acres and has been getting out trees, etc. It is one of the finest pieces of land in that county.

Mr. J. Higgins has done in the favor of bringing us a letter written by Mrs. E. D. Higgins from her husband, who is now at Deadwood. He started from Ponca for that place on the 10th of July in company with Messrs. Leach, Burroughs, Parks and Wisner and as appears by the letter arrived at Deadwood July 18th. The party went with their teams by the way of Fort Pierre, camping out on the route. He writes that they had a most enjoyable trip with good roads and fine weather all the way from Yankton. Deadwood is a very lively town far ahead of Sioux City, except in population. The reason for this, Mr. Higgins states is that it is one of the worst looking holes he ever saw in the shape of a city. The streets are only about three feet wide and are paved in all manner of ways, but a great deal of business is done there, and the streets are crowded all the time.

On the day he here there was an exciting horse-race at a town called Spearfish near Deadwood, on which there was a bet of a thousand dollars. The winner was a hind named together of O. P. Sullenberger is living at Deadwood, and indeed all over the country, the manner of living is very rough. Board is very high, being from $6 to $12 per week. Butter is only worth from fifty to seventy cents. Chickens are sold at one dollar each for all kinds, big or little. Cows bring from thirty to forty-five dollars, and will be good specimens for you to buy and look to Deadwood, cows, hogs, chickens, etc., at the price they readily sell for there would give a large profit in the investment. At a few places, on the route, they noticed that men have gone and gone into the business of raising stock.

The crops in the Black Hills are looking fine. Mr. Higgins states that the wheat is very good everywhere. They passed one place where there was not less than four hundred head of splendid cattle and horses, and as the owner does not have to pay taxes, and as pasturage is free, he cannot help but make money.

The mountains around Deadwood are very high, some of them so high that when the clouds are heavy and low, the tops may be seen just above the clouds. On the route they could see the Hills two days before they came to them. There is one mountain about six miles from Deadwood which is 1,700 feet high, and in the distance looks like a pyramid, and around on all sides of it the ground is level. On the mountain a large number of soldiers are camped.

Between Fort Pierre and the Hills they saw a large number of wagons engaged in carrying freight. Generally two wagons are fastened together and have eight or ten cows hitched to them and such an outfit takes on from fifty to seventy-five thousand pounds of freight. They counted all of them and they were for two days, and made out 897 cows or 1,794 head of cattle. From this one may get some idea of the immense business done in that country.

One end of Deadwood is entirely occupied by the Chinese, and they are a hard lot to get on with. They are engaged in washing and ironing at all hours of the day and night. Besides washing and ironing, they are the most uncleanest and filthy numbers in existence.

Mr. Higgins stated that the party were all well, and that the prospects for going into business were good.

Position of U. S. Strong
New York Times: It is plain to all that the United States will be in a position to wield great influence over the nations that send their delegates to Washington. Our economic strength will be a factor. The debts owed to us by Europe will be a market for a thing to be swung as a blockade. The truth is that there is no need to cast about for pressure in favor of limiting armaments. The budgets of all nations clamor for it. Overburdened taxpayers everywhere demand it. Hampered industry and commerce urge it for their relief. There will be no lack of desire or of motive when the Washington conference meets. The only question is whether the victors will be wanting to the assembled statesmen. If it is, they will need to hide themselves from their own people.

I. C. Not Responsible.
Kansas City Times: There is much to be said in favor of contrabanding the power of rate making in the federal commission. It is, as a matter of fact, the ideal system for the control of railroads, inasmuch as the railroads of the country are practically all in interstate concerns. But there has been no response on the part of the interstate commission to the cry for relief from transportation rates that have become one of the chief troubles to industry and this has created the feeling that has prevailed for the past few years that the interstate commerce commission should be reconstituted by the federal government, has been entirely in line with the consent of the liberal in the matter of granting concessions to the roads.

The American Dollar.

Why Everybody Isn't Selling Automobiles

The man who buys an automobile today demands more than merely the ownership of a car.

Responsibility for his constant satisfaction must be centered upon some local institution or individual. None but an established dealer can meet this requirement.

So the intelligent buyer first determines which dealer is most willing and able to give permanent guarantees of satisfaction.

We invite your judgment.

The wonderful versatility of this climate has been demonstrated of late. For times we were tormented with heat and drought, and then came a period of frequent rainfall and an unseasonable cold.

In rearranging the federal tax law authorities should be careful, as they doubtless will be, not to relieve men who are regular large taxpayers at the expense of those of moderate incomes. In raising money to meet the heavy obligations growing out of the war the burden should be carefully distributed in accordance with earnings.

