Time to Sober Up.

Hartington, Neb., Herald: The long spree of extravagance, and waste in which this nation indulged is over; it is time now to sober up and cultivate the homely virtues of thrift, industry and economy.

There is Nothing Free. Minneapolis Journal: The notion that there is anything free in this world is as erroneous as it is seductive. Government is not able to supply anything free. What is free to somebody, costs somebody else else.

Making a thing free, is but shifting the cost from one pair of shoulders to another. Yet there are nowadays many demands that this or that thing be free to this or that user or consumer. Emulation in getting something for nothing seems rife. If it is proposed that the government pay for it, it is forgotten that government but passes on the cost to all-of-us.

Actions Speak Louder than Words

Are you still one of the few automobile owners who continue to use any old oil as long as you think the price is right, regardless of whether it is of the correct grade and weight for your type of motor?

If you are, it is a safe bet that your motor talks—but in a rather discouraging manner. Take advantage of our Correct Service for Every Type of Motor, and cease wondering what causes your motor to stutter.

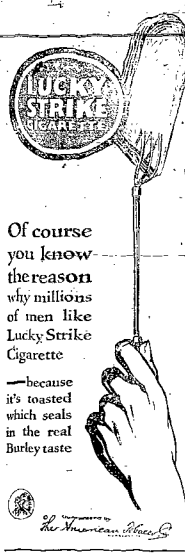

Good oil cannot replace mechanical imperfections, but it can do wonders for an otherwise perfect motor. Drive in to our station, let us fit you out, and for hours afterward your motor will continue to speak in a satisfactory manner.

The weather is getting cooler, watch your step; it will take good gasoline to give your car "pep."

Willard Threaded Rubber Battery

The trademark, stamped in red on the cover identifies the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery.

"What is Threaded Rubber?"

Threaded Rubber Insulation is made up of sheets of rubber, each pierced by 196,000 tiny threads. The rubber insulates each plate from its neighbor and the threads allow the battery solution to circulate freely.

Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation stays on the job month after month unaffected by acid and without a sign of splitting, cracking or perforation. It lasts as long as the battery plates and helps the battery give more miles of uninterrupted service per dollar.

You'll need a battery one of these days, so the time to get your battery information together is right now. We'll be glad to show you a Threaded Rubber Battery inside and outside and tell you why it saves you money.

In the county school superintendent's report for the year ending July 8, 1901, it is shown that $17,609.73 was paid out in salaries for teachers. Three new school houses were built. The number of children in the county between the ages of five and twenty has increased. The schools had a total enrollment of 2870. There were twenty-two more girls enrolled than boys. The average attendance record shows a higher percent of attendance for the boys than for the girls. The number of teachers needed was 100. One-third of the teachers were men and they received over one-third of the amount of money paid out in salaries. There were eighty districts in the county open for an average of seven months. Seventeen districts held nine months of school. Fourteen schools held six months' or less of school. There was but one school in the county last year paying as low as $25 per month for a teacher.

From Ponca Journal, October 2, 1879:

