Where Optimism is Justifiable.

Daily Drivers Journal-stockman

Optimism is one of the greatest of human characteristics; it is the power to see the good in every situation. There is such a thing as justifiable optimism deduced from experience and tempered by a knowledge of possibility and the law of averages. The very foundation of wisdom is to know what cannot be done. Upon this knowledge is based a clear conception of what can be done. Two of the best things in the world will not produce watermelons; chance does play an important part in the affairs of mankind. Virtue and intelligence, sobriety and honor are not always rewarded in the great game of life; the delicious optimism of the "harem" is a great asset to the man who is not a contrary rock-stander.

The men who eventually do service to society are those who bring the message of this kind of optimism, high sentimentality, and self-humility down to the ground of common horse sense.

There comes a time in the life of every man when the vision of the splendid of extreme youth fades into the light of common day, when he realizes that his only nearest hope is to make the best of things as they are and to refuse to chase rainbows far into the twilight when no man can work. These men are the real benefactors of humanity in finance, industry, agriculture and philosophy even though the unthinking stigmatize them as cynics. We need more of them today.

Result of Investigation.

Lincoln, Neb., June 2.—No evidence of corruption in the expenditure in the state department of public works was found by the joint committee appointed by the special session of the legislature to investigate the relative cost of road construction by the state and counties, according to a final report made public today, but rather a splendid record of economy and apparently a perfect transcript of its acts and doings since the beginning.

"While it was not possible to personally visit all counties, sufficient were visited and through the department of public works we learned a great deal of facts which, in general, standard of integrity in the expenditure of road money is very high," the report stated, signed by all members of the committee, which included the governor, attorney general, state auditor and two members

On account of a recent discovery a dentine can now fill your teeth with a plastic porcelain that exactly matches the shade of your teeth, and cannot be detected by the casual observer. It's only fault is a lack of edge strength, and is only practical in cavities that do not involve the cutting edge of the tooth.

To Test Power of Soil. An instrument for testing soils on which roads are to be built has been devised by the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture.

The kind of soil beneath a road surface has a great deal to do with how it will stand up under modern traffic, and engineers look upon this as an important consideration in determining the kind of road to be built.

Newspapers. J. R. Perkins in the Council Bluffs Nonpartisan: 'Write Librarian if his account book, "Daily Opinion," is an illuminating chapter on the nature of news. He says: "Every newspaper when it reaches the reader is the result of a whole series of actions as to what items should be printed, in what position they shall be printed, and what emphasis each shall have. Take two newspapers published in the same city on the same morning. The headlines of one reads: "Britain Pledges Aid to Berlin Against French Aggression."

pen's policies, and I am supposed to have a great deal of interest in the latter and none in the former. If there could be a symposium on what kind of news interests certain groups there would be some amusement and perhaps staid folks would be scandalized. But who are the staid folks? Really isn't there a good deal of posing in all this criticism about racy news? Journalism is about as clean as its constituents. Anyhow, it isn't immoral to print racy news nor undignified if it is moral to read it. The immorality—if any—inheres in condoning the acts of those who have flouted their own best public regard.

Only one more week is left for primary for Effie and then the preliminary campaign will be on in earnest.

A railroad strike is in prospect for July 1. But it is a dull season when some unhappy prospect does not seem up. It is not one thing in another. Sometimes it is more than one thing.

For a few days last week the Stout City newspapers were handicapped by a strike of the press which was unauthorized. Settlement was effected Sunday when normal publication was resumed. Nothing seems to have been gained by the Stout City printers. If labor union men who have been drawing comparatively good pay, could understand a financial basis for their attitude of people in most lines of endeavor during the past few years, they would not be so dissatisfied nor so ready to quit their jobs.

Congressman M. P. Kinkaid of the Sixth district has again withdrawn as a candidate to succeed himself. He has been named by the State aspirants. Congressman Kinkaid announces that impaired health will not permit him to continue in office. Sixth district men of congressional proportions have long stifled their ambitions in the realization that Kinkaid, with his honest love to his credit, could not be defeated. It is now expected that every town and hamlet in the Sixth district will push a candidate into the congressional arena.

