With fine weather, corn picking is going forward rapidly, and the yield is uniformly good. Pickers are not having as many changes for their services, and accordingly they are reaping a liberal share from the harvest.

Attention is called to disregard of the law regulating car lights. It is said automobiles often are run in the city at night with their headlights without tail lights. The law specifically provides for both in the interest of safety.

If the Ku Klux Klan intends to be law-abiding and respectful to the courts it does not need to conceal its membership and operate under cover. If its purpose is to protect its members without tail lights, the law specifically provides for both in the interest of safety.

It is suggested that the high price of cotton will enable the south to increase its purchase of corn and pork from the north, and thus indirectly stimulate prices for farm products here. With plenty of money derived from cotton, the south ought to be able to feast on corn and pork all winter.

We notice in a newspaper published in November, 1877, some one advised the north to buy cotton at ten per cent. At that time there was little money to loan and small credit on which to borrow. It is believed that the north ought to carry much of a burden of debt. Earnings were so meagre that an obligation of a few hundred dollars caused nightmare.

President Coolidge's Thanksgiving day proclamation is concise, broad, comprehensive, sympathetic and unselfish. It is not rhetorical and extravagant. It does not invite Americans to hug to themselves thought of superior advantage. It asks thankfulness for blessings that enable greater service to mankind. It breathes the spirit of helpfulness to the less fortunate of other lands. It is pure Americanism from the depths of a great American's soul.

Members of a family made themselves to disengage that citizens of Nebraska community gave them a sum of money, raised by popular donations, to pick up and leave and not return. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is following the footsteps of his father as a Sunday school speaker. In his talk last Sunday he pointed out the need and efficacy of brotherly love in business. He may have practiced brotherly love, or he may intend to practice it. In any event, the idea, though not new, is still a good one. Brotherly love is a wonderfully constructive and satisfying force, but it has to be exercised with some care to avoid being hooked and prostrated by those who are its organizers, to and who misinterpret its meaning.

Every one who is reasonably active and who is trying to accomplish something, has a varied assortment of critics. The most persistent critic is the idler who expends surplus energy in that way. Another critic taken time from routine work, on account of envy or jealousy. This kind of critic just wants to destroy. Then there are constructive and deconstructive critics. The latter suggest a change for the better, is carried along by society as a large liability. The one who can substitute something better, is progressive. The one who is content with his duty to the world, often may be wrong in his judgment, but he will do well to listen only to the constructive critic, and then do what he thinks is right.

We have heard of a preacher, now pastored to final reward, who received the munificent salary of $500 per year. He had a wife and a large family of children. Granting the assumption that a preacher should not preach in order to pile up riches here below, it will be conceded that he must comply with certain material demands in order to exist and that he should for his family. In an effort to give his family reasonable comfort and some of the necessary advantages of society, imagine the sacrifice that a man's family must make in this period of high prices to stay on the job and try to herd a congregation into heaven at present rates.

Republicans Retain Control In Congress
NORFOLK Daily News, Nov. 7: Democrats were elected yesterday in all three states where there were gubernatorial elections—Kentucky, Maryland and Mississippi.

Veinmont, where the only senatorial contest was held, returned a republican—Porter H. Dale, who defeated Democrat Park H. Pollard, cousin of President Coolidge.

In the seven contests for the house, the democrats won four, and the republicans three, one of the republican victories being an upset, in which former Representative Fairchild defeated his democratic opponent for the place made vacant by the death of J. Vincent Griffin in the twenty-fourth New York district. Party alignment was unchanged in the "other congressional election."

The victory of the democrats in Kentucky where Representative William J. Fields defeated Charles Deane presented a very close pendulum which at the last election swept Gov. Edwin P. Morrow, republican, into office. Mr. Fields' majority was so decisive that he will have a democratic legislature to support him.

Governor Ritchie, re-elected in Maryland over Alexander McHenry, strong republican, had an increased majority over his first election. H. L. Whitfield, democrat, had no opposition in Mississippi.

Retain New York Assembly.
In New York state the republicans retained control of the general assembly, but the democratic judiciary ticket, headed by Nathan S. Brown, was swept into office overwhelming the republican and independent tickets, supported by William R. Hearst.

