SIoux CITY WOMAN IS SPEAKER FOR TUESDAY

Tells Local Club of the League of Women Voters' Conviction.

Members of the Professional and Business Women's club to the number of about forty-five met Tuesday evening for a dinner at the Boyd hotel. Mrs. A. Weid of Sioux City, business woman's club was the speaker for the evening.

Dinner was served at 7 o'clock and began in the class of Miss Nelle Gingles, club president, followed. Miss Doris Judson, accompanied by the Misses Violet Grace and the guests with four clever solo dances.

Brookway gave a resume of the organization and work of the school club, telling of its start on October 10 of last year and of its growth to a membership of fifty-one, including women of the training school and many other interesting features.

Two noted soloists from out of town have been engaged to assist in the singing. One is Miss Edna L. Lott of Chicago, a baritone of unusual gifts, especially in the interpretation of folk-children's songs and Edward Smith of Omaha, who has a rare voice and pleasing personality.

The other two soloists who will sing are Misses Evelyn and favorite local singers, Miss Mary Fitzsimmons, soprano and Miss Fern Oman, contralto. In the afternoon there will be a musical program by the various musical organizations of the college, including the choral, directed by Prof. W. C. Hunter, possibly the best of the training school children and a short song recital by Miss Lettice.

The feature event of the day will be the singing, which will be by the college chorus of 100 voices, assisted by the four soloists mentioned above, of the cantata "The Song of the Sea," which was composed by Frederic Cullen. The college chorus, which has been working hard on the cantata for some time, will be assisted at this performance by a large number of singers from Wayne and vicinity, thus making it more of a community affair than a strictly college affair.

Those in charge feel that by this combining the choral talent of the school and the town, a more complete and wide-spread appeal and to foster a spirit of common interest between the people of the school and the town.

By this kind of action which is a definite contribution to the artistic and civic-life of the community, will be done, the hope is that it should be encouraged by the hearty support and attendance of the people of Wayne and the surrounding country. The program and announcements will appear later.

When the good old family doctor was asked about baking powders, he said:

"Use Royal. It is ma' from Cream of Tartar and is absolutely pure. You could dissolve a couple of teaspoons of Royal in water and drink it with benefit. That's a health test, mighty few baking powders can meet."

The doctor was right.

Present "The Hoodoo" On Friday Evening

Juniors of the high school presented "The Hoodoo," a three-act comedy drama, last Friday evening before a good-sized audience in the Community house. Net proceeds amounted to about $100 which will be used in defraying the expense of the Junior-senior banquet. Mrs. C. W. Robinson coached the production. Stage furniture was loaned by R. B. Judson.

The plot centers about an Egyptian theme which the professor of Egyptology gives as a wedding present to his nephew. The gift is supposed to bring the favor of the goddess if it is buried in the ground twenty-four hours. The nephew, Melvin Olsen, thinks it not necessary to bury the gift and consequently had her gift. One after another of the group has the scarab and each has "it" tucked in his pocket. For the bridegroom-to-be a former suitor appears and demands $30,000 for breach of promise. Billy Jackson, the heart breaker, played by Ted Miller, gets the scarab and he finds himself engaged to three girls all at one time. A burglar in the house then has the gift and is caught in his act. To prevent trouble at the wedding festivities Brighton Early, about to be married, persuades the professor, Alton Rippon, to show the "dazzling daisy" who is demanding the sum of money, to pose as his wife. He does so and the professor's son, Marcus Kroger, telegraphs his mother, to notify the police. Daisy Gaines, who comes with several children to learn the trouble. All finally ends happily the professor getting back his gift. The burglar recognizes the "dazzling daisy" as his own and puts an end to her suit for $30,000. Billy Jackson announces his engagement to Miss Miller, bridesmaid for Miss Amy Lee, played by Dorothy Roberts. The other two to whom Mr. Jackson was engaged, were the "fascinating widow" played by Frieda Schump and Gwendolyn Perrington-Shine, Helen Norton, daughter of Miss Lee's next door neighbor. Mrs. Lucille Noakes took the part of the widow's 8-year-old daughter Angelina. Willis Kelder portrayed Mrs. Perrington-Shine's father. Lu, the maid, was played by Nina Barnett and Aunt Paradise, the darky cook, by Helen Loomis. Pauline Judson was Miss Lee's school teacher invited to the wedding festivities.