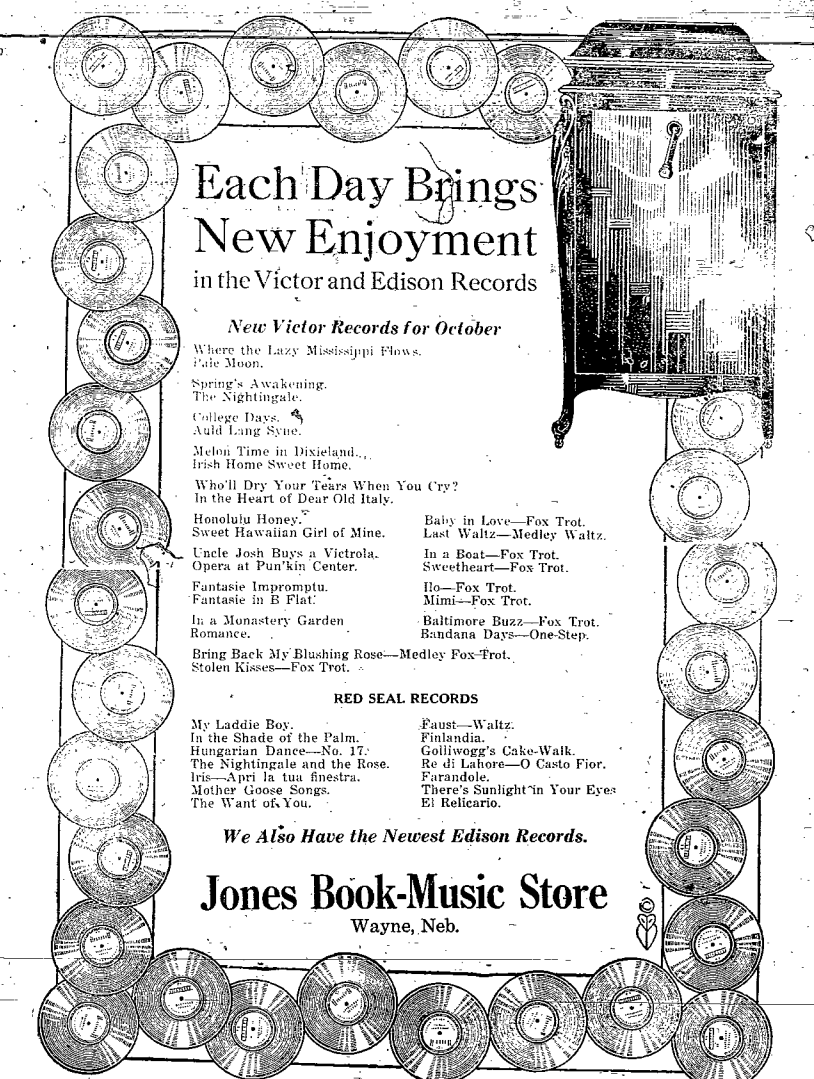

The wind blew like fury last night and the air was full of the fumes of burning prairies.

We hear that Prof. Perrigone, the sage, was attending to geological and other formations at Fort Peck, will soon return to this country.

On Tuesday evening, Dr. Burdick received by express from a friend in Illinois, three splendid pure blooded and blue blooded Poland China pigs.

By private letters received from our friends at Fort Peck, we learn that everything is quiet there, that the hostiles have returned to their camps and are again chewing their rations with thankfulness of heart.

Horse stealing is of common and frequent occurrence, and not only furnishes the Indian police with business, but also relieves in a measure, the monotony of life in that region. We learn from the same letter that a renegade white man in attempting to take a horse belonging to an Indian under color and title of a bill sale a year old, created quite an excitement, and came very near involving the agent and our friends in a serious trouble. But by the prompt action taken by Major Porter, the imminent danger which threatened the post was averted.

and the horse restored to the Indian and the renegade ran out of camp. The boys who went from here will engage in a buffalo hunt in that region during this month. They report that prairie chickens, ducks and geese are very abundant, and so also is other game. A few days ago Mr. Alun, to whom the Indians have given the name of the "sick stag," went out on a hunt and killed an immense elk.

As a general thing good health and contentment prevail.

In that country there has no rain during the summer and fall months. In the winter and spring they generally have about six weeks of rain, but during the balance of the year it is as dry as a powder house. They must therefore have a climate very similar to that of Oregon.

himself through the brain. O. B. man Grove, it was decided to discontinue telephone service on Oct. 1, 1901. No reason for his act is known.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt had just finished dinner and were talking of going to the fair grounds, when Mr. Burt stepped into the bath room without a word of warning and shot himself.

Mr. Burt had been running a pool table here for a number of years. He married for the second time about a year ago. Mr. Burt is said to have been intimate to some of his personal friends that he was tired of living and that statement is the only thing he is known to have said or done that would reveal his reason for taking his own life.

Besides his widow, he leaves one son, Roy, who is part owner of the electric light plant here and two brothers in California.

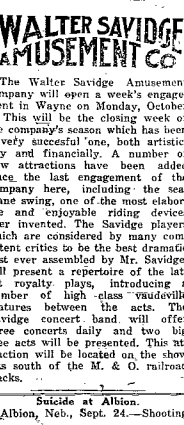

Fatal Accident.

Fremont, Neb., Sept. 23.—The accidental discharge of a shotgun in his own hands, while attempting to rout a gang of boys from his father's watermelon patch, cost the life of Everett Kelly, 20-year-old son of a farmer near West Bend.

There were no witnesses to the shooting, but it is believed by officials who investigated that the gun was discharged when the young man tried to remove it from the rear of a wagon. He was sitting at the time. The body was discovered by relatives who became alarmed at his prolonged absence from the home.

