Now Just a Word about the Price of Lumber

Most people have an idea that lumber is high and much needed buildings are sometimes done without because the customer did not know how little it would cost to erect the building wanted. We have sold dozens of customers recently who said they had expected to pay much more for their lumber, and some of them said they had expected to pay hundreds of dollars more than we asked for it. Don't put off needed buildings because you think the lumber will cost too much, but come in and tell us what you want and find out what it will cost. You may be greatly surprised to find it will cost much less than you had expected.

We Urge Customers to Put In Their Winter Coal Now.

Good grades of soft coal will not be any cheaper so there is nothing to be gained by delay. Illinois lump coal $8.50 per ton on track. Place your orders for it Now. It will be two to four weeks before we can deliver it to you.

Movement in Behalf Of Law Observance

The American Bar association, which is an organization of more than 19,000 lawyers from the various states, at its meeting at Minneapolis last month asked all citizens, wherever they live, to join in a campaign for Americanism and better citizenship.

The following letter from Fred S. Berry, of Wayne, to the members of the bar of the Ninth district explains the purpose and nature of the work:

To the members of the bar association of the Ninth Judicial district: As president of your association it appears to me proper to address you as follows:

The American Bar association, in connection with its work for Americanism and good citizenship, has designated Sept. 14, 22 "Constitution Week" with the hope and a request that during that time a special effort be made in every community in the United States for the education and enlightenment of our people in the essentials and spirit of our constitution and the ideals of our government. Careful investigation for months throughout our country by the association has disclosed that radicalism, disloyalty for law and authority, communism and other isms exist in many sections to a degree dangerous to free institutions.

Present authority asserts that there are in this country 1,500,000 radicals and agitators, clamoring for a change in our government from its present form to varying degrees of a communistic state; that 400 publications which represent these views are being read by probably 100,000 of our people, and it is estimated that $2,000,000.00 was spent last year in spreading "red" propaganda throughout our communities. Courts, courts, and religion are being attacked as hindrances to progress.

The American Bar Association appreciates the fact that our citizenship is fundamentally sound, but realizes that constant effort has been and is being made to destroy it. It is suggested that constant effort be made to educate our people and create a feeling of class hatred, dissatisfaction and unrest. This evil minded element pre-vents belief, and far too many of our honest and conscientious people have been led to believe, that the constitution is some nefarious instrument for the protection of one class and the oppression of another, instead of the fundamental law protecting the rights and liberty of all.

The association is appealing to lawyers everywhere to take the lead in this movement for education and enlightenment, which are so necessary to a proper understanding and appreciation of the Constitution and form of government which has given us so much, and which is necessary for a realization of the iniquity and danger of the forces at work which seek to destroy all that we are and all that we have.

Naturally Constitution Week is to be the foremost of the constant and earnest work to follow. We are justly proud of the enlightened citizenship of this judicial district. There is not the danger from these meetings here that exists in many parts of our country. Still there is work to do. It has occurred to me in addition to the methods suggested above that a few meetings be held in each county, where the ideals of Americanism, our Constitution and form of government, disrespect for law and order and other evils confronting the country generally could be honestly and intelligently presented and discussed, would be appreciated by our people and result in a better citizenship. You will agree with me that in this great work whose announced purpose is "to re-establish the Constitution of the United States, to correct the errors and ideals of our government in the minds and hearts of our people" the bar of the Ninth district should do its full part.

FRED S. BERRY, President.

What's Sauce for the Goose. San Francisco Chronicle: A Los Angeles man, when he was married by an irate spouse and forced to seek shelter in the home of his parents, has brought suit against his truculent wife, asking separate maintenance. The wife, according to the husband's statement, is able-bodied, has a good job and earns an excellent salary. She is content with his style in which he has been accustomed.

Here is a situation, apparently, where the woman is destined to learn the meaning of equal rights—with reverse English. The husband, so the complaint sets forth, is an invalid and unable to conduct his own living. Were conditions reversed there would be no question as to the moral and legal obligation of the husband to support the wife. If the facts are as set forth in the husband's complaint the law should make no distinction. The wife should live up to her obligations.

Lax Law Enforcement a Scandal. Sioux Falls Argus-Leader: If the American bar association can bring about a reform in our courts, especially in criminal cases, it will have accomplished a reform which will pay big dividends to the people. The lax enforcement of the law in this country is a national scandal. Any man with money can cause his case to drag in the courts for years—so long that the social effect of the punishment finally inflicted is totally lost.

