditions are such that hogs cannot wallow in the water, they may be treated with water in which to wallow. If the nostrils can be kept above the surface, the hog will lie down in the mud and roll, then get up and repeat the operation on the other side until the entire body is wet.

The proper depth of liquid in the wallow depends upon the size and number of hogs using the wallow. In an experiment in many, time and profit, the wallow should be charged with liquid to a depth of 10 to 150 inches. For hogs from 90 to 150 lbs. a 10-inch wallow is sufficient. The medicated liquid should never be so deep that the hogs are afraid to go in it. For a number of hogs of varied sizes, a wallow from 10 to 15 inches is most practical. No medicine should be added until the hogs have had three or four days' rest and not be kept medicated for more than about 48 hours at a time, as the hogs can get well soaked in the mud, and constant application is liable to irritate the skin. After that, medicaments may be added at intervals of a week or ten days.

A Simple Remedy is Effective.
Crude petroleum is one of the simplest remedies that can be obtained for the parasites and is the only one that will eradicate both lice and mange with one treatment. No heating equipment is necessary and the use of reasonably good water can be used. The oil apparently does not injure the animals if the freshly oiled hogs receive proper care and attention. The treated crude oil, as it comes from the wells, is probably the most effective crude oil dip. However, the processed crude petroleum known to the trade as fuel oil, which is the residue from manufacturing gasoline and other light hydrocarbons, is commonly used and is effective in eradicating lice and mange. As a rule, the thinner the processed crude oil, the better it is for a dip or wallow.

Hog lice or ticks in wallows about a pint for each pig or a quart for each grown hog is recommended. This can be ascertained by observing whether their bodies became well coated with oil. If all are not well coated, add more oil to the wallow. The oil will make the water rickety-tasteful enough so the hogs will not try to drink it.

Hog wallows are comparatively easy of construction. For best results, they should be of concrete, but currently large to accommodate the number of pigs in the enclosure, and with one side sloping to give easy access.

The oil floating on the surface of the water limits or prevents evaporation, and the water if exposed to the sun during the day soon becomes so warm that hogs will not lie in it. If the wallow is exposed to the direct rays of the sun, during summer months so that the hogs will not lie in it, it is advisable to construct a shade over it, and the oil should be added in the evening. Oil added after sundown is usually carried out on the bodies of the hogs before noon the next day.

A shady, well ventilated place should be provided for freshly oiled hogs. All wallows should be drained and cleaned as often as necessary to keep them and the surroundings in good sanitary condition. It is very important that the wallows be properly constructed and cared for, otherwise it will soon get into a filthy and unsanitary condition.

Standardize Enclosures.
Hog lice do not live long when separated from the animals, but as a preventative measure, all small enclosures which contain hogs should be cleaned and disinfected before being used for a new lot of hogs. The litter and manure should be removed and the enclosure washed after which the woodwork and floors should be sprayed with a good disinfectant.

Bulletin 1085, Hog Lice and Mange, gives much information about the hogs' and methods of eradication. It was prepared at the request of the Division of Publications, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Wayne County Leads

Wayne, Neb., July 25.—Ten thousand test piglets submitted by teachers to the State Department of Agriculture for new certificates were graded in the office of State Superintendent within the past few days. Those who were from the Wayne examination.

The July examinations will be held next Friday and Saturday. It is necessary for an instructor to take these examinations at regular intervals. A teacher holding a second grade certificate must renew it every first grade certificate is good for three years.

These examinations are given in normal training schools, colleges and a few other selected places. The papers are then sent to the superintendent of normal instruction, who graded, after which the results of the examinations are sent to the county superintendents, who in schools in which the respective instructor teach.

Three examinations are given each summer. One is in June and one in July and a third just prior to the opening of the fall term.

The counties which had the largest numbers of papers submitted for grading were Wayne, Buffalo, Nemaha, Dawes and Lancaster. The first four in name are those in which normal training schools are held, while in Lancaster county instruction is given and examinations held at the University of Nebraska.

Bolshevik Elections.

Nemphit Daily News—The Democrats do not think by the people, how do they manage to win in office? Many an American has asked. One answer has been given by the Communist Party, a national election, in which officers, local elections, in which officers are chosen, then to play the part as the Communist Party in the "Soviet Government."

How these are elected is revealed by Morris Zucker, one of the organizers of the Communist Party in the United States, who has seen a new light since he made a pilgrimage to Russia. He explains:

"The workers of a certain factory or group of factories are notified, usually a day or two in advance, that an election is to take place. Meanwhile the Communist Party group among the workers, who average 10 per cent or 15 per cent of the total number, hold a caucus and decide upon their candidates. The list of names is then presented to the party executive which usually consists of three or four men. In the presence of the government opens the meeting and delivers a campaign speech in behalf of the Communist Party. Finally the chairman reads the list of candidates.

