Edward Reynolds Has Best Essay on Flag

The American Legion Auxiliary of Wayne, recently held a contest to determine the best short essay on "The Flag" that might be written by students of the local schools.

"Our national emblem, the American flag, probably better known as 'Old Glory,' has faced many dangers and hardships.

The regular British flag was used first by the early colonists.

"The American flag has witnessed many dark days, but has always proved itself equal to the occasion.

"She also proved her worth in the year of 1812, displaying her ability on the sea by striking many a British vessel.

"Then came the attempted separation in the Civil war when a powerful group of men, led by John Bull, Old Glory proved her mastery.

GREATER WAYNE CLUB FAVORS NEW HIGHWAY

An Omaha-Yankton Road, Passing Through Here is Proposed.

The Greater Wayne club met Monday evening in the city library and expressed favor for the bill proposed in the state legislature for the appropriation of $300,000 for the purpose of building a highway from Omaha to Yankton, a distance of about 165 miles. As planned the road will pass through Wayne. The club men sent telegrams to the senators and representatives from this part of the state expressing a desire that the bill pass. Such a highway from Omaha to Yankton would lessen the distance between these points and would facilitate travel to the towns through which it passes. Names for the trail have been proposed but no action taken on them. The Greater Wayne club is using its influence in other towns through which the road would pass, to get these places to work for the highway.

In case the bill becomes a law, maps will be placed at the junction of this highway with others to show the course of the Yankton-Omaha road and the new road to be taken through which the road would pass. These maps would be at Fremont, Winer and Yankton. At Fremont the proposed trail is to be marked with the initials of the Greater Wayne club. The marking of the highway has been left to the publicity committee of the Wayne club consisting of J. J. Ahern, D. E. Braunard, E. O. Gardner, P. A. Treibald, E. J. Hunter and W. H. Morris. The committee will report at the next meeting of the club, which will be in April.

The Governor Sends Message to Senate

Lincoln, Neb., March 14.—Governor Bryan sent a message to the senate yesterday afternoon.

Message to Senate

The bill under the provisions of the new constitution, which would have the effect of straightening out the tangle in the assessments of state banks. It is understood that a hearing will be requested in the supreme court in the event where the high bench recently ruled that state banks could not be assessed on a different basis than national banks.

Tax for Auto Busses

The senate advanced Senate File 159, a bill providing for the use of taxicabs professionally for motor transportation of freight and passenger on public highways. Numerous amendments were attached to the bill, which would include farmers, school busses and transportation with an area of five miles of an incorporation from the provisions of the bill.

Under the bill the tax ranges from $75 for light trucks to $2,500 for the heaviest passenger busses, and the provisions of the bill to the state and half to the county.

Blocks Revival of Bill.

Senator Saunders blocked an effort to revive the bill on the floor of the senate. He means that when he raised the point of order that it was not seizable after having been killed in the senate last week.

Gallagher Resolution Killed.

The Gallagher resolution, providing for the resignation of Bétrám H. Godhuc, architect, and George E. Johnson, secretary of the state capitol building, was held in the state capitol building on Thursday, March 14, on motion of Representative John R. Hughes of Sarpy.

LEROY D. OWEN SPEAKS ABOUT EUROPEAN TRIP

Addresses Large Audience Tuesday in the Community House.

LeRoy D. Owen who just recently returned from a tour of Europe, addressed a good-sized audience of citizens of Wayne and vicinity, Tuesday evening at the Community house under the auspices of the Wayne Women's club. Miss Ferné Oman, accompanied by Miss Frances Oman at the piano, accompanied the group with two solos and the orchestra from the Wayne State Teachers College, gave several pleasing numbers. Following these, Mr. Owen produced the speaker. It was the evening.

Mr. Owen began with a description of a storm at sea with his return and told how delighted he was at seeing his home country once more. The boat on which LeRoy Owen sailed, landed in Southampton, England, early in September. It was a pleasure to find such cultured and friendly people as in the British Isles. Hotels in London he found to be as good as any in America. The people were warm and the people are burned. In Wales the speaker found the home of some of his relatives. A little village surrounded with beautiful fields. Many sheep are to be seen in the pastures. Almost every little hamlet has its own "Old Glory" and in the British Isles have only words of praise for the King of England and the Empire of Wales.

It was the first European airplane country visited. The king of this country is also very popular with his people, especially since the war. He did such a good job. Beautiful buildings in Brussels which were damaged during the war, have been somewhat restored. One in Europe was used as a kitchen by invading armies and the people are restoring these as rapidly as they gain the financial means to do so.