People should make life's pathway as easy, not as hard, as they can for one another.

Only a few days more and we will have to lay aside Panama and straw hats or run the risk of being shot by some punctilious devotee of fashion.

The wealth of exhibits and large attendance at the Wayne county fair this week offer good proof of the people's approval of such an annual exhibition here.

One law that seems to have been largely forgotten is the one requiring use of dimmers on automobile lights. Many lights that flash along the highway are dangerous.

To Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania is given credit for settlement of the anthracite coal strike. According to the agreement, coal will be no cheaper even though it be more plentiful.

Horseshoe pitching is making progress and threatens to usurp some of the popularity won by golf. When horseshoe pitching gets underway in the social scale, it should be known by the more dignified name of "quoits."

People should try a little harder to be consistent. They should not say one thing and then dispute it a few minutes later. They should not allow their opinions to come in such violent conflict. They should not blow hot and cold at the same time.

Both employers and employes should suffer contraction of innate selfishness. While employers should avoid being overbearing, employes, employed should not seek increased authority and increased pay with no investment, no responsibility and no interest work. There would be fewer strikes and more content if contending factions could see and understand from more than one viewpoint.

It is the other fellows who is crazy. An obsession that is popular or useful is regarded as sane and a hopeful sort of insanity. An obsession that is harmless, but senseless, according to the majority view, draws a constant line of criticism. An obsession that invites restraint is the kind that is forced on others. Two perfectly crazy people may be as far apart as the distance between public estimation. One whose mind is charged with the achievement of a constructive idea, and is able to show results that are hailed as acclamations, surpassing genius. One whose mind is fixated on a channel that seems to serve no useful purpose, is simply cast off as a madman. Great inventors usually have been regarded crazy until their products have met popular acceptance as successful. We doubt that that Marconi was shunned as crazy by home folks until he had established his theory of wireless communication as a fact. Then, of course, home folks came to the surface to seize acquaintance and express practically no confidence in his genius. People who are crazy should be careful to modify symptoms until the obsession is fruitful for useful and acceptable results.

TRIP OVER THE STATE.
IN COMPANY with the superintendent of the mechanical branch of the Herald, we took a short, swift course in newspaper building last week. We started from Wayne at 6 o'clock Friday morning and made a tour of Nebraska towns, arriving on our return at 8:30 Saturday night. We visited newspaper plants at Lincoln, Fremont, Wahoo, Beatrice, Fairbury, Geneva, York, Osceola, Columbus and Madison, and while the information derived. Lack of time kept us from visiting plants in other towns. Maturing crops in southern Nebraska are apparently not so good as they are in this part of the state. Farms in the south part do not seem so prosperous as they are here. Business districts in the towns where we stopped, usually have better buildings than those in Wayne. Our audience sections compare favorably with the best of the high-ways in southern Nebraska are uniformly good and far superior to those in this part of the state. The newspaper plants visited are well-equipped, some of them better than the Herald in some respects. The most orderly and systematic was that of the Geneva Signal of which E. O. Edgecombe is the editor and publisher. The fact that Mr. Edgecombe is blind has not hindered him in building up a complete and efficient newspaper. We found that while the Herald pays higher wages per individual than any other plant in the state, the difference in production per person would justify the difference in pay. We found that we pay more attention to the newspaper business and less to job work than the plants visited. In the towns we were cordially received, and we were rewarded by enlarged acquaintance and many new ideas which we expect to turn to advantage.

CONSTITUTION WEEK

Settling up a week for special consideration of the American constitution is timely and important. People often forget the full import of America's fundamental document, and a clearer understanding will stimulate appreciation and make for better citizenship.

It is reported that radical elements are at work in the United States, and that they are menacing our order of society by "red" propaganda. During "Constitution Week" it is proposed to meet the sophisticated radicals and endeavor to safeguard the people against being misled.

The constitution is the foundation on which our government has been reared. Its principles are sound and just and broad enough to satisfy all right thinking people. But it should be understood to be fully appreciated, and increased understanding is the object of setting apart a special week for its study.

