If everybody works in the next world, as advised by Conan Doyle, it will be hell for a lot of people until they get used to it.

Leaders of all political parties, appearing glad and cheerful, reminding one of the optimistic sick man who has all plans set to get well and then to celebrate by eating everything he desires.

Senator Norris' pledge that he will, in case the election of vice president falls to the center, vote for the man who has carried Nebraska, will appeal to members of all parties as eminent ly fair and proper.

It must be appalling, on entering a race for office, to have laid before one a review of his imperfections which he himself had cheerfully accepted. The determination to pick flaws with a good deal of injustice, makes public office for sensitive and thin-skinned individuals very uninviting.

Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas, writing for a current magazine, says he would vote for President Coolidge regardless of party affiliations. He says he would vote for him because he has made good in every public trust from his attorney in his home town to president of the United States. He says he would still vote for him if he were much less than he is.

Only forty-nine per cent of people authorized to vote exercised the privilege at the general election in 1920. This is a minority went to the polls to share in selecting public officers and in determining public policies. It is unfortunate indifference and responsibility. Voting is a prerogative that every one should take advantage of. Everybody is interested in public affairs, and every one should have a voice in shaping them.

People who are trying to get ahead financially and save for declining years, are not likely to look with favor on the LaFollette movement, even though LaFollette himself might not be so. He is not a supporter of property rights, or levy punitive judgment on those who have been industrious, frugal and successful. Many of the elements supporting LaFollette, not satisfied with equality of opportunity, would, if they could, redistribute property, and they would be encouraged by the political expediency of a man of their choice. The man who has paid for success by long hours of hard work and careful personal habits should be made secure in his property rights. He should not have to divide with some Government agency and be treated the necessity of industry with indifference.

If it should happen through some inscrutable maneuvering of fate that the presidential succession were to be settled by congress and that Governor Conway might become president, he would not have to exercise himself very powerfully in order to measure up to his reputation for statesmanship. Little would be expected of him that he could say nothing brilliant and do nothing wonderful without causing a suggestion of disappointment.

No painter's brush ever gave such wonderful beauty to a tree as that possessed by a single maple near Mrs. Mary Jones' residence on Pearl street, following the first frost. The leaves, tinted to a rich hue by a touch of gold, led one to believe in the Government's miracle of nature. But subsequent frosts destroyed the initial grand show, and the leaves, darkened and shriveled, were fallow. It is a brief vista, the maple rivalled in natural beauty any routes that could be seen along scenic routes in California or Oregon.

On the one hand people should avoid the appearance of evil, as the scriptures advise; on the other, people should not be afraid to speak if they have no intention of wrong, as absolute proof of guilt. The one whose mind burrows for sensations, is likely to be afraid to speak if he has a patch out by drawing on his imagination. Often the scandal builder is not fearful that he will find someone to contradict him, but he will not find something that he draws on a large reserve of suspicion if necessary. And if one wishes charity, although he is not to be helped in that, he should force himself to exercise it in behalf of others.

Everybody knows that the supreme court is the bulwark of the country against hasty and ill advised legislation. Everybody knows that laws, conceived in prejudice and passed in waves of emotional passion in conflict with the constitution, are held up by the supreme court. This court maintains the constitutional guarantee of religious liberty and equal rights. It is this bulwark to American freedom that LaFollette would set aside by acts of congress. He would empower congress to vote decisions of the supreme court. Then our boasted and cherished liberties would go glimmering. A foolish law, prompted by temporary expediency, could become operative notwithstanding the supreme court.

A local education tells us that recently he submitted to a teachers' institute of 150 members the names of ten prominent men whose activities are mentioned in the news. But it is this bulwark to American freedom that LaFollette would set aside by acts of congress. He would empower congress to vote decisions of the supreme court. Then our boasted and cherished liberties would go glimmering. A foolish law, prompted by temporary expediency, could become operative notwithstanding the supreme court.

opinion that the so called specialist who follows one narrow groove, with no attempt at knowledge along other lines, cannot be classed as educated. He thinks a man may stress one thing without destroying capacity to understand many things. He believes broad comprehensive intelligences need to develop sound judgment and greater usefulness.

