Whole World in the Dumps at 5 o'clock

Tracy Kohl who left Friday for Florida on a business trip of a couple of months, writes from Kansas City that the truth expressed in the following editorial printed in last week's Herald seems true the world over: "If there is any hour of the day when we feel dejected and sad it is between 5 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and we have never been able to figure out the matter."

The whole world appears to feel the same way, states Mr. Kohl and the Americans are the only people who do not take advantage of this time. The Englishman has his pot of tea at this hour. The Russian stops for dinner at sun time and has his supper at 9:30. The Turk has his second cup of coffee and water pipe. The Germans gather at the Kaffee Haus or Wein Stube at this hour for lunch, for a look at the daily paper and for sociability. The Latin nations stop for the cup of tea or more generally for the European cocktail and a piece of pastry. And it seems that the same is true of the world around.

These people do not eat supper however at 6 sharp so as to finish as soon as possible. Eating and drinking in Europe are a ceremony and a privilege, not so purely an obligation and a habit as it appears here.

W. J. Kieper Marries Katherine Paulsen

Miss Katherine Paulsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Paulsen who live northwest of Wayne, and Mr. W. J. Kieper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kieper of Wayne, were united in marriage Wednesday, Dec. 26, in Sioux City. They were accompanied to Sioux City by Mr. Kieper's brother Henry Kieper, who returned home the same evening. The bride and bridegroom went to Omaha for a short visit, returning Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Kieper will live on the Adolph Kieper farm, five and a half miles northwest of Wayne, and they have the best wishes of many friends.

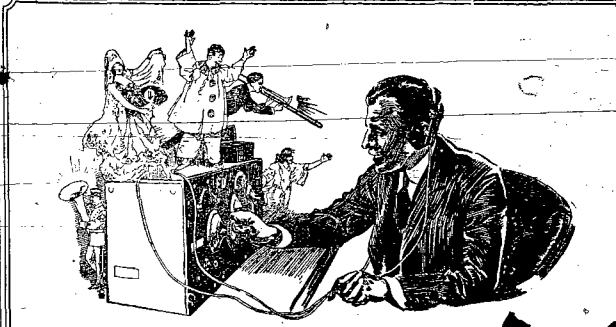

When the young couple came to their home Saturday they were greeted with a cheerful party, planned by Mrs. Adolph Kieper. About fifty friends and relatives were present to spend the evening. Cards and visiting were enjoyed at a sumptuous luncheon was served.

Bank Building at Neligh Sold

Neligh, Neb., Dec. 29.—The banking building of the old Atlas bank, which recently closed its doors here, was sold at auction yesterday by Emil Folsch, receiver for the failed bank. The building was purchased by Ray Swanson, cashier of the Antelope State bank, which was organized forty-eight hours after the failure of the Atlas bank. The purchase price was $37,500, while the original cost of the building, which was completed in the fall of 1914, was $87,400.

The building is considered one of the finest business buildings in the state outside of Omaha. The Antelope State bank has been conducting its business in the building since it

Air-Way Receiving Sets

This instrument is not only a remarkable value, but marks a distinct advance in the science of radio reception. In it the long-sought success in the use of radio frequency amplification has been achieved as an answer to the great and insistent public demand for genuine quality of radio frequency.

By genuine quality we mean good, full, natural tone, loud and distinct; sharpness of tuning, which gives protection against interference from other stations and allows you to hold and enjoy quietly the station you desire to hear; ease of tuning, which makes an instrument practical and dependable in the home for all the family; long range, which multiplies the pleasure and opportunities of radio possession.

To accomplish these essential results, Air-Way engineers embodied not only skill and knowledge in the design of our instruments, but gave care and precision in the manufacture of each and every part thereof which is the only certain guarantee of true quality.

Air-Way type "A" set is a four-tube instrument. It has one step of radio frequency amplification, one detector, and two steps of audio frequency amplification.