"No discussion of these candidates is permitted. No others can be nominated on substitutes; no candidates of any other party are permitted. The chairman after reading this list asks:

"Is there anybody against?"

"Hearing no opposition, these candidates are declared to be unanimously elected. Workers have learned from experience that it does not matter whether the official Communist candidates lack experience in the past prevents them from doing it. Agents of the Vetschka are placed among the workers, and whenever they see a man who is not a Communist, they are arrested and charged with counter-revolution or espionage.

"So that a Bolshevik election or a Soviet or Communist election if you prefer. Not a sign of the democracy which is supposed to underlie our Socialism giving every man to have a chance of representation in public life as every other man. No wonder the cretins, dupes of Lenin and Trotsky in this country are coming to their senses. Not even the present forecast of chaos in Russia. Nobody rules but the big political boss.

Agriculture Notes

Standardization Work.
The Bureau of Plant Industry is working in standardization and crop estimating on a cooperative basis has been entered into by the Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture, and the California State Department of Agriculture. The purpose of the standardization work is to bring about an improvement in the use of official standards and to establish uniform standards for traders and vegetable growers as well as coordinate the shipping-point inspection established in California, with the food-grade standards now conducted by the Federal Bureau in central markets.

The object of the cooperative work relating to crop estimating will be to coordinate the State and Federal services and to develop intensively the crop and live stock service for the special benefit of the people of California and the general benefit of all interested in the agricultural industries.

An organization consisting of eight specialists and technical men is being formed to conduct the work. While headquarters for this work will be opened and maintained in various parts of the state.

The Wheat Harvest

The United States as it effects the world's supply is being watched this year as it has at no time since the signing of the armistice, say officials of the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture. Estimates thus far indicate that this country will have a crop around 800,000,000 bushels, as compared with 787,000,000 bushels last year, which, it is thought, will make up somewhat for less encouraging reports from other parts of the wheat-producing world.

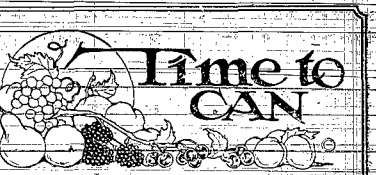

The Southern Hemisphere—Australia and Argentina—started the present calendar year with two good crops, which seemed to assure the importing countries of ample supply for the remainder of the present crop year, which ends July 31, India began the season's wheat, harvest in the Northern Hemisphere, completing cutting in May; and the outlook was, as had been forecast, a short crop. India is not only out of the exporting list for the next 12 months, but may probably will be a net importer.

With the winter wheat prospects in the United States cut down 25,000,000 bushels to a total of 574,000,000, estimated in the July report to the Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates, and the spring wheat conditions reduced by heat, drought, and rust, the importers will apprehensively watch the harvest in every country until Canada's farthest north crop is finally secured.

Canada's wheat is threatened by drought and rust.

Cronin for U. S. Marshal. Washington, July 26. - State Senator Dennis H. Cronin of O'Neill was recommended for United States marshal for Nebraska at a meeting of the Nebraska - republican - delegation in congress last night in Senator Norcross's office.

He has been the editor of a republican newspaper for thirty years and has served six terms in the state legislature, the last two in the senate. Other candidates, among whom were J. B. Nickerson of Omaha, George L. Leonard of Columbus, and F. L. Putney of Tilden, received scattering votes at first, it is understood, but Mr. Cronin was recommended on an early ballot. This is the last federal office of any importance in the state to be filled.

Dennis H. Cronin is at present a member of the senate. His honors at O'Neill and he has long been the editor of a republican newspaper at his home town. He is serving his second term in the state senate, having previously served several terms in the house. In both branches of the legislature he has been an active worker on behalf of many important measures. During his last term in the senate, he served as chairman of the committee on apportionment and is largely responsible for the rearrangement of the senatorial districts as they are now constituted. His championship of the Smith bread bill during the last session of the legislature which he said was in the interest of the poor people and his opposition to increasing the burden of taxation by large appropriations, caused him to be dubbed the people's champion, and he was charged with having an eye on the governorship.

Recently it was rumored that the congressional delegation expected to concede to Congressman Kincaid the appointment of United States marshal for Nebraska, and that the congressman would name Senator Cronin for the place.