Injured in Train Wreck

Grand Island, Neb., Oct. 15.—Three men stealing rides were injured, two perhaps fatally, several others are unaccounted for, and seven cars of oil and five cars of livestock are burning as a result of a wreck near Abbott, 10 miles west of Grand Island, at 9 a. m. today.

The cause of the wreck is unknown. According to the engineer, the train was on a curve when the cars, 14 in all, were derailed. The airbrakes were immediately applied, but the train was caught in a stop the wreckage was in flames. Occasional explosions marked the progress of the flames.

At the hospital—the names of the two men were seriously injured were given as William Haggarty of Fremont, and Amos Dougherty of Greeley, Neb. The third man, Leslie Chanon, 2112 Windsor street, Kansas City, Mo., will be able to leave the hospital today, his injuries being not serious.

Then and Now

A. L. Bixby in Lincoln Journal: Forty-six years ago this fall hogs were selling in Columbus and other points for a shade less than $3 a hundred on the hoof, and what hauled in from Antelope county topped the market at 60 cents a bushel. "Who is it that mourns for the days that are gone," when the farmer was working so hard to get on when the farms were remote, and the houses a sight, with their walls built of sod, and the seas were a fright when the bridges were scarce, and the roads were criss-crossed with holes that would desolate time?

Ambition

(A. L. Bixby in Lincoln Journal.) I'd like to be a Klansman bold, Who now am but a spark, And ride out where their klanisms hold. Conventions in the dark. How glorious to ride apace, A pillow-slip to hide my face, Which looks so in the light.

Now when I pass along the way, In doubt, and dread and fear, The people look at me and say, "Things I don't want to hear."

Birth Record. A daughter was born Monday, Oct. 13, to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Berry of Wayne.

White's Campaign

A. L. Bixby in Lincoln Journal: William Allen White is making a great race for the governorship of Kansas, and is so good-natured about it that even the Klan members who go to hear him are not disposed to get angry. His campaign buttons bear the words "White is Right," and in his campaign speeches he denigrates the crowd he is after as the "Shirt-tail Rangers."

Wichita Eagle: "Gee whiz," said the busy man as he stepped into a Wichita barber shop and found six girls in advance of him. While he was considering whether to wait or not, a girl in a chair patted her bill and departed and the five others who were only waiting for her went with her.

Lincoln Journal: The betting on the election seems to have settled down to the basis of about 3 to 1 on Coolidge. The odds will probably remain in that neighborhood to the end, unless some unexpected development should cloud the prospects of the president.

San Francisco Chronicle: When he cleans his own ash tray he thinks he is a great help about the house.

San Francisco Chronicle: A true conservative is one who wonders what business the west has butting into politics.

Old Time Progressives. — Lincoln Journal: The old time progressives of this part of Nebraska are for the most part back in the republic for this refers especially to those of republican antecedents. A good many of them lost their political pep when Roosevelt failed of election twelve years ago, and find it hard to get up any violent political feeling at present. "There is just one enthusiasm I have left," says a progressive of the more advanced and altruistic type. "I would like to go over to Kansas and vote for William Allen White."

COLORFUL

is the HABERDASHERY for FALL

Demand for Starched Collars. — The current season will see an increased demand for starched collars. This is directly in line with the growing desire of men to dress well. All of which may possess the essential of the soft collar to the lovely place it occupied in the wardrobe of stylish men some years ago.

The influence of summer's brilliantly patterned and showy golf shoes will be reflected in fall's hosiery. Again the keynote will be color, white checks, plaids and diamonds will serve for the decorative effects. Medium weight wools will be the vogue. That a bit of brick-air is not driving men behind the shelter of woolen underwear as it did in years past, is evidenced by the increased demand for light weight suits for fall. That may mean growing into a more leisurely pace, or, what's perhaps more likely, a more stylish one.

Raglan Shoulder Underwear. — A raglan shoulder is a new feature in this season's underwear. Natural silver grey and blue effects are shades in wool that will make up the bulk of the demand. Asids from these things underwear will remain constant for fall.

It is not at all likely that glove styles will differ for fall, although there is a remote possibility that they will take a turn to the south in sympathy with women's wear which for some time has been making much ado of novelty. Undoubtedly the traditional cream shades and light colors will be in favor in deerskins, buckskins and moccasins. As these colors are produced in a variety of shades, there should be many fine things in fall gloves even though their styles do echo those of last year.

