Market Report

Furnished By Swanson, Gilmore & Walsh, Sioux City Stock-Yards.
July 8.—Aside from what appears to be widely scattered and strictly temporary reversals, the hog market over the country keeps working steadily and somewhat swiftly towards a new upper line of demarcation for the season. Values on the river this week saw a crest over the $14 line and notwithstanding the slump under that level that followed, they are expected to again sweep up over the $14 line at the end of this month, if not sooner.

Reason for the consistent series of advances at the primary markets, as compared to a year ago, are dwindling seriously. Up to the July 4 interruption in last week the decrease in the delivery to the 11 leading markets, as compared to the corresponding days in 1924, amounted to over 200,000 head. The first half of this week shows a decrease of more than 150,000 head. Packers may not want to grant additional strength, but in face of such recent contractions it hardly seems possible that they can avoid it.

Varied success has greeted the packer effort towards the end of packing season. The advancing season is showing a liberal supply of such material and has included a fair percentage of grass steers. The margin between butcher prices now amounts to $2 to $2.50 per hundred weight.

Heavy runs of grassers off the southern range continue to give packers the upper hand on such cattle. Butchers predominated in the grasser delivery and prices on the northern market reflect all of the adverse treatment being handed out in the south. This week the general accounting summarizes in a 10 to 20 cent loss—Basis of the ordinary to good fat grassers are selling from $4.30 to $6.50 with tops toward $7 and yearling grass heifers to as high as $8.

It is yet too early to expect any firm basis on the grass offerings and therefore such grass steers as put in an appearance cannot be quoted past $8 for a top, although as high as $8.50 has been paid several times. For the good grass steers packers are generally willing to outbid the feeder buyers by a mild margin.
Increasing scarcity of corn fed steers and yearlings had caused that class of material to hold up well. If anything prices are stronger this week. Ripe heaves, or yearlings, would cost $10 or better, on the river at this time. Moreover the ripe toppers are the easiest to sell.
Again it might be well in bringing out the fact that prices have stepped discrimination against weaner. Prime heaves will clear on a parity with fancy yearlings.

One of the main instances of grassy material in the south and an increase in the movement in the north, stockers and feeders felt some bearishness about the present prices. Prices about 15 to 25 cents despite rather short runs here. Tops for yearlings and feeders of choice caliber can be pegged here from $7.50 to $8.50.
Although ovine receipts did not appreciably expand over the country this week the packers forced a healthy decline in lamb values. Tops at $3.40 at midweek show a loss approximating $1 for the last six days. Evidently the consuming public is not in the mood to pay high prices for lamb during the hot weather.

From Other Editors
Hartington Herald: We don't know why it is but the biggest joke in the average high school and college un-and is the joke department. We have seen a good many annuals and they were all alike in this respect. The annual joke is about the flattest thing imaginable, and at present we fail to recall a single one that had any real humor in it. Of course, the students who make and read these so called yearbooks are not to be pitied, but they will their admiring parents, but they are not laughable. They are pathetic and the wonder is they ever get put in the hands of their parents and so hard to say. Student life is supposed to be bubbling over with gaiety and one would suppose that student productions would reflect a certain amount of wit and humor, but they seldom do. Whether this is due to a lack of expression, or to a lack of expression, or to a lack of expression, we are not prepared to state; but we have observed it to be a fact. The average student joke is so flat that the average reader repeats between teacher and pupil is funeral.

Wahoo Wasp: Time was when the idea of parent and teacher getting together for a conference was entirely foreign to the subject of education, each deeming it his privilege and divine right to go it alone, which very frequently created many divergent highways of travel. Now among the more important gatherings scheduled are the county, state and national meetings of parents and teachers. They have decided after these long years to go in together, get acquainted and devise ways and means of getting the very best results from united efforts on questions equally important to both parent and teacher.

