A Better Looking Garage

This garage is an asset to the appearance of the building site. Too many garages are unnecessarily plain, often severely so. The garage may add to the attractiveness of the property; it should be in harmony with the dwelling, of like quality and pleasing to the eye.

This garage is designed with a hip roof and is large enough to hold the average size car, being twelve feet wide and eighteen feet long. If you have a very large car, then you can extend the building an extra two feet wide and still keep the same width. A side entrance or service door is shown in the side wall. This can be put in or left out as required.

The cost of this garage will deter no builder who knows the commercial value of good property appearance.

Auxiliary To Hold Annual Poppy Sale

The Wayne American Legion Auxiliary plans for annual poppy day May 29 with Mrs. Fontenelle Smith general chairman. Mrs. Floyd Goetz, Mrs. J. C. Johnson, Mrs. L. C. Lamberston and Mrs. Curtis Foster are captains of the Auxiliary teams.

Poppies which the disabled ex-service men have made, will be sold and the proceeds will be used for the purchase of the disabled families. For the children whose fathers died in service and for those whose fathers are in hospitals the Auxiliary wishes the needed ex-service men to send Christmas and birthday gifts to men in hospitals also.

It is because of the close association with the supreme sacrifice made by the men who fell in France, that the poppy has become the memorial flower of the Legion and Auxiliary. In the spring of 1918, after the close of the World war, poppies bloomed in abundance on the devastated fields where so many men fell.

For this reason the poppies are sold each year to raise funds with which to add cheer to the lives of those made sad by the war.

Poppies which are sold by the Auxiliary here and in all parts of the country each year, are made by wounded, disabled and ex-service men and women. This gives employment to the disabled persons and gives a memorial flower, free from commercialism. Each is paid one cent for a poppy and is limited to making 400 in a day. Very few are physically able, however, to make that number.

Wayne Home AT AUCTION Saturday, JUNE 5

On the date mentioned above, I will sell at public auction my residence property located at 213 West Seventh street. This home is one and one-half blocks west of 7th and Main streets, practically midway between the High School and State Normal and just two blocks from the city park.

The property consists of a lot 62x70 feet, on which is situated a mighty fine, modern, six-room house. The rooms are all on one floor and consist of a living room, dining room, kitchen, three bedrooms and a bathroom. There is a full basement under the house, all equipped for laundry work, and having connection by means of an electric pump with a 200-barrel cistern, affording at all times an ample supply of soft water. The house in itself is strictly modern throughout, and is an ideal home, built for convenience and comfort.

We have left Wayne and necessarily must sell this property, consequently are taking this time and method to dispose of it. If you are looking for a house of the compact, comfortable type don't fail to make an inspection of this property. You will buy it at your own price, and we are confident that that will be far below the cost of building such a home.

TERMS: Fifteen per cent of purchase price on date of sale. Two thousand dollar loan already on the house can be carried to maturity. Balance when abstract and title are perfected for you

Just Back from Market With New Summer Dry Goods

You will enjoy selecting from these fresh, new styles which were brought on our trip to market last week.

You will like these attractive new goods with which we have freshened up our stock in every department.

To keep our stock up to the minute in style we make frequent trips to market where we have opportunity to see the late styles that are continually being brought out.

These trips also give us a chance to pick up many specially low-priced lots of merchandise which are offered to visiting buyers only.

Come and see the bright, new summer goods and many special bargains we bought on this trip.

New Summer Silks

We found that just now, small conservative figures and polka dots are in great favor in both crepe and georgettes, and we were able to get some very attractive ones to sell at $1.85 to $2.50.

New Rayon-Dress Materials

Especially those in stripes for ladies' short-sleeved afternoon tub dresses, and in small neat checks for girls' dresses, are very popular. Good ones are 85c and $1.00 yard. Cheaper ones we did not buy as they soon give out in washing.

