He was baptized May 31 of the same year. He came with his parents to America at the age of two years and grew his childhood days in the vicinity of Sweden, Minn. He was confirmed at the Lutheran church at Sweden, May 31, 1868.

He was united in marriage to Miss Bertha Louise Peterson, February 8, 1874. They made their home at Sweden until the year 1885, when they moved to Wakefield, Neb. They united with the Swedish Lutheran church that place the same year, and remained faithful members until death. Their children were six sons and one daughter. One died a few years after the family had moved to Wakefield. Mrs. Anderson died in 1907. During these last years, Mr. Anderson has made his home with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Ossian who live on the home place. Last autumn Mr. Anderson went to Coloka, Minn., to stay for some time with his son, Theodore. During the fall Mr. Anderson began to show signs of failing health. He was taken to a local hospital for treatment and care but he did not improve. He died here January 11, at the age of 69 years, 7 months and 28 days. His body was brought to Wakefield for burial. The funeral was held at the Lutheran church here Sunday afternoon, and was conducted by Rev. E. G. Knock.

Mr. Anderson was a quiet, thoughtful and respectful man. His kind, Christian character won for him many friends. During his sickness he experienced the joy and peace that come from living in true fellowship with Christ. Death had no fears for him because Christ was his life in all.

Miss Elizabeth Bettscher arrived from Chicago Thursday evening to resume her work as instructor at the State Teachers College. Miss Bettscher had a leave of absence the first semester, during which time she attended the University of Chicago and visited in North Liberty, Ind.

Mrs. Howard Hankin arrived last week from Stanton to make her home in Wayne as Mrs. Hankin is entering the bakery and confectionery business here. Mr. and Mrs. Whalen are former Wayne residents. Their daughter, Miss Ethel, is attending the state university at Lincoln.

Cotner University defeated Wayne State Teachers' college on the local basket ball floor, Friday evening by a score of 50-15. The game belonged to the visitors throughout. Although Coach Dale attempted various counter-measures, the home team, the Wayne men couldn't prevent the Cotner men from scoring continually.

The Wayne bankers who attended the meeting of the State Bankers' association in Omaha last week, say that those who were present, reported an improved financial situation. It is said a very decided turn for the better set in about three weeks ago. Confidence has been materially strengthened and progress toward a return of normal times has been pronounced.

Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Lutgen went to Omaha Friday afternoon where they were joined by the former's brother, Dr. C. A. Lutgen and wife of Auburn, and mother, Mrs. S. C. Lutgen, who had been visiting at Aurora. With other friends they attended the Harry Leuder concert. Dr. and Mrs. Lutgen returned to Wayne Saturday accompanied by Mrs. S. C. Lutgen.

The organ and voice recital given at the Presbyterian church on last Thursday evening by Prof. and Mrs. Merrill L. Marcy was exceptionally well received although the audience in attendance was not large. The selections played by Prof. Marcy at the organ were varied in type, and gave evidence of his musical ability and power of interpretation. Mrs. Marcy appeared twice on the evening's program, responding both times to encores.

Values vs. Price

The public, generally speaking, here in the last year been led in their purchases from a 10c article to automobiles by the price. This year we think there will be a change to looking for better values even if it costs a few cents more on some articles than several dollars more in other articles in their buying. One can always find cheap goods but quality merchandise is the cheapest in the long run. As an example of quality, we mention.

Osh-Kosh B-Gosh Overalls

We have many customers that know the extra quality in Osh-Kosh work garments; that we are selling more Osh-Kosh overalls than we are in cheaper makes. Quality counts. One pair of Osh-Kosh overalls will out-wear two pairs of any cheap overall. They must make good or we will.

Take Shoes; Star Brand Shoes

They are all leather; $5.00 will be given for any shoe of their make that is not all leather. The reason we can make such a low price on our high grade merchandise is because we sell for cash, get a quick turnover and get the volume of business.

Wayne Quintets Win Two Contests Friday

The Ponca basket ball team was defeated by the Wayne high school squad by a score of 23-15 at the opera house Friday evening. As a preliminary, the Wayne Midgets played the Normal Training school, winning by a score of 21-5.

Substitutes started the contest for the Wayne Midgets. The training school squad showed its supremacy over its opponents and with the score 9-5 against them, the regular Midget squad entered the fray. After a fierce up-hill fight, the Midgets won the game in the last few minutes. Finn for the Midgets and Lackey for the Normal were individual stars.

In the game with Ponca, Wayne led throughout. The lines for the local high school was changed so that Brainard played forward, and the number of points chalked up opposed his name shows that he played an excellent game. Much credit belongs to the visiting team. Benny of that team shot five lengthy baskets. Chad Wayne, showing his first game for Wayne, showed his ability to class with the best.

Governor Speaks to Volunteer Firemen

Governor S. McKelvie addressed members of the Nebraska Volunteer Firemen's association in Norfolk last Thursday night, and devoted chief attention to problems of economy put up to the extra session of the legislature. The Daily News reports the governor's treatment of state questions as follows:

"The governor who was brought from Fremont to Norfolk in an automobile by Norfolk friends declared the automobile drive which was accomplished in a little more than two hours displayed vividly what is being done on Nebraska roads through the efforts of the state.

"The speaker declared that he is receiving many requests from various parts of the state to eliminate the federal and state aid which is on its final year's program, but he added, these requests are coming from those parts of the state which have had all the benefits of such a program and where the road work has already been done. His intimation that the work would continue until all parts of the state were benefited and until the great program of lining every part of the state with the wonderful chain of roads had been accomplished.

"Not An Additional Tax. He defended the gasoline tax plan, detailed its working with many illustrations and stated that it had been adopted by sixteen states and that many governors of many other states have indicated that they are planning to recommend its adoption to their legislatures. The saving in the use of gasoline and the depreciation of a fund. The demand now is for an immediate reduction. The chief executive stated, and the administration has realized that it is possible to cut appropriations more than a million dollars to reduce the general fund levy 25 per cent.

"Will Encourage Economy. "For that reason we have deemed it wise to come before you," the governor stated, "and if the legislature does what I think it will do, it will reduce the general fund and state levy 25 per cent. While the state taxes are the smallest you pay, we will have accomplished a great deal of economy. Among those including the counties, cities, towns and school districts to decrease expenditures and this will result in the saving of millions upon millions of dollars of expense for which you pay.

"The governor stated that he had no political axes to grind and that political affiliations have no bearing on his earnest effort to round up his administration in actual service to the people of Nebraska. "While he expected some humor into reference to the civil administrative code, the governor intimated that his operations regarding reductions in appropriations and other recent activities, were worked out under the state code plans."

