WILL LEASE LAND TO LOOK FOR OIL

At Meeting Last Thursday Night Farmers Decide to Contract Under New Conditions.

WILL INCLUDE 4,000 ACRES
Company Offering Most Favorable Contract Between Now and May 1 is to Win Lease.

Farmers just northwest of Wayne met at the Lessman school house last Thursday night to consider propositions to lease their lands for the purpose of prospecting for oil. It was decided to make such leases with due conditions. The proposed leases would include 4,000 acres.

Man Lessman was elected chairman and Charles Baker secretary. A large crowd of interested people attended. The question of leasing was generally discussed.

Of the several companies wanting to lease, it was decided to accept the one that will offer the most favorable proposition between now and May 1. No doubt was expressed at the meeting over the existence of oil. The only question is whether or not it is worth the expense of drilling. This must be ascertained definitely by the prospector within a specified time, according to the proposition.

The body of 4,000 acres to be covered by the proposed lease, includes the Ray Robinson farm where oil continues to ooze from a well. The tract extends three miles east and three miles north of the Robinson place.

C. D. MARTIN, PIONEER, AGED 88, PASSES AWAY

Body to be Brought to Wayne for Funeral Service and Burial.

C. D. Martin who came to Wayne county in 1883, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. E. Richmond, last night, Tuesday, Feb. 20, at 1 o'clock, aged 88 years, 2 months and 25 days. For ten days he had been suffering with pneumonia. The only son of Mr. Martin, left for Scotts Bluff last evening to bring the body back to Wayne for the funeral and burial. Services will be held in the Baptist church here.

Mr. Martin was born in Massachusetts, Nov. 26, 1834. His father was a Baptist minister, and the deceased in the last ten children. When he was 9 years old, the family located in Wisconsin. He was married in Burlington, Wis., in 1859. He and his family moved to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in 1870, and to Wayne county, Neb., in 1883. He engaged in farming until 1903 when he moved to Wayne.

Mr. Martin was a man of sterling character, and his friends were numbered by his acquaintances.

Jurgen Koch is On One Farm 31 Years

Jurgen Koch who has lived on his farm, three miles east of Concord, thirty-one years, was in Wayne on business Monday. Mr. Koch does not believe in frequent moves. He thinks if a man does not want to move, he better stick. That is what he has been doing, and as a consequence he has prospered and is surrounded by a lot of friends.

Mr. Koch came to America from Germany in 1881, and located in Saunders county, Neb. He landed in February, and those who remember the winter of 1881, know well the kind of weather that greeted him in this country. It was a cool reception. The winter weather with heavy snowfall started the previous October, and there was no crop until late in the spring. Accordingly, the corn was not picked. During the winter he and his wife were engaged in exploring and planting simultaneously.

Mr. Koch remembers that he had to plow through snowbanks that were a field on April 8 in order to get in to plant wheat. He recalls that piles of snow were in evidence until May 20. The winter of 1880-1881 has been one of the coldest ever since, as Mr. Koch stoutly affirms.

Mr. Koch got his start by working for others in Saunders county, and when in 1892 he had accumulated sufficient savings to engage in farming on his own hook, he came to this part of the state and bought a farm of his own east of Concord. Life was cheaper here then than in the older settlement of Saunders county, and Mr. Koch took advantage of the opportunity.

Financial Subjects Presented to Club

Following their non-day luncheon Monday, members of the Kiwanis club listened to two enlightening and interesting talks today on financial problems and prospects, given by two local bankers, D. E. Brainard and H. S. Ringland.

Brainard considered financial prospects, and pointed out the exceptional good fortune of Wayne in overcoming the assaults of the late financial disturbances. He emphasized the fact that more animals are in the feed lots of Wayne county than ever before. He said it was up to the enterprise of the advantage, favorable conditions to advance. Mr. Ringland discussed taxation. As a powerful argument for peace, he pointed out a deficit of seven billions of dollars as due to wars, past, present and future. He said ninety-three per cent of tax money is chargeable with the federal government with regret the $10,000,000,000 in securities that are exempt from taxation. He stressed the need of having the local government free of any tax entanglements and increase the already heavy tax burden.

Former Wayne Man is Favorably Mentioned

The Antelope Valley Ledger and Gazette, published at Lancaster, Calif., makes the following reference to Carl C. Thomsen, former well-known Wayne county farmer in its booster edition of Jan. 19:

Mr. Carl C. Thomsen, who came into the Valley in 1920 has one of the best eighty-acre ranches in the Valley today.

