Copper-Clad has thermo body construction

The secret of the heat retaining qualities of the thermo-bottle is the dead air space between the inner and outer walls.

The dry air space formed by the dome on the sheet of pure copper placed between the outer asbestos and the inner walls in Copper-Clad gives Copper-Clad the same heat retaining quality. This air space saves fuel and saves uniform baking heat.

Copper-Clad is the only range made with a range body of four walls and an air space. Come in and see for yourself.

During this sickness the near relatives have lovingly cared for him. Toward the last he had been cared for and received treatment at a hospital in Sioux City. But love, care and treatment could not restore the broken health and Sept. 13, he passed from this life, having lived 49 years, 9 months and 12 days. Father and mother as well as a sister and a brother have gone before him. Mourning his death are a brother, J. M. Drain of Norfolk, and many other sisters. Mrs. Harry Postelwait and Mrs. Ed. Tryon of Concord, and Mrs. W. R. Wynn of Harrington, as well as their families and many friends, Peace be to the memory of Leonard Bruce Drain and sustaining strength to the near ones here.

A Real Heater---

This Colonial Oak heater probably represents the biggest money value of anything offered the trade today. It is a stove we have been personally acquainted with and sold for almost twenty years. We do not hesitate to recommend it to anyone desiring a strictly first-class heater at a moderate price.

The body of this heater is of 18-gauge, specially refined and polished steel, ground off top and bottom to allow for contraction and expansion. This body is machined and fitted to the top and the firepot in such a way that gas leaks cannot possibly occur.

The firepot is made of the highest quality cast iron, of sufficient weight and thickness to resist all possibility of cracking, and is deeply corrugated to allow for intensive expansion and contraction as well as to give a greater radiating surface.

The feet door is exceptionally large and is protected with a smoke curtain which prevents smoking. This door is provided with a hot-blast draft as well as with an over-draft, and is ground and fitted to the frame so snugly that air cannot enter except when intended.

The ash-pit is large and roomy, permitting the accumulation of a large amount of ashes in the ash pan. This stove is well trimmed with a mirror-finish nickel wherever it might add to the general appearance of the stove.

These Colonial Oaks range in price from $25.00 to $37.50.

THE OLDEST PAPER IN WAYNE COUNTY

Published every Thursday... Subscription, $2.00 Per Year

Soiling seeds of hate and discord is an investment of time and effort... When a girl finds her name hard to remember...

The poultry show at Arlington which is not far from Omaha, should be noted that the members of the state are in session at the metropolis this week.

We are advised that the large cavity on the State Normal campus, which failed to materialize as an artificial lake, could be converted into a beautiful garden.

A group of Nebraska farmers interested in dairying, are planning to observe the industry as it has been developed in that state.

It is reported that a skunk form is to be used near Wayne and that the little striped animals will be raised for market and to stock others who wish to engage in the business.

The county fair brings people together to show products and each to see what progress others have made. It permits an exchange of ideas and a demonstration of valuable information.

Some gloomy Gung reports that they are going to have a long, cold winter because of the thickets of the corn husks. It has been such a short time they were released from the tentacles of last winter that it does not seem right to rush us into an other one so soon.

A movement is on foot to increase the number voting on election day without regard to party lines. Too many people pass up the voting privilege if the making of a mistake is to do. In so doing they fail to perform an important duty.

The Herald expects to develop greater efficiency and be able to stimulate its policy of generous and comprehensive service.

An expedition to British Honduras has brought back a pair of strange animals that crawl along the ground like a snake but have four legs and can spring six feet.

A Mighty Poor Reason. Berensford, S. D. Republic: Just why should one vote for Mr. LaFollette at this time? We know of no reason except that LaFollette wants to be president.

Wagon's Expecting a Great Deal. Davis says his cow, Mrs. LaFollette, is in the middle web of her horn but he expected. Evidently he did not expect much.

The Covered Wagon which appeared here last week, showed the hardships endured by the "fortyniners" who crossed the Sierras to Oregon and California. It emphasized progress that has been made in seventy-five years.

Des Moines Capital: Senator LaFollette's attacks upon the courts is really an attack upon the existence of our government.

Calvin Coolidge: The world has been the scene of the rage of hatred and selfishness, of destruction and war.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Rev. Robert L. Patterson, D. D. of the Fremont seminary, will preach next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

moving constitutional safeguards by permitting congress to overrule the supreme court... In the course of his statement, Chairman Butler says among other things:

"If power under the socialist third party program is given to the president... The guarantor of equal protection of the law of all the inhabitants of all the states against ill considered and passionate sectional legislation...

The rights of the citizen to trial by jury and as to the employment of the supreme court also are jeopardized... The sanctity of the home and of the person from unauthorized search and seizure can be wiped from the law books of the nation.

The old original linotype has been moved out and is on its way to the factory to be rebuilt for another year... It was installed some four or five years ago and it was the first standard linotype to be used in operation in Nebraska outside of Norfolk.

When we came here casting years ago, the equipment was poor, and it was impossible to issue a newspaper in Nebraska with an ambition that the linotype came first, and then a succession of other machines...

But times have changed. A newspaper must be able to render service to the public and to stand up in politics or factions to win its way. It must so serve that it will find a way in some homes, and in other places it will find a way to be useful.

The Herald appreciates the sustaining encouragement manifested by Wayne and surrounding communities in its endeavor to build up a creditable paper weekly.

Calvin Coolidge: The world has been the scene of the rage of hatred and selfishness, of destruction and war.

Market Report

(Furnished by Swanson, Gilmore & White) Sioux City Stock Yards, Sept. 17—Cattle receipts at the western leading market of the country again rose five weeks this week, but even so, the delivery did not assume the excessive proportions of the corresponding period.

One class of fed cattle escaped all injury last week and continued to sell buoyantly this week. The fortunate variety happens to be yearlings, both steers and heifers.

Right off the jump this week sheep yearling steers topped at $11, while numerous loads of handweights and yearlings hit $10.75, with the best heaves at $10.25.