York Republican: The waste paper basket in this newspaper office never was so full as it is now. Its yawning mouth receives daily a swift contribution that chokes it. Most of it is from the departments at Washington and the field divisions of the war and interior departments. The whole governmental service seems to be afflicted with a delusion that newspaper offices are waiting anxiously for the stuff to arrive and that frenzied readers are tearing the sheets to get at the important doings of these great departments. If the space scooters would only check up on their labor they would make an important moral and financial discovery. It would surprise and perhaps pain these free users of mimeographs and costly white paper to find that their effusions mostly feed the printing office fires or decorate the waste places of the dumping grounds. Just now however, there is reposing on our desk a nice sheet of beautiful white paper printed on one side with addresses of secretaries of the departments at Washington, which we are gratefully using for copy paper. And if the stuff has to come, we are going to file a request for this size and style of paper.

Hard Coal

Our advice to all consumers of Pennsylvania hrd coal is to put it into your bins this year during July and August. The reason is this,—the present wage agreement between the miners' unions and the operators expires September 1. The miners are making demands for a 10 per cent increase in their wages. It is a denial. At this writing it looks as though a strike can not be averted. You will readily realize what may happen if a strike he called September 1. There won't be enough hard coal to go around. Prices will not be thought of but on the contrary they will be high. You put his hard coal in his bin now will save money and will be sure to have it.

We anticipate no trouble in getting all the soft coal we want. It will be a little higher each month as you will note below.

Thirteen Brothers And Sisters Meet

Mrs. E. D. Ellis returned Monday from Council Bluffs, Ia., where she attended at the home of a sister Mrs. Martin Larson, a family reunion of thirteen brothers and sisters. The Council Bluffs reunion gives the interesting history of the family and the late happy reunion.

In the early 50's Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Wilson left Lincoln and came to southwestern Iowa as pioneer settlers. To them were born eight sons and six daughters—all of whom grew to rugged manhood and womanhood. Each married and became a worthy member of the community in which he lived.

At the present time thirteen of the original fourteen brothers and sisters are still living. The only death was that of Albert, from damps in a well known mine in 1880. The oldest of the remaining thirteen is past 76 and the youngest is 52. There is one pair of twins, three sisters and one brother have great grandchildren. There has never been a divorce, not one has ever appeared in police court, nor has any member of the family connection ever attained to the distinction of being an old bachelor or an old maid. Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Wilson lived to see their entire family married and to celebrate their own golden anniversary in 1898, which was the occasion of the last family reunion until last Saturday, June 27, when the entire group of thirteen brothers and sisters with many others of the family met together and spent the day at the home of one of the sisters, Mrs. Martin Larson, 112 Gould avenue, Council Bluffs. Altogether a company of fifty gathered, spending the day visiting, exchanging experiences and partaking of the contents of well-filled lunch baskets.

Death Calls a Well Known Lincoln Man

Lincoln, Neb., July 8.—Death suddenly called George W. Berg, prominent Lincoln attorney and for many years an active figure in Democratic politics of Nebraska, at his home here.

Returning from an automobile ride, Mr. Berg laid down upon a couch on his front porch. A few minutes later members of his family found him unconscious. He died within five minutes.

Death was caused by a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Berg had been in failing health since 1921 when he suffered a stroke of apoplexy which forced him to retire from public affairs.

Mr. Berg was born on a farm near Peoria, Ill., May 13, 1864. He remained on the farm until he was 21 years old, attending school and studying law in his spare time.

He came to Lincoln during the same year and took up the practice of law. This is a comforting assurance. Mr. Berg is said to have owned the largest law library in Nebraska, his thirty years practice in this city.

Entering politics in 1900, Mr. Berg became the democratic candidate for congress in the First district. He became gubernatorial candidate in 1904.

In 1914, he ran for the Democratic nomination for governor but lost. Mr. Berg became city attorney of Lincoln in 1917 while Charles W. Bryan was mayor.

Mr. Berg spent most of his time until recently on his farm near his own front porch.

Sixteen-Year-Old Girl Leaves Home

Norfolk Daily News, July 8: Carl Buss and members of his family were in Norfolk Tuesday evening enlisting the aid of local police and radio station WJAG in an effort to locate his daughter, Hilda, who ran away from her home in Hastings Monday night.
Tuesday morning when the family awakened the 16-year-old had gone. According to Buss' story to the police Hilda left a note saying that she would let her parents know in a week as to her whereabouts.
The family believes that she left in the company of several others. Hilda took with her a suitcase in which she had packed practically all her clothes.
Her height is five feet, 4 inches in height, slender, weighs about 120 pounds, and has medium brown bobbed hair that is curly. She wears a lavender hat with a box on the top.