A Splendid Bargain in Silk Pongee

One wholesale house we visited had bought up a great quantity of stock in which were thousands of pieces of genuine all-silk Pongee in the natural tan shade. These goods always sell at 85c to $1.00. We bought a good quantity which we are selling just as much below value as we paid for it. To permit as many of our customers as possible to share in this bargain, we are going to limit the sale to 5 yards to a person at the price of 85c a yard.

New Voiles and Peter Pans

The Peter Pan manufacturers have just brought out these new printed patterns which were copied from exclusive silks and they will make up into very attractive afternoon dresses that will help you stand out against sunlight, washing and perspiration. These new voiles—many of them are in neat, small patterns that will please the more conservative; others are printed in the polka dots and gay flowers that are now so popular. They are moderately priced at 50c and up.

Summery Dresses — Ready to Wear

Moderately Priced at $5.00 to $8.75

Cool, comfortable frocks of shimmering rayon and tub silk that will tub perfectly. Made with short sleeves in straight-line styles that are easy to launder and iron. They are the most attractive wash dresses we have ever shown. Women who wear large sizes up to 30-inch bust will be pleased to know that many of these attractive dresses are in their sizes. Also many pretty styles are here in Nelly Don-aprons and pocket frocks, at $1.00 to $2.85.

A Special Sale at $16.75 of Silk Dresses

Just 48 of these all-silk crepe and georgette dresses at this special price. Some are plain, some are printed, some are favored, others straight-line—all are so good, so attractive in the smaller sizes—all are exceptional values. Miss Fisher will fit and alter them to fit you perfectly without extra charge.

Stylish Dress Accessories

A new stock of Rayon silk vests at $1.00, bloomers at $2.00, step-ins at $2.85 and slips at $3.85, in the most wanted shades of peach, flesh and orchid. New shades-in silk hosiery at $1.00 and $1.50 — new embroidered cut silk gloves — new scarfs, silk kerchiefs — ribbon garters, suspenders and costume parasols—all are here to complete your summer costume in the latest style.

Girls' Pretty Printed Dresses

Specially Priced at $1.19

They are of tub-proof, printed fabric in neat, gay-colored figures that the girls of 6 to 14 years like best. Pretty silk bloomers are here for them in flesh, orchid and peach shades at $1.00. Rayon hat socks and three-quarter hose with fancy rayon tops are 6c to 8c.

Kovall Play Suits for Boys and Girls

Made of standard khaki that will really wear, and of blue and white stripe twills that will stand hard usage. So well made that if they rip you may have a new garment free. Cut to fit comfortably, trimmed to please the youngsters' fancy. Kovalls are nationally advertised and the best play suits we could find. Priced at $1.00 and $1.50.

New Home Furnishings

The pretty, colored Rayon bed spreads in rose, yellow and blue are very attractive and are moderately priced at $5.25 to $8.75. Ruffled curtains of checked or dotted Swiss with ruffles and tie-backs or rose or blue or yellow colored voile, are $1.65. Richly colored and flowered terry cloths are very ornamental and useful for couch covers, pillows, portieres and window shades—they are priced at $1.00. Bright rayon slizintz and gretsones, and silk and Rayon drapery materials in the new Roman strip effects for making very effective side drapes—new patterns in curtain nets and Swisses—special values in sheets, pillow cases and exceptional values in bath towels, were all purchased on this trip, and are ready for your selection.

Bargains in Domestic

The wholesale houses we visited were offering some leaders in muslins, sheetings, low-bills and towels at very low prices at this time and we bought the best values we have offered in several seasons. Most of you know the excellent quality of Good Unbleached muslin—you know what a bargain it is at our price of 15c yard. Good unbleached muslin suitable for cloth towels and wall coverings is here 10c yard. Rayon bed 8 1/2 wide sheeting, a splendid bargain at our price of 48c yard; heavy Turkish towels with colored woven stripes—regular 50c values, are here at 30c. Don't miss these special values.

