The BULL'S EYE

Editor and General Manager WILL ROGERS

Another 'Bull's' Durham advertisement by Will Rogers, Ziggy, and the American humorist. More coming. Watch for them.

The BULL'S EYE is a publication that goes to print. When does it go to print? It goes to print when ever there is something to print. A lot of papers, in fact to be exact, all of them, have a certain time when they are issued, regardless of the news. If nothing has happened that day or that week they have to come out just the same. They want you to pay for them when they are not a good paper to you or not. Why should a paper be printed if there is nothing new to print?

Sing Sing don't electrocute a man at a certain hour every day. They wait until they get a good man and then electrocute him. They don't have a set time or custom, and that is the way the BULL'S EYE is operated. We don't go to print on a certain night just because we want to press at ten last night. No, sir! We wait until we have something that is worth while to our myriads of readers. We get them accustomed to the fact that whenever the BULL'S EYE, they say to themselves, 'The BULL has seen something worth while, and that is why the Paper is out today. Because it has news for you.'

We saw a man smoking a sack of 'BULL' DURHAM and he was getting so much satisfaction out of it that we feel it our duty to tell those that never used 'BULL' DURHAM' just how they too can get satisfaction.

Will Rogers

P.S. Remember, you won't see us again until we have something worth while.

P.P.S. There is going to be another piece in this paper soon. Look for it.

Wayne High School Athletes Take Part In Annual State Track Meet At Lincoln

Local Students Make Good Showing Among More Than Thousand—Other School News.

Wayne High At State Meet.
Despite bad weather nearly 1000 high school athletes from over the state gathered at Lincoln May 7 and 8 for the twenty-third annual track and field meet. Schools were grouped in three classes; group three composed of students from the large schools, group two from the medium sized schools and group one from the smallest schools. The group showed friendly and distances than the largest of the group.

Friday in the preliminaries Perris Gifford failed to qualify for the finals by a very small margin, putting the shot 27 feet, 8 inches. He threw the discus 107 feet. A distance of 38 feet in the shot put and 160 feet in the discus were necessary to qualify for the finals.

Gerald Dennis failed to qualify in the broad jump and high jump, but qualified in both hurdles by placing first in the 120 yard hurdles, in 28 seconds and third in the 120 high hurdles in 17.8 seconds. Best heats were two of the 120 yard hurdles.

In the finals which were held on Saturday, Dennis placed fifth in the 120 high hurdles in 20.8 seconds. The race was won by Truman Hill of Cambridge in 15.4 seconds, a new state record.

Donna White won four hurdles in 24.5 seconds. This event was also won by Trumbull in 25.1 seconds. Time was won by the runner of the previous state meet.

Considering the place and time being in these events, fourth and fifth places are great success.

Lynna of Allen, another northern Nebraska youth, broke the state discus record with a throw of 135 feet, 10 inches.

Assembly.
At a special assembly last Monday, the students were entertained by a play, an art show and a play. There were colored and the colors were well brought out by the help of a 1000 W. light.

Among some of the masterpieces presented were Raphael's "Madonna of the Chair," De Vinci's "Mona Lisa," and the Winsor's "Last Supper," and Sir Joseph Reynolds' "Landscape Discard." The lecture about these pictures was instructive.

Observers Music Week.
A musical program was given before the assembly Friday afternoon. The Sunbeams, pupils who took part in the county operetta, sang a selection. The girls were dressed in yellow and represented the nature of summer in a song.

have established a precedent it Wayne high school which will last Examinations.

Alice Berry, Vera Sylvanus, and Dorothy Doherty of the Wayne high school, the state academic contest, held at Lincoln, May 7. The tests were given by the scientific committee of the university. Alice Berry took economics, Vera Sylvanus took French and Dorothy Davis, algebra.

Omaha high school took most of the prizes. Wayne did not place.

Scouting and School Work.
The work of the scout goes hand in hand with his school work and helps the boy in many ways. Every boy during school life wants to join with other boys in a club or organization. It is during this time that he may join a scout troop and satisfy this desire.

Scout work helps the boy and is a method which gives an opportunity of training which he will be able to use to advantage in later life. It is a method of training which is not easily acquired in school. Such things as thrift, cleanliness and high morals will make him the citizen in later life. No other organization has done more toward this goal than the boys scouts of America.

Senior Day.
What is this exciting and mysterious something we hear everywhere in senior circles?
"What color is your banquet dress?" "Ohhh—lovely! From your folks?" "Does it cost some seven-tenths yet?" We understand that these are annual questions; but all this talk of egyptic colddrums, mysterious numbers and the treatment of the "key of knowledge," the spirit of old Wayne high! What does it mean?

Senior class day of course. It is going to be new, different, individual and interesting. On May 18 the seniors will reveal their plans in an unusual program.

At a senior class meeting held May 5 the following committee was appointed to arrange for the annual senior-junior breakfast: Mercedes Reed, Freda Sand, Elsie Hien, Helen Nuss and Evelyn Stephens. Their reports at this week's meeting were taken this week.

Editors for this week are Maurice Wright and Gertrude Clark.

Junior Notes.
At a meeting of the chairman of the junior committees last Monday, Mrs. E. H. Hien decided to have the annual junior-senior banquet at the high school building. Not for many years has the banquet been held in the high school and only a few times in the history of the school. Most of the classes of previous years have depended upon the home for the banquet.

In the affair, but this year the junior class is depending wholly on the profits of the class play. However, the proceeds of the junior play were great enough to insure a good banquet, a fact which no proceeding class can claim. It is hoped that the next class will be an example for the line-of-classes-of-the-following years and the annual banquets will no longer be held in the homes.

A junior class meeting was held Tuesday for the purpose of soliciting the names of the members of the junior students will be the source of most of the table necessities. The juniors will have the cooperation of the mothers of the students. The putting-the-banquet across and it is sure to be a success.

"Character Chats" which are given each morning. The chats are short stories containing good morals. They are written by Joseph Egerton and appear in the Journal of Education.

The pupils are expected to discuss the lesson derived from the stories.

Some "chats" which were enjoyed are, "The Houses we build," "Ladders," "Reggars may ride," "Beverman Stepping stones." It is interesting to each one bringing its own message.

William Von Seggern's side is shown in the attendance contest. The score is 27 to 22.

Why One Needs College Education.
Since this is the time of graduation at Wayne high school, the question is brought to mind: "What will I do next year?"

It was found that the forty-two members of the class of 1926, one template attending the Wayne State Teachers college or some other college.

They stop to think why they are going on to attend a higher institution? Some think that the Normal is here; some think that it is 1926, but the real underlying reason is that they wish to fit themselves better for the demands of life. In the education they learn things of the age and study present day problems. A college education is the next step to success. It is just one of the many steps which lead to the credit of Wayne high school that so many of the graduates intend to take the next stepping stone.

Fourth Grade.
The pupils are taking up a study of Arabs. This is the last section of their studies of the different nationalities.

Every year the grades prepare work for the fair. This year the second grade pupils are preparing health posters. As organizers the room one will notice many posters with slogans such as "Swat them" or "Brush your teeth." The posters have cut-outs on them to illustrate the slogans. The work of some pupils is very promising and may help Wayne schools to win some prizes at the fair in September.

Mother's day has caused the children of the grades to become interested in making something for Mother's day. They are making cards, and some are making cut-outs to surprise their mothers.