At prices about 25 cents under the opening market of a week ago, bulls continued unchanged sellers. Practically all fed calves were sold at $4, with only a few choice weights but bulls up towards $4.75.

At last week's 25 to 50 cent loss steers and heifers are showing a touch of life with country westerns broad. Most of the western steers cashed out of the big Monday runs to the live markets from $6.25 to $7.35, with a liberal showing of ordinary kinds from $5.30 to $6.

Feeding cows and heifers again held to the firm level that characterized trading on such kinds all last week. Top western heifers carrying some flesh sold out of first hands at $5 and up, while the bulk of good thin heifers sold from $3.00 to $3.50.

Supplies of porkers ran somewhat lighter this week and with the delivery well within requirements packers continued entirely general in their policy for choice corn fed butchers.

Excessive sheep and lamb raised buyers to apply pressure at the opening of the week. By 2 o'clock fed native lamb tops were down to $13, a loss of 50 cents.

Are you clothes hungry, too?

An old customer of this store came in the store the other day and said, "I'm hungry for another real suit of clothes again. I bought this suit five years ago and since then I bought a couple of cheap suits that are both gone, and I'm still wearing this one."

You can buy a REAL suit of clothes again—one that will wear and hold its shape as long as there is a piece of it left. Besides, the price range is $7.50 to $10.00 cheaper than a year ago, and the tailoring and wooleens are so much better.

For fall, we are showing a wonderful line of blues in the Powder, Crushed blue and hair-line patterns. Also worlds of good conservative patterns for the older men. Fine ready to wear clothes, $25 to $40. Tailored to order clothes, $30 to $60.

Leave your order now and have the finished garments come out when you want them, on tailoring. Your ready to wear suit is here when you need it.

Lessman Loader Mfg. Co., 1525 Easton-Bauergard, Des Moines, Iowa.

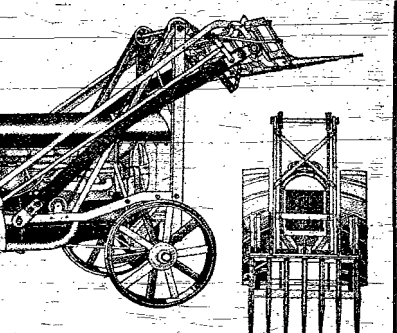

Gentlemen: We are operating two of your Scoops and one Loader on our farm with great success in excavating and grading. We purchased these three from your representative, Fleck & Scholtz, Hinsdale, Illinois, last summer. Through our experience with same we are speaking with good authority. Last summer we were scraping and loading trucks with the Lessman Scoops for several months with great success and they proved to be a wonderful labor-saving device.

Our place of work was one of the busiest thoroughfares of the city of Chicago. Every day there were large throngs of spectators watching our Lessman Scoops and Loaders in operation. They were surprised at this wonderful achievement and kept one of my men busy answering questions regarding same.

In excavating one tractor and Lessman Scoop do the work of five horses and two men. Our fastest work we have done with your Lessman Scoops in loading Black Dirt on trucks (12) yards in twelve (12) minutes with two machines, and with your Lessman Loader five (5) yards in eight minutes with one machine.

Wishing you much success for the coming season, and hoping we are not causing you any inconvenience, I am, Sir, Hoping to have a reply by return mail and particulars about your Auto Dump, We remain,

Very truly yours,
Fred Weltmann and Son,

Lessman Loader Mfg. Co., Box 1593, Des Moines, Iowa.

We have been using one of your Lessman scoops for the past two months and find it very satisfactory. In fact it does more work than we ever expected, being considerably faster than two teams and four men would be on the same work.

We use it for subgrading on our wide-walk work when we do subdivision work. We also use it to put in under-subgrade and move gravel and sand up to our concrete mixer.

Would like to have you send us a list of parts for the machine to help us simplify matters when ordering same.

Yours truly,
Mueller Bros.,

Reducing Public Debt.
 Four years ago the republican platform promised economy. At that time he is going to sell the people of the United States were paying war taxes, and highly burdensome war taxes. Figures are available for a little more than three years of a republican administration, and these figures are the best answer to whether that platform has been carried out.
 The public debt on Feb. 28, 1921, a few days before the end of the democratic administration then in power—amounted to $3,651,684,728. At the end of June this year—three and a third years of republican rule—the public debt had increased to $2,951,232,042. It is difficult for any mind to realize what a billion is. This reduction amounted to $3,070,452,686—more than three Ordinary stoves depend on heat radiation alone. This handsome porcelain enameled heater not only radiates heat, but it is a powerful circulator of heat—draws cold air in at the bottom, heats it and sends it out through the top register—almost like a basement furnace.

Defense Day Program Is Carried Out Here

A. E. Davis spoke at the Defense day program held at the Bressler park in Wayne Friday afternoon. He stressed the importance of having and stimulating patriotic devotion. Every week should be constitutionally carried out the spirit of America can be developed and kept alive. Mr. Davis emphasized the advisability of carrying out the spirit of America in the home, school and other institutions so that the spirit of the country can be protected and retained. He spoke of the advantages of the citizens' military training camps for young men and favored them, not as means of preparation, but as a means of stimulating patriotic devotion and united loyalty. Mr. Davis complimented Wayne for planning an absence of Defense day and expressed the hope that the occasion would help arouse a desire to encourage and protect a devotion to the spirit of America.

The American Legion, Kiwanis club and Greater Wayne club sponsored the program Friday and took part in the parade that formed at the city hall at 3 o'clock and marched to the Bressler park. The State Normal band led the line of march and was followed by the veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World wars and by Wayne organizations. The Fremont drum corps and students.

The program at the park opened with band selections. The singing of "America" was followed by invocation by Rev. Penton C. Jones. C. T. Ingham then introduced Mr. Davis who gave the address and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" closed the program.

Read in All.
Nebraska Farmer: By petition, a proposed amendment to the constitution will be submitted to a vote of the people at the next general election. This amendment, as it will be found on the ballot reads: "The nomination of candidates for the office of United States Senator, Member of Congress, Member of State Legislature, and for state and county elective office shall be by direct primary."

