REDUCED FREIGHT ON GRAIN GRANTED

Word Received Today at Local Railway Station That Rates for Grain Have Been Reduced.

ACTION FOLLOWS PETITIONS

Believed the Reduction Will Stimulate Grain Prices and Increase Shipments.

A reduction of freight rates on grain in the West has been granted to the amount of ten per cent, goes into effect on November 20, according to instructions received today at the Wayne office. This reduction was ordered by the Interstate Commerce commission in response to petitions from various grain interests and in view of the general economic conditions. The reduction is believed to stimulate grain prices and increase shipments. As a result of recent 10 per cent reduction on stock shipments for a distance of over 500 miles, stock men in this vicinity are considering the proposition of using the Chicago route for their grain. This freight reduction has been in effect for about two weeks and was granted by the Interstate Commerce commission in response to petitions from stock raisers. Stock men in western Nebraska and Wyoming can take advantage of this reduction on shipments of stock to Chicago. The freight on northeast Nebraska shippers are affected only when stock is sent to the Chicago market.

It is no longer considered good house-keeping to overlook, between semi-annual housecleanings, the continual accumulation of germ-breeding dirt in the depths of one's rugs. For a new standard of cleanliness, that of rugs kept totally free of dirt the year around, has been introduced by The Hoover. This efficient cleaner thereby minimizes the danger of sickness and repeatedly saves its moderate cost by preserving all rugs from wear. In one easy, rapid, dustless operation guaranteed to prolong rug life, it gently beats out all germ-laden, nap-wearing grit from beneath rug surfaces, electrically sweeps up stubbornest litter, erects trodden nap, revives colors and suction cleans. Only The Hoover does all this. Get a Hoover and live in an ever-clean home.

A Prosperous Farmer. Sioux City Journal. It is an interesting story that comes from Cedar Rapids of a farmer who declares that he has made more money on his farm in 1921 than he ever made in any previous year.

How did he do it? By marketing his crops in the form of live stock, butter fat, poultry and eggs; by wise investment in dairy cows, and by skillful feeding of cattle, hogs and chickens. This farmer found the lower prices of feed a distinct advantage, and he reaped by them. He realized a profit on all of his crops, and the live stock he keeps on his farm results in the fertility of the soil. He has the figures to prove that he is speaking the truth. Instead of wasting his time complaining about conditions, he was diligent in his business and his hands. He is a man to be congratulated and also to be emulated. His name is Emmet Dougherty, farmer of Linn county.

Thirty years of telephone service in matters of trade and the homes of the people, and we still see with us the one who calls you up and delays serious communication to inform you that he is 'speaking.' We have given this subject many moments of conscientious thought, and have reached the reasonable conclusion that the man who has mind enough to differentiate between silence unbroken and the tumult of a river in action, will judge that one is "speaking," if he speaks—and governs his own actions in conformity with his intelligent conjecture.

When I call up a friend, I remark "This is Bix."

And proceed to inquire for the facts I am seeking.

I would judge that man's mind is in a holofoam.

Who could hear what I said and not know I was speaking.

So I say to you all, to my friends near and far, When you call by phone, if you covet my blessing, Do not say that you speak, merely tell who you are.

And permit me to do some intelligent guessing.

Let us find and follow a sensible mean between wild extravagance and painful penuriousness.

What an important asset is kindly good nature...with the inclination to soothe instead of hurt and help instead of hinder.

Read the Associated-Press report of the ceremonies in Arlington cemetery, honoring the unknown soldier...and you will find a word picture that is seldom surpassed in this sentiment or excellence of English.

We wish it were possible for Secretary Hughes to take in hand the railroad problem. We believe he could analyze it clearly and satisfactorily for the roads, employes and public.

We heard a young lady say that the only nice thing about a certain man was his wife, and that she was very amiable and accomplished. But isn't it awful to be merely tolerated in the public mind on account of the borrowed light reflected by a woman who, through some inscrutable dispensation of providence, has become a man's wife.

Opie Read expressed himself to the Herald as believing that nothing could prevent future wars. That is just his opinion, and he may have formed it so long ago that he has not been able to change it. We hope and believe he is mistaken. We are convinced that civilization has advanced far enough to use the utility of settling international disputes through force of arms.

