NORTHWEST WAKEFIELD

Munson Bros. shipped in a load of cattle Friday.

Mr. Lewis of Wayne was a professional caller in this vicinity the past week.

Baldman and Ben Lund were in Sioux City Friday looking over the cattle situation.

Mrs. Peter Miller went to Emerson Saturday, called there by the illness of her mother.

There is much sickness in the neighborhood, grippe, mumps and chicken pox claiming their share of sufferers.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lessman and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sals and son and Mr. and Mrs. Grete were Sunday guests at Peter Miller's. Mrs. Sals and baby remained for a few days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ring and Elmer Ring, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Beck and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lund and children were the relatives from this way who attended the reception for Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ring at the Henry Ruback home Saturday evening.

There have been many moving in this vicinity. Will Mathieson and family have moved to the James Callahan farm. James Callahan moved to near Nemadji. Cleve Murphy on the farm vacated by Mac Mathieson. Adolph Erickson to the John Bell farm. John Hinrichs to the farm vacated by Adolph Erickson;

Gust M. Johnson to the farm vacated by Will Mathieson; Bernard Erickson to the Gus Schonberg farm; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kinball to the Joe Dahlgren farm; Gus Schonberg to town; Carl Franzen to the Ole Lundberg farm; Everett Ring to the farm vacated by Carl Franzen.

Several neighbors and friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. James Callahan on Monday evening of last week. There is something especially good social time was enjoyed.

Mrs. Callahan was presented with a "surprise" of money as a remembrance of the occasion. A delicious lunch was served from the baskets brought by the guests.

Death Reports Not Exaggerated.
Chicago, Mass.: After a man has been gullitoned they never rush the undertaker's wagon to a physician's office to try to resuscitate the departed. There is something especially definite about gullitoning.

We know politicians who would do themselves more good and the public less harm if they would work at something besides politics.

F. L. Bollen, formerly of Wayne, who was the independent candidate for attorney general two years ago is dated as the so-called progressive party for the same office this year. It would serve convenience if he could be made the permanent candidate of the new party for attorney general.

It is to be regretted that a coal strike should come along at a time when industry is reviving and the country is struggling back to normal. It is unfortunate that there is no legal way to effectually and fairly settle a strike between miners and operators, and thus avoid punishment to the entire country.

The Wayne high school basketball team has made a creditable showing during the past winter, and it is a fine spirit which sends the boys to take part in the state tournament. It is believed they will maintain their good record for sportsmanship, and reflect credit alike on themselves and the town.

There is some friction between the leaders of the Nonpartisan league and those of the new progressive party, that seems that some of the leaders don't want to be fused with the new party, and they will hold a congressional convention in North Dakota to decide whether a decision will be made as to what course to follow in the coming primaries.

Secretary E. D. Chassel of the Farmers and Bankers association of America predicts that "the close of 1922 will see the farming industry back to normal and by the end of 1923 the losses of 1920 and 1921 will have been entirely repaired." This is encouraging, and it must be admitted that we have been making good all things in that direction during the past month. It is pointed out that farmers have been able to reduce cost of production which will be an important aid in building up net earnings during the coming year.

While in Washington the first of the week, William J. Bryan took occasion to make a statement to the reporters of their fully and inconsistency in prolonging debate over the peace treaties. "Every day's debate," says Mr. Bryan, "will tend to divert attention from the economic issue and the democrats will not only suffer by this diverting of attention, but they will suffer still more if they allow themselves to be put in the attitude of opposition to any steps toward peace. There is no reason why the democrats should not endorse every good thing connected with the treaties and then claim, as they rightfully can, that such progress has been made here as made along democratic lines rather than along republican lines."

More sensible price levels have been developing rapidly during the past two months. The unreasonable drop in prices for farm products in 1921 as compared to 1920 for other things has caused loss and hardship to farming communities which were reflected in general business and industrial stagnation. Hops and corn and other farm products have lately been going up, but farm machinery and other things which farmers wish to buy have been steadily coming down. Thus a more consistent level of prices is being reached. To the extent that the scale of foreign exchange, a share of credit, increasing the purchasing power of foreign countries, stimulates demand American products, stimulates prices here and helps materially in giving farming communities an opportunity to rest fair returns.

Any one who comes to Wayne in the belief that the town will accept an annexation as good enough, is likely to be joined with bitter disappointment. It is no fustian praise to say that Wayne is almost uniformly intelligent, cultured, sensitive and patriotic. The next time you are away from a college town you may not find the reason. The fact that the surrounding country is rich in products and is so rich in ambitious and culture-loving people may suggest another reason. Any way, Wayne and its neighboring territory demand the best, and they know when they are getting it. Sometimes a pleasing individual, with a cute look and soft, vivacious smile—an individual bred in the city, but imbuing little of its brains and culture, comes along to lead Wayne in its intellectual revolutions and mental accomplishments. He often finds he knows less, can achieve less, has had less experience and less success in the thing under consideration than those whom he expected to instruct and lead. It is rather tragic for a person to come tripping in from a large center only to find his expectations dashed by being on the rocks of inefficiency. Neither Wayne nor any other town should boast of superiority, but neither should it be expected to accept as pure gold something that is largely alloy or punk. A town like Wayne can sense and appreciate superiority in cleverness, experience and trained qualities generally, and does not want to be invited to applaud presuming inferiority in any service.