The same play is to be given by the Leard high school and a group of people from there were present Friday to see the production.

St. Edward Banker Is As a Victim of Suicide

St. Edward, April 21—Robert Harris, 35 years old, vice president of the Smith National bank here for twelve years an employe in the institution, committed suicide in the bank vault yesterday by shooting himself in the mouth with a revolver.

Harris, it is claimed, was sitting in his office at the rear of the building in conversation with a man named W. M. Sudding, the banker arose from his chair, walked into the vault and a moment later a shot rang out. Employees rushed into the small room and found Harris unconscious on the floor, the smoking revolver beside him.

A physician was called but Harris died an hour later without regaining consciousness, the bullet having penetrated the brain through the roof of the mouth. Harris was single and had, it is said, always possessed a good reputation, with no one who had believed that his accounts were in any condition. Friends of the deceased were unable to ascertain a cause for the act. A coroner's jury was called to deliberate over the shooting.

As to Building the Proposed Approach

The Wayne county commissioners who related in view of the question of responsibility, to be exercised by one of five counties to sponsor the building of the Nebraska approach to the Yankton bridge, will be interested, as will be the people knowing that the Cedar county commissioners are also looking askance at the advisability of the endorsement.

In regard to the proposition, the Hartington Herald of April 19, contained the following communication and explanation:

To Editor, Hartington Herald, Hartington, Nebraska,

Dear Sir:

In the April 12 issue of the Herald and under the caption of "Board Acts Cautiously" you raise several questions of interest to the taxpayers of this county.

It would seem that the question of the liability of Cedar county for the cost of the construction, and the possible cost of the maintenance of the approach to the Meridian highway bridge, is a matter worthy of some thought and careful consideration. I believe that every progressive citizen of our county is very favorable to the completion of this bridge at the earliest possible moment, but I sincerely think it would be wise to urge our county board to hastily sign a petition for state aid for such work without first knowing just how far such act would go and the approximate cost thereof to the people of this county.

If I understand that the state may furnish money, on petition of county boards of five counties, for one half the cost of such approach, would Cedar county be required to furnish the other half of such approach?

2. Do the other four petitioning counties, by reason of their petitions, obligate themselves to pay any part of the cost of such approach? If so, in what manner?

3. If such approach is constructed, does Cedar county thereby obligate itself to maintain such approach? If not, upon whom or what counties does such cost fall and by virtue of what act or law?

4. In the event that such approach is constructed as contemplated, are the other petitioning counties bound to pay any part of the cost of the maintenance thereof, and if so for what amount and in what manner?

I earnestly desire the facts concerning these questions and hope

Very truly,
Taxpayer.

"Taxpayers' questions are reasonable and he is entitled to the information which he is seeking. The Herald can only answer them, however, by referring him to the following opinion of the attorney general in regard to the matter."

Concerning this question the County News says: "An official opinion of State Attorney General Spillman says no express attaches to the counties for either construction or maintenance of the approach, although some county commissioners attempt to believe otherwise," but the Herald fails to find any such definite assurance. The fact that the attorney general advocates a "contract with the persons or corporations constructing proposed bridges" to safeguard the counties against "further liability" makes it appear that without such contract the counties might be liable to contribute extent and it is just this possibility that the Cedar county board wants to guard against.

However, it is the attorney general's opinion which anyone may read and interpret for himself:

"This bill was not passed with an emergency clause and it will not be in effect until three months after adjournment of the legislature. We therefore believe it is not possible to make application for state aid under the provisions of this bill or take any action under its provisions until it is in effect."

"We believe this applies also to the suggestions hereinafter mentioned pertaining to the entering into of a contract for the construction, maintenance and improvement of the approaches to interstate bridges. The duty is upon the county to maintain its bridges and public highways. This is a duty which is placed upon the county by statute and which we believe cannot be extended beyond the statutory provisions. It is a continuing duty but we believe that it does not apply under special circumstances such as the entering into of a contract in connection with the construction of an interstate bridge where the approaches to the bridge are constructed under a specific contract and are actually constructed by means of state aid.