It is a long-range receiving set that can be operated to its full capacity by the members of the family. Broadcasting is reproduced on this set in Toledo home, Denver, Los Angeles, Dallas, Minneapolis, Duluth, Newark, Springfield, Yana. It is suitable for either head phones or loud speaking apparatus of tone is a genuine surprise to those accustomed to ordinary radio.

The cabinet is hand-rubbed and polished. Panel is 8-10 inch. Tubes are used in Air-Way construction, polished and engraved (attached on front with screws), and can be lifted out with observation posts in front of vacuum tubes for full inspection of this set.

To market this valuable instrument at the lowest price of our policy to give to the public the advantages of radio factories.

In price and merit this instrument is distinctive of the radio market.

Mrs. Ida M. LaCroix, aged 75, holds the honor of receiving the most boxes of fancy candies and bon-bons during the holidays than any other individual in Windale or vicinity. In all she received fifteen pounds. High school and college girls who bobbed tresses get not only the popular ladies in Windale.

The Windale library was closed Saturday on account of inclement weather. Windale has a library room with books and equipment of which any small town would be proud. The library room is in the public school building and a big uniform problem with the library board is sufficient heat when there is no school.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Bruce Wylie came to Winser Sunday where Mr. Wylie conducted the funeral of Miss Lena Bingham. On the return trip home they got stuck in a snow drift and were pulled out by farmers living close. Then coming as far as the Andrew Granquist place south west of Wayne were forced to stay all night, being unable to travel further in the snow. Monday morning William Wylie took a team and went to the Granquist place to get them.

Only An Election. Boston Transcript: Maybe it is only Mexico's way of handling a political election.

Mr. Kinsler, promoting the movement, stated that it was not known that these men lack of cooperation in enforcement in Nebraska to date, but the practice of ignoring the law has been, and is, a serious problem, which must be attended to with an iron hand by every county, and federal authority.

Punishment-of offenders has been fairly heavy in all courts, he said, but it is now the plan to give violators "a double barreled treatment, which it is hoped will have a lasting effect."

Both county and state will bring charges against offenders and punishment will be meted out when convictions are secured, he said. Following this the federal government will bring charges if cases justify, he added.

"In this manner the law runner or moonshiner will realize that the business is doubly dangerous," Mr. Kinsler pointed out.

Mr. Kinsler declared that he was working on a plan whereby alien violating criminal laws of the country will be subject to deportation. He has brought the plan to the attention of several Nebraska congressmen with the hope that some action will be taken, he declared. This movement is directed mainly toward the alien who violates the prohibition laws, who forfeit three-fourths of the violators, he said.

A definite plan of action had not been worked out by the county attorneys' meeting late this afternoon, but it was hoped that the sessions would form some plan of co-operation before the close of the bar association meetings.

Horses and Barn Burn... Wausau, Neb., Jan. 1.—Ed. Holmgren, a farmer living near Wausau, Neb., had the misfortune to lose five head of horses...

Man Frozen to Death... Wyoming, Neb., Jan. 2.—W. E. Wymer, 68, Burlington railway employee and resident of Beatrice for 40 years, was found dead on the sidewalk...

Admiral... Washington, Jan. 1.—Thanks to the ten commitments, the Golden Rule and the Sherman on the world, it is not necessary for the general populace to grope in moral darkness...

Freud by Science... St. Louis City Journal: "A remarkable feat for man to do his gangster served 45 years in prison for a murder that he did not commit and who at last was freed by a scientific discovery comes from Paris, Louis Duval, a druggist. His wife died in 1878 and an autopsy showed arsenic. The conclusion in the court was that M. Duval was guilty. He was sentenced despite his declaring that he had not administered arsenic to his wife. He went to prison where he remained nearly half a century before scientific knowledge that the circular had been his guilt was in error."

name of justice was that the court ordered the former prisoner to be granted an indemnity of 20,000 francs and an Annual Pension of 12,000 francs for the rest of his life to compensate for his years in prison...

new barns on their farms near Magnet. C. E. Owens, T. A. Remmey and C. E. Jones are doing the work. J. E. Albert, who lives near Wayne received some painful injuries when he fell from a load of hay. He was feeding cattle when a hay rack when the horses started and threw him off.