The soldiers' bonus apparently was carried and the hydro-electric power project beaten.

Local issues were voted on in various sections of the country. Virginia turned down a $50,000,000 bond issue for good roads. Ohio elected mayors supported by the Ku Klux Klan in Youngstown, Portsmouth, Akron and several smaller cities.

Philadelphia returned W. Freeland Kendrick republican, as mayor by an overwhelming majority. In Illinois, Miss Mary Barteime, the first woman to be elevated to a circuit court judgeship, was elected in Cook county. She is a republican and led the ticket. The republicans elected eleven and the democrats nine. Judges of the superior court.

Republicans Win New Jersey.
The New Jersey legislature remained in the republican column notwithstanding the vigorous campaign waged by Governor Silvers, democrat, for a democratic law making body. American party candidates, who waged a fight in Utah under the slogan, "Separation of Church and State," were beaten.

Mayor Ralph, republican, of San Francisco, apparently was reelected.

House Majority Is 18.
The results of the congressional elections will leave the lower house of congress with the lineup:
Republicans 225
Democrats 205
Socialists 1
Independent 1
Farmer labor 1
Vacancies 2
The republican majority in the senate will remain at six.

Souder Trial at North Platte.
North Platte, Neb., Nov. 6.—Judge John L. Tewel today temporarily overruled the motions seeking to quash the forger indictment against Samuel M. Souder, former Lincoln county treasurer, in announcing his decision, following a morning of legal arguments on the indictments, Judge Tewel said the motions were overruled with the understanding that evidence is given on the motion for demurrer.

Prospective jurors in the Souder trial were summoned this morning, but were excused until this afternoon when they will be advised definitely when they are to return for trial. Indications are the arguments on motions by defense attorneys seeking to oust Will E. Shuman as special prosecutor, for a continuance for a plea in abatement and for a change of venue will take several days and that it may be Monday before the work of selecting a jury will get under way.

Defense attorneys say that there will be interesting evidence in the hearing on the motion seeking to oust Mr. Shuman as special prosecutor. Shuman is president of the taxpayers league of Lincoln county which was active in bringing about the investigation and audit of county bonds resulting in Souder's indictment.

Defense attorney Robert Beatty in his arguments on the forger's motion this morning, sought to distinguish the difference between the making of a "false instrument" and "the false making of an instrument." He argued that although the contents of an instrument are false, it is not forged when signed by the county treasurer who, by virtue of his office, has a "legal right" to sign his name to such a paper. He declared that such an act as Mr. Souder has been accused of by the state may be malfeasance of office, but that it is not forgery as charged in the indictment.

Special Prosecutor Shuman argued that every letter in the tax receipts and checks under review were false, and that Mr. Souder knew they were false, therefore he should be tried for forgery. Attorneys for both the state and defense cited numerous authorities for their arguments.

Wages in California.
Fresno, Nov. 7.—Charlie McDonald of San Pedro, Calif., who left here 12 years ago, has been visiting relatives and friends in this community for the last few weeks, and reports that wages in California are high and that there is a demand for laborers. For several years Mr. McDonald worked at his trade, that of mason. Now he and his son are contracting masons, employing as high as 20 men. These masons receive $14 a day for eight hours and the hod carriers receive $14 a day.

Robbing Mail Boxes.

Columbus, Neb., Nov. 7.—Systematic robbing of mail boxes along the route out of Columbus by a trio of boys who ride out into the country ahead of the mail carriers, using bicycles as their means of transportation, causing no end of worry to the carriers at the Columbus postoffice.

Postmaster Fred Schofield says that patrons along the rural routes make a practice of leaving anywhere from 25 cents to $1 in the mail boxes with notes asking for stamps or to pay for parcel post packages or letters every day. There is hardly a carrier out of the Columbus postoffice who does not collect from $3 a day up in stamps along his route.

The boys, going out from Columbus every morning, gather the money left in the boxes. One instance that happened on rural route No. 3 and reported by M. Bonner, the carrier, was that a farm wife left 25 cents in a tin cup in the mail box and an unopened letter along with a note requesting the letter be stamped and that the remaining money be changed for postage stamps.