Of the inevitability of the constitution, Abraham Lincoln is quoted as having said: "When I came, on the 4th of March, 1861, through a free constitutional election, to preside in the government of the United States, the country was found at the verge of civil war. Whatever might have been the cause, it was not my fault, one duty, paramount to all others, was before me, namely, to maintain and preserve at once—the constitution—and the integrity of the federal republic."

Ghosts Terrorize Holt County Farms

O'Neill, Neb., Sept. 12.—Professor Rigge of Creighton university, professors of the state university and savants of various universities learning in Nebraska may be asked to investigate the ghostly lights which nightly appear on the ranches of Holt county. The lights, together in the northwest part of Shields township, north of O'Neill. A material increase in the number, intensity and brilliancy of the lights since last year, has caused the Japanese earthquake, lead local authorities to believe that some internal disturbance of the earth may all along have been responsible.

Incidentally the only rocky section of Holt county is along another branch of Eagle creek, a few miles north of the scene of the lights, and Rock Falls on Eagle creek, the only water fall in the county is composed of a ledge of lava rock. No other volcanic matter is known to exist in the county except on the ranch of L. E. Shidmore near Ewing, more than thirty miles from the district of the "ghost" lights.

Crowds View Phenomenon

Ranchmen Gallagher and Connelly, on whose places the lights nightly play and flit about, estimate that more than 5,000 people from O'Neill and neighboring towns have visited their ranches in the last two weeks to see the lights. Some remain until nearly morning on nights when the ghostly visitations are more prominent than usual. An average of fifty automobile parties a night visit the scene.

Has Its Drawbacks

"Being the owner of a ghost graveyard is not all one round of joy and pleasure," declares James Connelly, on whose ranch part of the spectral lights appear. "It has its drawbacks. Only recently my son, Thomas, and his chum, Lloyd Gallagher, left one evening after dark to go to a neighbor, whose house light can be seen from the ranch house. They cut across the big pasture and in some way confused one of the 'ghost' lights with the lamp light of the place for which they were bound. They rode and rode toward the light until finally they came out on the ranch of Wallace Johnson, six miles north and several miles beyond their original destination. Last winter an old lady of the neighborhood confused a hen house with the light from her own house while bringing the cattle and wandered about in the extreme cold for several hours before her rescue by other members of her family, who became alarmed by her long absence.

The Bell Telephone System has contributed $100,000 to the American Red Cross for Japanese relief. This contribution was made for the system as a whole, rather than through the four companies in each town where the Companies of the System operate, so that the fund would be immediately available for relief work, according to W. B. T. Belt, President of the Bell Telephone Co.

Birth Record

A son was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weaver, Wayne. A daughter was born September 3 to Mr. and Mrs. Julius C. Mecher of eight miles northwest of Wayne.

Tokio Estimates Deaths at 150,000

Tokio, Sept. 12.—Deaths from the earthquakes, fires and tidal waves in and around Tokio were estimated today to number 150,000. Groups of 100 and more bodies have been found in various spots. Dysentery is prevalent.

The government informed the American embassy that the relief personnel enroute would be welcomed. American marines have landed erecting a bakery and an automobile repair shop at the American embassy.

The duty on building material imports has been removed. Reactional earthquakes have fallen in number to twenty daily.

Relief Fund Over Top

Washington, Sept. 12.—With the five million dollar goal now exceeded in contributions to the Japanese relief fund, the American Red Cross continues today its campaign for funds as late advice on the extent of the catastrophe convinced officials of the organization the sum originally asked for would be inadequate for the relief needed.

A margin of more than one hundred thousand dollars above the five millions asked was shown in the latest tabulation of the nation's contribution announced at Red Cross headquarters here. Three divisions of the organization—the Washington, Central, and New England districts—reported donations exceeding their assigned quota.

A statement of expenditure and commitments issued by the Red Cross last night included $1,000,000 set aside yesterday in response to the appeal of Ambassador Woods at Tokio to be placed at the immediate disposal of the Japanese emergency relief bureau.

Of the balance of the total subscriptions up to that time $5,108,300, expenditures for food, clothing, medicines and building materials amounted to $2,401,000. A further sum of $867,500 had been donated for the purchase of relief supplies in Japan and the Philippine Islands.

Omaha Family Killed

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 12.—A state department message to the Hon. Howell yesterday advising officially of the death of the Amrine family of father, wife and child, formerly of Urbana, Ill., and Omaha, is accepted as corroborative by Mrs. J. W. Marshall, mother of Mrs. Amrine, who has been racked between joy and grief since the Japanese earthquake by conflicting reports of their safety and death.