From Ponca Journal, Jan. 5, 1919:
This morning the barometer indicated 27 degrees below zero.
N. S. Porter has been at Jonia during the past week putting the finishing touches on Mr. Hill's new grid mill.

We learn that Mr. Day buys from 300 to 500 bushels of wheat per day, and pays from 35 to 50 cents per bushel.
A party went down to the lake near Dakota City one day this week, and caught about 100 pounds of hickory through the ice.

Dan Curry, jr., of Powder Creek, was run away with last week by a fractious pair of horses near New-castle. He was thrown from the wagon and severely injured.
Animated perhaps by the fact that the western part of Nebraska now takes the lead for roving and barbarous murders, the desperadoes of other states are competing for claims to infamous notoriety. In Kentucky, a place called Cray Orchard, a mob last week had a regular field fight, resulting from an old grudge, and thirty or forty shots were fired, killing one man and seriously wounding several others.

Defends Constitution.
Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 28.—The seeds of dissent have been planted in the United States and are about to take root, and only constant vigilance, determined effort and untiring zeal can prevent their spread, until they endanger the whole mighty fabric of government, Edward P. Holmes, president of the Nebraska Bar association, declared before the annual meeting of that organization here this afternoon.
Mr. Holmes, former district judge here, warned his fellow-barriers that the time has come for action, and wise judgment cannot be formed by the people without your aid. From you as sworn supporters of the constitution, they have a right to expect changeless adherence to its doctrines.
"Not long ago the American voice was heard announcing the ascending but illusive notion of making the world safe for democracy. Today the making of democracy safe for Americans is the task that confronts us all, and that demands of us time, effort, patriotism and loyalty to our institutions. I do not fear defeat in this endeavor nor do I think that we shall be permanently led astray by confusing and illusive theories of government, essentially different from that which is embodied in our fathers' constitution, and then further urged and tampered with, the defense of its principles."

the equinox as the equinoctial storm. Statistics show that there is no maximum storm frequency, either in this country or in Europe, close to the date of either equinox. Of course in the long run storms do occur about these dates, just as they do at all other times of the year. No reason why storms should be especially frequent at the equinoxes is known to meteorologists.
In the United States the belief in the equinoctial storm as an event of regular recurrence has perhaps been fostered by the fact that West Indian hurricanes are most common during the late summer and early autumn. Occasionally a severe storm of this character sweeps up our Atlantic seaboard, doing a great deal of damage and attracting general attention. If it happens any where near September 22, the event is sure to be heralded as "the equinoctial storm."

MAY PROVE FATAL.
When Will Wayne People Learn the Importance of It?
Backache is only a simple thing at first.
But if you find 'tis from the kidneys;
That serious kidney troubles may follow;
That dropsy or Bright's disease may be the fatal end.
You will be glad to know the following experience.
'Tis the statement of a Wayne citizen.
Mrs. John Sylvanus says: "There was a continual dull, nagging ache across the small of my back which at times made it difficult to bend or lift. I had read of Doan's Pills helping others and was sure they would help me. After using Doan's I was much better in every way. One box of Doan's Pills was all that I needed. I took the trouble in time and I haven't had a sign of backache since. Get all dealers. Foster-McCullough Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y."

Wealthy Farmer Drowns Self.
Albion, Neb., Dec. 28.—Jacob M. Peckhart, rear here, it was feared today committed suicide on Christmas day by throwing himself in a well of deep water which he had dug when the body was recovered. Relatives testified he had recently given signs of dementia. Authorities received an request was unnecessary.