The Thomsen ranch is about five miles east of Lancaster on the Boulevard road between Lancaster and Roosevelt, having easy access to Lancaster for shipping and trading.

Carl C. Thomsen is one of the successful old time farmers of the soil who, previous to coming to the Antelope Valley, was a most successful farmer in Wayne county, Nebraska where he still owns a highly improved 300-acre place.

Though Mr. Thomsen has only been on his present eighty-acre ranch about two years he has made many improvements on the ranch. He has installed the best ranch equipment and machinery that are produced.

Through the main product of the ranch is alfalfa, of which there are seventy acres of fine stand, Mr. Thomsen raises other products and some livestock, both for his home consumption and for the market.

Ranching, in fact, as carried out by Carl C. Thomsen is the style of ranching that makes the rancher independent. He produces practically everything necessary for a good year for his family in his ranch with a surplus to be marketed so that a poor crop year or a poor price year does not cause him or his family to be short in necessities of life and his style of ranching brings the ranch out almost all years with at least a slight margin of profit. Such men as Carl C. Thomsen are making for the substantial growth and well being of the community. He can be called a successful rancher and he is deservedly so as a citizen to the community. He is one of those citizens who never fails to give of his time and finances in support of any undertaking that is for the good of the community or the benefit of its living conditions in general. Indeed, when the Lancaster community gained this good citizen, Wayne county, Nebraska, suffered a considerable loss as we are firmly of the belief that Mr. Thomsen is finding the Lancaster community such a satisfactory one in which to live and to carry on successful ranching that he will remain here as a permanent resident.

Mr. O. Cunningham, an Omaha attorney who grew up in Wayne, went here in 1896, was at this place Friday evening on his way to Center, Knox county, to try a lawsuit. His father, E. Cunningham, resides at Bloomfield.

Miss Helen Shonka of Richard, Neb., left for her home Saturday after a visit with Miss Mariel Thomas. Miss Shonka and Miss Thomas were roommates when they were freshmen at the state university in Lincoln.

Paul Jacobsen of Tekamah, drove to Wayne Sunday afternoon to visit friends. He has been a student here and was pastor of the Lutheran church in Carroll for a few months. He leaves this week for Chicago to continue his study for the ministry.

E. R. Smith arrived home on Wednesday last week from a trip to points in Iowa and Cleveland, Ohio. At the latter place he spent some time at the home of a son. He went to Norfolk Friday and then to Cole ridge to wait for a few days. He does not like the weather in Ohio. It is too damp and the sun too seldom shines.

Income Tax Returns.

Arrival of the period for filing income tax returns, January 1 to March 15, 1923, presents to Americans as citizens and residents the question, "Am I required to file a return?"

Requirement to file an income tax return rests upon every single person whose net income for 1922 was $1,000 or more, or whose gross income was $5,000 or more; and upon every married person whose net income was $2,000 or more or whose gross income was $5,000 or more, regardless of whether or not the income is taxable. Failure or "willful refusal" to file a return subjects the delinquent to a severe penalty. To all who filed a return for 1922 a blank form for the 1922 return has been mailed. However, failure to receive a form does not relieve the taxpayer of his obligation to file a return and pay the tax on time. Necessary forms can be procured at any bank, or by making request of Collector of Internal Revenue, Omaha, Neb.

Fattens Cattle on Clover.

Dakota City, Neb., Feb. 16.—S. J. Knox, Dakota county farmer, is fattening a drove of cattle on a fine quality of sweet clover hay made from the first year's crop and rich after small grain harvest, states C. R. Young, county agent.

"Mr. Knox reports having secured forty big loads of sweet clover acres," Mr. Young declares. "When this much good hay can be raised after a small grain crop during a dry year, there seems to be no reason why Dakota county farmers should ever face a hay shortage. The practice of raising sweet clover is a desirable one, as clover is related by cattle, and soil fertility is greatly increased."

Johnson on Primaries.

New York Times: To the people's legislative service, a pseudonym of La Folletteism or those forces of righteousness in the national congress of which Mr. La Follette is the most conspicuous chieftain, Senator Hiram Johnson sends a "ringing denunciation" of the system by which republican candidates for president are nominated. It is "little short of outrageous." Any system must be that doesn't secure the nomination of Mr. Johnson, who tried hard enough in 1920, and who points still at his unbeheld wounds. The direct primary and the presidential preference primary are precious in the eyes of statesmen who conveniently lump their adversaries or rivals as "reactionaries."