Mr. Thomas J. Amrine, the father, is general manager of the Tokio Electric company. The family went to Japan last May. All were killed during the earthquake, the message stated. The father had been reported previously as safe and the mother and child of 3 years, missing.

60,000 Bodies Buried

Washington, Sept. 12.—The bodies of sixty thousand dead had been cremated by the authorities in Tokio up to midnight of Sept. 8, the Japanese minister of foreign affairs said in a telegram received here at the Japanese embassy. The number of bodies unrecovered is probably very great, it was added. The casualties in Yokohama were estimated at 110,000 or one-quarter of the entire population, and many more dead were said to be unaccounted for in outlying districts.

May Abandon Yokohama

While the wheat crop was one of the smallest in years, the corn crop was far from the largest; the soybean crop is good, as is the price of live hogs; the hay and beet sugar crops are heavy. Two years ago Nebraska farmers harvested $12,000,000 from the war flax corporation, and it has all been repaid except $1,000,000. Deposits in state bank are increasing. All of the farmers are looking for more of them.
 Bought land unwise when wheat and corn were high, but generally the farmer's situation is better than before a year ago. The outlook in Nebraska is far improved because business conditions all along the line.

Forage Crops Introduced.
 Hungarian vetch is one of the many promising forage crops introduced in the United States by the department of agriculture. First importations of seed were made in 1905, but it was not until 1912 that the strain being developed at the present time was brought over from France. The crop has been most extensively tested in the Pacific coast states, where it is especially well adapted, but it has also come well in experimental tests in the southern states. Its winter hardiness, resistance to aphids, good seed habits, and adaptation to poorly drained lands make it desirable for extended trial throughout the cotton belt, the department believes.
 Hungarian vetch is much less vetch than common vetch or hairy vetch. One of its most striking characteristics is its ability to grow on heavy wet lands and still produce a fair crop. While there have been no feeding tests to determine the relative value of Hungarian vetch as compared to other vetches and hays, dairy cows at the experiment station at Corvallis, Oregon, have consumed it readily. The crop also makes a good pasture and is valuable as a green manure crop.
 Hungarian vetch should be sown in the fall in all regions having mild winter conditions. This means sowing about the 1st of September in the southwestern states, in western Oregon and Washington; the best seeding time is with the first fall rains during September and October. In regions having severe winters, however, fall planting is impractical and plantings made as early in the spring as the ground can be worked will give the best results. Seed is being produced in western Oregon, and at present this is the only place where it is being grown. The United States department of agriculture has a present none of the seed for general distribution.

Upbuilding of Agriculture Is Sole Aim of Interstate Fair Directors

The Board of Directors of the Interstate Fair wishes at this time to announce to the friends and patrons of past years that the 1923 Exposition has been built with but one object in view, namely—the upbuilding of Agriculture in its territory so that the trade conditions may prosper and witness a happy and contented home loving people.

Believing that diversified agriculture is the true basis of this happiness, particular attention has been paid towards getting the best herds of beef and dairy cattle, swine, horses and sheep, not forgetting the highest types from the different poultry breeds, together with products from the home and field, thus lending inspiration for the future as well as showing results of the past year.

While success in the fields can be obtained only by unnumbered hours of toil, modern machinery designed for lessening physical labor has played an important part. In the outdoor machinery section will be found the tractor and truck, together with many labor saving devices, up-to-date and up-to-the-minute. In the under-roof section those exhibits that appeal to the farm house wife will be found.

All indications point to the greatest Interstate Fair ever held in Sioux City, in the opinion of officials of the fair association, who state that preparation for the opening of the grounds to the public on September 16, are going forward rapidly, and that everything will be in readiness in the center of the corn belt, and having in mind the recent establishment that the Sioux City livestock market has established for itself a new high record in its receipts, the officers believe that the swine division of the big show will reflect the tendency of farmers to go more and more into hog raising.

Advance pen reservations and early entries, it was stated, indicate that the swine pavilion will be filled to capacity when the gates are opened on the first day of the fair.

Amusement Program. While the fair lays particular stress upon its educational program, a full line of amusements are already contracted for.—The big feature of this year will be the night show. The spectacle of last year proved so popular with the patrons that the directors felt justified in contracting for a much more elaborate display of fireworks, calling for real live action in the air.

