The movement to remove the wartime tax on moving pictures is supported by the belief that they are an essential amusement for the masses, and that by eliminating the tax, the production could be made better without increasing the cost to the people.

As one jogs along over another holiday and looks back over the accumulated years, he wonders how he could have lived so long and accomplished so little. As one merges into the last quarter or home stretch, he may well resolve to stick to the harness and put enough energy and matured judgment into his action to make up for some of the neglected opportunities of earlier life.

Pictures of Santa Claus vary according to the artistic touch, according to the mental conception of the artist. Lately we have seen pictures of the old chap that made one think he was visiting a murgue. A dourly pulled was on the faces of some, with eyes all but closed. Others were lit up with a spirit of kindness that did full justice to the Santa Claus ideal. Santa Claus must radiate good nature and good cheer to be in accord with the Christmas utopia, and the artist who cannot make him so appear, has failed, and ought to turn attention to the less soulful task of drawing wooden idols and cigar store Indians.

A life of uniform generosity is not always adequately rewarded with evident gratitude, and should not expect to be. The person who is not regular and generously, must not expect recipients to burn red fire or get out the bands to emphasize relations of thankfulness. Fondly in the habit of receiving instead of giving, often accept gifts as a matter of right and regard donors as merely doing their duty. The thoughtless, fastidious, "top-of-the-world" first page, "in the mind of the study recipient is that the giver is not too generous and could well afford to give more. While one may deny himself privileges and comforts in order to make giving possible, he must not be cast down at rewards if his generosity falls to award manifest gratitude. The chronic recipient does not understand, and he benefits less in spirit of exaltation than the giver. The one who bestows gifts in accordance with his means, satisfies conscience, whereas the one who receives with no thought of giving, feels that the world is still rather hard-boiled and unkind. This unhappy incongruity supports the scriptural saying that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

Senator Hiram Johnson's Chicago speech in which he announced his intention of resigning his present doubtful nomination would have been little more demagogic if he had pledged himself to regulate the weather. If his platform had promised to bring sunshine to the mar with new-mown hay, and at the same time moisture to the one with a field of corn, he would have appeared little less ridiculous. When a candidate tries to flimflam the public by a brilliant speech, he might as well hang up his fiddle and lapse back into a groove for which nature designed him.

Christmas is the world's most notable and most observed holiday because it commemorates history's noblest life. The finest and purest gold of character was reflected by the Man of Galilee, and the passing of twenty centuries has not dimmed the luster that shone from his spirit of peace and good will and helpfulness. We all know we should exemplify his kindly nature, but the effort to do so in the present and hereafter is retarded by too many selfish considerations. Too often we are so busy trying to get the other fellow to follow the great Nazarene's rules of living that we forget to practice them ourselves. Let each one look to the Christ ideal for inspiration and guidance and the coming year will see less bitter strife, more happy fellowship and long forward strides in civilization. It is not a costly gift or a rich feast that makes a wonderful Christmas. It is good fellowship that really counts and lasts and exalts.

Prospect for Another Season

Our Dear Poultry Friends:

The outlook for another season and for some time to come is, the brightest star in the history of chickens. In all our experience things have not looked one-half so favorable as right up to now. Poultry keepers by this time of year should have sold all hens which are not to be kept over for breeding purposes. Also the pullets should be culled. Then buy one good male for fifteen to eighteen hens of the Leghorn breeds. Now, please don't let these opportunities slip one by one.

We don't blame you for going slow on a lot of these wild cat schemes, but we wish for you to take hold with all your might and energy on a business enterprise, the biggest in the world. Let us furnish you with your wants in the Single Comb White Leghorns his season. Look for our advertisement in the following papers after January 1, 1924: Wayne Herald, Winser Chronicle, Nebraska Farmer of Lincoln, Neb., The Weekly Kansas City Star of Kansas City, Mo., Omaha Daily Drovers-Stockman of South Omaha; Nebraska Union Farmer of Omaha, and the Norfolk Daily News of Norfolk, Neb. Our prices are on the square. On the other hand with the price reductions we have increased the quality of our S. C. W. Leghorns, being direct Firres strain. We will not under any consideration let cheap price influence us against real quality. We think too much of the welfare of our customers to play off on them anything but goods that will last and properly perform their duty. Everything we sell in the line of poultry is strictly sold under a money-back guarantee. It will pay you to change your breeding stock quite often, male birds at least every year and let a purebred breeder furnish you stock or eggs of the highest quality and don't look for a cheap bird or eggs. We hatch our own chicks. You get the fresh product direct from our poultry farm, nine and one-half miles due south of Wayne, Nebraska. You get what your order may call for or your money back. Our terms are cash with order. With our heartiest wishes that you and your family will have a Merry Christmas and Happy and Prosperous New Year, I am,

Sincerely Yours,

Only a Few More Days Until Christmas

The kiddies are counting the hours now. There's a feeling of suspense in the air in every home where children are. Closet shelves are being buried with many mysterious packages. There is much whispering and many shy looks. We can't help it because its appeal is so universal, its spirit so fundamentally good. Our store has withstood the raids of many families very well. We are proud of the part we have played in this preparation, and can still play. There is much practical merchandise here still that can be bought at very favorable prices. The belated shoppers can do last-minute buying where your dollar goes the farthest.