Numerous bands of small boys have been making raids on the watermelon patch and young Kelly was in the habit of going to the field and firing his gun in the air to frighten the boys.

This will be the closing week of the company's season which has been a very successful one, both artistically and financially. A number of new attractions have been added since the last engagement of the company here, including the sea plane swing, one of the most elaborate and enjoyable riding devices ever invented. The Savidge players which are considered by many competent critics to be the best dramatic cast ever assembled by Mr. Savidge, will present a repertoire of the latest royalty plays, introducing a number of high class "vaudeville" features between the acts. The Savidge concert band will offer three concert bands and two big free acts will be presented. This attraction will be located on the show lots south of the M. & O. railroad tracks.

In repeating stories, people should be made sure that they are true, or at least not wholly false. It is only a story that didn't even have a cork leg to stand on. It contains not even a suggestion of truth.

President Harding has received hundreds of letters urging reduction in costs in everything excepting the particular commodity produced by the one making the complaint. This is the very human nature of things, and that is one reason why adjustment to normal is such a slow and painful process.

It would seem that the universal welfare would amply justify without undue reticence as a means of forcing Japan or any other militant nation to accept the highly desirable economic policy of reducing armaments. This kind of force would be infinitely preferable to inviting war by building up costly war machines.

The threatened strike of railway employes may not bother the railroads as much as the patrons' strike which has been going on apparently for several months. If we were running the railroads, we would cut transportation rates to a pre-war level without ceremony in order to run a business. If we then found that increased volume would not pay wages, we would trim wages.

In motoring to Sioux City one can tell where the Dakota county line runs. It is where the bad roads begin. A suburb of progressive Sioux City, Dakota county ought to put on a little more style in the way of public highways. Dakota county has a strong penchant for fingering out pioneer history, but it would not seem necessary to do so in the other exclusive of matters improving. It would not seem necessary to continually emphasize primitive history by preserving archaic roadways.

The weekly toll of dead and injured, due to automobile accidents, keeps up with distressing regularity, and it is usually the result of careless driving and the abuse of the privileges of the public road on the part of some one. A driver must not only be careful himself, but look out for the other fellow. If he would be safe, he must slow up when he sees a car coming, slow up in rounding a curve, and put on the brakes when going on a grade where an approaching car cannot be seen. Reckless

John Skelton Williams, former comptroller of the currency, charges the federal reserve system with discriminating against country banks and in favor of banks in New York, Chicago and St. Louis in the matter of financial accommodations. Mr. Williams calls attention to a record of favor to the banks of the three cities last September when agricultural communities were in need of help. He strongly decries the federal reserve system, but charges that its benefits have not been fairly distributed. This is not a partisan complaint. The ground for censure stated under the former administration and does not seem to have been remitted as yet under the new administration.

The importance of calling off the dog was universally suffered in preparation for war is emphasized in the forthcoming dreadnaught, "Maryland," which is to be put into commission. We are informed that this one battleship will have cost $40,000,000. That is not all. It has sixteen guns, each of which cost $2,000,000. In addition, it has such a gun costs $18,000 for powder, metal and shell mechanism. In wages and upkeep it will cost $2,000,000 a year to maintain the ship. The "Maryland" is one item in the huge cost of keeping up the navy and being prepared for war. It is high time the nations got together and called a halt.

We heard "Billy" Sunday at his afternoon session in Sioux City Friday, and we must say that from start to finish he said nothing that is of any objection could be justly lodged. Regardless of varied religious beliefs, regardless of how orthodox or unorthodox one may be, all who heard him must concede that the evangelist gave a clear portrayal of prevailing objections to moral and social development. Some people may not wish to think right and do right through orthodox religion; other groups through different interpretation of the scriptures; other applications of Christianity. However one may think on non-essential beliefs, he cannot make a mistake in adopting Christian principles. This we assume may be done by influencing "Billy" Sunday, or by the influence of one's home church, or by the influence of his pastor and spiritual tutors before the family fireside. Whatever permanent good "Billy" Sunday is capable of doing, we don't know. At least he diagnoses spiritual sickness with a good deal of patience and thoroughness, and whether people apply Christianity in such a manner to this prescription or some other, would seem immaterial if desired convalescence is accomplished.

The Accident.