The Bloomfield Monitor refuses to be consoled by the Herald's editor. The Monitor has been the object of attention to the late high school meet here, and charges that the Herald did not give the meet the proper space during the week of the meet one of the two leading heads of the first page featured the event, and some pictures were used. The Herald is disappointed. The Monitor also charges that we did not have a reporter on the ground. How does the Monitor know? The Herald had a report of the meet.

Speaking of the different kinds of advertising as essential to business reconstruction, George Woodruff of the National Bankers Association for Chicago, said, before South Dakota bankers at Aberdeen, that newspaper advertising is unquestionably the most effective means by which a banker and his business can be advertised. Mr. Woodruff advised them to advertise, declaring that "bankers who insist that advertising is not business are steadily retiring to the background." If it is important for banks to advertise, it is certainly necessary to do so for all lines of business to do so.

The thousand students who have gathered at the Wayne Teachers College for the eight weeks' summer term, reflect worthy ambition for educational attainment. Wayne welcomes these young people, and will endeavor to make them comfortable and satisfactory. More and more the importance of mental training is being understood. More and more opportunities for education are being turned to advantage. Besides giving aid to useful endeavors, schooling inspires confidence and creates a power of judgment and breadth of understanding. enlarges vision and enlivens appreciation of the finer things in life, largely through the study of history and cross-maturity. Wayne is fortunate in having the State Teachers College. It is just as true that the State Teachers College is a boon to the institution in a town like Wayne.

In a car costing $1,750—now worth $500—we set yesterday morning under the shadow of St. Paul's church in Lincoln awaiting the dismissal of the congregation. In the neighborhood of 400 automobiles were estimated, about 500 automobiles. We averaged the cost at $1,200, making a total investment of $600,000, making 100 bushels of hard seed corn conveyed parishioners to worship. Thirty years ago there were no automobiles, and people went to worship in horse-drawn carriages. To-day they walked several miles in rough weather to be in their pews on the Sabbath. We wonder if those who ride to church now in ease really get as much good from the service as did those who underwent the almost worships of thirty or forty years ago. And a showing of $600,000 worth of automobiles in the neighborhood of one cent does not reflect a very serious state of poverty.

W. L. Gaston, formerly of Wayne, deputy state secretary of state's office for four years, and now candidate for the republican nomination for chief place in that office, is gaining much of his popularity and extends. Gaston has carried the burden of responsibility in the secretary of state's office, and it is patent to all eyes that his records are kept in perfect order, and that no annoying delays or errors have happened in the course of performing public duties. He stands high with those who know him best. He has never been known to deny a friendly suggestion that he could order, and to everybody aware he has shown best good will. Coupled with these desirable qualities is high efficiency and adequate support in the forthcoming primary contest, and he knows how to manifest appreciation. Northeast Nebraska should be proud to have him the bare vote that he eminently deserves.

both old and new stock continued heavy. South Carolina sent about one-fourth total shipments. Maine continues to ship 100 or more cars daily. Prices declined 50c to 75c on new stock. Dairy—Butter 1c to 2c lower than week ago due to heavy receipts and lack of demand for storage. Receipts were about 40,000 tubs larger than last week and about 33,000 less than for the corresponding period last year. Receipts since January 1 were about 450,000 tubs larger than for corresponding period last year. Exports for the first four months of this year were about 1,372,000 tubs less than for the same period last year. Improvement in quality is increasing the interest in storage. Exports sent at Chicago Wednesday at 35-42 c. local price, 15c.

If you bought bread as you buy butter, you could always be sure of what you are getting. Dairymen are legally restricted in making butter, particularly as to the amount of fats and moisture their product shall contain.

But bakers aren't bound by laws that specify amounts or qualities of ingredients. It is even common practice among bakers of "cheap" breads to substitute water for milk, or to eliminate sugar and shortening altogether. As a consequence, there's a difference in bread.

You can be sure of your bread if you buy BETSY ROSS and HOLSUM. Every loaf is baked up to a standard that requires it shall be the most nutritious bread possible to sell at the lowest possible price. These self-imposed laws are more rigid than any on the statute books, for there is never the desire to evade them.

Whenever you buy a loaf of BETSY ROSS or HOLSUM—and you should do so today—you will know for yourself how different bread can be when it is baked up to a standard.