Business.
Sioux City Journal:—That business is better is now admitted from all sides, and one section of the country contributing information to support the claim and expressing optimistic belief in the certainty of future successes. More indications than others are now available to show the trend upward. The pendulum is swinging faster and a bit more steadily. Norway is still somewhere in the distance, but the confident feeling that the country is on the right road to that objective will go a long way to create cheer as the journey is made.

Only one section of the entire country is slow in lumber sales, and that is the west coast. Everywhere else there is a demand for building material, the North Carolina pine mills enjoying a better trade than any other line. There are buildings in the east, in the middle west and in the south, determined to overcome the situation of a housing shortage. This is the best building season in many years. It will absorb a large number of the unemployed, will put more money in circulation, will increase purchasing necessities and will strengthen business in every way. A general improvement, it is pointed out, is now indicated by the increased activity in lumber, business and building trades.

Better prices for agricultural products continue to encourage and interest the middle west, and, for that matter, other sections as well. Locally, a record top price has just been reached for cattle and hogs for the season. It is now believed that $11 hogs may invade the market within a short time, and yet farmers who had been feeding were pleased when they got $10 for their swine. Lumber prices are also on the rise, are climbing in spite of efforts of packing interests to hold the price down. In review to trade conditions the John W. Parwell company of Chicago, calls attention to some interesting comparisons in the prices of grains and hogs, quoting Chicago prices showing an advantage in favor of the producers at the present time. The figures follow:

Average
Pre-war Years 1922

Wheat	1.00	$ 1.39
Corn	50	1.10
Hogs	10	11.00

It should be remembered, however, that all possible comparisons are not equal and 1922 conditions would not show greatly in favor of the farmer, notwithstanding that the prices of the commodities he must buy will suffer still more if they allow themselves to be put in the attitude of opposition to any steps toward peace. There is no reason why the democrats should not endorse every good thing connected with the treaties and then claim, as they rightfully can, that such progress has been made here as made along democratic lines rather than along republican lines."

Steel activity is increasing remarkably. At Warren, O., the Trumbull Steel company has resumed operations on a 100 per cent basis. Other manufacturers in the Youngstown district are most encouraging. Open hearth production has reached more than two-thirds of capacity. The Carnegie company operating fourteen of its fifteen furnaces. Both plate mills of the Brier Hill company are going at capacity, and other manufacturing plants are increasing output. In the Youngstown district activity is 80 per cent of normal, with business better than for 18 months.

The eastern dry goods market is showing a much better tone. St. Paul also makes an encouraging report for that section of the country in other merchandise. The wool and wool stocks are low, sheep being 10 per cent below 1913, which ought to have favorable reaction on cologne, hosiery and dress goods. Reports from both Cleveland and Chicago declare business is better in sentiment and actual transactions. Legitimate goods on Wall street continue in large amounts, and eastern observers characterize most of the brokerage failures as being those of unscrupulous and reckless speculators. Ahern's

Home form Market with the New Styles

We brought home the styles in ready-to-wear, dry goods and foot wear that have won approval in the eastern style centers.

Coats, Suits, Dresses, Shoes, Dress Goods and Silks are here for your selection exactly like those shown in the best shops on Michigan Avenue and State Street.

You can go anywhere with that satisfactory feeling of being well and correctly dressed if your apparel is selected from our stock.

Come now while the new stock is at its best and choose your spring wardrobe.

New Dresses

—With an Extreme Moderateness in Price

When you have a dress to purchase, style is of course the thing uppermost in your mind. We buy with this fact always before us and you will appreciate this when you see the dozens of stylish new dresses we selected last week.

We went from show room to show room looking for styles like we had seen in the leading retail stores and we looked until we found them.

The new styles, new materials, new trimming ideas and new color combinations are all combined in the scores of lovely dresses that we brought home. As many of these garments will be sent away soon for out of town sales you should come now to get the best selection. The prices are extremely moderate.

Smart Snappy Styles in Spring Footwear

Here you will find the newest models fresh from the Eastern style centers.

Come now and choose your spring footwear while the style assortment is at its best and the size range most complete.

Priced moderately at $5.00 to $8.75

This Arch Support Shoe for Trim Ankles and Shapely Anches Without Aches or Pains

You can have good looking feet and perfectly comfortable feet if you wear these wonderful arch support shoes. The secret of their comfort is in a new scientific construction in the arch.

Many women to whom we have sold this shoe during the past year tell us that they never knew real foot comfort before.

They are beautiful shoes too—of the finest leathers and most graceful fitting styles.

Style News

Wrap styles in coats are favored for dress wear. Capes are not in any great favor but coats made in cape effect are well liked. Wrap style garments to suit and other dress articles we have for your selection.

Spring is taking very well in patent footwear. Light colored hosiery in shades of grey, sand and nude are most generally worn with patent slippers of any style. We have for you a selection of the correct styles in both the footwear and hosiery.

We found a factory who made something we have been after for a long time, namely clever style aprons and house dresses to sell at a moderate price. There are plenty of such garments to be had at $2.75 to $5.00 and on up, but it has always been hard to find clever styles at $2.75. They will be just as pleased as we were with these pretty aprons and our apron dresses.

The goods we brought in Chicago during the past ten days are mostly here. You can get a new idea of the prevailing styles in women's wear by coming in to see them.

Before we bought our goods we spent three days visiting the city retail stores that sell nice merchandise and found out just what was selling best in spring merchandise.

Then we shopped in the factories and wholesale houses until we found these styles.

You can see the correct and most popular wearing apparel that you can get for $2.75 at this time.