Ladies' and Children's Footwear

at Special Low Prices

We have marked down a great many new styles in summer shoes of which we have sold out but a few pairs. These are in white, tan and brown and we bought the best values in this season's styles. They are new and we are making a good reduction in the price to clear them out. If you can be fitted you will get splendid bargains in these stylish new shoes. All sizes are here but get in every style. The Simplex and Georgia Two-shoer for the youngsters are the best shoes that money will buy—in style, wearing and fitting qualities—and we have marked many of them down to the price of ordinary shoes.

Special Grocery Values

We meet every special cut price on nationally advertised groceries that you are offered by the other stores in this week and in addition we have on sale some special values you cannot get elsewhere. The best Cane Sugar is $6.25 per sack. Our Grocery Department is the thrift market of this town.

Whippet Race In Picture At Crystal

For the first time in screen history a whippet race, one of society's most exclusive sports, is to be seen in a picture. It occurs in Colleen Moore's screen version of "Irene," the famous romance comedy hit. The picture appears at the Crystal theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week.

Slee Eyes, said to be the fastest dog in America, owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Matthews, jr., of Pasadena, is featured in the race. The race was a bona fide one. With strong competition for Slee Eyes, the latter won.

All the whippets of the Arroyo Kennels, largest whippet colony in America, owned by Freeman Ford, multi-millionaire Pasadena breeder, participated in the whippet race scene. These included Stromboli, Ben Jerry, Blizzard Stratbone, Shuttleworth, Crusty King and Bunter, all of them blue ribbon winners. Other kennels entered favorites.

The race was two hundred yards in a straightaway course. The best time on record for the distance was twelve and one-fifth seconds.

Discredit Story.
Geneva Signal: We read in the Wayne Herald that a Shenandoah, Va., editor who died a few days ago is charged locally with having run a newspaper seventy-five years without causing an outburst of anger from any person with a single exception. Undoubtedly the charge is a libel. Even the most inconsiderate editor couldn't run along for seventy-five years without letting something get into the columns of his newspaper by accident that would cause more than an outburst of anger. No newspaper is ever right all of the time and every newspaper furnishes cause for anger much oftener than once in seventy-five years, and justifiable anger at that.

A man in Iowa refuses to speak to his wife for seven years. In some families it would take that long to get in a word.

Maryetta Whitney Is Honor Student

Miss Maryetta Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Whitely of Omaha, formerly of Wayne, was one of the 125 pupils to be admitted to the Junior Honor society in Omaha Central High school a few days ago. The group included freshmen, sophomores and juniors, Maryetta being in the freshman class. Each student must earn an A in at least two of his subjects and must have no grade below B. The society also demands that each do some school service outside of the subjects taken. Some 1,500 attend the high school. The honor society was established two years ago to raise scholarship standards.

Certainty of Rain.

Hartington Herald: The recent drought, which, fortunately, has been broken at last by a most timely and general rain, recalls to mind an expression which used to be current in the old days when droughts were frequent. That expression was:

Just as a Lion Goes After Meat, We Go After Spots
— WE CLEAN THEM UP —

Our cleansing process takes all dust, grease and other foreign substances from clothing. Winter garments should be cleaned before being put away for the summer. Silks and other dainty dresses may be made to look like new. All garments wear longer when they are kept clean.

"Ten minutes before everything has gone to hell, it rains in Nebraska." People whose faith in Nebraska was beginning to weaken by reason of "dope long deferred" may have thought previous to this rain that everything had gone to hell, but the facts proved otherwise. And this is something to be remembered. It does rain eventually in Nebraska and in Cedar county, apparently to the contrary notwithstanding. Dry weather may prevail for a long time and crops may be threatened, but rain does come at last. And such is the wonderful fertility of the soil that it responds amazingly and it only requires a few good, root-soaking rains to restore suffering fields and pastures to a normal condition.

From Ponca Journal May 23, 1899:

The most valuable mineral discovery thus far made in this neighborhood is a bed of very excellent sand. In the past we have had discoveries of iron, copper, gold, silver, lead, zinc and nickel, but none of them panned out. So we have come down to sand, and on that, at least, we believe Ponca holds a satisfactory hand. All that is now wanted to make a good market for this sand is a building boom.