In Germany Mr. Owen said a friendly class of people. The laboring class he stated receive a salary of about a week and can provide for their families on it. The question of riding on the street cars or walking is debated because some consider the cost of repairing the cars and the cost of the street riding. Mr. Owen told of meeting in a dining car a man who ordered a roll and coffee for a meal. The man left in sole control of the Rio Grande.

"Then came the attempted separation in the Civil war, when a powerful soldier fought with the old glory. But later the American flag and the two united to form a greater and more powerful nation. The Cubans were converted to flag subjects of the American flag in the Spanish-American war, and have been faithful to Old Glory ever since.

They will begin housekeeping on a farm north of Carroll.

Geo. Box Proposes To Spend $25,000

Buys Claude Wright Residence Property and Plans to Build a Modern Rooming House.

Will Contain Thirty Rooms. Construction Will Start Next Month and be Completed as Soon as Possible.

The Herald would like to report a new building enterprise each week and it is pleased to be able to announce one of much importance today. Geo. Box who was formerly proprietor of the Board Hotel, and of recent years in charge of the Union Hotel, has bought the Claude Wright residence property, one block west of the First National Bank, and next month begin the erection of a rooming house, 22 by 80 feet, containing thirty rooms and with the site costing $25,000. The present house on the lot will be moved to the rear.

Mr. Box proposes to have the new building electric and modern in all respects. Each room will have a bath, and will be finished in attractive style. This improvement is prompted at this time by the necessity of vacating the Union Hotel to give way to a proposed new structure on that site.

Wayne High School News Notes of Week

The Wayne high school debating team will meet the Ponca high school team at Ponca, Neb., on Wednesday, March 22, in Wayne. The much-needed building boom in the business district is thus developing. The Box enterprise will develop. The Box enterprise will develop. The Box enterprise will develop.

all movements are under way having to do with railroad financing. Offerings soon are to be made to the public whereby the Pennsylvania system hopes to float values worth $30,000,000. Others are to follow. Railroad securities are expected to be active for the reason that the recent confidence by the lines have restored confidence in their ability to make a sure recovery if let alone.

Merchandising is active, according to reports from various centers. An increased volume of goods to take care of the spring trade is seen, and prices are not being skyrocketed, which is taken as an earnest of fair treatment from the trade. Building goes on rapidly. Some skilled labor is in short supply, consequently very high priced. In some places plasterers are getting as much as $20 a day. There is no unemployment except that which is voluntary. Jobs at good wages for the workers, and available goods commanding fair prices and a steady demand for their employees—

Business.

Sioux City Journal: The season has come for the long expected marked advance of prosperity. The ideas of March this year have no terrors for those interested in the nation's inventory of the opportunities for more complete reconstruction. Spring is at hand, and that is a time when cash alone is sufficient to meet ordinary circumstances, to attract expansion. But this is to be a spring of unusual conditions with respect to trade. The psychological effect on the business mind of a winter of activity far outranking any previously known cannot help but prove beneficial. Following a December which was a record for operations in all lines, January and February have reflected even more brightly the general improvement. Each month has established a record for the periods. The spring is confidently expected to give strength to the winter momentum of the reconstruction program.

Apart from the seasonal influences, something else has come to pass that will be helpful. It is the impression far and wide that business is at last face to face with a better opportunity because congress is not in session. Nine months of noninterference are promised, and it means much. The railroads, perhaps, are more to be congratulated than any other industry. The "legislative moratorium" which Mr. Davis, director general of the lines, suggested a short time ago, has come—not because certain legislators who wished further to pestier and annoy the railroads have had a change of mind or heart, but as a result of the fact that they were forced into inactivity by the death of the Sixty-seventh congress.

The showing made by the class 1 railroads for January and February was distinctly encouraging, some of the lines showing a better record amount set by the interstate commerce commission and others closely approaching it. Now, when they are to be given complete freedom from persecution, they will have the chance to reconstruct themselves to fine advantage. This breaching—space, which at last has been given to the roads—reflects at its very beginning a small part of what may be expected. At this time in Wall street seventhese constitute the best proof of the right kind of prosperity.

Copper Clad

Is Lined With Pure Copper Where Other Ranges Rust Out

Asbestos sweats when heated and absorbs moisture from the air as it cools. When a range is freed up this moisture leaves the asbestos and is driven to the cold side. There on the inner side of the cold iron range body this moisture (sweat) condenses, causing rust.

That is why your old range is rusty out from the inside.

Pure sheet copper (rust proof) is placed between the sweaty asbestos and the range body in Copper-Clad. That's why Copper-Clad won't rust out.

Come in and let us show you how asbestos sweats, and how the pure sheet copper in Copper-Clad will add years of life to your range.