Substitute Ration Devised for Calves

In dairy herds whose entire output is sold as whole milk at high prices, there is need for a means of raising calves on other feeds. A number of substitute rations have been worked out at various experiment stations which have proved fairly satisfactory. On the experimental farm of the United States Department of Agriculture, at Beltsville, Md., a mixture has been devised as the result of experience, which is suggested for use in raising calves where the whole milk is more profitably disposed of through other sources.

The department's recommended ration is as follows: Take 60 parts finely ground corn, 15 parts linseed oil meal, 15 parts finely ground root, 10 parts dried blood flour, 10 parts skimmed milk powder, one-half part salt. Stir up with warm water at the rate of 1 pound of the meal mixture to about 5 pounds of water. Increase gradually as the whole milk is decreased, until at the time the calf is 50 days old it should be getting only grain. At this time 1 1/2 to 2 pounds of the meal mixed with water will constitute a day's feed. The total quantity of milk used is about 300 pounds; if less is fed the calves are likely to be unthrifty.

The time at which calves can be put on milk substitutes alone, say department dairymen, depends upon the same factors as in the use of separated milk, namely, the breed, development, and vigor of the calves, etc. It is hardly safe, as a rule, even with the most vigorous ones, to attempt to put them on milk substitutes alone within one month after birth; and with calves below normal in vigor some milk for two months or more may be necessary to raise them.

The department suggests, as a guide for feeding the above substitute to large, vigorous calves, the following schedule: First 10 days, 10 pounds of whole milk daily; second 10 days, 8 pounds of milk and 2 pounds of meal mixed up in 6 times its weight of warm water; third 10 days, 6 pounds milk and 4 pounds meal; fourth 10 days, 4 pounds milk and 12 pounds meal; fifth 10 days, 2 pounds milk and 16 pounds meal; after 50 days, 2 pounds meal and no milk. Smaller and less vigorous calves should be fed somewhat less, and the milk feeding should be continued a little longer. In any event, a total of 300 pounds of milk should be sufficient. Grain and roughage should be fed with milk substitutes the same as with separated milk.

Whole milk is the best food for a calf; skim milk ranks second. Calves fed the substitute as stated above have been subject to no more digestive troubles than the skim milk fed calves and the gains in weight have not been materially less.

Pay Fines of $2,000 For Making Boozie

Columbus, Neb., Dec. 15.—Nerbert Laska, 67, wealthy Polk county farmer, and his two sons, Leo, 26, and Fred, 21, paid into county court yesterday afternoon fines aggregating $2,000 and costs totaling $63.70, following the seizure by State Agents Bronckshmidt, Depew and Policeman Lehman and Weygint of what is said to be the largest moonshine plant to be confiscated in Nebraska since the state went dry. Houses on two big tents on an island in the Platte river one and a half miles upstream from the Columbus wagon bridge, the four officers found the Laska's layout capable of turning out hooch at the rate of from twenty-five to fifty gallons a day. The Laska farm lies on the Polk county bank of the river, and the island lies opposite it a short distance out in the river. Being north of the south bank of the stream, however, the island is in Platte county.

With an investment of more than $1,000 in equipment, the Laska plant was built by the state agents to be the biggest they have seen since the state went in to the business of discouraging bootleggers. Chief among the items of equipment were two great copper boilers, each having a capacity of about sixty gallons of mash, the coils, three pressure-gas tanks and burners which served the heating mediums, two large stock tanks and ten big barrels filled with mash that had been set, a half dozen other barrels, numerous crocks and jars, and several pumps constituted some of the accessories. It was evident from the layout that preparations were being made to add another unit to the plant, to put three, instead of two stills in operation. Eighteen gallons of liquor were found, in addition to more than 2,000 gallons of fresh mash, and, following directions given by John Laska, officers made a return trip to the farm and found nearly twenty-five gallons more, which he had hurriedly moved from the vicinity of the still when he received a tip that the officers were coming a few minutes before they arrived on the scene.

One of the tents, the two stills, and three pressure gas tanks and burners, one of the stock tanks from which the mash was emptied and a five gallon can of liquor were loaded into automobiles and hauled to town by the raiders late yesterday afternoon. All of the balance of the equipment was piled up, soaked with kerosene and burned.

Railroad Officials Meet at Bloomfield

Officials of the M. & O. railroad were invited to meet at Bloomfield recently to discuss shipping problems. Included in the official group were: E. C. Blondell, division superintendent; E. J. Carland, freight and passenger agent; H. C. Peterson, traveling agent; Frank McCabe, agricultural agent; H. R. Grouha, general claim agent; A. M. Fenton, general freight agent; R. L. Kennedy, general solicitor.

Following a 6 o'clock dinner, a mass meeting was held at the opera house attended by 250 people. Short speeches were made, and freight rates were thoroughly discussed. Following the mass meeting a smoker was held in the city hall.