Former Resident of Wayne Dies in Ohio

John E. McFarland died in Cleveland, Ohio, on Sunday, January 15, following a stroke of apoplexy. He had been failing in health for three years. He was the third of five children which he had survived. He is survived by his wife, Minnie Gamble McFarland; one daughter, Mrs. Alex Jackson, and one son, William, of Cleveland. Mrs. McFarland will make her home in Cleveland with her daughter.

Funeral services were held in Cleveland and interment took place in that city. Mr. McFarland at the time of his death was aged about 60 years. He was married in 1882 to Minnie Gamble, daughter of the late W. O. Gamble of Wayne. Mr. McFarland lived in Wayne for a number of years and was engaged in the drug business while here. He moved to Ohio about thirty years ago.

Wayne Again Victor Over Pilger Quintet

The first team of the Wayne High school played a basket-ball game with Pilger at that place, Thursday evening, winning by a score of 37-17. The first game of the series was a 4-2 in favor of Pilger but the game belonged to Wayne throughout. Most of the Pilger scoring resulted from free throws. This was the second game with Pilger this season. The first game was also won by Wayne, the score being 10-15.

Pronounced Guilty.

Fremont, Neb., Jan. 20.—A jury in the district court yesterday found Frank B. Knapp convicted of the crime of the closed Pilger Trust company, guilty of embezzlement in the sum of $3,585. The information charged that Knapp converted to his own use money entrusted to him by a client for investment in securities. The trust company is in the hands of a receiver.

Motion for a new trial will be heard by Judge Buxton next Monday and if this is overruled, it was made clear that the fight would be carried to higher courts.

The morning's session opened with the instructions to the jury from the bench, consisting of six different issues. The court explained the instructions that the terms "embezzle and convert to own use" were synonymous. In so explaining the guilt or innocence of the defendant, the court ordered, it was not necessary to consider whether the defendant himself or the Fidelity Trust company were civilly liable to Stephen Carpenter for the money as a mere liability is not in itself proof of evidence of embezzlement. The instructions pointed out the charges included in the information but explained that the burden of proof never shifts from the state to the defendant and the defendant was innocent until proven guilty.

If an officer of an incorporated company, it was explained, uses money belonging to another person for his own purposes that action is considered embezzlement. Embezzlement, the instruction said, is the fraudulent appropriation of another person's property by the person to whom it has been entrusted.

A Worthy Philanthropy.

New York Times: "Ninety per cent of the women of the east are born, live, bear children and die in the sufficiency of the medical aid." This is the basic fact of the movement that is under way in America for aid to maintaining medical colleges for women. China, Japan and India, inhumane conditions cannot be met by sending men doctors to these lands, even if there were men to send, or to the Moslem Hindu and high born Chinese women on a woman-doctor-enthusiast. Five million dollars is the sum needed for land, buildings and equipment for the seven colleges and medical schools through which the training of hundreds of doctors and thousands of public health workers can be made possible. And the gratifying fact is that ten great denomi-

Making the Asbestos Sweat

The 4-Ply Copper Clad Range Wall.

Heating the asbestos with a blow torch as illustrated, or with a spirit lamp or with a fire in the range, the moisture in the asbestos is driven out and to the cold side where it condenses on the sheet of copper. But for the sheet of copper it would rust out in a few years. This sheet of copper never rusts and keeps the moisture from the range body. Internals rust was never heard of in a Copper-Clad range because of this sheet of copper and the dry air space. Note the walls and the dry air space. This air space not only assures a dry range body, but it holds the heat like a thermos bottle. It saves about of fuel every meal; over a thousand shovels a year.

A 3-Ply Imitation

The sweaty nature of the asbestos is conceded in the above construction, so the inner lining next to the fire is plated with copper. Some use aluminum plating. If this was solid copper or solid aluminum it could do no good because on the wrong side of the asbestos. Notice that this copper plated inner wall simply clamps the asbestos tight against the outer casing or range body. The moisture in the asbestos always goes to the cold side against the range body where it starts rust from the inside. You don't even suspect it until you see the rust coming through; then it is too late. To put so-called rust proofing on the inside next to the fire is like climbing on top of the roof to get out of the rain.

The experience with socialism in Russia ought to put a permanent question on propaganda looking such a dangerous experiment in this country.

A Chicago nurse sues a Chicago doctor for $25,000, alleging that an abundant supply of pills the doctor says he had no such intention; and if she looks anything like her picture, we believe he is telling the truth.

If the weather has been turning on the cold variety to insure an abundant harvest, we would attest that it may now safely be said we think the harvest is let us hope, never excessive and that potatoes for that purpose are no longer needed.

Good roads have shortened distances between countries and towns during the last few years, and have been a benefit to all, directly or indirectly. People are interested in making improvements with the differences of opinion arising over the best way to raise the money for the purpose.

The legislature is in session this week to consider a program of re-employment as proposed by Governor McKelvey. As economy in the conduct of public affairs, with reduction in taxes, is essential and what people want, it would seem that the government can not be reasonably blamed for making an effort in that direction. The session promises to be short, only looking after the business outlined in the call.

The Hartington Herald has been made the official paper of its city and county. The Herald accepts the distinction without calling out the band or putting on a torchlight parade. The Herald is an excellently edited newspaper, and is manifestly not a party organ. It is not a boy's bragadocio and without surcharging the air with the vapors of bald hyperbole and empty conceit, the Herald is to be congratulated.

A farmer quoted in the Drovers Journal stockman urges diversified farming interests as a safeguard against a possible slump in the price of any one crop. In the course of his analysis he says that the farmer, of course, had to go through a reconstruction process following the abnormal war stimulation. But did you ever notice that they do not all occur at the same time? The year

The cheap prices were bad, the grain prices were fair. When cotton was in bad shape, hogs paid well. Now, when the market is so tight and sheep are again soaring. In fact, hogs are at most always a good bet as they are largely self-providing. These rambling observations should reveal to the folks of a one-upping system. Let us add that the price of eggs in one basket is no great a trick.

The Herald had some of its readers bewildered with dates last week by listing a day earlier than usual. They figured they had lost a day somewhere along the line, but they got straightened out before starting of Saturday morn'g and the usual Sunday church services or putting on the boiler Sunday morning for the usual Monday washing. But people who have expressed themselves, like the idea of pushing a day ahead. People in the surrounding territory receive their papers in time to take advantage of week-end attractions in Wayne and other towns.