Make Those Fifty Steel Horses Pull All Together

There's a wonderful feeling of control in handling a tractor in prime condition. At the touch of your hand on the levers, fifty steel horses jump to the load.

But suppose you haven't cared for those horses as you should.

Are five of them mired, and keeping five more back?

Are the rest half-heartedly leaning on their collars, weakly and spiritlessly? Give them a food tonic—Marathon Motor Oil.

Whet their appetites and tone up their digestion with a steady diet of Marathon. Make them eager to work all day without stopping to pant or tremble.

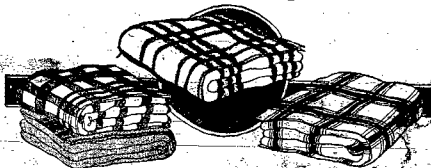

Use Marathon Motor Oil to make those fifty steel horses pull all together.

The new Methodist church at Wahoo was dedicated last Sunday and Bishop Homer Stutz of Nebraska Wesleyan delivered the sermon. The building cost about $60,000.

Said to Have Reformd.

Aurora Register: The strongest testimony against communism ever delivered is that of Emma Goldman. She was not only a believer in communism but a mad. She had been in months of violence; that she and justifies the means. She was deported to Russia, the land of her dreams. Forced by this government to live in the country she had believed to be the best on earth. There was every reason why she should have favorably impressed the sentiment at her deportation, pride of opinion; lifelong prejudices, interest, consistency and environment. But she was disillusioned and disappointed. She entered feeling that it was sacred ground, believing wholly in its leaders and the philanthropy of its government. Morally certain that its policy would insure the betterment of mankind and the happiness of its citizens. She was appalled by the cruelties she had justified; she was horrified by the hypocrisy of those she had lauded. She found grat everywhere; graced more of it than in the country from which she came. Workers are virtually prisoners, under guard of soldiers. Instead of the boasted equality, all the best things of life, money, privileges and honors were absorbed by the selfish greedy leaders. They were the fine treatment she had expected. She felt that the world over and over again proof that "church rule, ruler rule, labor rule, money rule, professional politician rule, ruler of hereditary monarchs, or an aristocracy is all wrong and that representation of the whole, which is bigger and better than any part, will alone produce a government that will end the class struggle and so make the use and waste of wealth, the world a better ground, a better world."

a brother to the man in overalls. He can always be counted on in an emergency and he and his kind constitute the bone and sinew of the nation. The Substantial Business Man is a true, unflinching type, and he is a positive force for civic righteousness and progress in every community in which he lives.

One of the most interesting types I have seen as I traveled from state to state is the Tourist. The Tourist is also self-generous in a class by himself. The Tourist is ubiquitous; he or she may be seen everywhere, and these people are interesting because they are interested. They are not traveling for their health nor are they on mere pleasure bent; but they are out after knowledge. They make a business of sight-seeing and with them travel is a serious thing. They are gluttons for souvenirs and send with the kaddah, and they are ever in quest of facts. Your genuine Tourist, being in contact with a person of some means, enjoys life as he goes along, but his excitement is rather of the intellectual kind. He travels with a purpose and his store of knowledge is constantly increased by his observations. The Tourist is the better type of traveler, and he delights in the better things. Infinitely superior on the one hand to the Vulgar Rich and somewhat removed on the other from the Substantial Business Man, the Tourist is one of the most lively and picturesque figures which one meets as one journeys away from home.

He travels with a purpose and he is a contemptible type of character, and that is the Obscure Employee. I have no particular objection to the custom of tipping, although it is a senseless one, but the type of person I have in mind is the employee whose services are measured by the size of the tip. One would naturally suppose that noters and others employed by railroad companies, hotels, etc., would expect to render service and, as a rule, perhaps they do; but not always or generally. There is also the obsequious bowing and scraping employee who will give you scant attention unless he anticipates a generous tip. Everybody who has ever traveled knows this type. He is utterly lacking in self respect and his attitude is not of honest service but of grasping or unscrupulous employment. Employing companies should pay their employees more; if dishonest they should fire them. We are perfectly willing to tip as we go along if that is the custom, but we object to having service, which is already paid for, grudgingly meted out according to the size of the tip.