Peru Defeats Wayne In Game on Friday

The Peru basketball team won the game played in the local gymnasium Friday evening with the Wayne Normal team by a score of 33 to 10. The visitors outweighed the Wayne team and won the contest by outscoring rather than by superior playing.

At the end of the first half the score stood 14 to 8 in favor of Peru. Both teams did some first class playing in the first half. Wayne defended the goal well in the last of the game but could not gain

Spillman Criticism May be for Governor

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 16.—Charles A. Randall, state railway commissioner, State bank of Holdrege was originally written as a criticism upon Governor Bryan, head of the state banking bureau.

man for his refusal to sanction a draft from the bank guaranty fund for $187,000 in favor of the Citizens State bank of Holdrege was originally written as a criticism upon Governor Bryan, head of the state banking bureau.

"It was written three weeks ago," said Mr. Randall, "and it contained only the name of Governor Bryan. It was an afterthought of Dan's to change Bryan's name to Spillman, attorney general. Dan was here three weeks ago attending a meeting of the executive committee of bankers. On that occasion he showed the letter to more than one person about that time Dan's appointment by the governor as a member of the state normal board was announced. Dan was not to publish his letter criticizing Bryan because he had received an appointment from him. In answer he said he did not want the job on the normal board."

The state normal board members announced that Mr. Stephens had accepted the appointment which carries no salary. Attorney General Spillman said Wednesday he had refused the order of Judge Dilworth suspending the order to pay funds from the guaranty fund to the Citizens State bank of Holdrege. The judge has set March 8 as the date of hearing as to whether the order to draw on the guaranty fund shall be vacated. The suspension of the court's order to pay was issued at the request of the attorney general.

Attorney General Spillman has received a letter from a prominent banker commenting upon his course in that matter. The attorney general will represent the state at the hearing March 8 in district court. He said no action had been taken toward asking for a receiver for the Citizens State bank of Holdrege which closed its doors. He added that there is yet no official knowledge on his part that the bank is insolvent. This must be ascertained from an examination of the assets, which is now being made by a state examiner.

Attorney General Spillman said he believed Dan Stephens would calm down and not blame him if he would only read his statement on that subject.

House Defeats Bill To Amend Statutes

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 17.—By a vote of 70 to 24 yesterday afternoon the lower house of the legislature refused to restore to a place in the calendar a bill proposing to repeal two major sections of the Reed-Norval language law enacted two years ago. The sections sought to be repealed provide that the English language be taught in public, private, parochial and denominational schools.

The house also recommended investigation of the claim that there will be probable deficit of $4,000,000 in the state treasury by the end of the fiscal year.

Won't Sell School Land. The state senate indefinitely postponed a bill providing for sale of school lands of the state. The county farm agent bill was placed on the general file of the senate with amendments pending.

Senators Larkin and Chambers of Omaha pushed their sheriff feeding bill through committee of the whole in the senate yesterday by a vote of 21 to 11. This bill takes the power of handling money for prisoners' food from the hands of the Douglas county sheriff and places it in the hands of the board of county commissioners, and cuts mileage of sheriffs in Douglas, Gage and Lancaster counties, within their counties, from 15 to 10 cents. It saves mileage of sheriffs in the least thickly populated counties at 15 cents.

Bryan Bill Defeated. Democrats and republicans joined in a vote 75 to 18, against the Bryan bill calling for repeal of the indeterminate sentence law.

The house adopted the Mears-Dyck resolution which calls on Governor Bryan to present supporting bills for his executive council plan of government by Feb. 20 in order to give the judiciary and appropriations committees time to compare the bills and get down to voting.

Farmer Killed When A Shotgun Explodes

Neligh, Neb., Feb. 16.—Cash Ellington, about 43 years of age, a prominent farmer in the near vicinity of Brunswick and one of the old time settlers of Antelope county, was instantly killed late yesterday afternoon by the accidental discharge of a shotgun that he had with him in a lumber wagon.

Mr. Ellington was on his way to get a cow that he had purchased at a sale a couple of days ago at the Clay Johnson farm and when within a short distance of the place it is supposed that the rough roads caused the discharge of the gun that was resting at his right side. The shot entered just below the right ear and came out at the top of his head.