Mrs. Ella J. Pile, who is here visiting relatives, has, by reason of official positions in connection with different state reformatories for girls, gained knowledge of appalling methods by which the unsuspecting young are entrapped and led astray. Her experiences have been many and often disheartening. Thousands of girls in big centers of population have sadly and miserably disappeared from relatives' and friends. These girls usually go the way of a living hell. They are not a promising lot, not being encouraged by some redemptive work or training prospect. Though attending strictly to their own business, they are often drugged and rendered helpless. Drugs, stealthily administered, seem to be commonly employed by arch-devils to ensnare and wreck unfortunates of this kind. Under Mrs. Pile's observation, half come many close calls for young girls, many snatched from the maelstrom before being wholly engulfed. Many escape but are left with the oblivion of earthly misery. Mrs. Pile has been able to render valuable service in rescuing near-wrecks and fighting for social purity. Her experience makes us wish there were many more such women battling determinedly in the cities for the integrity of the American home.

It is startling to read in a bank advertisement—that "Seventy percent of us, as a community, do not save." The insurance companies make similar claims. The announcement goes on to say that seven out of ten people must at least try to contribute to the fund for charitable sustenance. If this statement is important if true. If it is true, the cause should be understood and all effort made to apply a remedy. People have been long used to lay up treasures in heaven, but less is said about laying in material treasures on earth to guard against the day when the shadows of old age gather and one is less able to earn a competency. It does not militate against amassing heavenly wealth in providing for the future goods to sustain comfort during declining years. The average young man does not realize that his days of pleasure endures but for a short time. He may be too generous with others or with himself. He is apt to loaf too long and too often on the job, to neglect his duties, to be the poorest of fathers, to be the most unselfish and liberal altruist that does not break the limits of discretion, will put an effective crimp in a nightmarer, of offstage dependence.

Wakefield School Notes.

Last Thursday being the freshmen's turn to give a program, the following selections were rendered: Piano duet, Marie Borneman and Dorothy Beekenhaver; reading, Sarah Oman; song, girls' quartet; jokes, Clarence Blaker; reading, Fayette Green; class prophecy, Melvin Henry.

The second semester started Monday. New subjects offered in the eleventh and twelfth grades are Bible study, bookkeeping and trigonometry. The six ministers of the city churches will be conducting the Bible study. The ministers are to be thanked for putting in so much time in doing this.

Those who were neither absent nor tardy during the last six weeks in the sixth grade were: Florence Borg, Lillie Haas, Margaret Miller, Max Cox, Robert Niernberger, Gordon Neuberger and Harold Scauy. In the sixth grade those who were exempt from examinations were: Robert Beckenbaur, Florence Borg, Grace Larson and Myrtle Johnson.

Among those absent from junior high school on account of illness are Norman Tell and Blakson Henton. The sixth grade has taken up history this semester.

Luella Pierce, formerly of Wisner, is a new pupil in the fourth grade.

The kindergarteners are glad to have Edna Hansen back again after a long absence because of illness in the home.

The kindergarteners are happy this week having started to read in their primers.

The members of the second grade are sorry to lose one of their classmates, Lila Klime, who has moved away.

The third grade pupils were weighed and measured by the new health scale the first of the week. Saturday, January 14, Sept. E. W.

Smith attended a meeting of the executive committee of the Northeast Nebraska High School Athletic League in Wayne. The committee is composed of Supt. Shively of Wausau, Supt. H. C. Smith of Wakefield, and Coach Dale of Wayne State Teachers' college. Three days were fixed upon for the district basket ball contest, to be held at Wayne, March 2, 3 and 4. The teams will be divided into three classes instead of two as was the case last year.

Sup. E. W. Smith attended a meeting at Emerson last Saturday of a special committee appointed some weeks ago to work arrangements for the Northeast Nebraska Schoolmen's convention which will be held in Wayne Friday afternoon and evening of February 10. This meeting last year was held in Norfolk.

The spring teachers' meeting of the Northeast Nebraska district will not be held this spring. This has been decided by the executive committee of the association. Years heretofore the district meeting will be held in the fall and the next meeting will be held in the spring.

Three new students have enrolled in the high school: Robert and Roy Turner in the ninth and tenth grades respectively, and Blanche Turner in the twelfth grade. The high school welcomes them into their midst.

Leo Lewis, principal of the high school, is ill and unable to teach. Rev. Fagan is substituting for him. The high school hopes he will soon recover and be able to return to school.

Carroll high school basket ball teams suffered a defeat at Wakefield at Friday evening. The home game resulted in a score of 31-22 in favor of Wakefield. The girls' game also resulted in a victory for Wakefield, the score being 33-9. The next ball teams will go to Coleridge Friday to play the teams there.

Referendums on Prohibition.
Chicago News: In Ohio, Illinois and some other states opponents of "bone dry" prohibition are planning to have a referendum on the subject of the liquor question through submission to the voters of the proposal that the law be amended as to legalize the manufacture and sale of light wines and beers. The leaders in these movements are acting strictly within their legal and moral rights in suggesting popular referendums and in circulating the petitions required by the laws of the several states. Moreover, it is desirable to test public sentiment on the issue, at least in a few pivotal commonwealths. Such a test would go far toward settling a controversy that otherwise might be carried on interminably, with much friction and expense to both sides.

Attention, Mr. Briggs.
"I do not" replied the lady to old Mr. Washington, "I have filled it with my little hatchet. He added with a thinness that helped make him Virginia's richest man, "inasmuch as I did fill it, I should like to sell the auction picture and cartoon rights to the fellow incident, under the title, "When a Feller Needs a Friend."

Equal Opportunities in China.
New York Times: More important than any one subject that has come before the Washington conference save only the reduction of naval armaments, and from some point of view more important even than that, is Mr. Hughes' proposal that the powers again agree to the principles of equal opportunity in China and appoint a board to see to it that the principle is lived up to. This is the first sign for weeks that the conference is really alive, awake, that it has not forgotten what is really the chief end and aim of its being—the adjustment of Pacific questions.

Who is to Come to Order.
 Omaha Times: It is a singular coincidence that just at this juncture rumors are heard of the retirement of Lloyd George and the probable ascendancy of Austen Chamberlain, for the latter is understood to be more inclined to the Poincare view as Lloyd George has held to the Briand policy. The change may not take place and may not, if it does produce any general modification of England's external policy—but one thing is certain: A definite understanding will have to be reached if Europe is not to waste further precious time in coming to order.

C. H. GUSTAFSON

President of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc. is making a nationwide appeal to the grain-growers of the country to limit upon an early basis the export of grain to the foreign market...

Statistics that exports in the past have been as follows: Average for first 10 months of 6 year period, 1910-11, 60,688,844 Bu. Same period 1920, 166,348,814 Bu. Same period 1919, 129,829,000 Bu.

Comparison of these figures reveals that before the world war, the wheat crop of the entire world (aside from the U. S.) was approximately three thousand million bushels...

Table with columns for years (1910-1921) and average bushels per acre. Includes a note: Average 99.6 86.1 92.1 76.3 84.8 88.3 235.5 119.3

Table 122 of Bulletin 982, this reveals that the average farm price of wheat in the United States was 82 1/2 cents a bushel for the five-year period to which Mr. Gustafson refers, and that the 1921 farm price was $1.19 per bushel, or 31c above the five-year average used by Mr. Gustafson in his statements.