Hershey pinch-hitting for Moore, then thrilled the crowd by driving the ball far over center fence for a clean-homer. Wingfield, the Ghost hurler, was found for a total of thirteen safe hits.
The celebration was under auspices of the American Legion and the boys will net a neat sum, which will be used in clearing up indebtedness on the pavilion.

Automobiles in Dixon County. Bonita, Neb., July 6.—According to the records here at the county seat of Dixon county there are enough automobiles owned in this county to carry the entire population of the county and a few more people from the four bordering counties, Cedar, Wayne, Dakota and Thurston.
Taking as a basis the last United States census of the county and the last local census of the towns, the population of Dixon county is approximately 12,000 and the records show that during the first six months of this year the county issued 3,000 automobile licenses. Estimating that the average car will carry five passengers, the cars now in use in the county will carry 15,000 or 3,000 more people than are living in the county. And this number in all probability will be increased during the last six months of the year, as the number of new cars purchased will more than make up for the number of new births in the county.

You Tell 'Em.
Nebraska Farmer. In suggesting to the Nebraska bankers last week their fitness to give farmers practical advice Director Brokaw of the Extension Service related the following story which is so good that we are passing it on. If our women readers don't mob us for telling it we may feel bold enough to come back with another later.

Some years ago there lived on a government reservation an Indian chief who, contrary to the official regulations, still possessed three squaws, although he had been advised repeatedly of the ban upon more than one. After these frequent warnings without effect the chief was finally ordered to appear at the office of the government Indian agent where he was plainly advised of the meaning of the one-squaw-or-vice rule and was assured roundly for his failure to comply with it.
"And now," concluded the agent, "we want you to go home and tell your squaws that they shall have to depart forever from your home!" The battle scarred Indian chief started stonily at the agent for a moment and then expressly replied, "Ugh, you tel 'em."

Rites for Judge R. E. Evans on Saturday

Lincoln, Neb., July 8.—The body of Judge Robert E. Evans, member of the Nebraska supreme court, who died in Lincoln at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday, will be taken to Dakota City Friday afternoon for funeral services, which will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church at 2 p. m. Saturday. Following the service the body will be taken to Graedel cemetery, Sioux City, Iowa, for interment. The ceremony at the grave will be in charge of the Masonic grand lodge of Nebraska. Members of the supreme court will be honorary pallbearers at the Dakota City service.

Many Celebrations Draw Wayne People

Wayne county people who had no celebration of their own on the Fourth, contributed to the success of celebrations at Wisner, Emerson, Randolph, Bloomfield and other places. Many of those who did not go to neighboring towns, had picnics and spent the day quietly. Perfect quiet pervaded every town in the county on the Fourth. The celebrations at the different points in northeast Nebraska, were reported largely attended and generally successful.

Baseball at Bloomfield

Bloomfield, Neb., July 7.—Large crowds attended the three-day celebration staged here by the American Legion on the 3rd, 4th and 5th. Friday saw a rattling good ball game between Wauss and the Legion Bears, the score being 1 to 3 in favor of the Bears. On Saturday Bloomfield beat Hartington by a score of 2 to 1. Games bustled for Bloomfield and allowed but five hits, while the toughs found Hefley's offerings for a total of ten safe ones, including a triple by Anderson and a double by Laddell. The Sioux City Ghosts won from Creighton in easy fashion by a score of 10 to 1. Smith was on the mound for the Ghosts and Haszpenhug twirled for Creighton.
Hartington easily disposed of Creighton in the first game of Sunday's double-header, the score being 12 to 4. Memoriam In cherished and sacred remembrance of our dear mother who passed into life eternal July 5, 1924. It is just one year ago yesterday, for us a very long time we all certainly say. We miss her gentle presence, her kindly smiling eyes and sympathetic kindness when for the best she would advise. She was indeed among the truest and most kind of mothers. May she rest in peace and may her journey in the promised land, Mass was celebrated yesterday. From the children.

