Buy New Boiler For Power Plant

Wayne City Council Made Purchase Tuesday Evening at the Regular Meeting.

Machinery Needed

Will be Installed and Ready for Use Within Ninety Days at Cost of $17,575.

A new Murray 300-horse power water tube boiler was bought Tuesday evening by the city council for the Wayne power plant. The cost complete for boiler, stoker and erection being $17,575.

"Four boilers are to be in use. The new one will be used about three-fourths of the time. Two others will be used while the large one is being cleaned and cared for and the fourth will be kept ready for emergency use. There is so much care in the use of the boiler that the one now purchased fits a great need at the plant."

The $17,575 pays for the boiler, an automatic stoker and all of the expense of installing these. The feed stoker is the first used here and it is estimated that it will consume twenty-five percent of the coal used for this boiler because it allows no cold air to get into the boiler when it is not in use.

The boiler is made of steel and the grates evenly and it automatically regulates the temperature so as not to waste fuel. It is planned that there will be sufficient room for the new boiler in the power house by some rearrangement.

The council had one bid on the boiler and six for the stoker present before the meeting Tuesday.

Ellen Mae Stone Dies Here Tuesday

Miss Ellen Mae Stone who had been falling in health the past year died at her home in Lincoln, Neb., Tuesday morning, July 1, after a long illness.

She was born in Wayne 38 years ago. Her father, John Stone, died at Beckenham funeral parlor Wednesday afternoon with Rev. John G. Nelson of the Wakefield Mission church in charge of the services. Burial was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Miss Stone was a daughter of Mrs. Gustav Johnson of the present address. She was the youngest of three children. Her mother died thirty-two years ago. Besides her mother deceased leaves her stepfather, Gustav Johnson, of Lincoln, Neb., and a sister, Mrs. M. J. Stone, of Sioux City, Ia.

Her father died at the funeral service.

Divorce Hearings Found many would be here.

District court judges throughout the state labored overtime this week in their efforts to hear as many as possible before the new law became effective. As many as twenty divorce cases were heard in a single day, but the final day, yesterday, found many cases still on the court docket.

Judges of the Omaha municipal court today found their salaries increased four cents a year. The mayor and the sheriff of Douglas county found himself relieved of the trouble of feeding the 300 county jail prisoners all through acts of the legislature.

The Douglas county commissioners assume the task of feeding the jail prisoners from July 1 on.

Those Nebraskans fortunate enough to have a bank balance will probably have to keep a check with their check stubs. The no fund check law, under the law effective today means that a check without a fund overdraft, punishable by prison confinement.

School teachers may rest at ease in their homes this summer, the new law increasing the retirement pension from $500 to $900 yearly. Another new law requires public school teachers to register their certificates with the county superintendent before a legal contract to teach can be made.

Automobile owners were rejoicing over the new law that automatically gave a 'P' license for the remainder of the year can be obtained now for $4 instead of $5 as under the old law. Similar reductions are provided for other autos.

And there are many other statute changes and additions, many of which never arise in the lives of the 2,355,871 residents of Nebraska, which became effective last midnight.

Former Resident Dies at Papillion

Charles B. Tower, former resident of Wayne, passed away at Papillion, Neb., Tuesday morning of last week at the age of 57 years. He had been in the state business for many years.

He was born in Wayne, Neb., in 1868. He was married to Mrs. Nellie, and they had one daughter, Nellie, and a son, William.

He was a member of the First Baptist church of Papillion, Neb., and was a member of the First Baptist church of Wayne, Neb., for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Berry and son, Frederick, went to Sioux City Sunday, and Mrs. Berry and son left there Tuesday in company with John Berry and family on a tour of the Pacific coast. They will visit Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Vancouver and other points, and expect to be gone about six weeks. F. S. Berry returned to Wayne Monday evening. He may join his family at Seattle and stop there some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Weaver of Santa Ana, Calif., accompanied by Mrs. and Mrs. Grant S. Meers, in the course of a tour by automobile of the central west. Mr. Weaver came to Wayne in 1880 when only one building rested on the site. He left here thirty years ago for Colorado, and five years ago moved to Santa Ana. He is so well pleased with his home that he thinks he will spend the remainder of his days there. He was much interested and pleased over the improvements in evidence in this county.