Annual Banquet of Wayne Country Club

The annual banquet—and speech, test of the Wayne Country club took place in the Country club dining room last evening when the Wayne Woman's club served an excellent repast. The entables were savory, and the service was prompt and pleasing. Prof. W. C. Hunter's orchestra of the State Teacher's College furnished music.

The feeding program over, C. M. Craven, president of the Country club, took charge of the program.

A report by W. K. Smith, treasurer, came first. He announced the usual deficit as the usual manner of wiping it out. He seemed to feel encouraged over the prospect.

J. J. Ahern was the next speaker. He reviewed briefly the handiwork and accomplishments of the club. He showed by comparison that members of the Wayne club derive a good deal for the money expended. He stressed the fact that the same grounds and upkeep elsewhere would cost very much more per member than the local club. He pointed out the saving of money by active members who had donned overalls, put their shoulders to the wheel and worked non-union hours to minimize running expenses. He made members feel they ought to be thankful they live in Wayne and belong to a high-class institution, whose demands are not extravagant and prohibitive.

Dean H. H. Hahn said the Country club provided the only organized play for the town, and he urged the importance of play as an occasional relief from productive activities. He suggested that the crowd in attendance at the annual social function was ample evidence of approval and appreciation. He mentioned that some people who do not play golf, keep up their membership in the worthy conviction that it is a helpful and desirable community enterprise.

D. E. Brainerd closed the speech making. He stressed the value of the club and its golf course to the young people who need, as he believes, the wholesome outdoor exercise furnished. He expressed the hope that young people might have strong muscles and rich, red blood to develop health and sound, alert minds. He pointed to the local situation as a valuable asset and one that is very essential to the normal and properly proportioned growth of young people.

In closing, Chairman Craven, with the hearty endorsement of the crowd, thanked the Wayne Woman's club for the fine menu and the young ladies of the Business and Professional Woman's club for their assistance in serving.

Friendships Are a Valuable Possession

Each Sunday a tottering, elderly gentleman appeared in church. With out a word to anyone he came in quietly just before the opening of services and left just as quietly and quickly afterwards. Scarcely did he look up during the hour but his face bore a studied appearance. The man's clothes were not of the best and his hair was not as trim as it might have been, but his attitude and apparent deep thought aroused the attention of many.

After a few Sundays the visitor no longer came to his accustomed place in the church. Week after week those who had become interested in the stranger, watched for him. He had gone, seemingly not to return. Perhaps he had wandered to another city. Perhaps he had found a coveted friendship.

Many persons today live in a solitude similar but perhaps not so apparent as did this man. Friendships are the most precious of possessions and those who are not aggressive in making them live with a yearning for friends. Today many friendships are limited to a small circle of intimate acquaintances and no great effort is made to know others. Those who are contented do, though not intentionally, neglect newcomers to whom they might be made known. It does no harm to have a large circle of friends; it costs nothing and it is bound to be of worthwhile service to others.

The stomach was made to stum a good deal, but it has to be treated with some consideration if it is expected not to balk and upset one's happiness.

As a recommendation to prospective buyers a dealer in pure live stock often makes the statement that his animals have not been "panpered." As we are particular in not panpering our stock, it is in the interest of health and sturdy growth as we are in not panpering our animals?

Many people put off doing things until the time limit approaches, and then they become powerfully busy. Thus, many postponed making out reports until the last week, and bankers have been working early and late to assist customers in getting under the wire before the last day which is today.

The report published in a Sioux City newspaper that a new Federal building for the postoffice would be built at here is very interesting to Wayne, but it is likely the product of a willing imagination rather than being based on fact. But Wayne county has such a big business. The town is of sufficient size and of ample postal business to warrant the investment. The only thing that we can get the way to get long enough to explain the condition and press the claim. This may be done by concerted and determined effort.

The Herald's attention has been called to lack of attendance in non-attendance at school here this week. Few men and no women were present. It is probably a fact that lack of conspicuous announcement of such report "many" who do not know. It is pointed out that the privilege of a voice in naming people to look after the affairs of the school should not be regarded lightly or indifferently. It is people are to hold their representatives responsible for public service they should be sufficiently interested to help nominate and elect them.