Whoever drafted the original petition through which this proposition is submitted, devised a very clever way of misleading those who do not read carefully and may not understand fully the import of such a measure. It starts out by saying that the nomination of certain candidates shall be by direct primary. Certainly the statutes already provide for this, and the people generally seem to be in favor of it. We have had the law fifteen years and it has not been seriously amended since that time. Why then submit the question now? The reason given by the proponents is that they want the direct primary written into the Constitution. Very well, then, why not submit it as a separate proposition and not confuse the two issues? The party circle has nothing to do with the direct primary, except that the removal of it will render the direct primary less useful.

To favor the direct primary is not the real purpose of this amendment. The real purpose is to take the party circle and all other designations relative to candidates so that the voter will be left almost wholly in the dark with reference to the qualification of the candidate whose name appears on the ballot. This would enable factions, groups and special interests to operate with less hindrance. So bear in mind that it is not necessary to vote on this question in order to favor the direct primary. The principal effect of such a vote would be to eliminate from the ballot the party circle and other designations regarding candidates. To vote "no" is to support the direct primary and retain the designations that are now before the voters. The party with which the candidates affiliate.

Teachers to Meet at Norfolk in November
Norfolk Daily News: Dates for the fall convention of the Northeast Nebraska Teachers' association to be held in Norfolk have been definitely set for Nov. 6, 7 and 8, the executive committee announces. A committee from the teachers' association and the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce is now busy arranging the program and lining up the talent. Plans are to make this year's convention even better than the successful meeting last year. An effort is being made to get some of the best lecturers to address the convention on other subjects that can be obtained. The committee also promises an exceptional program of amusement for the members of the association. This has been made up so that for this part of the entertainment will take.

Old Settlers Form Body.
Allen, Neb., Sept. 12.—A meeting of the officers of the Dixon County Old Settlers' Picnic association has been called by President R. C. Carroll of Allen, to be held in Martinsburg on September 24. During the annual picnic in Allen, in August, a temporary organization was perfected, officers of the association being: Frank Clough of Allen, treasurer; Judge P. D. Fales, of Ponce, secretary. The officers meet to fill the positions until the September meeting, when they will a vice president from each township in the county, are to hold a meeting to select a permanent organization, draw up by-laws, and decide upon plans for the 1925 picnic.

The township vice presidents appointed by President Caulk are: Charles Lundberg, Logan; William Ray, Wakefield; James Shoarer, Emerson; Charles Mitchell, Springfield; Del. Dyson, Clark; Herman Miller, Ponca; Martin Springer, Otter Creek; Fred Jeffrey, Galena; P. A. Nelson, Concord; Nick "Boon" Newcastle, Louis Colburn, Maskell, and Al York, Daily. Perhaps the outstanding matter to enter into consideration at the coming meeting will be the place and kind of picnic for 1925. Several locations have been suggested. One has been held at Allen for the past two years. The officers have already signified their desire to conduct future picnics to the coldest, best self-supporting, free from commercial and gambling attractions and devices. They hope to hold it in the woods of a park, close to but not in a town.

Great Minds Agreeing.
Lincoln Journal: President Coolidge has been justly commended for his aggressiveness against alleged grafters in his administration. His address of acceptance states his position in a way that is not only candid, but self-supporting. Free from commercial and gambling attractions and devices. They hope to hold it in the woods of a park, close to but not in a town.

be by direct primary. Ballots used in the nomination of the candidates for elective public office, created by the Constitution of laws of this state shall have thereon no party name or circle or any other designation relative to candidates. Whoever drafted the original petition through which this proposition is submitted, devised a very clever way of misleading those who do not read carefully and may not understand fully the import of such a measure. It starts out by saying that the nomination of certain candidates shall be by direct primary. Certainly the statutes already provide for this, and the people generally seem to be in favor of it. We have had the law fifteen years and it has not been seriously amended since that time. Why then submit the question now? The reason given by the proponents is that they want the direct primary written into the Constitution. Very well, then, why not submit it as a separate proposition and not confuse the two issues? The party circle has nothing to do with the direct primary, except that the removal of it will render the direct primary less useful.

To favor the direct primary is not the real purpose of this amendment. The real purpose is to take the party circle and all other designations relative to candidates so that the voter will be left almost wholly in the dark with reference to the qualification of the candidate whose name appears on the ballot. This would enable factions, groups and special interests to operate with less hindrance. So bear in mind that it is not necessary to vote on this question in order to favor the direct primary. The principal effect of such a vote would be to eliminate from the ballot the party circle and other designations regarding candidates. To vote "no" is to support the direct primary and retain the designations that are now before the voters. The party with which the candidates affiliate.

Teachers to Meet at Norfolk in November
Norfolk Daily News: Dates for the fall convention of the Northeast Nebraska Teachers' association to be held in Norfolk have been definitely set for Nov. 6, 7 and 8, the executive committee announces. A committee from the teachers' association and the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce is now busy arranging the program and lining up the talent. Plans are to make this year's convention even better than the successful meeting last year. An effort is being made to get some of the best lecturers to address the convention on other subjects that can be obtained. The committee also promises an exceptional program of amusement for the members of the association. This has been made up so that for this part of the entertainment will take.

Old Settlers Form Body.
Allen, Neb., Sept. 12.—A meeting of the officers of the Dixon County Old Settlers' Picnic association has been called by President R. C. Carroll of Allen, to be held in Martinsburg on September 24. During the annual picnic in Allen, in August, a temporary organization was perfected, officers of the association being: Frank Clough of Allen, treasurer; Judge P. D. Fales, of Ponce, secretary. The officers meet to fill the positions until the September meeting, when they will a vice president from each township in the county, are to hold a meeting to select a permanent organization, draw up by-laws, and decide upon plans for the 1925 picnic.