Market Report

Furnished by Swanson, Gilmore & Walsh, Sioux City Stock Yards.

July 1. — Discrimination against weighty hives in comparison to yearlings, the hexotoxics high sellers, failed into the background this week. Fancy 1924 pounders earned $12.50 in a three lot straight up sale on Tuesday, which furnishes a new front figure for the river markets this year. Fine yearlings and heavy weight cattle are quoted at the same peak.

Corn fed cattle are becoming increasingly scarce as the season advances with resulting strength in prices. This week all 25 cents was added by the end of the middle session. The business extended to include all weight and classes of fed steers, as well as dry lot cows and heifers.

However, the tale covering grassy material is different. The opening July one week brought about 83,000 cattle to the 11 leading markets of the country, about 25,000 more than had put in an appearance there on any Monday. An analysis brought out the fact that the increase had been made up entirely from grassers of the southern ranges. Tuesday a heavy grasser delegation from the southwest augmented the situation and packers found more range stuff at hand than needed. Naturally they refused to take the market to the northern pastures at continued high prices. The deal on grassers slumped. At midweek the loss is easily 25 cents on lots on kids outside of the shambles.

The stocker and feeder class did not feel the pressure applied so heavily by the grass killers. Incoming supplies of cattle suitable for a return trip to the country again proved light and rural demands were equal to moving all arrivals at steady prices. Right now some really high quality range feeders would command around $8 going out of the market, while yearlings should hit practically the same groove if choice.

Fancy green heifers of even color and showing heavy white markings go to the dealers around $6. The price was paid occasionally this week. The 11 leading markets of the country received about a half million legs less this June, as compared to last. The seven leading markets now show a falling off for the first six months of 1935, as compared to the corresponding period of 1924, of over 2,500,000 legs. Naturally such decreases are reflecting strength to the trade. Much unevenness has entered the situation as packers try to place packing-sows down where they belong, but otherwise the deal has been very favorable. Tons on the river are firing around with the $13.50 line. Values during June were anywhere from $5.50 to $5.50 per hundred weight higher this June than last.

The ovine trade still holds a strong tone. Incoming supplies have not been more than needed over the country. Here best lambs figure at $10 and ewes to $7. Ewes worked considerably higher the first half of this week to attain that level.

F. S. Wheaton to Wed Katherine G. Chace

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chace of Wayne announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Katherine G. Chace, to Mr. F. Sherwood Wheaton of Chicago, Ill.

Notwithstanding the excessive heat which I have been repeatedly assured you don't notice out here because of the lack of humidity, we lunched at the home of Dr. Barker.

This morning coming on the train Mollie called my attention to the Chamelle which contained a notice of six cases of heat prostration in this city yesterday.

We are comfortably settled for the day and will move east tomorrow at a few minutes before noon.

New Law Against No-Fund Checks

Norfolk Daily News: A fine of not less than $100 nor more than $5,000, or imprisonment in the penitentiary not exceeding six months, or both, is the punishment prescribed for a person in Nebraska who after July 1 shall write a check for a sum greater than $5, knowing at the time of such making that he or she did not have sufficient funds in the bank or other depository for the payment of such check.

Under $35—Misdemeanor If a check, draft or order so issued is not over $35 in amount the person convicted of fraudulently drawing it shall be fined in any sum not less than $5, nor more than $100, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail not more than sixty days or both, and pay costs of prosecution.

cheek, payment of which is refused by the drawee because of lack of funds or credit, shall be evidence of intent to defraud and of knowledge of insufficient funds in a bank, providing such maker shall not have paid the check at the time of its issue, and with costs and fees, within five days after receiving notice that such check has been protested as a fraud.

Then the notice of protest shall be admissible as proof of such presentation for payment, non-payment and protest of it in such notice of protest of drawee's notice of dishonor shall state that the payment of the check was refused because of lack of funds or credit, it shall be presumptive evidence that the payment of such a bank or depository.