Oh, jinks, how sick a driver feels when he finds down and sees a voter tangled in his wheels, with mangled hat and knees! He looks down through remorseful tears, and sheds a mangled sweat, and though he lives a hundred years, he never will forget. At most times he's a thoughtless, fat, easy, who scans the road with care, as he propels his flaming bus down the thoroughfare. But now a neighbor with him rides—and he would show her speed, and open wide the throttle slides, and she sees wood, indeed. She madly rips around a curve, and there the voter hines. I to my room repair, and on stands; it is too late, alas, to swear, my downy couch recline, and throw out on his frame she lands. The same night comes there. And people poor pedestrian lies flat upon the say, "You miss so much, who sleep dusty late; the ruins of his Sunday the hours away! You should wake up, hat are pitiful to see! The crown is kept in touch with night life, faded here and there, the tone is which is say, "Then all the five mixed badly, can't, and never, on a Sabbath are on deck, and bands play jazzy, fair, can it again he wear. The voter tunes, and you should through the horn upon a door, is taken to the village truck, and blow in some doubt, some and bubbles of the hot he says, "The lights are glowing, white, when he is stricken down and red throughout the noisy night. Oh, never may you know the pain but I have parked myself in bed and of such a scene, I pray, and never there I'm sleeping tight. And in the night you glided chain, run down morning when I read the night life, rules of crime, I say, "A man must sleep, indeed, to have a high class time. Bill Jimman has his pockets full of money, and he is picked while looking at a game, and Jasper Jinks was badly licked for smiling at a dame. I see that Boggs, whose car's a treat, it has such won-drous power, was pinched while coming down the street at forty miles an hour. And Mike was knifed, and Pete was hot by gangsters, and I do not know the best of him, while the sight who goes to roost with his spid and try to tell how tough he'd be. By night all perils dire are I feel, that I can't patronize him, I used, and evil runs amok; some with your own car, while the sight who goes to roost with a few fewer four has struck.

My Busy Day.

My older puts and quickens, the tank with gas is filled; the road is strewn with chickens and cats that

Franchise of the home hospital saves time for the children who should miss as little school as possible. If the child's need for surgical or medical attention is urgent the nearness of the home hospital is gratifying to the anxious parents.

Furthermore, the children's days in the hospital can be brightened by the visits of playmates and teachers and the children can return to their play and school world without the strangeness of returning after a long and distant separation.

THE WAYNE HOSPITAL PHONE 61

I have killed; still faster, faster go! And cattle that were lowing, and roosters that were crowing, and the forementioned fowls, and the reason for hitting such a chip; I have the whole blamed section in which to make the trip but my old son's a dinger, a dinger, and a dinger, and so I do not linger—just watch the old girl skip! But, say, what ails you? You seem to be in a hurry! You had a bad collision, just now the doctor said, "at high speed you were racing, all motorom disengaging, and now you see me doing this, pulling up your head. Your car, that was a daisy, is wacked beyond repair; the coroner is crazy, so many dead are there when two fools get to driving, to break speed records; striving, it's strange—that one's surviving, as you are, I declare. The bad truth must be spoken, though it may seem a frost; your collaboration is broken, and both your ears are lost with those four dead are crushed, your discharges let, hussed, your works must be adjusted, and that at frightful cost. And from my coach of sickness, I catch the autos pass, and mark their pop, and quickest when drivers give them gas; I may not drive such sprinters for many, many years, for I am all in splinters, oh, wails and alas!

Stinger and Stung.

A merchant price can sting me once, but one time will suffice; and I would be the premium duncie to let him sting me twice. When I receive my monthly bills mistakes I've often caught; I'm charged for 20c or seawax pills, the which I never bought. Some error of a clerk, I say, and journey to the store, where things are straightened right away, and no one's head is sore. All honest men may be mistaken, which they in haste retrieve, and even I have made my breaks—which fact you'll seldom believe. When I progress represent their hand as being pure, and no cheap sugar with my blent, their articles I can't endure. I discover when I'm engaged to buy the said, I've been engaged on the sly—such methods sicken me. And if the dairymen would bill, I'd give him, "You've dirt, the milk is just of milk, when water's what I want. I fail would leave my fevered brow with water. I dine, and I've produced an antique cow, and say its juice is fine." Of grievous tricks the town is full, and fakers strike the thought; they sell you shoes for wool, and paper shoes at all. And ever, as I sing and dance, I hand out this advice; the same man shouldn't have a chance to sting the voter twice.