The township vice presidents appointed by President Caulk are: Charles Lundberg, Logan; William Ray, Wakefield; James Shoarer, Emerson; Charles Mitchell, Springfield; Del. Dyson, Clark; Herman Miller, Ponca; Martin Springer, Otter Creek; Fred Jeffrey, Galena; P. A. Nelson, Concord; Nick "Boon" Newcastle, Louis Colburn, Maskell, and Al York, Daily. Perhaps the outstanding matter to enter into consideration at the coming meeting will be the place and kind of picnic for 1925. Several locations have been suggested. One has been held at Allen for the past two years. The officers have already signified their desire to conduct future picnics to the coldest, best self-supporting, free from commercial and gambling attractions and devices. They hope to hold it in the woods of a park, close to but not in a town.

gratified, in view of these criticisms, with the termination of his course in this way by the democratic candidate for the presidency. Command had been issued to Governor Bryan that the county attorney of Dixon county had failed to perform his duty in enforcing the prohibition law. The governor has the power to suspend such an official on suspicion. As he did not do so, it is the opinion of the writer that he should be held in contempt of court that would keep the officer permanently out of his position. That is the object of the law, to force a man out of his office if he fails to enforce the law, not to besmirch and ruin professional reputations.

Wahog Wasp: Many of the publications are giving more or less attention to the growing tendency on the part of children to own their savings accounts and the movement is very commendable. One who further should be taken and that is a campaign to induce children to earn the money they save and then we will have a race of young men and women who are earning their living business people just as soon as they finish school.

York Republican. Making the roads safe for traffic and the roads free of obstructions, are two things that good citizens should insist upon. When one can travel on the roads in comfort and safety and see the country go by without having it obscured by bill boards, the day of the happy auto traveler will have come.

York Republican: Consider for a brief moment our own shortcomings. It is both easy and natural to criticize others, and of this we have plenty in the world, there are very few who cannot truthfully be criticized. But the only good that can arise from a scrutiny of the failures and sins of another is to learn to avoid those particular shortcomings ourselves. A close analysis of the character and doings of people in general, and each one in particular, will disclose the comforting fact that in by and large, there are a pretty good lot. If you keep up with the average you can congratulate yourself. But whatever holes you can find in your neighbor's car, remember they will mend them in your own garage. "Other men's failures can never save you." Get that fact firmly fixed in your mind. If you thought, or worry over the fact, whether he uses it or leaves it to the next owner.

When Theodore Roosevelt led the progressive forces of the nation in 1912, Senator LaFollette was not numbered among his supporters. It is a good thing, appointing traits of the Wisconsin senator that he refuses to participate in any movement of which he is not the beneficiary. This editor was an ardent admirer of Mr. LaFollette in the early days of his political career but our enthusiasm died out as we discovered the elements of selfishness that continually cropped out in his political life.

September Crop Report.
Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 14.—Nebraska crop made considerable progress during the latter part of August, but the condition is lower, according to the September report of the division of crops and livestock estimates, made public here today. The report states that there are practically no changes in small grain crops; that hay, potatoes and potatoes deteriorated and that apples and sugar beets improved.

The report follows in part: "Early corn. It is in good progress, but late corn was injured by south and high temperatures during the last half of August. The crop is still late, but the bulk of it should mature prior to the average frost date. The present condition of 72 per cent of normal indicates a crop of 209,520,000 bushels, as compared to 272,052,000 bushels last year. The crop is rather uneven, but the early crop was injured by dry weather in some counties."

"The condition of spring wheat at the time of harvest was 75 per cent of normal. The present condition of 69 per cent indicates a crop of 3,596,000 bushels, as compared to 4,168,000 bushels last year. The dry season in western counties, where most of the crop is grown, reduced the yields."

"Condition of oats at time of harvest was 88 per cent of normal. The present forecast is 78,911,000 bushels. Last year the crop was 81,046,000 bushels. The probable average yield is 22 bushels per acre."

"Condition of barley at time of harvest was 77 per cent of normal. The present forecast is 3,800,000 bushels, against 3,492,000 bushels last year."

"The condition of potatoes is lower, due to continued dry drought in the plate commercial sections of western Nebraska. The farm crop is very good. The stock commercial crop has been mostly heavy. The present condition is 80 per cent, indicating a crop of 8,804,000 bushels, compared to 8,880,000 bushels last year. The condition of lima hay is 83 per cent, indicating a crop of 3,418,000 tons. The work on the main entrance. There is no way no doubt, but that the big opening will take place on the dates scheduled.

On Exhibition at Wayne County Fair

From our stock of McCormick-Deering machines, we will have on exhibition at the Wayne county fair, a corn picker, corn sheller, binder and cream separator, all operated by one of our famous tractors. People are invited to witness and inspect these demonstrations. The merits of the different machines will be cheerfully explained. Note the five machines to be on display:

The McCormick-Deering Tractor

Backed by the experience of eighteen years of tractor building and nearly a century of farm machine manufacturing, the McCormick-Deering 15-30 gear drive tractor represents the most modern power unit of the farm. In every feature of its design, the type of construction used is that approved by the best of tractor engineering authorities. For instance, the unit frame adds strength, stability and rigidity, as well as neat appearance and at the same time provides a clean, tight, dust-proof housing for the working parts. The powerful engine with ball bearing crankshaft is an innovation in the tractor field.

McCormick-Deering Tractor Binder

The McCormick-Deering Tractor Binder is the latest development in harvesting equipment—a thoroughly up-to-date binder designed especially for use with McCormick-Deering Tractors. The Harvester Company has had this tractor binder in the field for several years, improving and developing it by practical usage under all sorts of field conditions.

The Corn Picker

The frame of the McCormick-Deering corn picker is made entirely of steel angle bars riveted and bolted together. Both wheels and axle are steel, making a light but extremely strong machine. The picker lives up to the reputation as McCormick-Deering machine for light draft for every point subject to any great amount of friction is equipped with roller bearings. As the machine passes through the field, the corn, whether straight or leaning, is picked up by the gathering shoes and the ears are stripped off by the snapping rolls. They are then carried back to the husking rolls, husked clean, and the husks dropped on the ground. The cleaned ear is delivered by a corn elevator into wagon drawn alongside the picker.