The word "credit" as used means an arrangement or understanding with the bank for payment of the check.

Under the old law there was a provision that if a person could show that he or she had funds in a bank to the amount of the check, the burden of the proof was on the one receiving the check. After July 1 if the check is not set off, it is presumptive evidence that the maker attempted to defraud.

Business

St. Louis City Journal: Last year about this time there came out of Kansas a new optimistic note that heralded the coming of a new and better condition for the wheat-farmer.

Not only were prices better, but the amount and the yield were such as to bring joy to the farmers. This Kansas joy was reflected in every wheat-growing state as the harvest of the major harvest.

At this time the harvest is on in Kansas again. The government's crop report of two or three weeks ago told how wheat this year would fall far short of an average yield.

The price of wheat at the elevator now is from $1.35 to $1.40, about 60 cents more than was expected at the time the government crop report was published.

There were many things that hurt the crop. Severely hot weather just as the wheat was ripening cut down the yield more than was expected.

Reduction in Auto Licenses on July 1

Broken Bug Chief: The new law regulating license on all classes of motor vehicles will be in effect July 1. This is the most-expected reduction. For instance, on autos the new registration fee will be reduced from $5 to $3.

Motorcycle fees under the new law are $4, a reduction of $1. For trailers, the price is reduced from $5 to $3 with an additional charge of 50 cents per hundred in excess of 1,000 pounds.

All trucks with a total weight when loaded of 3,000 pounds or less will be classified as passenger cars and will pay a registration fee of $8 each.

Trucks whose total weight is 4,000 the new price will be $15, while the former price was $20. On trucks with a total weight in excess of 4,000 pounds an additional 50 cents for each hundredpounds is charged.

The new law regarding special provisions for motorbikes is a little complicated. Special instructions, however, from the Department of Public Works have been issued and the Chief would suggest that auto-enthusiasts who have not secured these instructions, write for same so that they may be thoroughly posted and avoid annoyance after the new law goes into effect.

One especially attractive feature of the new law is the granting of permission to pay licenses quarterly. Parties who have secured licenses on any motor vehicle prior to the taking effect of this law will not, of course, receive a refund this year.

The earthquake which wrecked Santa Barbara, Calif., and which was less severe in other parts of southern California, gives fresh proof of seismic changes that are taking place to life and property in the mild and agreeable climate of the southwest. Every country has its disadvantages, and the liability of earthquake is one of those that disturb the peace of mind in California. An occasional tornado sweeps down on Nebraska, and no human agency can control its course or modify its violence. Like a tornado, an earthquake does as it pleases, and the only thing more human and more humane is to relieve the suffering and repair damages.

Some people do all they are asked to do, and clean more than they are expected to do, but usually they are not fully appreciated and never adequately rewarded. Given a task to perform for a neighborhood or general public, they take it in hand with determination and carry it to complete triumph without show or vain glory. They are the kind of people who are expected to do, but usually they are not fully appreciated and never adequately rewarded. Dixon county's propensity for natural phenomena always has been legendary when anything bearing similarity to its special lines happened elsewhere. Over on the Missouri river in the early days, the so-called Ionian volcano was in the habit of firing up and trying to be violent whenever the wind and lightning were in the same place. Sometimes the Ionian volcano became so disturbing that neighboring settlers had to quit the neighborhood and move to a place directly directed into the crater. Just now Dixon county, simultaneous with the earthquake in Montana, is the scene of a descending meteor which breaks down an electric wire, falling across a barbwire fence. The latter was charged with electricity, killing horses, and causing a lot of excitement.

July Fourth reminds people of the struggling American colonies that achieved independence and laid the foundation for a powerful nation. The spirit that inspired the founders of this government has been manifested in every subsequent crisis. Time has multiplied the population, and developed wonderful resources. Future riches have followed. But we should be careful not to misuse wealth or abuse privileges. We should make use and luxury to improve our strength and weaken our character. The spirit of '76 should be kept alive, and the courage of pioneers should be shared with the succeeding generations to keep this nation big in heart and mind, being in the future, as in the past, a leader for justice among all governments.