A. W. Brown, registering at the Central house on Monday evening as Mr. Clive of Blair, on Tuesday devoted his time to surveying a line from Ponca to the river. What his object was we did not learn. His line cut through Mr. Ayres' thousand dollar corn field, but the crop was not injured thereby. On Tuesday, also, a party of surveyors were surveying between Ponca and Martinsburg. Half way between Ponca and the Catholic church they turned in the direction of Elk Creek. What is the object of all these movements, we are not advised. It may be real or it may be wind.

On Thursday and Friday a man and a bear exhibited themselves in town to the edification of all, especially the children. The bear was a Cinnamon bear, good size, weight 300 pounds, and as a dancer, wrestler, juggler or runner, was a champion not to be sneered at. He could also drink beer and chew tobacco, and evinced in many other ways a high order of intelligence. The distinguished individual who escorted him around and danced and wrestled with him, passed the hat every few minutes during the exercises, and collected from the crowd in attendance, a large harvest of shekels.

The Man Wanted.

Sam Miller, in the Mineral Wells, Texas, Daily Post, has asked us our opinion about entering the newspaper field. We answered this wise:

"If he can listen with a smile to tiresome things he's heard oftentimes before; if he can refuse to do what three or four people ask him to do without making them mad; if he can write in a way to make people laugh when he feels like cussin', or in a way to make them weep when he feels like cracking his heels together and laughing-out-loud; if he can remain silent when he feels like he'll burst wide open if he does not talk; if he can argue without getting mad; if he can make the other fellow mad; if he can refuse a woman's request for free publicity without making all the members of her set mad at the paper; if he can react to the loss of a good news story and catch a better one on the rebound; if he can explain typographical errors without using up more than thirty minutes; if he can concentrate and write intelligent copy while three different conversations are going on around him, several typewriters clicking away and the telephone ringing and the subdued hum of the presses in the next room humming in his ears; if he can explain why Mrs. Jones' poem on "The Sylvan Depth of October Woods," did not appear in the paper without her husband stopping his advertising; if he can take a four-line story and spread it to a half column or take a two column story and condense it to two paragraphs; if he can read proof without overlooking an error and write headlines without murdering the king's English; if he has a nose for news, an itch for writing and an inclination to work fifteen hours a day, then we'd advise him to get in to the game.

"In fact, if the young man can qualify under the above statement of requirements, we've got a desk for him in this office."

No Ideal Conditions.

York Republican: Ideal conditions are all in the mind. They do not exist in real life. Humanity in a lump is selfish, greedy, interperate, and revengeful. Nations like men are never satisfied with what they have, or what they are entitled to. They remain peaceful, but with one eye open, while they sleep, as long as there is nothing to be gained by war, or until there is a reasonable prospect that they will be able to grab something that does not belong to them. This fact is demonstrated in the very alleged peace conference of the European powers. The principal urge, especially with the central European powers, is for a chance for more extensive armament. Each claims of course that the object is simply protection, but in reality they want to be strong enough to hold what they have and get what the other fellow has. When all nations and peoples have learned the lesson of love and adopted the golden rule, no other guarantee of peace will be needed.

Public Auction

On the premises

Saturday, May 29th

At 2:00 p. m.

On the above date, we, as authorized agents for Mrs. H. W. Robinson, will offer for sale at public auction the new residence property known as the Harry Robinson residence located on the Northwest corner of Twelfth and Main streets and just across the street west of State Normal grounds.

Description of Property

This residence has been built about eighteen months and is a large nine-room house situated on a corner lot, 50x150, facing east toward the State Normal grounds.