Ball Bearing

Primrose Cream Separator

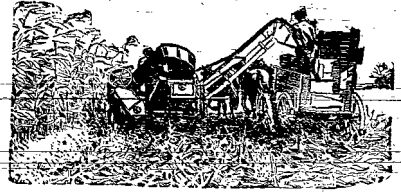

The Highest Development in Cream Separator Construction.

The Ball-Bearing Primrose Cream Separator represents the highest development and construction in cream separators. For years the Primrose has been recognized and vouched for by thousands upon thousands of satisfied users as excelling all others for efficiency, durability, close skimming, design, compactness and finish. The added feature of ball bearings now places it far in advance of any other type of cream separator, and without additional cost to the user.

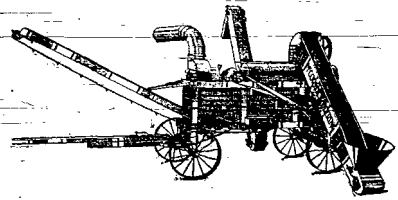

"Good Equipment Makes a Good Farmer Better."

Meet Us at the Fair

The Corn Sheller

When ear corn is sold, a deduction is made to cover the weight of the cobs. If this should be estimated too high, the grower of the corn is the loser. When you own a McCormick-Deering sheller, and shell your corn before you sell it, you can be sure of receiving payment for all the corn, and you have the cobs left on the farm to use for fuel.

You can haul more bushels of shelled corn per load, and as a result move your crop to market in less time. The economy in this is very evident.

It also pays to do your own shelling for seed and feed. You can shell just when you want to, and put the shelling profit in your own pocket.

No matter what your shelling needs may be, you can find the right equipment in the McCormick-Deering line. The small McCormick-Deering shellers are ideal for shelling corn for seed and feed and will deliver the cobs in good condition for fuel. The larger shellers are well adapted to custom work as well as individual use, and will easily pay for themselves with what they save you on your own crop and by shelling for neighbors.

From Ponca Journal Sept. 30, 1886:
A large number of citizens of the place and vicinity have come over to Wakefield to attend the fair and to hear Senator Van Wyck's address.

R. H. Wilbur, formerly of this county, was attending the fair last week. He is residing near Wayne, and has one of the most valuable farms in Wayne county.

The wedding which was to have come off at the fair, did not come off. The diffidence of a bride and groom standing up before an assembly of 2,600 people was the cause of this part of the program not being fulfilled. But in some places it is getting to be quite fashionable to get married at county fairs. Next year let this defect be remedied, and have at least one couple, and if possible two or three stand up and be hitched amid the plaudits and congratulations of the audience.

Making a Newspaper.
John M. Nelson, manager for the LaFollette campaign, writes us asking that in the interests of fair-play we give publicity to their candidates and the arguments made for him. It is not fair to the voters to keep the voters in the dark. We are to understand that these mats and plates were made for him free gratis by the companies in the interests of fair-play. He pays for the ads to publicity supplied by everyone else, why should he not pay the newspapers for the publicity? It costs just as much for rent and wages as it does the plate houses, and they should be willing to pay the editors as the corporations pay for services rendered. If they are really against the encroachments of the powerful few on the rights of the many in fact we should think they would spend that money they have with the class they favor rather than the one they oppose. Aurora Register.

The Register is a democratic newspaper and it is disapproved by the methods being employed to further a movement the only probable result of which, if it accomplishes anything, is to defeat the republican candidate for president, deadlock the house of representatives on the presidential succession and throw the election of a president into the hands with considerable probability that the democratic candidate for vice president would be elected by the senate and thus become president of the United States, so one may discuss the ethics of the case with moderate freedom.

All of the parties are endeavoring to induce the newspapers of the country to give them many columns of space without pay. The campaign managers offer free cartoons, free plates and free everything the newspaper will donate their space. Up to this time in this campaign the LaFollette managers have been by far the worst offenders. Their demands are arrogant as well as unreasonable. We deny absolutely their right to impose any duties upon this newspaper.

There are plenty of socialist newspapers in which the LaFollette people who want that sort of stuff to read subscribe for one of the socialist publications and they fill. The Signal does not believe in socialism, does not believe in LaFollette and does not believe in the combination of discontent that has been organized to further his campaign for the presidency. Therefore The Signal will write and publish his views upon public opinion upon candidates for the presidency and other offices.

We are very sure that the socialist newspapers that are advocating the election of LaFollette will print the reading matter plates and cartoons sent out by the democratic national committee in favor of Mr. Davis or the same material sent in support of President Coolidge. In that they would be quite right.

Newspapers charge enough to attempt to cover all news and no paper is being supported out of public tax money. Therefore every newspaper that is not subsidized in some form or other must charge for its space, meaning such space as it provides for advertising in addition to the regular volume of news it sells to its readers. The socialist papers, by the way, are subsidized.

We do not mean to condemn alone the attempt of the LaFollette managers to force upon the country, through the newspapers, although they are the worst offenders. All of the campaign managers pay stiff prices for editorial writers, political agents, cartoons, plates, headquarters in the principal cities, radio broadcasting and a hundred other things. All of these services are not cash, but as far as The Signal is concerned, not including its expressions of editorial opinion, it is on exactly the same basis as radio broadcasting. Advertising is cash, just like gasoline at a filling station.—Gene A. Signal.

O. S. Roberts, Plumbing and Heating, Wayne, Nebr.

I am pleased to inform that The Ideal Arcola heating system you installed in my home last fall gives perfect satisfaction. I kept my house between 70 and 75 degrees Fahr. during the coldest weather we had last winter, with a great saving of fuel. I did not burn over 3 tons of coal all season. I did figure on installing a pipeless furnace, but I am glad I listened to you, as this heat is cleaner and healthier and more saving. I will take great pleasure in recommending the Arcola heating system to anyone interested. Your truly,
FRANK POWERS.

I have one of the above mentioned Ideal Arcola Heating Systems on display at my shop, and will be glad to show it to anyone interested.

Kansas City Doctor

Invents New Truss

New Discovery Heals Rupture Without An Operation.