Quo Vadis which was widely read as a book several years ago, appeared on the screen at the local moving picture house this week, and the impressive portrayal emphasizes the unrelenting cruelty of Nero when he would Rome soon after the beginning of the Christian era. Nero's hostility to the Christian religion and his torture and persecution of the Christians, made him the most fiendish in the history of the world. Nero's cruelty sought no purpose excepting to satisfy insatiable vanity. It is conceivable that people in authority would wish even in a modified degree to cause this Nero to be delighted to do it. It was to be expected that this fiendish monster would soon be overthrown and that he would find escape in his own life.

After a few years of grinding sacrifices due to a most unfortunate bank failure, Carroll and vicinity are fast coming back. Carroll is situated in one of the best parts of the county, and the citizens are showing a new order. People usually had implicit faith in the old bank, now defunct, and when they saw their accounts wiped out they were crushed. When they became disheartened and crippled. But they buckled down to the severe task of recuperation. They saved and tried to do better. They have shown indomitable pluck and spirit. Lately reorganization

MOSQUITOES

Mosquitoes are larger, more voracious and stay longer when they light than usual. In the neighborhood of ponds and streams the impetuous insects swarm with clanking jaws and pleasure-seeking tourists or picnickers. We have seen mosquito victims who look as though they had reached the most violent stage of smallpox. This year mosquitoes contribute no small part to the relief felt when an outing is over.

and strengthening of the surviving bank have given new courage and stimulus to the community. Growing crops on the rich farms of the territory never looked more promising. People are not brooding over the banking calamity that hit them a staggering blow, but they are looking ahead and moving forward with resolution and confidence.

LOOKING OUT FOR CHILDREN

Dr. Sherwood Eddy believes lack of religious training in the schools and the daily massing of children is largely responsible for indifference to honesty and high moral standards among many young people. The underlying principle, Dr. Eddy says, is that all denominations, but disagreement over non-essentials hinders application and observance of important things. Dr. Eddy points out that parents do not give enough instruction to their children in habits of right living, and that they are overly confident that such caution is unnecessary.

"Basically," says Dr. Eddy, "we all want honest, clean, and morally upright children, and every youngster wants to be strong and clean, too. They are much more troubled about it than the parents sometimes appreciate are. That, as far as fundamentally sound, as a rule, if we just take thought about it, is proved in what happened in the Indiana religious conference."

"After one year of religious instruction in the high school above mentioned, we were again disappointed. Students unknown to them to determine their honesty. What do you think would be the result? Only one student was found to be dishonest. 'Do you want to be clean?' 'Do you want to be clean?' 'Do you want to be clean?' These are the questions he must answer. You can read the answers in their faces."

Dr. Eddy's interviewer drew this conclusion: "To talk to Dr. Eddy is to know that the greatest need today is a return to the old fundamental principles which underlie the virtues that are truly great. More attention to home-making and life in the home; a closer knitting together of the family in companionship and love; proper instruction in these principles which, once translated, form the basis of real moral fiber and character; a little more respect for the rights of individual life."

"In other words, the home is the source of our nation's well-being. Out of it come the forces which will strengthen or weaken the next generation. If we parents set the proper example, we will be able to preserve our families. We alone can do it."

From Other Editors

Albion News: Critics of President Collier's refusal to follow the recommendation of the tariff commission to reduce the tariff on sugar will find it difficult to get around his explanation of his refusal. The commission's recommendation meant nothing to the consumer while it did affect the producer adversely.

Fairbury News: Don't lose an opportunity that offers to treat a stranger courteously. It may mean the difference between your coming back. Recently a tourist who had just arrived in Fairbury asked a man on the street where a certain man lived. The man said he did not know but would find out for him, and going into an adjacent business house he found a telephone book, got the desired location and returned. The tourist thanked the man, but the man said he had not been paid for his trouble. Wahoo Wasp: An old timer became disheartened right away when he attempts to compare notes favorably with early settlers who have failed and vicinity, where they stroke their gray beards and talk fluently about interesting little things that happened here in 1832, when Nebraska was but a full and busy life and we extend felicitations to them.