"We suggest that the safe plan of procedure is for the counties and state to make a contract with the persons or corporations constructing proposed bridges across interstate streams whereby the county and state are relieved from further liability beyond that particularly contracted for under the provisions of state aid, and as provided in house roll 290. This would require the execution of a contract whereby the owners of the bridge specifically agree to construct the approaches, maintain same and replace same in the event of destruction during the entire period they may operate the interstate bridge."

Governor Bryan designates the closing week of the legislature as a week of prayer. Expressions of regret are heard from some of the conflict between the legislature and the governor should be included.

These late endurance tests in dancing appear to us as supremely idiotic. No sooner is the world's record for long-winded terrestrial-chasing set going than some of the crowd another of even greater folly ab breaks it.

People should bend their energies during the next few weeks in an effort to rid the town of ashes and tin cans and other unsightly rubbish. The clean streets and lawns and put their lawns in good shape. The town should be beautified and made attractive.

People who do little excepting at meal time, are not asked to shoulder public burdens because they cannot be depended on to assume such responsibilities. The man or woman who is eternally busy, is one on whom public service is loaded.

The word "crook" is carelessly used and is often applied without real reason or justification. When one is found in his gray matter for a word to shoot in expression of contempt, he is apt, in the absence of any substantial to pick up "crook" and thoughtlessly let it fly.

In one of his recent health talks in the club-room, Dr. William Besdy emphasizes the fact that the infirmities of old age depend largely on the state of mind. He believes old age need not snuggle up to the coming of the activities or other diseases that are supposed to grab hold after one has lived about so long. He would discard disease which is incident to old age, and think young and healthful thoughts. He would make it necessary to consult the record in order to ascertain one's age.

This week we noticed a news dispatch saying that a certain Oregon man had been on trial charged with misappropriating the funds of a bank and that the jury disagreed it was a second disagreement. If he is not a man we know he is a good neighbor as a captain in the regular army. He was stationed with his company on an Indian reservation during a time when the Indians were causing trouble. He fell in love with a half-breed Indian girl and married her. Eventually their children were in the hands of the government lands. Although he was well educated and was considered eminently honest, the fact that he had married an Indian and had subse-

One serious obstacle in the way of solution of the labor problem is the fact that too many inefficient employees demand the same wages paid to efficient employes. The man who produces comparatively little thinks he is worth just as much as the man who makes much. The growers are in the minority and as a consequence, the majority being overpaid, production is not excessively increased. The first thing employes should do is to increase efficiency and ginger-up production, and thus they would merit the wages they are receiving without multiplying the costs to consumers.

Governor Bryan earnestly assumes the eradication of cattle for the eradication of tuberculosis is intended to benefit merely packers, veterinarians and owners of registered herds. The governor's action takes, and the way he defends it would not do credit to an eighth grade graduate. As the eradication of tuberculosis is mentioned, so it also quite as pronouncedly benefits every consumer of milk that would be coming from the live stock growers and thus indirectly the public is quite as important as safeguarding the public interest. The governor should interpret every move in behalf of the public welfare as an impending and wicked assault on the treasury. He should be courageous before the grandstand in defense of the treasury he should do it in opposition to non-essentials rather than in opposition to those things that are indispensable to public security and development and progress.

District court cases in this county are a great deal less than they used to be, and always less than in many other counties, notably the river counties. The reason for this is that jury was called here last fall and month this spring, and at least eighteen months will have elapsed before the jury will be called again. This is an important contribution to court economy has been the decreased number of criminal cases. Enough of the criminal cases are disposed of the first settlements along the Missouri river to keep the courts busy and pile-up mountains of cost. As the district court is a part of the frontier, a few families, bent on violating law and order, were among those who occupied the frontier. The court dockets always contained about the same names, people charged with theft, assault or murder, and no serious crimes. The number of trials of stirring criminal trials that attracted large groups from the river bottoms. Often bitter feuds existed between the defendants were so evenly tempered that they never varied from an ugly and intolerant frame of mind. No intervals of peace were achieved. The names of the "ill feeling." Their names were written in the court docket as regularly as it was issued. While exceeding their primitive habits, break the monotony of primitive settlements, they caused large burdens of expense and were not conducive to the best in civilization.