Come and See the Many New Coats that we bought in the East last week

WRAPS

These cape coat or wrap style garments are much favored for dressy outer wear. We have them for you in the correct materials and popular colors.

Dresses Made the New McCall Way Always Fit

Sleeves go right, "looks set well" and seems need no "taking in" or "letting out" when the material is cut right in the first place.

Until now, you couldn't be sure that you were cutting your dress right, for old-style patterns varied more or less. But McCall's improved pattern is "printed" so that it can not change a fraction of an inch.

Now you can cut the most expensive material and know that the dress will go together right, because you are practically cutting by the designer's original pattern, which is called the Master Pattern.

This means a wonderful new simplicity in dress making and a more successful effect in dressers.

You can get any McCall Pattern here. We carry them all in stock. Mail orders filled promptly.

Death of Miss Zetta Heikes.
Miss Zetta Heikes passed away on Thursday evening, March 7, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ed Nelson near Hixson, at the age of 26 years, 11 months, 15 days. Death resulted from a long illness which began a few hours. The remains were brought to the home of her grand mother, Mrs. Jennie Heikes, in Wakefield, for funeral services, which were held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Presbyterian church. Rev. P. M. Or officiated. Burial was made in the cemetery near the graves of her father and mother.

Zetta Heikes was born October 17, 1895, on the home farm, adjoining Wakefield. When quite young she united with the Christian church. She was graduated from the Wakefield high school, after which she taught for two years. Following the death of her mother on August 16, 1916, she took charge of the home for her father and for her brothers and sisters, who were all younger than she. After the death of her father, December 7, 1918, she continued to care for the home until two years ago, since which time she had made her home with her sisters, Mrs. Ed Nelson of Dixon, and Mrs. Chas. Pusch of Laurel. Besides these sisters, she leaves to mourn her loss, four brothers, Loren, Howard, Martin and Albert, and five sisters, Mrs. Ed Paul, Ruth, Caroline and Ida May, of Wakefield and vicinity, and a great number of relatives and friends. Those from a distance, who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Heikes, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heikes and Albert Heikes of Dakota, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miliken, Donald Miliken, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heikes and Mrs. Edith Moore of Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Erickson of Wilets. The sympathy of the community goes out to the family in their sad hour of bereavement.

Ring-Rubeck.
Miss Pearl Rubeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rubeck, and Everett Ring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ring, were united in marriage on Wednesday, March 1, by Rev. E. G. Knock. The ceremony was performed at the Swedish Lutheran parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. Ring returned to Sioux City Thursday, returning Friday and they are at home on a farm northwest of Wakefield.

School Notes.
Mamie Longe, Edna Hansen and Margaret Shultz are back to the kindergarten again after a week's absence on account of illness.

Examinations were held in the grades last Friday.

Examinations of the third grade is absent on account of sickness.

The pupils of the sixth grade are making many of the winter studies.

Roland Kay and Reuben Nelson of the sixth grade, are on the sick list this week.

Miss Richmond, expression coach of Lincoln, favored the junior high with a few selections Friday. She also gave a number of readings in high school. The girls were very good.

The first and second grades are glad to see their teacher return after a leave of absence.

The students presented in wireless have received special music from distant places the past week. Among the cities heard-are: Chicago, Detroit, St. Paul, St. Louis, Hamilton, O.; Cincinnati, O.; and Roswell, N. M.

The electric gun has been fixed so that it will stand in the junior high, whereas formerly it could not be heard in the high school. It will also give the fire alarm.

A number of high school students have been absent on account of illness among whom are: Morris Blake, Peter Orr, Vera Okeson and Harry Inman.

A large number of students witnessed the basketball game between Wakefield and Madison at Wayne tournament last Friday afternoon. Peter Orr, Ed and Lawrence Collins, Jr. were ill and unable to play but the boys put up a splendid fight and the game was Madison 26; Wakefield, 22. Owing to the lack of funds and illness of the members of the team, the boys will not attend the state tournament this year.

The dates for the school yearbook are March 14, 21 and 28. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance these evenings so that the school will be greatly benefited. The athletic association have a few doctor bills to pay because the suit for the gymnasium. Money is also needed for the wireless and music for the high school projects. Be a booster for the schools, and come.

The declamatory contest was held at the auditorium last Friday evening. Eight girls took part in the contest. Ida Lyman received first place, and Della Gibson second. The judges were: Mrs. Dean Mohr of Coleridge, Miss Johnson, principal of the high school at Laurel and Miss Cole of the Emerson high school. The girls wish to thank Miss Bignell and Miss Richmond for the time and effort expended to them during the whole time. Following are the contestants and their selections: "The Honor of the Family," Dorothy Green; "Dad Says So," Anyhow, Della Chase; "The Death of a King," Alice Bivens; "The Mission Boy that Scandalized the Neighborhood," Esther Neuberger; "Frozen Violets," Ethyle Wiggins; "William Entertains," Ruth Anderson; "How Tom Sawyer Whitewashed the Fence," Reta Miner; and "The Daughter of the South," Ida Lyman. Ida Lyman will represent the Wakefield high school at Emerson Friday evening.

The punctuality report for the month of February follows: The fourth grade had the highest percent; the seventh, second highest; and the first grade, the lowest.

Open Letter No. 3 from the Omaha Grain Exchange to the Farmers and Grain Growers of the West.

Members—One of the widely advertised "plans" of the United States Grain Growers Inc. for getting grain "freezing" was the fact that, under Nebraska laws (see Section 8858 of Revised Statutes, February 28, 1919) and Mrs. J. A. Hutchins of O'Neill.