Purchase, with no survivors' status to indicate where it began or ended. It's a fact, just an ordinary old timer stands scarcely any show at all in competitive chronology tests, when matched with the patriarchs, at Bellevue, a few lively specimens yet surviving of the group of the real and only original old timers.

Aurora Republican: The summer vacation season is at hand. Already many are off for the yearly sight-seeing tour, the annual tax and the rest cure that doesn't cure. Nebraska people join heartily in the throng. Automobiles, as usual, are the popular mode of travel, and afford a pleasant and fairly cheap way to see a lot of country that would be missed via the railroad route. Colorado and the Yellowstone will beckon many Nebraska tourists. Without wishing to infringe on the rights of these places to the tourist trade, let us suggest that residents of this state owe it to themselves to cast an approving eye over some of Nebraska's scenery on the way out. Nebraska has no Grand Canyons and painted deserts, but it does have a wonderful lot of nature that is worth seeing. The slogan for people of this state should be: "Appreciate Nebraska first."

York Republican: None will deny the power and influence of Robert M. La Follette. The politics path he chose failed in many instances, it was only a matter of time. They finally followed, even if it were afar off. It is so with all such men and reformers. They think and act ahead of the mass. They suffer many reversals, defeats and disappointments, but finally history puts upon them the stamp of greatness. And so Senator La Follette, shunned of regulars in his own party, belittled by those who could not or would not understand him, fought on and on, as only one with a vision can fight, and in the end laid down his life for the cause in which he believed, not for the sake of the individual. Political history will yield him a large niche in the hall of fame, and his fellow countrymen, whoever they may be of whatever color or creed, will be glad in time for the vision and courage and indomitable will that refused to give up a fight he thought to be right.

Golden Wedding of Stanton Co. Couple

Stanton Register, July 2: Last Thursday, July 25, 1925, was the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Pilger, and a golden wedding celebration was being gathered at the family home in Stanton to help them celebrate the event. Many of the guests came from neighboring towns. A business dinner was served at 5 o'clock, marigolds being given as favors. The spacious home was tastefully decorated in gold and white, flowers being used profusely. The day was spent socially, recalling pleasant former events and old time reminiscences.

Mr. Adam Pilger and Miss Ernestine Witrow, daughter of John Bullock of Norfolk, were married June 25, 1875. They have made their home in Stanton since that time and are true pioneers of our county. They came here when Nebraska had no railroads or telegraphs, nor were there any bridges over the river. They have done their full share in developing and building up the fertile Elkhorh Valley. There are six children in the Pilger family: Albert Pilger of Pilger, Nebraska; Ellis now Mrs. Henry Grovjan of San Diego, Calif.; Louis Pilger of Peutz, Colo.; Martha, now Mrs. Corth of Crofton; Sadie, now Mrs. Keith Miller of Pilger, Neb.; and Leo A. Pilger of Stanton. There are six grandchildren. All the children except Louis were present for this occasion. Mr. Pilger has attained the age of 73 years, and Mrs. Pilger is 71.

The name of Adam Pilger and the early history of Stanton county will ever be closely connected. He came to Nebraska in 1868, where he worked in Omaha until 1870. He then located at Norfolk, where he learned the trade of a cooper. He later came to Stanton, and erected a hardware store, and stocked it with high class merchandise, continuing to have it until 1897. For twenty years after that he conducted an implement shop. He is now retired, but still remains a director of the First National bank. As a pioneer he is looked upon as a man of excellent judgment.

He served the county as treasurer in 1883, and as judge in 1889 and 1891, thus proving his ability and popularity as a county official. In 1892, when the Agricultural Society had been in existence for a few years, he was treasurer of that organization. In politics he is a staunch democrat, and served three terms in the Nebraska legislature. He was elected in 1907. He was appointed as a member of the village board when Stanton was first incorporated as a village in 1887. He has since been chairman of the village board for eight years. He has also served on the school board. He is a well-known office, both civic and political, show his interest and ability to direct and succeed.

