Fraudulent Employment Scheme Disclosed.
Washington, D. C., March 13.—Large numbers of persons have been made victims of fraudulent advertising for labor in connection with the Muscle Shoals project near Florence, Ala. It is said in a statement issued today by the United States civil service commission.

It is stated by the commission that there has been brought to its attention recent advertising throughout the country in which persons out of work have been promised positions at the Muscle Shoals project, conditions upon their making a registration fee of one dollar each.

It is said that large numbers of unemployed men have responded, paying the required registration fee and receiving nothing in return. It is understood that the matter is to be presented to the department of justice for investigation and possible prosecution.

The civil service commission states

The government undertakes to complete the work, such labor as may be necessary will be secured in the usual way through government agencies. It is said, furthermore, that it is certain that no private person or company has undertaken to secure labor for Muscle Shoals if the present uncertainty.

To Make the Home More Beautiful

THE PURPOSE of the DEVOUE Interior Decorating Demonstration

March 17 and 18

Surely the home—the center and source of most of our joys in life—deserve to be fresh, clean and attractive.

Yet many a person sighs for new furnishings or new woodwork effects, but is denied them because of expense.

And all the time many of the beautiful things desired are right in the home. Those old chairs, that scratched picture frame, that scuffed dresser and hundreds of other objects throughout the house that are now lacking in beauty and distinction can be easily transformed into things of beauty again.

To enable our customers bring out these hidden beauties of the home we have arranged to conduct a Devoue Interior Decorating Demonstration, Friday and Saturday, March 17 and 18.

The Devoue expert will give you practical suggestions on modern methods of interior decoration. She will not spin theories; she will present facts. She will not talk generalities but will actually show you how with but a few minutes of your time, you can at a very slight cost make the dingy spots in the home glowingly attractive and richly bright.

Come in and discuss your home decorating problems during the demonstration.

 William J. Bryan: If a government is bad, either in its laws or its enforcement, it is because the people themselves are bad or indifferent.

Washington Post: Mr. Bryan is quite right in refusing to concede that he is dissatisfied from a monetary standpoint. Everybody knows that Mr. Bryan is a self-made man.

Boston Herald: Politics would be a tame game if the American farmer stopped voting when he stopped selling.

The HOOVER

It Beats—as it Sweeps—as it Cleans

Clean Your Rugs Clean at Home

Save yourself the cost and inconvenience of having your rugs taken up and cleaned twice a year. Save the embarrassment of having them look dim and clogged with dirt between times.

Get a Hoover and enjoy the pride of lovely, clean rugs the year around. Dirt gets into your rugs every day. Much of it sifts into their depths to cling and stay, immune to hand-sweeping. Rapidly it accumulates. Germs swarm in it and menace health.

Shoes press the soft rug nap upon this dirt, composed largely of sharp grit. The nap is thus ground off. Your rugs grow threadbare, years too soon.

Let us show you how

The Hoover electrically beats out all germ-laden nap-destroying dirt from rug depths, thus safe-guarding health and preserving your rugs from wear.

In addition, the Hoover electrically sweeps up stubborn litter, erects crushed nap, freshens colors and powerfully cleans by air—all in one easy, rapid, dustless operation.

Phone us today for a free demonstration in your home of The Hoover and its air-cleaning attachments. Remember, The Hoover is guaranteed by the oldest and largest makers of electric cleaners, and we back that guaranty in this city with our unqualified endorsement.

You can OWN a Hoover on convenient terms of payment—only $6.25 down and Similarly small payments each month

Less Than Half are Educated.
 New York Tribune: A statement was made at the convention of the National Educational association by Dr. Graves, the New York state commissioner of education, to the effect that only 46 per cent of the school children in this country complete the eighth grades of common schools, and only 27 per cent complete high school courses. With the small proportion completing high school courses we are not so much concerned, since one may have a good education without entering high school. But when 60 per cent fail to get a common school education, the question arises: who will really prosper with our school system in that fact is a really explanation.

of the enormous percentage of illiterate among young military age, as disclosed by the army examinations during the war. In it there should be an incentive to find means of abating a condition which is at once discreditable and pernicious.

Losing Will Hay to the motion picture people, who paid him a bigger salary, he is now being embarrassed by the Philadelphia question. The AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Running for office is an exciting game even if one wins nothing but experience in the final analysis.

If you like music or poetry that no one can understand, you are a scholar and critic of the highest order.

Either a county or district fair should be held in Wayne next fall, and it is none too early to take steps in that direction.

Manifestly, the worst is over in the process of returning to normalcy, and all should feel encouraged and stimulated by the prospect.

Many people are beginning to know unlike itself that people don't know whether it has got religion or is slyly planning some wicked move.

If one is going to vary from the facts he should do it in the direction of mercy and kindness, and not make things appear worse than they really will warrant.