Socialism Demands Dictatorship. Minneapolis Journal. Russian socialism, having failed in practical demonstration, is at present in theoretical ascendancy. Yet its ascendancy is imposed by a high handed parliamentarism at Moscow. Voluntary coalition of principle remains an imprudent dream. Were the world's control to pass to the socialists, they could not and would not unite upon what they wished to put in operation, until some manipulator by mingled force and cunning became their dictator.

High Gear Flirtations. Omaha Bee: Sunday appears to be the day of days for joy-riders, with tragedy the outcome in a certain percentage of cases. Yet no matter how frequent these accidents may be, no matter how drab the story becomes because of its repetition, one can hardly fail to be impressed by the pity of it. A youth takes a car, which may or may not be his; he "picks up" a girl, whom he may or may not have known before. A way ride, a transient romance, a dangerous moment, and the fatal ambulance completes the journey.

is a stranger today, some other father's son, some other mother's daughter. Tomorrow it may be one and dear. No, that couldn't be, one says. But it has been before. Youth is careless, thoughtless. One reckless member of a party is enough frequently to lead all into temptation. No one expects a wreck in a roadside ditch to be the end of an automobile ride, but such things happen.

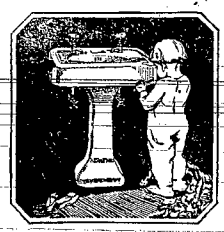

The answer? More careful choice of companions certainly, by both boys and girls. More careful guidance by fathers and mothers. A moral tone in the community which will recognize the "first step" for what it is and condemn it accordingly.

Non-Partisan Women Organize. Lincoln, Neb., July 26. - A number of women from different sections of Nebraska met at the state non-partisan league headquarters and organized a women's auxiliary for the state under the title of the "State Nonpartisan club." Mrs. R. W. Curry, of Lincoln, was elected president, and Mrs. Grace Welch, of Lincoln, state organizer. The purpose of the organization, it was stated, is to use local women's non-partisan clubs under a state head. Clubs with a total membership of 500, it was announced, were reported.

Governor is Enjoined. Lincoln, Neb., July 26. - W. M. Morning, in district court this evening, granted a temporary injunction forbidding Gov. McFie to enforce the new state bread law, compelling bakers to make loaves of a certain weight of a pound. Pending on the application for a permanent injunction is put over until the fall term of court. The law, enacted by the recent legislature, was to have become effective July 29.

The Northcliffe Boycott. St. Louis Globe-Democrat: The course of the Lloyd George government in cutting off Northcliffe's newspaper from all access to information as to public affairs at the British capital is a curious incident of decided small town quality. Newly appointed police commissioners of crude no-tions, ultrariparian sheriffs and rural officials inclined to view office as private snap and not a public trust occasionally make such decisions.

Chautauque Closes Sunday.
The Midland company closed a successful session of Chautauque in Carroll Sunday evening. The programs were well attended with the Wales players and the Marine Band drawing the largest audience.

Thursday evening the Wales players appeared in a costume play, "Too Much Business."

Friday afternoon and evening the Howard Quintette gave a program of music and readings. In the evening, Chapman W. B. "Hermansen" lectured on "Mexico, Her Problems and Possibilities," touching upon the relationship of the United States and Mexico today.

Band of Musical Marines furnished the prelude to Saturday afternoon's program. Myra Castellano Smith read the play "Happiness," depicting six girls in costume.

In the evening the Musical Marines gave a full concert of vocal and instrumental numbers. The Pivron Quintette appeared in costume for the program Sunday afternoon. Congressman F. F. Ellsworth gave a lecture on "The Band Wagon."

The closing program was given that evening by the Pivron Entertainers in a variety of Dutch, Indian, Gypsy and Colonial costume numbers.

No contract has been signed for next year. Although satisfied with this year's Chautauque, the committee has decided to make no further arrangements for a time.

The Nebraska Corn Crop.
Lincoln, Neb., July 25.—A trip through the corn belt of Nebraska is certain to cause the pessimists to A. E. Anderson, federal statistician of the United States bureau of markets, in his weekly crop report.