Zane Grey Story at Crystal

Good news for local film fans! The "Thundering Herd," Paramount's grandest version of the famous Zane Grey novel, is headed this way and will be shown at the Crystal Theatre tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday night.

It is a romance of the "Old West" that will carry you one of the adventures of today to the trails of yesterday from the limousines of this period to the covered wagons of 1876.

The picture deals with two of the many caravans of pioneers that started west to hunt buffalo and establish themselves in the new lands. In one caravan are Jack Holt, Raymond O'Neil and Charles Ogil; in the other, Los Wilson, Noah Henry and Lillian Leighton.

Only a miracle, it seems, can save her from this crisis. Moments ago she is held in a desperate attempt to rescue her, she is out of her life. Holt, however, risks his life in crawling through the energy lines to an outlying ammunition wagon and turns the tide of victory.

Meanwhile dissonance arises in the Betty outfit, and during the fight that will take place in capturing the bear, he is sighted and pursued by a war-party of Indians. In trying to get away from them, she is caught by an amputation wagon and turns the tide of victory.

Different Kinds of Insurance Now Used

Insurance against unfavorable weather is becoming an important branch of the insurance business, according to the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture. The latest line of distinctly weather insurance in the United States is hail insurance on growing crops. Kansas, North Dakota, and Iowa, lead in the use of hail insurance, having half the hail risks in this country which totaled $40,000,000 in 1924.

Windstorm and tornado insurance premiums now amount to more than $20,000,000 annually. Since the tornado near Lorain, Ohio, in 1924, and others in Illinois and Indiana this year, the demand for insurance protection against windstorm damage has doubled. Some banks and mortgage companies now require windstorm policies as well as fire policies before making loans.

Flood insurance differs from other forms of weather insurance in that it does not cover property damage. It is especially designed for events or business enterprises dependent on public patronage which would be greatly reduced in bad weather. A policy may cover as short a period as three hours—time enough for a ball game, a track meet, a fashion show or an exhibit. Fair managers and retail stores advertising special sales frequently take out rain insurance for a single day.

Frost insureds for fruit trees is the alternative to the cost and labor of orchard heating. It seldom pays for the expense of both. General crop insurance has not yet become well established, but is practised to some extent. Damage by lightning is usually included in fire insurance policies. Many freak policies are written, such as insurance against a cloudy sky during an eclipse of the sun, or insurance against lack of snow, taken out in two instances once by a motion-picture company and once by the promoters of winter sports in Minnesota.

Rates for all these forms of insurance are based on the records of the Weather Bureau and payments are made in conformity with the insurable facts furnished by it.

Chas. W. Reynolds, Clerk.

Why the County Laughs.
Lincoln Journal-Courier: Mr. Cobly surprised and pained to find that America takes the Scopes trial as a lark and a joke. The trial involves a vital issue. Freedom to investigate and think is at stake. This is no laughing matter. Mr. Cobly says. The country laughs because it doesn't think the effort to stifle knowledge will get anywhere. Mr. Bryan is looked upon not as a heresy hunting inquisitor with a ragot, but as a man sincerely issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, upon a decree rendered therein at the latter, 1924, term thereof, in an action pending in said court wherein Henry C. Barries was plaintiff and Harry H. Lessman, Harry Lessman, Henry W. Lessman, Concord State Bank of Concord, Nebraska, and James J. Ahern were defendants. I will on the 13th day of July, 1925, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the issue of the office of the Clerk of said Court, in the court house in Wayne, in said county, sell to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real estate, to-wit: The Southeast Quarter of Section Thirteen (13), Township Twenty-seven (27), North, Range Two (2), East of the 6th P. M., Wayne County, Nebraska, to satisfy the aforesaid decree, the amount due thereon being $18,122.40 with interest, and costs and accruing costs. Dated at Wayne, Nebraska this 6th day of June, 1925.

Were Proud of Main Street

The smooth expansion of pavement in place of the one-time chuckholes is one more evidence of Winside's progressiveness.

And why shouldn't our town go forward? Located in the garden spot of the great Corn Belt, we don't have to go beyond our own front yards to see the Land of Promise.

Money, effort and faith invested in Winside are well invested.