Some one has suggested that a model street sweeping machine ought to be added to the city's equipment with a plan to put it into frequent and regular service.

We once knew a fellow who expressed regret over accepting money which he had not earned, but which he took it, but showed rare and commendable symptoms of an uneasy conscience.

A newspaper consolidation is taking place at Columbus where the Telegram has bought and will absorb the Daily News. The Telegram will appear as a daily, and the News will be eliminated. The Telegram has prospered as a weekly, but it remains to be seen whether it will be equally successful as a daily.

Today winds up the annual task of making out income tax returns. The attention of bankers has been monopolized during the past week by people who needed assistance in filling out blanks and making accurate reports. Income for last year were generally so much smaller than formerly that the government will not reap usual returns.

Congressman R. E. Evans has been a conspicuous figure in the so-called farm bloc, and is generally recognized as an active and influential friend of the farmer. Congressman Evans represents a purely agricultural district, and he understands and appreciates the needs of farming communities. Whatever any one member of the house can do to help agricultural interests, he can and will do. It must be admitted that he is sincere, frank, far-sighted and peaceable. He is no pretentious politician. He is a student of affairs, in love with his own district, and he has an exhaustless fund of sound sense.

Southeastern Nebraska has been covered the past week by a heavy fall of snow which has impeded the movement of traffic and caused a great deal. As the people have been digging themselves out of huge snowdrifts, they have been cheerfully writing to the editor of the Herald that will come to growing fields by reason of the moisture. Many farmers of long experience, however, say it is no disadvantage to have no snow if plenty of rain falls when needed later in the season.

When a few people are gathered together to hold an election, our partner usually draws an office. As president of the Wayne Women's club, chairman of the county Red Cross, president of the library board, deputy state representative of the D. A. R., and a member of the school board, she is a successful rival of Pook Bah who held most of the offices in the realm of the Mikado. Of our long established hotel, Wayne, our articles show that education receives the largest proportion of taxes, but justify the expenditures by the benefit to the young of the state. Enforced economy in public business, like enforced economy in private affairs, will materially lighten burdens of expense. But it should not be forgotten that we cannot gratify extravagant demands and at the same time expect to get out from under the burden of paying for them.

We have a letter from Frank A. Harrison, formerly of Lincoln, now located in the Omaha office in charge of work in Washington, D. C., incident to the Brazilian international exposition which opens at Rio De Janeiro September 7. Frank informs us that Senator Sebastiao Romulo, commercial attaché and consul general class for Brazil, has been invited to visit all ports of the United States and meet with commercial organizations. Frank will accompany him and help him keep his name and title all together on one train. Frank will also introduce him to the people and help fasten memory of American resources in his mind for the benefit of our country. Frank is a friendly interest in the part of our people will try to develop larger and closer trade relations with the South American world. We think that is Frank's chief idea. We should like to see Senator Romulo in Wayne. He would here find the most resourceful agricultural spot in America. We could promise him an enthusiastic welcome, and all the spicatti and hot tamales he could eat.

W. L. Gaston, former Baptist preacher here, at the same time secretary of the Commercial club and contributor of farm write-ups to the Herald, now deputy secretary of state and candidate for his own office, writes that we have been appointed a member of his campaign committee without pay. We have decided to accept. Mr. Gaston's card announces that he has had four years' experience and knows the work. In addition, he is a man of sterling qualities. He has always been generous with his time and talent. Asked to do a thing, he did it with all his might, without faltering and without thought of compensation. In Wayne, he worked as enthusiastically for the church, the Herald and the Commercial club as though he were adequately paid for his services. At this time he deserves and needs promotion, and the Herald would like to see Wayne and northeast Nebraska line up solidly for him.

It is reported that William Haywood, hitherto of the I. W. O. of miners, who disappeared from the United States after having been convicted of espionage and conspiracy during the war, is to be given charge of the operation of certain iron works in Russia. It is hoped he will stay in Russia and be of some service to that country. He is a menace and a nuisance here. If he would persuade the socialists of Russia to raise more crops and "less hides," and stimulate industry instead of class hatred, he might mean some good to his society. The Russians should bear in mind that the summer season is the time to get busy, multiply effort, develop products and safeguard the country against the needs of the long winter which always follows. If Haywood has any sense and soul, he should exercise himself in the direction of a peaceful solution of domestic problems in order that the Russian people may become self-sustaining.

According to a series of special articles dealing with Nebraska taxes, appearing in the Omaha Bee, an effort is being made generally to reduce demands for public funds and relieve the burden of taxation. Dawson county is a notable example mentioned. That county's commissioners have figured on a reduction of $100,000 in the levy for this year, and explain, however, that that made possible by reason of wiping out former obligations and eliminating a share of future needs. The Bee's articles show that education receives the largest proportion of taxes, but justify the expenditures by the benefit to the young of the state. Enforced economy in public business, like enforced economy in private affairs, will materially lighten burdens of expense. But it should not be forgotten that we cannot gratify extravagant demands and at the same time expect to get out from under the burden of paying for them.