Considential archives are now closed with records of numerous "investigations" of grain marketing conditions and none of them have discovered any serious fault with the system that has developed from seventy-five years of grain marketing in the United States. 12611

Pender Boy, Youngest of Nebraska Farmers

Drovers' Journal-Stockman: Jan. 19.—Roland Heyne, Pender, who is probably one of the youngest farmers in the state of Nebraska, was here today with a car of steers, the first shipment he has made out of his feed lot for this winter. He is but 17 years old, the eldest son of George Heyne, veteran Pender stockman, and his father's illness has thrown the entire management of the Heyne farm on the young shoulders for the last year.

During the past year he has fed several loads of cattle, and with it has increased the size of his 250 acres of land actually under cultivation last summer, including 120 acres of corn, forty acres of oats and forty acres of alfalfa, and he says it wasn't hard work either.

In the cattle feeding business young Heyne is also making a creditable record. He has bought a lot of feeders here last fall at $3.05, and had the first load of them back on yesterday's market showing a profit of over $800 on the three months. They also gave him a good margin in price, bringing $8.75. He intended to have his cattle enter the show, but that could not get cars.

There are plenty of cattle on feed at Pender this year, Roland remarks, and that section has a good supply of hogs though there were some losses from cholera and the flu last fall. He intends to farm the winter and feed a bunch of steers, he says.

The Early Days in Two Counties

From the Wayne Herald for January 30, 1922.

The old-time story is identical for sleighing.

License to miss was laid on Jas. A. Ernest and Miss Lute Lush, both of whom had been in the first of the Red Cross on Jan. 21, a son, The Bible club, Mrs. F. M. Gregg, president, met with Mrs. E. B. Young.

An exhibition of wireless telegraphy and its principles will be given at the college chapel.

A fire effort will be made to have a pair of officers established at the new siding between Carroll and Randolph.

F. T. Chambers, an old and respected citizen of Laurel precinct, died at his home on January 18 at the age of 71 years.

A. G. Hanesman will be here till for many days died last Thursday. Funeral services were conducted in Wayne and burial took place at Carroll.

The Omaha Republican suggests the name of Edward Rosewater, editor of the Omaha Bee, as the Republican candidate for governor next fall.

Hiram Oman died on Friday, Jan. 24, at the age of 34 years, at his home nine miles southwest of the city. He was caused from typhoid pneumonia.

There will be nearly 150 patrons on the three free rural delivery routes which are established.

H. Hoguewood, carrier on R. F. D. 2 has received a handsome mail wagon which he will use.

Leon's drug store at Wakefield caught fire from the stove and burned a hole about eight feet square through the floor, letting the stove fall to the cellar. The fire was extinguished before much damage was done.

The Wayne National Bank recently elected the following officers: President, W. E. Brown; vice-president, P. L. Miller; cashier, H. P. Swan; directors, W. E. Brown, B. F. Swan, J. H. Pinyon, F. L. Miller, Frank Miller and W. H. Harkless.

Last Thursday the home of Peter Rich in south Brenna precinct, caught fire from a defective flue. The fire started at about 4 o'clock as she discovered the fire she ran to the school house not far away, and with the teacher, Miss Anna Swann and the pupils ran to the house, and securing a ladder climbed to the roof and together with the teacher and pupils who carried a water, soon extinguished the blaze.

The grain markets are new corn, 52c; wheat, 58c; oats, 38c. Relative to the grain, a fair fire was extinguished before much damage was done.

"Corn is scarce and high priced in most localities. Oats in view are proportionately high. In view of this fact, it is a good idea of figuring done to employ other kinds of feed with a view of saving money. Nothing has been found that will take the place of corn as a basis for the ration of the fattening animal, and nothing what will quit fill the bill for working horses, calves, cows, pigs or lambs."

From the Ponca Journal Jan. 30, 1922.

What soil on yesterday in this number is 29 cents per bushel.

Bob Burdette lectured at Sioux City on Saturday evening. A number went down to attend the lecture.

It is a pleasure to ride out now-a-days.

Monday evening at the library took place a school home where the debate was on the herd law question. The people there are very much opposed to the herd law, and Sheriff Jones states that on the farm of S. Jones in Silver Creek thirty acres were sown to wheat, and the same amount of alfalfa in the neighborhood are also sowing wheat. If the weather remains as favorable as it now is for two weeks longer the crop will be a good one. It will not be finished. This will be curious news to eastern people who are now going about on runners.

The Lincoln Journal, speaking of the attempt by the legislature to pass a law reducing the rate of interest, says: "With good collection laws, which are being passed, the state has no need of inflicting positive suffering on its family for want of necessities, should be made to pay debts which are being collected. The rate of interest in this state would drop to 7 or 8 per cent without the intervention of the law. The present rate is 10 per cent. The much larger part constantly paid would on the part of the law, is to a great extent to be paid by the farmer and industry to make up for the losses incurred by laziness and idleness."

The Corn Acreage.

Drovers' Journal-Stockman: The only real reason, of course, that the backers of reducing the rate of interest to justify their stand is that it is useless for farmers to keep adding to it by continuing to produce more corn. Right at this moment, as however, it begins to look very much as though our excess supply would be reduced very noticeably by the weather being just what it is, and if that happens the props are knocked out from under the whole argument.

Great there is the corn that is being exported. Several European nations have been buying corn to augment their own short supplies of food grains and to export, while their purchases do not make so much of a whole in our total crop, it must be remembered that a million or ten million bushels of corn put on a boat for Europe are gone out of the farmers' bins, out of the visible supply, out of the country forever. It is not, however, as if the country were any more free than it did a year ago, but prices are holding up under the liberal supply—rememberably well—and the opening of the market has been a great support to corn prices in central Nebraska.

There will be, of course, a lot of corn left over from this year, even in ten million bushels of corn put on a boat for Europe are gone out of the farmers' bins, out of the visible supply, out of the country forever. It is not, however, as if the country were any more free than it did a year ago, but prices are holding up under the liberal supply—rememberably well—and the opening of the market has been a great support to corn prices in central Nebraska.

C. H. GUSTAFSON

President of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., is making a nationwide appeal for the grain growers of the country to make known an early investigation of the export grain trade by the federal trade commission, in order that the "real reason" for the present ruinous prices may be determined.

He recites that exports in the past have been as follows: Average for first 10 months of 5 year period, 1910-14, 60,538,844 Bu. Same period—1920, 104,345,814 Bu. Same period—1921, 95,890,074 Bu.

(In the first two items, these figures fairly approximate those given in table No. 137 on page 162 of Bulletin No. 982, Department of Agriculture, for exports of wheat including flour—and it is presumed that this table is his authority.)