The organizers for the United States Grain Growers Inc. seem to refuse to tell the truth, so the grain exchanges extend a cordial invitation to every farmer to visit the Exchange and see for himself the efficient way in which grain is handled, and the facilities for weighing and grading the grain.

The keenest competition exists in the marketing of grain on the Exchange, insuring full market value at all times to shippers. The Exchange uses the most efficient means for the fullest publicity regarding losses and resulting profits of shippers to the satisfaction of the customer. The shippers are being treated as friends and not as sources of illegitimate profits.

Vaudeville Show at Normal is a Success

The resident alumni club of the Wayne State Normal, cleared here by $100 at the vaudeville show which was staged at the college auditorium last Wednesday evening. The entertainment was divided into eight acts. Opening music was furnished by the college orchestra under the direction of Prof. W. C. Hunter. Copies of the Day's slides of the world's wit, thrown on the screen, made up the second act. The Jolly Male Songsters or the members of the men's glee club at the college, gave the third program.

An original skit, "Girls, Girls, Girls," was given under the direction of Miss Edith Beechel. This represented a life in girl dormitory. Elwyn Johnson took a prominent part in this act as Miss Daniels, the dean of women.

The drawing card of the evening was Miss Fern Oman who appeared in a solo act, singing a number of popular songs. Miss Elizabeth Mimes as a living "Harley" conquest, appeared under the title, "Something Different."

The object of the show was to raise money for the Miss Ruth Chamberlain of Grinnell College, from the story of the same name by Fannie Kilbourne, was presented by following cast: Will Horton, a man, Luther Petteroff; Dorothy Redfield, a girl, Gladys Kiene; Madge West, her roommate, Louise Wendt; Mary Caroline Hardy, Dorothy Carroll; Elaine Pepper, a villainess, Vera Petteroff; Nancy Page, Margaret.

The next act of the evening was a whistling act, "Speaking the Public Mind," by Earl Schorer.

Wakefield Oil Analyzed.
Wakefield Oil Analyzed. Oil stock seems to be on the decline in Wakefield at the present time, due to reports being received recently from various places "where samples of the liquid have been sent for analysis. The most discouraging of these comes from an expert chemist of the Midwest Refining company at Casper, Wyoming. A gallon of the oil had been sent to this company, and the report is as follows:

Repeating on the sample of oil sent to this laboratory from Wakefield, Dixon county, Nebraska, I find as follows:
Gravity.....35.5 Beaume
Boiling point.....485 Fahrenheit
Boiled dry at.....750 Fahrenheit
Flash point.....195 Fahrenheit
Viscosity.....42 seconds
In making the distillation, we noticed that this oil did not at all behave like a regular crude oil. It possesses only a very slight odor, which requires the use of more distillate rather than that of crude. Also from the behavior it appeared that there was a mixture of two different liquids in the proportion of about 75 per cent of heavy kerosene or distillate and the balance lubricating oil. There was no paraffin in the oil and this fact together with its viscosity, flash and other characteristics I am convinced that the sample you submitted as crude oil is not pure at all but a crude imitation of the article. I trust that you will spread this news to Wakefield in order that there may be no further misapprehension among persons who are interested in the honest and legitimate promotion of the oil developed in the state of Nebraska. S. K. Loy.

Fordson Tractor is Given Demonstration

Under the auspices of the Wayne Motor Company, a demonstration of Fordson tractors took place in the opera house last Thursday afternoon and evening. A large crowd of interested spectators was present on each occasion.

A Fordson tractor was on exhibition. Moving pictures showed the manufacture of the tractor from the very first stages, beginning with the mining and processing of the metal that goes into the machine. The finished tractor was shown in operation, in plowing, harrowing, planting and cultivating corn. It was shown by the tractor service, and the factory expert who was present, explained the details of the machine in clear and convincing style. He explained the economy practiced by burning oil, explained how the manufacture of Fordson tractors had avoided waste and had given the advantage of economical production to the public.

The demonstration was enlightening and was considered a success by the local agency.

School Children in Pleasing Operetta

An operetta, "The Stolen Flower Queen," given by pupils of the city schools, under the direction of Miss Adeline Burgess, music supervisor, was enjoyed by a fair-sized audience at the opera house last Wednesday evening. The story related to the kidnapping of the young "Queen of Weeds," with the usual happy ending, and the "multitude of little children" in a kaleidoscope of appropriate costumes, and with dulcet, trained voices, made the entertainment very lively and interesting. The participants as well as their supervisor deserve much credit.

Teachers' Salaries.

Neligh, Neb., Mar. 4.—At a meeting of rural school boards and the Antelope County Tax Payers' League, here, it was recommended that a reasonable reduction in the salaries of teachers in Antelope county be made for the next school year, the amount being left to each district to determine as the board of the district saw fit. The maximum for rural school is $75. The maximum for district school is $103. Rural school boards were represented at the meeting.

County Superintendent C. A. Mohrman was called on for information concerning the salaries of the rural school for the year as compared with previous years. He was able to present figures only for the time he had been in the office. He reported the following average salaries for this series of years:

School year 1916-1917.....	$46.76
School year 1917-1918.....	50.20
School year 1918-1919.....	65.57
School year 1919-1920.....	71.65
School year 1920-1921.....	98.07
School year 1921-1922.....	88.89

The lowest salary being paid this present year was state rate of $70 and the highest $125. One school is paying the low figure and three the high. Twenty-five are paying $100 per month or more. Fifty are paying above the average and fifteen are paying below the average for the year.