Z. Bougan, one of the most prominent men in this part of the state, died at his home in Randolph Saturday and funeral services were held there Tuesday afternoon. He owned considerable property in the business section of Randolph besides several farms in this vicinity and around the town. He was considered one of the wealthy. He came here from Illinois in 1856 and was one of the founders of the town of Randolph. He was also one of the prominent boosters of the Burlington railroad from Sioux City to O'Neill, and it was greatly due to his efforts that the road was built through this part of the county. Since the founding of the town of Randolph he had been prominently identified with business there. Mr. Bougan was also one of the builders of the Peoria, Decatur and Evansville railroad. During his early life he was a member of the Grand Old Law of the town of Lincoln. He survived by his widow and four sons and there are also twenty-two grandchildren and twenty-two great-grandchildren.

Emerson-Enterprise: Don Forbes, a well known Dakota county farmer living one mile north of Dakota City, died last night of horse colic and probably estimated at $5,000 by Friday Monday morning, when his barn burned to ground. His entire contents being consumed, including one carload of baled hay, harness and other goods about the barn. The building was wrapped in flames when the fire was discovered by Mrs. Forbes at about 8 o'clock in the morning. Vallant efforts were made to rescue the stricken animals, but they were burned up alive. The horses were of the finest draft stock and were valued at $250 each. Two wagons, 200 bushels of seed oats and between fifty and 100 bushels of hard seed corn were also destroyed. The cause of the fire is not known, but it is believed to have started from defective wiring or that sparks from a Burlington or Northwestern engine—may have started the blaze.

Gaston Tower of Strength.
Perhaps there is no better qualified man in the state for Secretary of State than W. L. Gaston, who is seeking the nomination on the republican ticket. For four years he has been chief deputy in the office of Secretary Amersbury and much of the work and responsibility have fallen upon him. Mr. Gaston is one of the best known platform speakers in Nebraska, and he has been heard with pleasure by thousands of Nebraska citizens who will remember him when they go to the primary. He will be a tower of strength to the republican ticket, as he would be heard in every section of the state upholding the principles of the party and bringing to the attention of the whole ticket. We know Gaston, the people know him, and we all know that he is right. "Nuf said"—Nemaha County Republican.

The Early Days in Two Counties

From the Wayne Herald for June 12, 1902: The Dixon county teachers' institute is being held in Wakefield. The markets are: New corn, 49c; oats, 36c; hogs, $8.05; eggs, 13c; butter, 15c. The crops throughout the country are in the very best condition. In fact they never were better. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Colorado Springs, Colo., are here visiting the Robert Meller and H. F. As Will Caldwell was playing the Conable lots of the Methodist church, the horses passed too close to an old well so that one slipped over the edge, pulling the other horse so that both fell to the bottom. Both horses were killed and were removed from the well with the use of a derrick. One of them belonged to Caldwell, the other to James Sheath. She will receive as a compensation for her services about $1300 in gold per year.

NO WAR TAX Effective May 8, 1922, the Excise Tax on United States Tires for passenger cars, both castings and tubes is absorbed by the makers and is not added to the selling price. United States Rubber Company.

A Good Reputation plus a Better Price - $10.90 THE new low mark of $10.90 for the 30 x 3 1/2 size "USCO" created something of a sensation. Naturally, the first impulsive remark was on the "wonderful price." Even more to the point are the comments of today. People are getting more used to the $10.90 price - but the "USCO" value is still a cause for wonder. With thousands of $10.90 "USCO" running today, every locality has had a chance to check up on the surprising tire value. Let all these "USCO" Tires now serving their owners so well remind you of this - Whatever the price of "USCO" it has got to deliver big value because it has always done so. 30 x 3 1/2 USCO $10.90 No War Tax charged United States Tires are Good Tires United States Tires United States Rubber Company from a few days' stay in Omaha where she had gone to consult a doctor.

Business. Sioux City Contributor: One element after another contributes more strongly every day to a better business condition throughout the country. That is gratifying, for it can be seen that a concerted movement forward is under way and is gaining speed. The condition obtains not alone in various lines, but in sections as well. The improvement is general.

Chicago reports heavier sales of merchandise for the last two months than at any time in two years. Goods are moving—especially strong due to the increased activity in building. Automobile accessories are in good demand, forecasting how a large part of the American public will travel this year for pleasure. Reports that have come back from Europe regarding the treatment of tourists as to prices charged have had an effect on curtailing contemplated trips abroad. Americans now will see America instead. That also is believed to be in part responsible for the strong demand for motor cars. The farmers also are buying heavily such things as agricultural implements, fencing, netting, paints and apparel.