Why spend somewhere from $50,000 to several hundred thousand dollars of tax-writer money in this question when the answer is so easily obtained? The honest searcher for information has only to turn to Table No. 147 on Page 170 of the same bulletin, and by comparing the statistics there recorded, he will secure the following information: Average wheat production of all foreign countries for the 5-year period, 1910-14, 8,849,852,000 Bu. Same period, 1920-21, 14,928,829,000 Bu.

Comparison of these figures reveals that before the world war, the wheat crop of the entire world (aside from the U. S.) was approximately three thousand million bushels, an amount that was so nearly sufficient for the needs that only an average of sixty million bushels a year was needed from our supply in order to feed the world. Then came the war, and the world's supply of wheat was cut in half. Europe, France and other European countries, so that the same table disclosed, the foreign crop for 1920 was approximately two thousand million bushels, or two-thirds of the crop of the five year period, 1910-14. (Wheat statistics for 1921 not yet available.)

This amply accounts for the large demand made in our crops to supply the world's need in 1920-21, which completely answers Mr. Gustafson's inquiry concerning the reason for the big exports of 1920-21.

There remains the question concerning the ruinous prices that have prevailed during the past year and a half, and still prevail.

This question is abundantly answered by a glance at the economic conditions prevailing in the war-swept areas of the old world—areas that means the wheat, but of whose poverty and wretchedness make it utterly impossible for them to pay a reasonable price—they are entirely unable to buy except at sacrifice price.

The numerous attempts at exchange of currency against export prices, so that the way to better prices is through the restoration of financial solvency abroad.

U. S. Official figures not yet available: Estimate from price of cash sales, Omaha in 1921.

Table 122 of Bulletin 982, this reveals that the average farm price of wheat in the United States was 88.3 cents a bushel for the five-year period in which Mr. Gustafson refers, and that the 1921 farm price was $1.195 per bushel, or 31c above the five-year average used by Mr. Gustafson in his sensational appeal for a congressional investigation.

Congressional hearings are now being held with records of enormous "investigations" of grain marketing conditions and none of them have discovered any serious fault with the system that has developed from seventy-five years of grain marketing in the United States. 1921

Teachers Salaries.

Newport, Neb., Jan. 25.—At the annual Rock County Teachers Institute here, resolutions protesting against any decrease in salary for teachers were adopted. The teachers took the stand that higher-salaried teachers pay in the end.

Following are the resolutions:—Whereas, the National Educational Association has passed a resolution, followed by the various state associations, (including our own state), have stressed the importance of the public school as a vital factor in the foundation of our government, citizenship and home; and to maintain the high standard of our public schools; and whereas, it is felt that the more expensive teacher as a rule is the better investment. Lower wages of teachers so frequently compel them to follow other vocational lines and removal to other states, where they are paid more wages; Then, to secure Nebraska as a state that raised teachers' qualifications and requirements for school work, the wages should remain on the same high standard in order that teachers can meet these requirements and hold up your standard where you have placed it.

Therefore, be it resolved by the teachers of Rock county, Nebraska, now assembled in annual institute, do hereby endorse the national and state standard of wages and to maintain at least the present standard of teachers' wages; and request our school board members and all public citizens to use their influence in maintaining the higher wages for teachers and other school advantages and equipments in behalf of our schools, nation and best interest of our community.

The Flood of Gold.

Lincoln Journal: To have a gold reserve big enough to be asked for something now under the financial sun. The federal reserve system now has custody of practically three billions in gold—a little less than $30 per capita. The consequence of this is already felt in a checking of the downward run of prices. It will be strange if a reflation does not follow the constant growth of this mountain of gold. That would help people who are in debt about as Mr. Bryan's free silver was intended to do. It will not help to break the economic deadlock between the farmers and the manufacturers. It leaves the disparity of agricultural and industrial prices as it is though on a higher price level. And that disparity is the fundamental obstacle to a return of prosperity in the United States.

A Righteous Judge.

Sioux Falls Argus Leader: Judge Sears, of Sioux City, rules that if a country isn't good enough to fight for, it isn't good enough in which to hold citizenship, and so he denies citizenship to suckers. Judge Media-of this city, is doing the same thing. No man can dodge military service on the ground that he is an alien and then straightaway walk into all the privileges and glories of American citizenship.

Lesson in Meat Strike.

New York Times: The meat strike has now gone the way of the milk strike, reinforcing the lesson that those unions free of which succeeded in intelligent self government into the hands of power loving, revolutionary leaders. The meat strike has an added interest, however, that it centered in the struggle of a national union under outside control against a "company union" dedicated to self government within the industry.

DUPLICATE

Culled From Herald's Exchanges For Week

Mrs. J. S. Robinson of Tekamah, died on January 13, of the age of 38. She was the mother of nine sons and nine daughters, fifteen of whom are living. Mrs. Robinson had lived in Tekamah most of her life since 1878. All "hooch" confiscated during the last three years in Stanton county has been publicly destroyed. About 750 gallons were poured out in the street in the presence of county officials and a few citizens. The Hartington Legion Post last Tuesday evening entertained all ex-service men and their ladies at a dance. People were present from all parts of Cedar county. Raymond Moeller, of Bloomfield, and Retta Wiggins of Wyoming, were recently married. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moeller of Bloomfield, formerly of Wayne. At the wedding they were attended by the bridegroom's brother and sister, Richard and Miss Bonnetta Moeller. Charles Magnuson was a medical patient at the hospital at Aurora, in a state of delirium left his room through a window which he opened, walked along the porch roof and fell to the ground, sustaining injuries which resulted in death on January 17. H. H. Camp of Walthill has become agent of the Hamilton county farm bureau to succeed C. E. Quinn, whose resignation took effect the first of this year. Claude Arnold, who passed several bad checks on Fairbury merchants recently, was traced to St. Joseph, Mo., and brought back by authorities to answer the charges. The Chamber of Commerce of Fairbury entertained farmers of the vicinity last Tuesday, when each member invited a friend to a noon-day luncheon. Talks by the hosts and the farmers related particularly to the financial conditions and to the tax problem. The farmers seemed in favor of some county official who would instruct in scientific farming. Fire in the Hays feed garage at Ponca, recently caused damage to the amount of $7,000. All but three of the twenty cars were taken out before any damage resulted. The fire started from an oil heater placed in the office. Matt C. Abts, Duroc Jersey breeder of Council Bluffs, Neb., won his showing of swine at the National Western Live Stock show at Denver, January 14-21, won all the purple, all the blue and two of the red ribbons offered in the classes which he entered. More than 100 breeders, representing sixteen states, had a total of 642 entries in the show. In the matter of prize won by an individual breeder during one season, Mr. Abts beat all records in the history of the national show at Dover. "The Hit," the boar that headed the Duroc herd, carried off the grand champion honors and the judge declared that he is the best boar he had ever seen in a show ring. "The Hit" is said to be the biggest Duroc boar of his age in the world, tipping the scales at 320 pounds. The Columbus Chamber of Commerce is to discuss the proposition of a yearly offering of free entertainment to everyone in the city's trade territory. The entertainment will consist of a summer chautauqua, a winter concert course, a free concert by a national band and a special winter concert by the Columbus city band. For the members of the Chamber plans will be presented for a winter series of business meetings and two special social meetings during the year for mothers and their families. This entertainment will be planned as part of the program for the Chamber for the next fiscal year which begins in July. William F. Strong, of the modern hospital at Storm Lake, Ia., Dr. J. A. Swanson of that place, has donated a lake front site, upon which the building will be constructed. Six other physicians of that city have each pledged $1,000 to the cause. Ex-service men of the Pierce post were present at the affair. One of the after dinner speakers was W. I. Black of the Pierce schools, who is a graduate of the Wayne State Normal. The new confection, Eskimo Pie, is to be manufactured in Randolph by Reed Bros. The candy needed in making them, consists of table or one cord of which a large granite iron pan is set in. This pan contains the chocolate that coats the bar of ice cream. The pan is heated by a burner beneath the table. The ice cream is cut into bricks. A wire hook is run into the frozen brick and with this aid, it is dipped into the chocolate. The hooks with the dipped bars still attached, are hung on a wire that moves along when the table runs. The bars are quickly taken off the hooks, wrapped packed in tubs and placed in the cooling room. The country home of Otto Weddingler near Pender, was completely destroyed by fire last Wednesday afternoon. The family was away from home when the children were taken from school the house was half consumed by fire. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is heavy as he carries a very small amount of insurance. Losing Our Heads: This is an age of theory. Under the impression that there is something new under the sun, a few people who have a desire to "keep" come forward with "new ideas." Among these was the minimum wage law.

