JUDGES SPEAK AT LARGE GATHERING

"Constitution Week" is observed Friday with address by Judges Welch and Allen.

PATRIOTISM IS THE KEYNOTE

F. S. Berry Presides at the Mass Meeting Prompted by the American Bar Association.

The meeting in observance of "Constitution Week," at the Community hall Friday evening was largely attended. Judge A. A. Welch of Wayne, and Judge V. V. Allen of Madison, were given close attention. F. S. Berry presided at the mass meeting. The speaker explained that one and a half millions of people were wanting to change this government, and that the American Bar Association had taken the lead in this movement in behalf of the country's constitution and laws.

The speaker explained that the constitution determined the manner of governing the states. The constitution is made by the people—supreme authority in this country. He reviewed the history of the constitution, from the first meeting of the framers in 1787 to the present day.

Judge V. V. Allen was the next speaker. He said the republican form of government was in danger. He said that people cannot have a government without looking after it. He said that the constitution is the foundation of our government.

Judge Allen called attention to the different elements that have sprung up against the constitution. He mentioned the Tories in the revolutionary war, copperheads in the civil war, and the reactionaries in the present day.

Study article is often resorted to by the ignorant and slothful in an endeavor to keep up with intelligent and honest effort.

It is hoped both sides to the conflict in Oklahoma will refer to the courts to determine their respective rights rather than resort to armed force, the consequence of which might be far-reaching.

To promote the best in citizenship and law observance, those laws of high character and high purpose should weed out of the profession low-browed tricksters whose conscienceless cunning seeks to subvert the intentions of government.

Some local organization pointing to the distinctly legible signs pointing the way outward toward strangers, and indicating distances to other places. It is easy enough to get into town, but hard to get out on the right track, and we don't want to force strangers to stay contrary to their feelings. We want them to come back.

It would seem that the world has enough trouble on hand without having to contend with encroaching communism. Premier Stanhoff Bulgaria says the communists have shattered the civilization of Russia and are now aiming at his country. Why don't communists restrict enjoyment to Russia, and withhold attack on other countries at least until they get rested up?

An education is an eminently desirable acquisition, but acquired, it must be looked after and charged with steam to make it productive and profitable. A man who straddles an education, as he would a horse, and expect it to carry him without effort on his part. After an education is received, a respectable assortment of schooling he must get back of it with energy and reasonable judgment to make it serve a useful and respectable purpose. You can't take education by the rear and lead it somewhere, tie it to a post and instruct it to work and produce while you snooze or loaf. It won't work while you sleep. It merely facilitates applied effort.

There has been talk of a railroad extension to the river at Yankton, crossing the new bridge at that place, and making a direct line to Omaha.

What is Wrong with Kerosene Lamps?

Why do they flicker and smoke? It is the fault of the crimp-top lamp chimney. The properties of kerosene have changed due to the enormous demand for gasoline. The old-fashioned crimp-top chimney will not function any more. To get a big, white, light-producing flame use the Light Type Chimney. The difference in the light obtained is remarkable. Whether the talk is based on some ground theory or mere suggestion we do not know. But we do know that when a direct north and south railroad is seriously considered, Wayne should be on the line. It is not necessary to prove to a railroad company the importance of Wayne as a shipping point. It is not necessary to furnish proof of rich surrounding resources. These things are known. But Wayne should be alert to any contemplated railroad extension in any part of the state and lend any desired or advisable cooperation.

Regardless of the professions of the Ku Klux Klan, when it adopts methods of coercion or deals out punishment contrary to law, it is in violation of the constitution and to the statutes of the country. No organization can usurp the functions of courts without an assault on lawful government. Justice is sometimes miscarried under the law. Injustice is sometimes suffered under the law. But the instances are few and far between. Justice would follow the promptings of a self-appointed body outside of the law. Under our form of government, no business is given to a hearing before an impartial tribunal. If people are robbed of this right and subjected to the caprices of a consolidated mob, prejudice would debase sober judgment and our civilization would soon totter and fall. Accusations should be made openly, and justice should be meted out according to the lawful and orderly processes of the country.

Careful Handling of Hogs in Shipping

Loss through injury to hogs in shipment to market is an important item affecting the profits of the farmer and shipper. During the past year in a period of six months there were received at nine of the principal stockyards of the country a total of 28,375 dead hogs and 38,708 in a more or less crippled condition. Inquiries to reports received from the United States department of agriculture. These figures indicate clearly a waste that is largely unnecessary, most of which can be attributed to carelessness on the part of those handling the animals at the points of origin of shipments.