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

In the course of a speech before members of the Associated Press here last night President Harding criticized the policy of radicals in employing party machinery with which they are not in sympathy, to ride upon the wave of power. Touching the subject in connection with preservation of party lines, the president said: "I believe in political parties. They are the essential agencies of the popular government which made us what we are. We were never perfect, but under our party system we wrought a development under representative democracy unattainable in all proclaimed liberty and attending human achievement achieved under the party system where parties were committed to policies, and party loyalty was a mark of honor and an honor of achievement. Nowadays, in many states, party adherence is flouted, loyalty is held to be contemptible, nominations for office are often procured by voters enrolled under an opposing party banner, and platforms are the insincere utterances of expediency, influenced by the insincere uniform by advocates of principle.

"Let no one misconstrue. I am not advocating the abandonment of the party system. I give to every voter a voice in nominating men for office and determining party policy. I would carefully preserve the principle that is at the old time abuses which impelled its adoption, but I would make it an act of indisputable party expression rather than a means of party confusion and destruction. I like the inculcation of loyalty, the pride of association and the enjoyment of accomplishment. I like the party government, where purposes are reached in the reasoning of honest representation, and I like a party which is committed to govern to strive in conscience and all loyalty to keep the pledges which brought it popular approval."

Beatrice Captain Breaks Arm - Beatrice, Neb., April 25.—Capt. Nelson Beckwith, football star and also pilot of the Beatrice high school track team, fractured his right arm yesterday afternoon while participating in an interclass field meet here.

One-half an inch of rain fell here last night.

In the Legislature Lincoln, Neb., April 25.—If the appropriations for the next two years are not to be increased more than 200,000, the fiscal year 1923-24, secretaries and all are not to return, the democrats of the house of representatives must prevent it, it was stated in administration circles yesterday.

The senate yesterday afternoon after working until after 6 o'clock on the general appropriations bill reported by its finance committee yesterday voted 29 to 4 to recommend the bill for passage as it stands. The bill increases the appropriations made by the house and the governor's budget approximately $1,200,000. The bill included new items cut out by the house and by the governor's budget which totals that amount. The senate committee, however, would certainly have cut out of the bill by the house, and thus made up some of the money added by the special appropriations.

Democrats expressed the opinion that the bill is calculated to cater to the "pork barrel and gain votes by that method, which would certainly lose otherwise. Practically all the special appropriations asked by various committees were increased over the amount of the bill by the house, and all of which were stated over the budget recommendations of the governor. The bill was not in fact it came from the senate finance committee yesterday and are in it now with all but four of the democratic members of the senate, sanctioning it.

Provision for the whole of the code system which was left out of the house bill because it was not in Bryan budget, was made by the senate including the full salaries of all the secretaries and bureau chiefs:

Suit for $50,000.

Fremont, Neb., April 25.—As an outcome of the accident which occurred in the First and Main street crossing of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad on April 12, Robert R. Ghin, through his attorney John Shomshor, alleged driver of the car which struck him for $50,000. The affair happened when the man in the employ of the railroad company. It is alleged he was riding on an engine when he leaped off and was struck by the car.

The petition states that the defendant was driving in a careless and reckless manner and was intoxicated. He drove his car at a rate of speed exceeding that allowed by law, and had no light on the vehicle, although driving at night time in foggy weather.

Shomshor is now under $10,000 bonds to appear in court to answer the charge of driving in a negligent manner and under the influence of intoxicating liquids, in such a way to endanger the lives and limbs of other people. He is believed to be staying at his home in Scribner.

Death of Old Chief.

Salt Lake City, Utah, April 25.—The body of Old Posey, leader of the vanquished renegade tribe of Snake Indians which went on the war path in southeastern Utah last month rests today in a rude rock-covered grave somewhere in the mountains near Blanding, Utah, where he was slain last month in a skirmish with white settlers.

The aged chieftain—was reputed to be the 100-years-old—made his last stand with a handful of braves near Cornshaw, on March 28, last, and he died alone while white possession routed his small band.

United States Marshal J. Ray Ward late yesterday brought the news of Old Posey's death to Blanding. Although earlier advised that Marshal Ward was accompanied by several officers who were led by captive Putes to the spot where Posey was slain, the marshal stated he was the only white man in the party which recovered the body. Four Indians led him to the body.

At the request of the Indianman, it was reported that the body was Old Posey resisted the decision and called the reregades to arms.

The Sugar Gamble.