Prolonged drought in South Dakota and in central and southwestern Nebraska has materially reduced the corn prospect. The big yield promised a few weeks ago has under the assaults of continued dry weather, grown steadily less. Maturing corn in northern and southeastern Nebraska offers the greatest possible assurance of an immense crop.

The churches are generally reducing activities during August, observing the acceptable custom of giving the pastors a vacation and a needed respite from accustomed labor. They will return to their regular duties and be invigorated. During their absence, the newspapers will endeavor to uphold the spiritual standards and keep the flocks from drifting into harmful worldliness.

Wayne ought to have a county fair and if it is inadvisable or impracticable to have one this year, due plans should be made to have one next year and every year thereafter. Wayne county ranks in first place in agricultural production, and every year the best specimens ought to be brought together to be reviewed and admired. Annual exhibits advertise the county, stimulate interest and in the public satisfaction. We want to know what our neighbors are doing. They want to know what we are doing. The county fair opens the way.

William Wrigley offers powerful proof of the value of advertising. He is quoted as saying: "Don't spread your advertising out too thin! The newspapers are one of the most effective methods of advertising for many business concerns. Practically everyone reads a newspaper. Once you are in business, and it gets you what you always need for your business—there's no quicker or more reliable way to grow than to advertise. My first advertising contract was $300—last year I spent $20,000 in advertising. Wrigley's shows how many ads you can get for $20,000 a day. I figure we should spend this advertising appropriation."

The Wayne business district is in a state of building, epidemic, and now that costs of materials are getting down to pre-war levels, such improvement should be longer delayed. There ought to be plenty of idle capital in Wayne to ginger up the district, and give it an appearance in accordance with demand and commensurate with the rest of the town. Wayne capitalists, in their satisfied state of mind, have overlooked the importance of building up our enduring monuments to their industry and enterprise. Wayne's business district has many needs which should be met or at least most of us have been fled away in. Governmental remedy.

ODIOUS EASTERN CUSTOM
It seems that the odious custom of foisting upon the masses of the most fashionable fashions in the two sexes is not only a long shot, but no matter how hot the weather, men must wear coats to be respected and in some places to be tolerated. In the north, where women don't have to wear much to get by, but they wear the minimum—if there is any—we don't know. It appears that three celebrities from American cinema called on congress recently to see how things were running, and they were not admitted until they had changed their coats.

Touching the dress of the American freedmen and especially on western freedom, the Lincoln Journal comments in conclusion as follows: "The effete and hide-bound cast has submitted, we understand, to the tyranny of the coat. It seems not to be permitted there to go to church or to dine in shirt waisted summer comfort. Washington, long dignified by the aristocracy, has its coat rule thus explained. It is in the west, still free, stood up for its shirt sleeves."

The dress of the elements of greatness in the great west is the degree to which it has thrown off the old tyrannies which impede its speed and progress. It is the degree to which it has thrown off its shirt sleeves and to go to church and dine in our shirt sleeves when temperatures ran above normal. It has been conquered by the conventionalism of the east and its decay and fall have begun. Needless to say, the west is not to be taken for granted, worshipping the form rather than the substance, the clothes rather than the man, than the back-bone of the west. It is the west that will submit to eastern sartorial dictation. It is the west that will wear a westerener cannot go to Washington in August and overlook the proceedings of his hired men there without other than the most respectful attention. A sweater making coat, then indeed has liberty died. We look confidently to the west for the new dress of the future.

The Benefits of Modern Surgery to Community

So few people ever stop to consider what the modern lunging operations mean to them or to a community until these come to them or to their near-antagonists for immediate relief. As a matter of fact, they are prone to forget and take it for granted—just as a matter of course, and too many of us forget as soon as we heal.

If the average person was asked to name of hand on the spur of the moment—and in order of their value to the community—the many diseases of modern times, who would mention our great modern hospital at the head of the list? Without such an indication of feeling the death list of our community would be far greater than now—and what many consider more important is the same. Consider long years of suffering for those not afflicted with disease immediately fatal. A surgical operation is performed without endangering one's life, so in other words, and the patient emerges from the hospital within a few weeks free from suffering. Life is often more to be desired than death, if it be but a life of suffering.

Who can measure the value of our hospital, prepared as it is for any emergency?

It was taken over the state highway from Laurel in a high power car in a race for life, slowly leading to death, to have a place and surgeon at hand who had the initiative to act promptly with every needed appliance in readiness to save life. The case could not be positively diagnosed without exploration. This could be done without danger, and was promptly commenced, and the incision disclosed the gusher of blood escaping from a ruptured artery had already accumulated in the abdominal cavity. It was then immediately removed.