The house is finished in Kellastone and is of extra heavy construction, the studding all of 2x6 instead of the ordinary type of construction. The basement is a full basement completely finished and plastered. The lower floor is finished throughout in oak and the rooms consist of a large sun-parlor, living room with built-in bookcases, a dining room with built-in buffet, a large kitchen and large pantry equipped with built-in cupboards. There is also a mighty nice breakfast room with built-in furniture. There is also a lavatory on the lower floor. The second story of this beautiful home is finished in hard pine and the rooms consist of four large bedrooms and a bathroom and sleeping porch. The bedrooms are equipped with built-in dressers and chests of drawers.

The house is heated with a hot water system, one of the best on the market.

There is a large double garage finished as is the house, in gray Kellastone, on this property.

This beautiful new residence should carry a special appeal to the family seeking a home that combines beauty, utility and sturdiness of construction. There has been absolutely no expense spared in its construction and it has been built throughout with the idea of comfort uppermost in the mind of the builder.

To the parents of a family, a home, located as this home is, should be borne in mind the fact that one of the best schools in Nebraska is practically at their front door. A school where it is possible for them to start their children in the kindergarten and have them right at home from that time until they have completed their first two years of University work.

Last, but by no means least, this beautiful home is situated in Wayne, which as a home city acknowledges no peer in the state.

You are going to buy this house at your own price and we fully realize that the price, which will prevail, will be far and away below the actual cost of construction for such a home. However, that is your gain and our loss and we are willing for you to have it if you are willing to avail yourself of this golden opportunity. BE SURE AND BE THERE

The Date is May 29—the time 2:00 p. m.

TERMS: The property will be sold subject to the encumbrance on it, which may be paid off. You will find the terms extremely liberal. Possession given immediately.

Methodist Church

(Rev. F. Farmer, Pastor.) The services were well attended again last Sunday and the spirit of Christian fellowship was manifested throughout the services. We trust that next Sunday will find all of us in our places.

One class in the church school reported an attendance of sixteen and fifteen, and all other classes are enthusiastic as to the attendance.

Memorial day services: Preaching at the Pleasant Valley church next Sunday at 9:30 a. m. Services will be conducted at the usual hours in the Wakefield church. The morning service will be a Memorial service in honor of the dead who have passed from our church-fellowship here to the church triumphant. As it is a little hard to have a sure record of our deceased, we would appreciate your cooperation. Please notify C. S. Beebe, the church secretary, of all whom you know have passed from our Christian fellowship. The names will be presented at the service next Sunday.

As a stimulation for the morning service we are going to conduct a special service in the evening of each Sunday morning on this chart and seek to make the services of each interest and help that you will want to be in your places on Sunday.

Swedish Mission Church

(Rev. John G. Nelson, Pastor.) Regular services next Sunday morning.

No service in the evening on account of the district young people's conference held at Oakland Mission church May 28-30.

Sunday school is in the promotion day in our Sunday school. A special program is prepared to be given at 10 o'clock.

At 11 o'clock baptism will be administered. Parents having children they want to bring to the Lord in baptism are invited to meet in the ladies' restroom at 10:30.

The morning worship will be held immediately after the baptism.

No service in the evening. We will attend the community union service at the auditorium.

(Rev. J. A. Martin, Pastor.) Swedish worship, 10:00 a. m. English worship, 11:30 a. m. Sunday school, 10:45 a. m.

The confirmation services last Sunday were impressive and well attended. We were so glad that all could not be seated. By confirmation, baptism and reception Salem received twenty-seven new members.

Twenty-four were confirmed, two adults baptized and one received by letter. The communion table was well attended in the evening. We are hoping to prepare a class of adults for baptism and confirmation again in the fall. If you are interested come and see the pastor about it. A course of study will be arranged.

The Luther League will meet on Friday evening in the church parlors. The reception will be tendered the newly confirmed. Let us all come out to give these new members a hearty greeting of welcome.

The Juniors will meet at the Herman Mullers home on Saturday, entertained by the children of Herman Mullers, Fred Mullers and Walter Gross.

Next week on Thursday afternoon the Dorcas will meet at Henry Nelson's southwest of town. Mrs. Edger Nelson will be assisted by Mrs. Edger Larson.