The youngsters preceded Bonner by about an hour. They took the quarter in the mail box and left a nickel in change saying it would pay for the postage on the letter and the remainder should be devoted to postage stamps. Bonner left the 3 cents in stamps, put 2 cents on the letter and went on his way. The next day the woman met him at the mail box and asked for the 3 cents change of the money. Bonner told what he had found and the woman said she had noticed three boys around the mail box.

Hogs Gather Corn Crop.

Trenton, Neb., Nov. 7.—Frank McConnell had an unusually good crop of corn of about 200 acres in the Republican valley. Instead of paying from 6 to 8 cents a bushel to have his corn husked, then another fee to have it shelled and then hire a man to haul it out either to feed or to market, he bought 1,000 head of hogs and turned them in the field. He has fenced off a part of the field and is letting them have the corn as they desire.

Time to Quit Dodging.

Omaha Bee: Passing the buck and dodging the question ought to come to an end. If Americans want prohibition, they ought to assist in giving life to the law. If they do not want it, they should come out in the open and say so. It is unfair to blame the president or the governor for not enforcing the law, and then secretly break it, as many are doing daily.

Charged With Manslaughter.

Lincoln, Nov. 7.—H. H. Ketchum, driver of the car that struck and killed Miss Bertie Meier of Scribner here Monday night, was arraigned on a manslaughter charge in justice court here today. He pleaded guilty and his bond was fixed at $5,000, but was reduced to $2,500. At a late hour today he was still making arrangements to furnish the required sum.

Trial was set for November 14, in district court.

It is universally agreed here that something must be done to curb reckless driving, but there is some question as to what the car can do in view of the recent paroling of Ernest Grainger and Henry Branch, jr., both of whom were brought before the district court on serious charges in connection with automobile accidents. The cases are not exactly parallel, but sufficiently similar to make the Ketchum case one for widespread, and often acrimonious discussion.

Farmers Buy Feeder Cattle.

Rising City, Neb., Nov. 7.—An entire trainload of choice feeder cattle were recently unloaded at Rising City. These cattle are the tops from five of the best ranches in western Nebraska and were bought directly from Keith county ranchers by a group of Butler county farmers. These farmers, headed by County Extension Agent C. H. Grau, drove out in cars and bought the cattle on the range. A special train was chartered to bring the cattle back and within 24 hours after leaving their native pasture they were in Butler county feed lots.

The shipment consisted of calves, yearling heifers, yearling, 2-year-old and 3-year-old steers, all well bred. Hereofers, and represented an investment of nearly $27,000.

The deal was put across by the cooperation of the Keith county ranchers and Butler county farmers and their respective county agents and farm bureaus.

company has spread broadcast throughout the country by employing national advertising the statement that diphtheria, the most dreaded disease of childhood, is absolutely preventable. An appeal to parents everywhere that they take advantage of the opportunity to save their children's lives by making them immune to the disease is being thrown. "No more diphtheria." Is the main announced, and it is backed by the most eminent physicians in the country. It would be sensible, therefore, for fathers and mothers to look into the proposition.

Dr. Herman N. Bundeson, Chicago, health commissioner, an acknowledged authority, insists that diphtheria can be prevented. He refers to the same methods as championed by the insurance company, which is the use of toxin-antitoxin to make children immune. Antitoxin, says Dr. Bundeson, is "a specific cure when properly given on the first day of attack," but he says that "toxin-antitoxin," the preventive agency, when properly administered, provides complete immunity against diphtheria during those years of a child's life when it is most susceptible." Dr. Bundeson estimates that "if only parents and physicians had availed themselves of the agencies provided by medical science for the cure and prevention of diphtheria there would have been a saving of 559 lives in Chicago from this disease alone" last year. Chicago lost 559 children in 1922 because of diphtheria, and Dr. Bundeson makes the broad statement in all confidence that every single case of the 7,363 could have been prevented.

An interesting thing about the preventive, which was worked out in recent years by Dr. Schick, of Vienna, is that it is painless and harmless. The patient taking the treatment does not even suffer discomfort. Science thus offers a boon, indeed, that ought to impress every family in every community.