County Attorney R. M. Kryger was immediately called to the farm home of Mr. Johnson. Upon investigation the official stated that it was a clear case of accident and that no inquest was necessary. Mr. Kryger stated that when the gun was discharged—that Mr. Ellington fell from the open seat of the wagon and horses apparently did not become very much alarmed and were caught a short distance from where the accident happened.

The sudden death of this young man was a shock to the people of his community. He was at one time a student at Gates college, when that institution was located in the city. Mr. Ellington is survived by a widow and several children.

Hobbeke's Hereford Sell Well. Henry Hobbeke of Hoarsing, Neb., topped the Omaha market on February 14, with a full load of choice quality Hereford yearling heifers that sold for $7.50 a hundredweight, or 40 cents a hundredweight above anything else in that class. The twenty-eight head in the consignment averaged 740 pounds. The bulk of the lot was made up of heifers on the market in the past ten days have brought $6.50 to $7.50 a hundredweight; but good Hereford like Mr. Hobbeke's command an extra premium.

April and May are usually the months in which prime heifers and mixed yearlings are most in preference in the open markets. It is during that season that the light cuts of beef are demanded by the public.

A man or woman who goes forth to tell over and over the same story should be careful to preserve the identity of the original points, so that comparison of notes will make suggestion of relationship possible.

Reading from printed matter and typewritten manuscripts has become so much the habit that people don't have enough practice on old-fashioned penmanship to keep the imagination strong and lively. School children should be given occasional exercise on Horace Greely manuscript as a mental stimulant.

A man who lives in another town, was heard to remark this week that "Wayne is in the center of the garden spot of the state, and is the best town of its size in the state." The Wayne auditor straightened up his shoulders, looked squarely into the eyes of the speaker and admitted the entire charge without qualification. The Wayne man even produced a few bills of particulars to substantiate and justify the assertion.

A rural telephone organization in Wayne county has lately adopted a set of by-laws regulating use of its line. A fine is to be imposed on any person who uses the service over five minutes at one session. No one is allowed to sneeze into his telephone regardless of the provocation. Business conversation is to be given precedence over pink tea talk and other touches of sociability that much is prohibited, but punishment for doing so is left to the discretion of those in authority.

The Zulu chief who was in Chicago recently, and who found much to commend in that city in connection with the condition in his own land, was led to exclaim that his people were almost as highly civilized as inhabitants of Nebraska. It should be understood that the chief was deploring conditions in Chicago and making comparisons with those in Zululand when, reaching for an example of highest civilization, he naturally grabbed Nebraska. Incognito, he had probably looked in on the evolutions of Nebraska's legislature, and had witnessed other evidences of surpassing excellence. The chief swelled with pride when he said Zululans go to church on Sunday, eat canned foods, use telephones and radio sets and nineteen different kinds of salads eaten in Nebraska, he will likely make comparison with an ideal American state still stronger.

A Happy Charivari.
Those who Brenna had been sleeping with one eye open since St. Valentine's day, were rewarded by a given signal on Monday afternoon and gathered to serenade Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baird at the Henry Baird home Monday evening.

As the tender chiming of the old oboe bell failed to bring a response each one armed himself with the nearest musical instrument to be had and the harmonious tones produced by the combination of cowbells, pulis and peas and what-not brought the desired result. The bridegroom appeared and invited the company in. Then followed an evening of gaiety, in which the story of the bride and bridegroom was told with pen and paper and originally.

Benjamin Krebs presented the bridegroom with a hat box which was very much alive and proved to contain a long-prisoned duck. While the bridegroom was busy with string and duck, Irving Moses in behalf of the B. C. club and their husbands, presented the bride with a gun.

Various amusing tricks and songs' rest completed the evening's fun. A two-course luncheon was served.

The Dairy in the Yellow Barrel Column

This column will occupy a prominent place in the Herald and will contain interesting bits of news from your neighbors who are using Semi-Solid Buttermilk together with condensed milk from the buttermilk industry.

A car load of hogs raised and shipped by Wallace Bros., Jan. 15, far exceeded all other car loads averaged 332 pounds in Sioux City. Five barrels of Semi-Solid were fed to about 200 spring pigs and resulted to fast gains and short feeding period. They will continue the use of Semi-Solid this year, in fact they have recently taken two barrels from the car load received.