4 Big Carloads of Merchandise

Exclusively for This Store

- Carload Sugar, 400 Bags, to Arrive Thursday. Carload Seed Potatoes, to Arrive Thursday. Carload Black Salt to Arrive Thursday. Carload Chick Feed to Arrive April 1. Big Lot Oyster Shell, Just Arrived

Some of these cars are over sold, others are partially sold. At any rate, if you have not ordered phone us and we will take care of your wants. Every item will save you money. This stuff is bought right and at the proper time and it can't help but be a good buy. Here's the prices: Sugar, $6.45; seed potatoes, two bushel bag, $3.50; grey block, fifty pounds salt, five blocks at 40c; 100 pounds tested chick feed $2.35; 100 pounds genuine oyster shell, $1.65.

We will protect you on any or all of the above items if you phone your orders at once. Some items are advancing and the market remains strong. We cannot guarantee prices unless you are "booked." We have made some "good buys" and will gladly give you the benefit if you will co-operate. Phone No. 2.

Andy Gump Kisses Window Full. A confection that's sure to please, in an Andy Gump package, and sold for a dime. Coupon in each package that tells you how to get an Andy Gump cartoon book.

Rolled Oats, Full Bags, $3.60. Farmers know the important uses for this product. It has no equal for brood sows with small pigs or for the first ten days feeding for little chicks. Ready for delivery. Those who have ordered please call.

Just a Word About Seed Potatoes. This is the year to keep your "eye peeled" when you buy seed potatoes. Take it from me—look out for potatoes that have been nipped with frost. We have played safe and bought Minnesota Early Ohio stock that was marketed in Omaha early last fall and retained in storage at an even temperature until they were placed on board the cars and shipped to Wayne. This seed cost more than direct shipments from Minnesota on account of being absolutely immune from frost at any stage. To make it short, if you would make sure to be pleased in every respect order your potatoes from this car. Our price is $3.50 for two bushel bag. If you are offered seed at lower price—there is a reason.

Sweet California Prunes Five Pounds for 80c. Succeeded in buying another lot that's possible to sell at five pounds for 80 cents. Most buyers have advanced their price 2c to 3c over last week. Get a supply of these fancy prunes as this price cannot last always.

200 lbs. Fine Newton Cookings Two Pounds for 45 Cents. Five Pounds for $1.00. Fresh stock just received Wednesday and the quality is first-class. Children like them—nothing better for school lunches. This price is a decided reduction.

Carload Chick Feed, $2.25 per 100 pounds, to Arrive April 1. Of all my years in business this is the "first off-in" of offering perfectly good tested chick feed at $2.25 per hundred. Yes, we have a full carload coming about April 1, and we expect to have every bag sold by that date. Everybody who raises poultry should "speed up" and get their name on the "dotted line" as this price saves at least 80 cents and no doubt more by the time car arrives. Yes, we have a sample to show. Will also show you the difference in quality between first class and second class chick feeds. We bought this feed last fall at a price based on low priced cereals—now we are asking your co-operation at $2.25 per hundred, the lowest price you ever saw quoted on tested food. Millions of chicks die annually because of improper feeding. We are certain this loss can be greatly reduced by feeding tested food. Order today.

Some Soap Bargains Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Twenty bars full size Napha soap $1.00. 25 cents worth 100 per cent White Soap Chips FREE.

Tree Ripened Apricots Five Cans for $1.10. Shop where you buy, you can't find a price to match it. This campaign is on. We are going to break our last year's record. We are going to sell 500 cases or 1,000 dozen. Try five cans, they will be so good you will want a case.

Grape Fruit at 2 for 15c. The grape fruit we sold you last week at two for 15 cents was good quality, but could not get the Dr. Phillip's brand as we expected. This week we are promised Dr. Phillip's for sure. You will like it better as it's almost seedless and very heavy fruit. The price will be two for 15 cents; many buy by the dozen.

100 People Bought Basket Store Blend Coffee Last Saturday. We mention this that you may know something of the popularity of this blend. Popular brands at 46 cents per pound "go begging" when people know the merits of Basket Store Blend, Yes, we roast and blend every week, give you three pounds for your dollar, and you have saved 35-cents. The cup quality pleases you. Can you beat it?

Flower and Garden Seeds Brand new seeds ready for the early gardeners. We should have any variety you could name. Onion sets too—they are small and uniform, two pounds for 25 cents.

Security Calf Food in Pails $2.25. How know the merits of this food. Many it makes fat calves, saves the whole milk and why it's a good investment. A new lot just received. Guaranteed as always.