Words of Wisdom.

Before you start a motor car, which in style, in your new bus or lorry, just paste this maxim in your file: "Motor cars, or you'll be sorry." Be sure the motor car is in good shape, your feet spangled, a hundred fells, each passing day, are badly killed or mangled. Because the reckless rip and run, your wiser men have carried a hundred cents, or maybe more, are to the honeyard carried. Oh, bear in mind the traffic sales, as your large bus advances for only number or fools will speed and take the chances. With care propel your costly dray, all signs and signs seeing, it is so awful thing to slay a useful human being. It is an awful thing to know that by your careless driving you've had a fellow mortal lay and kept him from surviving. When once some fatal accident is charged up to your specialing, you'll fill the skies with your wailing, your heart-breaking; but that won't help you worth a dime, no comfort can you borrow. Generalize the safe choice in the twice safety and grim sorrow. Avoid the sorrow and laments, the useless wails and curses, and bear in mind the stickmen who ride away in hoarse. All day the deadly alios roll; the death lists I keep reading; don't add another to the toll of victims killed by speeding.

Inherited Wealth Misused.

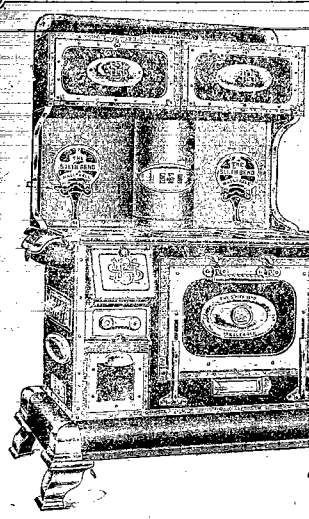

Chicago Tribune. The property lies against enormous incomes, if they are not to be used in the country's productivity, and the sources of enormous incomes should not be consolidated and perpetuated in a family. In prevention of that a wisely drawn inheritance tax would operate. The maker of great fortune may be trusted with the income from it, but Americans know from experience that the great facts of the fortune maker cannot be. They divert the wealth from productivity to channels which serve their own selfish lives or their social ambitions here and abroad.

Springfield, Mass., Republican. While the story lacks confirmation that Attorney General Daugherty will resign from the cabinet in order to run for the senate from Ohio, the present condition of the senate leadership is certainly an argument in favor of the transfer to that body of the president's closest political friend. Camels are made for Men who Think for Themselves

Such folks know real quality—and DEMAND it. They prefer Camels because Camels give them the smoothest, mellowest smoke they can buy—because they love the mild, rich flavor of choicest tobaccos, perfectly blended—and because Camels leave NO CIGARETTEY AFTERTASTE.

Like every man who does his own thinking, you want fine tobacco in your cigarettes. You'll find it in Camels.

And, mind you, no flashy package just for show. No extra wrappers! No costly frills! These things don't improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons.

But QUALITY! Listen! That's CAMELS!

School Notes.

The Winside high school played a return game of baseball with Hoskins last Friday at the Hoskins diamond. At the end of the game, the score stood 14-11 in favor of Winside. This makes a game a piece for these teams. Schroeder and Fogarty were the battery for Hoskins high school. Schroeder was in good form, but costly errors let in too many runs to win. Capt. Hansen of the Winside schools umpired the game. Both Pegley and Leo Rublow of Hoskins hit three baggers.

At the class meeting of the sophomores Tuesday, the following officers were elected: President, Norris Schroeder; vice-president, Alice Anderson; secretary and treasurer, Frieda Hannaman.

At the class meeting of the freshman class, the following officers were elected: President, Dorothy Puls; vice-president, Natalie Krause; secretary and treasurer, Lloyd Behner. Both classes intend to have some live social datings during the year.

Inter-County School Meeting This Fall

The school superintendents of Cedar, Dixon, Thurston, Bert, Dakota and Wayne counties, met at Emerson Friday to plan the program for the inter-county teachers' meeting which will be held in Emerson, October 22. This meeting which is held each year at first postponed because a new arrangement placed the meeting of the third congressional teachers' meeting in Emerson Friday by the county superintendents and the county institutes also in the fall, the season would be full enough for the teachers and superintendents without the usual fall meeting at Emerson. The district teachers' meeting has been returned to the spring date so it was planned Friday by the county superintendents to hold the teachers' meeting at Emerson as usual.