Business.

Sioux City Journal: The movement of goods for the fall season has been accelerated appreciably, according to reports to the federal reserve boards. The wholesale trade is now better than it has been for three years. Detailed reports of general merchandising conditions over the last seven weeks show that buying has been conducted on a larger scale in anticipation of an increased demand for commodities of various kinds. In that period the total trade of the country increased 9 per cent over the business done a year ago, in spite of the fact that the season of increased over summer sales was smaller than usual and that production of basic commodities had declined.

Decreased production, however, was merely the result of adjusting the supply to the demand. It is recalled that for some months there was a fear that there would be over production of raw materials. It had long ago that this should be avoided. Expansion in industry had been so rapid that the danger of inflation was apparent. Goods on hand following the speeding up of production through the spring and summer were found to be sufficient to supply the demand even with a decreased output. It cannot be taken therefore in view of the report that wholesale and retail buying has been increased, that the decline in production of basic commodities indicates a decrease in business interest and activity. Production in cement, sugar and steel was increased over that period, and there also is a heavier demand for business and industrial buildings over a wide area as shown by the bigger volume of contracts signed.

Car loadings were kept at a high figure throughout September and October, the distribution of all classes of commodities by the railroads having continued at a record rate. This the federal reserve board points out, proves the statement of the increase in wholesale and retail business. Retail stocks at the end of September were very heavy, being 13 per cent larger than on the same date a year ago. In this connection it may be noted that the leading class of goods have reported heavier gross and net earnings for the first nine months of the year. The lines have been put to the limit of operation to distribute the goods demanded, and yet some of the western roads have not yet been able to show returns equal to what is considered a fair profit.

Wall street has gone through another feverish experience, reacting favorably and adversely to news out of Washington. The tariff program, which outlined American foreign policies and described the difficulties attending preparations for an international conference on the European economic problem. When the news that the United States would participate in a study of German reparations was published the market was made to fluctuate. Stock and bond markets. The stimulant somewhat did not take immediately and there was a decline after a spirited opening. Later there was an appreciable recovery, but when it was observed that France was not in accord with the United States on the Hughes proposal, gloom once more fell upon Wall street. The New York money market at this time is like a convalescent not sufficiently fit to resist without homeopathic remedy, and still not strong enough to resist the slightest indication that a change for the worse may come. Wall street is like one having great susceptibility to cold. The slightest draft causes a chill. This may be due to temperament, although financial experts are supposed to be without emotion. Perhaps some of them are attuned in such a way as to be over sensitive. Whatever the cause, it is a fact that the quickest reactions in all directions are registered in America's leading financial district.

Assessors Flaw in Law.

Lincoln, Neb.: Not Allen G. Fisher, attorney of Chadron, in a brief filed in the supreme court yesterday, asserts he has discovered a fatal flaw in the law that provides for search and seizure in connection with enforcement of the prohibition law. Mr. Fisher, who is attorney for Walter P. Mann, who conducts a soft drink establishment at Chadron and is charged with violation of the state law, says a search of the records shows the law, which was passed in 1921, was never signed by the president of the senate. He asserts that, as a matter of fact, the senate and house in the legislature passed different bills and that neither enacted bill had been approved by the other.

Fatal Auto Accident.

Lincoln, Neb.: Not Miss Bertha Meier of Scribner, Neb., freshman at the University of Nebraska here, died at a local hospital early this morning from a fractured skull, this morning from when she was struck by an automobile driven by H. H. Kettelhut of Lincoln, last night.

Her roommate, Edna Ertle, also of Scribner, sustained serious injury. The driver is being sought by the police. Witnesses to the accident asserted Kettelhut was driving rapidly and failed to sound an alarm.

Tendency Is Toward Weak Wheat Prices

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 7.—Although wheat held fairly steady during the week Oct. 29 to Nov. 5, and closed at practically the same level as for the previous week,

The reasons for this tendency toward weaker futures and cash markets, according to the report, were continued favorable foreign crop conditions, together with increased grain market confidence.

Reports of improved industrial conditions and the efforts on the part of the government to improve the financial conditions of western wheat growers were strengthening factors.