From the cavity, locate the leak and scientifically tie the artery. Without the equipment and the surgeon a mother and wife would have gone forever from a home.

From another neighboring town came a lady with an immense tumor, being fed at the expense of her body, which could no longer stand such a drain upon her vitality. Modern surgery as applied at the Wayne hospital removed it as on the way to normal health. And we cannot ignore the appendix, because it is so numerous and of one so fatal if removed is so often necessary and attended with so little danger or incision that it is a common operation no longer considered serious or in-line time—and when neglected, too, nothing but a competent surgeon and a place equipped with every modern surgical appliance and a corps of trained nurses (wants to restore the patient to loved ones) every day. And the fact is but a repetition of what is constantly occurring here—a new set of patients appearing on an average every ten days.

It is a fact that the loss of lives, of those there must be some, the writer heard a disinterested person familiar with statistics of this class say as he passed by the losses of the Wayne hospital, that the percentage of deaths from major operations here was less than any other hospital of the west.

New Methods Applied.
Another advanced method adopted here for cases which will permit as many will, is the use of the local anesthetic, which has many advantages for those who fear or dread the effect of an anesthetic administered every ten days. And of the fact to whom no other anesthetic can be safely administered—though as anesthetics are now given there are but few cases in which it cannot be administered in perfect safety.

Transplanting Glands.
Less than two years ago, we would say, speaking from memory, the public in general first took the possibilities for adding years of health, and giving added vigor to people growing old by the transplanting of glands from the young to aged more vigorous to the old and feeble. A series of experiments made in California prisons demonstrated that the gland from the young attention was then turned by modern surgeons to this form of renewing vitality, and it has been proven that glands from the young are more vigorous with as much benefit to the patient—as shown to result from gland from the young to aged more vigorous to the old and feeble. Citizens on Parade.
Spokane Spokesman-Review: The best parades, next to the strictly military variety, are those of foreigners. Being in a lodge robe a man of self-consciousness in the matter of fancy dress, and in the name of his beloved order, he is willing to wear the most fantastic and picturesque regalia. In a lodge parade, too, nearly every body goes on foot. There is nothing more depressing than a procession of crawling automobiles filled with individuals too proud to hike.

Sugar Going Up, $7.40 Per Hundred

About twice a week we get a little boost on sugar. Only 10 to 20 cents each time, but at that rate it's but a short time until sugar will be $1.00 higher. The sugar interests said openly, they must have higher prices for sugar to cover increased costs. If you are low on sugar buy a sack now. Our price of $7.40 is not guaranteed longer than this week.

Eat More Rice—Four Pounds for 25 Cents

Rice is cheap. It's a headliner for food value and can be prepared in many appetizing ways. Rice has declined over 300 per cent since last year. The children like it. There are scores of reasons why you should eat more rice. Four pounds for 25 cents.

Pure Cider Vinegar, 3 years Old—50 cents Gallon

Vinegar sales are breaking all former records. Housewives appreciate vinegar of quality as much or more than any other item. Our vinegar has a flavor which is impossible to imitate with vinegar made from cereals, cane or apple vinegar not properly aged. This store is getting the vinegar business simply because the goods are right.

Heinz Pickling Vinegar in Bulk

The Heinz company uses this vinegar exclusively for factory use. It's a quality item and is in demand during August and September for home pickling. Note: Either cider or pickling vinegar we offer in one-gallon glass jugs at 30 cents each. The jug may be returned when empty and price refunded.

Semi-Solid Buttermilk, 3 1/2 Cents Per Pound

Surely you should not hesitate to provide for your pigs and chickens a food so well known and the results so certain. Men in the "hog game" for profit know well the merits of semi-solid buttermilk. It will pay big dividends on the investment. If you want "to be sold" so you will be a booster for semi-solid buttermilk, segregate all your razorbacks, scrubs and runts from your hogs and feed them on Semi-Solid Buttermilk. We have some users who will be pleased to discuss and explain their experience with this product. In Kegs or barrels. Kegs one cent per pound higher.

Would You Use a Dull Razor? No!

Your wife uses a broom 350 times per year. Why not provide her with a good broom? One that's made "to fit," that's a pleasure to use, that's made for money; one you will buy again. We have it—It costs one dollar; it's worth the money; it's a beauty you will say so. One will wear as long as any three brooms bought from a peddler. In fact it's a sure cure for the "peddler habit." It's a "tailor made" broom specially priced at $1.00 until August 15.