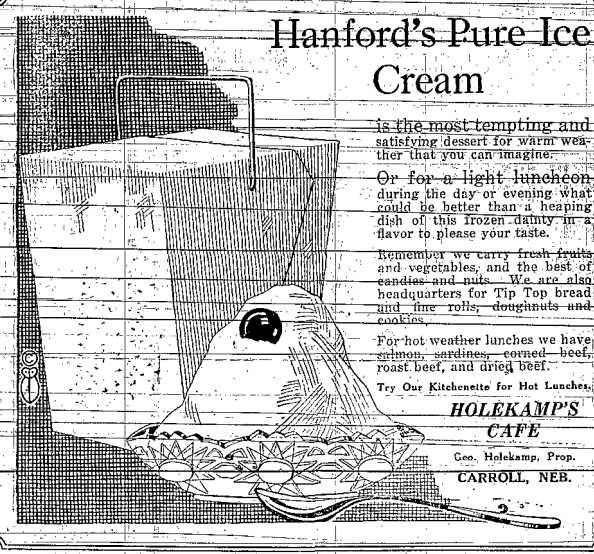

Anderson states that the crop is two more good rains will make a bumper crop. The ears have already begun to drop. From 35 to 40 per cent of the wheat is threshed and most of it is being sold direct from the machines. The early commercial potato crop in the central Platte valley district is being harvested and while the yields are not meeting previous expectations, the production will probably reach 600 cars. Mr. Anderson states that the crop is a detailed statement of conditions by Mr. Anderson follows: "A view of the Nebraska corn crop cannot help but develop the sentiment toward a brighter future. A good corn belt is within sight in the main corn belt. Low conditions are reported in only a few counties, notably Howard, Hitchcock, Phelps and Jefferson. Other counties in the southwest section from which reports were not received are in need of a few more also. Drooping ears of corn during the last week of July is very unusual and indicates the earliness of the crop."

"From 35 to 40 per cent of the wheat crop has been threshed. Farmers are eager to sell direct from the machine, as indicated in a report from Franklin county which states, 'Every bushel of wheat threshed so far in this locality has been sold to the elevator or the mill. Men who are the best able to hold it are the first to get rid of it and only those who are generally regarded as poor farmers are holding on to it.'"

"The important crops, oats, are destined to make the poorest showing this year. The yields range from approximately 30 to 35 bushels. Spring wheat continues to deteriorate, according to reports from the spring wheat districts."

"The harvest of the early commercial potato crop in the central Platte valley district is well known as the Kearney district, is well

Fire at Post Office.
A fire started from a combustion of a roll of old papers in the Carroll post office Saturday afternoon.

Chautauque was in session and the office was closed. Some men sitting in front, heard the explosion. But thought it was a panetized tire. Smoke began rolling out and the fire was discovered. The fire department was called but arrived after the flames had been extinguished. No damage was done.

Social.
The members of the W. C. T. U. met in the parlors of the Methodist church for a social afternoon today. The ladies singing in the recent concert entertained the winners at a banquet.

Birthday Party.
Twelve women surprised Mrs. B. W. Weinland Thursday afternoon by coming in to help her celebrate her birthday. The ladies brought refreshments and a two-course luncheon was started. While the yields are good, the unanswerable question: salt and flour. Rub into the surface of the soil, and water will probably not reach previous seasons.

Even the irrigated potatoes were damaged somewhat by the high temperature and the dry hot potatoes show considerable damage from this cause. The surplus shipments may reach 600 cars as the acreage is large. The late normal potato crop in Sheridan county needs moisture. The week's reports give a lowered condition on the farm potato crop."

To Relieve Car Shortage.
Omaha, Neb., July 25.—F. G. Robinson, director of service for the interstate-commerce commission, and C. M. Berry, of Washington, manager of the closed car service of the American Railroad association, will confer with officials of trans-Missouri railroad lines August 1, in an effort to help railroads operating in Nebraska and Kansas solve the car shortage problem which has resulted from increased grain loading in recent weeks.

Japan Mast Ballistic.
Los Angeles Times: Reading between the lines of current history, one easily discerns that Japan is the aggressor in the present situation. Some have claimed this title for Great Britain, others for France and a few for the United States. But the disarmament test proposed by President Harding has proved a judgment of Solomon. France and Great Britain welcomed it with alacrity, Japan alone is calling it unwelcome.

Let City Dwellers Know Truth.
Farm Life: It is an unfortunate fact that people have more knowledge of the farm costs of food products. Most of them believe that farmers are profiteers. It will be worth while to let them know the truth. They will not be willing to pay two or three times as much for an article as the farmer who produced it received.

His Name Against Him.
Philadelphia Record: A Tulsa, Okla., dispatch announced that "District Judge Lusifer B. Wright, of Sapulpa, Okla., has been arrested on charges of bribery and released on bail." The frivolous minded will convict the judge offhand, regardless of the evidence. They will merely proposed the unanswerable question: salt and flour. Rub into the surface of the soil, and water will probably not reach previous seasons.