Getting Public Pulse.—Sioux Falls Argus-Leader: Movie producers in Los Angeles and movie actors and actresses have started a clean-up movement of their own. They realize that the news of wild orgies and of frequent scandals, sent abroad throughout the country, is reacting against the business, and will eventually mean another reduction of age and scander salaries and profits for all in the business. The amusement public is not an overeasy one, but it does require some measure of decency from those who expect its support. And if current reports be true, the clean-up campaign has started none too soon.

Injection Against Language Law

Fremont, Neb., Sept. 23.—The Reed-Norwick act, a measure passed by the last session of the Nebraska legislature, demanding the exclusive use of the English language in instruction in the graded schools of Nebraska was held to be unconstitutional by Judge Frederick W. Button in an opinion rendered today at Columbus. The opinion allows the Nebraska district of the Lutheran Evangelical Synod of Missouri a perpetual injunction against the act, and is interpreted to prohibit the enforcement of the law.

The injunction, directed against the governor and attorney general of Nebraska and the county attorney of Platte county, where the suit was brought, enjoins the defendants from interfering with the giving of religious instruction in private, parochial and denominational schools in any language required by the parents of the pupils in the church and school. It is pointed out, however, that the opinion is subject to review.

The injunction also forbids the state from interfering with the imparting of necessary instruction in said languages so as to enable teachers to intelligently and efficiently impart religious instruction to their pupils.

Country Backing President.

Chicago Tribune: The country is unanimously back of the president's appeal to congress for expeditious legislation. Partisan politics, the vociferous demands of one-sided minorities, the inertia of legislative bodies block the way to relief. We can only pray that leadership in congress will sweep them away. Five million Americans are out of work, business is being driven to the wall, hundreds and thousands are unemployed and hungry. Correction of hastily imposed war taxes is imperative. The railroad situation, which has become a national crisis, must be cleared up. The tariff must be promptly adjusted. Peace relations with Central Europe must be fixed. Until these obstructions to healthy restoration of the national energies are removed the nation must remain weak and half paralyzed.

Culled From Herald's Exchanges For Week

Mrs. Edna Hansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hansen of Omaha precinct, near Dakota City, died at Lincoln last week where she had gone temporarily to the state university. The fatal illness was pneumonia.

A meeting was held in Dakota City last week to discuss the matter of river protection. Representatives of the Burlington railroad told of the improvement their road had made against river encroachment. Representatives of cottonseed companies presented their suggestions for river protection. One system, the silt system, was explained. By a system of concrete piling driven to bedrock out into the river 300 feet or more to which trees are cabled with posts upstream, these posts break the force of the current and slow up the stream, diverting the waters and causing a deposit to form which soon becomes a sandbar, which later covers the protection and the current seeks another channel.

An estimate on such a system beginning about 1925 and ending at above Dakota City would cost about $150,000 and would use 10,000 trees but the further cutting of the banks would be stopped for a distance of several miles.

Fred Wilson, formerly of McLean, now of Omaha, and another Omaha man held a party and a ball game coming into Council Bluffs. They were stopped about five miles from the pavement by a man who was evidently having car trouble. The man inquired for a wrench and while the Omaha men were looking for the tool, an accomplice appeared and the two men, who now proved to be robbers, searched Mr. Wilson and his companion at the point of revolvers. The robbers got away with nearly $100 and an expensive diamond ring.

Waldo Townsend, spouse Travers and L. Travers of Randolph were victims of an automobile garrison one night last week when they were returning from Foster, where they had been duck hunting. A little out of Omaha their lights gave out but they decided to finish the trip without them. At the railroad crossing east of Omaha they suddenly hit a Ford racer which was also traveling without lights. The Randolph men were all thrown out of the car, receiving bruises. The driver of the speedster was also bruised and his car completely wrecked.

The junior Red Cross of Bloomfield has put on three talent plays this winter under the direction of the National Producing bureau.

J. C. Arnell of Randolph was thrown from a horse at Holdrege last week while he was taking part in the frontier days round-up. His spur caught in the saddle trimmings and he was dragged about and kicked by the horse, losing consciousness. His injuries were not fatal.