NOW THE AUTO VAMP

Helen McGinnis of Chicago has been convicted as being an automobile vamp. She smiled sweetly at Martin Metzger as he was driving by in his car. He asked her opening with him. When he regained consciousness at a lonely spot in the country, his money and diamonds were gone—and so was Helen. One to ten years for her.

why it prefer to class itself as an American newspaper was changed for the American idea, the principle that developed America, that conquered the wilderness. We would like to have seen what sort of a country we would have today had the minimum wage law been in force after 1869 when population pushed across the Missouri river. We hope the people will think over the philosophy involved in the minimum wage law. Minneapolis Journal.

Easy Way to Feed Cattle. Wood Lake, Neb., Jan. 21.—The cattle feeders of this vicinity have invented a new way of hauling hay to the feed lots instead of pitching the hay on a wagon, such as has been the custom, the hay is now pulled on a flat sled with a cable. The sleds are about twelve by sixteen or eighteen feet and one end of the sled is staked to the ground. A cable is fastened to the other end of the sled and run around the stock. Four horses hitched to the cable will load about three tons of hay on the sled in about five minutes, saving nearly two hours labor over the old way of pitching with a fork. It is said by some of the ranchers that are using the sleds that one man could feed a thousand head of cattle with the use of the sleds instead of wagons and racks.

Lamb Feeding Operations. Sioux City Journal. The Journal recently commented on the successful lamb feeding operations of a farmer in Wayne county, this state, in which he realized approximately $1 per bushel for his corn. Another equally successful operation is reported by the Journal. Early in October Charles Ambr purchased a drove of sheep, presumably lambs, in Montana. They were delivered to him at Belle Fourche and shipped to Bereford, where they were placed on feed. They were in the feed yard ninety-three days, during which time they were fed 2,000 bushels of corn and about 1,200 bushels of corn. Mr. Ambr paid four and one-half cents for the sheep, or a total of $9,500 at Belle Fourche. He sold them January 9 on the Chicago market and the Republic reports that he received for his lambs, at $12.50 each, or $13,500 for the entire lot. Nineteen animals were lost during the feeding operation. Allowing nothing for his labor, Mr. Ambr estimates that he received $5 per bushel for the corn which he fed to the sheep. Exports indicate that conditions have been exceptionally favorable for feeding operations with lambs during the present season. The feed has been plentiful and low priced, weather conditions have been favorable and the stock has been finished at a time when demand was good and price high. Such a combination of circumstances is not frequently encountered. The latest market reports indicate that the price of fat lambs has not yet reached the high point and that favorable marketing conditions are likely to continue for some weeks. The farmer who, like Mr. Ambr, had the foresight to anticipate these conditions, is almost certain to realize a substantial profit, showing that it is possible to make money even when times are hard.

Not to Cut Corn Acreage. Bloomfield, Neb., Jan. 22.—Corn will be planted to as large an acreage in this section this season as that planted last year, it is indicated in reports of farmers here. They do not appear discouraged over the price of the product. Attacked by a Hog. Randolph, Neb., Jan. 21.—Fred Lagascute, farmer of Randolph, was severely gashed and bruised on his left leg by a hog, which he was attempting to drive into a pen, returned upon him and bit him. Several stitches near the knee were necessary to close the wound.

Representative of Welfare Work Speaks

"We are under obligation to leave the social theme, we found it in the work of G. J. Dickson, representative of the National Hygiene and Welfare Bureau, in the introduction of his address at the community meeting in the Methodist church, Sunday evening. His subject was "Increase in Crime, Its Causes and Remedies."

The speaker criticized some of the pictures shown by "movie" houses, participating in the luncheon. "The church today is threatened with extinction," said Rev. Dickson, "because the young folks are not in church." He further explained that the church had not adapted to the day's needs of the young, thus committing them to the play of life of commercial interests. Rev. Mr. Dickson, in the second part of his address, directed his attention to the need of more stringent marriage laws. He said that in "Chicago," where the whole dominion was under one marriage law, there were three divorces last year. In the United States, where forty-eight marriage laws are in force, there were 126,268 divorces. The exaltation of the fluid divorce law, as expressed by the speaker, is lack of uniformity in marriage laws.

The normal boy if given a normal chance will turn out a normal citizen. Rev. Mr. Dickson said the government must put on a prevention program. The youth needs constant training in the home in order that the community life will not be threatened. In conclusion, the speaker explained the plan of organizing every county for the purpose of electing representatives who will support the bills desired by the bureau. The county organization is to consist of three officers and a commission of five, who will carry out a prevention program, as outlined by the national bureau.