We don't want to issue this newspaper without having some respect to King Tut. He has more influence dead than he had alive. After lying in his tomb 3,000 years, he comes forth to rule the world of fashion. His name appears on innumerable articles of wearing apparel and pieces of finery, and no doubt it will soon appear on breakfast foods and toilet soaps though probably he never had any use for any such things. His style of dress seems to dominate. It is not certain what and how he ate and drank. If some such personal habits were known we might adopt them, and in so doing we might be permitted to get back closer to nature and give our employment to national congress and less to interlocking table implements. Resurrection of King Tut, a long time dead, arouses speculation as to the state of development of people who might look into the tombs of present-day leaders in 4923. Besides suggestions of personal recovery, the old king's tomb contained suggestions of food and ways of travel. Will people 3,000

Representative Pollard of Franklin county sharply presents the imputation by Governor Bryan that he and other members of the legislature were allied with special interests, inimical to the welfare of the public. The representative charges the governor with playing politics and seeking to discredit conscientious legislative effort. Representative Pollard is one of the early settlers of Franklin county. He says he was elected by a big majority of his neighbors to go to Lincoln to carry out the governor's charge to give effect legislation that would reduce taxes. He expressed his desire to cooperate in an endeavor that will give relief, but he is opposed to increasing the governor's power or to holding up a Bryan party machine. IN PASSING JUDGMENT.

"Judge not that ye be not judged," is quoted often enough to make an impression on people who are in the habit of condemning others on suspicion and without due evidence. One who does not agree with another in religion is regarded as heathen and a fit candidate for perdition.

The Pharisee felt perfectly pious all the time. He furnished a complete bill of particulars in explaining what he had done. He had observed all the rules of the church and had given the required number of tithes. He gathered about him a sanctimonious air, and admitted that he was better than other people, and that he was ready at any time to be caught up on a cloud wing. But if he had been kicked by an iron bolt he could not have been jolted so. It seems he was infinitely selfish, and he was reminded of the fact in a way that ran his temperature up to 100 in the shade. He was unable to recall ever having done anything for any one who was mechanically observed certain requirements, but he had coldly neglected to cultivate sympathy or helpfulness. He had heaped everything he could pry loose and carry off. The only love in his dwarfed soul was for self. He made a pretense of religion, though he had no more real Christianity than a woman who is told where to head in, but what happens after he came to, we don't know. If he did not reform it was because he was too elaborately pickled in materialism and worldly grabbing to experience a change of heart.

On the other hand, the humble Publican was not so sure of himself. He had no worldly riches, and did not figure that he had a very large stock of spiritual riches—did big enough to brag about. He acknowledged that he was a sinner and that he deserved to be soaked and parboiled in liquid fire. He was deeply moved and penitent, but he offered no excuses, no claims for things done, no plea for extension of clemency. He was meek and sorrowful, and he expected to be cast into outer darkness and kept there until sin had been worked out of his system. The publican knows what happened. He was not ashamed to admit his condition, lack of pretense and freedom from hot air. He was given hope and courage.

More Than Likely. Portland, Oregonian: Some 14,000 bills and resolutions were still pending when congress adjourned. Perhaps if we could judge our lawmakers by the things they fail to do, the verdict would be less harsh.

Life Lines

BY HMC

There are many things that the world knows might well. What I mean is, things you wouldn't think of. And they come in slow motions, just for instance, let us tell of a pipe of combinations we can get.

Han and eggs is surely listed in the places where you eat and you'll also find the famous pork and beans. Many years they have existed and stood for as quite a treat and have caused you to bring money from your jeans.

Then there's liver with its bacon that we all have heard about. And the well-known dish of beef and cabbage, too. Where's the man who has not taken calves and sausage? There's no doubt that more bread and milk have oft' appeared to you.

Steak and onions is a winner that is always bound to please and another dish that's sure to hit your light in the spots ribs and for suerstrout or the bite of pie to these that you eat before you go to bed at night.

New these may be many dishes that we've left out of this list, which are prominent at morning, noon or night. But, with these, our little wish is that the aim in mind's not missed and these mentioned give you all an appetite.

Car Load Rolled Oats in About Ten Days

Now over half sold. Will arrive in about ten days. Rolled Oats and Semi-Solid Buttermilk will raise thousands of husky pigs and chicks in Wayne county this season. Some housewives do not realize they are destroying their profits, creating a death rate by improper feeding of chicks. Avoid food for little chicks containing more than 12 to 14 per cent protein. The use of corn products causes bowel trouble or white diarrhea. Also avoid feeding chicks food containing to exceed a per cent fibre.

Semi-Solid Buttermilk

and rolled oats (oatmeal) is just right to prevent bowel trouble, white diarrhea and leg weakness. Buttermilk is rich in vitamins necessary to growing birds—it adds zest to the appetite, aids digestion and assists nature to build a husky body.

Carload Salt

will be on this market this week. Co-operative salt buying make it possible to always have fresh stock on hand. The 200 pound sack of stock salt at $2.00 is the big hit. Can haul in your automobile—roads permitting.

Sugar

The market is strong and looks like $11.50 sugar by May 15. We are accepting a few orders for April at $10.50. You must be booked to be assured of protected price.