Stock-City Journal. The sugar gamble goes on, hoodies of any moves the federal government is making or may be contemplating. The gamblers seem to be getting the whole world scared as to the possibility of a sugar shortage. Whether or not there is a shortage, no one seems to know definitely. Secretary Hoover says there is not; the speculators say there is. "This country would greet with a whoop of approval," says the Philadelphia Public Ledger, "criminal proceedings against gamblers." Certainly it would. Before such proceedings can be instituted, however, there must be reasonable certainty of the possibility of

We want Every Chick You Have to Live

If you bring your chicks safely through the first fourteen days you have made a good start to save every one and develop them into strong, healthy pullets and robust cockerels. Your surest, safest feed for that period is

Conkey's Buttermilk Starter

Sweet, clean, and wholesome. No dirt or screenings but made from selected grains cooked to human food.

And the Cost

Not to exceed one cent per chick for ten days' feeding. In other words a 75 cent sack will feed seventy-five chicks for ten days.

It's not the cost per pound of feed, but the cost per chick fed and the number of chicks that cost. Every particle of food is increased in and the food heated just enough to absorb all the moisture. Many are buying 100 pound sacks—they know it saves the chicks. We have the five and ten pound sacks for the small blocks and for those who are not thoroughly converted.

We also have the old-fashioned corn base chick food which will guarantee to kill as many chicks for you as the other fellows. It's made to sell while Conkey's is made for a purpose—to save chicks.

That's Why Semi-Solid Buttermilk is being used more each year is due to the fact with its use, more farmers are producing 300 to 325 pound hogs in nine months—strong healthy bodies are built and maintained which reduces the death rate to a minimum. There are farmers, good hog men, who are not securing maximum feeding value for the lack of lactic acid or the tonic value Semi-Solid supplies.
 A barrel Semi-Solid when diluted to efficient feeding value will make 2000 to 2500 gallons. The intense lactic acid content, which you get in none other except Semi-Solid, is the one big reason why it's grown so popular with the American farmer to make more money from the hog industry. Semi-Solid is not sold by high pressure salesmen. Our patrons are fellows who are alert to new methods, have taken time to study the situation, have investigated, been farsighted and by feeding tests and actual results know that Semi-Solid when properly fed will develop a wonderful profit on the investment.
 Eighty per cent of Semi-Solid sales are to persons who have used it. This speaks well for the industry and we are also pleased to note that many who were once opposed to Semi-Solid are now its strongest supporters. Don't wait, your pigs need Semi-Solid unless you have plenty of milk. Even the feeding of a single barrel will show results at market time.

with exposures of organizations and individuals who are opposing the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment. Flagrant misrepresentation and propaganda have been issued concerning the Volstead act, and as a result of the high authority, many intelligent persons are deceived, according to the charges which Miss Hopley makes. That this sort of propaganda is the most insidious kind, is the belief of W. C. T. U. workers who are endeavoring to acquaint the public with the source of much of the opposition to the prohibition amendment.

Wherever motor cars are discussed, and that's nearly everywhere somebody is sure to remark—"That Studebaker Special-Six is a regular automobile." The Studebaker Special-Six has been on the market for four years. Each year has seen added to its such refinements and improvements as time has made possible. Today there are more than one hundred and twenty-five thousand in every-day service and we don't believe there's a dissatisfied owner. The name was selected because comparative tests against all kinds of cars made this car stand out as something special and apart from the ordinary run of automobiles. It requires special merit to warrant calling any car a special—and if the value isn't special the car quickly fades away. Count the "Special-Sixes" that have appeared since the arrival of the Studebaker Special-Six. That's the proof of the value of the original Special-Six.

School Question is Carried into Court

The legality of the election held April 3 when bonds were voted for a new school building, has been carried to the district court and will come up for a hearing in May. It is alleged by the parties opposing the voting of bonds that some of the persons voting had no property or had no children of school age and that thus these persons were ineligible to vote on the matter.

Annual Meeting of Bankers at Norfolk

Notwithstanding wet weather and muddy roads, a large crowd of bankers attended their annual convention in Norfolk Monday. At the evening banquet, attended by 400, Fred S. Berry of Wayne, officiated as toastmaster, and acquitted himself very creditably, as those present testify. The popularity of R. H. Mathewson of Wakefield, was attested by his election as president of the association for the coming year. The following Wayne bankers attended the convention: Rolfe W. Loy of the State Bank of Wayne, H. S. Ringland of the First National Bank, and W. E. Jenkins and Leroy Elders of the Citizens National Bank.