Who Ever Heard of a Grocery Store Selling Tooth Paste? Here's one; never a day goes by without selling some of Dr. Adams tooth paste. Almost a year ago Dr. Adams says "Sell this dozen of tooth paste, guarantee it to go farther and give better satisfaction than any other brand on the market or give the money back." We sold it, we made the guarantee strong, his not a tube came back. On the contrary, people came for another tube; they passed the word along to their friends until we have a real tooth paste business. Dr. Adams still maintains his big guarantee. If you buy one tube you will be a regular patron. That's our experience. It's 40 cents per tube.

Fifty Pounds Grey Block Salt, 40c, Five-Block Lots. Carload to arrive not later than Thursday. The salt interests have been putting on a fight between themselves and the public set back and smile. They have made it possible to sell fifty pound blocks at 40 cents in five block lots, cheapest price ever known on this market. When the "scrap" is settled salt no doubt will be higher. You can't go wrong to order your season's supply from this car. Phone No. 2.

buys more than it sells is not expanding its production, and it recognized that expansion is the keynote of business progress. Searched a little deeper, the condition does not appear so alarming and depressing. The more Europe sells the more it can buy. So it may be a good thing for America in the end.

Meanwhile, this country is making favorable progress with its domestic economic affairs. Business is better from week to week, but the advance is slow and in some cases more or less irregular. Recovery has not reached the point where smooth acceleration is possible, but it is believed it is now approaching it from steel production, demand for building materials, higher prices and encouraging movement of agricultural products, including both grain and live stock, a more fluid condition for merchandise in wholesale and retail trade, decreased unemployment, healthy trading in stocks and securities in the financial markets—these are some of the outstanding features of better business at home.

The coming of the spring season has allowed trade considerably, and a busier summer than was experienced last year is now assured. Official and private advice indicate a greatly strengthened confidence in a continued advance toward a normal condition.

Corn Root Rot Menace

Crop rotation and seed testing best remedies. By P. G. Holden, Field Director, Agricultural Extension Department, International Harvester Company.

Much discussion and considerable anxiety have been occasioned in all parts of the country where corn is an important crop by the recent appearance of corn diseases which attack the root, the stalk, the leaf, the ear, the husk and the cob. The most prominent of these diseases is the corn root rot which, unless checked, threatens to spread over the entire belt and cause a tremendous loss.

While the spread of these diseases is just cause for alarm, we fortunately have enough thought about them to be able to fight them successfully, and if every corn grower will take the simple precautions necessary, these diseases may be checked and, in time, nearly, if not entirely, wiped out.

Investigations seem to have established the following two facts regarding these diseases:

1. The diseases live in the soil.
2. The diseases may be carried over in the seed.

Knowing these facts the remedies suggested are as follows:

1. Rotate crops. Do not plant corn in the same field where it has grown the previous year.
2. Test every ear of seed corn this spring. Every kernel that develops an air pocket on a clean surface shows discoloration is a warning. Do not plant those ears.

Soil that grows corn year after year or even for a few years will accumulate and carry corn diseases to a greater extent than will that land in which it is corn only once in every three or four years.

sterilized by boiling in water for five or ten minutes. The ordinary wash-bowls serve well to sterilize them. In case cleansing them with soap be necessary, they should be thoroughly rinsed before using. They are then ready for making the test.

The first step in preparing the dolls is to lay out on a clean surface of newspaper the strip of insulating paper. The best paper has been found to be a 76-pound Beal Water-finish Fibre Paper. It is a standard grade of paper and can be purchased in twelve-inch rolls through any clean store or printer. A clean strip must be used for each test. The paper should be at least from eight to ten inches longer than the dolls to be tested. The dolls should be placed on the insulating paper preparatory to placing the kernels. Care must be taken not to roll the dolls too tightly or too loosely.

When the dolls are placed on the insulating paper, they are placed in a double-walled test and the germinator box consists of an outer box with sand on top and an inner box with sawdust on top. The inner box is 12 by 24 inches and is filled with sawdust to a depth of 1 1/2 inches. Inside diameter of the inner box should be at least 5 inches space for the sawdust between it and the inner box.

The inner box should be perforated to permit damp air from the sawdust to gain access to the inside of it. The cross rods should be placed in the inner box at 3-inch intervals and about 3 inches from the top.

A box of this size provides room for 20 dolls which gives it a capacity for testing 800 seed ears. A 3-inch layer of sawdust or shavings mixed with approximately one-fourth of its weight of sterilized wheat bran or air slaked lime should be placed in the bottom of the inner box under the dolls during the test. Do not use any other material for this purpose.

The bottom of the outer box should be perforated to allow excess water to drain through it. The germinator box should be placed on strips of wood to facilitate rapid drainage. At no time should the sawdust be permitted to become overly dry. Adequate moisture will prevent any sourness from developing.