The matter of paying $100 for the high school situation at all rural high school pupils attending in town was brought up, and Sup't. E. C. Nyrop of the Neligh school was called on to explain some of the reasons concerning these pupils and their relation to the district they are attending. A better understanding of the problem was obtained through the points he brought out.

A Congressman's Nerves.
Ohio State Journal: We imagine the best way to scare a congressman now, and they ought to be scared frequently for the good of the order, is to tell him that he and his say, explosively, in the manner of one who says wook-woof. Bonus!

Washington Notes of Local Interest

Washington, D. C., March 7. The bonus discussion is languishing somewhat. The "sales tax" is dead. Mr. Longworth's motion, made in the ways and means committee, to attach the sales tax to the bonus bill brought out a protest signed by many house members. The protests were circulated by Crampton of Michigan, J. M. Nelson of Wisconsin, R. Roades of Missouri, Kopp of Iowa, Kellar of Minnesota, Evans of Nebraska, Kelley of Pennsylvania and others of various states. They were ineffective.

The president has signed the cooperative marketing bill and it is now a law. This is another important number in the agricultural program.

The industrial and financial conditions in the east are improving quite slowly. The approval of the treaties negotiated at the conference is expected in the near future.

The 23rd Taylor of the Nebraska state railway commission, has been in Washington since last week. He appeared before the interstate and foreign commerce committee on February 28 and March 1. He conferred with Congressman Evans during his stay in the city.

Robert E. Evans attended the meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Gifford-Binehot on February 28 to discuss the subject of the pay of working women as they may be injuriously affected by proposed legislation. There were speakers of note from various parts of the country.

The meeting was held in honor of the executive board of the National Women's Trade Union League.

The president, in person on February 28, delivered to congress his message on the merchant marine, the so-called ship subsidy. The proposal is to pay thirty per cent per mile graduated upward from one-half cent to 2.6 cents per gross ton per 100 miles traveled in accordance with the speed of the ship. The revenue to be provided as follows: Ten per cent of all duties collected. Tonnage charges, taxes and fees imposed on vessels entering continental U. S. ports and all sums paid for carrying mail, except parcel post mail. There is divergence of opinion as to the proposal. The message was referred to the committee on merchant marine and fisheries.

The following statements of points have been commented during the month of February: Henry E. Schemmel at Hooper; Charles B. Beers at Petersburg; Frank N. Thompson at Winnebago; Philip Stein at Plainview; and Elmer B. Thompson at Wynot.

A Wayne man identified and recovered the lost pocketbook advertised in last week's Herald. However, the little ad. caused several to report lost pocketbooks, and if any have such stray things in their possession, the Herald may be able to bring finders and owners together.

Farm Conditions.
—Wheat prospects are fairly good in the eastern third of the state, questionable in the south central counties and variable in the southwestern and west central counties, according to the semi-monthly report of the state and federal bureau of markets and crop estimates, issued Monday by A. B. Anderson, statistician.
The recent moisture has made the soil and wheat condition fairly good in the eastern third of the wheat belt, Mr. Anderson stated, while the majority of reports from south central counties continue to indicate a dry condition. However, sufficient moisture can yet remedy the situation in this section, the report declared, but varied opinions are expressed regarding the situation in the southwestern and west central counties. However, the reports from the latter sections look brighter than those from the south central counties.

Corn Advance Adds Wealth.
The advance in the price of corn during the past week has added approximately $15,000,000 to the value of the present stocks of Nebraska corn, continued the report. "Other grain and livestock prices show a substantial advance and a feeling of encouragement is noted in the comments of farmers. Losses of swine and cattle reported last week with few exceptions, and there is a good demand for brood sows."
A limited survey of the present intentions of farmers on corn acreage indicates a slight reduction, unless considerable of the winter wheat crop is abandoned, thereby resulting in a possible increase in the corn acreage, according to the report.

"The bloom that previously had been expressed in farmers' comments is rapidly disappearing," declared the report, concluding with a statement of prices paid to farmers.
Prices Feb. 25 and a month ago are as follows, according to the report: Corn 38 and 29; wheat, 1 and 87; alfalfa, $8.51 and 7.72; wild hay, $5.30 and $6.30; eggs—22-62 and 26; hogs, $8.25 and $7.51; graded cattle, $6.52 and $6.00; other cattle, $4.71 and $4.35; sheep, $7.64 and $6.02; lambs, $12.25 and $10.37; chickens, 17 and 16.

KERMIT JOHNSON

To Whom It May Concern:

Wakefield, Nebraska, January 19, 1922

On May 27, 1921, our son Kermit Johnson, at the age of 19 months, was stricken with infantile paralysis. The paralysis affecting both the upper and lower limbs. Lower limbs were completely paralyzed. He could not move a toe.

Local M. D. was called and also a child specialist from Omaha. He showed no improvement by May 31. Drs. Lewis & Lewis, Chiropractors, of Wayne, were called.

By this time the muscles of the spine were contracting, pulling the head backward, and he was suffering severe pain. After the second adjustment the muscular contraction of the neck and back stopped, the pain subsided and life began to return to the limbs.

Today, November 9, 1921, after eighty-four Chiropractic adjustments given by Drs. Lewis & Lewis of Wayne and Marie Johnson, D. C. Ph. C., of Wakefield, he can walk as well as any child his age. No sign of having been paralyzed is evident.

We feel that in getting Chiropractic adjustments in the acute stage of his trouble, we saved our boy from being paralyzed for life, and perhaps saved his life.