The general use of Semi-Solid throughout the states has depleted the supply somewhat. We are on the preferred list and we have been assured a car load every two or three weeks. The big thing about Semi-Solid at this time of the year is the importance of feeding to brood sows for the purpose of creating thrift in the young and vitality in the mother. Your hog men check on this and note the decided decrease in farrowing troubles and the general improved condition of the mothers and their litters.

1922 developed wonderful things in Buttermilk for the hog and chicken industry. Farmers and breeders have taken the time to investigate and know to a certainty that the use of Semi-Solid would increase their profits.

Improve feeding kills thousands of little chicks every year. Feeding food containing a large percentage of corn is responsible for 75 per cent of the bawling trouble so common among young chicks. Here is a rule: practiced by scores of successful raisers of the best broods. Feed chicks nothing but fine grit and water until the beginning of the third day; then take a small quantity of Semi-Solid and make a mash of wheat bran and rolled oats. Feed sparingly the first two days and continue the mash for ten days, after that feed Semi-Solid, rolled oats and gradually increase the proportion of ground corn. If you have the sour milk do not feed it sweet, the sour clabber form is much easier digested. Semi-Solid is intensely sour and is 100 per cent digestible.

Freezing does not impair the feeding qualities of Semi-Solid. If precautions are taken it can be protected from freezing in the near future we will announce a cash prize to be given at the fair this fall for two chickens from the "same brood" which are the most different in weight; one being grain fed and the other with the assistance of Semi-Solid Buttermilk.

Make the House a Home

Home means more than a house, a series of rooms and a collection of furniture. A house can be rented or bought, a home has to be made. A home has to be cheerful—restful and clean. And no other single thing in the house is as important in creating these conditions as the walls. They are the back-ground of the whole house; they frame in the entire picture of family life.

With this in mind I invite your attention to the new spring stock of Wall Decorations just received. The assortment is complete in every detail and contains the most distinctive designs and colorings popular with home loving women. Whether you want a cheap or a more expensive paper, I have both. Prices are very low and you will be surprised at the quality that is behind those moderate prices.

All papers are in stock ready for delivery. No waiting here.

You'll be pleased to show you the actual papers in the roll just as it will go on the wall, not prepared samples only.

Class of oldest inhabitants, stand up:
Did you ever see any of the article sometimes denominated as the beautiful snow?
If so, was it beautiful?
If you think it was, you are beautiful of your eyes.
Did you ever before know the ground to freeze as hard as a brass monkey to the depth of five feet in Nebraska?
You bet you didn't.
Were you ever out of fuel for a week when the thermometer was way below zero, and did you have to borrow until your neighbor's was all gone, and then steal or freeze?
In all your experience did you ever see a time before when you couldn't get hold of a newspaper less than three weeks old, and then have it contain nothing but wonderful stories about snow storms here, and new potatoes and strawberries down south?
Did you ever get out of grub when you couldn't get to town on account of snow and have to kill the old dominique rooster and pig you wanted to save till next fall?
How do you like it anyway?
Don't you wish we could have such a beautiful winter season every year?

Will Vote in Spring On New High School

With but two dissenting votes these present at the community meeting Friday evening in the auditorium, favored the motion, presented by Mr. Kay, that the board of education be instructed to call an election at the time of the city election in April for the purpose of voting bonds for building a new school house in Wakefield. This does not mean that Wakefield is assured a new building but does mean that the proposal will be placed before the voters in the spring.

The meeting Friday was called to order by R. B. Ware, in the absence of L. C. Nuernberger, president of the board of education. Mr. Ware stated briefly that the purpose of the meeting was to get an expression from the citizens on the question of calling an election this spring relative to voting bonds for the erection of a new school building.

Henry Kohlmeier was nominated and elected as permanent chairman of the mass meeting and Supt. E. W. Smith was chosen secretary. After talking the chair, Mr. Kohlmeier stated the purpose and opened a general discussion.

In stating the reasons for the need of a new school building in Wakefield, Supt. Smith stressed the lack of assembly and recitation room. A now arranged the high school students cannot all be seated in the same room because of having to room large enough. Recitation rooms are small and inadequate. The course of study cannot be extended to meet the needs of the times because of this lack of room. The school, for this reason, cannot offer home economics, commercial and manual training and such courses and is hampered in teaching the subjects required by the state.