The dolls are placed in the box in a vertical position. They are sprinkled twice daily with lukewarm water. It is not necessary to immerse the dolls in water at any time during the test. The bags covering the dolls should be kept moist as well as the sawdust around the inner box. A temperature of approximately 50 degrees Fahrenheit should be maintained in the inner box during the test. The box should, therefore, be kept in a warm place. Satisfactory results have been obtained by thoroughly saturating the sawdust around the inner box with boiling hot water twice daily. If this is done, extra precautions are unnecessary to prevent wetting any of the dolls with the hot water because this would kill the young seedlings and prevent the proper interpretation of the results.

The kernels should be left in the germination test for 10 days or until the sprouts have a chance to grow four or five inches long. This is important just now because should a kernel be diseased, the disease may not manifest itself if the kernel is left in the germination test only a week.

On opening the rag dolls examine the sprouts and roots of the germinated kernels carefully. If any of the kernels show mold or any of the sprouts or roots are discolored in any way, the safest plan is to discard them. If you are not sure of the chances, it is better to throw out a healthy ear than to plant a diseased one.

Every corn grower will test his crops, test his seed corn and throw out every suspicious ear, corn root rot and checked corn thousands will soon be checked and thousands of dollars saved.

Sweetest Things of Earth.
 What are the sweetest things of earth?
 Lips that can praise a ravel's worth;
 A fragrant rose that hides a thorn;
 Riches of gold untouched by scorn;
 A happy little child asleep,
 Eyes that can smile, though they may weep;
 A brother's cheer, a father's praise,
 The ministry of summer days;
 A heart where never anger burns;
 A gift that looks for no returns;
 Fondness o'v'rtown, pain's swift release;
 Dark footsteps guided into peace;
 The light of love in lover's eyes;
 The honest hand that needs no ward;
 A life with right in true accord;
 A hope bud waking into joy;
 A happiness without alloy;
 The mother's kiss, a wife's mirth;
 These are the sweetest things of earth.—Emma L. Dowd.

Former Wayne Pastor In a Boxing Match

Rev. John W. Beard, referred to in the following which appeared in last week's Randolph Times, was a former pastor of the Wayne Presbyterian church, removing last year to Hoquiam, Wash.

The following from the Daily World, Wenatchee, Wash., tells of the activities of a former Randolph pastor. The bout is not a regular "prize-fight, but a friendly, though scarce enough boxing contest brought on by the American Legion of which both sky pilots are members. We are indebted to Mrs. D. P. Monfort for the clipping.

Rev. John W. Beard, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Hoquiam, "fighting chaplain" of the former Ninety-First Division in France, and state chairman of the American Legion in Washington, is being groomed for a bout with the Rev. Earl A. Blackman, national chaplain of the American Legion. The bout is to be staged, according to managers of the rival parsons at the 1922 Washington state convention of the American Legion at Wenatchee this fall.

The national chaplain pushes a wicked flock of gloves when he gets in action, and although he is a pastor of a well known Kansas congregation, he is well known as a boxing referee. He is also a former track and football star. The pastors will fight as middleweights. The Rev. Mr. Beard boxed three fast rounds last week with John Dickinson, veterinarian of the British forces, at an entertainment staged by Hoquiam Post No. 10.

David Calvin Krueger.
Funeral services for David Calvin Krueger were held last Wednesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. Fenton C. Jones, and the body was laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery.

David Calvin Krueger was born at Nashville, Ill., on December 20, 1903, and died at Wayne, March 5, 1922, following an operation for an appendicitis. He was baptized in the Evangelical Lutheran church at Nashville, at the age of 13 months. The family located at Emerson nine years ago and later moved to Wayne where the young man was in the employ of the Standard Bridge company, working with his uncle, Louis Schmitt, to whom he was very much attached and in whose arms he passed away. Mr. Krueger is survived and mourned by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Krueger, his younger brother, Donald, his sister, Mrs. P. J. Waggoner of Emerson, one grandmother, nine uncles, eight aunts and twelve cousins. Those who attended the funeral from out-of-town were H. E. Schoenfeld and Mrs. Louis Bebernis of Hoskins, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hall of Carroll and Miss Edna Rhode of Winside.

Comparative Growth In Land Values

Lincoln, Neb., March 9.—That the average value per farm in Grant county, in the center of the sand hill section, is 30 per cent higher than that of any eastern Nebraska county, that the average value of land in Wayne county increased $21,413 in value from 1900 to 1920, and, that the average value of all improved farms in 1920 was $29,619, more than six times greater than it was two decades ago, are a few of the interesting facts brought out in a survey tabulation of census land values prepared by A. E. Dickinson.

Grant county shows a gain of $196,333 per acre in land value since 1900, and another county an increase of more than 3,700 per cent for the same period. The average value per acre of improved land ranges from $11.47 in McPherson county, to $289,552 in Douglas county, Dodge, Kearney and Burr counties, follow in order, respectively with average values of $254.41, $246.37, and $245.57, according to Mr. Dickinson. These counties rank in the same order on the average value of land alone.