PASTOR HELPS OWN WIFE ELOPE AND TAKE CHILDREN BUT SHE RETURNS

For a year and a half Carl Verroy, a married man of Monticello, N. Y., shirked attending upon Mrs. Durcy, wife of the pastor of the Church of Holiness there. So when they decided to elope the other day, it was the pastor himself who helped his wife to Verroy's waiting automobile and permitted her to take their two children, 9 and 12, with her. When she hinted she wanted the furniture too, he was willing. Pastor Durcy said he thought it better for her to go away with another man than to live in sin. But kindness had its reward. After seven days of absence, the repentant elopers returned—each being received into their respective households.

The Proof of Oil Quality is in the Using

Every day you hear some man say a certain brand of oil is good. Another party may not agree with him. They both may be right.

What is good oil. It is not necessarily the oil that lasts the longest. To prove this, use an extra heavy oil of a high viscosity point in a motor with a splash lubricating system, and you will find your oil consumption is very low—but your motor is not being lubricated properly, and you will eventually find that your pistons have been completely burned out.

Get this. A good oil for you to use is one with a high fire-test, one that leaves a minimum amount of sediment when worn out, and, last, but the most important, one that will correct itself for the best of your motor. We pay particular attention to this point.

Drive in to our station today, let us drain out your old oil and replace with oil of the correct grade and you will readily see that it pays to take advantage of this service. The constantly growing number of patrons for this particular service has necessitated the installation of an up-to-date oil-drainage pit to expedite this service.

crop movement is under full way, that for weeks will find it possible to bring freight rates down to a more reasonable figure, industry and trade are counting much on such a decision, basing their conditions on the progress being made on the plan for the refunding of the railroads' debts to the government. If the roads are provided with more ready cash by reason of the refunding, it may be considered good business, in the end to reduce rates and to stimulate the movement of goods, and thus to encourage all lines of business which must use the railroads.

most likely. That body, however, did not raise a wall against everything that certain commodities, both raw and finished, are to enter free. That is calculated to affect a reduction in prices in some lines, while the work of reconstruction has been carried farther. Considerable interest is shown in the farming situation, and hope is stronger than belief that it will be clarified in the near future. European countries are losing time in their own rehabilitation, with the result that America is effected by a continued decline of export shipments. All in all, the business situation in the United States shows little change. As the summer weeks and autumn approaches, it is expected that a distinct improvement will make itself felt.

The live stock market was fluctuated as usual. Hog values are up again, due to light receipts over a wide area. Local reports on shipments of swine received say the quality is not good which bears out the reiterated claim that live stock production has suffered measurably. The cattle market at Chicago was steady to strong as the week ended, with normal trading in swine and sheep. Lower prices for fat calves at Chicago due to the hedging sales. Difference has fallen upon the stock exchange at New York, showing that Wall street is simply waiting for a more propitious time for the resumption of normal activity. The financial market is simply waiting for it to give business the impetus it needs, but they cannot, industrial interests are ready to avail themselves of the standing offer.

Perishing Starts Right.
Washington Post: Gen. Pershing States, the national house of representatives voted an import duty better feeling and greater co-operation than ever before in the history of the service. The nation's defense contribution to have a little sense of civilization, or rather lack of it, exists in Ceneha, Tex., when a mob of men strips, tars and feathers a woman, passes comprehension. The minds of all decent people revolt at the mere thought of such a performance. The offense of the mob is infinitely worse than any with which the woman might have been charged. If it was nothing more serious than bigamy, as alleged, there is a penalty provided by law for it and a proper method of ascertaining the guilt or innocence of the accused.

Prices have changed but little within the week. Labor is playing a game of chess with capital, and the move-over one that is being slow and most deliberate. Neither country willing to take a risk and hold no moving one's feet, as is making one's way to liquidated sections, as at Baton Rouge, La., where entrepreneurs with their own wares to encourage building, there is a slight change in the move-over, but in no case is it very pronounced.

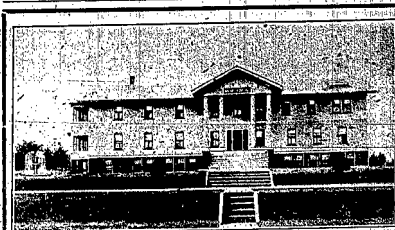

It's a Funny World.
St. Louis Daily Argus Leader: John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers' demands immediate payment for his dues from New York to San Francisco. It is a funny world, after all.

Only One Man Alarmed.
Yorkton Press and Dakotan: The editor of the paper does not believe in the Kluks Klotz recently organized in South Dakota and he is losing no sleep on that fact or over the organization itself. He has no fear of being regulated by the editor that contemplates any reign