CIRCUS TO BE BIG FAIR FEATURE

One of the high school horses to be seen in the circus which is one of the twenty high-class attractions Clarence A. Wortham's World's Best show will bring to the Interstate Fair at Sioux City.

Midway Attractions at Interstate Fair to be Most Lavish Ever Assembled

Three shows in one will present the amusement attractions this year on the midway at the Interstate Fair at Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 16-22, inclusive. These are the composite of what were originally the three great shows carrying the banner of the famous showman, Clarence A. Wortham, Mr. Wortham died last fall. His properties were then offered at private sale.

Hockmann, Gearty and Robinson, formerly the executive staff of Wortham's World's Best Shows, bought that company outright. They also took over all the features of the other two shows they desired. In addition, they bought the exclusive use of the name of "Clarence A. Wortham" in the show world.

The sale of the Wortham properties was a surprise to all showmen. The negotiations were carried on quietly, and when consummated, the announcement was the biggest bit of news in showmen after the death of Mr. Wortham.

With the three shows now in a composite it puts Hockmann, Gearty and Robinson in command of the biggest shows of their kind ever known in history. The consolidation makes up a tented city more stupendous than any other that ever went on the road. It takes thirty-five cars to haul the 400 persons who present the shows and their equipment.

Among the special features they will offer at the fair are Violet and Daisy Hilton, the famous grow-together sisters; the Kohn Family of Fat Pigs, 27 1/2 pounds in six persons; Watkins' 100 auto-arms; Tantingers' Wild West arena; a monkey circus; a trained wood animal circus; a diving girls' congress, and a trained seals' show. The caterpillar, the now-out and fastest ride, will be seen at the fair for the first time.

GROWN-TOGETHER GIRLS. Visitors will have a chance to see the most talked of young women in the world. They are Violet and Daisy Hilton, the famous grow-together girls from San Antonio. They are joined together by a flesh and spinal connection just above the waist, but in spite of this, they are as happy as other girls of seventeen.

While they are of one body they have distinct minds. One may be sewing while the other is reading. One may drive an automobile—they have their own—but the other cannot, because the sister on the left would have to ride on the runboard.

Boys and Girls' Club Work Attracts Much Attention.

One part of the show that always attracts attention is the Boys and Girls' Club work. The winning teams from 11 Northwestern states that have proven their merit by winning all state fairs during August and early September come to Sioux City for final championship honors. In charge of the work are the extension divisions of the state agricultural college and the department of agriculture at Washington. The department is busy year to year preparing and shipping to Sioux City an entire stage setting to gether with both arrangements. The baby beef division will present at least 200 animals and possibly more as against a total show last year of 150.

"I am very much pleased," F. L. Eaton, president of the fair, said, "to think that the business men of this territory believe that this department is the outstanding one of the fair. It is not only familiar with the aims and objects of the boys' and girls' clubs. For the past six years the federal government has done everything in its power to help us make the department bigger and better in every respect.

Live Stock Is the Greatest Factor in Farm Economy

VIEW OF LIVE STOCK EXCHANGE BUILDING

Livestock has become the greatest factor in farm economy in this section of the country in the last few years. A recent bulletin issued by Ames College shows that of the 93 counties in Iowa, 96 receive fifty percent or more of their farm revenue from the sale of livestock and in the other three counties livestock represents greater value than any other commodity, such as grain. In South Dakota and Nebraska the situation is still more startling, as there are vast sections in each state where livestock is practically the only cash producing crop.

One feature worthy of note is the amount which this cash returns as income. The average for the last three years by no means—high spots in market history, amounts to a few dollars less than $50,000 dollars a day.

Great Development of the Sioux City Live Stock Market

Perhaps you know perhaps you don't, that the Stock Yards Company at Sioux City began operations 36 years ago in 1887. For a number of years the market facilities were limited—exceedingly limited—only about 55,700 cattle, 431,075 hogs, 5,400 sheep and 400 horses were received the second year. After that things began to pick up. All went well till 1932 when a big flood played havoc with things. This, together with the financial panic that struck the country about that time, made every thing look decidedly blue for awhile. During the hard times receipts fell off from year to year, but with reviving prosperity the business began to increase and has steadily grown to the present time.