Wayne Exam Value Second.
Grant county's highest average is followed by Wayne, Dodge and Burr counties. The values respectively are $62,198, $47,549, and $46,794. McPherson county, with an average value of $13,358 ranks lowest.

The greatest percentage of increase in value of land was made by Perry county in 1900, the average value was $136 per acre, compared with $50.47 in 1920, an increase of more than 3,700 per cent. McPherson county had the smallest percentage of increase with only 288 per cent.

Grant county also led in average value of land, with an average value of $246.37 per acre. Cherry county second, with 1,761.9 acres. The smallest farms are found in Douglas county, the average being 12.1 acres. Cass county has the largest number of farms and Grant county the smallest number, respectively with 2,708 and 151. The average value per acre of improvements ranged from $40.45 in Douglas county to $24.44 in Washington county to $1.06 in Arthur county. Average values for the state for 1920 and 1900 are as follows: Land and improvements, $57.21 and $19.44; land alone $7.87, and $1.81; improvements alone $9.04 and $3.04. The average size per farm increased from 245.1 acres in 1900 to 333.4 acres in 1920. The total value of all farms in Nebraska in 1920 was $3,712,017,750 and $577,060,020 in 1920. The value of all farm property in 1920 was $1,931,055,933, which includes livestock and also machinery.

Nebraska Well on Way to Normalcy

Lincoln, Neb., March 10.—Nebraska has turned the corner and is now well on the way back to normal and permanent prosperity, says Gov. McKelvie in a statement issued today, quoting appended figures which indicate an increase of from 5 1/2 to 68 per cent in the prices of farm products and livestock.

With the exception of poultry and dairy products, respectively, showing decreases of 43 and 25 per cent, all Nebraska products are growing under "favorable conditions," the statement declares.

"The total value of all crops and livestock on Nov. 1, 1921 was $392,228,000, while the total value on March 1, 1922, was $457,658,000," the statement reads. "Corn shows an increase of 63 per cent, the highest and miles an increase of 5 1/2 per cent, the lowest."

Still Profit in Poultry.

the governor points out that it is important to note that the items, approximating the larger amount of the increase, are most largely in the hands of the farmer at the present time. The decrease in the value of poultry and dairy products aggregates rather large, but the governor states, but there is still a margin of profit in these branches.

"These figures do not include the value of products carried over from 1920, which is an important factor as in corn alone, the carry-over is estimated to have been 25 per cent" according to the statement. "Another significant fact is that, while the prices of farm products have increased, the prices of things for which these products must be exchanged, have declined. This readjustment of exchange values is of basic importance and is perhaps the most significant indication of a return to normal prosperity.

Profit in all Farm Branches.

There is profit now in nearly all branches of farming, states the governor, and with these facts in hand it would be fair to assume that there will be a gradual recovery from the low ebb that was reached in 1921, and thus, is every reason to expect that business in this immediate field will show an unusual improvement during the weeks and months to come.

The need in Nebraska of funds from the war finance corporation will have passed when the corporation's existence will terminate July 1," according to the governor, who adds that demands upon the corporation now are rapidly receding.

J. A. Frydenlund went to Omaha Thursday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hurst spent Thursday of last week in Sioux City.

Mrs. Herman Echtenkamp went to Arlington last Thursday for a visit with relatives.

Miss Harriet Portner went to Sioux City last Thursday. She returned Friday accompanied by Mrs. L. W. Roe who had gone to Sioux City the previous Sunday.

Mrs. C. J. Robertson and Mrs. H. S. Connell of New York, house guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kohl, went to Sioux City Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Kohl went over Thursday morning and all returned to Wayne in the evening.

Early Drivers' Journal, Vol. 1, March 8: William Deck, well known feeder of Hosiens, was on Tuesday's market here with a load of steers that averaged 134.0 pounds and sold at $8.30. "That price is quite a little more than some of my neighbors, who shipped cattle recently, thought I would get," Mr. Deck said, "and they are making good money. I am well pleased with my season's work."

New Silver Dollars Circulated in Wayne

Wayne banks last week received supplies of the new silver dollar, known as the peace dollar. This coin is in commemoration of the peace conference and the change of design is the first since 1878 and it will remain the same for twenty-five years now, unless changed by legislation.

On one side of the coin is the head of Liberty of slightly different design than the old dollar. The word "Liberty" curves over the top half of the coin and at the bottom are the words "In God We Trust". On the reverse side is a large life-size figure of the American eagle, perched on the mountain top, clutching an olive branch. The word "Peace" is beneath. The rays of the rising sun are back of the eagle, depicting the rise of a new era. "E Pluribus Unum" appears above the head of the eagle.

About 500,000 of the new dollars were coined with the date 1921 and few if any of these circulated in this country. The dollars, issued in Wayne last week here the 1922 date. President Harding received the first dollar struck off from the new design.