The Norfolk Daily News gives the following report of the convention: R. H. Mathewson of Wakefield, was elected president of group 2 Nebraska Bankers' association, at the closing session of the twenty-sixth annual convention which was held at King's amusement park Monday night. H. E. Mason of Meadow Grove was elected vice president; W. Steadman of Norfolk secretary and J. B. Duffley of Battle Creek was re-elected treasurer. B. G. Rohrer, of Hosking; W. W. Walton, Center; Charles Mathewson, Wakefield; C. Childs, Emerson and Martin Sorenson, Plainview, are trustees; Harry Cheney of Creighton is state commissioner and Jerry A. Brown, of Norfolk, is on the resolutions committee.

The registration reached 250 and nearly 400 bankers attended the annual banquet which was served in a delightful manner by ladies of Trinity Episcopal church, Mrs. Chas. Berry of Wayne, acting as toastmaster at the banquet and discussed the serious need of clear thinking and the elimination of radicalism. Hugh J. Boyle who spoke via radio on behalf of the bankers on the question of taxation, made an eloquent address that "subject and also included an appealing suggestion of the necessity of turning the public minds to the home and to the simpler things of life. W. A. Gellock of Lincoln, who made a trip recently to the far east in detail of his travels declaring that had the British made one more attempt to break in to the Dardanelles, they would have been successful and the United States would never have had to enter the war.

Resolutions were adopted at the banquet extending sympathy to the family of the late Dr. P. L. Hall of Lincoln. Creighton and wishes for an early recovery were included in the resolutions for Willis McBride of Elgin. "We are thankful for the improved conditions and are gratified to note the general feeling of optimism among bankers of group 3 who are progressing along safe and conservative lines. "While we are not in favor of forcing, by law, the reduction of the rate of interest paid on deposits, it is the wise course of action that every effort should be made by the banks locally, to reduce these rates, and we recommend that bankers, through competent committees, get together and regulate rates for the mutual benefit of themselves and their customers."

Gage County Child Killed by Tornado

Beatrice, Neb., April 23.—South-eastern Gage county, which was deluged by a storm of cloudburst proportions early Monday, was swept by a tornado late today which caused one fatality and many injuries. Evelyn, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brunback, five miles southeast of Barnesburg, was killed when the farm house was turned completely over by the wind. Both Mr. and Mrs. Brunback were injured, perhaps seriously, and several other persons were injured. The farm buildings were practically wrecked. At the Frank Fisher farm, two miles distant from Beatrice, the homestead, every building was razed. Mrs. Fisher, who was at home alone, took refuge in a small cave and escaped.

The high wind which attained a terrific velocity was confined to a narrow path in the district south and east of Barnesburg. Buildings were unroofed, groves torn down and fields were badly washed.

Late Sunday night and early this morning the same district was swept by a rainstorm during which four Lincoln Journal: Among the memories of the lately defunct boss of Chicago, William Hale Thompson, is the decision of the supreme court of Illinois in a most peculiar suit. Mayor Thompson's instigation. In the course of a political campaign the Tribune made statements which the mayor held were defamatory to the city and damaging to its finances. On behalf of the city he sued the Tribune for $100,000,000 in damages. The supreme court holds that this was a nonsensical pretension, that no living-right-of-kings goes nowadays. The war period has produced many sublimely ridiculous efforts in this country to muzzle the mouths and bandage the brains of its people. The idea that a newspaper should be privileged to hear municipal machine without lysing itself liable to the municipality for damages takes the cake in its class.

Yet the agitation led by Justice Ford of the supreme court in New York makes a close second. Justice Ford had a daughter. The bookkeeper to the Ford family happened to recommend a certain novel to Miss Ford. She read it and after awhile found something which shocked her. It shocked Justice Ford to have Miss Ford shocked and he is before the New York legislature demanding legislation to "inure Miss Ford against such shocks."