The One who forgot

By RUBY M. AYRES

Begin Here Today

Peter Lyster had a memory from his school in France. Upon his return to London he falls to recognize Marrably, to whom he became engaged before he returned to the front. Nan, broken-hearted, returns to her home to care for her three motherless stepchildren. She, it still is in touch with

Joan Endicott, in London, who has encouraged her to forget Peter and meet his friend and fellow officer, John Arnott, with whom Peter is resting at the home of Arnott's sister, near from the Marrably estate. Nan in desperation, however, over Peter's reported engagement to Arnott's sister, and the financial distress of her father, has consented to marry

Harley Seton, a money-lender, who has promised to cancel her father's debts to him and make her a present of Peter's IOU's on their wedding day.

Arnott has just called to ask Nan what he has reported engagement is true. He tells her that Peter is not engaged to his sister, but rather to a French girl, Miss Marrably in France. The said money-lender Seton and Arnott leaves. Nan enters the room where Seton is waiting.

New Go On With the Story.

Seton took a bundle of papers from his pocket and flung them down on the table. "There are your IOU's," he said.

Nan colored; she glanced at them, but did not pick them up. "Thank you," she said.

"By the way," he added, looking back over his shoulder, "Lyster is engaged to that little widow sister of Arnott's—I suppose you know, don't you?"

"I heard it—but it's not true," said Nan in a strangled voice.

He laughed provokingly. "Oh, yes, it is," he said. "I met Lyster as I came along just now, and he told me himself."

John Arnott was right when he said that Peter had changed during the past few days.

He had grown irritable—and moreover he took to going off for long walks by himself; he was always with Arnott and seemed to avoid Doris.

It was the morning after the village had been thrilled with the news of Peter Arnott's engagement that Peter announced his intention of going to London.

"It's all rot, tearing up to town like this," Arnott declared huffily. "Most fellows are quite content to stay till they're well—and I know I am. Don't be an ass, give up the idea."

Peter would not; and finally Arnott drove him down to the station to catch the mid-day train.

As they were leaving the village they passed the three little Arnott's. Arnott slowed down.

Nan's eyes went quickly to Lyster and away again.

"You are you off to?" she asked as lightly as she could. Arnott answered that Peter was fed up with them and was going back to town.

Nan's blue eyes dilated.

"You have soon got tired of the country," she said.

Peter did not answer; he was engaged with the boys, who had climbed on to the foot-board of the car.

sight of a girl's white, frightened face.

He got it open after a struggle and helped—the girl—out.

It was some moments before she could find her voice.

"They had no right to drive so fast—I knew we should have an accident—the force ought not to allow it. And I'm in such a hurry, too—I suppose I shall miss my train."

The police had arrived on the scene and were making copious notes.

"My car seems fairly undamaged," Peter said to the girl. "If you will let me drive you home—I don't know where you are going."

She told him at once.

"I was going to Euston to catch a train, but now I suppose I shall miss it and there'll be nobody to meet me—oh, dear, what shall I do?"

She seemed very helpless. Peter thought with a sense of impatience, even while he felt rather sorry for her.

"What time does the train go?" he asked. "We are not far from Euston—as a matter of fact, I've just come from there."

She came from there herself—I shall be delighted to drive you back."

She accepted readily. "I turned out that there was a quarter of an hour in which to catch the train."

She dried her eyes when she heard this, and consented to smile; she looked at Peter interestedly.

"My husband is out in France," she said impulsively. "I suppose nearly everyone's husband is out—he's just been home on leave."

Her voice quivered a little. "It's horrible without him," she added.

"I'm sure it is," Peter said and by some means something childish about this girl that appealed to him.

"I used to have a friend living near me," she went on. "But now she's had to go home, and I'm all alone. I've tried to put up with it, but somehow today I felt I couldn't bear it any longer. I sent Nan a wire, and I'm going down to see her as she can't come back to live with me."

"Nan?" said Peter sharply.