Capture of the Fortney bank robbers, with full confession and recovery of the stolen money, within twenty-four hours after the crime was committed, is a distinct triumph for detectives and other officers employed to find the guilty ones. This quick and effective action will tend to discourage any who may be inclined to robbery as a means of getting something for nothing.

Sioux City is stirring itself in behalf of increased corn consumption this week. By cultivating greater use of corn in the daily diet, the habit is likely to become fixed, and demand for an important cereal materially strengthened. Sioux City is a leading city in the great corn belt. It originated the corn palace. Its lead in support of corn production is very proper. Directly and indirectly corn is the hope of this country. Whatever will increase its use will benefit its market, and thus will stimulate prosperity.

Wayne is such a nice town to live in and has so many agreeable people who encourage social relations. That the temptation to loaf and visit rather than the spirit of collective enterprise. If group endeavor for industrial and commercial upbuilding were permitted to share equally with play in energy and thought, many things of value to the town would be accomplished. There is too much of a tendency to let the other fellow do it, and he feels the same way. We travel along in our respective grooves, and pay too little attention to the community growth and welfare. We are too well satisfied. We ought to feel the sting of discontent enough to get together and work for general improvement.

PUBLIC DANCE

Will be held at my pavilion, four miles south of Wayne Thursday (Thanksgiving night), Nov. 24. Good music will be furnished.

Indirect self interest would thus supplant direct self interest. Wayne has more active women clubs than any town of similar size. The men have none. The latter should have a live and stirring organization, handling promptly and effectually questions of business, improvement and public policy.

M. W. Murray, proprietor of the Pender Times, calls our attention to an error in a news paragraph in last week's Herald, stating that W. H. Needham, of the Bloomfield Monitor, was the oldest newspaper man in northeast Nebraska in continuous service on one publication. Mr. Murray explains that he has been in charge of the Times for thirty-two years, and that when he located there, George F. Knowler was running the Wisner Chronicle. So, Mr. Needham, you will, in length of service, have to take a seat in the rear of at least two editors, with possibly others yet to hear from.

The open and straightforward policy of the United States in introducing the proposed plan for universal reduction of armaments, as expressed by Secretary Hughes, was a surprise to foreign representatives who had been accustomed to handling diplomacy in a crafty and wily manner. In asking for a naval holiday, cessation of ship building for ten years, Secretary Hughes reflected the profoundly felt sentiments of the American people. The secretary's spirit of fairness and candor was in refreshing contrast to the involved and ambiguous utterances usually employed in dealing with weighty international problems. People everywhere are in hearty accord with the object of the Washington conference, and if foreign representatives unite, as they should, in carrying out popular wishes, a long step will be taken in the direction of disarmament. If other powers will join the United States in the proposed program, all can move quickly toward the object of the late war, and the United States can better stand the burdens incident to heavy loans made to foreign nations. By adopting the program proposed by millions pitched out into armaments of destruction, may be used to wipe out obligations and carry on and develop pursuits of peace.

Coleridge Defeats Wayne.

The Wayne high school football eleven went to Coleridge Armitage to play the high school football game. The game resulted in a defeat for the Wayne team with a score of 19 to 0. The Wayne team failed to play up to form. Big teams suffered from the disadvantage of an icy field and from the fact that the sweaters of both teams were alike. This was especially unfortunate for Wayne as it prevented the use of the forward pass, which has brought long gains to her in previous games. The Wayne team will go to Emerson Friday to play and to Hartington on Thanksgiving day. The latter game will be difficult one due to the fact that Hartington has not met with a single defeat this season. Hartington holds this standing along with three other teams in the state.

Close Times Hit Orphanage Heavy Blow.

The close times and increased population, have dealt the Christian Home Orphanage of Council Bluffs, Ia., a heavy blow. This institution cares for an average of 250 little children daily. It also conducts a department for aged dependent women and a department for deformed and crippled children. The institution was established in 1882 and since that time has provided for an average of 500 homeless people annually. The institution is at present struggling under a heavy debt, and with winter at hand, and calls from the needy rapidly increasing, efforts are being made to wipe out the debt by the giving offering. This institution is the only home that hundreds of destitute children and aged women know. The Home is supported entirely by voluntary contributions of charitable people. It receives children from any part of the country, employs no traveling agents and is absolutely non-sectarian. This great institution sorely needs your help now. Send them a Thanksgiving donation and help them pay off their debt of care for many hundreds who will seek food and shelter there this winter. Address, The Christian Home Orphanage, Council Bluffs, Ia.