Government Report. The report of the government agricultural department follows in part:

"In the spring wheat markets the better grades held fairly while the poorer grades were sold at a discount. Flour prices declined slightly.

In the winter wheat markets cash prices were higher than futures prices per bushel. Milling demand was less active for high protein wheat because of competition of the Canadian market.

"Corn future prices also held fairly steady during the week. Cash prices for most markets made further declines.

New Corn Moving. "Receipts of old corn were light, but those of new corn were larger, although farmers were reported not to be selling freely.

"Unfavorable weather in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri has still caused excessive moisture and prices made further declines because of the hesitancy on the part of buyers in accumulating supplies of this corn.

"The out market continued fairly firm, but that of the section area has been steadily unchanged. Demand from southwest was limited but good amounts were worked south from Omaha.

Bloomfield Tells Tiger Story. Bloomfield, Neb., Nov. 7.—The tiger that has been annoying residents in this section has been decided to move northward for it is reported that it has been seen several times up in the Devil's nest canyon.

Local people are skeptical, and some say that deaths of the section are drinking a new brand, which accounts for the reports.

A number of Bloomfield bloodhounds, "Bud" Brodhead and William Kinney it is said, are organizing a hunting party and declare that they are going out into the nest and bring home the animal.

"Evidence January: When the mercury gets below the frost line to high prices of coal no longer and perpetual national issue.

F. P. A. in the New York World: "It is a pity that you haven't seen all the obituaries you read apply to them about those who are younger than you."

Birmingham News: The modern thinks he is roughing it when he slips off the frost in the air.

W. A. Wallace of Milton, Ore., was here during a few days of the past week, guest of his sister, Mrs. O. G. Granger. Mr. Wallace reports that the big apple crop of his section of Oregon is not finding a profitable market and that people are rather hard up.

Xenophon, Foy and Gregoir Cross have a new three-bulb radio receiving set and they heard the marooned north pole expedition state that they are finding their time hunting after fishing in the frozen regions. They get Los Angeles, Calgary, Canada, and distant points east and south weekly.

Mrs. E. E. Germant went to Council Bluffs Monday to visit relatives. She was accompanied, as far as known by Mr. Germant, by her daughter, Mrs. E. E. Buckley as one of the operators in the local railway station. Mr. Buckley has been transferred to the station at Bancroft.

Mr. M. Owen left Sunday afternoon for Chicago in response to a telegram announcing the death of his oldest sister, Mrs. Mary Jones, who passed away at her home from a stroke Saturday evening, aged 71 years. Mrs. Jones visited Wayne ten years ago. She suffered a stroke of apoplexy over a year ago. A stroke of Friday night terminated fatally. She is survived by one daughter with whom she had been making her home. She had lived in Chicago since she was 17 years old.

W. H. Buelow arrived home last Thursday, from Cheyenne, Wyo., Colo., where he had been spending his winter. Mr. Buelow says that the crop is unusually good, but that his farming was restricted entirely to wheat. His son is now planting 700 acres in wheat for next year's harvest, and it is hoped the venture will return enough to make up for this year's loss.

Nebraska Trebles Its Seed Potato Output

Lincoln, Nov. 4.—Nebraska has tripled its output of certified seed potatoes of this state college of agriculture, who has just returned from the western part of the state. He estimates that the crop of potatoes that has passed three rigid field tests from the college of agriculture will total 250,000 bushels, or approximately 400 carloads.

For several years seed potato authorities have been working to build up Nebraska's crop, which can find a ready market in the south if it can be labeled "tested and certified seed potatoes." Under the plan, therefore, field agents of the college of agriculture are sent to every grower of seed potatoes who applies for inspection. The first inspection is made in July, a second in August and a final field inspection in September. After the potatoes are in the bins there is a last inspection, when they are looked over for weevils, insect injuries, cuts and knobs.

The inspectors are instructed to reject potatoes that do not come up to grade. Under the present plan, the only exception being made in the matter of size. When the last test is completed the owner of the accepted potatoes receives a certificate and a tag which he fastens on the bag in which the potatoes are placed for shipment. The bag is sealed and passersby seed potatoes in Louisiana and Texas are assured that they are receiving only "Nebraska certified seed potatoes."