Any further information will be given by his parents if desired.

We Sell Genuine International Repairs

Made for the I. H. C. Line by the International Harvester Company

Repairs made for International implements and other farm equipment by the Harvester company are the only repairs made from the original patterns. All others are taken from copies, and in this roundabout reproduction they may lose in correctness of shape, sharpness of detail, closeness in fitting and quality of material. These repairs are made for Deering, McCormick, Milwaukee, Titan and other International made machines.

Genuine I. H. C. repairs are made of the same material, have the same finish, fit as accurately and wear as long as similar parts purchased with the original implement or machine.

We are the Authorized I. H. C. Dealers

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher.

At Home.

When evening, balmy time of peace, succeeds the busy day, I sometimes take my aunt and niece to see a moral play. More often, though, we stay at home—and, while the women sew, I read aloud a helpful poem or tale by E. P. Roe. The evening is a thing of charm, a boon to all.

There are a million crooks in jail, and safe from harm, and go to rest at ten. And in the streets, throughout the night, the roisters proceed; they make the solemn hours a fight, the way they die and bleed. Red murder stalks along the shins, assassins slay, and in the dawn the crowder comes, and loads men in a drag. The victim of the pain and groans, who would you know, if they at home would look for fun, and read the works of Roe. Back with a novel, niece, and aunt will stay at home with me, but nearly all the young ones part soon midnight larks to see. A goodly book beside the lamp is needed, to tame and stale; far better trot with tough and vamp, and wind up in a jail, in a punishment, they think, to spend a night in jail, and where the bright lights glare and blink on giddy feet they roam. But to the street, that roars and glares the vice mayor does not go, he sits himself in two armchairs, and reads some books by Roe.

The Age of Crime.

"I think I will embark in crime, make lawlessness my goal, why sweat and labor for a dime, when one can swipe a roll?" Thus spake young James, a growing lad, a youth of grace and humor, "I would work no day," said his dad, "crime is a false alarm. The spring is coming when the brooks through ferny dells will glide, and in their cells the weary crooks will wish they were outside. There are a million crooks in jail who can't enjoy the spring; they figured out that swiping had would be the easy thing. They looked with scorn on those who wrought with scythe or ax or saw; they want their way and soon were caught by minions of the law. I'd hate to languish in a cell, my face against the bars, when I can roam at large, and have a ball, a ball of some sort, in my dragging frame, when cheerful auto horns, a-blowin' by lads, who like to get an airing, and who walk upright, in vision's narrow way, are sampling every known delight, enjoying every day. The spring is coming on afoot, I'd hate to be in jail, when birds are warbling rag-time tunes in every verdant vale. But go your way, my sunny son, his word each man must drive," he replied the lad. "The honest man is good enough for me."

once again," ah, he might his soul deliver from the shame that makes it quiver, if he'd drink the wholesome river that is flowing through the sient!

Keeping His Word.

Jinks Jinksins always kept his words throughout his useful years, and when his funeral occurred the town was wet with tears. We'd planted bars at sundry times, and famous statesmen, too, and plutocrats whose stock of dimes was something fierce to view, and while we grieved to note their doom, and see their projects bust, we only wailed around each tomb stone to lay the dust. For gifted gents and famous gents and gents with gorgeous rolls are commoner than twenty cents, and oft have taxidermy souls. But when you meet that human bird with sunshin on his brow, who never goes back on his word, take off your hat and bow, when such a one is standing there, when such a one is standing eight, and though through storm and fire he goes, he'll promptly keep his date. No one else, not even his lips, but when his pledge is made he never fails, he never slips, his word must never fade. He's an ample to the town, a landmark poor to see; and when at last we lay him down beneath a churchyard tree, his merry tears in streamlets roll like waters in a rill, and in the town there is a hole it will be hard to fill.

for his discontent, for fears that he let trickle, and gives the beggarman a cent, the clergyman a nickel.

Winter Glee.

The winter days are flying, the tempests feebly yow; so let's have done with sighing, for spring is at the door; the grass will soon be singing, the jay-birds will be singing, and poets will be aligning their similes as of yore. When I was young the winter had many joys to show, and like a loosed sprinter I scattered through the snow. I know that I am older, with twinges in my shoulder, and heart and feet grown colder, the season seems all woe. Before the winter's over I'd give nine tons of snow, to scent the smell of clover where vernal zephyrs blow; I'd swap all sheets and slushes for the nodding rushes where yonder streamlet gushes in bright, costly flow. Ah, winter, when winter chills the air, I'd give you a sweater than ride a polar bear; I long to herd a sparrow among the braes of Yarrow. I yearn to tool a harrow behind, and now the spring is coming with healing in its wings, and soon we'll hear the humbling of hens and bees and things; the blizzards won't annoy us, so let us be as joyous as fifty-seven kings.

and said estate has never been proposed. Said petitioner prays for the finding and decree determining the time of death of said Clyde L. Keeckley, deceased, that he die intestate, and for a determination of his heirs, the degree of kinship, and the right of descent of said real estate, and for an order barring claims of creditors against said estate, and prays such other relief as may be just and proper. Said petition will be heard before the county court room in the city of Wayne, Wayne county, Nebraska, on the 8th day of April, 1922, at 10 o'clock a. m., at which time the heirs, creditors, and all other persons interested in said estate may appear and show cause why a decree should not be made and entered as prayed in said petition. The Universal Drink.