And now we come to one of the most detestable types of all and that is the Make Believe. The Make Believe is as offensive as the Vulgar Rich and the only difference between them is the difference of cash. The Make Believe has all the disagreeable and despicable characteristics of the Vulgar Rich, but lacks the bank account; and what he lacks in this respect he makes up in pretense and noise. There was a splendid example of this type on the train traveling from St. Louis to Chicago. She was a very talkative, aggressive looking woman and her raucous voice could be heard from one end of the Pullman to the other. She had very positive views on every subject and did not hesitate to express them for the benefit of all the passengers. Why describe this unlovely type further? It is familiar to us all—loud, loquacious, arrogant, full of pretense and hypocrisy. The Make Believe is one individual whom most of us hold in silent contempt and few of us care to meet.

Usually, passes by rapidly along with the various other types of men and women, whom in my imperfect way I have endeavored to portray that most pathetic of all figures, the Invalid. The Invalid is neither on business nor pleasure bent; he or she does not pose or pretend; he or she is not seeking excitement or hunting souvenirs—the Invalid is in quest of just one thing and that is health. That is the Holy Grail for which he or she is searching with feebly earnest, and that is the more or less hopeless search that takes them from place to place. I do not refer here, of course, to people who hunt for health in the mountains after long years of pathetic abstinence, but to the people who are trying to get their money's worth out of life. They are men and women who are much to be pitied. They are men and women who are much to be pitied. They are men and women who are much to be pitied. They are men and women who are much to be pitied.

the district court of Wayne county, Nebraska, upon a decree rendered therein at the September term thereof, in an action pending in said court wherein H. C. Henney was plaintiff and Mary Norton and Melvin Norton were defendants, I will, on the 7th day of January, 1924, at 11 o'clock a. m., at the door of the office of the clerk of said court, in the court house in Wayne, in said county, sell to the highest-bidder for cash, the following described real estate, to-wit: Lot Twelve (12) in Block Twenty-four (24) of the Original Town of Wayne, in Wayne County, Nebraska, to satisfy the foregoing decree, the amount due thereon being $500.00 with interest at ten per cent from January 6th, 1923, and $10.50 costs and accruing thereon at Wayne, Nebraska, this 27th day of December, 1923.

of R. D. Langenberg, alleging that Augusta Langenberg departed this life intestate at Holdrege, in Wayne county, Nebraska, on the 14th day of November, A. D. 1923, being at the time of her death a resident of said county and the owner of real estate and personal property situated therein and praying for the appointment of Adam Baumann as administrator of said estate.

Ordered that hearing be had on said petition before me at the county court room in Wayne, Nebraska, on January 4th, 1924, at 10 o'clock a. m., and that notice of the time and place of said hearing be given to all persons interested in said estate by publication three weeks consecutively in the Wayne Herald, a legal weekly newspaper, printed and published in said county.

preciation to their many friends for their kindness and help during the time since their son Floyd's accident. Floyd came home from the hospital last week and is getting along fine.

Newspaper Plant Injured
Grand Island, Neb., Dec. 23.—A dispatch from the Ord states that the heating plant of the building occupied by the Ord Journal exploded today, injuring one man and doing damage to the extent of $2,000. Frozen up during the cold weather Sunday, the boiler blew up and simultaneously with it falling on the first floor. The windows of the building were knocked out and there was considerable damage to the machinery. Ralph James, the janitor, was injured and taken to St. Auguste hospital.

to chivary. That is, they would rather have a fair chance at the street car seats, an even running start, than depend upon the offer of one from some kind old gentleman who is just a bit lame, slightly deaf and shortsighted.