The packers, who began operations at Sioux City in 1887, while they did not expect to do a flourishing business for a number of years, were confident of a big future for the territory surrounding Sioux City from a live stock producing standpoint, and from then till the present they have always been of the same opinion, in spite of early discouragements and the big fire that destroyed one of the leading packing houses in 1902, which, however, was immediately rebuilt with a larger capacity than the old house. The Sioux City Stock Yards at this time cover no less than eighty acres and contains every modern facility for handling all kinds of livestock expediently and on a large scale. The eng house is a two story reinforced concrete structure—one of the best in the world. The cattle and sheep divisions are commodious and complete in all details while the horse barn and sales pavilion are unequalled at any market.

Delivery of livestock by truck at this market has increased so rapidly that it has become necessary to provide more and better facilities. Last year approximately $35,000 was expended in betterments, so that now truck stock is handled without any delay both day and night, and truck receipts are greater here than at any other Western Market.

The development of the Sioux City Market has constantly been in line with the developments in the territory. The facilities for unloading and loading car loads of livestock have been recently increased by building a number of concrete chutes and there is now under construction a large addition to the dock concrete hog house—all to better care for the increased business.

BE AN AUTO MECHANIC.

Do you like mechanics—are you one of those persons who is happy when he is "fixing" something? If so there is a golden opportunity awaiting you. With the investment of only a small amount of money and some of your time you may equip yourself to hold a position as an expert automobile repair man at a high salary.

The Iowa State Auto and Traction School offers to train you to hold such a position. Do not hesitate. Do not delay. The time to make your decision is now. Don't let the white collared office man step and take the opportunity which you are most qualified to grasp.

Statistics show that office men are quitting their white collared positions and entering on a different field of endeavor in the thousands and tens of thousands. The pay is larger and the field greater. More automobiles are being sold than ever before and the demand for trained men is growing by leaps and bounds.

Dr. P. A. Hausch located over the Royal Theater has established a reputation in the past few years for fair dealings and low prices on dental work. During Fair Week he is making examinations free of charge and pulling teeth without charge. Prudent patients on Crown and plate work will also be in effect. Dr. Hausch said, "I want to make new friends." He wants to show more people in the territory that I am doing high class work at low prices, and I am providing my patients with the fact that one may come on the train, or drive in their car from a great distance at my expense, as he is saving on dental work done in my office. Fair Week will more than pay for the gas used or for the railroad fare."

A novel prize contest has been arranged for Fair Week by the Gas Auto Top Co., 21828 West Seventh street.

The automobile which has the most participants in Sioux City of this territory will be replaced free of charge by a new covering. No auto owner is barred from this competition by membership of leading citizens will serve as judges.

In addition to the main prize, consolation prizes of $6 per discount will be awarded to all entrants who purchase tops on the day of the contest, Thursday, September 20.

The only condition of the contest is that the top frame must be in good condition. The company will replace free pads, top cover and back curtain. The car or the top must be in the Gas! shop at 2 p. m. September 20 to get in the main prize. The new top will be made of Top material and the back curtain will be made in easy style and will have a 6 by 24 inch plate glass.

Large Piano House Enjoys Rapid Growth.

Thirty years ago, the Schmolzer & Mueller Piano Company started its business in Council Bluffs, Iowa. At that time, there were practically no piano houses of any description in the entire northwest. When the war broke out in this country, piano sales began to grow. The Schmolzer & Mueller concern gradually increased their business and when the war began to show rapid growth, they moved their offices across the river and commenced to locate branch houses and a general direct by mail selling, until within a few years, their sales had become the largest music house in the entire northwest. When one sees such a line up of pianos as the Steinway, the world's greatest instrument; the celebrated Hamilton, the official piano of the Metropolitan Opera Co.; the musical piano, the Emerson, which has stood the test of time; the McFarland, which has been the favorite of the world's great pianists; the valuable Steyer piano, which is known for its great value; from the Schmolzer & Mueller piano, that has been on the market continuously since 1836; the Schmolzer piano, known as the piano of the President; and the Schmolzer & Mueller Piano, that has satisfied more than 170,000 customers, it will then be realized what a wonderful record in the piano trade the Schmolzer & Mueller Piano Company hold.