Onion Sets

We have our first shipment, also a full line of garden seeds.

Basket Store Blend Coffee

has advanced to 40c per pound. The continued advance of coffee has made it impossible to maintain this well established blend at a lesser price. In the event of market declines you may be assured you will receive the benefit.

Better Milk

Small or Large Cans One year ago this milk was unknown in this community—now it's the best seller. That's what quality does and it means much to the consumer. Full weight and best by test. Call for Fairmont's Better Milk now selling, two tall cans for 25c.

New Faces in This Community

The usual March 1 change has taken place. We are rubbing elbows with a number of new people—people who have moved here to make an honest livelihood. This store extends an invitation to come, make yourself known and get acquainted. We also extend an invitation to join our scores of satisfied patrons and you may at all times be assured we will exert our best efforts to please in service, quality and price. At this juncture it's well to say, this store turns its stock every thirty days. What does this mean to the patrons? It means good, fresh, clean merchandise and it's a well known rule that the price must be right to effect a turnover of the entire stock twelve times a year.

Easter Candy Novelties

We have a very good assortment and it's a timely suggestion to make your selection at an early date before stock is depleted.

Advo Jell

Does everything Jello will do and you save the difference. Ask for Advo Jell—a complete stock in all flavors.

Gold Dust Flour

If there is a user of Gold Dust Flour who is not entirely satisfied we will thank you to advise us. The guarantee on Gold Dust is one with no ifs or ands, and this store stands back of every sale with your entire purchase—price ready—if for any reason you are not pleased in every respect. While trust flours are struggling to maintain the usual demand, sales on Gold Dust continue to increase. Our recent shipment of 300 sacks will be sold in less than three weeks. Get right with the housewife and buy her Gold Dust—and save the difference.

The Early Days in Two Counties

From Wayne Herald for March 13, 1902:
 Mrs. M. P. P. Ahern returned from Chicago.
 Mrs. S. R. Theobald returned from a visit in Lincoln.
 R. H. Gibson of northeast of Wayne, died March 13.
 The Renneboe Brothers' farm of 520 acres was sold for $23,400.
 A son was born March 13, 1903, to Mr. and Mrs. Van Bradford.
 Dr. Frederick Grunwald of Louisville, Ky., has located in Holland.
 Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weber are visiting friends in South Sioux City.
 Lars P. Larsen and Miss Helena Meyer were married March 17, 1902.
 Their daughter was born March 17, 1903, to Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Taylor.
 Mrs. August Piepenstock and children left for California to make their home.

Mel Norton is building a residence on his lot west of the T. W. Moran place.
 Prof. J. M. Pile went to Stanton to deliver a lecture before the teachers' meeting.
 Mrs. Charles Watson returned to Pierce after a visit with the William Watson family.
 John Shannon of Heskins, sold one business and several residence lots to Andrew Stamm.
 William Pfeil died at his home in Heskins from an attack of pneumonia, March 11, 1903.
 Mr. and Mrs. H. Taylor of Plainville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Alter a few days.

I. W. Alter and daughter Eva went to Grand Island, the former to attend an A. O. U. W. meeting.
 Gene Leahy returned from Lawton, Okla., where he spent several months of his honeymoon.
 Mrs. C. R. Witter went to Winoids to see her father, Perrin Long, who suffered stroke of apoplexy.
 Abraham Gildersleeve returned from Hill City, Minn., where he had been employed the past winter.
 S. Price of Winoids, plans to leave this week for Moose Jaw, Canada. His son Warren will remain in Winoids.
 Mrs. A. N. Seggern who has lived in the south part of the county for number of years is moving to Wayne.

Will Fisher and sister, Mrs. J. W. Souders returned from Iowa where they had been called by the illness of their father.
 Dan Carter of Winoids, who was attending school in Cedar Rapids, has returned home and is employed by I. O. Brown in the grocery store.
 Mrs. Eliza Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Miller of Wayne, died here March 17, 1903. Her husband was killed in an accident in the same town.

A. R. Davis, assisted by Mrs. W. B. Boner, entertained his Sunday school class of the Presbyterian church. The class included: Ruth Bressler, Opal Olmstead, Ethel Brown, Helen Northrop, Lucy Miller, Florence Welch, Mary Johansen and Helen Kiehl.
 Miss Minnie Goetsch, formerly of Wayne county, was drowned March 9, 1903, when the buggy in which she was driving with her brother, across a road covered with water east of Stanton tipped over. The wagon went too close to the edge of the grade and Miss Goetsch fell into eight feet of water. The horses were also drowned.