The formal opening of the Grand Island bridge over the Platte, seventeen miles west of Aurora, was celebrated last week with a joint picnic of Hall and Hamilton counties. The work was begun in November, 1919, and was just completed about a month ago. The bridge of reinforced concrete, is 850 feet long and its estimated cost is $10,000. It is located on the S. W. A. highway which connects the O. L. D. and the Lincoln highway.

The soft drink parlor of F. A. Magdanz of Florence was robbed for the second time, September 16. The thief stole the cash the proprietor had left in a drawer. The thief left a note and returned a razor he had stolen a week before.

Twelve people were granted citizenship papers in district court at Madison last week by Judge A. A. Welch.

A new Methodist church is to be erected at Wahoo. The building plan provides for a dining room, kitchen and a gymnasium besides the usual church auditorium and Sunday school rooms.

Twenty years ago G. H. Heidt of Wahoo lost a watch and the watch was plowed up recently by his brother, John Heidt. The case was broken but the crystal was unbroken and on waiting at the watch ran immediately. The watch was identified by the owner's name which was engraved on the back.

Business

Shoux City Journal: Industrial and commercial activity continues to improve. The housing business is in better condition, owing to the fact that farmers, realizing returns on crop yields, have been liquidating their obligations. Manufacturing is gaining slowly but surely as the advancing season increases orders. This is true generally with wood manufacturers, the boot and shoe business and steel and iron plants going steadily on with enlarged programs of activity. Steel and iron production right now is under 50 per cent of normal, but manufacturers are able to see that the immediate future is going to be better for them. The steel and iron men look to the railroads and to building construction for the major portion of their product. Buying for the railroads, according to middle west information will pick up from now on. That is a possibility that only can come from better business, which the majority of the leading lines already have enjoyed. The housing situation has commenced to make an urgent demand for materials for building. New Orleans reports that orders for southern pine have shown an increase, figures for the week ending September 9 showing an advance of nearly 21 per cent. That percentage of increase represented 6,239,221 feet. That is good news from the south, which, together with the increase in the price of cotton that created a better financial situation, promises to put that section of the country in a much stronger economic position. A feature of the cotton advance that was gratifying was that it brought a quick wealth to planters over a wide area.

Since it is the accepted belief that business conditions in this country have depended and still depend upon the extent of the willingness of the general public to buy goods at home, a comparison of international prices may awaken the interest of Americans everywhere. It is recalled that recent reports of visitors to Europe emphasized how far ahead of other countries the United States has forged in its reconstruction program. Today, prices for goods in the United States are far below those of any European country, the condition being due to the rapidity with which the economic bubble was deflated by business men here. The United States leads the world in price declines. The wholesale level for last July was only 41 per cent above the 1913 level. In France in the same period the wholesale level was 232 per cent above that before the war. In Italy it was 100 per cent above 1913 and in England prices are exactly double what they were before the war. The high prices still prevailing abroad no doubt account for the slowness of business recovery there and the lower cost of goods here is responsible for the showing America has made abroad since recovery. These comparisons, ought to dissipate what remains in this country of the feeling that led to the buyers' strike. Increased buying can only lead to one thing in any country—the speeding up of production, bigger payrolls, less unemployment, an improved economic situation that will extend its influence to every home and to every individual. No doubt the people throughout the country have begun to realize that they have got to buy or they cannot sell—either at home or abroad—and from now on will contribute in this way to business improvement.

Wall street reflects the new tone in business. Its confidence is stronger from day to day with the prevailing trend in the majority of markets being decidedly upward. Dealers now regard the declines as mere incidents whereas a short time ago they constituted the main features with gains being considered the unusual development; and while Wall street is slow in accepting the new order of things its activity has responded to the changed demand. The grain market at Chicago finished the week without incident save that wheat closed strong and oats commanded a good price. The cattle trade generally is steady. Foreign exchange has not shown any marked, material change.

You'll enjoy the sport of rolling 'em with P. A.!

FIRST thing you do next — go get some makin's papers and some Prince Albert tobacco and puff away on a horse made cigarette that will hit on all your smoke cylinders!

And, besides, Prince Albert's delightful flavor, there's its freedom from bite and parch which is cut out by our exclusive patented process! Certainly — you smoke P. A. from sun up till you slip between the sheets without a comeback.

No use sitting by and saying maybe you'll cash this lunch tomorrow. Do it while the going's good, for man-o-man, you can't figure out what you're passing by! Such flavor, such coolness, such more-ish-ness — well, the only way to get the words emphatic enough is to go to it and know yourself!