But how in the world is it going to be possible to guard sensitive natures against occasional shocks? There are or used to be Miss Fords who thrill with distress if one happens to mention legs when he should say limbs. A law to safeguard Miss Ford against shock would have to deny her access to the unexpurgated King James version of the Bible. The practicable way to save Miss Ford from shock is to have Justice Ford, or perhaps Mrs. Ford, read first-aid books which it is intended for Miss Ford to read. It needs no act of legislature to set up this system of insurance against shock. But that is not enough for Justice Ford. He participates of the fierce disposition now everywhere prevalent to impose on all and sundry our private standards of morality, taste, opinion and even patriotism. Free America has its freedom yet to fight for.

Oscar Skavlan Gives Recital on Thursday

Oscar Skavlan of the Sherwood Music School of Chicago, played at a piano recital given by Mrs. Grace Dickson Keyser at her residence studio Thursday evening. The program, which was made up largely of masterpieces students should know, was interspersed with a mastery of technique and with an artistic touch. Guests who were privileged to hear Mr. Skavlan play were music students of Mrs. Keyser, their parents and a few other friends.

The numbers on the program were as follows: "Prelude" by Chopin; "Vals" by Chopin; "Liberation" by Liszt; "The Will" by MacDowell; "Norwegian Brjal Procession" by Grieg; "March Pundre" by Grieg; "Le Vent" by Debussy; "The Song of the Lark" by MacDowell; "Nocturne" by Schumann; and "Hungarian Rhapsodies" by Liszt.

Following the musicale, refreshments were served and the guests were introduced to Mr. Skavlan. Students and lovers of music who would like to be privileged to hear Mr. Skavlan play are invited to do so. Mr. Skavlan has been arranged as one of the faculty of the music school.

Mr. Skavlan had intended to return but a few days to make arrangements for the opening of the

The Ice That Went Through the Fire

An Iowa building recently was burned to the ground. Two days later, the charred remains of a Herrick Refrigerator were dug out of the ruins. The ice chamber still contained a large piece of ice. And all food contents were in perfect condition. They had been

Saved by Herrick 5-Point Insulation

This was doubtless the most severe test ever made of a refrigerator and it proved absolutely the superiority of Herrick insulation.

Few refrigerators ever have to go through actual fires. But every refrigerator has to go through the fiery heat of summer months. And the refrigerator that can protect ice and food from a big fire can offer unquestionable protection from all weather conditions.

No refrigerator is better than its insulation. And in no part of refrigerators is there a greater difference. The refrigerator buyer never sees the insulation, and yet the builders of the Herrick pay two or three times as much for Herrick insulation as is customary.

Value of Pure Bred.
A county agent in Colorado, reported the United States department of agriculture, convincing method he has used in furthering the better-sires work in his county. A butchering and meat cutting demonstration was given with two market hogs, one a pure bred Duroc Jersey and the other a scrub red hog. The hogs were weighed, then slaughtered and dressed, and weighed again. The live weight of each hog was practically the same. The dressing percentage of the pure bred was about 7 per cent more than that of the scrub. The good hog figured to be worth $22.10 more than the other. This was but a fraction of the difference in value between the two hogs, however, as the pure bred was but half as old as the scrub hog and had consumed more feed.

The meat-cutting demonstration was held in the auditorium of the county school, and more than 500 persons were in present. The two carcasses were cut into the various cuts of meat, showing the superior quality of the meat of the pure-bred hog.

Demand for Fordson Tractors.
Both agriculture and industry are making increasing demands for the Fordson tractor.

While the use of the Fordson as a farm implement is extending in every agricultural section of the country as farmers come to realize the advantages and economy of power farming, a most noticeable feature of the sales is the growing use of this sturdy and dependable power plant in industrial and commercial activities.

Contractors and builders are everywhere adapting the Fordson to meet their needs for power, either portable or stationary, and road engineers throughout the country are specifying its use with highway construction machinery.

To meet this growing demand for Fordson tractors production is now at capacity and for the first three months of the year reached a total of 27,087 as compared with 8,340 for the same period a year ago. 2621

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

of interest to

MILLIONS OF FAMILIES

"I will build a car for the multitude"
Said Henry Ford in 1903—Read how the fulfillment of that prophecy is now made possible through the

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal family car—to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers—more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months—and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford Car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in one of the local banks where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it—father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start today? Stop in and talk it over with your local Ford dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford car.

The State Bank of Wayne will accept deposit on the above plan.