Canned Apricots, Five for $1.00

We are now selling on the third hundred cases of apricots. It is generally known this fruit is solid pack and tree ripened and one of the best values this store has ever offered. This price is the result of a forced sale to realize cash on behalf of some canner. Our patrons are securing the benefit. Buy a case, two dozen cans.

Flint Soap Chips, 15 Cents per Pound; Eight Pounds for $1.00

All moisture removed and ready to use. Did you know every bar of laundry soap you buy contains one-third water? Just to prove it, take a fresh bar and place in a dry place for six months and see the result. The soap has been reduced one-third; it's "dried out" so to speak. You have lost nothing but the moisture, but why buy water? Flint, dry soap chips are the answer to use and cost less. A teacup level full is sufficient for a boiler of water. Buy 25 cents worth, you will begin to open your eyes to the condition; why certain soap factories can spend millions of dollars advertising trying to induce you to use some certain brand of laundry soap. Flint Soap Chips 15 cents per pound; eight pounds for $1.00.

Full Cream Cheese, 26 Cents Per Pound

The cheese market has gone skyhigh with other milk products. We have 1,000 pounds first class cheese ready for this sale and will be the last opportunity to buy at this price until next spring. Our price is three to four cents less than replacement price. Buy it by the dollar's worth; four pounds for $1.00.

Canned Goods

Canned sliced pineapples; No. 2 cans, four for $1.00; a good buy in pineapples.

Canned prunes in syrup; 2 1/2 size, five cans for $1.00. This week will exhaust our stock. No more on market at this price.

Gallon Fruits, Solid Pack

One of the best selling items at this season. Our Brim-full brand is full to the very top of the can and the quality second to none; a full line; enquiries solicited.

Special on Watermelons Friday and Saturday

Ice cooled melons 8c per pound. This is the low point for this year. Remember the dates. If you like melon don't miss this sale.

Carload Peaches Due Saturday

These are Elbertas, the best canning stock and will be sold for about $1.50 per box. The unusual demand for this stock from eastern buyers has advanced the price at least 25 cents per box. Buy peaches from this car and save the difference. It will be bottom price for the season. Phone No. 2.

Read Closing Particulars

Members, friends of members and all interested parties in the Herald's Salesmanship Club Campaign should read the closing particulars as printed below very carefully.

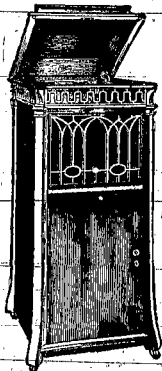

The Salesmanship Club Campaign will close Saturday, August 13th at 12:00 a. m. (Noon). All credits and subscriptions must be turned into the Campaign Department Ballot Box by that time, or they will not be counted. (One minute late, and your report will be thrown out.)

In order to insure an ABSOLUTELY Fair and Square deal to all members, the ballot box will be sealed Monday morning, August 8; and left at the First National Bank for one week, or up until 12:00 o'clock noon, Saturday, the 13th, the close of the Campaign. Directly after the Campaign closes the Judges, (named elsewhere in this issue) will count the credits in the sealed ballot box, issue credits on sealed reports as found in the ballot box, in accordance with the rules of the campaign and credit schedule.

Members should make out their reports as usual; be very careful to see that they are correct. Then place same with cash, checks from subscribers, drafts, money orders or certified checks together with their reports in a sealed envelope, and deposit in to the sealed ballot box. Personal checks from members must be certified, or turned into drafts, cash or money orders, unless coming from actual subscribers and cannot be made out for more than $10.00 each. This rule will not be deviated from in any respect.

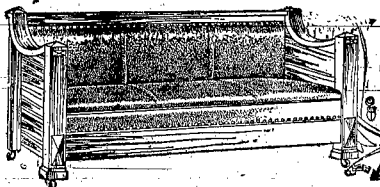

The Sealed Ballot Box at the First National Bank protects each and every member. This method of closing a campaign makes it absolutely impossible for any tips or inside information to be given to any one or two members by the Campaign manager, or employes of the Newspaper. No one will know how many credits and subscriptions you deposit into the sealed ballot box but yourself. Members may make as many reports as they wish next week, all reports going into the Sealed ballot box at the First National Bank. If particulars are not plain, see the Manager at once.

Some Parts of State Are Hurt by Drouth

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 2.—While the condition of corn is excellent in the main corn belt of Nebraska, parts of the southern and western counties have suffered from a lack of moisture, according to the weekly report of A. E. Anderson of the federal bureau of crop estimates. He also says that much of the wheat in the southeastern quarter has been badly bleached by rains and the test weights are running low.