Emil Lundberg Dies At Age of 16 Years

Emil Lundberg, 16-year old son of Mrs. Emma Lundberg of Sholes, died Monday of last week following an illness of several days from streptococci sore throat which is a form of infection. Funeral service was held last Thursday afternoon at the Brenner & Nelson undertaking parlors in Randolph with Rev. Mr. Carmony in charge. Deceased was born Jan. 35, 1907, and had always lived in Sholes. He was a pupil in the eighth grade of the Sholes school. His father died in July, 1910. Besides his mother the boy leaves four brothers.

Pleads Gilty To Transporting Boozie

Lyle Martin who was arrested on Wednesday night of last week, charged with transporting liquor, pleaded guilty in the county court and was assessed fines and costs amounting to $144, and his car was confiscated. The car will be sold by the sheriff Jan. 5.

Law Against Gift-Contests

York Republican: A ruling of the attorney general makes the holding of gift contests a very dangerous business for non-merchants and individuals. A wave of trade promotion has been going over the state and many towns have devised plans of giving away valuable prizes and property by lot to encourage trade. Now the attorney general has made it plain that he will be compelled to move against the conscious or unconscious violators of the statute. The merchants of York fell under the ban and upon being informed that their plan was questionable, immediately abandoned it. No group of citizens, however much they dispute the opinion of the attorney general, can afford to contest a plan that has a suspicion of moral wrong in it. Prompt obedience to the spirit of the law is always the mark of the good citizen—and the York merchants proved themselves to be good citizens indeed.

Card of Thanks. I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses of friends during the last illness and at the time of the death of my dear husband, W. H. Merriman, also for the beautiful floral tributes. Mrs. W. H. Merriman.

From Ponca Journal, Dec. 26, 1878:

The well known traveler, author and poet, Bayard Taylor, who was appointed United States minister to Germany a few months ago, died at Berlin on the 19th of this month, after a short illness.

The Sioux City Journal of last Friday states that about 15,000 Russians will leave the old country during the next three months, a large portion of whom will settle in eastern Dakota and the country tributary to Sioux City." Dixon county is in a great measure also tributary to Sioux City, but whether she will receive any of the 15,000 Russians is very doubtful. And yet, Dixon county presents advantages which cannot be surpassed in Dakota or Iowa.

The land in Dixon county is equal to the best in the world, as is shown every year by the immense crops of wheat, oats, corn and vegetables. Dixon county has an abundance of excellent timber, pure water, and a climate unsurpassed for health. We have throughout the county good schools and churches, and a class of citizens who would be an honor to any country where they lived. The land here is very low in price. One third of what it would cost to buy an inferior tract in Dakota or northern Iowa, would purchase a magnificent and valuable farm in Aoway, South Creek, Daily or Logan valleys. A farm unsurpassed for crops, or for the raising of cattle, can here be obtained at a mere nominal price. People coming west for the purpose of seeking homes will not regret visiting this county and seeing for themselves the many inducements which it offers.

A man named De Mirabile, who was hanged in Canada last week for murder, had such a careful regard for his health that if a relentless hangman had not suddenly nipped him off, he might have lived to a good old age. Before the rope was tied around his neck, it was suggested to him to remove his collar. "No," he replied, "I might catch cold."

A new and wonderful discovery of gold has recently been made in the Black Hills. It is about 50 miles northwest of Rapid City and 40 miles from Deadwood. It is said to prove richer than any other gold field in western Dakota. Great excitement exists at Deadwood and other towns in the vicinity, and multitudes of adventurous miners are flocking to the favored locality.

California Climate Buks.
Lincoln Journal: It is gathered from the judicial and impartial Portland Oregonian that the weather-makers are high jinks on southern-California the other day. "Two days and nights of cold, dust-laden gales," it says, "have given sections of Los Angeles the appearance of having been struck by a typhoon." It was necessary for the people to stay at home for some time to operate their vacuum cleaners and try to keep warm. "Reduced attendance is the rule, even in the foyers of the great cafeterias, where the social culture of Iowa, latter to discuss the latest movie scandal and listen to the free music." One gatherer from the rest of the report that all the highways leading to Los Angeles were blocked by tree trunks and drifting sand. The streets were a tangle of telephone poles, wrecked automobiles and shattered plate glass. Clouds of dirt, old newspapers, leaves and twigs swirled through the streets. The sun was obscured by dust and sand. It was a great day for the glorious climate of southern California to show what it could do.

CONFIRMED PROOF
Residents of Wayne Cannot Doubt What Has Been Twice Proved.
In gratitude for relief from aches and pains of bad backs—from distressing kidney ills—thousands have publicly recommended Doan's Pills. Residents of Wayne, who so testify years ago, now say the results were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Pills to Wayne kidney sufferers.

W. H. Hoguewood, prop. Wayne Dray Line, Wayne, says: "My back was often so painful and lame, I scarcely get up after getting my kidneys were in a badly disordered condition. Doan's Pills had been used in our home and I decided to try them. Doan's relieved me almost immediately and in a short time I was cured. I have since been free from all traces of kidney disorders." (Statement given August 4, 1910.)

On May 29, 1920, Mr. Hoguewood added: "Doan's Pills gave me a lasting cure several years ago when I was in bad shape with my kidneys." 60c at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