If the Wakefield school is to take care of the non-resident students it must have more room within the next two or three years. It would not be wise, stated Mr. Smith, to turn away these students. The lack of sanitary facilities is another reason given by the speaker for the needed new building. The air space for each pupil in school is 150 cubic feet and sanitary conditions require that it be 280 cubic feet. There is no means of ventilating the building aside from opening the windows. Wakefield, which is in the center of the county, has the oldest and least sanitary school building. Wakefield has no gymnasium for physical activities.

Mr. Ware, C. S. Beebe and M. F. Ekeroth, members of the board of education, spoke briefly. Mr. Beebe told of the present time being very opportune for marketing bonds in case the community decided to vote them. Mr. Ekeroth stated that the school board contemplates asking for $100,000, one tenth of which will, unless a new building be planned, be used to remodel and repair the heating and ventilating system of the old school for the purpose of making the building safe from fire. It was also stated that only 65 cents of the Wakefield tax dollar goes toward school purposes and this is smaller than in most towns. With the motion that the voting bonds be placed before the voters in the spring election, the mass meeting adjourned.

Pioneer Thinks the Times Prosperous

People in this vicinity would not be complaining of hard times now if they had endured the hardships of the last quarter of the nineteenth century, according to Detlef Kay, one of Wakefield's pioneer citizens. Detlef got so used to getting $2 a bushel for corn a couple of years ago, spending the money for expensive luxuries or traveling about the country, that present prices seem to some to be unreasonably low. But states Mr. Kay, if these people had lived here years ago they would be well satisfied now. Mr. Kay came here when there was no railroad through Wakefield. He lived about a mile from La Porte which was then the county seat of Wayne county. Corn had to be used for fuel because it did not pay to market it.

Butter sold for 6 cents a pound and eggs for 5 cents a dozen. Farmers went long distances to get these meager sums in return for their products. They walked miles to get provisions and had to haul wood from the thickets in the southern part of the county.

But, says Mr. Kay, people were happier then than now. "There were no class distinctions. Everyone was a friend to every other man. No one had any money and therefore there was no jealousy or division of people into wealthy and poor. Land sold for $3 and acre.

Henry Bartels who lives in Carroll now, came to this section and paid the enormous sum of $60 an acre for some land. People were astounded. But today the same land sells for $500 an acre.

Mr. Kay, one day in the early nineties, saw as many as twenty wagons of immigrants moving to this prairie. The land was unbroken but the settlers poured in from the east and began the work which has meant so much to this part of the state.

One of our leading bankers stated this week that our national budget for 1923 included over $2,300,000,000 for war, present and future. He also said that others placed the budget at about $7,000,000,000, and that 93 per cent of that amount was for war purposes. The twenty-seven denominations, reporting their budgets for last year, show that America's churches spent about $400,000,000 for work at home and abroad. Think about this for a while. Less than $4.00 per capita for building up life through the churches and from $20 to $65 per capita for destroying life and property.

Child Injured at Ponca.
Ponca, Neb., Feb. 19.—The 2-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Miller was badly burned about the head and face and narrowly escaped death when the tent in which the family made their home near here was destroyed by fire Friday morning. Mr. Warren is foreman for the Standard Bridge company of Omaha, which is doing construction work this winter.

The mother was visiting a neighbor when the fire started and the two children, the other 4 years old, were alone in the tent. The oldest child was able to make his way out of the tent and the youngest probably saved his life by crawling under the bed. When help arrived the bed clothes were on fire and the child was surrounded by flames. All of the furniture and a valuable diamond ring were also lost in the fire.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Four Reasons Why You Should Buy Your Ford Car This Month

- I. The unprecedented demand for Ford Cars throughout the winter months has taken the entire output of the Ford plants working at capacity, indicating that the demand this Spring will be far in excess of the number of Ford cars that can possibly be built.
- II. January was the tenth consecutive month in which retail deliveries exceeded 100,000 Ford cars and trucks. Requirements for February, the month when preparations are already under way for Spring business, called for 148,407 cars and trucks—more than 24,000 in excess of the number we can possibly produce.
- III. Ford dealers in many parts of the country are already finding it necessary to specify future delivery dates on Ford products because there are no reserve stocks to draw from.
- IV. Your order placed now will protect you against delay or disappointment later on—it is the only way you can be assured of reasonably prompt delivery.

We consider it important to give you these facts, so that if you are planning to purchase a Ford car, truck or Fordson tractor for use this Spring or Summer you can list your order at once and take advantage of our dealer's first opportunity to make delivery.