Price Probe to Be Made.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 16.—An investigation to ascertain the essential facts regarding the cause of the present economic conditions and the party or parties who are contributing to the delay of the orderly process of readjustment, will be conducted by the state departments of agriculture, trade and commerce and labor, in cooperation with the attorney general and the business administration of the university of Nebraska, beginning in Lincoln, November 21, Gov. S. R. McKelvie today ordered in written instructions to those departments.

A band of inquiry is to be set up, according to the instructions, before which farmers, mechanics, bankers, laborers, landlords, commission men and others who will be able to throw any light upon the subjects will be called. The probe will make "every practical effort to reduce the facts" and after the inquiry here similar probes will be conducted in several of the other principal cities of the state. Gov. McKelvie bases his authority for ordering the investigation in the civil administrative code.

"Judged by retail prices, freight rates, wages, taxes, rents and other items that enter into the cost of living, one would scarcely know that the war is over, and while this condition exists, agriculture and industry, that is of the most vital importance, that are the most vital importers of readjustment that it is obliged to bear," Gov. McKelvie said in his order.

Protection Against Bandits.

Springfield, Mass., Republican: To the average person, even in so rich a country as this, even a fraction of a million dollars seems worth taking care of. When a United States mail truck can be held up and robbed of a vast sum on the low Broadway with not a policeman in sight, it seems clear that something is wrong with the system.

From a comparison of the numerous during robberies of much the same type which have been reported since the first appearance of the "crime wave" the inference may be drawn that the defense of mail in transit is not scientifically manned, even when it is not entirely neglected.

One case will be recalled in which an automobile full of armed guards was held up and robbed on a gravel road. The guards, taken by surprise had no chance to use their weapons and no help was at hand, a motorcycle happened to come up being captured along with the guards.

Might not a leaf advantageously be taken from the book of war? A prudent general has his vedettes and his secret guard and is always on the alert against a surprise. In the New York case of Sunday night the run from the city hall station to the Pennsylvania terminal requires only a few minutes with the streets empty of traffic; it would have been a slight matter to have the truck cyclist who happened to come up being captured along with the guards.

Such precautions as a mere matter of routine would be too generous. Many chances must be taken both by the government and private owners of valuables in transit. But the system it would seem, ought to be sufficiently flexible to provide protection for valuables in transit to justify the cost, and this protection ought to be given in the most efficient manner, not by doubling the force exposed to attack, but by providing an armed convoy capable of a prompt and efficacious counter attack and pursuit.

Federal Money to Loan to Farmers

to their big correspondents once more and get all the money they needed. He stated that it was the purpose of his organization to get all the money into Nebraska that is possible to get on paper offered, at the same time saving the government from any possible loss. He stated that the corporation is financed by the government at a capital of $500,000,000 and it can sell bonds to the extent of three times the amount of the capital. He stated that $2,000,000,000 is available to the corporation and half that amount can be used for agricultural purposes. n171c

Handicapped by Errors.

After explaining the various paper that is acceptable, Mr. Thomas stated that the board is working day and night in an effort to bring the new money to this state. It is being handicapped by the errors made by bankers in making out the applications. The applications from 200 banks have been in an effort to save what the Nebraska farmers have at this time and no attention is given to the banks which have never been the most recent important bank was made to a Nebraska cattle-raiser in the amount of $275,000, he stated. n171c

Cattle loan companies are being organized among many Nebraska bank groups, he said. Another single loan for $75,000 was made during the week. Applications from 200 banks have been filed, and some applications which are properly drawn are passed in less than twenty minutes' time. n171c

Must Have Something to Save.

The board, declared Mr. Flanagan, demands that there be some "right asset's" back of the note. The farmer who has something to protect will find plenty of money and Nebraska will be taken care of. It is not intended to be decided to the benefit of the man who has lost all and has nothing now but frozen notes. The country wants to help save what the farmer has now and not what he has lost. n171c

Senator Randall also a member of the board, declared that the delay therefore has been a serious fact that bankers did not understand what was required of the board. He made it plain that the bankers are coming into an era of banking life where chattel mortgages will have a more serious meaning. Never before, he stated, have bankers made the same "arbitrary" chattel mortgages as today. The government, he said, has plenty of money for farmers and the board is doing everything in its power to bring it to Nebraska as soon as proper applications are filed. n171c

Later Senator Randall agreed with C. Burnham, chairman of Gov. McKelvie's committee to secure better conditions from the federal reserve banks, that the way finance board could afford to lose a few millions in order to bring back better conditions for the Nebraska farmer. n171c

Mr. Burnham, in a very spirited address commended the war finance corporation and declared through its operation present situations will be saved and the Nebraska farmer will come back to his own. n171c

Loans On Real Estate.