Kansas City, Mo., (Special).—A new discovery which, experts agree, has no equal for curative effects in rupture cases, is the latest accomplishment of the well-known Hernia Specialist, Dr. J. B. Jones, 22011 Harrison, Kansas City, Mo. The extraordinary success of this new method proves that it holds and heals a rupture. It weighs only a few ounces, has no hard gouging pads, no elastic belt, no leg straps, no steel bands, and is as comfortable as a light garment. It has enabled hundreds of persons to throw away trusses and declare their rupture absolutely healed. Many of these had serious double ruptures, and some of them had suffered for years. It is Dr. Jones' Andrews apparatus to have every ruptured person enjoy the quick relief, comfort and healing power of his invention, and he will send it on free trial to any reader of the Wayne Herald who writes him. He wants one person in each neighborhood to whom he can refer. If you wish to be rid of rupture for good, without an operation, take advantage of the doctor's free trial. Write him today. ad-66

Out For Governor On Anti-Klan Issue

Topeka, Kas., Sept. 20.—Making his slogan "Free Kansas from the Ku Klux Klan," William Allen White is a candidate today for governor in his independent candidacy for governor. He attacked Sen. S. Davis, republican and democratic gubernatorial nominees, respectively, charging that the two major parties in the state are "led in the race for governor by men who had had Klan support in the primary and who will not disavow that support today."

"I don't believe I'll go to church this morning; I don't feel like walking those six blocks," said Sue petulantly. "Very well, my dear, you can do as you like, but I want you to read page 137 in your history before you decide the question finally," said another, as he hurried upstairs to dress for the morning service. Wondering what in the world his wife had to do with the question of church attendance, Sue turned to the page and read: "The pilgrims crossed the story Atlantic, and faced dangers of a life hostile wilderness in order to worship God as they saw fit." There was more about it on the page, but Sue caught the meaning of it once. "If the Pilgrims could go that far to church under such unfavorable conditions, I guess I ought to be able to walk six blocks of city pavement."

Why go to church? One reason is that the church is "God's way of saving, conserving and keeping humanity from moral decay." The Psalmsist says: "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord."

One of the most significant actions taken at the recent session of our conference was the practically unanimous vote to merge with the north-west Nebraska conference—only one negative vote being registered. As the Northwest conference had a proposition the merger will be consummated one year hence, when both conferences will meet in St. Paul's church, Lincoln, to become one. The Nebraska conference—as the new one will be called—will be one of the largest, possibly the largest—in all Methodism. Bishop Titus Lowe was warmly welcomed to the presidency of the conference. Business. SIOUX CITY Journal: General business conditions were better than they were in July. They were somewhat improved in July over those of June. It is the forecast that September will make a consistent showing of improvement over August. The improvement is constant, not rapid. Business conditions last spring and summer was very real. No one could escape realizing that industry generally was down to a low point. Employment has been fairly good in mid-summer but that situation is much improved. Yet the employment of last August when compared with that of the same month last year is considered low. Indeed, if a comparison of business conditions with those of a year ago is permitted, it can be shown that the latest depression hit the country caused industry to lose much of the ground it had gained in the years of reconstruction after deflation. No one insists that things are in as good condition now as they were last year, yet everyone may feel that the tendency now is forward, and that is a hopeful sign, even when comparisons of more prosperous periods are indulged. One of the most notable business developments of the past week was the agreement of the steel companies to discontinue the practice of Pittsburgh split, held in restraint of trade by the federal trade commission some time ago. Henceforth consumers of steel and iron products will buy freight on their shipments as from the point of production instead of as from Pittsburgh. The middle west consumers of iron and steel are particularly benefited by this arrangement. Steel and iron prices may be readjusted in such a manner as will distribute the cost burden without any particular section of the country deriving an advantage from the commission's order. However, the best principle of Pittsburgh split has been eliminated, and its disappearance will bring satisfaction if nothing else. Crop conditions are not as interesting now as the markets. The prices of corn and wheat will hold the center of the stage henceforth for the reason that we are not likely to have lost practically all chance for any improvement in the yield of crops still in the fields. The farmer will turn from speculation or too many bushels of corn he will have to what he is going to receive for the whole. And the shorter the crop...

A report on the industrial recovery of Austria, which is a beneficiary of an extensive loan two years ago may be taken as an indication of what to expect from efforts to be made in half of Germany. If Austria has recovered demand, but products of German's recovery began in early farm, cereals, meats and other food-stuffs. It does not seem as if production is going to be as extravagant as that of an over-zealous buying and selling power. The next 12 months will make a record for the world.

A Suggested Remedy.

Sioux City Journal: From the time the last gun was fired on the western front and the world war was brought to a conclusion, various persons in the United States have been describing in extravagant fashion the horrors of future conflicts. There was general agreement that "the next war" would be far more horrible than any yet experienced. Gases had been developed that would destroy the biggest cities and make land unproductive for a period of years. Also the temper of peoples had changed in such a degree that future conflicts would be waged with white populations regarded as legitimate victims of destruction. There were to be no noncombatants, not even women, children and the aged and infirm being listed as immune from attack. Some of the horrors depicted no doubt were possible. And some others possibly were overdrawn. If they were not, it was most uncomplimentary to humanity as a whole since the predictions challenged civilization itself. War on the scale envisioned by those who attempted to describe what the next conflict would be like seems impossible, unless indeed humanity is capable of reverting completely to barbarism.

The statement was made a few days ago before the American Chamber of Commerce in Ithaca, N. Y., that future wars would dwarf all others. Deception and insinuation of atrocities and tortures of inhabitants and the utter defensiveness of women, children and the infant were predicted. The remedy, too, was pointed out. Dr. Leo Henrik Backeland, of New York, was the speaker who envisioned horrors in future wars. He said that "the remedy seems to be of a plain, generous week-day religion of deeds, rather than a Sunday religion of words, less hypocrisy, haughtiness, lying and suspicion and more decency and good will amongst peoples, in place of enmity, pedantic theology."