There will be more upper pocket handkerchiefs seen this fall than any time in the past. And it's here, also, that the lover of color will find almost unrestrained opportunity to brighten his dress with hues that catch his particular fancy.

The handkerchiefs will be in solid centers, fancy plaids and with borders. The sheer handkerchief with a ruffled border on a white background will probably enjoy the greatest popularity.

HAT FASHIONS

That Reign for Fall

Generally speaking there will be no decided changes in men's headwear for fall and winter wear. In both shades and shapes the hats will take their influence from the new notes in fashioning of suits and overcoats. The tendency, however, is toward somewhat flatter crowns and—there promises to be considerable demand for the snap brims introduced last spring. The raw edge is expected to be in favor.

While certain makers attempted to force the snap down brims three months ago, they were not received with the anticipated popularity. But this fall the manufacturers expect a different story.

Grays and Blue Strong. — One of the colors grays and blues will dominate. As a matter of fact the blending of these two tones will probably score higher than any other color shades are the mixtures which will go well with the powder blue suits and overcoats of the same color.

According to the depoters silk and rough finishes are expected to run in the same proportions as during last spring, with odds in favor of the former.

Since the belted overcoat is almost in the discard we may look for less of this sort of overcoat in the winter. That means the less rough-mixtures in hats will gain precedence slightly over the woolly variety of the fall season. We would watch the blended mixtures and scratch-ups.

Mixtures to the Front. — And these mixtures, too, will replace many of the brown and tan worn for many years. This does not mean, however, almost universally that they will go out altogether, but will not score so heavily as in the past. Brown, of course, is a standard color, and will retain many of its followers.

Then, too, there will be some blacks, dark blues and dark oaks (or greys). They are especially appropriate for evening dress over with ties, coats and dinner-jackets or with the dark shade suitings.

The derby hat promises to come back stronger than ever. For some years this style was in retirement when sport coats and great coats had the call. With semi-fitted coats, ultra-soft overcoats, and—these coats the mixtures in alpine shades.

Derby Back in Favor. — There will be a lot of derbies worn during the winter. For the motorist they are a white background, black, although some grays and tans will be shown. These coats met with some favor in eastern cities last year and the tendency is spreading westward.

For kneebout wear cloth hats with some favor as extensively as ever. For the motorist they are a white background, black, although some grays and tans will be shown. These coats met with some favor in eastern cities last year and the tendency is spreading westward.

They also saw Attorney Boeger, formerly of the Black Hills Mr. and Mrs. Mears think is prettier than they have ever seen in California or Florida. Enroute home they stopped at Yankton to see the new Meridian highway bridge.

Visit Chadron On Way to Black Hills

Mr. and Mrs. Grant S. Mears arrived home Saturday from their trip to points in the Black Hills and western Nebraska. During their journey they met many former acquaintances.

Of their visit to Chadron, Neb., the Journal of that place had this to say: "Last Thursday night Grant Mears and his wife, Mrs. Mears, were welcomed into Chadron (by mistake) and camped at the auto camp under clear skies, and congratulating themselves upon the fine weather. At about seven o'clock this fine weather changed, and the much needed and longed for rain began to fall, and continued to do so until about noon on Friday."

By this time our friends at the camp were tired of staying in bed to keep warm so Mrs. Mears ventured to the nearest house and telephoned the Journal office. We heard the editor saying something like this: "Who? Where are you?" "The devil you say?" "Well, I'm a son of a gun!" "Say, I'll be right down there."

Forthwith the Buick rushed down and took Mrs. Mears to Hotel Snow, where she thawed and dried her out by the kitchen fire. We were not only delighted to have these people in our home but anxious to make them forget about the camp grounds at Chadron.

Mr. and Mrs. Mears remained until Sunday noon. In the meantime also visiting their friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bright. Mr. Mears has been in the legislature for ten years and has acquaintances all over the state. Chadron numbers several of these, and Mr. Mears spent his leisure time in calling upon these. He was especially pleased to be shown the new municipal building by President Elliott. Mr. Mears was chairman of the finance committee for the Cost of operating the railroads during Government control increased abnormally. This has now been substantially decreased under private management.