Railroad Profits in Hard Times. New York World: During 1921 the average earnings of railroads throughout the United States reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission amounted to 3.31 per cent.

A Unique Bargain. Mitchell Republican: A farmer near White Rock, S. D., has offered to rent his farm of 160 acres to a tenant on the sole condition that the tenant shall turn over to him one turkey for each acre of land in the farm. Anybody who has bought turkeys for Thanksgiving dinner will not be surprised by the offer.

The Early Days in Two Counties

From the Wayne Herald for March 18, 1897:

"Mrs. C. A. Chace entertained at a 'Bachelor Party'... The 'Bachelor Girls' met with Miss Dottie Brown.

S. J. Young traded the Hartington Herald for a farm last week... The robins and blue birds have arrived.

Many farmers are procuring their seed wheat from districts 150 to 200 miles north of here.

Elmer Blakesley entertained a number of his young friends in honor of his sixth birthday.

The schools at Winside have been closed for a short time owing to the prevalence of measles among the pupils.

The Methodist congregation had a farewell-meeting in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, who are planning to move to Washington.

Hans Hansen informs us that no more contracts will be made for the raising of sugar-beets... The number of acres contracted tributary to Wayne is 312.

Postmaster Childs received a letter from Houston, stating that Cecil D. Patch had been pardoned... Mr. Patch formerly lived in Wakefield and worked in Wayne many times at his trade.

Robert Gennett and Miss Ellen Thrapp were united in matrimony Thursday, March 11, at 2:30 p.m. at the residence of the bride's parents.

Philo and Son's office at Mr. Charles E. Chaffee's home, which he had owned for fourteen years, it dropped to the ground in front of Philo and Son's office at Mr. Charles E. Chaffee's home.

We will take back what we said last week about nine cent corn as Mark Jeffrey has purchased 1,000 bushels of James Blair and 1,000 bushels of V. S. Samsal at the same price.

Winside claim that they are right in it and they are about right... New buildings, new farms and everything indicate it, but it is not surprising when such men as A. T. Chapin, John Elliott, McGusky & Johnson, Frank Weible and others are at the helm.

From the Ponca Journal, March 21, 1884:

The district central committee at its meeting in Columbus at the 1892 called a convention at Norfolk on April 29, to elect two delegates to the national republican convention.

The chairman, Judge Tiffany, requested to call a meeting at an early date to fix the time of holding the convention for nominating a congressman.

The third district is composed of the counties of Antelope, Boone, Buffalo, Bud, Cedar, Cheyenne, Colfax, Cuming, Custer, Dakota, Dawson, Dixon, Douglas, Fremont, Grant, Howard, Keith, Knox, Lincoln, Madison, Merrick, Nance, Pierce, Platte, Polk, Sherman, Stanton, Valley, Washington, Wayne, Wheeler.

The past two weeks of mud, raining weather, high melting snows, cascades, the weather has been so wish, like the road men of old, for some one to lay hold of him and pull him 'out of the mire and clay and set his feet on a rock.

A good board sidewalk would fill the bill. A well constructed board walk is a luxury if not a means of grace, but the modern state of affairs, as to clay, hedged in by rotten railroad ties and usually denominated 'gravel walks'—are an abomination—and a source of vexation to the righteous souls of all who sink in these sloughs of nastiness.

Enough overshoes, rubbers and boots have been buried in these walks, and it is a pity that not enough profanity spent to completely and elaborately embellish the ante-room to hades. Let us have better sidewalks.

Babe May Free Mother.

Lincoln, Neb., March 9.—The birth of a babe to Mrs. Rola DeHart, whose sentence the state court pronounced a 10 to 15 years in connection with the murder of John Mize, may be the means of obtaining the release of the mother.

The child was born in the orthopedic hospital here two weeks ago.

Parole officials are said to have made the statement that the mother would not be made to suffer shame with her child. She will remain at the hospital until her case is acted upon by the state.

Frank A. Warner, an attorney of Norfolk, is in Lincoln today in the interest of Mrs. DeHart. Mr. Warner talks on the board of parole and pardons and obtained a parole blank, but did not indicate whether he would file it for parole, commutation or pardon.

Sentiment in this county is favorable for a parole, according to Mr. Warner.

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher

The Quiet Village.
In Purnville, when the clocks strike nine, the lights go out—across the line, the streets are dark and bare; and moral citizens, at that point, up the electric line, out an eye and to the repair. At times the citizens will go to see a picture movie show that some great author has written, when a lecturer arrives to brighten up their quiet lives with hoarse but earnest sounds. But breaks like these are far between. The village is but seldom seen away from home at night; no lights are shining in their homes, but harmless dreams invade their domes, where they are sleeping tight.