Water is the noblest fluid that the thirsty human crav; it was drunk by ancient Druid, and in modern Arkansas why lament for beakers when you have water? Outside of Erie, why make up the people weary with your kicks against the law? There are cool, refreshing beverages for the thirsty, but water is the good for housewife's knee; come with me, thirsty critters, where the love and life give, water is the best, but far better, it is nature's choicest tea. There is a hydrant in the alley, there's a key that catches rain, there's a stream in the valley, there's a vessel in the tunc; every where there's water handy, nature's liquor, fine and dandy, and the man who has his hands washed in it, and sane. Oh, some booze might make him mellow when he goes to jail, but the taste is green and yellow when arrives the break in day; there is sickness in his system, and his breath is rank and rummy, and the anhedron sickness are chimney as he toils along his way. He is ashamed and sick and sorry when he meets with other men, and they seem to say, "E'orry, you've been pickled

The Tax Grouch.

My income tax has now been paid, and when I dug the money, I said, "This Here's a thing of shade, once was fair and sunny. The way they cinch an old fat bar in some of my home tax, and like to see some in working hard—far better be a quitter. The burdens thrifty men endure call out for lang." I said, "I'll be a quitter, I'll be a quitter, I'll be a quitter." The pastor asked me for a bone to help to plant the steeple; I said, "My taxes make me sick, and I'll be a quitter, I'll be a quitter, I'll be a quitter." SIoux CITY IS YOUR MARKET

Sioux City is your logical market for several reasons. The haul is decidedly shorter and you who have had costly experience in the matter of shrinkage can appreciate the importance of reducing that loss and with the short haul to Sioux City it is reasonable to assume that the shrinkage is reduced to a minimum. Another important consideration is the freight. The table below will show you the difference in the rate to Omaha and to Sioux City.

To You Who Have been shipping to Sioux City and know the advantages of so doing, this advertisement is directed with the intention of manifesting appreciation and a desire for your continued patronage.
To You Who Have Never shipped to this market, this advertisement is an invitation to weigh carefully the advantages offered by Sioux City in contrast with other markets, and if you will let your own good judgment decide the matter, that is all we ask. We have no fear of the outcome.

Speculation.

It has been fashionable for several months to abuse the grain speculator, and charge upon his devoted head the low prices that have prevailed. Those who have barked the loudest at the heads of the "speculators" were probably those who had knowledge was least about marketing problems.

And now that prices have advanced, almost solely because of the speculators, it will be in order to abuse the speculators and their beneficiaries and for the urban resident or city consumer to "take credit" of the "speculators" for putting up the price of breadstuffs. One of the outstanding reasons for the low prices of breadstuffs in the big cities was the big run from 130 to 144 million bushels of the "fine principle" of wheat from the December and January, taken together with the low value of sterling exchange.

Now, however, with the visible supply increasing about 147 million bushels of the three major grades we have seen a steady advance from $1.08 1/4 to $1.40 1/2 and wheat from $1.00 to $1.27. What caused the advance? Speculation. Nothing else.

There is small margin for cash wheat. Today (Feb. 20) there was consigned wheat on the Exchange which could not be sold except at great sacrifice for which there were no attractive offers. Why?

The brokers in the market were unable to secure any attractive offers for their cash wheat. The terminal elevators will not buy and store on a narrow margin, and an elevator has no prospect of being able to sell again. But in spite of this, "Why again this advance?"

There are two reasons:

1. As the arms conference progressed with its talk at Washington it became evident that a new spirit had been born in the leaders of the nations. It became evident that there was a real desire for future peace and a determination to secure it by scrapping the big war establishments and to depend on good sense and a future peace pact.
2. The spirit-business saw a chance to live. It took courage. Sterling exchange (that speculative frontier of international business) advanced, and with it the grain advanced in London and in the markets. With the big "visible supply" on hand and the consequent assurance of a regular and only warrant for higher cash prices was the fact that the speculators were not selling. When the better times and were ready to furnish a "hedging market" for the protection of the cash traders.

The second reason is perhaps secondary, but it has influence. Kansas is the largest winter wheat producing state. Oklahoma is the second largest, and generally, is very dry—very dry last fall. Unless rain falls very soon a very large percentage of winter wheat is lost and this possibility has also given the speculators an opportunity to "take a chance". When conservative investors do not feel safe in their investments in long time contracts.

There are two more reasons. The advance in wheat and grain has been solely the willing consent of speculators to carry the burden of the big war supply and the consequent cash traders by furnishing a future or hedging market.

Randolph Enterprise: W. E. Wingett, living a half mile south of Sloes, was severely burned about the head, face, neck and arm Wednesday when he attempted to thaw out a frozen tank heater with gasoline. The pipes of the tank heater were frozen and Mr. Wingett pushed some cobs with what he thought was kerosene from a can which contained gasoline. The can took fire causing the explosion, setting fire to Mr. Wingett. He jumped into a tank of water nearby but not before being severely burned.

At a mass meeting of Wausa citizens last Wednesday, the city school board was requested to employ teachers for the coming year at the rate of $1,000 per year. It was decided that Wausa was already paying less for teachers' salaries than any other town of its size in this section of the state.

lot is the farmer's best grain market.

The well-meaning but misguided promoters of the "eat-meat-or-campaign" should transfer their activities to an "eat more meat and drink more milk" movement, and at the same time encourage consumption of grain at an increased ratio of 10 to 15 to 1. Corn is a wholesome food, and should be more largely used, but no amount that can be utilized as human food will ever have an appreciable effect on a 3,000,000-bushel crop.