Although much of the corn crop is nearly made, all of the crop could make use of a heavy general rain, the report states, to "put on the finish touches" of a part of the southern and western counties have suffered from drouth and the damage ranges from slight to 50 percent. Kearney, Phelps and Harlan counties are reported badly damaged. Some parts of the dry-land southwestern and western counties appear considerable corn is reported damaged there also. The condition in Jefferson county is said to be excellent and Mr. Anderson said that the low report received and given out by him last week was erroneous. The July rains damaged the one-third of the wheat in the southeastern quarter of the state by bleaching and lowering the test weight. The quality of wheat west of this section is generally excellent. There was less rain and much of the wheat is cut with the header and stacked. Many of the farmers are now plowing for fall wheat.

The reports on oats vary but the report states that the yield may equal the ten year average. There has been some damage to the grains from rains. The reports on spring wheat show further damage to that crop from drouth.

Reports on the potato crop are being lowered slightly each week. The harvest of the early commercial potato crop in the Kearney district continues, but the drouth and high temperatures make early picking necessary to prevent injury to the potatoes. Some parts of the dry-land commercial section in western Nebraska need moisture.

Some of the cane and sugar corn fields in Kearney and Phelps counties are badly burned, according to the report, which states that when such drouth resisting crops are injured to that extent a severe drouth is indicated. The wheat stubble fields there are not green with vegetation as they are at Hastings and Red Cloud. Frosting in Phelps county is making it difficult due to the dry, hard soil, the crop report states.

Vote Bonds at Norfolk.
By a majority vote of thirty-five Saturday, the Norfolk school board was authorized to issue $105,000 worth of extra bonds for the completion of the senior high school now being erected near Central park. At about 6:30 o'clock, the issue looked doubtful, but between then and 7:15 there was a rush to the polls and out of the 873 votes cast, 454 were in favor.

The old senior high school will be used for the accommodation of the grade schools which have been greatly overcrowded.

Miss Elizabeth Betteher left Tuesday morning for North Liberty, Ind., where she will spend her vacation with relatives.

Preaching service at 11 a. m. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Schooler of Scribner, Neb.
The afternoon session commences at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Gilman of Emerson, Neb., and Rev. Schoede of Scribner will preach. In both services, special offerings will be taken.
If the weather should be favorable we expect to have our services at Mrs. Weible's grove, one half mile south of Winside, otherwise in the church.
Everybody is heartily invited. Come early and bring your dinner along.

Old Corn is Spoiling.
West Point, Neb., Aug. 2.—The past week brought two good rains which fell generally throughout this section and was of great benefit to corn, potatoes, and assured the seed and cutting of wild hay. The immense quantities of crop stored by the farmers, throughout this section on account of the low price is becoming in bad condition, due to the frequent rains and humid condition of the atmosphere. In many cribs it is sprouting and generally smilling through the dampness; heavy losses will be sustained by many farmers who have almost their entire last year's crop stored in defective cribs and sheds. It is estimated that one and a half million bushels are in storage in this county alone. Considerable of the new crop of oats is being sold and shipped. Eggs are now selling at 24 cents, but price of cream remains stationary. Corn is rapidly deteriorating and the price could not look any better, a hot wind being the only thing which could possibly be feared by the farmers.

Vote to Stand Pat.
Bloomfield, Neb., Aug. 1.—Five hundred farmers and townsfolk of Bloomfield, in a mass meeting held at the town hall here yesterday afternoon, declared they would stand pat in their strike against the 23 percent rate increase granted the United Telephone company by the state railroad commission last April.

"I SEE BY THE PAPER—" SAID TOM TO WARREN AND HENRY.

Isn't it a grand and glorious feeling when you can lay your head and ears aside for a day and be a regular fellow on a camping-out trip? Tom of America's biggest men think so. President Harding put his foot on the gas of his own little roadster the other day, (forgot that) he was "President" and whizzed out to a little Maryland mountain camp for a day of roughing it with Henry Ford, Thomas Edison and Harvey Firestone. This picture shows Ford, Edison and the President looking over the daily papers while Harvey Firestone was busy driving an age "sunbyside up."

Announcing The New Buick "Four"

A Thoroughbred Four, Completing the Famed Buick Line

The new Four-Cylinder Buick, here announced, is a thoroughbred—a pedigreed car well worthy of its name.