From Ponca Journal March 16, 1882:
 It is reported that Gov. Nease has decided to call an extra session of the legislature, to meet about the first of April.

 — Sergt. Mason, who shot at the assassin Guitena, has been tried in Washington by court martial and has been convicted and sentenced. His sentence is that he be dishonorably discharged from the army with the loss of all pay and allowances, and confined at hard labor for eight years in the Albany penitentiary. Petitions are being numerously circulated in the large cities, and signed by immense numbers of people asking the president to pardon Mason.
 The wife of Mr. Bell of Ionia, met with a severe accident on Saturday. In the floor of the house where she lived was an old, dilapidated trap door leading to the cellar. Mrs. Bell, who is a large, heavy woman weighing over 200 pounds, stepped upon the trap door and it gave way beneath her. As she went through the trap she struck on a beam with such force as to cut a terrible gash across her bowels, fourteen inches long. Dr. O'Connell was immediately sent for and sewed up wounds. Mr. Bell is the man whose house was burned a few weeks ago.

Puffs of Wind.
 — Lincoln Journal. A month ago everybody in America was doing something every day in every way. All minds had a single thought, Come. All hearts beat as one with the breeze.
 Today it would take a crowbar to pry our common mind away from Tutankhamon. Law suits are already getting under way between persons racing to copyright that name as a brand of socks, a make of bathing suit or the name of a novel. On the day they re sealed his tomb, we were living, moving and having our being in King Tut.

Just before Cune, Cleomeant, the Tiger, had our undivided attention. Back of him was football and back of that something else and back of that something else. Of course we can't remember that, but we know that as a matter of course something before that and then before that was the cynosure of all eyes. For that's the way things are done now. After King Tutankhamon comes something else. It would be worth a fortune to know what.

What with radio and the cables and the movies and the reduction of two sources of all our news the centralization of human interests has become the newest and greatest thing in the world. Our minds fly from point to point, but all in unison. All America has become an instrument of one string on which one player after another takes his tune and marches off the stage. As long as it is something mild like Cune and King Tut which possesses us, the land is swayed but gently by a light puff of wind. If ever we get to vibrating in unison upon some profounder or more violent theme—as almost we did during the war when the hurricane proportions of our mental winds will be blowing off a lot of cans.

Can Use Gas Bit on Horse, Too.
 Louisville Courier-Journal: A Baltimore pastor says every young man should select a wife as carefully as he would select a horse, with qualities in mind. But you don't have to get the consent of the horse.

And Why Complain?
 Yankton Press and Dakotan: An American woman tourist complains of being robbed in a country. Well, what did she expect? And why go abroad for it?

continuation with material changes, favored by a majority of the republicans here.

In committee of the whole, the house advanced to third reading the Yochum bill, accepting Arthur Lodge, the homestead of the late J. Sterling Morrison at Nebraska City as a state park. The house passed the bill providing for the election of county commissioners in Douglas and Lancaster counties by districts. The bill appropriating $15,000 out of funds derived from the sale of fishing licenses for the purchase, propagation and distribution of wild birds, pheasants and quail, was passed by a vote of 72 to 16.

Lobby Resolution Defeated.
The state senate yesterday evening defeated the resolution demanding the enforcement of the rule against lobbyists being allowed the right to appear before the majority of the senators declaring the resolution was unnecessary to enforce the rule.

The bill requiring candidates for office to report all campaign expenses was reported for the general file without amendment and that authorizing cities of 5,000 or more to maintain public coal and ice plants, was advanced to third reading. The house bill to prohibit discrimination against physicians in state institutions, which was defeated last month, was ordered recalled from the Democratic house members held a caucus last night to discuss the pending bills affecting the code law.

Mr. Emil Miller entertained the N. G. R. club Wednesday afternoon. Owing to the bad condition of the roads, not as large an attendance was present as usual. At the close of a pleasant social afternoon, the hosts served dainty refreshments.

About thirty neighbors were entertained at the Emil Miller home Friday evening. The time was spent in playing games and music by the Victrola. A flashlight picture was also taken. The hosts served a dainty luncheon at the close of the evening. At a late hour the guests departed, vowing it one of the most enjoyable evenings of the winter.

Forty Years Ago.

Last Tuesday evening, Mr. O. P. Dahlgren entertained eleven old-time friends at his home in honor of the fortieth anniversary of his coming to Wakefield. His daughters served an oyster supper. The guests included those who took up their residence in this part of the country about the same time. Burt Page was chosen toastmaster and called on the different ones to give their early experiences which were very interesting. Between times Mr. Page favored the company with music and vocal selections. At 11 o'clock the guests departed vowing it one of the most enjoyable as well as interesting evenings spent together for a long time.