The Economic Conference. San Francisco Chronicle: The supreme council of the allies has called an economic conference of nations to be held at Geneva early in March. There have been several economic conferences held in Europe, but this one is different from the others in having representatives from Germany and Russia. That is a wise thing. Whatever we may think of Germany or of the present Russian government, they represent factors which cannot be ignored. The United States has always been invited to these conferences, but has sent only an "observer." Whether we do or do not send a fully authorized representative to this conference, we shall presumably adhere to our policy as hitherto stated, which is that before Europe can expect any important assistance from us, European nations must balance their budgets, reduce their military expenditures and remove the absurd trade barriers which the so-called succession states have set up against each other in central and southeastern Europe.

Too Tight With Offices. Springfield, Mass., Republican: General Hays is that the republican politicians are willing he should retire. They want a department chief who will "loosen up" in matters of patronage. The oddest aspect of the case is that Mr. Hays is himself a politician of the managerial school.

Uncle Sam Should Reevaluate. Chicago News: Presidents of the United States might retaliate by drafting cabinet officers from the ranks of the moving picture stars. Douglas Fairbanks for example, ought to be a fine postmaster general. He would deliver the mail if he had to crawl over the Rockies on his hands and knees.

HENRY FORD WANTS TO SCRAP OUR GOLD. Henry Ford wants our money reallocated on a basis of productive energy, instead of gold as at present. He announced at Washington, while negotiating with Secretary of War Weeks for the purchase of Muscle Shoals, Ala., as shown here, that the fight for a readjustment of American money was to be his battle this year. Ford insists that he will give the American farmer the cheapest fertilizer they have ever had if the Muscle Shoals project goes through.

A SHOWING OF GRAND CHAMPION HAMPSHIRE. GRAND CHAMPION CAR LOAD OF HOGS AT INTERNATIONAL STOCK SHOW—THEY ARE HAMPSHIRE. (E. P. Shields, just east of Wayne, a successful breeder of Hampshire hogs, furnishes the above cut and the note below, showing the claims made and sustained by the Hampshires, his favorite breed.) There were forty-one car loads of hogs at the Chicago International in the 1921 exhibit. You may call it lucky or unlucky but thirteen of them were pure bred Hampshires and there were six cars in this great show that according to statements of packers well qualified to make them, any one of the six cars was good enough to be the grand champion car load of the show.

Reds Seek Recognition.
Washington Post: In Europe an effort is made to prove that the Gen-conference will be purely representative, without political authority, but this effort is made fruitless by the fact that the conditions of participation by the Russian reds are purely political. The reds are promised political recognition if they will comply with certain conditions. Political recognition is what they desire, and to obtain it they will agree to practically any economic conditions, even to the extent of giving away the resources which belong to the Russian people.

Agriculture Notes

Purebreds Beat Ordinary Stock.

It is the consensus of opinion of 500 growers of purebred and grade stock who were questioned by the United States department of agriculture that the purebred sire is from ten to 400 per cent better than the ordinary sire. This applies to all classes of live stock. Many of the men who replied to the department's questionnaire gave figures and specific instances to back up what they had to say regarding the remarkable improvement effected in a relatively short time.

In reply to the question as to the value of their example in inducing others in the community to take up improved live stock most of these farmers and breeders said that they had been the means of starting at least two or three, and one man who had been raising purebreds for forty years said he had influenced every man in the neighborhood.—B. A. I. Editorial.

Highway Building.

December with its snows and wintry weather is not the best month of the year for building roads yet during December there were completed 1,156 miles of federal roads under the supervision of the bureau of public roads, United States department of agriculture. The mileage represented in roadways that were nearing completion as winter started and were finished during the month.

In addition, according to a compilation just completed by the department, considerable progress was made toward the completion of 15,834 more miles of highways still under construction. At the end of November these roadways were 68 per cent completed at the end of December they were 70 per cent finished. Work on the uncompleted projects is going up as fast as weather conditions and other factors permit.

On some of the roads, which lie in the southern states, considerable progress is being made. Others, situated in more rigorous climates, show less advancement.

Up to the first of the year there had been completed, under the supervision of the department, 22,000 miles of federal aid highways during the five years that the work has been in progress. The total estimated cost of the 12,907 miles of complete highways was $224,729,710, of which $95,054,184 was federal aid funds, the remainder of the expense being borne by the states. The estimated cost of the 15,834 miles of federal aid roads under construction January 1 is $275,052,104, of which the federal government will pay $117,049,690.

Lincoln Corn Club.

Out in Nebraska where they have more corn than they know what to do with the Lincoln Corn Club proposes to store away some of the surplus which corn growers are finding so burdensome. This club, started last year, has a number of volunteer members so successful that other corn belt organizations are considering similar clubs.

Instead of being a huge storage house for corn this is an organization of about half a thousand men and women who call themselves the Corn Eaters of America. The purpose of the organization which is making rapid growth is to divert attention to the value and economy of corn and its products as food and to help reduce the surplus of this grain. The only future in connection with the organization of the Lincoln Club, according to the chamber of commerce, was that there was no banquet room in the city large enough to accommodate the hundreds of members wanted to join as charter members.

With the help of United States department of agriculture food bulletins and circulars an exclusive corn menu was planned. The first course consisted of cream of corn au gratin; corn-cake tobacco smoked-in-corn-cob pipes substituted for Havana's at the end of the dinner and in between were courses of corn fed Nebraska pork chops, corn saute (hominy) with fried tomatoes, corn on the cob, corn bread, corn salad with pimientos, cornstarch pudding, corn cookies, and corn candy.

The critical corn situation was depicted by a play in which King Corn, too feeble to support himself, figured as the chief character. With him sat Queen Minny Whom Characters which depicted the plight of the corn grower were Hard Times, HI Taxes, Idle Labor, and Starvation; but they finally were provided from the stage by High Prices and Prosperity. A proclamation was issued by the "High" Chancellor calling upon all subjects of the King to eat corn once a day.

Members of the Lincoln Club, appreciating the splendid corn preparations which had been served them at the banquet, pledged themselves to eat more corn and corn fed meat and to encourage others to do so. The menu card for the fourth course with the play got the message across in a big way with the result that many other cities have requested the same short and plans for organized corn eaters clubs in other cities of the state and of adjoining states. Possibly this "club" will be accounted for in the large number of requests coming from that section for government bulletins on different ways of serving this valuable and economical food in such tasty preparations.

LAWYER IS OUT WITH ALL FACTS

Declares His Own Experience With T. C. ... Wonderful Medicine

W. O. Hall, 104 Central National Bank Bldg., St. Louis, Mo., a well known attorney, gave out the following interesting statement recently: "I give Tangle entire credit for the good health I now enjoy, and I'm only too glad to give this statement: A year ago I had an attack of indigestion which left my entire system weakened and run down. I had no appetite and seemed to get no strength from the little I did eat. I was very nervous, could get no restful sleep at night, and was bothered greatly with headache and dizzy spells. I had such a pain in my side at times I couldn't draw a deep breath without first suffering agony, and my back hurt so bad I had trouble getting up out of my chair when I sat down."