Each little life has its own life, they tell you of a checker game that lasted seven years, with final honors yet to win—and they can't see why you should grin, nor understand your sneers. Gay necks from the crowd of marts stop there for a minute to stare at you in such a way, they say, as if they were towns that are not dead, is neither safe nor sane. But Purnville people, in their way, seem cheerful, jubilant and gay, despite the city's jeers; in their old age they are hale and spry, they laugh and sing and play dice at less than five score years.

The Boosters.
Along the well-known western coast the getting "stature" is mere boast. "Come here," they cry, with outstretched hands, "yet without work of other hands." Come here, where spring and harvest dwells, and every breeze is wearing blue, and winter's cold and summer's heat are goods you are not apt to meet, where any states above 's land, and human comfort has no end." And now along this shining shore, for many weeks, and many more, a wet and heavy rain has poured, and now has sweet, and gales have roared; and when a man steps down the street and clouds lift him off his feet, and always said, "It's wrong to coddle up piles of dead to win a cheap renown."

Rain and Drouth.
The water's piled in my front yard, all kinds of water, soft and hard, and still the rain comes stopping down, and saturates the waxy lawn. The rain against the window beats; and catches through the village street, and ever-frees and drenches are there that have more rain than they desired. And while the day's so wildly wet, I read the Gophertown Gazette, the old house paper that has brought forty years its freight of Gema of Thought. And back in Gophertown, it seems, all dried up are the babbling streams; there is no water in the wells; the parching population yells for just a little slice of rain, and all its yelling is in vain. No rain clouds gather in the sky, the river beds are dusty dirt, while fish sit up along the bank and gasp for something fit to drink. The weather bureau should reform; why does it always send a storm where there should be a cloudless sky and send a drouth where it is dry? Why does it drench the western coast, and dodge the plains that need rain most? Why am I always stuck in mud, or battling through a turbid flood, while other fellows—those who live in business—they cannot have a bath? The weather bureau makes me tired; all winter long it's kept me tired.

Exalted Crooks.
In plays and books the gilded crooks are daily represented; our youths go to see a show, and leave it discontented. The "Raffles" stuff has pulled enough to make some young beholders grope to crack some hard-boiled detective's five months older. Cheap tales of scamps and sin and camps, the youngster finds before him; and soon, alas, "he" comes to ponder the things only bore him. The moral play that shows the way to higher planes of thinking, will make him sigh, "This play were good to see a show, and drinking." "Gospel for the worth; for all on earth that may be upward reaching, is just punk books and meaningless sermons, and no teaching. In other times great tales of crimes were told by moral writers, and they would show how death and justice were done by the law. No reader likes rude William Spikes, or would with William Wallace; no youngsters yearn his wage to earn, or in the forties of the century, the thief in bold relief is shown for youths admiring—the bills the hick and shaken the dicks, in evil arts unlearned, and the boys for their dinners; the courts are jammed; the jails are crammed with adolescent sinners.

Hints of Spring.
I long have wished that spring would come, and that the birds would be here to hear the wild song from across regions dreary; but at the dawn of springtime sweet, I'm waiting for the birds to come, and am sure that I must beat and stave it must dismember. Housecleaning and its deadly snares I gladly would do; for I need to join with polish. Oh, I forgot housecleaning chores, when I was wildly singing of birds and bees and buns (the clean forget the bees and the buns). I mean life also ran, when I was calling on the cops to make the streets clean. The woman now important wax, they're restless and uneasy, they long to renovate our streets and make our streets clean. I have to carry out the chairs, and scrub the door and casement, and pack big bureaus up the stairs, and hang up the beds, and wash when I'm weary of my sinners, some of them swinging, not all the birds in all the trees can cheer me by their singing. The women seem to love in vain for the tulips start, in vain the birds are yelling. I look upon the drifted snow, I see its gleam and glitter, and how I hate to see it go, to feel that it's a quitter!

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—

My son, William Schmitt, at four years of age, could speak only two words, mamma and papa, very indistinctly. We took him to Rochester where he was X-rayed and had three blood tests taken. They removed his tonsils and adenoids and said that he would talk within six months, if ever. At the end of that time he had shown no improvement. We took him to Drs. Lewis & Lewis, Chiropractors. He received fifty (50) spinal adjustments and now speaks anything as distinctly as the average child of his age.

SIoux CITY IS YOUR MARKET

Sioux City is your logical market for several reasons. The haul is decidedly shorter and you who have had costly experience in the matter of shrinkage can appreciate the importance of reducing that loss and with the short haul to Sioux City it is reasonable to assume that the shrinkage is reduced to a minimum. Another important consideration is the freight. The table below will show you the difference in the rate to Omaha and to Sioux City.

To You Who Have been shipping to Sioux City and know the advantages of so doing, this advertisement is directed with the intention of manifesting appreciation and a desire for your continued patronage.
To You Who Have Never shipped to this market, this advertisement is an invitation to weigh carefully the advantages offered by Sioux City in contrast with other markets, and if you will let your own good judgment decide the matter, that is all we ask. We have no fear of the outcome.