Aside from the wrecks and extreme weather conditions, there seems to be no logical reason for so many hogs dying between points of origin and destination. Much fault in this respect is attributed to improper handling of swine just prior to shipment. Quite often hogs about to be shipped are rushed to some small inclosure, penned up in

Reduce Your Production Costs

Farming, like every other business, must cut down the overhead.

It is not a question of being able to afford a Fordson; it is a question of being able to continue farming on the old too-costly basis. The farmer's problem is not all a sales problem; it is also a production problem. He must cut down the cost of production.

The Fordson does more work at a lower cost and in less time than the old hand methods. Let us give you the proof—Write, phone or call today.

When ready for market, hogs should be assembled a sufficient length of time prior to the date of shipment to allow them to become rested. They should not be crowded into small pens or houses nor fed heavy rations. If they are driven to a loading point they should not be rushed on the way; if they are hauled too many hogs should not be crowded into the truck or wagon. The loading chutes should not be too steep, should be made secure, and should have the sides protected so that the animals will not fall off. Crowding too many hogs in a car, particularly in hot weather, is likely to result in a number of them dying in transit. Loading hogs affording a heavy feed injurious to them. A little hunger is far better for them on a journey than indigestion. There is nothing to be gained by added weight of the animals by forced feeding just before shipping. The aim should be to get as many hogs as possible to the stockyards in good condition.

No Need of Clerk's Utens. Lincoln Star: Labor unions have contributed a fund of $10,000 to be used to organize a union of "white collar" men. If the present stigma of "white collars" clings into the high paid ranks of the overall brigades long continues, a white collar famine may accomplish all that a white collar union could hope for.

Will Let Him Alone. Birmingham News: Coolidge enjoys being alone, and doubtless the senate will accommodate him if he really favors some kind of cooperation with Europe.

Football and the Fall Season Come Again

The same and yet different each season. Brown and Dale are both working with good squads to show us something different and better in football. Each season the air seems brisker, the foliage more brilliant and the sun more radiant as the fall comes on.

Just as each season we are inclined to believe that the styles for men are more varied, more handsome and more distinctive. We know you will think so when you look at our line of new Kuppenheimer suits and Ed V. Price tailoring for this season.

Fall hats are beautiful in all the new brushed finish models.

Travelo coats, Jerald sport coats, natty leather coats and vests will help to make the football time and all winter more comfortable for you. We have everything for you men, if it's clothing you need.

J. A. Busby, who resides near Jackson has lately been in the neighborhood of Fort Randall, looking over the country. He returned from his trip on Monday. He thinks that country is not fit for farming although it might do for stock raising. For the latter purpose, he thinks it might do very well, but there is too much sand for anything else. He will therefore be content to remain here in one of the best regions of the state.

On Wednesday, of last week, J. Leach of this place was at Sioux City, and had a risky adventure. He was sitting on the river bank waiting for the ferry boat, when a woman, Mrs. Nelson of that place came down to the river and jumped in. Mr. Leach immediately jumped in after the woman, and with great difficulty and danger, and after much resistance, rescued her and brought her to land. Mr. Leach's bravery in saving the life of that unfortunate woman is worthy of the highest praise.

Former Senator Dead. Stanton, Neb., Sept. 22.—Former State Senator James B. Brooks, wealthy farmer and pioneer of Stanton county and prominent in Nebraska Masonic circles, died suddenly at his home, three miles east and one mile north of Stanton early this morning with what is believed to have been stomach trouble. He was 71 years old last August.

Mr. Brooks had been suffering with stomach trouble for about a month but lately had been improving and was feeling much better. Friday evening he ate a hearty meal, but took sick immediately afterwards and lost consciousness. He passed away at 2 o'clock this morning.

Senator Brooks came to Stanton county in the early '80s and in the early days was prominent in the affairs of the Farmers' Alliance, in which he held office in different capacities for a number of years.

While in the legislature he was a prominent worker for good roads and served on several important highway committees. He served, but one term, being defeated for reelection by Robinson of West Point.

Senator Brooks was a thirty-third degree, Mason, which degree was conferred upon him in recognition of his work in the Masonic lodge and as a member of the North Light Lodge No. 41 A. F. & A. M. of Stanton and of the Scottish Rites of Omaha.

Surviving are his widow and two daughters and three sons: Mrs. Emil Enterman of Stanton and Miss Nellie Brooks at home and Omar Brooks of Omaha, and Ira Brooks of Pilger and Earl Brooks of Stanton.

Mr. Brooks retired from active work on the farm about twelve years ago, but continued to be interested in large land holdings in Stanton county. His farms were worked by his three sons.