Hourly and daily rates of pay for railway employes are yet higher than they were during Government control.

Beginning with January, 1922, the Interstate Commerce Commission has made several reductions in freight rates until fully one-half of the advance in freight rates made in 1920 has been wiped out.

Rates are still about forty per cent higher than before the war.

None of this increase in rates goes to the owners of the railroads. The net return to the owners is less than it was before the war, and this notwithstanding the fact that more than two billion dollars have been invested by the railroads since 1917.

All of the increases in rates, both freight and passenger, express and other service, have gone and are going to pay higher wages, higher taxes, and higher costs of materials and supplies.

the young men and young women who the declares are just as good when it comes to department and character as any that have preceded them.

Bobbed hair, cosmetics, manners and dress peculiar to the young people of today hold no terror whatever for Bishop Hughes. He falls utterly to discover in these outward details an index to character just as he failed to find one when identified with the young people in the past.

A Bishop's Defense. Sioux City Journal. Bishop Hughes, of the Methodist Episcopal church, recently in Chicago because the champion of the young people of today, who differ from others because they are living in the present shows many changes, are criticized right and left by the older persons. The bishop is on record as defending not there has been a real slump by the youngsters are just as good when it slump has enveloped the whole of society is a debatable question. It may be that there has been no slump. But that as it may, any tendency to lax morals and to dissipate for law can be traced as much to public opinion—the public opinion created by the publicity hovers—as to any other one thing. When youth hours are talking gossip on the street, talking jestingly of the fact that Jones successfully pulled one over on the prohibition officers the other night; with that Smith went over the duck limit on his last hunting trip, relating with a laugh that Johnson was driving up Main street forty miles an hour and narrowly escaped a crash—can it be any wonder that the youth of today takes his fling at day-devilry and even finds sport in cracking an occasional pipe? Precept and example are strong factors in creating sentiment, either for the things that are right or for the things that are wrong. A young reference to the breaking of laws is as bad in effect upon the thinking of the younger generation as is actual deed. The period of jazz living cannot be brought to a close until some of the jazz spirit is worked out of the critics of the younger generation.

York Republican: The decadence of the party organ newspapers is everywhere noted. Very few of the Nebraska newspapers consider themselves as the principal supporters and defenders of the party whom the editor generally favors. And it is because of this independence of thought and action that the utterance of the newspapers on measures and candidates have more weight. The day of the vote-straight voters is done and the days of the support-strang newspapers has been done for quite a while. And as a consequence voters vote more intelligently and newspapers utterances on politics are not discounted before they are read.

Genera Signal: Every American church is an concrete example of a co-operative society. In a co-operative society the members join themselves together voluntarily and agree to do certain things for each other and with each other for the purpose of accomplishing certain results. The success of every co-operative society, whether in religion, in business, or in education, depends upon the extent to which the individuals comprising the society perform their separate duties. In the case of a church there are two outstanding requirements for co-operation—attendance upon the religious exercises that form a part of the church work and the payment of a due proportion of the money needed to carry on the operations of the church. In a business co-operative society each member pays a fixed share of the expense without regard to his ability to pay. To a church society it is a fundamental part of the organization that those able to pay shall pay according to their ability to pay and pay enough to make up for shares of those not able to pay, or able to pay only a portion of their pro rata share. That is the principle of the support-strang of a church co-operative society and a business co-operative society.

Genera Signal: Every American church is an concrete example of a co-operative society. In a co-operative society the members join themselves together voluntarily and agree to do certain things for each other and with each other for the purpose of accomplishing certain results. The success of every co-operative society, the attitude take by Bishop Hughes is one that may be recommended to those of older generations, who thought they were "gentle little angels" when they were boys and girls, and who feel that young people have suffered a retrograde movement. The bishop has not lost faith in youthful members of society, and what is more important is that he knows that he considers them worthy of his trust. And anyone may safely depend upon that as long as he stabilizes his and its many problems with which youngsters come in contact. It is well known that when one is distressed, one has no encouragement for help in a department. Likewise may deep trust prove to be a better investment than constant doubt. Besides, where "humanity would hand it lost faith in the better part of itself is a contingency of the contemplation of which no one could dream. There would be to take away too much of that which makes life worth living.