There one has the prediction of horrors and a suggested remedy. If the prediction is even close to a correct estimate of what humanity may expect, it might be advisable to try the remedy and apply it as a preventive. Therefore whatever is conducive to peace should hold high place in the thoughts of all peoples.

extension of hours—Every day, must be done, or dead, and, in such a case, tools of ourselves, as tools are commonly understood—We pretend, dissemble, pass the "buck," strike out our own shank for action, while we see others hurt if we can escape ourselves, anxious to make some one suffer if we happen to feel the pinch.

We criticize people without mercy and want them ostracized or imprisoned, for the sake of a few dollars' worth of property.

The way society has been performing in the way we had better pretend, try to fool the foreigner, and not offer a defense.

Candidates are abroad in the land as thick as leaves in the Valdemar. They should be given respectful hearing, should be treated with uniform courtesy.

When people become weary and jaded from an extraordinary assault upon their nerves, they say of things that would be far from their minds if they were normal.

A mother who loves her son and who wants to add to his happiness, should treat his wife kindly. A wife may stimulate the happiness of her husband by treating his mother with due consideration. Conflict or cold indifference between a man or wife and his or her parents causes heartache and distress, and is a detriment to a family group would impose.

A few more weeks without a killing frost and corn will have a big crop. It is favorable for the maturing and drying of the crop, and if present indications are correct, we will have plenty of prosperity and plenty of money. Farmers and townpeople will share alike in a period of good times.

An inspection of Wayne county products at the fair this week, said to be the best shown in Nebraska this year, gives a most comfortable and satisfactory feeling to people who see here. The exhibits show a wide diversity of resources and aggregate wealth that insure a liberal share of plenty and prosperity. After reviewing the exhibits, one cannot help but exclaim, "Wayne county, having cast his lot in Wayne county and joined his faith in its possibilities and future."

In a country having over a hundred millions of people, a devil, like the Illinois preacher, who engineered his murders to satisfy his lust for love, is likely to turn up. It is an appalling revelation of a state of mind previously concealed under a veneer of respectability, and a sad proof of our civilization. It is encouraging to believe that most people are disposed to live orderly lives, respecting the rights of the land and the rights of fellow-man.

The annual county fair has opened with favorable weather and the promise of a large attendance. What this fair needs to make it develop itself with the best of advantages, stronger and more active organization and the employment of one man to work out plans months ahead. The present manager is endeavoring to busy managing his own affairs, therefore needed attention to a public enterprise. It would pay the association to employ a man with the ability to handle details and shoulder responsibility. In the center of a light and resourceful territory, Wayne could hold and could hold the biggest fair in northeast Nebraska.

James A. Drain who was elected national commander of the American Legion at St. Paul last week, takes high ground in his interpretation of the motives and purposes of the soldier organization. "We shall stand for God and country," he says, "without partisanship in politics, and without intolerance in religion, striving to make better citizens in and out of the legion. The country needs a stirring revival in spiritual values, and needs greater emphasis on considerations apart from harping dollars and hoarding material goods and riches in preference to the legion's endeavor in the future," he pointed out by his commander is encouraging.

The most significant phase of Gaston B. Means' repudiation of his testimony before a senate committee, involving former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, and his later repudiation of his repudiation, is the extent of his ability on the part of the star witness to deny that he would offer false evidence to destroy another's reputation could not be established. A man who could give up conflicting repudiations, repudiate his own character beyond hope of repair. Besides being the star witness in the Daugherty investigation, manifestly he is a star duplicitous artist and an unconscionable trickster. At least he deserves to be kicked into permanent forgetfulness.

A campaign manager inquires: "Are you a race?" "I am not," he answers. "We are not." But we are not so sure. On the contrary we would be inclined to admit the charge, and depend on the mercy of a lenient Providence to save us from it.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

H. E. Hyatt, president of the Chicago-Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company, considered public ownership of railroad lines in a speech before a body of insurance agents at Milwaukee recently, and he showed the costly folly of the experiment.

Mr. Hyatt mentions Italy's experience in the past few years as a public ownership in Italy, France, Canada, Brazil, Sweden and Switzerland had multiplied employees, causing a loss of money, and resulted in deficits which have to be met by taxpayers.

"In Italy, for example, according to published statements, the state-owned lines, which were taken over in 1917, have since earned only very small profits in occasional years. The number of employees rose from 160,000 in 1917 to 210,000 in 1923; the surplus employees being largely political appointees. The entire operating forces worked political and industrial combinations which refused its demands for more pay and less work, and also wasted coal and other supplies to bring the government to a deficit of over $1,000,000,000 in 1922 caused the premier to decide to get rid of the 'white elephants' and he offered long leases on an exceptional basis."

Market Report

(Furnished by Swanson, Gilmore, & Walsh.)
 Sioux City Stock Yards, Sept. 24. The price of the recovered from the depression marketed two weeks ago, and the 133,282 marketed the opening day of last week, the country yielded 21 per cent to the seven leading markets of the country the first day of this week. The contraction of 17,000 head, as compared to last week while not likely, nevertheless, tended to increase the stability that last week's trifling contraction brought to the cattle market. Certain prices were permitted to develop gradual strength including fed steers and yearlings, dry lot butcher cows and heifers, as well as grass butchers, bull canners and cutters. No classes reflect any losses of consequence.

As in the past dry lot offerings continued out in front, but added urgency in eastern demand circles caused handweight styles to vary nearly as much as the existing differential, while heavier received enough attention to enable them to partly pay out the current gain.
 Strictly fancy yearlings were not included in the run this week, but handweight heaves of 1,156 pound averages sold to $11.10, making the upper line of demand on good heifers yearlings sale quotable to $11.25. Some straightweight heaves reached $11 for the most lofty submit this week, but the existing differential, which heaves received enough attention to enable them to partly pay out the current gain.
 Strictly fancy yearlings were not included in the run this week, but handweight heaves of 1,156 pound averages sold to $11.10, making the upper line of demand on good heifers yearlings sale quotable to $11.25. Some straightweight heaves reached $11 for the most lofty submit this week, but the existing differential, which heaves received enough attention to enable them to partly pay out the current gain.