Down to the very last detail, this new model possesses every quality of enduring serviceability, complete comfort and distinctive appearance that have always characterized Buick automobiles.

The advent of this new Four makes the Buick 1922 line complete. It offers to purchasers of a car of this size all the quality and service that go to make up the name "Buick."

The engine, of course, is of the time-tested Buick Valve-in-Head type. The year-after-year concentration of Buick's engineering skill and experience in building Valve-in-Head motors assures the highest standard of performance obtainable today.

Every other unit is of a quality equal to the power plant. The whole assembly constitutes a perfectly balanced chassis which is typical Buick construction. The equipment of Cord Tires is merely evidence of the quality which characterizes the entire car.

Two open and two closed body types mounted on the Buick-built chassis comprise the new series.

Even the most casual inspection of the details of design and workmanship will reveal that full measure of quality which motorists have learned to associate with Buick.

Obviously a high grade automobile—a genuine Buick production—the prices listed below make this great Four even greater. A value such as this is possible only because of the combination of Buick engineering skill devoted to the one ideal of quality, Buick production facilities developed over nearly a quarter of a century, and Buick's nation-wide distribution and service organization.

The Buick Motor Company is proud of the Buick Four. It has the faith of long experience in this newest addition to its line. It places upon it unreservedly the Buick guarantee carried by every Buick automobile produced. That its confidence is well placed is manifested not only by the keen interest with which motorists have awaited this announcement, but also the advance orders placed by distributors, dealers, and the general public.

Culled From Herald's Exchanges For Week

The Hotel Bogdan at Randolph has discontinued serving meals for the past week. The proprietor whose lease expires the first of September has not intended to renew. This condition will leave Randolph without hotel accommodations.

A former Randolph boy, Alfred Reager, recently won third prize in the shot put at the international meet, held at Cambridge, Mass. He is studying at Oxford and came to America with other athletes from that university.

Carl Farnum, of Randolph, had one of his legs amputated at a hospital in Florence, Italy. Farnum had been afflicted with a rare and mysterious disease and the operation was performed in an effort to check the disease. Farnum's leg had been harvested his oats crop for him.

W. D. Estess, of Aberdeen, Mo., recently purchased the Florence Journal, which had been owned by Anderson Brothers, of Wausau, and managed by A. H. Christensen. The new ownership is headed by Estess.

Rev. C. G. Therman, pastor of the first Lutheran minister to locate in Cedar county, died at his home in Muskog, Thursday, July 21. He was born in Norway and came to America in 1858.

Cedar County News: Two children of Mrs. Mary Bart were instantly killed and a third was seriously injured when they were caught by a falling culmpanment of a creek bank. The culmpanment fell about a half mile east of Cedar county, a creek Monday evening. The presence of mind of a fourth child, aged eight years, in swimming helped him to save the life of the oldest child in the family, Walter, aged 10, who was rescued by the fourth mother, Mrs. M. S. Bart.

The family supper had been served and the children had finished their meals and after a romp through the trees, informed the mother that they were going to have mud pies near the creek which flows by about 500 yards from the house. In the party were Walter, 10; Mabel, the eldest; Lawrence and Loretta, 7, and Roseline, the baby, aged 2.

They had been gone about a half-hour when Mary rushed home carrying news of the accident and Mr. Wiesek and Mrs. Bart hastened to the scene and made frantic efforts to reach the children. A few minutes later they got Walter out and were able to restore him to consciousness, although he was severely injured. The other two children in a very few minutes but death had been instantaneous in each case; the heavy water logging earth having been too heavy for them and so injured the girl that she must have died instantly. The boy was about 10 feet high and was thought to be in a dangerous condition but the heavy earth must have been loosened as a result of the rains.

The funeral was held this morning from the home to St. Joseph's Catholic church, Crawford, where Rev. Father Boehm conducted the service. The family has the sympathy of the entire community in their affliction.

Mr. and Mrs. Bart moved to the Court near Havelle about three years ago. Mrs. Bart is a cousin of Otto Bogner, well known Crawford farm land owner.

Agriculture Notes

Hauling Over-County Roads.
The necessity of keeping country roads in good condition is shown by a report recently compiled by the Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture. Many of the over-County roads are used in hauling farm products to market. According to the report, which shows the tonnage of 11 principal crops, the average tonnage of the 11 crops hauled on county roads each year for the period mentioned amounted to 35,500 tons. The crops referred to in the report are corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, rice, flaxseed, cotton (including seed), tobacco, potatoes (including seed), and alfalfa.