From Other Editors. Aurora (Republican): The present tendency toward the young people's appetites for excitement which has led to an era of jazz living among the younger generation, and which has become so thoroughly condemned by those no longer so young, may be traced to the very sources which so heartily join in the chorus against the youngsters. In other words, the elements of the present generation are to blame if there is a slump from the standards of yesterday. Whether or

Wayne Woman's Club.
An interesting meeting of the Wayne Woman's Club was held Friday in the Community house when talks on the political candidates were given. Miss Mary Mason spoke for the republicans; Mrs. Clyde man for the democrats and Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis for the third party. Miss Frieda Schrupp played a piano selection, a melody of patriotic numbers. The following responded to roll call: Mrs. Clyde Oman and Mrs. S. A. Lutgen were chosen delegates to the state club meeting to be in Grand Island this week. Mrs. S. A. Lutgen was to attend. Mrs. Lutgen has received request for 100 copies of her song, "Nebraska, My Native Land." The following are the titles of the booklets containing the year's program for the Wayne women, were given to members Friday: and they are: "The Year's Program," "The numbers is planned. Mrs. P. S. Berry explained briefly the year's work. Several of the meetings this year are to be held at homes of the members. An annual bazaar was discussed. The club meets again Oct. 24.

Baptist Convention.
The Nebraska Baptist convention met October 8-12 at North Platte. This is the farthest west a Baptist convention has ever gone and as a result, the meeting has had a large attendance from the churches in the west part of the state. The convention revealed that Nebraska Baptists are grappling with problems in a most successful way. Between February 1 and Easter Sunday of this year more than one thousand members were baptized in Baptist churches by baptism alone. Twenty-eight new pastors have come into the state while only fourteen have left this state. The Baptists are solving the problem of pastoral supply.
Dr. A. M. Petty, general representative of the American Baptist Mission society, brought out the fact that every tenth person in the United States is a Negro and that every third Negro is a member of a Baptist church. Baptists have mission schools in every southern state and Baptist are assuming responsibility for a large part of the education in the direction of the colored race. The Nebraska convention carries on work for the Negroes.
Secretary W. Ainslie took a poll of the ministers present to determine the type of field that sent them forth. It was discovered that three out of every four Baptist preachers had come from rural fields. It seemed to be the sentiment that Nebraska Baptists must strengthen their work with the country churches.
Rev. B. B. Braden, director of institutional education of the convention, brought out some startling facts: "One half of the people of the world cannot read or write. One half of the world suffers from disease and accident with no scientific treatment. One-half of the world has never heard the name of Jesus Christ." This is a challenge to the churches to produce leadership. Braden declared that there was never a time in the history of the world when young people responded to the call of the human race's need and the voice of God than today. Nebraska Baptists are taking more seriously the task of training leaders than ever before.
Dr. John Eard, editor of "The Baptist," led the convention in a series of masterful inspirational addresses which directed the people into a new realization of the reality of the Christian faith. The Nebraska Baptist convention sides numerous dwellings. It is pleasantly located and is a lively point.

West-a court adjoining Covington has been laid out and named South Sioux City. They claim that a bridge across the Missouri is to be built there and will connect the new town with Sioux City. When the bridge is built, South Sioux City will no doubt become a place of importance. Father Martin of the Indian City Argosy owns forty acres adjoining and he will immediately lay it out into lots and add it to the new town. On his hand large beds of sand have recently been discovered. In fact the greater part, (all indeed, excepting that which is covered by water) is ascertained to be a very valuable bed of sand, ten to fifteen feet deep. The numerous houses to be erected in South Sioux City will need this sand in order that their walls may be plastered and from the sale of it, Father Martin will, we are glad to believe, reap a fortune. South Sioux City, as soon as the bridge is built, will be one of the country seats. In Dakota county.—The only question in doubt is whether the much desired bridge will be built. Leading business men in Sioux City say it will not. Nature also, with its 180 perpendicular feet of gumbo before a rock bottom can be reached, protests and pronounces against a bridge at that point. Experienced engineers who have examined, assert that a permanent bridge at Sioux City is an absolute impossibility. And indeed, if a railroad from Omaha running north through eastern Nebraska and Dakota to Sioux Falls is built, Sioux City will not need any bridge, as by such a road Sioux City would be on the Nebraska custom and trade. If such a road is built as now seems probable, the bridge will be at Ponca.