Bankers were told that the war finance corporation was taking out real estate paper where money on the real estate has been borrowed for agricultural purposes. All notes must be accompanied by property statements. Chattel mortgages are not necessary, but the board is anxious to have them. Breeding stock gets better value than livestock which is to be sold and a somewhat better value is given on registered livestock. Milk cows are valued at from $30 to the figure which is paid at the local elevators. Banks can secure no greater loan than is limited by the law of capital. n171c

President Samuelson of the Madison boys announced that he would attend the school for instruction in Omaha, and, if necessary, would call a special meeting in Lincoln for the purpose to spread the information in order that Madison county and North Nebraska might get as much of the federal money as possible.

Nearness Gives Distinct Advantage. The hardship of taking a patient to a distant hospital may materially hinder or retard recovery, whereas the ease with which the Wayne Hospital is reached may insure quick return to health. The outside hospital has no advantage over the local institution. Every appliance and every method known to science is here employed to give comfort and restore health. Experienced, careful and painstaking nurses add to the efficiency of modern surgery.

Fined for Shooting Pheasants.
Bloomfield, Neb., Nov. 15.—Word has been received here that some hunters in the vicinity of Geneva were prosecuted for shooting pheasants. Henry Helmbold about a year ago received a number of pheasants from the state and tried to feed and protect them for a term of ten years. Birds from this flock were the ones killed by the hunters.

Business.
Sioux City Journal: Week by week it is seen that sturdier developments have been made for business security. These are observed over a constantly widening area and they are increasing a little more rapidly as the year nears the end. A part of the present activity no doubt is due to the approach of the holidays, when retail sales always are enlivened considerably, but the main reason for more vigorous business is something that could come from holiday demand. Houses in which to live and to transport business, locomotives, freight and passenger cars, corn, wheat, cotton and live stock cannot be classed as articles for Christmas presents, but they are demanded now in larger volume than at any time in the year.

It is interesting to note that the millions of farmers are being benefited by greatly increased foreign demand for their products. The foreign trade in agricultural commodities has expanded enormously. Corn exports, for instance, have increased 1700 per cent, a remarkable gain for export—shows an increase of 1,350 per cent, while rice gained 50 per cent, barley 100 per cent, many other agricultural goods nearly 100 per cent, and lamb 125 per cent. The argument might be raised that the value of exported farm products has not increased, but it is far more important that the volume of goods sold abroad is larger. That promises the bringing up of a foreign trade that will mean much in the future when the exchange stabilizing process has been given a chance to restore commercial equilibrium.

The railroads are looking forward to new, increased business and making preparations for it accordingly. The Chicago and Colorado Southern directors have just voted the immediate purchase of rolling stock that will cost $15,000,000. This consists of 7,000 freight cars, 1,000 five heavy freight and passenger locomotives and 127 modern, all steel passenger cars. The Southern Pacific has ordered 100 Baldwin locomotive works, fifty Santa Fe type engines to cost $3,500,000. This brings the Baldwin orders for October up to $10,000,000. The country has more than $12,000,000 worth of business now on its books and is employing 7,500 men. The orders are being filled at the rate of $2,000,000 a month. These figures indicate that big business is swinging back into line.

Developments contained in official reports to President Harding, which caused him to announce his belief that the peril to business caused by the period of depression had passed, throw further light on the improved conditions. Two hundred thousand men found jobs in October, cutting down unemployment 1.2 per cent for that month. Coal was being produced at the rate of 10,000,000 tons a week prior to the Anderson injunction order, which has been in effect for the past six months. This was the highest production of coal since 1920. The foreign trade balance for the month was $10,000,000 in America's favor. The railroads are loading more cars now than at any time since last spring, regardless of the increased activity during and in connection with the government order that will bring relief to hundreds of millions in a score of countries. Limitation of armaments will mean lighter taxes for the taxpayer and opportunity to buy more goods. Self denial, which was practiced in America during the widespread buyers' strike, would be necessary with taxes made lighter as the cost of government is reduced. That will have a powerful effect on business everywhere. Both domestic and foreign trade naturally would be encouraged and aided. It can be said now without fear of error that conditions at present are most favorable for a worldwide era of both peace and prosperity.