That we recognize these two good people of Stanton as right worthy of congratulations, on the day which marks the passing of fifty years of happy days when Nebraska was but a full and busy life and we extend felicitations to them.

THE OLD REGULAR

Overburdening the President. New York Times: It has been estimated that between Cleveland's first administration and Roosevelt's second, the amount of work—and drudgery—imposed on the president of the United States increased fourfold. Something to Laugh Of McNaughton's Monthly: A New York department store recently sold a million dollars' worth of radio sets in one day and then repeated the feat a week or two later. The sets sold for $100 apiece. When the thrifty peasants of France read about it in the Petit Parisien they leaned across the barnyard fences and remarked to their neighbors: "Well, why should we be in a hurry to pay the war debt?" Those 20,000 radio sets sold to those rich Americans rolling in gold in two days in one city are probably more than exist in all Europe, which is one reason why 2,000 people left for Europe on eight ships in one day, Saturday, May 9. Laugh that off.

other relatives here and at Winnetka, Mo. Miss Faith Phillo plans to go to Bloomfield Friday to spend the Fourth with her family. Miss Ella Tjeltgen returned Monday to her home at Carroll from the Wayne hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Oman and daughter, Miss Perye, were Sioux City visitors Wednesday. Mrs. Guy Asker returned to Carroll June 29 after recuperating from an operation at the Wayne hospital. Richard Krause of West Point, visited here Wednesday with his aunt, Mrs. William Beckenhauer, and family. Miss Ladora Wilson, student at the Wayne State Normal, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Wayne hospital Wednesday. Mrs. Essie Krahn of Los Angeles, Calif., formerly of Winslow, spent Wednesday here with Miss Kate and Miss Anna Baker. Mrs. Krahn is visiting friends in Winslow. Mrs. and Mrs. Frank Strahan and Mrs. Charles Spulstheis drove to Lake Okoboji today to spend the Fourth and to open the Strahan cottage. They will come home in a few days and will again go to the lake later. Rev. Jess Leamer and son, Dr. Bruce Leamer, of Clinton, Iowa, drove to Wayne Wednesday from Dakota City, where they were visiting, to see friends. The former attended the Lutheran academy in Wayne about forty years ago. They stopped at the L. W. Roe, J. T. Bressler, Jr., and E. W. Huse homes. Touching Their Flesh. Lincoln Journal: This suggestion of a universal return to flagging as a punishment for crime is remarkable chiefly for its source. Two officers of a New York Y. M. C. A. foster the idea. Persons could be rendered obsolete, they say, and crimes of violence "virtually wiped out" if we used the lash everywhere as they do in Delaware, in parts of Maryland, in Canada and in parts of Virginia. We should like to put out a suggestion so contrary to the centuries-long trend of humane development without conclusive evidence. The promoters of the lash point to Delaware as one state which has taken the steps which they propose. "Delaware, then, has crime been virtually wiped out?" Has crime been wiped out in those parts of Virginia and Maryland where the beneficent cut-throat tails is in use? Obviously, these questions should be answered before other states take up the cudgel. Several years ago Warden Meserve of Newcastle, Del., county work of the state's one penitentiary resigned out of dislike for the whipping post system of his state. He said that of the hundreds of men, white and black, whom it had been his duty to lash, few had shown signs of betterment. "I have come to the conclusion," the warden declared contemptuously, "that evidently this man all that is revengeful and hurtful, and arraigns himself against law, order and society." The Baltimore Sun applied to abolish the flogging system still permitted in that state. Evidently this Maryland paper is not enamored of any such use of that punishment as prevails in its own vicinity. There may be cases where flagging would be justified and effective as a public punishment. The verdict of time has gone so strongly against flagging, however, that the burden of proof is heavy upon the would-be flaggers.