Assist Food Producers.
Through its reporting stations in all parts of the country, the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture advises crop growers of approaching storms and heavy rains, and furnishes minimum temperature forecasts—all of which warnings have been of great value to farmers in the matter of crop protection. The service covers 95 per cent of the principal grain states, the regional center being at Chicago and 188 special reporting stations; 11 of principal cotton states, with New Orleans, La., as the regional center, and 160 special reporting stations; rice and sugar growing sections of the South with 3 special reporting stations; all or parts of 8 grazing states, with 67 special reporting stations. Special reporting stations are also maintained in the principal tobacco, potato, alfalfa seed, cranberry, citrus, and deciduous fruit-growing regions.

The Weather Bureau.
Including the 1921 season, the Bureau has reported the following distribution over 21 circuits, represent the transmission by the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture of 4,500 reports twice daily, totaling more than 3,000,000 each week annually. The operation of this system in conjunction with the dispatch of a limited number of special messages each day to the hands of the public in each section of the country full knowledge of the weather conditions over practically the entire United States and adjoining territory at a comparatively small cost. The messages are sent by reason of the code words given daily weather reports and forecasts. They are transmitted without interference with the public service.

Business.
St. Louis City Journal: Throughout the country there is now a better outlook for business revival. The tone is firmer and confidence is stronger. This is seen in the preliminary activities of concerns, new and old, that are preparing the way for the revival looked for in the fall. Here and there over a wider area, cash work, middle west and south, business undeniably is better. It is mainly, however, the "holding up" process and no claim can be made for resumption of a large scale that is anything like normal.

The best report, perhaps, comes from the middle west. Cleveland, O., is in a fortunate position in this respect. Manufacturers in the clothing line are operating almost at normal capacity.

Hersch Legislation Repugnant.
Yonkers Journal: The bill which is now in the hands of the committee on Education in the Senate is repugnant and inimical to the interests of the old fashioned, conservative, but hard and intolerant legislation is not the way to do it.

GREATEST COMEBACK IN BASEBALL

"Babe" Adams, leading pitcher for the fast going Pittsburgh Pirates, which are now leading the National League race, is perhaps the greatest comeback ever seen in baseball. He has pitched 170 1/2 innings for the Pirates to victory in world series play over Detroit, winning 11 games and losing 10. On the day in later years when his arm weakened, seemingly, and he was sent back to the minor leagues, finally landing in a small Kansas circuit. But Babe Adams came through. He set to work and pitched such great ball that the Pirates got for him.

Two Sterling Automobiles

We handle the Chandler and Cleveland automobiles, two high-class, service-giving cars.

The Chandler is the result of the constant refinement of the first Chandler—refinement and mechanical development without radical change or questionable experimentation. The Chandler's popularity is due in large measure to the remarkable performance of its motor.

Roadability is a characteristic feature of the Cleveland automobile. It rides roads with a smoothness that is truly a revelation to those familiar with cars of comparable size. We have models adapted to every use.

Let us demonstrate those two fine and substantial types of cars. If you are thinking of buying, be sure to see us.

At Least Has Shipper's Angle. Omaha World-Herald: "Somebody would turn all the railroads over to Henry Ford. Isn't it enough that he cluttered all the roads up with his wars?"

Railway Prospects Brighten. Lincoln Journal: A freight car shortage is beginning to be felt in half a dozen of the states in the middle west with hundreds of them to send to market. The effect will be favorable to railroad earnings and ought to encourage a considerable amount of transportation development in the next twelve months.

Northfield Should Wait. Chicago News: Lord Northfield says that he will talk about prohibition in the United States whether meets it. Evidently his lordship has not yet hopped up any wood at all.

Women to Share the Blame. Galveston Tribune: One reason why a lot of men so strongly favored woman suffrage was they did not care to carry alone the blame of electing a lot of men who managed to get into office.

POLICEMAN, TAKE HIS HARDWARE AWAY FROM HIM!

Pray God For Disarmament. On Nov. 21, 1918, the German High Sea Fleet sailed gloomily over to English shores and surrendered. On that day the supremacy of the Atlantic Ocean became the sea of the world's Pacific.

In August, 1920, the powerful new Pacific fleet of the American navy sailed through the Panama Canal and plunged into the waters of the vast Pacific. On that day the Pacific Ocean became the seat of the world's naval power.