Farm Organization Endorses Houston

E. C. Houston of Tekamah, republican candidate for congress from the Third Nebraska district, has been given the unqualified endorsement of the American Council of Agriculture, an organization of farmers that exists for the purpose of "securing and maintaining equality for agriculturists."

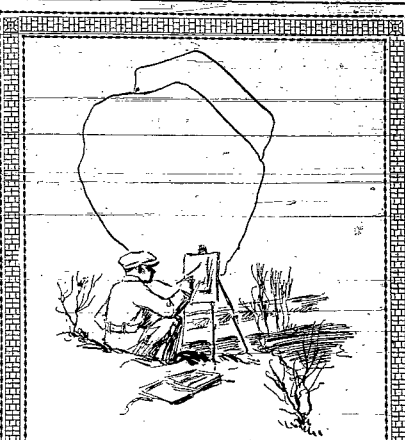

That Mr. Houston is a friend of the farmers and can be depended on to work for the agricultural interests indicated by the following letter of endorsement from the American Council of Agriculture:

"Acknowledgment is gladly and appreciatively made hereby of the fact that as candidate for election to congress you have pledged yourself if elected to vote for and actively support legislation that will give American agriculture equality with American industry and labor.

"This should-and does-entitle you to the favorable consideration of all voters of your district who recognize the necessity for securing a restored and soundly founded agriculture.

"You are welcome to make any proper use of this letter in connection with your campaign in the forthcoming election. We are making direct report to member organizations within your territory."

COMMISSIONERS' PROCEEDINGS.

Wayne, Nebraska, October 7th, 1924. Board met in regular session. All members present. State of Nebraska Executive Office Lincoln

Charles W. Bryan Governor

September 8th, 1924.

To the County Commissioners or Supervisors and other County Officers Nebraska. Gentlemen: That the date may meet the suits brought by the various railroads over their taxes it is necessary that certain data be compiled in the various counties. Mr. Wm. H. Smith, State Tax Commissioner, is therefore meeting with the various county boards for the purpose of enlisting their cooperation, and through the cooperation of other county officers as well as the people of the county.

I trust we may have your help in this matter.

Very truly yours, CHARLES W. BRYAN, (Signed) Governor, and Chairman State of Equalization and Assessment, State of Nebraska Department of Justice Lincoln

August 26, 1924.

To all County Supervisors, Commissioners and other County Officers of Nebraska. Gentlemen:—Mr. Wm. H. Smith, Tax Commissioner of Nebraska, is visiting the various counties for the purpose of getting the counties to furnish information as to property values in this state during the years 1922, 1923 and 1924 in connection with the defense of the cases instituted by the Burlington, North Western and the P. & O. Railroads in the United States District Court for the district of Nebraska, in which they resist in part the assessment of their properties by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment, for the years 1922 and 1923. It is assumed that the same railroads will also contest the 1924 assessment. The Rock Island Railroad is resisting the 1923 and 1924 assessments in the state courts. It is necessary to have full information as to property values in order to present intelligently the defense in these cases. All county officers are earnestly requested to furnish all the facts and information at their command that will throw light on property values. This will entail some expense but the counties are all interested—much more so than the state and should be willing to render assistance.

Yours very truly, O. S. SPILLMAN, Attorney General.

By Hugh Lamaster, Assistant Attorney General. It is hereby resolved that in accordance with the letters of the Governor and Attorney General in the sense of this Board, that this Board and all county officers, cooperate with the Attorney General's office by furnishing such data as required or requested by them, and that a copy of the letters of the Governor and Attorney General be incorporated into the minutes of this Board and a record made thereof.

"Know Nebraska" featuring a map of Nebraska and text about the state's agricultural and industrial products.