Birthday Surprise.

Sixteen neighbor ladies wended their way through the mud Thursday afternoon to remind Mrs. Henry Bartling she had reached another milestone. To say it was a complete surprise, is putting it mildly. The afternoon was spent in visiting, music and contests. At the close of a most delightful afternoon, the guests served luncheon, including home-made ice cream. Mrs. Bartling was presented with a small token by the guests. Upon departing, all wished Mrs. Bartling many more happy birthdays.

Wayne Team Defeated in State Tournament

(By Bonnie Hess)
University of Nebraska, March 10. (Special Correspondence, The Wayne Herald.)—Wayne's basketball hopes were shattered early in the district annual state high school tournament, which ended here tonight, when the Seward quintet defeated it by a score of 13 to 7 at the coliseum Thursday noon.

Since Seward won the championship of class B by defeating Chapel, and since it was placed in class B instead of A only to avoid making a eleven number in the first class, Wayne can really feel that it lost to a class A team.

The Wayne boys, tired from the trip and somewhat stale from their hard playing in the Northeast Nebraska tournament, of which they were class A champions, did not stand up to their usual form. They were not aggressive enough on the large floor, being used to a much smaller one.

The work of the local guards was, however, of a superior quality. Brinard was the outstanding guard in the whole game. Olson, forward, scored for Wayne early in the first quarter. The opponents threw four field goals and made their other five points on fouls.

The line-up was as follows: Wayne—Olson, forward; Reed, forward; Sand, center; Brinard, guard; Porter, guard; Seward, forward; Ransell, forward; Weller, center; Severus, guard; Scott, guard.

Score at end of first half, Wayne—11; Seward 4. Substitutes, Wayne—Will for Porter, Kealey for Sand, Seward—Hauck for Scott, Chapman for Ransell. Field goals, Wayne, 1; Weller, 1; Severus, 1; Free throw, Olson, 1; Ransell, 1; Reterer, Elliott.

Stark Conrad Jacobson and Guy Best accompanied the Wayne team.

Wayne's Report From Bureau of Markets

March 12, 1923.
Cattle—For the week, beef steers steady to weak; stock 15 to 25c lower; veal steady, bulls 25 to 50c higher. Stockers and feeders 15 to 25c lower. Week's top on steers, $23.75; light veals, $11.50.
Hog and pig prices at Omaha market show a general decline for the week. Heavy weights steady to 15c lower; medium weights, 10 to 15c lower and light weights 10c lower, packing says 10c to 25c lower, mostly 25c. Stock pigs have remained generally steady for the week.

Sheep—Compared with week ago, lambs and yearlings steady; shorn 35 to 50c higher; feeders steady. Week's top of wool—$3.85.
Wheat—Wheat prices advanced on the 5th due to the report that foreign demand was better than trade expected. There was a small break on the 7th but prices rallied quickly and although the advance was not as firm as the week before, on the 8th, trade was light and prices within narrow range, but closed fractionally higher for the week. Closing price, Chicago May wheat, $1.19 5-8.

Corn—The corn market was heavy on the 5th and eased off toward the last following early advance on short covering. On the 8th trade was light but prices were firm with wheat and on strength in cash market. Chicago May corn closed at 74 3-8c.

Potatoes—The carlot movement of potatoes increased about 1,200 tons over previous week. Shipments were heavier from Maine, New York, Minnesota and Michigan and Wisconsin. Supplies were limited in other markets and prices made a net gain of 15 to 50c per 100 lbs. A steady to firm tone prevailed in mid-western cities.

Poultry—The receipts of dressed poultry at the four principal markets the last week were 3,886,178 lbs. compared to 4,922,510 lbs. the preceding week. Receipts into storage were 210,497 lbs. Local prices, live poultry, hens, (4 lbs. and over) 18c; (under 4 lbs) 17c; Leghorn hens, 17c; spring month, 18c; stags, 15c; old roosters, 10c; capons, 22c.

Eggs—Receipts of eggs at the four principal markets last week were 44,455 cases compared with 242,511 cases the week before. No stock moved into storage. Local prices, fresh eggs, 22c.

Butter—Butter markets were unsettled throughout the week although temporarily firm at close. Receipts from New Zealand entered early in the week as supplies were quite heavy in relation to demand. The arrival of approximately 50,000 boxes of New Zealand butter also helped to remove strength. Closing price 92 score butter at Chicago 47 1-2c.

Life Lines

IF every dog can have his day, at least I ought to have my say, so I lean to my story. Perhaps I don't amount to much, but even so, I've got my church on quite a share of glory.