Recently the Schmolzer & Mueller Piano Company have added to their line the Zenith Radio Receiving Outfit. Mr. Hamilton, manager of the Sioux City branch, says that they have been studying the Radio proposition carefully and made a decision that in putting in Radio they would get the outfit complete, and the Zenith because of the ease with which you can tune in and the ability of receiving from the coast to the west coast. In buying a Radio outfit it is the idea of the Schmolzer & Mueller concern that it should be absolutely complete so that all accessories include everything necessary even to the installation.

Choosing tailored to suit the personality of the purchaser is the specialty of A. A. Hollenbeck, tailor, whose establishment occupies a suite on the second floor of the Trades Building. Every garment gets the personal care of Mr. Hollenbeck, who insists that they be not only made to order, but that satisfied buyers return again. This is Mr. Hollenbeck's motto.

One of the finest for shops in the city is the Lytle Block on Fifth street.

For years Mr. Emlein has been in the fur business, making a specialty of fur garments in all sizes and lengths for ladies. The complete line of fur goods and the personal inspection which Mr. Emlein gives to every garment is the secret of the long list of satisfied customers of which the Emlein shop boasts.

"As bad as having a tooth pulled, head to be a favorite expression with those who want to make a comparison of something that was particularly obnoxious and dreaded. In this age of rapid dental advancement it doesn't mean anything, according to Dr. John D. Williams of the New York Dental office at 415 Fourth Street, Sioux City, Iowa. Nowadays, persons who are familiar with our present methods of eliminating pain in extractions, have little dread of the dentist's chair. Just a little morocain, and presto, "it didn't hurt it was out", is one of the favorite expressions heard from patients.

Dr. Williams enjoys a great deal of well earned fame in Sioux City and the surrounding trade territory, as a successful plate maker and a careful dentist in extracting teeth. He formerly practiced ten years in Chicago and spent three years of that time in being identified with the New York Dental Co.

The spring and summer season this year has demonstrated the popularity of English threadcloths and Fibre Silk Knives. Made to Measure Shirt Trousers, according to Mr. Tapp, of Tapp Bros. Shirt Co.

Anticipating an even increasing demand for great clothes during the coming season, the company is showing English Broadcloths in various qualities in its popular line. The three styles include a handsome variety of color and designing effects, and like the English Broadcloth are highly recommended for their serviceability.

The only speedometer service in this part of Iowa that is maintained by the Automotive Electric Service Company at 308-10-12 Sixth street.

The station is equipped with machinery for testing and recalibration. A complete line of parts for speedometers and vacuum tanks is carried.

Olsen Sporting Goods Co. owned by G. Adolph Olsen, is the largest and most complete establishment of its kind in the Northwest. It does a wholesale and retail business. In the course of nine years has worked up an excellent reputation in the Northwest. Olsen has only one policy, which he figures is the best, honesty.

New Luggage Shop Opens In War Eagle Building.

A long felt need has been filled by the opening of the Sioux City Luggage Shop at 515 Pierce street, in the new War Eagle building.

A full line of high class leather goods, including traveling bags, suit cases and trunks, has been arranged for the inspection of the general public. Mr. C. H. Loudenlager, manager, extends an invitation to everyone to visit the store and view the stock. Fair visitors will be especially welcome.

Service and satisfaction are the aims of the establishment, which has adopted a policy of the lowest price consistent with quality.

In connection with the sales department a repair shop has been opened. Although somewhat of a novelty in this vicinity, the luggage repair station is something which has been needed for a long time.

A few years ago Sioux City welcomed a newcomer, Mr. A. Simons, furrier. He established a small fur shop at Pierce Street and avowedly hard to establish a lasting business. Today Mr. Simons is located at 702 Pierce Street in the Grain Exchange Building and has added another creditable organization to the city. Mr. Simons is well known in the entire territory, due to conscientious work and fair dealing.

A discovery has been made by M. Dhaak, of the Sioux Optical company of Sioux City, whereby all errors in fitting glasses are eliminated. By the new methods he is enabled to absolutely correct imperfect vision. This new discovery will be especially beneficial in unusual cases of optical trouble that have baffled expert skill, as it never fails to attain the object sought, to do away with all errors. In ordinary cases it not only assures accuracy, but does away with the use of drops or drugs, which is so dreaded by the public.

Woodwork Makes "Homes", Not "Houses".

Beautiful home illustrations and understandable drawings show how woodwork may be so selected as to produce individuality and harmony in the creation of a home that will be more than a mere house.