Building everywhere has created a demand for construction material. Steel, brass and copper goods are selling more rapidly as are steel and iron. The bulk of the sales is ascribed to the activity in the building industry. Radio enthusiasm all over the country has tried manufacturers of apparatus to the limit of their capacity, and much of the brass and copper demand goes to supply this new need. Lumber is selling in some sections as fast as the orders can be filled. The price will be affected by the lowered freight rates, one wholesale distributor saying the cost will be cut 32 to $3 a thousand. Windows and glass, painters' tools and paints also have been affected by the building activity.

Steel production is increasing. Youngstown, O., reports an output at this time reaching 80 per cent of normal. This is larger than production has been for eighteen months.

Wire, tin plate and strip steel output is at capacity in this district. Ninety-eight sheet mills of 100 available for work in the Youngstown district are operating.

Collections are better than for a long time, according to the latest credit reports. Active purchasing is reported from all sections, with stocks as slow in settling bills. Stocks are strong on the New York market, although Wall street seems to be waiting for further industrial developments before going far in its operations. Eastern financiers view the reduced railroad freight rates as direct aids to business, but they warn against possible strikes of the workers.

All these conditions naturally could be expected to absorb the unemployed, which has been done. It is now claimed that few men anywhere are out of work, although thousands are unable to find what they prefer. Still, there are jobs to be had, and the pay is sufficient to attract a lining for those who will accept it. Considerable interest is shown in the proposed American loan of $1,000,000,000 to Germany.

Last year the Northwestern Mutual Life (The Milwaukee Company) put back into Nebraska investments $1,723,100 more than it took out of the state for premiums.

That's keeping your money at home - and then some.

Mrs. G. W. Aibers, living northwest of Wayne, has sold and delivered 2500 hatching eggs and 2500 baby chicks this season. She has used eight incubators. She contemplates installing a giant-incubator for next year.

Strange Chicken Disease. Mrs. Adolph Dorman, living eight miles northwest of Wayne, reports a strange disease among her chickens this spring. The eyes of the young fowls become so swollen that they cannot see to eat and therefore die starvation. Mrs. Dorman succeeded in curing about half of her flock of 500 chicks, but lost the rest of them. The same disease has visited other flocks in the vicinity but usually in a milder form.

At the Franzen Home. Mr. and Mrs. Amos Franzen, living eight and one-half miles northwest of Wayne, celebrated the birthday of the latter last Thursday evening, June 1, by giving a dance in their barn. All the people of the township were invited and about 150 young and old were present and made merry until 1 a. m. The Franzen Bros' orchestra, composed of August, Henry, Herman and John Franzen, furnished the music for the dance. Mr. and Mrs. Franzen have entertained their friends a four or five times in their barn since it was erected about seven years ago. At these affairs, everybody is welcome and all enjoy the hospitality of their host and hostess in the wholesaler's way.

made the pioneer days—such happy memories in the minds of old settlers. Mr. and Mrs. Franzen have lived in their present home more than twenty years, and in the vicinity more than thirty years. They are the parents of eleven children and are happy in having all them here. The four boys mentioned as members of the orchestra, and also a daughter, Helen, live at home. Two sons, Otto and Will, are in the eighth and one-half miles west of Carroll and another son, Chas., is farming four and one-half miles northwest of Wayne. These daughters, Mrs. John Schroeder, Mrs. Fred Otto and Mrs. Henry Franzen, all live near their parents' home. Mr. and Mrs. Franzen evidently need not worry about why boys and girls "leave the farm." This year, with the aid of his four sons, Mr. Franzen has put in 100 acres of oats and 255 acres of wheat. He has bought property in Wayne and plans to move here as soon as he can make arrangements to do so, leaving the management of the three quarters which he is now farming to his four sons.

Personal Property Valuations for 1922. The following named individuals, firms, corporations, or co-partnerships have been assessed in the precincts as herein shown and the amounts set opposite their names are the valuations fixed by the assessor, and are as they appear from the assessment record and also are the totals upon which the tax for the year 1922 will be computed unless changed by either the county or state boards of equalization. Bear in mind that these are the actual valuations as all levies are now based on actual instead of assessed values.