Prince Albert is the tobacco that revolutionized pipe smoking. If you never could smoke a pipe — forget it! You can — AND YOU WILL — if you use Prince Albert for packing! It's a smoke revelation in a jimmy pipe or a cigarette!

Polished Oak The Floor Beautiful

There is nothing that yields so much of lasting satisfaction about the home as polished oak floors.

The beauty of polished oak is admitted by all, its durability is unquestioned, yet many do not know it is inexpensive.

Oak floors are inexpensive by reason of their permanency and because less labor is needed to keep them in order.

Old floors may be made beautiful by laying 3-8 inch oak flooring over the old floor. It is not necessary to disturb the old floor — just order oak flooring, engage a carpenter and proceed. If you will give us the size of your rooms, we will cheerfully advise you the cost of the material.

Agriculture Notes

To Collect Seed Grain Loans.

In connection with the collection of the 1,000,000 seed-grain loans made by the government in the Northwest last spring to aid the farmers in planting their crops, an office has been established at Grand Forks, N. D., by the United States Department of Agriculture...

The new office has full records of the various transactions, and information regarding individual loans will be supplied to each of the grain elevators in the territory where the loans were made.

The effect of the relief afforded by the loans for the purchase of seed grain, it is said, has been generally beneficial to the farmers of the regions where they were made. It has resulted in the sowing of larger acreages than would otherwise have been possible...

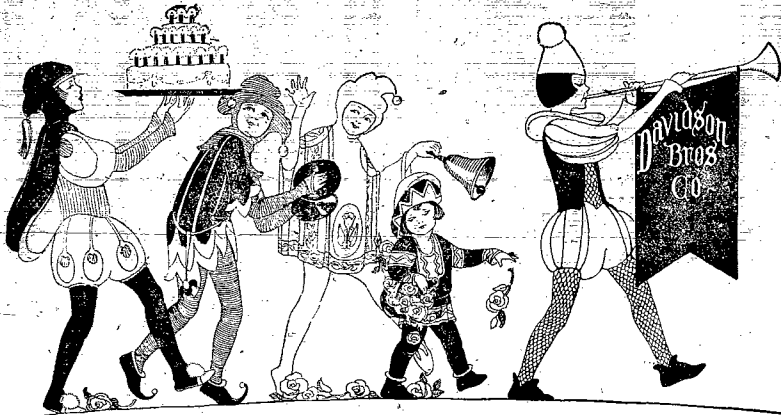

Fly Travel Long Distances.

That the house fly not uncommonly makes a journey of 5 to 6 miles in the space of 24 hours, is shown by experiments conducted by the Bureau of Entomology...

Fly flight tests were conducted in northern Texas, where approximately 250,000 flies of many different species were trapped, then dusted with finely powdered red chalk...

The tests proved that the flies, after retaining their freedom, would travel distances up to 1,000 feet in a few minutes. The screw-worm fly, for example, was found to travel a half mile in 3 hours...

The tests proved that the injurious forms of fly life were not distributed on any large scale by artificial means, but rather that many of the fast-flying species showed marked migratory habits.

Let Us Prove It to You

WE earnestly invite an opportunity to show you that we can compete with any catalogue house in America in qualities and prices of all kinds of farm implements. If you need a Cream Separator, Tank, Wagon, Spreader, or anything in our line, come in and let us show you that no house in the land can undersell us on any piece of machinery or equipment of similar qualities, freights considered.

In dealing with us, instead of sending money with your order to outside houses, you get more prompt service, see what you get before paying for it, and we are here at hand to make good any possible mistakes. If you have reason to kick, you can kick us more easily and more satisfactorily than a remote foreign concern.

As a matter of plain business, it will pay you in dollars and cents, as well as time and patience, to see us first if you are in the market for anything, big or little, in the implement line.

Coal Men Are Watched.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: The coal men are not interested in how the dealers shall go about making a reduction or how it shall be distributed along the line from the mine to the consumer's bin. If the coal men are paying more than they should to the railroads for instance, let the coal men take it up with the railroads and not expect the consumers to fight their battles for them. If the coal men do nothing about that phase of the matter, they will strengthen the suspicion that they and the railroads and all the other parties are not so independent of each other as they might be, but are standing together against the consumer.