Robbers of Fordyce Bank Are Captured

The three men who robbed the bank at Fordyce, eight miles north-west of Hartington, in Cedar county, on last Thursday morning, imprisoning employes in the vault, and escaping with about $4,000, were captured on Friday night.

Saturday morning's Sioux City Journal gives the following story of the capture: Twenty-four after the bandits had robbed a bank at Fordyce, Neb., of about $2,000 and $4,000 in cash, Sioux City detectives captured the trio, four miles from the stolen loot and had a written confession from each of them.

The bank was robbed Thursday, and the bandits were all in custody at 6 o'clock Friday night. Two of the men were caught in a small downtown hotel at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning with $1,180.14 of the loot in their possession. The third member of the gang was arrested on a farm six and a half miles north of Fordyce early last night by Sioux City detectives, with $1,332.85 in his possession. The bandits gave the following names: Harold Ross, 21 years old, 113 Grand street; Fred Stewart, 21 years old, "City"; and Joe, alias Mike Casey, Fordyce, Neb.

The money recovered in Sioux City consisted of gold, silver and currency of various denominations. The loot was hidden under an overcoat in a bureau drawer in the hotel room.

The two men who were captured in the Sioux City yesterday are said to have made a complete confession to Chief of Detectives Gus Danielson, shortly after their arrest. They are said to have implicated Casey in their confession and to have told the officers where he could be found. Chief of Detectives Gus Danielson, shortly after their arrest, followed Fordyce and Casey's arrest followed.

Had Money Hidden

Casey was caught on the farm of his brothers. He was found on the second floor of the house by the detectives. Casey had $380 in $10 bills, $115 in $5 bills, $71 in $1 and $2 bills, one $20 bill, $210 in gold, $8.85 in nickels, $11.50 in dimes, $125 in pennies, $164.25 in quarters and half dollars, and $350 in war saving stamps.

The currency was found in the attic in a tin can. The gold was in his pocket and the war saving stamps were found in the pocket of his coat hanging in the kitchen. The silver was discovered in a grain sack in the hay loft of the home.

After a search of the premises, Casey was taken to Hartington, Neb., where the officers obtained a written confession. Both Casey and the loot were turned over to the sheriff at Hartington.

Ross and Stewart were in bed with their feet to the door, when Chief of Detectives Danielson, crashed in the door and surprised them. They offered no resistance.

In their confessions the youthful bandits are alleged to have told detectives that Casey was the brains of the game and planned the robbery.

After the robbery they hid on the Casey farm near Fordyce, where the coils were divided. Ross and Stewart came to Sioux City the following day on a train.

up and robbed of all its cash on hand about 10 o'clock Thursday morning. It has been officially announced that they got away with $4,500 of which $350 was in bonds and war savings stamps and the remainder in cash. Funds were sent to Fordyce from Hartington immediately and the bank resumed work as usual. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

It has been discovered that there were four men in the party which held up the bank. Three men entered the bank, while the fourth remained in the car with the engine running and as soon as the job was completed they dashed away in the high powered automobile.

Cashier Tells Details

Details as related by F. A. Leise, cashier, were that at about 10 o'clock Thursday morning a man entered the bank and asked Arthur Lammer, assistant cashier, if he could cash a check. Mr. Lammer answered "naturally." The man threw a piece of paper down on the counter. Mr. Lammer looked down to examine the check and when he looked up found himself staring into a revolver. He then discovered that a masked man was standing behind the one who had asked to have the check cashed.

The masked man covered the bookkeeper, Miss Rita Lammer. Neither of the two men had seen Mr. Leise, who was concealed in a corner of the office behind a lattice and entered and covered the cashier by sticking his pistol through the lattice work.

Employees Locked in Vault: The employees and money drawers were then cleared out and all three of the employes were hustled into the vault and the door locked. They spent about an hour in the vault and were released when their cries attracted attention and the combination was spoken through the air hole to outsiders, who opened the door. They were nearly exhausted when they were released from their prison. Not of the game and planned the robbery.