Before potatoes were planted this season the college of agriculture received requests for inspection from owners of 5,800 acres, representing 315 fields. As the season wore on the inspectors rejected 1,200 acres of acre that did not meet requirements, until the final field inspection was made on 2,900 acres, or 125 fields. In the field, according to Prof. Werner, tests can be made that are impossible after the potatoes have been put in the bins, and certain tests are necessary at certain periods in the development of the potatoes.

The inspection is self supporting, each grower paying a specified fee per acre. The college has found that it can support the work by charging a minimum fee of $6; an additional charge of 50 cents an acre is made for every acre over 10, and 25 cents is paid for every acre over 30. If the field is rejected after the first inspection half of the fee is remitted, a quarter is returned if it fails on the second inspection, and no money is returned if the potatoes fail to meet the bin tests. On potatoes that have been passed a charge of 3 cents a bushel is imposed before the certificate is issued.

Last year the greater part of Nebraska's seed potato crop went to Louisiana, it having been highly recommended by the state college of agriculture which has been conducting an educational campaign on the value of certified potatoes to the grower. The remainder of the crop is sold to Oklahoma and Texas. It has been found that these southern states cannot produce their own seed potatoes with the same facility as the more northern ones, as potato diseases and insects thrive more readily in the warmer climates and the stock deteriorates more rapidly.

The seed potatoes that Nebraska sells to the extreme southern tip of Texas will be planted between Christmas and New Year's day and will be marketed in April. Louisiana and Oklahoma will plant in February and their crop will be gathered in May.

COLDS AFFECT THE KIDNEYS

Many Wayne People Have Found This to Be True.

Are you writhed in bad weather? Does every cold settle on your kidneys? Does your back ache and become weak? Are urinary passages irregular and distressing? These symptoms are cause to suspect kidney weakness. Weakened kidneys need quick help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for weakened kidneys. Wayne—people recommend them. Ask your neighbor!

W. W. Davis, farmer, Wayne, says: "I had a lameness through my back just over my kidneys. I noticed the trouble mostly when I caught cold and it settled on my kidneys. This caused the secretions to pass too often. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills helping others and was led to try them. It didn't take Doan's long to relieve me. I had been bothered several times since, but a few Doan's have always fixed me up in a day or so."

Loss of compression, because of oil, leakage, old spark plugs and clogged valves never give any speed records or contribute to motor efficiency. To eliminate these faults, pistons and rings must fit the cylinder bore snugly as the "lock to the shore". Automobiles, trucks, tractors, motor boats, airplanes, all operate smoothly, generate more power and give more mileage per gallon after the cylinders have been reground and fitted with new pistons and rings.

This county having voted in favor of township organization, the commissioners at their next meeting will, according to the law of last winter, have to divide up the county into townships and appoint assessors, town clerks, supervisors, justices, town treasurers, constables, etc., etc. The officers thus appointed will hold their offices until the elections in the spring.

Corn Products

Lincoln Journal: Except as it served the kitchen stove, the corn cob has been a waste product of the corn. The extending uses of corn are illustrated by the several recent discoveries by which the entire corn cob is converted into highly useful articles. It is now possible to produce from cobs a high yield of a glue suitable for pasting the box board now largely used by the mercantile concerns. Following this a lower grade adhesive is made from the residue is then pure cellulose suitable for paper manufacture. In these processes there is produced incidentally a quantity of tarfall, a chemical of great value in dye manufacture. Corn is still used mainly in meat production, but its use in concentrated manufactured articles such as glucose with a world market is growing at a great rate. It is obvious that corn will in no very great while be called upon to make up a gasoline deficit. The American corn belt, meanwhile, has nowhere in the world such competition as our wheat growers meet. Nebraska, normally producing ten bushels of corn to one of wheat, can "sit easy."

To Organize Men's Club

Bloomfield, Neb., Nov. 2.—At a meeting held at the city hall and at which a large number of men were present in response to invitations issued by the Rev. H. P. Fuchs of the Congregational church, it was decided to organize a men's club. H. R. VanAuken was elected president of the new organization and he outlined its activities toward bettering the social life of the community in general and will afford recreation and improvement for its members. A series of the church served lunch during the evening.