"Good livestock is the basis of agricultural prosperity. It affords the only way out of the present depression. American agriculture, including tenant farming, must be redeveloped on this basis.

It matters not what other remedies may be adopted, if agriculture does not get the import of this one lesson out of the present depression—conditions, this great basic industry will not fully recover, or enjoy the full measure of prosperity."

Ed. Howe's Confession.

St. Louis City Journal—Old Ed. Howe says he hears a good deal of the "vamp" of beautiful women who make fools of men, and so do we all. Mr. Howe makes the confession, however, that when he engaged in that sort of thing, the fault was more than half his. It is just like Ed. Howe to do that—to make the confession. It isn't every man who would do it, who would be so frank. Ordinarily, it was never in that line, unless perhaps they are found out in one of the various ways by which such discoveries are made. These were the truthful men would admit that Mr. Howe hits the nail on the head. There may be cases in which beautiful women make fools of men and are wholly to blame, but for the most part men are easily "vamped". To "vamp" the average man is about the easiest thing women do. We see it done all over us every day of our lives. Every day we see women fooling men and men succumbing to the wiles of women, and the "vamped" women are not always beautiful, either, by a long shot. Some men are so constituted that they are unable to resist the lure of anything feminine. When men have been "vamped," it is quite safe to conclude that the fault is half theirs. It indeed is not wholly theirs. Men do not need a great deal of encouragement in an adventure of that sort. In the case of business men, the interest in the thing or suggestion is sufficient. Indeed, the number of men who are eager to be "vamped," who jump at any and all chances to be fooled by women, is so large that it is a pity to place any of the blame for "vamping" upon the women.

The "vamp" has her weaknesses, and the conclusion is inevitable that she is wickered, but she merely takes advantage of and thrives upon the weaknesses of men. That there are so many "vamps," so any beautiful women and women who are not 1922, at 9 o'clock, a. m., assigned their making fools of men is no more than proof that the masculine tribe generally is weak and susceptible, if not naturally wickered.

It is a pretty poor sort of a man who, when he has been "vamped," when he has been led astray and made a fool of by a woman, takes his first names and seeks of place the blame upon her. That has been the refuge of men from Adam down, and it is a habit that has been revealed. Goodness knows they deserve. Men are thought a lot better of when detected in wickedness if they accept the responsibility for it and endure the consequences of it, bitter though they may be. That at least retards something of the spirit of good spanking.

Old Ed. Howe's confession is as singular as it is refreshing. He has a habit however of calling things by their first names, and is not afraid of thinking an original if it is not an extraordinary way. One would not suspect that he had ever engaged in that sort of thing, but we have his word for it and it must be true. We are so accustomed to thinking of him as Old Ed. Howe since the time he T. bustowed the testimonial upon him that it did not occur to us that perhaps he once was young and gay and inclined to flirt with folly. You never can tell. We are all poor miserable sinners, even the best of us. It would not do for any of us to have our lives based on the secret revealed. Goodness knows the conclusion of the whole matter is that the female "vampire" is largely a creature of fiction and of molting yellowness. The production of the animal of the human species is the male.

20 Head of Horses

At Pavilion Sale

Saturday March 11

On the above date Kinnegen and Love of Neligh, Nebraska, will offer twenty head of high-class draft horses. This is a selection from about 150 head of horses these men are feeding at Neligh. I have personally inspected this bunch of horses and will say that they are a mighty good sort ranging in age from 4 to 7 years and in weight from 1,300 to 1,600 pounds. I did not see an unsound horse in the bunch and there will be a number of right good matched pairs.

It will pay anyone looking for horses to wait for this bunch because they are grain fed, fat, thrifty and ready for work.

Manna From Skies

Manna which fell from the skies last year near Jerusalem has been seen in the grain market of Commerce. It was sent by the Syrian Bishop of Jerusalem. The bishop is a good natured, simple man, and during the night like dew and was gathered in places under trees from which it fell. It was rising sun had dried it on the leaves. It is supposed to be the same substance that fell for the Israelites in the wilderness.

Must Have More Live Stock.

Provers Journal-Stockman: Nothing is an agricultural country that demonstrated more clearly during the past few months than the necessity of live stock in the economy of the country. The fact is that through the country today and even a casual observer cannot but note the difference in appearance of the purely grain farms and of the combination grain and stock farms.

Wide awake country bankers have had the fact forced upon them by the farmer who has faced stock is the best and safest risk year in and year out, and it is worthy of note that the sheriff is not selling many stock farms this spring. The stock farmer never worried over his bumper crop of corn. He had a ready market for it, before it was gathered.

Just as we had as much good live stock on the farms of the corn belt as we should have there would be the occasion to worry about surplus of corn, or even the price of corn," remarked Dean Curtis of the Iowa agricultural college at Ames. "Corn marketed through good farm-raised live stock is netting the farmer 75 cents to 90 cents per bushel at present. Dairy and poultry products are selling equally well. The wool market is coming back. Lambs are abnormally high. Good draft horses were never better protected than now, and hogs and cattle are selling around 10 cents, with a shortage apparent, provided organized labor and some other industries sell as well as the situation as it is, accept a fair share of the burden of deflation, and go to work. If they do not yield now, economic conditions will be so bad that to do so later, and at greater cost.

The immediate, urgent need is for more and better live stock, and for improved and better grain and hay crops. Profits are curtailed by inferior products. This is past due by true of animal products. We can improve our profitable farm production by marketing farm grains through good stock. The farm feed