The most ambitious effort of two centuries to build up a new rule of the sea failed when Germany handed over her dreadnaughts; it is not to be expected that another European power will again ever try supremacy in the Atlantic. There will be no such a stake. But in the west it is different. The two shores of the Pacific "loom up" in the midst of the future with such tremendous possibilities that, if this world is to continue to be vexed by wars and rumors of war, at least three nations must of necessity make the waters of that vast ocean reek with the smoke of their battleships. Either we must have disarmament, and the probable peace that goes with disarmament or we Americans must make up our minds to enormous expenditures of treasure and human life during the coming decades. It seems more or less inevitable that the United States and Japan continue the present feverish preparation for war, it will be war.

Declaration of war between America and Japan will be the mere touch of the match. We will never give in and no more will Japan. The whole world will be dragged in, black men, brown men, yellow men, black men, Anglo-Saxons, Magdalenians, Turcomans, Swabians and Latins. And don't forget the human masses of humanity in Asia; masses that can "eat up" millions in human flesh every year and declare their losses with a birth rate.

What can you do to back the President of the United States at this critical moment in the world's history?

What can you do to save your children and your grandchildren from destruction?

At least you can lift your single voice and you can urge your neighbors to lift their voices for peace so loudly that they will be heard.

The people of every city, every town, every hamlet, every country, lift your voices for peace in meeting and pray for the success of the coming international conference at Washington.

SCARFS STILL TO RULE THIS WINTER

Every woman knows the soft, furry warmth of high quality wool which is being used extensively in scarfs this year. Time was when women had to merely "silk" for warmth, but scarfs like these keep on the cold and chill while they let fair to lead in woolen glory. At the Rush Terminal Sales Bldg., New York, the newer style, shown here, is 22 inches wide and 18 inches long.

Let Public Know Facts.

New York Herald-Albany. Springfield, Mass., Republican. It is difficult to determine the rights and wrongs of the law in which the United States shipping board has become involved. Over leasing of nine big ships to a private company, whose trial is evidently being to get them. As a professional expert in public utility, Mr. Lasker, the new chairman of the board, ought to say some of his own medicine and let the public in on the facts. The case will go to the courts and arbitrary action should have been and should be avoided.

Income Tax Non-Sectional.

Washington, D. C., August 3. The tax appears to find the income from whatever section of the country derived, and to operate equitably. Where wealth is concentrated a larger aggregate will be taken by the tax collector, this being an inescapable portion of the levy. But the fallacy is pretty well proved that there is any degree of sectionalism in the income tax.

Industry Will Be Quickened.

Yankton Press and Dakotan: One of the prime causes for the business depression has been restricted to the delay of railroads in purchasing needed materials. These purchases will be possible as soon as the government agreement is made. This will mean the quickening of industry in many lines, the reopening of many closed plants, the full time activity of many which have been part time.

Ford as Railroad Operator.

New York Herald-Albany. Ford continues to have honors thrust upon him. Now 400 of his fellow citizens of Michigan are fruit growers of Ocker county, have petitioned President Harding to have the railroads of the country turned over to the automobile manufacturer to operate. Their reason for having successful reduced freight rates on his own railroad he could do as much for all roads.

Suckers Insist on Their Right.

Chicago News: It is a lamentable fact that every year legislative legislation against fraud, hundreds of millions of dollars are "invested" annually in worthless stocks by victims of glib swindlers masquerading as agents of trustworthy enterprises.

BROADWAY STAR JOINS NEW POST

Frank Tinney, noted stage comedian, is now a member of the American Legion, having joined the F. W. Galbraith Jr. Post in New York. He was a captain in the army. Incidentally, the F. W. Galbraith Jr. Post is a new post recently organized by men from the American Legion, New York City. Posts all over the country asked to be chartered as the F. W. Galbraith Jr. Post, but the New York organization being closest to headquarters, had its application in first and won the coveted name.

Prof. C. J. RUDLONG.

"I am in good health for the first time in thirty years and I give thanks the entire credit," said Professor C. J. Rudlong, well-known and highly respected citizen of Manchester, N. H., living at 42 School street. "From the time I was a boy I couldn't sit down and eat a meal without being in misery afterwards from indigestion. During all these years I was afflicted with indigestion, too. It was all over my body, but especially bad in my feet and legs and at times I couldn't get from my bed to my chair without help. I was almost a nervous wreck from all these years of suffering and could not hold to my work. I hope for nothing more than temporary benefit from medicine as I believed it impossible for any doctor to give me entire relief, but this is exactly what Nature has done.

"For the first time since I can remember I eat anything I want and digest it without trouble. I haven't an ache or a pain or have not an eighteen pounds in weight. Just feel good all over and live like as I never did before. Having put Nature to the test I do not hesitate to say that in the great best medicine of the age for stomach trouble and rheumatism.