I'm sold quite cheap, that may be true, but cheap or not, I'm sold to YOU and someone you know I hold my own and tie along, while other things go right and wrong, and right is the way to go.

I should not brag but if you please, I'm one of life's necessities. I'm needed everywhere. Perhaps I dangle on the street if people do not hold me neat, but anyhow I'm there.

I live in loneliness, although it seems I always have a howl. Good service is my claim. So I recite much appreciate what's due me this day and date. A Shouter, that's my name.

23 SERIES STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX SEDAN 5150*

Hidden qualities largely determine the value and life of a closed car.

Beauty of line and finish and refinements are surface indications and important ones. But your satisfaction with a closed car depends to a great degree upon factors that are unseen—the in-built qualities that come from correct design, use of highest grade materials and careful workmanship.

The 23 Series Studebaker Light Six Sedan is a quality car. It is built to endure—to give lasting satisfaction.

The Sedan body is substantially built. It will last for years and retain its beauty and comfort. Evidence of its hidden goodliness lies in the fact that down under the paint and varnish, the pillars, roof rails and supporting members are made from specially selected ash.

Four wide-opening doors make it easy for all passengers to get in or out without inconvenience to each other. A high-grade heater affords summer warmth on cold, damp days. The wide windows give broad vision in every direction.

Studebaker quality and tradition.

Lincoln Journal: In this season for paying income taxes a certain gloomy satisfaction can be got by considering what we should be paying if we lived in England. England is paying about three times as much in national taxes, relative to population, as Americans pay.

THE MAIN TRUTH.

What More Can Wayne People Ask?

When well-known residents and highly-respected people of Wayne make such statements as the following, it must carry conviction to every reader:

W. H. Hogewood, prop. Wayne Drug Line, Wayne, says: "My back was so painful and lame I could scarcely get up after sitting. My kidneys were in a badly deteriorated condition. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in our home and I decided to try them. Doan's relieved me almost immediately and in a short time I was cured. I have since been free from all traces of kidney disorder." (Statement given August 4, 1919.)

On May 29, 1920, Mr. Hogewood added: "Doan's Kidney Pills have me a lasting cure several years ago when I was 45 and had a bad case of kidney trouble."

Emerson Man Victim of Accident Monday

Because his horse became frightened by the smoke from a train, Mr. Lang, who is about 25 years old, was riding across the railway track in Wakefield early in the morning. It was thought the smoke from the train was blown into the horse's face and frightened the animal. Instead of crossing the track the horse turned and ran into the approaching train. Mr. Lang was rushed to a Sioux City hospital on the train. His injuries are not serious.

Declamatory Contest Is Held On Monday

The high school declamatory contest was held Monday evening and two winners in each of the three classes, humorous, dramatic and oratorical, were chosen to represent the school in the sub-district contest, March 23. Christian-Erikson girl Alice Ericson took first and second respectively in the humorous class; Rena Miner and Robert Pullen, first and second in the oratorical class; and Margaret McQuibben and Edyle Wiegans, first and second in the dramatic class. Judges were: Rev. John Grant Shick and Miss Faith Fuller of Wayne, and Miss Bruce of Emerson. Miss Verna Lane and Miss Fae Richmond who coached the contestants deserve much credit for the success of the contest which was pronounced one of the best if not the best in several years.

Edithan-Erikson, Margaret McQuibben and Rena Miner will represent the school in the sub-district contest to be held in Wakefield March 24. The district contest will be held in Wayne in April.

The program Monday evening was as follows:

Rev. David Ostlund Speaks in Wakefield

Rev. David Ostlund, Scandinavian prohibition worker, gave a lecture Wednesday evening in the Lutheran church on the subject, "Is Scandinavia Going Dry?" Rev. Mr. Ostlund is general secretary of the Anti-Saloon League of Sweden and representative of the World League against Alcoholism to Sweden and Finland. He has recently returned from Scandinavia and told of the work in Sweden. He has organized a league of 50,000 workers for his cause. He has influenced the organization of the Christian Temperance workers in Finland. In England Rev. Ostlund helped make that country the first dry one in the world.

In connection with the talk by Rev. Ostlund the Lutheran church conducted a campaign for attendance at the lecture. Tickets were distributed by the school children bearing the names of their teachers. Adults were to sign the cards and the grade in school having the largest number of cards presented at the lecture, was to be given the American flag on display at the A. M. Hygge furniture store.

MATHEW THIS IS THE FIRST TIME THAT GAS GRATE HAD BEEN IN A HOUSE YOU SEE ABOUT IT

WHY CAN'T YOU TURN IT OFF?

NEW-IE FORGOTTEN HOW

LET AN UNLIT GAS BE BLOWN I COULD BLOW IT OUT.