A few yearling heifers and stayer lots of dry lot cows, just about make up the dry lot butcher assortment at this time of the year. Value things largely in direct sympathy with fat steer fluctuations and as that process held true this week fed cows and heifers sold 25 cents or more higher, no $10 yearling heifers were brought to light but packers and shippers expressed a willingness to pay that price for topers if they could be supplied.

Grass cows out of the pasture, or off the ranges sold strong all week, especially if the offerings happened to be good quality feeding heifers. On good heifers packers were forced to step lively to get ahead of the feeder buyers. Most of the grass butchers are now moving from $4 to $5.50, with top heifers to $6.
 Grass hails at prices of $3.95 to $3.75 figure 25 cents higher than they were a week ago. Beef bulls at $3.50 to $4. Beef bulks at $3.75, handweights to $5 and over, and yearlings to $7 figure steady.

Stocks—week last week's closing $11. The outlet cannot be quoted other than steady.
 Cattle—canners sold under the $2 this week. Last week the bottom was $1.50. However, despite the apparent gain of 50 cents the general market is not as high as 25 cents higher, as the bulk of the coming steers are still selling from $2.25 to $2.50, with cutters from $1.75 to $2.00. The gain on the head class mentioned being a flat 25 cents.

Stockers and feeders continue moving in about the same notches, but the coming supply is expected to meet by a correspondingly wide margin. The bulk of the fair to good western steers sold from $6 to $7.25, with cutters with top quality mentioned being a flat 25 cents.

Feedings cows and heifers have just about finished their third consecutive week of steady trading. Plenty good quality western heifers reached $5.25 and over, while the bulk of the fair to good thin heifers sold from $4 to $5. Feeding cows and heifers moved largely from $3.75 to $5, with top heifers and good mouthed canners from $2.50 to $3.00.

Light supplies and a reluctance on the part of farmers to feed high priced corn is still following the maintenance of a relatively high outlet for butcher hogs. A continuation of the condition may prevent anything approaching a duplication of the $2.50 average best recorded the market. I let hit the winter packing basis last winter, but it is assuming too much to think that packers will not break prices on all classes of pork, to a certain extent later on when the new crop really gets under way. History shows that always have been. The late September-lamb delivery assumed the full heavy proportions expected last week and prices cracked under the strain. This week more conservative liquidation was made and prices reacted over much of the last period. Tons on fat near the best shipped will over $13 in the early week trading.

Railway Labor and the Farmer. Minneapolis Tribune, August 16, 1924: It is hard to see how the farmers and the organized labor that work behind the candidacy of Senator La Follette are going to pull over the campaign, to say nothing about what would be likely to happen if, by any chance, the La Follette ticket should be elected, and the executive branch should have substantial backing in congress.

It will be remembered that in the recent session of congress a bill known as the Howell Barkley measure caused a deal of stir in the capital and provoked much discussion and action over the content. The bill was drawn by railway labor leaders. It provided for a new method of settling railway labor controversies which if adopted would have eliminated the public's voice from the settlement of railway labor disputes.

It also will be remembered that thousands and thousands of farmers, organized and unorganized, wanted congress to enact and the president to sign the McNary-Haugen bill, a very elaborate device designed to sustain prices of farm products at a point where they would be profitable to the producer.
 Mr. Ream has taken the pains to inspect the personnel and congressional record of the members of congress whose names are on the "blacklist" or "whitelist" issued by the railway labor leaders. The names on the "blacklist" are those of candidates for re-nomination in eight states in which primaries were held the first two weeks of this month.

"Progressives" were asked to vote against 20 of the members whose names were mentioned and for 22 whose names were mentioned. The "blacklist" candidates opposed the McNary-Haugen bill. Those recommended by the labor leaders for reelection, 20 voted for the McNary-Haugen bill.
 It amounts simply to this: That the railway "Progressives" are looking out for Number 1 and are not strictly concerned about the wishes of the farmers who also are supposed to be "Progressives." Perhaps they rest secure in the belief that the farmers favored the McNary-Haugen bill will not go into the blacklisting business on their own account.

What the railway labor leaders have done does not fit well with the paragraph in the LaFollette platform which reads:
 "It is our faith that we all go up or down together—that class gains are temporary delusions and that respect for the rights of man make over man's brook's keeper. It is that faith we present our program of public service."

Not a Word from Hiram

(A Note to Lines General.)
 Not a word from Hiram Johnson since the campaign began. Will somebody rise and tell us what the matter with the man? I have inquired and have, indeed, I have watched with care and eye; I have heard from all the others, but I haven't heard from Hiram.

Is he ill from over-activity? Something wrong is evident. Is he being discouraged? Is he sulking in his tent? Almost with the speed of lightning are the moments passing by; Soon—the "war" is over; and we haven't heard from Hiram. All the candidates have spoken, telling us what they believe in. Those with honesty of purpose, those who practice to deceive. Some declare the nation "slipping," others say it is being "ruined." Other men are optimistic—but we haven't heard from Hiram.

When a militant "progressive" was pernicious in style. Then the man from Sacramento raised his voice for half a mile; He said the "war" was without mercy—that is why I am asking what's the reason that we haven't heard from Hiram?

It was the advertising manager in supply the usual window shade. A big store who complained of the painted valance board made a decorative finish at the top of this window with over-drapes of printed chintz hanging to the sill. Curious taffeta under curtains in a mauve and ivory room added a flash of distinctive coloring.

Use Sweet Damask. A dining room of great dignity and charm used a sunfast damask for both portieres and over-drapes. A grey green made the ground while the pattern of rose color rambled over stripes. The portieres were hung from wooden rings on a pale-covered with the same material. To assist in pulling shut these drapes each curtain wore a long cord ending in a tassels, the cord suspended from the center of a medallion.

The window curtains hung from a green painted valance board and were held back with painted-wooden-ovals. Green figured net glass curtains completed the "ensemble" with narrow fringe of the same color.

Satin is much in use as a drape for upholstery for bedrooms and the like. On a chaise longue, for instance, using a chenille fringe, it makes a richly inviting background for felly lace cushions.

Defects is used in the form of sash curtains that may be drawn shut or spent the rest of the time discussing the bazaar to be held Dec. 5. The next meeting will be Oct. 10.