"Yes, that's her name—Nan Marrably; she's such a dear; one of those cheerful people who seem to do such a lot of good. I felt quite different when she was with me, but now..." She looked away from him out of the window and her little feet fell into higgledy lines.

After a moment she went on—"She had heaps of trouble, to be sure, but she was so brave. She looked at him. "I don't know why I'm talking to you like this," she said with an apologetic smile.

"I'm flattered that you should," Lyster told her awkwardly.

After a moment he prompted her gently.

"Can you say your friend had a lot of trouble. I'm afraid that most women have during the war."

that happen every day out in France, don't they? It must all be such a nightmare—such a horror..." She shivered sensitively. "At first when I told Tom—" "I'm in my husband," she explained shyly, "he said he thought Peter must be shamming."

"No," said Peter.

"I'm like that, you know," she went on. "He's a darling, but he's got a matter of fact—he didn't believe in the Angels of Mons a bit," she added regretfully.

Peter half smiled.

"I don't think many of us really did," he said whimsically. "But with regard to this man—" Peter, I think you said his name was..."

"Yes—Peter Lyster—I never saw him myself, but Nan spoke of him so much I always felt as if I knew him—" She gave a little startled exclamation, leaning towards him. "Oh, are you ill?" she asked anxiously.

Peter pulled himself together with an effort, though he was white to the lips.

"No, no—go on," he said huskily. "And what happened then—what did your friend do?"

"Oh! Do! What could she do! She just behaved as if nothing had ever existed between them—she just—let him go."

"And—and the man?"

Joan Endicott shrugged her shoulders.

"Oh," she said, "it's not Peter I am sorry for—it's not Peter who wants pitying."

Peter laughed mirthlessly; he leaned his head in his hands for a moment.

"Poor devil," he said then. "Who knows?"

The taxi had turned into Euston Square, and Peter was in his surroundings with a start.

He felt as if someone had plunged him into an abyss of darkness and silence, through which he groped vainly in the desire to find a way out.

The taxi was slowing down, and with an effort he raised himself and turned to the girl beside him.

Notice of Probate of Will.
The State of Nebraska, Wayne County, ss.
At county court, held at the county court room, in and for said County of Wayne, on the 10th day of May, 1926.

Present, J. M. Cherry, county judge.

In the matter of the estate of Isaac O. Richardson, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Sarah L. Richardson, praying that the instrument filed on the 10th day of May, 1926, and purporting to be the last Will and Testament of said deceased, may be proved, approved, probated, allowed and recorded as the last Will and Testament of said Isaac O. Richardson, deceased, and that the execution of said instrument may be committed and that the administration of said estate may be granted to Charles F. Richardson and Harry W. Richardson, as executors.

Ordered, that May 28, A. D. 1926, at 10 o'clock a. m., is assigned for hearing said petition, when all persons interested in said matter may appear at a County Court to be held in and for said County, and show cause why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted; and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper printed in said County, three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing.

The BULL'S EYE

Editor and General Manager WILL ROGERS

No Governorship For Mine

My good old friend the Governor of Oklahoma was in to see me at the theatre the other night. I had just had humorous mention as a candidate for that position, as they wanted to revive the Populist Party with me as the Standard Bearer.

Well, the Governor showed me what had happened to a friend of his who had been defeated for Governor in our state, so he discouraged me. I won't accuse him of doing it purposely, but he did. His friend's campaign expenditures were as follows:

I hired 6,000 habits; helped 42 voters thrash wheat; helped 4 sacks of wool; Bull Durham; cut 22 calves; spayed 4,000 of them; was sprinkled 8 times to Methodist Churches; totally immersed in cold water in muddy creeks three times by the Baptist; went to confession in every Catholic Town; paid dues to 11 Synagogues; charter member of the Holy-Rollers; listened to 800 get-together Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary speeches; bought sheeps and pillow slip in every Ku Klux Klan in the State; and then I was defeated.

"Bull" Durham was my sole satisfaction not only during, but after election. It is the only thing that stayed with me."