"My troubles were very stubborn, and I tried several medicines without getting any good results. However, my first bottle of Tangle gave me relief, and four bottles have completely restored my health. My appetite is good, I eat whatever I want and my stomach has all come back to me. In fact, I'm in better health in every way than for a long time, and the good Tangle has done me, entirely justifies me in saying it's a wonderful medicine."

Tangle is sold by leading drug stores everywhere. 12511d

Overdoing It

Paola, Kan., Spirit: Fate seems to have made the year of 1921 extra a gain in its trials, sieges, besetment in its trials, sieges, taxation, robberies, bankruptcies, thefts, divorces, and the like. The average man has been overman with his flippers, beggars, government officials, state officials, inquisitors, prohibitionists, and the like. A special committee of the health board in charge of richly governed and jangled young women, came to town and they, several mothers were commanded to hurry to the depot and take instructions as to how to raise their babies; then came a government nurse, another unmarried lady, weighing the babies and instructing the mothers the sort of infants they must give birth to hereafter; and the business and non-farmers are notified that they must pay a specialist from one of our higher institutions of learning to tell them how to feed the babies.

Safe to say there are in Miami county today 500 officials, national, state, county, township, city and district, telling the people what they must do and what they can't do; spring into their homes, their private accounts, their methods of life, lay down the law as to what they shall eat, drink, wear, buy, or spend where they shall go, and when; to bare their arms for vaccination; show the babies, their feet, and family diseases, tell the inspecting nurse where you slept and why married or why single; show up your bank account, your debts, your toothbrush, and a record of the number of days your child has attended school the last month.

Uprosiltingly and outlandishly the average man, woman, or child are exploited, restrained, assessed, directed, advised, prohibited, mulcted, admonished, damned, threatened, examined, criticized, prayed for and preyed upon, until they are about ready to do as the masses did in England, you're going ago—run into caves and ruddy chalk on the water walls. "No money; no religion."

A Pathetic Spectacle

St. Paul Pioneer Press: Instead of being a thing of the past, the league of nations, for which Mr. Wilson sacrificed so much and gained so little, is so dead today that it is no longer taken seriously even by the nations which entered it and which were its strongest supporters. They are now turning to such agreements as the Locarno pact, the Kellogg-Briand pact, the Washington to achieve the end aimed at by the ill fated league. Mr. Wilson is hugging a delusion to his breast—an infinitely pathetic spectacle.

Proposed Probe of Road Building Costs

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 20.—Cooperation of the state department of public works by furnishing the labor and expense of an investigation sought on a resolution passed by the board of supervisors of Sherman county for the purpose of comparison of the cost of constructing state and federal aid roads with the cost of county work is pledged in a letter sent today to the board of supervisors of Sherman county by George E. Johnson, secretary of the department. The letter urges an investigation as speedily as it can be arranged. Gov. McKelvie, in a letter to the commissioners, also stated he would welcome "such a state-wide investigation as suggested in the resolution," with the understanding that it would include a similar investigation of the cost of road work as carried out by the counties and smaller units of government. "I know of the methods of accounting used by county officials, and while we are in a position to show where every dollar of state and federal money has been expended, it would be difficult for the county to show what they have done with their money," Mr. Johnson said in his letter.

Business

SIoux City Journal: Every physician knows that when one is ill one may become fretful and unreasonable, and that may be the explanation for the grumbling of both capital and labor at a time when business is not very good for either of them. Just now there is talk on both sides of action, the one seeking grounds for cutting wages and the other preparing to resist the movement. It is the same old story of class action, only what affects the better, more-view would be for both sides. It is the same old story of class action, only what affects the better, more-view would be for both sides. It is the same old story of class action, only what affects the better, more-view would be for both sides.

What was expected at the first of the year has not passed. The new winter letdown in activity has appeared, but it has been accentuated by the original condition instead of the drop itself. It being makes the claim that business generally is any better than it was at the close of 1921, although some times are slowly and steadily forcing their way. Iron and steel are doing that as the Journal has observed before this. Motor car manufacturing, the third largest industry in the country, has advanced than any other line because its leaders are more optimistic than anybody else. They are building for the future, which they are certain will be bright. Railroads are picking up a little. Some are considering the purchase of new equipment and others will follow a program of maintenance, but none contemplate expansion along the lines of new mileage. Grain and live stock movements are being based upon the activities of the last quarter. Meanwhile the stock market is holding its own with nothing sensational to talk about either way. Some business failures have been recorded. Others no doubt will follow, but this is to be expected during the dull days of midwinter. The spring ought to see a revival, the foundations of which are now being laid in many ways.

Of interest in this country is the coming agricultural conference called by Secretary Wallace at the suggestion of President Harding, but what program is to be followed is not known, but the administration wishes to improve the present economic conditions as they affect the rural population. Of equal interest in America is the proposed economic conference to be held at Genoa, Italy, which is expected to produce a stimulus for foreign trade.

Exchange is gaining new strength now from the time of world-wide gains more when the conference begins to solve the problem of world finances. Then America can expect to sell abroad in greater amount, but not before the spring market opens.

Money is to be cheaper in the United States. Chicago bankers expect the interest rate to go lower. There also is a slight increase in prices, unusual for winter market conditions. Butter and eggs are down to summer prices or below them. A new decline in the live stock industry is claimed by railroad interests. The Atchison traffic department declares there is an upward tendency in the raising of animals.

That the dairy industry has made steady progress right along. Similar reports are given out with regard to woolly raising. Other features of a character to show an easement in the market is lower prices on crude and refined oils. Cottons also are cheaper from 2 to 5 per cent. It looks now as though the next six weeks or two months will show but little improvement, but it is entirely reasonable to expect from the information available that there will be no further decline at any time and

A Democracy Doesn't Run Itself. - Kansas City Times: An autocratic government is expected to run itself without any attention on the part of the governed. A democratic government is different. It calls for time and effort from the citizens. If we really believe in government of the people, by the people, for the people, we must be prepared to put some time in politics, even if it does mean work.

To Be 1922 Crop After All. - Lincoln Journal: State managers plan next September's exhibition as if confident that there will be crops to exhibit next fall. And there will. There is a period in times every summer when we doubt it, but crops there have been every year since the state fairs began; and crops there undoubtedly will be every year as long as state fairs last.

Better for Weather Man. - Washington Post: Amundsen says he will soon be able to predict the weather a year in advance. That'll be weather for the present system. It will give the predictions time to be forgotten.

Omaha Bee: Until the United States government sets about to let the truth be known in Europe as well as in America, we will still read the pathetic stories that are coming out from immigration headquarters.