Nuggets From Nebraska Soil. A veritable chest of gold, is Nebraska's great annual crop of potatoes. The average annual value of this crop is about $8,000,000. Potatoes are grown on nearly every one of the 124,000 farms in the state, with approximately 100,000 acres on some 6,000 farms devoted to raising potatoes for the market. Potato raising, like other Nebraska industries, is increasing year by year, and as the state grows more and more local and long distance telephone service is required. At the present rate of growth the Bell System must spend about three-fourths of a million dollars annually to furnish new telephone equipment for Nebraskans. In order to provide for the growing demands for telephone service, vast sums of money must be obtained constantly from investors. Nearly half a million people already own Bell System stock or bonds. We shall be pleased to have you, also, as an investor in the business. Our Manager or any telephone employee will gladly give you full information about Bell stock or bonds. As Nebraska prospers, the telephone is successful. Therefore, we constantly strive to give the present rate of growth the lowest possible charges consistent with reasonable wages and a fair return on the money invested in the business. ### A Pleased User

Wayne, Nebraska, Sept. 6, 1924.
O. S. ROBERTS, Plumbing and Heating.

Wayne, Nebraska.
Pleased to be informed that The Ideal Arcola Heating System you installed in my home last fall gives perfect satisfaction. I kept my house between 70 and 75 degrees Fahr. during the coldest weather we had last winter, with a great saving of fuel. I did not burn over 3 tons of coal all season. I did figure on installing a pipeless furnace, but I am glad I listened to you, as this heat is cleaner and healthier and more saving. I will take great pleasure in recommending the Arcola Heating System to anyone interested.

Yours truly,

FRANK POWERS.

I have one of the above mentioned Ideal Arcola Heating Systems on display at my shop, and will be glad to show it to anyone interested.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING

How State Taxes Were Cut by Republican Legislatures

1921 $70,500,000
1922 $7,540,968
1923 $5,400,540
1924 $5,752,174

Reduction $85,889,654 or 53%

Reduction $83,925 or 12%

Reduction $674,581 or 10%

Challenging Comparison

For the present fiscal year, Federal tax receipts will show a saving to the people of $5,000,000 a day as compared with 1921. This shatters all records for tax reduction and was accomplished under the Harding-Coolidge administration.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, governmental expenditures were $3,585,000,000 and the surplus, $357,000,000 and the surplus was built up to $500,000,000.

The reduction in the public debt meant an annual saving in interest of more than $100,000,000.

When the republican administration took over the governmental reins, demobilization and liquidation remained to be completed. Huge accounts with railroads were unsettled. Approximately 5,000,000 men were out of employment. The administration fell behind on its obligations amounting to more than $7,000,000,000. These have all been refunded or paid.

Charles C. Dwyer, as first director of the budget, assisted materially in restoring economy in national affairs.

Nebraska was one of the first to cut the heat out of high state taxes. A republican legislature in 1922, at one stroke, reduced them 83 per cent.

In dollars and cents this reduced the total tax assessed to the several counties from $1,930,607.11 in 1921 to $734,983.10. This, too, was a record-breaking accomplishment.

A republican legislature was returned again in 1923 to further reduce governmental costs. It lowered the $3,360,935.00 of 1922 to $2,640,457 for 1923, a reduction of 12 per cent. This was made possible largely because of the compliance of the people for sales and excise taxes for 1924, the republican legislature provided for a further reduction in state taxes of 10 per cent.

If the voters select with care, the men who are to represent them in the state legislature next winter, governmental economy will be assured.

One economical move proposed by the republican party is a tax on gasoline in motor vehicles, the proceeds to be used exclusively for the building and maintenance of roads. This system has been adopted by more than three-fourths of the states and the people of those states are satisfied. It means that the thousands of tourists who cross Nebraska shall benefit by general taxation for road purposes. It will not apply to gasoline used in connection with activities on the farm.

The republican plan contemplates a lowering of present excessive license fees upon ordinary motor cars as a result of the gasoline tax.

CONSTRUCTIVE ECONOMY AND COMMON SENSE ARE THE PROMISES OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY-THEY HAVE BEEN FULFILLED BY THE NATIONAL CONGRESS AND BY THE NEBRASKA STATE LEGISLATURE.