Defenses Day Test. Q. What is the Defense Test? A. An explanation and trial of plans prepared for our national defense with added patriotic ceremonies. Q. What is its purpose? A. Its primary purpose is to enable our people to see for themselves and to understand the initial steps necessary to muster our man-power for national defense. Q. What are some of these initial preparations? A. The filing to full strength of the various units of the army of the United States and the steps necessary to provide for their supply, shelter, payment, training, medical care and attention, etc. Q. Why is it necessary to hold a Defense Test? A. Because in all past emergencies, from the time of our Colonial wars, we have had no plans for the systematic development of the necessary forces, and no adequate plans for maintaining troops through an emergency. We have heretofore been forced to rely upon hastily created bodies and there have resulted delay, confusion, duplication of effort, extravagance, and unnecessary loss of life. Every generation has laid and the present and the future generations must still continue to pay the price of this lack of foresight and preparation. The present system contemplates that as much of this preparation as possible be made during times of peace and not at a time when our national security may be at stake. Q. Of what will the Defense Test consist? A. Of "patriotic demonstrations," a "Test of mobilization plans," and "muster" of all the military forces of the army of the United States. Farmer Near Hoskins Hurt When Team Runs. Norfolk Daily News, June 30.—Andrew Anderson, 62, farmer who lives north of Hoskins, in a Xena, Mo., north of Hoskins, as a result of serious injuries he received Monday afternoon when he was thrown from a mowing machine, falling beneath the left wheel which passed over him, injuring his head, and breaking one rib. Mr. Anderson was mowing along the edge of an alfalfa field about 1:30 o'clock when the horses became frightened at a passing automobile, and started to run away. He was thrown to the left side of the machine. Had he fallen on the right side the sickle, which was in motion, would probably have fatally cut him. When the machine passed over him, Anderson was rendered unconscious. The team after running across the field, did not stop near the alfalfa field, but immediately ran to the field where they found him lying unconscious. He regained his senses about thirty minutes later. Anderson was brought to the Norfolk hospital about 3:30 o'clock. Attending physicians stated Monday evening that indications were that Anderson was suffering from concussion of the brain. Mrs. R. Heft of Lincoln, and Mrs. Clara Henkle came Sunday to the J. R. Heft home. Mrs. Clara Henkle came for a visit and Mrs. R. Heft to make her home with her son.

Books Accessioned At Wayne Library

A number of new books have been accessioned this week at the Wayne public library and among them are many of interest to young folks. One is "Baldy of a Name" by Esther Bird... "The Princess Pocahontas" by Virginia Watson, is a beautifully illustrated book telling of the life of the princess at the Jamestown colony in Virginia. Much valuable historical information is contained in "The Shalloon Six Susan" written by Grace M. Rennick, tells of Susan who never was able to find a place where she seemed to be of any assistance...

young man who almost falls into the hands of the enemy and is saved by the flight of a bird. "Trails and Packtrails" by James Howard Hull, tells of Tom Wadman learned tricks of the trade of a horse ranger. He lost his horse and money but he learned by experience...

A book on "Modern Golf" by P. A. Vail, is a gift of Dr. T. B. Heckert. A mystery story is "The Green Stone" by Harold Bruff. "The District of Columbia Yearbook for 1924" is in the library. "Political Ownership of Electric Light and Power," a compilation of articles, has reliable information on this topic. "Stammering, Its Cause and Cure" is written by Ben N. Rogge. "What to Talk About" is a helpful book by Inogene Wolcott. A group of books given to the library included "Dante's "Divine Comedy," "Bacon's Essays," "Greek Heroes," "Ancient Mariner," and "Tennyson's "Princess" and "Idylls of the Kings."

William J. McCoy Dies in Salt Lake

William Judson McCoy, principal of the Wayne city school from 1884 to 1888, passed away June 20 at his home in Salt Lake City, Utah, aged 73 years, 4 months and 16 days. A funeral service was held at the home Monday last week. In a review of the early citizens of Wayne, published in April, 1905, McCoy, the following was said of Mr. McCoy: "He was a healthy, man, mentally, physically and morally. He had no need for anybody but he had use for everyone. He was a median man and prefers that he be called 'Med' by his intimate friends. Mr. McCoy didn't preach nor did he show disapproval by gesture or glance elevated brow, but his conduct showed what the difference between what a man often is and what he always should be. He was one with whom all could be confidential and find him helpful."