Speaking of home building, F. L. Huetlin, president of the Curtis Sash and Door company, said: "When figuring costs you must always take into consideration what your money buys. For instance in ordinary millwork you don't get practical utility--the extra work we go further than that--you get beauty of design and perfected construction which insure permanent satisfaction. And the cost is no more than what you have to pay for any good woodwork, because we turn it out in large quantities in splendidly equipped factories."

Twenty years of experience in the shop repair business with never a dissatisfied customer is the boast of George Meyerstein, proprietor of the O'Connell Shoe Repair Co., 515 Fifth Street.

Complete electrical equipment enables this shop to give the best service in the shortest possible time.

Motor Trucks and Paved Roads Aid Household Movers.

Automobile trucks and paved roads have revolutionized the moving industry.

Only a few years ago a householder who desired to move his effects from one city to another had to avail himself of the transportation service afforded by the railroads with its consequent delays, breakages and slow deliveries, to say nothing of red tape involved and necessity for dragee at both ends of the journey.

Today it is not uncommon for a family living 150 miles from Sioux City to be moved here within 24 hours after the order is placed and the goods safely delivered and placed in the home. By the railroad method a week is not an unreasonable time for such transportation.

The Jekins Van & Storage company is equipped to make long and short hauls from or to anywhere in this territory at a minimum cost.

The Alpha Candy Kitchen, 425 Jackson street, is specializing in luncheons and sodas for fair visitors. It carries one of the most complete lines of home made candies in the city.

INTERSTATE FAIR ARRANGES ANNUAL RACING MEET
Harness Record Has Been Lowered 68 Seconds in 100 Years.

The centennial anniversary of harness racing in America is to be observed by the Interstate Fair this year according to official announcement of the speed department. A racing card more pretentious than any program ever staged by the fair will feature the coming meet.

Many remarkable achievements have been accomplished in the harness horse world the past century. One hundred years ago the record for a mile was only a few seconds less than three minutes. Today many horses can do the mile in less than two minutes. The great Dan Patch, at the age of five carried a race mile in 1:54, a speed believed impossible not more than thirty years ago. Is a 1:50 horse a possibility of the future? Many trainers and owners of big stables believe that no such mark will ever be attained. It is their contention that it is physically impossible for any horse to make this time hitherto to the present day sulky. They admit that some genius may improve the bike sulky sufficiently to cut a second or two more off present records, but they assert there will never be a 1:50 harness horse.

Predict 1:50 Horse.

Another school of racing enthusiasts contends that a harness horse will be developed some day, which will do the mile in less than 1:50. This prediction is based on the performances of the past century during which the record has been lowered sixty-five seconds. They believe that such improvements will be made in track construction, racing equipment and breeding that this time will become common.

Improved construction of race courses has been a problem which has interested the greatest engineers. Round tracks, elliptical tracks and kite shaped tracks have been built. These tracks were devised to permit the old high wheel sulky to take the turns without cutting down the speed of the horse. The present day track which is oval shaped is the result of all these experiments and the perfection of angles, grades and elasticity of roadbed by application of modern engineering.

Kite Tracks Tried.

Several kite tracks were constructed. The first one was built at Independence, Iowa, in 1890. It proved effective too and several records were broken on this kind of a track. Its one long turn gave it an advantage over two turns. Still the racing was done so far away from the stands, erected at the tail end of the kite, that it was discarded.

It was the cherished ambition of every horseman in those olden days to own a record making horse just as it is now. Horsemen and trainers as well as engineers sought to solve the problem. One pioneer horseman even stunk an entire fortune in the building of a mile track in Maryland which ran down grade the entire way.

Must Have Our Luxuries.

Springfield, Mass., Republican: A statement of the National City Bank of New York shows that while manufacture in the United States fell off in 1921 30 per cent below the total of 1919, most of the articles classed as luxuries held their own or actually gained. It would appear that the public acquired an increased taste for luxuries when earnings were large and retained the taste in undiminished volume after earnings went down.

Worm Damages Alfalfa.

Neligh, Neb., Sept. 7.—From several parts of the state come reports of the ravages of a small green worm in the alfalfa fields. The worm cuts into the stalk near the ground and it withers and dies. They are in many instances so numerous as to threaten the destruction of the third crop of hay.

John E. Nichol, who resides northeast of this city, reports their presence in his field. He has sent some of the worms to the state school of agriculture to ascertain what they are and how to combat them.