Frank Matrone, postmaster, was responsible for the release of the employes from the vault and the discovery of the robbery. The postoffice is in the same building with the bank, a thin partition separating the two.

Mr. Matrone had not been in the postoffice all morning and the employes had been in the vault for some time when he arrived to distribute the mail. The vault is located directly opposite the postmaster's office on the other side of the wall. He heard the cries of those locked in the vault, but being hard of hearing he paid no attention to them at first. After the cries were kept up for some time, he decided to investigate and went over on the bank side was discovered that all of the employes were locked in the vault.

Levity is Rampant.
New York World: In every great world crisis the average man is bound still to yield to what H. G. Wells in the World yesterday described as the "inecurable drift toward triviality." The casual incidents of the day divert his attention from his questions of universal concern. This weakness from which few escape, this "levity," as Mr. Wells calls it, renders it difficult to center public interest continuously upon problems as complex as those with which the armament conference must deal.

A Safe Test.
For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Don's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Wayne people. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. Jack Wellbaum, Wayne, says: "I don't believe there is a kidney remedy that I could recommend like Don's Kidney Pills. A number of years ago I had the first occasion to use Don's. I had a lameness and soreness across my back and kidneys and my kidneys did not act right. I was sent to the hospital—Don's Kidney Pills to the remedy to try. A first box from the Wayne Drug company benefited me so I kept on using them. The second three boxes soon had my kidneys healthy again, also leaving my back strong and I haven't been bothered since. Don's are surely a good remedy if they did a world of good for me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Don's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wellbaum had. Poster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

"I Hate To . . ."

Forbes Magazine: Are you one of the "I-hate-to-faunt-it-how-often" heart people use that phrase. If you are guilty of using it, try to break yourself of the habit. It does not reflect a strong, virginal, dignified, neutral attitude. It suggests and implies, querulousness, lack of the "will" spirit. The way to conquer a disposition to "hating" so many things is to cultivate a cheerful, realistic, beneficent frame of mind. If you will flip your heart with love of your fellow mortals and are possessed of a consuming desire to be of service to the world, you will have little room left in your mind for "hating" this and the next thing and person. The forceful person, animated by the right motives, starts more sentences with the words "I like to" than with "I hate to." Get this thought into your mind: If you are constantly "hating," the cause lies within yourself.

Kansas City Times: Mr. Wells can't understand why Germany wasn't invited to the armaments conference. Well, it was his understanding that Germany didn't have any armaments to limit.

Cedar Rapids Republican: It was characteristic of the kindness and sympathy in American hearts that there should be cheers for former President Wilson at the funeral of America's unknown hero. The former president, in his modest carriage, occupied a place behind the veterans of the world war, each of them wearing a band of mourning on his sleeve.

The crowd must have felt that Mr. Wilson also was a veteran of the war, and a sadly wounded veteran at that. Now he has withdrawn from all military and political affairs and is living quietly, modestly, as an ideal American citizen. Thinking of him as a frail and broken figure in that procession of veterans, the American heart warms toward him, remembering his strength and his virtues, and forgetting the points of disagreement with him when he was on the political firing line. Those who cheer for Mr. Wilson were one of the best features of that memorable day.

Mrs. V.B. Schuttler, Chairman; Mrs. A.E. Brigiden; Miss. Ezetta Brown; Mrs. John C. Ketcham

(By Robert Fuller.)

The newest thing in the farm bureau movement is a women's department which shall, just as nearly as possible, represent the great important congregation of farm women in the country.

President Howard of the American farm bureau federation has appointed a committee of four women to work out the details of the women's farm bureau department and they will no doubt present an outline of plan shortly.

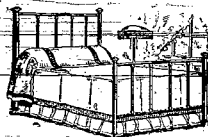

The committee consists of Mrs. Vera B. Schuttler, Missouri; Mrs. John C. Ketcham, Michigan; Mrs. Letta Brown, West Virginia, and Mrs. A. E. Brigiden, New York. The personnel of the committee was chosen by President Howard from a long list of names of women already well identified with farm bureau or farm organization work. Mrs. Brigiden is known throughout New York for her active labor in developing the home bureau. She is president of the Cortland county home bureau and president of the state federation of home bureaus.

Mrs. Vera B. Schuttler, chairman of the committee, has played an important part in the organization and development of the farm bureau in Missouri.