The Salt Lake Tribune for June 21 says: "Mr. McCoy was born in New Philadelphia, Ind., February 5, 1853. He received his elementary school training at the Phillipsburg. His preparatory work was done in Franklin college and completed in the Indiana State Normal school at Terre Haute. His first teaching was in the elementary schools of his home county and he later became principal of the Clear Springs high school. McCoy was in Wayne in 1883 for Nebraska, where he taught for several years in the schools at Tekamah, Wayne and Sidney, and in 1891 Mr. McCoy came to Salt Lake City. "He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Evelyn Rellie McCoy, whom he married June 21, 1919, and by two sisters, Mrs. Mary J. Colvin and Miss Elizabeth Amelia McCoy, both of Salem, Ind. His brother, George R. McCoy, died May 10, 1925."

Mr. McCoy's last work was as principal of the South Junior high school. He served as president of the Salt Lake Principals' association for two years. He was a member for several years, and was one of the oldest members of the Orpheus club. "An associate of Mr. McCoy has said the following tribute to his memory: William J. McCoy has lived up to the highest traditions of the exalted name he bore, as the thousands who have known him during his long residence in this city will testify, and those who survive him should find much comfort and consolation in the knowledge that he was a man who lived through his entire life, openly, purely, honorably. His was a life as surely without spot or blemish as can often be found. He was modest and read of all men and pronounced one of God's most noble characters. Generous, truly sympathetic, dominated by the highest ideals, his manners marked by dignity and genuine courtesy that caused his presence to add charm to any group absolutely faithful to every trust, energetic, forward looking, possessed of strong intellectual power, and, until disease entered his body early this spring, physically capable of carrying almost any burden. Mr. McCoy holds a place in the hearts of those who knew him that is given to few to occupy."

Mrs. G. A. Chaco, Mrs. A. A. Welch and Mrs. F. G. Phillett were teaching in the Wayne school when Mr. McCoy was here.

A Statement to Telephone Users Regarding Telephone Rate Adjustments In Nebraska, Effective July 1st

It is the policy of our Company to refrain from increasing its charges for service until every effort has been exhausted to operate satisfactorily on existing revenues. But when this cannot be done without impairing the quality of telephone service, we believe it our duty to seek an adjustment in rates.

The rates charged by our Company in this state have not been adequate for many years to pay a reasonable return on the value of our property, although telephone patrons have enjoyed a good quality of service at prices relatively lower than they have paid for other services and products.

Telephone users demand reliable service. Employees who supply such service should be fairly paid. Those who invest their money to build telephone plant to meet the needs of the public for service must be paid a fair return on additional money for growth could not be obtained. We believe that the interests of the public, our employees and investors can best be served only when charges for telephone service are such as will pay expenses and earn a fair and reasonable return on the value of our property.

The detailed facts as to our investment, earnings and expenses, have been presented in our proceedings before the State-Railway Commission and the Court, and on June 11, such decision was rendered by the Court as permits us to place reasonable rates in effect. We will, therefore, make adjustments in rates in our various exchanges throughout Nebraska.

Following are the charges for the principal classes of service for the Wayne exchange, effective July 1.

Table with 2 columns: Type of Service Monthly and Net Rate Monthly. Rows include Business, Individual Line ($4.50), Business, 2 Party Line ($3.75), Residence, Individual Line ($2.50), Residence, 2 Party Line ($2.00), Residence, 4 Party Line ($1.75), Rural, Metallic Line ($2.25).

NOTE: Charges shown are net rates (after deducting the discount.) Your bill will show gross rates. The discount will be allowed when bills are paid on or before the 15th of the month for town and rural service.

This statement is made in accordance with our policy of informing our patrons at all times as to what we are doing and why, believing that when telephone users know the facts, they will appreciate the necessity for an adjustment in telephone charges.