Buy a Corn Picker

There is a growing demand for corn pickers, and we are able to offer the McCormick-Deering picker which proves a great saving in time and labor. Farmers are buying pickers now to make quick and easy work in gathering their crop, and those who could use them to advantage should come and see us.

When You Tractorize Your Farm don't do things by Halves

Prepare to take care of all your power needs for years to come. Get power or energy for all your machines and all your jobs. Get a complete tractor with no extras to buy. Get handy, ample power for belt work and drawbar work. McCormick-Deering gives you this and is especially designed for the addition of a third important source of power—the Power Take-Off. This power take-off consists of a shaft attached to the rear of the transmission. It transmits power in very much the same way as a propeller shaft on an automobile or truck and is used to drive the mechanism of the pulled machine. It goes away with such well-known troubles as slipping bull wheels, clogging and stalling where the tractor is not sufficient. The bull wheel only carries the weight of the machine. The power take-off always runs at the same speed whether the tractor is in low or second gear. It can be operated when the tractor is standing still.
You need a tractor to handle all your farm work, and inspection of the famous McCormick-Deering is earnestly invited. Let us demonstrate its many good qualities, and explain the guarantee that goes with it.

Special Demonstration of the Copper-Clad

"The World's Greatest Range"

Will be held at our store for one week Beginning October 20

And you are invited to attend to see the most remarkable demonstration ever held in our city. An expert from the Copper-Clad Malleable Range Factory will show you how the asbestos lining of a range sweats every time a fire is made. Come - see for yourself. See the sweat roll up in beads on the iron body - See the sweat that passes sweat-trust, a disease that eats up and rusts out range bodies from the inside.

They see how and why Copper-Clad Ranges are lined with pure copper where other ranges rust out. See the domes on the sheet of copper - See the air spaces formed by the domes.

See the thermos bottle principle actually applied to ranges. See what it means in fuel saving.

The Copper-Clad is the only range in the world that has four walls and an air space. Come - and bring your friends, too.

The Range Beautiful
The strikingly beautiful design of the Copper-Clad range immediately appeals to everyone. It is as pretty as a picture and so easy to clean.

Now made in four beautiful finishes: Gun Metal Blue, White, Blue or Gray Porcelain Enamel.

Come In! See the Asbestos Sweat!

Free During This Exhibit Only

This beautiful all pure Irish linen damask set, consisting of one large, pattern-table cloth and six large, pattern napkins to match, or a substantial set of pure aluminum cooking ware, if preferred, will be given absolutely free to every Copper-Clad buyer during the sale.

Republican Candidate for CONGRESS
I believe in practical economy in public affairs and applying the same rule of honesty and efficiency in governmental matters, that are used in the management of private affairs.
I believe that many of the governmental problems are solved by the application of "Common Horse Sense."
I believe in a reduction of taxes and in a cheaper transportation for agricultural commodities, which can eventually be brought about by a development of the water-ways of the nation.
I believe in encouraging in every way-by legislation or otherwise-the co-operation of the agricultural interests and an orderly marketing of agricultural products.
I believe that all wealth should be taxed alike and that Congress should prohibit the issuance of tax-free securities.
I pledge my best efforts to place agriculture on an equal basis with all other industries of the nation, and to secure legislation that will bring about this result.

You and each of you are hereby notified that on the 14th day of October, 1924, Hiram E. Griggs, filed his petition in the county court of Wayne county, Nebraska, alleging that May E. Griggs departed this life intestate at her residence in Wayne, Wayne county, Nebraska, on or about September 23, 1918, and at the time of her death was a resident of said county and state; that she died seized by her last will and testament in force in the amount of Ten Thousand ($10,000) Dollars of the north ten (10) feet of Lot Four (4), Block Two (2), North Addition to the City of Wayne, Nebraska, and left surviving her as her sole and only heirs at law, Hiram E. Griggs, her husband, Fern B. Sweet, her daughter, Iris V. Griggs, her daughter and Lydia M. Marshall, her daughter; said petition further alleges that said real estate was occupied by said

Said petition prays for a finding and decree determining the time of the death of said May E. Griggs, deceased, that she died intestate, for a determination of her heirs, the degree of kinship, the right of descent and vesting of said real estate, and for reviving claims of creditors against said estate, and prays such other relief as may be just and proper.