From Other Editors
Fairbury News: We've heard several Fairbury auto drivers complain recently of men and women who regarded the customary hand signals while driving about our highways. They complain that many drivers give left-hand turns in a haphazard manner, without extending the arm from the car, as should be done, to notify the driver in the rear of their intentions. Or they come to a sudden stop without first dropping the left hand outside the car to show that they are going to stop. The driver of every car should remember that the man driving behind him is watching him closely for such signals as he may give, and that it really is the only safeguard against an accident. One little bit of carelessness in using the hand signal may result in a bad collision, with a possible loss of life, or at least, costly damage to machinery. It's easy to signal, and it's of criminal carelessness that keeps anyone from doing so. Remember that the next time you go to make a left-hand turn or when you stop your car.

Hartington Herald: Nobody yet has raised an issue with President Coolidge on this subject. It is a fact of fact to it a bid for the presidential nomination. There have been various hints that Mr. Coolidge will not be unopposed in the convention, but when run to their source they are found to originate in the personal ambitions of individuals. The presidency is the greatest prize in the world, and the American has a right to seek it if the incumbent of the office has made a satisfactory record and is not unopposed in the convention, but the mere desire of another person to supplant him cannot be considered. There can be no reasonable doubt that Mr. Coolidge is the choice of the republican convention next year if his administration continues as highly creditable as it has proved thus far.

Lincoln Journal: A. C. Townley, the former head of the North Dakota farmer movement, announced that he has got out of the non-grain league was ninety days in jail. He now asks the farmers to join the national producer's alliance, which substitutes co-operation for socialism, but the state socialism he formerly asked for. Mr. Townley has been through bitter experience. It has taught him the responsibility of organizing all of the producers under a single scheme of business management. All he hopes for now, apparently, is a union of the progressive farmers, who carry out co-operation under plans that have been tested with some success for many years. Some of his remarks are notably those favoring a better understanding between farmers and town-people, indicate a considerable softening in the mood of the old time fighter.

Albion News: We do not believe that the people of the middle west are nearly so well-off as some would have us believe. We believe that there is the unbounded prosperity that we hear of occasionally. The farmer who possesses his own acres or who laid away something for a rainy day during the period of high prices incident to the war has not been suffering particularly, other than the loss of profits that were his when high prices reigned supreme. The farmer who has been hit the hardest has been the man who speculated or who through circumstances perhaps beyond his control, was not able to forge ahead during the war and was caught when the high came with little if any reserve. And what is said of the middle-west farmer can be said of the middle west small town business man. The great prosperity that has been heralded through various trade and other papers is largely centered in the manufacturing centers where it has been there has been plenty of employment with high wages and high prices for the goods produced. But the farmers and the small town business men are far from down and out and while times may not be rosy they are going to come out all right in the end, and a higher and better because of what they have been through.

Cow Gets into Hotel.
Bloomfield News, Nov. 2.—Patrons of the Commercial hotel of this place came mightily near to having real fresh cream for their coffee yesterday morning when the proprietor, who had retired at about midnight and was sleeping peacefully, was aroused from his slumbers by peculiar noises coming from the vicinity of the hotel lobby. He started an investigation and found a "bosky cow" in full possession of the building. He was found responsible for the prank. The bovine was coaxed, pushed, cajoled and threatened until, finally ejected from the building, he was found and guests returned to their rendezvous with old Morpheus.

West Point Pioneer Dies.

After many years on the farm, Mr. Thiesen and his family moved to this city. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Thiesen, William, a professor at the University of Wisconsin, and Ralph Thiesen, recently elected a professor at the Nebraska University. THE UNIVERSAL CAR

New Roadster

Business men—with a boom the roadster has always been very popular—are well pleased with the changes embodied in this model. Always rugged, the car has been made decidedly stronger and more comfortable.

A well designed top and steering mechanism for their drive toward adding a finished, clean cut appearance.

Make it a point to see the other new models also on display in the nearest Ford dealer's show room.
